or, little or great : understand, little thing or great, (as the phrase is more fully expressed in 1 Sam. 20. 2. and 22. 15. and 25. 36.) meaning any thing at all; to which the Greeke addeth, of mine owne minde. In Balaam here is a picture of covetous hypocrites, which pretend they would not doe against the Word of God, for an house full of gold, when they will doe it for an handfull: as this Prophet laboured with all his might to doe the thing which God had forbidden him.

19 Verse 19. that I may know] or, and I will know, (that is, inquire) what Iehovah will adde to speake with mee, that is, will speake more unto mee. Here hee beginneth to discover himselfe and his love to Balaks wages, in that he resteth not in Gods will, plainly revealed to him before: and that he tempteth God by this second consultation, as if he were changeable like himselfe, and would respect the person of the King or Prophet, to speake otherwise than he had done. For where he pretended to know more, he intended and desired to heare otherwise, and contrary to that which hee knew to bee the minde of God. But Gods people should rest in that which they know to bee his word and will: and if any teach otherwise, let him be accursed, Galat. 1. 8, 9.

20 Verse 20. If the men be come] that is, Forasmuch as, or, Seeing the men are come. So the word If meaneth also in Song 1. 8. goe with them] Gods permitting of Balaam to goe with these second Embassadors, when he had forbidden him to goe with the first, was in wrath against the Prophet, who stood not in the Lords first counsell: and therefore he was in danger to have died by the sword of the Angell, verse 33. and was indeed slaine by the sword of Israel, Ios. 13. 22. In the meane time, both hee and the King had hope that they might effect their evill purpose, seeing that God himselfe seemed to change his mind: so being hardned, they went on, with altars and sacrifices, to procure leave from God to curse his people, Num. 23. 1. For when men will not hearken to the voyce of the Lord, hee withdraweth his grace, &c. giveth them up to the perverse intendment of their owne heart, and lets them walke in their owne counsells, Psal. 81. 12, 13.

but yet] or, but surely the word, &c. By this restraint, God signifieth the continuance of his good will towards Israel, though in such words, as Balaam might still conceive hope to obtaine his desire: for the first answer was plaine, thou shalt not curse the people, vers. 12. in which hee not resting, hath now a darker Oracle, thou shalt doe the word that I shall speake unto thee, when hee knew not what God would speake. Thus when the will of God is known and not regarded, he taketh from men the certaintie of their knowledge, and causeth his word to be darke and doubtfull unto them, so that they stumble at it, 1 Pet. 2. 8. the Sonne goeth downe over the Prophets, and the day is darke over them, Mich. 3. 6. Balaam thought he should have heard more from God, but heareth lesse, and loseth that which he had learned before.

that shalt thou doe] this both taught Balaam his dutie, that he ought to doe it willingly, and closely signified that that hee should doe, though against his will. For, the Lord bringeth to nought the counsell of the heathens, he maketh of none effect the devices of the peoples: but the counsell of the Lord standeth for ever, Psalm. 33. 10, 11. And hee restraineth the wicked of their wils, putting his booke in their nose, and his bridle in their lips, Esay 37. 29. even Satan himselfe is limited, (as in Iobs case, Iob 1. 12. and 2. 6.) and cannot hurt the very swine, without leave from the Lord, Mat. 8. 31, 32.

Verse 21. in the morning] as Abraham being spokento of God to sacrifice his sonne, rose early in the morning and saddled his Ass, and took two of his young men with him, &c. Gen. 22. 3. shewing his readinesse to obey the will of the Lord, though with the losse of his onely sonne whom he loved: so Balaam here riseth in the morning, saddleth his Ass, and taketh two of his young men with him, verse 22. shewing his greedinesse to get preferment, and the wages of iniquitie which he loved, though with the losse of the favour of God, and (in the end) of his owne life. Gods children runne not so fast in the way of his commandments, when hee enlargeth their heart, Psal. 119. 32. but the children of Satan runne as fast to evill, and make haste to shed innocent blood, Esay 59. 7. They turne and prepare themselves without iniquitie in Gods people, Psal. 59. 4, 5: So are the wayes of every one that is greedy of gaine, which taketh away the life of the owners thereof, Prov. 1. 16, 19.

Verse 22. Gods anger was kindled] in Greeke, God was angry in wrath. The judgements of God are a great depth, Psal. 36. 7. hee is often offended, and that justly, when men doe that which he saith Doe, because they doe it not with that minde, and to that end which hee requireth, Esay 10. 6, 7. and his word or leave, is in displeasure against sinners that have no love to the truth. The young Prophets of Jericho would have leave to send fiftie men to seeke Elijahs bodie, but Eli-sha forbade them: after by their importunacie, hee said, Send. They sent, and sought, but found him not: then Eli-sha gave them this reproofe, Did not I say unto you, Goe not, 2 King. 2. 16, 17, 18. As they ought to have rested in the Prophets first word, so should Balaam have done here in the first answer of God; and for not doing it, wrath from the Lord was upon him. the Angell of Iehovah] this Angell speaketh as the Lord himselfe, only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that shalt thou speak, v. 35. Wherefore this seemeth to be Christ, the Angell which redeemed Iakob from all evill, Gen. 48. 16. and now cometh to redeeme Iakobs children from the curse intended against them; the Angell that was sent before Israel, to keepe them in their way, in whom Iehovahs name was, Exo. 23. 20, 21. even Michael the great prince, which standeth for his people, Dan. 10. 21. and 12. 1. an adversary] in Hebr. Satan, which name when it is used for an adversary to Gods people, usually meaneth the Deuill, Iob. 1. 6. Mai. 4. 10. Rev. 12. 9. and 20. 2. but here being spoken of an adversary to the wicked, and defender of the church, is applied to an holy Angell, or to the Prince of Angels and men. And here the love of God unto Israel appeareth, that when he giveth a wicked man leave to goe out against them, forthwith hee sendeth his Angell to resist him, and to stand for the helpe of his chosen; as all the Angels are ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them, who shall be heires, of salvation, Heb. 1. 14. two of his young men] that is, of his servants: see the notes on Exo. 33. 11. So Abraham went with two of his young men, Gen. 22. 3.

23 Ver. 23. the Ass saw the Angell] It pleaseth God to confound the wisdom of the wise & arrogant, by base and contemptible meanes, for the foolishness of God is wiser than (the wisdom of) men, 1 Cor. 1. 25. Balaam was a great Prophet, accustomed to visions and revelations, yet saw not with his eyes, neither knew with all his skill (ver. 34.) that the Angell stood against him, whom his Ass, a rude & silly beast, did see and avoid, to the safety of his master: & he that could advertise other of things that should befall them, Num. 24. 14. could not advertise himselfe of the danger of death which was before him. So God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise, and bringeth to nought the understanding of the prudent, 1 Cor. 1. 19. When visions appeared, the Prophets were wont to see them, and others in their company saw them not, as in Dan. 10. 7. and Act. 9. 7. here the Prophet seeth nothing, but the beast under him hath the eyes opened to see the apparition. his sword drawne] a signe of wrath & vengeance; so David saw the Angell that plagued Israel with a drawne sword in his hand, 1 Chron. 21. 16. and Iosua the like, in that Angels hand, who as captain of the Lords host, was to destroy the Canaanites, Ios. 5. 13, 14. Balaam went with a purpose to curse Israel, & after to have them killed with the sword: his curses would have been like the piercings of a sword, Prov. 12. 18. he had whetted his tongue as a sword, & bent his arrow, even a bitter word, Ps. 64. 4. the Lord to reward him according to his works, sendeth out a sword against him. the Ass turned aside] The beasts, and fowles, and other brutish creatures, are often taken to teach and convince men, Iob 12. 7, 8. Esay 1. 3. Jer. 8. 7. & Balaams folly was reproved here by the action of this dumbe beast, as after it was by words, Num. 22. 28, 30, 2 Pet. 2. 16. Balaams way was perverse before the Lord, ver. 32. he had forsaken the right way, and went astray, 2 Pet. 2. 15. the Ass turning aside out of the way, might have taught him to have desisted from his evill course. The Ass avoideth the danger and evill before his eyes; the matter being blinded with ambition and covetousnes, seeth it not, but would goe on to destruction, ver. 33. smote the ass] the Greeke here addeth, with his rod (or staffe) which is taken from ver. 27. As he that judgeth another, condemneth himselfe doing the same things, Rom. 2. 1. so the Prophet in smiting his beast, sheweth himselfe to bee worthy of moe stripes, doing much worse than it. A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the foales backe, Prov. 26. 3.

Verse 24. and a wall] in Chaldees, and another wall. The Angell needed not have chosen such places; but these things hapned unto Balaam for ensamples, and are written for our admonition: for when men goe on in a way not good, if they escape one perill, they fall into another greater, and at last into inevitable danger; as the Prophet signifieth by feare, and pit, and snare; Hee that steeth from the feare shall fall into the pit; and hee that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare, Ier. 48. 43, 44.

Verse 25. and thrust Balaams foot] or, pressed, crushed his foot. This word is used in 2 Kings 6. 32. where the Kings messenger, who was sent to take away Elishaes head, was pressed (or crushed) in the doore. God by this second signe came neerer unto Balaam, who went on in his perverse way, and withall discovereth the vanity of his art, who being a diviner, could not preface the evill that should befall him; though such things as these happened in his way; which in the opinion of vaine men, are signes of ill lucke: and therefore by the grounds of his owne craft, should have turned him backe, or made him to suspect at least that this journey should be unfortunate: see 1 Sam. 6. 2, 3, 9. But God taketh the wise in their owne craftinesse, and the counsell of the froward is carried headlong: they meet with darknesse in the day time, and grope in the noone day, as in the night. But he saveth the poore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty, Iob 5. 13, 14, 15. The children of God have the Angels to keepe them in all their wayes, and to beare them up, lest they dash their foot against a stone, Psalm 91. 11, 12. But Balaam tempting the Lord, hath his Angell to withstand him, whereby his foot is crushed against the wall: yet maketh he no good use thereof.

Verse 26. no way to turne aside] In this carriage of the Angell, the Lord would have us see the proceeding of his judgements against sinners; first more mildly, shaking his rod at them, but letting them goe untouched; then coming neerer, hee toucheth them with an easie correction, as it were wringing their foot against a wall; but bringeth them at last to such a strait, as they can no way escape his hand, but must fall before him.

Verse 27. Balaams anger was kindled] the wrath of

of man worketh not the righteousness of God, Iam. 1. 20. but a furious man aboundeth in transgression, Prov. 29.

22. Balaam learned no good by this strange carriage of his beast, but is more enraged, and smiteth it, not knowing that by meanes of it his owne life was saved, vers. 33. This foolishnesse of the Prophet the dumbe beatt reproveth, vers. 28. &c. and in him God would let us see the nature of wicked men, which make no good use of his works, neither see his providence in the creature, the service whereof he lendeth unto them.

28 Verse 28. opened the mouth of the Ass } that the dumbe ass spake with mans voyce, 2 Pet. 2. 16. by which miracle the Prophet had not onely a rebuke, but a cause of feare and astonishment, yet hardened he himselfe against it also, and pleaded for to maintaine his folly, vers. 29. so no workes, signes or miracles, are able to change the hardnesse of mans heart, but grace from God onely, John 12. 37, 38. And here we may observe how the devill, to draw into sinne, choise the Serpent for his instrument, the most subtil beast of the field, Gen. 3. 1. but God to rebuke and convince the wicked, useth the Ass, the most silly of all beasts: shewing as in a figure, how Satans continuall practise is to corrupt mens mindes from the simplicitie that is in Christ, by deceitfull workers, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftinesse, whereby they lie in wait to deceive, 2 Cor. 11. 3. 13. Ephes. 4. 14. whiles Christ sendeth men to preach the Gospell, not with wisdom of words, but with the plaine demonstration of the truth, and chuseth the foolish things of the world to confound the wise, the weak things of the world to confound the mightie, and base things of the world, and things despised, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are, 1 Cor. 1. 17. 27, 28. For the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light, Luke 16. 8.

29 Verse 29. I would kill thee } The Prophet is neither dismaied with the speaking of his dumbe beast, nor abated from his wrath, but increaseth in evill, who before hee knew or inquired of the cause, would presently kill the Ass that saved his life. A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast, but the bowels of the wicked are cruell, Prov. 12. 10. If Balaam looked for such good service of the brutt beast, and would not be mocked or abused thereby, he being a reasonable creature, and wiser than many, should much lesse have mocked with God, and resisted his counsell: but by his owne words against his Ass, he condemneth himselfe, being guiltie of death for his sinne against God, as the Angell sheweth in vers. 32, 33.

30 Verse 30. ever since I was thine } or, since thou, to wit, hast had me: the Greeke translateth it, from thy youth: the Chaldee, since thou hast bene: and the Hebrew phrase sometime so meaneth, as in Gen. 48. 15. since I was, where the Greeke also expoundeth it, from my youth. was I ever wont } or, have I accustomed bene accustomed? By this demand, the beast convinceth the Prophets foolishnesse, who should have gathered that some extraordinary cause moved it thus to doe, seeing it had never done so before: and teacheth us, that when the creatures depart from their kinde, and accustomed obedience unto us, we should looke for the cause thereof in our selves: for our finnes against God, occasion the creatures to rebell against us, Levit. 26. 20, 21, 22.

31 Verse 31. uncovered the eyes } opened them to see the Angell as the Ass did before him, vers. 23. signifying, that as men cannot see the marvellous things of his Law, unlesse he uncover their eyes, Psal. 119. 18. so neither can they behold the deaths and dangers that are to come on them for the transgression of his Law; unlesse he reveale them, Esay 47. 11. The way of the wicked is as darknes, they know not at what they stumble, Prov. 4. 19. bowed himselfe downe on his face } or, to his face, as the Greeke translateth, hee bowed downe to his face, that is, worshipped the face or person of the Angell.

32 Verse 32. Wherefore hast thou smitten, &c. } The Angell rebuketh the misusage of his beast, which ought not to be smitten without cause; how much lesse then might he smite innocent men, with the curse of his tongue? And God, who saveth man and beast, Psal. 36. 7. and commanded that the beasts also should rest from their toile on the Sabbath day, Dent. 5. 14. and defendeth their innocencie against their cruell masters, will much more defend the cause of his people against their wrongfull oppressors, Exod. 22. 23. thy way is perverse } or, the way which thou goest is perverse, that is, thy purpose and intent in going this journey, is contrary to my will which I first revealed unto thee, v. 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, because it is manifest before me, that thou wouldest goe in a way against me. The Apostle openeth and applieth it against the Balaamites of his time, in these words; an heart they have exercised with covetous practises, children of the curse, which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam (the same) of Boshor, who loved the wages of unrighteousnesse, 2 Pet. 2. 14, 15. The Apostle Jude (in vers. 11.) calleth it the error of Balaam.

33 Verse 33. turned aside before me } or, at my face or presence: so after, turned aside from me, or, from my face or presence. I had slaine thee } or, killed thee: in the Angels former words the justice of his judgement is implied; for if Balaam did smite his Ass, for turning a side out of the way, vers. 23. and would have killed her for falling downe under him, though thereby his life was saved, vers. 29. how much more deserved he himselfe to be smitten & killed, for departing out of the Lords way, and following his own crooked wayes, with a purpose to destroy the lives of his people Israel. Therefore a woe is pronounced on those that runne greedily after Balaams error for reward, Jude vers. 11. saved her alive } as we have an example in the Prophet, who being disobedient unto the mouth of the Lord, a lion met him by the way and slew him, but the Ass whereon hee rode was not torne, 1 King. 13. 23, 24, 26, 28.

34 Verse 34. I have sinned } this seemeth to be acknowledged, for his smiting of the Ass, and his reason following so sheweth:

N n n n 2 but

but the sin that lay hid in his heart, his wicked purpose & covetousnes, he dissemeleth, & professeth still unto the end. if it be evil in thine eyes that is, as the Greek translateth, if it please thee not; meaning, that he should goe on his journey. He could not bee ignorant, that his evil intent to curse Gods people for his owne promotion, was most evil in the Lords eyes, & the cause why the Angell came out against him; but concealing that, he speaketh of his outward actions, & faintly offereth to turne back, with an if it were evil. His love to the wages of unrighteousnesse caused him thus to speake, together with the leave which God had given him, in vers. 20. faine he would goe, but if necessitie contraine him he will turne backe.

35 Vers. 35. Goe with the men When neither the first words of God who forbade him, vers. 12. nor the signes and dangers which met him by the way, could turne his heart, or deliver him from his error, the Lord again biddeth him go on, so giving him up to his owne lusts; which he followed to his destruction. See the notes on vers. 20. So Iarchi explaineth these words, Goe with the men for thy portion is with them, and thine end to perish out of the world.

36 Vers. 36. he went out to meet him for to welcome him, and entertaine him with honour; as Moses to like end, went out to meet his father in law, Exod. 18. 7. and Ioseph went out to meet Israel his father, Gen. 46. 29. and the kings of Sodom and of Salem, to meet Abraham, Gen. 14. 17, 18. Heb. 7. 1. It sheweth how greatly Balaam was respected of the King, as false prophets have alwayes been of wicked Rulers, because they serve their lusts. It had bene Moabs dutie to have met their brother Israel with bread and water in the way when they came out of Egypt: but loe the King of Moab goeth out (even to the utmost border of his land) to meet this soothsayer, whom he had hired to curse Israel; therefore God commandeth his people not to seeke their peace or good for ever, Deut. 23. 3. — 6. Arnon the border betweene Moab and the Amorites, Numb. 21. 13, 26.

37 Vers. 37. Did not I sending send that is, earnestly send unto thee. Am I not able indeed a vaine boast, and such as had no effect; for he was not able indeed to honour Balaam in the end, but sent him away in wrath, and with disgrace, confessing that the LORD had kept him backe from honour, Numb. 24. 10, 11. But as Satan himselfe proudly offereth the kingdomes & glory of the world to those that will worship him, Mat. 4. 8, 9. so wicked Princes doe offer promotion to false prophets & flatterers, which oftentimes God suffereth them not to performe: and they turne the edge of their sword against the Israel of God, which they are often forced to put up emptie into the sheath, the Lord turning their intended curse into a blessing.

38 Vers. 38. am I able at all the word is doubled for more vehemencie, canning can I speake; that is, surely I cannot in any wise. Hee speaketh to excuse himselfe, signifying his willingness to gratifie the king, as appeared by his comming to him, but shewing withall his inability to doe ought against God or his people. For the LORD their redeemer, he frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; he turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish, Esa. 44. 25.

Vers. 39. Kirjath-buzoth which is by interpretation, the citie of the outmost parts, or the citie of streets. It is the name of a citie, of the situation in the utmost part of the land; as the Chaldee interpreteth it, the citie of his borders; and the old Latine version calleth it, the citie which was in the utmost borders of his kingdom: which some thinke to be Ar, forementioned in Numb. 21. 28. called the corner of Moab, in Ier. 48. 45. Sol. Iarchi in his annotations on this place expoundeth it, a citie full of streets, men, and children in the outer parts of it.

Vers. 40. Balak slew oxen either for sacrifice, (as the word is often used for sacrificing) or for a feast to welcome Balaam, or for both; as the Moabites used such idolatrous feasts whereof the people did eat, Numb. 25. 1, 2. Thus Balak rejoyced at the comming of his friend, and received him with all royall solemnity. Wherein as we see the entertainment that this wicked prophet had, that his honour and good cheere might make him to forget the perils which he had passed, and might againe fall into by the hand of God: so may we observe the contrary dealing of the LORD, and of this King. The Angell of the Lord came out as an adversary to withstand him; the King as a friend to welcome him. The King blameth him for comming no sooner; the Angell for going so soone. The Angell met him with a sword, to signifie that that should be his end if he went on in his wickednes: the king receiveth him with a banquet, & all honourable entertainment, that by it, and hope of more gaine and preferment, he might be encouraged to goe on with his wicked enterprise. Betweene these two, Balaam chuseth the worser part for the honour of this world, though even that also was taken away from him. As the Partridge sitteth on egges, and hatcheth them not: so he that getteth riches and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his dayes, and at his end shall be a foole, Ier. 17. 11.

Vers. 41. in the morning that is, the next day early after the feast. Thus Balak delaieeth no time, to accomplish his evil purpose, beginning the day with mischief. David was diligent in the mornings to destroy all the wicked of the land, Psal. 101. 8. Balak riseth early to destroy the people of God, and is of them whose feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood, Prov. 1. 16. the high places of Baal in Greeke, the pillar of Baal; the Chaldee expoundeth it, the high place of his feare, meaning of his god or idoll whom he feared, (as God is called the Feare, in Psal. 76. 13.) and Targum Jonathan nameth it the Feare (or idoll) of Peor, whereof see Numb. 25. 3. Baal (by interpretation, a Lord, Master or Patron) is a name given to the idolls of many nations, which they used to worship on high places, hills or mountains, Deut. 12. 2. And here doe Balak and Balaam build altars and offer sacrifices, Numb. 23. 1. that they might curse Israel; for as God sendeth his people helpe from his Sanctuarie, and supporteth porteth them out of Sion, Psalm. 10. 2. and cometh unto them to blesse them, in all places where he putteth the memoriall of his name, Exo. 20. 24. so the Idolaters thought of their high places, that they were the fittest to obtaine their requests in, from the hand of God, though it were to curse his people. that hee might see Jor, and hee saw, meaning Balaam: the Greeke translateth; and he (to wit, Balak) shewed him a part of the people, to wit, of Israel: whom hee would have him to behold, that his curse might be the more powerfull and effectuell. See Num. 23. 13.

CHAP. XXIII.

I Balaam and Balak offer sacrifices. 4 God meeteth Balaam, and putteth in his mouth a blessing, which offendeth Balak. 13 They come to another place to curse the people of the Lord, and there againe they offer sacrifices. 16 God meeteth Balaam, and putteth in his mouth a more ample blessing. 26 Balak being more offended, bringeth Balaam to a third place, where also they sacrifice.

AND Balaam said unto Balak, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven bullocks, and seven rams. And Balak did as Balaam had spoken, and Balak and Balaam offered a bullock and a ram on an altar. And Balaam said unto Balak; Stand by thy Burnt-offering, and I will goe, peradventure Jehovah will come to meet me, and what word soever hee sheweth me, I will tell thee: and hee went to an high place. And God met Balaam, and he said unto him, I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered a bullocke and a ram on an altar. And Jehovah put a word in Balaams mouth, and said, Returne unto Balak, and thus thou shalt speake. And he returned unto him, and loe he stood by his Burnt-offering; he, & all the Princes of Moab. And he tooke up his parable, and said, Balak the King of Moab hath brought mee from Aram from the mountains of the East, (saying;) Come curse me Iakob, and come desie Israel. How shall I curse whom God hath not cursed, and how shall I desie whom Jehovah hath not desied? For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I behold him: loe the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the Nations. Who can count the dust of Iakob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? Let my soule die the death of the righteous men, and let my last end be like his. And Balak said unto Balaam: What hast thou done unto me? I tooke thee to curse mine enemies; and behold, blessing thou hast blessed them. And he answered, and said, Must I not take heed to speake that which Jehovah hath put in my mouth?

And Balak said unto him, Come I pray thee with me unto another place, that thou maist see them from thence; thou shalt see but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all, and curse me them from thence.

And he tooke him to the field of Zophim, to the top of Pisgah; and he built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram on an altar. And he said unto Balak, Stand here, by thy Burnt-offring, and I will meet yonder. And Jehovah met Balaam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, Returne unto Balak, and thus thou shalt speake. And he came unto him, & lo he stood by his burnt-offering, and the Princes of Moab with him; and Balak said unto him, What hath Jehovah spoken? And he tooke up his parable, and said, Rise up Balak, and heare, hearken unto me thou son of Zippor. God is not a man that he should lie, or a son of Adam that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not doe? and hath he spoken, and shall hee not confirme it? Behold I have received to blesse, & he hath blessed, & I can not reverse it. He hath not beheld iniquitie in Iakob, neither hath he seene perversnesse in Israel: Jehovah his God is with him, and the showt of a King is among them. God brought them forth out of Egypt; hee hath as the strengths of an Vnicorne. Surely there is no enchantment against Iakob, nor divination against Israel; according to this time, it shal be said of Iakob, and of Israel, What hath God wrought? Behold, the people shall rise up as a courageous Lion, and lift up himselfe as a renting lion: he shall not lie downe untill he eat the prey, and drinke the blood of the slaine. And Balak said unto Balaam, Neither cursing curse him, nor blessing blesse him. And Balaam answered and said unto Balak; Spake I not unto thee, saying; All that Jehovah speaketh that I must doe? And Balak said unto Balaam; Come I pray thee, I will take thee unto another place; peradventure it will be right in the eyes of God, that thou shalt curse me them from thence. And Balak tooke Balaam unto the top of Peor that looketh toward Ieshimon. And Balaam said unto Balak, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven bullocks and seven rams. And Balak did as Balaam had said, and hee offered a bullocke and a ram on an altar.

Annotations.

1 Build me here] or, Build for me in this place seven altars. Balaam here bewraieeth his impiety, when in stead of disswading the king from his evill enterprise, by the word of God, who had forbidden him to curse Israel, Numb. 22.12. hee attempteth together with him, to effect his wicked purpose; and that (which is worst of all) under the colour of religious actions, building altars, and offering sacrifices to God, hereby to intreat and obtaine leave of him to curse his people. For it was the manner in those dayes to seeke the Lord, and obtaine his favour by sacrifice, Gen. 46.1,2. &c. 1 Sam. 13.9.12. Hof. 5.6. Thus Balaam hath soone forgotten the Oracle of God, the sword of the Angell, and dangers that hee so hardly escaped by the way, and greedily runneth after the error of his evill heart, fulfilling the saying of the Prophet, Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learne righteousness, Esai. 26.10. prepare me] or, prepare for me. As Balak said, Curse me Iakob, and desie Israel: so Balaam saith, Build me altars, and prepare me sacrifices; his intent being not to honour God, but to curse his people. Thus religion is made a cloake of wickednesse. The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more when he bringeth it with a wicked minde, Prov. 21.27. God desireth mercie and not sacrifice, Hof. 6.6. But Balaam was of their religion which thinke that gaine is godlinesse, 1 Tim. 6.5. and for the wages of iniquitie, abuseth the ordinances of the blessed God, unto cursing and crueltie. seven bullocks] as bullocks and rammes were sacrifices which God himselfe required in the Law, Levit. 1. and which the Patriarchs had learned from God of old, Gen. 15.9. so seven was a number sanctified of God for many mysteries, (as is noted on Levit. 4.6.) and particularly in sacrifices, as he said to Iobs friends, Take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rammes, and goe to my servant Iob, and offer up for your selves a Burnt-offering, Iob 42.8. So at the bringing up of the Arke, David and the Elders of Israel offered seven bullocks and seven rams, 1 Chron. 15.26. and Ezekias with the rulers brought seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven bee-goats for a Sin-offering for the kingdom, &c. 2 Chron. 29.21. Wherefore the Aramites, Moabites; and other nations, having learned from their ancestors the manner of sacrificing unto God, retained it till Moses time, and long after, though corrupted with their owne superstitions, and abused to much impietie. Hereupon Balaam sacrificeth to the Lord in this sort, to purchase favour of him, and vainly boasteth unto God himselfe of his good worke, vers. 4. And according to this number, it is seven times said of Balaam, that he took up his parable, Numb. 23.7.18. and Numb. 24.3.15.20.21.23.

2 Verse 2. Balak did] Though Chemosh was Balaks

God, Numb. 21.29. yet now by Balaams counsell he sacrificeth to Iehovah the God of Israel, v.3.17. as unstable men in hope to obtaine their purposes are easily drawn to communicate with all religions true or false, & to make a sinfull mixture of them, 2 King. 17.28.29.—33. Exr. 4.1,2. Act. 17.23.

on an altar] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, on every altar. The altar being an holy ordinance, which sanctified the offering, Mat. 23.19. and a figure of Christ, Heb. 13.10. Iob. 17.19. they (for the more sanctimony) offer their gifts on severall altars. Wherein they adde superstition to the religion received from the fathers: for holy men used one altar in a place, though many sacrifices, Gen. 8.20.& 12.7.& 13.4.18. and 26.25. and 33.20. & 35.3. Ex. 17.15.& 24.4. but Idolaters accustomed themselves to many altars, 2 Kings 18.22. Ier. 11.13. Hof. 10.1. and 12.11. Amos 3.14. Esa. 17.8. such many altars were multiplied to sin, Hof. 8.11.

Verse 3. Stand] or, Present thy selfe, to wit, unto God, here by thy burnt-offring, and goe not with me; as they were wont to stand by their sacrifices whiles they burned, and present themselves there unto the Lord, who first had respect unto the offerer, and then unto the gift, Gen. 4.4,5. so Balak and his princes were to stay there, if perhaps God would respect their persons. peradventure Iehovah will come] or, as the Greeke translateth, if perhaps the Lord will appeare. Balaam went now to meet with inchantments, or signes of good luck, Numb. 24.1. which after the manner of false Prophets, hee coloureth with the name of the Lord.

what word] or, what thing soever. to an high place] to a cliffe of the rock: or, solitarie, to a solitarie place: and thus the Chaldee expounds it, he went alone. He went as soothsayers were wont, to an high and solitary place, to make his prayers, and to observe signes if any should appeare.

Verse 4. God met Balaam] in Greeke, God appeared to Balaam; in Chaldee, the word from before the LORD met (or came unto) Balaam: and so againe in v.16. Though he sought the Lord both by an unlawfull means of enchantment, Numb. 24.1. Dent. 18.10. and to a wicked end, that he might curse Israel, Dent. 23.4,5. yet the Lord meeteth with him, and putteth his word in his mouth, for the good of his people. So when Nebuchadnezzar used divinations, and consulted with Idols, being unresolved whether he should first warre against the Iewes or the Ammonites, the Lord so disposed of it, that he first fell upon the Iewes, & signified the same to his Prophet, Ezek. 21.19.—23.

he said] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, Balaam said. I have prepared] or, I have ordered. He vainly glorieth of his religious works before God, supposing that he would be pleased with his many altars and sacrifices wherewith he honoured him; and withall implying his request, that he might have leave to curse Israel: but the Lord would not heare Balaam, Dent. 23.5. for he hath not so great delight in Burnt-offrings and sacrifices, as in obedience to his voyce, 1 Sam. 15.22. To do justice and judgement, is more acceptable to the LORD, than sacrifice, Prov. 21.3.

Verf.

5 Verse 5. put a word in Balaams mouth] The Lord giveth no answer to Balaams boasting speech, nor sheweth any regard of his altars and sacrifices, (which were an abomination unto him, Prov. 15. 8.) but sendeth him backe with a blessing upon his people, contrary to his owne and the kings desire and expectation. The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue from the LORD, Prov. 16. 1.

7 Verse 7. he took up his parable] the parable of his prophesie, saith Targum Jonathan. By taking up, is meant a pronouncing with an high voice; so God would have them all take knowledge of his word against them, and for his people. By a parable or proverbe, is meant a grave speech, which groweth into common use among men. And it is used both in the good part, for excellent matter of doctrine and comfort, as Iob 37. 1. and 29. 1. Prov. 1. 1. and in the evill part, for proverbs of reproach and reprehension, as in Deuter 28. 37. Esay 14. 4. Parables also are opposed to plaine and familiar speeches easie to be understood, Ezek. 20. 49. Iob. 16. 25. so now God speaketh by Balaam to the wicked Moabites, but in parables; that seeing, they might not see; and hearing, they might not understand, as in Luke 8. 10. brought me from Aram] to wit, from Aram nahar ajim, or Mesopotamia, as Moses sheweth in Deut. 23. 4. and so the Greeke here translateth, sent for me out of Mesopotamia; and Targum Jonathan explaineth it, Aram which is by Euphrates. See the notes on Gen. 24. 10. and Numb. 22. 5. of the east] situate eastward from Moabs & Israels land: that country was infamous for forcery and divination, Esay 2. 6. despise] or, detest, with angry threats, and hatefull indignation, as the word signifieth in Dan. 11. 30. The Greeke translateth it Accurse.

8 Verse 8. whom God hath not cursed?] Thus the Greeke also readeth, adding the word whom: such wants the Scripture sometime supplieth; as, this house is high, 1 King. 9. 8. for this house which is high, 2 Chron. 7. 21. Otherwise it may be translated, How shall I curse? God hath not cursed. Targum Jonathan explaineth it, How shall I curse, when the word of the Lord blessed them? Here God by Balaams owne mouth reproveth the error of the King, who had sent so farre twice to fetch him, that of himselfe was able to doe nothing in this businesse; and taxeth the vanitie of this Art of Magicke or divination, which is not able either to helpe or hurt any without leave from God. So the Babylonian is convinced by the prophet, saying, Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy forceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth, if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevaile. Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels, let now the Astrologers, the Stargazers, the monthly Prognosticators stand up, and save thee from those things that shall come upon thee. Behold, they shall be as stubble, the fire shall burne them, &c. Esay 47. 12, 13, 14.

9 Verse 9. For from the top] or, when from the top (Hebr. the head) of the rocks, I see him, meaning the people, spoken of as one body. I behold

him] in Greeke, I consider him, speaking againe of the people: as Targum Jonathan explaineth it, I consider this people. Balak brought him to the mountaines, that seeing the people from thence, hee might the more easily curse them: but the sight of them did so amaze him, as he blessed them. Thus all occasions and circumstances which the wicked chuse for their advantage, God turneth against them, & for the accomplishment of his owne will.

shall dwell alone] separated from other peoples. And this further signifieth, how they should be sufficiently provided for of God, having neither need nor feare of other peoples; for so dwelling alone, implieth a security from evill; as in Ier. 49. 31. And thus Moses blessing them, said, Israel shall dwell in confident safety alone, Deut. 33. 28. shall not be reckoned] or, shall not reckon themselves: this respecteth their faith in God, and service of him, whereby they were his peculiar, and separated from other peoples, as Exod. 19. 5. Lev. 20. 24. 26. Exr. 9. 2. So Christ hath chosen his Church out of the world, Ioh. 15. 19. 1 Pet. 2. 9. and this grace the faithfull apply unto themselves, as it is said, We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse, 1 Iob. 5. 19.

Ver. 10. Who can count] that is, None can count, they are so many, Hebr. Who counteth; which the Chaldee expoundeth, who can (or, is able to) count. And thus the Scripture sometime explaineth it selfe; as, Not that which goeth into the mouth, defileth a man, Matth. 15. 11. that is, can defile him, Mark 7. 15. See the Annotations on Gen. 13. 6. So after in vers. 20. the dust of Iakob] that is, the children of Iakob; as the Greeke translateth it, the seed of Iakob. Here Balaams mouth confirmeth the promise which God made of old unto Iakob, saying, Thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, Gen. 28. 14. and the like was before unto Abraham, I will multiply thy seed as the starres of heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore, Gen. 2. 17. And thus the Chaldee here expoundeth it, Who can count the little ones of the house of Iakob, of whom it was said, they shall be multiplied as the dust of the earth. of the fourth part] or, of a quarter, as the Chaldee explaineth it, of one of the foure camps of Israel; for they camped about the Tabernacle in foure quarters, Numb. 2. Whereas the promise of the blessing to Abraham consisted of two branches; 1. that God would give the land of Canaan to him and to his seed for ever: 2. and that he would make his seed as the dust of the earth, Gen. 13. 15, 16. under which, spirituall graces in Christ were also comprehended: the Lord causeth Balaam here to ratifie them both, for their dwelling alone in the land, & for their innumerable increase. And whereas Balak envied their multitude, and would therefore have them cursed, that they might be diminished, Num. 22. 3, 5, 6. Balaam is here forced to utter a blessing for their further increase. Thus God resisteth him in all his counsels & enterprises. Let my soule die] that is, Let me die, an Heb. phrase, whereby the soule is put for the person, I, thou, or he; and death is the departure of the soule from the body, Gen. 35. 18. Then dust returneth unto the earth as it was, and the spirit returneth to God that gave it, Eccles. 12. 7. So Samson said, Let my soule die with the Philistines, Judg. 16. 30. the death of the righteous men the Greeke translateth, with the soules of the just men; meaning the righteous of Israel, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the death of the just men thereof, that is, of that people. Balaam, who lived the life of the wicked, desireth (as many doe) to die the death of the righteous: but as he lived, so he died among the enemies of God, by the sword of Israel, Numb. 31. 8. Howbeit he pronounceth here a greater blessing upon Israel, as they that were happie not only in life, but in death. For, righteousnesse (which is by faith in Christ, Phil. 3. 9.) delivereth from death; but when a wicked man dieth, his expectation perisheth, Prov. 11. 4. 7 Here also Balaam testifieth of the soules immortality, and different case of good & bad: for otherwise what were the death of the righteous better than of the wicked?

let my last end or, let my posterity. The originall word sometime signifieth the end, opposed to the beginning, as in Deut. 11. 12. Prov. 19. 20. and so the Chaldee translateth it here, let my end be like theirs: sometime it is the posteritie, or children which come after; as in Dan. 11. 4. Amos 5. 2. Psal. 109. 13. and in this sense the Greeke Interpreters understood it here, saying, and let my seed be like their seed: thus Balaam prophesieth a blessing also to the seed of every righteous Israelite, according to the promise made unto Abraham and his seed after him, Gen. 17. 7. And further, this word, end, is often used for reward, which is after labours, Prov. 23. 18. and 24. 20. 1 Pet. 1. 9. which also may be implied here, of a blessed reward which the righteous have after this life in heaven, Mat. 5. 12. But Balaam being a minister of Satan, though transformed as a minister of righteousness, his end was according to his workes, as the Apostle telleth us of all such, 2 Cor. 11. 15.

11 Vers. 11. I tooke thee to curse mine enemies] Balak who had before builded altars, and offered sacrifices, as to serve the Lord with great devotion, being now crossed in his purpose, manifesteth his hypocrisie, pride, malice, and notorious prophanation of religious exercises; in that he regarded not, nor rested in the answer of God by Balaam, but opposed his owne will, as that which the Prophet should have fulfilled; unjustly calleth the Israelites his enemies, who passed by him in peace; repineth against their blessing, and blameth the Prophet for pronouncing it.

12 Vers. 12. Must I not take heed to speake] or, Shall I not observe to speake. Though Balaams will was bent to curse Israel for Balaks wages, yet could he not, because God restrained him: wherefore hee bare his blame at the Kings hand. And now to excuse himselfe, he signifieth not onely the necessitie laid upon him by the Lord, but a pretended care and observance in himselfe to speake his word only: thus the hypocrites mocked one with another; and hee that sitteth in the heavens, laughed; the Lord had them both in derision, Psal. 2. 4.

13 Vers. 13. see but the utmost part of them] or, but a part of him, & shall not see him all: speaking of Israel, as one body. The King gathered from Balaams words, in vers. 9. that by seeing the whole multitude, he was dismayed; (so looking to the secondary cause, not to God the principall:) wherefore though he failed of his purpose at the first he secondeth it in another place, with hope to prevaile; as the Syrians being foiled by Israel in the mountaines, would fight against them in the plaine, hoping there to be stronger than they, 1 King. 20. 20. — 23. And when he could not have the whole people cursed, he bringeth Balaam to see a part of them: as when the Dragon could not hurt the Woman (the Church) that escaped his persecution with her Eagles wings; he being wroth, went to make war with the remnant of her seed, Rev. 12. 13. — 17. and as Amalek, who smote the bindmost of Israel, even all that were feeble behinde them, Deut. 25. 17, 18.

14 Vers. 14. field of Zophim] that is by interpretation, of the Spies (or Scout-watches): and the Greeke interpreteth it, the Scout-watch of the field: it seemeth to be a place where they kept the watch of the countrey against enemies; as Sol. Iarchi here saith, It was an high place, where the Spie stood to watch whether any forces came against the citie, of Pisgab] or, of the hill, which the Chaldee expoundeth of the high place. Such hills and high places idolaters used to sacrifice upon, Deut. 12. 2. And Balak thought them luckie to achieve his purposes, but all in vaine; as it is written, Truly in vaine is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountaines: truly in Iehovah our God is the salvation of Israel, Ier. 3. 23. seven altars] so prosecuting their wickednesse still, under colour of religion: see the notes on vers. 1. 2.

15 Vers. 15. I will meet yonder] to wit, with Iehovah; and so the Greeke explaineth it, I will goe to enquire of God. See before in vers. 3, 4. &c.

18 Vers. 18. Rise up Balak] to heare the word of God with reverence; for at it even Kings were wont to rise up, when it was spoken: as afterward, Eglon King of Moab also did, in Judg. 3. 20. bearken unto me] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, unto my word.

19 Vers. 19. God is not a man, &c.] The Chaldee paraphraeth thus, The word of God is not like the speeches of the sonnes of man; for the sons of man doe say & lye. By lying is meant failing in the performance of that which is spoken, as in Habak. 2. 3. Psal. 89. 35, 36. 2 King. 4. 16 that he should repent] The like testimony Samuel beareth of God before King Saul, The strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man that he should repent, 1 Sam. 15. 25. Though the Scripture speaketh sometime of God, that he repenteth, as in Amos 7. 3. 6. Ier. 18. 8. yet that is spoken of him, according to our capacitie, because his worke is changed, when he himselfe continueth unchangeable, for with him is no variablenesse, neither shadow of turning, Iam. 1. 17. See the notes on Gen. 6. 6. In this speech of Balaam there is a reproofe of Balaks error, who thought by his endeavours to turne Gods affection from Israel, and therefore rested not in the word before revealed, but struggled against it still, as if God were false or variable. shall be not confirmed firm it?] meaning, he will doubtlesse confirme and stablish it; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, hee confirmeth all his words. The Greeke translath, shall he speake, and shall be not conuince? that is, constantly performe it? So to confirme a thing, is by the holy Ghost expounded, to conuince to doe it, Gal. 3.10. from Dent. 27. 26.

20 Verse 20. I haue receiued to blesse] understand, received a commandement to blesse. See the Annotations on Gen. 24. 33. and I can not reuerse it] or, shall not turne it away; which the Chaldee explaineth, and I shall not turne my blessing from them. The Greeke translath, I shall blesse, and shall not reuerse. Here Balaam preacheth the stableness of Gods love unto his people; and how all powers and potentates, all magicall enchantments and divinations, and what things else soever, are not able to separate Gods people from his love and blessing in Christ.

21 Verse 21. He hath not beheld] or, He (that is, God) beholdeth not iniquitie. Here Balaam blesseth Israel the second time, pronouncing first their justification in the sight of God, even that blessednesse which they have, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose finnes are covered, Rom. 4. 7. For not to behold, or see iniquitie in sinfull men, is (as David speaketh) to hide his face from their finnes, and to blot out all their iniquities, Psal. 51. 11. the contrary whereof is, when God setteth mens iniquities before him, and to the light of his face, Psal. 90. 8. and 109. 14, 15. And this is opened by the Prophet, when the Lord saith, The iniquitie of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sinners of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve, Ier. 50. 20. iniquity] this word, in Hebrew Aven, is of large signification, applied to all kinde of sinne, which causeth paine, sorrow, and misery; and in particular to idolatry, 1 Sam. 15. 22. and Aven is an idoll, in Esay 66. 3. and to this the Chaldee here referreth it, saying, no servers of Idols in the house of Iacob; so doth Targum Icnathan likewise; and the old Latine version saith; There is no Idoll in Iacob, meaning among the Israelites, the posterity of Iakob. But the word being more generall, implieth this and all other iniquity, originall or actuall, all which God in mercy pardoned to his people, that it was no more scene of him, to be imputed unto them. And as iniquity is often used for the punishment of the same, so is this word Aven in Psal. 90. 10. Hab. 1. 3. in which meaning the Greeke Interpreters translate it here, There shall be no painfulnesse (or misery) in Iacob. pervernesse] or molestation: a word which signifieth both sinne and affliction for sinne, Psal. 94. 20. and 25. 18. and 73. 5. The Chaldee taketh it in the first sense, for them that do falshood; and this is most fit: but the Greeke translath it paine. his God is with him] this the Chaldee expoundeth, the word of the LORD their God is for their helpe. Hereby is signified the cause & author of their former blessednesse, to be God himselfe in the midst of them; as Moses said, Let the Lord now goe amongst us; for it is a stiffe-necked people; and pardon thou our iniquitie and our sin, &c. Ex. 34.

9. And his presence with them was a signe of their estate in grace, otherwise they could have had no communion with him, 1 Iob. 1. 6, 7. as himselfe said; whiles they were in their finnes, I will not goe up in the midst of thee, for thou art a stiffe-necked people, lest I consume thee in the way, Ex. 33. 3. and by his being with them, they were secured both from Balaams curse, and from all feare of evil, Psal. 23. 4 and 91. 15. the shout of a King] or the alarme (the sounding shout) of a king, that is, of God. He hath reference to the silver trumpets which Israel used in their wars, by the ordinance of God, who also promised, that they should be remembered before the Lord, their God, and saved from their enemies, Numb. 10. 9. Whereupon Abijah said, Behold, God is with us for a captaine, and his Priests with sounding trumpets to erie alarms against you: O sons of Israel, fight ye not against the LORD the God of your fathers, for ye shall not prosper, 2 Chron. 13. 12. So by the shout or alarme of this King among his people, they now were saved from the evils that Balak and Balaam conspired against them. Here-with also may be compared the sounding of trumpets, and shout at the siege of Iericho, Ios. 6. 16. 20. and in the battell of Gedeon, Iudg. 7. 20. And thus Iesus Christ, the King and defender of the Church, causeth continuall joy and triumph in the hearts of his people, justifying, sanctifying, and preserving them in peace with God, who alwayes causeth them to triumph in Christ, 2 Cor. 2. 14. and giveth them salvation from the hands of their enemies. Wherein they rejoyce and say, Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? It is God that justifieth: who is he that condemneth? Rom. 8. 33, 34. among them] Hebr. in him, that is, in Iakob: which phrase may also signifie the faith that his people have in God their King. The Chaldee expoundeth it, The presence (or habitation) of their King is among them.

22 Verse 22. God brought them] or, God the bringer of them. This answereth Balaks complaint, there is a people come out of Egypt, Num. 22. 5. Balaam telleth him, they came not of themselves, (as he imputed unto them for evil,) but they were brought up of God. So againe in Numb. 24. 8. he hath] or, to him is. It may be understood first of God, and then of Israel, unto whom God giveth strength, Psal. 68. 36. the strengths of an Unicorn] or, as the Greeke translath it, the glory of an Unicorn. The Unicorn is a beast commended in the Scripture for the excellencie of his borne: whereupon the Prophet saith, My borne shall be exalted as the Unicorne, Psal. 92. 11. and for his strength; as it is said, Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? Iob 39. 11. Therefore the prowesse of a people against their enemies is set forth by this similitude; as Moses saith of Ioseph, His bornes, the bornes of an Unicorn, with them he shall push the peoples together, Dent. 33. 17. And in this sense Balaam speaketh here of Israel, as in his third blessing he explaineth it, He hath as the strengths of an Unicorn, hee shall eat up the nations, his enemies, and shall brake their bones, &c. Numb. 24. 8. And Christ being delivered from the power of his enemies, saith, I have answered freed me from the horns of Unicorns, Psal. 22. 22. And God himselfe sheweth the nature of his beast to be such, as he will not be tamed, or made serviceable to man, nor bide by the crib, nor plough, or harrow, or bring home the seed into the barne, Job 39. 9, 10, 12. The originall word of strength here used, (which the Greeke translateth glory, the Chaldee, strenght;) is properly such lustinesse, courage and prowesse, as whereby one endureth labour without wearinesse or fainting. Hereby then is signified, that as God himselfe is Almighty, so of his grace he communicateth to his people such strength, as whereby they shall vanquish their enemies, but shall be vanquished of none, for being strong in faith, and the word of God abiding in them, they overcome the world, and the wicked one (Satan,) 1 Job. 5. 4. and 2. 14. sin shall not have dominion over them, Rom. 6. 14. neither are they the servants of men, 1 Cor. 7. 23. they renew their strength, they runne and are not weary, they walke and faint not, Esay 40. 31.

23 Verse 23. Surely there is] or, as the Greeke and Chaldee interpret it, for there is: so making this that followeth a reason of the former comparison. And whereas humane Writers report a speciall vertue to be in the Unicornes horne against poison, some apply that to the poise of enchantment and divination next spoken of, which could not prevaile against Israel, because of the vertue of Gods grace given to his people. no enchantment] or, no observing of fortunes; a finfull art, when by observing the events of things, they gathered signes of good or evill lucke to themselves or others: see the Annotations on Lev. 19. 26. and Deut. 18. 10. against Iakob] or, in Iakob: but in is often used for against, as in Numb. 12. 1. In this sense he teacheth that no devillish arts could hurt Gods people, for the gates of hell shall not prevaile against the Church of Christ, Mat. 16. 18. Although therefore Balak had led him from place to place, to trie if one were more luckie for him than another, that Israel might be cursed; & Balaam had now twice gone to meet with enchantments, that hee might have cursed them, Num. 24. 1. yet all was in vaine, for God would not suffer it. But the Chaldee giveth the latter sense, as if no such enchantments were pleasing unto, or in use among this people, being forbidden them of God, Levit. 19. Deut. 18. divinations] that is, prefaging or fortelling of things to come: see the notes on Deut. 18. 10. according to this time] or, even at this time it shall be said: that is, not hereafter only, but even now, it shall be said by me, who am to prophesie of this people, what great things God hath wrought and will worke for them. It may also be referred unto time to come, as Chazkuni expoundeth it, The next yeare, after they are gone over Iordan, about this time, it shall be said concerning Iakob and Israel, how many (great) workes the holy blessed (God) hath wrought for them. See the like phrase in the Annotations on Gen. 18. 10. and 25. 31. what hath God wrought!] that is, how wonderfull things God hath wrought for them. The Greeke translateth it, What God shall performe. He teacheth that all the valiant acts of Israel should not be done by themselves, but by God for them, as it is shewed in Psalm. 44. 1, 2, &c. Wherefore it is written, Lord thou wilt ordaine peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our workes in us, Esay 26. 12. And so the Apostle saith, It is God which worketh in you both to will, and to doe, of his good pleasure, Philip. 2. 13. and, be which hath begun a good worke in you, will performe it, untill the day of Iesum Christ, Phil. 1. 6.

24 Verse 24. as a courageous Lion] Of these names of Lions, see the Annotations on Gen. 49. 9. Of the Lions nature, Solomon saith, it is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any, Prov. 30. 30. Here, the blessing which was specially given to the tribe of Iudah, Gen. 49. is applied to all Israel, which were in Christ, the Lion of the tribe of Iudah, Rev. 5. 5. for, just men are bold as a Lion, Prov. 28. 1. lift up himselfe] a signe of stoutnesse, courage, and Majestic. By this, and the former rising up, is meant the valiant onset which they should make upon their enemies the Canaanites; whereof the booke of Iosua is a testimony: and under them were figured the spirituall enemies of the salvation of Israel; Satan, sinne, the world, &c. which the Church of Christ should resist and overcome by faith, 1 Pet. 5. 9. and 2. 11. 1 Job. 5. 4. untill he eat the prey] that is, as the Chaldee, and Targum Jonathan expound it, untill he have killed his enemies. Signifying hereby Israels constant fighting of the Lords battels, not lying downe, or giving themselves rest, till they had gotten a full victory. This was in part fulfilled in the conquest of Canaan, at the end whereof the two tribes and an halfe returned with much riches, cattell, silver, gold, &c. to divide the spoile of their enemies, with their brethren, Ios. 12. 3, 4, 8. And when David having fought the battels of the Lord, sang unto his praise, I have pursued mine enemies, and destroyed them, and turned not againe, untill I had consumed them, 2 Sam. 22. 38. But chiefly it is performed by the grace of God in Christ, against the enemies of our soules; whereof it is thus prophesied, And the remnant of Iakob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a renning Lion among the beasts of the Forrest, as a young Lion among the flockes of sheepe; who if he goe thorow, both treadeth downe, and teareth in peeces, and none can deliver. Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off, Mic. 5. 8, 9. And this spirituall warfare is not like the battels of the world, with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood, Esay 9. 5. but with the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, Ephes. 6. 17. in much patience; in afflictions, in necessities; in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tossings to and fro, in labours, in watchings, in fastings, by purenesse, by knowledge; by long-suffering, by kindeesse, by the holy Ghost; by love unfeigned, by the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand, and on the left, &c. 2 Cor. 6. 4. For even Christ himselfe, when he was called the Lion of the tribe of Iuda, appeared like a Lamb as it had been slain, Revel. 5. 5, 6. and his people for his sake are killed all the day long, are counted as sheepe for the slaughter, slaughter; and yet in all these things, as more than conquerors, through him that loved them; Rom. 8. 36, 37.

25 Verse 25. Neither cursing curse him] in Greeke, Neither curse mee him with curses, neither blessing blesse him: that is, neither curse Israel at all, nor blesse him at all. Here Balaks indignation against Balaam, and sinne against God, is increased: rejecting his owne Prophet, refuting the word of the Lord now the second time: and when hee cloud doe no evill to Israel, he would hinder them from good.

27 Verse 27. peradventure it will be right in the eyes of God] that is, it will please God, as the Chaldee expoundeth it; and so the Greeke saith, if it may please God. This is Balaks third and last attempt against the Church of Christ in another place; as Satan tempted Christ himselfe thrice in three severall places, which not succeeding, he then left him, Matth. 4. 1. — 11. And whereas before, the King supposed that Balaams seeing of the whole multitude, was the let why hee did not curse them; hee now perceiveth God to be the cause, and therefore by sacrifices in a place idolatrous, he seeketh to obtaine his favour.

28 Verse 28. The top of Peor] the name of a mountaine, called in Greeke Phogor; and in Chaldee, the top of the high-place of Peor, where the Moabites used to sacrifice unto their idoll, called Baal-peor, Num. 25. 2. 3. 18. and there they had a temple called Beth-peor, or the house of Peor, Deut. 3. 29. and neare it was a citie called Beit-peor, which the Israelites had taken from King Sihon, and it was after given for a possession to the Reubenites, Ios. 13. 15. 20. In this idolatrous mountaine, the King hoping to be heard of God, maketh supplication with new altars and sacrifices: so continuing the abuse of his religion, bent against the wil of God, and to the destruction of his people.

CHAP. XXIV.

I Balaam leaving incantments, prophesieth by the Spirit of God the happinesse of Israel. 10 Balak in anger dismisseth him; 14 but before his departure he prophesieth of the Starre of Iakob, and the destruction of some nations.

1 AND Balaam saw that it was good in the eyes of Jehovah, to blesse Israel; and he went not as at other times, to meet with incantments, but he set his face toward the wilderness. And Balaam lifted
2 up his eyes, and he saw Israel abiding in tents, according to their tribes, & the Spirit of God was upon him. And he tooke up his para-
3 ble and said, Balaam the sonne of Beor assuredly saith, and the man whose eye is open,
4 assuredly saith. Hee assuredly saith, which heard the oracles of God, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling and having his eyes uncovered. How goodly are thy tents, 5

O Iakob, thy tabernacles, O Israel! As the 6 valleyes are they spread forth, as gardens by the river side: as Lign-aloes-trees, which Jehovah hath planted, as Cedar trees beside 7
the waters. He shall poure waters out of his buckets, and his seed shall be in many waters, 8 and his King shall be higher than Agag, and his kingdom shall be exalted. God brought 9 him forth out of Ægypt; hee hath as the strengths of an Vnicorne: he shall eat up the nations his distressers, and shall breake their bones, and pierce them thorow with his arrows. He couched, he lay downe as a renting Lion, and as a couragious Lion, who 10 shall stirre him up? Blessed be every one of them that blesse thee; and cursed be every one 11 of them that curse thee.

And Balaks anger was kindled against Balaam, and he smote his hands together; and Balak said unto Balaam, I called thee to curse mine enemies; and behold, blessing thou hast blessed them these three times. And now flee thou unto thy place: I said, honouring I will honour thee; but loe, Jehovah hath kept thee backe from honour. And Balaam said unto Balak, Spake I not also to thy messengers which thou sentest unto me, saying, If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot goe beyond the mouth of Jehovah, to doe good or evill out of mine owne heart: what Jehovah shall speake, that will I speake. And now, behold I goe unto my people: Come, I will counsell thee what this people shall doe to thy people, in the latter daies.

And hee tooke up his parable, and said, Balaam the sonne of Beor assuredly saith; & the man whose eye is open, assuredly saith. Hee assuredly saith, which heard the oracles of God, and knew the knowledge of the Most high, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling, and having his eyes uncovered. I shall see him, but not now; I shall behold him, but not nigh: There shall proceed a starre out of Iakob, and a scepter shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite thorow the corners of Moab, and shall unwall all the sons of Seth. And Edom shall be a possession, and Seir shall be a possession for his enemies, and Israel shall doe valiantnesse. And hee shall have dominion out of Iakob, and shall destroy him that remaineth, out of the citie. And he looked on Amalek; and he tooke up his parable, and said, Amalek was the first of

of the nations; but his latter end shall be, that he perish for ever.

21 And he looked on the Kenite, and tooke up his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwelling place, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock.

22 Nevertheless, Kain shall be wasted, untill Ashur shall carry thee away captive.

23 And hee tooke up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doth this?

24 And ships (shall come) from the coasts of Kitim, and shall afflict Ashur, and shall afflict Heber, and he also shall perish for ever.

25 And Balaam rose up, and went and returned to his place; and Balak also went to his way.

Annotations.

1 HE went not as at other times] or, not at this time, as the time before, (which the Greeke translateth, according to his custome,) to meet with incantments. This sheweth, that all his former altars, and sacrifices, and consultations with the Lord, were by that wicked art of enchantment, or observing of fortunes, such as the Prophets and diviners of the nations used, Dent. 18. 10. 14. Which thing he now left, as seeing it not available for his purpose; but that his evill heart was not changed, appeareth by his going with the King to mount Peor, to see if from thence he might curse Israel, by his commanding of altars and sacrifices as before, Numb. 23. 27. 30. and by his pestilent counsell which he gave the king after this, for the destruction of Gods people, Numb. 31. 16. Rev. 2. 14. set his face toward the wilderness] where Israel lay encamping, that he might as it were prevent God, and suddenly utter a curse against his people. The Chaldee paraphraseth, he set his face towards the Calfe that Israel had made in the wilderness, (Exod. 32.) as if, looking upon their sinnes, he thought for them he might have cursed Israel: and so in Targum Ierusalem it is explained, He set his face toward the wilderness, and remembered concerning them the worke of the Calfe, and would have cursed Israel.

2 Vers. 2. abiding in tents] or, dwelling; which the Greeke translateth, camping, or having their armie, or leaguer. The order wherein God had placed the armies of Israel about his sanctuary, Num. 2. they alwaies kept, when they pitched in the wilderness: the light whereof astonished the enemy, so that he could not curse them as hee desired, but blessed them the third time. the Spirit of God was upon him] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the spirit of prophesie from before the Lord rested upon him: and as Sol. Iarchi here noteth, it came into his heart that he should not curse them. The like phrase was before in Numb. 11. vers. 26. the Spirit rested upon them, and they prophesied: and againe in vers. 29. would God that all the Lords people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his Spirit upon them.

This was Gods powerfull worke, changing Balaams heart when he intended evill; as when Saul and his messengers went with an evill purpose to have taken David in Naioth, the Spirit of God was upon them, and they also prophesied, 1 Sam. 19. 19. 20. 23. And when wicked men, being thus overruled, uttered divine oracles, as now Balaam did, they spake not of themselves, as it is said of the holy Prophets, For prophesie came not at any time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake, being moved (or carried) by the holy Ghost, 2 Pet. 1. 21.

Vers. 3. he tooke up his parable] that is, prophesied; see Numb. 23. 7. assuredly saith] or affirmeth, overreth: a word appropriate to the oracle of God, which is a faithfull saying, 1 Tim. 1. 15. See the Annotations on Gen. 22. 16. Here Balaam beginneth his third blessing with a solemne preface, avouching the truth & constancie of it from God; against whose will the more he strugleth, the stronger he is resisted. the man whose eye is open] which the Chaldee expoundeth, the man that is faire sighted, that seeth well; the Greeke translateth, the true man: hee seemeth hereby to signifie that he was a Prophet, who in old time was called a Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Speiuhum the originall word, used only here, and in vers. 15. is of contrary signification to Seibum, that is, closed, or shut up: howbeit some take it to be of the same meaning, which may then be explained thus, The man who had his eye shut, but now open. And eye is put for eye, understanding the eyes of his minde opened by the spirit of prophesie: though some of the Hebrewes (as Iarchi here observeth) have from hence conjectured, that Balaam was blinde of one eye.

Vers. 4. the oracles of God] or, the sayings of God, as the Chaldee saith, the word from before God: but the Greeke translateth strong oracles, because God (in Hebrew El) is so named of being strong or mightie. vision of the Almighty] or, of the Almightie, that is, as the Greeke translateth, of God. falling] understand, into a trance, or deep sleepe, or falling on my face to the ground: for even the holy men of God, when they saw divine visions, used to fall downe on their faces, and into deep sleepes, as dead men. So a deepe sleepe (or trance) fell upon Abraham, Gen. 15. 12. and Daniel was afraid, and fell on his face, and was in a deepe sleepe on his face toward the ground, Dan. 8. 17. 18. and Iohn fell at his feet as dead, Rev. 1. 17. and Ezekiel fell on his face, Ezek. 1. 28. and 3. 23. and 43. 3. and 44. 4. Likewise when the spirit of prophesie came upon men, they are said to fall, or lye downe, as did Saul, 1 Sam. 19. 24. And in this place of Balaam, the Chaldee translateth it, lying downe; the Greeke, in a sleepe; so after, in vers. 16. eyes uncovered] or, unveiled, to wit, to see the vision, as the Chaldee saith, and it was revealed unto him.

Vers. 5. How goodly] or, how good! which word implieth profit, pleasure, beauty, joy, delight, &c. See the Notes on Gen. 1. 4. thy tents] in Greeke, thy houses, or dwellings; but tents are a moveable habitation, fitting the people of God in this world, Hebr. 11. 9. and a warlike life, Ier. 6. 3. Afterward the Church is called the tents of Iakob, Mal. 2. 12. and

and the tents of Judab, Zach. 12.7. And Jakob their father is noted to have dwelled in tents, Gen. 25. 27. Moreover, when this people were seated in Canaan, their dwelling places were called their Tents, 2 Chron. 10.16. & 7.10. So this is meant of the state of the Church, not only then present, but throughout all ages. thy Tabernacles] or, thy habitacles, dwelling places; which have their name of vicinitie, or neernesse together. This therefore noteth the communion of the Church with Christ, and one with another; and is by T bargum Iouathan expounded, the Tabernacle of the Congregation which is set among you, and your Tabernacles which are round about it, O house of Israel. O Israel] that is, O Israelites. The Church is named after their father Jakob and Israel; Jakob is their name in respect of their owne infirmitie, (whereupon it is said, Fear not, thou worme Jakob, Esay 41.14. and, by whom shall Jakob arise? for he is small, Amos 7. 2, 5.) but Israel is the name of their power and prevailing with God and men. See the Annotations on Gen. 32.28.

6 Verse 6. spread forth] or stretched out, implying both length, and bredth, and large extent of Israels habitations; compared therefore to valleyes or bournes, which are long, large, pleasant to behold, and watered with rivers, whereby they are fruitfull, as Song 6.11. as Gardens] which are inclosed, set with pleasant and wholesome plants, and by rivers are made alwaies fresh, green, and fruitfull. Wherefore the Scripture likeneth the Church to a garden full of pleasant fruits, Song 4. 12, 16. Esay. 61.11. by the river] in Greeke, by rivers: whereby the gardens are made greene and fruitfull, without which they wither. Therefore when God threatneth judgment to Israel, he saith, ye shall be as a garden that hath no water, Esay. 1.30. and promising mercie, he saith, Thou shalt be like a watered garden, Esay. 58.11. Hereby was signified that river of God full of water, Psal. 65. 9. the river, the streames whereof make glad the cite of God, Pla. 46.4. even the Word and Spirit of the Lord, which refresheth and comforteth his people, as it is written, Their soules shall be as a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow any more at all, Jerem. 31.12.

Lign-aloes-trees] or as some thinke, Santal-trees, in Hebrew, Abalim, which hath affinity with the name of Aloes derived of it. The Greeke translateth it Tents; but the Chaldee, Spices. The Lign-aloes is a tree growing in Arabia and India, which giveth a sweet odour, and is like the Thyine wood mentioned in Revel. 18. 12. and is here used to signifie the good fame of the Church, & report of her graces, which is as a sweet smell. Iebowah hath planted] this signifieth the excellencie of this tree above others, and the growth in the naturall place, where it best prospereth: so the Cedars are said to be planted by him, in Psal. 104. 16. and he is the planter of his Church, Jer. 2.21.

Cedars by the waters] the Cedar is one of the goodliest trees, for talnesse, bignesse, strength and durance; with the timber of it the Temple was built, 1 King. 6.9, 10, &c. and by the waters it best flourisheth, and signifieth the glory of the kingdome of Israel: as it is written of the Kingdome of Assyria, Behold the Assyrian was a Cedar in Lebanon, with fair branches, & with a shadowing sproud, and of an high stature, &c. The waters made him great, the deepe set him up on high, with her rivers running round about his plants &c. Ezek. 31.3, 4. See also Psal. 1.3.

7 Verse 7. Hee shall poure waters] or, water shall flow out of his buckets: ipeaking of Israel. This parable is translated by the Greeke Interpreters thus; There shall come forth a man out of his seed, and shall have dominion over many nations, and his kingdome shall be higher than Gog, and his kingdome shall be increased. And by the Chaldee Paraphrast thus; There shall grow up a King, which shall be annointed of his sonnes, and shall have dominion over many peoples; and his King shall be mightier than Agag, and his kingdome shall be exalted. And T bargum Iouathan expoundeth it to the like effect; and the exposition accordeth with other Scriptures which speake of the propagation of children, by the similitude of waters, fountaines, cisternes, and the like: as, Heare ye this, O house of Jakob, &c. which are come forth out of the waters of Judah, Esay 48. 1. and ye of the fountaine of Israel, Psal. 68. 27. And Solomon speaking of wife and children in the lawfull state of marriage, saith, Drinke waters out of thine owne cistene, and running waters out of thine owne well. Let thy fountaines be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets; Let them be onely thine owne, &c. Proverbs 5. 15, 18. And againe speaking of the harlot, hee saith, Stollen waters are sweet, Proverbs 9. 17. Thus Balaam prophesieth here of Israels great increase, and of the glorie of their kingdome, in David and Solomon, but chiefly in Christ. Otherwise, by waters may be understood the Word and Spirit of God, as Joh. 3.5. & 4.10. & 7.38, 39. which should plentifully be poured out in the Church; that they might with joy draw water out of the well of salvation, as Esay 12. 3. his seed, in many waters] this seed may be understood as before, of children; and many waters, of many peoples, as in Revel. 17. 15. Esay. 57. 19. Psal. 144. 7. Or seed may meane corne, sown in watry, moist and fruitfull places, to bring forth much increase: as, Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the Oxe and the Ass, Esay. 32. 20. higher than Agag] the King of the Amalekites, whom Saul the King of Israel subdued, 1 Sam. 15. 8. and it seemeth this was a common name to all the Kings of Amalek, as Pharaoh was to all the Kings of Egypt. Spiritually the King of Israel is Christ, John 1. 49. & 12. 13, 15. who is higher than the Kings of the earth, Psal. 89. 28. amongst whom Agag sometime excelled. his kingdome] the kingdome of Israel, exalted by David and Solomon, but above all by Christ, whose Church and kingdome is above all kingdomes, in grace, glory and incorruption, Esay. 2. 2. Dan. 2. 44. Rev. 11. 15.

8 Verse 8. of an Unicorn] This similitude is here repeated and enlarged from the former blessing, in Num. 23. 22. eat up] i.e. consume the nations, as the seven nations in Canaan, Deut. 7. 1. and all other, subdued by faith, as it is said, The nation and kingdome that will not serve thee, shall perish: yea those nations shall be utterly wasted, Esay 60. 12. See also Num. 14. 9. break their bones] in Greeke, marrow (or eat out the marrow of) their fat bones. It signifieth an utter weakning of them, that they should never recover their strength. pierce them] in Greeke, shoot thorow the enemy with his arrowes. Arrowes are often mentioned among other instruments of warre, Jer. 50. 9, 14. & 51. 11. Zach. 9. 14. These pierce inwardly, and are figuratively applied to piercing words, Psal. 64. 4. and spiritually to the words of Christ, whose arrowes are sharpe in the heart of the Kings enemies, Psalm. 45. 6.

9 Verse 9. He couched] Here Balaam applieth unto Israel that blessing which Iakob gave unto his son Iudah, the father of our Lord Christ, the Lion of that Tribe, Gen. 49. 9. and it signifieth the victorie of the Church over their enemies: See also Num. 23. 24. who shall stir him up] who dare provoke him? meaning, none. So the victory gotten shall quietly be held; and the peace of the Church after her warfare, is here foretold, but accomplished in Christ. Blessed be every one of them] The conclusion of this blessing, is the same wherewith Isaak ended the blessing upon Iakob the father of this people, Gen. 27. 29. and like that which God gave unto Abraham, Gen. 12. 3. Thus God continueth his grace to the faithfull and their seed for ever; and here, by Balaams own mouth, curseth all this wicked plot and practise of the King and Prophet, who had endeavoured with their utmost craft to curse the people whom God had blessed, and Balaam is condemned of himselfe.

10 Verse 10. he smote his hands] or, clapped the palmes of his hands; a signe of indignation and griefe in the King, with a contempt of the Prophet; as elsewhere it is said, Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place, Job 27. 23. and, All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee, they hiss, and wag their head, &c. Lam. 2. 15.

11 Verse 11. Flee thou] or, Flee for thy selfe, that is, Get thee gone speedily: so fleeing is used for speedy departing, in Esa. 48. 20. Zac. 2. 6. Job 9. 25. & 14. 2. Amos 7. 12. Here Balak being out of hope to effect his purpose, leadeth not Balaam to another place, as he had done before, but turneth him off with ignominy. unto thy place] thy country Mesopotamia, as the place of the Ganaanites, &c. in Exo. 3. 8. is their country, and in Exo. 23. 20. the place, is in Greeke, the land. Or, unto the city Pethor, as, unto the place of Sichem, Gen. 12. 6. is the citie of Sichem: See Amos 4. 6. kept thee backe] in Greeke, deprived thee of honour. Here Balaam, who ambitiously sought after honor and riches, is sent away with shame, and misseth of the wages of unrighteousnesse which he loved: for, The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke; but to him that soweth righteousness, shall be a sure reward, Prov. 11. 18.

13 Verse 13. goe beyond the mouth] in Greeke, transgresse the word: See Numb. 22. 18. out of mine owne beart] in Greeke, of my selfe.

14 Verse 14. I will counsell thee what this people shall doe] This seemeth to be an imperfect speech, which the Chaldee Paraphrast well explaineth thus; I will counsell thee what thou shalt doe, and I will shew thee what this people shall doe. For the Scriptures have many like briefe speeches, as is noted on Exo. 4. 5. & 13. 8. and Moses after sheweth, that Balaam gave Balak wicked counsell against Israel, to draw them unto idolatry and fornication, Num. 31. 16. and our Saviour calleth it the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication, Rev. 2. 14. the history whereof followeth in Num. 25. And thus the Hebrews also expound this place: Chazkuni in these words, I will counsell thee: Moses our Teacher concealeth the counsell, because Balaam said it to Balak in secret: but in Numb. 31. 16. it is revealed. To like effect writeth Sol. Iarchi, saying, This Scripture is briefe, I will counsell thee to cause them to stumble (or fall) and I will tell thee what evil they shall doe to Moab in the latter daies: and Targum Jonathan openeth it by Num. 25. 1, 2, &c. in the latter daies] that is, the daies after following: See the like in Gen. 49. 1. For the time present Israel might not meddle with the people of Moab, Deut. 2. 9. but after in Davids daies, he smote Moab and measured them with a line, casting them downe to the ground: even with two lines measured he to put to death, and with one full line to keepe alive; and so the Moabites became Davids servants, 2 Sam. 8. 2. Again in Jerem. 48. there is a large prophesie of Moabs destruction, with a promise of the returning of their captivitie in the latter daies.

Verse 15. tooke up his parable] that is, prophesied, but darkly and in parables: see verse 3. whose eyes is open] in Greeke, the true man: See the notes on verse 3.

Verse 16. the knowledge of the Most High] in Chaldee, knowledge from before the Most High, that is, made knowne to him of God. This sentence is here added more than in verse 4. Baal-hatturim here noteth, that he saith this, because he would reveale the daies of Christ. falling] into a trance; the Greeke translateth it, in a sleepe: see this opened on verse 4.

Verse 17. I shall see him] or, shall see it; meaning the person or thing that now he is to speake of; namely David, and his kingdome, the accomplishment wherof should be in Christ & his Church. Sol. Iarchi explaineth it thus; I see the praise of Iakob, and their greatnesse: but it is not now, but after a time. Chazkuni here saith, He prophesieth of David. but not nigh] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, his comming is not nigh. This may be understood of Christ, for of him he after prophesieth; whom Balaam saith, he shall behold, (for every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him, Rev. 1. 17.) but he had not Iobs faith, to behold him his Redeemer, Job 19. 25, 27. shall proceed a star] or, a star hath proceeded, speaking after the manner of prophesie of a thing to come, as already done. The Gr. translateth, a star shall arise: which the Chal. expoundeth, A king shall arise out of the house of Iakob. This is to be understood in part of David, and chiefly of Christ our Lord, who who thus testifieth of himselfe, I am the root and the off-spring of David, the bright and morning star. Thus also the Hebrews understood it of old; for the false Christ that arose unto the Jews in the daies of Trajan the Emperour, was called (in allusion to this prophesie) Bar Chechab, that is, the sonne of the starre: but being after slaine in battell, the Jewes seeing themselves deceived, called him Bar Coziba, that is, the sonne of fullblood. Of him there is mention in Talmud Bab. in Sanhedrin, cap. Chelek: and Maimony in treat. of Kings, chap. 11. sect. 3. saith of R. Akiba, who was the Armour-bearer of Ben Coziba the King, that he said of him, he was the King Christ. And he and all the wise men of his age thought he was the King Christ, untill hee was killed for iniquitie: when he was killed, they knew he was not. a Scepter] or, a rod, a staffe, a signe of Kingdome and government: See the notes on Gen. 49. 10. The Greeke translateth it, a man shall rise out of Israel; the Chaldee saith, Messias (or Christ) shall be anointed of the house of Israel. As David and other Kings had Scepters, so Christ is said to have rod or scepter, as, The Scepter of thy kingdome is a Scepter of righteousness, Psalm. 45. 7. Heb. 1. 8. and, Thou shalt rule them with a rod (or Scepter) of iron, Psalm. 2. 9. the corners] or, the sides, (the quarters) of Moab; meaning a conquest of the whole country, in every quarter and corner of it. The Greeke Interpreters understood it figuratively, the Dukes of Moab; likewise the Chaldee Paraphrast, saying, he shall kill the Princes of Moab. This was literally fulfilled by David, who smote Moab, and cast them downe to the ground, &c. 2 Sam. 8. 2. spiritually by Christ, destroying idolaters and Antichristians, in religion like Moabites. shall unwall] shall cast downe the walls, that is, conquer and subdue, which the Greeke expoundeth, shall captive (or make a prey;) the Chaldee, shall rule or have dominion. the sons of Seth] who was the sonne of Adam, set in Abels roome, whom Cain killed, Gen. 4. 25. and all Cains race being drowned in the flood, onely Seths posterity in Noab remained: so that all the world now are the sons of Seth, as of Adam: wherefore the Chaldee explaineth it, he shall have dominion over all the sons of men. So it is a prophesie of Christ, whom all Kings should worship, all nations should serve, Psalm. 72. 11. and the ends of the earth should be his possession, Psalm. 2. 8. That at the name of Iesus every knee should bow, Phil. 2. 10. And this conquest is gotten by the preaching of the Gospel, as it is written, The weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the pulling downe of strong holds, casting downe imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it selfe against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivitie every thought to the obedience of Christ, and having in a readinesse to revenge all disobedience, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5, 6. Some take Seth here to be meant not of a mans name, but to signifie the binder part, and to meane the peoples then behinde Balaam, as the Ammonites, Midianites, and the like: but besides the Chaldee fore-mentioned, the Greeke also translateth it, all the sons of Seth: and the Hebrews doe most so expound it; as Sol. Iarchi saith, all the sons of Seth, i.e. all peoples, which doe all come of Seth the son of Adam the first. Maimony in Mishneh, tom. 4. treat. of Kings, chap. 11. sect. 1. explaineth Balaams prophesie thus; I shall see him, but not now: this is David: I shall behold him, but not nigh; this is the King Christ. There shall proceed a starre out of Jakob; this is David: and a scepter shall rise out of Israel; this is the King Christ: and shall smite: borrow the corners of Moab; this is David, as it is written (in 2 Sam. 8. 2.) And he smote Moab, &c. And he shall unwall all the corners of Seth; this is the King Christ, of whom it is written (in Psalm. 72. 8.) He shall have dominion from sea to sea. And Edom shall be a possession to David, as it is said, And all they of Edom became Davids servants, 2 Sam. 8. 14. And Seir shall be a possession; this is unto the King Christ: as it is said, And Saviours shall come up on mount Sion, to judge the mount of Esau, and the Kingdome shall be the Lords, Hobad. verse 21.

Verse 18. Edom] the Edomites the posterity of Esau, these became a possession to David, 1 Chro. 18. 13. after that unto Christ; as it is written, Who is this that cometh from Edom? &c. Esa. 63. 1, 6.

Seir] the mountaine where Esau dwelt, Gen. 36. 7, 8. wherefore the Greeke in stead of Seir, nameth Esau. shall doe valiantnesse] or, doe valiantly, valiant acts: which phrase is sometime understood of warres and victories, as in 1 Sam. 14. 48. sometime of getting wealth and riches, as in Ezek. 28. 4. Both may be here meant, and the Chaldee expoundeth it of the latter. And as this was answerable to the name of Israel, which signified his power and prevailling with God and with men, Gen. 32. 28. so David, after he had vanquished the Edomites, celebrated the truth of this promise, saying, Through God we shall doe valiantnesse, and he will tread downe our enemies, Psa. 60. 14.

Verse 19. And he shall have dominion] he, that is, one of the house of Jakob, as the Chaldee expresseth it. So Targum Jonathan saith, And a ruler shall rise up out of the house of Jakob. And it may be understood of David first, then and chiefly of Christ, Sol. Iarchi openeth it thus, And yet there shall be another ruler out of Jakob, and he shall destroy him that remaineth out of the citie. Of the King Christ he speaketh thus, of whom it is said (in Psalm. 72.) he shall have dominion from sea to sea. out of the Citie] that is, of every citie, to wit, of the Edomites, as ver. 18. or more generally, of all cities; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the citie of the peoples. Chazkuni referreth it to Joab, Davids captaine, of whom it is said, Six moneths did Joab remaine there with all Israel, untill he had cut off every male in Edom, 1 King. 11. 15, 16. But it hath reference also to further victories, as is said, The house of Jakob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them, and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau, for the Lord hath spoken it, Hobad. v. 18. The Targum called Jonathan, nameth it Constantinople: by which it is evident, that the Authour of that worke was not Jonathan ben Uzziel, who paraphrased on the Prophets, and was of the Apostles age, but some later Jew, who put forth his worke in that Imabans name.

- 20 Ver. 20. he looked on Amalek] on the countrie or people of the Amalekites, the posterity of Esau, Gen. 36. 12. As the sight of Israel occasioned Balaam to blesse them, verse 2, &c. so the beholding of the wicked, occasioned the utterance of their judgement and curse. the first] or the beginning of the nations; meaning either the chiefest of them, or, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the first of them that warred against Israel; for which God threatened their ruine before, in Exo. 17. as now he foretelleth it again by Balaam. As Israel was the Lords first-fruits, Jer. 2. 3. and therefore by him preserved: so Amalek being the first-fruits of the wicked nations, is devoted to destruction, fulfilled in part by Saul, 1 Sam. 15. and after in Mordecaies time, Ester 7. but spiritually accomplished by Christ. Thus Jericho the first-fruits of the Canaan cities, was also devoted and destroyed, Jos. 6. his latter end] or, his posteritie; as the Greeke translateth, his seed: See Psal. 37. 38. that he perish for ever] or, unto perdition; which the Greeke translateth, shall perish; the Chaldee, shall perish for ever: So in verse 24.

- 21 Ver. 21. the Kenite] that is, the Kenites, or Keneans; these the Chaldee calleth Salmeans; so that he tooke them for those Kenites mentioned in Gen. 15. 19. But Thargum Jonathan expoundeth it of Isbro, that became a Proselyte, Exod. 18. And so in Judg. 1. 16. it is said, the children of the Kenite, Moses father in law, went up, &c. And these are mentioned here next Amalek, because they dwelt with them; as is written, And Saul said unto the Kenites; Goe, depart, get you downe from among the Amalekites, &c. 1 Sam. 15. 6. thou puttest thy nest] Hebr. to put thy nest, of which phrase see the Annotations on Gen. 6. 19. And here the Hebr. Ken, which is a nest, hath allusion to the Kenites name: by nest, meaning an habitation, as in Job 29. 18. a similitude taken from Eagles, which build their nests on high rocks; see Obad. ver. 4. Habak. 2. 9. So hereby was signified the secure dwelling of the Kenites by Israel, without disturbance, till the Assyrian wasted all.

- 22 Ver. 22. Kain] that is, the Kenite, who came, as it seemeth, of a man named Kain, and so is by the Chaldee expounded as before, the Salmean. Some thinke it to be the name of a place where they dwelt. wasted] or, eaten up, to wit, by enemies. untill Assur] or, whiles Assur; the Assyrians, and Babylonians, who carried away captive the ten Tribes of Israel, 2 King. 17. 6. and the Jewes into Babylon, 2 King. 25. and so the Kenites with them, as appeareth by this prophesie; and after the returne of the people out of Babylon, there is mention of these Kenites also, in 1 Chron. 2. 55.

- 23 Ver. 23. Alas, who shall live] the Chaldee explaineth it, Woe to the sinners that shall live, &c. Hee signifieth hereby extraordinary and grievous calamities. doth this] Hebr. putteth, or disposeth this, to wit, this that followeth. Thargum Jonathan explaineth it, When the word of the Lord shall be revealed, to give a good reward unto the just, and to take vengeance on the wicked, &c.

24 Ver. 24. from the coast of Kitim] Hebr. from the hand of Kitim, which the Chaldee expoundeth from the Romanes; the old Latine version, from Italy; the Greeke keepeth the Hebrew phrase, from the hand of the Kiteans. Kitim (or Chitim) was one of the sons of Iavan, the son of Iaphet, the son of Noe, Gen. 10. 4. His posteritie seated in Cilicia, Macedonia, Cyprus, and Italy also, as Iosephus observeth in Antiq. lib. 4. cap. 22. Wherefore Kitim is taken sometime for the one, and sometime for the other. Here it may imply both the troubles that befell the Assyrians and Jewes, by the Greeks and Selucidæ in the troublous daies of Antiochus, according to that in Dan. 11. 30. For the ships of Kitim shall come against him: and after calamities that befell the Hebrewes, from the Romanes.

shall afflict Assur] they, the ships, that is, the armies of Kitim shall afflict the Assyrians, which come of Assur, the son of Sem, the son of Noe, Gen. 10. 22.

Heber] or Eber, that is, Hebers children, as the Greeke translateth it, the Hebrewes, of Heber: see Gen. 10. 22, 24. All Israel were his posteritie, afflicted by Greekes and Romanes. Christ was the chiefest of Eber, Luke 3. 23, 35. he was killed by Pilate the Romane Deputie. Since that time, Rome by Antichrist there reigning, hath afflicted Christ in his members. he also] that is, Kitim shall perish for ever: or, shall goe unto perdition. Thus Balaam, as hee began with the blessing of Israel, endeth with the destruction of their enemies: God by his mouth confirming the promises made unto Abraham, and to his seed for ever; the accomplishment of all which, is in Christ.

25 Ver. 25. returned to his place] that is, went away with a purpose to returne home, but was stayed by the Midianites, and among them was killed by the sword of Israel, Numb. 31. 8. But this is here so signified, to shew how God disappointed their plots and practises, that Balaam returned as he came, & could not curse Israel, but denounced woes against their enemies. Things which men purpose and indeavour to doe, are said to be done by them, though perhaps not effected; as is noted on Exod. 8. 18. Numb. 14. 40. It might also be, that Balaam indeed returned to his place, and afterward came againe to the Midianites. So Chazkuni (on Numbers 31.) saith, After that he had returned to his place, to Mesopotamia, he came againe to Midian, to receive money of the Elders of Midian, when he heard say of the plague which had beene in Israel by his counsell.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Israel at Shittim commits whoredome with the daughters of Moab, and idolatry with Baal-Peor. 4 The idolaters are commanded to be slain. 6 Phineas killeth Zimri and Cozbi. 10 God therefore giveth him an everlasting Priesthood. 16 The Midianites are to be vexed for their wiles against Israel.

And

1 And Israel abode in Shittim, and the 2 people began to commit whoredome with the daughters of Moab. And they called the people unto the sacrifices of their gods: and the people did ear, and bowed themselves downe to their gods.
 3 And Israel was joyned to Baal-Peor, and the anger of Jehovah was kindled against Israel.
 4 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, Take all the heads of the people, and hang them up before Jehovah, against the Sunne, that the fierce anger of Jehovah may be turned 5 away from Israel. And Moses said unto the Judges of Israel, Slay yee every man
 his men that were joyned unto Baal-Peor.
 6 And behold, a man of the sonnes of Israel came, and brought neere unto his brethren a Midianitess, in the eyes of Moses,
 and in the eyes of all the congregation of the sonnes of Israel: and they were weeping
 at the doore of the Tent of the congrega-7 tion. And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the Priest, saw it; and he rose up from amongst the Congregation, 8 and tooke a Javelin in his hand. And hee went in after the man of Israel, into the tent,
 and thrust both of them thorow, the man of Israel, and the woman, thorow her belly;
 and the plague was stayed from the sons of 9 Israel. And those that died in the plague, were foure and twenty thousand.

10 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
 11 Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the Priest, hath turned my wrath away from the sonnes of Israel, whiles hee was zealous with my zeale among them, that I consumed not the sonnes of Israel in my 12 zeale. Therefore say, Behold I give unto 13 him my covenant of peace. And there shall be to him, and to his seed after him, the covenant of an everlasting Priesthood, because hee was zealous for his God, and made at-14 onement for the sons of Israel. And the name of the man of Israel, that was smitten, that was smitten with the Midianitess, was 15 Zimri, the sonne of Salu, a Prince of a fathers house, of the Simeonites. And the name of the woman, the Midianitess that was smitten, was Cozbi the daughter of 16 Zur, he was an head of nations, of a fathers house of Midian.

17 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;
 Vex thou the Midianites, and smite yee

them. For they vex you with their wiles, 18
 wherewith they have beguiled you in the matter of Peor, and in the matter of Coz-bi, the daughter of a Prince of Midian their sister, which was smitten in the day of the plague, for Peors sake.

Annotations.

A Bode in Shittim] a place in the wilderness, in the plains of Moab, neere Jordan, called Abel Shittim, in Num. 33. 48, 49. In this place Israel did sit, or abide, untill after Moses death; and from thence Iesus removed them to Jordan, where they passed over to Gilgal, Jos. 2. 1. & 3. 1. Wherefore God after willed the people to remember the things that befell unto them, from Shittim to Gilgal, that they might know the righteousness of the Lord, Mic. 6. 5. And the History now following sheweth, how when Balak, the Princes of Moab
 and Midian, and Balaam their Prophet, had plotted and practised wick all their art and might, to withdraw Gods favour & blessing from his people, but prevailed nothing; the Prophet gave Balak and the Midianites counsell to put a stumbling-blocke before the Israelites, to see if they could withdraw the people from the love, feare,
 and obedience of the Lord their God, that Israel finning, might fall and bring themselves into the curse, (which Balaam could not bring upon them) and so perish. By this wicked counsell they prevailed against many, to the death of 24. thousand Israelites: but the state and body of the Church was by Gods grace still preserved, the wicked being taken away by his judgement. the people]

some of the people of Israel; for they that fell to this wickednesse, did all perish; but they that cleaved to the Lord, remained alive, Deut. 4. 3, 4.
 to commit whoredome] or, to commit fornication;
 which the Chaldee expoundeth, to erre (or goe astray) after the daughters of Moab; understanding also, the daughters of Midian, as appeareth by v. 6.
 17, 18. This evill they fell into, by the wicked counsell and doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-blocke before the sonnes of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to Idols, and to commit fornication, Revel. 2. 14. So Moses likewise saith, Behold these (women) caused the sins of Israel, through the word of Balaam, to commit trespass against Jehovah in the matter of Peor, Num. 31. 16. That hypocrite who had so often blessed Israel, and pronounced those accursed which cursed them, who had heard and uttered the oracles of God, had his eyes opened, had escaped the sword of the Angell, &c. to the end that he should not speake
 or doe any thing but what the Lord commanded: yet after all this, hee was the Author of this mischief; that it might appeare how evill men and seducers was worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived, 2 Timothee 3. 13. and that men might beware of false Prophets, which come in sheepes cloathing, but inwardly are ravening wolves, Mat. 7. 15.

2 Verse 2. they called] that is, the daughters of Moab called, or invited. Thus the intended war of Moab against Israel was turned to a pretended peace, and feigned amitie, alluring the people by fleshly baits, to defile the bodies and soules with whoredome and idolatrie. By the women of Moab, and of other strange peoples, Solomon the wise was also drawne into sin, 1 King. 11. 1, 4. sacrifices of their gods] or, of their god; in Greeke and Chaldee, of their idols: meaning of Baal-Peor: whereof David speaketh thus, They were joynted unto Baal-Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead, Psa. 106. 28. By the dead, meaning Idols, unto which the Scriptures doe oppose the living and true God, 1 Thes. 1. 9. Jer. 10. 9, 10. did eat] and so communicated with their idolatrie; for they which eat of the sacrifices, are partakers of the Altar, 1 Cor. 10. 18. This sin God in speciall manner had forewarned them of, in Exo. 34. 14, 15. bowed to their gods] in Greeke and Chaldee, to their idols. This people whom God had guided thorow the wilderness fortie yeeres, who had seen Gods workes, and felt his punishments for their owne and their fathers sins, were delivered from many enemies round about, and now abiding in Shittim, were ready to enter into the promised land, are here prevented and overthrowne through their owne corruption.

3 Verse 3. was joynted] or, was coupled, was yoked: unto which word the Apostle seemeth to have respect, when he saith, Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers, 2 Cor. 6. 14. to Baal-Peor] which the Chaldee expoundeth, to them that served Baal-Peor, that was the Idol of the Moabites and Midianites, called in Greeke Eel-phégor. Baal is by interpretation a Lord or Patron: by which name it is probable that the Heathens called the Summe, or some starre, as is noted on Lev. 18. 21. Peor or Phégor, was the name of a mountaine, Num. 23. 28. and of the Idol there worshipped, Num. 25. 17. Jos. 22. 17. And because Baal was a common name to many Idols, and much revered of the peoples, through corruption the Israelites called also the LORD, Baal: but he blameth them for it, saying, Thou shalt call me no more Baal, Hos. 2. 16. and in detestation of the name, the Prophets put Esheth, that is, Shame, in stead of Baal, that is, Lord: as it is written, They went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselves unto that Shame, Hos. 9. 10. and the Greeke Interpreters in 1 King. 18. 25. translate Baal, Shame: yea and the Hebrew Prophets sometime put one for another, as Ierub Baal (who was Gedeon) Judg. 8. 35. & 9. 1. is called Ierub-Esheth, 2 Sam. 11. 21. Esh-Baal, 1 Chron. 8. 33. is called Ish-Bosheth, 2 Sam. 2. 10. and Amerib Baal, 1 Chron. 8. 34. is Amerib-Esheth, 2 Sam. 9. 10. Hereupon it is said, Te set up Altars to that Shame, even Altars to burne incense unto Baal, Jer. 11. 13. Peor hath the signification of opening the mouth, and was the name of this Idol, as some thinke, of filthinesse and fornication committed together with idolatrie, (as this Historie sheweth) and to be that which in other language was called Præputium. But as Nebo the god of Babylon hath his name of Prophecying, so Peor might likewise be so called of opening the mouth in speech and prophesie; as the Scripture mentioneth the Prophets of Baal, 1 King. 18. 22. and of the Prophets that prophesied by Baal, Jer. 2. 8. & 23. 13. the anger of Iehovah] They provoked him to indignation by their actions, and the plague brake in upon them, Psa. 106. 29. Thus Balaam by his counsell brought them into sin, and so under wrath and curse through their owne default; which he could not obtain of God otherwise against them by any meanes.

Verse 4. the heads] that is, as the Greeke translateth, the captaines of the people, such as were chiefe in the transgression. hang them up] the Greeke translateth it, Make them a publike example: the Chaldee, Judge and kill him that is worthy to be killed: but Bar gum Tishan expoundeth it, crucifie them. The Law after saith, he that is hanged in the curse of God, that is, accursed of God, Deut. 21. 23. so the sinners brought the curse upon themselves. before Iehovah] or for, or unto Iehovah; to his honour; in doing vengeance on his enemies. Both these phrases are used as one, in 2 Sam. 21. we will hang them up unto Iehovah, ver. 6. and they hanged them before Iehovah, ver. 9. that the fierce anger] or, as the Greeke translateth, and the fierce anger (or beat of the anger) of the Lord shall be turned away. Signifying that the rooting out of sinners turneth away Gods anger from a people: for, to the justice and judgement, is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice, Proverbs 21. 3.

Verse 5. his men] the men under his government, as they were distributed in Exo. 18. 25. Although the Midianites were the beginners of this mischief, yet God first punisheth and purgeth his Church, and after he giveth order to destroy the Midianites, ver. 17. Num. 31. 2. for judgement must begin at the house of God, 1 Pet. 4. 17. Ezek. 9. 6. Compare herewith the judgement inflicted for the golden Calfe, Exod. 32. 27, &c.

Verse 6. brought neere] this word signifieth a bringing to commit fornication; as in Gen. 20. 4. Abimelech had not come neere unto her: see the notes on Leviticus 18. 6. they were weeping] these circumstances shew the sin to be done with an high hand, in contempt of Moses, of the Congregation, of God himselfe and his judgements (for which the people now wept:) and so of all Religion; and with a purpose to stirre up the people unto open rebellion.

Verse 8. into the Tent] The original word used here for a tent, is not the ordinary name, but such as signifieth a cave or hollow place; & is thought to mean such a tent as was made for fornication: and so it more sheweth the height of his impiety, that erected such a place of wickednesse. her belly] in Chaldee, her bowels; in Greeke, her wombe (or matrice.) the plague was stayed] or, was restrained: this plague, which the Chaldee calleth death, seemeth to be a pestilence which God sent among the people, as the like speech elsewhere sheweth, Numb. 16. 50. 1 Chron. 21. 22. as also in that David saith, the plague brake in upon them, Psal. 106. 29. Howbeit the word is sometime used for slaughter by the sword, as in 1 Sam. 4. 17.

- 9 Verse 9. 24 thousand] all the men that had followed Bala-Peor, the Lord destroyed them from among his people, Deut. 4. 3. The Apostle speaking hereof, saith, Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed; and fell in one day three and twentie thousand, 1 Corinth. 10. 8. It seemeth that one thousand were slaine by the Judges, verse 5. and 23 thousand by the hand of God, of which latter number the Apostle speaketh: or, one thousand of the chiefe were hanged, and the rest slain by the sword.

DDD Here the Hebrews begin the 41. Section or Lecture of the Law, which they call Phinehas.

- 11 Verse 11. hath turned away] in Greeke, hath caused my wrath to cease. The fact of Phinehas, who was but a Priests sonne, no ordinary Magistrate, and who proceeded not with the malefactors judicially, but carried with zeale of God, thrust them thorow suddenly, might seeme blameworthy in the eyes of men, and might procure him much ill wil, considering the persons whom he killed, the man being a Prince in Israel, and the woman a Princes daughter of Midian: therefore God here justifieth and rewardeth his work done by the motion of his Spirit. he was zealous with my zeale] or, he was zealous with my jealousy; for Gods cause, not his owne. The Apostle hath a like speech, I am zealous over you with jealousy of God, that is, with godly jealousy. Zeale or jealousy, (both which are signified by one word in the Hebrew) meaneth both a fervent indignation against the sinners, and a fervent love unto the Lord, shewed in his former act, as Targum Jonathan addeth for explanation, and he killed the guilty among them. in my zeale] or, in my jealousy; it is the word before used, and applied here to God, as in Exod. 20. 5. and often.

- 12 Verse 12. I give] In Chaldee, I decree. of peace] understand, my covenant, (the covenant of) peace: so God saith of Levi, my covenant was with him, (the covenant of) life and peace; and I gave them unto him, for the feare wherewith he feared me, &c. Mal. 2. 5. So in this place Targum Jonathan paraphraseth, Behold I decree unto him my covenant of peace, and I will make him the messenger of my covenant, and he shall live for ever, to preach the Gospel of redemption in the end of daies. By which words Phinehas in his covenant was a figure of Christ, who is called the messenger of the covenant, Mal. 3. 1. and hath an everlasting Priesthood, after the power of an endless life, Hebr. 7. 16, 17. and hath both wrought and preached redemption in these latter daies, Heb. 1. 1, 2, 3.

- 13 Verse 13. of an everlasting Priesthood] meaning untill Christs coming, to whom the Priesthood of Aaron was to give place, Heb. 7. 11, &c. Phinehas himselfe lived to a great old age, as appeareth by Judg. 20. 28. his sonnes successively were high Priests till the captivitie of Babylon, 1 Chron. 6. 4.

15. and at the returne out of captivitie, Ezra the great Priest and Scribe was of his line, Ezra 7. 1. 5. And God by his Prophet promisseth, that David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel: neither shall the Priests the Levites want a man before me, to offer burn-offerings, and to kindle meat-offerings, and so doe sacrifice continually, Jer. 33. 17, 18, 21, 22. Both which are accomplished in Christ, Luke 1. 32, 33. Heb. 3. 1. & 5. 1, 5. & 8. 1, 2, 3, &c. zealous for his God] or, jealous for his God, that is, for the dishonour done unto his God; as God himselfe is said to be jealous for Jerusalem, when he was sore displeased with the Heathens that afflicted it, Zach. 1. 14, 15. It is good to be zealously affected alwaies in a good thing, Galat. 4. 18. that God sheweth here in rewarding Phinehas zeale, who stood up and executed judgement, and the plague was stayed: and it was counted to him for justice, to generation and generation for ever, Psal. 106. 30, 31. The Hebrews in ages following mentioned his glorie; as Ben Sirach saith, Because he had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stood up with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made atonement for Israel, therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuary, and of his people; and that he and his posteritie should have the dignitie of the Priesthood for ever, Ecclesi. 45. 23, 24. The Scripture noteth the contrarie of Eli (who came of Ithamar the brother of Eleazar) for when his owne sons committed whoredome with the women of Israel, that assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and made themselves vile, he restrained them not; but honoured his sonnes above the Lord: therefore God threatned to cut off his arme, and the arme of his fathers house, that there should not be an old man in his house for ever. And he swore unto the house of Eli, that the iniquitie of Elies house should not be purged with sacrifices, nor offering for ever, 1 Sam. 2. 22, 29, 31. & 3. 13, 14. made atonement] or, made reconciliation, pacified Gods wrath through faith: this word used for atonement by sacrifice, is here applied to the executing of judgement upon the malefactors; whereupon God stayed the plague which had begun upon the congregation. As oftentimes for the sin of some, God is wroth with the whole congregation, Jos. 7. 1, 12. & 22. 17, 18. so here for the just fact of Phinehas his wrath was turned away, & 11. and atonement is made. So the Proverbe was fulfilled, The Kings wrath is as messengers of death; but a wise man will pacifie it, Prov. 16. 14. Thus David also made atonement by doing justice on Sauls house, 2 Sam. 21. 3; &c.

Verse 14. smitten] that is, killed, as the Chaldee explaineth it: so in verse 15. & 17. (Zimri] in Greeke, Zambri some of Sals; the notation of this name agreeth with his end; for Zimri signifieth cutting off, as superfluous boughes are pruned; or cut off from the Vine: Sals signifieth treading under foot; so as a fruitlesse branch he was cut off from the Vine of Israel, & trodden down of God and men; as it is written, I have trodden downe all all them that goe astray from thy Statutes; for their deceit is falsehood, Psalm. 119. 118. among the Simeonites] in Chaldee, of the Tribe of Simeon. And being a Prince, and bringing that harlot unto his brethren, v. 6. it is likely that many of that Tribe tooke part with him, and perished in the plague aforesaid. For whereas that Tribe at the former muster, had 59 thousand and three hundred men of warre among them, Num. 1. 22, 23. they were diminished now after this plague 37 thousand and one hundred, that there remained at the next muster, but 22 thousand and two hundred men, Numb. 26. 1, 14.

- 15 Verse 15. Cozbi] in Greeke, Chasbi daughter of Sour. Cozbi signifieth lying or falsehood; Zur is a Rocke. an head of nations] that is, a Governour of peoples; for he was a Prince of Midian, ver. 17. and afterward he is said to be one of the five kings of Midian, Numb. 31. 8. And as Balaam with his wicked counsel and doctrine, is named as a figure of Antichristian seducers, corrupting the Christian Church with fornication and idolatry, Rev. 2. 14. so in this Prince of Midian, and the harlot his daughter, we may behold the type of Antichrist, who by the Spirit and doctrine of Balaam hath drawne the Church unto fornication and idolatry with false gods, and heresies. His false Prophets, like the daughters of Moab, allure men unto those abominations: for as the wisdom of God (in Christ) sendeth forth her maidens to invite the simple to come and eat of her bread, and drinke of the wine that she hath mingled, Prov. 9. 1, 5. so the foolish woman, (or whore of Babylon, Rev. 17. 1, 5.) hath also her toll-guests, the spirits of devils, working miracles, which goe forth unto the Kings of the earth, &c. Rev. 16. 13, 14. and she calleth passengers, who goe right on their waies to partake of her stollen waters which are sweet, and bread in secret, which is pleasant, and many doe follow her pernicious waies, yea many strong men have bene slaine by her, Prov. 9. 13, 18. & 7. 26. 2 Pet. 2. 1, 2. The Kings also of the earth have committed fornication with her, Rev. 18. 3. and brought her by their lawes unto the brethren and subjects. And as the harlots name was Cozbi, that is, a lie or falsehood, the daughter of Zur, that is, a Rocke, a Prince of Midian of Abrahams degenerate children, Gen. 25. 1, 2. so is the Church of Antichrist false and deceitfull, yet the pretended daughter of the Rocke, which Christ hath promised to build his Church upon, Mat. 16. 18. though being departed from the true faith of Christ, as the Midianites were from the faith of their father Abraham. For those Antichristian idolatries, GOD sendeth forth his plagues, Revel. 16. But when with the sword of the Spirit, (which is the word of God, Ephes. 6. 17.) those abominations are cut off, and the Authors of them thrust thorow, as in Zach. 13. 2, 3. the wrath of God which now is kindled against the sinners, shall be turned away. of a fathers house] Sol. Iarchi here noteth from Gen. 25. 4. that Midian had five fathers: houses, Ephah, and Epher, and Hanoch, and Abida, and Eldaah: and this man was King of one of them.

Verse 17. Vex the Midianites] or Distresse, that is, war against the Midianites; as the Greeke translatheth, Use enmitie against them: Hebr. To vex, or To distresse, of which phraseth see the notes on Exo. 13. 3. God who had first punished his owne people for their sins, doth now decree vengeance against their enemies, which was done by Moses before his death, Num. 31. 2. For as God saith to the nations, Loe I begin to bring evil on the citie, upon which my name is called; and should ye be utterly unpunished? ye shall not be unpunished, Jer. 25. 29. He speaketh this against the Midianites, rather than against the Moabites (whom he had forbidden Israel to vex or distresse, Deuter. 2. 9.) because they were chiefe in the mischief. For though Balaam gave the counsell to the King of Moab, Rev. 2. 14. and the Moabitish women were prostitute also unto whoredome, Num. 25. 1. yet Balak at first did not much regard that counsell, but turned Balaam away with shame, Num. 24. 11, 25. but the Midianites retained him, and amongst them hee was slaine, Num. 31. 8. And Cozbi a Kings daughter of Midian was a principall instrument of evil unto Israel, as God sheweth in verse 18. therefore the Midianites were first in the punishment. smite ye them] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, kill ye them.

Verse 18. For they vex you] or, distresse you, not with warre, but with wiles and deceits. So God saith of Babylon, Reward her even as she hath rewarded you, Revel. 18. 6. The reward of unrighteous workes, is righteous judgement. their wiles] or, their guiles, deceits, craftis. beguiled you] or, dealt wilyly and craftily with you; as the Egyptians when they thought to deale wisely for the suppressing of Israel, Exod. 1. 10. are said to deale craftily, Psal. 105. 25. and Iosephs brethren, when they craftily conspired his death, Gen. 37. 18. By this it appeareth, that the amitie of the Midianites was but feigned, and that they plotted the destruction of Israel. matter] Hebr. word of Peor; the idolatrie with Baal-Peor, which Israel was drawne unto, verse 23. So the matter (or word) of Cozbi, is meant the fornication with her, verse 6. for Peors sake] Hebr. for the word of Peor, that is, which plague came on Israel for Peors sake or cause.

For Jehovah had said of them, Dying they shall die in the wilderness: and there was not left a man of them, save Caleb the sonne of Jephunneh, and Joshua the sonne of Nun.

Annotations.

After the plague] after the death of the 24 thousand that perished for the sin of Peor, (Num. 25.9.) the Lord commandeth the people to be numbred, which should have inheritance in his land; to signifie his love and care of those that cleaved unto him, Deut. 4. 3, 4. The Hebrews explaine it by the similitude of a Shepherd, who when wolves have gotten among his flocke, and worried some of them, he counteth them, to know the number of those that are left. Againe, As when they came out of Egypt, and were delivered to Moses, they were delivered him by sale (Exo. 38.26.) so now when Moses was ready to die, and to deliver his flocke againe, he delivered them by sale. Sol. Iarchi on Num. 26. Eleazar] who now was high Priest after the death of Aaron his father, who had before numbred them with Moses, Num. 1. 3. And this Eleazar was he, who after with Iosua divided the land of Canaan to this people, Jos. 14. 1, &c.

Verse 2. the summe] Hebr. the head; which the Chaldee expoundeth, the count, or summe: see Exo. 30. 12. This was the third time that Israel was numbred for to fight the Lords battels against the

the Canaanites, and to receive their land for an inheritance. See the Annotations on Num. 1.2.

20 yeeres old] Hebr. sonne of twentie yeere: see Num. 1.3. house] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, houses of their fathers. Iarchi saith, they were reckoned by the Tribe of the father, and not after the mother: So in Num. 1.2. goeth forth with the armie] able to goe out to war the warfare of the Lord: see the notes on Num. 1.3.

3 Verse 3. spake with them] in Chaldee, spake, and said to number them; but T bargum Ionathan addeth, spake with the Princes, and said, to number them. So it accordeth with Num. 1.4. plaines] or champion countrey of Moab: see Num. 22.1.

4 Verse 4. From 20 yeeres old] Hebr. from a sonne of 20 yeeres, as verse 2. and here is to be understood, the people are to be numbred, or the like.

5 Verse 5. the first-borne] Reuben for this cause is here first numbred, as also in Num. 1.5, 20. though he lost his dignity by his sin, 1 Chron. 5.1. and was put downe to the second quarter, as they encamped about the Sanctuarie, and marched towards Canaan, Numb. 2. 10. 16. Enoch] in Hebr. Chanoch: see Gen. 5. 18. & 46. 9. of the Enochites] Hebr. of the Enochite, (or Chanochite) the singular number for the plurall: so after thorow-out this chapter. See the Annotations on Gen. 10. 6. And here Reuben hath foure families, according to Gen. 46. 9. & 1 Chro. 5.3.

7 Verse 7. mustered] or numbred; Hebr. visited. See the notes on Num. 1.3. 43 thousand, &c.] at the former muster they were 46 thousand and five hundred, Num. 1.21. so they increased not, but decreased while they travelled in the wilderness.

9 Verse 9. the called] that is, renowned, famous: see Num. 1.16. & 16.1, 2, &c. strove] in Greeke, made insurrection: in Chaldee, gathered themselves together. This mutinie stirred by the chiefe of the Tribe, seemeth to be one cause of their decrease by the hand of God against them.

10 Verse 10. and Korah] that is, men and goods that pertained unto Korah, as Num. 16.32. the congregation died] in Greeke, his congregation, meaning Korahs, as Num. 16.40. 250 men] that offered incense, Numb. 16.35. for a signe] or for an ensigne, a banner; the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, a signe: whereby God signified his anger to be displayed against all that should rebell in like manner. In Num. 16. 40. it is called A memoriall unto the sonnes of Israel, that no stranger, &c. come neere to offer incense before Iehovah; that he be not as Korah, &c. Of such things the Apostle saith, they were our examples, 1 Cor. 10.6.

11 Verse 11. died not] to wit, either by that fire, or by the swallowing up of the earth, Num. 16.32, 35. It seemeth they consented not to their fathers rebellio, or at least repented at the warning given by Moses, Num. 16.5, &c. The sons of Korah were Assir, and Elkanah, and Abiasaph, Exod. 6. 24. these and their posterity lived, and kept their office in Israel; for their genealogie is reckoned in 1 Chron. 6. 22, 38. and they were appointed by David to be singers in the house of the Lord, 1 Chro. 6. 31, 32. and of them came Samuel the Prophet,

1 Chron. 6. 33, 34. compared with 1 Sam. 1.20. and Heman, who with his off-spring were singers, 1 Chron. 6. 33. & 25. 4, 5, 6. And many Psalmes have in their titles, To the sons of Korah, as Psal. 42. and 44. and 45. and 46. and 47. and 48. and 49. and 84. and 85. and 87. and 88.

Verse 12. Nemuel] called also Iemuel, in Gen. 46.10. & Exod. 6.15. in Greeke here, Namuel. So in 1 Chron. 4.24. Iachin] in Greeke, Acbein: he is called Iarib, in 1 Chron. 4.24.

Verse 13. Zerah] in Greeke, Zara; so in 1 Chronicles 4. 24. elsewhere called Zobar, Gen. 46. 10. Exod. 6. 15. Saul] the sonne of a *Canaanite*se, Genesis 46. 10.

Verse 14. These are the families] to wit, which remained: for there was one family more of Obad, Gen. 46.10. Exod. 6.15. but that was extinct in the wilderness, and therefore omitted here and in 1 Chron. 4.24. 22000 and 200,] their number was greatly diminished; for at the former muster, they were 59 thousand and 300, Num. 1. 23. Among other finnes, that forementioned in Numb. 25. 14. seemeth to be a speciall cause hereof. And Moses blessing all the other Tribes before his death, maketh no expresse mention of Simeon, in Deut. 33.

Verse 15. Gad] though he was not the next borne to Simeon, nor of that mother, yet is he mustered in the third place, because he was joyned with Reuben and Simeon in the South quarter, as they encamped about the Sanctuarie, Num. 2.10, 14. Zephon] in Greeke, Saphon, he was called also Ziphion, in Gen. 46.16.

Verse 16. Ozai] in Greeke, Azeni: in Gen. 46. 16. he is named Ezbon.

Verse 17. Arod] in Greeke, Aroadi, and in Gen. 46. 16. Arodi.

Ver. 18. and five hundred] so this Tribe had fewer now by five thousand one hundred and fiftie men, than at the former muster, Num. 2.15.

Ver. 19. and Onan died] both of them died without issue, God did cut them off for their wickednesse in their youth, Gen. 38.7, 10.

Verse 20. Selab] in Greeke, Seloi.

Verse 21. of Pharez] The sonnes of Judah were five in all, Gen. 38. so noted by the Holy Ghost, in 1 Chronic. 2. 4. they were all to have been heads of families; but two dying childlesse, here are taken two of his sonnes sonnes (Hezron and Hamul) in their stead; and these were of Pharez, (the second brother of the twins, Gen. 38. 28, 29.) of whom our Lord Christ came according to the flesh, Matth. 1. So Judah hath five families continued, according to the number of his five sonnes.

Verse 22. and six thousand] at the first muster he had but 74 thousand and six hundred, Numb. 2.4. now hee is increased nineteene hundred more: and as hee, so all the Tribes under his standard were increased also; whereas in Reuben they were all diminished. For Judah prevailed above his brethren, for the honour of Christ, who was to come of his stocke: see 1 Chron. 5.2. Gen. 49.8, 10. Hebr. 7. 14.

Verse

- 23 Verse 23. Isshachar] he is numbered next Judah, for he was next him under his standard, Num. 2. 5. next him graved on the high Priests breast-plate, Exod. 28. borne next of the same mother Leah, Gen. 30. 17, 18. Of him and his four families here reckoned, see the notes on Gen. 46. 13. Fluvab] called also Pbuhab, in 1 Chron. 7. 1. and so here in Greeke, Floua.
- 24 Verse 24. Iasub] hee is called Iob, in Genesis 46. 13.
- 25 Verse 25. 64 thousand] he had before but 54 thousand and four hundred, Num. 2. 6. so that his Tribe is increased nine thousand and nine hundred men of warre.
- 26 Verse 26. Zabulon] or Zebulun, hee was next brother to Isshachar, Gen. 30. 19, 20. next him on Aarons Breast-plate, Exod. 28. and next him in marching and camping about the Tabernacle, Num. 2. His three families continue here, as they were in Gen. 46. 14.
- 27 Verse 27. sixtie thousand, &c.] who were before 57 thousand and four hundred, Num. 2. 8. so they are increased, three thousand and one hundred men.
- 28 Verse 28. Ioseph] of him came two Tribes, for hee had the first birth-right, a double portion, 1 Chron. 5. 2. Gen. 48. 1, 5.
- 29 Verse 29. Manasses] he, though the elder brother was put downe to the second place, by Iakobs prophesie, Gen. 48. 14, 19, 20. and by Gods disposition of the Tribes, Num. 2. 18, 20. yet here he is mustered before Ephraim the standard-bearer; as his armie was increased in the wilderness, when Ephraims was diminished, which after doth appeare. Machir] he was the sonne of Manasses by his Concubine an Aramite, 1 Chron. 7. 14. Gilead] in Greeke, Galaad. There was also a place called Gilead, which the sons of this Machir conquered, and had it for their possession, Num. 32. 39, 40. Jos. 17. 1.
- 30 Verse 30. Iezer] in Greeke, Achiezer: in Jos. 17. 2. Abiezer. Here not onely the sonnes sonnes (as was noted before of Judah, verse 21.) but the sonnes sonnes sonnes are made heads of families in the Tribe of Manasses: the like whereof is not in any other Tribe. This honour hath Ioseph above his brethren; who also whiles he lived, saw unto Ephraim some of the third generation: also the sonnes of Machir, some of Manasses, were borne upon Iosephs knees, Genesis 50. 23. And Manasses here hath eight families, when no other Tribe hath so many.
- 33 Ver. 33. Zelophebad] or Zelophebad, in Greeke, Satpaad. the names] Hebr. the name. Machlab] in Greeke their names are written, Maala, Nova, Aizla, Melcha, and Tersa: Of these daughters, see Num. 27. 1, &c. Num. 36. 11. Jos. 17. 3.
- 34 Verse 34. 52 thousand, &c.] he had before but 32 thousand and 200. Num. 2. 21. so that now he was increased 20 thousand and five hundred men of warre: none of all the other Tribes had halfe so much increase. Thus Iakobs prophesie is fulfilled, Ioseph shall be the founte of a fruitfull Vine, Genesis 49. 22.
- Verse 35. Shubelah] in Greeke, Soubala. Becher] this some think to be he which is called Be-cher, in 1 Chron. 7. 20. Tahan] or Tachan; in Greeke, Tanach, by transposition of letters.
- Verse 36. Eran] in 1 Chron. 7. 26. called Edan (or Laadan): so the Greeke here writeth him Eden, for the likenesse of the Hebrew letters, whereof see the Annotations on Gen. 4. 18. and Num. 2. 14. Of this Eran (or Edan) came Iofus the sonne of Nun, 1 Chron. 7. 26, 27. And here Ephraims sonnes sonne is head of a family, as was before in Judabs Tribe, verse 21.
- Verse 37. 32 thousand, &c.] he had before 40 thousand, Numb. 2. 19. so eight thousand of this Tribe are now diminished.
- Verse 38. Bela] in Greeke, Bale: he was Benjamins first-borne, 1 Chron. 8. 1. Asbeel] called Iediel, 1 Chronic. 7. 6. Benjamins second sonne, 1 Chron. 8. 1. The Greeke here writeth him Asuber, or as some copies have it, Asubel. Abiram] or, Abiram, in Greeke, Acheiran: elsewhere hee is named Aebi, Genes. 46. 22. and Achrah the third sonne of Benjamin, 1 Chron. 8. 1.
- Verse 39. Shephupham] in Greeke, Sophan, in 1 Chron. 7. 12. he is called Shuphim, in Gen. 46. 22. Muphim. Hupham] otherwise, Huphim, Gen. 46. 22. 1 Chron. 7. 12.
- Verse 40. Ard] in Greeke, Ader: so in 1 Chron. 8. 3. the Hebrew writeth him Adar. the family] understand (as the Greeke also supplieth) of Ard, the family of the Ardites. Here Benjamin hath but seven families, who in Gen. 46. 21. had ten.
- Verse 41. 45 thousand, &c.] he had before but 35 thousand and 400. Num. 2. 23. now his number is increased ten thousand and two hundred; that though his families were diminished, yet he had the greatest increase of men of warre amongst all the Tribes, save Manasseh and Aser.
- Verse 42. Shubam] or Shucham, called by transposing of letters, Hushim (or Chushim) in Gen. 46. 23. in Greeke, Same.
- Verse 43. 64 thousand, &c.] of one family of Dan there sprang so many thousand men, that none of all the Tribes save Judah have the like multitude: and he is increased 17 hundred men more than at the former numbring, Num. 2. 26.
- Verse 44. Imnah] in Greeke, Iamein. Iisui] in Greeke, Iesoui. Betweene these there was another called Iisubab, Gen. 46. 17, whose family here omitted, seemeth to be perished.
- Verse 45. Cheber] or Heber, in Greeke, Chober: of his posteritie, see 1 Chron. 7. 32. Here Afers sonnes sonnes are also heads of families, as were before in Judah and Ephraim, verse 21. & 36.
- Verse 46. Serah] or Serach; in Greeke, Sara: mentioned also in Gen. 46. 17. 1 Chron. 7. 30.
- Verse 47. 53 thousand, &c.] when before he had but 45 thousand and five hundred, Num. 2. 28. that his increase in the wilderness was eleven thousand and nine hundred men of warre: none but Manasseh was before him.
- Verse 48. Naphthali] in Greeke, Nephthaleim. Iachzeel] in Greeke, Asiel. The four families of Naphthali continue, as in Gen. 46. 24.

50 V. 50.45. thousand, &c.] whereas before hee had beene 53 thousand and 4 hundred, Num. 2.30. so that 8. thousand fewer are at the last than at the first.

51 Ver. 51. and a thousand, &c.] The number of all at the former count was 600 thousand, and three thousand, and 550. Num. 2.32. so that now in the whole summe the host of Israel is decreased in the 38. yeares travell, eightene hundred and twenty men, exempting the Levites which were numbered apart. Wherein Gods worke for them all in generall, and for the tribes and families in particular is to bee regarded. When they were under bondage and affliction in Egypt, they multiplied like fish, and filled the land, Exod. 1. (for outward persecution increaseth the Church, and lesseneth it not :) but when they were come out from that iron furnace, and carried of God as on Eagles wings, thorow the wilderness in safety, they so provoked him by their murmurings, rebellions, and idolatries, that hee consumed their dayes in vanity, and their yeares in hasty error, Psal. 78. 17-33. And though amongst other blessings, God gave them his lawes to direct them, Exod. 20. &c. and his good spirit to instruct them, Neh. 9. 20. & led them like a flock, by the hand of Moses and Aaron, Psal. 77. 21. yet learned they not obedience, but mount Sinai gendred to bondage, Gal. 4. 24. and the Law wrought wrath, Rom. 4. 15. & Moses their Law-giver could not bring them into the promised land, but left that unto his successor Iesus the sonne of Nun, who figured Iesus the son of God, by whom cometh grace and truth, and the inheritance of the Kingdome of heaven, Deut. 31. 2. 7. 14. Ioh. 1. 17. Rom. 6. 23.

The speciall hand of God touching the tribes, and the mothers that bare them, and the families and persons that proceeded of them, may thus be viewed :

Seven of the twelve tribes did increase in multitude as they travelled, besides the tribe of Levi, which also was a thousand at the last numbring more than at the first, ver. 62.

- 1 Iudah increased 1900.
- 2 Issachar 9900.
- 3 Zabulon 3100.
- 4 Manasseh 20500.
- 5 Benjamin 10200.
- 6 Dan 1700.
- 7 Aser 11900.

The summe of all increased, was nine and fifty thousand and two hundred, besides the thousand Levites. Notwithstanding the decrease of the five tribes was more : for

- 1 Reuben decreased 3770.
- 2 Simeon — 37100.
- 3 Gad — 5150.
- 4 Ephraim — 8009.
- 5 Naphtali — 8000.

So the summe of all that were diminished, was one and sixty thousand and twenty men.

Observe also the worke of God in respect of Iakobs wives, the foure mothers of the tribes, Leah, Rachel, Zilpah, and Bilhah, whom the holy Ghost mentioneth in Gen. 46. 15. 18. 19. 25.

1 Leah was multiplied } in Iudah 1900.
in Issachar 9900.
in Zabulon 3100.

So the fruit of Leahs body increased in the wilderness foureteene thousand and nine hundred, besides the thousand of Levi.

2 Rachel was multiplied } in Manasseh 20500.
in Benjamin 10200.

So Rachels increase was thirty thousand and seven hundred.

3 Zilpah Leahs handmaid increased in her son Aser, eleven thousand and nine hundred.

4 Bilhah Rachels handmaid was multiplied in her son Dan seventene hundred. Thus God imparted his blessing amongst them all, but chiefly to Rachel whom Iakob loved, for her increase was more than of all the other three.

They were likewise all of them partakers of his chastisements in their posterity : for,

1 Leah was diminished in Reuben 3770. in Simeon, 37100. so she lost of her increase in the wilderness, nine and thirty thousand eight hundred and seventy men.

2 Rachel was diminished in Ephraim, 8000.

3 Zilpah lost in Gad her sonne, five thousand one hundred and fifty.

4 Bilhah lost in Naphtali, eight thousand men.

So the farre greatest losse was Leahs, who now might weepe for her children, because they were not ; as long after befell unto Rachel, Mat. 2. 18.

Againe, as the twelve tribes camped in foure quarters about the tabernacle, Num. 2. so the hand of God for the increase and diminishing of their camps may be scene thus :

In the first and chiefest quarter Eastward, were I V D A H, Issachar, and Zabulon, all increased. Iudah was the father and figure of Christ, under whose standard, al that camp & march are blessed.

In the second quarter Southward, were R E V B E N, Simeon, & Gad, who were all diminished ; as Reuben for his sin lost his honor & birthright, 1. Chro. 5. 1. so his sons rebelled, Num. 16. and Simeon sinned with an high hand, Num. 25.

In the third quarter Westward, were E P H R A I M, Manasseh, and Benjamin ; of whom the first was diminished, the other two increased.

In the fourth quarter Northward, were Dan, Aser, and Naphtali ; of whom the two former were multiplied, the third and last diminished.

Concerning the families of the tribes (excepting Levi) they are 57 in all. For here are families

- | | |
|------------------|-------------------|
| 1 Of Manasseh 8. | 7 Of Reuben 4. |
| 2 Of Benjamin 7. | 8 Of Issachar 4. |
| 3 Of Gad 7. | 9 Of Ephraim 4. |
| 4 Of Simeon 3. | 10 Of Naphtali 4. |
| 5 Of Iudah 5. | 11 Of Zabulon 3. |
| 6 Of Aser 5. | 12 Of Dan 1. |

The sum of all the families is 57 : to whom if we adde the twelve tribes, and Iakob himselfe the father of them all, the whole number is Seventie, which was the number of the soules of Iakobs house that went into Egypt, Gen. 46. 27. But comparing these now, with the heads of families named med in Gen. 46. we shall see 5 families rooted out; one of Simeon, Leahs son; one of Aser, the son of Leahs hand-maid; and three of Benjamin, Rachels son; whose ten families are decayed unto seven. In these numbers, increase and decrease of the tribes and families of Israel, we may behold that which Iob saith of Gods works; Who knoweth not in all these, that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this? in whose hand is the soule of every living thing, and the breath of all flesh of man. Behold he breaketh downe, and it cannot be built againe: he shattereth up a man, and there can be no opening. He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and straitneth them, Iob 12.9.10.14.23.

51 Vers. 51. Unto these the land shall be divided] So the naturall sons of Israel only had inheritance; but under the Gospell it is prophesied, that the strangers also should have inheritance among the tribes, Ezek. 47.22.23. By this also it appeareth, that the tribes diminished had a double punishment, losse of men, and a lesser inheritance in the holy land: both which are opposed to the covenant and promise made to their fathers, which stood on these two branches, multitude of children, and inheritance of the land, Gen. 12. 2. 7. and 13. 15. 16. and 15. 5. 8. 18. and 17. 2. 6. 8. and 22. 17. and 26. 3. 4. and 28. 13. 14. and 35. 11. 12. Sol. Iarchi here saith, To these and not to them that are lesse than twenty yeares old; although they came to full twenty before the division of the land. For loe the land was seven yeares in conquering, &c. yet none had portion in the land but these six hundred thousand, and one thousand: and if one of them had six sones, they received but their fathers portion only. But Chazkuni referreth it to the families, saying; To these the 57 families reckoned here, shall the land be divided for inheritance by the number of names, 57 portions according to the 57 heads of families. So it is written in Numb. 33. 54. Ye shall divide the land by lot, for an inheritance among your families. This figured, that only such shall have their part in the kingdome of heaven, as are chosen and called of God, and have their names written in the lambs booke of life, Rom. 8. 28. 29. 30. 1 Pet. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. Rev. 21. 27.

54 Vers. 54. To the many] To the tribe and family which hath many persons in it, Thou shalt give them the more (Hebr. thou shalt multiply his) inheritance. So the portions were not all equall in quantity, but proportioned to the multitude of men in the tribes and families. To the tribes which had the greater multitudes, they gave the greater portion, though the portions were not equall: for loe every tribe had his portion according to his multitude, saith Sol. Iarchi on Num. 26. Hereupon the sons of Ioseph complained of their small portion in respect of their great multitude, Ios. 17. 14.

55 Vers. 55. by lot] Although Eleazar the high Priest, Iosua the governour, and 12 princes of the tribes, (appointed of God, Num. 34. 17. 18. &c.) were to divide the land, yet to cut off contention, & to shew the providence & disposition of God, according to the purpose of his will, he commandeth lots to be cast; for, The lot causeth contention to cease, and parteth betwene the mighty, Prov. 18. 18. and

The lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD, Prov. 16. 33. And the Hebrew Doctors say, The portions were not made but by lot, and the lot was by the mouth of the holy Ghost. Sol. Iarchi on Numb. 26. The manner of doing it was thus; First the land was by men divided into parts, according to the number of the tribes; as Iosua sent men to divide the land which remained into seven parts, and to describe it according to the inheritance of them, and so to bring the description unto him, that hee might cast lots for them before the Lord. And they described it by cities, into seven parts, in a booke, and brought it to Iosua, who cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord; and so every tribe received as their lot came up, according to their families, Ios. 18. 4. — 11. &c. Moreover, in the Hebrew records it is said, that it was not divided but by Vrim and Thummim [which was the oracle of God in the breast-plate of the high Priest, Exod. 28. Num. 27. 21.] as it is said (in Num. 26. 56.) According to (or at the mouth of) the lot. When Eleazar was clothed with Vrim and Thummim, and Iosua and all Israel stood before him, there was a Kalphi [a vessell whereinto the lots were put, whereof see the Annotations on Levit. 16. 8.] of the tribes names, and a Kalphi of the names of the limits (or bounds of the countrey) set before him; and he being directed by the holy Ghost, said; Naphtali commeth up, the limits Gensareth commeth up: hee tooke out of the Kalphi of the tribes, and Naphtali came up in his hand; out of the Kalphi of the limits, and the limit Gensareth came up in his hand. And so for every tribe. Talmud. Bab. in Baba bathra, chapter 8. in Gemara, and Sol. Iarchi on Numb. 26. But observe that the land within Iordan was divided only to nine tribes, and an halfe, because two tribes and an halfe had their portion on the outside of Iordan, Numb. 34. 13. 14. 15. By reason of this dividing the land by lot, the Scripture calleth inheritances by the name of Lots; as, Come up with me into my lot, Iudg. 1. 3. And not lands onely, but whatsoever befalleth unto men from the hand of God, is called a lot; as, This is the portion of them that spoile us, and the lot of them that rob us, Esay 17. 14. and, Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, Act. 8. 21. and, That they may receive forgiveness of sinnes, and a lot (that is, inheritance) among them which are sanctified by faith, &c. Act. 26. 18. and, The part of the lot, (that is, of the inheritance) of the Saints, in light, Col. 1. 12. So that in the Greeke, used by the Apostles, Cleros, a lot, and Cleronomia, a division by lot, is the common name of an inheritance, 1 Pet. 5. 3. Ephes. 1. 14. 18.

56 Vers. 56. According to the lot] Hebr. At (or Vpon) the mouth of the lot: as the lot (whereon the name of the tribe, or of the inheritance is written) shall speake. This lot being of the Lord, figured the diversities of gifts in the Church, which the Spirit of God divideth to every man severally as hee will, 1. Cor. 12. 4. — 11. as also the dispensation of his graces concerning our heavenly inheritance, which the Election onely obtaineth, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth, Rom. 11. 7. and 9. 11.

57 Verſ. 57. of the Levites] who though they had no inheritance in the land, verſe 62. yet were they to have 48 cities and their ſuburbs for their habitation, Num. 35. which alſo fell unto them by lot, Ios. 21. 4. &c.

58 Verſ. 58. Korachites] or, Korhites, of Korah the ſonne of Izhar, the ſonne of Kohath, the ſon of Levi, Numb. 16. 1. Korah himſelfe died in the rebellion, but his ſonnes died not, Numb. 26. 11. therefore they are reckoned here for a family in the fourth generation from Levi, which is one degree further than the other families. And where-as in Exod. 6. 16. &c. there are reckoned of Gerſhon two ſonnes, Libni and Shimei; here the familie of the Libnites is muſtered, but Shimei left out. There Kohath hath four ſonnes, Amram and Izhar, and Hebron, and Uzziel; here Uzziel is omitted; neither is Izhar named, but in his ſons the Korhites

59 Verſ. 59. ſhe bare to Levi] by ſhe underſtand Levites wife, or Iochebeds mother: Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, his wife bare her in Egypt. ſhee bare to Amram] that is, Iochebed Amrams wife, (who was alſo his aunt) bare to Amram, Exodus 6. 20. Marie] Hebr. Mirjam: ſhee was a propheteſſe; ſee Exod. 15. 20. Numb. 12. 1.

60 Verſ. 60. unto Aaron was borne] Here Moſes children, Gerſhon and Eliezar, are againe omitted: ſee the notes on Numb. 3. 38.

61 Verſ. 61. and Abihu died] and they had no ſonnes, Numb. 3. 4. See the hiſtory in Levit. 10.

62 Verſ. 62. 23 thousand] who at the former numbring were but 22 thousand, Numb. 3. 39. So they increaſed in the wilderneſſe a thouſand males.

65 Verſ. 65. dying they ſhall die] i. they ſhall ſurely die: this was threatned for their rebellion, and reſuſing to goe into the promiſed land, Num. 14. and the fulfilling of Gods judgement is here ſhewed. and Iofhua] in Greeke, Ieſus the ſonne of Naue: theſe two ſurvived, becauſe they faithfully followed the Lord, Num. 14. 24. 38. See the Annotations there. In that all the reſt were dead ſave theſe two, it ſheweth that all the 600 thouſand men now muſtered, which ſhould conquer Canaan, were a valiant company, between 20 and 60 yeares of age, (none being above 60 but Caleb and Iofua;) and as they were in body, ſo in mind, being trained up theſe 38 yeares in the ſtudy of the Law and ordinances of God, and beholding his workes, having Moſes and Aaron for their leaders, and Gods good ſpirit for their inſtructor, Neh. 9. 20.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The daughters of Zelophehad ſue for an inheritance. 5 Moſes bringeth their cauſe before the Lord, who granteth their requeſt. 8 The Law of inheritances, when a man dieth without a ſonne. 12 Moſes is bidden to goe up and ſee the land, and is told of his death for his treſpaſſe. 15 Hee requeſteth of the Lord that a man may be ſet governor in this place. 18 The Lord appointeth Iofua to ſucceed him. 22 And Moſes by impoſition of hands, ordaineth him to his office.

1 THen came the daughters of Zelophehad the ſonne of Hephher, the ſonne of Gilead, the ſon of Machir, the ſon of Manaſſes, of the families of Manaſſes the ſon of Ioseph: and theſe are the names of his daughters; Machlah, Noah, & Hoglah, and Milcah, and Tirzah. And they ſtood before Moſes, and before Eleazar the Prieſt, and before the Princes and all the congregation, at the doore of the Tent of the Congregation, ſaying; Our father died in the wilderneſſe, and he was not among the Congregation of them that gathered themſelves together againſt Iehovah, in the congregation of Korah: but in his ſin he died, and he had no ſons. Why ſhould the name of our father bee done away from among his family, becauſe he hath no ſon? Give unto us a poſſeſſion among the brethren of our father. And Moſes brought their cauſe before Iehovah.

6 And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes, ſaying; 7 The daughters of Zelophehad ſpeake right; giving thou ſhalt give them a poſſeſſion of an inheritance among the brethren of their father: and thou ſhalt cauſe the inheritance of their father to paſſe unto them. And thou ſhalt ſpeake unto the ſonnes of Iſrael, ſaying, If a man die, and he have no ſonne, then yee ſhall cauſe his inheritance to paſſe unto his daughter. And if hee have no daughter, then ye ſhall give his inheritance unto his brethren. And if he have no brethren, then ye ſhall give his inheritance vnto the brethren of his father. And if his father have no brethren, then ye ſhall give his inheritance unto his kiſmen that is next to him of his family, and he ſhall inherit it, & it ſhall be unto the ſonnes of Iſrael for a ſtatute of judgement, as Iehovah commanded Moſes.

12 And Iehovah ſaid unto Moſes, Go thou up into this mountaine of Abarim, and ſee the land which I have given to the ſons of Iſrael. 13 And thou ſhalt ſee it, and thou alſo ſhalt bee gathered unto thy peoples, as Aaron thy brother was gathered. For yee rebelled againſt my mouth in the wilderneſſe of Zin, in the ſtrife of the congregation, to ſanctifie me at the water before their eyes; that is the water of Meribah of Kadeſh, in the wilderneſſe of Zin.

15 And Moſes ſpake unto Iehovah, ſaying; 16 Let Iehovah the God of the ſpirits of all fleſh, ſet a man over the congregation: Which may goe out before them, and which may go in before them, and which may lead them

- them out, and which may bring them in :
 that the Congregation of Jehovah be not 18 as sheepe which have no shepherd. And Jehovah said unto Moses ; Take unto thee Josua the sonne of Nua, a man in whom is the spirit, and lay thine hand upon him.
 19 And cause him to stand before Eleazar the Priest, and before all the congregation, and 20 charge thou him before their eyes. And thou shalt give of thine honour upon him,
 that all the congregation of the sonnes of 21 Israel may heare. And he shall stand before Eleazar the Priest, and he shall aske (counsell) for him, by the judgement of V-rim, before Jehovah : at his mouth shall they goe out, and at his mouth shall they come in; he, and all the sonnes of Israel with him, 22 and all the congregation. And Moses did as Jehovah commanded him : and he tooke Josua and caused him to stand before Eleazar the Priest, and before all the congre-23 gation. And hee laid his hands upon him, and charged him, as Jehovah spake by the hand of Moses.

Annotations.

- 1 THen came] Hebr. And they came neere (or approached) to wit, unto Moses, &c. v. 2. T bargum
Jonathan saith, they came to the place of judgement.
Zelophebad] or, Zelophebad; in Greeke, Salpaad son of Opber, sonne of Galaad, &c. See Num. 26. 33.
of the families] or, with (among) the families of Ma-
nasseh; as coming before when all the other families came to be numbered, ch. 26. but the Greek translateth, of the family of Manasseh. of Ioseph
 what needeth hee to be named here? Sol. Iarchi answereth, because Ioseph loved the land, as it is said (in Gen. 50. 25.) and ye shall carry up my bones from hence : and his daughters loved the land, as it is said, (in Num. 27. 4.) Give unto us a possession, &c.
Machlab] or Mahlab, Nognah, Choglab, &c. in Gr.
Maala, Nova, Aigla, &c. the Scripture nameth them foure times; here, and in ch. 26. 33. & 36.
 11. & Jos. 17. 3. The order of their names is altered in Num. 36. 11. Machlab, Tirzah, and Hoglab, &c. whereupon Iarchi here saith, they were all of like esteeme one as another, therefore the order of them is changed.
 3 Verse 3. of Korah] who was a rebell, Numb. 16.
Zelophebad was not among other Rebels, whereby he and his posteritie might be deprived of his inheritance. in his sinne] in (or for) his owne sin,
 as other men died in the wilderness : and he had not beene a meane to draw other men into sin, as did Korah, and other rebellious persons.
 4 Verse 4. Why should the name of our father be done away?] or, be diminished; that is, let not his name be done away; as the Greeke translateth,

let not our fathers name be blotted out : see the notes on Exod. 32. 11. It was esteemed as a curse to have their fathers name abolished; as it is written,
In the generation following let his name be blotted out, Psal. 109. 13. Give unto us a possession] These daughters, as they honoured their father deceased, in seeking to have his name continued, so they shewed faith in God, beleevving that the land should be given them for inheritance, which the men of Israel before beleevved not, and therefore could not come into it, but it was promised to their children, Num. 14. And though these were women, no warriors, not mustered among the armie, Num. 26. yet beleevved they the promise to belong unto them; as the inheritance was given to Abraham by promise, not by the Law, Gal. 3.
 18. Wherefore in claiming right in the holy land,
 they figuratively claimed inheritance in the kingdome of heaven, which shal be given to them that worke not, but beleve in him which justifieth the ungodly, Rom. 4. 5. 6. &c. So these five virgins may be considered as the five wise virgins, which took oyle in their vessels with their lampes, that they might be ready to goe in with the bridegroom to the marriage, Matth. 25. 1. — 10. and they are our examples, that we should seeke comfort and assurance (in the wilderness of this world, where we are weake and Orphans) of our inheritance
 with those that are sanctified by faith in Christ :
 and to claime this portion in the land of the living, without respecting either our workes or weaknesse, by vertue of the covenant of grace confirmed by Christ, in whom there is neither Iew nor Gentile, bond nor free, male nor female;
 but all are one: and whosoever are Christs, are Abra- hams seed, and heires according to the promise, Gal. 3. 28.
 29. Their names also seeme not to bee without mysterie: for Zelophebad by interpretation signifi-eth The shadow of feare, or of dread: his first daughter Machlab, Infirmity; the second, Nognah, Wan- dring; the third, Choglab, Turning about for joy, or Dancing; the fourth, Mileah, a Queene; the fifth, Tir- zah, Well-pleasing, or Acceptable. By these names we may observe the degrees of our reviving by grace in Christ: for we all are borne as of the shadow of feare, being brought forth in sinne, and for feare
 of death were all our life time subject to bondage, Heb. 2. 15. This begetteth Infirmity, or Sick-nesse, griefe of heart for our estate; after which Wandering abroad for helpe and comfort, wee find it in Christ, by whom our sorrow is turned into
 joy. Hee communicateth to us of his royaltie, making us Kings & Priests unto God his Father,
 Rev. 1. 6. and shall be presented unto him glorious, and without blemish, Ephes. 5. 27. So the Church is beautifull as Tirzah, Song. 6. 3.

Verse 5. brought their cause] or, brought neere their judgement, that is, their cause to be judged of, as in difficult cases he used to doe. Foure principally are observed, of which this was one: see the An-notations on Num. 15. 34.

Verse 7. speake right] speake that which is just & meet to be done: so God approveth their desire and request of faith, and sheweth himselfe to bee

the father of the fatherless, Psal. 68. 5. And of them Sol. Iarchi here observeth, that their eyes saw that which Moses eyes saw not.

giving thou shalt give them] that is, thou shalt surely give them without faile. This commandement was fulfilled in Ios. 17. 4. Here the word them, (as Chazkuni also noteth) is of the male or masculine gender, though hee speaketh of females: which may bee either in respect of their faith and conscience, such as might besee me men; or of Gods gift (especially of his grace in Christ hereby figured) which hee giveth without difference of male and female, Gal. 3. 28. The Hebrewes (in Talmud. Bab. in Baba bathra, chap. 8.) have recorded, that The daughters of Zelophebad had 3 portions for inheritance; their fathers portion, because he was one of them that came out of Egypt; and his portion with his brethren in the goods of Hephher (his father) and because he was the first-borne, hee had two portions. Which Rabbam in his Annotations on that place, explaineth thus; All that came out of Egypt were to have part in the land; and if the father and his sonne both came out, each of them had a portion alike. And Zelophebad and Hephher were both of them that came out of Egypt: so Zelophebad was to have had his part, and to have had by inheritance of Hephher, two parts, because hee was the first-borne, &c.

8 Verſ. 8. If a man] or, Any man when he dieth and have no sonne: here God passeth from the speciall case of these virgins, and giveth a generall law for inheritances, that they should passe to the female, if the father died without male issue: but otherwise the daughters had no part in the inheritance with the sonnes.

II Verſ. 11. unto his kinsman] or, unto his neere kin; of which words, see the notes on Levit. 18. 6. From this word, and that which followeth, next to him, Sol. Iarchi noteth he should be of his family; and none is called a family but on the fathers side. Touching the right of inheritances, the Hebrew Canons lay it downe thus; Who so dieth, his children doe inherit that which is his, and they are before all other. And the males are before the females. But the female never inheriteth with the male. If hee have no children, his father shall be his heire; or if it bee a mother, shee is heire to her children; and this thing is by tradition. And whosoever is first by inheritance, is of them that first come out of the thigh (that is, are begotten first.) Therefore who so dieth, bee it man or woman; if they leave a sonne, hee inheriteth all; if his sonne bee not found alive, they looke next to the seed of that sonne. If any of his seed be found, whether males or females, though it be the sonnes daughters daughters daughter to the end of the world, shee inheriteth all. If hee have no male issue, they turne to the daughter. If hee have a daughter, shee inheriteth all. If his daughter bee not found in the world, they looke unto the daughters seed, which if any bee found, whether males or females to the worlds end, it inheriteth all. If the daughters have no seed, the inheritance returneth to his father. If his father bee not living, they looke next to the seed of the father, which are the brethren of him that is dead. If hee have a brother found, or brothers seed, hee inheriteth all:

if not, they turne to the sisters; if hee have a sister or sisters seed, it inheriteth all. And if there bee neither brothers seed nor sisters seed, so much as the father hath no seed, the inheritance returneth to the fathers father. If the grandfather bee not living, they looke to the grandfathers seed, which are the brethren of his father that is deceased: and there the males are before the females, and the seed of the males before the females, as was the right of the seed of the dead himselfe. If none of his fathers brethren, nor of their seed bee found, the inheritance returneth to the great grandfather: and after this manner it proceedeth upwards. Thus the sonne is before the daughter, and all the issue of the sonne before the daughter, and the daughter is before her grandfather, and all her issue are before her grandfather. And the father of the deceased is before the brethren of the deceased, and the brother before the sister, and all the brothers issue before the sister: and the sister before her grandfather, and all the sisters issue before her grandfather. The grandfather is before the brethren of the father of him that is deceased, and his fathers brethren are before his fathers sisters, and all that come out of the thigh of his fathers brother, are before his fathers sisters, and his fathers sisters are before the fathers grandfather of him that is deceased; and so all that come out of the thigh of his fathers sister are before his fathers grandfather: and after this manner it proceedeth and ascendeth untill the beginning of the generations. Therefore there is no man of Israel that is without heires. Who so dieth and leaveth a sonne, and a sonnes daughter, though it be a sonnes daughters daughters daughter, to the end of many generations, shee is foremost and heire of all, and the (first mans) daughter hath nothing. And the same law is for the brothers daughter with the sister, and for the daughter of his fathers brothers sonne, with his fathers sister, and so all in like sort. Who so hath two sonnes, and they both dye while hee liveth, and the one sonne leave three sonnes, and the other sonne leave one daughter, afterward when the old man dieth, the three sonnes of his sonne shall inherit the halfe of his heritage, and the daughter of his (other) sonne shall inherit the (other) halfe; for each of them was to inherit a portion of his father: and after this manner doe the sonnes of brethren divide, and the sonnes of the fathers brother, unto the beginning of the generations. The family of the mother is not called a family, neither is there inheritance but to the family of the father: therefore brethren by the mother are not heires one of another, but brethren by the father are heires one of another: and this, whether it bee his brother by his father onely, or his brother by his father and his mother. All that are neere (in blood) by transgression doe inherit, as they which are lawfully begotten; as if one have a bastard sonne, or a bastard brother, loe they are as other sonnes and as other brethren for inheritance. But the sonnes of a bond-woman, or of a strange woman, is not counted a sonne for any matter, neither is hee an heire at all. Maimony tom. 4. in Nachaloth (or treat. of Inheritances) c. 1. sect. 1. — 7. As the sons had their fathers inheritance divided among them, (the first-borne having a double portion, Deut. 21. 17.) so for releeve of the widow, and of the daughters, the

Hebrewes had these lawes. A widow is to be sustained by the goods of the heires all the time of her widowhood, untill shee receive her dowrie; and after shee hath received her dowrie in the judgement Hall, shee hath not that sustenance. As they sustaine her (with food) after her husbands death with his goods; so they give her raiment, and household-stuffe, and dwelling; or shee remaineth in the dwelling which shee had whilst her husband lived. If the widow die, her husbands heires are bound to bury her. Our wise men have commanded that a man should give a little of his goods to his daughter, &c. If a father dye and leave a daughter, they measure his purpose how much was in his heart to give unto her for her livelihood, and they give it her: and his acquaintance are they that measure his purpose. If they know it not, the Magistrates rate it, and give her a tenth part of his goods for her livelihood. If hee leave many daughters, every one of them when shee cometh to be married, hath a tenth of his goods. And shee which is after her, hath a tenth part of that which remaineth of the first: and shee which is after her, hath a tenth of that which is left of the second. And if they come all to be married at once, the first receiveth a tenth part, and the second a tenth part of that which remaineth of the first, and the third a tenth part of that which remaineth of the second; and so (the rest) though they be ten, &c. and the residue of the goods are the brethrens. If the brethren have sold or mortgaged their fathers lands, the daughter taketh her livelihood from the purchasers, even as a creditor taketh his debt of the purchasers. Who so commandeth at his death, that they should give his daughters no livelihood of his goods, they doe hearken unto him; for this is not of the nature of a dowry. Maimony tom. 2. treat. of wives, chap. 18. sect. 1. &c. and ch. 20. sect. 1. &c.

12 Ver. 12. this mountaine of Abarim] There were many mountaines of Abarim, Numb. 33. 47. by this mountaine therefore is meant one speciall, which was called Nebo, which was in the land of Moab, over against Jericho, Deut. 32. 49. And they were called Abarim, of the fords or passages which were by them over Iordan into the land of Canaan. Wherefore the Greeke version saith, Goe thou up into the mountaine which is on this side (Iordan) of mount Nabau (or this mount Nabau:) And Mos. Gerundenf. explaineth it thus; The mountaine of Abarim is mount Nebo, as is expounded in Deut. 32. and is so called, because it is by the fords of Iordan, where they passe over into the land of Canaan. see the land] the land of Canaan, saith the Greeke: and so Moses expresth it in Deut. 32. 49. Though this were some comfort unto Moses, to see the land a farre off, and salute the same (as the faithfull fathers are said to doe the promises which they received not, Hebr. 11. 13.) yet his desire and earnest suit unto the Lord was, that he might have gone over and scene it: but he would not grant it him, because he had sinned, and God had denounced his death before, Deut. 3. 23.--26. Numb. 20. 12. See the Annotations on Deut. 34. where his viewing of the land is described.

13 Ver. 13. be gathered unto thy people] in Greeke, be added unto thy people: meaning, that hee should die there, and be buried, Deut. 32. 50. and 34. 5. 6. and his soule should bee gathered unto his godly forefathers: see Numb. 20. 24.

14 Ver. 14. For yee rebelled] or, Forasmuch as yee rebelled against my mouth, that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, against my word: so in Numb. 20. 24. to sanctifie me] that is, which word and commandment of mine was, that yee by faith should sanctifie me, but ye sanctified me not. Wherefore the Greeke here translateth, ye sanctified me not: and so it is explained in Deut. 32. 51. because yee sanctified me not. Meribah of Kadesh] or, strife of Kadesh; as the Greeke translateth it, of the contradiction of Kades; and the Chaldee, the strife of Rekam. By this name Kadesh it is distinguished from the other Meribah spoken of in Exod. 17. 7. So in Deut. 32. 51.

15 Ver. 15. of the spirits of all flesh] the Greeke translateth, of the spirits, and of all flesh: so before in Numb. 16. 22. It meaneth that God is both the Creator of all mens soules or spirits, Eccles. 12. 7. Zach. 12. 1. and he that giveth them spirituall gifts of wisdom, knowledge, grace, &c. as spirits are used for spirituall gifts, in 1 Cor. 14. 12. set for visit, that is, provide and constitute for Bishop or overseer; who therefore is called in v. 17. a shepherd, or Pastor. Though for the peoples sake the Lord was angry with Moses, and would not let him goe into the good land, Deut. 4. 21. yet such was Moses love unto them, and care for their welfare, that he procureth what in him lieth, their good after his decease, by having a faithfull governour set over them of God, which is a blessing unto a land or people, Eccles. 10. 17.

17 V. 17. goe out before them] by this phrase of going out, and coming in, & that which followeth, leading out and bringing in, is signified the administration of the officer, and government of his people, both in time of peace & of war: wherefore when Moses was old, & the time of his administration expired, he said, I can no more goe out and come in, Deut. 31. 2. So the Priests administration in the Lords house, is called a going in thereto, 1 Chron. 24. 19. The similitude is taken from a shepherd, whose duty is to goe before the sheep, & to lead them out, that by his guidance they may go in and out, & find pasture, as is spoken of our great shepherd, the Lord Iesus, whom this Iesus the successor of Moses prefigured, Ioh. 10. 3. 4. 9. which have no shepherd] for no Pastor: which estate is miserable, as is noted of our Saviour, that when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd, Mat. 9. 36.

18 Ver. 18. Iosua the son of Nun] in Greeke, Iesou the son of Nane: so in the new Testament he is called Iesou, Act. 7. 45. Heb. 4. 8. the spirit] to wit, the spirit of God; meaning the gifts and graces of the Spirit; as wisdom, Deut. 34. 9. & the like. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the spirit of prophesie; and Targ. Ionat. saith, the spirit of prophesie from before the Lord remaineth upon him: which accordeth with Num. 11. 24. But whether in prophesie or other graces, he was but a shadow of Iesus the sonne of God, to who he gave not the spirit by measure, Ioh. 3. 34

lay thine hand] or, impose thine hand, that is, thine hands, as the Greeke translateth, and as Moses after sheweth in verse 23. which was a signe of his calling and ordination to his office, as in Num. 8. 10. with which also it seemeth he received a greater measure of the Spirit; as it is said, And Iosua the sonne of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him, Deut. 34. 9.

19 Vers. 19. charge thou him] or, command him; give him a charge for the faithfull executing of his office: such as we reade of in Deut. 31. 7. 8. Besides that which was now done by Moses, God himselfe did after give him a charge in the Tabernacle, Deut. 31. 14. 15.

20 Vers. 20. give of thine honour] or, give (that is, put) of thy glory, or of thy Majesty: whereby the gifts fitting the government of Israel seeme to be meant, as wisdom, according to Deut. 34. 9. or some other exterior signe of his calling from God, whereby the people might be obedient to him. As it is said of Solomon, when he sat on the throne of the Lord, and all Israel obeyed him, that the Lord magnified Solomon exceedingly before the eyes of all Israel, and gave upon him the honour of the kingdom, (or royall majesty) such, as had not been on any king before him in Israel, 1 Chron. 29. 23. 25. And the contrary is spoken of Antiochus, that vile person, they shall not give upon him the honour of the kingdom; but hee shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdom by flatteries, Dan. 11. 21. The Chaldee translateth, thou shalt give of thy brightness (in Greeke, thy glory) upon him: as referring it to the shining of Moses face spoken of in Exod. 34. 30. 35. and so other Hebrewes expound it, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, This is the shining of the skin of his face; and R. Menachem from the judgement of former Doctors, saith thus, of thine honour, and not all thine honour: Hereupon they say, The face of Moses was like the face of the Sonne; the face of Iosua like the face of the Moone. Though Iosua had not all the honour of Moses, for there arose not a Prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, Deut. 34. 10. yet Iesus Christ was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, Heb. 3. 3. may beare] that is, beare him, as the Greeke translateth, and so obey his authority. Thus it is opened in Deut. 34. 9. Moses had laid his hands upon him, and the sonnes of Israel bearkened unto him, that is, obeyed him: which is further manifested by their words unto him, in Ios. 1. 16. 17. 18. Herein Iesus the sonne of Nun was a figure of Iesus the sonne of God, of whom it is written, We were eye-witnesses of his Majesty, for hee received from God the Father honour and glory; when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory. This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased, HEARE YE HIM, 2 Pet. 1. 16. 17. Match. 17. 5.

21 Vers. 21. and he shall aske for him] that is, Eleazar shall aske counsell of God for Iosua in all doubtfull cases, in all their warres, &c. Or, and he shall aske of him, that is, Iosua shall aske of Eleazar: this the Greeke favoureth, translating, and they shall aske of him the judgement of Vrim (or of manifestations,) by the judgement of Vrim] by the breast-plate of judgement, wherein were Vrim and Tummim;

whereof see the Annotations on Exod. 28. 30. Thus Saul enquired of the Lord by Vrim, but he answered him not, 1 Sam. 28. 6. at his mouth] in Chaldee, at his word; by his understanding Gods mouth, or Eleazars mouth, speaking from the Lord: so in Targum Jonathan it is expounded, At the word of Eleazar the Priest they shall goe out. But then is implied the Lords word, by which the Priest was to give answer: for it is a rule among the Hebrew Doctors, Every Priest that speaketh not by the Holy Ghost, and the divine Majesty residing on him, they aske not (counsell) by him. Talmud. Bab. in Ioma, cap. 7. in Gemara. For in such consultations, though they inquired by the Priest, yet the answer came from the Lord; as there is an example in David, 1 Sam. 23. 9. 10. 11. 12. shall they goe out] out to warre, and in againe from the same; and so in all weighty affaires which were extraordinary. Wherefore it was an over-sight in Iosua and Israel that they made peace with the Gibeonites, and asked not (counsell at) the mouth of the Lord, Ios. 9. 14. 15. be] that is, Iosua himselfe, and all the people. Whereas the High Priest with Vrim and Tummim, Lights and Perfections, was a figure of Christ, (as is shewed on Exod. 28. 30.) the Lord by this ordinance signified, that all governours and people should have their administrations directed by the mouth of Christ: For God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ, 2 Cor. 4. 6.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Lords oblations are commanded to be offered in the time appointed. 3 The continuall Burnt-offerings every day, with their Meate and Drink-offerings. 9 The offerings in the Sabbath; 11 in the beginnings of the months; 16 at the Passover; 26 and in the day of First-fruits, or Pentecost.

1 AND Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying; Command the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them: Mine oblation, my bread for my Fire-offerings, the savour of my rest, ye shall observe to offer unto mee in his appointed time. And thou shalt say unto them; This is the Fire-offering which ye shall offer unto Iehovah; Two he-lambes of the first yeare, perfect, day by day, for a continual Burnt-offering. The one lambe thou shalt make ready in the morning, and the other lambe thou shalt make ready betweene the two evenings. And a tenth part of an Ephah of fine flowre for a Meate-offering, mingled with the fourth part of an Hin of beaten oyl.

The continuall Burnt-offering which was made in mount Sinai for a savour of rest, a Fire-offering unto Iehovah. And the Drink-offering offering thereof shall be the fourth part of an Hin for the lambe; in the holy place shalt thou cause to be powred out a drink-offring of strong wine unto Iehovah. And the other lambe thou shalt make ready betweene the two evenings: as the Meat-offring of the morning, and as the Drink-offring thereof, thou shalt make ready; a Fire-offring, a favour of rest unto Iehovah.

And in the Sabbath day, two hee-lambes of the first yeare perfect, & two tenth parts of fine flowre for a Meat-offring, mingled with oyle, and the Drinke-offring thereof.

The Burnt-offring of the Sabbath, in his Sabbath, beside the continual Burnt-offring, and his Drinke-offring.

And in the beginnings of your moneths ye shall offer a Burnt-offring unto Iehovah: Two bullocks, younglings of the herd, and one ram; seven he-lambes of the first yeare, perfect. And threethird parts of fine flowre for a Meat-offring, mingled with oyle, for one bullocke: & two tenth parts of flowre for a Meat-offring, mingled with oyle for one ramme. And a severall tenth part of fine flowre, for a Meat-offring mingled with oyle, for one lambe: for a Burnt-offring, a favour of rest, a Fire-offring unto Iehovah.

And their Drinke-offerings, halfe an Hin of wine shall be for a bullocke, and the third part of an Hin for a ram, and the fourth part of an Hin for a lambe: This is the Burnt-offring of the moneth, in the moneth, throughout the moneths of the yeare. And one goat-buck of the goats for a Sin-offring unto Iehovah: it shall be made ready beside the continual Burnt-offring, and his Drinke-offring.

And in the first moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth shall be the Paschever unto Iehovah. And in the fifteenth day of this moneth shall be the feast: seven daies shall unleavened cakes be eaten. In the first day shall be a convocation of holiness; yee shall not doe any servile worke. But yee shall offer a Fire-offring for a Burnt-offring unto Iehovah; two bullockes, younglings of the herd, and one ramme, and seven he-lambes of the first yeare, perfect shall they be unto you.

And their Meat-offring, fine flowre mingled with oyle; three tenth parts shall ye make ready for a bullocke, & two tenth parts for a ramme. A severall tenth part shalt thou make ready for one lambe, throughout the seven lambes. And one goat-buck for a Sin-offring, to make atonement for you.

Beside the Burnt-offring of the morning, which is for a continuall Burnt-offring, yee shall make ready these. After this manner ye shall make ready for every day, seven daies, the bread of the Fire-offring of a favour of rest unto Iehovah: it shall be made ready, beside the continuall Burnt-offring, and his Drinke-offring. And in the seventh day ye shall have a convocation of holiness, yee shall not doe any servile worke.

And in the day of the First-fruits, when ye offer a new Meat-offring unto Iehovah after your weekes, ye shall have a convocation of holiness, ye shall not doe any servile worke.

And yee shall offer a Burnt-offring for a favour of rest unto Iehovah; two bullocks, younglings of the herd, one ramme, seven he-lambes of the first yeare. And their Meat-offring, fine flowr mingled with oyle; three tenth parts for one bullocke, two tenth parts for one ramme. A severall tenth part for one lambe throughout the seven lambes.

One goat-buck of the goats, to make atonement for you. Yee shall make them ready, beside the continuall Burnt-offring, and his Meat-offring; perfect shall they be unto you, and their Drinke offerings.

Annotations.

Command the sonnes of Israel] After that God had numbred the people, & appointed them their inheritance, he now repeateth & explaineth former lawes concerning his service which they should doe unto him in that their inheritance, daily, weekly, monethly, and at their solemne Feasts as they fell every yeare: for he therefore would give unto them the lands of the heathens, and they should inherit the labour of the peoples, that they might observe his statutes, and keepe his lawes, Psal. 105. 44. 45. And because they had omitted the solemnizing of these feasts now 38. yeares, (from the keeping of the Paschever in the wilderness in the second yeare, Num. 9. untill the Circumcision and Paschever at Gilgal, Ios. 5.) by reason of their travels, wherein the Sanctuary, Altar, & holy things were folden up and removed from place to place, and the generation which had been before mustered was dead, Numb. 26. 64. 65. therefore lest the ordinances formerly given should be forgotten or neglected, and the people continue to doe as now they did, every man whatsoever was right in his own eyes, Deut. 12. 8. the Lord causeth the Law of sacrificing to be againe commanded. Which sacrifices being all figures of Christ, & our service of God by him, (as hath been shewed in the booke of Leviticus) teach us to serve the Lord under the Gospel of his Son, in spirit & truth: for thereof were these legall feasts a figure, Esay 66. 23. Zach. 14. 16. 19. 1 Cor. 5. 7. 8. Coloff. 2. 16. 17. Heb. 13. 15.

Mine oblation] that is, mine oblations; in Greeke, my gifts: Hebr. my Korban, which is an offering or gift by which men drew nigh unto God, through faith in Christ. See the notes on Levit. 1. 2.

my bread for my Fire-offerings] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the bread ordained for my oblations. Under the name of bread all food is implied, and the flesh it selfe, or fat of the sacrifices, as is noted on Levit. 3. 11.

the favour of my rest] the favour or odour of sacrifices which may quiet or pacifie my spirit and anger, and make you and your service pleasing and acceptable to me. The Greeke tranſlateth it, for a favour of sweet ſmell; the Chaldee, to be accepted with favour. See Levit. 1. 9.

in his appointed time] every one in the time appointed therefore of God: the Greeke ſaith, in my feaſts; for the ſame word which ſignifieth an appointed time, is alſo uſed for a ſolemne feaſt appointed of God, Levit. 23. 2. Hereby God limiteth every ſacrifice to his proper day and time; which if it were let ſlip, that oblation might not be offered in another day or time. This is further manifeſted in ver. 10. where he ſaith, The Burnt-offering of the Sabbath in his Sabbath; which the Hebrewes expound thus, and not the Burnt-offering of one Sabbath in another Sabbath. Maim. tom. 3. in Tamidin, chap. 1. ſect. 7. And it is a common proverbe among them, Gnabar Zeman, gnabar korban; If the time be paſt, the oblation is paſt: and it is prophesied of Antiochus the wicked, that he ſhould thinke to change the times and the lawes, Dan. 7. 25. And Ieroboam king of Iſrael, who kept the feaſt of the ſeventh moneth, in the eighth moneth, is taxed for it in the Scripture, which calleth it the moneth which hee had deviſed of his owne heart, 1 King. 12. 32. 33.

3 Verſ. 3. the Fire-offering] the ſacrifices to be burned with fire unto the Lord; which Fire ſignified both the worke of Gods Spirit, and the fiery trials and afflictions through which Chriſt & his children ſhould be conſecrated unto God, Matth. 3. 11. Hebr. 9. 14. 1 Pet. 4. 12. 13. 14.

of the firſt yeare] Hebr. ſonne of the yeare: ſo after often in this & the next chapter: of which phraſe ſee the Annotations on Exod. 12. 5.

perfect] that is, perfect lambes, without blemiſh or corruption; what this meant is ſhewed on Levit. 1. 3. and 22. 21.

day by day] or for a day, that is, daily. a continuall Burnt-offering] Hebr. a Burnt-offering of continuall, which ſhould be offered without intermiſſion. See the notes on Exod. 29. 42. and Levit. 1.

4 Verſ. 4. make ready] or doe, that is, kill, ſprinkle the blood, cut in peeces, burne on the Altar, and all other rites pertaining to ſacrificing, ſhewed in Levit. 1. betweene the two evenings] that is, in the after-noon: of which phraſe, ſee the Annotations on Exo. 12. 6. God ſetteth no houres for the morning or evening ſacrifices, becauſe they might occaſionally be changed. By the Hebrew Canons, the ordinary time of killing the morning ſacrifice, was before Sun-riſing, after th. 1. the ſace of all the Eaſt was lightned, that is, between day-breaking and Sun-riſing. The time of killing the evening ſacrifice, though it might be all the afternoon, yet they uſed not to kill it till half an houre after two of the clock; and this they did by reaſon of the ſacrifices of particular perſons, or of the congregation, becauſe it was unlawfull to offer any oblation at all, before the continuall Burnt-offering of the morning: neither killed they any oblation after the continuall evening ſacrifice, ſave the oblation of the Paſſover only: for it was impoſſible for all Iſrael to offer their Paſſovers in two houres: So they killed not the Paſſover, but after the daily evening ſacrifice. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 1. ſect. 3. 4. By this daily ſacrifice morning and evening, was ſignified the reconciliation of the Church unto God by faith in Chriſt; notwithstanding their continuall infirmities which they fell into night & day, (as one end of the Burnt-offering was to make atonement for finnes, Iob 1. 5.) and that being reconciled, they ſhould both ſhew their thankfulneſſe for it unto God, and expect from him a bleſſing upon them, their labours, and their reſt. Wherefore at ſuch times, ſpeciall favours were ſhewed of God unto his people; as, in the morning, when the Meat-offering was offered, the countrey was miraculoſly filled with water, for Iſrael, when they were in diſtreſſe, 2 King. 3. 9. 10. 20. And about the time of the evening oblation, God answered unto Daniels prayers, by ſending the Angell Gabriel unto him, who fore-told him when Chriſt ſhould come for the ſalvation of his people, Dan. 9. 20. 21. 22. &c. See alſo the notes on Exod. 29. 39.

Verſ. 5. a tenth part] that is, an omer; for that was the tenth deale of an Ephah or Buſhell, as is ſhewed in Exod. 16. 36. fine flour] meaning wheaten flour, as Exod. 29. 2. So Chazkuni here ſaith, as the ſupre ſpoken of the conſecration (of the Prieſts) was of wheat; ſo all the flour ſpoken of in the Law is of wheat.

the fourth part] that was ſomewhat leſſe than a quart of oyle; for an Hin contained twelve Logs, and a Log held as much as fix egges: See the Annotations on Exod. 30. 24. and Levit. 14. 10. When God ſhewed unto Ezekiel the ſpiritual Temple which Chriſt ſhould build, and the ſervice therein, (declared after the ſimilitude of the Legal ſervice of Moſes) he ſaith, that every Lambe ſhould have for the Meat-offering the ſixth part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oyle, Ezek. 46. 13. 14. where the quantity is increaſed more than was offered under Moſes: to teach, that as Gods grace and bleſſing aboundeth towards us in Chriſt, ſo ſhould our thankfulneſſe againe towards him, abound more than under the Law, by a more cheerfull obedience unto him, & more ample fruits of the ſpirit, figured by the flour and oyle.

beaten oyle] oyle ſignified grace; beating of it ſignified afflictions, whereby the grace of God is more perfected in us, 2 Cor. 1. 21. and 12. 9. 10. The oyle was beaten in a mortar: and they ſtrained it out with hands, and preſſed it not out in an (oyle) preſſe, ſo the end there might be found no drugs in it, ſaith Chazkuni on Num. 28.

Verſ. 6. which was made] that is, which (or ſuch is) was offered; as in Targum Jonathan it is expounded, ſuch as was offered at the mount of Sinai. Or, by made, underſtand ordained of God, having reference reference to the ordinance in Exod. 29. 38.--42. Thus God calleth them throughout their generations, unto his first institution, which they were to keepe, till hee himsele made a change of the Law. And here observe, that the Lambe, the flowre, and the oyle, are all of them together called a Burnt-offering, as also in Ezek. 46. 15. because the Meat-offering with the oyle was al burned on the Altar, as was the lambe, and so differed from the Meat-offering in Levit. 2. whereof an handfull onely was burned.

7 Verf. 7. Drinke-offering] so named of pouring out upon the Altar, as is noted on Num. 15. 5. in the holy place] the Court of the Sanctuary; Heb. in the Holinessse. strong wine] in Hebrew She-car, which name the Gr. retaineth, calling it Sikera, and so in the Evangelists writing, Luke 1. 15. It is generally used for all strong drinke, which causeth mirth, fulnesse, and (if it be taken excessively) drunkennesse: See the notes on Gen. 43. 24. The Chaldee here translateth it, old wine, and that is better than new, Luke 5. 39. Thus God required the best liquor, wine; and the best sort of wine to be given with his sacrifice: which was a figure, not only of the blood of Christ, (the memoriall wherof he hath still left unto his Church in wine, Mat. 26. 27. 28. 29.) but of the blood also of his servants, powred out in martyrdome, upon the sacrifice and service of the faith (as in the holy place) Phil. 2. 17. See the Annotations on Num. 15. 12.

9 Verf. 9. the Sabbath day] Hebr. the day of Sabbath, that is, of Rest, which the Greeke expresth in the forme plurall, the day of Sabbaths, and so in the new Testament, Luke 4. 16. Act. 13. 14. and 16. 13. two lambs] understand, as the Greek version addeth, ye shall bring two bee-lambs: these were over & beside the daily sacrifices forementioned, verse 10. The Sabbath was a remembrance of the creation of the world, Exod. 20. 11. of Israels comming out of Egypt, Deut. 5. 15. a signe of their sanctification by the Lord, Ezek. 20 12. and a figure of grace and rest, which should come by faith in Christ, Heb. 4. As therefore this day was a signe of more than ordinary favours from the Lord, so he required greater testimonies of their thankfulness and sanctification. And Ezekiel prophesying of the Churches service under the Gospell, under the figure of these legall ordinances, he saith, And the Burnt-offering that the Prince shall offer unto the LORD, in the Sabbath day, shall be six lambs perfect, and a ramme perfect: and the Meat-offering shall be an Ephah for a ramme; and the Meat-offering for the lambs shall be the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah, Ezek. 46. 4. 5. signifying that the service of God now in spirit and truth should exceed the legall services of old.

10 Verf. 10. in his Sabbath] the Chaldee expoundeth it, that shall be done in the Sabbath; it meaneth, that on the Sabbath it should be offered, and not deferred til another day or week, as is before noted, verse 2. The like is for the moneth in v. 14.

moone; and it was proclaimed by the Synedrion, or Magistrates, as Maimony sheweth in Kiddush badebesh, chapter 1. These new-moones were daies sanctified to the service of God, by speciall sacrifices appointed, as after followeth; then did they blow with the silver trumpets in the Sanctuary, Numb. 10. 10. and for Burnt-offerings on the Sabbaths, New-moones, and solemne Feasts, was Solomons Temple dedicated, 2 Chron. 2. 4. Then also did they thorowout the coasts of Israel repaire unto the Prophets, or other Ministers of God, for to heare his Word, as appeareth by 2 King. 4. 23. Wherefore wilt thou goe to him (to the man of God) to day? it is neither New-moone, nor Sabbath. Then also they kept religious feasts, 1 Sam. 20. 5. 6. neither was it lawfull to buy or sell, or doe other like worldly workes, Amos 8. 5. but they were to meditate of their light, sanctification, graces, and comforts to come by Christ, whereof these and other holy-dayes were a shadow, Col. 2. 16. 17. And in Christ we spiritually keepe this feast (as the Apostle speaketh of the Pascheover, 1 Cor. 5. 7. 8.) for so it is prophesied, From one New-moone to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before mee, saith the LORD, Esay 66. 23. Now that we are now bound to observe dayes, and monethes, and times, and yeares, Gal. 4. 10. but are taught by those figurative speeches in the Prophets, to worship the Father in spirit and in truth, Ioh. 4. 21. 23. who will accept of our service performed in Christ, in every place, as hee did at Ierusalem, Malac. 1. 11. and at all times, as hee did at the solemne Feasts of Israel. The renewing of the Moone, (which borroweth her light of the Sunne) might figure the renewing of the Church (said to bee faire as the Moone, Song. 6. 10.) by Christ the Sonne of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2. whiles her light and joy is by him increased and continued; as it is written, I by Sun shall no more goe downe, neither shall thy Moone withdraw it selfe: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy mourning shall be ended, Esay 60. 20. And Ezekiel (prophesying of the dayes of Christ) saith of the gate of the inner Court of the Sanctuary, that looketh toward the East, which should be shut the six working dayes, that in the Sabbath, and in the day of the New-moone, it should be opened, Ezek. 46. 1. The Hebrewes say, As the beginning of the monethes are sanctified and renewed in this world, so shall Israel bee sanctified and renewed in time to come. Pirke Eliezer, per 51. two bullockes] The service at the New-moone was much more than in the Sabbath, for that was but two lambs, verse 9. but this at the New-moone, is two bullockes, one ramme, and seven lambs, all Burnt-offerings, and one goat-bucke, for a Sin-offering, verse 11. 15. These sacrifices were offered, beside the daily Burnt-offering, and after the same: but Ezekiel foretelleth a lessening of this service, speaking but of one bullocke, six lambs, and a ramme, which the Prince should offer, Ezek. 46. 6.

Verf. 12. three tenth parts] of an Ephah or Bushell, as verse 5. that is, three Omers. The like quantity was prescribed in Num. 15. 9. & so two Omers Omers for a ramme, Num. 15.6. But in Ezek. 46. 7. the Meat-offerings is increased; an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ram; and for the lambs, according as his hand shall attaine unto. See before on verse 9.

13 Verſ. 13. a ſeverall tenth part] Hebr. a tenth part a tenth part, that is, for every one a tenth part; or, (as Moſes explaineth it in Numb. 29.4.) one tenth part for one lambe. So after in verſe 21. and 29. and chap. 29. verſe 10. 15. with oyle] with the fourth part of an Hin of beaten oyle, as was declared in verſe 5. But when there was an Ephah of flowre for a Meat-offering, there was an Hin of oyle to an Ephah, Ezek. 46. 5. 7. 11.

15 Verſ. 15. for a Sin-offering] in Greeke, for ſin; this was to make atonement for them, verſe 22. the law for ſin-offerings was given in Levit. 4. And whereas ſome Sin-offerings were eaten by the Priests, and otherſome (whoſe blood was carried into the Holy place) were not eaten, but burnt without the campe, Levit. 6. 26. 30. of this the Hebrewes ſay, The offering (or doing) of the Sin-offerings at the beginnings of the moneths, and at the ſolemne feaſts, is like the offering of the Sin-offering that is eaten. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 7. ſect. 2.

16 Verſ. 16. the firſt moneth] called of the Hebrewes Abib, and Niſan; it answereth in part to that which we call March: ſee the notes on Exod. 12. 2. and Levit. 23. 5.

17 Verſ. 17. the feaſt] of unleavened cakes, as is expreſſed in Levit. 23. 6. The Paſſeover was a figure of Chriſt our Paſſeover, to be ſacrificed for us: the unleavened cakes ſignified ſincerity & truth, with which we ſhould keepe the feaſt, 1 Cor. 5. 7. 8. See the Annotations on Exod. 12. 15.

18 Verſ. 18. any ſervile worke] Hebr. any worke of ſervice: it meaneth any worke ſave about that which men ſhould eat; that onely was to be done of them, Exod. 12. 16. See the notes there, and on Levit. 23. 7.

19 Verſ. 19. two bullocks, &c.] the ſame ſacrifices, and ſo many as were offered at the New-moones, verſe 11. The Meat and Drink-offerings alſo were the ſame, verſ. 12. 13. 20. 21. But Ezekiel prophetieth of a charge, how at the Paſſeover on the fourteenth day, the Prince ſhould prepare for himſelfe, and for all the people of the land, a bullocke for a Sin-offering. And the ſeven dayes of the feaſt (of unleavened cakes) hee ſhould prepare a Burnt-offering to the LORD, ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rammes perfect, daily the ſeven dayes; and for a Sinne-offering, a goat-bucke of the goats daily. The Meat-offerings alſo ſhould be increased; an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ramme, and an Hin of oyle for an Ephah, Ezek. 45. 22. 23. 24.

22 Verſ. 22. a Sin-offering] of it the Hebrewes ſay, it was eaten in the ſecond day of the Paſſeover, which was the ſixteenth day of (the firſt moneth) Niſan. Maim. in Tamidin, chap. 7. ſect. 3. See before on verſe 15.

23 Verſ. 23. Beſide the Burnt-offering] the daily ſacrifice appointed in verſe 3. unto which theſe ſacrifices forementioned were added. And beſide al theſe, there was the Lambe, for a Burnt-offering, which was ſacrificed with the wave Sheafe or Omer, as was commanded in Levit. 23. 10. -- 13.

Verſ. 25. the ſeventh day] which was the laſt day of the feaſt of unleavened cakes; and in this day it is ſaid, there ſhould be a feaſt to Iehovah, Exod. 13. 6. called here a convocation of holineſſe, or holy aſſembly. So in Exod. 12. 16. and Levit. 23. 8.

Verſ. 26. day of the Firſt-fruits] called Pentecoſt, Act. 2. 1. the feaſt of harveſt, Exod. 23. 16. the feaſt of Weekes, of the firſt-fruits of wheat-harveſt, Exod. 34. 22.

a new Meat-offering] called ſo in reſpect of the former offered at the Paſſeover: the law for this was given in Levit. 23. 16. after your weekes] after the ſeven weekes, or fifty dayes, which the Iſraelites were commanded to number unto them from the Paſſeover, Levit. 23. 15. 16. The Hebrew which uſually ſignifieth in your weekes, is here to be interpreted after: See the Annotations on Exod. 2. 23.

Verſ. 27. two bullocks] theſe and the reſt following are here added to the Feaſt, over and beſide thoſe ſeven lambs, one bullocke, and two rams, which were offered with the firſt-fruits, Levit. 23. 18. as is ſhewed in the Annotations there; and beſide the continuall Burnt-offering, or daily ſacrifice, as after followeth in verſ. 31.

Verſ. 31. and their drinke-offerings] This ſeemeth to bee referred not onely to the former, ye ſhall make them ready, but alſo to the latter, they ſhall be perfect: that as the beaſts, flowre and oyle, were to be perfect, unblemiſhed, ſound and ſweet; ſo the wine for drinke-offerings ſhould likewiſe bee perfect, (as hee called it ſtrong wine, in verſe 7.) not dead, ſoure, mixed with dregs or lees, or otherwiſe corrupted. See the Annotations on Gen. 4. 4.

CHAP. XXIX.

Annotations.

1 The seventh month] called in 1 Kings 8. 2. the month Ethanim, of the Hebrews commonly Tisri; of us, September. This month was the going out of the yeere, Exod. 23. 16. and the revolution of the yeere, Exod. 34. 22. for then the old yeere went out, and the new began, as touching the Jubilees, Levit. 25. 9, 10. and other civill affaires: but by reason of Israels coming out of Egypt in Abib, or Mareb, that month was made unto them the first of the months of the yeere, Exod. 12. 2. So the Ecclesiasticall feasts were reckoned after this order; and that which had bene the first month, is here and usually called the seventh. the first day] Hebr. the one day, of which phrase see Gen. 1. 5. blowing of trumpets] of this rite, see Levit. 23. 24. and the Annotations there.

2 Verse 2. savour of rest] which the Greeke translath, of sweet smell; the Chaldee, to be accepted with favour before the LORD. See Gen. 8. 21. one bullocke] at every New Moone they were to offer two bullockes, one ramme, and seven lambes, Numb. 28. 11. the same were to be offered at this New-Moone, and this one bullocke, one ram, and seven lambes, &c. here mentioned, were added over and beside the Burnt-offering of the month, as is after expressed in v. 6. So this day they sacrificed three bullocks, two rams, & fourteen lambes for Burnt-offerings, and two goats for Sin, besides the two lambes for the daily oblation. For as the solemnity was greater, by reason of the blowing of the Trumpets, (which figured the preaching of repentance and beleefe in Christ, Esay 58. 1. Mark. 1. 1, 2, 3, 4.) so their service and thankfulness unto God was to be testified by the more sacrifices. And if this New-Moon fell to be on the Sabbath, then besides all the former oblations, they offered also the two lambes, which were added for the Sabbath, Numb. 28. 9, 10. The Order of offering is said to be thus; After the daily morning sacrifice was offered, the addition of the Sabbath was first, and after that, the addition of the New-Moone; and after it, the addition of this good day (or feast) Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 9. sect. 2.

6 Verse 6. their manner] Hebr. their judgement, that is, the law and ordinance prescribed of God. So in ver. 18. 21, 24, &c. Under this word manner or judgement, the Hebrews understand the order also here set downe: for whereas sometimes the Sin-offering was offered first, before the Burnt-offering, Lev. 5. 7, 8, 10. in the oblations of the feast (they say) it was not so, but they offered according to the order that is written, as it is said, According to their manner. At first the Bullocks, and after them the Rammes, and after them the Lambes, and after them the Goat-buckes, although the Goat-buckes were Sin-offerings, and all those before them were Burnt-offerings. Maimony in Tamidin, chap. 9. sect. 7.

Verse 7. the tenth day] which was the day of Atonements, Lev. 23. 27. called the Fast, Act. 27. 9. The manner of Atonement, and the service on that day, is described at large in Lev. 16. afflict your soules] with fasting and abstinence: see the Annotations on Lev. 16. 29.

Verse 11. before the Sin-offering of Atonements] that Goat-bucke, whose blood was carried into the holy place, and the body burned without the camp, Lev. 16. 9, 29. besides it, this sacrifice here commanded was to be offered, & besides the daily Burnt-offering. On Atonements day, they offer an addition according to the addition of the beginning of the yeere, [which was the first day of the seventh month, fore-mentioned in v. 1, 2.] a bullock and a ram, and this ram is called the peoples ram, and seven lambes, all of them for Burnt-offering, and a goat-bucke for a Sin-offering, and that was eaten as evening. Moreover the congregation offered a goat-bucke for a Sin-offering which was burnt; the fellow whereof was sent away for a Scape-goat, (Lev. 16. 9, 10.) Maimony in Tamidin, c. 10. f. 1, 2. This Atonement was a lively figure of our reconciliation unto God, by the death of Christ, (as is shewed on Levit. 16.) the afflicting of their soules figured repentance and humiliation for sins, with our fellowship in the afflictions of Christ, Rom. 6. 3, 4, 6. 1 Pet. 2. 21. The sacrifices added here, signified the faith that Gods people should have in Christ sacrificed, and thankfulness unto God therefore, 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2. Hebr. 10. 10, 19, 22, &c. Romanes 12. 1, 2.

V. 12. the fifteenth day] when the feast of Boobis, or of Tabernacles did begin, which lasted 7 daies, Lev. 23. 34, 35, 36, &c. the signification of which feast is shewed in the Annotations on that place.

Verse 13. thirteen bullockes] Whereas at the other feasts fore-mentioned, they offered but two bullocks, one ram, and seven lambes in a day; at this, they were to offer 13 bullocks, two rams, and 14 lambes; both because the solemnity was greater, and at this time they had gathered in their corne and wine, and had seen the blessing of God in all their increase, and in all the works of their hands, Deut. 16. 13, 15. therefore the Lord required more sacrifices in signe of thankfulness. But Ezekiel prophesying of the daies of Christ (under whom we keep this feast in spirit and truth, Zach. 14. 16, 19.) appointeth like sacrifices as were to be offered at the Pascheover; as that the Prince should prepare seven bullocks and seven rams daily for a Burnt-offering, &c. Ezek. 45. 23, 25.

Verse 17. twelve bullockes] in every of the seven daies of this feast, one bullock is abated, as on the second day twelve, on the third day eleven, ver. 20. on the fourth day ten, ver. 23. and so forward, till on the seventh day they were to offer seven bullockes, v. 32. (all which, in seven daies amounted to seventie bullocks) but the rams and lambes were every day alike. By this diminishing of one bullocke every day, the Holy Ghost might teach their duty to grow in grace, and increase in sanctification: that their sins decreasing, the number of their sacrifices (whereby Atonement was made for their sins) should also decrease daily. Or it might signifie a diminishing and wearing away of the legall offerings, to lead them unto the spirituall and reasonable service, by presenting their owne bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, Rom. 12. 1.

18 Verse 18. and for the lambes] the Hebrewes say, that the Meat and Drink-offerings of these severall sacrifices, were never to be mixed together, but the Meat and Drink-offerings of the bullockes were by themselves, and the Meat and Drink-offerings of the Rammes by themselves, and of the Lambes by themselves; whether they were the oblations of the congregation, or the oblations of a particular person. Maimony in Tamin, chapter 10. section 15.

35 Ver. 35. In the eighth day] Chazkuni here observeth, that it is not said (as was of the former daies) And in the eighth day, to teach that it was a good day (or feast) by it selfe. a solemn assembly] or, generall assembly: See the notes on Lev. 23. 36.

36 Verse 36. one bullocke] though this was the last, and the great day of the feast, Joh. 7. 37. yet were the sacrifices fewer than on any other day; as if God would call them from the multitude of outward oblations to his spiritual worship, as is noted on vers. 17. And our Saviour on that day called the people from their many carnall observations, (some whereof are noted on Leviticus 23. 40.) unto himselfe, to drinke the waters of his Spirit, Joh. 7. 38, 39.

39 Verse 39. beside your vowes, &c.] of the difference between Vowes and Voluntary-offerings, see the Annotations on Lev. 7. 16. The sacrifices fore-mentioned, the congregation of Israel was bound to offer, every thing in his day: but all men as they had either vowed, or voluntarily would, brought their sacrifices at the feasts, (especially Peace-offerings, which the owners did eat before the Lord) that according to the blessing of God upon them, they, their children and their servants, the Levites, the stranger, the fatherlesse & the widow with them, might eat & drink, and rejoyce before the Lord, Deut. 16. 10, 11, 14, 15. The truth and complement of al which solemnities are now fulfilled unto us by Christ, who by once offering of himselfe, hath reconciled us unto God, & wrought our eternal redemption, and hath given us of his Spirit, whereby we know that he abideth in us, and hath placed in us the kingdom of God, which consisteth in righteousness and peace, and joy in the holy Ghost: That by him we should offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, confessing to his Name, and should not forget to doe good, and to communicate, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased, Coloss. 2. 16, 17. Hebr. 9. 12, 26, 28. 1 Joh. 3. 24. Rom. 14. 17. Hebr. 13. 15, 16.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Lord commandeth that mens vowes or oathes

be not profaned, but kept. 3 A maid in her fathers house, the father hath power to establish her vow, or to disannull it. 6 Likewise a married woman is in her husbands power, he may confirme or disannull her vow, in the day that he heareth it. 9 But the vowes of a widow, or divorced woman, are to stand. 10 An explanation of the case betwene man and wife, concerning vowes or oathes.

1 AND Moses spake unto the heads of the Tribes, concerning the sons of Israel, saying, This is the thing which Jehovah commanded. A man, when he shall vow
2 a vow unto Jehovah, or sweare an oath to binde a bond upon his soule, he shall not pro-
3 fane his word, he shall doe according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth. And a 4 woman, when she shall vow a vow unto Jehovah, and binde a bond in her fathers house in 5 her youth: And her father hear her vow and her bond, which she hath bound upon her 6 soule, and her father shall hold his peace at her; then all her vowes shall stand, and every 7 bond which she hath bound upon her soule shall stand. And if her father disannull her in 8 the day that he heareth, not any of her vowes or of her bonds which she hath bound upon 9 her soule shall stand: and Jehovah will mercifully forgive her, because her father dis-
10 allowed her. And if having she have an husband, and her vowes be upon her, or the utter-11 tance of her lips, which she hath bound upon her soule; And her husband heare, and hold 12 his peace at her in the day that he heareth; then her vowes shall stand, and her bonds which she hath bound upon her soule shall stand. But if in the day that her husband
13 heareth he disallow her, then he shall make void her vow which is upon her, and the utter-
14 tance of her lips which she hath bound upon her soule; and Jehovah will mercifully forgive her. But the vow of a widow, and of 15 her that is put away, whatsoever she hath bound upon her soule shall stand upon her. And if she vowed in her husbands house, or 16 bound a bond upon her soule with an oath: And her husband heard, and held his peace at her, and disallowed her not; then all her 17 vowes shall stand, and every bond which she hath bound upon her soule shall stand. But if her husband hath utterly made them void
18 in the day that he heard, whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vowes, or concerning the bond of her soule, shall 19 not stand; her husband hath made them void, and Jehovah will mercifully forgive her.

13 her. Every vow, and every oath of bond to afflict the soule, her husband may establish it, and her husband may make it void.

14 But if her husband altogether hold his peace at her from day to day, then hee establisheth all her vowes, or all her bonds, which are upon her: he establisheth them, because hee held his peace at her in the day that hee heard them. But if hee shall utterly make them void, after that hee hath heard them, then he shall beare her iniquitie. These are the statutes, which Iehovah commanded Moses, betweene a man and his wife, betweene a father and his daughter, in her youth, in her fathers house.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 42. Lecture of the Law: See Gen. 6. 9.

1 THE heads] that is, as the Greeke translateth, the Rulers (or Princes) of the Tribes. In the two former Chapters were lawes for necessary duties commanded: here followeth the law for voluntarie things, which people having by vow or oath taken upon them, were bound to performe.

concerning the summes] or, to the summes of Israhel, or as the Greeke joyneth it with the former, the Princes of the Tribes of the summes of Israhel. It was spoken by Moses to the Princes, that by them it might be orderly communicated unto the people; as in Exod. 12. 3. 21. and 4. 29. also that the Governours should looke unto the people for the performance of their religious promises. the thing] Hebr. the word.

2 Verse 2. a vow] a religious promise to the Lord. Of a vow, and how it differed from a voluntary gift, see the Annotations on Lev. 27. 2. and 7. 16. and of an oath, see the notes on Levit. 5. 1. 4. And that almes promised for the poore, is comprehended also under the name of vowes, is shewed on Dent. 23. 21. a bond upon his soule] that is, to binde his soule (or himselfe) with a bond. Hereupon is that manner of speech, Thy vowes are upon mee, O God, Psalm. 56. 12. not profane his word] not violate or breake his promise, but shall have an holy care to keepe it. A like phrase is of prophaning a covenant, in Psalm. 59. 20. and 89. 34. And as vowes might not be broken, so neither might they be delayed, Dent. 23. 21.

all that proceedeth out of his mouth] that is, every word of his, as the phrase is opened in Luk. 4. 4. from Dent. 8. 3. This is to be understood of good and lawfull vowes, and such as are in a mans power to performe: for impossible vowes are to be repented of, and wicked vowes or oathes are not to be kept, but broken, Act. 23. 21. &c.

3 Verse 3. and binde a bond] to wit, upon her soule, as in vers. 4. that is, bound her selfe with a bond. And, may here be used for Or (as it is often, and as the Greeke here translateth, or determine a determination) to imply either a vow to sanctifie any thing to the Lord, or a bond to restraine her selfe from something, as by afflicting her soule, or abstinence, as in vers. 13. in her fathers house]

shee abiding there, and being under his power. The Hebrewes (as Sol. Iarchi on this place) by house, doe understand power, saying, under the power of her father, though she be not in his house. in her youth] youth differeth from childhood, for in her youth she understandeth what a vow is, whereof in childhood she is ignorant. The Hebrew Canons have limited the time both for men and women, thus: A young man that is a sonne of twelve yeares and one day, and a young woman that is a daughter of eleven yeares and one day, which doe sweare or vow, either vowes of binding (or restraint,) or vowes of sanctifying (any thing to the Lord,) they doe examine them, and aske questions of them. If they know to whose name they have vowed, &c. then their vowes are stablished: but if they know not, then is there nothing in their vowes or words. And this examination is necessary all that yeare, which is the twelfth yeare for a young maid, and the thirteenth yeare for a young man. Before this time, although they say, we know to whose name we have vowed, their vowes are no vowes. But after this time, when the sonne is a sonne of thirteene yeares and one day; and the daughters is a daughter of twelve yeares and one day, although they say, we know not to whose name we have vowed; their words are established, and their vowes are vowes, &c. And this is the time of vowes spoken of in every place: for as much as they are come to the yeares of great (or aged) persons, their vowes are stablished. Maimon. tom. 3. Treat. of Vowes, chap. 11. sect. 1, 3, 4.

Verse 4. hold his peace at her] or, keepe silence at it: though hee doe not by words approve, yet by silence hee seemeth to consent, therefore her vow standeth firme. shall stand] that is, shall be stable, firme and sure; as the field which Abraham bought, was said to stand, when by sale it was sure, Gen. 23. 17. 20. So ones counsell or word is said to stand, when it abideth firme, Prov. 19. 21. Esay 44. 24. and 40. 8. Ier. 44. 19.

Verse 5. disallow her] or, disallow (nullifie) it, to wit, her vow: so after. the day that he heareth] whether it be in the day that she vowed, or many daies after that her father heareth of it. If she vow and waite many daies, and afterward her father or her husband beare of it, then hee may breake it in the dayes that he heareth, &c. as it is said. In the day that he heareth, and not in the day that shee voweth onely, Maimony in Vowes, chap. 12. sect. 16. will mercifully forgive her] in Greeke, will purge (or cleanse) her: her sin in vowing, (when she was not in her owne power, but in her fathers) shall be forgiven: but she may not performe her vow, which by her fathers authoritie is disallowed. So for her husband in like sort, vers. 12.

Verse 6. if having she have a husband] Hebr. if being she be to a man; that is, if she be at all married. or the utterance of her lips] or pronunciation, that which she hath pronounced, or distinctly uttered, to wit, by oath, as appeareth by the word Or, which distinguisheth it from her vowes:

and by that which followeth, which she hath bound upon her soule, that is, by oath, as in vers. 2. and 10. So the pronouncing with the lips, is joyned with swearing, in Lev. 5. 4. and Chazkuni here saith, the pronounciation is not (meant) but of an oath.

8 Verse 8. he disallow her] or, dissallow it, that is, signifie his disallowance of her vow or oath. The Hebrewes say, A man maketh void, or establiseth the words of his wife, or of his daughter in any language, although she know it not; for it is not of necessity that the woman should beare the making void, or the establishment, &c. He that maketh void the words of his daughter, or of his wife, it is necessary that he utter it with his lips; and if he make it void in his heart (only) hee doth not make it void: Maim. in Vowes, chap. 13. sect. 1. 7.

9 Verse 9. put away] to wit, from her husband, as is expressed in Levit. 21. 7. that is, divorced. shall stand] she is to performe her vow; and this (as the Hebrewes thinke) though she be afterward married. As, A woman which hath no husband, and which is not under her fathers power, if she say, Lo (such) flesh be unlawfull to me after thirty daies, and she be married within thirty dayes; although at the time when the vow beginneth, shee be under the power of a husband, he cannot make it void; because at the time of the vow (making) she was not under his power. And of this it is said (in Num. 30. 9.) But the vow of a widow, and of her that is put away, &c. Maim. in Vowes, chap. 13. sect. 16.

10 Verse 10. in her husbands house] after that shee is married, and in her husbands power. But what if shee were betrothed only, and remained yet in her fathers house? Of this case the Hebrewes say, A maid that is betrothed, none can make her vow void, but her father and her husband jointly together. And if the one of them alone doe make it void, it is not made void. If her espoused husband die, she returneth into the power of her father: and whatsoever she voweth, her father may make void, as before her espousals. If her father die after that she is betrothed, and she make a vow after his death, her husband cannot make it void; for an husband maketh not the vowes of his wife void, untill shee be come into the wedding chamber, (or married.) Maim. in Vowes, chap. 11. sect. 9, 10.

11 Verse 11. shall stand] shee is to keepe her vow, though after her husbands death. A young woman, whom her father hath given in marriage, if she become a widow, or be divorced after marriage, loe shee is as an Orphan whiles her father liveth, and her father cannot make her vowes of none effect, although she be yet but a young woman. Maim. ibidem, sect. 25.

12 Verse 12. hath utterly made them void] or, hath any waies made them void; Hebr. making void hath made them void: so in vers. 15.

13 Verse 13. oath of bond] that is, binding oath, or, bond confirmed with an oath. to afflict the soule] by abstinence, fasting, &c. See the notes on Levit. 16. 29. This seemeth to be added for amplification, rather than limitation or restraint: howbeit, the Hebrewes from hence gather, that although the father may disanull all his daughters vowes, of what sort soever, yet the husband hath not power to disanull the vowes of his wife, unless they be of this sort, to wit, vowes or bonds to afflict the soule, &c. Sol. Iarchi on Num. 30. and Maimony in Vowes, chap. 12. sect. 1. may establishe it] or, may make it stand, shall confirme it. Some understand these words to be a commandement, and translate thus, Let her husband establishe it, or let her husband make it void, to wit, out of hand, and let him not deferre it till afterward.

14 Verse 14. altogether hold his peace] Hebr. holding his peace shall hold his peace, (or keepe silence.) from day to day] and doe not disanull it the same day that he heareth it.

15 Verse 15. shall utterly make them void] or, shall any waies make them of none effect: see this phrase in vers. 12. shall beare her iniquitie] that is, shall beare the punishment of her iniquitie; God will require her sinne at his hand. From hence wee learne (saith Sol. Iarchi) that he which is a cause of scandell (or effence) unto his neighbour, shall come in his stead unto all punishments.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The Israelites are commanded to take vengeance on the Midianites. 5 Twelve thousand of the tribes of Israel, with Phinehas the Priest, are sent to warre. 7 They slay all the males, and the five kings of Midian, and Balaam the sonne of Beor. 9 They take the women and children captives, and the spoile of their goods and cattell, and burne their cities. 13 Moses is wroth with the Officers for saving the women alive. 19 How the soldiers with their captives and spoile are to be purified. 25 The proportion whereby the prey is to be divided. 28 The tribute levied unto the Lord of the divided prey, and given to the Priests and Levites. 48 The captives of Israel numbring their souldiers, misse not a man, and therefore give a voluntary oblation unto the Treasury of the Lord.

Avenge the vengeance of the 2 sons of Israel upon the Midianites: afterward shalt thou be gathered unto thy peo- 3 ples. And Moses spake unto the people, saying; Arme yee some men of your selves unto 4
the warre, and let them be against Midian, to render the vengeance of Jehovah, upon Mi-dian. A thousand of a tribe, a thousand of 5 a tribe, of all the tribes of Israel, shall ye send to the warre. So there were delivered of 6
the thousands of Israel, a thousand of a tribe, twelve thousand armed for war. And Moses sent them, a thousand of a tribe, to the warre: them and Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, to the warre; and the holy instruments, and the trumpets of alarme in his hand. And they warred against Midian, 7

8 as Jehovah commanded Moses, and they killed every male. And they killed the Kings of Midian, beside those that were slain of them; Evi, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, five Kings of Midian: Balaam also the sonne of Beor they killed with the sword.

9 And the sonnes of Israel tooke the women of Midian captives, and their little ones, and tooke the prey of all their cattell, and all their flocks, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities in their habitations, and all their castles with fire.

11 And they tooke all the spoile, and all the booty, of men, and of beasts.

12 And they brought the captivity, and the booty, and the spoile unto Moses, and unto Eleazar the Priest, and unto the congregation of the sonnes of Israel, unto the campe, unto the plaines of Moab, which are by Iordan, near Jericho.

13 And Moses, and Eleazar the Priest, and all the Princes of the Congregation went forth to meet them without the camp.

14 And Moses was wroth with the Officers of the host, the captaines of thousands, and the captaines of hundreds, which came from the battell of the warre.

15 And Moses said unto them, Have yee saved alive all the females?

16 Behold, these were to the sonnes of Israel through the word of Balaam (a cause) to commit trespasse against Jehovah in the matter of Peor: and there was a plague among the Congregation of Jehovah.

17 Now therefore kill every male among the little ones, & kill every woman that hath knowne man, by lying with a male.

18 But all the little ones among the women, that have not knowne the lying with a male, keepe alive for your selves.

19 And you, encamp ye without the campe, seven dayes, whosoever hath killed any soule, & whosoever hath touched any flaine; purifie your selves and your captivity, in the third day, and in the seventh day.

20 And purifie every garment, and every instrument of skinne, and every worke of goats (haire), and every instrument of wood.

21 And Eleazar the Priest said unto the men of the Armie, which went to the warre, This is the ordinance of the Law, which Jehovah commanded Moses.

22 Onely the gold, and the silver, the brasse, the iron, the tinne, and the lead;

23 Every thing that goeth thorow the fire, ye shall make it passe thorow the fire, & it shall be cleane; nevertheless, it shall be purified with the water of separation: and every thing that goeth not thorow

the fire, yee shall make passe thorow the water. And yee shall wash your clothes in the seventh day, and ye shall be cleane; and afterward ye shall come into the campe.

25 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying, Take thou the summe of the booty of the captivity, of man, and of beast; thou, and Eleazar the Priest, and the heads of the fathers of the Congregation.

26 And divide the booty into two parts between them that tooke upon them the warre, who went out to battell, and betweene all the Congregation.

27 And levie a tribute unto Jehovah, of the men of warre which went out to battell, one soule of five hundred; of the men, and of the beeves, and of the asses, and of the sheepe.

28 Of their halfe shall yee take it, and thou shalt give it unto Eleazar the Priest, for an heave-offering of Jehovah.

29 And of the sonnes of Israels halfe, thou shalt take one portion of fifty, of the men, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the sheepe, of all beasts: and thou shalt give them unto the Levites, which keep the charge of the Tabernacle of Jehovah.

30 And Moses and Eleazar the Priest did as Jehovah commanded Moses.

31 And the booty, the residue of the prey, which the people of the armie had made prey of, was six hundred thousand, and seventy thousand, and five thousand sheepe.

32 And seventie and two thousand beeves. And sixtie and one thousand asses.

33 And soules of mankinde, of the women which had not knowne the lying with male, all the soules were two and thirtie thousand.

34 And the halfe, which was the portion of them that went out to warre, was the number of sheepe, three hundred thousand, & thirty thousand, and seven thousand, and five hundred.

35 And Jehovahs tribute of the sheepe was: six hundred seventie and five.

36 And the beeves were six and thirtie thousand; and Jehovahs tribute of them was seventie and two.

37 And the asses were thirtie thousand and five hundred: and Jehovahs tribute of them was sixtie and one.

38 And the soules of mankinde were sixteene thousand: and Jehovahs tribute of them was two and thirtie soules.

39 And Moses gave the tribute, the heave-offering of Jehovah, unto Eleazar the Priest, as Jehovah commanded Moses.

40 And of the sonnes of Israels halfe, which Moses divided fro the men that warred.

41 (Now the Congregations halfe was, of the sheepe, three hundred thousand, and thirtie thousand, seven thousand, & five hundred.

42 And beeves, six and thirtie thousand.

43 And

45 And Asses, thirtie thousand and five hun-
 46 dred. And soules of mankinde, sixteene 47 thousand.) And Moses tooke of the sonnes of Israel halfe, one portion of fifty, of man & of beast, and gave them unto the Levites, which kept the charge of the Tabernacle of Jehovah, as Jehovah commanded Moses.
 48 And the officers which were over the thousands of the host, the captaines of thousands,
 and captaines of hundreds, came neere unto 49 Moses. And they said unto Moses, Thy servants have taken the summe of the men of warre which were in our hand, and there lac-50 keth not a man of us. Therefore we have brought an oblation for Jehovah, what every man hath found of jewels of gold, chaines, and bracelets, rings, eare-rings, & tablets, to make atonement for our soules before Jeho-51 vah. And Moses and Eleazar the Priest
 tooke the gold of the, every wrought jewel, 52 And all the gold of the heave-offering, that they offered up to Jehovah, was sixteen thousand, seven hundred, and fiftie shekels, of the captaines of thousands, and of the captaines 53 of hundreds. The men of the armie had tak-54 en spoile, every man for himselfe. And Moses and Eleazar the Priest tooke the gold of the captaines of thousands, and of hundreds, and brought it into the Tent of the congregation, for a memoriall for the sonnes of Israel, before Jehovah.

 ments of the sons of Israel, that is, take vengeance for the Israelites wrong and injurie upon the

 and beguiled them in the matter of Peor, Num. 25.
 17, 18. The Lord, to whom vengeance and recom• pence belongeth, Deuter. 32. 35. (and would not therefore have men avenge themselves, Rom. 12.
 19) commandeth this vengeance for his peoples sake, many of whom he had formerly slaine for sinning with the Midianites, Num. 25. 9. and now turneth his hand against their enemies, because he is the avenger of all such, 1 Thess. 4. 6. Therefore he calleth it here, the vengeance of the sonnes of Israel;
 but Moses calleth it the vengeance of Jehovah, vers.
 3. And the commandement is given to Moses the Magistrate, the Minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon evill doers, Rom. 13. 4. Mid- ianites] in Greeke, Madianites, the posterity of Midian the son of Abraham by his wife Keturah, Gen. 25. 1, 2. Why these were now punished rather than the Moabites (their partners in sinne,) is touched on Numb. 25. 17. gathered unto thy peoples] that is, die and be buried: See the Annotations on Numb. 20. 24. and Gen. 25. 8.

Verse 3. to render] or, to give the vengeance of Jehovah, which phrase the Apostle useth in 2 Thess.
 1. 8. giving (or rendering) vengeance on them that know not God. That which in vers. 2. was called the vengeance of the sonnes of Israel, is here named the vengeance of the Lord, as being executed by his word, and for the injury done unto him; for he that toucheth his people, toucheth the apple of his eye, Zach. 2. 8. The Chaldee here expoundeth it, the vengeance of the people of the LORD.

Verse 4. A thousand of a tribe a thousand] that is,
 of every tribe a thousand; in all, twelve thousand, vers. 5.
 which was but a small company in respect both of the six hundred thousands of Israel, Num. 26.
 51. and of the nation of the Midianites, governed by five Kings, vers. 8. But there is no restraint to the Lord, to save by many, or by few, 1 Sam. 14. 6. And this small number was chosen, that the victorie might be acknowledged the Lords; as after this he said unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel vaunt themselves against me, saying,
 Mine own hand hath saved me, Judges. 7. 2.

Verse 5. there were delivered] in Chaldee, they were chosen; in Greeke, they numbered.

Verse 6. Phinehas] the zealous Priest, who had formerly slaine Cozbi the Princes daughter of Midian, Num. 25. 7. — 15. holys instruments] Hebr.
instruments (or vessels) of holiness: hereby the Arke
 and things belonging thereto may be meant, as appeareth by Numb. 14. 44. Or, because the Arke was but one, and he speaketh here of moe instruments, the trumpets may be understood; and so to reade it, the holy instruments, that is, the trumpets, &c.
 for and is sometime used by way of explication for that is, or to wit, as is noted on Gen. 13. 15. But to understand hereby the Vrim and Tumminim, or Golden plate (as some do) is unprobable, because they were not in the hand of Phinehas, but of Eleazar, who was the high Priest, Numb. 27. 21.
 and 20. 26. trumpets of alarme] to blow an alarme, that they might be remembered before the Lord their God, and saved from their enemies,
 according to the law and promise in Num. 10. 9.
 and practise in ages following, 2 Chron. 13. 12, 14, 15. Thus had they both God commandement, and the signes of his presence and aid, to sanctifie their expedition.

Verse 8. beside those] or, with those that were slaine; for the Hebrew gnal often signifieth with,
 as in Exod. 35. 22. Levit. 14. 31. Deut. 22. 6. and other-where. five kings] called else-where

Princes and Dukes of Sibon, Ios. 13. 21. But Sihon the Amorite being slaine before (Num. 21. 23, 24.) these Dukes of his now reigned as Kings, and fought against Israel, and were overcome by faith which subdueth kingdoms, Hebr. 11. 33. The Antichristian Amoritie (the Beast) hath twice five, that is,
 ten Kings, as horns on his head, which make warre
 with the Lambe (Christ,) and the Lambe overcommeth them, Rev. 17. 12, 14. and 19. 19. — 21.
 Balaam also] they killed among (or with) those that were slaine of them, as is expressed in Numb.
 13. 22. which also is added in the Greeke version

here. So that either he stayed with the Midianites; when he departed from Balak, or returned from his place unto them, as is noted on Num. 24. 25. And hee died not the death of the righteous, (as he seemed to desire, Num. 23. 10.) but his iniquitie was upon his bones, though hee was the terrour of the mightie in the land of the living; yet was he broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and lay with them that were slaine with the sword, as the Prophet speaketh of others, in Ezek. 32. 27, 28.

Verse 10. castles] or, goodly buildings, or, villages: see this word in Gen. 25. 16. The Chaldees here expoundeth it; their houses of worship or adoration, their Temples.

Verse 12. the captivitie] that is, the captives, women and children: see Num. 21. 1. So after in vers. 19. the booty] or, the thing taken, which being here distinguished from the captives, meaneth the beasts and cattell, as appeareth by v. 32. and 26. the spoile] a generall word for things taken in warre, Is. 22. 8. implying sometime beasts and cattell also, as in 2 Chron. 15. 11. and all other things, as garments, gold, silver, &c. vers. 20. 22. Is. 7. 21. 2 Chron. 28. 15. victuals, 1 Sam. 14. 30. and the like. These all they brought unto the Governours and Congregation, to be disposed of according to the will of God, whose the victory was.

Verse 13. to meet them] As Melchisedek King and Priest, went forth to meet Abram returning from the slaughter of the Kings, Gen. 14. so Moses the King, Eleazar the Priest, and the Princes goe forth here to meet Abraham's children returning from the slaughter of the kings of Midian. Wherein the worke of Christ (our King and Priest) was figured: who after our spirituall warfare with the enemies of our salvation, meeteth us with his gracious Spirit, to sanctifie and blesse us, Hebr. 7. Also they went out to meet them, to provide for the cleansing of the Souldiers, which were polluted by the dead, and might not therefore come into the campe before they were purified, Num. 5. 2, 3. and 19. 11, 12, 13.

Verse 14. the officers] or, the Bishops of the host, as both the Hebrew and Greeke words signifie: these were the captains, as after is explained. Moses who was the meekest man on earth in his owne matters, is yet observed to have beene often angry for the Lords cause, as is noted on Num. 12. 3. And he was wroth with the officers, because upon them lay the charge to direct and governe the people in the wayes of God. Compare Acts 20. 28. 1 Pet. 5. 12, 3. Rev. 2. 1, — 5. &c. the battell of the warre] the battell-ray (or host) of the warre: the first word signifieth warfare, at it is orderly set in array; the second meaneth the warre, fight or combat with the enemy.

Verse 16. the word of Balaam] the doctrine of Balaam, as Rev. 2. 14. or, (as the Chaldees expoundeth it) the counsell of Balaam, having reference to that counsell intimated, Num. 24. 14. a cause to commit] or, an occasion to commit (Hebr. to give) a trespasse by fornication and idolatrie, Num. 25. 1, 2, 3. The Greeke translateth, to revolt and to dispute the word of the Lord. the matter] Heb. the word, in Greeke, because of Phagor: see Num. 25. 3. 18.

Verse 17. knowne man by lying with a male] the latter explaineth the former, which sometime is used alone in the same meaning, as in Gen. 4. 1. Luke 1. 34. After it is said, knowne the lying with a male: the like phrases are in Judg. 21. 11, 12.

Verse 19. seven dayes] for so long did the pollution by the dead continue, Num. 19. 11. any soule] that is, any person. purifie] with the water of separation, vers. 23. the law whereof was given in Num. 19. your captivitie] that is, your captives, or prisoners; as in vers. 12. The Jewes hold, that the heathens are not polluted by the dead, or with other like legall uncleannesse, as is noted on Num. 19. 14. But in this case, when heathens are captived by Israelites, and so become their lawfull possession, they are uncleane, and to be purified, by proportion from the law in Gen. 17. 12, 13. Whereupon Iarchi here saith, Your selves and your captivitie, not that beaheens doe receive uncleannesse, and need to be sprinkled; but as you the children of the covenant, so your captives also which come into the covenant, and are uncleane, have need to be sprinkled. and in the seventh day] according to the law in Num. 19. 19. the signification whereof is shewed there.

Verse 20. every garment] or, every clab: the word implieth not onely garments for mans body, but cloathes for other use; as in Num. 4. 6, 7, 8. instruments] or, vessell of bin; whatsoever is made of the skin of any beast: so after, every instrument (or vessel) of wood. worke of goats haire] that is, thing made of goats haire: the word haire may here be understood, as in Exod. 25. 4 some adde, of goats skins, it may also meane any other part, as Sol. Iarchi here saith, it implieth any instrument of the horns, and of the bootes, and of the bones.

Verse 21. which went] that is, which had gone: Heb. which came; wherefore it may also be Englished, which came from the battell: so the Greeke here translateth it; and so the Hebrew word which usually signifieth to, is by the holy Ghost in Greeke translated from, or out of, as in Rom. 11. 26. from Esay 59. 20. See the like noted on Gen. 36. 6. the ordinance] or the statute of the law; which the Greeke calleth Dicaioma, that is, the just ordinance, or righteous statute of the law. The same word Paul useth in Rom. 2. 26. if the uncircumcision (that is: the uncircumcised Gentile) keepe the ordinances (or righteous statutes) of the Law: and in Rom. 8. 4. that the ordinance (the righteous statute) of the Law might be fulfilled in us. So in Hebr. 9. 1. ordinances of divine service Here Eleazar the Priest declareth to the people the Law which God had commanded Moses; as it was generally the dute of Priests and Levites to teach Iakob Gods judgements, and Israel his Law, Deut. 33. 8. 10. Hag. 1. 11, 12. Mal. 2. 7. Moreover the heiffer, with whose ashes the purifying water was prepared, was expressly given to Eleazar, Num. 19. 3. &c.

23 Verse 23. that goeth thorow the fire] that is, will, or may abide the fire, and not be consumed therewith. Or, that commeth in the fire. and it shall be] or, that it may be cleane. water of separation] in Greeke, water of purification: the water mentioned in Numb. 19.9. which was to bee sprinkled upon the vessels with flax, Numb. 19.18. after they had passed thorow the fire.

goeth not thorow the fire] that will not abide the fire, or commeth not in the fire. This latter, some of the Hebrew Expositors (as Iarchi and Targum Jonathan) doe follow, and understand by things that come in the fire, such vessels and instruments as are used at the fire, kettels, spits, and the like: and by things that come not in the fire, they understand cups, platters, and such like. But the former seemeth best. thorow the water] to bee washed therewith, and not sprinkled onely with that water of separation, Num. 19. By this passing thorow fire & water, the vessels had a legall purification from their ceremoniall uncleanness; to signifie that the creatures are sanctified unto our use by the word of God and prayer, 1 Tim. 4.4,5. And sometime by vessels the Scripture signifieth men; and by their passing thorow fire and water, their cleansing from corruption by afflictions, and through the grace and spirit of Christ: as, I will gather you into the midst of Ierusalem, as they gather silver, and brasse, and iron, and lead, and tinne, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger, &c. Ezek. 22.19.—22. And, in a great house there are not onely vessels of gold and silver, but also of wood and of earib, and some to honour, and some to dishonour. If a man therefore purge himselfe from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the masters use, &c. 2 Tim. 2.20,21. Againe, Thou hast tried us as silver is tried, &c. wee went thorow fire, and thorow water, Psal. 66.10,12. See also Zach. 13.9. Mal. 3.3.

26 Verse 26. the summe] Hebr. the head, that is, the summe, or count, as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it: see Num. 1.2. So after in vers. 49.

27 Verse 27. into two parts] or into halfe: Hebr. divide (or halfe) the bootie. The warre and victory being the Lords, hee divideth the prey at his pleasure, halfe to the 12 thousand souldiers, and halfe to the congregation who went not out to warre. So David made it an ordinance in Israel, As his part is that goeth downe to the battell, so shall his part be that carrieth by the stuffe: they shall part alike, 1 Sam. 30.24,25. And to the warriors of the two tribes and the halfe that fought against the Canaanites, Iosua said, Divide the spoile of your enemies with your brethren, Ios. 22.8.

28 Verse 28. And levie] or, And heave up, which the Greeke and Chaldee translate, And separate a tribute to the Lord: by this homage and tribute, they were to acknowledge the victory to be of God, and to shew their thankfulness for his salvation. So David dedicated unto the Lord, silver and gold, of all nations which hee had subdued, 2 Sam. 8.11,12. And Esaias prophesieth, In that time shall a present be brought unto the LORD of hosts, of a people scattered and peded, &c. Esay. 18.7. one soule of 500] by soule is here meant, persons of mankind, and living body of beasts, as after is explained. And as the 12000 souldiers had much more of the spoile, considering their small number, than the other many thousands of the congregation; so their tribute to the Lord was much lesse by proportion, they giving but the five hundred part, when the congregation gave the fiftieth, vers. 30. God requireth lesse of them, as their labour, service, and jeoparding of their lives, had beene greater than their brethrens.

Verse 29. unto Eleazar] The Lord, who was the inheritance of the Priests and Levites, Deut. 18.1,2. and had given them the ordinary heave-offerings which the Israelites offered unto him, Num. 18.19. giveth them also this extraordinary tribute which was levied for him. So Abram gave to Melchisedek the Priest the tithe of the spoiles which he had gotten in warre, Gen. 14.20. And as the Levites had the tribes in Israel, and the Priests had but a tenth of those tithes, Numb. 18.21,24,26,28. so is there here a like proportion allotted, whiles the Levites had the fiftieth part, vers. 30. and the Priests but the five hundredth.

Verse 30. one portion of fiftie] or, one taken (or detained) of fiftie: so in vers. 47. of the sheepe] or, of the stocke-beasts, that is, of sheepe and of goats, for both these are implied under the name stockes, as in Lev. 1.10. of all beasts] that is, of all manner of beasts: but this seemeth to be meant of the beasts fore-named onely, and not of Camels, or other uncleane beasts; because in the particular summes after rehearsed, vers. 32.—39. there are no uncleane but Asses onely spoken of. Charkuni here saith, If thou aske why God commanded not to take a tribute of the Camels, seeing there were many camels there, as it is written in the warre of Oidem (against the Midianites) Their Camels were without number, Iudg. 6.5. and 7.12. the answer is, The Scripture mentioneth those onely whereof they took the tribute; and they took no tribute of uncleane beasts, save of Asses, because they are sanctified by the firstling of the Ass, Exod. 13.13. and 34.19,20. which keepe the charge] or, observe the observation, keepe watch and doe the service: see the notes on Numb. 18.5.

Verse 32. the residue of the prey] the cattell (whose numbers follow) are called the residue or remainder, either because some had beene slaine for the souldiers to eat, or in respect of the gold and silver and other such spoiles, whereof there was no tribute levied.

Verse 33. seventie and two thousand] that is, seventie thousand and two thousand, as was explained in the former verse. So after.

Verse 35. soules of mankind] Hebr. soule of Adam, meaning by soule, the persons; and by Adam or mankind, the women, as after is explained. For as at the first, both man and woman were called Adam, Gen. 5.2. so the same name is often used for both sexes, as here and in vers. 40.46,47.

Verse 40. two and thirtie] So the whole number of beasts and girles (which were the Lords tribute out out of the Souldiers halfe,) was eight hundred and fortie, which were given to Eleazar the Priest, vers. 41.

47 Verse 47. one portion of fiftie] or, one taken of fiftie, as in vers. 30. The particular summes (as may be gathered by the former computation) were six thousand seven hundred and fiftie sheep, seven hundred and twentie oxen, six hundred and ten Asses, three hundred and twentie soules of young women: the whose summe of them altogether, was eight thousand and foure hundred, which were taken out of the Congregations halfe, & given to the Levites. So the whole prize brought home from the Midianites, and kept for the use of Israel, was of beasts and women-kinde, eight hundred thousand, and fortie thousand: out of which the Lord tooke for his Priests and Levites, nine thousand two hundred and fortie. Thus he enriched his people with the spoiles of their enemies; and they in homage and thankfulnesse to the Lord, gave him one of five hundred out of the one halfe, and one of fiftie, out of the other halfe; as Abram gave one of ten, to Melchisedek the Priest of God, of all the spoiles that he had taken from his enemies, Gen. 14. 20.

48 Verse 48. the Officers] or Bishops, as in vers. 14.

49 Verse 49. in our hand] that is, in our power, under our leading and charge: which the Greek & Chaldee translate, with us. there lacketh not] Heb. there is not numbred, or mustered, to wit, as wanting or missing: for in such multitudes the number is observed, of those that are absent, as of those present. This was a rare and wonderfull mercie, that twelve thousand men of Israel should vanquish so great a nation of Midian without losse of any mans life, whereas commonly the sword devoureth one as well as another, 2 Sam. 11. 25. But hereby appeareth, that precious in the eyes of the LORD is the death of his Saints, Psal. 116. 15. and a much like speech was uttered by our Saviour; Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none, Job. 18. 9. Moreover, by this victory, God encouraged his people to fight the residue of his battels against the Canaanites.

50 Verse 50. an oblation for Iehovah] or, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the oblation of the Lord: in Greeke, a gift to the Lord. This was a voluntary gift, whereas the former levie was commanded, vers. 25. &c. hath found] that is, hath gotten in this war. jewels] or instruments, vessels.

atonement for our soules] that is, for our lives which God hath spared; and that there be no plague amongst us, as Exod. 30. 12. Herein also they might have respect unto their sinne in sparing the women alive, for which Moses reproveth them, vers. 14. 17. Thus though they found all alive, yet were they not proud, neither boasted of their valour, but gave the glory unto God, and in themselves they were humbled in conscience of their unworthinesse.

51 Verse 51. every wrought jewel] Hebr. jewel (or instrument) of worke; that is, cunningly wrought. So as the matter was the best of gold; the forme also was the best. Chazkuni here saith, The Scrip- ture sheweth that they brought no broken instrument.

Verse 52. shekels] what the shekell weighed, see on Gen. 20. 16. of the captaines] or, from the captaines; that is, Moses tooke the gold of them; as in vers. 51. and 54.

Verse 54. the Tent] the Lords Tabernacle, where it was a memorie for them: as the like is spoken of the halfe shekels which the Israelites gave when they were numbred, to make atonement for their soules, Exod. 30. 15, 16.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The Reubenites and Gadites sue for their inheritance on that side Iordan. 6 Moses reproveth them. 16 They offer him conditions to his content. 28 Moses commandeth Eleazar and Iosua to give them that inheritance when they had performed the conditions. 31 The Gadites and Reubenites promise againe to performe them. 33 Moses assigneth them the land. 34 They build fenced cities for their wives and children, and folds for their cattell. 39 The sons of Mizraim conquer the Amorites in Gilead, and have it and the villages thereof given them by Moses for a possession.

NOW the sonnes of Reuben, and the sonnes of Gad, had a very great multitude of cattell: and they saw the land of Iazer, and the land of Gilead; and behold, the place was a place for cattell. And the sonnes of Gad, and the sonnes of Reuben came, and said unto Moses, and unto Eleazar the Priest, and unto the Princes of the Congregation, saying; Ataroth, and Dibon, and Iazar, and Nimrah, and Heshbon, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Nebo, and Beon; The land which Iehovah sheweth before the Congregation of Israel, is a land for cattell, and thy servants have cattell. And they said; If we have found grace in thine eyes, let this land be given unto thy servants for a possession, bring us not over Iordan.

And Moses said unto the sonnes of Gad, and to the sonnes of Reuben; Shall your brethren goe to warre, and shall you sit here? And wherefore break ye the heart of the sons of Israel, fro going over into the land which Iehovah hath given them? Thus did your fathers, when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land. For they went up into the land of Eschol and saw the land, and brake the heart of the sonnes of Israel, that they should not goe into the land which Iehovah had given them. And Iehovahs anger was kindled in that day, and he sware, saying;

11 saying; If the men that came up out of Egypt, from twenty yeares old and upward, shall see the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaak, and unto Iakob, because 12 they have not followed mee fully. Save Caleb the son of Iephunneh, the Kenizite, and Iosua the sonne of Nun, for because they 13 have followed Jehovah fully. And Jehovahs anger was kindled against Israel; and hee made them wander in the wildernesse fortie yeares, untill all the generation was consumed that had done evill in the eyes of 14 Jehovah. And behold, ye are risen up in your fathers stead, an increase of sinfull men, to augment yet the burning anger of 15 Jehovah against Israel. For if yee turne away from after him, then will he yet againe leave them in the wildernesse, and yee shall destroy all this people.
16 And they came neere unto him, and said;
We will build sheeps-folds here, for our cat-17 tell, and cities for our little ones. But wee our selves will goe ready armed before the sonnes of Israel, untill that we have brought them unto their place; and our little ones shall dwell in the fenced cities, because of 18 the Inhabitants of the land. Wee will not returne unto our houses, untill the sonnes of Israel have inherited, every man his inher-19 rance. For we will not inherit with them on yonder side Iordan and forward, because our inheritance is come unto us on this side Iordan Eastward.
20 And Moses said unto them, If ye will doe
this thing, if ye will goe armed before Jeho-21 vah to warre; And will goe all of you armed over Iordan before Jehovah, untill he have driven out his enemies from before 22 him. When the land is subdued before Jehovah, then afterward yee shall returne, and ye shall be guiltlesse before Jehovah, and before Israel; and this land shall be yours for a 23 possession before Jehovah. But if ye will not doe so; behold you have sinned against Jehovah: and know ye your sinne which will 24 find you out. Build ye cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheepe, and doe that which hath proceeded out of your 25 mouth. And the sonnes of Gad, and the sonnes of Reuben said unto Moses, saying; 26 Thy servants will doe as my lord commandeth. Our little ones, our wives, our flocks and all our cattell shall bee there in the 27 cities of Gilead. But thy servants will passe over every one armed for war before Jehovah to battell, as my lord speaketh.

So concerning them, Moses commanded Eleazar the Priest, and Iosua the sonne of Nun; and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the sonnes of Israel. And Moses 28 said unto them; If the sonnes of Gad, and the sonnes of Reuben, will passe with you over Iordan, every man armed to battell before Jehovah; and the land shall be subdued
before you: then yee shall give unto them
the land of Gilead for a possession. But if 29 they will not passe over with you armed,
then they shall have possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

And the sonnes of Gad, and the sonnes of Reuben, answered, saying; As Jehovah hath spoken unto thy servants, so will I doe. We 31 will passe over armed before Jehovah into the land of Canaan; and the possession of our inheritance on this side Iordan, shall bee ours. And Moses gave unto them, unto 32 the sonnes of Gad, and unto the sonnes of Reuben, and unto halfe the tribe of Manasses
the sonne of Ioseph, the kingdome of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdome of Og king of Bashan, the land with the cities thereof in the coasts, the cities of the land round about.

And the sonnes of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer. And Atroth, Sho-34 phan, and Iazer, and Iogbehah. And Beth-35 Nimrah, and Beth-Haran, fenced cities, and 36 folds for sheepe. And the sonnes of Reuben built Heshbon, and Elealeh, and Kirja-thaim. And Nebo, and Baal-Meon, (the names being changed) and Sibmah: and they called by names, the names of the cities which they builded. And the sonnes of 37 Machir, the sonne of Manasses, went to Gilead and tooke it, and dispossessed the Amo-rite which was in it. And Moses gave Gilead 38 unto Machir the sonne of Manasses, and he dwelt therein. And Iair the sonne of Ma-nasses, went and tooke the villages, and cal-40 led them the villages of Iair. And No-bah went and tooke Kenath, and the daugh-41 ters thereof, and hee called it Nobah, after his owne name.

Annotations.

Leah, Gen. 29. 32. and Gad was the first sonne of Zilpah Leahs handmaid, Gen. 30. 10, 11. To (verf 39. &c.) who was the sonne of Ioseph, the eldest

- eldest son of Israel by his wife Rachel, Gen. 30. 22, 24. Iazer] a citie taken a while before from the Amorites, Num. 21. 32. Gilead] in Greeke, Galaad, a mountaine also of the Amorites which had many cities; halfe that mount was given to the sonnes of Gad, the other halfe to the sonnes of Manasses, ver. 40. Deut. 3. 12, 13. Jos. 13. 24, 25, 31. a place for cattell] that is, meet to feed and nourish cattell. Therefore God promising to feed his people Israel, signifieth the goodnesse of their pasture, by the similitude of Bashan and Gilead, Mic. 7. 14. Jer. 50. 19.
- 2 Verse 2. sonnes of Gad] they are named before the sonnes of Reuben, both here and in verse 6. 25, 29, 31, 33. so it seemeth they were first in this counsell and foremost in the suit.
- 3 Verse 3. Ataroth, and Dibon, &c.] These were places in the country of Sihon and Og on the outside of Jordan: there was also an Ataroth within the land of Canaan, whereof see Jos. 16. 2, 5, 7. Of Dibon, see Num. 21. 30. Jos. 13. 9, 17. Nimrab] called also Beit-Nimrab, in verse 36. and Nimrim, Esay 15. 6. in Greeke, Namra. This place was given to the sonnes of Gad, Jos. 13. 27. Heshbon] the citie of King Sihon, Num. 21. 26. given to the Reubenites, Jos. 13. 15, 17. Shebam] or Sebam, called also Sibmab, in verse 38. and Jos. 13. 19. in Greeke Sebama: it was a place of vines, Esay 16. 8, 9. Jer. 48. 32. Beon] called in verse 38. Baal-meon; and in Jer. 48. 23. Beit-meon; and in Jos. 13. 17. Beit-Baalmeon. The Greeke here corrupteth it Bailim.
- 4 Verse 4. Iehovah smote] that is, smote or killed the inhabitants thereof, delivering them before his people, so that they smote them, Deutero. 2. 33. but the victorie is ascribed unto the Lord, for cattell] in Greeke, that nourisheth cattell: see v. 1.
- 5 Verse 5. bring us not over] or, lead us not, cause us not to passe over Jordan, to wit, for to have possession there. This their request (whereat Moses was offended) might seeme at this first propounding of it, very evill. For it might argue in them a covetous minde, for their owne benefit, which also might turn to the injury of their other brethren. They prevented the time before all the land was conquered. They seemed to contrary the word of God, who commanded the land to be divided by lot, Num. 26. 55. which they now would prevent. It might imply a distrust in them, of subduing and inheriting the land of Canaan. It might be a discouragement of their brethren. It argued want of love, or a neglect of dutie in assistance. It might be an evill president to others, who when some part of the land should be conquered, might likewise crave the same for their inheritance; and so great trouble and confusion might insue.
- 6 Verse 6. Shall your brethren] the other Tribes. In this reproofe, Moses teacheth brotherly dutie, to love their neighbours as themselves; not to looke every man on his owne things, but every man also on the things of others, Phil. 2. 4. and that they ought to lay downe their lives for the brethren, 1 Joh. 3. 16.
- 7 Verse 7. break ye the heart] that is, discourage ye, or make ye it to turne; as the Greeke translateth, pervert ye the mindes. A like phraze is of melting the heart, for discouraging, in Deut. 1. 28.

Verse 8. Thus did your fathers] the Greeke expresseth this by a question, Did not your fathers thus? So where the Prophet saith, All these my hand hath made, Esay 66. 1. the Holy Ghost turneth it in Greeke, Hath not my hand made all these? Acts 7. 49.

Verse 9. valley] or bourne of Eschol, that is, as the Greeke translateth it, valley of the cluster of grapes: see Num. 13. 23, 24.

Verse 11. If the men] that is, Surely the men, &c. shall not see: this is an oath: see the notes on Num. 14. 23. twenty yeeres old] Hebrew, sonne of twenty yeeres. followed me fully] Hebrew, fulfilled after me, which the Chaldee expoundeth, fulfilled after my feare; the Greeke, followed after me: see Num. 14. 24. A like phraze is in 1 Sam. 13. 7. where the people trembled after Saul, that is, followed him trembling.

Verse 12. the Kenizites] of the posteritie of Kenaz, of the Tribe of Judah, 1 Chron. 4. 13, 15.

Ver. 13. wander] this is an explanation of that phraze, shall feed in the wilderness; whereof see Num. 14. 33. the generation] that is, the men of the generation, as, this generation, Mat. 12. 42. is expounded, the men of this generation, Luke 11. 31. And the consuming of the Israelites in the wilderness, is before observed in Num. 26. 64, 65.

Verse 14. an increase of sinfull men] or, a crew (a multitude) of men sinners: that is, bred and brought up of men most sinfull, which the Chaldee expoundeth, disciples of sinfull men. By sinners, is meant men given unto sinne: see the notes on Gen. 13. 13. & Num. 16. 38. the burning anger] Hebr. the burning of the anger (or of the nostrill) of Iehovah toward (or against) Israel. In this sharpe rebuke, Moses upbraideth them with their fathers sinne also, as he doth likewise in Deut. 1. 36, 37. &c. & 9. 7, 24. and signifieth that the renewing of their sins, augmenteth wrath upon the children, (as Christ also teacheth in Mat. 23. 31, 32, 36.) and upon the whole congregation, as after in v. 15. & Jos. 22. 17, 18.

Ver. 15. from after him] that is, from following, from obeying him; which the Chaldee expoundeth, from after his feare. So Christ calling James and John, they went after him, Mar. 1. 20. that is, they followed him, Mat. 4. 22. then he will yet againe leave them] Hebr. and he will adde againe, to leave him; that is, God will againe leave Israel, who are spoken of as one man; therefore the Chaldee expoundeth it, he will yet againe detain them, or make them to tarry. But the Greeke seemeth to understand it of their leaving of God, saying, For ye will turne away from him, to adde againe to leave him in the wilderness. destroy all this people] or corrupt them, that is, occasion them to sinne and so to be destroyed: for, corrupting is used both for sinning, and for destroying because of sin, as is noted on Gen. 6. 13. The Greeke translateth, Ie shall doe wickedly against this whole Congregation.

Ver. 17. will goe ready armed] Hebr. will be armed, making making haste, before the sons of Israel: which the Greeke explaineth, we being armed will goe in the forward before the sons of Israel. Signifying both their ready minde to jeopard their lives in the battell; and that by leaving their wives, children, and cattell behinde them, they should be freed from that cumbrance which others had.

18 Verse 18. we will not returne] Here they promise a continuance with their brethren in all their wars and troubles unto the end: which also they performed, as Iosua said unto them, Tee have not left your brethren these many daies into this day, &c. And now the LORD your God hath given rest unto your brethren, &c. Jos. 22. 3, 4.

19 Verse 19. we will not inherit with them] By taking upon them these conditions, they free themselves of those evils which might justly seeme at first to be imputed unto them. For they shewed both faith in God, and love to their brethren, so to go in the forefront of the battell, with their lives in their hands against so many and mighty enemies, leaving their weake families behinde them, unto the Lords protection. And that they would thus doe freely, without any further benefit to themselves, resting contented with their portion now allotted them. Wherefore Moses changing his minde, yeelded to their request, upon the performance of these conditions, v. 20, &c.

20 Verse 20. this thing] Hebr. this word: in Greeke, according to this word. before Iehovah] the Chaldee explaineth it here and in v. 21. and in Jos. 4. 13. before the people of the LORD. So, the helpe of the LORD, in Judg. 5. 23. is in Chaldee, the helpe of the people of the LORD. See the notes on Numbers 31. 3.

21 Verse 21. all of you armed] or, every armed man of you. Thus things are caried betweene Moses and them, as if the land should be conquered by force of armes: but it was lest they should tempt God, by neglect of the meanes; and that under this warfare the good fight of faith might be fought of Israel. For though they were all bound by their promise to aid their brethren, yet Iosua tooke not all, but a competent number of them, namely, about fortie thousand, Jos. 4. 12, 13. which were much fewer than all the men of war in the two Tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses, as appeareth by the last muster in Num. 26. 2, 7, 18, 34. It seemeth the residue were left behinde, to keep their country and families: or, God would not have all goe to war, that the victory might appeare to be his, as the Church after acknowledgeth to his praise, in Psa. 44. 2, 3, 4, &c. and lest Israel should vaunt themselves against him, saying, Mine owne hand hath saved me: as in Judg. 7. 2.

22 Verse 22. before Iehovah] in Chaldee, before the people of the LORD, as in vers. 20. So againe in vers. 27. and 29. and 32. guiltlesse before Iehovah] or, from Iehovah, and from Israel, that is, innocent and free from being punished by the Lord and his people. So in 2 Sam. 3. 28. a possession before Iehovah] Hereby is signified the Lords approbation, and so their just possession of the country, as being given them not by Moses only, (as in v. 33.) but by the Lord, as he after saith, Iehovah your God hath given you this land to possess, Deut. 3. 18.

Verse 23. sinned against Iehovah] or, unto Iehovah, which the Greeke and Chaldee translate, before the Lord. your sin] hereby may meant both the guiltinesse and the punishment: see the notes on Lev. 22. 9. which will finde you] or, that it will finde you out, that is, will come upon you; being referred to the punishment: see Gen. 44. 34. The Greeke translateth, and ye shall know your sin, when evils shall overtake (or come upon) you. So the people acknowledge in their afflictions, Our sins testifie against us; for our transgressions are with us, and our iniquities we know them, Esay 59. 12.

Verse 25. said] Hebr. he said, signifying their joynt consent to speake as one man in this repetition of their promise.

Verse 29. then ye shall give] Moses giveth them not the inheritance, but upon condition, if they with their brethren should subdne the land: which was not done under his Ministerie, but under Eleazar and Iosua, the types of Christ. A figure that the Law should make nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope, Heb. 7. 19.

Verse 32. shall be ours] or, that it may be ours: Hebrew, with us, that is, remaine with us as our owne. So in Psal. 12. 5. our lips are with us, that is, are ours.

Verse 33. halfe the Tribe of Manasses] There is no mention of these before, among them that sued for inheritance: but because the sons of Manasses shewed their faith and valour in conquering Gilead, vers. 39. therefore the Lord by Moses giveth them a possession there. And of Machir the son of Manasses it is said, Because he was a man of warre, therefore he had Gilead and Bashan, Jos. 17. 1. This halfe Tribe had also their inheritance given them upon like condition as the former two Tribes, Jos. 4. 12. with the cities thereof in the coast] or, as the Greeke translateth, and the cities with the coasts thereof. The Hebrew preposition Lamed, is often in Greeke translated and, with good sense, as in Gen. 1. 6. and 2. 3. Exod. 17. 19. Levit. 8. 12. and 16. 21. Numb. 9. 15. and 33. 2.

Verse 34. built Dibon] that is, repaired and fortified these cities, which had bene partly ruined before in the conquest, or fallen into decay. So in vers. 37.

Vers. 38. the names being changed] or, being turned in name: which seemeth to be in respect of the former idolatry whereto by name they were dedicate: for Nebo and Baal were the names of false gods, Esay 46. 1. Judg. 6. 31. which the Lord would not have to be mentioned, Exod. 23. 13. And thus the Hebrews (as Sol. Iarchi here) explaine it, saying, They were idolatrous names, and the Amorites had called their cities by the names of their Idols; but the sonnes of Reuben turned their name to other names. they called by names] that is, by other names for the cause fore-mentioned; the Greeke translateth, they named by their names: so it accordeth with vers. 42. where Nobab having taken taken Kenath, called it Nobah by his owne name.

40 Verſ. 40. gave Gilead] to wit, halfe of mount Gilead, for the other halfe was given to the ſons of Reuben and Gad, Deut. 3. 12. 13. unto Machir] Seeing Machir was the firſt-borne of Manafſes, Joſ. 17. 1. and Machirs ſonnes were borne upon Joſephſ knees, Gen. 50. 23. it is not likely that Machir himſelfe was now alive, but that his poſterity are called here by their fathers name; and this is uſuall thorowout the Scriptures, to give the fathers name unto the children.

41 Verſ. 41. Iair the ſonne of Manafſes] Iair was the ſonne of Hezron the ſonne of Iudah by the fathers ſide, and the ſonne of Machir the ſonne of Manafſes by his mother, 1 Chron. 2. 21. 22. and taking theſe villages with the other Manafſites, he is here reckoned of that tribe. So elſewhere ſome of the Priests are called the ſonnes of Barzillai, which tooke a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadiſte, and was called after their name, Ezr. 2. 61. the villages of Iair] in Hebrew, Havoth Iair. There was alſo one Iair ſonne of Segub, who had three and twenty cities in the land of Gilead, 1 Chron. 2. 22. and another Iair of the tribe of Manafſes, who was Iudge of Iſrael twenty yeares: he had thirty ſonnes, and they had thirty cities in the land of Gilead, which were alſo called Havoth Iair, Iudg. 10. 3. 4.

42 Verſ. 42. the daughters] that is, the ſonnes or villages, as is noted on Numb. 31. 25. So againe in 1 Chron. 2. 23. Theſe two tribes and an halfe, as they were the firſt of all Iſrael that had their inheritance aſſigned them, ſo were they of the firſt that for their finnes were carried captives out of their land, 2 King. 15. 29. For they tranſgreſſed againſt the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whom God deſtroyed before them. And the God of Iſrael ſtirred up the ſpirit of Pul King of Aſſyria, and the ſpirit of Tilgath-piſneſer King of Aſſyria: and hee carried them away, even the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manafſes, and brought them unto Halab, and Habor, and Hara, and to the river Gozan, unto this day, 1 Chronicles 5. 25. 26.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Two and forty journees of the Iſraelites thorow the wilderneſſe, from Egypt to Iordan. 50 A commandment to deſtroy the Canaanites and their monuments of idolatry. 54 The land muſt be divided by lot.

DDD

1 Theſe are the journees of the ſonnes of Iſrael, which went forth out of the land of Egypt by their armies, by the hand of Moſes and Aaron. And Moſes wrote their goings out, according to their journees at the mouth of Iehovah: and theſe are their journees according to their goings out. And they journeyed from Rameſes, in the firſt moneth, in the fifteenth day of the firſt moneth: on the morrow after the Paſſe-over, the ſons of Iſrael went out with an high hand, in the eyes of all the Egyptians. And the Egyptians buried thoſe which Iehovah had ſmitten among them, every firſt-borne: upon their gods alſo Iehovah executed judgements. And the ſonnes of Iſrael journeyed from Rameſes, and encamped in Succoth. And they journeyed from Succoth, & encamped in Etham, which is in the edge of the wilderneſſe. And they journeyed from Etham, and turned againe unto Pi-hahiroth, which is before Baal-zephon, and they encamped before Migdol. And they journeyed from before Hiroth, and paſſed thorow the midſt of the ſea into the wilderneſſe, and went three dayes journey in the wilderneſſe of Etham, and encamped in Marah. And they journeyed from Marah and came unto Elim: and in Elim were twelve fountaines of water, and ſeventy Palme trees, and they encamped there. And they journeyed from Elim, and encamped by the red ſea. And they journeyed from the red ſea, and encamped in the wilderneſſe of Sin. And they journeyed from the wilderneſſe of Sin, & encamped in Dophkah. And they journeyed from Dophkah, and encamped in Aluſh. And they journeyed from Aluſh, and encamped in Rephidim; and there was no water there for the people to drinke. And they journeyed from Rephidim, and encamped in the wilderneſſe of Sinai. And they journeyed from the wilderneſſe of Sinai, and encamped in Kibroth hattaavah. And they journeyed from Kibroth hattaavah, and encamped in Hazeroth. And they journeyed from Hazeroth, and encamped in Rithmah. And they journeyed from Rithmah, and encamped in Rimmon Perez. And they journeyed from Rimmon Perez, and encamped in Libnah. And they journeyed from Libnah, & encamped in Riſſah. And they journeyed from Riſſah, and encamped in Kehelathah. And they journeyed from Kehelathah, and encamped in mount Shapher. And they journeyed from mount Shapher, and encamped in Haradah. And they journeyed from Haradah, and encamped in Makheloth. And they journeyed from Makheloth, and encamped in Tahath. And they journeyed from Tahath,

28 hath, and encamped in Tarah. And they journeyed from Tarah, and encamped in 29 Mithkah. And they journeyed from Mith-30 kah, and encamped in Hahmonah. And they journeyed from Hahmonah, and en-31 camped in Moseroth. And they journeyed from Moseroth, and encamped in Bene-32 Jaakan. And they journeyed from Bene-Jaakan, and encamped in Horhagidgad.
 33 And they journeyed from Horhagidgad, 34 and encamped in Jotbathah. And they journeyed from Jotbathah, and encamped 35 in Ebronah. And they journeyed from Ebro-36 nah, and encamped in Ezion-gaber. And they journeyed from Ezion-gaber, and encamped in the wilderness of Zin, which is 37 Kadesh. And they journeyed from Kadesh, and encamped in mount Hor in the edge of 38 the land of Edom. And Aaron the Priest went up into mount Hor at the mouth of Jehovah, and died there, in the fortieth yeere after the sonnes of Israel were come out from the land of Egypt, in the fift mo-39 neth, in the first day of the moneth. And Aaron was an hundred and twentie and three yeers old when he died in mount Hor.
 40 And the Canaanite the King of Arad, which dwelt in the South, in the land of Canaan, heard of the comming of the sonnes of Isra-41 el. And they journeyed from mount Hor, 42 and encamped in Zalmonah. And they journeyed from Zalmonah, and encamped in 43 Punon. And they journeyed from Punon, 44 and encamped in Oboth. And they journeyed from Oboth, and encamped in Ije-45 Abarim, in the border of Moab. And they journeyed from Ijam, and encamped in Dibon 46 Gad. And they journeyed from Dibon
 Gad, and encamped in Almon Diblathaim.
 47 And they journeyed from Almon Dibrathaim, and encamped in the mountaines of 48 Abarim before Nebo. And they journeyed from the mountaines of Abarim, and encamped in the plaines of Moab, by Jordan, neere 49 Jericho. And they encamped by Jordan, from Peth jesimoth even unto Abel Shittim
 in the plaines Moab.

50 And Jehovah spake unto Moses in the plaines of Moab, by Jordan neere Jericho, 51 saying: Speake unto the sonnes of Israel,
 and say unto them; When yee are passed 52 over Jordan into the land of Canaan, Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and all their molten Images yee shall destroy, and quite plucke downe all their high places. And ye shall dispossesse

 the land and dwell therein: for unto you have I given the land to possesse it. And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inher-53 tance among your families: to the many ye shall give them the more inheritance; and 54 to the few, thou shalt give them the lesse inheritance; wheresoever the lot shall come forth for him, his shall it be, according to the Tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit.
 But if yee will not drive out the inhabi-55 tants of the land from before you, then it shall be that those which ye let remaine of them, shall be prickles in your eies, and thornes in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein yee dwell. And it shall be, that I will doe unto you as I thought to doe unto them. 56

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 43 Lecture of the Law, called the Journies: see Gen. 6. 9.

The journies] or the removings, to wit, from place to place, which was a signe of their unsettled estate, as not being yet come unto their rest, Deut. 12. 9. Figuring the untayednesse of the Church under Moses Law, otherwise than under the Gospel of Christ, where we which have believed, doe enter into rest, Hebr. 4. 3. Of which un-moveable state it is prophesied, Look upon Zion
 the citie of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that shall not be taken downe, nor one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken, Esay 33. 20. The complement hereof is shewed
 by the Apostle, saying, that this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made; that those things which cannot be shaken may remaine: and, that wee receive a kingdome which cannot be moved, Hebr. 12.
 27, 28. And as here Moses reckoneth fortie two journeyes from Egypt to the river Jordan, over which Iosua led them into Canaan: so the Apostle (in Matthew 1.) reckoneth two and fortie generations from Abraham unto Christ, by whom we have entrance into the kingdome of God.

with their armies] or, by their armies, being about six hundred thousand men, beside little ones, and much mixed people with them, Exo.
 12. 37, 38. They are called also the Lords armies, Exod. 7. 4. and 12. 41. by the hand] under the guidance or conduct. This Asaph men-tioneth to the praise of God; Thou didst lead thy people like a flocke, by the hand of Moses and Aaron, Psal. 77. 21.

Verse 2. according to their journies] or, with their journies (or removings) as the Greeke tran-flateth, and their journies (or stations.) the mouth] that is, the word, or commandment of Iehovah. This may be understood either of his commandment, to write these journeys here, or of their journeyings, as it is said, At the mouth of Iehovah the sons of Israel journeyed, and at the mouth of Iehovah they encamped, Num. 9. 18, 20.

Verse 3. from Rameses] a citie in the land of Egypt, Gen. 47. 11. See also Exod. 12. 37. the first moneth] called Abib, and Nisan, Exod. 13. 4. Nehem. 2. 1. answering to that which we call March. Why it was the first moneth, is shewed on Exo. 12. 2. the Passover] whereof see Exod. 12. 2. with an high hand] in Chaldee, with an invincible hand: meaning openly, boldly, powerfully: see Exodus 14. 8.

Verse 4. had smitten] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, had killed, and the Greeke, all the dead which the Lord had smitten: see Exodus 12. 29. their gods] in Chaldee, their idols. Some understand it of the beasts which the Egyptians worshipped. judgements] in Greeke, did (or executed) vengeance: see Exod. 12. 12. & 18. 11.

Verse 5. Succoth] by interpretation, Bowls: see Exodus 12. 37.

Verse 6. Esham which is in the edge] in Greeke, Bouban, which is a part of the wilderness: see Exodus 13. 20.

Verse 7. Pi-habiroth] or, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, the mouth of Hiroth: for in the next verse, the place is only called Hiroth: which seeme to be mountaines, betwene which was a narrow passage, called figuratively a mouth. It was by the red Sea, and there the Egyptians overtook the Israelites, Exod. 14. 2, 9.

Verse 8. the sea] the red sea, the waters whereof God divided, and led his people thorow it; but the Egyptians following them, were drowned, Exo. 14. 21, 22, 23, &c. three daies journey] Hebr. three daies way. Esham] called, the wilderness of Shur, Exod. 15. 22. Amorah] that is, bitternesse, as the Greeke here interpreteth it: so called of the bitter waters which the people could not drink, therefore they murmured: but God sweetened the waters with a tree, Exo. 15. 23, &c.

Verse 9. palme-trees] or Date-trees: see Exod. 15. 27. there] there by the waters, Exod. 15. 27. So God refreshed his people with waters, in the dry and barren wilderness.

Verse 10. by the red sea] of this resting place, there hath beene no mention before.

Verse 11. of Sin] a wilderness which adjoynd unto Sin, a citie of Egypt so called, Ezek. 13. 15, 16. Hither they came, a just moneth after their departure from Rameses, v. 3. namely in the fiftenth day of the second moneth: in this wilderness they murmured for want of food, and God gave them Quails, and rained Manna from heaven, Exodus 16. 1, 2, &c.

Verse 12. Dophkah] in Greeke, Raphakab: putting R for D, through likenesse of the letters in Hebrew: see the notes on Genes. 4. 18. Of this place there is no mention in Exodus.

Verse 13. Alush] in Greeke, Ailow: Neither is this station named before, but Moses intimated them, when hee said, the Israelites journeyed from the wilderness of Sin, after their journeyes, Exodus 17. 1.

Verse 14. Rephidim] in Greeke, Rephidin. no water: therefore the people contended with Moses, and almost stoned him: God gave them water out of the Rocke in Horeb, and the place was called Massah, and Meribah, that is, Tentation, and contention. Here also at Rephidim, the Amalekites fought against Israel, and were overcome, Ex. 17.

V. 15. wilderness of Sinai] the wilderness of mount Sinai, Acts 7. 30. Thither they came in the beginning of the third moneth, Exod. 19. 1. There God gave them his Lawes, Statutes and Judgements, Exod. 20. & 21, &c. There they sinned and made the golden Calfe, Exo. 32. Afterward they made the Tabernacle, Exo. 36, &c. Out of it God speaking, taught them how they should serve him with sacrifices, &c. Lev. 1, &c. He numbred and ordered the twelve tribes, both for their encamping about the Tabernacle, and for their journeyings with it towards Canaan, Num. 1, &c. And in this place they abode, till the twentieth day of the second moneth of the second yeere after their coming out of Egypt, Num. 10. 11, 12.

Verse 16. Kibroth-hataavah] that is, the graves of lust, where the people lusting for flesh, died whiles the flesh was betwene their teeth, and were buried there, Num. 11. 4, 34.

Verse 17. Hazereth] In this place Mary with Aaron murmured against Moses, and hee was smitten with leprosie, Num. 12.

Verse 18. Rithmah] a place in the wilderness of Pharan, Num. 13. 1. It hath the name of Juniper, which either grew there, or (as some of the Hebrews thinke) because the evill tongues of the Spies which were sent from thence to view the land, (Num. 13. 3.) and brought up an evill report thereof, were like the coales of Juniper, (as in Psal. 120. 3, 4.) and kindled a rebellion among the people, Num. 14.

Verse 19. Rimmon Parez] in Greeke, Rhombon, Phares: by interpretation, the Pomegranate (or the lifting up) of the breach. This place is not named before: Chazkuni thinketh they came hither after God had bidden them turne backe into the wilderness, by the way of the red Sea, Num. 14. 25. So it might have the name of the breach or slaughter which the Amalekites and Canaanites made among the Israelites for their presumption, Num. 14. 44, 45. as Perez Uzaz, in 1 Chro. 13. 11. and Baal Perazim, in 1 Chron. 14. 11. were places so named of the death of Uzza, and slaughter of the Philistines.

Verse 20. Libnah] in Greeke, Lembous: some thinke it to be that which is called Laban, in Deuteronomie 1. 1.

Verse 21. Rissah] in Greeke, Ressan: it is not elsewhere mentioned.

Verse 22. Kebelathah] in Greeke, Makelath: signifieth Assembling.

Verse 23. mount Shapher] in Hebrew, Har Shapher, by interpretation, Faire mount: in Greeke, Asaphath.

- 24 Verse 24. Haradab] or Charadab; in Greeke, Charadab: it signifieth Trembling.
- 25 Verse 25. Makeloth] in Greeke, Makedoth: it is interpreted Assemblies, or Congregations, and is thought of some to be so called of the mutinous assemblies of Korah, Dathan and Abiram, Num. 16.
- 26 Verse 26. Tabath] in Greeke, Kataath, signifying Underneath, or below.
- 27 Ver. 27. Tarab] or Therach; in Greeke, Tharab.
- 28 Verse 28. Mukhab] in Greeke, Makhaba; by interpretation, sweet.
- 29 Ver. 29. Hafmonah] in Greeke, Aselmona.
- 30 Ver. 30. Moserah] in Greeke, Masuronth; in English, Bonds. In Deut. 10. 6. it is called singularly Moserah.
- 31 Verse 31. Bene Isaakan] that is, the sons of Isaakan, called in Deut. 10. 6. Beerah Bene Isaakan, that is, the Wells of the sons of Isaakan: though some thinke that was another place. Of one Isaakan we read in 1 Chron. 1. 42.
- 32 Verse 32. Horhagidgad] that is, the hole of Gidgad, called also Gudgad, in Deut. 10. 7.
- 33 Verse 33. Iotbathab] in Greeke, Esebaiba: it was a land of rivers of waters, named also Iotbath, Deut. 10. 7.
- 34 Verse 34. Ebronah] or, Gnabronah, not elsewhere mentioned.
- 35 Ver. 35. Ezion-gaber] in Greeke, Gethsion-gaber, mentioned againe in Deut. 2. 8. It was by the red Sea, where was a place for shipping in Edom's land, 1 Kin. 9. 26. & 22. 48. Thus Israel had bin brought backe againe towards the red Sea, as was commanded in Num. 14. 25. Deut. 2. 1.
- 36 Ver. 36. Zin which is Kadesh] or, that is Kades, which the Chaldees calleth Rekam. Hither they came in the first moneth of their 40 year of their travell: & here Mary the Prophetesse, the sister of Moses & Aaron, died. Here againe the people murmured for water, which was given them out of a Rocke. And at this Kadesh they sent unto Edom for leave to passe thorow his countrey, but were denied it, Num. 20. See the Annotations there.
- 37 Verse 37. in the edge] by the border of the land, Num. 20. 23. the Greeke translateth, neere the land of Edom.
- 38 Verse 38. at the mouth] that is, as the Chaldees explaineth it, at the word; in Greeke, by the commandment of the Lord. died there] being stript of his Priestly garments which were put upon Eleazar his son: and he died there on mount Hor for his sin committed at the water of Meribah in Kadesh, Num. 20. 24, 26, &c.
- 40 Ver. 40. King of Arad] of whom see Num. 21. 1. heard of the coming] and fought against Israel, and tooke some of them captives; but Israel by helpe from God vanquished him, Num. 21. 1, 2, 3.
- 41 Verse 41. from mount Hor] by the way of the red Sea to compass the land of Edom, Num. 21. 4. Zalmunah] in Greeke, Selmona; which seemeth to be so named of Zelem an Image, and to be meant of that place where the brazen Serpent was set up, to heale those that were stung of fiery Serpents, because they had murmured against God, Numb. 21. 5, 6, &c.

Verse 42. Famon] or Pbunon; in Greeke, Pbimon; hereof there is no mention otherwhere.

Verse 43. Oboib] mentioned in Num. 21. 10.

Verse 44. Ife Abarim] that is, the heaps of Abarim; which Abarim were mountaines, ver. 47. In the verse following this place is called only Ijim, that is, Heaps.

Verse 45. Dibon Gad] in Greeke, Daibon Gad, that is, Dibon of the Gadites: Dibon was the name of an high place and citie, whereof see Num. 21. 30. This Dibon was repaired and possessed by the sons of Gad, Numb. 32. 34. and it is so named to distinguish it from another Dibon which was given to Reuben, Jos. 13. 15, 17.

Ver. 46. Almon] or Gualmon; in Gr. Gelman dilaibaim: of which Dilaibaim, see Jer. 48. 22.

Verse 47. Before Nabo] the name of a mountain, where afterward Moses died, Deuteronomie 32. 49, 50. & 34. 1, 5.

Ver. 48. Jordan neere Jericho] that part of the river Jordan which is over against Jericho, called therefore in Hebrew, Jarden of Jericho.

Verse 49. Beth Iesimoth] which place was allotted to the Reubenites, Jos. 13. 15, 20. mentioned also in Ezek. 25. 9. Abel Shittim] the Chaldees expoundeth it, the plaine of Shittim: it seemeth to have the name of the Shittim trees that grew there; as Abel Geramin, is the plaine of the Vineyard, Judg. 11. 33. The travels of Israel thorow that great and terrible wilderness, wherein was serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water, Deuteronom. 8. 15. which was a land of deserts and of pits, a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt, Jer. 2. 6. signified the many troubles and afflictions through which we must enter into the kingdome of God, Act. 14. 22. The helps, comforts and deliverances which God gave unto his people in their distresses, are examples of his love and mercie towards his, who comforteth them in al their tribulation, that as the sufferings of Christ abound in them, so their consolation also aboundeth in Christ, 2 Cor. 1. 45. The punishments which God inflicted upon the disobedient who perished in the wilderness for their finnes, bapned unto them for ensamples, and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come, 1 Cor. 10. 1, 11. Heb. 3. 17, 18, 19. & 4. 1, 2. By the names of their encamping places, and histories adjoyned, it appeareth how Israel came sometimes into straits and troublesome waies, as at Pibabiroth, Exo. 14. 2, 3, 10, &c. and at Zalmunah, Num. 21. 4, &c. sometimes into large & ample roomth, as at the plains of Moab: sometimes to places of hunger and thirst, as at Rephidim and Kadesh, Exo. 16. & 17. Numb. 20. sometimes to places of refreshing, as at Elim, and Beer, Exo. 15. 27. Num. 21. 16. sometimes where they had wars, as at Rephidim, Kadesh, Edrebi, Exod. 17. 8. Num. 21. 1, 33. sometimes where they had rest, as at mount Sinai. Sometimes they went right forward, as from Sinai to Kadesh-barnea: sometimes they turned backward, as from Kadesh-barnea to the red Sea. Sometimes they came to mountaines, as Sinai, Shepher, Hor, Gidgad: sometimes to vallies, as Tabath, &c. sometimes to places of bitterness, as Marah: sometimes of sweetnesse, as Mithkah. The sinnes which they committed in the wilderness, were many & great; as open idolatry by the Calfe at Horeb, Ex. 32. & with Baal-peor, Num. 25. unbeleeve at Kadesh, Num. 14. and afterwards presumptuous boldnesse in the same place; murmurings against God sundry times, with tempting of Christ (as the Apostle speaketh, 1 Cor. 10.) Contention & rebellion against their governors often; lusting for flesh to fill their appetite, and loathing Manna the heavenly food: whore-dome with the daughters of Moab, & sundry the like: that this complaint is after made of them, How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, & grieve him in the deserts! Psal. 78.40. All sorts of persons sinned against God; the multitude of people very often; the mixt multitude of strangers among them, Num. 11. The Princes, as the ten spies, Dathan, Abiram, &c. The Levites, as Korah and his company. Marie the Prophetesse, Num. 12. Aaron the Priest with her, beside his sin at Horeb, Ex. 32. and at the water of Meribah, Num. 20. Moses also himselfe at the same place, for which he could not come into the land of Canaan. The punishments laid on them by the Lord for their disobedience were many. They died by the sword of the enemy, as of the Amalekites, Exod. 17. and of the Canaanites, Numb. 14. 45. and some by the sword of their brethren, Exod. 32. Some were burnt with fire, Num. 11. and 16. some died with surfet, Num. 11. some were swallowed up alive into the earth, Numb. 16. some were killed with serpents, Numb. 21. many died of the pestilence, Numbers 16. 46. and chap. 5. 25. and generally all that generation which were first mustered after their coming out of Egypt, perished, Num. 26. 64. 65. God consumed their dayes in vanity, and their yeares in terror, Psal. 78.33. Nevertheless for his names sake, he magnified his mercies unto them and their posterity. He had divided the sea, & led them thorow on dry land, drowning their enemies, Exod. 14. He led them with a cloud by day, and a pillar of fire by night continually. He gave them Manna from heaven daily. Hee clave the rocks, and gave them water for their thirst. He fed them with Quailles whe they longed for flesh: He sweetned the bitter waters. Hee saved them from the sword of their enemies. Hee delivered them from the fiery serpents & scorpions. Their raiment waxed not old upon them, neither did their foot swell those 40 yeares, Deut. 8.4. He delivered them from the curse of Balaam, & turned it into a blessing, because he loved them, Num. 22. Deut. 23.5. Hee came downe from mount Sinai, and spake with them from heaven, and gave them right judgements and true lawes, good statutes, and commandments, and gave also his good spirit to instruct them, Nehem. 9. 13. 20. In the times of his wrath he remembered mercie; his eye spared them from destroying them, neither did hee make an end of them in the wilderness, Ezek. 20. 17. 22. He gave them Kingdomes and nations, and they possessed the lands of their enemies; and he multiplied their children as the starres of heaven, and brought them into the land promised unto their fathers, Nehem. 9. 22. 23. Now what soever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning, that wee through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope, Rom. 15.4.

Verf. 52. Ye shall drive out] or, ye shall dispossesse, as in verf. 53, in Greeke, ye shall destroy. So Moses explaineth this law to be meant of their destruction, in Deut. 7. 1. 2. And they might not be suffered to dwell in the land, Exod. 23. 33. their pictures] or, their imagerie workes; which the Chaldee expoundeth, the house (or place) of their worship: see the Annotations on Lev. 26. 1. their molten images] Hebr. the images of their meltings, that is, which they have molten; under which name, graven images and all other idols are implied, as is shewed on Ex. 20. 4. This law is also repeated in Deut. 7. 5. and Deut. 12. quite plucke downe] or, destroy, abolish, letting nothing remaine; in Greeke, take away their pillars: see Levit. 26. 30.

Verf. 53. dispossesse the land] or, disinberis, drive out, (as in verf. 52.) the land; that is, as the Greeke tranlateth, destroy the inhabitants of the land: and so Moses explaineth it in ver. 55. A like phrase is in Ios. 17. 17. they could not dispossesse (or drive out) the cities, meaning the inhabitants of those cities: so house is for the household, or men of the house, Gen. 45. 11. 18. It may also be translated, ye shall inherite the land; & so it agreeth with the words following.

Verf. 54. by lot] as was commanded before in Numb. 26. 55. ye shall give them the more inheritance] Hebr. ye shall multiply his inheritance: see this phrase in Numb. 26. 54. for him] that is, for any one, or for every one.

Verf. 55. shall be for prickes] or shall be for prickes in your eyes, and for thornes in your sides: which Ioshua repeating, saith, scourges in your sides, and thornes in your eyes, Ios. 23. 13. And the Prophet speaking of the enemies of Gods people, calleth them a pricking bryar unto the house of Israel, and a grieving thorne, Ezek. 28. 24. By these similitudes the hurt and mischief is signified, which such wicked people would doe unto the Church in soule and body, being a meane to draw them into sin, & to afflict them, as it is written, They destroyed not the Nations, concerning whom the LORD commanded them; but were mingled among the heathen, and learned their work, and served their idols which were a snare unto them, Psal. 106. 34. 35. 36. And the troubles which they brought upon Israel, are set forth in the booke of Iudges, in the historie of Iabin, Sisera, and other. So the Chaldee expoundeth these prickes and thornes thus; They shall be companies taking up armes against you, and troupes causing you to fall. shall vex you in the land] and Ioshua addeth, until ye perishe from off this good land, which Iehovah your God hath given you, Ios. 23. 13.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 The Lord by Moses declareth unto Israel the borders

borders of the land of Canaan which they should inherit. 16 The names of the Princes that should divide the land.

1 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, say-2 ing; Command the sonnes of Israel; and say unto them; When yee come into the land of Canaan, that is the land that shall fall unto you for an inher-3 tance, the land of Canaan with the borders thereof: And your South quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin, by the sides of 4 Edom: and your South border shall be the outmost coast of the salt sea Eastward. And your border shall turne about from the South to the ascent of Akrabbim, and passe on to Zin; and the goings out thereof shall be from the South to Kadesh-barnea, and it shall goe out to Hazar Addar, and passe
5 on to Azmon. And the border shall turne about from Azmon unto the river of Egypt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea.
6 And the sea border, you shall even have the great sea and the border thereof: this shall 7 be your sea border. And this shall bee your North border: from the great sea you shall 8 point out for you mount Hor. From mount Hor yee shall point out unto the entrance of Hamath: and the goings out of the bor-9 der shall bee to Zedad. And the border shall goe out to Ziphron, and the goings out of it shall bee at Hazar Enan: this shall bee 10 your North border. And yee shall point out for you for the East border from Ha-11 zar Enan, to Shepham. And the border shall goe down from Shepham to Riblah on the East side of Ain: and the border shall goe downe, and shall reach unto the side 12 of the sea of Chinnereth Eastward. And the border shall goe downe to Iordan, and the goings out of it shall bee at the salt sea:
this shall bee your land with the borders 13 thereof round about. And Moses commanded the sonnes of Israel, saying; This is the land, the which ye shall inherit by lot, which Jehovah commanded to give unto the 14 nine tribes, and to the halfe tribe. For the tribe of the sonnes of the Reubenites, ac- cording to the house of their fathers; and the tribe of the sonnes of the Gadites, ac- cording to the house of their fathers, have received;
and halfe the tribe of Manasses have recei-15 ved their inheritance. The two tribes, and the halfe tribe, have received their inhertance on this side Iordan neere Iericho, Eastward toward the sunne rising.

16 And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying;

These are the names of the men which shall divide the land by inheritance unto you: Eleazar the Priest, and Iosua the son of Nun.
And ye shall take one Prince, one Prince of a tribe to divide the land by inheritance. And these are the names of the men: Of the tribe of Iudah, Caleb the sonne of Iephun-neh. And of the tribe of the sonnes of Simeon, Samuel the sonne of Ammihud. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the sonne of Chislon. And the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Dan, Bukki the sonne of Iogli.
Of the sonnes of Ioseph, the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Manasses, Hanniel the son of Ephod. And the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Ephraim, Kemuel the son of Shiphtan. And the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Zabulon, Elizaphan the son of Parnach. And the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Issachar, Paltiel the sonne of Azzan. And the Prince of the tribe of the sonnes of Aser, Ahihud the sonne of Shelomi. And the Prince of the tribe of the sons of Naphtali, Pedahel the sonne of Ammi-
hud. These are they whom Jehovah commanded to divide the inheritance unto the sonnes of Israel, in the land of Canaan.

Annotations.

Command the sonnes of Israel] After the commandement to destroy the Canaanites, & to root out the monuments of their idolatry, the Lord now giveth lawes for Israels quiet inheritance of the promised land: which first he limiteth out unto them, then sheweth who should possesse it, & appointeth twelve men by name to divide the possession. And this is by command from God, to signifie the weight of the precept
and care which Israel should have to observe it.

[shall fall unto you] to wit, by lot, or by line: as,
bee made them fall by line of inheritance, Psal. 78. 55.
and, The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places, Psal.
16. 6. and, there fell tenne lines; (that is, tenne portions) to Manasses, Ios. 17. 5.

[with the borders] or, according to the borders or coasts, bounds, limits, or confines. God who set all the borders of the earth, Psal. 74. 17. and limited the bounds of all mens habitations, Act. 17. 16. doth here in speciall and exact manner determine the limits of the holy land, called the border of his holinesse (or Sanctuary) Psal. 78. 54. to the end that his people might behold his bounty and providence in giving them
so large and good a land: wherefore he after expostulateth with Israel, whether the border of the neighbour kingdomes were greater than their border, Amos 6. 2. Also that his people might

might not be defrauded of their right by other nations which sometimes fought with Israel hereabout, Judg. 11. 13 &c. as the Ammonites ript up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border, Amos 1. 13. Likewise, that Israel might rest contented with their limits allotted them of God, both generally and particularly, and not remove the ancient bound, Prov. 23. 10. & 22. 28. Deut. 2. 5, 9, 19. And these limits of Canaan figured the state and condition of the Church of Christ, (who rejoiceth that the lines are fallen unto him in pleasant places, and that hee hath a goodly heritage, Psal. 16. 6.) which therefore is shewed to the Prophet in a vision, like the land of Canaan, inherited by the Tribes of Israel, and the borders appointed of their habitations, Ezek. 47. 13, 14, 15, &c.

3 Verse 3. South quarter] or South corner, which the Chaldee calleth the South-mind: as in Mat. 24. 31. the foure winds are put for the foure quarters of the world. The limits here are set towards all the foure quarters, South, West, North and East: the order of proceeding is thus; for the South-side hee beginneth at the East corner, and goeth along to the West; the West side beginneth at the South end, & extendeth to the North; the Northerne quarter is likewise from the West to the East; and the Easterne side from the North to the South. But in Ezek. 47. 15, &c. he beginneth with the North, which here is begun at the South, and endeth at the West, as here at the East. wilderneffe of Zin] whereof see Numb. 33. 36. This was the uttermost part of the South coast, and fell by lot unto the Tribe of Judah, Jos. 15. 1. the sides of Edom] Hebr. the hands of Edoms, that is, the border of Edom, as is explained in Jos. 15. 1. the salt sea] or, sea of salt, so in ver. 12. This was the lake of Sodom, called also the dead Sea, for that it had no fish or living thing in it; whereof see Gen. 14. 3. From the end of that Sea, from the tongue (or bay) thereof that looked Southward, was their South border, Jos. 15. 2. This Sea is in humane writers called Asphaltites, Plin. l. 5. c. 16.

4 Verse 4. shall turne about] that is, fetch a compasse; as the Greeke translateth it, shall compass, for which in Jos. 15. 3. it is said, it went out from the South] or, on the South-side: so after. the ascent of Akrahbin] or, Maal h Akrahbin, as in Jos. 15. 3. which is by interpretation, the ascent (or going up) of Scorpions: which place some thinke was so named of the Scorpions which were in the wilder- nesse, Deuter. 8. 15. the goings out thereof] for this, in Jos. 15. 3. is said, it ascended up. it shall goe out to Hazar Addar] by going out is meant a passing along, as is expounded in Jos. 15. 3. where Hazar Addar are two places, Hezron and Addar; for it is said, it passed along to Hezron, and went up to Addar. to Azmon] in Jos. 15. 3, 4. there is added, that it turned about (or fetchd a compasse) to Karkaa, and passed on to Azmon. This Azmon is in Thargum Ionathan called Kesam; in Greeke, Aselmoma.

5 Verse 5. unto the river of Egypt] it went out unto the river of Egypt, Jos. 15. 4. the river called Si-bor, Jos. 13. 3. in Thargum Ionathan, Nilos. goings out of it] namely, of the coast (or border) Jos. 15. 4. at the sea] to wit, the great Sea, as the Greeke translateth it, whereof Moses speaketh in the verse following: the Chaldee calleth it, the West Sea.

Verse 6. the Sea border] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the West border: so called because the great Sea lay Westward from the land of Canaan: see Gen. 12. 8. you shall ever have] or, shall be to you: which two phrases expound one another, as is noted on Gen. 12. 16. So after in verse 7. and 12. the great Sea] so called in respect of the lesser inland Seas, as the salt Sea, verse 3. and the Sea of Chimmereth, verse 11. This great Sea is commonly called the Mediterrane Sea, and the border thereof] so the Chaldee here translateth it, supplying the word thereof; and so it is Englished in Jos. 15. 12, 47. The Greeke interpreteth it, the great Sea shall bound (or shall limit.)

Verse 7. you shall point out] or, shall make out, shall designe; in Greeke, you shall measure out: so in verse 8. and 10. mount Hor] This is not that mount Hor where Aaron died, which was Southward in the edge of Edoms land, Num. 33. 37, 38. but another mountaine on the North side of Canaan, which in Jos. 13. 5. is called mount Hermon, and neere the entering into Hamath, as mount Hor is here. And Hermon had many names, as Moses sheweth in Deut. 3. 9. & 4. 48.

Verse 8. the entrance of Hamath] or, the entering into Chamaith: this Hamath (in Greeke, Emath) is in Amos 6. 2. called Hamath the great. See the Annotations on Num. 13. 21. Hamath is also mentioned among the Northerne borders of the land, in Ezek. 47. 16, 17. Zedad] in Greeke, Sedads: so in Ezek. 47. 15.

Verse 9. Hazar-enan] in Ezek. 47. 17. Hazar-enon; in Greeke, Arsemain. This was the North-East part of the land.

Verse 10. Shepham] called in 1 Sam. 30. 28. Siphmoth: in Greeke, Sepphama: by Thargum Ionathan, and some other, it is called Apamiab.

Verse 11. Riblah] a citie in the land of Hamath, where God executed his judgments on the Kings of Judah, for their finnes, by the Kings of Egypt and of Babylon, 2 King. 23. 33. & 25. 6. 20, 21. Jer. 39. 5, 6. east of Ain] Ain by interpretation is an eye, or a fountaine, and so is translated here in Greeke, Fountaines: and by the old Latine Interpreter, the fountaine Daphnis. the side] or, the shoulder, that is, the shore of the sea.

the Sea of Chimmereth] called in Greeke, Chemereth; in Chaldee, Gimmar; and in the New Testament, the lake of Gennesaret, Luke 5. 1. & in 1 Mac. 11. 67. there is mentioned the water of Gennesar. And the countrey adjoining was called the land of Gennesaret, Mat. 14. 34. Mar. 6. 53. This Sea is also named the sea of Galilee, and the sea of Tiberias, Joh. 6. 1. & a lake and sea are the same; as, they ran into the lake, Luke 8. 33. that is, into the sea, Mat. 8. 33. Of the sea Chimmereth there is mention also in Jos. 12. 3. & 13. 27. & of a citie so named, Jos. 19. 35. & of the countrey, Ios. 11. 2. 1. King. 15. 20. It is thought to be called in Chaldee, Gimmosar, and Genesar, of Princely gardens which were in those parts. This sea had store of fishes, and from hence our Lord tooke his foure first Apostles, fishers of Galilee, and made them fishers of men, by the preaching of his Gospel, Mat. 4. 18. 19. 20. 21. On this sea Christ walked, and allayed the waves thereof, Mark. 6. 45. 48. 51. 53. Iohn 6. 16. - 21. and here he appeared to his Disciples after his resurrection, at what time they tooke at one draught an hundred fifty and three great fishes, Iohn 21. 1. - 11.

12 Vers. 12. Jordan] in Hebrew Jarden; in Greeke, and in the New Testament, Jordanes. It was the goodliest river of all Canaan, famous thorowout the Scriptures. The waters of this river God did cut off, and made them stand upon an heape, (at that time when Iordan over-flowed all his banks) untill his people Israel passed over it on dry ground into the land of Canaan, Ios. 3. 13. - 17. Elijah and Elisha the Prophets divided also the waters thereof, and went over on dry ground, 2 King. 2. 8. 14. Naaman the Syrian washing seven times in it, by the word of the Prophet, was cleansed of his leprosie, 2 King. 5. 10. 14. In this river our Lord Iesus himselfe, and the nation of the Iewes were baptized, Marke 1. 5. 9. salt sea] or sea of salt: See vers. 3. The river Iordan ran all along by the land of Canaan on the East side, from the North end of the countrey to the South, beginning at the foot of mount Lebanon, (where it is said to spring out of two fountaines, the one called Ior, and the other Dan.) and passed on to the lake of Merom, (by the waters whereof Ioshua vanquished the Canaanites, Ios. 11. 4. 5. 7. 8.) and from thence it ran and emptied it selfe into the sea of Chinnereth forementioned: and from that sea it passed along, till it ended at the salt sea, here spoken of, where also the limits of the land began, in vers. 3. The promised land being thus inclosed and guarded with the maine sea Westward, the inland seas and the river Iordan Eastward, and at each end North and South with mountaines, fore-shewed Gods providence towards his people for their safe defence on every side. And so it is written, As the mountaines are round about Ierusalem, so the LORD is round about his people, from henceforth even for ever, Psal. 125. 2.

17 Vers. 17. shall divide the land by inheritance unto you] or, shall inherit the land for you, that is, shall take possession of the land for you, and in your names, and after divide it unto you, as in verse 29. See verse 18. Eleazar the Priest, and Ioshua] in Greeke, Iesus. These were the two chiefe Princes, and both of them figures of Christ, who divideth to his people the inheritance of the kingdome of heaven: the one figuring him in his Priesthood, the other in his kingdome: for if Iesus (that is, Ioshua) had given them rest, when would he not afterward have spoken of another day, Hebr. 4. 8. The Priest had an hand in parting the inheritance, to signifie that it was an holy worke, and a shadow of heavenly things. Also, that if difficultie did arise, he might aske counsell for Ioshua, after the judgement of Vrim before Iehovah, Numb. 27. 21. And likewise for that the Priests and Levites, though they had no inheritance as the other tribes, yet had they cities & suburbs from among their brethren, Numb. 35. which also the Levites claimed of Eleazar the Priest, and of Ioshua, and the other Princes, & had the cities and suburbs given them by lot before the Lord, Ios. 21. Thus also the truth of Gods promise to Abraham was manifested; for he had said, that in the fourth generation they should return from their affliction and servitude into the land of Canaan, Gen. 15. 14. 15. 16. And so it came to passe, for Kobab the sonne of Levi was one of them that went with Iakob into Egypt, Gen. 46. 11. 26. of Koath proceeded Anram, of him Aaron, and of him Eleazar, 1 Chron. 6. 1. 2. 3.

18 Vers. 18. one Prince, one Prince of a tribe] that is, of every tribe one Prince. See the like phrase in Num. 13. 2. and 17. 6. Ios. 3. 12. and 4. 2. 4. to divide the land by inheritance] or, to inherit the land, as the Hebrew properly and usually signifieth; this latter some of the Hebrewes, as Iarchi and Kimchi, doe retaine, expounding it of the Princes, who in stead of the people, and as their tutors and governors, first tooke the possession in the name of their tribes, and after distributed it unto them by their families. But the Chaldee here, and againe in Ios. 19. 49. (where the like phrase is also used) both the Chaldee and Greeke doe there translate it, cause to inherit, or divide by inheritance; and so Moses explaineth it in verse 29.

19 Vers. 19. Caleb] he was one of the Spies sent to view the land: of whom see Num. 13. 7. 31. and 14. 24. Ios. 14. 6. &c.

20 Vers. 20. Samuel] or Sbennuel: the notation of which name, see in 1 Sam. 1. 20. The Greeke calleth him Salamiel, by a mistaking from Num. 1. 6.

Ammibud] in Greeke, Semioud: so in Num. 1. 10.

21 Vers. 21. Elidad] in Greeke, Eldas the sonne of Chaslen.

22 Vers. 22. Bukki] in Greeke, Bokker sonne of Iekhi.

23 Vers. 23. Harniel] in Greeke, Ariel sonne of Souphid.

24 Vers. 24. Kemuel] in Greeke, Kamuel sonne of Saphtan.

25 Vers. 25. Parnach] or, Pharnach; in Greeke, Charnach.

26 Vers. 26. Palie] or, Phaltiel; in Greeke, Phaltiel sonne of Oza.

27 Vers. 27. Abibud] or, Aebibud; in Greeke, Achiod sonne of Sekmi.

28 Vers. 28. Pedabel] in Greeke, Phadiel. Observe here the order of the tribes, as they were named with their Princes; 1. Judab, 2. Simcon, 3. Eerjamine, 4. Dan, 5. Manasses, 6. Ephraim; 7. Zebulon, 8. Issachar, 9. Aser, 10. Naphtali. This order agreeth not with that in Num. 1. nor with that in Numb. 7. nor in Numb. 26. nor any before before set downe; but is thus disposed by Gods wisdom & providence before hand, as they did after inherit the land. Judab is first, having the first lot, and he dwelt in the South part of the land, Ios. 15. 1. &c. Simeon is next him, because his inheritance was within the inheritance of the sonnes of Judab, Ios. 19. 1. The next was Benjamin, who had his lot by Judab, betweene the sonnes of Judab and the sons of Ioseph, Ios. 18. 11. The fourth was Dan, for his lot fell by *Benjamin*s westward, in the Philistines countrey, as is to be seene by his cities, in Ios. 19. 40. 41. &c. Then Manasses, and by him Ephraim his brother, whose inheritances were behind *Benjamin*s, as before is noted, Ios. 16. and 17. Next them dwelt Zabulon and Issachar, of whose lots see Ios. 19. 10. 17. Last of all dwelt Aser and Naphtali in the North parts of Canaan, of whose lots see Ios. 19. 24. 32. &c. And as when they encamped about Gods Tabernacle, they were ordered according to their brotherhoods, as is noted on Num. 2. so in the dividing and inheriting of the land wee may see the like. For Judab and Simeon, both sons of Leah, dwelt abreast one by another. Benjamin of Rachel, and Dan of *Rachel*s maid, dwelt next abreast, Manasses and Ephraim, both sons of Ioseph, by his mother Rachel, had the next place one by another. Zabulon and Issachar, who dwelt next together, were both sons of Leah. So the last paire were Aser of *Leah*s maid, and Naphtali of *Rachel*s maid. Thus God, in nominating the Princes that should divide the land, forefignified the manner of their possession, & that they should be seated to dwell as brethren together in unity, for the mutuall helpe & comfort one of another, as is noted of the first two, Judab and Simeon, who joyned together in warre against the Canaanites, Iudg. 1. 1. 2. 3.

29 Ver. 29. to divide the inheritance unto Jor. to give the sonnes of Israel inheritance. According to this commandement, so was it fulfilled by Eleazar the Priest, and Iosua the sonne of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the sonnes of Israel, who divided the inheritance unto the people by lot, in Shiloh, before the LORD, at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, Ios. 19. 51.

CHAP. XXXV.

I The Lord commandeth Israel to give eight and forty cities for the Levites, with their suburbs and measure thereof. 6 Six of them are to bee cities of refuge. 9 The lawes of murder, when the man-slayer might have the benefit of the cities of refuge, and when he must be put to death. 31 No ranfome might be taken for the murderer that was worthy of death.

1 And Iehovah spake unto Moses, in the plaines of Moab, by Jordan, neere Iericho, saying; Command the sons of Israel that they give unto the Levites of the inheritance of their possession, cities to dwell in; and suburbs to the cities round about them, shall yee give unto the Levites.

And the cities shall be for them to dwell in, and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattell, and for their goods, and for all their beasts. And the suburbs of the cities which yee shall give unto the Levites, shall be from the wall of the citie, and outward, a thousand cubits round about. And ye shall measure from without the citie on the East-side two thousand cubits, and on the South-side two thousand cubits, and on the Sea-side two thousand cubits, and on the North-side two thousand cubits, and the citie shall be in the midst; this shall be to them the suburbs of the cities. And the cities which yee shall give unto the Levites, shall be the six cities of refuge, which ye shall give, for the man-slayer to flee thither; and above them yee shall give forty & two cities. All the cities which yee shall give unto the Levites, shall be forty and eight cities, them & their suburbs. And the cities which ye shall give for the possession of the sonnes of Israel, from them that have many, yee shall give many, and from them that have few, ye shall give few; every man according to his inheritance which they inherit, hee shall give of his cities unto the Levites.

And Iehovah spake unto Moses, saying;

Speake unto the sonnes of Israel, and say unto them; When ye be come over Jordan into the land of Canaan; Then ye shall appoint for you cities, cities of refuge shal they be for you, that the man-slayer may flee thither, which smiteth a soule by error. And the cities shall bee unto you for refuge from the avenger, that the man slayer die not untill hee stand before the Congregation for judgement. And the cities which yee shall give, the six cities of refuge shall be for you. Three cities ye shal give on this side Jordan, and three cities shall yee give in the land of Canaan; cities of refuge shal they be. For the sonnes of Israel, & for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them, shal these six cities bee for a refuge; that every one that smiteth a soule by error may flee thither. And if hee smite him with an instrument of iron, and he die, he is a man-slayer; the man-slayer shall be surely put to death. And if he smite him with a stone of the hand, wherewith he may die, & he die, he is a man-slayer, the man-slayer shal be surely put to death. Or, if he smite him with an instrument of wood of the hand, wherewith he may die, & he die, he 19 is a man-slayer; the man-slayer shall be surely put to death. The avenger of the blood, he shall put to death the man-slayer; when hee meeteth him, he shall put him to death. And

 20 if he thrust him of hatred, or have cast upon him by laying of wait, and he die. Or in enmity smite him with his hand, and he die, the smiter shall be surely put to death, he is a man-slayer: the avenger of the blood shall put to death the man-slayer when he meeteth him.
 22 But if he thrust him suddenly, without enmity, or have cast upon him any instrument without laying of wait. Or with any stone, wherewith he may die, without seeing him; and he hath caused it to fall upon him, and he die, & he was not his enemy, nor a seeker of his evil. Then the Congregation shall judge betweene the smiter and the avenger of the blood, according to these judgments.
 25 And the Congregation shall deliver the man-slayer out of the hand of the avenger of the blood, and the Congregation shall restore him unto the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled; and he shall abide in it untill the death of the great Priest, which was anointed with the oyle of holinesse. And if the man-slayer going shall goe forth, out of the border of the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled. And the avenger of the blood finde him without the border of the citie of his refuge, and the avenger of the blood shall slay the man-slayer, no blood shall be unto him. Because he should have abidden in the citie of his refuge, untill the death of the great Priest; and after the death of the great Priest, the man-slayer shall returne into the land of his possession. And these things shall be unto you for a statute of judgement, throughout your generations, in all your dwellings. Every one that smiteth a soule by the mouth of witnesses, the man-slayer shall be slaine; but one witnesse shall not answer against a soule, to die. And ye shall take no ranfome for the soule of the man-slayer, which is guilty of death, but he shall be surely put to death. Neither shall ye take ranfome for him that is fled unto the citie of his refuge, to return to dwell in the land, untill the death of the Priest. And ye shall not pollute the land, wherein ye are; for blood, it polluteth the land; and for the land, there shall be no expiation for the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it. And thou shalt not defile the land which ye inhabit in, within which I doe dwell, for I Jehovah dwell among the sons of Israel.

Annotations.

3 That they give] or, and let them give unto the Levites. The Lord having given order in ch. 34. for dividing the land unto Israel, commandeth here a portion to be given out of all their possessions unto him, which he bestoweth on his Ministers the Levites, for a part of their livelihood. The equitie of which law, both for honoring the Lord with our substance, Pro. 3. 9. and for maintaining his Ministers, Gal. 6. 6. is perpetuall. Therefore speaking of the Church under the Gospel, according to these legall figures, hee saith, When ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, an holy portion of the land, &c. The holy portion of the land shall be for the Priests, the Ministers of the Sanctuary, which shall come neere to minister unto the LORD, &c. Ezek. 45. 1, 4, 5. and 48. 9, 10, 13. suburbs to the cities] or, as the Greeke translateth, the suburbs of the cities: which suburbs are called in Hebrew, Migrash, that is, a place cast out, as lying without the walls of the citie; in Chaldee, Ret ach, that is, a Space; in Greeke, Proasteia, as lying before the citie; and in verse 3. Aphorismata, as being separated from the citie; and in verse 5. homota, confines or limits.

3 Verse 3. their goods] or, their substance, their gathered goods: see the notes on Gen. 12. 5. it is a generall word, and sometime implieth cattell also, as 2 Chron. 31. 3. and 32. 29. and 35. 7. beasts] in Hebrew Chajab, which is a generall name for living things; but here translated in Greeke, four-footed beasts. And from hence the Hebrews gather, that they gave the Levites a place of buriall to every citie, without those bounds (or suburbs:) for they buried not their dead in the suburbs of their cities, because it is said, AND FOR ALL THEIR LIVING THINGS; they gave it for the living and not for buriall. Maimony treat. of Release and Jubilee, chap. 13. sect. 3. That they used in Israel to bury their dead without the cities, appeareth by Luke 7. 11, 12.

4 Verse 4. a thousand cubits] The Greeke saith, two thousand cubits, as it is in the verse following, where the Lord speaketh of two thousand cubits: so the thousand cubits here mentioned, some thinke to be meant of holy measure, double so much as the common measure, and that the latter doe expound the former. The Hebrews expaine it thus; The suburbs of the cities are expressed in the Law to be three thousand cubits on every side, from the wall of the citie, and outward, Numbers 35. 4, 5. The first thousand are the suburbs, and the two thousand which they measured without the suburbs, were for fields and vineyards. Maimony treat. of the Release and Jubilee, chap. 13. sect. 2.

5 Verse 5. without the citie] by the citie, the Hebrewes understand here the citie with the suburbs, that is, the thousand cubits forementioned, which were for their cattell, and these two thousands moe for fields and vineyards, as is before noted.

East side] or, East quarter; in Chaldee, East winde: See the notes on Numb. 34.3. Sea side] that is, the West side, as the Chaldee saith, the West wind. Moses useth to call the West, the Sea, as is noted on Gen. 12.8. So in Numb. 34.6.

6 Verf. 6. of refuge] that citie is called in Hebrew Miklat, of gathering, because the man-slayer was there gathered and detained; in Greeke, Phugasterion, a place of flight and exile; in Chaldee, Shezabun, of deliverance and preservation. The six cities appointed for refuge, were these; Beer of the Reubenites countrey, Ramoth in Gilead of the Gadites, and Golan in Basan of the Manassites; these three Moses separated, Deut. 4.41.43. the other three appointed by Iosua, were Kedesh in Galilee in mount Naphtali, Shechem in mount Ephraim, and Kirjath-arba (which is Hebron) in the mount of Iudah, Ios. 20.7. the use of these is after shewed. 42. cities.] These with the like cities of refuge, are declared in Ios. 21. how they were given out of every tribe. Of the Kohathites, the Priests the sons of Aaron had thirteen cities, Ios. 21. 19. the residue of the Kohathites had seven cities, Ios. 21.26. The Gershonites had thirteen cities, Ios. 21. 33. The Merarites had twelve cities, Ios. 21.40. So all the cities of the Levites, within the possession of the sonnes of Israel, were fortie and eight cities with their suburbs, Ios. 21.41. Thus Iakobs prophesie of Levi was fulfilled, that he should be scattered in Israel, Gen. 49. 5.7. But because of the Levites zeale for the Lord, the curse was turned into a blessing (as is noted on Exod. 32.29.) and they were teachers of the law unto the tribes of Israel, Deut. 33. 8. 10. Wherefore God gave them cities out of every tribe. Howbeit, whatsoever remained of these cities, besides the habitations of the Levites, & the suburbs forementioned, as the fields of the cities, and their villages, continued under the dominion, and in the possession of the tribes, to whom they had beene distributed before, as the example of Hebron given unto Caleb sheweth, Ios. 14. 13. 14. and 21. 11. 12.

8 Verf. 8. yee shall give many] or, ye shall multiply to give: so the tribes that had many cities, and more large inheritances, gave the more cities. For out of the tribes of the sonnes of Iudah and of Simeon, were given nine cities, out of Benjamin four, out of Ephraim four, out of Dan four, out of the halfe tribe of Manasses two, out of the other halfe tribe of Manasses two, out of Issachar four, out of Aser four, out of Naphtali three, out of Zabulon four, out of Reuben four, out of Gad four, Ios. 21. 9. 16. &c.

11 Verf. 11. shall appoint] or prepare, as the Chaldee explaineth it, in Greeke, ye shall distinguish, (or distinctly separate:) elsewhere it is called separating, Deut. 4. 41. and sanctifying, Ios. 20.7. by error] or, ignorantly, unadvisedly, unawares: the Greeke translateth, unwillingly; this is opened in verse 22.23. and Deut. 19.5. in Ios. 20.3. it is declared by two words, by error, (or unawares) and without knowledge, (or unwittingly.)

12 Verf. 12. the avenger] to wit, of the blood, as is expressed in ver. 19. and the Chaldee and Greeke

here adde the same. Gol here Englished an Avenger, elsewhere signifieth a Redeemer; but properly one of the same blood and kindred, as Rash. 2.20. and 3. 9. 12. who if things were sold, was to redeeme them, as Levit. 25. 25. if blood were shed, was to avenge it, as in this case. And so the Greeke here & usually calleth him Agchistimon, that is, one neere of kin. Of this kindman the avenger, it is said in v. 19. that he should put the murderer to death; see the notes there. before the congregation]

When a man had done a murder, he fled to some citie of refuge, the way being alwayes prepared, that he might flee thither without hinderance, as is noted on Deut. 19.3. Comming thither, at the entering of the gate, he shewed his cause to the Elders of the citie of refuge, who took him in till he was sent after, and fetched home to the citie where he had done the murder, & there he stood before the congregation, Ios. 20. 4.6. who if they found him worthy of death, they delivered him to the avenger, to kill him; if not, they returned him to his citie of refuge, where he lived in a kind of exile and imprisonment, untill the death of the high Priest, as after followeth. See Deut. 19. 12. Before the cities of refuge were appointed, the Altar was a place of refuge, as is probable by Exod. 21. 13. 14. And from that place the Hebrewes gather that the Altar was a place of refuge. Maim. Treat. of Murder, chap. 5. sect. 12.

Verf. 14. Three cities] which were Beer, Ramoth, and Golan, Deut. 4.41.43. and three cities] Kedesh, Shechem, and Hebron, Ios. 20.7. And if the Lord enlarged their coast, and gave them all the land, they were to adde three cities more, Deut. 19.8.9.

Verf. 15. the stranger] in Greeke, the proselyte, meaning him that was not an Israelite by nature, but by religion. the sojourner] that dwelt a stranger in the land of Israel, and yet not of their Church and religion, Deut. 14. 21. These all had benefit by the cities of refuge; but if an heathen by error killed an heathen, the cities of refuge received him not, saith Maim. Treat. of Murder, chap. 5. sect. 4. smiteh a soule] that is, killeth any person; so verse 11.

Verf. 16. if hee smite him] to wit, purposely, and presumptuously, as the punishment after sheweth. surely put to death] or put to die the death; Heb. dying hee shall be put to death; so in verse 17 18.21.

Verf. 17. a stone of the hand, that is, throwne with the hand; the Greeke translateth it, a stone out of the hand; the Chaldee, a stone that is taken in the hand. he may die] the Chaldee more fully explaineth it, which is enough for him to die therewith; so in verf. 18.

Verf. 18. wood of the hand] Greeke, out of the hand; Chaldee, wood taken in the hand, which is sufficient for him to die thereby; as in verse 17. These cautions are here added to discern of murders; the Hebrewes explaine them thus: He that smiteh his fellow presumptuously with a stone, or with wood, that hee die, they measure the thing wherewith hee smote him, and the place wherewith he smote him, to see if that thing thing were enough to kill him upon such a member (of his body) or not, as it is written, WITH A STONE OF THE HAND, &c. so that it be enough to kill him. They measure also the might of him that smote, &c. For iron instruments the Law gives no measure, Numb. 35. 16. He is to die that killed him, though it were with a needle; and whatsoever is sharpe like a needle, as bodkin, knife, or the like. Hee that smiteth his fellow without any instrument, and killeth him, as with his hand, or his foot, &c. they measure the strength of him that smote, and of him that was killed, and the place of the blow, &c. Maim. treat. of Murder, ch. 3. sect. 1. &c.

19 Verſ. 19. he shall put to death] or, he may put him to death, to wit, after he is adjudged to death by the Magistrate, verse 12. If the avenger of blood will not, or if hee be not able to kill him, or if hee have no avenger of blood, then the Judges shall kill the murderer with the sword. Maim. Treat. of Murder, chap. 1. sect. 1. when hee meeteth him] though it be within the cities of refuge, saith Iarchi. But this is to be understood, after lawfull judgement by the Magistrate; for the Elders of his citie were to send and fetch him from the citie of refuge, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, Deuter. 19. 12. Wherefore the Chaldee, in stead of meeting him, saith, When he shall be condemned unto him by judgement, So in verse 21.

20 Verſ. 20. of hatred] which is inveterate anger, and inward grudge, differing from enmity or open hostility, spoken of in v. 22. Hee that hateth, dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him, Prov. 26. 24. The Hebrewes say, Hee that hateth, if he kill by error (or unadvisedly) hee is not kept in (the citie of) refuge, as it is said, And he was not his enemy, (Num. 35. 23.) &c. And who is he that hateth? he that for enmities sake speaketh not unto him for three dayes (space.) Maim. Treat. of Murder, chap. 6. sect. 10. cast upon him] to wit, any instrument, as is expressed in verse 22. and so the Greeke explaineth it here. by laying of wait] with intent and purpose of evill, when occasion is offered: so Saul laid wait (or hunted) for Davids soule, 1 Sam. 24. 11. the Jewes for Christ, Luke 11. 54. and for Pauls life, Act. 23. 21.

21 Verſ. 21. enmity] or hostility, ill will open and professed.

22 Verſ. 22. suddenly] or, unawares, and as it were by chance.

23 Verſ. 23. with any stone] that is, have smitten him with any stone, as in verse 17. wherewith hee may die] in Chaldee, which is sufficient that hee may die therewith: See the notes on verse 18.

25 Verſ. 25. of the great Priest] a figure of Christ, called the great Priest over the house of God, Hebr. 10. 21. and the great High-Priest that is passed into the heavens, Hebr. 4. 14. who is the Mediator of the new Testament, that by meanes of death, for the redemption of the transgressions under the first Testament, they which are called might receive the promise of the eternall inheritance, Hebr. 9. 15. As the high Priests, whiles they lived, by their service and sacrificing made atonement for the sinnes of the people, especially one day in the yeare, Levit. 16. wherein they figured the worke of Christ for us: so at the high Priests death, by releasing such as were exiled for unwitting murder, there was a shadow of redemption in Israel.

Verſ. 26. going shall goe forth] that is, shall at any time, upon any occasion goe forth. So he was not only exiled from his owne citie, but confined as a prisoner within the limits of the citie of refuge. The Hebrewes say, Hee might never goe out of the citie of his refuge, no not though it were for a thing commanded [as to worship at the solemne feasts, or the like] or for to beare witness, whether it were in money matters, or to testifie in case of life and death, &c. Maim. Treat. of Murder, chap. 7. sect. 8.

Verſ. 27. without the border] so not the citie only, but the borders and limits of the territories thereof were his refuge. Every citie of refuge, the borders thereof are a refuge as well as it, &c. and if (the avenger of blood) kill him there, he is to be killed for him. Notwithstanding though the border be a refuge, yet the man-slayer may not dwell in it; for it is said (in ver. 25.) AND HE SHALL ABIDE IN IT, in it (the citie) and not in the border of it. Maimony ibid. chap. 8. sect. 11. no blood shall be unto him] that is, the avenger shall have no blood imputed to him; or, as the Greeke translateth it, hee shall not be guilty, to wit, of blood-shed.

Verſ. 28. into the land of his possession] into his owne citie or village, that part of the land which he possessed. It is holden by the Hebrewes, that although by the high Priests death atonement was made for him, yet hee never returned to the princely state (or dignity) that hee had (in the citie) but was debased from his greatnesse all his dayes, because that great scandall came by his hand. Maimony ibidem, chap. 7. sect. 14. Moreover they say, A man-slayer upon whom sentence is past that hee shall be exiled, if hee die before hee goe into exile, they carry his bones thither. And a man-slayer that dieth in the citie of his refuge, they bury him there; and when the high Priest dieth, they carry the mans-killers bones from thence unto the sepulchres of his fathers. Ibidem, sect. 3.

Verſ. 30. Every one that smiteth a soule] that is, who killeth a person, to wit, him that is a murderer. by the mouth] that is, by the testimony of three witnesses, which after is explained of two witnesses, or three witnesses, Deut. 17. 6. and 19. 15. See the Annotations there. not answer] that is, not testifie, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, meaning, to have the sentence of death confirmed against him: See Deut. 19. 15. to die] that is, to cause him to die; or, that he should die: See the notes on Gen. 6. 19.

Verſ. 31. the soule of the man-slayer] that is, the life of the murderer, to redeeme him from death. The Judges are warned that they take no rancome of the murderer, and though hee could give all the wealth that is in the world, and though the avenger of blood should be willing to free him, for the soule of him that is killed, is not the possession of the avenger of blood, but the possession of the holy blessed (God.) Maimony Treat. of Murder, chap. 1. sect. 4. guilty of death] Hebr. which is wicked, to die, that is, as the Greeke and and Chaldee explaine it, guilty or condemned to die. According to this phrase David saith, When he shall be judged, let him goe forth wicked, (that is, condemned,) Psal. 109. 7.

32 Verse 32. for him that is fled] Hebr. to flee; which is explained by Tarchi and others, for him that is fled. in the land] in the land of his possession, as in verse 28.

33 Verse 33. polluteth] or, impiouſly ſtaineth, ſoulely deformeth the land. This word which Moſes here uſeth of murder, and the Prophets after apply unto ſpiritually whoredome or idolatry, Jer. 3. 2, 9. and idolatrous blood-ſhed, Psal. 106. 38. ſheweth the hainouſneſſe of this ſin, that deſileth not only him that doth it, but the whole land if it be not avenged. Hereupon the Hebrewes ſay, Thou haſt not any thing concerning which the Law giveth ſuch a charge, as for ſhedding of blood; as it is ſaid (in Num. 35. 33.) And ye ſhall not pollute the land, &c. Maimon treat. of Murder, chap. 1. ſect. 4. the blood of him that ſhed it] if it were wilfull murder; or by the death of the high Priſt, if it were unwilling man-ſlaughter. Hertupon it is ſaid, A man that doth violence to the blood of any perſon, ſhall flee to the pit, let no man ſlay him, Prov. 28. 17.

34 Verse 34. I doe dwell] the land of Iſrael was the LORDS land, Hoſea 9. 3. and by his dwelling there among his people, was ſanctified, and called the holy land, Zach. 2. 12. and though he dwelt moſt ſpecially in his Sanctuary there, which afterward was in Jeruſalem, Psal. 74. 2. and 135. 21. yet the whole land was ſanctified by his habitation therein, which was a reaſon why the people might not pollute it, either with blood, or with any other wickedneſſe; for holineſſe becomieth his houſe for ever, Psal. 93. 5. And for this cauſe the uncleane were to be put out of the campe of Iſrael, in the miſt whereof God did dwell, Numbers 5. 3.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 The inconvenience of the inheritance of daughters is remedied by marrying in their own Tribes, left the inheritance should be removed from the Tribe. 10 The daughters of Zelophehad obey the Lords commandments, and marry their uncles ſonnes.

1 AND the heads of the fathers of the family of the ſons of Gilead, the ſon of Machir, the ſonne of Manaſſes, of the families of the ſonnes of Joſeph, came neere, and ſpake before Moſes and before the Princes, the heads of the fathers of the ſons of Iſrael. And they ſaid, Jehovah commanded my lord to give the land for an inheritance, by lot, to the ſons of Iſrael: and my lord was commanded by Jehovah, to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother unto his daughters. And if they become wives to any of the ſons of the Tribes of the ſonnes of Iſrael, then ſhall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, and ſhall be put to the inheritance of the Tribe, unto whom they ſhall be; ſo it ſhall be taken away from the lot of our inheritance. And when the Jubilee of the ſonnes of Iſrael ſhall be, then ſhall their inheritance be put unto the inheritance of the Tribe, unto whom they ſhall be: ſo their inheritance ſhall be taken away from the inheritance of the Tribe of our fathers.

And Moſes commanded the ſonnes of Iſrael according to the mouth of Jehovah, ſaying; the Tribe of the ſons of Joſeph ſpeake right. This is the thing which Jehovah doth command concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, ſaying; Let them become wives to whom it is good in their eyes, onely to the family of the Tribe of their father ſhall they become wives. And the inheritance of the ſons of Iſrael ſhall not remove from Tribe to Tribe; for every man of the ſons of Iſrael ſhall cleave to the inheritance of the Tribe of his fathers. And every daughter that poſſeſſeth an inheritance of the Tribes of the ſons of Iſrael, ſhall be wiſe unto one of the family of the Tribe of her father, that the ſons of Iſrael may poſſeſſe, every man the inheritance of his fathers. And the inheritance ſhall not remove from one Tribe to another tribe, but every man of the tribes of the ſons of Iſrael ſhall cleave to his inheritance.

Even as Jehovah commanded Moſes, ſo did the daughters of Zelophehad. For Machlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Noah, the daughters of Zelophehad, were wives unto their uncles ſonnes. (To men) of the families of the ſonnes of Manaſſes, the ſon of Joſeph, they became wives; and their inheritance was unto the Tribe of the family of their father.

THEſE are the commandments and the judgements which Jehovah commanded, by the hand of Moſes, unto the ſonnes of Iſrael, in the plaines of Moab, by Jordan, neere Jericho.

Annotations.

THE heads] in Greeke, the Princes, that is, the chief ſailors. God having deſigned the limits of the holy land which Iſrael ſhould inherit, in Num. 34. and appointed his own portion out of the ſame, to be given unto the Priests and Levites, Num. 35. doth now conclude his laws with an ordinance

dinance for the settled continuing of the inheritances unto the Tribes, as they should be at first allotted unto the. The occasion of this ordinance is a complaint made by some of the Manassites, concerning Zelophebads daughters; if they should be married to men of other Tribes. Gilead in Greeke, Galaad, of whom see Num. 27. 1.

2 Verse 2. my lord meaning Moses, for to him was the commandement given, Num. 26. 52, 53. &c. & 27. 6, 7. And by this title they give honor unto Moses, and shew their obedience; as the Scripture noteth by the like title given unto others, 1 Pet. 3. 6. Mat. 22. 44, 45. Zelophebad in Greeke, Sulpabad: See Num. 27. 1, &c.

3 Ver. 3. of the Tribes of any of the other Tribes, beside their owne. be taken away or, be diminished, contrary to adding or putting to, after mentioned: so the inheritances of this, and of other Tribes by like accidents might in time be changed, disturbed, and come to confusion, contrary to the order before set of God.

4 Ver. 4. the Inbikes shall be which was every 50th yeere, in which the inheritances that were alienated to others, were by the Law given in Lev. 25. to returne unto the first owners; which ordinance also should by such marriages be disannulled.

5 Verse 5. the mouth that is, the Word of the Lord, as the Chaldee translateth; in Greeke, by the commandement of the Lord. So the answer which Moses gave, was not of himselfe, but by advice from God: See Num. 27. 5.

6 Verse 6. good in their eyes that is, pleaseth them. Daughters are not to be forced to marry with such as they like not: See Gen. 24. 57, 58. to the family to some of the family, or, in the family: See verse 12.

7 Verse 7. shall cleave to the inheritance keeping himselfe thereto, and (for the better performance hereof) marrying within his Tribe. For this word cleave, is often used in case of marriage, Gen. 2. 24. Dan. 2. 43. Thus God provideth that the order which he should set for the inheritances in his land, to be divided by lot, might continue throughout all generations; by which meanes strife also might be cut off, and peace preserved among his people.

Verse 8. that possesseth an inheritance or, that is heire of a possession, by reason that her father had no son to inherit, as in this case of Zelophebad. So here is no restraint of other women, save such as had inheritance. The Priests also and Levites, (which might have no inheritance with Israel, Deut. 18. 1.) had liberty to marry with the women of any Tribe; as Ishodad the Priest had to wife the Kings daughter of Judab, 2 Chronicles 22. 11. another took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, Ezra 2. 61. and the like. By reason of such marriages there might be kindred betweene Elizabeth the mother of John the Baptist, who was of the daughters of Aaron, and Mary the Virgin, the Mother of our Lord Christ, who was of the lineage of David, of the Tribe of Judab, Luke 1. 5, 36. & 3. 23, 31.

Verse 11. For Machlab Hebrew, And Machlab, &c. Of these daughters, see Numbers 27. 1. their uncles sonnes the sonnes of their fathers brethren. Compare Leviticus 18. 12, 13, 14.

Verse 12. was unto the Tribe that is, remained unto (or in) the Tribe. So Daniel was (that is, continued) even unto the first yeere of King Cyrus, Dan. 1. 21. and they were (that is, continued) there, Ruth 1. 2. and sundry the like. By this example and observation of the Law for inheritances in the holy land, the people of God are taught to hold fast their inheritance in his promises, and right in Christ, which they enjoy by faith; that as the Father hath made them meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light, Coloss. 1. 12. so they may keepe the faith and grace which they have obtained, unto the end, 1 King. 21. 3. Ezek. 46. 18. Jude verse 3. Hebr. 6. 12.

THE FIFTH BOOKE OF MOSES, Called DEUTERONOMIE.

CHAPTER I.

1 Moses speech in the end of the fortieth year, briefly rehearsing the Story. 6 Of Gods promise and offer to give Israel the Land of Canaan. 9 Of Officers given them. 19 Of Spies sent to search the Land. 34 Of Gods anger for Israels incredulitie, 41 and disobedience.

THese bee the words which Moses spake unto all Israel on this side Jordan, in the wilderness, in the plaine, over against the red Sea, betweene Pharan and Tophel, and Laban, and Hazeroth, and Dizahab. Eleven daies journey from Horeb, by the way of mount Seir unto Kadesh-Barnea. And it was in the fortieth year, in the eleven moneth, in the first day of the moneth, Moses spake unto the sonnes of Israel, according unto all that Jehovah commanded him, unto them. After he had smitten Sihon King of the Amorites, which dwelt in Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, which dwelt in Ashtaroth, in Edrei. On this side Jordan, in the Land of Moab, began Moses to declare this Law, saying; Jehovah our God spake unto vs in Horeb saying, Yee have dwelt long enough in this mountaine. Turne you and take your journey, and goe to the mount of the Amorite, and unto all his neighbours, in the plaine, in the mountaine, and in the vale, and in the south, and by the Sea side: to the land of the Canaanite, and Lebanon, unto the great River, the river Euphrates. Behold, I have given the land before you, goe in and possesse the land which Jehovah ware unto your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Iakob, to give unto them, and to their seed after them. And I spake unto you at that time, saying, I am not able my selfe alone to beare you. Jehovah your God hath multiplied you; and behold you are this day, as the Starres of the heavens for multitude. Jehovah, God of your fathers, adde unto you a thousand times so many as you are, and blesse you as hee hath spoken unto you. How shall I beare my selfe alone, your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife? Give yee for you wise men, and understanding, and knowne among your tribes, and I will appoint them for to be your heads. And yee answered me and said, The word which thou hast spoken is good to doe. And I tooke the heads of your tribes, wise men and knowne, and gave them to be heads over you; rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, and rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens, and officers among your tribes. And I commanded your Iudges at that time, saying, Heare between your brethren, and judge justice betweene a man and his brother, and his stranger. Yee shall not respect persons in judgement; you shall heare alike, the small and the great; you shall not be afraid of the face of man, for the judgment, that is Gods:

and

18 and the cause which shall be too hard for you, bring it unto mee, and I will heare it.
And I commanded you at that time, all the things which yee shou'd doe.

19 And we journeyed from Horeb, and went thorow all that great and fearefull wilderness which you have seene, by the way of the mountaine of the Amorites, as Jehovah our God commanded us; and we came unto Kadesh Barnea. And I said unto you, Yee are come unto the mountaine of the Amorites, which Jehovah our God giveth unto us. Behold, Jehovah thy God hath given the land before thee, goe up, possesse it, as Jehovah the God of thy fathers hath spoken unto thee; feare not, neither be discouraged.

22 And ye came neer unto me, all of you, & said, We will send men before us, and they shall search out for us the land, and shall bring us word againe, by what way we shall goe up, and into what Cities we shall come.

23 And the word was good in mine eyes, & I took of you twelve men, one man of a tribe.

24 And they turned & went up into the mountaine, and came unto the valley of Eshcol: and they searched it out. And they tooke in their hand of the fruit of the land, and brought it downe unto us, and brought us word againe and said, It is a good land which Jehovah our God giveth us. But ye would not goe up, but rebelled against the mouth of Jehovah your God. And murmured in your Tents, and said, In the hatred of Jehovah towards us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, to give us into the hand of the Amorite to destroy us. Whither goe we up? Our brethren have caused our heart to melt, saying, The people is greater and taller than we; the Cities are great and walled up to heaven: and moreover we have seen the sonnes of the Anakims there.

29 And I said unto you, Bee not terrified, neither be afraid of them. Jehovah your God, that goeth before you, hee will fight for you, according to all that he did for you in Egypt, before your eyes; And in the wilderness, which thou hast seene, how that Jehovah thy God bare thee, as a man doth beare his son, in al the way that ye went, until ye came unto this place. Yet in this thing you did not beleieve in Jehovah your God.

33 Who went before you in the way, to search you out a place to pitch your tents in: in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should goe; and in a cloud by day. And Jehovah heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, and sware, saying, If there shall a man see, of these men, of this evill generation, the good land which I sware to give unto your fathers. Except Caleb, the sonne of Iephunneh, hee shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath troden upon, and to his sonnes, because he hath fully followed Jehovah. Also Jehovah was angry with mee for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not goe in thither. Joshua the son of Nun, which standeth before thee, hee shall goe in thither; strengthen thou him, for hee shall cause Israel to inherit it. And your little ones, which you said should be for a prey, & your sons which know not this day good and evill, they shall goe in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possesse it.

But as for you, turn ye, and take your journey into the wilderness, by the way of the red sea. And yee answered and said unto mee, wee have sinned against Jehovah: we will goe up and fight, according to all that Jehovah our God hath commanded us: and ye girded on every man his weapons of war, & pressed forward to goe up into the mountaine. And Jehovah said unto me, Say unto them, Goe not up, neither fight, for I am not among you, that yee be not smitten before your enemies. And I spake unto you, and you heard not, but rebelled against the mouth of Jehovah, and you were presumptuous, and went up into the mountaine. And the Amorite that dwelleth in that mountain, came out against you; and they pursued you as Bees doe, and destroyed you in Seir, even unto Hormah. And ye returned and wept before Jehovah: but Jehovah heard not your voyce, neither gave care unto you. And ye abode in Kadesh many dayes, according to the dayes that yee abode there.

Annotations.

Deuteronomie:] A Greeke word, by interpretation, The repetition, (or second declaration) of the Law. This name is borrowed from Deut. 17. 18. where Mishneh batorab, the Copie of the Law, is in Greeke translated Deuteronomion, which title is given to the whole booke, as that which containeth a repetition and explanation of the Lawes before given, as v. 5. The Hebrewes call this booke by the first words thereof, ELLEH HADBARIM, THESE be THE WORDS. And here beginneth the 44 Section, or Lecture of the Law: see the notes on Gen. 6. 9. Ver. 1. On this side] or, on the out side; that is, beyond beyond Iordan, as the Greeke translateth. The word signifieth both sides, and by circumstance of place is to be understood. To those out of the land of Canaan, it was on this side: to the Israelites in Canaan, it was beyond, or the out side of Iordan, where Moses spake these things: For Moses might not enter into the land. Here Targum Ierusalem (whom Onkelas the Chaldee Paraphrast also followeth) explaineth it thus: These bee the words which Moses spake unto all Israel: hee rebuked them, for that they had sinned on this side Iordan, &c. Hereupon the Rabbines call this booke, Sepher Tabeachoth, that is, the booke of Rebukes.

Iordan] Heb. Iarden: a River springing out of mount Lebanon, in the north end of Canaan, running along the Countrey. Of it, and the mystrie thereof, see Num. 34. 12. Ioshua 3. the plaine] to wit, of Moabs land, as verse 5. see Num. 22. 1. There Moses spake these things and died, Deut. 34. 5. The Chaldee saith, Moses rebuked them, because they had provoked God in the plaine.

the red sea] so both Greeke and Chaldee doe translate it, adding the word sea: others keepe the Hebrew name Suph, which signifieth flags, such as grow by the sea and rivers sides, Exod. 2. 3. and so expound it, not of the Sea Suph (called the Red Sea) but of a flaggie place by the sides of Iordan towards the wilderness of Arabia. So in Num. 21. 14.

Pharan] or Paran, a wilderness southward from the place where Moses now was, thorow which Israel had passed, Num. 13. 1. in it was a mountaine so named, Deut. 33. 2. The Chaldee here addeth, in Pharan where they murmured against the Manna.

Topbel] this is thought to be a towne, called afterwards Pella, which was northward from where Moses now spake.

Laban] in Greeke, Lobon; of others Lybia; a Citie lying from them northwest.

Hazereth] by interpretation, Court-yards, & so the Greeke expounds it: a place lying eastward. Of Hazereth wee reade also in Num. 11. 35. and 13. 1. Vnto it the Chaldee here referreth it, saying, In Hazereth where they provoked God for flesh.

Dizabab] a region, wherein was the Citie Mezabab, as some suppose. Zabab signifies gold; and so the Greeke here translateth, by the gold-mines. The Chaldee referres it to the golden Calfe which they made. All these are limits of the place where Moses gave this Deuteronomie, which was without the holy Land, and river Iordan (wherein Baptisme was administred, Matth. 3.) environed with places, which in name and situation, signified affliction: and teach us the use of this Law, which is to afflict the soule by shewing it sinne, and to prepare us for Christ, who by faith bringeth us to his rest in the heavenly Canaan, Hebrewes 4. 1, 2. 3. &c.

2 Ver. 2. Eleven dayes journey] so the Chaldee expounds it, adding also the word journey. Some of the Hebrewes thinke, that in eleven dayes, all things in this Booke of Deuteronomie were by Moses rehearsed. Neither could it be any long time, seeing Moses began the first day of the eleventh month, ver. 3. and having ended all things in this booke, died and was mourned for thirty dayes, Deut. 34. 8. Then Iosua sendeth spies to view the land, Ios. 2. leadeth the people thorow Iordan, Ios. 3. circumciseth them, and after keepeth the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month, Ios. 5.

Horeb] called also Sinai, the mount where the law was given; see Exod. 3. 1. mount Seir] the mountaine countrey of Seir, wherein the Edomites dwelt, Gen. 36. 8. 9. Kadesh barnea] the southerne border of the land of Canaan, Num. 34. 4. Though the way was so short, yet Israel for their sinnes wandred forty yeares in the wilderness, as God had threatned, Numb. 14. 33. 34. in which time all the fathers died.

V. 3. Fortieth year] of Israels coming out of Egypt. In the first month of this yeare, Maria, Moses sister, died, Numb. 20. 1. in the first day of the fifth month thereof, Aaron his brother died, Num. 33. 38. and now at the end of the yeare, Moses himselfe dieth, when hee had repeated the Law, and renewed the Covenant betweene God & his people Israel.

Ver. 4. Sibon] the storie hereof see in Num. 21. and after in Deut. 2. 26. &c. The slaughter of Sibon and Og, was an encouragement to Israel, for their after warres; and an argument to move them unto thankfull obedience to the Law now repeated. in Astaroth, in Edrei] he dwelt in Astaroth, and was smitten in Edrei, where the battell was fought, Numb. 21. 33. or as the Greeke translateth it, he dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrei, for they were both Cities in Og's land, Ios. 13. 31. and Og is said to have reigned in Astaroth, and Edrei, Ios. 13. 12. In Gen. 14. 5. it is called Astaroth Karnaim.

Ver. 5. began] or, willingly tooke upon him: for the word implieth willingness and contentedness: see Gen 18. 27. So all Ministers should feed their flocks willingly, and of a ready mind, 1 Pet. 5. 2. And Moses began to declare, that is, hee declared as Iesus began to say unto his Disciples, Luke 12. 1. that is, hee said unto them, Mat. 16. 6. and his disciples began to plucke the eares of corne, Matth. 12. 1 that is, they plucked, Luke 6. 1.

to declare] or, to make plaine, clearly manifest, to the understanding of the people, as in Habak. 2. 2. a thing is said to be made plaine in writing, that he may run that readeth it.

Ver. 6. dwelt] or sitten (that is, continued) much. They came to that mount, in the third month after their departure out of Egypt, Exod. 19. 1. 2. and removed from the mount, the 20. of the second month in the second yeare, Num. 10. 11. 12. so they remained there almost a whole year, where they received the Law, or Old Testament, & had made a Tabernacle for God to dwell among them: from thence God calleth them by word and signe, the cloud removing, Num. 10. 11. 13. 33. to journey towards Canaan, the land promised to Abraham, the figure of their heavenly inheritance by faith in Christ. The law is not for men to continue under, but for a time, till they be fitted and brought unto Christ: see Gal. 3. 16. 17. 18. & 4. 1. 5. Heb. 3. 18. 19. and 4. 6. 11.

Ver. 7. Amorite] put for Amorites, as the Greeke translateth, whose neighbours were the Canaanites,

- naanites, Pherezites, and other Nations promised to be their possession, Exod. 23. 23, 28, 31. side] or, sea Port, which was their Western border, Num. 34. 6. Lebanon] which was a mount on the North part of the land. Euphrates] in Hebrew, Phrab; which was their Eastern bound, in the utmost extent without Jordan. And so far Solomon reigned, 1 King. 4. 21. Of this Euphrates, see the notes on Gen. 2. 14.
- 8 Verse 8. I have given] or, I give: which implyeth both Israel's right unto the land, Levit. 25. 23. Judg. 11. 23, 24. and their assured victorie over the inhabitants, Exo. 23. 27, 31. Both these proceeding from the gracious gift of God: as eternall life, (shadowed by this land) is also the gift of God through Iesus Christ our Lord, Rom. 6. 23. Seed] that is, children or posteritie: see the notes on Gen. 13. 15.
- 9 Verse 9. I said] Moses was occasioned unto this motion, not onely by the conscience of his own inability (here mentioned) but by the counsell of Iethro, and commandment of the Lord, Exod. 18. 14, 18, 19, 21, 23. Thus the people were furnished with all helpes, for their orderly and peaceable travels.
- 10 Verse 10. As the Starres] so the promise was fulfilled which Abraham beleeved, Gen. 15. 5, 6. They were six hundred thousand men, besides women and children, Exod. 12. 37. Numb. 1. see also Deut. 10. 22.
- 11 Verse 11. Add] that is, increase: Moses envied not their multitude, but wished them still more, as David also did, Psa. 115. 14. And the increase of the Church is a speciall blessing, fulfilled in Christ, as Isay 49. 20, 21. & 54. 1, 2, 3.
- 12 Verse 12. Your cumbrance] or, wearisome molestation; trouble, as Isay 1. 14. this sheweth the Magistrates office to be weighty and laborious. And by your cumbrance, understand, the cumbrance that cometh unto me by you. For when a people is increased, the care and trouble of their Governours is increased also, 1 King. 3. 8, 9. 2 Corinthians 11. 28.
- 13 Verse 13. Give yee] of your owne looking out, and choise. So Ministers were lookt out, and presented by the people, Acts 1. 15, 23. and 6. 3, 5, 6. In Exod. 18. 25. it is said, Moses chose men of ability, &c. Here the people gave them, and after in verse 15. Again, Moses gave, that is, made them heads: for when things are done by many, under the government of one principall, they are said to be done by them, or by him. See the Annotations on Num. 21. 21. understanding] or prudent: the Greeke translateth, skilfull, or indued with knowledge; which word the Apostle useth, Jam. 3. 13. knowne] or expert, as the word signifieth in Esa. 53. 3. This latter the Greeke favourereth here, and in ver. 15. Compare Exod. 18. 21. where the qualities of Rulers are set downe. Heads] that is, Captaines, Governours, or Leaders, as the Greeke here translateth; and in v. 15. and c. 5. v. 23. and often otherwhere.
- 15 Verse 15. and gave them] that is, set them, made them, or constituted them, as the Greeke and Chaldee versions explaine it. So, hee hath given thee over them for King, 2 Chro. 9. 8. is expounded, be bath set (or constituted) thee King, 1 King. 10. 9. Officers] in Hebrew, Shotrim: they were such as executed the Magistrates lawes, as the Hebrews thinke: see the notes on Deut. 16. 18. among] or, to your Tribes. The Greeke translateth it, to your Judges: which seemeth to be a mistaking, Shophim for Shibim: although even in the Hebrew Text we may see one of these put for another, as Judges in 1 Chron. 17. 6. which in 2 Sam. 7. 7. is Tribes.
- 16 Verse 16. Hear betweene your brethren] to wit, the causes and controversies betweene them. Hebr. To heare, which phrase is often used in commandements, as is noted on Exo. 13. 3. and it may be a defective speech; for hearing, heare yee; that is, heare diligently. judge justice] that is, just and righteous judgement: which is opposed unto judging according to the appearance, John 7. 24. his stranger] that is, the stranger that is with him, or contendeth with him: as, he that eateth my bread, Psa. 41. 10. that is, which eateth bread with me, John 13. 18.
- 17 Verse 17. respect persons] or, acknowledge faces, either by honouring the person of the mighty, or by contemning a poore man in his cause, Levit. 19. 15. Exo. 23. 3. Solomon noteth this as one of the things belonging to the wise, that it is not good to acknowledge faces (or respect persons) in judgement, Prov. 24. 23. alike the small, &c.] that is, the small as well as the great, and the great as well as the small. Hebr. like small, like great. It implieth both persons, and causes. of man] or, of any man. that is Gods] or, of God, and belonging to him: appointed by his Law. So in 2 Chron. 19. 6. Te judge not for man, but for the LORD. And a like phrase is in another case, The battell is not yours, but Gods, 2 Chron. 20. 15. the cause] or, the word, the matter. See Exod. 18. 22.
- 18 Verse 18. all the things] Hebr. all the words. Thus Moses faithfully taught the Judges and people all their duties, and they had a perfect Law. So Christ, (who was faithful to him that appointed him, as Moses was, Hebr. 3. 2.) made knowne to his Disciples, all things that hee had heard of his father, Joh. 15. 15. which they should teach also his people to observe, Mat. 28. 20.
- 19 Verse 19. jourried] or departed. Here Moses sheweth the obedience which they began to shew unto God, in leaving the mounts of God, the place which might seeme sanctified, and where men might have said, Lord, it is good for us to be here: as Matth. 17. 4. great] for it bordered upon many countries, Madian, Edom, Moab, &c. and fearfull, for the many troubles and terrours in it. Num. 11. 1, &c. it was a land of deserts and of pits, a land of drought and of the shadow of death, a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt, Jer. 2. 6. wherein were fierie serpents and scorpions, Deut. 8. 15. It was the wildernesse of Pharan, Num. 10. 12. and 13. 1. where Ismael dwelt, when his mother Agar and hee had lost themselves in wandering, after that they were cast out of Abrahams house,

- house, Gen. 21. 21. It figured the estate and dominion of the law, thorow which Gods people passe with many wants, sins, terrours, and rings of conscience, &c. Compare Psal. 63. 2. and 32. 4. and 107. 4, 5. and the healing of all these spirituall defects by the Gospel, Eia. 40. 3, 4. Marke 16. 18. of the moines] that is, which leadeth to the moines of the Amorites; a people high as Cedars, strong as Oakes, Amos 2. 9, 10. Kadesh-barnea] called sometime Kadesh onely; it was in the wilderness of Pbaran, Num. 13. 26.
- 21 Verse 21. discouraged] or, cast downe, broken: which word, when it is applied to the minde, signifieth discouragement through feare. Here Moses shewed them the right that they had in the promises of God; the ability which they had in him to obtaine them; and his commandement to take their inheritance set before them.
- 23 Verse 23. was good] that is, pleased, or liked me well: because it was approved, or at least permitted of the Lord, Num. 13. 2, 3. For prudent policie (so it be not mixed with unbeliefe) doth well besee me us, in the execution of Gods commandements. So Iosua sendeth Spies and useth other stratagems, Jos. 2, &c. one man of a Tribe] or, for a Tribe, of every Tribe one: See Num. 13. 2, 4, &c. where their names are set downe, and the charge given them.
- 24 Verse 24. Eshcol] that is, the Cluster of grapes, whereof the place had the name, Num. 13. 25.
- 25 Verse 25: the fruit] as grapes, pomegranates, figs, Num. 13. 23. a good land] flowing with milke and honey, Num. 13. 27.
- 26 Verse 26. rebelled] in Greeke, disobeyed: properly it signifieth turned, or changed, as in Ezek. 5. 6. which figuratively is used for rebellion or disobedience, whereby Gods Word is as it were changed and disannulled. the mouth] that is, the word, as the Greeke translateth. So Exo. 17. 1. Gen. 24. 57. and after here in verse 43. Of their rebellion, see Num. 14. 2, 3, &c.
- 27 Verse 27. In the hatred] or, for the hatred of Iehovah (wherewith he hateth) us: that is, for that the Lord hateth us; as is in the Greek version. See the like phrase in Gen. 19. 16. and 29. 20. Hof. 3. 1. This evill saying, Moses would not have to come out of the mouth of their enemies, Deut. 9. 28. and it sheweth the height of their sin, which imputed that to hatred, wherein God manifested his love, Deut. 4. 37. and 7. 8.
- 28 Verse 28. to melt] that is, discouraged, or (as the Chaldee translateth it) broken. The Greeke saith, Have turned away our hearts. David amplifieth this similitude, in Psal. 22. 15. My heart is as wax, it is molten, &c. So Jos. 2. 11. and 7. 5. and 14. 8. E- say 19. 1. These brethren were ten of the twelve Spies, sent to view the land, Num. 13. 28, &c. Anahims] in Greek and Chaldee, Giants: see Num. 13. 28, 33. where it is singular Anak.
- 30 Verse 30. He] the Chaldee paraphraseth, his word will fight for you.
- 31 Verse 31. bare the] this word meaneth not bearing of the body onely, but bearing of their infirmities, and suffering the evils and troubles in the education of them, as a father doth in his children: which the Greeke explaineth by eropophorese, a word that Paul useth in Act. 13. 18. where the Syriack expoundeth it, nourished: or, as some copies have it, eropophorese, bee suffered their manners.
- Verse 32. yet in this thing] or, for this word: notwithstanding this exhortation and encouragement, you beleevd not. in Iehovah] Chaldee, in the word of the LORD. This unbeliefe Paul noteth to be the cause why they entred not into the Lords rest, Hebr. 3. 1, 2, 18, 19.
- Verse 33. Who went] namely, by his Arke, Fire, and Cloud, the signes of his presence, Num. 10. 33, 34. or, who goeth, to wit, still before you.
- Verse 35. If there shall] that is, surely there shall not: as Paul openeth the phrase, Hebr. 3. 11, 18. Though Moses intreated for the people, Numb. 14. 13, 19. and the Lord pardoned them, that they were not then destroyed, Numb. 14. 20. yet he sware (and so it was irrecoverable, and without repentance, Psal. 110. 4.) that they should not come into the promised land: see the notes on Num. 14. see] that is, come into and enjoy: as to see good, is to enjoy the same, Psal. 106. 5.
- Verse 36. Galeb] one of the twelve Spies who was faithfull: see Num. 13. 6, 30. and 14. 6, &c. fully followed] Hebr. fulfilled after Iehovah; which the Greeke translateth, followed the things pertaining to the Lord. This he did, being guided by another spirit, Num. 14. 24.
- Verse 37. with me] with Aaron also; for they both were in one transgression and punishment, Numb. 20. 10, 12, 24. for your sakes] for the people provoked his spirit, whereupon he uttered his sinne with his lips, Psal. 106. 32, 33. his sinne proceeded also from unbeliefe: see Num. 20. 12. Thus God shewed severity towards all, after many provocations: and by it the people were taught, that not Moses Law, but Jesus Gospel should bring them into their heavenly rest.
- Verse 38. Ioshuab] or Iehoshuab; in Greeke, Iesus: he was another of the Spies; see Num. 13. 8. 16. and 14. 6, 38. standeth] that is, ministreth, or, is thy servant, as the phrase meaneth, Gen. 18. 8. and so he is named Moses minister, Jos. 1. 1. strengthen] by word and signe, which was imposition of hands, whereby Moses put off his honour upon Jesus, and he was filled with the Spirit, Num. 27. 18, 20, 23. Deut. 34. 9.
- Verse 39. for a prey] to be spoiled and devoured of the enemy: of this their speech, see Num. 14. 3. they shall goe in] after forty yeeres wandring in the wilderness, and bearing their fathers whoredomes: see Numb. 14. 31, 33. So God sheweth grace to weaklings and babes in Christ, 1 Cor. 1. 28. Mat. 11. 25.
- Ver. 40. way of] that is, which leadeth towards the red sea, where Israel had bene baptised, Exo. 14. and whither they were now led again, to learn repentance and a new life. See Num 14. 25.
- Verse 41. finned] The people mourned greatly, when they heard that evill tidings from the Lord; confessed their sin, & offered amendment, Num.

Num. 14. 39. 40. but their repentance was not according to God; (for presently they rushed into another extremity;) neither could they reverse the decree passed against them.

his weapons of war] or, the weapons of his warre, which is an Hebrew phrase very common, translated in Greeke, his weapons of War: so in Dan. 9. 24. citie of thy holynesse, that is, thy holy citie; and the house of my prayer; and many the like. pressed forward] assayed of your owne accord, or stronged; as the Greeke translateth, gathered together; the Chaldee, ye began. The Hebrew word is used here only: in Num. 14. 44. there is said, they loftily presumed, or lifted up themselves; answerable to their presumption here following.

42 Ver. 42. I am not] the Chaldee expoundeth it, my majesty (or presence) dwelleth not among you: see Num 14. 42. smitten] in Greeke, broken, or crushed. The Lord threatned their fall by the sword of the Amalekites and Canaanites, Num. 14. 43.

43 Ver. 43. were presumptuous] or, were proud, arrogant: compare Numb. 14. 44. The people having by their evill heart and unfaithfull, departed from the living God, would return to him by the workes of their owne hands; which was a presumptuous sin, and shewed their repentance not to be sincere, but that the flesh repined and struggled against the chastisements of God, not willing to beare the punishment of their iniquity. See the notes on Num. 14.

44 Ver. 44. Amorite] with the Amalekites: See Num. 14. 45. Bees doe] or Bees use to doe: which when they are angred, get them together, and fly on the faces of their provokers: see Psal. 118. 12. Our finnes are enemies, like Bees, many compact in the hive of the heart: being troubled & provoked, they become more eager and fierce, sting and pursue us. They cannot be subdued but by faith in Christ (as they that were stung of Serpents were healed by him, Num. 21.) for, by the workes of the Law, no sinne can bee expelled, Rom 7. 7. 8, &c. Hormah] the Greeke saith, from Seir unto Herma: see Numb. 14. 45.

45 Ver. 45. returned] the Greeke saith, ye sate down and wept. heard not] Chaldee, accepted not your prayer. This figured, how Israel following the Law of justice, could not attaine unto it, because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law, Rom. 9. 31. 32.

46 Ver. 46. Kadesh] a large wilderness, where Israel abode long, as appeareth by Num. 13. 27. and 20. 1. 14. 21. Iudg. 11. 17. Deut. 2. 14.

CHAP. II.

1. The storie is continued, that the Israelites were not suffered to meddle with the Edomites, 9. nor with the Moabites; 19. nor with the Ammonites; 24. but with Sihon the Amorite; who refusing peace, and opposing himselfe, 33. was subdued by them.

AND wee turned and tooke our journey into the wilderness, by the way of the Red sea, as Iehovah had spoken unto me: and we compassed mount Seir, many dayes. And Iehovah spake unto me, saying, Yee have compassed this mountain, long enough: turne you northward. And command thou the people, saying, Yee are to passe thorow the coast of your brethren, the sonnes of Esau, which dwell in Seir: and they shall be afraid of you; and take ye great heed unto your selves. Meddle not with them, for I will not give you of their land, even to the treading of the sole of the foot, because I have given mount Seir, for a possession unto Esau. Yee shall buy meat of them for money, that yee may eat: and yee shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drinke. For Iehovah thy God hath blessed thee in every worke of thy hand; he knoweth thy walking thorow this great wilderness: these forty yeares Iehovah thy God hath bin with thee, thou hast not lacked any thing. And we passed by from our brethren the sonnes of Esau, that dwelt in Seir, thorow the way of the plaine, from Elath, and from Ezion-Gaber: And wee turned & passed by, by the way of the wilderness of Moab. And Iehovah said unto me, Distresse not Moab; neither meddle thou with them in battell: for I will not give thee of his land, for a possession; because I have given Ar unto the sons of Lot for a possession. The Emims before time dwelt therein, a people great & many, & tall as the Anakims. They also were accounted Giants, as the Anakims: and the Moabites call them Emims. And in Seir the Horims dwelt, before time, and the sons of Esau possessed them, and destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead, as Israel did, unto the land of his possession, which Iehovah gave unto them. Now rise up, and passe you over the brook Zered: and we passed over the brooke Zered. And the daies, in which wee came from Kadesh-Barnea, untill we passed over the brook Zered, were thirty and eight yeares, untill all the generation of the men of war were wasted out from among the campe, as Iehovah sware unto them. And indeed, the hand of Iehovah was against them, to destroy them from among the Campe, untill they were consumed. And it was, when all the men of war were consumed, and dead, from among the people; Then Iehovah spake unto mee, saying, Thou art to passe over this day, thorow

19 thorow Ar, the coast of Moab. And thou shalt come nigh, over against the sonnes of Ammon; distresse them not, neither meddle with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the sons of Ammon any possession, because I have given it for a possession to the sonnes of Lot. That also was accounted a 20 land of Giants: Giants dwelt therein before time; and the Ammonites call them Zam-
 21 zummims. A people great, and many, and tall, as the Anakims: and Iehovah destroyed them from before them; and they possessed them, and dwelt in their stead. As hee did 22 to the sonnes of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, when he destroyed the Horims from before them; and they possessed them, and haue
 23 dwelt in their stead unto this day. And the Avims, which dwelt in Hazerim, even to Gaza: the Caphtorims, which came forth out of Caphtor, destroyed them, and dwelt in 24 their stead. Rise ye up, take your journey, and passe over the brooke Arnon: see, I have given into thy hand, Sihon king of Heshbon, the Amorite; and his land; begin, possesse it, 25 and meddle with him in battell. This day wil I begin to give the dread of thee, and the feare of thee upon the peoples under all the heavens, who shall heare report of thee, and shall tremble and bee in anguish because of 26 thee. And I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth, unto Sihon, king of 27 Heshbon, with words of peace, saying, Let me passe thorow thy land; by the way, by the way will I goe; I will not turne aside, to 28 the right hand or to the left. Thou shalt sell me meat for money, that I may eat; and give me water for money, that I may drinke: only,
 29 I will passe thorow on my feet. As did unto me the sons of Esau that dwell in Seir, and the Moabites that dwell in Ar: untill I 30 Iehovah our God giveth us. But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us passe thorow him; for Iehovah thy God hardned his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that hee might give him into thy hand, as this day.
 31 And Iehovah said unto me, Behold, I have begun to give before thee, Sihon & his land; begin, possesse it, that thou maiest possesse his 32 land. And Sihon came out against us, hee and all his people to battell, at Iahaz. And 33 Iehovah our God delivered him before us: and we smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people. And wee tooke all his cities, at 34 that time; and utterly destroyed of every citie the men, and the women, and the little ones; we left none to remaine. Onely the cattell wee tooke for a prey unto our selves, and the spoile of the Cities which we took.

From Aroer, which is by the brinke of the brooke Arnon, and the citie which is by the brooke, even unto Gilead, there was not a citie that exalted it selfe above us; Iehovah our God delivered all before us. Onely unto the land of the sonnes of Ammon, thou approachedst not, nor unto any place of the brooke Iabbok, or the cities of the mountaine, or whatsoever Iehovah our God commanded us.

Annotations.

HAD spoken] as is before mentioned, Deut. 1. 40. which then the people were unwilling to doe, but would needs goe fight, till they had learned by their discomfiture, what it was to disobey, and were enforced to yeeld unto the word of God. mount Seir] the mountainy countrey of Seir, which was Edoms Land, Gen. 36. 8. 9. 20. but they went in the wilderness and were sore cumbered in the way: see Numbers 21. 4.

Verf. 3. Long enough] a like speech God used before, Deut. 1. 6. so here is mentioned a second calling of Israel, from the desarts of Seir, to goe northward again towards Canaan, after they had wandred almost thirty eight yeares in Kadesh wilderness, about mount Seir, verf. 14. by which travell, God taught them to mortifie their unruly affections, & by the death of so many thousands there, led them to seeke life (by repentance and faith) in the heavenly Canaan, seeing they could not come into the earthly. In the meane while, the Amorites, Canaanites, &c. (unto whom God gave this long time of repentance) were hardned in their finnes, and tooke occasion to insult over Gods people, beholding their afflictions: but the posterity of Israel were humbled and prepared for to receive the land promised. Northward] towards Canaan; Not the way they went before by Kadesh Barnea, but betweene the coasts of Edom on the one hand, and of Moab and Ammon on the other; so to enter into Canaan, thorow Sihon the Amorites land. Thus Gods word was their director, unto all places, and in all actions: in which respect these histories of holy Scripture excell all other humane histories in the world.

Verf. 4. afraid] as was prophesied of them, and others, in Exod. 15. 15. &c. yet Edom was a mighty people, settled in their mountaine, & fortified. See also Num. 22. 3. great] or vehement beed; meaning, that they offered Edom no wrong, neither suffered themselves to be overcome by them: Walke wisely towards them that are without, Col. 4. 5.

Verf. 5. Meddle not] or, contend not with them to wit, in battell, as is explained in vers. 9. and so the Greeke here saith, Make not warre with them. As all warres should be made by wise counsels, Prov. 24. 6. so chiefly by the mouth of God, who teacheth mans hands to war, Psalm. 144. 1. who hath willed us, If it be possible, as much as lyeth in you, bee at peace with all men, Rom. 12. 18. In speciall it was commanded, Thou shalt not abhorre an Edomite; for hee is thy brother, Deut. 23. 7. to the treading, &c. that is, not a foot bredib; the Greeke translateth it, not the step (or bredib) of a foot: which phrase Luke useth, in Act. 7. 5. concerning Abraham in Canaan. Though the Edomites were wicked, yet God continued their state for a time; during which no man might lawfully disturbe them. By this God teacheth also the difference betweene Esau's portion & Iakobs: see Rom. 9. 11. 12. &c. Co. 1. 12. See the notes on Gen. 36. 43. a possession or, an inheritance to Esau; that is (as the Greeke translateth) to the sonnes of Esau. The most high divided to the Nations their inheritance, Deut. 32. 8. and Esau had their portion and state long before Israel, Gen. 36. 8. 31. 43. Is. 24. 4. with such wordly baits Gods people should not be allured.

6 Verse 6. buy Hebr. breake: which both Greek and Chaldee translate, buy: see Gen. 41. 56. in the Annotations. In the strangers land nothing was to be had freely, but with money, figuring the estate of those under the Law; in Canaan they had all things freely; signifying the free grace in Christ, Deut. 11. 9, 10, &c. Esa. 55. 1. Rev. 21. 6. money Hebr. silver. buy Hebr. dig; which the Chaldee translateth, buy; the Greeke, receive by measure. It may be meant of buying wells digged out of Edoms ground; for so they were wont; see Gen. 26. 18. &c. Num. 21. 18. or, after the Arabick manner, which useth this word for buying.

7 Verse 7. he knoweth this is meant of carefull regarding their estate, wants, &c. wherefore the Chaldee paraphraseth, He hath sufficiently given thee things necessarie when thou walkest. Iebvab in Chaldee the word of the LORD.

8 Verse 8. we passed by though the Edomites shewed great unkindnesse, that would not suffer Israel to passe thorow their countrey quietly, Num. 20. 14, 18. &c. yet upon warning and charge given from God, his people turned away from fight, and contented themselves in their tentations, with the promises of God. See Numb. 20. 21. Iudg. 11. 17. Afterward this favour of Israel, and the ill reward of Edom, Moab, and Ammon, is remembered in the prayer of King Iehosaphat, 2 Chron. 20. 10, 11, 12. Ezion-gaber these were port towns, by the brink of the Red sea, in the land of Edom, 1 King. 9. 26.

9 Verse 9. Moab that is, the Moabites, as the next words manifest. So the Greeke, deale not enmiously with the Moabites. They were the posterity of Lot, Gen. 19. 37. which dealt unkindly with Israel, as Edom had done, Iudg. 11. 17. and were (for their neglect of duty) not to enter into the congregation of the Lord, Deuter. 23. 3, 4. They were also become Idolaters, Num. 25. 1, 2.

and 21. 29. yet God suffered not Israel to hurt them, for the reasons before alleaged. medie or, contend, as before in vers. 5. Ar a chiefe mountaine, and citie thereon, Numb. 21. 15. 28. put here for the whole countrey. The Greeke for Ar here hath Aroer, whereof see vers. 36. so in vers. 18. 29.

Verse 10. Enims in Greeke, Ommains, by interpretation, terrible ones, and so the Chaldee translateth: see Gen. 14. 5. Anakims in the Chaldee, Giants: see Num. 13. 29.

Verse 11. Giants in Hebrew, Rephaim, which the Greeke keepeth as a proper name Raphaim, of one Rapha, who was a Giant; whereupon it is a name for all Giants: see the notes on Gen. 14. 5. so after in Deut. 3. 11.

Verse 12. Horims or, Chorites; in Greeke, Chorians: see Gen. 14. 6. and 36. 20. possessed or, disinherited, and so succeeded in their inheritance: the Greeke translateth, destroyed them. as Israel did to wit, afterward, in the daies of Iosua: thus it is spoken by way of prophesie; or, it may have reference to that part of Israels inheritance which they had now conquered on the out side of Iordan. By this and the like, in ver. 22, 23. God would teach Israel not to insult upon their outward conquests (such as he had given to other nations before them) but to seeke for an heavenly countrey. This he remembred to them by the Prophet, Amos 9. 7. Are ye not as the sonnes of Ethiopians unto me, O sons of Israel? &c.

Verse 13. brooke or bourne: a valley and river running therein. So the Greeke saith, the valley Zared. Of it see Num. 21. 12.

Verse 14. from Kadesh barnea to wit, from the time that they came to Kadesh barnea (where they abode in the wilderness of Kadesh many daies, Deut. 1. 46.) and after till they passed over Zared. swore or, had sworne: see Numb. 14. 21, 22, 23.

Verse 15. the band the Chaldee expounds it, A plague from before the Lord. This is after mentioned, how God consumed their daies in vanity, and their yeares in baslie terror, Psalm. 78. 33. and upon occasion of this mortality, Moses made the 90. Psalme. to destroy with trouble and tumult: for the word elsewhere signifieth, to trouble, Exod. 14. 24. so in Deut. 7. 23.

Verse 19. sonnes of Ammon the Ammonites, the posteritie of Ben-ammi the sonne of Lot, Gen. 19. 38. so in vers. 37.

Verse 20. Giants or Rephaim, as vers. 11. Zamzumims that is, presumptuous wicked ones; in Greeke Zommeim. These are thought to be those that were of old called Zuzims, Gen. 14. 5. The Chaldee calleth them Chushbanim.

Verse 22. Horims or Horites; Hebr. the Chorite; in Greeke, the Chorream: see Gen. 14. 6.

Verse 23. Avims or Avites; in Greeke, Ezims: these were the ancient inhabitants of the Philistians countrey, Is. 13. 3. Caphtorims the Philistians: see Gen. 10. 14. Though Israel fought the battels of the Lord, & had their limits & territories in speciall manner appointed by his Word, Num.

Num 34. yet other nations also had by his secret providence, their times appointed, and the bounds of their habitation, Act. 17. 26. Hee increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them; Hee enlargeth the nations, and straiteneth them, Iob 12. 23. Wherefore he saith by the Prophet, Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? And the Philistines from Captor, and the Syrians from Kir? Amos 9. 7.

24 Verſ. 24. brooke] or, as the Greeke translateth, the valley Arnon: as verse 13. see Num. 21. 13. Sibon] in Greeke, Seon king of Esibon. He had aforetime taken this Countrey from the Moabites, Num. 21. 26. which now God taketh againe from him, and giveth to the Israelites, who else might not have taken any of Moabs possession, verse 9.

meddle] or contend. Here after long travels in the wilderness, God calleth his people unto warres (which their fathers before were afraid of:) and gave them his word to embolden them, as his truth was their shield and buckler.

25 Verſ. 25. report] or fame; Hebr. bearing, which the Greeke translateth name. See this promise fulfilled among the Canaanites, Ios. 2. 9. 10. 11.

be in anguish] have paines as a woman in travell. A similitude often used to shew the terrours of conscience in the wicked, Psal. 48. 7. and the mighty power of God, who taketh away the hearts of the chiefe of the people of the earth, Iob 12. 24.

26 Verſ. 26. Kedemoth] there was a Citie of that name in Sihons Countrey, which after was given to the tribe of Reuben, Ios. 13. 18. and by them given to the Levites, Ios. 21. 37. neere which there was a wilderness where Israel now lay, when they sent this ambassage. of peace] according to the law after given, Deut. 20. 10. which being refused, the war was now just before God and men.

27 Verſ. 27. by the way by the way] that is, only by the way, and not turning aside into fields, or into vineyards: see Numb. 21. 21. 22. where it is called, The kings way. So in Deut. 16. 20. Justice Justice, that is, only justice, and all manner justice.

28 Verſ. 28. fell] Hebr. break, as in verse 6.

29 Verſ. 29. of Esau] the Edomites, who though at first they denied Israel passage thorow their land, Num. 20. 18. &c. yet as they passed along their coast, they suffered them to buy necessaries. untill, &c.] It appeareth by this, that if Sihon had suffered them to passe thorow his land, they would not at this time have taken his Countrey, but first have conquered the Canaanites beyond Jordan: but upon Sihons deniall they now set upon him. For God doth not impart all his counsell at once to the wicked; but they refusing to yeeld unto any thing, doe hasten their owne destruction. Compare Exod. 3. 18. So the Gospel, the word of peace, is offered unto all; which they that refuse, hasten their owne judgement.

30 Verſ. 30. thorow him] that is, thorow his countrey: see Numb. 20. 18. hardened] as is spoken of Pharaoh also, and others; see Exod. 4. 21. in the annotations. The like is said of the Canaanites beyond the river, Ios. 11. 20.

32 Verſ. 32. to battell] or, unto war; refusing peace, as they of whom David saith, When I speake (for peace) they are for war, Psal. 120. 7. Iobak] in Greeke, Iaffa: see Numb. 21. 23.

Verſ. 33. smote him] with the edge of the sword, Numb. 21. 24. his sonnes] or, his sonne: the Hebrew hath both readings, the one in the consonant letters, the other in the vowels: so in Deut. 33. 9. The Greeke and Chaldee translate, his sonnes: it may intend all and every of his sons, or all the sonnes he had, which were but one. So Manasses caused his sonnes to passe thorow the fire, 2 Chron. 33. 6 which another Prophet writeth, his son, 2 King. 21. 6. See the notes on Gen. 46. 23.

Verſ. 34. of every citie] or, wee destroyed every citie, (consisting) of men, and women, and little ones: or, citie full of men, and women, &c. This was according to the Law, Deut. 20. 14. 15. 16. and here is fulfilled upon the wicked, the judgement which is written, His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off: his remembrance shall perish from the earth, Iob 18. 16. 17.

Verſ. 36. by the brooke] or, in the bourn (or valley) as the Greeke translateth it. This citie was Ar, Numb. 21. 15. Gilead] the mount Galaad, as the Greeke saith. Of it see Gen. 31. 21. &c.

exalted it selfe] that is, was too strong for us; or, as the Greeke expounds it, escaped us. before us] as the Greeke saith, into our hands. Here the whole victory is ascribed unto God, which removeth the mountaines, and they know not; which overturneth them in his anger; which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble; Iob 9. 5. 6.

Verſ. 37. thou approachedst not] in Greeke, wee came not, meaning, to war against the Ammonites, or invade their possessions. any place] or, all the place; Hebr. all the land; in Greeke, all (places) pertaining to the brooke Iabok; to wit, on the outside thereof; for Sihon ruled from Aroer, &c. unto the river Iabok, which was the border of the sonnes of Ammon, Ios. 12. 2. and all that the Israelites possessed: but the land of the Ammonites, which also reached unto Iabok, Numb. 21. 24. they tooke not: so that Iephtah answered truly, Israel tooke not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the sonnes of Ammon, Iudg. 11. 15.

of the mountaine] possessed also by the Ammonites, whose border was strong, Num. 21. 24. commanded us] or, charged us, namely, to abstaine from, that is, forbid us to meddle with. The word command is used also in things forbidden: see Deut. 4. 23. Now though the Moabites and Ammonites were thus spared by Israel, yet they ill rewarded them afterward, when they warred against Gods people, to cast them out of their possession, Iudg. 11. 4. 5. &c. 2 Chron. 20. 1. 10. 11. & ript up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border, Amos 1. 13. And dwelt in the cities of Gad, Ier. 49. 1. For which the Lord God of Israel plagued them, as also for their unkindnesse already past, a law is enacted against them, in Deut. 23. 3. 6.

CHAP. III.

1 The Story of the conquest of Og king of Basan:

11 the

11 The bignesse of his bed. 12 The distribution of those lands to the two Tribes, and halfe. 18 Who were to goe over armed before their brethren till they also had rest. 21 Moses encourageth Josua. 23 Prayer that himselfe might goe into the land. 26 Which God would not permit, but suffereth him to see it a farre off.

1 AND wee turned and went up the way of Bashan: and Og the King of Bashan came out against us, hee and all
2 his people, to the battell at Edrei. And Jehovah said unto me, Feare him not, for into thy hand have I given him, and all his people, and his land: and thou shalt doe unto him, as thou didst unto Sihon King of the 3 Amorites, which dwelt in Heshbon. And Jehovah our God gave into our hand Og also, the King of Bashan, and all his people: and we smote him, untill there was none left
4 him remaining. And we tooke all his Cities at that time; there was not a Citie which we tooke not from them: threescore Cities, all the region of Argob, the kingdome of Og in 5 Bashan. All these Cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and barres: besides unwalled Cities very many. And wee utterly
6 destroyed them, as we did unto Sihon king of Heshbon; utterly destroying of every Citie, the men, the women, and the little ones.
7 But all the cattell, and the spoile of the Cities, we tooke for a prey to our selves. And we tooke at that time, out of the hand of the 8 two kings of the Amorites, the land which is on this side Jordan, from the brooke of Arnon, unto mount Hermon. The Sidonians
9 call Hermon, Shirjon; and the Amorites call it Shenir. All the Cities of the plaine, and all Gilead, and all Bashan, unto Salcah and Edrei, Cities of the kingdome
10 of Og in Bashan. For onely Og king of Bashan remained of the remnant of Giants; behold his bedsted was a bedsted of iron; is it not in Rabbah of the sonnes of Ammon: nine cubits was the length thereof, and foure cubits the bredth thereof, after the cubit of 11 a man. And this land, which we possessed at that time, from Aroer which is by the river Arnon, and halfe mount Gilead, and the cities thereof, gave I to the Reubenites, and 12 to the Gadites. And the rest of Gilead, and all Bashan, the kingdome of Og gave I to the halfe Tribe of Manasses: all the region of Argob, with all Bashan, that which is called the land of Giants. Jair the son of Manasses, tooke all the country of Argob, unto the coast of Geshuri, and Maachathi, and called them after his owne name, Bashan Havoth Jair, unto this day. And to Machir I gave Gilead. And to the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, I gave from Gilead, even unto the river Arnon, halfe the valley, and the border: and unto the river Jabbok, the border of the sonnes of Ammon. And the plaine, and Jordan, and the coast thereof, from Chinnereth, and unto the Sea of the plaine, the sea of salt, under Ashdorth Pisgah, Eastward. And I commanded you at that time, saying, Jehovah your God hath given you this land to possesse it; ye shall passe over armed before your brethren the sonnes of Israel, all sonnes of power. But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattell, (I know that you have much cattell) shall abide in your Cities which I have given you. Untill Jehovah shall have given rest to your brethren, as unto you; and they also possesse the land which Jehovah your God giveth them, on that side Jordan: and then ye shall returne, every man unto his possession, which I have given unto you. And I commanded Josua, at that time, saying, Thine eies have seene all that Jehovah your God hath done unto these two Kings; so will Jehovah doe unto all the kingdomes whither thou passest. Ye shall not feare them; for Jehovah your God, he fighteth for you.

And I besought Jehovah for grace, at that time, saying; O Lord Jehovah, thou hast begun to shew thy servant thy greatnesse, and thy mighty hand; for what God (is there) in the heavens, or in the earth, that can doe according to thy workes, and according to thy powerfull acts? Let me passe over, I pray thee, and see the good land that is beyond Jordan; this good mountaine, and Lebanon. But Jehovah was exceeding wroth with me, for your sakes; and would not heare me: and Jehovah said unto me, Let it suffice thee; speake no more unto mee of this matter. Goe thou up to the top of Pisgah, and lift up thine eies, Seaward, and Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and see it with thine eies: for thou shalt not passe over this Jordan. But command thou Josua, and encourage him, and strengthen him: for he shall passe over before this people; and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see. And we abode in the valley over against Beth-Peor.

Annotation.

Annotations.

- 1 VV AY of Basan] in Greeke, the way that (leadeth) unto Basan; which Basan the Chaldee nameth Maiman; so in Numb. 21. 33. Edrei] in Greeke, Adraim. Of this battell, see Numb. 22. 33, &c.
- 3 Verse 3. his people] in Num. 21. 35. his fomes also are mentioned. none remaining] the Greeke translateth it, no seed: meaning none left alive, of whom, as of a seed, others might spring. So when the Prophet speaketh of a remnant, Esay 1. 9. the Apostle in Greeke calleth it, a seed, Rom. 9. 29.
- 4 Verse 4. threescore Cities] which sheweth the large dominion of this Giant Og, who reigned in mount Hermon, and in Salcah, and in all Basan, unto the border of the Geshurites, and the Maachabites, &c. Jos. 12. 4, 5. region] in Hebrew, a line, or card, such as lands are meted by, Amos 7. 17. Micha 2. 5. used figuratively for a countrey or region (as the Greeke and Chaldee also translate it) which is measured by line. Argob] a Province or Shire in Basan forementioned, 1 King. 4. 13.
- 5 Verse 5. unwalled] or, villages; in Hebr. Perazi; which the Greeke mistaking, turned cities of the Pherezites; but it meaneth unwalled townes (as Esth. 9. 19. Zach. 2. 4.) so named of their dwelling scattered.
- 6 Verse 6. destroying of every citie the men] or destroying every citie of men, &c. as in Deut. 2. 34. Thus God destroyed the Amorite before them; though his height was like the Cedars, and his strength as the Oakes, yet destroyed he his fruit from above, and his root from beneath, Amos 2. 9.
- 8 Verse 8. the land] The killing of the Amorites, and taking of their land, was a testimonie of Gods goodnesse and love unto his people, Psal. 136. 17, 22. an encouragement of them to fight against the residue of the heathen, Deut. 3. 21, 22. and a discouragement to the heathen themselves, Josua 2. 10, 11.
- 9 Verse 9. Sidonians] the dwellers in Sidon the great citie: the Greeke calleth the Phenicians. Shirjon] in Greeke, Sanior. This mount had five names, Hermon, Shirjon, Sbenir, and Sion, Deuteronomie 4. 48. and Hor, Numbers 34. 7. for that divers peoples called it by divers names, and because of divers parts of this mountaine: wherefore in Song 4. 8. Sbenir and Hermon are set downe as distinct: Shirjon in Psal. 29. 6. is by the Chaldee Paraphrast there expounded, the mount that bringeth forth fruits: and Sbenir (in Greeke Saner) is by the Chaldee heere expounded, the Snow-mountain: for it was so high that snow used to lye on the top of it. Amorites] Hebrew, the Amorite, they call it: which sheweth the singular number to be put for the whole nation.
- 11 Ver. 11. Giants] in Hebrew, Rephaim, which name the Greeke retaineth Rephaim, as before in Deut. 2. 11. This Og seemeth to be of the remnant of those Rephaims whom Chedorlaomer and the Kings smote in Ashteroth, Genes. 14. 5. for Og reigned in Ashteroth, Jos. 13. 13. is it not in Rabbah?] that is, it is in Rabbah: the question maketh it an earnest affirmation, as the Greeke also translateth it. Rabbah was the chiefe Citie of the Ammonites, their royall Citie, 2 Samuel 12. 26. The Greeke here translateth it, the chiefe of a man] which ordinarily is a foot and a halfe; but the Chaldee here translateth it, the cubits of the King.

Verse 12. Reubenites] Hebrew, the Reubenite, which the Chaldee expoundeth, the Tribe of Reuben, so v. 16. Of this gift, see Num. 32. 1, &c.

Ver. 13. of Manasses] for conquering the Amorites there, Num. 32. 39, 40. Argob] this the Chaldee calleth Tracona. Basan] in Chaldee, Maiman. Giants] in Hebrew, Rephaim, which the Chaldee expoundeth, Mighties.

Verse 14. Basan Chavosh Isir] the Chaldee saith, Maiman the tower of Isir: see Numbers 32. 41.

Verse 15. Gilead] in Greeke, Galaad; that is, the rest of Galaad, as verse 13.

Verse 17. Chimereib] or, Kimereth, as the Greek writeth it; which the Chaldee calleth Gimofar; in the New Testament, Gemejaret, Matth. 14. 34. see the notes on Numb. 34. 11. sea of salt] or, salt sea: see Gen. 14. 3.

Ashtoth Piggab] in Greeke, Asedoth Phassa, by interpretation, the Sireames (or Sheddings-out, that is, the Springs) of Piggab (or, of the bill) and so the Chaldee translateth it, The shedding (or, pouring-out) of the waters of Ramatha. Piggab is a hill, mentioned after in verse 27. and Ashtoth Piggab was afterward the name of a citie there adjoyning in Reuben land, Jos. 13. 20. So Josua 12. 3.

Verse 18. you] he speaketh to the Reubenites, and the rest on this side Jordan: see Num. 32. 20. &c. fomes of power] or, fomes of valour; that is, able and valiant men, as in 2 Sam. 13. 28. be ye fomes of valour, that is, be valiant men: so in 2 King. 2. 16. 1 Chron. 5. 18. The Greeke here expounds it, every prudent man; the Chaldee, all armed men of the armie.

Verse 21. Iosua] in Greeke, Iesus; see Num. 27. 18, &c. so will I Jehovah doe.] The examples of Gods former mercies, serve for the encouragement and strengthening of the faith of his people, in the like, or greater trials that may follow: such use also David made, 1 Sam. 17. 36, 37. and Paul, 2 Tim. 4. 17, 18.

Verse 22. he fighteth] or, he it is that fighteth, or (as the Greeke translateth) will fight. The Chaldee for He, saith, his Word. As Moses here encouraged Iesus the sonne of Nun, to fight the Lords battels in Canaan; so Moses and Elias, talking with Iesus the Sonne of God, told him of his departing, which hee should accomplish at Jerusalem, Luke 9. 30, 31. at what time this figure was fulfilled.

Here beginneth the 45. Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

23 Verse 23. I besought Jehovah for grace] or, I supplicated for grace unto Jehovah. Here Moses repeating his earnest prayer to goe into the land, and Gods deniall of his request, sheweth how greatly the peoples sinne, and his owne, displeated the Lord; Numb. 20.

24 Verse 24. Lord Jehovah] or, Lord God: the Greeke hath, Lord Lord: see Gen. 15. 2. for what God? meaning, there is none. The Chaldee turneth it thus, I that thou art God, whose glorious habitation is in the heavens above, and thou rulest in the earth beneath, and there is none that can doe according to thy workes. powerfull acts] Hebr. powers: whereby powerfull and mighty workes are often meant: as Psal. 106. 2. and 145. 4. Matth. 7. 22. 1 Cor. 12. 22. Galath. 3. 5.

25 Verse 25. mountaine] that is, mountainie country: see Exod. 15. 17. Lebanon] in Greeke, Antilibanon; in Chaldee, the house of the Sanctuary, because the Temple was built of the Cedars that grew on mount Lebanon, 1 King. 5. 6, 14. So the Temple is called Lebanon in Zach. 11. 1. But that seemeth not to be meant here; but rather the mount Lebanon, in the North part of the land, which was both an high and fragrant mountain, with sweet and goodly trees growing thereon: whereto the Scripture hath reference in Song 4. 11. This great desire Moses had, because of the premises which God had made to Israel, to be accomplished in that land, the figure of our heavenly heritage.

26 Verse 26. for your sakes] for they rebelling, grieved Moses, and caused him to sinne; for which, this wrath came upon him, Num. 20. 3, 12. Psal. 106. 32, 33. And the Lord sware that Moses therefore should not come into Canaan, Deut. 4. 21. which oath Moses, though he repented and intreated for grace, could not get reversed: for when the Lord sweareth, he repenteth not afterward, Psal. 110. 4. would not heare me] Hebr. heard me not, or, hearkened not unto me: wherby Gods will is signified; (as David removed not the Arke, 1 Chron. 13. 13. that is, would not remove the Arke, 2 Sam. 6. 10.) for, If we aske any thing according to his will, he heareth us, 1 Joh. 5. 14.

27 Verse 27. Pisgah] the Greeke here translateth, of the broken hill, because it seemeth they used to hew stones out of it, as they did out of other mounts, 2 Chr. 2. 18. The Chaldee of the height calleth it Ramatba: see Deut. 34. 1. Seaward] that is, Westward, as the Chaldee expresseth. As the Fathers saw the promises a far off and beleaved, Heb. 11. 13. so Moses a far off vieweth the promised land, and is comforted: see Deut. 34. 1, 4.

28 Verse 28. Iofua] or, Iesus; as vers. 21. As Iesus, not Moses, bringeth Israel into the promised land: So the Gospel of Iesus, not the Law of Moses, bringeth us into the kingdom of heaven, Joh. 1. 17. Gal. 2. 16. & 3. 12, 13, 24. So it is said of the Tabernacle, that it was brought in with Iesus, into the possession of the Gentiles, Act. 7. 45.

29 Verse 29. Beth-peor] in Greeke, the house of Phogor, an Idol Temple on the mount Peor, where Baal-peor was worshipped: see Num. 23. 28. and 25. 3. Deut. 4. 3.

CHAP. IV.

1 An exhortation to obedience unto the Law, 6 because of the wisdom and righteousness, 9 and the miraculous giving of the same. 15 Against Images, and worshipping of Creatures; 25 which provoke Gods anger, and cause mens destruction; 29 unless they repent, and so finde mercie with the Lord. 32 No people like Israel, who heard God speake, and saw his wonders, 37 and were his beloved and chosen. 41 Moses appointeth three Cities of refuge on the outside of Jordan.

And now Israel, hearken thou unto the statutes, and unto the judgements which I teach you for to doe; that ye may live, and goe in, and possesse the land, which Jehovah the God of your fathers giveth you. Ye shall not adde unto the word which I command you, neither shall yee diminish from it, for to keepe the commandments of Jehovah your God, which I command you. Your eies have scene that which Jehovah did, because of Baal-peor: for every man which went after Baal-peor, Jehovah thy God hath destroyed him from the midst of thee. But yee that did cleave unto Jehovah your God, are alive all of you, this day. Behold, I have taught you statutes, and judgements, as Jehovah my God commanded me, for to doe so, within the land, whither ye are going, to possesse it. And ye shall keep and do them: for this is your wisdom, and your understanding, in the eies of the peoples, which shall heare all these statutes, and say, Surely, this great nation is a wife and understanding people. For what nation is there so great, which hath God nigh unto the same, as Jehovah our God is, in all that we call upon him for. And what nation is there so great, which hath just statutes, and judgements, as all this law which I set before you this day. Onely take heed to thy selfe, and keep thy soule diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eies have seen, and lest they depart from thine heart, all the daies of thy life: but thou shalt make them knowne to thy sons, and to thy sons sons. The day that thou stoodst before Jehovah thy God in Horeb, when Jehovah said unto me, Gather together the people unto me, & I wil make them heare my words, that they may learn to fear me, all the daies that they live upon the earth, and that they may teach their sonnes. And ye came neere, and stood under

under the mountaine: and the mountaine burned with fire, unto the heart of the hea-uens; with darknesse, cloud, and thick dark-nesse. And Jehovah spake unto you out of 12 the middest of the fire: you heard a voice of words, but saw no similitude, save a voyce.
13 And he declared unto you his covenant,
which he commanded you to doe; the ten
Words: and he wrote them upon two Ta-14 bles of stone. And Jehovah commanded me at that time, to teach you statutes and judgements, that yee may doe them in the land whither ye are going over to possess it.
15 And take yee heed diligently unto your soules; for ye saw not any similitude, in the day that Jehovah spake unto you in Horeb, 16 out of the middest of the fire. Lest yee corrupt your selves, and make unto you a graven thing; the similitude of any figure: the like-17 nesse of male or female. The likenesse of any beast that is on the earth: the likenesse of any winged fowle that flieth in the heavens.
18 The likenesse of any thing that creepeth
on the ground: the likenesse of any fish that 19 is in the waters beneath the earth. And lest thou lift up thine eyes to the heavens, and seest the Sunne, and the Moone, and the Starres; all the host of the heavens; and beest driven away, and bowest downe thy selfe unto them, & servest them: them which Jehovah thy God hath imparted to all peo-20 ples under all the heavens. But Jehovah hath taken you, and brought you forth out of the furnace of iron, out of Egypt, to be unto him a people of inheritance, as this day.
21 And Jehovah was angry with mee, for your sakes; and sware, that I should not goe over Jordan, and that I should not goe in into the good land, which Jehovah thy God giveth 22 thee, for an inheritance. For I must dye in this land; I must not go over Jordan: but ye shall goe over and possesse that good land.
23 Take heed unto your selves, lest yee forget the covenant of Jehovah your God, which he stroke with you, and make to you a graven thing, the likenesse of any thing, which 24 Jehovah thy God hath charged thee. For Jehovah thy God, he is a consuming fire,
a jealous God.
25 When thou shalt beget children, and childrens children, and ye shall have waxen old in the land, and shall corrupt your selves, and make a graven thing, the likenes of any thing;
and shall do evill in the eyes of Jehovah thy 26 God, to provoke him to anger. I call the heavens and the earth to witnes against you,

this day, that perishing ye shall perish soone,
from off the land; whereunto you passe over Jordan to possesse it; ye shall not prolong your daies upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed. And Jehovah will scatter you among the peoples; and ye shall be left few men in number, among the heathens, whither Jehovah shall lead you. And there ye shall serve gods, the worke of mens hands,
wood & stone, which neither see, nor heare,
nor eat, nor smell. But if from thence ye shal 37 seeke Jehovah thy God, then thou shalt find him: if thou shalt seeke him with all thy heart, and with all thy soule. When tribulation shall be on thee, and all these things shall finde thee, in the latter daies, and thou shalt turne to Jehovah thy God, and hearken unto his voyce. For Jehovah thy God, is a mercifull God; he wil not leave thee, neither destroy thee: neither will he forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them. For aske now of the daies forepast, 32 which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth; and (ask)
from the utmost part of the heavens, and unto the (other) utmost part of the heavens, whether there hath been (any such thing) as this great thing is; or hath beene heard like
it. Hath a people heard the voyce of God 33 speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and lived? Or, hath God assayed 34 to come to take him a nation, from the middest of a nation, by tentations, by signes,
and by wonders, and by war, and by a strong hand, and by a stretched out arme, and by great terrours, according to all that Jehovah your God did for you in Egypt, before your eyes. Thou hast beene made see to know, 35 that Jehovah he is God: there is none else
besides him. Out of the heavens he made 36 thee to heare his voyce, to instruct thee; and upon the earth he made thee to see his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the middest of the fire. And because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose his seed after him; and hee brought thee out, in his sight, with his great power, out of Egypt. To 38 drive out nations greater and mightier than thou, from before thee; to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as is 39 this day. And thou shalt know this day, and cause it to returne into thy heart; that Jehovah, he is God, in the heavens above,
and on the earth beneath: there is none else.
And thou shalt keep his statutes & his com-mandements, which I command thee this 40 day,

day, that it may be well with thee, and with thy sonnes after thee; and that thou mayest prolong thy daies upon the land, which Jehovah thy God giveth thee, all daies.

41 Then Moses separated three Cities on this 42 side Jordan, towards the Sunne rising. For the man-slayer to flee thither, which should kill his neighbour unwittingly, and he hated him not in times past: and that he might flee 43 unto one of these cities and live. Bezer in the wilderness, in the plaine country of the Reubenites: and Ramoth in Gilead, of the Gadites: and Golan in Basan, of the Manas-44 sites. And this is the law, which Moses set 45 before the sonnes of Israel. These are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgements, which Moses spake unto the sons of Israel, after they came forth out of Egypt.
46 On this side Jordan, in the valley over-against Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Heshbon:
whom Moses and the sons of Israel smote,
after they were come forth out of Egypt.
47 And they possessed his land, and the land of Og, king of Bashan, two kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Jordan, toward 48 the Sun-rising. From Aroer, which is by the banke of the river Arnon, and unto mount 49 Sion, that is Hermon. And all the plaine of this side Jordan, Eastward, and unto the Sea of the plaine, under Ashdoth Pisgah.

Annotations.

I Statutes] or Ordinances, which taught the service of God, (Hebr. 9. 1.) as the next word judgments, are for duties towards men, and punishments of transgressours. These are often joyned together: see Deut. 5. 1. & 6. 1. & 12. 1. Mal. 4. 7. And that Statutes meane the legall services, appeareth by the continuall use of this word, as in Exod. 12. 24, 43. & 27. 21. & 29. 9. & 30. 21. teach] or, am teaching: this sheweth the work of the Law, still urging the conscience. to doe] for, not the bearers of the Law are just before God, but the doers of the Law shall be justified, Rom. 2. 13. may live] Moses describeth the justice which is of the Law, that the man which doth those things shall live by them, Rom. 10. 5. possesse] or, inherit the land, which was a figure of our heavenly inheritance, (Gen. 12. 5.) proposed to them that do the Law, but given to them that are of the faith of Christ, Joh. 1. 17. Rom. 4. 13, 16. & 6. 23.

2 Verse 2. not add] Hereby all doctrines of men are condemned, Mat. 15. 9. and the all-sufficiencie and authority of Gods word, stablished for ever, Galath. 3. 15. 2 Timoth. 3. 16, 17. Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar, Prov. 30. 6. diminish] for, every word of God is pure, Prov. 30. 5. and profitable for doctrine, for reprove, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, 2 Timoth. 3. 16. Till heaven and earth passe, one jot, or one tittle shall in no wise passe from the Law, Matth. 5. 18. for to keepe] that is, that you may keepe; understanding the persons fore-mentioned: so in verse 5. see the notes on Gen. 6. 19.

Verse 3. Baal-peor] in Greeke, Beel-phagor, the I-doll of the Moabites, unto which many of Israel declined, by the counsell of Balaam: see Num. 25. 1, 2, 18. & 31. 16. Psal. 106. 28. The Chaldee translateth, against them that served Baal-peor.

destroyed] or abolished: by sending a plague, to the death of twenty foure thousand, Numb. 25. 9. This judgement was remembered after, in Josua 23. 17. Have wee too little for the wickednesse of Peor? &c.

Verse 4. unto Jehovah] the Chaldee saith, unto the feare (or religion) of the Lord. Thus they that keepe themselves pure in generall defections, are saved from the common destruction, Ezek. 9. 4, 6. 2 Tim. 2. 19. Rev. 10. 4.

Ver. 6. wisdom] Hereupon the Oracles of God are often commended, as making wise the simple, Psal. 19. 8. making us wiser than our enemies, and to have more understanding than all our Teachers, Psalm. 119. 98, 99. and able to make us wise unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Iesus, 2 Tim. 3. 15. On the contrary it is said, They have rejected the word of the Lord, and what wisdom is in them? Jer. 8. 9. Surely] or Only. The Greeke turneth it, Behold.

Verse 7. what nation is there so great] or, what other great nation is there? meaning, there is not any. So in vers. 8. God nigh] or Gods nigh. The Hebrew words are both of the plurall number, yet meaning one God in the plurality of persons; as the like is in Deut. 5. 26. Jos. 14. 19. The Greeke and Chaldee here translate it singularly, God. And he is said to be nigh us, specially when he heareth, and granteth our requests, Psal. 145. 18. So the Chaldee here paraphraseth, nigh unto the same, to receive the prayer thereof, in the time of the tribulation thereof. Wee likewise are said to draw nigh unto God, when we call upon him in faith, Psal. 73. 28. Heb. 7. 19. Esa. 58. 2. and both are conjoyned in Jam. 4. 8.

Verse 9. thy soule] that is, thy selfe: the soule is often put for the whole man. So where one Evangelist saith, lose his soule, Matth. 16. 26. another saith, lose himselfe, Luke 9. 25. diligently] or, zebemently; so verse 15. and often. The word implieth strength as well as diligence. See Deut. 6. 5. things] Hebr. words, which the Greeke also and Chaldee here keepeth. lest] or, that they depart not: in Greeke, Let them not depart from thy heart. Compare Prov. 3. 1, 3. & 4. 21.

Verse 10. Horeb] or Choreb, called also Sinai: see Exod. 19. Paul calleth it, The mount that might be touched, Heb. 12. 18.

Verse 11. heart] that is, the midst: as the heart of the Sea is the midst thereof, Exo. 15. 8. So here, the heart of heaven is the midst of the aire. thicke darknesse] or, tempestuous darknesse, gloomie tempest, tempest, as the Greeke version, and the holy Ghost in Heb. 12. 18. implieth. See Exo. 20. 21. Unto this terrible mount where the Law was given Paul opposeth mount Sion, or the state of grace by the Gospel, Heb. 12. 18. 22. It noteth the hidden glorie of Gods kingly adminiltration in his Church, Psal. 97. 1, 2.

12 Verse 12. voice of words] This also Paul mentioneth, Heb. 12. 19. In the next verse Moses calleth them ten words, that is, ten commandements, whereof see the notes on Exo. 34. 28. no similitude] to wit, of God: so after, save a voice, that is, the voice of God, as in verse 33. Hereupon it is said, To whom then will ye liken God, or what likenesse will ye compare unto him? Esay 40. 18.

13 Verse 13. of stone] signifying the perpetuity of these words, and also the stoniness of mens hearts, as is noted on Exod. 31. 18.

14 Verse 14. statutes] for the worship of God, as judgements were for the repressing and punishing of vice, Exod. 21. 1. These were spoken to Moses onely, and by him written to Israel: but the ten words were spoken to all the people, and written by the finger of God.

19 Verse 19. the same] It was a common corruption, not onely amongst the heathens, but in Israel, to worship the Sun, and Stars, and host of heaven, 2 King. 21. 3. and 17. 16. Amos 5. 25, 26. of which sinne Iob cleareth himselfe, Job 31. 26, 27. driven away] or thrust, to wit, out of the way, as is after expressed in Deut. 13. 5. which is meant by the seduction of others, or of their own hearts. Therefore the Greeke and Chaldee here well translate it, beeft deceived, or made to erre and goe astray; which the Hebrew word implieth, being after used for the straying of cattell, Deut. 22. 1.

1. Imparted] or divided, distributed as a portion. It noteth Gods bountie in giving all peoples the use of those creatures, (as on the contrary, false gods are said to divide or impart nothing unto them, Deut. 29. 26.) and the base minde of men, to worship such things as are given for servants unto all men.

20 Verse 20. furnace of iron] that is, furnace wherein iron was melted: so Egypt is called for the cruell oppression of Israel: likewise in 1 King. 8. 51. Jer. 11. 4. people of inheritance] that is, whom God shall inherit and take for his possession: the Gr. translateth, and inheritance. at this day] understand, as ye are, or, as ye see this day.

21 Verse 21. your sakes] or, your words: as the Greek translateth, the things spoken by you: meaning their murmuring words, Num. 20. 3, 4, 5. whereby Moses being grieved, obeyed not the commandement of God, Numb. 20. 12. Psal. 106. 32, 33. This he spake of before; Deut. 3. 26. and now againe repeateth, to shew GODS severitie against all transgressours.

23 Verse 23. stroke] or cut, that is, covenanted or made. Moses doth often speak of the covenant first made between God and them, as that which was to be the ground of al religion, to them and their seed after them: and whatsoever men added, altered, or diminished from it, was to be reputed evil.

So Paul reforming abuses in the Churches, calleth them to the first institution, 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24.

charged thee] or commanded thee, that is, commanded thee not to doe, or, forbidden thee: so in Deut. 2. 37. for Gods precepts in the Decalogue, are for the most part forbids, or prohibitions; yet usually called commandements. The whole phrase is expressed in Gen. 3. 11. which I commanded thee not to eat of it, that is, which I forbade thee to eat of.

24 Verse 24. fire] to consume all his enemies; and thine, if thou obey him, as Deut. 9. 3. and thee thy selfe, if thou disobey him, as Zeph. 1. 18. Heb. 12. 29. See also Exod. 24. 17. The Chaldee addeth, his word is a consuming fire: which is also true, Jer. 23. 29. Deut. 33. 2. jealous] the former word signified Gods power, this his will: having a jealous affection, wherby he will not spare; as Prov. 6. 34, 35. See Exod. 20. 5.

25 Ver. 25. waxen old] that is, continued long, as the Greek explaineth it, and become ancient inhabitants. Gods blessings were by Israel abused to sin, as is here foretold, and againe in Deut. 32. 15.

26 Verse 26. perishing ye shall perish] that is, surely and speedily perish: in Greeke, perish with perdition: so in Deut. 30. 18, 19. where againe he calleth heaven and earth to witnesse.

27 Verse 20. few men] Hebr. men of number, that is, soone numbred for your fewnesse; as the Greeke translateth, few in number; and in Job 16. 22. yeeres of number, are a few yeeres: see Gen. 34. 30. This is contrary to that promise in Gen. 15. 5.

28 Verse 28. serve Gods] being given over to your owne lusts, as it is written, God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven, Acts 7. 42. This same God threatned afterward, in Jer. 16. 13. But the Chaldee here turneth it, ye shall serve peoples that serve Idols, the worke of mens hands. nor smell] the vanity of Idols is after this sort described in Psal. 115. 4, 7. Jer. 10. 3, 9.

29 Verse 29. seeke Iehovah] the Chaldee translateth, seeke the feare of the Lord; meaning his true service. Here Moses annexeth promises, to comfort repentant sinners: as also in Deut. 30. 1, 2, 3, &c. all thy heart] see an example of this in 2 Chron. 15. 15.

30 Verse 30. finde thee] that is, come upon, or besall thee, as the Chaldee explaineth it.

31 Verse 31. thy fathers] Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. See Levit. 26. 42, &c.

32 Verse 32. of the heavens] that is, from one utmost part of the world unto the other. By the heavens are meant the parts of the world under the heavens: and the holy Ghost openeth this phrase; for in Matth. 24. 31. it is written, from the utmost parts of the heavens, unto the utmost parts of them: for which in Mark 13. 27. is said, from the utmost part of the earth, unto the utmost part of the heavens. By which it is evident, that the heavens in this speech, is put for the earth under the heavens; for heavens comprehendeth the Ayre also, wherein wee breathe, as is noted on Genesis 1. 8. great thing] Hebrew great word. Moses hereby would teach, that Gods words and workes unto his Church are more great and marvellous than all his actions to other peoples whatsoever; & therefore ought the more seriously to be considered.

33 Verse 33. voice of God] the Chaldee saith, the voice of the word of the Lord: the Greeke, of the living God. and lived] As the apparitions of God, men were wont to feare they should die, Iudg. 13. 22. and 6. 22. So at the giving of the law, all Israel desired that they might heare the voyce of God no more, lest they dyed, Exod. 20. 19. Deut. 18. 16. which manifested the power of the law, and the weaknes of men, Heb. 12. 19. So no man can see the face of God, and live. Exod. 33. 20. when God giveth his voyce the earth melteth, Psal. 46. 7.

34 Verse 34. hath God] or, hath any God; speaking of the true God, and his works unto Israel, above all other people: or of the reputed gods of the Gentiles, none of which ever did such a thing.

assayed] or, tempted. This of spoken not of God trying his owne strength, but proving the obedience of his people, and trying the strength of his adversaries. The Chaldee translateth, Or the tentations, (or signes) which the Lord hath made to reveale himselfe, &c. temptations] Moses here reckoneth seven things, about Israels deliverance; Tentations, whereby God, propounding his will, tryed their obedience: (as when God tempted Abraham, Gen. 22. 1.) Signes, which many times are of ordinary workes, and naturall, as Exod. 3. 12. Wonders which are of extraordinary, and supernaturall workes, as Exod. 4. 21. and 7. 9. Warre, upon the refusall and resistance of the enemy, Exod. 8. 1, 2. Strong hand, not by cunning policies & stratagems, as men often use in wars; but by force, compelling the enemy to yeeld, Exod. 6. 1. Stretched out arme, by open manifesting his power, and plagues continually upon the resisters, Esay 9. 12. 17. Exod. 6. 6. and Great terrours, which wounded the hearts of the very enemies, Exod. 9. 26, 27, 28. and 10. 7. and 12. 30.

terrours] or fears, the Greek & Chaldee translate, visions, or sights, which are oftentimes fearefull; but the Hebrew for fears and visions, are one much like another, which might cause the mistaking. So in Deut. 26. 8.

35 Verse 35. to know] that is, that thou mightest know, and acknowledge. The end of all Gods works was the manifesting of his glory, to the information and salvation of his people. This Moses often urgeth in this booke.

36 Verse 36. to instruct] or, to nurture, chastise: by restraining from vice. So Gods chastening, and teaching out of his law, are joynd together, in Psa. 94. 12. Though chastening be often with workes (as Levit. 26. 18, 28. Deut. 8. 5) yet is it also with words; as here, (where the Chaldee translateth it teach) and Prov 9. 7. and 31. 1. Ezek 33. 48. Job 4. 3. the fire] before, he said, out of heaven, and now, out of the midst of the fire: for though the voice came out of heaven, Israel perceived it not, but only out of the fire, saith R. Menachem on Deut. 4.

37 Verse 37. therefore he chose] or, and chose, (that is, loved) his seed after him, therefore he brought thee out. Gods love, and election out of love, is the cause of mans redemption and salvation. his seed] that is, the seed of thy fathers, every one particularly; as the promise was made to Abraham then to Isaac, & after that to Jacob severally. The Greeke and Chaldee translate it plurally, their seed (or sonnes) after them. in his sight] or, with his face (or presence) The Greeke saith, he brought thee out himselfe; the Chaldee, he brought thee out by his word. Thus the face or presence of God, may imply Christ, the Word, the Angell of Gods face, Esay 63. 9. He it was that brought Israel out, as 1 Cor. 10. 1, 9. and the signe of his presence was in the pillar of the cloud and fire, Exod. 13. 21. and 14. 19, 20.

Verse 38. to drive out] to wit, out of possession (as the originall word implyeth) or, to dismember; the Greeke saith, to destroy, (or, root out.) as it is] the Greeke addeth, as thou hast this day. Meaning of the land of Sihon & Og, which they had now in possession, a signe of further victory, Deut. 3. 21.

Verse 39. And thou shalt know] or, know (and acknowledge) therefore: see verse 35. The knowledge of, and obedience unto God, is continually urged, upon the remembrance of his former mercies. So 1 Chro. 28. 9. cause it to returne] or, bring againe, reduce, that is, call to minde, and consider, that not onely for the present, but alwayes after, Gods true feare might continue in them. So in Deut. 30. 1. where this phrase is used: see the annotations there.

Verse 40. all dayes] this may be referred both to the latter, the possessing of the land, and to the former, the welfare and length of life. In Mat. 28. 20. all dayes, is explained, unto the end of the world.

Verse 42. unwittingly] or, without knowledge thereof, unawares. See the law for this, in Numb. 35. 9, 10, &c. and after in Deut. 19. 2. in times past] or, in former dayes; Hebr. from yesterday, and the third day. See Gen. 31. 2.

Verse 43. Bezer] in Greeke, Esor: see Ios. 20. 8. and 21. 36, 38, 37. 1 Chron. 6. 78, 80. Golan] in Greeke, Gaulan.

Ver. 44. this is] He meaneth, that which hereafter followeth; so this belongeth to the next chapter, where the repetition of the lawes beginneth.

Verse 45. after they came forth] Hebr. in their coming forth: but In is often used for After, as is noted on Exod. 2. 23. so againe in verse 46.

Ver. 46. Beith-peor] in Greeke, the house of Phogor, an Idoll Temple: see Deut. 3. 29. Amorites] Hebr. Amorite: in Greeke, Amorreans. smote] that is, killed, as is noted on Gen. 14. 17. This victory is here again touched, the more to stir up the hearts of the people to obey Gods law, who had begun to shew them his power and goodnesse.

V. 48. banke] Hebr. lip. Sion] in Greeke, Seon. This is not that which usually the Scripture calleth mount Zion, in Jerusalem; but otherwise written, and called Hermon: see Deut. 3. 9.

Verse 49. sea of the plaine] the sea of salt, Denter. 3. 17. the lake of Sodome, or dead sea. Asdath Pisgab.] or, the springs of Pisgab; see the notes on Deut. 3. 17.

CHAPTER V.

1 Moses rehearseth the Covenant that God made with

with Israel at Horeb. 6 The ten Commandements; 22 the manner of the speaking and writing of them.
24 The people being afraid, did request Moses to receive the Law from God, and to speak it unto them.
28 The Lord liked their motion, 30 and sent them into their tents; 31 but willed Moses to stay, and beare the Law, which he was to teach Israel to observe and doe, for their good.

- 1 AND Moses called unto all Israel, and said unto them, Heare O Israel, the statutes and the judgements which I speake in your eares, this day: and yee shall
- 2 learne them, and keepe, to doe them. Jehovah our God stroke a covenant with us in
- 3 Horeb. Not with our fathers stroke Jehovah this covenant, but with us; even us, who
- 4 are all of us here alive this day. Jehovah spake unto you, face to face, in the mount,
- 5 out of the midst of the fire. I standing betweene Jehovah and you, at that time, to shew unto you the word of Jehovah; for ye were afraid, by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount, saying,
- 6 I, Jehovah thy God, which have brought thee out from the land of Egypt, from the
- 7 house of servants. Thou shalt not have any other Gods before my face.
- 8 Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven thing, any likenesse, of things which are in the heavens above, or which are in the earth beneath, or which are in the waters
- 9 beneath the earth. Thou shalt not bow downe thy selfe to them, neither serve them: for I, Jehovah thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the sons, and upon the third and upon the
- 10 fourth generation, of them that hate mee. And doing mercie unto thousands, of them that love mee, and of them that keepe his commandements.
- 11 Thou shalt not take up the name of Jehovah thy God in vaine; for Jehovah will not hold him guiltlesse that shall take up his name in vaine.
- 12 Keepe thou the Sabbath day, to sanctifie it, as Jehovah thy God hath commanded
- 13 thee. Six daies shalt thou labour, and shalt
- 14 doe all thy worke. But the seventh day, is a Sabbath to Jehovah thy God: in it thou shalt not doe any worke; thou, or thy son, or thy daughter, or thy man servant, or thy woman-servant, or thine ox, or thine asse, or any of thy cattell, or thy stranger which is within thy gates, that thy man-servant and thy woman-servant may rest as well as thou.
- 15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt; and Jehovah thy God brought thee out thence by a strong hand, and by a stretched out arme: Therefore Jehovah thy God hath commanded thee to doe thee Sabbath day.

Honour thy father and thy mother, as Jehovah thy God hath commanded thee, that thy daies may be prolonged, and that it may be well with thee, upon the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee.

Thou shalt not kill.

Neither shalt thou commit adulterie.

Neither shalt thou steale.

Neither shalt thou answer a false witnesse against thy neighbour.

Neither shalt thou covet thy neighbours wife, neither shalt thou desire thy neighbors house; his field, or his man-servant, or his woman-servant, his ox, or his asse, or any thing which is thy neighbours.

These words Jehovah spake unto all your assembly in the mount, out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thicke darknesse, with a great voice, and he added no more: and hee wrote them on two tables of stones, and gave them unto me. And it was, when yee heard the voice, out of the midst of the darknesse, and the mountaine burning with fire, that yee came neere unto mee, all the heads of your Tribes, and your Elders. And ye said, Behold, Jehovah our God hath shewed us his glory and his greatness, and wee have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: this day wee have seene, that God doth speake with man, and hee liveth. And now why should wee dye; for this great fire wil consume us: if we adde to heare the voice of Jehovah our God any more, then we shall die. For who is there of all flesh, that hath heard the voice of the living God, speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived? Goe neere thou, and heare all that Jehovah our God shall say, and doe thou speake unto us all that Jehovah our God shall speake unto thee, and we will heare, and doe it. And Jehovah heard the voice of your words when yee spake unto me: and Jehovah said unto me, I have heard the voyce of the words of this people, which they have spoke unto thee; they have well said, all that they have spoken. Who will give that their heart may bee such in them, to feare me, and to keepe all my commandements, all daies, that it may bee well with them, and with their sonnes for ever.

God say to them, Get you againe into your tents.

- 32 Jehovah your God hath commanded you: yee shall not turne aside, to the right hand or
- 33 to the left. You shall walke in all the way which Jehovah your God hath commanded you, that yee may live, and (that it may be) well with you, and yee may prolong your daies, in the land which ye shall possesse.

Annotations.

- 1 I N your eares] that is, in your hearing, and to your understanding: the Chaldee translateth it, before you. Here Moses purposing to repeat the ten commandements, prepareth the eares and hearts of the people unto obedience. to doe] or, and doe: see the notes on Gen. 2. 3.
- 2 Verse 2. stroke] Hebr. cut a covenant, the reason of which phrase is shewed on Gen. 15. 18. in Horeb] or, as Ghoreb, called also Sinai: see Exod. 19. 20. & 24. 8. God, though he might absolutely command, yet vouchsafed to enter into covenant with his people, that by mutuall stipulation and promises, he might have not constrained, but free and voluntarie obedience performed by them, to his glory, and their further good.
- 3 V. 3. fathers] which are dead: hereby all the Patriarchs unto Adam may be meant, who had the promise of the covenant of Christ; but the covenant of the Law came after, as the Apostle observeth, Gal. 3. 17. Or it may meane, our fathers onely, as Isaachi here expoundeth it, such as died in the wilderness, after the Law was given. See also Deut. 11. 2. even us] or, we are they, which are here this day: the Gr. translateth, and you are here all alive this day. So the covenant was yet fresh in memory. Also they had a greater benefit than their fathers: for though the Law could not give them life, yet was it a Schoolmaster unto Christ, Gal. 3. 21, 24.
- 4 Verse 4. face to face] that is, openly, clearly, plainly; as Exod. 33. 11. Gen. 32. 30. Deut. 34. 10. 1 Cor. 13. 12. opposed to the darke visions, by which God before time revealed his will.
- 5 Verse 5. I standing] or, stood, as the Greek translateth, And I stood betwene the Lord, which the Chaldee calleth, the Word of the Lord. Thus the Law was given in the hand of a mediator, Gal. 3. 19. for God and the people were not one, by reason of their sins: therefore they were afraid.
- 6 Verse 6. servants] in Greeke and Chaldee, servitude. God redeemed Israel, not onely from outward slavery, but from the idolatry of Egypt, Ezek. 20. 5, -9. and from their gods, 2 Sam. 7. 23. therefore he commanded them to have no other gods before his face. See the Annotations upon Exo. 20. where these commandements are more largely opened.

Verse 7. any other gods] or, another god: see the notes on Deut. 4. 7.

Verse 8. graven thing] the Chaldee translateth it Image. any] the Greek saith, nor the likeness of any thing. The word or, is in Exod. 20. 4.

Verse 10. his commandments] or, his commandment; meaning all and every one of them, or, the whole Law in generall: see the notes on vers. 31. The like is in Deut. 8. 2. and 27. 10. The Greeke and Chaldee translate, my commandments, and so Moses wrote in Exo. 20. 6. but here he changeth the person, as Daniel also in his prayer saith, O Lord, &c. keeping covenant and mercie to them that love him, and to them that keepe his commandments, Dan. 9. 4. We may also observe such changes in the other Prophets; as, to make him a name, 2 Sam. 7. 23. for which, in 1 Chron. 17. 21. is written, to make thee a name: so in 2 Sam. 14. 22.

Verse 12. Keepe] or, Observe; for this, in Exod. 20. 8. hee said, Remember. as Jehovah, &c.] this sentence is added, more than in Exod. 20. 8. So againe in the fifth commandment, ver. 16. And these two charges onely are affirmative, all the other are prohibitions.

Verse 14. Oxe, &c.] these particulars are also here added, for explanation. as well as thou] or, even as thou. This reason was not expressed in Exod. 20. 10. And it sheweth that the Sabbath was commanded in part for the ease of servants, which were of the heathens that were round about them, Levit. 25. 44.

Verse 15. to doe] that is, to celebrate: the Greeke translateth, to keepe the Sabbath day, and to sanctifie it. In Exod. 20. 11. the creation of the world is there rendred as a reason, which is here omitted; and the coming out of Egypt (which seemeth to be on the Sabbath day) is here made a reason of observing this day. For it was a figure of deliverance out of spirituall bondage by Christ (as is shewed upon Exodus) and so fit to be meditated on upon the Sabbath.

Verse 16. be well with thee] or, good may be done unto thee. This branch of the promise is more than was expressed in Exo. 20. 12. and this addition the Apostle also citeth in Eph. 6. 3. but putteth it there in the first place, changing the order of the words, which the Scripture often doth, as may be seene in 2 Kings 11. 8. compared with 2 Chro. 23. 7. Joel. 2. 28. with Acts 2. 17. 1 King. 19. 10. with Rom. 11. 3. Esa. 65. 1. with Rom. 10. 20. Mat. 21. 13. with Marke 12. 8.

Verse 18. Neither shalt thou] or, And thou shalt not: and so in the precepts following; all which are joyned to the former, with this copulative, And, (otherwise than was in Exod. 20.) to teach the conjoyning of all these commandements, as into one bodie of the Law: which must bee likewise in our obedience. Because, Whoever shall keepe the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, he is guiltie of all. For he that said, Doe not commit adulterie; said also, Doe not kill, &c. Jam. 2. 10, 11.

Verse 20. false] or, rash, vaine. The same word Shav, used before in ver. 11. but for it in Exo. 20.

Moses

Moses useth the word Sheker, false: and so the Chaldee hath in this place.

21 Verse 21. wife] in Exod. 20. 17. our neighbours house is put in the first place, and his wife in the second, otherwise than here. So they that would divide this Commandement into two, cannot shew which is the ninth, and which is the tenth, seeing Moses hath purposely changed the order, desire] Here againe Moses useth another word, tiubavach, whereas in Exod. 20. 17. hee keepeth one word in all the particulars, tachmod, covet: which are two words in sound, but one in signification: (though it may be with some difference of degree) whereof there be sundry other examples in Scripture; as Hunch, Behold, 1 Chron. 27. 1. for which another Prophet saith, Reb, See, 2 Sam. 7. 2. Chajab, a troope, in 2 Sam. 23. 13. or Machanab, an host, in 1 Chron. 11. 15. he returned, jashab, 2 Sam. 6. 20. or, he turned againe, jissab, 1 Chron. 16. 43. Iagbsh, be offered up, 2 Sam. 6. 17. or Iakrib, be offered, 1 Chron. 16. 1. and many the like: so that from two words of like sense, here cannot be gathered two sundry commandements. The like was in the ninth commandement before; in verse 20. And if this Desire be another commandement, there were but nine given in Exod. 20. Or if there were ten, as is avouched in Exod. 34. 28. then here must be eleven, contrary to Dent. 10. 4. But degrees of the same sinne, make not here severall precepts. The Hebrewes make this desire to be lesse than coveting; and say, Desire bringeth a man to coveting, and coveting bringeth him to unjust taking am, for if the owners be not willing to sell, though he would give them a great price, and he is urgent upon them, then he falleth to taking by violence, as it is said (in Micha 2. 2.) And they covet fields, and take them by violence. Maimony, tom. 4. treat. of Rapine, &c. ch. 1. sect. 10, 11. his field] the Greeke saith, nor his field: this also is added more than in Exod. 20. 17. And usually, when any thing is repeated, either by the Prophets or Evangelists, it is with varietie of words and phrases; of which, being compared, there is very great use, for the understanding of the Scriptures.

22 Verse 22. added no more] meaning, no more commandements of this sort, (for they were but ten words, Dent. 4. 13.) or no more unto the people; the rest were spoken to Moses, Exod. 21. 1. &c. The Chaldee translateth, ceased not; see the notes on Numb. 11. 25. of stone] both to have them perpetuall to his Church, Job 19. 23, 24. and in myltery, to shew the stony nature of mens hearts; see the Annotations on Exod. 31. 18. unto me] that Moses might carry them to the people, and see them duly executed. So the Magistrate is the keeper of both the Tables of the Law; for Moses was King in Ieshurun, Dent. 33. 5.

23 Verse 23. and the mount] understand, and saw the mount, as Dent. 11. 16. Exod. 20. 18. The things which the people heard and saw, were terrible unto them, because they were sinners; but a meane to humble them, and drive them unto Christ, Heb. 12. 18, 24. Gal. 3. 19, 24. Elders] in Greeke, Senats; or Eldership. The people all, and even the greatest and best, fled from before the Lord, and came to Moses for to be a Mediator. See Exod. 20. 18, 19. in the annotations.

Verf. 24. his voice] the Chaldee saith, the voice of his Word. So in verf. 25.

Verf. 25. why should we die?] The Greeke translateth, let us not die: so it is a deprecation. This speech implieth the sentence of death also, which their owne hearts pronounced against them for their sinnes: for such a question is likewise an affirmation; as, Why dost thou speake blasphemies? Marke. 2. 7. is expounded, this man blasphemeth, Matt. 9. 3. And this sheweth the effect of the Law in our consciences; it causeth the spirit of bondage to feare, Rom. 8. 15. and when the voice of God in his Law is heard and understood of men, it terrifieth and killeth; before that, they thinke they are alive without the Law, Rom. 7. 9, 10. fire] which signified the force of the fire Law, Dent. 33. 2. that it is in mans heart, as a burning fire shew up in his bones, as Jer. 20. 9. both manifesting sinnes, and tormenting the conscience; wherein it differeth from the Gospell, Heb. 12. 18. then] or, surely; Heb. and we shall die. Thus there was not a Law given which could give life, Gal. 3. 21. but the letter killeth, 2 Cor. 3. 6. and the Law is not of faith, Gal. 3. 12. the hearing of it, and escaping death, caused them not to beleve: but the just shall live by faith, through the Gospell of Christ, Rom. 1. 16, 17. unto whom the Law was a Scholemaster, Gal. 3. 24.

Verf. 26. all flesh] or, who is any flesh, that is, any fraile man: for, all flesh is grasse, Esay. 40. 6. The Greeke translateth, For what flesh? Which word flesh is often used for unregenerate man, as is noted on Gen. 6. 3. and to such especially; the Law is the terrors of death: though all humane nature being in sin, is here condemned. So in Psal. 143. 2.

the living God] The Hebrew words are both plurall, implying the mylterie of the Trinitie, as is noted on Gen. 1. 1. and he is called the living God, (as here, so in Is. 3. 10. 1 Sam. 17. 26. Esay. 37. 4. Psal. 42. 3. Hos. 1. 10. and in sundry other places) to oppose him unto all false gods, which are called the dead, Psal. 106. 28. whereupon it is said, They turned to God, from Idols, to serve the living and true God, 1 Thess. 1. 9. Also to shew that God is powerfull in operation, being not only living in himselfe, (so that he only hath immortality, 1 Tim. 6. 16.) but the giver of life unto all; For in him we live, and move, and have our being, Act. 17. 28. and he is the fountain of living waters, Jer. 17. 13. who continually and abundantly refresheth his people. It signifieth also his eternitie, as he that liveth for ever and ever, Revel. 10. 6. of whom it is said, For he is the living God, and continueth for ever, Dan. 6. 26. Wherefore that speech of Iob, My Redeemer liveth, Iob 19. 26. is translated in the Greeke, The Eternall is he that shall withke me. and lived] Men till they be redeemed by Christ; are through feare of death, all their life time subject to bondage, Heb. 2. 15. Though God came not now to judge them; neither so much as upbraided them with their sinnes past, yet could they not heare his voice, but (as the Apostle noteth) they that heard it, it, intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more, for they could not indure that which was commanded, Heb. 12. 19, 20.

- 27 Verse 27. Goe neere thou] The people being terrified, seeke for a Mediatour; and that is the end and use of the Law, to drive men unto Christ. Wherefore their affection now pleased God, ver. 28, 29. and he gave them Moses to helpe them for the present; and further promised them a Prophet like unto him, which was Christ, Deut. 8. 15, 18. Act. 3. 22, 26. thou shalt speake unto us] The office of a Mediatour, as he is a Prophet, (Deut. 18. 15;) is here described; which is, to goe neere unto God, and having received the word from him, to speake it unto the people. This was fulfilled in Christ, Joh. 1. 18. & 3. 13. & 8. 28. Here in the Hebrew doe thou speake, the words are in the feminine Gender, as if they had spoken to a woman; which is thought to be a note of the peoples troubled minde: see the like in Num. 11. 15. and doe] The like they promised before God spake these words, Exod. 19. 8. not knowing the impossibility of the Law: but how far they were from performing this, the golden calfe which they made ere fortie daies were expired, is a witnesse; for which sin Moses brake the Tables of the Covenant, Exod. 32. Deut. 9. 9, &c. yet their good affection pleaseth the Lord.

- 28 Verse 28. well said] The Greeke translateth, they have spoken all things rightly (or well.)

- 29 Verse 29. Who will give] An Hebrew phrase, meaning, O that some would give, or, O that there were; and so the Chaldee explaineth it. The like is in Job 6. 8. Psal. 14. 7. and 55. 7. and elsewhere. to feare, &c.] The things that God approveth in men, are, feare, humilitie, distrust in themselves, and a confidence in him, with love unto his Law. Hereunto God called them, by this his covenant, drawing them unto Christ.

- 31 Verse 31. all the commandements] that is, the Law in generall, or commandements, as the Greeke translateth it, the singular being often put for the plurall; or, every commandement. So in Deut. 6. 1. & 8. 1. also in 1 Pet. 2. 21. & 3. 2.

- 32 Verse 32. observe to doe] or, and doe, as this phrase often signifieth: see the notes on Gen. 2. 3. right hand or to the left] This signifieth an exact care to walke in Gods Law, as in the high way, from which men may not turne aside, as in Deut. 2. 27. Therefore all aberration from the right way, is noted by the turning to the right hand or to the left, Esa. 30. 21. So after in Deut. 17. 11, 20. and 28. 14. Prov. 4. 27.

CHAP. VI.

1 Moses setting himselfe to explaine Gods commandements, exhorteth Israel unto obedience. 4 He beginneth with the first and great commandement, the love of the Lord, 6 and of his Law in their heart, 7 and of teaching it to their children, 8 and professing it by outward signes. 10 He warneth them that they forsake not God by prosperitie, 16 nor by adversitie; 17 but to keepe his Law, for their good, 20 and to endeavour the continuance and propagation of his religion among their posteritie.

And this is the Commandement, the Statutes and the Judgements, which Jehovah your God commanded to teach you, to doe in the Land, whither yee passe over to possesse it. That thou mayest feare Jehovah thy God, to keepe all his statutes and his commandements, which I command thee; thou, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne, all the daies of thy life; and that thy daies may be prolonged. Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do, that it may be well with thee, and that ye may multiply mightily, as Jehovah the God of thy fathers hath spoken unto thee, in the land that floweth with milke and honey.

Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our God, Jehovah is one. And thou shalt love Jehovah thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might. And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thy heart. And thou shalt whet them on thy children, & shalt speak of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, & when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt binde them for a signe upon thy hand, and they shall be for phylacteries between thine eyes. And thou shalt write them upon the doore-post of thine house, and on thy gates. And it shall be, when Jehovah thy God shall have brought thee into the land which hee sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jakob, to give unto thee, cities great and good, which thou buildedst not; And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not; and wells digged, which thou diggedst not; vineyards and olive-trees, which thou plantedst not; & thou shalt have eaten and be full: Take heed to thy self, lest thou forget Jehovah, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of servants. Thou shalt feare Jehovah thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. Ye shall not goe after other gods, of the gods of the peoples, which are round about you. For Jehovah thy God is a jealous God, in the midst of thee; lest the anger of Jehovah thy God be kindled against thee, & he destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

Ye shall not tempt Jehovah your God, as ye tempted him in Massah. Keeping ye shall keep keepe the commandements of Jehovah your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee. And thou shalt doe that which is right and good in the eyes of Jehovah, that it may be well with thee, and thou maist goe in, and possesse the good land which Jehovah sware unto thy fathers. To drive out all thy enemies from thy face, as Jehovah hath spoken.

When thy sonne shall aske thee to morrow, saying, What are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Jehovah our God hath commanded you? Then thou shalt say unto thy sonne, We were servants to Pharaoh in Egypt, and Jehovah brought us forth out of Egypt with a strong hand. And Jehovah shewed signes and wonders, great and evill, upon Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his house, before our eyes. And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give unto us the land which he sware unto our fathers. And Jehovah commanded us to doe all these statutes, to feare Jehovah our God, for good unto us, all daies, to preserve us alive, as (itis) this day. And justice shall it be unto us, when wee observe to doe all this commandement, before Jehovah our God, as he hath commanded us.

Annotations.

- 1 Commandement] put generally for Commandements, as the Greeke translaterh it: see Deut. 5.31. Here Moses entreth upon the explanation of the first commandement of the ten before rehearsed, in chap. 5. to doe] that ye may doe them, to wit, continually. For practise and obedience is that which the Law requireth for blessednes. Jam. 1.22, 25. And that which one Prophet calleth doing the words of the covenant, 2 Chr. 34.31. another calleth stablishing (or confirming) 2 King. 23.3. and confirming is expounded by the holy Ghost, a continuing, Gal. 3.10. from Deut. 27.26. passee over] to wit, the river Jordan, that so they might come into Canaan. This was by the conduct of Iosua, Jos. 1.1, 2, &c. and it figured the estate of the Church under Christ, by whom these commandements are fulfilled in us that beleve, Ezek. 20.40, 44. Rom. 8.1, 2, 3, &c. In the meane time, the possession of Canaan and good things therein, was a gracious inducement of that people unto voluntary obedience and keeping of Gods Law: which notwithstanding they performed not, Psa. 105.44, 55. Neh. 9.24, 25, 26, 35.
- 2 Verse 2. feare] this is the beginning of wisdom, Psa. 111.10. and by it we depart from evill, Prov. 16.6. and it comprehendeth generally Gods worship, and true religion, Esay 29.13. Mat. 15.8, 9. therefore it is mentioned in the first place. prolonged] under which, eternall life is also implied; for Gods commandements when they are kept, doe add unto men, length of daies, and yeeres of life, and peace, Prov. 3.2. 1 Pet. 3.10, 11, &c.

Verse 3. and bony] signifying heavenly graces, as is observed on Exod. 3.8.

Ver. 4. Hear] The last letter of this first word Hear, and of the last word One, are extraordinarily great in the Hebrew, and so noted in the margent, to cause heed and attention. And here beginneth the first and great commandement, as our Saviour calleth it, Mark. 12.29, 30. Mat. 22.38. And this place of Scripture, unto the end of the ninth verse, was one of the foure Paragraphs which the Jewes were wont to write upon their Phylacteries, as is noted on Exod. 13.9. and fastned to their doore-posts, and read in their houses twice a day: as the Hebrewes say, Twice every day doe men reade the Lecture, HEARE O ISRAEL, &c. at evening and at morning, as it is written (in Deuteronomie 6.7.) *when thou liest downe, and when thou risest up; at the time when men are wont to lie downe, which is at night; and at the time when men are wont to rise up, which is at day. And what is it that he readeth? Three Sections; to wit, Hear O Israel, &c. (Deut. 6.4.) And it shall be if you shall hearken, &c. (Deut. 11.13.) And Moses said unto the people, &c. (Exod. 14.3.) And they read first the Section, Hear O Israel, because in it there is the propertie of God, and the love of him, and the doctrine of him, which is the great foundation, whereupon all doe depend: Maim. in Mishnah, b.2. in Keriath Shemangh, ch.1. sect.1, 2. is one] so in Marke 12.29: the LORD our God, the LORD is one: where the word is, (which the Hebrew wanteth) is supplied in the Greeke, and explained by a learned Scribe; saying, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, for there is one God, and there is none other but he, Marke 12.32. So Paul saith, There is none other God but one, 1 Cor. 8.4. Here it is probable, that Moses closely taught the unitie of the God-head, and Trinity of persons; Jehovah, the Father; our God, the Son; and Jehovah, the holy Ghost: thus many doe understand these words. But the Apostle cleerly openeth the mysterie, saying, There are three that beare record in heaven; the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost; and these three one, 1 Joh. 5.7. And here is the ground of faith.*

Verse 5. love] The end of the commandement is love, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned, 1 Timothie 1.5. See the notes on Exodus 20.6. Jehovah thy God] these imply the causes of our love of the Lord; the one, for his owne nature and being, Jehovah; the other, for the covenant of his grace, whereby he is our God. These two are often joyned together by Moses and all the Prophets. heart] unto the heart the Scripture attributeth wisdom and understanding, 1 King. 3.9, 11, 12. Proverbs 2.2, 10. and beleefe in God, differing from confession with the mouth, Rom. 10.10. and it is opposed unto hypocrisy; Mathe. 15.8. sole] the seat of the the will and affections, Deut. 21. 14. & 24. 15. & 12. 20, 21. might in Hebrew, Moad, which signifieth might or vibemencie, all that we can. The Chaldee tranſlateth it riches; the Greeke power (dunamis) but the holy Ghoſt uſeth a more ſignificant Greeke word (iſchm) might, or ability, Marke 12. 32. where alſo another word is added for explanation, dianoia, which is the efficacie both of the mind and will, and the Scribe uſeth a fit word, Senſis, underſtanding, Marke 12. 33. By which variety of words, God would teach us to love him unfainedly, with all whatſoever is in us, and in our power; for we ought to honour him with our ſubſtance alſo, Prov. 3. 9. This praiſe is of King Iofia above all Kings, that he turned to the Lord, with all his heart, and with all his ſoule, and with all his might, according to all the Law of Moſes, 2 Kin. 23. 25. Moreover from this word, with all thy might, the Hebrews teach, that a man is bound to bleſſe (God) with cheerefulneſſe of ſoule, for evill (or affliction) even as he bleſſeth for good (or proſperitie) with gladneſſe. Maimony in Berachoth, ch. 10. f. 3. And hereof we have a good example in Iob, Job 1. 21.

6 Verſe 6. theſe Words the Oracles of God are alſo to be loved, as the outward meanes, whereby wee are brought to the love and obedience of God, Pfalm. 119. 97, 98. in thy heart as the fleſhly tables wherein Gods Law is to be written, Prov. 3. 3. & 7. 3. 2 Cor. 3. 3. The Greeke addeth, in thy heart, and in thy ſoule.

7 Verſe 7. What them that is, often, earneſtly, and diligently teach them, that they may pierce the hearts of thy children, to underſtand and affect them. So the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it, to fore-inſtruct and teach. thy children or, thy ſonnes: under this name the Hebrews underſtand, not the naturall ſonnes onely, but Schollers alſo, or Diſciples; Because Diſciples are called ſonnes, as it is written, (in 2 King. 2. 3.) and the ſonnes of the Prophets came forth, &c. Maimony in Talmud Torab, chap. 1. f. 2. Children are to be trained up (or catechized) in the way they ſhould goe, and brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, Pro. 22. 6. Ephes. 6. 4.

8 Verſe 8. Phylacteries or frontlets: ornaments faſtened unto the head; the Greeke therefore calleth them unmoveable. Of theſe, ſee the notes on Ex. 13. 9. 16. By theſe outward rites, God would teach them to apply all their ſtudy, and all their praſtiſe unto the keeping of his Law.

9 Verſe 9. doore poſts by this ſigne to profeſſe unto all, their love unto the Law, and to have it alwaies in remembrance. So the blood of the Paſchall Lambe was ſtricken on their doore poſts, Exod. 12. 7. Of this rite the Jewes are to this day very carefull, and even ſuperſtitious. The manner of obſerving it, they have recorded thus. They wrote two ſeverall places of the Law; namely, Heare O Iſrael, &c. Deut. 6. 4, 9. And it ſhall be if you ſhall hearken, &c. Deut. 11. 13, 21. upon one piece of parchment, which they rolled up, beginning at the bottome, and ſo to the top; that when any ſhould open to reade it, he might reade from the beginning to the end. After it was rolled up, they put it with in a pipe of reed, or of wood, or of any other matter, and faſtened it to the doore poſt with a naile; but bleſſed God before they ſo faſtened it, who had commanded them that thing. If it were hung up on a ſicke, it was unlawfull, for that was no faſtening: or if it were laid behinde the doore, it was as good as nothing. The writing was faſtened a good height upon the doore poſt within, and it muſt be on the right hand, as a man went into the houſe: if it were on the left hand, it was unlawfull. Theſe things Maimony ſheweth at large, in Miſn. treat. Tephilin, (or of Phylacteries, &c. ch. 5. & 6. adding this in the end; A man muſt be warned of the poſt writings, becauſe it is every ones duty continually. And every time that he goeth in, and goeth out, he meeteth with the name of the holy bleſſed God, and ſhall remember the love of him, and awake out of his ſleepe, and his errors among the vanities of the time; and know that there is nothing which abideth for ever, and for ever and ever, but the knowledge of (God) the everlaſting Rocke; and forthwith he returneth to his knowledge, and walketh in the ſtrait and even waies. Our ancient wiſe men have ſaid, Whoſoever hath his phylacteries on his head and on his arme, and fringes on his garment, and poſtwriting on his doore, he is fortified that he ſhall not ſinne: for bold, he hath many Remembrancers, and they are the Angels which deliver him from ſinning; as it is written, The Angell of the Lord encampeth round about them that feare him, and delivereth them, Pfal. 34. 8. Thus have they magnified their outward obſervances; and were taxed by our Saviour, for making their Phylacteries broad, and the fringes of their garments large, Matthew 23. 5. See the Annotations on Exodus 13. 9.

Verſe 10. to give unto thee underſtand, he ſware that he would give unto thee: ſo in verſe 19.

Verſe 11. digged or hewed, to wit, out of the Rocke. Under theſe particulars, all other good things are implied: for which men ought to ſerve the Lord with joyfullneſſe, and with a good heart, Deut. 28. 47. Pro. 3. 9, 10. And by earthly riches, the ſpiritual graces of God in Chriſt, are alſo underſtood, as 1 Cor. 1. 4, 5, 7. Ephes. 1. 18. and 2. 5, 6, 7. full or, ſatisfied: which alſo is a bleſſing of God, Levit. 26. 5. But by mens corruption may eaſily be abuſed unto laſciviousneſſe, Deut. 32. 13, 14, 15.

Verſe 12. forget Ickovab the Chaldee ſaith, forget the feare of the LORD, that is, his true Religion. The Greeke addeth, left thy heart be deceived, and thou forget the Lord. When men doe corrupt their religion, they are ſaid to forget God, Pfal. 106. 20, 21. and 44. 21. Judg. 3. 7. Jer. 3. 21. and 18. 15. And this we are prone unto in proſperitie: therefore the Prophet prayeth, Give me not riches, left I be full, and behe thee, and ſay, who is the Lord? Prov. 30. 8, 9. This Doctrin Moſes repeateth in Deut. 8. 10, 11. ſervants the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate, ſervitude (or bondage). Of this the Jewes made yearly mention, when they brought their firſt-fruits unto God, Deuter. 26. 5, 6, &c.

Verſe 13. feare this is for the inward worſhip of

of God, as the two next are for his outward service, and profession of the same. Fear is expounded worship, Matth. 15. 9. from Esai. 29. 13. and so Christ speaketh, having reference to this Scripture, Mat. 4. 10. See after on Deut. 10. 12.

serve him] the Greeke addeth, serve him only; and so Christ alleageth it against Satan, Mat. 4. 10. The like is to be understood of the other two things heere mentioned: Under service; prayer is comprehended, which Christ hath taught us, that it must be to our Father which is in heaven, Luke 11. 2. So of the Hebrews it is said, We are commanded to pray every day, as it is written, And ye shall serve the Lord your God, Exodus 23. 25. We have beene taught, that this service is prayer, as it is written, And to serve him with all your heart: Our wise men have said, *What service is this with the heere? It is prayer. And there is no number of prayers by the Law, neither is there any set forme of this prayer by the Law, nor any appointed time for prayer by the Law. And therefore women and servants are bound to pray, because it is a commandement, the time whereof is not determined. But the dutie of this commandement is thus, That a man make supplication and prayer every day, and shew forth the praise of the holy blessed (God) and afterward make such things as are needfull for him, by request, and by supplication; and afterward give praise and thanks unto the Lord for his goodnesse, which he abundantly ministreth unto him, every one according to his might. If he be accustomed unto it, let him use such supplication and prayer: and if he be of uncircumcised lips, let him speak according as he is able, at any time when he will; and so they make prayers every one according to his abilitie. Maimony in Mishneh, Treatise of Prayer, chapter 1. section 1, 2, 3. swear] before this the Greeke addeth, and shall cleave unto him: which words are used by Moses in Deuteronomie 10. 20. and from thence here taken. Swearing is used for all other profession of Gods name and truth: as when the Prophet saith, Every tongue shall swear, Esay 45. 23. the Apostle expounds it, Every tongue shall confesse unto God, Rom. 14. 11.*

14 Verse 14. other gods] which the Chaldee interpreteth, Idols of the peoples. By going, or walking after such, is meant, worshipping or serving them; as afterward is shewed, Deuteronomie 8. 19. and 13. 2, 4.

15 Verse 15. in the midst] the Chaldee expounds it, his Majestie dwelleth in the midst of thee. Gods presence, and diligent looking to the waies of his people, is hereby meant, Esay 12. 6. Revelat. 2. 1, 2. Of jealousie, see Exod. 20. 5. by it was signified, that God would not forgive their transgressions, Jos. 24. 19.

16 Verse 16. in Massah] or, in the temptation (as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it;) where in their distresse and want, they tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord amongst us or no? Exodus 17. 1, 7. As prosperitie, so adversitie often occasioneth men to faine; therefore the Prophet prayeth against both extremities, Proverbes 30. 8, 9.

18 Verse 18. right] in Greeke, pleasing, which the word also signifies, as is noted on Exod. 15. 26. And so our Saviour did always those things that pleased his Father, Joh. 8. 29. By things right and good, are meant the things commanded of God, and the doing of them with a sincere heart. To performe this, the Apostle saith, Be ye transformed by the renewing of your minde, that ye may prove what is that good, that well-pleasing and perfect will of God, Rom. 12. 2.

19 Verse 19. to drive out] that is, he swaure unto thy fathers, that he would drive out, &c. But because the people obeyed not the voice of God, hee would not drive out all from before them; Judg. 2. 1, 2, 3, 12, 14. and 3. 1, 4.

20 Verse 20. to morrow] that is, hereafter in time to come. See Exod. 13. 14. Here followeth a brieft Catechisme, containing the grounds of Religion.

what are] that is, what mean, or signifie. The word are, is supplied also in the Greeke, (as before in v. 4.) and by it the meaning of Gods precepts is intended, as the answer following sheweth. Here God provideth for the continuance and propagation of his true Religion in Israel, in respect of the whole Law, morall, ceremoniall, and judicall. commanded you] The Law was commanded the fathers, that they should make them knowne to their children, that the generation after, even children that should be borne, might know, might rise up, and tell their children, Psal. 78. 5, 6.

21 Verse 21. to Pharaoh] the Historie hereof is in Exod. 1. and 2, &c. the myserie was, our servitude unto sin and Satan, from which God hath redeemed us, as Rom. 6. 17, 18. Heb. 2. 14, 15. The memoriall wherof is alwaies to be continued amongst us and our posteritie, to the praise of Gods grace, Deut. 26. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. strong hand] that is, by force and constraint, through great judgments: see Exod. 6. 1. and 3. 19.

22 Verse 22. evil] that is, hurtfull, grievous, noysome to the enemy, as were all the plagues of Egypt, Exodus 7. and 8, &c. So in Revelation 16. 12. a noysome and evil sore. house] that is, household, as the Chaldee translateth it, men of his house. our eyes] that is, our sight. This is one of Gods promises to such as trust in him; With thine eyes shalt thou behold, and shalt see the reward of the wicked, as in Psalm 91. 8.

24 Verse 24. for good] or as the Greeke explaineth, that it may be well with us. The end of our redemption from misery is, that we may serve God, and keepe his Law, for his glory in our good and saluation, Romanes 6. 17, 18, 22. to preserve] meaning, that he may preserve us alive: the Greeke translateth, that we may live. Heere Life is promised to the doers of the Law; as also in Luke 10. 28. but this is a legall promise, impossible for us to fulfill, Romanes 8. 3. and is not of faith, (as the Apostle teacheth) by which the just shall live, Galathians 3. 11, 12.

25 Verse 25. justice] or righteousnesse; the Greeke translatranslateth, Mercie shall be to us: so the word justice sometime signifieth, Psalm. 112. 9. But here it meaneth justice or righteousness, whereby men if they could doe the Law, might be justified before GOD; and differeth from the justice of faith which we have obtained in Christ, as Paul saith, Moses describeth the justice which is of the Law, that the man which doth those things shall live by them. But the justice which is by faith, speaketh, &c. Rom. 10. 5, 6. Thus the Law was a Schoolmaster unto Christ, that wee might be made righteous by faith, Galathians 3. 24.

CHAP. VII.

1 A Commandment to root out the seven nations in Canaan, 4 lest they corrupted Israel. 5 To abolish their idolatrie. 6 The holinesse and election of Israel, whence it proceedeth, 9 and what use they should make thereof. 12 The blessings promised upon the keeping of the Law. 16 The commandment repeated, to abolish Idolaters and their religion. 17 A confirmation of the faith of Israel against the multitude of their enemies, 22 whom God promiseth to destroy, but not all at once. 25 The abomination of their idolatrie.

1 When Jehovah thy God shall have brought thee in, into the land whither thou goest in, to possesse it, and hath cast out many nations from thy face; the Chethite, and the Girgashite, and the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Pherizzite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite; seven nations, greater and mightier than thou. And Jehovah thy God shall have delivered them before thee, and thou shalt smite them; utterly destroying thou shalt utterly destroy them: thou shalt not strike any covenant with them, nor shew them grace.

3 Neither shalt thou make marriages with them: thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his sonne, and his daughter thou shalt not take unto thy son. For he will turne away thy son from after me, that they may serve other gods: and the anger of Jehovah will be kindled against you, and will destroy thee suddenly. But thus shall yee doe unto them; yee shall destroy their Altars, and breake downe their pillars, and cut downe their groves: and their graven Images ye shall burne with fire. For thou art an holy people unto Jehovah thy God: Jehovah thy God hath chosen thee to be unto him a peculiar people, above all peoples that are upon the face of the earth. Not for your multitude upon you, and chose you; for yee were the fewest of all peoples. But because Jehovah loved you, and because he would keepe the oath which hee had sworne unto your fathers, hath Jehovah brought you out with a strong hand, and hath redeemed thee out of the house of servants, out of the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt. Know therefore, that Jehovah thy God, he is God, the faithful God, that keepeth covenant and mercie to them that love him, and that keepe his commandments, to the thousand generation. And repayeth them that hate him unto his face, to destroy him: he will not delay to him that hateth him, unto his face he will repay him. Therefore thou shalt keepe the commandment, and the statutes, and the judgements which I command thee this day, to doe them.

And it shall be, because yee shall hearken to these judgments, and shall keepe and doe them, that Jehovah thy God will keepe unto thee the covenant, and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers. And hee will love thee, and will blesse thee, and multiply thee: and he will blesse the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corne, and thy new wine, and thy new oyle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheepe, upon the land which he sware unto thy fathers to give unto thee. Blessed shalt thou be above all peoples: there shall not be a barren male, or a barren female, among thee, or among thy cattell. And Jehovah will take away from thee all sickness, and all the evill diseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, hee will not put upon thee, but will lay them upon all that hate thee. And thou shalt eat up all the peoples which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee; thine eye shall not spare them, neither shalt thou serve their gods, for that will be a snare unto thee. If thou shalt say in thine heart, These nations are more than I, how shall I be able to dispossesse them? Thou shalt not be afraid of them: remembre thou shalt remember that which Jehovah thy God did unto Pharaoh, and unto all Egypt. The great tentations which thine eye saw, and the signes, and the wonders, and the strong hand, and the stretched out arme with which Jehovah thy God brought thee out: so will Jehovah thy God do unto all peoples, of whose faces thou art afraid. And also Jehovah thy God will send the hornet among them, untill

 21 themselves from thy face. Thou shalt not bee affrighted at their faces: for Jehovah thy God is in the midst of thee, a great 22 God, and a fearfull. And Jehovah thy God will plucke out these nations from thy face, by little and little: thou shalt not bee able to consume them suddenly, lest the wilde beasts of the field multiply up-23 on thee. But Jehovah thy God will deliver them before thy face, and will destroy them with a great destruction, un-24 till they be wasted out. And he will deliver their Kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under the heavens: there shall not a man stand before thy face, untill thou have wasted them 25 out. The graven Images of their gods shall ye burne with fire; thou shalt not desire the silver and gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein; for it is an abomination to Jehovah thy God.
 26 And thou shalt not bring an abomination unto thine house, lest thou bee a cursed thing like it: detesting thou shalt detest it;
 and abhorring thou shalt abhorre it, for it is a cursed thing.

Annotations.

1 C Hethite] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth them, Chethites, Girsasites, &c. See the notes on Gen. 10. 16. Here Moses sheweth another rentation whereby Israel might be drawne from the love and obedience of God, even by communion with idolaters, and their abominations, which therefore they ought carefully to avoid. seven nations] that number Paul also mentioneth in Act.
 13. 19. In rehearsing them, the Scripture sometime reckoneth more or fewer, Gen. 15. 19. Exod. 23. 23.
 Seven is a full and perfect number: see Gen. 2. 2.
 and signifieth the many enemies of the Church,
 whom God will subdue, though they be mightier
 than we, for his strength is made perfect in weakness,
 2 Corinth. 12. 9.
 2 Verse 2. before thee] that is, as the Greek explai-neth it here, and in verse 23. into thine hands: So in Deut. 23. 14. utterly destroy] as accursed cir-cumstanced: see the notes on Exod. 22. 20. Compare with this Law, Exod. 34. 11, 12, &c.
 3 Verse 3. make marriages] or, inne in affinitie, by way of marriage; and this concerned not the seven nations onely, but all heathens, Ezra 9. 12.
 The Hebrews say, An Israelite shall lieth with an Heathen woman of any other nation, by way of marriage, or an Israelite shall so lieth with an heathen man, they are to be beaten by the Law, Deuteronomie 7. 3.
whether it be of the seven nations, or of any other peoples, it is within this prohibition, and so it is expor-

ded by Ezra, &c. Maimony in Issurei biab, chapter 12. section 1.

Verse 4. from after me] that is, from following me and my Law. The Greeke translateth, from me: the Chaldee, from after my feare. other gods]
 the Chaldee explaines it, the Idols of the peoples.
 This was fulfilled even in Solomon the wise, who clave in love unto strange women, and they turned away his heart after other gods; and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, 1 King. 11.
 2, 4. will be kindled] so it was against Solomon
 for this sinne, the LORD was angry with him, because his heart was turned from the LORD, the God of Israel, 1 King. 11. 9.

Verse 5. pillars] or statues, or standing Images:
 see Exod. 23. 24. and Levit. 26. 1. This Law was executed by the good Kings of Judah, 2 King. 18.
 4. and 23. 6, 14. groves] or, trees planted
 for religious use, whereof see the notes on Exod.
 34. 13. here they are commanded to be cut downe,
 in Deuteronomie 12. 3. to be burnt with fire.
 The Hebrews say, A tree which is planted at the first to be served (or worshipped) is unlawfull for any use, and that is Asherab (the grove) spoken of in the Law.
 If it were not planted for religious use at the first, but that afterward some man had worshipped it, though all the body (or stocke) be not unlawfull; all the boughes, and the leaves, and the branches, and the fruits that it bringeth forth all the while that it is worshipped, they are unlawfull for any use. A tree under which they have set up an Idol; all the while that it is under it, (the tree) is unlawfull for any use; if (the Idol) be taken from under it, then it is lawfull, because it was not the tree it selfe, which was worshipped.
Maim. in treat. of Idolatrie, chapter 8. section 3.
 4. graven Images] to wit, of their gods, as is expressed in verse 25.

Verse 6. peculiar] the Chaldee translateth it, beloved: properly it is a peculiar treasure or jewell, which is deare unto any: see Exod. 19. 5. This grace proceeding from the election of God, hee
 hath fulfilled in Christ, Who gave himselfe for us,
that he might redeeme us from all iniquitie, and purifie unto himselfe a peculiar people, zealous of good workes, Tit. 2. 14. Ephes. 1. 4, 5.

Verse 7. set his love] or, affected you, as Gen. 34. 8.
 So the Chaldee translateth, taken pleasure; the Greeke, delighted you. The number of Gods elect are few; Matthew 22. 14. and their election is of his grace, not of their worthinesse, Rom. 9.
 11, 16. and 1. 5, 6.

Verse 8. the oath] Gods irrevocable promise, (proceeding from grace) of which there is often mention, and the memory whereof caused him to turne away his wrath, when hee would have destroyed them, Exo. 32. 12, 13, 14. God willing more abundantly to shew unto the heires of promise, the immutability of his counsell, confirmed it by an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it is as impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, Heb. 6. 17, 18.

servants] in Greeke and Chaldee, servants, or bondage. A figure of our deliverance from the servitude of sinne, and of men, John 8. 34, 36.
 Romans 6. 14, 16, 17, 20. 1 Corinthians 7. 23.

9 Verse 9. Know therefore] Hebr. And thou shalt know: so in v. 11. See the notes on Gen. 31. 44. that love him] see the notes on Exod. 20. 6. Unto this promise Daniel hath respect in his prayer, Dan. 9. 4. and Nebemiah, Neh. 1. 5.

10 Verse 10. his face] that is, the face of every of them. So after, to destroy him, that is, every one of them: therefore the Greeke translateth plurally, them. The Chaldee saith, In their life (time) he will repay them. Chazkuni likewise and others expound it, In his life time. And so it is said, Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth; much more the wicked and the sinner, Proverbs 11. 31. A like phrase there is of recompensing the wicked into their bosome, Esay 65. 6.

not delay] that is, not faile; See the notes on Exodus 22. 29. will repay him] or, recompence, reward him, to wit, with vengeance or punishment, as these are joyned together in Deuteronomie 32. 35, 41. and it is called payment or reward, because it shall be according to mans work, Job 34. 11. Psal. 62. 13.

12 Verse 12. because] the Greeke translateth it, when: it implieth a reward of their obedience, which God of his grace did give: as in Genesis 22. 18. And the originall word sometime is used for a reward, as Psal. 119. 12. sometime it signifieth for, or, because of, Esay 5. 23. these] the Greeke addeth, all these; which is intended as the like phrase in Deuteronomie 27. 26. is opened by the Apostle, Galathians 3. 10. And under the name judgements, the commandements and statutes, are also contained. keepe unto thee] understand againe, keepe and doe, (that is, performe) unto thee. Here by promises of communicating good things, and turning away evill, he exciteth them unto obedience: for, godlinesse is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Timothie 4. 8. sware unto thy fathers] The oath and promise unto the fathers, pertaineth unto the faithfull children, which are all implied in the covenant, Psalme 105. 8, -11. Luke 1. 55, 72, 73, 74. Acts 3. 25, 26. Galathians 3. 29. So punishment remaineth for the wicked, from the parents to the children, for God recompenseth the iniquitie of the fathers, into the bosome of their children after them, Jeremie 32. 18.

13 Verse 13. love thee] that is, continue to love thee: for the love of God to his people, was the cause why he chose and called them, v. 7, 8. not that we loved God, but that he loved us, 1 Joh. 4. 10. and from the feeling of this in our hearts, proceedeth our love towards God; and out of love, obedience; and so God continueth his love, which is the fountaine of all blessings. So Christ saith, He that hath my Commandements, and keepeth them, in he that loveth me: and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will shew my selfe unto him, John 14. 21. fruit of thy wombe] in Chaldee, the childe of thy bowels: so in Deut. 28. 4. The just man walking in his integritie, his children are blessed after him, Prov. 20. 7. increase] or young, as Exod. 13. 12. the Greeke and Chaldee here translate, berds of thy kine.

14 Verse 14. barren make] the Greeke translateth, without seed (or generation.) Compare this with Exod. 23. 26. Hereupon barrennesse was a reproach, Luke 1. 25. and fruitfulness counted a blessing, Psal. 128. 1, 3.

15 Verse 15. evill diseases] that is, painfull, malignant, and incurable diseases, as Deut. 28. 27. Compare Exod. 15. 26. and 23. 25. lay] Hebrew, give: that is, lay, or impose, as the Greeke translateth.

16 Verse 16. eat up] that is, as the Chaldee translateth it, consume: But the word, eat, hath respect unto that in Num. 14. 9. they are bread for us. See also Psa. 14. 4. This is not onely a promise of victory, but a precept also, to abolish those cursed nations, as the words following manifest, and v. 1, 2, 3. spare] to wit, from vengeance, not take pite on them. This affection is often given to the eye, (as in other cases, Mat. 20. 15.) See Genesis 45. 20. Deuter. 13. 8. Ezek. 5. 11. snare] a cause of thy ruine: the Chaldee saith, a scandall, or stumbling-bloke: so after in v. 25. See Exod. 23. 33. and the performance hereof mentioned in Psal. 106. 36. they served their Idols, which were a snare unto them.

17 Verse 17. dispossesse them] or as the Chaldee translateth, cast them out; in Greeke, destroy them. These words of God, tend to the strengthening of faith, against the feares and infirmities of the Saints, and power of their enemies. Compare Num. 13. 32, -34.

18 Verse 18. Egypt] or, the Egyptians, as both Greeke and Chaldee doe translate. This example is often mentioned for the comfort of faith, Deut. 4. 34, &c. & 29. 3, 3. for it was a manifestation both of the power of God, and of his good will towards his people.

19 Verse 19. temptations] or trials, Essaies: see Deut. 4. 34. and 29. 3.

20 Verse 20. the hornets] or, hornets, as the Greeke translateth. As God by frogs, lice, and other creatures, plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 8. so did he the Canaanites with hornets, Jos. 24. 12. shewing his power in confounding mightie enemies by small and weak meanes, 1 Cor. 1. 27, 28. Hereby also the pricks and terrours of conscience sent upon the wicked, may fitly be signified. So in Exod. 23. 28. from thy face] the Greeke translateth, from thee: so it is referred to the latter word bide, rather than to the former, perish.

21 Verse 21. fearfull] or terrible; in Greeke, strong, that is, able to save thee, terrible to thine enemies, (as 1 Saml. 4. 7, 8.) and unto thee fearfull and to be revered, Psal. 89. 7.

22 Verse 22. by little] This was accomplished, when some could not at the first be driven out, Jos. 15. 63. Judges 3. 1. suddenly] or, hastily, quickly, that is, at once, but by degrees. Yet in Deuteronomie 9. 3. he promisseth that they should destroy them them suddenly, to wit, in respect of their enemies, upon whom sudden destruction came ere they were aware: but in respect of Israel, it was not so soone as they looked for and desired. For God foresaw their infirmities, and how they would sin against him, if they were not excised with troubles: yea, and for their sinnes it is observed, that he would not drive out the nations, that through them he might prove Israel, whether they would keepe the way of the Lord, &c. Therefore the Lord left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Joshua, Iudg. 2. 21. 22. 23. beasts Hebr. beast. Here the Greeke addeth, lest the land be wildeernesse, and the wild beasts of the field multiply: God could also have destroyed the wild beasts from before them (as he promiseth in Levit. 26. 6. Ezek. 34. 25.) but if Israel had suddenly destroyed the peoples, pride, or security, or other vices would have crept upon them, which God in justice must also have punished: see Iudg. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4.

23 Ver. 23. destroy or vex, with stir and tumult: see Deut. 2. 15. and 28. 20. Exod. 14. 24. It implieth troubles & vexations, which should cause their destruction. So the promise of God should certainly be performed, though not so speedily as men desired, that their faith & patience might be tried.

24 Ver. 24. their kings as was fulfilled in Ios. 10. 24. and 12. 7. 9. -- 24. where one and thirty kings are reckoned, whom Israel conquered. from under heaven out of this world: the Greeke translath out of that place. This hath long since been accomplished; that now there is no memory either of those kings, or of any of those peoples on the earth.

25 V. 25. The graven images of their gods in Chaldee, The Images of their Idols: under the name graven, all other sorts are implied, as images molten, or painted, or the like, Esay 30. 22. And by saying, of their gods, hee excepteth other Images for civill use, as the Image of Cesar upon his coine was lawfull, Matt. 22. 20. 21. The Hebrewes say, Figures (or Images) which idolatrous beastes make for beauty (or civill ornament) are lawfull to be used: but figures which they make for Idolatry, are unlawfull. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 7. sect. 6.

burne so David burnt the Philistines gods, 1 Chron. 14. 12. See Deut. 12. 3. silver and gold these are named for an instance, but all other idolatrous instruments are implied, covering, ornament, &c. Esay 30. 22. nor take it Hebr. and take it; that is, and not take it: the former prohibition is here again to be understood, as in the verse following, and often in the Scriptures.

lest thou be snared that thou be not snared; this word lest, often implieth certaine danger, as is noted on Gen. 3. 3. and by snared, is meant falling into sinne, and so into destruction, as before in verse 16.

an abomination to Iehovah Hebr. the abomination of Iehovah, that is, a thing which the Lord much abhorreth. And this is another reason of the prohibition.

26 Ver. 26. into thine house for any use or profit to thy selfe; and so from these words the Hebrewes gather, that The Idoll, and things that serve it, and that which is offered thereto, and whatsoever is made for it, is unlawfull for any use. Maimony treatise of Idolatry, chap. 7. sect. 2. lest thou be Hebr. and thou be a cursed thing: meaning, and that thou be not, or, lest thou be: See the notes on Numb. 4. 15. or, for so thou shalt be a cursed thing like it.

it is a cursed thing in Hebr. Oberem; in Greeke, Anathema, which meane a thing separated from mens use, and devoted either to destruction, as the Idoll and instruments thereof here mentioned; or, at the Lords appointment to be carried into his treasure, as were the gods of Iericho, Ios. 6. 17. 19. 24. This law against idols and images, which are the worke of mens hands, Psal. 115. 4. extendeth not to the creatures of Gods making, though by men abused to idolatry, as the Hebrewes also expound it, saying; Whatsoever hath not been taken by mans hand, and which man hath not made, though it hath been worshipped, yet is it lawfull to have use of it. Therefore the beastes that served (or worshipped) the mountaines, and the hills, and the trees that were planted at first for fruit, and fountaines of water, that are common, and beasts; be these are lawfull to be made use of, and it is lawfull to eat of those fruits which were worshipped in the place where they grew, and of these beasts, &c. A beast is not unlawfull, so long as a man hath not done with it any worke pertaining to idolatry; but if hee have done any (such worke therewith) it is unlawfull every whit: as if he kill it to the service of an Idoll, or exchange it, &c. provided that it be his owne beast, and not another mans: for if hee kill his neighbours beast to an Idoll, or exchange it, it is not made unlawfull: for no man can make a thing unlawfull which is not his owne. If one worship any ground in the world, it is not made unlawfull: if hee dig pits or caves therein, to the name of an idoll, they are unlawfull, &c. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 8. sect. 1.

CHAP. VIII.

1 An exhortation to keepe and doe the Law for their owne good, 2 because of Gods former merces in the wildeernesse, 7 and future blessings in Canaan. 10 A warning lest fullnesse occasion them to forget God, and his former benefits: 17 and lest they presume of their owne strength. 19 A protestation against them, that they shal perish, if they forget and forsake their God.

AL L the commandement which I command thee this day, ye shall observe to do, that ye may live & multiply, & goe in, & possesse the land which Iehovah sware unto your fathers. And thou shalt remember all the way which Iehovah thy God led thee these 40 yeares in the wildeernes, for to humble thee, to tempt thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements, or no. And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with Manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know: that he might make thee know, that man liveth not by bread only, but by every (word) that proceedeth out of the mouth of

4 Jehovah doth man live. Thy rayment waxed not old upon thee, and thy foot swelled not these forty yeares. And thou shalt know with thine heart, that as a man chasteneth his

6 son, Jehovah thy God, chasteneth thee. And thou shalt keepe the commandements of Jehovah thy God, to walke in his wayes, and to feare him. For, Jehovah thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brookes of waters, of fountaines, and of depths, that issue out in the valley, and in the mountaine.

8 A land of wheat, and of barley, and of vines and fig-trees, and pomegranats: a land of oile-olive and honey. A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcenesse, thou shalt not lacke any thing in it: a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose

10 mountaines thou maiest hew brasce. And thou shalt eat and be full, & thou shalt blesse Jehovah thy God, for the good land which hee hath given thee. Take heed to thy selfe,

11 lest thou forget Jehovah thy God, in not keeping his commandements, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day. Lest thou eat, and bee full,

12 and buildest good houses, and dwellest in them. And thy heards, and thy flocks multiply; and silver and gold bee multiplied to thee; and all that thou hast be multiplied.

14 And thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget Jehovah thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of servants. Who led thee thorow that

15 great and fearfull wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water: who brought forth unto thee waters, out of the rocke of

16 flint. Who fed thee with Manna in the wilderness, which thy fathers knew not, for to humble thee, and for to tempt thee, to doe thee good at thy latter end. And thou say in thy heart, my power, and the might of my

18 hand hath gotten unto me this wealth. But thou shalt remember Jehovah thy God, that it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant, which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day. And

19 it shall be, if forgetting thou shalt forget Jehovah thy God, and shalt walke after other gods, and serve them, and bow thy selfe downe unto them; I testifie against you this day, that perishing yee shall perish. As the nations which Jehovah causeth to perish from your faces, so shall yee perish, because yee would not heare the voice of Jehovah your God.

Annotations.

Commandements] that is, as the Greeke translath, commandements. See Deut. 5.31. and 6.1. observe to doe] or, keepe and doe, as the phrase sometime signifieth. See the notes on Gen. 2.3.

ye may love] that is, continue long in a prosperous life; for as sorrowes, plagues, miseries are called deaths, Exod. 10. 17. 1 Cor. 11. 33. so a quiet and blessed estate is called life; as, yeares of life, Prov. 3. 2. meane many good yeares: and in Psal. 30. 6. life is opposed unto a moment.

posse] or, inherit the land: under which eternall life was figured, as is noted on Gen. 12. 5.

Verf. 2. all the way] that is, all the accidents that befell thee in the way, which were afflictions, wants, dangers on the one hand; and comforts, blessings, and deliverances on the other: by which, as by two walls, hee kept Israel from going astray. Therefore this leading thorow the wilderness is often mentioned by the Prophets; as Amos 2. 10. Psal. 136. 16. and 78. 52. 53. Ier. 2. 2. 6.

to humble] or, to afflict; as the Greeke translath, that hee might afflict thee, and tempt thee. So verse 3. tempt] or, prove, to wit, their faith and obedience: see the notes on Gen. 22. 1.

to know] that is, to have experiment in practise of that which was in them. The like is said of King Ezechias, whom God left, to tempt him, that hee might know all that was in his heart, 2 Chron. 32. 31. But in respect of himselfe, God needeth not that any should testifie of man; for he knoweth what is in man, and what himselfe will doe, Ioh. 2. 25. and 6. 6. A faithfull heart loveth, serveth and beleeveeth in God, as wel in adversity, as prosperity, Mat. 4. 4. but an unfaithfull murmureth in afflictions, Psal. 78. 40. 41.

Verf. 3. bumbled] or, Afflicted, as verf. 2. So God afflicteth the strength of his people in the way, Psal. 102. 24. He suffered them to hunger, before he gave them Manna: so Gods people hunger and thirst after righteousness, & then he filleth them, Mat. 5. 6. Luke 1. 53.

Manna] Hebr. Mai: of this meat, see the annotations on Exod. 16. 14. 15. &c. It was a figure of Christ, Ioh. 6. bread only] that is, ordinary food, such as men live by; whereof bread is the principall. This sentence Christ alledged against Saran, when hee tempted him to unlawfull meanes for satisfying his hunger, Matth. 4. 4.

word that proceedeth] so the Greeke also translath, adding this word, as the Apostle also doth, in Matt. 4. 4. But another Evangelist saith only, every word of God, Luk. 4. 4. The word of God is the ground of faith, Rom. 10. 17. which they that have abiding in them, shall surely be fed in time of hunger, both soule and body, Psal. 37. 3, &c.

4 Verſ. 4. not old] that is, was not worne out with age, as the Greeke explaineth it: ſo in Deut. 29. 5. Neh. 9. 21. This was the ſecond meanes of ſuſtentation of life, which God alſo miraculoſly ſupplied unto them, that they might learne, not to ſeek as the Gentiles; or take thought, what they ſhould eat, or drinke, or wherewith they ſhould be cloathed, Matt. 6. 31. 32. ſwelled not] the Chaldee expoundeth it, thy ſhoes were not bare (or broken;) and ſo the Greeke in Neh. 9. 21. where this is againe mentioned: and Moſes himſelfe in Deut. 29. 5. In the ſenſe it agreeth with the former. But it ſeemeth here to meane the feet properly, which ſwelled not, neither were ſurbated, though they travelled ſo long therow that dry and thorny wilderneſſe: and ſo it meaneth health of body, which God alſo gave them, as the third bleſſing neceſſary for this preſent life. forty yeeres] the time of their travell in the wilderneſſe: which number forty, is often uſed for to denote the time of affliction and humiliation. See the notes on Gen. 7. 4.

5 Verſ. 5. know with thine heart] that is, know and acknowledge heartily, upon thine owne feeling and experience. So Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Ye know in all your heart, and in all your ſoule, Iſa. 13. 14. chaste[neth] or nurtur[eth], reſtraineth from the pleaſures of the fleſh. So other Scriptures ſpeake of Gods chaſtiſements, like a father, Prov. 3. 11. 12. Hebr. 12. 5. -- 10. and, Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſteſteſt O Iah, Pſal. 94. 12.

6 Verſ. 6. his wayes] which hee hath commanded to walke in, that is, his Law, Exod. 18. 20. Pſal. 25. 4. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the wayes that are right before him. Theſe are oppoſed to mens owne wayes, Eſay 66. 3. and 55. 8. 9. They comprehend faith, and other duties of the firſt Table, 1 King. 11. 33. 38. Act. 18. 25. 26. and 22. 4. & vertues of the ſecond Table alſo, 2 Pet. 2. 15. See the notes on Gen. 6. 12. to feare him] this is the meanes to keepe men in Gods wayes, and is therefore ſet before, in 2 Chron. 1. 31. Pſal. 128. 1.

7 Verſ. 7. good land] a fat and fertile ſoile: See Num. 13. 19. 20. brookes] or rivers: the Chaldee explaineth it, flowing with brookes. of fountaines] or of ſprings: the Chaldee ſaith, well[ing]-out fountaines and dep[ths]: the Greeke, and fountaines of dep[ths]. By deepes are meant ſore of waters, as Gen. 1. 2. and 7. 11. Theſe brookes and ſprings figured the plentifull graces of Gods ſpirit, wherewith his Church is watered, Joel 3. 18. Ezek. 47. 1. &c. Revel. 22. 1. Pſal. 65. 10. and 46. 4. vallie] put for vallies, and mountaines, as the Greeke and Chaldee tranſlate. One is often uſed for many: See the notes on Gen. 3. 2. God ſendeth the ſprings into the vallies, they run among the mountaines, they give drinke to every beaſt of the field, the wild aſſes quench their thirſt, Pſal. 104. 10. 11.

8 Verſ. 8. pomegranates] it ſignifieth both the fruit, Num. 13. 24. and the tree that beares them, Song. 7. 12. Hagg. 2. 20. olive olive] Hebr. olive-tree of oile, that is, as the Chaldee expounds it, olives that make oile. With the fatneſſe of the olive, they honoured God and man, Iudg. 9. 9. Theſe earthly fruits figured alſo the heavenly graces which the faithfull (watered with Gods word and ſpirit) are filled and comforted with, Pſal. 81. 16. and 147. 14. Song. 8. 2. The trees that beare theſe fruits, figure out gracious men, from whoſe doctrine and converſation, heavenly comforts doe flow in the Church, Iudg. 9. 8. -- 13. Song. 4. 13. & 6. 10. Hoſ. 10. 1. and 14. 7. 8. Pſal. 1. 3. and 52. 10.

Verſ. 9. eat bread] ſo having fruition of Gods bleſſings therein, which ſometime men have not, though the land be fruitfull, as Deut. 28. 30. 33. 39. 40. And for their finnes it came to paſſe, that they did eat bread by weight, and with care, Ezek. 4. 16. braſſe] theſe latter are for munition, and other uſes, as the former were for food: ſo all good things are implied. See alſo Deut. 33. 25. The mountaines as Gods ſtore-houſes were not only fruitfull on the upmoſt face of them, with corne and graſſe, and trees of ſundry ſorts; but within their bowels (as it were) bred minerals and metals of great uſe for man. Iron is taken out of the duſt, and Braſſe is molten out of the ſtone, Job 28. 2.

Verſ. 10. be full] or, ſatisfied; which is a bleſſing that God giveth to the righteous, Prov. 13. 25. Pſal. 147. 14. the contrary, to the wicked, Mic. 6. 14. Hag. 1. 6. ſhalt bleſſe Iehovah] that is, ſhalt give him thankes; as where it is ſaid, that Ieſus tooke bread, and bleſſed, Marke 14. 22. another Evangelist ſaith, he tooke bread and gave thanks, Luke 22. 19. And as our Saviour teacheth us to bleſſe before we eat, Mat. 14. 19. 20. ſo this law chargeth us to bleſſe after we have eaten: and for meat and drink, ſo for other good things which we receive of God; as David ſaith, Bleſſe the LORD O my ſoule, and forget not all his benefits, Pſalm. 103. 2. and the Apoſtle commandeth, In every thing give thanks, for this is the will of God in Chriſt Ieſus concerning you, 1 Theſſ. 5. 18. The Hebrewes (from this Law of Moſes) teach, that although it be here ſaid, thou ſhalt eat and be full; and thou ſhalt bleſſe, &c. yet if a man eat but a morſell (ſo much as an olive) he is to bleſſe after it. And he is bound to bleſſe for all meat firſt, and afterward to uſe it: likewise if he be to ſmell unto any ſweet thing, hee is to bleſſe, & after to have the fruition of it: as alſo to bleſſe after whatſoever he eateth or drinketh, though he drink but one little draught, or eat but a morſell. And as they were to bleſſe for the uſe of the creatures, ſo for every thing commanded in the Law, they were firſt to bleſſe, & then to doe the ſame. Women and ſervants were bound to bleſſe their meat, and little children alſo, that they might be trained up in the Commandements. Uncleane perſons, whatſoever uncleanneſſe they had, might bleſſe notwithstanding. Maimony tom. 1. in treat. of Bleſſings, chap. 1. ſect. 1. &c. and chap. 5. ſect. 1.

Verſ. 11. leſt thou forget Iehovah] or, that thou forget not Iehovah; which the Chaldee expoundeth, that thou forget not the feare of the LORD. God is forgotten, when his Commandements are neglected, Pſal. 106. 19. 21. Jer. 2. 32. and hee is remembered, when his precepts are remembered and done, Pſa. 103. 18. Moſes his next words ſhew this to bee the meaning here. So God is forgotten, when his workes towards us are forgotten, as appeareth appeareth after, in verse 14, 15. &c.

12 Verſ. 10. good] that is, goodly, faire, pleasant, commodious: see the notes on Gen. 1. 4.

14 Verſ. 14. lifted up] the Chaldee expounds it strengthened, (or hardened;) meaning with pride, as is said of Nebuchadnezar, Dan. 5. 20. and so lifting up of the heart meaneth, as Deut. 17. 20. Jer. 48. 29. Dan. 11. 12. which is the way for men to forget God, as is written, They were filled, and their heart was lifted up, therefore have they forgotten me, Hos. 13. 6. Jeromus] in Greeke and Chaldee, servitude (or bondage.)

15 Verſ. 15. led thee] or, made thee goe, to wit, safely that thou shouldst not stumble, as Es. 63. 13. This grace David remembreth, in Psal. 136. 16. Which led his people shew the wilderness, &c. This was by a pillar of a cloud by day, and by a pillar of fire by night, Exod. 13. 21. fearfull] for it was a land of deserts and of pits, a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwells, Jer. 2. 6. fiery serpents] or, serpent, burning serpent and scorpion; the Greeke translateth, where was the biting serpent and scorpions: the Chaldee saith, a place of burning serpents and scorpions. See Num. 21. 6. &c. scorpions] Hebr. scorpion, one for many, as is noted on Gen. 3. 2. Scorpions are venomous creatures, which hurt and sting with their tails: wicked men are likened unto such, Ezek. 2. 6. Rev. 9. 3. 5. 10. as also unto Serpents, Matth. 23. 33. drought] or thirst: meaning a land of thirst, as is expressed in Esa. 35. 7. and so the Chaldee here translateth, a place of drineste. rocke of flint] that is, hard and dry rocke, from whence God gave them water twise, Exod. 17. and Num. 20. Of this mercy David sung, that God turneth the rocke to a lake of waters, the flint to a fountaine of waters, Psal. 114. 8. After Moses speaketh figuratively, of oile out of the flinty rocke, Deut. 32. 13.

16 Verſ. 16. Manna] whereof see before, vers. 3. and Exod. 16. thy latter end] for though no chastening for the present, seemeth to be joyous but grievous, yet afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness, unto them which are exercised thereby, Hebr. 12. 11.

17 Verſ. 17. And thou say] understand from vers. 12. lest thou say, that is, as the Greeke translateth, and say not. gotten] Hebr. made, that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, gotten: So in vers. 18. wealth] or power, meaning wealth or goods; as the Chaldee hath it.

18 Verſ. 18. that it is he] or, for it is he. Riches and wealth in the land of Canaan, (figuring spirituall riches in Christ,) were the speciall gift of God; for The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, Prov. 10. 22. but Israel forgot this, as God saith, For she did not know, that I gave her corne, and wine, and oile, and multiplied her silver and gold, Hos. 2. 8.

19 Verſ. 19. other gods] the idols of the people, saith the Chaldee paraphrast. These words shew what the forgetting of God meaneth: so Psal. 106. 19, 21. I testifie] the Greeke addeth, I take heaven and earth to witness against you. So Moses himselfe elsewhere speaketh in Deut. 30. 19. perish

ing ye shall perish] that is, ye shall assuredly and speedily perish, notwithstanding your wealth and prosperity; as it is said, Neither their silver nor their gold, shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORDS wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy, Zeph. 1. 18.

Verſ. 20. not heare] that is, not obey the voice, which the Chaldee explaineth, not receive the word of the LORD.

CHAP. IX.

1. Moses teacheth Israel (now ready to enter into Canaan) that God would goe before them, and destroy their enemies; 4. not for their righteousness, but for the beasts wickednesse, and for his owne oath to Abraham. 6. Because Israel was a stiffe-necked people, that had often rebelled against God in the wilderness; as, 8. at Horib, where they made a molten Calf, whiles Moses was on the mount to receive the tables of the Covenant: 13. for which God would have destroyed them, but that Moses intreated for them, and abolished their idolatry. 22. How Israel sinned at Taberah, Massah, Kibroth hattaavah, 23. and at Kades barnea, where they refused to take possession of the Land. 25. Moses his fasting and prayer for the people.

HEARE O Israel; thou art passing over Jordan this day, to goe in to possesse Nations, greater and mightier than thou; Cities great and fenced, up to the Heavens. A people great and tall, the sonnes of the Anakims, whom thou hast knowen, and thou hast heard: who can stand before the sonnes of Anak? And thou shalt know this day, that Iehovah thy God is he that passeth over before thee, a consuming fire; he will destroy them, and he will bring them downe before thy face, and thou shalt drive them out and destroy them suddenly, as Iehovah hath spokē unto thee. Say not in thine heart, when Iehovah thy God hath cast them out from before thy face, saying, For my justice, Iehovah hath brought me in to possesse this land: but for the wickednesse of these nations, Iehovah doth drive them out from thy face. Not for thy justice, or for the righteousness of thine heart, doest thou goe in to possesse their land; but for the wickednes of these nations, Iehovah thy God doth drive them out from thy face, and for to stablish the word which Iehovah sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaak, and to Iakob.

And thou shalt know, that not for thy justice doth Iehovah thy God give thee this good land, to possesse it; for thou art a stiffe-necked people.

Remember

7 Remember, forget not, how thou provokedst to wrath Jehovah thy God, in the wilderness, from the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Egypt, untill ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious against 8 Jehovah. And in Horeb ye provoked Jehovah to wrath; and Jehovah was angry with 9 you, to have destroyed you. When I was gone up into the mount, to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the Covenant, which Jehovah stroke with you: and I abode in the mount fortie daies and fortie nights; I did 10 neither eat bread, nor drink water. And Jehovah gave unto me the two tables of stone, written with the finger of God: & on them, according to all the words which Jehovah spake with you in the mount, out of the midst of fire, in the day of the Assembly.
11 And it was, at the end of forty daies, & fortie nights, Jehovah gave unto me the two tables of stone, the tables of the Covenant.
12 And Jehovah said unto me, Arise, goe down quickly from hence; for thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt, have corrupted themselves, they have quickly turned aside out of the way which I commanded them; they have made them a molten
13 calfe. And Jehovah said unto me, saying; I have seene this people, and behold, it is a 14 stiffe-necked people. Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under the heavens: and I will make of thee a nation mightier & greater than they.
15 And I turned me, and came downe from the mount, and the mount burned with fire, and the two tables of the Covenant were in my 16 two hands. And I saw, and behold, ye had sinned against Jehovah your God, yee had made you a molten calfe, ye had turned aside quickly, out of the way which Jehovah had 17 commanded you. And I took the two tables and cast them out of my two hands, & brake 18 them before your eies. And I fell downe before Jehovah, as at the first, forty daies, and forty nights; I did neither eat bread, nor 19 drinke water, because of all your sin which yee had sinned, in doing evill in the eyes of 20 Jehovah, to provoke him to anger. For I was afraid because of the anger and hot displeasure wherewith Jehovah was wroth against you, to destroy you: but Jehovah hearkened unto me at that time also. And Jehovah was very angry with Aaron, to have destroyed him: and I prayed for Aaron also, in 21 the same time. And your sinne, the Calfe which ye had made, I tooke, and burned it with fire; and stamped it, grinding it well, untill it was made small as dust, & I cast the dust therof into the brook that descended out of the mount. And at Taberah, and at Massah, 22 and at Kibroth-hataavah, yee provoked Jehovah to wrath. And when Jehovah sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, Goe up, and possesse the land which I have given unto you, then yee rebelled against the mouth of Jehovah your God, and ye beleevd him not, neither hearkned unto his voice. You 23 have been rebellious against Jehovah, from the day that I knew you. And I fell downe before Jehovah, forty daies and forty nights, as I fell down, because Jehovah had said for to destroy you. And I prayed unto Jehovah, 24 and said; O Lord Jehovah, destroy not thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt with a strong hand. Remember thy servants, Abraham, 25

Isaac, and Jakob: looke not unto the hardnesse of this people, nor to their wickednesse, nor to their sinne. Lest the land from whence thou hast brought us out, doe say, 26
Because Jehovah was not able to bring them into the land which he spake unto them; and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness. Yet they 27 are thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy great power, and by thy stretched-out arme. 28

Annotations.

[Orden] Hebr. Iarden: a river thorow which Israel was to passe into the land, Deut. 1. 1. See Num. 24. 12. this day] that is, at this time, very shortly. Day is often used for time, as 2 Cor. 6. 2. An houre is likewise so used for time; as, the last houre, 1 Joh. 2. 18. So, in that houre, Luke 10. 31. 16. At that time, Matth. 11. 25. possesse] or inherit, which when it is spoken of nations, signifieth dominion over them, Lev. 25. 45, 46. Here it may be meant also of the lands or Countries of those nations, as they are said to possesse Gad, which dwell in his cities, Jer. 49. 1.

Verse 2. Anakims] whom the Chaldee calleth Giams. They were named of one Anah, (of whom see Numb. 13. 23.) and so the Greeke here saith, sonnes of Enah. hast heard] to wit, men say. A common report of others, and of the Israelites themselves, Num. 13. 29, 34.

Ver. 3. be that possesse] Against feare and distrust (such as had affected them before, Num. 14. 1, 2, 3, &c.) hee opposeth the presence and power of God, which is the main Argument to strengthen faith, Num. 14. 9. Psal. 56. 4, 5. & 60. 13, 14.

consuming] Hebr. eating: so Deut. 4. 24. The Chaldee translateth, his word is a consuming fire. suddenly] or, quickly, hastily: see the notes on Deut. 7. 22.

4 Verse 4. For my justice] The Hebrew In, is by the Greek also here translated For, and it often noteth the cause of a thing; as Hos. 12. 13. in (that is, for) a wife. So in Psal. 11. 2. Deut. 24. 16. Here he opposeth the second evill, pride of heart, against which he dealeth in all the rest of this chapter.

5 Verse 5. righteousnesse] or uprightness, straitnesse, equitie: the Greeke translateth it here, piety; the Chaldee, truth. By naming justice, he excludeth all merit of workes, Deut. 6. 25. and by righteousnesse of heart, all inward affections and purposes, which men might plead, notwithstanding that they faile in action. Yet these two are the chiefe things which God respecteth in men, Psal. 15. 1, 2. 1 Chron. 29. 17. for the wickednesse] Two causes are here shewed of this worke of God; justice against the wicked inhabitants, which should perish for their sinnes; and mercie towards Israel, whom he would doe good unto, of grace. Thus also hee dealeth concerning the heavenly inheritance; the wicked are shut out, for their evill works, Jude vers. 14, 15. But the Saints are saved by grace through faith: not of workes, lest any man should boast, Ephes. 2. 8, 9. the word] the Greek translateth, stablish the covenant (or, testament): hereby he calleth them wholly to Gods word and promise, as Paul doth us in Galath. 3. 18. Rom. 15. 8. shewing, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the Circumcision for the truth of God, to confirme the fathers promises, and that the Gentiles might glorifie God for mercie.

6 Verse 6. this good land] a figure of heavenly blessings, as is shewed on Gen. 12. 5. stiffe-necked] or, of a hard necke, that is, stubborn and rebellious: see the notes on Exod. 32. 9. to which place Moses hath reference; and from Gods testimonie there, and their sins then and at other times, convinceth them as being altogether unworthy: that (as another Prophet saith) they might remember their waies, and all their doings wherin they had been defiled; and might loath themselves in their owne eies, for all their evils that they had committed; and might know that he was Jehovah, when he had wrought with them for his names sake, not according to their wicked waies, nor according to their corrupt doings, Ezek. 20. 43, 44. and 36. 31, 32.

7 Verse 7. Remember, forget not] an earnest and effectual manner of speaking, to move unto carefull remembrance: see the notes on Deut. 33. 6. against] Hebr. with Jehovah, which the Chaldee translateth, before the Lord; the Greeke, ye have rebelliously performed things pertaining to the Lord. This generall charge he proveth by many particular instances following.

8 Verse 8. Horeb] or Choreb, the mountaine where the Law was given; their rebellion there is described in Exod. 32. destroyed you] for there God said to Moses, let me alone, &c. and I will consume them, Exod. 32. 10.

Verse 9. to the mount] called up thither of God, to receive the tables of the Covenant, and other ordinances, Exod. 24. 12, -18. The time, place, occasion, end, and all circumstances, greatly aggravated the peoples sinne.

Verse 10. of stone] the signification whereof is noted on Exod. 31. 18. finger] signifying the Spirit: as, I with the finger of God, cast out devils, Luke 11. 20. that is, with the Spirit of God, Mat. 12. 28. So it figured the worke of God in our hearts, writing there his Law; as, Ye are manifestly declared to be the Epistle of Christ, ministred by us, written not with inke, but with the spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart, 2 Cor. 3. 3.

Verse 12. corrupted] This word meaneth the corruption of Gods service and religion: see the notes on Exod. 32. 7. and Gen. 6. 11, 12, 13.

molten calfe] the word calfe is expressed in v. 16. This molten calfe they worshipped; and Moses said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sinne, and have made them gods of gold, Exod. 32. 8, 31.

Verse 13. saying] Here the Greeke version addeth, I have spoken unto thee once and twice, saying; I have seene, &c. I have seene] by the Lords seeing and bearing of sinners, is often meant a due regard of their sinnes, to punish them in his anger, Deut. 32. 19. Psal. 78. 21. & 90. 8. But when he pardoneth sinners, he is said to hide his face from their sinnes, and not to see them, Psalme 51. 11. Numbers 23. 21.

Verse 14. Let me alone] which the Chaldee expounds, Leave off thy prayer before me. So in Exodus 32. 10.

Verse 15. burned] Hebr. burning: the terrour of which sight onely, might have kept them from this sin, in that the signes of Gods presence were not yet departed from their eies. See Exo. 19. 18. and 20. 18. two hands] both hands full with blessings of the Lord for them, if their unworthinesse had not turned them away.

Verse 17. I took] the originall word signifieth a purposed taking hold, and handling of a thing; as they that goe to warre, are said to take (or handle) the shield, Jer. 46. 9. and they that expound the Law, are said to handle it, Jer. 2. 8. So Moses did this advisedly, guided by Gods Spirit; signifying that the covenant betweene God and them was now disannulled and broken, and that the Law pertained not to them, except to their condemnation, for breaking the same. See Exod. 32. 19.

Verse 18. I fell downe] the Greeke expoundeth it, I prayed before the Lord the second time, as at the first. Here Moses repeareth, how by his humble intercession, they escaped destruction, and were reconciled againe unto God. See the historie at large, in Exod. 32. 31, &c. fortie daies] the number of daies, and of yeeres, sundry times mentioned in the Scripture, for humiliation or judgement. See the notes on Gen. 7. 4. sinnes] the Greeke translateth, sinnes; respecting the manifold evill in this, and their other transgressions.

Verse 19. For I was] the Greeke applying this to the time present also, saith; And I am afraid:

For

For the Lord, though he pardoned it then, reserved vengeance till another opportunitie, Exo. 32.

34. bea, bened unto me] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, accepted my prayer.

20 Verse 20. with Aaron] who made the calfe for them, and would have excused himselfe, but was guiltie of death: see Exod. 32. 21, 24.

21 Verse 21. your sinne] the Calfe is so called, as being the thing wherein they sinned. So Idols are called a sinne, in Eia. 31. 7. the brooke] that came out of the Rocke Horeb, which Rocke in figure was Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. of which they drank, to signifie the abolishing of their sinne by Christ, upon their repentance and faith: see the notes on Exodus 32. 20.

22 Verse 32. at Taberah] or, in Taberah: that is (as both Greek and Chaldee do interpret it) the Burning: a place so called, because the people complaining there, the fire of the Lord was kindled, and consumed some of them. See the history in Num. 11. 1, 2, 3. Maffab] in English, the Temptation; and so the Greek & Chaldee translate it. A place at Rephidim in the wilderness, before they came to Horeb, ten stations from Egypt, in the first yeere of their travell, where wanting water, they tempted God, saying, Is the Lord amongst us, or no? and there he gave them water out of the Rocke, Exo. 17. See the Annotations there, and Psal. 95. 8, 9. Heb. 3. 8, &c. Deut. 6. 16. Kibrah batraavah]

in English, the Graves of lust; so translated also by the Greeke. Here (a little from Taberah forementioned) they loathed Manna, and lusted for flesh: God gave them Quailles, but they died of a plague, while the flesh was yet betweene their teeth; and being buried there, occasioned this name of the place, for a perpetuall memoriall. See Num. 11. 4, 34. and the Annotations there. Also Psal. 78. 12, 31. & 106. 14, 15.

23 Verse 23. Kadesh-barnea] where, being come thorow the wilderness of Pharan, to the border of the land of Canaan, they were commanded of God to goe to take possession. Then they sent Spies, who discouraged the people: so through want of faith they durst not enter, and were for it condemned to 40. yeeres wandring in the wilderness, and there ended their daies. See Num. 13. and 14. chapters. against the mouth] that is, against the word, or commandment: in Greeke, ye disobeyed the word.

24 Verse 24. that I knew you] the Greek expounds it, from the day that he was known unto you. So he concludeth with a generall charge of rebellion upon them, shewing hereby the impossibility of the Law, and ministerie thereof, to bring men unto God; for it causeth sin and wrath to abound; as Rom. 4. 15. and 8. 3. Gal. 3. 19, 22. For besides these particulars, they sinned many other times in the wilderness, as is noted on Numb. 14. 22. and in Psal. 78. and 106.

25 Verse 25. I fell downe; in Greeke, I prayed. He returneth to speake of their reconciliation to God, which was by the prayer of Moses, as a mediator, and figure of Christ: by whom (and not by our owne deserts) we have entrance into the kingdome of God, Gal. 3. 22, 24. Rom. 3. 20, 22. & 5. 1, 2, &c. as I fell downe] so wit, at the first, as v. 18. or, which I fell downe, that is, which I laid before that I fell downe. But the Hebrew after, which, is sometimes used for as, as in Jer. 48. 8.

said for to destroy] that is, said that he would destroy you. See the like phrases so expounded in Eia. 49. 6. with Acts 14. 37. 1 Chron. 17. 4. with 2 Sam. 7. 5. Mat. 20. 19. with Marke 10. 33, 34.

Verse 26. Lord Jehovah] in Greeke, Lord, Lord; in Chaldee, Lord God. See the Annotations on Gen. 15. 2. thy people] this respecteth their adoption in Christ, and justification, 1 Pet. 2. 9, 10. inheritance] this implieth their sanctification, unto the obedience and service of God by the Spirit: See Exod. 34. 9. through thy greatness]

in Greeke, through thy great strength, as v. 29. it implieth also his great goodnesse, and therefore is often spoken of his gracious workes for his people, 1 Chron. 17. 19. Luke 1. 49.

Verse 27. thy servants] He meaneth Gods oath unto them, to multiply their seed, and to give the land for an eternall inheritance, as is expressed in this prayer before, Ex. 32. 13. So the Greek addeth here, unto whom thou swearest by thy selfe. hardnesse] the naturall corruption, whereby the heart is hardened, that it cannot repent and beleeve the word of God; (from which, the two evils following doe flow) Rom. 2. 5.

Verse 28. the land] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee both explaine, the inhabitants of the land. This reason is also alleaged in Exod. 33. 12. and Numb. 14. 16.

CHAP. X.

1 A rehearfall of Gods mercies, in reming the two Tables of the Covenant; 6 in leading the people forward towards Canaan, and continuing the Priesthood after Aarons death; 8 in separating the Tribe of Levi unto the ministerie; 10 in bearkning unto Moses his suit for the people. 12 An exhortation unto obedience, 14 because of Gods glorie: 15 love unto Israel; 17 justice towards all; 21 his fearfull workes, 22 and multiplication of his people.

AT that time Jehovah said unto mee, 1
Hew thee two tables of stone, like the first, and come up unto me, into the mount, and thou shalt make thee an Arke of wood. And I will write on the tables the words which were on the first tables, which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the Arke. And I made an Ark of Shittim wood, 2 & hewed two tables of stone like the first, & went up into the mount, and the two tables in my hand. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten words which Jehovah had spoken unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire, in the day
of

of the assembly: and Jehovah gave them 5 unto me. And I turned my selfe, and came downe from the mount, and I put the tables in the Ark which I had made, and there they 6 be, as Jehovah commanded mee. And the sonnes of Israel journeyed from Beeroth of the sonnes of Jaakan from Moserah: there Aaron died, and was buried there; and Eleazar his son administred the Priests office in 7 his stead. From thence they journeyed to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jot-
 8 bath, a land of rivers of waters. At that time Jehovah separated the Tribe of Levi, to beare the Arke of the covenant of Jehovah, to stand before Jehovah to minister unto
 him, and to blesse in his name unto this day.
 9 Therefore Levi hath no part or inheritance
 with his brethren: Jehovah, he is his inheritance, as Jehovah thy God spake unto him.
 10 And I stood in the mount, according to the former daies, forty daies, and forty nights:
 and Jehovah hearkned unto me, at that time 11 also; Jehovah would not destroy thee. And Jehovah said unto me, Arise, goe in journey before the people, that they may goe in, and possesse the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give unto them.

12 And now Israel, what doth Jehovah thy God aske of thee, but to feare Jehovah thy God, to walk in all his waies, & to love him, and to serve Jehovah thy God with all thy 13 heart, and with all thy soule. To keepe the commandements of Jehovah and his statutes which I command thee this day, for good 14 unto thee. Behold, unto Jehovah thy God belong the heavens, and the heavens of hea-15 vens, the earth, and all that therein is. Only in thy fathers Jehovah had a delight, to love them, and he chose their seed after them, e- ven you, above all peoples, as it is this day.
 16 Circumcise therefore the superfluous fore-
 skin of your heart, and make not your necke 17 stiffe any more. For, Jehovah your God, he is God of gods, and Lord of lords, the great God, the mighty, and the fearfull, which will 18 not regard persons, nor take reward. Hee doth the judgement of the fatherlesse and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving 19 unto him bread and raiment. Love ye therfore the stranger; for ye were strangers in 20 the land of Egypt. Thou shalt feare Jehovah thy God; him thou shalt serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and by his name shalt thou 21 sweare. He is thy praise, and he is thy God, which hath done for thee these great and fearfull things, which thine eies have seene.

With seventie soules did thy fathers goe downe in Egypt, and now Jehovah thy God hath made thee as the starres of the heavens for multitude.

Annotations.

A T ibat time] Moses rehearsing the mercies of God unto Israel (for which they should love and obey him) sheweth how upon his request, God presently shewed the tokens of his grace, by renu-
 ing the covenant; the History whereof is in Exo.
 34. hew thee] herein they differed from the first Tables, which were the worke of God, Exod.
 32. 16. These being of Moses hewing, shewed the work of Moses Law upon the heart of man, which is to hew and polish it, but not to change it from stone to flesh, for that is the worke of Christ: see the notes on Exod. 31. 18. & 34. 1. come up] Moses onely, and no man with him, was commanded to goe up to the top of the mount; and it was to be in the morning, the time of mercie: see Exo. 14.
 2, 3. Of the mount Sinai, and how it differed from mount Sin, see the Annotations on Exod. 19. and 20. an Arke] of this there was no mention in Exod. 34. but in Exod. 25. there the Arke and Mercie-seat that covered it, is commanded:
 which was a figure of Christ. That seemeth to be the Arke here spoken of; for any other temporary Arke we read not of.

Verse 2. on the first] Gods Law was the same,
 and unchanged; though the tables (figuring mens hearts) are changeable.

Verse 3. Shittim wood] which was a kinde of Cedar, incorruptible, as the Greeke translateth it:
 see the notes on Exod. 25. 5. in my hand] the Greek saith, in my two hands, as was in Deut. 9. 15.
 The Tables which God made and gave before,
 were written on: these which Moses made were
 hewed, but empty, till God wrote upon them:
 so the Law is written in mens hearts, and they doe
by nature the things of the Law, Rom. 2. 14, 15. but corrupting themselves in the things that they know, their hearts are hewed onely by Moses ministry; and however they boast of the Law,
 yet through the breaking the Law they dishonor
 God, Rom. 2. 23. till that be fulfilled which God
 hath promised, I will put my Lawes into their minde,
and write them in their hearts, Hebr. 8. 10.

Verse 4. the ten words] that is, ten Commande-
ments, or Decalogue: these were written by God himselfe, but other Lawes then rehearsed, were written by Moses, Exo. 34. 27, 28. For there the Lord came downe in a cloud, proclaimed his name, renewed the covenant, and repeated the principall Lawes, Exod. 34. 5, &c. day of the assembly] or, of the Church, that is, when the Church or people were assembled to heare the Law, or to meet with God, as Exod. 19. 17. Deut. 5. 22. So in Deut. 18. 16. And in Acts 7. 38. it is said, This (Moses) is he that was in the Church (or Assembly)
in the wilderness with the Angell, which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers, who received the lively oracles to give unto us.

5 Verſ. 5. in the Arke] ſo the covenant remained in the miſt of Iſrael, and the Tables were not broken as at the firſt: howbeit Moſes ſaw ſhined at his ſecond coming downe, which terrified the people, and cauſed him to veile his face, an other ſigne of the weakneſſe of his legall miniſtry: ſee the notes on Exod. 34. 29. there they be] for an evidence of Gods grace, and testimony of his covenant renewed with Iſrael. Wherefore thoſe Tables were called the Teſtimonie; and the Arke wherein they were put, the Arke of the Teſtimonie: ſee Exod. 25. 10. 16. 22.

6 Verſ. 6. journeyed] the Arke of Gods covenant going before them, to ſearch out a reſting place for them, Num. 10. 33. So this was another testimony of their reconciliation with God, and of his graces to be communicated unto them in Chriſt.

Beareth] by interpretation Wells, or Pits: which word is not mentioned in Num. 33. 34. but underſtood there. Neither was it a place by mount Sinai, from whence they firſt journeyed, Num. 10. 33. but many ſtations from it, as appeareth by Num. 33. 16. — 38. Moſes therefore keepeth not here the order of their travels, but ſignifieth how they had gone many journeyes forward, the Lord conducting them. Some of the Hebrewes (as Aben Ezra) doe thinke this was another place than that of the fountain of Iſachar, mentioned in Numbers 33. and that hereby is meant Kadeſh. fountain of Iſachar] who was one of the poſterity of ſeir, whom the Edomites drove out of their land, 1 Chron. 1. 38. — 42. Moſes before named him Aben, Gen. 36. 27. From the Pits or Wells of theſe Infidels, God removed them towards the land of Canaan, the promiſed holy land, where by faith in Chriſt, they might with joy draw waters out of the fountains of ſalvation, Eſay 12. 3.

Moſerab] called before (in the plural number) Moſerab, Num. 33. 30. and it was their ſtation before they came to the wells of the fountain of Iſachar, though here Moſes nameth it alter. Wherefore we are here to underſtand againe, from Moſerab, or, and Moſerab. The Greeke calleth it Misadai, changing R into D, which is uſuall, as is noted on Gen. 4. 18. But Aben Ezra (as before) thinketh this Moſerab was the name of the wilderneſſe of mount Hor, where Aaron died, & not the Moſerab ſpoken of in Num. 33. there Aaron died] not at Moſerab, (unleſſe it were the wilderneſſe of Hor, as Aben Ezra ſuppoſeth) nor at Beeroth, but many journeyes from it, at mount Hir, Num. 33. 37. 38. We are therefore to underſtand theſe words thus, there, (or in there) where Aaron died. Or ſupplying the former word, from thence where Aaron died. buried there] out of the land of Canaan, whereinto he might not enter, becauſe of his ſin: ſee the annotations on Num. 30. 24. &c.

in his ſtead] As the death of Moſes and Aaron, with their ſiſter Marie, (the King, Prieſt and Prophetesse of Iſrael) was a teſtification of the weakneſſe and impoſſibility of the legall kingdome & prieſthood, to bring them into the kingdome of God: ſo the continuance of the Prieſthood in Aarons poſterity, was another ſigne of Gods

grace towards Iſrael, for reconciliation of them to himſelfe, and bleſſing them, till Chriſt (who hath a Prieſthood that paſſeth not from him to another) ſhould come, who is able perfectly to ſave them that come unto God by him, Heb. 7. 11. 12. 23. 24. 25.

Verſ. 7. From thence] namely, from Beeroth of the ſonnes of Iſachar, Num. 33. 32. Godſdab] in the Chaldees, Godſad, in Greeke, Gadad: before Moſes named it Hor-bajidab, that is, the Hill of Gadad: ſee Num. 33. 32. 33. Iſachar] in Greeke, Iſachaba, as in Num. 33. 33.

Verſ. 8. At that time] not when they came to Beeroth, but long before, whiles they were at mount Sinai, God ſeparated the tribe of Levi: ſee Num. 3. 1. 6. &c. So the time (when God was provoked to wrath) commendeth the riches of his grace, and ſeparated] from all other buſines, to ſerve the Lord and his people, Exod. 28. 1. Num. 3. 45. and 16. 9.

tribe of Levi] of which tribe Aaron and all the Prieſts were; ſo he ſpeaketh here of the whole. to beare] Hereupon David ſaid, It is not for any to beare the Arke of God, but for the Levites, &c. 1 Chron. 15. 2. See alſo Num. 4. 15.

to ſtand] this ſignifieth the Prieſts & Levites uſed in al their miniſtration, ſtanding, not ſitting, and it was a ſigne of ſervice, as beareth ſervice the King, Ier. 52. 12. it is in another Scripture called the ſtanding of the King, 2 King. 25. 8. So after, in Deut. 17. 12. & 18. 5. 7. Iudg. 20. 28. In like manner, the Prophets are ſaid to ſtand before the Lord, 1 King. 17. 1. and 18. 15. 2 King. 3. 14. and 5. 16. Likewise alſo the Angels, as Luk. 1. 19. I am Gabriel that ſtand before God: ſo in 2 Chron. 18. 18. And as the Levites ſtood before the Lord, ſo they are ſaid alſo to ſtand before the people, and to ſerve them, Num. 16. 9. 2 Chron. 35. 3. Ezech. 44. 11. when to beſſe] of this duty, ſee the annotations on Num. 6. 23. Thus God provided for the comfort of their ſoules, whiles his miniſtery was ſetled among them, by which they might daily have acceſſe unto his throne of grace.

Verſ. 9. no part] to wit, no part in the ſpoiles taken by warre, no inheritance in the land of Canaan, which was divided among the other tribes only: ſee Num. 18. 20. and 26. 53. 57. and 35. 2. Deut. 18. 1. for of the firſt-fruits, riches, vower, oblations of the Lord, the Prieſts and Levites had their livelihood: ſee the annotations on Num. 18. 29. — 30. 21. &c. Therefore the Chaldee paraphraſt here tranſlateth, the gifts that the Lord hath given him, they are his inheritance. Of which ſee more in Deut. 12. 19. and 14. 29. and 18. 12.

Verſ. 10. And I ſtood] or, when I had ſtood, that is, both ſtayed (or abidden) and in prayer waited upon the Lord for mercie. Standing, often ſignifieth prayer, as is noted on Gen. 18. 22. and the words following here manifeſt the ſame.

hearkned] the Chaldee expounds it, accepted my prayer. deſtroy] Heb. corrupt; which when it is ſpoken of God, uſually meaneth deſtruction: ſee Gen. 6. 13.

Verſ. 11. that they may] or, and they ſhall; which

the Greeke translateth, and let them goe in. These phrases are one in sense, as is noted on Gen. 12. 12. and 27. 4. This commandement and promise was a testimonie that God now was reconciled unto them, by the intercession of Moses.

12. Ver. 12. aske of thee] This word, often used when men aske, that is, request or desire a thing of God; 1 Sam. 1. 17. 20. 27. Lam. 1. 3. 6. is here used for Gods asking obedience of men, as if he desired and requested the same; and as in Mic. 6. 8. he is said to seke, or require the like thing. This grace Paul sheweth more effectually, saying; as though God did beseech you by us, wee pray you in Christs stead, be ye reconciled to God, 2 Cor. 5. 20. [see the notes on Deut. 6. 13.] This seare is the beginning of wisdom; Prov. 1. 7. by which men depart from evil; Prov. 16. 6. Unto which, and other holy duties, Moses calleth this people, as being the end and use of the former rehearsal of their sinnes, and of Gods mercies towards them. So by other Prophets, hee calleth men to obedience and humble walking before him, rather than to sacrifice: see 1 Sam. 15. 22. Jer. 7. 22. 23. Mic. 6. 6. 7. 8. call his wayes] that is, to follow him, in his faith and religion; and all his commandements; for these are the wayes of God, Psal. 25. 4. 5. Act. 18. 25. 26. The Chaldee translateth, the wayes which are right before him: see the notes on Gen. 18. 19. and 6. 12. unto love] The summe and end of the Law, 1 Tim. 1. 5. See the notes on Exod. 20. 6. for] in outward obedience also; that wee love, not inward, neither in tongue, but indeed and truth, 1 Joh. 3. 18. What serving implieth, see noted on Exod. 20. 5. and Deut. 6. 13.

13. Ver. 13. for good] or, as the Greeke and Chaldee interpret, that it may be well with thee: so Deut. 5. 33. In serving the Lord, the glory redoundeth unto him, the benefit to our selves: for, them that honour him, hee will honour, 1 Sam. 2. 30. and godlinesse hath the promise, of the life that now is; and of that which is to come, 1 Tim. 4. 8.

14. Ver. 14. unto Iehovah] or, of Iehovah: his they are, and of him made, preserved, and loved generally as his creatures; for he saveth man and beast. Psal. 36. 7. and is kind unto the unbankfull; and to the evil, Luke 3. 5. So it is acknowledged in Neh. 9. 6. Thou, even thou, art Lord alone, thou hast made the heavens, the heavens of heavens; with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein; the sea, and all that is therein; and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. [the heavens of heavens] that is, the highest heavens, as the Apostle mentioneth the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. Hereby the Angels also are implied, as in Targum Jonathan it is explained, the heavens of heavens, and companies of Angels which are in them, to minister before him.

15. Ver. 15. had a delight] which the Greeke translateth, fore-chose to love them: and this is his speciall grace to his Church in Christ, Ephes. 1. 3. 4. 5. Remembered their sinnes] their children, as the Chaldee explains it; for Gods grace is continued unto the posterity of the faithfull; even to thousands of them that love him; Exod. 20. 6.

16. Ver. 16. the signe of the fore-chose] as the Greeke translateth, benefice of heart: the Chaldee, lovingness (or graciousness) of the heart. See the annotations on Gen. 17. 1. Hereby is taught repentance and mortification of the inward man, by circumcising of the heart, in the spirit; Rom. 2. 29. putting off the body of the sinne of the flesh; Col. 3. 9. For now are the circumstances that wrought God in the Samaritans, Phil. 3. 3. Hee opened God's promises to the Gentiles, to cutt off their hearts, Deut. 30. 6. and blancheth them that were unclean in Leviticus 9. 26. Act. 7. 51. make you make [see Deut. 10. 7.] This is against their outward disobedience; as the former was against their inward; and teacheth submission unto the yoke of Gods law, contrary to their former stubbornnesse.

17. Ver. 17. Contest of Gods] that is, the highest God, in respect of all that are called Gods; whether in heaven or in earth; as there be God many; 1 Cor. 8. 5. 6. The idols of the Heathens, the Angels in heaven, and Magistrates on earth, are called Gods; Deut. 7. 25. Psal. 8. 6. with Hebrews, 27. 8. 9. Psalms 82. 103. had regard persons] of persons (or accept of persons) which the Greeke translateth, not have in admiration the person of or face of any; which phrase the Apostle useth, Indever 1. 6. Of God, sundry other Scriptures testify, that he respecteth no persons, as Act. 10. 34. Rom. 2. 11. 1 Chron. 19. 7. Job 34. 19. 1 Pet. 1. 17. Gal. 2. 6. Bill. 6. 9. Col. 3. 25. our like reward] that is, will not pervert judgement, by condemning the innocent, or justifying the wicked; for gifts or rewards, as unrighteous Judges doe, 1 Sam. 8. 3. Psal. 15. 5. Esay 5. 23.

18. Ver. 18. doth the judgement] that is, executeth the rightfull sentence, for delivering, or avenging a man, as it is said, the Lord hath judged (that is, delivered) him from the hand of his enemies, 2 Sam. 8. 19. And he doth judgement to all oppressed, Psal. 103. 6. But the fatherless and widows are here by name oppressed; because such are commonly and easily wronged in the world; Job 22. 9. and 24. 3. 9. Psalms 94. 6. Ezek. 12. 7. therefore God is said to be the Judge; that is, the Patron, defender and reliever of such; Psalms 68. 6. and 10. 14. and 146. 7. 9. and commandeth men to be the like, Esay 1. 17. Psal. 82. 3. [the staffe] that is, the Chaldee explaineth it, food. for bread, which is the staffe and stay of mans life is often used for all intay, as is noted on Gen. 3. 19. And as God feedeth strangers; so hee commandeth his people to doe the like, Deut. 14. 29. and 16. 14. and 21. 19. 20. 21. and 26. 11. 12.

19. Ver. 19. like ye therefore] or, And love ye the stranger, to wit, as God loveth him; that is, manifest your love by relieving him: see Lam. 2. 15. 16. ye were strangers] this remembrance of their former misery, is often used; to move them unto compassion towards others. See Ex. 23. 21. Lev. 19. 33. 34.

20. Ver. 20. thou] This word is first used to express the union that is betweene man and wife, Gen. 2. 4. applied here to signifie our union with the

the Lord in Christ, as Paul sheweth it by the same similitude of marriage, Ephes. 5. 25. — 32. But this is spirituall, as hee saith, Hee that cleaveth to the Lord, is one spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. It is to be done with purpose of heart, Act. 11. 23. and with soule, Psal. 63. 9. with a continued resolution, as Ruth. 1. 14. — 16. So in other cases, cleaving signifieth such an union as will not be parted, Job 41. 17. Dan. 2. 43. Compare also Deut. 4. 4. and 11. 22. and 13. 4. and 30. 20.

swaere] hereby Confession is implied, as is before noted on Deut. 6. 13.

21 Vers. 21. thy praise] in Greeke, thy glorying, that is, whom thou oughtest to praise continually, and in whom thou art to glory. So Jeremy said, thou art my praise, Jer. 17. 14. and David, O God of my praise, Psal. 109. 1. and, the praises of Israel, Psal. 22. 4. fearefull things] in Greeke, glorious things; which imply both the good things done unto Israel, and the evill unto their enemies, as appeareth by Psalm. 106. 22. 2 Sam. 7. 23. Esay 64. 3.

22 Vers. 22. seventy soules] that is, seventy persons: some Greeke Copies have seventie five soules; other some, and (as Hierome witnesseth) the lxxij. Interpreters translate here seventy; though else where they have 75. which the Holy Ghost followeth in Act. 7. 14. See the annotations on Genes. 46. 27. 20. made thee] Hebr. put thee as the starres, that is, made thee innumerable; which was a singular blessing remembred before in Deut. 1. 10. and after in Neh. 9. 23. and a fulfilling of the promise made unto Abraham, Gen. 22. 17. and againe unto Isaak, Gen. 20. 4. According to this similitude the Israelites are called the host of heaven, and starres, Dan. 8. 10. 24. and in other visions, the state of the Church is called Heaven, Revel. 4. 2. and 11. 19. and 12. 1. 7. and the chiefe members of the same, Starres, Revel. 6. 13. and 8. 10. and 12. 1. 4.

CHAP. XI.

1 An exhortation to love and obedience, 2 by their owne experience of Gods great workes done in Egypt, and in the wilderness, 8 by promise of Gods great blessings in the Land of Canaan, 16 and by threatenings. 18 Gods words must be laid up in the heart, and for a signe outwardly, 19, taught unto the children, 20 and written on the doore-posts. 22 Upon keeping of the Law, the casting out of the heathens, and possessing their land, is promised. 26 The blessing and the curse is set before them: 29 and must after be pronounced on Gerizim and Ebal. mounts within the land.

1 And thou shalt love Jehovah thy God, and keepe his charge, and his statutes, and his judgements, and his commandments, all dayes. And know ye this day:

for (I speake) not with your children, which have not knowne, and which have not seene the chastisement of Jehovah your God, his greatnesse, his strong hand, and his stretched-out arme. And his signes, and his deeds which he did in the midst of Egypt, unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and unto all his land.

And what he did unto the armie of Egypt, unto their horses, and to their Chariots; how he made the waters of the Red sea to flow over their faces as they pursued after you; and Jehovah hath destroyed them unto this day. And what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came unto this place. And what he did to Dathan, & to Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben, how the earth opened her mouth, & swallowed up them and their houses, & their tents, & all the substance that was at their feet, in the midst of al Israel.

But your eyes have seen al the great work of Jehovah, which he hath done. Therefore shall ye keepe all the commandment which I command thee this day, that yee may be strong, & goe in, and possesse the land, whither yee are going over to possesse it. And that yee may prolong your dayes upon the land, which Jehovah swaere unto your fathers to give unto them, and to their seed; a land flowing with milke and honey. For the land whither thou goest in to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence yee came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs. But the land whither yee are going over to possesse it, is a land of mountaines and of vallies; it drinketh waters of the raine of heavens. A land which Jehovah thy God careth for; the eyes of Jehovah thy God are continually upon it, from the beginning of the yeere, even to the end of the yeere.

And it shall be, if hearkening ye shal hearken unto my commandments which I command you this day, to love Jehovah your God, and to serve him, with all your heart, and with all your soule; That I will give the raine of your land in his time, the first raine, and the latter raine; and thou shalt gather in thy Corne, & thy new wine, and thy new Oyle. And I will give grasse in thy field, for thy cattell, and thou shalt eat and be full.

Take heed to your selves, lest your heart be deceived, and yee turne aside, and serve other gods, and bow downe your selves to them. And the anger of Jehovah bee kindled against you, and he shut up the heavens,

D d d d d 2 that

that there bee no raine, and the land yeeld not her increase, and ye perish quickly from off the good lād, which Jehovah giveth you.

- 18 And yee shall put these my words in your heart, and in your soule, and shall bind them for a signe upon your hand, and they shall be 19 for Phylacteries betweene your eyes. And yee shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, & when thou walkest in the way, & when thou 20 lyest downe, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt write them upon the doore-posts 21 of thine house, and on thy gates. That your dayes may be multiplyed, and the dayes of your children, in the land which Jehovah sware unto your fathers, to give unto them, as the dayes of the heavens upon the earth.
22 For if keeping, yee shall keepe all this commandement, which I command you, to doe it, to love Jehovah your God, to walke in all his wayes, and to cleave unto him;
23 Then will Jehovah drive out all these nations from before your faces, and ye shall possesse nations greater and mightier than your 24 selves. Every place whereon the sole of your foot shall tread, shall be yours: from the wilderness & Lebanon; from the river, the river Euphrates, and unto the yndmost
25 sea shall your coast be. There shall not a man stand before you: Jehovah your God will give the dread of you, and the feare of you upon the face of all the land, which yee shall tread upon, as hee hath spoken unto you.

- 26 Behold, I set before you this day a blessing, and a curse. A blessing, if yee shall 27 hearken unto the commandements of Jehovah your God, which I command you this day. And a curse, if yee will not hearken
28 unto the commandements of Jehovah your God, but turne aside out of the way which I command you this day, to goe after other gods, which yee have not knowne.
29 And it shall be, when Jehovah thy God hath brought thee in, unto the land whither thou goest, to possesse it, that thou shalt 30 put the blessing upon mount Gerizim, and the curse upon mount Ebal. Are they not on the other side Iordan, by the way of the going downe of the Sunne, in the land of the Canaanite, which dwelleth in the plaine, over against Gilgal, besides the Okes of Mo-31 rch? For yee are passing over Iordan, to goe in, to possesse the land which Jehovah your God giveth unto you, and ye shall possesse it, and dwell in it. And yee shall observe to doe all the statutes, and the judgements which I set before your faces this day.

Annotations.

ANd thou shalt love] or, Love thou therefore. Moses returneth to exhort Israel unto the love of GOD, and to shew the same by their continuall obedience. his charge] or, his custodie, his observation: which word is often used for a watch, as in Exod. 14. 24. The Greeke translateth it charges, or custodies; meaning, ordinances to be kept heedfully: so in Genesis 26. 5. Leviticus 8. 35. and 18. 30.

Verse 2. for (I speake not) with your children] or, that (it is) not your children (or sinnes) namely, which have seene Gods greatnesse, &c. but your eyes (are they) that have seene, &c. verse 7. Hee commendeth Gods speciall favour to their owne persons, more than to their fathers, or to their children, in shewing them his great workes, for which they should the more love and obey him. This he after confirmeth by many arguments.

the chastisements] or nurture: which the Chaldee translateth, doctrine, or instruction. It implieth nurture both by words and workes, as Deut. 4. 36. & 8. 5. Lev. 26. 18. Prov. 1. 2. & 4. 1. stretched out] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, high arme. See the notes on Deut. 4. 34.

Verse 3. deeds] or acts, in Greeke, wonders. Of these see the historie in Exod. 7, &c. And here is the first Argument, from Gods mightie workes in Egypt.

Verse 4. arme] or power, forces. So the Greeke translateth, the power of the Egyptians. See Exod. 15. 4. to their horses] Hebr. to his horses, and to his Chariots; speaking of them as of one man, or having respect to Pharaoh their King. to flow] or, to swim; and over their faces, is like that in Lam. 11. 54. waters flowed over mine head. Hee meaneth they were drowned, the Sea covered them, they sank as Lead in the mightie waters, Exod. 15. 10. destroyed] or, made them perish: so that there remained not so much as one of them, Exodus 14. 28. This was an extraordinary favour of God, who oftentimes suffereth the oppressors to have the strong hand, whiles the oppressed have the teares, and no comforter, Eccles. 4. 1. So this is the second argument from Gods power shewed at the Red Sea.

Verse 5. what he did] or, the things which he did, in his continuall guiding them thorow that terrible wilderness, where they bewrayed their many infirmities, and had experience both of his chastisements, and of his mercies: the third argument and motive unto obedience.

Verse 6. Dathan] of whose historie, see Numb. 16. This is the fourth argument of Gods greatnesse, to perswade Israel unto his love: for that hee

he had repressed the factious and mutinous rebels among themselves, which would have subverted the order and ordinance of God concerning the Priesthood, the means of the atonement and reconciliation between God and his people. their houses] that is, households; as the Chaldee expounds it, the men of their houses: See Num. 16. 32. as their feet] that is, in their possession: the Greeke and Chaldee translate, that was with them.

7 Ver. 7. have seen] or, are they that see. Therefore this people, above all other, were bound to love the Lord. work] or deed, that is, works, as the Greeke translateth. So in the verse following, commandment, for commandments.

8 Ver. 8. be strong] in body and spirit, to fight against the enemy: as in Ios. 1. 6. 1 Ioh. 2. 14. Or, be strong, that is, lively and healthfull, as the Gr. translateth, that ye may live: and they that be strong, Mat. 9. 12. are by another Evangelist said to be in health, opposed to the sick, Luke 5. 31. possesse] or, inherit the land; a figure of the kingdom of Gods grace and glory, which the righteous shall possesse by inheritance, Eas. 60. 21. and 65. 9.

9 Ver. 9. and honey] which signified the great fertility of that land, and figured out spirituall graces and comforts, as is noted on Exod. 3. 8.

10 Ver. 10. thou sowedst] and so all the inhabitants, as the Greeke translateth, they sow. In Egypt (from whence Israel came) they had no raine, but by the over-flowing of the river Nilus, the land was watered; and by the labour of the husbandman, beekes were derived to moisten the ground. And that there they had no raine, is testified both by the Prophets, Zach. 14. 18. and by humane histories, Pomp. Mela. lib. 1. Herodotus in Euterpe. Nec plus in supplicat verba Iovi, Tibul. lib. 1. Ekg. 8.

with thy foot] that is, with thy diligent labour, signified sometime by the band, Psalm. 128. 2. sometime by the foot, as Gen. 30. 30. This condition of the land of Egypt (the house of bondage) figured the estate of men naturally corrupted, which they labour to relieve by their owne works, and with the muddy waters which are from beneath, proceeding from earthly wisdom, and carnall understanding, 1 Cor. 1. 20. 21. and 2. 4. 5. Ezek. 34. 19. Ier. 2. 13.

11 V. 11. mountaines, &c.] hereby is meant the commodious, healthfull, and pleasant situation of the land, farre exceeding Egypt. Wherefore sometime the whole land is signified under the name of a mountaine, Exod. 15. 17. And because it was hills and vallies, it could not bee watered with the over-flowing of any river, (as Egypt which was a plaine) but must otherwise be moistened with the raine of heaven, or else remaine barren and fruitlesse. the raine] this, as it is most kind, and causeth the earth to bee fruitfull in nature; so it figured heavenly graces, the doctrine of Gods word and spirit, wherewith the soules of men are made fruitfull in good works, Eas. 45. 8. Mic. 5. 7. See the notes on Gen. 27. 28. Deut. 32. 2. The want of raine is on the contrary, a signe of curse, Zach. 14. 17. 18. Rev. 11. 6.

Ver. 12. careth for] Heb. shekeb, that is, carefully seeth unto it, and as the Greeke translateth, visiteth. According to this phrase, Sion is called a citie sought, (that is, cared for, or regarded) and not forsaken, Eas. 62. 12. And of Gods gracious providence towards the land of Israel, David singeth, how the Lord visited the land, and plenteously moistened it, very much enriched it, softened it with flowers, blessed the bud of it, crowned the yeere of his goodnesse, and his pathes [the clouds] dropped fatnesse, Psalm. 65. 10. 11. 12. the eyes] this also signified Gods care and providence, for good, as in the like speeches, Ier. 40. 4. Ezra 5. 5. Psalm. 34. 16. Though Gods providence be towards all peoples, and bee giveth to all, life and breath, and all things, Act. 17. 25. doing good, giving us raine from heaven, and fruitful seasons, Act. 14. 17. causing it to raine on the earth where no man is; on the wilderness, wherein there is no man, Iob 38. 26. yet other peoples have not the word and promise of God, whereon to depend, as Israel had: whereby they might live, not by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, Deuteronomie 8. 3.

Ver. 13. if hearken ye shall hearken] that is, if yee shall diligently hearken and obey. This passage of Scripture following, the Iewes read daily in their families, as is noted on Deut. 6. 4.

Ver. 14. the first raine, &c.] or, the early raine. Twice in a yeare there fell store of raine in Israel; in the beginning of the yeere, about September or October; and halfe a yeere after, which was in Abib (or March) which ecclesiastically began the yeare unto Israel, as is noted on Exodus 12. 2. whereupon it is called the latter raine in the first moneth, Joel 2. 23. The first raine fell after the sowing of their corne, that it might take rooting in the earth: the latter raine was a little before the harvest, that the eare might be full. Of these the Scriptures sundry times speake; but so as they depended upon God, to whom Israel should obey, and of whom they should aske raine, in the time of the latter raine, Zach. 10. 1. and then hee would come unto them (with his blessings) at the raine, at the latter and former raine unto the earth, Hosea 6. 3. So for the fruits, the husbandman waited, and had long patience, untill hee received the early raine, and the latter raine, James 5. 7. Which raine, as it figured heavenly blessings in Christ, Deut. 32. 2. Psalm. 72. 6. so they led Israel to the feare of God; but when they revolted from him, they said not in their heart, Let us now feare the Lord our God, that giveth raine, both the former and the latter raine in his season, Ier. 5. 24. If these raines were seasonable and moderate, the land was fruitfull; (as Moses in the next words sheweth:) if they failed, then the drought as fire devoured the pastures; if they fell immoderately, the graines rotted under their clods, Joel 1. 19. 17. new oyle] These three were for the use of man, and the grasse after mentioned, for beasts, as David also sheweth in Psalm. 104. 13. 14. 15. By these earthly promises God drew his people to obedience: but David had more gladnesse in his heart, in the light of the Lords countenance, than when corne and wine increased, Psalme 4. 6. 7.

16 Verſ. 16. deceiued] or, inticed and drawne away by riches, pleasures, or false perswasions: of which Iob ſaith, If my heart hath bene ſecretly inticed (or deceiued) Iob 31. 27. other gods] that is, Idols, faſſely reputed Gods: ſo the Chaldee tranſlateth, Idols (or Errors) of the peoples.

17 Verſ. 17. ſhut up the heavens] this phraſe is uſed, both for reſtraining the naturall raine for mens ſins, 1 King. 8. 35. and the ſpirituall raine of Gods word and bleſſings, Revel. 11. 6. perish quickly] or, ſpeedily, ſuddenly. The wicked heathens God ſuffered with much patience, and would not have them deſtroyed ſuddenly; Deut. 7. 22. but his owne people are threatned for their ſinnes to periſh ſuddenly: for judgement muſt begin at the houſe of God, 1 Pet. 4. 17. and he warneth his Church to repent, &c. or elſe hee will come unto her quickly, Revel. 2. 5.

18 Verſ. 18. phylacteries] or frontlets, written in parchments, and tyed to the forehead, as the former were to the hand or arme: of theſe, ſee the annotations on Exod. 13. 9. 16. and Deuteronomie, 6. 4. 8.

19 Verſ. 19. teach them your children] cauſe your children (Hebr. your ſonnes) to learne them; this explaineth the former precept, Thou ſhalt whet them on thy children, Deut. 6. 7. Abraham (the father of the faithfull) is commended for this; that hee would command his children, and his houſhold after him, to keepe the way of the L O R D, Gen. 18. 19. and Solomons parents taught him the Law, Prov. 4. 3. 4. and 31. 1. 2. &c. when thou walkeſt, &c.] anſwerable to theſe, are thoſe ſayings of Solomon, When thou goeſt, it ſhall lead thee; when thou ſleepeſt, it ſhall keepe thee; and when thou awakeſt, it ſhall talke with thee: for the Commandement is a Lampe, and the Law is a light, Prov. 6. 22. 23.

20 Verſ. 20. doore-poſts] of this rite, ſee the notes on Deut. 6. 9.

21 Verſ. 21. dayes may bee multiplied] Long life is a bleſſing, often promiſed to them that keepe Gods Law. Hear, O my ſonne, and receive my ſayings, and the yeeres of thy life ſhall be many, Prov. 4. 10. dayes of the heavens] that is, whiles the world endureth; for ſo long, by the decree of God (in Gen. 8. 22.) ſhall the dayes of heaven be; and ſo long ſhall the heavens be over the earth. And under this, eternall life was alſo figured. A like promiſe was for the kingdome of David, or of Chriſt, that his throne ſhould be as the dayes of the heavens, Psal. 89. 30.

22 Verſ. 22. this commandement] the Greeke explaineth it, theſe commandements: ſee the notes on Deut. 5. 31. to cleave] that is, to continue faſt united unto him and his Law, as is noted on Deut. 10. 20.

23 Verſ. 23. drive out] according to his former promiſe, in Exod. 23. 23. 27. -- 31. But becauſe Iſrael kept not Gods commandement, this promiſe was not fully performed, Iudg. 2. 1. 2. 3.

24 Verſ. 24. ſhall tread] The like promiſe is made after Moſes death to Iſrael under Jeſus their Captaine, Iof. 1. 3. who was a figure of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom this promiſe was fulfilled.

the wilderneſſe] of Paran, which was the ſoutherne border of the land of Canaan.

and Lebanon] a mountain which was the northern bound. By and Lebanon, wee may underſtand and unto Lebanon, as the next words manifeſt.

Euphrates] in Hebr̄w, Pherath: this is called the river for excellency ſake, meaning the great river, as Deut. 1. 7. Gen. 15. 18. and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth it here. It was the eaſterne border of their territories.

bindmoſt ſea] or, after ſea, which the Greeke and Chaldee calleth the Weſterne ſea, meaning the maine or great ſea toward the going down of the Sunne, as is explained in Iof. 1. 4. which ſea is ſaid to be after or behind them, becauſe it was to the Weſt, and ſo their weſterne bound. For the Eaſt is counted the fore-part of the world, the Weſt behind, the South on the right hand, Psal. 89. 13. and the North on the left: all which foure parts are called by theſe names in Iob 23. 8. 9. See this promiſe fulfilled in 2 Chronicles, 9. 26.

Verſ. 25. ſtand] or, ſet himſelfe, that is, reſiſt or withſtand you, as the Greeke tranſlateth. So in Iof. 1. 5. ſear] in Greeke, trembling: this was fulfilled before, Deut. 2. 25. Psal. 105. 38. and after Iof. 2. 11. and 10. 10.

Verſ. 16. I ſet] Hebr. I give: this was, that they might take their choiſe of either of theſe; for ſo the phraſe elſewhere meaneth, Deut. 30. 19. and ſo to manifeſt, that if the curſe or evill came upon them, they cauſed it themſelves.

Verſ. 27. if yee ſhall hearken] or, that yee may hearken: but the Hebrew Aſher, That, is ſometimes uſed for If, as the Greeke here tranſlateth it, and in Levit. 4. 22. So Aſher in 1 King 8. 31. is In, that is, If, in 2 Chron. 6. 22.

Verſ. 28. after other gods] in Greeke, to ſerve other gods, following other religions, or diviſe ſervices, which the Chaldee calleth the idols of the peoples. Sol. Iarehi obſerveth from this place, that whoſoever committeth idolatry, hee turneth aſide from all the way which was commanded to Iſrael: hereupon they ſay, Hee that profeſſeth idolatry, is as if hee denied the whole Law.

Verſ. 29. put the bleſſing] Hebr. give the bleſſing, that is, cauſe it to bee pronounced upon mount Gerizim. The manner is ſhewed in Deut. 27. where the Law is repeated and enlarged: A thing is ſaid to be given ſometime, when it is ſpoken or pronounced with the mouth, as in Iob. 36. 3. Deut. 13. 1. 2. upon mount Gerizim] or, towards mount Gerizim, (which the Greeke calleth Gerizein;) ſo after, towards mount Ebal, (called in Greeke Gaibal.) For the people ſtood haſſe of them over againſt mount Gerizim, and haſſe of them over againſt mount Ebal, as is recorded in Iof. 8. 33. And

And the Hebrew gish sometimes signifieth towards a place, as in Exod. 9:32. towards heaven.

30 Vers 30. Are they not that is, Let them be, speaking as of a thing well knowne. See the notes on Gen. 4:7. by the way or, after (behind) the way of the going downe of the Sunne, that is, the way towards the West, or Sunne-setting. Gilgal the place where Israel was circumcised afterward in Iosuahs time, Ios. 5:9. Oker of Moreb or, plaines of Moreb, as the Chaldee expoundeth it; which was a place by Sechem, where God first appeared to Abraham after he came into the land of Canaan, and there Abraham built an Altar to the Lord, Gen. 12:6, 7. And that mount Gerizim was by Sechem, (in that part of the country which after was called Samaria) appeareth in Iudg. 9:6, 7. And the Hebrewes say, in Talmud Bab. in Sotah, ch. 7. that Gerizim and Ebal were in Samaria. There on mount Gerizim was the Samaritans Temple, 2 Maccab. 6:2. where they worshipped they knew not whar, Ioh. 4:20, 22. See also Iosephus, Antiq. l. 11. c. 8. It seemeth they took occasion of that superstition from this Law, thinking Gerizim to be a holy place, because the blessings were pronounced on it; and they called themselves, those that belong to the blessed mount. And there have bin of them in that place of late yeers, as Benjamin in his Itenerario relateth, how hee saw the citie in a valley betweene the mountaines Gerizim and Ebal, wherein the Samaritans dwelled, and did sacrifice there on mount Gerizim, alleging that which is written in the Law, And thou shalt put the blessing upon mount Gerizim.

CHAP. XII.

1 Places and monuments of idolatry are to be destroyed: 4 they may not doe so unto the Lord, but must seeke and keepe the place of his service, which hee himselfe should chuse: 5. 11. 14. Thither all their sacrifices and holy things must be brought. 12. 18. There they and their families, and the Levite, must eat, and rejoyce. 15. 21. For civill use they might kill and eat within their gates. 16. 23. Blood is forbidden to be eaten. 29. The manner of service which th. Commandes used, may not be inquired after, nor the like things done unto the Lord, but his commandments only.

1 THese are the statutes and the judgments which yee shall observe to doe, in the land which Jehovah the God of thy fathers giveth unto thee, to possesse it
2 all the dayes that ye live upon the earth. Destroying ye shall destroy al the places wherein the nations which ye shall possesse, served their gods, upon the high mountaines, and upon the hills, and under every greene tree.
3 And ye shall break downe their altars, and breake their pillars, and burne their groves with fire; and ye shall hew down the graven images of their gods, and ye shall destroy the names of them out of that place. Yee shall 4 not doe so unto Jehovah your God. But 5 unto the place which Jehovah your God shall chuse out of al your Tribes, to put his Name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek,

6 and thither shalt thou come. And thither ye shall bring your burnt-offerings, & your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and your vovs, & your voluntary offerings, & the first-lings of your
7 herd, and of your flock. And there ye shall eat before Jehovah your God, and yee shall 8 rejoyce in al that ye put your hand unto, you and your houses, wherein Jehovah thy God hath blessed thee. Yee shall not doe after all 9 things which we do here this day, every man all that is right in his owne eyes. For yee are 10 not come as yet unto the rest, & unto the inheritance which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee. But ye shall passe over Iordan, &
11 dwell in the land which Jehovah your God giveth you to inherit, and hee will give you rest from all your enemies round about, and yee shall dwell in confident safety. And 12 there shall be a place which Jehovah your God shall chuse, to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall yee bring all that I command you, your burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, & the heave-offering of your hand, & all the choise of your vovs which yee shall vow unto Jehovah. And ye 13 shall rejoyce before Jehovah your God; you, and your sonnes, and your daughters, and your men-servants, and your women-servants, and the Levite that is within your gates, forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you. Take heed to thy selfe,
14 lest thou offer thy burnt offerings in every place which thou shalt see. But in the place which Jehovah shall chuse, in one of thy Tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt-offerings, and there thou shalt doe all that I command thee.

15 Notwithstanding, in all the desire of thy soule, thou maist slay & eat flesh, according to the blessing of Jehovah thy God, which he hath given to thee in all thy gates: the uncleane and the cleane may eat thereof, as of the Roe-buck, and as of the Hart. Only the 16 blood ye shall not eat, ye shall powre it upon the earth as water. Thou maist not eat 17 within thy gates, the tithe of thy corn, or of thy new wine, or of thine oil, or the firstlings of thy herd, or of thy flocke, or any of thy vovs which thou shalt vow, or thy voluntary offerings, offerings, or heave-offering of thine hand.

 18 But thou shalt eat it before Jehovah thy God, in the place which Jehovah thy God shall chuse; thou, and thy sonne, and thy daughter, and thy man-servant, and thy woman-servant, and the Levite that is within thy gates; and thou shalt rejoyce before Jehovah thy God, in all that thou puttest thine hand unto. Take heed to thy selfe, lest thou forsake the Levite, all thy dayes, upon thy land.
 20 When Jehovah thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath spoken unto thee, & thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soule desireth to eat flesh; in all the desire of thy 21 soule thou maiest eat flesh. If the place which Jehovah thy God shall chuse, to put his name there, be far from thee, then thou shalt slay of thy herd, & of thy flock, which Jehovah hath given unto thee, as I have commanded thee: and thou shalt eat within thy 22 gates in all the desire of thy soule. But, as the Roe-bucke and the Hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat it: the uncleane and the cleane shall eat it alike. Only be sure not to eat the 23 blood, for the blood is the soule, and thou shalt not eat the soule with the flesh. Thou shalt not eat it: thou shalt powre it on the 24 earth as water. Thou shalt not eat it, that it may be well with thee; and with thy sonnes after thee, when thou shalt doe that which is 25 right in the eyes of Jehovah. Onely thy holy things which thou shalt have, and thy vows, thou shalt take up, and goe unto the 26 place which Jehovah shall chuse. And thou shalt make thy burnt-offerings, the flesh and the blood, upon the Altar of Jehovah thy God; & the blood of thy sacrifices shall bee
 27 powred out upon the Altar of Jehovah thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh. Observe 28 and heare al these words which I command thee, that it may bee well with thee, and with thy sons after thee for ever, when thou shalt doe that which is good and right in the eyes of Jehovah thy God.
 29 When Jehovah thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possesse them, & thou possessest them
 30 and dwellest in their land. Take heed to thy selfe lest thou be ensnared after them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; & lest thou enquire after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods: even so will I doe likewise. Thou shalt not 31 doe so unto Jehovah thy God; for every abomination to Jehovah which hee hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods. Every word which I command you, that shall ye observe to doe: thou shalt not adde unto it, neither shalt thou diminish from it.

Annotations.

Statutes] Here Moses entreth into the explication of the second commandment, concerning the manner of Gods worship, when Israel should come into Canaan; and proposeth in the 12. 13. 14. 15. and 16. chapters, Statutes for the service of God; and afterwards, Judgements for the repressing of evils.

Verf. 2. destroying] that is, ye shall speedily and utterly destroy; as the Greeke translateth, destroy with destruction. In the Hebrew canons it is said, Wee are commanded to destroy the Idoll, and the ministring vessels thereof, and whatsoever is made for the same, Deut. 12. 2. And in the land of Israel we are commanded to persecute it. But every place which wee shall subdue, wee are to destroy every Idoll that is therein, as it is written (in Deut. 12. 3.) and yee shall destroy the names of them out of that place. Maimony in Misneh, treatise of Idolatry, chap. 7. sect. 1. places] as houses, high places, temples, and the like. Hereupon the house of Baal, 2 King. 10. 27. the high places which Solomon and Ieroboam had builded for idolatry, 2 King. 23. 13. 15. were destroyed. But if an house were built for use, and Idols afterwards set up in it, the Hebrewes say, When hee had brought in the Idoll into the house, so long as it was there, the house was unlawfull for any use; when it was taken out, the house was lawfull. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 8. sect. 4.

shall possesse] that is, shall subdue and have dominion over them, as the word often signifieth: see Levit. 25. 45. 46. Jer. 49. 2. Psal. 82. 8. gods] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, Idols: there are gods (so called) many; but unto us there is but one God, 1 Cor. 8. 5. 6. mountaines] in such high places, all nations for the most part used to serve their gods: into which corruption Israel sometime fell, 2 King. 17. 10. 11. Jer. 3. 6. Ezek. 20. 28. 29. Hos. 4. 13.

Verf. 3. pillars] or statues, standing Images: of these see Exod. 23. 24. Levit. 26. 1. groves] which were wont to be as temples unto the heathen, as is noted on Exod. 34. 13. See also the annotations on Deut. 7. 5. gods] in Chaldee, Images of their Idols. names] whether in speech (for the name of other gods might not be heard out of their mouthes, Exod. 23. 13.) or imprinted in bookes, graven on pillars, imposed on places, or any other the like. So the Reubenites changed the names of cities, that carried Idol names, Num. 32. 38. As the beginning of true religion is repentance from dead works, Hebr. 6. 1. so in the constituting tuting of Gods true service, Moses beginneth with the abolishing of al idolatrous monuments; What agreement hath the temple of God with Idols? 2. Cor. 6. 16.

4 Verf. 4 not doe so] in any of the former particulars, or such like: as not to destroy or do evill to Gods sanctuary or synagogues, Psal. 74. 3, 7. 8. nor to breake downe his Altars, 1 King. 19. 10. nor to deface any holy writings, or monuments of his name, Ier. 36. 23. The Hebrewes say, Who-soever destroyeth any name of the holy pure names, whereby the blessed God is called, is by the law to be beaten; for loe of Idols bee saith; And thou shalt destroy the names of them, &c. Thou shalt not doe so to the Lord thy God. He that takes away but one stone (by way of destroying) from the Altar, or from the Temple, or from any other part of the Court, is to bee beaten. Likewise bee that burneth any of the wood of the sanctuary, &c. All the holy Scriptures, and the expositions of them, it is unlawfull to burne any of them, or destroy them with hand, except they be such as are written by heretickes, &c. But holy Scriptures when they are old, are to be laid up. Maimony in Iesudei hatorah, chapter 6. section 1. 7. 8.

5 Verf. 5. to put his name there] that is, to have it consecrated unto him, and his divine service. Such was the Tabernacle of Moses, the Temple of Solomon, the Citie Ierusalem, after God had chosen it; for of them God said, My name shall be there, 1 King. 8. 29. and his Name was called upon them, Dan. 9. 18. and put there, 2 King. 21. 4. 9. 1 King. 14. 21. The Chaldee here expoundeth it, to cause his Majesty (or divine presence) to dwell there. Now Christ hath abolished the earthly Ierusalem, and requireth worship in spirit and truth every where, Ioh. 4. 21, 23. shall yee seeke] for answers and oracles, which from the mercie-seat, and by Urim and Thummim, were given to the people, Num. 7. 89. Exod. 25. 22. Num. 27. 21. All other places were forbidden; as, Seek not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, &c. Amos 5. 5. shalt thou come] at all times, when thou wilt offer sacrifice, Levit. 17. 8. 9. but three times in the yeare by expresse commandement, Exod. 23. 14. 17. And the Lord promised to come unto them, and blesse them, Exodus 20. 24.

6 Verf. 6. sacrifices] of all sorts, as sinne-offerings, peace-offerings, and whatsoever pertained to the Altar Sacrifices have their name of slaughter, which were slaine, offered, and eaten before the Lord: the Chaldee here expoundeth it, the slaughter, (or sacrifice) of your holy things. tithes] the tenth of the herd and of the flock, whom both Priests and people were to bring & slay before the Lord, and eat them in Ierusalem: whereof see Levit. 27. 32. and the tithes of corne, &c. whereof see verf. 17. and Deut. 14. 22. 23. heave-offering of your hand] the Greeke translateth, the first-fruits, & in v. 11. the first-fruits of your hands: These are the first fruits spoken of in Deut. 26. 2. &c. which with their hands they brought into the Sanctuary. See the annotations there. vowes, and your voluntary offerings] such as for Gods blessings they willingly gave unto him. The difference of these voluntary oblations from vowes, is shewed on Levit. 7. 16. firstlings] which were given to the Priests, for them to eat, after the blood was sprinkled, and the fat burned on the Altar: see Numb. 18. 15. 17.

7 Verf. 7. Yee shall eat] to wit, such things as were lawfull for the people to eat: for all the things forementioned, they might not eat. Some were for the Priests to eat before the Lord; some for the people: rejoyce] God is to be served with gladnesse, Psal. 100. 1. 2. and the holy things of God might not bee eaten with mourning, Deut. 26. 14. Hof. 9. 4. yee put your hand] Hebr. the putting to (or sending forth) of your hand. This, though it may bee applied to that which they might take and eat, of the holy things, as in Gen. 3. 22. yet it seemeth to be more generall, for all things that they should doe, and all blessings that they should receive, as by comparing this phrase in Deut. 15. 10. and 23. 20. and 28. 8. 20. may appeare. So after in verf. 18. houses] that is, households, children and such like; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, men of your houses: and so Moses explaineth it in verse 12.

8 Verf. 8. which wee doe] the Greeke expoundeth it, which yee doe. Israel committed idolatry in the wilderness, Act. 7. 42. 43. Howbeit this speech of Moses seemeth rather to mean the true service of God, which was not as yet perfected, neither could be in their travels; as it was after in Canaan. right in his owne eyes] that is, which liketh or pleaseth him: so the phrase meaneth, in 2 Sam. 19. 9. 1 Chron. 13. 4. and is often spoken of the corruption of men, as Iudg. 17. 6. and 21. 25. unto which Moses opposeth that which is right in the Lords eyes, verie 25. 28. and ch. 13. 18. There is a way which is right before a man, and the end thereof are the wayes of death, Prov. 14. 12.

9 Verf. 9. the rest] in Chaldee, the house (or place) of rest: meaning the land of Canaan, and in speciall, Ierusalem there, 1 Chron. 23. 25. where after their travels and warres, the Lord gave rest unto his people, as verf. 10. and 1 King. 8. 56. But David being there, speaketh of another rest, which remaineth for people the of God, Psal. 95. 11. into which rest, wee that beleeve doe enter, and cease from our owne workes, Hebr. 4. 3. 8. 9. 10.

10 Verf. 10. in confident safety] or, in security; it meaneth without feare, Iudg. 8. 11. and 18. 7. and without danger of evill, Psal. 78. 53. See the like promise in Levit. 25. 18. 19. This promise is fulfilled in Christ, by whom we are delivered out of the hand of our enemies, that we might serve God without feare, Luke 1. 74.

11 Verf. 11. And there shall be] or, And it shall be that the place, &c. See verse 5. the choice] that is, the best, or fairest, as the Chaldee translateth.

12 Ver. 12. your gates] the Chaldee explaineth it, your cities: so the Hebrew text sometime explaineth it selfe, as is noted on Exo. 20. 10. no part] of the spoils or inheritance in the division of the land, but the Lord is his part and inheritance. See Deut. 10. 9. Num. 18. 8. 21.

13 Verf. 13. lest thou offer] that is, that thou offer

not. This precept is often and carefully urged, because the people were prone to fall into the transgression of it, as the histories of Scripture manifest, 1 King. 12. 28. 29. 30. 2 King. 17. 9. 11. And it taught men the unity of the faith of Christ, and the band of love and peace, to be kept in the heavenly Jerusalem, whither all people should resort, Rev. 21. 24. 25. 26.

14 Vers. 14. that I command thee] the Greeke addeth, this day. So not the place only, but all other things in Gods service, were to be according to the word of God, because the naturall man (not regenerate by Gods word and spirit) receiveth not the things of the spirit of God, neither can he know them, 1 Cor. 2. 14. and in the things which he knoweth hee corrupteth himselfe, Rom. 1. 21. and God would have obedience to his word, rather than sacrifice, 1 Sam. 15. 22.

15 Vers. 15. Notwithstanding] or Only, as the word signifieth in verse 16. 26. It is a liberty granted for civill things, but with a limitation. in all the desire of thy soule] the Greeke translateth, in all thy desire, the soule being put for the whole person. It meaneth, whatsoever thou, or thy soule desireth. maist slay] this word is the same that is used for sacrificing, (which also was with slaughter of the creature) but applied here, and often, to the slaying for ordinary food. Of this the Hebrewes say, It is lawfull to slay (for common food) in any place without the court (of the Sanctuary;) for they slay in the court none but the holy things of the Altar only. But it is unlawfull to slay common things in the court, either cattell, beast, or bird. And so it is said (in Deut. 12. 21.) If the place be farre from thee, which the Lord thy God shall chuse, &c. then thou shalt slay, &c. and eat within thy gates. Here thou art taught, that they slay not flesh for ones desire, but without the place which the Lord hath chosen. And that which is slaine without the place, is lawfull to be eaten within all gates. But hee that slayeth common things in the court, that flesh is pure, and unlawfull to be used; but they burie it, &c. Maimony tom. 2. in Shechitah, ch. 2. section 1. 2.

to the blessing] that is, the liberality, or bounteous gift: so restraining all profuse riot, and keeping men within the limits of their ability. thy gates] in the Chaldee, thy cities; and so the Greeke, in every citie. may eat] or shall eat. God would have no difference of persons, nor of places, nor of cleane beasts, (as after followeth) lest there should grow any respect of holinesse in such civill things, which might turne to superstition.

16 Vers. 16. Only] as the Greeke saith, But the blood, to wit, of beasts, and of fowles, Lev. 7. 26. this was absolutely forbidden even in civill diet; the reason hereof is noted on Levit. 17. pour it] or shed it on the earth, and cover it with dust, Levit. 17. 13. see the annotations there.

17 Vers. 17. Thou maiest not] that is, it is not permitted or lawfull for thee, as the Chaldee explaineth it. gates] in the Greeke and Chaldee, cities; so in ver 18. and 21. The second tithe which the owners did eat, was holy, and might not be eaten but in the place where Gods Sanctuary was: see the notes on Deut. 14. 22. 23. heave-offering] in Greeke, first-fruits; in Chaldee, the separation, that is, the separated thing: see verse 6. Maimony in Bicurim (or treat. of First-fruits) chap. 3. sect. 3. saith, The heave-offering of thine hand is the first-fruits; and, The Priest that eateth of the first-fruits out of Jerusalem, after that they are brought within the walls, is by the Law to be beaten; for it is said, Thou maiest not eat within thy gates, &c. See more on Deut. 26. 2. 4.

Vers. 19. lest thou forsake] that is, that thou forsake 19 not, or neglect not, either by erecting a new ministerie, as did Ieroboam, 2 Chron. 13. 9. or by with-holding thy offerings, the meanes of their livelihood, which is in speciall here intended. So in Neh. 10. 39. wee will not forsake the house of our God; where mention is made of bringing up their offerings. The same sinne is called the spoyling of God, Mal. 3. 8. See also Deut. 14. 27. upon thy land] the land of Canaan, out of which in speciall, tithes, first-fruits, and the like were to be paid. The Greeke translateth, all the time that thou shalt live upon the land (or earth.)

Vers. 20. Because thy soule] or, as the Greeke 20 translateth, if thy soule desireth.

V. 22. as the Roe-bucke] that is, as common and 22 profane meats, without any respect of holinesse. So after, in Deut. 15. 22. 23.

Vers. 23. Onely be sure] or, be strong: the Greeke 23 translateth, Take heed strongly: it meaneth a full and firme purpose of heart, not to eat it at any time. Of this Law, see the notes on Lev. 17. 10. &c. is the soule] figuratively spoken, because the soule (or life) is in the blood, as is expressed, Levit. 17. 11. not eat the soule] because God gave them that upon the altar, to make an atonement for their soules, Levit. 17. 11. 12.

Vers. 26. holy things] Hebr. holinesses: the Chal. 26 dee applieth it to their tithes.

Vers. 27. the flesh and the blood] both of them 27 were wholly brought to the altar, Levit. 1. The Greeke translateth, the flesh thou shalt offer upon the altar. sacrifices] to wit, peace-offerings, for the flesh of them was eaten by the owners, Lev. 7. 15. upon the altar] the Greeke translateth it, at the base (or foot) of the altar.

Vers. 28. in the eyes] that is, as the Greeke and 28 Chaldee expound it, before the Lord.

Vers. 29. to possess them] or, to disinherit them; as the Chaldee saith, to cast them out: the Greek translateth, to inherit their land. God having given direction for the place of his worship, now proceedeth with the things and manner of service which they should performe unto him.

Vers. 30. lest thou be ensnared] that is, deceived 30 in thy mind, and so fall into sinne and destruction, by following their religion. The Greek translateth, that thou seeke not to follow them. See Exod. 23. 33. As the nations were to be destroyed, so their idolatrous service was to be abolished, that none of their customes should be retained in Israel. How did] Hebr. How will, that is, how use they to serve. Hereupon the Hebrewes say, Thou maiest not inquire (or aske) concerning the way of the service.

service of an Idoll how it is, although thou serve it not; for this thing we command to turne after it, and to doe as they doe. Malmoſty treat. of Idolatry, chap. 2. sect. 2.

with I doe] not unto idolls, but to the Lord, as the next verse manifesteth. So not only the worship of false gods, but false or idolatrous worship of the true God, is here forbidden; and all imitation of Idolaters is condemned. So in Levit. 18. 3.

31 Verſ. 31. every abomination [the Chaldee expoundeth, every thing that is abominable before the Lord: in Greeke, the abominations which the Lord hateth. to their gods] the Chaldee expounds it, to their idolls. This one particular of burning their children, is named, (all other being implied) because herein they shewed most zeale and love; as Abraham for sacrificing his sonne at Gods command, is highly commended, Gen. 22. 12. and Israel, when they would shew themselves most studious to please the Lord, inquired about giving the fruit of their body for the sake of their soule, Mich. 6. 7. and sometime practised this abomination, Psal. 106. 37. 38. Ezek. 23. 37. 39. But God here condemneth the most fervent devotion of Idolaters.

31 Verſ. 32. Every word [or thing] in Chaldee, every commandement. Hereby God appointeth his owne word and law, to bee the only rule of his service, without imitating the customes of others, or deviling any thing of their owne. So in Levit. 18. 4. Deut. 4. 2. 2.

CHAPTER XIII.

CHAPTER XIII.

The Prophet that inticeth to idolatry, though he give signes which come to passe, must not be hearkened unto, but put to death. 6 The brother, child, wife, or friend, that inticeth to idolatry, must not be hearkened unto, spared, or concealed, but stoned to death. 12 The citie that revolteth to serve other gods, after due inquiry, must be smitten with the sword, men and beasts utterly destroyed, the spoiles burned, & the citie ruined for ever, and none of that execrable thing reserved.

1 IF there arise in the midst of thee a Prophet, or a dreamer of dreames, and hee give unto thee a signe or a wonder;
2 And the signe commeth, or the wonder which he spake unto thee, saying, Let us goe after other gods, which thou hast not knowne & serve them: Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that Prophet, or unto that dreamer of a dreame; for Jehovah your God tempteth you, to know whether you be the lovers of Jehovah your God, with all your heart, and with all your soule. After Jehovah your God shall yee walke, and him yee shall feare, and his commandements shall ye keepe, and his voice yee shall obey, and him you shall serve, & unto him shall yee cleave.

And that Prophet, or that dreamer of a dreame, shall bee put to death, because he hath spoken revolt against Jehovah your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants, to thrust thee out of the way, which Jehovah thy God commanded thee to walke therein: and thou shalt put away the evill from the midst of thee.

If thy brother, the sonne of thy mother, or thy sonne, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosome, or thy friend, which is in thine owne soule, entice thee in secret, saying, Let us goe & serve other gods, which thou hast not knowne, thou nor thy fathers. Of the gods of the peoples which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or farr off from thee, from the one end of the earth, even unto the other end of the earth. Thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him, neither shall thine eye spare him; neither shalt thou pity, neither shalt thou conceal him. But killing thou shalt kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him, to put him to death; and afterwards the hand of all the people. And thou shalt stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he hath sought to thrust thee away from Jehovah thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of servants. And all Israel shall heare and feare, and shall doe no more as this evill thing, in the midst of thee.

If thou shalt heare (say) in one of thy cities, which Jehovah thy God giveth to thee, to dwell there, saying, Certaine men, the sons of Belial, are gone out from the midst of thee, and have thrust away the inhabitants of their citie, saying, Let us goe and serve other gods, which yee have not knowne: Then shalt thou enquire, and shalt search, and shalt aske diligently; and behold (if it be) truth, the word certaine, this abomination is done in the midst of thee. Smiting thou shalt smite the inhabitants of that citie with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying it, and all that is therein, & the cattell thereof, with the edge of the sword. And all the spoile of it thou shalt gather into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burne with fire the citie and all the spoile thereof, every whit to Jehovah thy God: and it shall be an heape for ever, it shall not be built againe.

And there shall not cleave to thy hand ought of the cursed thing, that Jehovah may turne

turne from the burning of his anger, and may give unto thee tender mercies, and may have tender mercie on thee, and multiply thee; as hee hath sworne unto thy fathers. When thou shalt obey the voice of Jehovah thy God, to keepe all his commandments, which I command thee this day, to doe that which is right in the eyes of Jehovah thy God.

Annotations.

I [Fathers arise] or, when there shall stand up; by which word is signified the open and bold carriage of deceivers. Moses having from the first Commandement, taught the doctrine of one only God, whom wee should in faith, love, and obedience have to be ours, & give our selves to him; and from the second commandment, taught the right way of serving this God, according to his owne word, doth now from the third commandment, teach to beware of the abuse of Gods name and word unto vanity, heresie, or idolatry; and so generally warneth Israel to take heed lest they transgressed the first and second commandments by the breach of the third.

[In the midst of thee] speaking to Israel, amongst whom many false Prophets did arise, 2 Pet. 2.1. Unto which danger all Churches are subject, as it is said, Mongers of your owne selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, Act. 20.30. a Prophet is a publike seducer, touching whom he giveth warning first, as afterwards of the private, in v.6. &c. What a Prophet signifieth is noted on Gen. 20.7. & Exod. 7.1.

[dreamer] this was one of the wayes, by which prophesie came of old unto men, Num. 12.6. Jer. 23.35. 28. By a Prophet he seemeth to denote the principall sort, such as saw visions: by a dreamer, the inferior sort, that saw things more obscurely. begin either by word and promise, or by action or gesture, as 1 King. 13.3 & 22.11. Mat. 12.39.40.

2 [Ver. 2. or the wonder] Heb. and the wonder: these are said to come, when they are effected or fulfilled: so Jer. 28.9. Deut. 18.22.

[saying] that is, and be say: as saying in 1 Chron. 13.12. is expounded, and said in 2 Sam. 6.9. so in 2 King. 12.9. compared with 2 Chron. 34.16.

Thus the religion given of God by the hand of Moses, was established against all opposition that after might arise, upon what pretence soever: And so the faith taught by Christ and his Apostles, was confirmed against the future signes, and lying wonders of Antichrist, 2 Thess. 2.9.10. The Hebrewes say, If there stand up a prophet, and hee doth great signes and wonders, and seeketh to deny (or make false) the prophesie of Moses, wee may not hearken unto him, but we know certainly, that those signes are by enchantment and sorcery. For the prophesie of Moses was not by signes, &c. but with our eyes we saw, and with our eares we heard as hee did say, &c. Therefore the Law saith, If the signe or wonder come to passe, thou shalt not hearken to the words of that Prophet, (Deut. 13.) for he, bee commeth into thee with signe and wonder, to make that false which thou hast seen with thine eyes. And forasmuch as we beleve not in a wonder, but because of the commandment which Moses commanded us; how should we receive this signe, which commeth to make the prophesie of Moses false, which wee saw and heard? Maimony com. in Ielude ha-torah, chap. 8. section 3. See also the annotations on Exod. 19.9.

Ver. 3. the dreamer or, the dreamer of dreams; and so the Greeke translateth it.

tempteth or proveth: See the notes on Gen. 22.1. But there God himselfe immediately tempted Abraham; here mediately, and that by will meanes, which he of his grace and wisdom ordereth and disposeth for good to his people: as also the Apostle saith, There must be also aberrations among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you, 1 Cor. 11.19.

Ver. 4. After Jehovah the Chaldee faith, after the feare of the Lord your God. Here the Lord and his commandments are opposed to all other, so that after Jehovah, meaneth after him onely; as our Saviour expoundeth a like speech, Mat. 23.10. from Deut. 6.

Ver. 5. spoken revolt or apostasie, that is, spoken words to cause thee to revolt, or turne away; as the Greeke translateth, to make thee to erre from the Law. This judgement of the false Prophet (as all other weighty matters) none but the high councill of 71 Elders might judge of, as the Hebrewes say, Talmud. Bab. in Sanhedrin, ch. 1. and Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 5. See the annotations on Num. 11.30.

the evil both person and worke, as the Chaldee translateth, the evil doer: the Greeke the evil thing: but in Deut. 17.7. the Greeke translateth, the evil one; which Paul approveth, using the same words, in 1 Cor. 5.13.

Ver. 6. thy brother by nature, or in the same faith and Church: but the Greeke addeth, thy brother on thy fathers side, or on thy mothers.

son of thy mother such are dearest brethren, as the example of Ioseph and Benjamin sheweth, Gen. 43.30. and 45.12.14.

daughter Love and affection descendeth from parents to children, as it were by inheritance; and the daughter for infirmity of sex, is most spared and pitied; but may not so be in this case.

as thine owne soule most dearly loved, put therefore in the last place, for a friend sticketh closer than a brother, Prov. 18.24. And as man and wife are one flesh, Matt. 19.6. so friends here are as one soule.

inice with motions, reasons, exhortations; the Greeke translateth, exhort: the Chaldee, counsell. The Hebrewes write; He that eniseth any one of Israel whether man or woman, hee is to be stoned; although neither the infidel, nor the infidel, hath worshipped the idoll, yet hee dieth for for teaching to worship is. Whether the intiser be private man, Propbet, be the intised one singular person, man or woman, or a few persons, they are to die by stoning. He that intiseth the multitude of a citie, he is a thruster away, and is not called an intiser. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 5. sect. 1, 2. See after in verse 13. other gods] in Chaldee, Idols of the peoples: so in verse 7.

7 Verse 7. unto the other end] that is, all the world over. Hereby God condemneth all the feigned Religions thorowout the earth, as being gone astray from him: and having made himselfe and his word knowne unto Israel, would have them therein to rest their faith, without declining to novelties. We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse, 1 Joh. 5. 19.

8 Verse 8. not consent] or, not affect, have any liking or will unto him. From which word the Hebrews gather, that it is unlawfull for the intised to love the intiser. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, ch. 5. sect. 4. If he were drawne away by him, so that hee said, Goe we and let us serve them, although they had not as yet served, both of them were to be stoned, the intiser and the intised. Ibidem sect. 5. eye spare] to wit, from vengeance. See this phrase in Gen. 45. 20. Deut. 7. 16. prive] or use gentlenesse and indulgence, as Genes. 19. 16. conceale him] but bewray, and use all meanes to bring him to his punishment. Therefore the Hebrews thinke, that the intised person was to take witnesses, to see if he would intise before them: if hee would not, then (they say) it is commanded to lay privie wait for him, and they lay wait for none that are guiltie of death by the Law, but for this man. And thus they doe it: The intised bringeth two men, and sets them in a darke place, so that they may see the intiser, and heare his words, but he may not see them. Then he saith to the intiser; Say what is it that you said, &c. When he hath spoken, the intised answereth; How shall we leave our God which is in heaven, and goe and serve stockes and stones? If he convert hereby, or hold his peace, he is free: But if he say unto him, thus are we bound to doe, and thus it befalleth us; then they that stood there aloofe, bring him to the Judgement Hall, and they stone him. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, ch. 5. sect. 3.

9 Verse 9. shalt kill him] by shewing the thing to the Magistrate, who hath power to kill him: therefore the Greek translateth, Shewing thou shalt shew concerning him. shine hand] this is spoken to the accuser, or first witness, who must cast the first stone at him, Deut. 17. 7. Of the manner of stoning used in Israel, see the notes on Leviticus 24. 23.

10 Verse 10. to thrust thee away from Iebotab] in Chaldee, to make thee to erre from the feare of Lord, that is, to goe astray from his true worship and service, as feare in Esay 29. 13. is expounded worship, in Mat. 15. 9. of servants] in Greeke and Chaldee, of servitude, or bondage.

11 Verse 11. shall doe no more] Hebr. shall not adde to doe as this evill word, that is, any such evill thing as this is. For punishment of transgressours, is a meane to restraine others from wickednesse, and to make them wise, Prov. 21. 11. On the contrary, Because sentence against an evill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sonnes of men is fully set in them to doe evill, Eccles. 8. 11. See the like in Deut. 17. 13. The Hebr. gather from the words, All Israel shall beare, &c. that a cryer was to proclaime before him unto all, the cause of his death; and they note foure sorts of evill doers, before whom such Proclamation was made; The rebellious Elder, (Deut. 17. 13.) the presumptuous false witness, (Deut. 19. 19, 20.) the intiser to Idolatry, (here spoken of) and the stubborn rebellious son, (Deut. 21. 18, 21.) Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Rebels, ch. 3. sect. 8.

V. 12. If thou shalt beare say in one] or, When thou shalt beare of one, that is, of any one of thy cities. This is one of the most severe Lawes, wherein God sheweth his jealousy and indignation against Idolaters, to the utter rooting out, not onely of their persons, but of their posteritie, goods and citie it selfe for ever. of thy cities] of the cities of Israel, which were Gods people; against whom onely this Law is given; if they should be drawne to idolatry, and not against those that were without. So of spirituall judgement it is said, Doe not yet judge them that are within? But them that are without God judgeth, 1 Corinthians 5. 12, 13.

Verse 13. sonnes of Belial] that is, wicked or mischievous persons, which the Chald. interpreteth, sonnes of wickednesse. Belial (in Hebrew Beli-jagial) is by interpretation, without profit, or, without yoke, that is, lawlesse; rebellious and wicked; and this name is given unto Satan or Antichrist, opposed unto Christ, in 2 Cor. 6. 15, and to be sons of Belial, is to be addicted or given over unto wickednesse, as in 1 Sam. 2. 12. Judg. 19. 22. 1 King. 21. 10. The like is of a daughter of Belial, 1 Sam. 1. 16, and man of Belial, 1 Sam. 25. 25. and sometime the wicked are simply called Belial, as in 2 Sam. 23. 6. Nahum 1. 15. and as it is here applied to persons, so is it also to wicked things, words or thoughts, as in Deuter. 15. 9.

out from the midst of thee] or, from among you, speaking to Israel, from whom such wicked persons might in all ages goe forth, as they did also from the Christian Churches, as it is said, They went out from us, but they were not of us, 1 Joh. 2. 19. And this their going out, argueth likewise their stubborn and presumptuous carriage in their evill, which they did not in secret, but as proclaiming warre against the Lord. have thrust away] or, have driven, have withdrawne, to wit, out of the way, as was expressed in verse 5. the Chaldee expoundeth it, have caused to erre, (or goe astray:) and it noteth the force and efficacie of such seducers; as Jeroboam is said to have driven Israel from following the Lord, 2 King. 17. 21. See before on Deut. 4. 19. the inhabitants] This is spoken generally and indefinitely: if all the inhabitants were seduced, there is no doubt but the judgment following was to be executed: the Hebrews also thinke, if the greater part of the citie were drawn away, they all that were seduced, were to dye, and the citie to be destroyed: but if the lesser part onely were withdrawne, then they were killed, but the citie it selfe was to be let stand, as is further shewed in the Annotations following. other gods] in Chaldee, the Idols of the peoples: so here were two evils, the forsaking of the true God, whom they had knowne, and the following of other gods whom they had not knowne. Of these the Lord saith by his Prophet, Be astonished, O yee heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be yee very desolate, saith the LORD; for my people have committed two evils, they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters; they have hewed them out cisternes, broken cisternes that can hold no water, Jeremie 2. 12, 13.

14 Verse 14. Then shalt thou enquire] hee speaketh to Israel, and therein chiefly to the Rulers, whom it most concerned to try out this case: and by these three, enquire, search, aske, and that well or diligently, he teacheth what care should be had for finding out the truth; that this severe judgement came not upon any without their due demerit. The Hebrews say, They judge not a citie thrust away, but in the Judgement Hall of sevenie one (Magistrates:) it is said (in Deuteronomie 17. 5.) Thou shalt bring forth that man or that woman unto thy gates, and shalt stone them, &c. Particular persons are killed by the Judges that are in every citie; but the multitude are not killed save by the great Synedrion. The great Court doe send, and enquire, and search, till they know evidently, that all the citie, or the most of it, is thrust away, and turned to idolatry. Afterward they send two learned men, to admonish and to convert them. If they convert and shew repentance, it is well: but if they persist in their folly, the Synedrion doe command all Israel to goe up against them to warre: and they doe besiege them, and wage warre against them, untill the citie be broken up. When it is broken up, forthwith they set for them many Courts of Judgement, and doe judge them: whosoever hath two witnesses come against him, that he served an Idol, after they have dispatched him, they put him apart. If all the Idolaters be found the lesser number, they stone them to death, and the rest of the citie is delivered. If they bee found the greater number, they carry them up to the high Court, and give sentence there against them. Maim. treat. of Idolat. ch. 4. sect. 3, 6.

15 Verse 15. smite the inhabitants] the Greeke saith, kill all the inhabitants with the slaughter of the sword: which is to be understood, if they be all found guilty: as they say, They kill with the sword all that have served (the Idoll;) and smite every soule, men, women and children, if all (the citie) be thrust away. If the Idolaters be found the greater number, they smite all the little ones, and women of the Idolaters with the edge of the sword. And whether the whole, or the most part, be thrust away, they stone to death those that did thrust them away. Maimony ibidem, section 6. utterly destroying] with a curse or execration: after the Greeke version, anathematizing. Of such the Hebrews say, The men of the citie drawne away (to Idolatry) have no part in the world to come, (that is, in life eternall.) Talmud. Babyl. in Sanhedrin, cap. Chekk. the cattell] and of the cattell that is killed, it is forbidden to make any profit (or use) of them,

16 Verse 16. all the spoile of it] This the Hebrews understand largely, whether they be the goods of the Idolaters, or of the other that fell not unto Idolatry: for so they write; *The goods of the just men that are within it, if they be the rest of the inhabitants of that citie, which are not drawne away with the multitude, they are burnt with the generall spoile: forasmuch as they dwell therein, their goods perish. A company of passengers from place to place, if they passe thorow a citie so drawne away, and be drawne away with it; if they have continued in it thirtie daies, they are killed with the sword; and their goods perish; if not, they are stoned to death, and their goods are to their heires. The goods of the men of another citie reserved therein, are not burned, but returned to the owners; for it is said, The spoile of it, and not the spoile of their neighbours. The goods of the wicked men of that citie, which are reserved in another citie, if they be gathered together with it, are burnt in the generall: if not, they perish not, but are given to their heires. The holy things within it, such as are sanctified for the Altar, doe die; for the sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination. Things sanctified to the maintenance of the Temple, are redeemed, and afterward burnt: for it is said, The spoile of it, not the spoile of heaven. The first-borne, and the Tithes that are perfect, are at the holy things of the Altar, and die: such as are blemished, are as the common cattell, and are killed, &c. The second Tithes, and the money of the second Tithes, and the holy Scriptures that are within (the citie) are laid up in store. Maimony in Idolat. chapter 4. section 7, 9, 10, 15. every whit] The Hebrew Calil here used, is sometime an whole Burnt-offering, Lev. 26. 32. Deuteron. 33. 10. Hereupon the Hebrews say, Who so executeth judgement upon the citie drawne away (to Idols) let be offereth the Burnt-offering Calil; as it is written, Every whit (Calil) to the LORD thy God: neither that onely, but turneth away burning anger from Israel, (Deuter. 13. 17.) and bringeth a blessing and mercies upon them. Maimony in Idolat. chap. 4. sect. 16. an heape] the Greeke translateth, uninhabited; the Chaldee, a desolate heape. The Hebrews say, *Whosoever buildeth it, is to be beaten: but it is lawfull to storne it into Gardens or Orchards; for it is said, it shall not be built againe; not built for a citie, as it was before. Maimony ibidem, section 8.

17 Verse 17. not cleave to thy hand] that is, thou shalt not make any profit or use to thy selfe of any of the goods of the citie. Compare the example of Jericho, Jos. 6. 17, &c. and see the Annotations on Deut. 7. 26. from the burning] the Chaldee expoundeth it, from the strength; the Greeke, from the wrath of his anger, which oftentimes is kindled, not onely against the sinners themselves, but all Israel for their sakes, as Jos. 7. 1, 11, 12. and 22. 17, 18, 20.

18 Verse 18. obey] or hearken to the voice; in Chaldee, shall receive the word of the LORD. that which is right in the eyes] which the Greeke expoundeth, That which is good and pleasing before the LORD.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Gods children are not to disfigure themselves in mourning for the dead; 3 nor eat any abominable thing. 4 What may, and what may not be eaten, of beasts; 9 of Fishes, 11 of Fowles. 19 Creeping things may not be eaten, 21 nor that which dieth of it selfe. 22 Things to be eaten before the Lord, 24 or (if the way be too long) to be turned into money, and it to be bestowed on things which they should eat and drinke with joy before the Lord. 27 The Levite may not be forsaken. 28 The third yeeres Tithe; for the Levite, stranger, fatherlesse, and widow.

- 1 Yee are the sonnes of Jehovah your God: yee shall not cut your selves, nor put baldnes between your eyes, for the dead. For thou art an holy people to Jehovah thy God; and Jehovah hath chosen thee to be unto him a people of peculiar treasure, above all peoples which are upon the face of the earth.
- 3 Thou shalt not eat any abomination. These are the beasts which yee shall eat; the Oxe, the Lamb of Sheep, and the Kid of Goats.
- 5 The Hart, and the Roe-buck, & the Fallow-deere, and the Wild-goat, and the Pygarg, and the Wild-oxe, and the Chamois; And every beast that parteth the hoofe, and cleaveth asunder the cleft of two hoofes, that cheweth the cud among the beasts, that yee shall eat. But this yee shall not eat, of them that chew the cud, or of them that part the cloven hoofe; the Camel, and the Hare, and the Conie, because they chew the cud, but they part not the hoofe, they shall be uncleane unto you. And the Swine, because he parteth the hoofe, and cheweth not the cud, he shall be uncleane unto you: of their flesh ye shall not eat, and their carcase yee shall not touch.
- 9 These ye shall eat of, all that are in the waters, all that hath finne and scale shall ye eat. And all that hath not finne and scale, yee shall not eat, it shall be uncleane unto you.
- 11 Every cleane bird yee shall eat. But these are they of which ye shall not eat: the Eagle, and Ossifrage, and the Osprey: And the Vulture, and the Kite, and the Glede, after her kind: And every Raven after his kind: And the Owle, and the Night-hawke, and the Sea-gull, and the Hawke after his kind: And the great Owle, and the little Owle, and the Red-shanke: And the Pelican, and the Gier-eagle, and the Cormorant: And the Storke, and the Heron after her kinde, and the Lapwing, and the Bat: And every creeping thing that fieth, it shall be uncleane unto you: they shall not be eaten. Every cleane fowle yee shall eat. Yee shall not eat of any carcase; thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that hee may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien; for thou art an holy people unto Jehovah thy God. Thou shalt not seeth a Kid in his mothers milke.

Tithing thou shalt tith all the revenue of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth, yeere by yeere. And thou shalt eat before Jehovah thy God, in the place which he shall chuse, to cause his name to dwell there, the Tithe of thy corne, of thy new wine, and of thy new oile, and the firstlings of thy herd, and of thy flocke, that thou maist learne to feare Jehovah thy God, all daies. And if the way be too much for thee, that thou art not able to carie it, because the place is far from thee, which Jehovah thy God shall chuse to set his name there, when Jehovah thy God hath blessed thee; Then shalt thou turne it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt goe unto the place which Jehovah thy God shall chuse. And thou shalt give the money, for all that thy soule desireth, for oxen, or for sheepe, or for wine, or for strong drinke, or for whatsoever thy soule asketh of thee: and thou shalt eat there before Jehovah thy God; and thou shalt rejoyce, thou and thine house. And the Levite which is within thy gates, thou shalt not forsake him, for he hath no part nor inheritance with thee.

At the end of three yeeres thou shalt bring forth all the Tithe of thy revenue in that yeere, and shalt lay it up within thy gates. And the Levite, because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee, and the stranger, and the fatherlesse, and the widow which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that Jehovah thy God may blesse thee, in all the worke of thine hand, which thou shalt doe.

Annotations.

THE sonnes of Jehovah] or, sonnes to Jehovah: the Chaldee translateth, sonnes before the Lord. Under the name sonnes, hee implieth daughters also, as is expressed in Deut. 32. 19. 2 Corinth. 6. 18. Moses here entreth into precepts concerning ning the communion of the Saints among themselves, which should be holy; who, as they must abstaine from false gods, so from communion in the rites and ordinances of Religion, with the children of such. Christ is the Sonne of God in nature, the fount of his love, Coloss. 1. 13. Wee in Christ are the sonnes of God by adoption, Rom. 8. 15. by faith in Christ, Galath. 3. 26. So many as are led by the Spirit of God, Rom. 8. 14. and are made partakers of his love, as it is written, Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that wee should be called the children of God, 1 Joh. 3. 1. not cut your selves] as was the manner of the heathens, especially in their sorrow, 1 King. 18. 28. Jerem. 41. 5. and in particular, when their friends died, Jer. 16. 6. which thing is chiefly intended here. The Chaldee translateth, ye shall not make a tumult. Because they are the children of God, therefore they must walke in his feare, 1 Pet. 1. 17. and purifie themselves, even as he is pure, 1 Joh. 3. 3. and beare all accidents and afflictions that come upon them, patiently; and forsake all heathenish customes, and not hurt their owne bodies, which are the Temples of the holy Ghost, 1 Cor. 6. 19. See the notes on Lev. 19. 28. The Hebrews say, that Gedidah, the cutting here spoken of, and Seriah, the incision, in Levit. 19. 28. are one thing: and he that cutteth himselfe for the dead, whether it be an incision with his hand, or an incision with an instrument, he is to be beaten. Maim, treat. of Idolatry, chap. 12. sect. 13. put baldnesse] that is, make your selves bald, by shaving or plucking off the haire; which also they used in mourning for the dead, Ezek. 7. 18. and 27. 31. Jer. 16. 6. and 48. 37. See also Levit. 21. 5. and 19. 27. betwene your eyes] that is, on the fore-part of your head: as the Phylacteries which were to be between their eyes, were worne on their heads, as is noted on Exo. 13. 9, 16. And in Levit. 21. 5. it is written, They shall not make baldnesse upon their head.

for the dead] this is an explanation of that which elsewhere he saith, for a soule, Levit. 19. 28. and 21. 1. The Hebrews here say, If your father dye, ye shall not cut your selves, nor make you bald, nor sorrow more than is meet; for you are not fatherlesse, because you have a Father who is great, living, and permanent, even the holy blessed God. But an Infidell, when his father dieth, hath no father that can helpe him in time of need; for his father which is left him is of wood, and his mother of stone; as it is written, saying to a stocke, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth, (Jer. 2. 27.) therefore they weepe and cut themselves and make them bald. And further, because thou art an holy people, therefore thou maist not deforme thy selfe (or make thee ill-favoured,) Chazkuni on Deut. 14. Yea, even the wise among the heathens themselves, blamed this folly in men, that mangled their bodies for the dead, calling them, Varia & detestabilia genera lugendi, pedores, muliebres lacerationes genarum, pectoris, scamorum, capitis percussiones. Cic. Tuscul. lib. 3.

2 Verse 2. of peculiar treasure] in Greeke, a peculiar people; in Chaldee, a beloved people: see the Annotations on Exod. 19. 5.

3 Verse 3. any abomination] This Sol. Iarchi, and the Targum called Jonathans, well explaine, any thing that I have made abominable to you (or put far from you.) For every creature of God is good, 1 Tim. 4. 4. and there is nothing common (or uncleane) of it selfe, Rom. 14. 14. but by the ordinance of God, certaine creatures, meats and drinke were made uncleane unto the Jewes, yet not for ever, but imposed upon them untill the time of reformation, Hebr. 9. 10. And this Law taught them holinesse, in abstaining from the impure communion with the wicked, Act. 10. 13, 17, 20, 28. See the Annotations on Leviticus 11. The Hebrews saw this myserie; for Baal Hatturim on this place noteth, Next unto these words, For thou art an holy people, &c. he saith, Thou shalt not eat any abomination; meaning, that they should not be commixed with Infidels, for Infidels are like unto beasts.

4 Verse 4. Kid of goats] or the lambe of goats: the Hebrew Seh, is either a yong sheepe, or a yong goat, as Exod. 12. 4, 5. and by naming the Lambe, he meaneth all the breed of these beasts, yong or old; as the son of man, is used for any man generally, old or yong, Psal. 144. 3. Job 25. 6.

5 Verse 5. Hari] in Hebrew, Ajal, a wilde beast well known, whose female is called an Hinde, Gen. 49. 21. light of foot, 2 Sam. 22. 34. bringing forth her yong with great sorrow, Job 39. 1, 2, 3. Such were meat at Solomons table, 1 King. 4. 23. Roe-bucke] in Hebr. Tsebi, of the pleasantnesse or beauty of this beast; in Chaldee, Tajja; in Greeke, Dorkos: (wherupon the woman named in Syriack, Tabitia, Act. 9. 36. is by interpretation Dorkos; in English, a Roe;) this beast is very swift, 2 Sam. 2. 18. 1 Chron. 12. 8. Song 8. 14. eaten also at Solomons table, 1 King. 4. 23. Fallow-deere] or, Wilde-oxe, Bugle, or Buffel: in Hebr. Iachmur, (a word not found, but here and in 1 King. 4. 23.) the Greeke translateth it, Bombalos, that is, the Buffe, Buffel, or Wilde-oxe, which somewhat resembleth our common Oxe, but is of another kinde, bigger, black, and more fierce. The Chaldee and Arabick retain the Hebrew name, Iachmura, which some Hebrews say, is a beast like unto a great Goat. Some late Expositors make it a beast like an Ass; as an Ass in Hebrew is called Chamor. Wild-goat] in Hebr. Acwo, a word not found but in this one place: of it some thinke the Latine Alex (by putting in the letter l) is derived, which we call the Elk; a beast somewhat like a Fallow-deere. The Gr. translateth it Tragelaphos, that is, a Goat-horn, which is in part like a Goat and an Hart: such are found in Arabia. The best Hebrew Expositors say, it is the wild-goat or rock-goat, so named of climbing the rocks. It is a beast of another kind than the common goat; for be it wilde or tame, the beast is the same. Pygarg] so the Gr. & old Latine version translate the Hebr. Dishon, here onely used: which the Chald. calleth Rema, of highnesse. The Pygarg is a wilde beast like a Fallow-deere, or Roe-bucke. Wild-oxe] or, Wild-Bull: so both Onkelos and Jonathan; the Chaldee Paraphrasts doe translate the Hebrew Tee, used onely here, and in Esaiah 51. 20. where it is called Tee.
The

The Greeke tranſlateth it Oryx; which is a beaſt like a Goat. The Arabick nameth it Tajet al.

Chamois] this name is borrowed of the French, as being a beaſt like a wild Goat. The Hebrew name is Zemer, the Arabick Zirapha; both have the ſignification of cutting. The Greeke tranſlateth it Camelopardalis, which is a word compounded of the Camel and the Panther. The Chaldee calleth it Dufa, which is a kind of Ro. Theſe ſeven ſorts of beaſts, and three of cattell, are all to be underſtood of ſeverall kinds, (as the Scripture giveth them every one a ſeverall name) and are not to be diſtinguiſhed by their wildneſſe, or tameſneſſe, but by their different nature; for as the Hebrews ſay, the wilde Oxe, and the (Oxe) fatted in the ſtall, theſe are of the kinde of the Oxe. Maimony treat. of Forbidden Meats, chap. 1. ſect. 8. And the Scripture confirmeth this, as when he ſaith of David, He ſacrificed Oxen and fatlings, 2 Sam. 6. 13. that is, oxen fed in the paſtures, and fatted in the ſtall. Moreover they ſay, that there are no other cattell, or beaſts in the world, lawfull to be eaten, ſave theſe ten kinds, rehearſed in the Law; they and the kinds of them, as is noted on Lev. 14. 3. And further, they have this ſaying; Though all theſe (ten kinds) are lawfull to be eaten; yet we muſt put a difference betwene the cleane cattell, and the cleane beaſts. For the beaſts, their fat is lawfull (to be eaten) and their bloud muſt be covered: [Leviticus 17. 13.] but cleane cattell, their fat is unlawfull to be eaten, [Leviticus 7. 23.] and there is no charge to cover their bloud. Maimony treat. of Forbidden Meats, chap. 1. ſect. 9.

6 Ver. 6. that cheweth] underſtand, and that cheweth, (as the Greeke addeth the word and) for it muſt doe both, elſe it was not cleane. And here, becauſe the former beaſts may be unknowne by their names, (as is to be ſeene by the varietie of interpretations) God giveth two generall ſignes to know a cleane beaſt by, the parting of the hoofe in twaine, and the chewing of the cud: of which, ſee the Annotations on Levit. 11. 3.

7 Ver. 7. Camel] of this and the reſt that follow, ſee the notes on Levit. 11. 4, 7. and of the exception, how in caſes of neceſſity uncleane meats might be eaten, it is there ſpoken. they chew] or, every of them cheweth.

9 Verſe 9. in the waters] whether in the ſea, or in the rivers, Levit. 11. 9. fin and ſcale] in Greeke and Chaldee, finnes and ſcales: ſee the Annotations on Lev. 11. 9, &c.

10 Verſe 10. uncleane] and ſo an abomination, as is ſaid in Levit. 11. 10, 11. that their fleſh might not be eaten, nor their carkafſes touched, as before in verſe 8.

12 Ver. 12. Eagle] of this, and the reſt that follow, ſee the Annotations on Levit. 11. 13, &c.

13 Verſe 13. Vultur] called here in Hebrew, Raah, of Seah; in Levit. 11. 14. Dash, of Flying. Chazkuni here ſaith, Raah and Dash are one, and it is called Raah, becauſe it ſeeth much. Jonathan in his Targum calleth it, the white Dajetha, according to the name in Levit. 11. and Onkelos nameth it Bath campha, that is, Daughter of wing. Glede]

a kinde of Kite or Puttock, in Hebrew Dajab: this is not mentioned in Levit. 11. (ſee the Annotations there on v. 14.) the Greeke calleth it Idimoi, that is, a Glede or Kite.

Verſe 15. Owle] or young Owle, or young Oſtrich: ſee the notes on Levit. 11. 16. for this and the reſt that follow.

Verſe 19. that ſieth] or, of the flying fowle: in Greeke, all the creeping things of fowles; which Jonathani, Solomon Iarchi, and others, expound of Flies, Bees, Hornets, and all ſuch like: ſee Leviticus 11. 20.

Verſe 20. cleane fowle] or, cleane flying thing; implying the kinds of Locuſts, which were lawfull to be eaten, Levit. 11. 21, 22.

Verſe 21. any carkafſe] the fleſh of a cleane beaſt or fowle, that either dieth alone, or is not orderly ſlaine: ſee the Annotations on Lev. 17. 15.

the ſtranger] not the Proſelyte, or ſtranger joyned to the Church, for ſuch were bound to keepe the whole Law, and this in ſpeciall, Levit. 17. 15. but as both the Chaldee paraphraſes expound it, the uncircumciſed ſtranger that is in thy Cities; and the Greeke, the ſojourner that is in thy Cities. Of three ſorts of ſtrangers, ſee the notes on Exod. 12. 43, 45, 48. This ſtranger here ſpoken of, the Hebrews call Ger toſhab, that is, the ſtranger inhabitant (or Sojourner; in Greeke, Paroikos;) and they deſcribe him thus; Ger toſhab is an heathen, who takes upon him that he will ſerve no Idoll, with the reſidue of the commandements which were commanded to the ſons of Noah, [whereof ſee the notes on Genesis 9. 4.] but he is not circumciſed nor baptiſed. Such an one they (the Iſraelites) doe receive, and he is of the Saints of the nations of the world. And why is he called Toſhab (an inhabitant?) becauſe it is lawfull for us to let him inhabit amongſt us in the land of Iſrael. Maimony tom. 2. in Iſſurei Biab, chap. 14. ſect. 7. Of ſuch, they held that they might be in the ſtate of ſalvation, as they confeſſe elſewhere. The Saints of the nations of the world, they have a portion in the world that is to come (in lite eternall) Maimony treat. of Repentance, chap. 3. ſection 5.

ſell it unto an alien] or, ſell thou it to a ſorreiner; in Chaldee, to a ſome of the peoples; an heathen that dwelt not in the land of Iſrael. an holy people] and therefore art to ſhew forth holineſſe in obeying all the commandements of the Lord, though impoſed but for a time, and as ſhadows of better things. For meats, and drinckes, and divers waſhings, and carnall ordinances, were impoſed on the Jewes, untill the time of reformation, Hebr. 9. 10. But now it is ſaid, Let no man judge you in meat or in drinke, &c. which are a ſhadow of things to come, but the body is of Chriſt, Col. 2. 16, 17. not ſetbe a Kid] this Law is twice given before, in Exod. 23. 19. & 34. 26. ſee the Annotations there. Under the name of a Kid, the Hebrews underſtand a Lamb alſo, and Calf, or other beaſt: and by ſetting, they imply alſo eating, or making any profit or uſe of fleſh ſo boyled. The Chaldee tranſlateth, thou ſhalt not eat fleſh with milke.

Verſe 22. Tubing thou ſhalt tube] that is, ſhalt in any wiſe, carefully, faithfully ſeparate the tithe; meaning the second tithe which themselves were to eat, v. 23. for there was a first tithe which was given to the Levites, out of which the Levites paid a tenth part againe to the Priests, Num. 18. 24, 28. Neh. 10. 37, 38. Then of that which remained, the owners separated a second tithe, which themselves did eat before the Lord, the first and second yeere: in the third yeere it was given to the Levites, and to the poore, Deut. 14. 28, 29. In the fourth and fift yeeres it was eaten againe by the owners, and in the fixt yeere was given to the poore. The seventh yeere was a rest and Sabbath to the land, then all things were common, Exod. 23. 10, 11. And this course they were constantly to follow in Israel. Hereof it is written by the Hebrews thus; *After that they have separated the first tithe, every yeere they separate a second tithe; Deuteronomie 14. 22. and in the third yeere, and in the fixt, they separate the tithe of the poore, in stead of the second tithe. In the first (day) of Tisri (or September) is the beginning of the yeere for the tithe of corne, and of pulse, and of herbes: and where-soever the beginning of the yeere is mentioned, it is the first of Tisri. And the fiftenth of Shebat [that is, the eleventh Moneth which we call January] is the beginning of the yeere for the tithe of Trees (fruit.) Maimony tom. in Maaser sheni (or treat. of the second tithe) chapter 1. section 1, 2. See also the Annotations on Leviticus 27. 30, &c. all the revenue] or, all the in-come, that is, fruits or increase which are gathered and brought in for food: the reason of the name appeareth in 2 Samuel 9. 10. thou shalt till the land for him, and thou shalt bring in (the fruits) that thy Masters some may have food to eat. The Hebrews say, *All mans meat that is kept, which groweth out of the ground, oweth an Heave-offering: and it is commanded to separate out of it, the first-fruits for the Priest, &c. and likewise the tithes. Maimony in Trumoth, chap. 2. sect. 1. And whereas the Scripture sometime speaketh of Revenue, sometime of Corne (as after in verse 23.) sometime of a Morfell of bread, (as in Judg. 19. 5.) they say, the graine, when it is eared, is called (Tebuah) Revenue, every where; and after that it is threshed and farned, it is called (Dagan) Corne; and when it is ground, kneaded, and baked, it is called (Path) a Morfell, or Bread. Maim. in Beraoth, chap. 3. sect. 1. that the field bringeth forth] or, that cometh out of the field; in Greeke, the generation (or increase) of thy field. yeere by yeere] so the Greeke also interpreteth the Hebrew phrase, yeere yeere, which is elsewhere written, yeere by yeere, Nehem. 10. 35. and Jonathan in his Thargum explaineth it, every yeere and yeere: whereto hee addeth, and not the fruits of (one) yeere, with the fruits of another yeere: meaning, that they must separate their tithes yeerly, and not put two yeeres tithe into one.

Verse 23. shalt eat] in Greeke, shalt eat it: speaking of the tithe which the owners should eat: and so Jonathan in his Thargum saith, Ye shall eat the second tithe before the LORD. before Jehovah] the tithes which were given to the Priests, they might eat in every place, Num. 18. 31. this second tithe was holy, and might not be eaten, but where Gods Sanctuary was; as within Jerusalem when the Temple was there built. *The second tithe is eaten by the owners, within the walls of Jerusalem, (Deuteronomie 14. 23.) Whosoever eateth so much as an olive of the second tithe, or drinkeb of it the fourth part (of a Log) of wine, without the wall of Jerusalem, is to be beaten, as it is written (in Deuteron. 12. 17.) thou maiest not eat within thy gates, the tithe of thy corne, or of thy wine, or of thine oyle, &c. and he is to be beaten for every one in particular: therefore if he eat of them all three, without the wall, he is beaten three times. Maim. in Maaser sheni, chap. 2. sect. 1. 5. This is meant (they say) if he eat thereof without the wals of Jerusalem, after it is once brought in thither; But if he eat of it, before it cometh within the wall of Jerusalem, he is chastised with stripes. ibid. sect. 6. Of beating, see Deut. 25. 2, 3. and of the holy manner of eating it, see Deut. 26. 14. his name] in Chaldee, his Divine presence (Shechinah) whereby GODS presence with his Church in Christ, and by his Spirit, is meant: see the notes on Exod. 34. 9. firstlings] these were given to the Priests, Num. 18. 15. Nehem. 10. 36. who had many other gifts, of which, some might not be eaten but in the Court of the Sanctuary; some (of which number these firstlings were, might not be eaten but in the holy Citie: and some might be eaten every where See the Annotations on Num. 18. to feare] this is the end of this ordinance, that the people might be inured with the feare, religion, and service of God: (for feare is sometime used generally for Gods worship, Esa. 29. 13. with Mat. 15. 8, 9.) And this feare they learned both by the action it selfe, eating the tithe of all their fruits, with joy and thankfulness to him that so blessed their land and labours, the tenth whereof they consecrated unto him: and by beholding the other holy things, and religious actions, performed by all Israel at their solemn feasts. In this latter sense Chazkuni here expoundeth it thus; *That when thou goest up to the feast, to eat thy second tithe, and shalt see the Priests in their service, and the Levites in their singing, and the Israelites in their standing, and the Synedrion (or Magistrates) sitting and judging the judgements of Israel, and the Doctors teaching; (for from thence Doctrine went forth unto all Israel) thou maiest learne to feare the Lord thy God.

Verse 24. 100 much for thee] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, be far away from thee. to carry it] in Greeke, to carry them, meaning the tithes fore-mentioned. hath blessed thee] that is, hath given thee so great an increase, that the tenth of them is more than thou canst carry to the place of Gods Sanctuary.

Verse 25. turne it] or sell it for money: Hebrew, give it for silver; which the Greeke translateth, sell them for silver. Of this the Hebrews have these ordinances; He that will redeeme the fruits of the second tithe, redeemeth them by their price (or worth) and saith, Lo, this money is in stead of these fruits, &c. and he carrieth the money up to Jerusalem. He that redeemeth his second tithe, blesseth God for the redemption

redemption thereof. When they redeeme it, it is not by the name of Tithes, but by the name of common (or profane) things: and they say, How much are these common fruits worth; though all doe know that they are Tithes. They redeeme not the Tithes fruits, but with silver; and they redeeme them not with silver uncoined, but with silver stamped, which hath some figure or writing upon it: and if he redeeme it with a wedge of silver, or the like, he doth nothing. He may not redeeme it with money which is not current at that time, and in that place. Neither may he redeeme it with money which is not in his owne power; as it is written, Thou shalt binde up the money IN THINE HAND. He that redeemeth his second Tithe before he have separated it; as if he say, The second Tithe of these fruits be redeemed with this money; he saith not any thing, seeing he hath not set out the Tithe. But if he have set them out, and then say, the second Tithe which is in the North, or in the South, be common (or profane) for this money; loe then it is redeemed. When they redeeme the second Tithe, it must be with the worth thereof, and not by guesse, but exactly, by the measure, or by the weight thereof, and so they give the price. If the price be knowne, he may redeeme it by the mouth of one; but if it be not knowne, as if the wine begin to be fowre, or the fruits to be rotten, &c. he is to redeeme it by the mouth of three chappmen. They may not carry the Tithe fruits from one place to another, to redeeme them there. Maimony in Maaser Shení, chapter 4. and binde up] the Greeke saith, and shalt take the money in thine hands.

26 Verse 26. thy soule asketh of thee] in Greeke, thy soule desireth; by soule, meaning appetite or lust after meat or drinke, as in Psa. 78. 28. they asked meat for their soule. They might not bestow the money on other things, than for food or anointing, as the Hebrews declare it thus; He may not take for the money of the Tithe, ought save mans meat, which groweth out of the earth, or which is nourished by that which groweth out of the earth; as the particulars expressed in the Law, oxen, sheepe, wine, or strong drinke. Therefore they may not buy with the Tithe money water or salt, &c. because they grow not out of the ground. Honey, egges, and milke, are as oxen, and sheepe; for though they grow not out of the earth, yet are they proceeded of them which are nourished from the earth. Likewise, they buy not a beast with the Tithe money out of Jerusalem. Maimony in Maaser Shení, chap. 7. sect. 3, 4, 5, 16. and thine house] in Chaldee, the men of thine house; meaning such as were cleane, the uncleane might not by the Law, Deut. 26. 14. Who so eateth of the second Tithe, in his uncleanness, is to be beaten. Maim. in Maaser Shení, chap. 3. sect. 1.

27 Verse 27. thy gates] in Greeke and Chaldee, thy cities: so in verse 28. not forsake him] that is, not neglect him, but minister sufficient for him also to eat, drinke and rejoyce; seeing he hath no land of his owne, to supply this unto him: See Deut. 12. 19. And this here seemeth not to be meant only of the first Tithe, commanded to be given unto the Levites, Num. 18. but of communicating also these second Tithes with them, to rejoyce together, as may be gathered by the Law following, verse 29.

28 Vers. 28. At the end of three yeares] in Greeke, After three yeares: but it is meant in the third yeare, to wit, of the seventh or Sabbath yeare, and so againe in the sixth yeare, for every third yeare is meant. Therefore in Deut. 26. 12. it is written, In the third yeare, all the tithes] The Hebrewes write, After a man hath reaped the seed of the earth, or gathered the fruites of the trees, and ended the worke thereof; hee separateth out of it, one of fiftie; and this is called The great Heave-offering (or First-fruits) and it is given to the Priest: and of this is spoken in Deuter. 18. 4. Afterward hee separateth out of the remainder, one of tenne; and that is called the first tithes; and hee giveth it to the Levites: and this is mentioned in Num. 18. 24. After this, hee separateth out the residue, one of tenne; and that is called the second tithes; and it is for the owners, and they eat in Jerusalem: and this is spoken of in Leviticus 27. 30, 31. and Deuteronomie 14. 22. According to this order doe they separate in the first yeare of the seven, and in the second, and in the fourth, and in the fifth. But in the third, and in the sixth of the seven, after they have separated the first tithes, hee separateth out of the remainder, another tithes, and giveth it to the poore, and that is called the tithes of the poore. And these two yeares there is no second tithes but the tithes of the poore; and that is spoken of in Deut. 14. 28, and 26. 12. The yeare of Release [which is the seventh yeare] is all free; and there is in it no Heave-offering, nor tithes at all, either first or second, or tithes of the poore. Maimony tom. 3. in Mattanoth, gnanijim, ch. f. 2. — 5. thy gates] in Greeke and Chaldee, thy cities: implying cities, suburbs, and fields about them; but not out of the land; as the Hebrewes say, They may not carry out of the land, for it is said, WITHIN THY GATES; and (in Deuter. 26. 12.) That they may eat within thy gates. Maim. in Mattanoth, ch. 6. f. 17.

29 Vers. 29. the Levite] he was to have all the first tithes, Num. 18. 24. and of that doe the Hebrewes understand this, and not of the second tithes: as Sol. Iarchi here saith, The Levite (shall come) and take the first tithes: and the stranger and the fatherlesse, and they shall take the second tithes, for it is for the poore of this yeare. And Chazkuni saith, In the third yeare, the first tithes is for the Levite, and the second tithes is to be divided unto the poore. See the notes on Numbers 18. shall eat and be satisfied] or, eat and have their fill. They were not bound to eat it in Jerusalem, as the second tithes of the former two yeares; but might eat it within any of their gates. About the distribution of this tithes, they had these Orders: The Owner of the Field, when poore folke passe by him, and hee have there the tithes of the poore, he giveth to every poore body that passeth by him, so much of that tithes as may satisfie him, according to Deuteronomie 14. 29. How much is that? If it be of Wheat, he gives him not lesse than halfe a Kab: if of Barley, not lesse than a Kab: of Rye, not lesse than a Kab: of Figges, not lesse than five and twentie shekels weights: of Wine, not lesse than halfe a Log: of Oyle, not lesse than a quarter (of a Log) &c. And if hee give him of any other fruits, it is not lesse than that hee may may sell, and buy with the price thereof two meales meat. If there be many poore, and he have not enough to give unto every one according to the measure, then he setteth (the Tith) before them, and they part it among themselves. With the second Tith they may not pay debts, or wages; nor redeeme captives with it, nor give almes thereof, &c. Maimony in Mattanoth gnan, chapter 6. in all the worke] that is, all the worke, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it; or, in every worke. This manner of speech, that he may blesse thee, is a promise, and he will blesse thee, (as Iudge not, that ye be not judged, Matthew 7. 1. meaneeth, and ye shall not be judged, Luke 6. 37.) and it sheweth how godlinesse is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Timothie 4. 8. Unto such duties as these, and to works of mercie, there are often annexed promises of blessing in the Scriptures, Prov. 3. 9, 10. Ezekiel 44. 30. Malachi 3. 10, 11. 2 Corinthians 9. 6, 10.

1 The seventh yeere, a yeere of release for the poore.
7 Unto the poore, men must lend freely, and give; the seventh yeere must be no let thereof. 12 An Hebrew servant must be set free in the seventh yeere, and liberally rewarded. 16 If he will not goe out free, his eare must be bored, and he is a servant for ever. 19 All firstlings males of the cattell, are to be sanctified unto the Lord, and eaten before him; 21 Except it have a blemish, then is it to be eaten by any, in any place: 23 But not the bloud.

1 AT the end of seven yeeres thou shalt
2 make a release. And this is the manner of the release; that every creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour; doe release it: hee shall not exact of his neighbour, and of his brother, because he hath proclaimed a release to Jehovah. Of a forrainger thou maist exact it: but that which is thine, with thy brother, thine hand shall release. Only, that there be not in thee a needy man; for Jehovah blessing will blesse thee in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth to thee for an inheritance, to possesse it. Only, if hearkning thou wilt hearken unto the voice of Jehovah thy God, to observe to do all his comendement which I comend thee
6 this day. For Jehovah thy God blesseth thee as hee hath spoken unto thee; and thou shalt lend unto many nations; but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt rule over many nations, and they shall not rule over thee.
7 If there shal be in thee a needy man, of one of thy brethren, in any of thy gates, in thy land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, thou shalt not make strong thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy brother the needy man. But opening, thou shalt open thine hand unto him, and lending thou shalt lend him enough for his want, that which is wanting unto him. Beware of thy selfe, lest there be a thought in thine heart of Belial, saying; the seventh yeere is neere, the yeere of release; and thine eye be evill against thy brother the needy man, and thou givest not unto him, and he cry against thee unto Jehovah, and it be sin unto thee. Giving thou shalt give unto him, and thine heart shall not be evill when thou givest unto him, because that for this thing Jehovah thy God will blesse thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto. For the needy shall not cease out of the land: therefore I doe command thee, saying; Opening thou shalt open thine hand to thy brother, to thy poore afflicted, and to thy needy in thy land.

If thy brother an Hebrew, or an Hebrewesse be sold unto thee, and serve thee six yeeres, then in the seventh yeere thou shalt send him out free from thee. And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not send him out empty. Furnishing thou shalt furnish him out of thy focke, and out of thy floore, and out of thy wine-press; of that wherewith Jehovah thy God hath blessed thee, thou shalt give unto him. And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and Jehovah thy God redeemed thee; therefore I doe command thee this thing to day. And it shall be, if he say unto thee, I will not goe out from thee, because he loveth thee & thine house, because he is wel with thee; Then thou shalt take an awle, and shalt thrust it in his eare, and in the doore, and he shall be unto thee a servant for ever; and also unto thy woman-servant thou shalt doe likewise. It shall not be hard in thine eies when thou sendest him out free from thee, for the double of the hire of an hired servant, hee hath served thee six yeeres: and Jehovah thy God will blesse thee in all that thou doest.

Every firstling which shall be borne of thy herd and of thy focke, the male thou shalt sanctifie unto Jehovah thy God: thou shalt not serve with the firstling of thy bullocke, nor sheare the firstling of thy focke. Thou shalt eat it before Jehovah thy God, yeere by yeere, in the place which Jehovah shall chuse, thou and thine house. And if there be

22 be in it a blemish, lame, or blinde, any evill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto Jehovah thy God. Thou shalt eat it within thy gates, the uncleane and the cleane 23 (person) together, as the Roe-bucke, and as the Hart. Onely the bloud thereof thou shalt not eat, thou shalt powre it upon the earth, as water.

Annotations.

1 AT the end of seven yeeres] Hereby seemeth properly to be meant according to the old Latine version, In the seventh yeere; as in Deut. 14.
28. At the end of three yeeres, meaneth in the third yeere: and in Jer. 34. 14. it is said, At the end of seven yeeres, let ye goe every man his brother, &c. that is, as there after followeth, when he hath served thee six yeeres; and Moses here in Deuter. 15. 12.
explaineth it, in the seventh yeere: and the Greeke Interpreters translate that place of Ieremie, At the end of seven yeeres, thus, when six yeeres are fulfilled.
So here, the end of seven yeeres, is the seventh yeere,
which is the end or last of the seven: and as servants were to be released in the beginning of the seventh yeere, when they had fully served six; so Aben Ezra (upon this place) expoundeth this remission of debts, to be at the beginning of the yeere.
Howbeit some of the Hebrew Expositors take it otherwise, saying; The seventh (yeere) releaseth
not debts of money, but at the end thereof, as it is said (in Deuteronomie 15. 1.) At the end of seven yeeres,
&c. And there he saith (in Deuteronomie 31. 10.)
At the end of seven yeeres, in the solemnitie of the yeere of Release, in the feast of Tabernacles. What is (meant) there? after (seven yeeres;) so the forgiveness of monies is after seven (yeeres.) Therefore be that lendeth to his neighbour in the seventh yeere it selfe, may require his debt all the yeere; but when the Sun is set in the night of New-yeeres day, at the going out of the seventh yeere, the debt is lost. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 3. treat. of the Release and Jubilee, chapter 9. section 4. This seventh yeere is that spoken of in Exodus 23. 11.
and Leviticus 25. 4. which was a Sabbath and rest for the land, that it might not be tilled; and a yeere of releasing debts, figuring the yeere of grace, the acceptable yeere of the Lord, which Christ preached, by whom wee have obtained of God release of our debts, that is, the forgiveness of our sins, Luke 4. 18, 19. Mat. 6. 12. Luke 11. 4.
and are taught also to forgive, If we have ought against any; that our father also which is in heaven, may forgive us our trespasses, Marke 11. 25.
that we be kinde one to another, tender hearted,
forgiving one another, even as God for Christs sake hath forgiven us, Ephel. 4. 32. Coloss. 3. 12, 13: See the Annotations on Lev. 25. a release]
or, a remission, or intermission, called in Hebrew Shemittah, in Greeke Aphepsi, that is, forgiveness, or, remission: the word which the New Testament
useth for forgiveness of sins, Marke 1. 4. Mat. 26.

28. whereof this release of debts was a shadow.
And the word is likewise used in Exod. 23. 11.
where speech is of the land, that it should be at rest, or intermitted from tillage, which was but for that seventh yeere only: wherefore it cannot be gathered from this word, that the remission of debts here commanded, was to be for ever, but might be an intermission onely for the seventh yeere, wherein was neither sowing, nor reaping,
nor other works of husbandry, so that the poore
had not such meanes to pay their debts, as in other yeeres. Howbeit, the Hebrews for the most part hold the remission to be perpetuall, and therefore have their limitations for some debts
and debtors, as after shall be shewed.

Verse 2. the manner] Hebr. the word; which the Greeke expoundeth, the ordinance (or commandement) of the release. every creditour] Hebrew, every Master (or owner) of the lending of his hand, that is, of the thing lent with his hand: which seemeth to imply money, and the like, and that which is a mans owne, whereof he hath power, as to lend,
so to remit. It may also be interpreted, every master of the exaction of his hand, which he may exact of his neighbour, doe release it; that is, every creditour that hath right to exact (the debt) with his hand, doe release that which hee might exact. The Greeke expounds it thus; Thou shalt forgive every proper debt (or every debt of thine owne) which thy neighbour oweth thee. Chazkuni here observeth, that the release is of things lent, not of things taken by robbery, or of things committed of trust to be kept. not exact] or, not urgently exact; in Greeke, not ake, (or require:) which the Hebrews understand both of exacting the debt, and an oath concerning it, as some cases might require.
The seventh yeere releaseth an oath, as it is said,
THOU SHALT NOT EXACT; not at all; neither to pay, nor to sweare; meaning, an oath before the Judges, &c. But an oath of them that have a thing to keepe, or for partnership, or the like; wherein if he confesse, he must pay; in such case he sweareth, after the (yeere of) release. Maimony in treat. of the Release, chap. 9. section 6, 7. and of his brother] that is, of such a neighbour as is his brother in the faith; to except the stranger, as in ver. 3. So And, is often used for explanation, as I mean, or that is to say: see the notes on Gen. 13. 15.
because he hath proclaimed] or, when he (that is, GOD by the Magistrate) hath proclaimed, or because it is called a release. Targum Jonathan expoundeth it of a Proclamation by the Magistrates. to Jehovah] meaning, to his honour, and by his commandment. The Chaldee tran-slateth, before the LORD: the Greeke, to the Lord thy God.

Ver. 3. Of a stranger] whom the Chaldee calleth
a sonne of the peoples, meaning an heathen.
exact] the Greeke addeth, require what so ever things are thine with him. thine hand shall release] which the Greeke explaineth thus, but to thy brother thou shalt make a release (or forgiveness) of thy debt. In this the Hebrews (which hold the release to be for ever) have their limitations. They say, the seventh

seventh yeere releaseth a debt though it be lent upon a bill which secureth the debt by goods; but if he tooke assurance by land, when he lent it, then it releaseth not. Also, he that lends to his neighbour, and setteth him an appointed tittle of ten yeeres, he releaseth not (in the seventh.) He that lends unto his neighbour, and conditioneth with him, that the seventh yeere shall not release him, he must notwithstanding release, for he cannot frustrate the right of the seventh yeere. If he condition with him, not to release that particular debt in the seventh yeere, the condition standeth; for that man hath bound himselfe in his goods, whereas the Law hath not bound him. Mulcts (or Forfeits) for enforcing, or for enticing a Maid, or for bringing an evill name, &c. are not released. He that lends upon a pawne, releaseth not, if the debt be æquivalent with the pawne: but if it be more, the overplus is released. If the Judges have given sentence (at Law) and written, Thou, such an one, art bound to pay this man thus and thus, he releaseth not, for this is not in the nature of a thing lent. These and the like cautions Maimony sheweth in his said Treat. of the Release and Jubilee, ch. 9. Of some of these there is question to be made, whether they be agreeable to the Law of God here given, especially if it be understood but of an intermission of the debt for the seventh yeere onely.

4 Verse 4. Onely that there be not] or, To the end that there be not: it sheweth the reason of the former law of release, that there might not be through exacting of debts, any man brought to extreme povertie. in thee] in the midst of thee, O Israel, or, among you: so againe in ver. 7. a needy man] This word noteth a depth of poverty, and hath the name Ebion, of wishing or desiring things that may relieve his wants. blessing will blesse thee] that is, will surely blesse thee much; so that thou shalt not lose by it, if thou performe this dutie to thy poore brother. The Greeke explaineth it, for this thing the Lords blessing will blesse thee.

6 Verse 6. bl. sseth thee] or, hath blessed thee, that is, will surely blesse thee: a promise spoken of as already done. thou shalt lend] God will so blesse thee, that thou shalt have enough to lend, and shalt not need to borrow: so it is explained in Deut. 28. 12. rule over many] as otherwaies, so particularly by lending unto them, being richer than they; for, The rich ruleth over the poore, and the borrower is servant to the man that lendeth, Pro. 22. 7. Compare also Psal. 37. 21, 26.

7 Ver. 7. any of thy gates] or, one of thy gates: which the Gr. & Chaldees expound cities. not make strong] that is, not harden thine heart; for so these phrases doe one open another; as in Ex. 4. 21. & 7. 3. The Greek expoundeth it, not turme away thine heart: the Apostle calleth it a shutting up of the bowels (of compassion) from him that hath need, 1 John 3. 17. shut thine hand] that is, abstaine from giving: contrary to the opening of the hand, in ver. 8.

8 Verse 8. open thine hand] that is, be bountifull and give: so againe in ver. 11. Thus it is said of God, Thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good,

Psal. 104. 28. & 145. 16. Our Saviour saith, Do good, and lend, hoping for nothing againe; and your reward shall be great; and ye shall be the children of the most high; for he is kinde unto the unthankfull, and to the evill. Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull, Luke 6. 35, 36.

Verse 9. a thought] Hebr. a word; used generally for any thing or thought: the Greeke saith, a hidden word, or secret thing. in thy heart] or with thy heart. of Belial] that is, of wickednesse; see Deut. 13. 13. This is to be referred unto the former, a word (or thought) of Belial; as they are joyned in Pia. 101. 3. & 41. 9. that is, a wicked thing (or thought) in thy heart, and so the Gr. explaineth it, an unlawfull thing. Some refer it to the latter, the heart, as if he should say, a thought in thy wicked heart. thine eye be evill] hereby is meant the manifestation of a covetous affection, as is after shewed by the effect, and thou givest not unto him; and proceedeth from an evill heart, v. 10. for the cie declareth what is in the mind. This Solomon teacheth by the contrary, saying, He that hath a good eye, shall be blessed, for he giveth of his bread to the poore, Prov. 22. 9. whereto agreeth that speech in Eccles. 35. 8. Give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the first fruits of thine hands. But an evill eye signifieth envie and covetousnesse, as, Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evill eye, Prov. 23. 6. and, Is thine eye evill, because I am good? Mat. 20. 15. and Christ saith, that an evill eye proceedeth from within, out of the heart of men, Mar. 7. 21, 22. it be sin unto thee] or, sin in thee, that is, a great sin, for which thou shalt be condemned, as is shewed in Mat. 23. 41, 42, 45. Thus sin is used sundry times for a most sinful and damnable action; as, The thought of foolishnes (that is, of the fool) is sin, Pro. 24. 9. &c. If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin, Joh. 15. 24. see also Jam. 4. 17. And this sin is the greater, & the sooner punished, when the poore for want of releefe doe cry unto God.

Verse 10. Giving thou shalt give] that is, in any wise give, and that freely, bountifullly, &c. So in ver. 11. opening thou shalt open thine hand. thine heart shall not be evill] or, let not thine heart be evill, that is, grudge not, grieve not, nor distrust the providence of God: So the Greeke translateth, thou shalt not be grieved in thy heart. This is spoken of the heart, because a pretence of liberality is sometime made without a good heart, as is shewed in Prov. 23. 6, 7. Hereupon it is said, Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, (so let him give:) not of griefe, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerfull giver, 2 Cor. 9. 7. will blesse thee] and consequently will enrich thee; for, the blessing of the Lord it maketh rich, Prov. 10. 22. Other blessings also are implied, for he saith, If thou draw out thy soule to the hungry, and satisfie the afflicted soule; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness shall be as the noone day, and the LORD will guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in draughts, and make fat thy bowes; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not, Esay 58. 10, 11.

Verse 11. not cease out of the land] or, from the midst middest of (that is, from within) the land. Though God is able abundantly to supply all mens wants, yet suffereth he some to have need, as for other causes, so to make triall of the love and compassion of his people to their poore brethren. Yee have the poore with you alway; and whensoever ye will, yee may doe them good, Marke 14.7.

12 Verse 12. an Hebrew, or an Hebrewesse] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, a sonne of Israel, or a daughter of Israel; for the Israelites were called Hebrewes, Exod. 2. 6. afterward (when the other Tribes were fallen from God, and the Tribe of Judah abode in the truth, Hos. 11. 12.) they were called Jewes, Jer. 34. 9. Ezra 5. 5. & 6. 7, 8, &c. Esther 4. 7. & 9. 1. sold unto thee] of the selling of the Hebrews; see the Law fore-given in Exo. 21. 2. 11. Lev. 25. 39, 55. The Hebrew Expositors understand this Law here given, for him that was sold by the Magistrate, according to Exod. 22. 3. and not for such as sold themselves. Maim. treat. of Servants, ch. 3. sect. 12. but it seemeth by the words of Moses, and by Jer. 34. to extend further. in the seventh yeere] to wit, from the time of his sale; for this is not the seventh yeere, the yeere of release fore-spoken of in v. 1, 2, 9. see the Annotations on Exod. 21. 2. send him out free] or, let him goe out a free man: This was not an intermission of service for the seventh yeere only, but a full release for ever; wherefore God blameth the Jews in Zedekias daies, who had released their servants, and afterward caused them to return, & brought them into subjection and servitude again, Jer. 34. 14, 15, 16, &c. Neither was this release to be purchased by the servants of their friends, but was for nothing, Exo. 21. 2. This Sabbath, or seventh yeere, figured the acceptable yeere, the time of grace by Christ, who releaseth freely by his Gospel, such as were the servants of sin and Satan, Esa. 61. 1, 2. Luke 4. 18, 19. Rom. 6. 12, 13, 14. & 3. 24. Heb. 2. 14, 15. Joh. 8. 32, 34, 35, 36.

14 Ver. 14. Furnishing him, shall furnish him] that is, in any case furnish him, and that liberally; or adorne him as with a chain; from whence the similitude is here taken: that as crowns and chains were signes of honour and dignity, Dan. 5. 29. so the Master should honorably reward his brother for his service, & not turn him out as a vagabond. He was sold for extreme povertie, Exo. 21. 3. Lev. 25. 39. and if he should be turned away empty, he might either be forced to returne into servitude, (from which God would free his people, because they were his servants, Lev. 25. 42, 55.) or be driven to keale, Prov. 30. 9. or to beg, or live in misery. thy store] thy corn: by these three, flesh, bread and wine, he was sufficiently provided for his present livelyhood, and that of the best.

thy God hath blessed thee] so implying other things besides those fore-mentioned, and giving a reason of this precept fro the blessing of God upon the Master, which also often commeth by meanes of the servants diligent and faithfull service, who therefore ought not to be sent away empty, Gen. 30. 27, 30. & 31. 6, 38, 40, 42. For the quantitie, the Law appointeth not how much the Master should give his servant at his departure: the Hebrews gather from Exo. 21. 32. that he might not give him lesse than the worth of thirty shekels, whether it were of one kinde (of the things fore-mentioned) or of many. Maim. treat. of Servants, c. 3. s. 14.

16 Verse 16. thine house] that is, thine household, wife, children, servants; as the Chaldee saith, the men of thine house. he is well] is well used, and to his contentment. What the Hebrews gather from these words, is noted on Levit. 25. 40.

17 Verse 17. thou shalt take an eare] this was to be done by the knowledge of the Magistrates also, Exod. 21. 6. see the Annotations there. in his eare, & in the doore] so fastning his eare to the doore, as the Greek version here explaineth it; to signifie, that he yeelded himself as a perpetuall servant in his Masters house. a servant for ever] that is, till the yeere of Jubilee; or, all the daies of his Masters life: see the notes on Exo. 21. 6. thou shalt doe likewise] to furnish her liberally when she goeth out of thy service, as vers. 14. and (as some thinke) to bore her eare for a perpetuall servant, if she will not goe out free at the end of six yeeres. But the Hebrews understand it of the former only, and hold that a woman was not to be bored in the eare. Maim. in Servants, ch. 3. sect. 13. Of Maid-servants, see the Law in Exo. 21. 7, 11.

18 Verse 18. It shall not be hard] or, Let it not be hard, that is, seeme hard unto thee, and grieve thee; that thou must so furnish him with thy goods when thou lettest him go. the double] in Chaldee, two for one. the hire of an hired servant] that is, he hath been double the worth of an hired servant to thee, that he hath served thee six yeeres. The reason of this speech some thinke to be, because of the hard service which he hath done, above the service of an hireling, as in Luke 17. 7, 8, 9. But by the Law, Hebrew servants might not be used like slaves, but like hired servants, Lev. 25. 39, 40. Therefore others understand it in respect of the time, that an hired servant might not be hired longer than three yeeres, (as in Esa. 16. 14. within three yeeres, as the yeeres of an hireling, &c.) whereas this servant had served six yeeres. But there is no Law given of God, that a man might not be hired for longer time than three yeeres, and there is the like phrase in speech of one yeere, Esay 21. 16. Others thinke it to be in respect of his condition, that he was sold for a servant, and so bound to his Master, and could not be free when he would.

19 Verse 19. of thy herd] or, in (that is, among) thy herd, and in thy flock; meaning of beeves, sheepe, and goats. After the laws that concern the poore and the servants of Israel, he now repeateh a law which concerned the releefe of his Ministers the Priests that served the Lord, and his people Israel. shall sanctifie] that is, shall separate as holy unto the Lord: the ground of this Law was because God smote all the first-borne of Egypt, from man to beast, but spared the Israelites; therefore hee commanded them (in perpetuall memory of that benefit) to sanctifie all their first-borne males unto him. See Exodus 13. 2, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

not ſerve] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, not to doe any worke therewith; as to plough, tread out the corne, or any other like. Becauſe theſe beaſts were the Lords, he forbiddeth men to uſe them as their owne, for any work-service, or profit to themſelves. So the Hebrewes hold the Law by proportion, to concern all other holy things, as well as the firſtlings; and that for tranſgreſſing this charge, men were to be beaten. Maimony tom. 3. in Megnilah, c. 1. f. 7.

- 20 Verſe 20. Thou ſhalt eat it] this is not meant of the owner, but ſpoken to the Prielt, unto whom God gave all the firſtlings of Iſrael, Numb. 1. 15, 17, 18. See the annotations there. year by year] every firſtling in his year, and not deferre the eating of it till the year following. ſhall abuſe] to put his name, and place his Sanctuary there: ſee Deut. 12. 5, 6. thine houſe] thy family; in Chaldee, the men of thy houſe.

- 21 Verſe 21. lame or blinde] underſtand, if the beaſt be lame or blind, or any otherwiſe blemiſhed. The firſtlings were to be killed, their bloud and fat brought to the Altar, their fleſh eaten by the Prielts, as is noted on Numb. 18. 17. but no blemiſhed thing might come to the Altar, by the Law, in Lev. 22. 18, 22. therefore not the firſtlings that had blemiſh on them.

- 22 Ver. 22. Thou ſhalt eat it] ſpeaking to the Prielt, to whom the firſtlings were given for their livelihood: ſee Numb. 18. 17. within thy gates] in Greeke and Chaldee, within thy cities, that is, in any of their common habitation. as the Roebucke] that is, as ordinary meats wherein is no holineſſe. So in Deut. 12. 22.

- 23 Verſe 23. the bloud] becauſe it is the ſoule, or life, and was for atonement of their ſoules upon the Altar, therefore no bloud of beaſt or fowle might be eaten: ſee Deuteron. 12. 23. and Levit. 17. 11, 12.

CHAP. XVI.

1 A repetition of the Law touching the Feaſt of the Paſſeover, and of unleavened bread: 9 Of Weekes or Pentecoſt: 13 Of Footes or Tabernacles. 16 Every male muſt appeare, and offer according to the gift of his hand, at theſe three Feaſts. 18 Of ordaining Judges, and doing juſtice. 21 Groves and Pillars are forbidden.

- 1 OBſerve the moneth of Abib, and keepe the Paſſeover unto Jehovah thy God: for in the moneth of Abib, Jehovah thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. And thou ſhalt ſacrifice the Paſſeover unto Jehovah thy God, of the flocke and the herd, in the place which Jehovah ſhal chuſe, to cauſe his name to dwell there. Thou ſhalt not eat with it any leavened bread; ſeven daies ſhalt thou eat with it unleavened cakes, the bread of affliction: for thou cameſt forth out of the land of Egypt, in haſte; that thou maiſt remember the day of thy comming forth out of the land of Egypt, all the daies of thy life. And there ſhall not be ſeen with thee, any old leaven in al thy coaſt, ſeven daies; neither ſhall any thing of the fleſh which thou ſhalt ſacrifice in the evening, in the firſt day, remain all night, untill the morning. Thou maiſt not ſacrifice the Paſſeover within any of thy gates, which Jehovah thy God giveth thee. But at the place which Jehovah thy God ſhall chuſe, to cauſe his name to dwell, there thou ſhalt ſacrifice the Paſſeover in the evening, about the going downe of the Sunne, as the ſeaſon that thou cameſt forth out of Egypt. And thou ſhalt boil and eat, in the place which Jehovah thy God ſhall chuſe; and thou ſhalt turne in the morning, & go unto thy tents. Six daies thou ſhalt eat unleavened cakes, and in the ſeventh day ſhall be a ſolemn aſſembly unto Jehovah thy God; thou ſhalt not doe any worke.

Seven weekes ſhalt thou number unto thee, from beginning (to pur) the ſickle into the ſtanding corne, thou ſhalt begin to number the ſeven weekes. And thou ſhalt obſerve the feaſt of Weekes unto Jehovah thy God, with a tribute of a voluntary offering of thine hand, which thou ſhalt give, according as Jehovah thy God hath bleſſed thee. And thou ſhalt rejoyce before Jehovah thy God; thou, and thy ſon, and thy daughter, and thy manſervant, and the maidſervant, and the Levite which is within thy gates, and the ſtranger, and the fatherleſſe, and the widow, which are in the miſt of thee, in the place which Jehovah thy God ſhall chuſe, to cauſe his name to dwell there. And thou ſhalt remember that thou waſt a ſervant in Egypt, and thou ſhalt obſerve and doe theſe ſtatutes.

Thou ſhalt obſerve unto thee the feaſt of Bootes, ſeven daies, when thou haſt gathered in of thy floore, and of thy wine-preſſe. And thou ſhalt rejoyce in thy feaſt; thou, and thy ſonne, and thy daughter, and thy manſervant, & thy maidſervant, and the Levite, and the ſtranger, and the fatherleſſe, and the widow, which are within thy gates. Seven daies ſhalt thou keepe a feaſt unto Jehovah thy God, in the place which Jehovah ſhall chuſe, becauſe Jehovah thy God ſhall bleſſe thee, in all thy revenue, and in all the worke of thine hands; and thou ſhalt be ſurely joyfull. Three times in a yeere ſhall every male of thee appeare before Jehovah thy God, in the

the place which hee shall chuse, in the feast of unleavened cakes, and in the feast of Weekes, and in the feast of Boothes: and he shall not appeare before Jehovah empty.

- 17 Every man according to the gift of his hand, according to the blessing of Jehovah thy God, which he hath given unto thee.

- 18 JUDGES and Officers shalt thou give for thee, in all thy gates, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee through thy tribes; and they shall judge the people with judgement of justice. Thou shalt not wrest judgement, thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift, for a gift will blind the eyes of the wise, and will pervert the words of the just. Justice justice shalt thou follow, that thou maist live, and inherit the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee.

- 21 Thou shalt not plant thee a grove, any tree, neere unto the Altar of Jehovah thy God, which thou shalt make thee. Neither shalt thou set up a pillar, which Jehovah thy God hateth.

Annotations.

- 1 O Observe] Hebr. To observe; the indefinite put for the imperative, as is noted on Exod. 13.3 Abib] which wee call March: the Greeke expoundeth it, the month of new fruits. See the notes on Exod. 13.4. and keepe the Paschever] Hebr. and thou shalt doe (or make) that is, celebrate the feast of the Paschever, or sacrifice the Paschever; so named, because God passed over the houses of the Israelites, when he slew the first-borne of Egypt: In memoriall whereof, this feast with the rites thereof, were commanded; see Exod. 12. and the annotations there. It was a figure of Christ our Paschever, and of our redemption by him, whose feast wee are taught to keepe, 1 Cor. 5. 5.8. by night] at mid-night the Angell of God slew the first-borne in Egypt, then rose they up, and began to take their journey, though they went not out of Egypt till the day following: see Exod. 12. 29. 30. 41. 42.

- 2 - Verf. 3. sacrifice] or, kill, slay: so Christ our Paschever is sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5.7. by the preaching of Christ crucified, and shewing of his death, we now keepe this feast, Gal. 3.1. 1 Cor. 11.26. the flocke] of sheepe, or goats; see Exod. 12.5. the herd] of Bulls, or Bullocks. This differeth from the Paschever of the Lambe, which was precisely commanded to bee a young sheepe or goat of the first yeare, one for a company, to be eaten all of it, the same night, with bitter herbes, &c. Exod. 12. But this was an addition to the former, and was of sheepe or bullocks, so many as men would voluntarily bring to the feast; called therefore by the Iewes Chagigah, that is, the feast-offering; as the other was called Pascha. An example hereof wee have in 2 Chron. 35.7.8. &c. where many thousands of Lambs, Kids, and Bullocks were in Iosiah's time by him & his Nobles given for the Paschever. Of this the Hebrewes say, When they offer the Paschever in the first (month) they offer it with Peace-offerings in the 14 day, of the herd, or of the flocke, great or small, males or females, with any sacrifices of peace: and this is called the Chagigah (or feast-offering) of the 14 (day.) And of this it is said (in Deut. 16.2.) thou shalt sacrifice the Paschever to the Lord thy God, of the flocke and the herd. Maimony in Korban Pesach, chap. 10. sect. 12. to cause his name to dwell] which the Greeke expoundeth, his name to bee called upon there. The Chaldees thus; to cause his Majesty (or divine presence) to dwell there. So in ver. 6. This was where the Tabernacle or Temple should be placed; which in time was at Jerusalem, where Solomon builded the Lord an house, 1 Chron. 17. 12, that is, builded an house for his Name, 2 Sam. 17.3. See also Deut. 12.

V.3. Leavened bread] which signified corruption in heart, word, or deed; as hypocrisie, maliciousnesse, false doctrine, or any other wickednesse, or wicked persons: see Luke 12. 1. Matt. 16.6. 12. 1 Cor. 5.7. 8. 13. and the annotations on Exod. 12.15. seven dayes] after the Paschall Lambe, Levit. 23.5.-8. see the notes on Exod. 12.15. bread of affliction] or, bread of poverty: so called, because it was a memoriall of their affliction in Egypt, and of their hasty coming out from thence before their bread had time to bee leavened, Exod. 12.34-39. Hereupon the Israelites used, after the eating of the Paschall Lambe, to breake a cake of unleavened bread, and the father of the family gave every man a peece, and said, This is the bread of affliction which our fathers did eat in the land of Egypt, &c. as is shewed at large in the notes on Exod. 12.8. That bread Christ consecrated to bee a memoriall to us of his afflictions and death for our sakes, whereby his body was broken for us, 1 Cor. 11.24. 25. 26. in haste] this word implieth a trembling, and an hasty flight for feare of danger, Deut. 20.3. 2 Sam. 4.4. 2 King. 7.15. See the notes on Exod. 12.11.

Verf. 4. seene with thee] or, seene (appeare) unto thee. Leaven might not be eaten, nor so much as left within their dwellings, but carefully sought out & put away before the feast began. The manner of doing it, and meaning thereof, is shewed on Exod. 12.15. 19. thy coast] or, thy borders; the Greeke saith, thy coasts. Leaven might no way bee reserved for any use till after the Paschever, but was purged out the day before, and abolished, either burnt, or otherwise made away, as is noted on Exod. 12.15. of the flesh] the Gr. translateth plurally, of the fleshes; to imply the other sacrifices of the feast, as well as the Paschall Lambe; whereof whatsoever was left till morning, was to bee burnt, as a polluted thing, Exod. 12.10. The Hebrewes explaine this Law thus. The feast-offering (Chagigah) of the fourteenth (day) is as (men) liberty (to offer) but not bound. And it is eaten for two dayes and one night, like all the sacrifices of Peace-offerings, (Levit. 7. 15. 16. 17.) And it is unlawful to leave of the flesh of the Chagigah of the 14. day, unto the third day; as it is said (in Deut. 16. 4.) neither shall (any thing) of the flesh, which thou shalt sacrifice in the evening, in the first day, remaine all night untill the morning. By word of mouth wee have learned, that this is a prohibition for leaving the flesh of the Chagigah of the fourteenth day, unto the sixteenth day; as it is said, unto the morning, till the morning of the second day. Maimony in Korb. Pesach, chap. 10. sect. 13. Of this was that practise of the Jewes, in Ioh. 18. 28. they went not into the Iudgement hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the Passeever; meaning the Chagigah (or Feast-offering) of the Passeever; for the Paschal Lambe was eaten the night before, Marke 14. 12. &c.

5 Vers. 5. not sacrifice] or, not kill. thy gates] that is, as both the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, thy cities. This was a perpetuall Law for the Pasche, as the Hebrewes declare, from this Law, thus; They kill not the Passeever but in the Court, as the rest of the holy things: yea, in the time when the high places were permitted, they sacrificed not the Passeever in a private high place: and who so offereth the Passeever in a private high place, is beaten. For it is said (in Deut. 16. 5.) Thou must not sacrifice the Passeever in any of thy gates: we have bene taught, that this is a prohibition to kill it in a private high place, although it be in the time when high places are permitted. Maimony in Korb. Pesach, chap. 1. sect. 3.

6 Vers. 6. about the going downe of the Sunne] that is, in the afternoone, before Sunne-setting; for at Sunne-setting the day ended. For the time of killing, see the notes on Exod. 12. 6.

7 Vers. 7. shall boile] or, seeth: so the Hebrew word properly signifieth; and so both the Greek and Chaldee doe translate it, though the Greeke addeth another word, thou shalt boile, and rost, and eat. Therefore this cannot be meant of the Paschal Lambe, which might not be boiled, but roasted onely, Exod. 12. 8. 9. but is spoken of the Chagigah (or Feast-offering) forementioned, which might be boiled if they would: and so they practised in Iosiah's Passeever; they roasted the Passeever (that is, the Lambe) with fire, but the holy offerings they boiled in pots and in cauldrons, &c. 2 Chron. 35. 13, &c. unto thy tents.] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it, unto thy houses, or dwellings. See the notes on Numb. 24. 5.

8 Vers. 8. solemn assembly] called in Hebrew Gnatsereth, of retaining the people, or of restraining them from worke: in Greeke, Exodion, the Outgoing of the feast: in Chaldee, an Assembly, or Congregation. See Levit. 23. 36. any worke] to wit, any servile worke, as is expressed in Levit. 23. 8. Numb. 28. 25. but worke about dressing meat or drinke might be done on the feast dayes, but not on the Sabbath: see the notes on Lev. 23. 3. 7.

9 Vers. 9. Seven weekes] or, Seven sevens, to wit, of dayes. The Greeke addeth, Seven iuiure weekes. See Levit. 23. 15. where they are called seven Sabbaths. into the standing corne] that is, from the sixteenth day of Nisan (or March) at which time the Magistrates of Israel sent Messengers to reape the sheafe, the first-fruits of Barley harvest, to wave it before the Lord: from which day precisely, they were to number these seven weekes, untill Pentecost, which was the fiftieth day, as is shewed more largely in the Annotations on Levit. 23. 10. 15. 16.

Verf. 10. shalt observe] Hebr. doe or make, to wit, holy: see the notes on Exod. 34. 22. So after in verf. 13. of weekes] so called, because it was seven weekes after the bringing of the sheafe at the Passeever: and it was fifty dayes, whereupon it is called in Greeke Pentecost, Act. 2. 1. See Levit. 23. 15. 16. a tribute of a voluntary offering] or, a contribution of voluntarinessse, that is, a voluntary contribution of thine hand, which the Greeke translateth, as thine hand is able. The Hebrew Missab (which is only found in this place) is a contribution, (as Ma is often used for a tribute:) or it is a sufficiency, or enough: as in Deut. 15. 8. enough for his want, is by the Chaldee expounded Missab, the word which the Chaldee useth also here. Wherefore this contribution here spoken of, is neither the sacrifice appointed for the feast day, in Numb. 28. 27. -- 31. nor the two loaves and sacrifices with them, commanded in Levit. 23. 17. 20. for these were not voluntary offerings, but bounded duties which might not be omitted. But over and beside them, God here appointeth men to bring unto him voluntarily, what they could and would.

Verf. 11. shalt rejoyce] this they were bound to doe, and it was one of the three things required of the Israelites at every solemne feast: see the notes on Exod. 23. 15. and after here on v. 14. his name] in Chaldee, his Divine presence, or Majesty.

Verf. 12. and thou shalt] and may here imply the reason, therefore thou shalt observe. For they came out of Egypt to keep a feast to the Lord in the wilderness, Exod. 5. 13. which they kept at mount Sinai, where the Law was given at this time of Pentecost, or of Weekes, Exod. 19. 1. 11. and 24. 5. -- 11. In memoriall whereof this day was kept holy every yeare. And when they were come into Canaan, they brought two loaves of the first-fruits of their wheat harvest, with many sacrifices unto them adjoynd, Levit. 23. 17. -- 20. which increased the solemnity. Last of all, the Law of Christ, was given by the Spirit in fiery tongues, to his Apostles, on this festivall day, Act. 2.

Verf. 13. Boothes] or Tabernacles made with the boughes of trees, Lev. 23. 34. 40. See the Annotations there. of thy floor, and of thy winepresse] that is, thy fruits, the corn which is threshed in the floor, & the wine pressed out of the fat: therefore it is called the feast of in-gathering, in the going out of the yeere, when thou gatherest in thy labors out of the field, Ex. 23. 16.

Verf. 14. rejoyce in thy feast] this is meant both of inward joy for the mercies of God, past, present, & to come by Christ; & of outward manifestation of their joy, by sacrifices of thanksgiving unto God, & holy banquetting with the poore, and ministers of the Lord, as after he commandeth.

Verf.

15 Verse 15. keepe a feast] by offering of sacrifices, in thankfulness to God for his blessings upon them and their land. surely joyfull] or, one-ly joyfull; with spirituall mirth serving the Lord. So the Apostle saith, Rejoyce in the Lord alwayes; Again I say rejoyce, Phil. 4. 4.

16 Verse 16. Three times] the times before and after mentioned; the Paschever, or unleavened cakes; the Feast of Weekes, or Pentecost; and the Feast of Boothes, or Tabernacles: see Exod. 23. 14. — 17. and 34. 22, 23. Of the speciall sacrifices of these Feasts, see Levit. 23. and Numb. 28. and 29. chapt. hee shall not appeare] that is, no man of Israel: the Greeke saith as before, thou shalt not appeare; in Exod. 23. 15. it was said, They shall not appeare before me, empty. Thus here are three things required, appearing, keeping a feast, verse 15. and rejoycing, verse 14. every of which implied a sacrifice, as is noted on Exod. 23. 15.

17 Verse 17. according to the gift of his hand] that is, Let every man appeare with a gift (or oblation) as he is willing, and his hand can give: which the Greeke explaineth, Exeryone according to the ability of your hands.

Here beginneth the 48 section of the Law: See Genes. 6. 9. and 28. 10.

18 Verse 18. Judges and Officers] in Chaldee, Judges and Avengers. These were to judge causes, and execute the judgements: the Officers are called in Hebrew Shotrim, in Greeke Grammateis, and Grammatocisagogeis, that is, Scribes, and as Hierom calleth them in Latine, Masters. Their work was to speake and proclaime unto the people what they ought to doe, Deut. 20. 5. — 9. Is. 1. 10, 11. and 3. 2, 3. and as the Hebrewes generally hold, to see good orders kept, lawes executed, malefactors punished, and the like. Therefore they carried rods and weapons, to execute justice, as Prætors, and Lictors in the ancient Roman Common-wealth; and as Sheriffes and Constables in England. There were both Judges and Officers of all tribes, and of the Levites, 1 Chron. 23. 4. The Officers (Shotrim) had slaves and whippes; and they stood before the Judges, and went about in the streets, and into shops, for to looke to right weights and measures; and to smite all that did wrong: and all that they did, was by the mouth (or commandement) of the Judges. And in whomsoever they saw any fowle matter, they brought him to the Judgement-Hall, where he was judged according to his wickednesse. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 1. sect. 1. shalt thou give] that is, shalt make, or constitute, as the Greeke translateth. The manner of making them, is shewed in Deut. 1. 13, 15. and what manner of persons were to be chosen, is declared on Exod. 18. 21. thy gates] the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, thy cities. But according to the bignesse of every citie, so they appointed in Israel Courts of judgement: the Hebrewes reckon three; 1 The great Court in the Sanctuary, called the great Synedrion, where they set seventy (Judges) and one, as in Numb. 11. 16.

&c. where seventy were added unto Moses. 2 The Court of three & twenty, of which (they say) there were two about the Temple, the one at the Court-doore of the Sanctuary, and the other at the doore of the mountaine of the Temple. And in every citie of Israel, wherein were 120. men, or more, the lesser Synedrion (of 23.) sate in the gates of the citie. 3 A city wherein there were not 120 men, they set therein three Judges; for there is no Court of lesse then three, as Maimony sheweth in Sanhedrin, chap. 1. sect. 3. 4. giveth unto thee] so within their owne land Israel had this charge, but not without the same, as when they were dispersed into other nations. We are not bound (say they) to constitute Judgement Halls (or Courts) in every countrey, and in every citie, but in the land of Israel onely, &c. as it is said in all thy gates, which the Lord thy God giveth unto thee. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 1. sect. 2. judgement of justice] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, just judgement; which is, when there is an equall and indifferent course of proceeding, when the truth of the cause is discerned, and when judgement passeth according to the Law, Psal. 82. and 58. 2, 3. So Christ saith, Judge not according to the appearance, but judge just judgement, Ioh. 7. 24. The Hebrewes say, that the justice of judgement is, an equality towards both parties, in every matter: that they let not the one speake so much as he seeth needfull, and say to the other, Be brieve in your speech: and that they shew not a friendly countenance to the one, and speak gently to him; and frowne upon the other, and speak roughly unto him. That the one doe not sit, and the other stand; but both of them stand, or if the Judges please, that they both sit; and that the one sit not on high, and the other below; but one besides another. It is unlawfull for the Judge to heare the words of one of the parties before his fellow be come, or out of the presence of his fellow: and so the one party is to be admonished that he relate not his cause to the Judge, before his fellow the other party be come, &c. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 21.

19 Verse 19. nor wrest judgement] not decline (or pervert, turne aside) judgement, not give any wrong judgement for any cause, as did Samuels sonnes, who turned aside after lucre, and took bribes, and wrested (or perverted) judgement, 1 Sam. 8. 3. See Deut. 24. 17. respect persons] or, acknowledge faces, that is, be partiall, respecting one more than other: see Levit. 19. 15. Deut. 1. 17. Prov. 24. 23. take a gift] or, a bribe: this is repeated from Exod. 23. 8. see the annotations there.

20 Verse 20. Iustice iustice] that is, all manner justice, and nothing but justice, exactly, carefully and continually thou shalt follow: the Greeke translateth, Iustly that which is just shalt thou follow. The doubling of the word, is for more vehemency: see Deut. 2. 27. and when a word is trebled, it is most vehement, as in Ezek. 21. 27. Esay 6. 3.

21 Verse 21. not plant thee] or, not plant unto thee, or, for thy selfe: see the like phrase in Exod. 20. 4. a grove] called in Hebrew Asherah, of Felicity or happinesse, a blessed grove: such the Heathens used for the service of their gods, as is noted on Exod. 34. 13. but the Lord would not have such neere his altar, in his service: notwithstanding the Israelites corrupted themselves herewith sundry times, as Judg. 3. 7. and 6. 25. 1 King. 14. 23. and 16. 33. 2 King. 21. 3, 7. and there were prophets of the groves, 1 King. 18. 19. For this sin God threatened to root up Israel out of the good land, which he gave to their fathers, 1 King. 14. 15. The Hebrews say, He that planteth a tree neere unto the Altar, or in any (part) of the Court-yard, whether it be barren tree, or tree that beareth food, although he doe it for to adorne the Sanctuary, and beautifie it, he is to be beaten, Deut. 16. 21. Because this was the manner of Idolaters, they planted trees by the Altars side, that the people might assemble there, Maimony treat of Idolatry, ch. 6. f. 9.

22 Verse 22. set thee up a pillar] or, set up for thy selfe a statue, or standing image: whereof see the annotations on Lev. 26. 1.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The things sacrificed to the Lord must be unblemished. 2 Idolaters are to be stoned to death; being convicted by witnesses. 8 Hard controversies are to be determined by the Law which the Priests and Judges shew, which were in the place that the Lord should chuse. 12 The contemner of that determination must die. 14 The election and duties of a King.

1 THou shalt not sacrifice unto Jehovah thy God, Oxe or Lambe, wherein is blemish, any evill thing: for that is an abomination to Jehovah thy God.

2 If there be found in the midst of thee, in any of thy gates, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, man or woman, that hath done evill in the eyes of Jehovah thy God, in transgressing his covenant; And hath gone and served other gods, and bowed himselfe down unto them, either to the Sunne, or to the Moone, or to any of the host of the heavens, which I have not commanded; And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and hast inquired diligently; and behold it be a truth, and the thing certaine, that this abomination is done in Israel: Then thou shalt bring forth that man, or that woman, which have done this evil thing unto thy gates, the man, or the woman, and shalt stone them with stones, and they shall die. At the mouth of two witnesses, or of three witnesses, shall he that is to die, be put to death; he shall not be put to death at the mouth of one witness.

7 The hand of the witnesses shall be first upon him, to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people; and thou shalt put away the evill from the midst of thee. If a matter be too hard for thee in judgment between bloud and bloud, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, matters of controversies within the gates; then thou shalt arise and goe up unto the place which Jehovah thy God shall chuse. And thou shalt come unto the Priests the Levites, and unto the Judge that shall be in those dayes; and thou shalt enquire, and they shall shew unto thee the word of judgement. And thou shalt doe according to the word which they shall shew unto thee; they of that place which Jehovah shall chuse: and thou shalt observe to doe according to all that they informe thee. According to the Law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgement which they shall say unto thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the word which they shall shew unto thee, to the right hand or to the left. And the man that will be presumptuously, not to hearken unto the Priest that standeth to minister there, before Jehovah thy God, or unto the Judge, even that man shall die; and thou shalt put away the evill from Israel. And all the people shall heare and feare, and not doe presumptuously any more.

When thou art come into the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, and shalt possesse it, & dwell therein, & shalt say, I will set over me a King, as all the nations that are round about mee. Setting thou shalt set over thee a King, who Jehovah thy God shall chuse: from among thy brethren shalt thou set over thee a King; thou maist not set over thee a man that is forreiner, which is not thy brother. But he shall not multiply horses to himselfe, nor cause the people to returne to Egypt, to the end to multiply horses; for Jehovah hath said unto you, ye shall not adde to returne this way any more. Neither shall he multiply wives to himselfe, that his heart turne not away; neither shall he greatly multiply to himselfe silver and gold. And it shall be when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdome, that he shall write for himselfe the Copie of this Law in a Book, out of that which is before the Priests, the Levites. And it shall be with him, & he shall read therein all the daies of his life, that he may learn to feare Jehovah his God, to keep all the words of this Law, and these Statutes, to doe them. That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren; brethren; and that hee turne not aside from the commandement, to the right hand or to the left, to the end that hee may prolong his dayes, in his kingdome, hee and his sonnes in the midst of Israel.

Annotations.

- 1 NO sacrifice] in Greeke, not offer, which is more generall: and so the Law also saith in Levit. 22.20. see the annotations there. Oxe or Lambe] these are the greatest and the least sacrifices, under which two, all other are comprehended. The Oxe is not to be understood of a gelded beast, (which wee usually call an Oxe) for so it became blemished, and unfit for sacrifice; but of a Bull, as the originall properly signifieth. And the Lambe (in Hebrew Seh) implyeth the Kid also, as Exod. 12. 3.5. blemish] in Hebrew Mum; of which the Chaldee Mama, & Greeke Momos, are derived. Whereupon Christ is called the Lambe amomos, (that is, without blemish) 1 Pet. 1.19. It meaneth any superfluity, want, or deformity in any part, as is more largely shewed on Levit. 22.23-24. And it is applyed to the worke of mens hands, Job 31.7. evill thing] Hebr. evill word; which the Chaldee explaineth, any evill whatsoever. For though there were no visible blemish, yet other corruption might disable it, as if it were sicke, Mal. 1.8. or the hire of an whore, or price of a dog, Deut. 23. 18. or any such like. See the notes on Levit. 22.25. an abomination] and so farre off from being accepted at mans hand, that God pronounceth a curse on those that sacrificed unto him such corrupt things, Mal. 1.13.14. Hereby God rejecteth all sacrifices save of his son Christ, (who is the Lambe without blemish, and without spot, 1 Pet. 1.19. who through the eternall Spirit, offered himselfe without spot unto God, Heb. 9.14.) and the sacrifices which by him, & faith in his name, are offered to God continually, Hebr. 13. 15. and 11. 4. 1 Pet. 2.5.6.

2 Ver. 2. If there bee found] or, when there shall be found. any of thy gates] or, one of thy gates, that is, thy cities, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it. in transgressing] or, to transgress his covenant. Transgression is a passing over, or passing by the way which men should walke in: wherefore that which one Evangelist expresseth thus, they transgress the tradition of the Elders, Matt. 15. 2. another expoundeth, they walke not according to the tradition, Marke 7. 5. The like phrase is of transgressing the commandements, & the Law, Deut. 29. 13. Deut. 9. 11.

- 3 Ver. 3. over gods] which the Chaldee calleth Idols of the peoples. neither] Hebr. and to the Sunne. Besides other fictions of their owne, the nations worshipped these creatures also: and the Israelites fell into the same sin, Ezek. 8. 16. 2 King. 17. 16. and 21. 3. any of the host] or, all the host, that is, the starres, sphæres, constellations, &c. as Eney 34. 4. Reu. 6. 13. Ier. 8. 2. and 33. 22. But under this name, the Angels also may be implied, Psal. 148. 2. for they are heavenly soldiers, Luke 2. 13. 15. and forbidden to be worshipped, Coloss. 2. 18. God onely is to be served, Matth. 4. 10. and the host of heaven worshippeth him, Neh. 9. 6.

not commanded] religious worship and service may not be performed at the pleasure or precept of men, Eney 29. 13. Matth. 15. 9. but as is commanded of God: and though all idolatries in the world are not expressly and by name forbidden, yet by the generall Law they are condemned, Exod. 20. 4. 5. and it is enough that God hath not commanded them: see Deut. 4. 2. and 12. 32.

4 Ver. 4. and hast inquired] or, then thou shalt inquire diligently: Hebr. inquire well; both to find out the sinne, if it be committed; and not to punish any man upon uncertaine reports.

5 Ver. 5. unto thy gates] in Greeke, unto the gates: but the Chaldee saith, to thy citie. Of this the Hebrewes write: they stone not an Idolater, but at the gate (of the citie) wherein hee served (the Idols:) and if it be a citie, where the most are heathens, they stone him at the dore of the Judgement Hall. That (in Deut. 17. 5.) VNTO THY GATES, is meant the gate wherein he served (the Idoll) and not that wherein sentence (of death) was decreed against him. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 15. sect. 2. stone them]

This judgement of the particular person was greater than that of a whole citie which were killed with the sword, Deut. 13. 15. save that their goods were consumed also; this mans goods (as the Hebrewes say) went to his heires. Of the manner of stoning, see the annotations on Levit. 24. 23.

6 Ver. 6. At the mouth] which the Chaldee translate, the word, meaning the testimonie of two or three. But from hence the Hebrewes gather, they must receive no testimonie but from the mouth of the witnesses; it may not be from a writing of their hand. Maim. in treat. of Witnesses, chap. 2. sect. 4. See the notes on Deut. 19. 15. be that is to die] or, be that dieth: the Chaldee expoundeth it, be that is guilty (or deserveth) to be killed. of one] See this explained in Deut. 19. 15.

7 Ver. 7. and thou shalt put away the evill] of this phrase see Deut. 17. 5. the Greeke translate, and put ye away (or take away) from among your selves that wicked (perion:) which very words Paul useth in 1 Cor. 5. 13. when he commandeth a wicked man to be cast out of the Church.

8 Ver. 8. a matter] Hebr. a word. too hard] or, marvellous, as being bidden from thy knowledge, that thou (O Iudge) canst not know or determine it. The Greeke translate, be impossible: the Chaldee, separated from thee. It is spoken of things that are bidden, and so too hard and impossible for one either to know, or to doe. See Gen. 18. 14. Ier. 33. 17. 27. Zach. 8. 6. Deut. 30. 11. blood and blood] Hebr. blood to blood: which phrase noteth a respect of one thing to another, when they are compared. By blood may be understood murder, of which the Iudges may be doubtfull and unable to find out whether it were wilfull, which deserved death; or unwilling, for which exile into the cities of refuge was appointed, Numbers 35. 16. 23. 24. &c. Blood and blood, is by some referred to those lawes mentioned in Levit. 15. 19. and Deut. 22. 17. plea or, judgement and judgement, cause and cause, as in 1. King. 3. 16. 17. - 28. stroke and stroke or, plague and plague: which the Chaldee translateth, plague of leprosie, and plague of leprosie: wherein there might be difficulties, that the Priests could not easily judge: see Levit. 13. and 14. chapters. But by plague or stroke, may also be meant strokes and wounds that one man gave unto another. matters or words of strifes, that is, of disagreement among the Iudges, that they could not accord in the sentence of judgement, because of some doubts and difficulties. So the Chaldee translateth it, words (or matters) of division of judgement. Iehosaphat explaineth it thus, betweene blood, and betweene Law and Commandement, Statutes and Iudgements, 2 Chro. 19. 10. so implying all difficulties about any part of the Law whatsoever. thy gates in the Greeke and Chaldee, thy cities. then thou Heb. and thou shalt arise, speaking to the Iudge or Iudges, which found the causes too hard for them in judgement: so it is written of the Iudges, the hard matter they brought unto Moses, and every small matter they judged themselves, Exod. 18. 26. shall chuse to put his name, and to dwell there; see Deut. 12. 5. This place afterward was Ierusalem, as it is said, Moreover, in Ierusalem, did Iehosaphat set of the Levites, and of the Priests, and of the chiefe of the fathers of Israel, for the judgement of the LORD, and for controversies, &c. 2 Chro. 19. 8. 9. 10. And there were set thrones of judgement, Psal. 123. 5.

9 Verſ. 9. and unto the judge by and is meant or, as is opened in verſ. 12. or unto the Iudge: by the Iudge is understood the high Councell or Senate of Iudges, which were of the chiefe (or heads) of the fathers of Israel, 2 Chro. 19. 8. as they who here are called Priests, are in verſ. 12. called the Priest: and in 1 Chro. 4. 42. many captaines are in the Hebrew called an Head. And as among the Priests one was chiefe, so among the Iudges one was Prince or Ruler, 2 Chro. 19. 11. The Hebrew records say, When any doubt arose in any case, to any one of Israel, hee asked of the Iudgement hall (or Synedrion) that was in his citie; if they knew, they told it him; if not, then he that enquired, together with the Synedrion, or with the messengers thereof, went up to Ierusalem, and enquired of the Synedrion that was in the mountaine of the Temple; if they knew, they told it him; if not, then they all came to the Synedrion that was at the doore of the Court yard (of the Temple:) if they knew, they told it them; and if not, they all came to the Chamber of heaven (stone) to the great Synedrion, and enquired, &c. Maim. tom. 4. treat. of Rebels, c. 1. sect. 4. Of the three Synedrions in Ierusalem, see the Annotations on Numb. 11. 16. that shall be in those dayes From hence the Hebrewes gather, that if the high Synedrion had judged and determined of a matter, as seemed right in their eyes, and after them another Synedrion rose up, which upon reasons seeming good unto them, disannulled the former sentence; then it was disannulled, & judgement passed according as seemed good unto these latter: Thou art not bound (say they) to walke save after the Synedrion (or Iudges) that are in thy generation (the time wherein thou livest,) Maim. in Rebels, c. 2. f. 1. the word of judgement that is, the matter or sentence of judgement: which was to be according to the Law of God, v. 11. as it is said of the Priests, And in controversie, they shall stand in judgement; and they shall judge according to my judgements, Ezek. 44. 24. Whereupon it was also said unto the Iudges, Ie shall warne them that they trespass not against the Lord, and so warne come upon you, and upon your brethren, 2 Chro. 19. 10.

Verſ. 10. according to the word or, according to the sentence of the word: Hebr. the mouth of the word: so in v. 11. all that they informe thee or, all that they teach thee, to wit, agreeable to Gods Law, as before is shewed, from Ezek. 44. 24. And in this sense, Christ said to the people of the Scribes and Pharisees, sitting in Moses seat; All whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and doe, Mat. 23. 2. 3. which he meaneth not of their owne traditions, but of their doctrine according to Moses; for when they taught, for doctrines the commandments of men, hee both reproveth them himselfe, and willed his Disciples to let them alone, as blind leaders of the blind, Matt. 15. 1. 2. - 14. and charged them to beware of the heaven of the Pharisees and Sadduces, that is, their doctrine, Mat. 16. 6. 12. Here therefore the Hebrew doctors have stumbled at the Law, whiles from this Scripture they would establish not only the written Law of God, but the Law by word of mouth, (or, by tradition) the foundation whereof they make the high Synedrion which was in Ierusalem: from whose judgement they held it not lawfull to decline. Maim. in Rebels, chap. 1.

Verſ. 11. According to the Law or, according to the mouth (that is, the sentence, doctrine or commandment) of the Law. not decline from the word or, not turne aside from. The commandment to doe, and the prohibition not to decline, joynd together in this Law, doe shew the weight thereof: the naming of the Law, Judgement, and Word, which the Priests and Iudges should teach, sheweth the rule of right judgement to bee given of God in his Law, Ios. 1. 7. Deut. 5. 32. 33. Ezek. 44. 24. from which when the Priests departed, the Lord made them contemptible and base before all the people, Mal. 2. 7. 8. 9.

Verſ. 12. the man that will doe presumptuously or, in presumption, proudly; as the Greeke translateth, in pride; the Chaldee, in wickednesse. It is opposed unto ignorance and error, Exod. 21. 13. 14. By the man here seemeth to bee meant either private person, or inferiour Iudge, that proudly disobeyed the sentence of the highest Councell; but the Hebrewes referre it chiefly to the Rebellious Elder, or Iudge: and whereas they brought their owne traditions (or law by word of mouth) within the compasse of the Law to be taught, (as is noted on v. 10.) they except the Sadduces which had been from their youth trained up in their fathers opinions, and never received the traditions of the Pharisees; that such were not to die by this Law, for not obeying the doctrine which the

the high Court taught by tradition: as also from this word, will doe. they teach that the rebellious Elder was not guilty of death, for holding in judgement contrary to the decree of the high Synedrion, or for teaching others so to hold, unlesse hee teach them to doe the thing, or doe it himselfe. Yet though hee were free from death, the Magistrates might beat him, or otherwise punish him. Maim. in Rebel. chap. 3. sect. 1. &c.

the Priest] that is, the Priests, as in v. 9. for, by their mouth every controversie, and every stroke was to be tried, Deut. 21. 5. standeth to minister] so in Eze. 44. 24. in controversie they shall stand in judgement: see the notes on Deut. 10. 8. there before Iehovah] or, there unto Iehovah, as in Deut. 21. 5. the Greek translateth, in the name of the Lord.

or unto the Judge] that is, the Judges, as is noted on ver. 9. And by this disjunctive or, the Judges are distinguished from the Priests forementioned. shall die] the manner of his death, the Hebrewes say, was strangling; and they that put him to death were the chiefe Judges. When witnesses come (and testifie) that he hath done according to his teaching, or, that he hath taught others to doe it, they determine his sentence of death, in the judgement hall that is in his Citie, and take him and carry him up from thence to Jerusalem. And they put him not to death in the Judgements hall, that is in his citie, &c. but carry him up to the high Synedrion in Jerusalem, and keepe him until the feast, and strangle him at the feast, as it is said, and all the people shall beare and feare, &c. Maimony in Rebels, chap. 3. sect. 8. See also the notes on Deut. 13. 11. the evil] the evil doer, as the Chaldee explaineth it, agreeable also to the Greeke: see Deut. 13. 5.

14 Vers. 14. and shalt say] that is, if thou shalt say, I will set over mee a King: Thus God, who had set Judges over his people, permitteth them also to have a king, if they saw it so meet, and would, and should doe this thing after an holy and orderly manner. But when they sought it amisse, it displeased the Lord, 1 Sam. 8. 5. 6. 7. and 12. 12. 17. 19. Then God gave them a King in his anger, and tooke him away in his wrath, Hosea, 13. 11.

15 Vers. 15. Setting thou shalt set] that is, thou shalt in any wise set: thus bindeth hee them to doe this thing, according to the rules here given, both for the good of their Common-wealth and Church, and for a figure of Christ, to whom the kingdome of Israel did belong, Esay 32. 1. Zach. 9. 9. Luke 1. 31. 32. 33. thy God shall chuse] either by the ministry of his Prophets, as by Samuel hee appointed Saul, 1 Sam. 10. 1. and David, 1 Sam. 16. 1. by Abijah, he chose Ieroboam, 1 King. 11. 29. 31. 35. or by other meanes, as by Vrim and Thumini, by Lot, or the like.

thy brethren] in this Christ was figured, as also in his other functions of Prophecie and Priesthood; for so it is written, Iehovah thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, Deut. 18. 15. And, in all things is beloved him to be made like unto his brethren, that hee might be a mercifull and faithfull high Priest, &c. Heb. 5. 17.

16 Vers. 16. not multiply horses] not get him many horses, lest hee should put confidence in worldly strength, whereof horses were the principall, as appeareth by Psal. 20. 8. Deut. 20. 1. Prov. 21. 31.

to Egypt] in which land were many horses, which they accounted the strength of their country, 2 Chron. 1. 16. and 9. 28. whereupon it is said, Woe to them that goe downe to Egypt for helpe, and stay on horses, &c. Esay 31. 1.

not add to returne] that is, not againe returne, either for the cause aforesaid, or for to dwell there, because of their great idolatries, and other sinnes, whereby Gods people might bee corrupted. So Jeremy from the Lord dissuaded the Iewes from going into Egypt, Ier. 42. 10. 14. 16. 17. &c. The Hebrewes say, It is lawfull to dwell in all in the world, save in the land of Egypt: but it is lawfull to returne to the land of Egypt for merchandise, &c. Maimony treat. of Kings, chap. 5. sect. 7. 8.

17 Vers. 17. multiply wives] take many wives; the Hebrewes, and some Christians understand this prohibition of exceeding many, as Solomon had seven hundred, 1 King. 11. 3. and not that moe wives than one are here forbidden. But howsoever God bare with the Kings, Patriarkes, and other men that had moe wives than one, and that this custome prevailed, yet from the beginning it was not so, when hee made but two to bee one flesh, Gen. 2. 24. Matt. 19. 5. Mal. 2. 14. 15. that his heart turne not away] or, neither shall his heart turne away, to wit, from the Lord, unto the pleasures of life, or unto other gods, by meanes of many wives: as of Solomon it is said, His wives turned away his heart after other gods, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, 1 King. 11. 4. Although his mother taught him better, saying, Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy wayes to that which destroyeth Kings, Prov. 31. 1. 3. greatly multiply] or, vehemently (exceedingly) multiply silver and gold: which is another meane whereby the heart may bee withdrawne from God; for when men bee rich and full, they are in danger to deny and say, Who is the Lord? Prov. 30. 8. 9. and they cannot serve God and Mammon, Matth. 6. 24. the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word of God, Mat. 13. 22. and they that will be rich fall into temptation, and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtfull lusts, which drowne men in destruction and perdition, 1 Timothy 6. 9.

18 Vers. 18. when hee sitteth upon the throne] that is, when hee is King: see the notes on Exodus 17. 5.

the copie of this Law] the Greeke translateth it, this Deuteronomie. The Hebrewes have recorded thus; When the King sitteth upon the throne of his kingdome, he is to write him the booke of the Law for himselfe, over and beside the booke which is left him of his fathers, &c. If his fathers have left him none, or, if that be lost, hee is to write him two bookes of the Law, the one he is to reserve in his house, for so hee is commanded, at every one of Israel; the other is not to depart from before him. If he goe out to war, it (goeth) with him; if he sit in judgement, it is to be with him, &c. Maimony treatise of Kings, chap. 3. sect. 1.

before the Priests] the originall booke of the Law was kept in the Sanctuary, as appeareth by Deut.

Deut. 31. 26. 2 King. 22. 8. out of that was the Kings copie to bee written, that it might be perfect.

19 Verſ. 19. it ſhall be with him] in all places whether he went, hee carried this copie of the Law with him, as before is noted: So God ſaid unto Iofua. This booke of the Law ſhall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou ſhalt meditate therein day and night, &c. Iof. 1. 8. This David did, as appeareth by Pſal. 119. 16. 24. 97. 98. 99. &c. keepe to ſeare] under this name ſeare, not only the inward reverence, but the outward worſhip and ſervice of God is alſo implied, even all true Religion: as that which is written, their ſeare towards me is taught by the precept of men, Eſay 29. 13. is expounded by our Saviour, In vaine they worſhip me, teaching doctrines the precepts of men, Matt. 15. 9.

20 Verſ. 20. not liſied up above his brethren] becauſe the honour of the King was great, and all were to obey him in the Lord, Iof. 1. 16. 17. 18. Eccleſ. 8. 2. 3. 4. Rom. 13. 1. therefore hee is warned to ſhun pride, and loſtineſſe of heart; whereupon David ſaid, Lord my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty, &c. Pſal. 131. 1. 2. The contrary was found in Nebuchadnezzar, to whom the moſt high God gave a kingdome, and majeſtie, and glory, and honour: but when his heart was liſied up, and his mind hardened in pride, hee was depoſed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him, Dan. 5. 18. 20. The Hebrewes ſay, As the Scripture giveth great honour to the King, and every one is bound to honour him; ſo it commandeth him, that his heart bee humble within him, and wounded, as it is ſaid (in Pſal. 109. 22.) My heart is wounded within mee. And hee may not carry himſelfe with pride of heart in Iſrael, more than is meet, Deut. 17. 20. but muſt be gracious and pittifull, both to little and great; and goe out and come in for their pleaſure and for their good, and have regard of the honour of the ſmalleſt. And when hee ſpeaketh unto all the congregation in generall words, hee ſhould ſpeake gently, as it is ſaid (by David, in 1 Chron. 28. 2.) Hear me my brethren, and my people. It is alſo ſaid (in 1 King. 12. 7.) If thou wilt be a ſervant unto this people this day, &c. And hee muſt alwayes uſe exceeding meekeneſſe: wee have had none greater than our maſter Moſes, yet he ſaid, And what are wee? your murmurings are not againſt us (Exod. 16. 8.) And he bare their combrance, and their burden, and their murmurings, and their indignation, as a nurſing father beareth the ſucking child (Num. 11. 12.) The Scripture calleth him a Shepherd to feed Iacob his ſervant: and the manner of a ſhepherd is expreſſed (in Eſay 40. 11.) Hee ſhall feed his flocke like a ſhepherd, hee ſhall gather the lambes with his arme, and carry them in his boſome, &c. Maimony treatiſe of Kings, chap. 2. ſect. 6.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The Priests and Levites have no inheritance; but the Lord. 3 The Priests due from the people. 6 The Levites portions. 9 The abominations (the unlawfull arts) of the nations are to be avoyded. 15 A Prophet is promiſed, whom Iſrael muſt heare. 20 The preſumptuous Prophet is to die.

THe Priests, the Levites, all the tribe of Levi ſhall have no part nor inheritance with Iſrael: the fire-offerings of Jehovah, and his inheritance, ſhall they eat. And hee ſhall have no inheritance among his brethren: Jehovah, hee is his inheritance, as he hath ſpoken unto him. And this, ſhall be the Priests due from the people, from them that ſlay a ſlaughter (of any beaſts) whether Oxe or Sheepe, that he ſhall give unto the Priest the ſhoulder, and the two cheeks and the maw. The firſt-fruits of thy corne, of thy new wine, and of thy new oyle, and the firſt of the fleece of thy ſheep ſhalt thou give unto him. For Jehovah thy God hath choſen him out of all thy tribes, to ſtand to miniſter in the name of Jehovah, him and his ſonnes all dayes.

And if a Levite ſhall come from any one of thy gates, out of all Iſrael, where hee ſo-journed; and ſhall come with al the deſire of his ſoule, unto the place which Jehovah ſhall chuſe; Then hee ſhall miniſter in the name of Jehovah his God, as all his brethren the Levites that ſtand there before Jehovah: They ſhall eat portion like portion, beſide his ſales, by his fathers.

When thou art come into the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, thou ſhalt not learne to doe after the abominations of thoſe nations. There ſhall not be found in thee any that maketh his ſonne or his daughter to paſſe thorow the fire; a diviner of divinations, an obſerver of times, or an obſerver of fortunes, or a witch. Or one that charmeth a charme, or that asketh of a familiar ſpirit, or a wizard, or that ſeeketh unto the dead. For every one that doth theſe things, is an abomination unto Jehovah: and becauſe of theſe abominations, Jehovah thy God doth drive them out from before thee.

Thou ſhalt be perfect with Jehovah thy God. For theſe nations which thou ſhalt poſſeſſe, hearkned unto obſervers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, Jehovah thy God hath not ſuffered thee ſo. Jehovah thy God will raiſe up unto thee a Prophet, from the middeſt of thee, of thy brethren, like unto mee: unto him yee ſhall hearken.

According to all that thou aſkedſt of Jehovah thy God in Horeb, in the day of the aſſembly, ſaying, Let me not heare again the voice voice of Jehovah my God; and this great fire let me not see any more, that I die not.

- 17 And Jehovah said unto me, They have 18 well spoken that which they have spoken. A Prophet will I raise up unto them, from among their brethren, like unto thee: and I will give my words in his mouth, and hee shall speake unto them all that I shall com-19 mand him. And it shall bee, that the man which will not hearken unto my words,
which he shall speake in my name, I will re-20 quire it of him. But the Prophet which shall presume to speake a word in my name,
which I have not commanded him to speake,
and hee that shall speake in the name other 21 gods, that Prophet shall even die. And if thou shalt say in thine heart, How shall wee know the word which Jehovah hath not 22 spoken? That which a Prophet shall speake in the Name of Jehovah, and the thing bee
not, neither come (to passe) that is the word which Jehovah hath not spoken, the Prophet hath it in presumption, thou shalt not be afraid of him.

Annotations.

- I NO part] or, no portion, namely in the spoiles taken from the enemies: which would have been a great portion, as appeareth by Ios. 22.
8. So the Hebrewes expound it, No part in the spoyle, nor inheritance in the land. Maimony tom. 3. treat. of the Release and Jubilee, ch. 13. sect. 10. See the notes on Num. 18. 20. nor inheritance] in the land of Canaan, which was divided among the other tribes, Numb. 26. 2. — 53. 57. But because the Levites were adjoynd to the Priests for the service of the Lord and his Church, Num. 18. 1, 2.
&c. therefore God would not have them cumbred with the affaires of this life, lest by them they should be hindred from doing their dutie, as it is written, No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with the affaires of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a souldier, 2 Timoth. 3. 4. See also Deut. 10. 8, 9. So the Hebrewes say, Where- fore was not Levi counted meet to have inheritance in the land of Israel, or spoiles with his brethren? Because he was separated to serve the Lord, and to in-berit him, and to teach his strait wayes, and his just judgements unto many, Deut. 33. 10. Therefore was he separated from the wayes of the world: they wage not warre as doe the rest of Israel, neither doe they inberite, nor earne for themselves with strength of their bodies; but they are the Lords power (or substance)
as it is written (in Deut. 33. 11.) BLESSE
LORD HIS POWER: and the blessed (God)
himselfe earneeth for them; as it is written (in Numb.
18. 20.) I am thy part and thine inheritance. Maimony treat. of the Release and Jubilee, c. 13. s. 12. fireofferings] which were to be offered on the Altar by fire, as the Meat-offering, Sinne-offering, and Tref- passe-offering of every man, Numb. 18. 9. and his inheritance] that is, all other things which being the Lords right by his Law, he hath given to the Priests and Levites. Of these, see the notes on Numb. 18. where foure and twenty gifts were bestowed on the Priests, all expressed in the Law.

The Greek reserveth it to the former, saying, the burnt offerings of the Lord shall be their inheritance.

Verf. 2. and he] that is, Levi, put for all the Levites and Priests of that tribe: so in Mal. 2.
4, 5. spoken unto him] in Num. 18. 20. and other places. Herein God promisseth to those that feare him, his ministers, 1 Cor. 19. 13, 14. and all his people, to be their inheritance, that is, to releve
them, and supply all their wants out of the riches of his grace, 2 Cor. 9. 8. So the Hebrewes here say; Not the tribe of Levi only, but every particular man of all that comes into the world, whose spirit maketh
him willing, and giveth him understanding with knowledge to separate himselfe, to stand before the Lord, to minister unto him, and to serve him, to know the Lord,
and walke aright, as God did make him; and that hee
breake from off his necke the yoke of many inventions which the finnes of Adam have singht out; (Eccles. 7. 29.) behold this man sanctifieth himselfe holy of holies, and the Lord will be his part and his inberitance for ever, and for ever and ever; and will vouchsafte unto him in this world the things that shall be sufficient for him, even as hee did vouchsafte unto the Priests
the Levites. Behold David saith (in Psalme 16. 5.)
The L O R D is the portion of my part and of my cup, thou sustaineest my Lot. Maimony in the Release and Jubilee, ch. 13. s. 13.

Verf. 3. the Priest due] Hebr. the judgement (or right) of the Priests: which the Chaldee expound-eth due unto the Priests; and so the word judgement is elsewhere used for due; Psalme 81. 5. slay a slaughterer] that is, kill any beast for common food.
The originall word generally signifieth no more than to kill a beast (as is noted on Gen. 31. 54.) and in speciall, to kill for sacrifice unto God. But the large meaning is here to be chosen; for it agreeth
not with the former lawes in Leviticus touching sacrifices, that the Priests should have the cheeks, &c. and the generall exposition of the Hebrewes is, that this is meant of common meats. one or sheep] implying goats also; for that is usually com-prehended under the name sheepe or lambe. that bee] or, and he, that is, every one of the people shall give. give unto the Priest.] Hereupon these are called Gifts. Of them the Hebrewes write;
It is commanded to give of every cleane Beast that is killed, unto the Priest, the shoulder, and the two cheeke, and the maw, (Deuteronomie 18. 3.) and these in every place are called Gifts. And this Commandment is in use continually, whether when there is a Temple, or not; and in every place, whether within the land (of Israel) or without it: and it is to be of common (things) not of things sanctified. If it bee doubtfull whether (the beast) bee a firstling, these gifts must bee given out of it: if it bee a firstling, it is all the Priests (Numbers 18. 15.) and if it bee not a firstling, these gifts are (out

(out of it) for the Priest. Gifts are due of none but cleane beasts onely, as it is said, WHETHER OXE OR SHEEPE, &c. whether it bee killed for mans meat, or for to feed infidels, or dogs, or for medicine, these gifts are due of it. If a Profelyte have a beast killed, if it were before he was joynd, he is free; if after bee were joynd, he is bound (to give these gifts.) In a place where no Priests be, they may prize the gifts and eat them, and give the price to any Priest that they will. If bee will give these gifts to one Priest, bee may; or if bee will divide them, he may not give halfe the maw to one, or halfe the shoulder, but the shoulder to one, and the maw to another, and the cheekes to them both, [that is, to each of them one.] If a Priest will sell his gifts, bee may, or give them to an Infidell, &c. for there is no holinesse in them at all. The Priest may not violently take the gifts, nor aske them with his mouth, but he receives them when they are given him, with honour, &c. Maimony in Bicurim (or first-fruits) chap. 9. sect. 1. &c. the shoulder (saith Maimony, ibidem sect. 18.) and they may not plucke off the wooll, or slay them, but give them with their skynne, and with their wooll.

4 Verſ. 4. The first fruits] of these, see the Annotations on Exod. 22. 29. and Numb. 18. 12. These were called by the Hebrewes, the great beave-offering; and it was to be given (they say) to the Priest, whether it were cleane or uncleane: though the corne or oyle were all uncleane before it was separated, the owner was bound to separate out of it an beave-offering, and give it to the Priest. If it were cleane, the Priest did eat it; if uncleane, they used it for burning, &c. And whosoever separated the great Heave-offering, or the beave-offering of the tithe, bee blessed (God) before bee separated it, after the manner as bee used to blesse for doing all the commandements. Maimony in Trumoth chap. 2. sect. 14. 16. Other things hereabout are noted on Numb. 18. and Levit. 22. of the fleece] Of this there is no measure set by the Law; but by the Hebrew Doctors, they might not give lesse than one of sixty (the sixtieth part, as of other first-fruits is noted on Exod. 22. 29.) And this is not due but in the land (of Israel) of the first-fruits of the corne, and of common (beasts) not of holy. And of sheepe onely, male and female: for their wooll is meet for clothing. He that separateth the first of his fleece, and it be lost, is indebted for afterword, untill he give it unto the Priest. He that saith, all my fleece be first-fruits, his word must be confirmed. Who so hath many fleeces of first-fruits, and would divide them among the Priests, he may not give lesse to every one, than the weight of five shekels of white wooll, enough for a little coat. Maimony in Bicurim, chap. 10.

5 Verſ. 5. to stand to minister in the name, &c.] the Greeke interpreteth it, to stand before the Lord thy God, to minister and to blesse in the name of the Lord. This sheweth a reason of the former duty; because God had called the Priests from worldly affaires to serve him, and to minister, and sow unto his people spirituall things, therefore they should reape the peoples carnall things, as 1 Cor. 9. 11. 13. By standing is noted their manner of service, as is oblied on Deut. 10. 8. and their continuance in the same, as Psal. 119. 91.

6 Verſ. 6. a Levite] This is spoken generally, and so implieth either Priest or ordinary Levite, who served by their courses, but might at other times come up and serve voluntarily, & have their portion with their brethren. of thy gates] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate, of thy cities. For the Levites dwelt disperſed in the tribes of Israel, Ios. 21. be sojournd] his dwelling in the cities is called a sojourning as a stranger, for that the Priests had no inheritance with Israel, verſ. 1. but the Israelites gave them (of their inheritance) cities to dwell in, and the suburbs for their cattell, Numbers 35. 2. 3. shall chuse] to have his Tabernacle, or Temple and publike worship there: see Deuteronomy 16. 2. and 12. 5.

7 Verſ. 7. shall minister.] Although the Priests and Levites ministred in their courses, whereinto they were distributed, and unto which they were bound, 1 Chron. 24. and 25. yet if any would at other times voluntarily serve, God here alloweth it, and their portion for their labour. But the Hebrewes explaine this with some limitations, saying; Moses our master divided the Priests into eight wards (or charges) foure of Eleazar, and foure of Ithamar. And so they were till Samuel the Prophet: and in Samuels dayes, he and King David divided them into foure and twenty wards, and over every ward one head Provost. And they went up to Ierusalem, for the service of the ward, every weeke, &c. And it is commanded that at the solenne feasts, all the wardes be equally, and whosoever of the Priests cometh up at the feast and will serve, bee may serve and have a portion with them; and they may not say to him, goe thy way till thy ward cometh, as it is written (in Deut. 18. 6.) AND IF A LEVITE SHAL COME FROM ONE OF THY GATES. Which words are meant of the offerings at the feasts, &c. But wives, and voluntary offerings, and the daily sacrifices, none offer them but the ward, whose time is appointed: yea, though it be at the feast, as it is said (in Deut. 18. 8.) THEY SHAL EAT PORTION LIKE PORTION, BESIDES HIS SALES BY THE FATHERS. As if bee should say, they shall eat portion like portion, of the offerings of the Congregation, but have no like portion in other things, which the fathers have already apportioned them, and appointed every ward by the weeke, &c. And they account, that he speaketh not but of the Priests: for there are no gifts in the Sanctuary to eat of, but for the Priests onely. And so a Priest which hath an offering, may come into the Sanctuary, and offer it any day when bee will, as it is said (Deut. 18. 6.) AND SHALL COME WITH AL THE DESIRE OF HIS SOVLE) and minister; yea, though it be a sinne-offering, or a trespass-offering, bee offereth it, and maketh atonement by his owne hands, and hath the skynne of his offering, and eateth (the flesh.) And if bee will give his offering to any Priest whom bee will, for to offer it, bee may give it; and then the skin of the oblation, and the service thereof, is the Priests onely, to whom bee giveth it. Maimony treat. of the Instruments of the Sanct. chap. 4. sect. 3. — 6. that stand] that is, as

as the Chaldee expoundeth, that minister.

8 Ver. 8. portion like portion that is, equall portions, one as much as another. The Greeke translateth, he shall eat the portion that is appointed (or divided.) beside his sales that is, beside the price of the things sold. By this Law, if a Levite sold a house, hee might redeeme it at any time, Levit. 25. 32. which he could not doe, if he spent his money upon his owne maintenance, and had no portion in the Sanctuarie.

by his fathers or, according to the fathers. This some referre to the sales forementioned, which might be of the houses that hee had from his fathers, his patrimonia. Others referre it to the order of his service and portion, which should be according to the courses and wards aforesaid, without confusion or disturbance of them: for according to the fathers and chiefe men in the families, were the courses appointed, Numb. 3. 2. 17. 31. and 1 Chron. 24. 4. The Greeke translateth, beside the sale, which is according to the family. But the Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Beside the ward (or observation) which shall come on the Sabbath, as the fathers have appointed; that is, beside that portion which is due unto him for his service by course in his weeke, as the fathers appointed.

10 Ver. 10. There shall no or, Let there not bee found. to passe thorow the fire so to burne them, or at least to consecrate them by this signe upon Idols, and in speciall unto Molech, to which abomination this service was performed among the heathens, Levit. 18. 21. See the Annotations there. The Greeke translateth, any that purgeth his sonne or his daughter in fire. Of Achaz king of Iudah it is said, that he made his sonne to passe thorow the fire, 2 King. 16. 3. which Ezra explaineth thus, he burnt his sonnes in the fire, 2 Chron. 28. 3. a diviner in Hebrew, Kosem, a fore-seer, or presager, a fore-teller of things to come, as doth a Prophet: as it is said, the Prophets divine for money, Micha. 3. 11. and Balaam, a Prophet, 2 Pet. 2. 16. is called a Diviner, Ios. 13. 22. and though it be sometime spoken in the good part, as in Esa. 3. 2. The Prophet and the Diviner (or Sage) and the Ancient; and in Prov. 16. 10. Divination is in the lips of the King: yet commonly it is meant of evill and heathenish Prophets, or of the false Prophets in Israel, Esa. 44. 25. Ezek. 13. 6. 7. 9. With such they used to consult in weighty cases, as the Philistines called for the Priests and the Diviners, 1 Sam. 6. 2. and the King of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, to use divination, &c. Ezek. 21. 21. 22. It was done by unlawfull meanes, as Saul said to the Witch, Divine unto me by the familiar spirits, 1 Sam. 28. 8. and it was a thing hateful unto God; as hee saith, Rebellion is as the sinne of divination, 1 Sam. 15. 23. This art (as Cicero sheweth in first booke of divination) is called in Greeke, Mantikee, of Furia (as Plato expounds it;) in Latine, divinatio à divus, of the gods, as Tullie there saith: and hee maketh it a fore-knowledge and peceiving of things to come: a skill much magnified in all nations. The Hebrewes also take a Diviner to be one that doth things whereby hee may foretell things to come, and say, such a thing shall be, or shall not be; or say, it is good to doe such a thing, &c. The manner and meanes of divining they note to be divers; some doing it with sand, some with stones; some by lying downe on the ground, some with iron, some with a staffe which he carrieth in his hand, and leaneth on, &c. whereunto they apply that of the Prophet, My people aske counsell at their sticks, and their staffe declareth unto them, Hol. 4. 12. It is unlawfull to divine, or to aske (counsell) of a Diviner: He that asketh of a Diviner is chastised with stripes, but the diviner himselfe, if hee doe any of the foresaid acts (of divination) or the like, is beaten. Maimony treatise of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 617.

observer of times or, Scotshaiers, an observer of the clouds, and of the planets: a Planetary, or, an observer of the flying of fowles: an Augur. The diviners forespoken of were carried much by inward and spirituall motions; these by outward observations in the creatures. They were of esteeme among the Philistines, & other heathens, Esa. 2. 6. and the sinne crept into Israel, 2 King. 21. 6. though God forbade it here, and in Lev. 19. 26. The Hebrewes say, they were such as did set times for the doing of things, saying, Such a day is good, and such a day is naught: such a day is fit for to doe such a worke; such a yeare or moneth is evill for such a thing. It is unlawfull to observe times, though one doe no worke, but make is knowne; they are hee which soles imagine to be true; and to be words of wise men, &c. Maimony in treatise of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 8.

an observer of fortunes one that curiously searcheth, observeth, and telleth signes of good or evill luck, which are learned by experience; The Hebrew Nachash is to search and find out by experience, Gen 30. 27. and 44. 5. whereupon Menachesh (the word here used) is one that too curiously observeth and abuseth things that doe fall out, as luckie, or unluckie signes; as did the Augures and Scotshaiers among the heathens. The Hebrewes describe it thus, as if one should say, Because the morsell of bread is fallen out of my mouth, or my staffe out of mine hand, I will not goe to such a place this day; for if I goe, I shall not speed of my busines. Because a Flea passed by on my right hand, I will not goe out of my house this day; for if I goe, some deceitfull man will meet with me. And so if men heare the chattering of a bird, and say, it shall be so, or not so; it is good to doe such a thing, or naught to doe such a thing, &c. And so hee that maketh signes for himselfe, if it fall out so or so, I will doe such a thing; if it fall not out, I will not doe it; and all things of like sort; these all are unlawfull: and whosoever doth any act, because of any of these things, is to be beaten. Maimony treatise of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 4. This sinne was common among the heathens, practised of the wisest, Num. 24. 1. 1 King. 20. 33. and it spread into Israel, 2 King. 17. 17. 2 Chron. 33. 6. and is at this day too common among Christians, though Gods Law plainly forbiddeth it here, and in Levit. 19. 26.

a witch or, a forcerer, a magician; in Hebrew, Mecassheph, in Greeke, Pharmakea: of this kind were Iannes and Iambres, the forcerers of Egypt: see the notes on Exod. 7. 11. Such were esteemed among the wife, and called to tell and interpret dreames, Dan. 2. 2. By Gods Law a witch might not be suffered to live, Exod. 22. 18. yet did this evill prevaile in Israel, 2 Chron. 33. 6. Jer. 27. 9. Mal. 3. 5. The Hebrewes seeme to hold two sorts of these witches or sorcerers, some that did hurt, others that did hold the eyes, that is, by juggling and sleights beguiled mens senses. Mecassheph (the witch) is to be stoned to death, if hee doe the act of witchcraft: but hee that holdeth the eyes, and seemeth to doe that which hee doth not, is to be beaten. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 15.

II Ver. 11. charmeth a charme [or enchanteth an enchantment, or conjureth conjuration. The Hebrew Chober signifieth conjoyning, or consociating, the Chaldee name Ratim, is of murmuring or mumbling: the Greeke Epaidon, of charming or enchanting. This Charmer is said to be he that speaketh words of a strange language, and without sense: and he in his foolishnesse thinketh that these words are profitable. That if one say so or so unto a Serpent, or a Scorpion, it cannot hurt a man: and hee that saith so and so to a man, hee cannot be hurt, &c. Hee that whispereth over a wound, or readeth a verse out of the Bible: likewise hee that readeth over an Infant, that it may not be frightened; or that layeth the booke of the Law (the Bible) or the Phylacteries upon a child that it may sleepe; such are not onely among enchanters or charmers, but of those that generally deny the Law (of God) because they make the words of the Scripture medicine for the body, whereas they are not but medicine for the soule, as it is written (in Prov. 3. 22.) They shall be life unto thy soule. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 10. 12.

of a familiar spirit] called in Hebrew Ob, which signifieth a bottle, Iob 32. 19. applied here and often to Magicians, who possessed with an evill spirit, speake with hollow voice as out of a bottell, and (as some say) with swollen bellies: whereupon the Greeke version usually calleth them Eggastrimuthoi, as speaking out of the belly. But the holy Ghost in Act. 16. 16. expoundeth it more fully, the spirit of Pythion (or of divination:) meaning of the Devill, whose answers were given to the heathens by these meanes; the chiefe whereof was called Pythius Apollo, and his Temple Pythion, and his feast Pythia, kept to his honour, who was feigned to kill the serpent Python. The manner of this Oracle the Prophet sheweth to be with an hollow low voice; as, Thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, E-say 29. 4. The Hebrewes explaine it thus, that he which had a familiar spirit, stood and burned incense, and held a rod of mirtle tree in his hand, and waved it. And hee spake certaine words in secret, untill hee that inquired did heare one speake unto him, and answer him touching that which hee inquired, with words from under the earth, with a very low voice, &c. Likewise one tooke a dead mans skull, and burnt incense thereto, and enchanted thereby, till hee heard a very low voice, &c. Hee that did any of these acts, was to be stoned to death. Maim. in treat. of Idolatry, ch. 6. sect. 1. This was Sauls sinne, that he sought to a woman which had a familiar spirit, the voice whereof he heard, 1 Sam. 28. 7.~15. for which transgression the Lord killed him, 1 Chron. 10. 13. and hath threatned to cut off all from among his people, that doe inquire of such Levit. 20. 6. wizard [or enchanting man; in Hebrew, Iidgani, so named of his knowledge, or enchanting: and so the Greeke version in other places calleth him Gnosfer, of knowledge, a Prognosticator: but here the Greeke is Terastrophos, hee that observeth wonders. The Chaldee giveth him a name of remembrance, Zecuru. He is usually joyned with the former, that hath a familiar spirit, as in Levit. 19. 31. and 20. 6. 2 Chron. 33. 6. 1 Sam. 28. 3. and by the Law they were both of them to die, Levit. 20. 27. Such were among the Egyptians, and other heathens, E-say 19. 3. it is likely therefore that their practise was alike abominable. The Hebrewes describe him thus, that hee put in his mouth a bone of a bird called Iachungb, and burned incense, and did other workes, untill hee fell downe as with shame (or modestly) and spake with his mouth, things that were to come to passe. Maimony treat. of Idolatry, chap. 6. sect. 2.

that seeketh unto the dead [or, as the Chaldee and Greeke expound it, that inquireth of the dead: such we call of the Greeke name, a Necromancer. Of him they say, that he made himselfe hungry, and went and lodged among the graves, that the dead might come unto him in a dream, and make knowne unto him that which hee asked of him. And others there were that clad themselves with clothes for that purpose, and spake certaine words, and burned incense for the purpose, and slept by themselves, that such a dead person might come and talke with them in a dream. Maim. in treat. of Idolatry, chap. 11. sect. 13.

Ver. 13. perfect with Iehovah] that is, in faith and love seeke unto him onely; and as hee doth, so abhorre thou all such wicked persons. Perfection (or Sinceritie, Integritie) respecteth our upright conversation in body and mind, as is noted on Gen. 6. 9. and to be perfect with the Lord is expounded in Greeke, before the Lord; and the Chaldee saith, in the feare of the Lord: but our Saviour more fully openeth it; Be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect, Matt. 5. 48.

Ver. 14. not suffered thee] Hebr. not given thee: but hath taught thee better by his Law (which the other nations want, Psalm. 147. 19. 20.) and will more fully informe thee by the Prophet, whom he will raise up unto thee, v. 15. So in act. 14. 16. God in times past suffered all nations to walke in their owne ways.

Ver. 17. a Prophet] so named of the Greeke Prophets, which signifieth a foreteller; in Hebrew Nabi, of uttering and interpreting the oracles of God; as Aaron was Moses Prophet, that is, Interpreter, Exod. 7. 1. and of seeing visions of God, such a man was called a Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Unto all the former Diviners, Wizzards, Charmers, &c. raised up to the heathens of the devil. Moses here opposeth one Prophet to be raised up unto Israel of God; and this was Christ raised up unto the Iewes, as Peter applieth it, saying; Moses said unto the Fathers, A Prophet will the Lord your God raise up unto you, &c. ye are the children of the Prophets; and

of thy brethren] Christ was to be a man, and of the stock of the Jewes by promise, because the people could not indure to heare the voice of God, verse 16. and as is in respect of his Prophesie, so of the Priesthood; For every high Priest is taken from among men, Heb. 5. 1. and of his kingdom, as in Deuteronomie 17. 15. from among thy brethren shalt thou set a King over thee. like unto me] it is said, There arose not a Prophet in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face; in all the signes and wonders which the Lord sent him to doe, &c. Deuteronomie 34. 10, 11, 12. This therefore cannot be understood of the ordinarie Prophets, which were raised up in Israel, but of Christ onely, as the Apostles doe expound it, Acts 3. 22, 26. And Christ was like unto Moses, in respect of his office of mediation between God and his people, Deut. 5. 5. 1 Tim. 2. 5. but greater than Moses, as being the Mediator of a better Covenant (or Testament) which was established upon better promises, Heb. 8. 6. Like him in excellencie; for as Moses excelled all the Prophets, in speaking with God mouth to mouth, Numb. 12. 6, 7, 8. so Christ excelled him and all men, in that being in the bosome of the Father, he hath come downe from heaven, and declared God unto us, John 1. 18. and 3. 13. Like him in faithfulness, but therein also excelling: for Moses was faithfull in Gods house as a servant, but Christ as the Son over his owne house, Heb. 3. 2, 5, 6. And like him in signes and wonders, wherein he also excelled Moses, as the historie of the Gospel sheweth: for, he was a Prophet mightie in deed and word, before God and all the people, Luke 24. 19. a man approved of God among them, by miracles, wonders, and signes, which God did by him, in the midst of them, Act. 2. 22. for he did among them the workes which none other man did, John 15. 24. unto him] that is, not unto the Diviners, Wizzards, or any such like, but unto him, and him onely; as, him thou shalt serve, Deuteron. 6. 13. is expounded, him onely, Mat. 4. 10. And though this is principally meant of Christs person, of whom God said, beare him, Mat. 17. 5. yet it implieth also his Ministers, as himselfe said, Hee that beareth you beareth mee, Luke 10. 16.

16 Verse 16. Horeb] a mountaine called also Sinai, Exod. 19. where the Law was given, Deut. 5. 2. of the assembly] or, of the Church, when all Israel were assembled to heare the Law, Exod. 19. 9, 10, &c. not beare againe] Hebrew, not adde to beare: see Exo. 20. 19. where the people requested Moses to speake with them, and not God. of Iebowab] the Chaldee translateth it, of the word of the LORD. that I die not] or, and let me not die; as the Greek translateth, neither let us die.

17 Verse 17. have well spoken] or, have done well in speaking. The Greeke saith, Rightly (or Well) all that they have spoken. Although their speech proceeded from the Spirit of bondage and feare, manifested in them by the worke of the Law in their consciences, Rom. 8. 15. & they desired not

Christ, but Moses to speake unto them; yet as the Law was a Schoolmaster to leade them unto Christ, Galathians 3. 24. so God tooke occasion hereby to preach and promise Christ unto them; who is here not only in stead of all Diviners and Sooth-sayers, but in stead of Moses himselfe, who was the Minister of the law, which worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15. and was the ministration of death, 2 Cor. 3. 7. But Christ hath redeemed us from the curse thereof, Gal. 3. 13. and is here promised as a Prophet sent to blesse us, Act. 3. 26. for the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ, Joh. 1. 17.

Verse 18. A Prophet] meaning Christ himselfe, 18 the interpreter and declarer of the word of God, as verse 15. of whom the multitude said, This is Iesus the Prophet, Matth. 21. 11. raise up] this also the people confirmed, saying, A great Prophet is risen up amongst us, Luke 7. 16. will give] that is, will put and stablish, as the word given, 1 Chron. 17. 22. is the same that established, 2 Sam. 7. 24. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I will give my words of prophesie. Accordingly Christ said to his Father, I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me, Joh. 17. 8. his mouth] to signifie this, Christ appeared with a sharpe two-edged sword, proceeding out of his mouth, Revel. 1. 16. which figured the sword of the Spirit, the word of God, Ephes. 6. 17. for God had made his mouth like a sharpe sword, Esay 49. 2. therewith he smote his enemies: and for the comforts wherewith he refresheth his people, his lips are likened to lilies dropping sweet-smelling myrrh, Song. 5. 13. all that I shall command] This Christ did in his owne person, as he said, I speake not of my selfe, but the Father which sent me, hee gave me a commandment what I should say, and what I should speake; and I know that his commandment is life everlasting: what soever I speake therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speake, Ioh. 12. 49, 50. and, All things that I have heard of my Father, I have made knowne unto you, Ioh. 15. 15. He did and doth it also by his Ministers; for as he gave his Apostles the words which the Father had given him, Ioh. 17. 8. so the things which they spake and wrote, were the commandments of the Lord, 1 Cor. 14. 37. and hee requireth of all, that If any man speake, it should be as the oracles of God, 1 Pet. 4. 11.

Verf. 19. my words] God here acknowledgeth the words to be his owne, which Christ should speake, as himselfe also said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me, Ioh. 7. 16. And whereas Prophets used to shew signes and wonders, Deu. 13. 1. 2. though Christ did many such, Act. 2. 22. yet are they not here mentioned, because the word & gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation, Ro. 1. 16. and his commandment is life everlasting, Ioh. 12. 50. and Christs name is called the word of God, Revel. 19. 13. Ioh. 1. 1. and the word (rather than wonders) was that which the ancient Jewes expected by Christ, as their later writers do witnesse, saying, Let it not come up into thy mind, that the king Christ needeth to doe signes & wonders; the thing is not so: for behold Rabbi Akibah was a great wise man of the wise men of the Talmud, & he was armor-bearer to Ben Coziba the king, who was thought to be the king Christ. And both he and all the wise men of his age supposed that he had bene Christ the King, untill he was killed for his iniquities: when he was killed, they knew he was not so. And the wise men asked not of him any signe or wonder. Maim. in treat. of Kings, ch. 11. sect. 3. Howbeit, when the true Christ was indeed come, that wicked and adulterous generation sought after a signe, Matth. 16. 14. and 12. 38, 39. and except they saw signes and wonders, they would not beleve, Joh. 4. 48. and though he did many miracles before them, yet they beleved not in him, Joh. 12. 37. He came in his Fathers name, and they received him not; another (as Ben Coriba) came in his owne name, and him they received, Joh. 5. 43. [I will require it] to wit, by punishment, for so requiring often signifieth, Gen. 9. 5. & 42. 22. and so the Gr. here translateth, I will take vengeance on him; and the Apostle expoundeth it thus, every soule which will not beare that Prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people, Acts 3. 23. The Chaldees translateth, My Word shall require it of him. And the Hebrew Doctors so explaine these words, He that transgresseth against his words, is guiltie of death by the hand of God; as it is written (in Deut. 18.) I will require it of him. Maim. in Iesude hatorah, ch. 9. sect. 2. This was fulfilled upon the Jewes, who would not hearken to the words of Christ, therefore he destroyed the Citie and the Sanctuarie, as was prophesied, Dan. 9. 26. The enemies laid it even with the ground, and the children thereof within it: and they left not therein one stone upon another, because she knew not the time of her visitation, Luk. 19. 44. So they died in their sins, Joh. 8. 24. and wrath came upon them, to the uttermost, 1 The. 2. 16.

- 20 Verse 20. shall presume] The Greek and Chaldees expound it, shall doe ungoddily and wickedly. not commanded] of this sin the false Prophets in Israel were commonly guilty, and for it reprov'd; as, They have seene vanitie, and lying divination, saying, The Lord saith; and the Lord hath not sent them, Ezekiel 13. 6. and, I have not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, Jeremie 27. 15. And of this the Hebrews say, The false Prophet is to be strangled to death, although he prophesie in the name of the Lord, and neither addeth nor diminisheth, (Deuteronomie 18. 20.) Whether he prophesieth that which he hath not heard by Prophetical vision, or who so hath heard the words of his fellow Prophet, and saith that this word was said unto him, and he prophesieth thereby; i.e. he is a false Prophet, and is to be strangled to death. Maim. my treat. of Idolatrie, chapter 5. section 7, 8. of other gods] as they that prophesied by Baal, Jeremie 2. 8. and 23. 13. The Hebrews declare it thus; The Prophet that prophesieth in the name of an Idoll, or he that saith, such an Idoll, or such a Starre said unto me that we are commanded to doe this or that, or not to doe it, though it be to pronounce that unclean which is unclean, or that cleane which is cleane, &c. he is to be strangled to death, &c. And it is unlawfull to aske of him a signe or a wonder, and if he doe any of himselfe, they may not regard him; and who so supposeth of his signes, that peradventure they may be true, transgresseth this prohibition, (Deuteronomie 13. 3.) Tou shalt not hearken unto the words of that Prophet. Maim. treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 5. sect. 6, 7. shall even die] that is, shall be put to death by the Magistrate, and his judgement is to be strangled, as before is noted. For which strangling, they afterward (as under the Romans) used Crucifying. And the Hebrews say, They judged not either a (whole) Tribe, or a false Prophet, or the high Priest, but by the mouth of the Synedrium of 71. Judges. Talmud Babyl. in Sanhedrin, chapter 1. This high Synedrium was after in Ierusalem; hereupon our Saviour said, It cannot be that a Prophet perish out of Ierusalem: and, O Ierusalem, Ierusalem, which killest the Prophets, &c. Luke 13. 33, 34.

Verse 22. That which] in Greeke, Whosoever things: meaning of predictions foretelling things to come. For touching matters of faith, and of the worship of God, the people were to hold unto the written Law; against which if any Prophet did teach, and give a signe or wonder which came to passe, yet they were not to beleve or hearken unto him. See Deuteronomie 13. 1, 5.

the thing] or, the word be not. But Iona prophesied the destruction of Nineveh within fortie daies, and it came not to passe: yet the Lord had spoken that word, Jonah 1. and 3. Here then conditions are implied; as, if men breake not off their sinnes by repentance, the evils foretold shall come upon them, &c. Ezekiel 33. 13, 14, 15. Jeremie 26. 12, 13, 18, 19. Especially this is meant concerning prophesies of good things, which if they come not to passe, the Prophet is found false, as Jeremie said to Ananias, The Prophets that have bene before me, and before thee of old, prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of evil, and of pestilence. The Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet be knowne, that the Lord hath truly sent him, Jeremie 28. 8, 9. Of this matter the Hebrewes say, Every Prophet that riseth up among us, and saith that the Lord hath sent him, it is not necessarie that he doe a signe like one of the signes of Moses our master, or like the signes of Elias and Elisazus, that there should be in them a change of the custome of the world. But his signe shall be, that he foretell things that are to come in the world, and so confirme his words, Deuteronomie 18. 21, 22. Therefore when there cometh a man fit for prophesie, with the ambassage of the Lord, and he cometh not to adde unto, or to diminish from (the Law) but to serve the Lord by the commandments of the Law, they must not say to him, divide the sea for us, or raise up the dead, or the like, and afterward we will beleve in thee: but they must say unto him, If thou be a Prophet, foretell us of things that are to come: and when he telleth, we must wait to see whether the things come to passe or no; and if there fail but even a little thing, it is evident that he is a false Prophet. But if all his words doe come to passe, he is to be esteemed of us faithfull. And they try him many times: if his words be all of them found faithfull, he is in a true Prophet, as it is said of Samuel, And all Israel, from Dan even to Beerseba, knew that Samuel was faithfull to be a Prophet of the Lord, 1 Sam. 3. 20. But doe not the observers of times, and the diviners, fore-tell things that do come to passe? What difference then is there between the Prophet and them? Diviners and such like persons, some of their words are confirmed, and some are not; according to that which is written (in Esa. 47. 13.) Let them stand up now and save thee, which view the heavens, which gaze on the starres, which make knowne by the months, of the things which shall come upon thee: [He saith] of the things; and not all the things. And it may be, that nothing at all of that which they speake is confirmed, but they erre in all; as it is written (in Esay 44. 25.) That frustrateth the signes of the Liers, and maketh Diviners fooles. But the Prophet, all his words are confirmed; as it is written (in 2 King. 10. 10.) There shall fall unto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord. Also he saith (in Jeremie 23. 28.) The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell the dreame; and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheat, saith the Lord? As if he should say, the words of the diviners and their dreames, are as chaffe, wherewith a little wheat is mixed: but the word of the Lord is as wheat, wherewith there is no chaffe at all. And of this thing the Scripture assureth us, and saith, that the words which diviners make knowne to the heathens, they doe lye; the Prophet maketh known unto you the words of truth, that you have no need of soothsayers, diviners, and such like, Deuteron. 18. 10, 15. Loe then art taught, that a Prophet riseth not up unto us, but to make knowne unto us things which shall come to passe in the world, as plentie or famine, warres or peace, and such like: Tea even the needs of a particular person doth he make knowne unto him, as Saul when he had lost a losse, went to the Prophet to tell him where it was, 1 Samuel 9. Such things as these doth the Prophet tell; but maketh no other Law, neither addeth to the commandement, or taketh ought from it. Threatnings of vengeance, which a Prophet denounceth, as when he saith, such a man shall die, or such a yeere there shall be a famine, or warres, or the like; if his words stand not, we may not for this deny his prophesie, nor say, behold he spake, and it came not to passe; for the holy blessed God is long-suffering, and much in mercie, and repenteth of the evill; and it may be, that they have repented, and he spareth them like the men of Niniveh; or that he deferreth it, as he did Ezekiah's (death) 2 King. 20. But if he promise them good, and say it shall be thus or thus, and the good thing come not which he hath spoken, it is certaine that he is a false Prophet: for every good thing which God decreeth, though upon condition, he changeth not, &c. Loe then art taught, that in words of good things onely, is a Prophet tried. As Jeremie said in his answer to Ananias, when Jeremie prophesied of evill, and Ananias of good, he said unto Ananias, if my words stand not, it shall not appeare by this, that I am a false Prophet; but if thy words stand not, it shall be known that thou art a false Prophet: as it is written, The Prophet which speaketh peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, the Prophet shall be knowne that the Lord hath sent him in truth, Jer. 28. 9. A Prophet unto whom another Prophet beareth witnesse that he is a Prophet, loe he is a Prophet out of doubt, and needeth no further triall. For behold Moses bare witnesse unto Joshua, and all Israel beleevd in him, before he shewed any signe. And so throughout (all) generations, the Prophet whose prophesie is knowne, and they have found his words faithful, time after time; or that a Prophet hath testified of him, and he hath walked in the waies of Prophesie, it is unlawfull to make question afterward, and to suspect his prophesie, lest it be untrue. It is unlawfull also to tempt him more than is meet, &c. for it is written, Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah, where they said, Is the Lord amongst us or not? (Deut. 6. 16. Exo. 17. 7.) But after it is known that he is a Prophet, they must know and beleve that the Lord is among them, and not suspect or make further question; as it is written, and they shall know that there hath bene a Prophet amongst them, (Ezek. 2. 5.) Maimon in Iesude baterab, chap. 10. By this testimonie of the Jewes, we have enough to answer them concerning our Lord Jesus, that he was a true Prophet sent of God, though they did put him to death. For, as he came not to destroy the Law or the Prophets, but to fulfill, Mat. 5. 17. so had he the witnesse of Moses and of all the Prophets, Act. 3. 22, 24. Joh. 1. 45. and Moses and Elias appeared talking with him, Mat. 17. 2, 3. so that if they had beleevd Moses, they would have beleevd him, Joh. 5. 46. And John Baptist (whom all men held to be a Prophet, Matth. 21. 26.) he bare witnesse unto the truth concerning Christ, Joh. 1. 15. and 5. 33. He was also approved of God among them by miracles, wonders and signes, Act. 2. 22. so that the workes which the Father gave him to finish, which also he did, they bare witnesse of him, and the Father himselfe bare witnesse of him, John 5. 36, 37. yet they, like an evill and adulterous generation, (condemned by these their owne Canons) beleevd not in him, but tempted God, and sought after a signe, Matthew 12. 38, 39. and though the men which saw his miracles, said, This is of a truth that Prophet which should come into the world, John 6. 14. yet that faithlesse generation beleevd not, but said, What signe shewest thou, that we may see and beleve thee? John 6. 30. But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they beleevd not, neither could they beleve, because that Esaias said, Hee hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, &c. John 12. 37, 39, 40. in presumption [that is, presumptuously: the Greeke translateth it, in ungodlinesse; the Chaldee, in wickednesse. not be afraid] either for his threatening words, or for his signes; nor afraid to put him to death. And thus the Hebrews explaine it, saying, Whosoever withdraweth himselfe from killing a false Prophet, because of his dignitie, for that he walketh in the waies of prophesie, behold he transgresseth against this prohibition, THOU SHALT NOT BE AFRAID OF HIM. And so he that withdraweth himselfe from teaching concerning him what he is guilty of, or that dreads and feareth for his words, &c. And they judge not a false Prophet, but in the Judgement Hall of 71. (Maimon. treat. of Idolatrie, ch. 5. c. 9.

CHAP. XIX.

I The cities of refuge. 4 The privilege of them for the man-slayer. 11 The wilfull murderer must die. 14 The land-marke may not be removed. 15 Two witnesses at the least must stablish every matter. 16 A false witnesse must be diligently inquired into, and done unto as he had thought to doe unto his brother.

- 1 When Jehovah thy God hath cut off the nations, whose land Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, and thou possessest them, and dwellest in their cities, and in their houses; Thou shalt separate three cities for thee, in the midst of thy land, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, to possesse it. Thou shalt prepare for thee the way, and shalt divide into three parts the coast of thy land, which Jehovah thy God shall give thee to inherit; and it shall be, that every man slayer may flee thither. And this is the case the man-slayer which shall flee thither and live: who so smiteth his neighbour unwittingly, and he hated him not in time past; As when he cometh with his neighbour into a wood, to hew trees, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with an axe to cut down a tree, and the iron slippeth from the wood, and findeth his neighbour, and he die; he shall flee unto one of these cities, and live. Let the avenger of the blood pursue after the man-slayer while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and smite him in soule, and he had not the judgement of death, because he hated him not in time past. Therefore I command thee, saying; Thou shalt separate for thee three cities. And if Jehovah thy God enlarge thy coast, as hee hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give unto thee all the land which he hath spoken to give unto thy fathers: If thou shalt keepe all this commandment, to doe it, which I command thee this day, to love Jehovah thy God, and to walke in his waies all daies; then thou shalt adde three cities moe for thee, beside these three. That innocent blood be not shed within thy land, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance, and so bloods be upon thee.
- 11 But if a man be a hater of his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him in soule that he die, and steeth unto one of these cities: Then the Elders of his citie shall send, and take him thence, and shall give him into the hand of the avenger of the blood, and he shall die. Thine eye shall not spare him, and thou shalt put away innocent blood from Israel, and it shall goe well with thee.

Thou shalt not remove thy neighbors limits, which the first fathers have limited, in thine inheritance which thou shalt inherit, in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee to possesse it.

One witnesse shall not rise up against a man for any iniquitie, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall a word be stablished.

When an unrighteous witnesse shall rise up against a man, to testifie revolt against him: Then both the men, betweene whom the controversie is, shall stand before Jehovah, before the Priests and the Judges which shall be in those daies. And the Judges shall make diligent inquisition; and behold, if the witnesse be a false witnesse, and hath testified a falshood against his brother: Then shall yee doe unto him as hee had thought to have done unto his brother; and thou shalt put away the evill from the midst of thee. And the residue shall heare and feare, and shall not adde to doe any more such an evill thing as this, in the midst of thee. And thine eye shall not spare: soule for soule, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Annotations.

Thou shalt separate] in Jos. 20. 7. he useth the word sanctified; in Num. 35. 11. shall appear. Here Moses explaineth the sixt commandment, for some speciall lawes concerning it. three cities] besides those three which Moses had separated without the river, Deut. 4. 41, 43. These three cities were Kadesh, Shechem, and Hebron, Jos. 20. 7. They were all cities of the Levites: see Num. 35. 6. in the midst] that is, within thy land: as, in the midst of the citie, Jer. 52. 25. is the same that within the citie, 2 King. 25. 19. See also the notes on Gen. 2. 9. This is spoken, because there were no cities of Refuge, but in the land which Israel possessed. See Num. 35. 2.

Verse 3. shalt prepare] Of this it is said, The Square (or Magistrates in Israel) were bound to prepare the waies to the cities of Refuge, to make them fit and broad, and to remove out of them all stumbling blocks and offences: and they suffered not not any hill or dale to be in the way, nor waters streame, but they made a bridge over it, that nothing might hinder him that fled thither. And the breadth of the way to the cities of refuge, was no lesse than 32. cubits. And as the partitions of waies they set up in writing, R E F U G E, R E F U G E: that the man-slayer might know and turne thitherward. On the 15. of the month Adar (or Februarie) every yeere the magistrates sent out messengers to prepare the waies, &c. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 8. sect. 5, 6. divide into three because the land was much more long than broad, therefore the cities of Refuge were in three places equally distant, and so commodious for men to flee unto.

- 4 Verse 4. the case Hebrew, the word; in Greeke, the ordinance of the man-slayer (or murderer,) and live] or, that we may live. From these words the Hebrew Doctors teach, that a Scholler exiled to the cities of Refuge, his Master also goeth with him; as it is written, AND LIVE: But the life of them that love and seeke after wisdom, is without the doctrine of the Law, counted as death. And so the Master that is exiled, his Schoole goeth with him, &c. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 7. sect. 1. smite] meaning to death: as the Chaldee translateth, killeth. So, be smite, 2 King. 14. 5. is expounded, be killed, in 2 Chron. 25. 3. unwittingly] or, ignorantly, unawares; Hebrew, without knowledge; the Greeke faith, unwillingly. hated him not] for he that was his enemy, though hee killed him unawares, might not have the benefit of the citie of refuge, as is noted on Num. 35. 20. And who is he that hateth? He that for enemies sake, speaketh not unto him for three daies. Maimony treat. of Murder, c. 6. l. 10. in time past] Hebr. and Gr. from yesterday and the third day: so in verse 6.

- 5 Verse 5. As when he cometh] or, And he that shall come; and thus the Greeke translateth it. a wood] or, forrest. This is a similitude for all like places and cases: but hence the Hebrews gather, Who so cometh into a mans yard without his leave, if the man of that house kill him by error, he is free from being exiled (into the cities of Refuge) for it is said, INTO A WOOD. What is that Wood? A place which the slaine person hath libertie to come into. And so all other the like, Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 6. sect. 11. the wood] that is, the belve of the axe. findeth] that is, hitteth, or, lighteth upon. and live] within his citie of Refuge, where he must abide untill the death of the high Priett, Num. 35. 25. See the Annotations there.

- 6 Verse 6. avenger] or, neere kinsman, who is by dutie to avenge: see the notes on Num. 35. 12. his heart is hot] inflamed with anger, griefe, and desire of revenge; in such heat of the minde, the affections of men are overcarried to speake or do that which is not meet. So in Psal. 39. 4. Min heart was hot within me. because] or, as the Greeke translateth, if the way be long: Hebr. much. in soule] or, in life, that is, morally, deadly; which the Greeke translateth, smite his soule: and for smite, the Chaldee faith, kill. So in vers. 11. judgement] that is, guilt, as the Chaldee explains it, that is, he was not worthy of death: or judgment, that is, sentence of death by the Magistrate.

Verse 8. all the land] from the river of Egypt, unto the great river, the river Euphrates, Genesis 15. 18.

Verse 9. this commandment] in Greeke, these commandments. This condition being legall, and unpossible for man to fulfill, had not therefore the accomplishment outwardly for the enlarging of their coast, or for adding of three cities more, for ought that is knowne either by the Scriptures, or Jewish records; and is therefore to be referred unto Christ, spiritually. The Jews themselves referre it unto Christs daies, but carnally, as after followeth.

in his waies] the Greeke addeth, in all his waies: the Chaldee, in the waies that are right before him. addeth three cities] of this the Hebrews say; In the daies of the King Christ, they shall addeth three other (cities) unto these six, Deuteronomie 19. 9. And whence shall they addeth them? Of the cities of the Kenizites, and the Kenites, and the Kadmonites, concerning whom a covenant was made with Abraham our father, (Genesis 15. 18, 19.) and hitherto they have not bene subdued; and of them it is said in the Law, If the Lord thy God enlarge the coast. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 8. sect. 4. And in another place the same man faith, (in treat. of Kings, chapter 11. section 2.) Of the cities of Refuge, he faith, If the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy coast, then thou shalt addeth three cities more, &c. But this thing hath never bene done; and the holy blessed (God) hath not commanded it in vaine. But the Law is not in vaine, though it be not literally fulfilled in the precepts; For what the Law could not doe, in that it was weak through the flesh, God (hath done) sending his owne Sonne, &c. Romanes 8. 3. by him wee have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge, to lay hold upon the hope set before us, Hebr. 6. 18.

Verse 10. That innocent blood be not] or, as the Greek translateth, And innocent blood shall not be shed: meaning the blood of the unwilling man-slayer, who is not worthy of death, y. 6. and bloods be] that is, the guilt of bloodshed; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the guilt of the judgement of murder. The Greeke translateth, and there shall not be in thee (a man) guilty of blood.

Verse 11. smite him in soule] Greeke, smite his soule; that is, as the Chaldee faith, kill him: as verse 6.

Verse 12. the Elders] in Greeke, the Senate. thence] from the citie of Refuge, yea or from the Altar of the Lord, Exodus 21. 14. for, a man that doth violence to the blood of any person, shall flee to the pri, let no man stay him, Proverbs 28. 17. See more in the Annotations on Numbers 35.

Verse 13. put away innocent blood] that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, him that shed innocent blood. and it shall goe well] or, that it may goe well with thee or, and good shall be unto thee.

Verse 14. limit] or bound, border, land-marke: whereby every mans inheritance in the land was limited. A sin great in all places, Job 24. 2. but greatest in the land of Israel, Gods holy limit (or border,) Psal. 78. 54. which was parted by lot of the Lord, Num. 26. 53, 56. and figured the spirituall inheritance which the Saints have in the Church, all the limits whereof are of pleasant stones, Esay 54. 12. and whereof Canaan was a type, as is noted on Gen. 12. 5. Therefore among the curses pronounced against the breakers of the Law, this is the third, Cursed be he that removeth his neighbours land-marke, (or limit) and all the people shall say, Amen, Deut. 27. 17. the first fathers] Ekazar the Priest, Iosua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the Tribes of the sons of Israel, Jos. 14. 1. The word father I supply from Pro. 22. 28. where it is said, Remove not the ancient limit which thy fathers have set; and so the Greeke translateth here, the limits which thy fathers have set; in Chaldee, the ancient. in the land] of Israel, the holy land, Zach. 2. 12. the Lords land, Hof. 9. 3. where this sinne was sacrilegious. The Hebrews say, He that removeth his neighbours land-marke, and taketh of his neighbours limit into his owne, though it be but an inch, if he doe it by force, it is rapine; and if he remove it in secret, it is theft. And if in the land of Israel he remove the marke, he transgresseth against two prohibitions; against stealth or rapine, and against, Thou shalt not remove the limit. Maimony Treatise of Theft, chapter 7. section 11.

15 Verse 15. not rise up] or, not stand, not be stablished, (as the word is englished in the end of this verse) and so the Greeke translateth, shall not abide (or continue.) The Hebrews say, They determine not any sentence of matters by the mouth of one witnesse, whether money matters, nor matters of life and death, Deuteronomie 19. 15. In two places the Law maketh one witnesse faithfull; for the suspected wife, that she shall not drinke of the bitter waters, (Numbers 5.) and for the beifer, that it shall not have the necke cut off, (Deuteronomie 21.) Maimony treat. of Witnesses, ch. 5. sect. 1, 2. at the mouth] The Chaldee expoundeth it, at the word. From hence the Jewes gather, that by law they may not receive witnesse, either in money matters, or in matters of life and death, but from the mouth of the witnesses, (Deuteronomie 19. 15.) from their mouth, and not from a writing of their hand. But by the words of the Scribes they determine money matters by witnesse, that is, in a bill, although the witnesses be not alive, &c. Maim. treat. of Witnesses, chap. 3. sect. 4. a word] or, a thing, a matter, The Greeke translateth, every word: and so the Apostles alleage this place, Mat. 18. 16. 2 Corinthians 13. 1. which sheweth, that this (as many other like Scriptures) are to be taken in the largest sense: see Deut. 27. 26. be stablished] or, be confirmed, stand as firme and true. So our Saviour saith; It is written in your law, that the testimonie of two men is true, John 8. 17.

16 Verse 16. unrighteous] so the Greeke translateth the Hebrew phrase, witnesse of unrighteousnesse (or, of violent wrong, of injuriousnesse) the Chaldee translateth, false witnesse: so in Exod. 23. 1. to testifie] Hebr. to answer, which is a generall word for all speaking or testifying, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, to testifie: so in ver. 18. See Exod. 20. 16. revolt] or apostasie, a falling, or turning away from the Lord, as Deut. 13. 5. The Greeke translateth it, impiety.

Verse 17. both the men] or, the two men, that is, the accuser and the accused: So that one witnesse may cause a matter to be inquired into, though no sentence may be given upon the testimony of one, verse 15. and ch. 17. verse 6. before Jehovah] before his Arke or Sanctuarie: in the place which he shall chuse: see Deuteronomie 17. 8. 1 King. 8. 31. before the Priests] the Greeke version addeth, and before the Priests, and before the Judges: see Deut. 17. 9.

Verse 18. make diligent inquisition] or, inquire well; which the Greeke translateth, scriboos, that is, exactly, exquisitely, or perfectly, as Acts 23. 20.

false] the Greeke translateth this as before, unrighteous, or unjust. testified] Hebrew, answered, as in verse 16.

Verse 19. thought] or presumed, presumptuously devised and enterprised: the Greeke translateth, maliciously thought. Of the originall word Zanun, thought, the Hebrews call the false witnesse Zomem, the thinker, or presumer; and say, Who so witnesseth falsely, and is he knowne by witnesses that he hath witnessed falsely, this man is called [gred Zomem] the false witnesse; and it is commanded to doe unto him as he would have done by his testimonie unto his neighbour. If they have testified falsely of a transgression for which men are guilty of stoning to death, they are all to be stoned; if of burning, they are to be burnt; and so for other deaths. And if they testifie of (crimes worthy) beating, every one of them is to be beaten, &c. If they testifie of things for which money is to be paid, they pay the money among them, according to the number of witnesses, every one shall give the portion that concerneth him, &c. This is meant of witnesses that are found false: but two companies that contradict one another, and so there is no testimonie, they doe not punish the one of them, because it is not knowne which company speaketh falsely. And what is the difference betwene contradiction and falsehood? Contradiction is in the testimonie it selfe, the one saying, this thing was, and the other saying, this thing was not. Falsehood (or forgery) is for the testifiers themselves, when the false witnesses cannot know whether the thing was done or not. As witnesses that come and say, We saw this man kill a person, or he borrowed a pound of such a man, such a day, in such a place; and after they have thus witnessed, and are searched into, there come two other and say, On this day, and in this place, we were with you and with these all the day, and there never was such a thing; this man killed him not, or this man borrowed not of that man; loe this is contradiction, and all the like. But if they say unto them, as for us we know not whether this man killed that man, on such a day in Jerusalem, as you say or no; but we testifie, that you your selves were with us on the same day in Babylon; loe these are false witnesses (or forgers) and must be killed, or make satisfaction, forasmuch as the witnesses which make them forgers, have no respect at all unto the testimonie it selfe whether it be truth or falsehood. And if the first witnesses were an hundred persons, and there come two and prove them forgers, saying, we testifie that you hundred all of you were with us in such a day, in such a place;

loe, these are punished by the mouth of those two, for two are as an hundred, and an hundred as two. And so in two companies of witnesses that contradict one another, they goe not after the greatest number. Maimony treat. of Witneses, chapter 18. section 1, 2, 3. As for witnesses that contradict one another, such as are after found faulty, though they be not put to death for testifying against a mans life, yet are they chastised at the Judges discretion. Maimony ibidem, section 6. the evil] that is, as the Chaldees saith, the evil doer. See before on Deut. 17. 7. and 13. 11.

20 Ver. 20. the residue] that is, all other shall heare and feare. Therefore the Hebrews say, Proclamation was made concerning these forgers or false witnesses, the Judges wrote and sent into every citie, that such and such men witnessed so and so, and were found false, and we killed them, or they were beaten before us, or we set such a fine (or mulct) upon them. Maim. treat. of Witneses, ch. 18. sect. 17.

21 Verse 21. not spare] or, not pittie: of this the Hebrews hold, that all hurts may be bought out with money, except life for life; thereof there may be no rancome, Num. 35. 31. See the Annotations on Exod. 21. 25. fine] or life (to wit, shall goe) for life. See Lev. 24. 17, 20.

CHAP. XX.

1 Israel must not feare the forces of their enemies.
2 The Priests exhortation to encourage the people to battell.
3 The officers proclamation, who are to be dismissed from the warre.
10 How to use the cities that accept or refuse the proclamation of peace.
16 What cities must be devoted and destroyed.
19 Trees of mans meat must not be destroyed in the siege.

1 Vhen thou goest out to battell against thine enemies, and seekest horses and chariots, a people more than thou, be not afraid of them, for Jehovah thy God is with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
2 And it shall be when ye are come nigh unto the battell, that the Priest shall approach,
3 and speake unto the people. And he shall say unto them, Heare O Israel, you approach this day unto battell against your enemies: Let not your heart be soft, feare not, and hasten not away, neither be ye terrified because of them. For Jehovah your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you with your enemies, to save
4 you. And the officers shall speake unto the people, saying; What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? Let him goe and returne to his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man dedicate a vineyard, and hath not made it common? Let him goe, and returne unto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man make it common. And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? Let him goe, and returne unto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another man take her. And the Officers shall speake further unto the people, and say; What man is there that is fearfull, and soft-hearted? Let him goe, and returne unto his house, that his brethrens heart melt not, as his heart. And it shall be when the Officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall constitute Captaines of the armies for an head of the people.
5 it. And what man is there that hath planted

When thou comest nigh unto a Citie, to fight against it, then thou shalt proclaime peace unto it. And it shall be, if it answer thee peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein, shall be tributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee. And if it will not make peace with thee, but will make war with thee, then thou shalt lay siege against it. And Jehovah thy God shall give it into thine hand, and thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword. But the women, and the little ones, and the cattell, and all that is in the Citie, all the spoile thereof thou shalt make a prey unto thy selfe; and thou shalt eat the spoile of thine enemies, which Jehovah thy God hath given thee. Thus shalt thou doe unto all the Cities which are very farre off from thee, which are not of the Cities of these nations. But of the Cities of these peoples, which Jehovah thy God doth give thee for an inheritance, thou shalt not save alive any breath. But utterly destroying thou shalt utterly destroy them; the Chetite, and the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Pherizzite, the Evite, and the Jebusite, as Jehovah thy God hath commanded thee. To the end that they teach not you to doe after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods, and ye sin against Jehovah your God.

When thou shalt lay siege unto a Citie many daies, in making warre against it, to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof, by forcing an axe against them; for thou maist eat of them, & thou shalt not cut them downe; for is the tree of the field a man, to goe in from before thee into the bulwarke? Onely the tree which thou knowest, that it is not a tree for meat, that thou maist destroy and

and cut downe, and build a bulwarke against the Citie that maketh warre with thee, untill it be subdued.

Annotations.

I V When thou goest out] This is meant of all lawfull wars, offensive or defensive, that is, begun by Israel, or by other nations against Israel. And the Hebrews hold, that Israel might never begin first to warre, but the warres commanded of God; and those were the warres with the seven nations in Canaan, (Deuteronomie 2. 24. & 7. 1.) and the warre against Amalek, (Deuteronomie 25. 17, 19.) and to helpe Israel out of the hand of the adversarie which is come upon them, (as Judg. 3. 12, 18, &c.) Wars permitted, were with other peoples that oppugned Israel, as Judges 11. 4, 12, 27. 2 Samuel 10. 2, 6, 7, &c. For warres commanded, is not necessarie to have leave of the high Councell (or Synedrion;) but the King may goe out of himselfe at any time, and compell the people to goe out: but in warre permitted, he leadeth not the people out, but at the mouth of the Senate of seventy one Magistrates. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 4. treat. of Kings, chapter 5. sect. 1, 2. chariots] Hebr. horse and chariot, one put for many: so the Chaldee translateth it plurally; see the notes on Gen. 3. 2. be not afraid] or, thou shalt not feare for them, that is, not be dismayed or discouraged. See the notes on Exod. 20. 20. is with thee] or, will be with thee, to wit, as a Captaine, 2 Chron. 13. 12. And with this the faithfull encouraged themselves in their battels; as Ezekiel said, there be more with us than with (our adversarie) with him is an arme of flesh, but with us is the Lord our God, to helpe us, and to fight our battels, 2 Chron. 32. 7, 8. See also Psal. 118. 6.

2 Verse 2. the Priest] one that was appointed and anointed for this purpose. Whether it be in warre commanded, or in warre permitted, they appoint a Priest to speake unto the people at the time of the battell, and they anoint him with the anointing oile [mentioned in Exod. 30. 35. &c.] and he is called the Anointed for the warre. When they are set in aray, and doe come neere to the battell, he that is anointed for the warre standeth on a high place, and all the companies before him, and he saith unto them in the holy tongue; Heare O Israel, you approach this day, &c. (Deut. 21. 3, 4.) And another Priest under him proclaimeth it to all the people with a loud voice. And afterward, the anointed Priest saith, What man is there that hath built a new house, &c. What man is there that hath planted a vineyard, &c. And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, &c. Thus much the anointed Priest speaketh, and the Officer proclaimeth it to all the people with a loud voice. And afterward the Officer speaketh of himselfe, and saith, What man is there that is fearefull, &c. (Deuteronomie 20. 8.) and another Officer proclaimeth it unto all the people. And after that all which are to returne, be returned from the Armie, they order the Armie, and appoint Captaines, (Deuteronomie 20. 9.) And after every company they set Officers courageous and strong, with halberts of iron in their hands; and who so would turne backe from the warre, they have power in their hand to cut off his leg, &c. Maimon. treat. of Kings, c. 7. s. 1. 4. Thus Israel had the word of God, and his Ministers to encourage them, that they might fight the battels of the Lord in faith; they had also the holy trumpets blowne by the Priests, that they might be remembered before the Lord, and saved from their enemies, Numb. 10. 8. 9. 2 Chron. 13. 12. And touching this Priest anointed for the warre, the Hebrews teach it is a peculiar dignity to his owne person onely, not to his posterity, and in the warre, not in the Sanctuary. He that is anointed for the warre, his sonne is never ordained in his stead, but he is as other Priests; if he be anointed for the warre, he is anointed; and if he be not anointed, he is not anointed. And when the Priest anointed for the warre, ministrereth in the Sanctuary, he ministrereth in foure garments, as the other Priests. Maimony in Cle hamikdash, ch. 4. sect. 21.

Verse 3. soft] tender, that is, faint and fearefull; as the Greek translateth it, dissolved (or faint,) the Chaldee, moved. This softnesse or faintnesse of heart, God threatneth as a plague, Levit. 26. 36. and Job acknowledged it so, saying, God hath softened my heart, Job 24. 16. and Rehoboam being soft-hearted, could not withstand his enemies, 2 Chron. 13. 7. Although therefore a soft heart in respect of God and his word, is commendable, 2 Kings 22. 19. yet in respect of our enemies, it is here forbidden; so in verse 8. and Esay 7. 4. hasten not away] through feare & troubled thoughts, and want of faith. David blameth this infirmity in himselfe, Psal. 31. 22. and 116. 11. terrified] or broken, discouraged, daunted with terror: the Greek translateth, decline not from their faces. See the annotations on verse 8.

Verse 5. the Officers] in Greeke, the Seribes: of them see thee notes on Deut. 16. 18. and before on vers. 2. What man is there] that is, if any man, or who so ever hath: as in Psal. 34. 13. What man is he? is expounded by the Apostle, He that will, 1 Pet. 3. 10. built a new house] By the Hebrewes this Law taketh place, whether he hath built it, or received it (by purchase) or it be given unto him for a gift, or it fall unto him by inheritance. But who so buildeth an house, or planteth a vineyard, out of the land (of Israel) he returneth not home for them. Maimony in treat. of Kings, chapter 7. section 5. 14. not dedicated] or not initiated, that is, begun to take possession of, and to use it: which was wont to be done with solemnity, feasting, and singing praise to God, as the title of the 30. Psalm sheweth, concerning Davids house. lest he die] this manner of speech sheweth danger, (as is noted on Gen. 3. 3.) and teacheth men to be resolute, and to goe with their lives in their hands, ready to expend them in Gods quarrell, as Judg. 9. 17. Act. 20. 22, 23, 24. and 21. 13. For the sword devoureth one as well as another, 2 Sam. 11. 25. Act. 12. 2. and another man] Three reasons there seeme to be of this, and the rest that follow. Because the thoughts and cares of their houses, lands, wives, &c. might easily trouble men, and hinder them from from fighting the Lords battels with courage, as the like things hindred those that were called to the great Supper, Luke 14. 18, 19. and no man that warreth, intangleth himselfe with the affaires of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a souldier, 2 Timoth. 2. 4. Againe, God hereby sheweth compassion unto the weake, whom he spareth for a time, from hard service, till they be growne strong, and fit for to fight the good fight of faith, 1 Tim. 6. 12. and 1. 18. Rom. 14. 1, 4. Thirdly, as his mercies towards Israel were many of them externall, and concerned their comforts in this life; so he would have them in speciall manner to enjoy the outward blessings bestowed on them.

6 Verse 6. planted a vineyard] This also the Hebrews understand not of a vineyard onely, but by proportion of an orchard, olive-yard, or the like. Whether he have planted a vineyard, or planted five trees for meat, of any kinde, or transplanted (that is, removed it from another place) or grafted it; so that it be bound to that law of uncircumcised fruit, (in Leviticus 19. 23.) or that he hath purchased it, or taketh it by inheritance or by free gift: (he returneth home.) But if he hath planted but foure trees for food, or five trees (or more) that are barren, or hath gotten a vineyard by rapine, he returneth not home therefore. And so, if a vineyard belong to two partners, they returne not for it. Maimony treat. of Kings, chapter 7. section 6. not made is common] or, not profaned is; that is, not used the fruit thereof for common food, which he could not doe by the Law, till the fift yeere from the planting thereof, Leviticus 19. 23, 24, 25. The Greeke translateth, hath not made merry, (or rejoiced with the fruit) thereof.

7 Verse 7. bestowed a wife] whether maid, or widow; or if his brothers wife fall to him, (according to the law in Deuteronomie 25. 5.) though they be five brethren, and one of them die, all the rest doe returne home. All these that are to returne from the battell, are to returne when they heare the words of the Priest, and to provide water and victuals for their brethren which are in the armie, and to prepare the waies for them. Maimony Treatise of Kings, chapter 7. section 79.

8 Verse 8. shall speake further] Hebr. shall adde to speake. See the notes on verse 2. soft] or tender, that is, faun-hearted: see verse 3. When Gedeon warred against the Madianites, and made this Proclamation, of the two and thirty thousand men that were with him, there returned two and twenty thousand, and but ten thousand remained, Judg. 7. 3. melt not] that is, faun not, or be discouraged; in Greeke, be not made fearfull. An usuall phrase, whereof see Deuteron. 1. 28. By this, God taught his people to have faith in him, and every man to encourage himselfe, and one another, in Gods assistance: which they that did, prospered; as in the Reubenites warre against the Hagarites, 1 Chronicles 5. 20. the Jewes warre against the Israelites, 2 Chronicles 12. 12, -18. Ichasaph warre against the Ammonites, 2 Chronicles 20. and many the like. Of this point the Hebrews say, that after a man is entered into the warre, He should stay himselfe upon him that is the Hope of Israel, and his Saviour in time of distresse; and know that for the name of God he maketh warre; and should put his life in his hand, and not be afraid or adread, nor thinke eiber of his wife, or of his children, but wipe the remembrance of them out of his heart, and turne from every thing, unto the battell. And whosoever beginneth to thinke, and cast doubt in the battell: and maketh himselfe afraid, transgresseth against this prohibition, LET NOT THY HEART BE SOFT, &c. And not onely so, but that all the blood of Israel hangeth on his necke; and if he prevaile not, and make not warre with all his heart and with all his soule, loe he is as he that sheddeth the blood of all; as it is written, That his brethrens heart melt not, as well as his heart. And behold it is plainly said, (in Jeremie 48. 10.) Cursed be he that doth the worke of the Lord deceitfully; and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood. But who so fighteth with all his heart, without adread, and his intent is to sanctifie the name (of God) onely, trusteth in him that he shall finde no hurt, and no evill shall come unto him. And he will build him a sure house in Israel, and honour him and his children for ever, and count him worthe of life in the world that is to come; as it is written, (in 1 Samuel 25. 28.) For the LORD will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the LORD, and evill hath not bene found in thee from thy daies; and the soule of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of life, with the LORD thy God. Maimony Treatise of Kings, chapter 7. section 15.

Verse 9. Captaines] or Princes, Rulers. That as their trust should first be in God alone, so secondly they should use the lawfull outward meanes for safetie and victorie, and not tempt the Lord.

for an head] or, in the forefront of the people, Hebr. in the head; which may be understood both these waies, as here, so in 2 Chro. 13. 12. & 20. 27. The Greeke translateth, fore-leaders of the people.

Verse 10. shalt proclaim peace unto it] Hebrew shalt call unto it for peace; whereby may be meant, thou shalt invite (or perswade) it unto peace. The Greeke translateth, shalt call them out with peace, the Chaldee, shalt proclaim sheweth words of peace. The Hebrews say, They must make no warre with any man in the world, untill they proclaim peace unto him, whether it be warre permitted, or warre commanded, Deuteronomie 20. 10. If they make peace, and receive upon them the seven Commandments which were given to the sonnes of Noe, [whereof see the notes on Gen. 9. 4.] they must kill none of them, but they shall be tributaries, (Deuteronomie 20. 11.) Maimony treat. of Kings, chap. 8. sect. 1.

Verse 11. if it answer] that is, accept of the conditions of peace by thee proposed. The Greeke translateth, And if they answer thee peaceable words. tributaries unto thee] Hebr. shall be unto thee to tribute; which the Chaldee expoundeth, for offerers of tributes, that is, tributaries, as the Greeke also explaineth it. And tribute is not onely of mens goods, but of their persons, to be paid with the labour of their bodies; as the Egyptians set over Israel take (or tribute) Masters, to afflict them with their burdens, Exod. 1. 11. And Solomon raised a tribute (or levie) of 30. thousand men, 1 King. 5. 13. Accordingly it is here meant of both, and the Hebrews explaine it thus; The tribute which they must take upon them, is that they shall be ready for the Kings service, with their bodies, and with their goods: as to build the walls, to fortifie the munitions, to build the Kings Palace, and the like; as it is written, (in 1 King. 9. 15, &c.) And this is the reason of the tribute [the levie] which King Solomon raised, for to build the house of the LORD, and his owne house, and Millo, and the wall of Jerusalem, &c. and all the cities of store that Solomon had, &c. And the King may condition with them, to take halfe their goods, or their lands, and leave them the moveables; or the moveables, and leave them the lands, as he shall make the conditions. Maimony treat. of Kings, chapter 6. section 1, 2. shall serve] to wit, as bond-servants; which it was not lawfull to put any Israelite unto, Leviticus 25. 42, 44. And so Solomon laid upon the heathens a tribute of bond-service, but of the sonnes of Israel, Solomon made no servants (or bondmen) but they were men of warre, and his servants, and his Princes, &c. 1 King. 9. 21, 22. The Hebrews say, If they would take upon them the tribute, and not the servitude; or the servitude, but not the tribute; they may not hearken unto them, untill they take upon them both. And the servitude which they must take upon them, is to be contemptible and very base, that they live not up the head in Israel, but be subdued under their hand, and be not reckoned with Israel, for any matter in the world. Maimony in Kings, chapter 6. section 1.

12 Verse 12. not make peace] upon the former conditions, as the Greeke saith, if they will not obey thee.

13 Verse 13. shall give it] This may be taken as a promise, or, when he shall give it, &c. then thou shalt smite.

14 Verse 14. eat the spoile] that is, enjoy that which thou hast spoiled. And this is a blessing and comfort after victorie, which God gave unto Israel upon their wars in Canaan, Jos. 22. 8. and figured the fruit of the labours which Christ and his people should enjoy from their enemies, Esay 53. 12. Luke 11. 22.

16 Verse 16. these peoples] the seven nations in the land of Canaan, Deut. 7. 1, 2. unto which the Hebrews adde (from Deut. 25. 19.) the Amalekites; saying, The seven nations and Amalek, which make not peace, they leave not of them any soule, Deuteronomie 20. 16. & 25. 19. And it is holden, that he speaketh not but of such as make not peace, as it is written (in Josua 11. 19, 20.) There was not a citie that made peace with the sonnes of Israel, save the Evites, the inhabitants of Gibeon; all (other) they took in battell; for it was of the Lord to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battell, that he might destroy them utterly, even because they sent unto them for peace, but they received it not. Josua sent three writings before he came into the land. First he sent unto them thus, He that will flee, let him flee. Again, hee sent, Who so will make peace, let him make peace. And againe hee sent, Who so will make warre, let him make it. If it be so, wherefore did the Gibeonites deale by craft? Jos. 9. Because he had sent unto them in the generall, and they received it not, neither knew they the judgement (or manner) of Israel, &c. Maim. treat. of Kings, chap. 6. sect. 4. 5. any breath] or, any soule, man, woman, or child.

Verf. 17. utterly destroy] or, destroy as cursed: See Numb. 21. 2. hath commanded thee] in Exod. 34. 11. 12. Deut. 7. 1, 2, 3.

Verf. 19. not destroy the trees] Hebr. not corrupt (or marre) a tree: meaning any tree that bare mans meat. The Greeke translateth trees; and the singular is oft used for the plurall, as is noted on Genesis 3. 2. And under the name of trees, all other things also, needfull for mans life, seeme here to be reserved from destruction. The Hebrews explaine it thus; They may not cut downe the Trees for meat, that are without the citie; nor withhold from them the water-courses, that they may wither: as it is written, THOU SHALT NOT CORRUPT THE TREES: and who so cutteth any downe, is to be beaten. And not in the siege onely, but in any place, whosoever cutteth downe a tree that is for meat, by way of corrupting, is to be beaten. But they may cut them downe, if they hurt other trees, or hurt the field, &c. the Law forbiddeth not, but by way of corruption. Every tree that beares not fruit, it is lawfull to cut it downe, although a man have no need of it: and likewise a fruit-tree that doth hurt, or yeeldeth but a little, and is not worth the labour about it, it is lawfull to cut it downe. And what quantitie may that be? An olive tree, if it yeeld the fourth part of a Kab of olives, [that is, a Log, whereof see the notes on Exodus 30. 24.] they may not cut it downe: and a Date tree which yeeldeth a Kab of Dates, they cut not downe. And not trees onely, but who so breaketh vessels, or rendeth garments, or pulleth downe buildings, or stoppeth wells, or destroyeth meats, by way of corrupting, transgresseth this law, THOU SHALT NOT CORRUPT: yet is hee not to be beaten therefore, but by the doctrine of the Scribes he is to be chastised. Maimony Treatise of Kings, chapter 6. sect. 8, 9. By this prohibition, God restraineth the waste and spoile which Souldiers usually make in warres; and teacheth mercy towards his good creatures, and that which serveth for mans life: therefore Christ would have nothing lost of the broken meats that are left, Ioh. 6. 12. And as in figure men are likened to trees, so such onely as bring forth no good fruit, are cut downe, Matth. 3. 10. See also Luke 13. 6, 7, &c. Rev. 9. 4. for thou maist] or, as the Greeke translateth, but thou shalt eat thereof. for is the tree &c.] or, for are the trees &c. that is, the trees of the field are not as men, either to come out against thee, or to flee from thee into the bulwarke. This interpretation agreeth with the Greeke, Is the tree that is in the wood a man, to goe in from thy face into the bulwarke? The Chaldee in like sense explaineth it by a deniall; For the tree of the field is not as a man, to goe, &c. Otherwise it may also be translated, Though the trees of the field are mans, that is, (serve for

for mans use, yet spare such as beare fruit. Or, according to that which went before, For the tree of the field is man, to wit, his food, or life of man: as in 2 King. 18. 31. eat ye every man his owne vine, that is, the fruit of his vine. into the bulwarke] or, in the siege.

20 Verie 20. subdued] or, come downe: which the Chaldee translateth, untill it be delivered.

CHAP. XXI.

1 The expiation of murther done by an unknowne person: that the Elders of the next citie should kill an heiffer, and wash their hands over it, so clearing themselves, and asking mercie of God. 10 The usage of a captive taken to wife. 15 The first-borne is not to be disinherited upon private affection. 18 A stubborn rebellious sonne, is by his Parents to be brought forth unto judgement, and stored to death. 22 The malefactor must not hang all night on a tree.

1 IF one be found slaine in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee to possesse it, fallen in the field; & it be not knowne who hath smitten him: Then thy Elders, and thy Judges shall come forth, and they shall measure unto the cities, which are round about him that is slaine. And it shall be, that the citie which is next unto the slain man, even the Elders of that citie shall take an heiffer of the herd, which hath not beene wrought with, which hath not drawn in the yoke. And the Elders of that citie shall bring downe the Heiffer unto a rough valley, which shall not be tilled, nor sowed, and shall strike off the Heiffers necke there in the valley. And the Priests, the sonnes of Levi, shall come neere; for them Jehovah thy God hath chosen to minister unto him, and to blesse in the name of Jehovah; and by their mouth shall be every controversie, and every stroke. And all the Elders of that citie that are next unto the slaine man, shall wash their hands over the Heiffer that is beheaded in the valley. And they shall answer, and say; Our hands have not shed this blood, and our eyes have not seene it. Make expiation for thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, O Jehovah; and lay not innocent blood in the midst of thy people Israel, and the blood shall be expiated for them. 9 And thou shalt put away innocent blood from the midst of thee, when thou shalt doe that which is right in the eyes of Jehovah.

10 When thou goest forth to battell against

thine enemies, and Jehovah thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken captive a captivie of them: And thou seest in the captivie a woman of a beautifull forme, and hast a desire unto her, and wouldest take her unto thee to wife: Then thou shalt bring her home to thy house, and she shall shave her head, and doe her nailes. And she shall put off the rayment of her captivie from upon her, and shall remaine in thine house, and shall weep for her father and her mother a moneth of daies; and after that thou shalt goe in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be unto thee to wife. And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt send her away whither she will; but selling thou shalt not sell her for money: thou shalt not make a gaine to thy selfe of her, because thou hast humbled her.

If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have borne him sonnes, the beloved and the hated; and if the first-borne son be hers that was hated: Then it shall be in the day that he maketh his sonnes to inherit that which he hath, he may not make the son of the beloved first-borne, before the son of the hated, which is the first-borne. But the first-borne, the son of the hated shall he acknowledge, by giving to him a double portion of all that is found his; for he is the beginning of his strength, the right of the first birth-right is his.

If a man have a son stubborn and rebellious, which obeyeth not the voice of his father, and the voice of his mother, and they have chastened him, and he will not hearken unto them: Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the Elders of his citie, and unto the gate of his place. And they shall say unto the Elders of his citie, This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he obeyeth not our voice, he is a glutton, and a drunkard. And all the men of his citie shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and thou shalt put away the evill from the midst of thee, and all Israel shall heare and feare.

And if there be in a man a sinne worthy of death, and he be put to death, and thou hang him on a tree: His carcasse shall not remaine all night upon the tree; but burying thou shalt burie him in that day, for he that is hanged is the curse of God; and thou shalt not defile thy land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance.

ANNO

Annotations.

1 Slaine] or Wounded, meaning to death; as the Chaldee tranſlateth, killed: and this Law was to be kept, whether one or many were found ſlaine. givelth] or, is giuing, to wit, ſhortly. This being a figurative expiation, done by Priests with the death of an heiffer, &c. ſhewing this Law to be peculiar to the Common-wealth of Iſrael: and ſo the Hebrews ſay, The Law for the be-headed heiffer, is not to be uſed but in the land of Iſrael. Maimony in Miſneh, tom. 4. treat. of Murder, chapter 10. ſectiõ 1. fallen] that is, hing dead: as, there fell, 1 Chronicles 21. 14. is expounded, there died, 2 Sam. 24. 15. The Greeke tranſlateth it fallen; the Chaldee, hing. All theſe circumſtances the Hebrews hold unto ſtrictly; It is ſaid, Slaine (or Wounded) not hanged, nor broken; for ſuch an one is not called Chalaſ, (Slaine;) in the Land (or Ground) not bid in an heape: Fallen, not hanging on a tree: in the Field, not ſwimming on the water. Maimony treat. of Murder, chapter 9. ſectiõ 11. not knowne] for, if it be knowne, they behead no heiffer for him. If but one have ſene the murderer, and though it be a ſlave, or a woman, or one whoſe teſtimonie is not allowable, yet there is no beheading of the heiffer: for if there be many open murderers, the killing of the heiffer ceaſeth. If the witneſſe ſay, I ſaw the murderer; and another witneſſe denie it, ſaying, Thou diſt not ſee him, (and theſe witneſſes come both together) then they behead the heiffer. Maimony ibidem, chapter 9. ſectiõ 12, 13.

2 Verſe 2. thy Elders] he ſaith not the Elders of that citie, as after in verſe 3. (for it is not knowne as yet to what citie it belongeth;) but thy Elders. (O Iſrael) which were of the generall States of the land. The Hebrews ſay, When a ſlaine man is found fallen on the earth, &c. they leave him in his place, and five Elders come forth from the high Council that is in Jeruſalem, and they meaſure from him unto the cities that are round about the ſlaine man. Maimony ibidem, chapter 9. ſectiõ 1. thy Judges] to whom criminall cauſes did belong, for the triall of them. unto the cities] he ſaith not, unto the townes, or villages, but cities: and by the Hebrews, They meaſured not to any citie, but ſuch as had in it a Court of three and twentie (Magiſtrates.) And though he be found by a cities ſide, &c. yet they meaſure. And when they have meaſured, and the Citie next him is knowne, then they burie the ſlaine man in his place, and the Elders of Jeruſalem returne to their place; and the Senate of that citie bring an heiffer, &c. When they meaſure, they doe it exactly. And they meaſure from the noſe of him (that is ſlaine) If his body be in one place, and his head in another, they bring the todie to the head, and burie it in the place thereof. If there be many dead, one beſide another, they meaſure from the noſe of every one of them. And if one citie be neereſt to them all, it bringeth one heiffer for them all. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 9. ſectiõ 4, 9, 10.

3 Verſe 3. an heiffer] which was by the death thereof to make expiation, in figure, for this murder, as ordinarie ſacrifices did for menſinnes. And this was done by the next citie, becauſe of preſumption of the fact, when other prooſe failed: and this heiffer was to be of the menſ of that citie, ſaith Maimony ibidem, ſectiõ 2. and, an heiffer of the ſecond yeere, or under; but if it were a day older than two yeeres, it was unlawfull. Maimony ibidem, chapter 9. ſectiõ 2. and chap. 10. ſect. 2. in the yoke] the ſame caution was for the red heiffer, Numb. 19. 2. ſee the Annotations there. But why ſpeaketh he of the yoke, after he had ſaid, not wrought with? ſeeing to draw with the yoke is comprehended in other worke? The Hebrews answer; Becauſe the yoke maketh it diſallowable, whether it be in the houre of worke or not. When it hath drawne in the yoke but an hand-bredth, it is unlawfull, though it neither plowed therewith, nor did any other worke. Maimony ibidem, chapter 13. ſectiõ 3.

Verſe 4. a rough valley] or, a ſtrong bourne: the Hebrew Nachal is both a valley, Gen. 26. 17, 19. and a water-ſtreame running in a valley, Deut. 2. 13, 36. both which we call a bourne. Eshan ſignifieth ſtrength, or ſtrong and durable, as is applied ſometimes to waters, Exod. 14. 27. Pſalm 74. 15. And Nachal Eshan, in Amos 5. 24. is a mighty ſtreame. So here we may underſtand this to be not onely a valley, but a ſtreame alſo in it, as the Chaldee verſion confirmeth: but the Greeke tranſlateth it, a rough valley. Maimony in treat. of Murder, chapter 9. ſectiõ 2. ſaith, they bring downe the heiffer unto a bourne that floweth ſtrongly, and that is the Eshan ſpoken of in the Law. ſhall not be tilled] either at the time when the heiffer is killed, or after. The valley wherein the heiffer is beheaded, is unlawfull to be ſowen or tilled for ever, (Deut. 21. 4.) and who ſo workeith any worke there, in the body of the ground, as to plow, or dig, or ſow, or plant, or any the like, he is to be beaten. But it is lawfull to dreſſe flax there, or to dig up ſtones, or any thing which is not as tillage or ſowing, &c. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 10. ſect. 9. ſtrike off the necke] or lethead, (as in verſe 6.) with an axe on the hinder parts thereof, ſaith Maimony ibidem, ch. 9. ſ. 3. The Greeke tranſlateth, cut the ſinewes of the heiffer. After it was beheaded, and expiation made, the heiffer was buried in the place where it was killed, and it was unlawfull to have any profit (or uſe) thereof. Maim. ibidem, chap. 10. ſect. 6.

Verſe 5. the ſummes of Levi] in Greeke, the Levites. What they were to doe, is expreſſed by Moſes, but may be gathered by their office here deſcribed, to miniſter, &c. and by verſe 8. where prayer is made for atonement. And ſo the Hebrews expaine it, that the Elders were to waſh their hands, and ſay, Our hands have not ſhed, &c. (ver. 7.) and the Priests ſaid, Make expiation for thy people, &c. verſe 8. Maimony treat. of Murder, ch. 9. ſect. 3. to miniſter] the Greeke ſaith, to ſtand before him. See Deut. 10. 8. their mouth] that is, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, their word, meaning the word of God which they ſhould ſhew, Ezek. 44. 23, 24. ſhall be] to wit, judged, or tried, or (as this caſe ſeemeth to import) expiated. ſtroke] or or plague; in Chaldee, plague of leprosie: See the notes on Deut. 17. 8.

6 Verſ. 6. all the Elders] both the Magiſtrates then bearing office, and ſuch as had borne it before. For all ſuch were called Elders, as appeareth by Lu 18. 14. where the Princes and Elders of Succoth, were threescore and ſeventeen men. So in this caſe, the Hebrewes ſay, The Judges of this citie, with all the Elders, although they be an hundred, they all waſh their hands there, in the place where the beiffers necke is ſtricken off. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 9. ſect. 3. ſhall waſh] in ſigne that they were innocent of that blood-ſhed: as Pſal. 26. 6. Matt. 27. 24.

7 Verſ. 7. ſhall answer] that is, ſhall ſpeak: for ſo the word answer is often uſed for the beginning of a ſpeech, Iob 3. 2. have not ſhed] or, baſh not ſhed: for the Hebrew hath a double reading, implying both ſingular and plurall; to ſignifie that they had not any hand in this murder. not ſeene it] to wit, ſhed by any other: for elſe, this expiation had not bene thus made, as is noted on v. 1.

8 Verſ. 8. Make expiation] or Make atonement: in Greeke, be mercifull. Here the Chaldee verſion addeth, The Priests ſhall ſay, Make expiation, &c. and ſo the Hebrewes explaine it, as is noted on verſe 5. baſt redeemed] the Greeke addeth, out of the land of Egypt. lay not innocent blood] Hebr. give not, that is, as the Chaldee openeth it, give not the guilt of innocent blood; in our phraſe, lay it not to their charge. The Greeke tranſlateth, that there may not be innocent blood in thy people. To give, is often uſed for to ſuffer, (as is noted on Gen. 20. 6.) in which ſenſe it may alſo bee taken here, ſuffer not innocent blood, to wit, to be unpuniſhed, but bring the murderer to light. expiated for them] or, mercifully ſo given them: but the murderer (if afterward hee were taken) was not hereby forgiven, which the Hebrewes gather from the next words, ſaying; Although the murderer be found after the beheading of the beiffer, yet he is to bee killed; for it is writt. n (Deut. 21. 9.) And thou ſhalt put away innocent blood. Maim. treat. of Murder, chap. 10. ſect. 8.

9 Verſ. 9. innocent blood] that is, the guilt thereof: but the Chaldee addeth, the ſhedder of innocent blood, according to the former expoſition. right in the eyes] the Greeke tranſlateth, that which is good and pleaſing before the Lord.

DDD Here beginneth the nine and fortieth Section, or Lecture of the Law: See Gen. 6. 9.

10 Verſ. 10. delivered them] Hebr. given (or delivered him) ſpeaking of the multitude of enemies, as of one man; ſo after. captivity of them] Hebr. captivity of him: that is, a multitude of captives or priſoners. So in Num. 21. 1. This Law is like the Bill of divorce, Deut. 24. which our Saviour telleth, was ſuffered for the hardnes of mens hearts, Mat. 19. 8. And the Hebrewes themſelves, (though much addicted to ſtrange wom:n, and plurality of wives) underſtand this Law with ſundry limitations, and to be partly for neceſſity, when men in the warres were abſent from their wives, and tempted with concupiſcence.

Verſ. 11. In the captivity] that is, amongſt the captives; or priſoners. At any other time, the Hebrewes ſay, this was not lawfull. baſt a deſire] or affecteſt, ſetteſt thy love, as Gen. 34. 8. and wouldeſt take her] or, and takeſt her, to wit, by promiſe. The Hebrewes ſay, or Souldiers that come into the heathens coaſt, that they may in their hunger, eat ſwines fleſh, or other unclean meats, when they can get no other: And ſo a man may lie with an beaten woman, if his concupiſcence urge him thereto; but he may not lie with her and goe his way, but muſt bring her home to his houſe; and he may not lie with her the ſecond time, untill he have married her. Neither is it lawfull for him to take this beautifull woman, ſave in the time of captivity, as it is writt; And thou ſeſt in the captivity, &c. Neither is it lawfull to lie with two, for it is ſaid, H E R: nor lawfull to take two, and lie with the one, and leave the other for his brother. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Kings and Warres, chap. 8. ſect. 1, 2, 3. This lying with her, ſeemeth to bee implied in thoſe words, thou haſt humbled her, v. 14. which phraſe is not uſed, but of an eſtate out of marriage, as is noted on Gen. 34. 2.

Verſ. 12. come to thy houſe] Hebr. into the miſt of thine houſe, that is, into it, as this phraſe meaneth: See the notes on Gen. 2. 9. ſhe ſhall ſhave] the Greeke changeth the perſon, ſaying; thou ſhalt ſhave: for this being a ſhame and diſhonour unto her, (1 Cor. 11. 6. 15.) it is not likely the woman would willingly doe it, but the man (in whoſe power ſhe was) muſt ſee it done. doe her nailes] or make them, which the Chaldee expoundeth, let them grow: though the phraſe may bee taken otherwiſe, to pare or cut them (as in 2 Sam. 19. 24.) and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth; yet the letting of them grow, ſeemeth here to be meant, for her more deformity, answerable to the ſtaving of her head. The Hebrewes open it thus; After ſhe hath lien with her once, whiles ſhe is in her paganiſme, if ſhee take upon her to come under the wings of Gods Maieſty, ſhe is baptiſed for a proſelyte out of hand: and if ſhe will not, ſhe muſt remaine in his houſe thirty dayes (Deuter. 21. 13.) and ſhe is to let her nailes grow, and ſhave her head, to the end, that ſhe may be deformed in his eyes; and ſhe muſt be with him in his houſe, that he may looke upon her and loath her. And hee is to perſwade with her, that ſhe may receive (the faith:) if ſhe receive it, ſhe is made a Proſelyte, and baptiſed in all ſtrangers. And ſhe muſt tarry three moneths, one moneth weeping (for her father) and two moneths after it, and he is to take her with bill of dowry, and marriage. And if he have no delight in her, he is to ſend her away whither ſhe will, and if he ſell her, he tranſgreſſeth, &c. (Deut. 21. 14.) If ſhe will not become a Proſelyte, they perſwade with her twelve moneths. If (yet) ſhe will not, (but) receiveth the ſeven commandments which were commanded to the ſons of Noe [whereof ſee the Annotations on Gen. 9. 4] then he is to ſend her away whither ſhe will, and loe ſhe is as all other ſtrangers that dwell (in the land,) but he may not marrie her; for it is unlawfull to marry a woman which is not a Proſelyte. If ſhe be with child by his firſt lying with her; then the child is a ſtranger, and is not his ſonne for any matter, becauſe he is of an beaten mother, &c.

If

If the beautifull woman will not leave her idolatry after twelve moneths, they are to kill her: and so the citie that would make peace, they may make no covenant with them, till they renounce their idolatry, and destroy all the places thereof, and receive the other commandments which were commanded to the sons of Noe: for every heathen that yieldeth not to these commandments, are to be killed, if they be under our hand, saith Maimony in treat. of Kings, chap. 8. sect. 5.-9.

- 13 Ver. 13. raiment] in Greeke, the garments of her captivity, to wit, those wherein she was taken, and shall put on mourning weeds: which was another signe of her humiliation, and meanes to withdraw the mans love from her, if she continued in her unbelief. remain] or, sit in thine house, where thou maist behold and observe her carriage. a moneth of dayes] that is, thirty dayes, an whole moneth. This was in respect of her speciall case forementioned. And whereas the Hebrewes speake of two moneths longer, (as is noted on ver. 12.) the reason thereof they elsewhere shew to be in regard of his lying with her, lest she should be with child, that so the seed of Israel might be knowne from the heathens; for by Exod. 21. 4. it appeareth, that a heathen bond-womans children were her masters, and not counted the Israelites who begat them: and by Ezr. 10. 3. 44. it is evident, that not onely the heathens wives, but such also as were borne of them, were put away. The Hebrewes say; Every woman that is divorced, or is a widow, she may not marry againe, till shee have tarried ninety dayes, besides the day of her divorce, or of her husbands death; to the end that it may be known whether she be with child or no, and that there may be prooffe whether it be the seed of her first husband, or of her second. A bond-woman that is made free, and an heathen woman that lecommeth a Proselyte, they must tarry 90. dayes. And though it be a heathen man, and his wife that become Proselytes, they separate them ninety dayes, to distinguish the seed which is begotten in holy state, from the seed which is so begotten. And so the beautifull (captive) although there is a law given her of thirty dayes for the fitting of her selfe, shee must tarry ninety dayes, for the fitting of her child. Maimony in treatise of Divorces, chap. 11. sect. 18. 21. goe in] to wit, into the (marriage) chamber, as Iudg 15. 1. and be her husband] or marry her, and so lie with her, as Deut. 24. 1. This might not be with an Infidell, Deut. 7. 2. See the Annotations there.

- 14 Ver. 14. If thou have no delight in her] This seemeth to be meant before marriage, not after: for that God allowed no such sending her away after marriage; but if after he had once lien with her, & had bumbled her (as after he speaketh;) the mans affections were withdrawne from her, by beholding her in that deformity and mournfull state within his house; then God permitted this leaving her, but with the cautions following. whether she will] Heb. to her soule, that is, according to her owne will or desire. The Greeke translateth, thou shalt send her away free. selling thou shalt not sell] that is, not at all, or shalt in no case sell her, as other captives might be; and this recompence she had, and the man sustained this losse, for that he had bumbled her; whereby God shewed compassion to this afflicted woman, and his dislike of the mans lying with her before, though for the hardnesse of mens hearts hee suffered it so to bee; as Matt. 19. 8.

make againe to thy selfe] or, serve thy selfe, make her thy servant. The Hebrew Hith-gnammer, is found only here, and in Deut. 24. 7. where the Greeke expresseth it by Katadumafies, which is to subdue, or bring under ones power; which word is used in like sense, Act. 10. 38. and Iam. 2. 6. for such as were oppressed under the power of the devill, and of rich men. So that the man, as hee might not sell this woman, so neither make a servant of her to himselfe, or others. So the Hebrewes expound it, If he sell her, he transgresseth his prohibition, Selling thou shalt not sell her, &c. And so if he subdue her, after that she is lien with, to be a bond-woman, when he hath use of her service, he transgresseth this prohibition, Thou shalt not make a gaine to thy selfe by her, for he may not serve him selfe by her. Maimony treat. of Kings, chap. 8. sect. 6. bumbled her] or, afflicted her. This word being used for unlawfull copulations, as in Gen. 34. 2. Deut. 22. 34. 39. Iudg. 19. 24. 2 Sam. 13. 12. 14. Ezek. 22. 10. 11. Lam. 5. 11. sheweth also, that God approved not of his fact; and that this sending her away, was not to be after marriage, but after his first lying with her only, as is before noted.

Ver. 15. two wives] which though it was contrary to Gods first institution, Gen. 2. 22. 23. 24. and was begun by Kains posterity, Gen. 4. 19. yet the corruption being spread over all, and even in the Church, God for a time suffered this untill the time of reformation; but approved not of it, as appeareth by Mal. 2. 15. Matth. 19. 4. 5. And here provideth by his Law, against troubles and confusion that might arise in families by such polygamy. and another hated] Hebr. and one hated; but this word one in the latter branch of the sentence, is used for another; and is so explained by the Holy Ghost: as when it is said in Mat. 24. 40. the one shall be taken, and the one left; another Evangelist expresseth it thus, the one shall be taken, and the other left, Luke 17. 36. And by hated, understand lesse loved than the other: for it is spoken by way of comparison, as in Gen. 29. 31.

Ver. 16. he maketh his sonnes to inherit] or, divide the inheritance to his sonnes: from which words the Hebrewes gather, that The first-borne which is borne after his fathers death, is not to have a double portion. Maimony treat. of Inheritances, chap. 2. sect. 3.

he may not] or, he cannot; he shall not be able; that is, it is not lawfull for him. make first-borne] that is, give the first birth-right, which was a double portion. As Joseph had the first birth-right, when a portion was given him above his brethren, 1 Chro. 5. 1. 2. Gen. 48. 5. 22. before the son] which the Greeke translateth, despising the son.

Ver. 17. acknowledge] in Chaldee, separate, to wit, by his words and actions. a double portion] Hebr. the mouth (that is, the part) of two, which the Chaldee translateth two parts, as the like phrase signifieth in Zachary 13. 8. By which which Scripture we may learne what this double portion was, that if a man had two sons, his goods were divided into three parts, whereof the eldest had two parts, and the youngest the third. For the first-borne was to be reckoned as two sons; as Joseph (who had the first birth-right, 1 Chron. 2.) was two tribes, Ephraim and Manasses. The Hebrewes explaine it thus; The first-borne is to receive a double portion of his fathers goods, Deut. 21.17. If hee leave five sonnes, and one of them is the first-borne, he is to have a third of his goods; and every of the other foure receiveth a sixth part. If hee leave six sonnes, the first-borne hath a fifth part, and every of the other eight, a tenth part. And so according to this portion doe they part alwayes. Maimony treat. of Inheritances, chapter 2. sect. 7. According to this case Eliseus desired a double portion of Elias spirit, 2 King. 2.9. that he might have so much more of his other disciples. of all that is found in the word found often signifieth things present, as Gen. 19.15. 2 Chron. 5.11. and 31.1. So in this case by the Hebrewes judgement, The first-borne had not a double portion of the goods which might come after his fathers death, but of the goods which were already his fathers, and come into his hand (or power) as is written, OF ALL THAT IS FOUND IN THE HAND OF THE FATHER, AND OF ALL THAT IS FOUND IN THE HAND OF THE MOTHER, THE FIRST-BORNE SHALL HAVE A DOUBLE PORTION. As, one of the heires of his father that dieth after the death of his father; the first-borne, and the other (brother) doe inherit his goods alike. And so if his father hath a debt owing him, or hath a ship at sea, they are of it alike. Maimony treat. of Inheritance, chap. 3. sect. 1. It is also said, found him; hee that is not found here; and by the Hebrewes it is said, that The first-borne hath not a double portion of his fathers goods: but the first-borne and another that are heires to their mother, doe share alike whether be the first-borne for inheritance, or the first that be borne. *The first-borne for inheritance, is he that is first-borne to his father, as is written, Gen. 25.26. THE BEGINNING OF HIS STRENGTH; and they respect not the time though he have borne many sonnes, if hee be the first-borne, hee hath a double portion. Hee that cometh (into the world) after untimely birth before him] is the first-borne for inheritance. Hee that is borne at his full time, if he be borne dead, hee that cometh after him, is the first-borne for inheritance. If a man have sonnes while he is an heathen, and he become a Proselyte, hee hath no first-borne for inheritance. But an Israelite that hath a sonne by a bond-woman, or by an heathen woman, forasmuch as he is not called his sonne, hee that cometh after him of an Israelitess, is the first-borne for inheritance, and hath a double portion. Maimony, ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 8, 9, 10, 11. of his strength] or, of his valour. So Iakob said of Reuben his eldest, Gen. 49.3. The Greeke translateth, of his children. And this is the first reason of the Law, from nature it selfe. the right] Hebr. the judgement; which the Greeke explaineth thus, the first birth-right is due (or belong) unto him. And this may be understood in respect of the Judgement or Law of the Lord; which is added unto the former reason from nature, and maketh the first-borne*

right more firme unto him. Wherefore as Esau before-hand sold his birth-right, & the sale was confirmed, Gen. 25.33. so generally The first-borne that selleth the portion of the birth-right before it be parted, his sale is firme, because the portion is his before it is parted, saith Maimony, treatise of Inheritance, chap. 3. sect. 6. And by reason of this right of the first-borne, his children after him doe inherit also, as this Hebrew canon sheweth, Who so hath two sonnes, a first-borne, and another, and they die both of them while he liveth, and leave children behind them, the first-borne leaveth a daughter, and the single (brother) leaveth a sonne; the sonne of the single (brother) shall inherit of the old mans goods a third part, which was his fathers portion; and the daughter of the first-borne shall inherit two thirds, which was her fathers portion. And such is the right of brethrens children, and of the fathers brothers children, and of all that doe inherit: if the father of one of the heires were a first-borne, the heire receiveth the portion of his first birth-right for him. Maimony ibidem, chap. 2. sect. 7. By this Law was fore-shadowed how the elect, the Israel of God, Gal. 6.16. which are his first-borne, Exod. 4.22. and Church of the first-borne which are written in heaven, Heb. 12.23. shall have a double portion, and inherit the good things of God, as they which have the promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Tim. 4.8. and are the heires of God, and joint-heires with Christ, Rom. 8.17. and being justified by his grace, are made heires according to the hope of eternall life, Tit. 3.7. God having begotten them againe, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for us, 1 Peter 1.4.

of gluttony and drunkenesse, ver. 20. and that gluttony to bee eating of flesh onely, and drunkenesse with wine only. Also that the son is not to be put to death, unlesse he have stolen something from his father, and bought therewith flesh and wine for riot, and eaten and drunke it without his fathers leave, in a company that are all vaine and vile persons. That a sonne only, not a daughter, is to be put to death by this Law, and hee not a little one, or a child, who is not within the rule or compasse of the commandements; nor a man that is growne up, and is in his owne power. So that hee must be at least above twelve years of age. And if he be married three moneths, and his wife bee knowne to be with child, they free him also from this Law, because it is said a sonne, and not a father. Moreover, that the father and mother must bring this rebellious sonne first to the court of three Iudges, and there complaine of his disobedience; bringing with them two witnesses of his stealth and gluttony: whereupon he is there beaten, as others are for the like crime; and this is that chastening in ver. 18. If he fall againe to stealth and riot, his father and mother bring him againe before the Magistrates, with the witnesses, and he is condemned to death. But if before sentence is passed on him, his father and mother doe relent in pitie towards him, he is let goe. If hee flee away before sentence is gone out against him, and be afterward taken when he is in mans state (which they also judge by the haire on his face) hee is not put to death; but if he scape away after sentence of condemnation, he is stoned to death whensoever hee is taken. If his father be willing to bring him to the Magistrate, and the mother not; or the mother willing, & the father not; he is not to be judged as a rebellious sonne. If either parent have lost their hand, or be lame, or be dumbe, or blind, or deafe, the sonne passeth not under this condemnation; for it is said, they must lay hold on him, and bring him, and must say, this our sonne, &c. he obeyeth not our voice, &c. These, and the like cautions, are noted by Maimony in treat. of Rebels, chap. 7. and in the Bab. Thalmud. in Sanhedrin, chap. 8. but they have not all of them sound ground from the Scripture. Howbeit if any son be by any of these exceptions saved, that he die not as a rebellious son, yet is he under all other punishments which the Magistrates inflict on other riotours, and like malefactors. the gate of his place] that is, the gate of the place where he dwelt, at which gate the Magistrates used to sit, Deut. 22. 15. and 25. 7. So the Chaldes here translateth, the gate of the judgement-hall of his place.

20 Ver. 20. a glutton] or riotour, devourer: in Hebrew Zo'el, which hath the signification of villenesse, Ier. 15. 19. The Chaldes addeth, a glutton (or riotous eater) of flesh, and a riotous drinker of wine; which words seeme also to bee understood in the Hebrew, and are so expressed in Prov. 23. 20. Be not amongst riotous drinkers of wine, amongst riotous eaters of flesh: for the riotous drinker, and the riotous eater (or glutton) shall come to poverty. Where in the latter sentence, the words flesh and wine are omitted; as here they are in Moles. And to these two, flesh and wine, the Hebrewes doe restrain this law; as before is noted: but oft times such things are named for an instance; and doe imply all other of like sort.

Ver. 21. and he shall die] or, that bee die. The sinnes of riot and drunkenesse were not by Moses Law punishable by death: this therefore was in respect of his disobedience to his parents, which greatly aggravated his sin, and for which hee was to die, when other drunkards scaped with lighter punishment. Hereupon Solomon uttered his parable, Hee that keepeth the Law, is a wise sonne; but he that is a companion of gluttons, shames his father, Prov. 28. 7. all Israel shall heare] The like is spoken of some other notorious malefactors, as Deut. 13. 11. and 17. 13. and 19. 20. So in this case, the Hebrewes say, The rebellious sonne must be proclaimed; and they publish by writings unto all Israel; In such a Court was stoned such an one, because hee was a stubborn and rebellious sonne. Maimony treatise of Rebels, chapter 7. sect. on 13.

Ver. 22. worthy of death] Hebr. of the judgement of death; which the Chaldes well expoundeth, desert of judgement to be killed. and thou hang him] The Hebrewes understand not this of putting him to death by hanging, but of hanging a man up after he was stoned to death; which was done with more detestation of some hainous malefactors. Their words are; We are commanded to hang the blasphemer, and the Idolater: and a man is hanged, but not a woman. After they are stoned to death, they fasten a peece of timber in the earib, and out of it there cometh a peece of wood; then they tie both his hands one to another, and hang them nere unto the setting of the Sunne, and let him downe out of band; and if hee abide all night, it is a transgression, Deut. 21. 23. And wee are commanded to burie all that are killed by the Iudges, the same day that they are killed. They may not be hanged on a tree that groweth in the ground, but on that which hath beene plucked up, that there may not need any cutting of it downe: for the tree that hee is hanged on is to be buried with him, that there be no evill memoriall of him, for men to say, this is the tree whereon such a man was hanged. And so the stone wherewith the stoned is killed, and the sword wherewith a man is put to death, and the napkin wherewith hee is strangled, they all are buried. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 15. sect. 6. &c. In the Scripture we have examples of Rechab and Baanah, who for murdering Ishbosheth, were by Davids commandement slaine, their hands & feet cut off, and they hanged up, 2 Sam. 4. 12. where their hanging seemeth to be after their death: & so in others; as Ios. 10. 26. which might also bee the case of the King of Ai, Ios. 8. 29. and of those Idolaters in Num. 25. 4. And the Scripture sheweth a double punishment for some hainous sins, as in Achans family, who were burned with fire, after they were stoned, Ios. 7. 25. Among the Romans afterward they hanged or fastned them to the tree alive; and such was the death of our Lord Christ, who bare our sinnes.

23 Verf. 23. burying in Greeke, in any wife bury him. This was also fulfilled in our Saviours body, which was buried the same day that he was hanged on tree, loh. 19. 31. 38. 42. he that is hanged to wit, on tree, as Gal. 3. 13. This speech, as many other of like sort, is generall; therefore the Greeke translateth, every one that is hanged on tree; and that interpretation the Apostle alleageth in Gal. 3. 13. the curse that is, curfed, as the Apostle expoundeth it (according to the Greeke version) Gal. 3. 13. And here in the utmost rigour and severity of the Law God fore-signified the riches of his grace towards sinners in Christ, who redeemed us from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for us, as appeared in that he was hanged on the tree, Gal. 3. 13. He was reckoned among the transgressors, Luke 22. 37. and God made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21. The Chaldee translateth, For because he sinned before the Lord, he is hanged. and thou shalt not defile the land or, as the Greeke translateth, and the land shall not be defiled: which might bee by the monument of Gods curse remaining upon it visibly. So the buriall was to abolish the curse from appearing in the Lords land. A figure of the fruit and effect of our Saviours buriall, whereby the rigour of the Law was declared to be satisfied, and all our sins defaced, and removed out of Gods sight, that they shall never be imputed unto us.

1 THou shalt not see thy brothers ox or his sheepe goe astray, and hide thy selfe from them; restoring thou shalt
2 restore them unto thy brother. And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or thou knowest him not, then thou shalt gather it into thine house, and it shall be with thee untill thy brother seeke after it, and thou shalt restore it unto him. And so shalt thou doe
3 with his asse, and so shalt thou doe with his raiment, and so shalt thou doe with every losse of thy brother, which shall be lost by him, and thou hast found it; thou maist not hide thy selfe.

4 Thou shalt not see thy brothers asse or his ox fallen in the way, & hide thy selfe from them: lifting thou shalt lift them up with him.

5 A mans ornament shall not be upon a woman, neither shall a man put on a womans garment; for every one that doth these things is an abomination to Jehovah thy God.

6 If a birds nest chance to be before thee in the way, in any tree, or on the ground, young ones, or egges, and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the egges, thou shalt not take the dam with the young. Sending thou shalt send away the dam, and the young thou shalt take unto thee, that it may be well with thee, and thou maist prolong thy daies.

8 When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy rooffe, that thou put not blouds in thine house, if any falling fall from it.

9 Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers kinds, lest the full-ripe fruit, the seed which thou hast sowed, and the revenue of the vineyard be defiled.

10 Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an asse together. Thou shalt not weare linsie-woollic, wooll and flax together.

12 Fringes shalt thou make unto thee, upon the foure skirts of thy vesture which thou coverest thee withall.

13 If a man take a wife, and goe in unto her, and hate her, And lay against her occasions of speech, and bring forth upon her an evill name, and say, I tooke this woman, and I came nigh unto her, and I found her not to have virginity: Then shall the father of the damosell, and her mother, take and bring forth the virginity of the damosell unto the Elders of the citie, in the gate. And the father of the damosell shall say unto the Elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife, & he hateh her. And loe, hee hath laid against her occasions of speech, saying, I found not thy daughter to have virginity; & this is my daughters virginity: and they shall spread the cloth before the Elders of the citie. And the Elders of that citie shall take the man, and shall chastise him.

19 And they shall amearce him in an hundred shekels of silver, and give them unto the father of the damosell, because hee hath brought forth an evill name upon a Virgin of Israel, and shee shall be his to wife; hee may not send her away all his dayes. But if this word bee truth, and virginity be

- 21 not found for the damosell. Then they shall bring out the damosell unto the doore of her fathers house, and the men of her citie shall stone her with stones, and she shall die, because she hath done folly in Israel, to commit whoredome in her fathers house: and thou shalt put away evill from the midst of thee.
- 22 If a man bee found lying with a woman married to an husband, then they shall die, even both of them; the man that lyeth with the woman, and the woman: and thou shalt put away evill from Israel.
- 23 If there be a damosell a virgin betrothed to a man, and a man find her in the citie, and lie with her: Then yee shall bring out both of them unto the gate of that citie, and yee shall stone them with stones, and they shall die; the damosell because she cried not out in the citie, and the man because hee hath humbled his neighbours wife: and thou shalt put away evill from the midst of thee.
- 24 And if in the field a man doe find a betrothed damosell, and the man take strong hold on her, and lie with her, then the man that lay with her shall die, hee onely. But unto the damosell thou shalt not doe any thing; there is in the damosell no sinne of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour, and killeth him in soule, so is this matter. For he found her in the field; the betrothed damosell cryed out, and there was none to save her.
- 25 If a man find a damosell a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found: Then the man that lieth with her shall give unto the damosells father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his to wife, because hee hath humbled her; he may not send her away all his daies.
- 26 A man shall not take his fathers wife, nor discover his fathers skirt.

Annotations.

I Thy brothers axe] yea though it be thine enemies, Exod. 23. 4. goe astray] Hebr. driven away, or thrust out of the way, by any meanes of themselves, or others: as by a dog, hunted from the flocke or fold, and the like. The Greeke and Chaldee translate, erring in way, and going astray. See the notes on Deut. 4. 19. This dutie required towards beasts, is much more towards men; as God applieth the similitude in Ezek. 34. 4. 16. And as we all were like sheepe going astray, 1 Pet. 2. 25. so are wee daily subject to stray from the truth, and have need one of anothers helpe; whereupon it is said, Brethren, if any of you doe erre (or goe astray) from the truth, and am convert him; let him know, that hee which converteth the sinner from the errors of his way, shall save a soule from death, and shall hide a multitude of sinnes, Iam. 5. 19. 20. hid thy selfe] that is, with-hold thine helpe: the Greeke translateth it, wink at, that is, neglect, or not regard: See Levit. 20. 4. restoring, &c.] that is, thou shalt in any case restore, or bring againe. So here are two precepts; a prohibition to hide, and a commandement to restore: and thus the Hebrewes observe a double sinne in them that breake this Law, and sometimes a treble. He that seeth a lost thing of any Israelites, and hideth himselfe from it, and letteth it alone, transgresseth this prohibition, THOU SHALT NOT HIDE THY SELFE FROM THEM; and breaketh this commandement, THOU SHALT RESTORE, &c. If hee take the lost thing, and restore it not, hee breaketh the commandement (THOU SHALT RESTORE) and transgresseth against two prohibitions, against THOU MAIST NOT HIDE THY SELFE, (Deut. 22. 3.) and against THOU SHALT NOT ROB, (Levit. 19. 13.) Although the owner of the lost thing be a wicked man, &c. wee are commanded to restore his lost thing to him. If hee have restored it, and it be steeled away againe, though on hundred times, hee is bound to restore it; for it is written, RESTORING THOU SHALT RESTORE THEM. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 4. treatise of Robbery and losse, chap. 11. sect. 1. 2. 14. unto thy brother] either to his owne hands, or to the place where it was and should be. For, if he see a beast that is steeled out of the fold, and he returneth it into the place thereof, let hee haue kept this commandement, and there is no need to make it knowne unto the owner, saith Maimony ibidem, chap. 11. sect. 16.

Verf. 2. gather it] that is, take it in. into thine house] Hebr. into the midst of thine house; whereby is meant within the same, as the phraze often signifieth: See the notes on Genes. 2. 9. But this teacheth a care to keepe it safe. seeke after it] But he that found it, is also to use meanes that the owner may know of it; and the Hebrewes say, Hee is bound to cry it, and make it knowne, saying, Who so hath lost such a kind of thing, let him come and give the signes of it, and he shall have it. At the first, who so hath found any thing, crieth it three times. After the last time, within seven dayes hee crieth it the fourth time. If the owner come not, the thing found is to be left with him that found it; and if in all that time it be stollen, or lost, he is bound to make satisfaction; but if it be gone by violence, hee is free. For hee that keepeth a lost thing, is as hee that keeps for hire, &c. [whereof see the Annotations on Exod. 22. 10.] And hee must have care that the thing be not murthered, or perished. If it be a living thing which hee must give food unto; if it be a working (beast) as an horse, asse, &c. hee may put them to labour twelve moneths from the day that hee found them, or let them out for hire, and take their hire, and give them food; and and if the hire be more worth than their food, the overplus is the owners, &c. Afterwards they are sold by the Magistrate. Maim. treat. of Robbery and losse, chap. 13. sect. 1. &c.

3. Verſ. 3. [every loſſe] that is, every loſt thing: and by like proportion, a man is to keepe his neighbours goods from loſſe or perilling; as, Hee that ſeeth the water to overflow, and it cometh to marre his neighbours houſe, or his field, hee is bound to ſtop the ſame, &c. Maimony treat. of Robbery and loſſe, chap. 11. ſect. 20. which ſhall be loſt] Hence the Hebrewes obſerve, that if a man will loſe his goods wittingly, men are not bound unto him. As, if hee put his beaſt into a ſtable which hath no doore, and hee ſeeth it not, and ſo it goeth away. If he caſt his purſe into a place common for all, and goeth his way, or any the like, hee loſeth his goods wittingly. And though it be not lawfull for him that ſeeth this thing, to take it for himſelfe, hee is not bound to bring it againe (to the owner) for it is ſaid, WHICH SHALL BEE LOST, to put a difference from him that loſeth wittingly. Maimony ibidem, chap. 11. ſect. 11. thou maiſt not] that is, it is not lawfull to hide thy ſelfe, or, to let it alone. Here they put ſome exceptions, as they ſay, A Priest that ſeeth a loſt thing in a place of buriall, muſt not deſile himſelfe to returne it againe, becauſe when hee keepeth one commandment of reſtoring the loſt thing, hee breaketh another commandment which ſaith, THEY SHALL BEE HOLY (Levit. 21. 6.) and tranſgreſſeth a prohibition, HEE SHALL NOT DEFILE HIMSELFE, &c. (Levit. 21. 4.) and a commandment doth not put away (or cauſe a man to tranſgreſſe) a prohibition and a commandment. On the contrary, If one ſee a thing loſt, and his father ſay unto him, Reſtore it not, he muſt reſtore it, and not obey him: for if he obey his father, hee is found at the time when hee keepeth this commandment, HONOR THY FATHER, that hee breaketh this commandment, THOU SHALT RESTORE IT; and tranſgreſſeth this prohibition, THOU MAIſT NOT HIDE THY SELFE. Maim. ibidem, c. 11. ſ. 18, 19.

4. Verſ. 4. [thy brothers aſſe] in Exod. 23. 5. he ſaith, thyne haters aſſe; that men ſhould not thinke theſe Lawes binde us to doe good unto our friends onely. So our Saviour ſaith, Love your enemies, doe good to them that hate you, Matt. 5. 44. fallen] that is, lying under his burden, Exod. 23. 5. So fallen, was uſed before for lying, Deut. 21. 1. Though here it may be taken more generally. and hide thy ſelfe] that is, forbear to helpe him up, Exod. 23. 5. lifting, &c.] or, raiſing thou ſhalt raiſe them up, that is, helpe to doe it, in any caſe, though it be againe and againe. This the Hebrewes underſtand to be another commandment from that in Exod. 23. 5. which they open thus; Who ſo meeteth with his neighbour in the way, and his beaſt lying under a burden, &c. hee he is commanded to unloſe it from upon him; and this is commanded to be done, in Exod. 23. 5. And he muſt not unloſe it, and leave him preſently and goe his way, but muſt liſt it up with him, and againe lay the burden upon him, Deuteronomie. 22. 4. this is another commandment. And if he leave him pre-ſently, and doe not unloſe it off him, nor load him, hee breaketh a commandment which ought to be done, and tranſgreſſeth in that which ought not to be done; as it is ſaid, THOU SHALT NOT SEETH BROTHERS ASSE, &c. If when he is unloſed, and laden againe, he fall againe, he is bound to beſe him up another time, yea though it be an hundred times; for it is written, HELPING THOU SHALT HELPE VP, LIFTING THOU SHALT LIFT VP. Therefore he muſt goe a mile backe with him, unleſſe the owner ſay, I have need of thee. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 3. ſect. 1. &c.

Verſ. 5. [A mans ornaments] or inſtruments, apparell, drefſe. The Hebrew Cſi is a generall word for all inſtruments, veſſels, ornaments, whatſoever; and here for all apparell and furniture whatſoever a man putteth on him, in time of peace, or of war: and ſo the Chaldee tranſlateth it armour, or weapons, which is alſo forbidden a woman to weare. And this precept concerneth natural honetty and ſemelinneſſe, which hath perpetual equity, 1 Cor. 11. 4. 5. 6. 14. And it is to prevent many evils which may ariſe if men and women ſhould bee clad alike. It is probable alſo, that the law was given in regard of the abuſe among other nations, and particularly among the Egyptians, (with whom Iſrael had lived:) for humane Writers teſtifie that the Egyptian women did go abroad & uſe merchandiſe, &c. & the men did weave within the houſes, Herodot. in Euterpe. The Hebrewes explaine it thus, A woman may not put on a mans ornament, as to put a miſter, or an helmet on her head, or to put on an habergeon, or the like, or to pull her head like a man. Neiſter may a man put on a womans ornament, as coloured garments, or golden jewells, in the place where men uſe not to weare ſuch jewells, but women only: all, according to the cuſtome of the country (wherein they live.) A man that putteth on a womans attire, and a woman that putteth on a mans, is to be beaten (by the Magiſtrate.) Maim. treat. of Idolatrie, chap. 13. ſect. 10. The attire of the body ſpiritually ſignifieth the ornaments of the minde, Pſal. 132. 9. 16. Rev. 3. 18. ſo men ſhould not change their nature, to become effeminate; as the Egyptians and Babylonians are threatned to be like women, Eſay 19. 16. Ier. 50. 37. and 51. 39. And in the Churches women are to be ſilent, and not ſpeake as men, 1 Cor. 14. 34. I ſuffer not a woman to teach, nor to uſurpe authoritie over the man, but to be in ſilence, 1 Tim. 2. 12. abomination to Iehovah] Hebr. the abomination of Iehovah, that is, abhorred of him, which the Chaldee expoundeth, an abomination before the LORD.

Verſ. 6. [chance to be] that is, if unawares thou meeteſt with it, or lighteſt upon it. So the Greek tranſlateth, If thou meeteſt with a birds neſt before thy face. or on the ground] or in any other place, as on the water, or the like; for theſe are put but for an inſtance, becauſe uſually birds neſtle either on trees, or on the ground. So the Hebrewes expound it: He that findeth a neſt upon the waters, or on the backe of any living creature, is bound to let the damme goe. The young or the egges are not mentioned tiared, neither the tree or ground, but that the Scripture speaketh by an instance. Maimony tom. 2. in Shechitah, chap. 13. sect. 17. the damme]

the mother: so after, sonnes for young ones; which names the Scripture giveth to all living things; and the Greeke and Chaldee keepe the Hebrew phrase, mother and children. The Hebrewes understand this precisely of the damme or female only, and say, A male that is found sitting upon a nest, is free from being sent away; (that is, a man is not bound to let it goe:) Maim. ibidem, sect. 10. thou shalt not take] to wit, and kill, for that is chiefly here intended. Hee that taketh the damme with the young, and killeth her, the flesh is lawfull to be eaten but he is to be beaten for killing the damme. And so if she die before hee let her goe, he is to be beaten: but if hee let her goe after hee hath taken her, he is free. Maimony in Shechitah, chap. 13. sect. 1. Compare herewith the Law in Levit. 22. 28. Whether it be Cow or Ewe, yet shall not kill it and her young both in one day.

7 Verf. 7. Sending thou shalt send] that is, in any wise send away (or let goe) the damme. This shewed the strictnesse of the precept, which also must be done willingly, upon the former penaltie. For every prohibition, after which commeth a precept affirmative, a man is bound to performe the precept concerning it; and if hee performe it not, he is to be beaten. If one come and snatch the damme out of his hand, and send her away, or if shee escape away from under his hand against his will, hee is to be beaten; for till hee send her away of himselfe, hee performeth not the precept concerning her. If hee take the damme, and clip her wings, that shee cannot fly, and then send her away, he is to be chastised with stripes; and hee must keepe her by him till her wings bee growne, and then send her away. And if shee die before, or be lost, hee is to be beaten, for hee hath not performed the commandment. If he send her away and shee come againe, he must send her away againe, though it be foure or five times; for it is said, SENDING THOU SHALT SEND HER AWAY. If one say, I will take the damme, and send away the young, hee is bound to send away the damme. The sending away of the damme is not in use, save for cleane birds, &c. Maimony in Shechitah, chap. 13. sect. 2, 3, 4, 6, 8. It is unlawfull to take the damme with the young, though it bee to cleanse a Leper with them, which is a thing commanded, (Levit. 14. 4.) and if hee take her hee is bound to send her away: for a commandment is not of force to disannull a prohibition and a commandment; but a commandment and a prohibition doe disannull a commandment. Ibidem, section 19. God by this Law teacheth us mercy and pietie; (as it is noted for barbarous cruelty, when the mother is killed with the children, Hos. 10. 14. Gen. 32. 11.) therefore when the bird is hatching her egges, or cherishing her young, shee may not be killed. And as the Hebrewes say, If shee were sitting but upon one young, or one egge, a man was bound to send her away: howbeit, that if she were taken from the nest by hunting, it was lawfull: the Law forbiddeth not save to burne (or take) her when shee cannot flye away for (affection to) her young which

shee hateleth; as it is said, AND THE DAM SITTING VPON THE YOUNG, &c. Maimony in Shechitah, chap. 13. sect. 16. 7. And this law for compassion towards birds, teacheth compassion towards mankind much more; as when he saith, Thou shalt not mou sell the oxe, Deut. 25. 4. the Apostle sheweth it to be written for our sakes, 1 Cor. 9. 9. 10. So the Hebrewes here say, This is to lead us unto mercy, and to take out of our hearts crueltie and the like (affections,) not that the intent of the commandment is to shew compassion unto birds, &c. but to mankind. R. Menachem on Deut. 25. 7. fol. 210. prolong thy dayes] The like blessing is promised to them that honour father and mother, Deut. 5. 16. the Hebrewes account that one of the great commandments; and this of the bird they count the least of all in Moses law: and yet such a promise is annexed hereunto.

Verf. 8. a new house] to wit, a dwelling house; for so the Hebrewes explaine it, It is commanded to make a battlement for the rooſe, if it bee a dwelling house; but a barne, or a stable, or the like, a man is not bound concerning them. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 11. sect. 1. a battlement] in Greeke, a crowne: which was to compasse the rooſe of the house round about, to keepe men from falling off. For in Israel the houses had flat rooſes, on which men walked, 2 Sam. 11. 2. and from thence they called & spake to the people: whereupon Christ speaketh of preaching, and proclaiming upon the house tops, Matt. 10. 27. Luke 12. 3. The height of the battlement might not be lesse than ten hand-bredths [six of which hand-bredths made a cubit] and it was to be strong, that a man might lean thereon, and not fall. Maimony treatise of Murder, chap. 11. sect. 3. that thou put not] or, and thou shalt not put blouds, which the Greeke translateth, and thou shalt not make man-slaughter in thy house; and the Chaldee, for blouds, saith guilt of murder, as the word blouds often signifieth: see Gen. 4. 10. By this it appeareth, that all other occasions of blood-shed were to be prevented in other places, as well as on house tops. Which the Hebrewes declare thus; Whether it be the house top, or any other thing, wherein there is danger and likelihood that a man may fall and dye; and if a man have a pit or Well in his yard, have it water in it, or not, he is bound to make a fence about it ten hand-bredths high, or to make a cover over it, that no man fall therein and die. And so any stumbling blocke whereby there is danger of life, a man is commanded to remove the same, and to beware thereof, and to give warning of the thing very heedfully. Otherwise if he remove them not, but leave stumbling blocks that may bring into danger, he breaketh a commandment, and transgresseth this prohibition, of PVT T I N G B L O V D S. Maimony treat. of Murder, chap. 11. sect. 4.

Verf. 9. thy vineyard] nor any other field, 19. 19. draws kinds] or mixtures, as wheat, and barley together, or the like. See the Annotations on Levit. 19. 19. The Hebrewes divide seeds into three sorts. The first of them is called Tebuah, (Reverence,) and it comprehendeth the five kinds of graine, Wheat

Wheat, Rye, Barley, Foxe-eare-barley, and Oats. The second of them is called Ketannah (pulse) and is comprehended all seeds which are eaten of men, besides the Revenue (aforesaid) as Beans, Pease, Lentiles, Millet, Rice, &c. and such like. The third of them are called Garden seeds; and they are all other seeds which are not meet for mans meat, but the fruit of the seed is mans meat: as the seed of Onions, and of Garlick, and of Rapes, and such like. And six seed is comprehended under the generall of garden seeds. And all the seeds when they are growne up, and all the while the seed is not discerned, are called Herbs. Maimony tom. 3. in Kilajim, chap. 1. sect. 8. Now of this Law concerning vineyards they write thus; Nothing is forbidden by the name of divers kinds in the vineyard, but the kinds of the revenue (of corne) and the kinds of herbe only: other kinds of seeds are lawfull to be sown in the vineyard; and I need not say other trees. It is unlawfull to sow herbs or corne by the vines sides, or to plant a vine by the sides of herbs or corne. Whether a man plant, or let them grow, when hee seeth divers kinds spring up in his vineyard, if hee hope them so, it is defiled. Maimony, ibidem, chap. 5. sect. 6, 7, 8. the full-ripe fruit [Hebr. the fulnesse (or plenty) which the Greek tranlateth here, the fruits elsewhere the first-fruits: see Exod. 23. 29. and Numb. 18. 27. By the Hebrewes, a vineyard while the grapes were unripe, was not defiled: and unripe grapes were lawfull for use. Maim. in Kilajim, chap. 5. sect. 14. the seed] the Greeke addeth, and the seed, which thou shalt sow with the fruit of thy vineyard. Others understand, the fruit of the seed. and the revenue] or, income, increase. The Scripture useth this word for the increase of the corne or floore, and of the vine or winepresse, Numb. 11. 30. So it may be taken here, for either, or for both of them; for both were defiled. The Hebrewes apply this word to the five kinds of graine fore-noted, and unto them also when they are eared, and before they be threshed: as in another place they say, The five kinds, namely Wheat, Barley, Rye, Foxe-eare-barley, and Oats, these five when they are eared, are called Tebuah (Revenue) in every place; after that they be threshed and winnowed, they are called Dagan (Corne or Graine;) and when they are ground, and their meale kneaded and baked, they are called Path (Bread.) Maimony tom. 1. treat. of Blessings, chap. 3. sect. 1. be defiled] or, be sanctified, as the Hebrew word properly and usually signifieth; and so the Greeke tranlateth, that it be not sanctified. Whereby some understand that the fruit should be separated from common use, and made holy to the Lord, and be eaten by the Priests. But words oft times have contrary significations, as Borae to blisse, is used for Cursing or Blaspheming, 1 King. 21. 10, 13. Chesed is Pietie and Impietie, Lev. 30. 17. So this word here is by the Chaldee paraphrast translated defiled; and by the other Hebrewes elsewhere so expounded. The divers kinds (or mixtures) of the vineyard, as any of the sorts of corne, or sorts of herbs that are sown with a vine, whether an Israelite sow them, or an Iudathen, &c. both of them are unlawfull to be eaten, or put to any use (or profit) as it is written, (in Deut. 32. 9.) LEST IT BE DEFILED, &c. as if he should say, lest both of them be made abominable and unlawfull. And whose eateib ought of the mixtures of a vineyard, either of the herbs, or of the Grapes, is to be beaten by the Law. Maimony tom. 2. treat. of Forbidden meats, chap. 10. sect. 6, 7. The same Author in tom. 3. treat. Kilajim, chap. 5. layeth downe also these canons: He that soweth two kinds of corne, or two kinds of herbes, with the seed of the vineyard, he is to be beaten; once for this, Thou shalt not sow thy field with divers kinds, (Levit. 19. 19.) and againe for this, Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers kinds, (Deut. 22. 9.) A man is not to be beaten for sowing divers kinds in the vineyard, until he sow within the land of Israel, &c. But our Doctors have forbidden to sow divers kinds in the vineyard, though out of the land, because the divers kinds in the vineyard are naughty; for if they be sown within the land of Israel, they are unlawfull to be used: and seeing they are unlawfull for any use within the land, they are unlawfull to be sown without the land. It is unlawfull to sow herbs or corne by a vines side, or to plant a vine-tree by herbs or by corne; and if a man doe so, though he is not to be beaten, yet both of them are defiled, and not to be put to any use, either the herbes, or the corne, or the vine, but they burne them both, as it is written, LEST THE FULL-RIPE FRUIT, &c. BE DEFILED: though it be the straw of the corne, or the wood of the Vine-tree, they are unlawfull for any use, but they burne them; neither may they beate an Oven, or a cauldron, or boile anything with them when they burne them. These and sundry like observations they have hereabouts, not altogether without probability: and herein the mixtures of the vineyard exceed the mixtures of the field, which they thinke might be used and eaten, though it was sin to sow them, as is noted on Levit. 19. 19. This Law, with other such like, was typicall, and pertained to the rudiments of Moses Law: where by it seemeth unto me, God taught them the simple and sincere estate of his Church. For in myterie, the vineyard of the Lord of hosts was the house of Israel, and the men of Judah the plants of his pleasures, Esay 5. 7. and he planted them a noble vine, wholly a right (or true) seed; though they turned into degenerate branches of a strange vine unto him, Jer. 2. 21. Now also the Church is a vineyard, Christ himselfe the vine, and we the branches, Joh. 15. 1, 5. and this vineyard God would not have sown with divers kinds, or mixed with the prophane and unbelievers, lest all be defiled, 2 Cor. 6. 14, 18. Mar. 3. 7, 10. Rev. 21. 24, 27.

Verse 10. with an oxe and an asse] the oxe was a cleane beast, the asse an uncleane: the Hebrews understand this law generally; plowing, for all worke; and the oxe and the asse, for all cleane and uncleane beasts together. Whosoever doth worke with two kinds of cattell or beasts together, and the one of them is of a cleane kinde, and the other of an uncleane, he is to be beaten in every place, Deuteronomie 22. 10. Whether he plow, or sow, or draw a wagon or a stone with them together, &c. he is to be beaten.

And

And whether it be oxe and asse, or any two kindes, wherof one is uncleane and the other cleane, either of cattell, as a swine and a sheepe; or of wilde beasts, as a wilde oxe and an Elephant; or beast with cattell, as a dogge with a goat, or the like; for any of these be it by the Law to be beaten. If a wagon be drawne with beasts of diuers kindes, be that sitteth on the wagon is to be beaten: and if one sit on the wagon, and another guide it, they are both beaten, yea though they be an hundred that guide it, they are all beaten. It is lawfull to doe worke with a man and a beast together: for the Law saith, WITH AN OXE AND AN ASSE; it saith not, with a man and an asse, or with a man and an oxe. A (cleane) beast that is become polluted (or unse) for sacrifice, though it be but one body, yet the Scripture maketh it as two bodies, for that it was holy, and was made as holy and as profane mixt together; and this beast is found as a cleane beast with an uncleane beast mixed in one; as it is said (in Leviticus 27. 11.) IF IT BE AN UNCLEANE BEAST, OF WHICH THEY DOE NOT OFFER A SACRIFICE TO THE LORD: we have bene taught, that this is not spoken but of beasts disabled for a sacrifice. Therefore be that ploweth with an oxe disabled for sacrifice is to be beaten as for mixed kindes; but this prohibition is come by tradition. Maimony in Killajim, chap. 9. sect. 7. -11. This Law was also typicall, and bindeth not us now, according to the letter, but figured out the Ministers in the Church, as did the oxe that treadeth out the corne, which might not be muzzled, Deuteronomie 25. compared with 1 Corinthians 9. 8, 9, -11. 1 Timoth. 5. 17. & 4. 18. These in the Lords plow, (that is, in the ministry of his word, Luke 9. 62.) must not be mixed of cleane and uncleane, of the servants of Christ and of Antichrist, 2 Corinth. 6. 14, 15.

- 11 Verse 11. linse-wolfie] in Hebrew, Shagnatnez, expounded in Greeke, Kibdela, which signifieth things adulterate, or impurely mixed. Moses explaineth it after, saying, wooll and flax together, unto which onely the Hebrews restraine it, as is more largely noted on Levit. 19. 19. This Law was also figurative: the garments of the Saints are principally Christ himselfe, as it is written, Put ye on the Lord Iesus Christ, Rom. 13. 14. he hath given unto his Church, that she should be arrayed in fine linnen, cleane and bright, which is the righteousness of the Saints, Revelat. 19. 8. that we may be found in him, not having our owne justice (or righteousness) which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ; the righteousness of God by faith, Phil. 3. 9. There are also other vertues and graces of the Spirit, wherewith the faithfull are adorned, which are good works, 1 Timoth. 2. 9, 10. 1 Pet. 3. 3, 4. but in the case of our justification before God, these may not be mixed together, for a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the Law, Rom. 3. 28. Gal. 3. 16. And as by the letter of this Law, in the Hebrews account, one threed of wooll in a linnen garment, or one linnen threed in a woollen garment, made it unlawfull, (as is noted on Lev. 19. 19.) though linnen or woollen garments were worne severally: so justification by faith in Christ, and by our owne good workes, are so opposite, as that they cannot agree together in one man by any manner of mixture, in the case of justification before God; but, if it be by grace, then is it no more of workes; otherwise grace is no more grace: and if it be of workes, then is it no more grace, otherwise worke is no more worke, Romans 11. 6. Galathians 3. 10. wooll and flax] that is, woollen and linnen together, which the Greeke translateth, in the same: the Chaldee, wooll and flax joynd (or mixt) together.

Verse 12. Fringes] in Hebrew Gedilim, which elsewhere is translated, wreathes, in 1 King. 7. 17. and the wreathes spoken of in Exod. 28. 24. and the ropes (or cords) in Judg. 16. 11, 12. are by the Chaldee translated, Gedilim: and the Greeke here expoundeth it Sirepis, that is, wreathes, or cords: for they were twisted threeds or thrumba, which hung upon their garments. Moses called them before Tisfish, Num. 15. 38. of the lockes of haire like which they did hang. These are the same, though called here by another name; and the Chaldee translateth both Tisfish and Gedilim, by the word Cruspedim, which is borrowed of the Greeke Crasseda, which name the holy Ghost giveth to these Fringes, in Mat. 23. 5. where Christ blameth the Pharisees hypocrisie for making their Phylacteries broad, and (crasseda) the fringes of their garments large. The making of these by the Jews, is shewed on Num. 15. 38, &c. Here Moses having repeated the mysteries concerning the Church, in ver. 9. of the ministration, in ver. 10. and of the doctrine, in verse 11. addeth to them this law of the fringes, which were signes annexed to the word, and visible tokens, for them to looke upon, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and doe them, and be holy unto their God, Numbers 15. 39, 40. See more in the Annotations on that place.

Verse 13. take a wife] that is, marry her: for the taking is after the betrothing or espousals, Mat. 1. 18, 20. And before marriage, the betrothed persons might not come together, as the equitie of this Law following sheweth. So by the Hebrews: The spouse is to be restrained from her husband, by the doctrine of the Scribes, all the while she is in her fathers house: and he that lieth with his spouse in his father in lawes house, is to be chastised with stripes. Maimony treat. of Wives, chap. 10. sect. 1. After in the same place he sheweth him the manner of marriage among them, that it was to be with blessings (or thanksgivings) unto God, in an assembly of ten men at the least, and with a dowrie bill which the Scrivener wrote, and the bridegroom paid for, whereby he endowed his spouse, if she were a virgin, with two hundred dinars [that is, fifty shekels] and if she had bene married before, with 100. dinars, [that is, 25. shekels] and this was called the root (or principall) of the dowrie: the dowrie might not be lesse, but more so much as he would, though it were to a talēt of gold. After the dowrie bill was confirmed by witnesses, the bridegroom went with his spouse into the privy chamber, (or closet, such as is mentioned in Joel Joel 2. 16.) and this was the consummation of the marriage. And who so married a virgin was to rejoyce with her seven dayes, (as Gen. 29. 27. Iudg. 14. 10. 12.) and with a widow three dayes, not doing any worke those dayes, but eating, drinking, and rejoycing. goe in] into the chamber, Iudg. 15. 1. and by consequence, lie with her. The Greeke translateth, dwell (or house) together with her: which word the Apottle useth, 1 Peter 3. 7.

have her] which ought not to be towards any, least of all towards his wife, whom hee ought to love as his owne body; for no man ever yet hated his owne flesh, Ephes. 5. 28. 29.

14 Ver. 14. lay against her] or put upon her. occasions of speech] or, of words, that is, of evill words: or, pretences of words, that is, pretended words, or pretended matters. So the Greeke translateth, pretended words; they are such as have a colour and shew of truth, to excuse and hide his hatred: as long prayers were a pretense for the covetousnesse of the Pharisees, Matth. 23. 14. But pretense and truth are opposed in Phil. 1. 18. So here, and ver. 20.

bring forth] whether before the parents and friends, or unto the Magistrates, accusing her before them. Some thinke this latter to be meant, and as the Hebrewes describe it, when hee cometh unto the Court and saith, I married this damosell, and I found her not to have virginity, and when I inquired into the matter, it was made knowne to me, that shee had played the whore under me, after I was betrothed to her, and these are my witnesses that she played the whore before them. And the Judges shall heare the words of the witnesses, and examine their testimony: if the thing be found true, she is to be stoned. Maimony tom. 2. in Nagnarah bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 6. But by this order of the text, the former seemeth as probable.

to have virginity] Hebr. I found not to her virginities. The Greeke thus; and coming unto her, I found not her virginity.

15 Ver. 15. the father] to whom the injury extended, if shee were falsely defamed, or if shee had played the whore, ver. 21. and to whom the defence of the daughter did most fitly appertaine.

of the damosell] The word Nagnarah (damosell) is properly a maid marriageable, which of the Hebrewes is reckoned after twelve yeares of age: before that age she is called a little one or child; and after also, if she have not signes that she is marriageable; [such as are mentioned in Ezek. 16. 7.] After those signes she is called Nagnarah (a damosell,) till six moneths compleat, and no longer: from that day and forward, she is called Bogereith. Maimony treat. of Wives, chap. 2. sect. 1. 3. Both these, Nagnarah, (the damosell) and Bogereith, are subject to the punishment here appointed, if they be not found virgins. Maimony in Nagn. bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 7.

the virginity] that is, the signes of her virginity, in the cloth, ver. 17. and witnesses also, (as the Hebrewes say,) that they are so. the Elders] in Greeke, the senate: that is, the Magistrates. This was the Senate of 23 Iudges, for they were to put her to death if shee were guilty, v. 21. They judge not this judgement but in the Court of three and twenty; because there is in the judgement of him that bringeth forth an evill name, the judgement of life and death; for if the thing be found as he saith, then she is killed. But he that foretells a maid, Deut. 22. 28 and he that intireth her, Exod. 22. 16. they judge of them at all times, in the Court of three. Maimony in Nagnarah bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 3. the gate] the Chaldee addeth, the gate of the judgement hall of the place.

Ver. 17. occasions] or, pretenses; in Greeke, pretended words (or matters) as ver. 14. and this is] that is, these are the proofes, or the signes, is ver. 15. Hebr. these are the virginities, the cloth] wherein the signes were to be scene.

Ver. 18. the man] the husband of the damosell that is found to have accused his wife falsely. chastise him] in the Chaldee, beat him; which was the next punishment unto death. The Hebrewes say: If the father bring witnesses, which doe disprove the witnesses which the husband brought, and it be found that they have witnessed a falsehood, then they are stoned [to death; according to the law, in Deut. 19. 18, 19] and he [the husband] is beaten, and amerced in an hundred shekels. And of this it is said (in ver. 17.) THESE are MY DAUGHTERS VIRGINITIES; these are the witnesses that disprove her husbands witnesses. If her husband againe bring other witnesses which doe disprove her fathers witnesses, then the damosell and her fathers witnesses are stoned, ver. 20. 21. Maimony in Nagn. bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 6.

Ver. 19. amerse] or mult; fine him. hundred shekels] the word shekels is added both in the Greeke and Chaldee versions, and usually is to be understood when the Hebrew nameth silver only: see the notes on Gen. 20. 16. where also it is shewed what a shekel was. An hundred shekels was the double dowrie of virgins; see after in ver. 29. unto the father] and if she were fatherlesse, then he gave them unto her selfe, saith Maimony in Nagnarah bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 1. a virgin of Israel] in Greeke, a virgin an Israelitess. Hereupon the Hebrewes say, that if she were an heathen that was become a Prophetesse, or a bondswoman that had her freedom, &c. he that brought forth an evill name upon her, was free both from the mult, and from beating. They have also other like exceptions, which seeme not approveable; as, that if she were a girl under yeares, or an ancient maid, that had past the floure of her age; though such maids for playing the whore after they were betrothed, were to die; yet the man that brought an evill name upon them, was free from the mult, and from beating. Maimony in Nagnarah, chap. 3. sect. 2. 8. he may not] or, he cannot send her away, to wit, by a bill of divorce, as other men were permitted to put away their wives, Deut. 24. 1. It is commanded by the Law, that the woman upon whom he hath brought an evill name, should abide under him for ever, Deuter. 22. 19. and if he put her away, he transgresseth against a prohibition, HE MAY NOT PUT HER AWAY, and hee is to be compelled to take her againe. And if another doe first betroth himselfe to her, or if she die, or if he be a priest, who may not take a divorced woman, (Levit. 21. 7.) then he is to be bea-

beaten for putting her away. Maimony in Nagnarah, chap. 3. sect. 4. As it was a greater sinne for a man to defame his wife, than another person; so the punishment is greater: for they that defamed their neighbours were but beaten; but he that defamed his wife was beaten and amerced, and never suffered to put her away, which was permitted to other men, Deut. 24. 1. 2.

Verf. 20. betruib] so proved by certaine evidence, or by witnesses, as before is shewed; and agreeable to the Law, in Deut. 17. 4. 5. 6. For the Hebrewes acknowledge, that those tokens might sometime be wanting in virgins, & yet they not defiled; and therefore the Iudges were to examine, whether her progenitors wanted their sinors, or shee herselfe had not had some great sickness, or other like accident, whereby those signes might faile. Maimony treat. of Wives, chap. 11. sect. 12.

- 21 Verf. 21. her fathers house] that where the sinne was done, there it might be punished. folle] in Chaldee, ignominie; which was not onely evill in her, but a reproach to her father, and scandall to the whole Church: See the notes on Gen. 34. 7. where this phrase is first used. whoredome in her fathers house] and (as the Hebrewes thinke,) under her betrothed husband: for otherwise if her fault had bin done before she was betrothed, and it were knowne, she was not to die, Exod. 22. 16. 17. This which is said (in Deut. 22. 20.) IF THIS WORD BE TRUTH, she shall be killed, (is) when she hath committed whoredome after the betrothing before witnesses: but before the betrothing, the Law hath already said of her, that she is free from any thing; and he that lay with her is bound to make recompense with goods only, whether he had enticed her, or forced her. Maimony in Nagn. bethulah, chap. 3. sect. 12. If this punishment were for her whoredome before shee was betrothed; it sheweth Gods severity against such as deceive their husbands in such sort, and dishonoured their fathers house. So a Priests daughter playing the whore, is said to prophane her father, Levit. 21. 8.

- 22 Verf. 22. they shall dye] in Greeke, ye shall kill them both. The manner of their death was either by stoning, as may be gathered by Ioh. 8. 4. 5. or, as the Hebrewes say, by strangling: see the Annotations on Levit. 20. 10.

- 23 Verf. 23. betrothed] or, espoused, which was, by mutuall promise, in the presence of witnesses, before marriage, Matt. 1. 18. It might bee done in Israel (as the Hebrewes write) three wayes; by a peece of money, or by a writing, or by copulation. By a peece of money, though it were but a farthing, or the worth thereof; and the man said, be thou betrothed unto me, or mine espoused wife by this; and he gave it her before witnesses. By Bill, and then he wrote, be thou betrothed unto me, or the like, and he gave it her before witnesses: & it must be written with her name in it, and with her knowledge and consent, else it was no betrothing. By copulation; and then he said, loe thou shalt be betrothed unto me by this copulation, and so hee was united unto her before two witnesses; and after copulation she was his betrothed wife. If he lay with her by way of fornication, and not by the name of betrothing; or if it were by themselves without witnesses, it was no betrothing. And he might not lie with her the second time, before they were married. And though the betrothing might bee any of these three wayes, yet usually it was by a peece of money; & if they would, they might doe it by writing: but betrothing by copulation, was forbidden by the wise men of Israel, and who so did it, was chastised with rods; howbeit, the betrothing stood in force. And it was required, that they should blesse God, before the contract was made; as is shewed at large, by Maimony treat. of Wives, c. 3. and 10. & Ios. Karo in Shulehan aruch, treat. of Espousals, chap. 1. in the citie] or towne, or any place of resort of people, where shee might cry out and be reskued. The citie is named for an instance, because therein are store of people.

Verf. 24. she cryed not] as is presumed, because she was in the citie: and so consenting to the sin, she is guilty of death. The Hebrewes say, Whoever is lien with in the city, it is certainly presumed that she was intised, because she cryed not out. unlesse witnesses doe testifie that shee was forced; as that (the man) drew a sword at her, and said, If thou cry I will kill thee. Maimony in Nagnarah bethulah, chap. 1. sect. 2. bumbled] that is, defiled, as Gen. 34. 2. neighbours wife] so she is called after her betrothing, as here, so in Gen. 29. 21. Matt. 1. 20.

Verf. 25. in the field] or any solitary place, where if she cry she cannot be heard: opposed to the citie, in verse 23. take strong hold on her] or, as the Greeke translateth, force her.

Verf. 26. thou shalt not] in Greeke, ye shall not, speaking to Israel. any thing] Hebr. a word sinne of death] that is, sinne worthy of death. killeth him in soule] that is, so as that hee taketh away his soule, or life. In Greeke, killeth his soule. this matter] Hebr. this word.

Verf. 27. cried out] as is presumed in charitie, unless the contrary be proved: as verse 24. Whoever is lien with in the field, it is certainly presumed that shee was forced; and they judge her with the judgement of a woman forced, unlesse witnesses doe testifie that shee lay with him willingly. Maimony in Nagnarah bethulah, chap. 1. sect. 2. none to save] or no saviour, that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaineth, no helper or deliverer.

V. 28. lay hold on her] the Gr. translateth, force her. Herein this differeth from the law in Ex. 22. 16. 17, which was for such as consented being intised.

Verf. 29. to the damosels father] or, to her selfe, if shee have no father. Maimony in Nagn. bethulah, chap. 1. sect. 9. shekels] this word is added in the Chaldee and Greeke, as before in verse 19. And 50. shekels, as the Hebrewes write, was the least dowrie that virgins might have, and is called in Exod. 22. 17. the dowrie of virgins; and was the weight of fiftie shekels of fine silver. Maimony in Nagnarah, ch. 1. sect. 1. and every shekel weighed 320 graines of barley, as is noted on Gen. 20. 16. & these fifty shekels were the mulct for lying with

with her onely; and he that forced the maid was bound also (as the Hebrews shew) to pay for her shame, and for her paine, and for her blot: and he that inticed a maid (as in Exod. 22. 16.) paid but three things, the forfeit of 50 shekels, and for her shame, and for her blot. The forfeit, that is alike for all; whether a man lie with the high Priests daughter, or with a strangers daughter, or bastards, the forfeit (or mulct) is fiftie shekels; but the shame, and the blot, and the paine, are not alike for all, but determined by the Iudges, according to the age and dignity of the damsell. The inticer payeth not the mulct, unlesse he doe not marrie her, (Exod. 22. 17.) he payeth onely for the shame and blot; but he that forceth her payeth all foure out of hand. Maimony in Nagn. bechulah, ch. 2. sect. 1. &c. See also the Annotations on Exod. 21. 19. bumbled] or afflicted, that is, defiled her. And hence the Hebrewes gather, that the man was to pay also for her paine, or smart, as is before noted. not send her away] not give her a bill of divorce, as other men might, Deu. 24. 1. See before on vers. 19. Here the Hebrews say; If the high Priest force a maid, or intice her, he may not marry her, because he is commanded to take a virgin, (Levit. 21. 13.) and at that time when he taketh this woman, she is not a virgin: and if he doe take her, she is to goe out againe by bill (of divorce.) If (another man) transgresse, and send her away, they compell him to take her againe, and he is not beaten: but if the divorced woman dye, or be betrothed to another, before he take her againe; or if it were a Priest, that might not take a divorced woman, (Levit. 21. 7.) such a one is to be beaten, because he transgresseth against a prohibition [HE MAY NOT SEND HER AWAY] and he cannot fulfill the commandement concerning her, SHE SHALL BE HIS TO WIFE. Maim. 1. in Nagn. ch. 1. sect. 6. 7.

30 Vers. 30. not take] to wife, much lesse abuse by whoredome or incest, his fathers wife: and by this one, all other incestuous marriages and copulations are forbidden; against which the Law is given at large in Lev. 18. See the Annotations there. his fathers skirts] in Greeke, his fathers covering: So in Deut. 27. 20. where a curse is upon him that doth this. It meaneth the skirts or covering which his father onely might uncover, and not he. In Levit. 18. 7. it is called his fathers nakednesse, in like sense.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Who may or may not enter into the Congregation.
9 Uncleanesse to be avoided in the host. 15 Of the fugitive servant. 17 Against filthinesse, 18 abominable sacrifices, 19 and Usurie. 20 Of Vowes. 24 What liberty a man had in his neighbours vineyard or field.

1 HEe that is wounded in the stones, or hath his privie member cut off, shall not enter into the Church of Jehovah.

2 A bastard shall not enter into the Church of Jehovah; even to his tenth generation, he shall not enter into the Church of Jehovah.

3 An Ammonite or a Moabite shall not enter into the Church of Jehovah, even to their tenth generation, hee shall not enter into the Church of Jehovah for ever. Because that they met you not with bread and with water, in the way when ye came forth out of Egypt, and that he hired against thee Balaam the sonne of Beor, from Pethor of Mesopotamia, to curse thee. But Jehovah thy God would not hearken unto Balaam; and Jehovah thy God turned for thee the curse into a blessing, because Jehovah thy God loved thee. Thou shalt not seeke their peace, or their good all thy daies for ever.

7 Thou shalt not abhorre an Edomite, because he is thy brother; thou shalt not abhorre an Egyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land. The sonnes which shall be borne unto them in the third generation, any of them shall enter into the Church of Jehovah.

9 When the campe goeth forth against thine enemies, then keepe thee from every evill thing. If there be in thee a man that is not cleane, by reason of an accident in the night, then shall hee goe forth out of the campe, hee shall not come in within the campe. But it shall bee at the looking forth of the evening, hee shall bathe himselfe in water: and when the Sunne is gone downe, he shall come in within the campe.

12 And thou shalt have a place without the campe, and shalt goe forth thither without. And thou shalt have a paddle upon thy weapon; and it shall be when thou sittest downe without, then thou shalt digge therewith, and shalt turne backe and cover that which commeth from thee. For Jehovah thy God walketh in the midst of thy campe to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemies before thee, therefore thy campe shall be holy, that hee see not in thee the uncleannesse of any thing, and turne away from after thee.

15 Thou shalt not deliver up a servant unto his master, which is escaped unto thee from his Master. He shall dwell with thee in the midst of thee, in the place which hee shall chuse, in one of thy gates, where it is good for him; thou shalt not vex him.

There shall not be a whore of the daughters

18 ters of Israel, neither shall there be a whoremonger of the sonnes of Israel. Thou shalt not bring the hire of an whore, or the price of a dog, into the house of Jehovah thy God, for any vow; for even both of them are abomination to Jehovah thy God.

19 Thou shalt not lend upon biting-usurie unto thy brother, usurie of mony, usurie of meat, usury of any thing that is lent upon usurie.

20 Vnto a stranger thou maist lend upon biting usurie; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon biting usurie, that Jehovah thy God may blesse thee in all that thou settest thine hand unto, in the land whither thou art going in to possesse it.

21 When thou shalt vow a vow unto Jehovah thy God, thou shalt not delay to pay it; for Jehovah thy God requiring will require it of thee, and it would be sinne in thee.

22 And if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall not be sinne in thee. That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keepe and doe, according as thou hast vowed unto Jehovah thy God, a voluntary offering which thou hast spoken with thy mouth.

24 When thou comest into thy neighbours vineyard, then thou maist eat grapes as thy soule desireth thy fill, but into the vessell thou shalt not put any.

25 When thou comest into the standing corne of thy neighbour, then thou maist plucke the eares with thine hand; but thou shalt not move a sickle unto thy neighbours standing corne.

Annotations.

ded in the stones, or be borne without stones, or through servants sickness these members decay, or the like: he be is allowable to enter into the Church, for all these are by the hand of God. It is unlawfull to corrupt (or marre) the members of generation, either in man, or in beast, or in wilde beast, or in fowle, either unclean or cleane. And whosoever geldeth (or maketh an Eunuch) is to be beaten by the Law, yea though he geldeth after another hath gelded; as if one cutteth off the privie member, and another cometh and cutteth off the stones, or pulleth them off, and another cometh and cutteth the sinewes of the stones, &c. they are all beaten. Maimony tom. 2. in Issure biab, chapter 16. section 6, -10. privie-member either the yard, or stones, or any one, or part of them: for the Hebrew Shophach (which hath the name of shedding the seed) implieth both: though by the Hebrews it is applied to the yard, or a part thereof. And so among the Turks at this day they make their Eunuchs by cutting off the privities: and the Greeke translateth, him that is cut, or, that hath (his privie member) cut off.

not enter] or, not come in into the Church (or in the congregation) of the Lord. That is, he shall not be admitted into the Common-wealth of Israel, either to minister, or beare office, or to take a wife of them, or the like. As it is said of the Priests, to come in (or enter) into the house of the Lord, that is, to minister, 1 Chron. 14. 29. and to goe out and come in before the people, 2 Chron. 1. 10. is expounded to judge the people, 1 King. 3. 9. It is also said of Solomon, he loved many strange women of the nations concerning which the LORD had said unto the sons of Israel, ye shall not goe in (or enter) to them, neither shall they come in (or enter) unto you, 1 Kings 11. 1, 2. that is, as the Chaldee there expoundeth, not be mixed. So Jesus charged Israel, that they should not goe in (or enter; in Chaldee, mix themselves) among the nations, Jos. 23. 7. and upon the reading of this Law to Israel returned from captivity, they separated from them all the mixed multitude, Nehem. 13. 1, 2, 3. And of this here the Hebrews say, He that is wounded in the stones, or hath the privie-member cut off, if he marrie with a daughter of Israel, and lie with her, he is to be beaten, Deut. 23. 1. and it is unlawfull for them to marrie women Proselytes, and bond-men that are made free: and though he be a Priest that is wounded in the stones, he may take such a woman, because he is not in his business, [that is, may not doe the Priests office, Lev. 21. 17, 21.] but he that is so wounded, may not marrie her that is a bastard. Maim. in Issure biab, c. 16. s. 1, 2. This is to be understood of such, as though they were wounded in some part, yet were able enough for generation. Neither can this be meant of joyning to the faith and religion of Israel, or entering into the Church in that respect: for that was lawfull for all, Exo. 12. 48, 49. Num. 15. 14, 15. Howbeit some such strangers as were joyned to the Lord, yet remained after a sort separated from his people, as the complaint of such, and the Lords comfortable answer unto them, in Esa. 56. 3, 6, 7. sheweth. And so for the Eunuchs in the same place, v. 3, 4, 5. The Hebrews say, Servants which are baptised by the name of servitude, and doe take upon them the commandments which servants are bound unto, they goe out from the generalitie of beaſtens, but come not into the generalitie (or common ſtate) of Iſraelites. Therefore a bond-woman is unlawfull (to be married) to one that is free-borne, whether ſhe be his owne bond-woman, or his neighbours; and who ſo goeth in to a bond-woman, it is to be ſcourged by the Doctrine of the Scribes. See, it is expreſſed in the Law, (Exodus 21. 4.) that a Maſter may give a Canaaniteſſe bond-woman to his Hebrew ſervant, and ſhee is lawfull for him. Maimony in Iſſure biab, chapter 12. ſection 11. See after on verſe 3.

2 Verſe 2. A baſtard] in Hebrew Mamzer, which meaneth one borne of a ſtranger, that is not a lawfull wife: and ſo the Greeke tranſlateth it here, Of an whore: in Zacharie 9. 6. the Greeke hath Allogenes, an Alien, or one of another generation. The Hebrews ſay, The baſtard (Mamzer) ſpoken of in the Law, is he that commeth (or is borne) of any of the nakedneſſes (that is, the inceſtuous and unlawfull copulations, forbidden in Leviticus 18.) except of her that is ſeparated for uncleanneſſe, (Leviticus 18. 19.) for he that is borne of her is blotted, but is not a baſtard: but who ſo goeth into the other nakedneſſes (or unlawfull copulations) whether by force, or willingly, preſumptuouſly, or ignorantly, begetteth a baſtard. And whether they be males or females, they are forbidden (to enter into the Church) for ever; as it is written, EVEN TO THE TENTH GENERATION, which is as if he ſhould ſay, for ever. Whether a baſtard man doe marry an Iſraeliteſſe, or an Iſraelite marry a baſtard woman, when they have lyen together, they are beaten. It is lawfull for him that is a baſtard to marry her that is a ſtranger, and for her that is a baſtard to be married to him that is a ſtranger: but the children of them both are baſtards, for that which is borne goeth after the blotted perſon: for it is ſaid, INTO THE CONGREGATION OF THE LORD; and the congregation of beaſtens is not called the congregation of the LORD. A ſtranger that marrieth a daughter of Iſrael, or an Iſraelite that marrieth her that is a ſtranger, begetteth an Iſraelite in every reſpect, which may not lawfully marry her that is a baſtard. Maimony in Iſſure biab, chapter 15. ſection 1, 2, 7, 9. to his tenth generation] or, to the tenth generation, he himſelfe ſhall not enter: ſo in verſe 3. where the tenth generation, is expounded, for ever; becauſe ten is a complete number.

3 Verſe 3. An Ammonite, or a Moabite] For their ſpeciall unkindneſſe and ſinne, theſe peoples had a ſpeciall puniſhment above others, that theſe men might never be admitted into full communion with the common-wealth of Iſrael, as other nations might: but this the Hebrewes reſtrain to the men onely, not to the women; for Ruth the Moabiteſſe was married unto Boaz, Ruth 4. Their words are; All beaſtens whoſoever, when they are become Proſelytes, and have taken upon them all the commandments which are in the Law; likewise ſervants when they are made free, loe they are as Iſraelites in all reſpects, Numbers

15. 15. and it is lawfull for them to come into the Church of the LORD, out of hand. And the Proſelyte or free man may marry a daughter of Iſrael; and the Iſraelite may marry her that is a Proſelyte, or made free; except of ſoure peoples onely, which are Ammon, and Moab, and Edom, and Egypt; for theſe peoples, when any of them becommeth a Proſelyte, he is an Iſraelite in all reſpects, ſave in the caſe of entering into the congregation. The Ammonite and the Moabite are forbidden for ever, the males, but not the females, Deuteronomie 23. 3. We have it as a tradition of Moſes from mount Sinai, that the Ammonite is the male, and the Moabite is the male, which is forbidden for ever to marry a daughter of Iſrael, though it be his ſon ſon to the worlds end. But an Ammoniteſſe, and a Moabiteſſe are lawfull out of hand, as the other peoples. Maim. in Iſſure biab, ch. 13. ſect. 17, 18. But if the women of Moab and Ammon were not converted to the religion of God, it was unlawfull to marry with them, as with any other peoples, Neh. 13. 23, 24, 25. Ezra 9. 1, 2. for ever] the Greeke addeth, and for ever: ſo it is an explanation of the former, that the tenth generation is put for all generations for ever. So it appeareth, that the Moabites and the Ammonites might never be one body with the Commonwealth of Iſrael, though other peoples might, as Iſaiah an Iſmaelite, 1 Chron. 2. 17. is called an Iſraelite, 2 Sam. 17. 25.

Verſe 4. they met you not] this ſinne was common to both nations, the next peculiar to Moab onely. So eternall damnation is inflicted upon thoſe that give not meat and drinke to Gods people in their hunger and thirſt, Mat. 25. 42, 46. The contrary example is in Melchizedek, who met Abraham with bread and wine, as he returned from the ſlaughter of the Kings, Gen. 14. 18, &c. Heb. 7. 1. be hired] that is, the Moabite hired. The hiſtory hereof is ſet downe at large in Num. 22, &c.

Verſe 6. not ſeek their peace] the like is ſpoken of the Canaanites, Ezra 9. 11, 12. This is not meant of revenge in malice, which is unlawfull, Rom. 12. 17, 19. or that they ſhould not procure the ſalvation of their ſoules, 1 Tim. 2. 4. but reſpecteth the matter in hand, and thoſe peoples in their infidelity; touching whom the Hebr. hold, that this is an exception from the former law, in Deut. 20. 10. about offering peace when in lawfull warre they came to beſiege their cities. Ammon and Moab, we ſend not unto them (proclamation) of peace, Deut. 23. 6. Our wiſe men have ſaid, for as much as it is written, PROCLAME PEACE UNTO IT, Deut. 20. 10. if any ſhould thinke the like for Ammon and Moab, he ſaith, Thou ſhalt not ſeek their peace. And where as it is written, HE SHALL DWELL WITH THEE, &c. WHERE IT IS GOOD FOR HIM, Deut. 23. 16. if any ſhould ſuppoſe the like for Ammon and Moab, he ſaith, Thou ſhalt not ſeek their peace, OR THEIR GOOD. But though we doe not proclaim peace unto them, if they make peace of themſelves firſt, it is accepted. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Kings, chap. 6. ſect. 6.

Verſe 7. an Edomite] or Idumean, as the Greeke calleth him; and as in Marke 3. 8. Edoms land is called Idumea: the Hebrew here writeth it Adomite, as also in Psal. 52. 2. it meaneth the posteritie of Edom, or Esau, Israels brother, Gen. 25. 25, 30. thy brother] the nearest kinne to Israel of all peoples on the earth, and therefore often called his brother, Numb. 20. 14. Obad. 10. 12. Amos 1. 11. for which alliance in nature, though they were enemies, (Num. 20. 18, 21.) yet God would have his people to retaine loving and naturall affection towards them. a stranger] or sojourner: although the Egyptians turned to hate Gods people, and to oppresse them, Exod. 1. &c. yet for the former good which Israel had received in their land, the Lord would have his people to shew themselves thankfull, that Edom and Egypt should sooner be admitted into the Church of the Lord, than Moab or Ammon; though not so soone as other peoples, which had not wronged Israel.

- 8 Verse 8. the third generation] to wit, after they are become Profelytes, and have received the faith and religion of Israel, as is before shewed. Of these the Hebrews say; An Egyptian and Edomite, whether males or females, the first generation, and the second, are unlawfull to enter into Israel, but the third generation may. An Egyptian woman that is with childe when she becommeth a Profelyte, her son is the second (generation.) Maimony in Issure biab, chapter 12. section 19, 20. As for other nations, it is before shewed, that they receiving the religion of Israel, might enter into the congregation, and bee commixed with them; so now when all peoples are confounded, and it is not knowne who are truly Moabites, or Ammonites, or Egyptians, &c. the Hebrewes professe that they cannot observe this Law; and thus they write: Who so becommeth a Profelyte of the seven peoples (of the Canaanites) he is not forbidden by the Law to enter into the Congregation. And it is a knowne thing, that none of them become Profelytes, save the Gibeonites, (Josua 9.) and Josua decreed concerning them, that it should be unlawfull for them to enter into the Congregation, either men or women. But he forbade them not, save so long as there was a Sanctuarie, (Josua 9. 23.) And they were called Netbinims, because he gave them for the service of the Sanctuarie. Then came David and decreed against them that they should not come into the Congregation for ever, so not in the time when there is no Sanctuarie. And so it is expressed in Ezra. And of the Netbinims, whom David and the Princes had given for the service of the Levites, (Ezra 8. 20.) Lo, thou maist see they depended not on the Sanctuarie. And why did he and his Councell decree this against them? Because he saw the hardness and cruelty that was in them, at the time when they requir'd that seven of the sonnes of Saul, the chosen of the LORD, should be hanged and killed, and they had no compassion on them, (2 Sam. 21. 6, 9.) When Senacherib King of Assyria came up, (2 King. 18. 13, 34, 35.) he confounded all the peoples, and mixed them one with another, and carried them captives out of their places. So these Egyptians, which are now in the land of Egypt, are other men: and so the Edomites that dwell in the field of Edom. And forasmuch as these foure Nations, which be forbidden, are commixed with all nations of the world which are lawfull, all are lawfull. So that whosoever separateth from them, and becommeth a Profelyte at this time in any place, be he an Edomite, or an Egyptian, or Ammonite, or Moabite, or Ethiopian, or of any other people, whether they be men or women, it is lawfull for them to enter into the Church out of band. Maimony in Issure biab, chapter 12. section 22, 25. Thus the partition wall betweene Jewes and Gentiles is by the Hebrews owne grant in part broken downe, but indeed wholly unto us which know Christ, who were in times past Aliens from the pollicie (or common-wealth) of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, &c. but we are now made nigh by the blood of Christ, for he is our peace, who hath made both one, and dissolved the middle wall of partition between us, Ephes. 2. 12, 14.

Verse 9. the campe] or the host, an armie of souldiers; touching whom God giveth lawes for their puritie; that as the whole campe of Israel was to be purged of all leprous and uncleane persons, Numb. 5. 2, 3. so every campe or armie sent forth to warre at any time, should also have care of holinesse. keepe thee] or, beware, take heed. evill thing] Hebr. evill word, that is, all uncleannesse, either morall, (as Iohn warned the souldiers, Luke 3. 14.) or figurative, as some specials here follow.

Verse 10. an accident] to wit, of uncleannesse, by the issue of his seed, and so the Greeke translateth it, an issue; of which, and the pollution by the same, see Leviticus 15. with the Annotations. out of the campe] or, unto (a place) without the campe, where all uncleane persons were to remaine, Numbers 5. 3.

Verse 11. at the looking forth of the evening] which the Greeke translateth, towards evening; the Chaldee, at the time of the evening: See this phrase in Gen. 24. 63. and Exod. 14. 27. bathe] in Greeke, wash his body, as all such uncleane persons were to doe, Lev. 15. figuring our sanctification from uncleannesse, by the death and spirit of Christ, Heb. 10. 22. gone downe] Hebr. gone in, that is, when the day of his uncleannesse is at an end: for the day ended at Sun-setting.

Verse 12. thou shalt have] or, there shall be to thee, to wit, by publike designation. a place] Hebr. a hand, that is, as the Greeke hath it, a place; in Chaldee, a place appointed (or prepared.) So the Hebrews say, It is unlawfull to turne aside within the campe, or in the open field in any place; but it is commanded to appoint there a way peculiar for (men) to turne aside therein. Maimony treat. of Kings, chapter 6. section 14.

Verse 13. a paddle] an instrument of iron, to dig an hole with in the earth, wherein to bury their excrements. We derive the name from the Greeke Pattalos or Passalos, whereby the Hebrew Isbed is translated here. upon thy weapon] or among thine armour: in Greeke, upon thy girdle. which commeth from thee] thine excrements, in Gr. thy shame, (or unseemlinesse.) These by the Law are counted uncleane, (as almost all the other that come out of man;) and defiled other things which which they were used about, Ezek. 4. 13, 14. and figured the corruption of nature, Esay 4. 4. Adar. 7. 15. 20. - 23.

14 Verſ. 14. walketh] the Chaldee addeth, his diuine preſence walketh. before thee] the Greeke explaineth it, into thine hands. So in Deut. 2. 36. and 7. 2. 23. also in 2 Chron. 6. 36. the unclea- neſſe] or the nakedneſſe, the diſcovery of any thing which is uncleane: the Greeke tranſlateth it ſhame; the Chaldee, transgreſſion. By this, God taught his people holineſſe of conuerſation, that they ſhould keepe themſelves from their iniquity, as David did, Pſal. 18. 23. from after thee] that is, from following or accompanying thee, and from keeping thee. The Greeke tranſlateth it, from thee; the Chaldee, from doing good unto thee. In like manner, when God ſaid, I will be with thee. Gen. 31. 3. Iakob underſtood it, I will doe thee good. Gen. 32. 9. And both are expreſſed in Ier. 32. 40. I will not turn from after them, to do them good. And of Gods leaving his people in their wars, and the evils following, there is complaint in Pſal. 44. 10, 11, &c.

15 Verſ. 15. not deliver up] Hebr. not ſhut up (or cloſe) as Deut. 32. 30. meaning, ſhut up into the hand, as is expreſſed in Pſalm. 31. 9. that is, delivered, as the Greeke and Chaldee here tranſlate it. a ſervant] the Chaldee addeth, a ſervant of the peo- ples, that is, of the Gentiles, who for the religion of God commeth from his maſter to the Church of Iſrael. This ſervant that fleeth to the land (of Iſ- rael) he is a righteous ſtranger [that is, a proſelyte come unto the faith and covenant of God,] ſaith Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Servants, chap. 8. ſ. 11. is eſcaped] or ſeparated, having rid free, and delivered himſelfe from the bondage of ſin. The Greeke tranſlateth, is added (or adjoyned) unto thee. By this Law God ſhewed his love in Chriſt, to- wards all ſtrangers, even in the baſeſt eſtate, that come unto him in faith; for there is neither bond nor free, male or female, but all are one in Chriſt Ieſus, Gal. 3. 28. It figured the grace of God to us lin- ners, who were the ſervants of ſinne, but obeying from the heart the forme of doctrine whereto we were delivered, we were made free from ſinne, and were made the ſervants of righteouſneſſe, and ſervants to God, to have our fruit unto holineſſe, and the end, everlaſting life, Rom. 6. 17, 18, 22. Who after we have eſcaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of Chriſt, are not againe to be in- tangled therein, and overcome, 2 Pet. 2. 20. Gal. 4. 7, 8, 9, 10. from his maſter] who, that he might ſuſtain no damage by the loſſe of his ſervant, the Hebrewes ſay, His maſter was to be ſpoken unto, to write him a bill of manumiffion (or diſcharge from his ſervice), and be againe was to write him a bill of debt for his price, untill he was able to pay, and then he payed him. Maimony in Servants, ch. 8. ſ. 10.

16 Verſ. 16. in the miſt of thee] the Greeke tranſ- lateth, among you he ſhall dwell. By the Hebrewes; if a man ſold his ſervant to the heathens, he was to be compelled to redeeme him again, and to let him goe out free. If a man ſold his ſervant out of the land, he was to be ſet free. Maim. treat. of Ser- vants, chap. 8. ſ. 6. in one of thy gates] that good for him] or, good unto him, that is, where it liketh him beſt; as the Greeke tranſlateth, where it pleaſeth him, and where may be moſt for his bene- fit. not vex him] or oppreſſe; in Greeke, afflict him. This law was for all ſtrangers, Exod. 22. 21. and forbiddeth all manner vexation in word or worke. The Hebrewes ſay, the Scripture addeth this admonition concerning him, becauſe he is of a more humble ſpirit than (anſwer) ſtranger: and who ſo vexeth this ſtranger, tranſgreſſeth againſt three prohibi- tions; Ye ſhall not vex any man his neighbour, Levit. 27. 17. and, A ſtranger thou ſhalt not vex, Exod. 22. 21. and, Thou ſhalt not vex him, Deut. 23. 16. he tranſgreſſeth alſo againſt this, Neither ſhalt thou oppreſſe him, Exod. 22. 21. And he is not to be vexed, no not with words. Maimony treat. of Servants, chap. 8. ſ. 11.

17 Verſ. 17. a whore] or common whore, fornicat- reſſe, Sodomiteſſe; one that married not, but lived in whoredome. She is called in Hebrew Kedeſah, which ordinarily ſignifieth Holineſſe, but is uſed here for the contrary, (as before in Deut. 22. 9.) or it was ſome filthy religious order among the heathens; whereof ſee the notes on Gen. 38. 21. The Hebrewes deſcribe her to be one that proſti- tuted herſelfe unto every man. Maimony in Iſſure blah, chap. 18. ſ. 2. And ſo ſhe differed from the whore called in Hebrew Zonab which had defiled herſelfe, though but once: ſee the notes on Lev. 21. 7. Howbeit, the difference is not alwaies to be made; and the next verſe here ſeemeth to ſhew it. Maimony in tom. 2. treat. of Wives, chap. 1. ſ. 4. writeth thus; Before the Law was given, a man met with a woman abroad; and if he and ſhee pleaſed, he gave her hire and lay with her, at the parting of the way, and he went his way; and this is ſhe which is cal- led K E D E S A H (a common whore.) After the Law was given, ſuch common whores were forbid- den, Deuteron. 23. 17. Therefore whoſoever lieth with a woman by way of fornication, without eſpor- ſals, he is beaten by the Law, for that he hath lyen with a whore. But Onkelos the Chaldee Paraphraſt expoundeth this law otherwiſe thus; There ſhall no woman of the daughters of Iſrael be (a wife) to a man which is a ſervant: neither ſhall any man of the ſonnes of Iſrael take a woman which is a ſervant (or band-maid.) But that ſeemeth not to be the mean- ing of this place. whoremonger] or, fornicator: one that ſo defileth his body without marriage; a Sodomite. Notwithſtanding this Law, Iſrael tal- ling from God, had together with their idolatry, houſes of whoremongers (or Sodomites) that were in (or by) the houſe of the Lord, till King Ioſias brake them downe, 2 King. 23. 7. They ſacrificed alſo with whores, Hoſ. 4. 14. ſo that both carnall and spiritu- all whoredome (which is idolatry, Jer. 2. 20.) are here forbidden.

and 9.1. Mich.1.7. an whore] in Hebrew Zonah; which seemeth to be the same with Kedesh before mentioned: though it comprehendeth generally all such as are forbidden in Lev.18. to any which, or for which, if a man give hire or reward, to lie with her, it might not be brought into the Lords house. And this as the Hebrews explaine, whether she were an heathenish whore, or a bond-woman, or an Israeliteffe, He that saith to his neighbour, this thing thou shalt have to let thy bond-woman lie with my Hebrew servant, loe this is an (whores) hire. If a man agree with an whore to give her a Lambe, (as Gen.38. 16, 17.) and he doth give her many, though he give a thousand, they are all an whores hire, and forbidden to come on the altar. If he lie with her, and give her it not, and after the time he give it her, though it be after many yeeres, yet it is an whores hire. Howbeit they reſtraine this (though perhaps too much,) to ſuch things onely, as might in themſelves be brought to the altar, as cleane beaſts, and fowles, wine, oile, and fine flower. &c. If he give her money, and a ſacrifice be bought with it, that ſacrifice (they ſay) was lawfull. If he give her wheat, and after it be made flower; olives, and after oile is made of them; grapes and they be turned into wine; theſe are lawfull, for the hire is now altered. Maim. tom. 3. in Iſſure mizbeach, chap. 4. ſect. 8, 10, 11, -15. This law taught the honour and ſanctity due unto Gods houſe and ſervice, when things which were thus made impure and vile, might not be brought unto him: ſo in Eſa. 61.8. he ſaith, I hate robbery, for burnt-offering. the price of a dog] in Chaldee, the exchange of (that is, the thing exchanged for) a dog. This ſome doe underſtand of the whoremonger or Sodomite fore-mentioned; as the Scripture calleth vile perſons dogs. Matth. 7.6. Rev. 22. 15. 2 Pet. 2.22. But the Hebrewes underſtand it literally; for as the dog was an unclean beaſt, and moſt abominable for ſacrifice, Eſay 66.3. ſo they write, if a man ſaid to his neighbour, I will give thee this Lambe for that Dog; or if he exchange a dog for any beaſts or fowles, they were all unlawfull to be brought unto the altar. But if the price were altered, as he exchanged a dog for wheat, and turned it into flower; that (flower) was lawfull. Maimony in Iſſure misbeach, chap. 4. ſect. 16. &c.

for any vow] whether for a ſacrifice on the altar, or for the maintenance or reparation of the houſe, court-yard, or any thing about the Sanctuary; the thing it ſelfe, which was either the hire, or the price of theſe vile things, might not be brought thither. Under the name of a vow, which men voluntarily tooke upon themſelves, verſ. 21, 22. 23. other ſacrifices which God commanded, are forbidden to be brought of either of theſe, that is, of any thing which was filthy or vile. both of the] the one proceeding from the breach of the morall Law, the other (taken properly) being againſt the Legall ordinances of divine ſervice, are abomination to the Lord, who requireth his Sanctuary to be revered, Lev. 19.30. and forbiddeth his name to be deſpiſed, his altar or table to be thought contemptible, Mal. 1.6, 7, 8. or his houſe to be made a den of thieves, Jer. 7.11. Mat. 21.13.

Verſ. 19. not lend upon biting uſurie] Hebr. not cauſe to bite; which meaneth, as the Greeke and Chaldee both interpret it, not lend upon biting uſurie (or increase:) for uſurie is biting or devouring of a mans ſubſtance; he that borroweth on uſurie is bitten thereby; and he that ſo lendeth, cauſeth to bite, or maketh his neighbour to be bitten thereby. It may alſo imply, thou ſhalt not borrow upon uſury, for that alſo is unlawfull, Jer. 15. 10. and he that ſo borroweth, cauſeth himſelfe to be bitten, and thus the Hebrewes underſtand it, as is noted on Exod. 22. 25. uſury] Hebr. biting of ſilver, that is, uſury for ſilver (or money) which is lent. So after, biting of meat, that is, uſury for meat which is lent. of any thing] Hebr. of any word: which though it be often uſed for any thing, as the Greeke here alſo tranſlateth it, yet from hence the Hebrewes gather, uſury of words alſo to be unlawfull: ſee the Annotations on Ex. 22. 25. that is lent upon uſurie] Hebr. that biteth, (or may bite) Under this prohibition, the contrary is commanded, that we ſhould lend unto our poore brother freely, and not take againe any thing more than was lent, Deu. 15. 7, 8, 9. Luk. 6. 34, 35. Lev. 25. 35, 36.

Verſ. 20. a ſtranger] or alien, in the Chaldee, a ſonne of the peoples, meaning a Gentile, an infidell: for to the ſtrangers which were brethren in the faith, they might not lend upon uſurie, Levit. 25. 35, 36, 37. maiſt lend] or ſhalt lend upon uſurie; Hebr. ſhalt cauſe to bite, to wit, if thou wilt; ſo it may be taken for a permiſſion, like the bill of divorce. But the Hebrewes underſtand this to be a commandement, not a permiſſion only; (Maimony tom. 4. treat. of the Lender and Borrower, chap. 5. ſect. 1.) As if God would by this cut off occasions of familiarity with Infidels leſt Iſrael by much dealing with them, ſhould learne their wayes. Howbeit, our Saviour (by the example of God himſelfe,) teacheth us to be loving and bountifull unto all, both good and bad, Mat. 5. 44, -48. Luk. 6. 35, 36. Spiritually this ſhewed the uſe of the Law, which as an hard creditor exacteth more of men then it giveth unto them; and is to be laid, not upon the righteous man, (who by faith is freed from the rigour and curſe of the ſame,) but on the lawleſſe, diſobedient and finners, 1 Tim. 1. 9. Rom. 7.

Verſ. 21. a vow] the law whereof, ſee in Levit. 27. and Numb. 30. And whether it were a thing promiſed unto God, or to be given to the poore, it was a vow. not delay] that is, not fail, either altogether, or by deferring the time of payment: ſee the notes on Exod. 22. 29. Wherefore if a man have abſolutely vowed a thing to the Lord, (ſeeing no man hath aſſurance that his life ſhall continue, Jam. 4. 13, 14.) he muſt with all ſpeed perſorme it, leſt death prevent him. So the Hebrewes ſay; He that ſaith, I will not depart out of the world untill I be a Nazarite; loe, hee is a Nazarite out of hand, leſt hee die by and by. And if hee deferre his Nazariteſhip, hee tranſgreſſeth, &c. Maimony tom. 3. treat. of Nazarites, chap. 1. ſect. 4. The time and place of paying vowed ſacrifices, was at the ſolemne feaſts, & in the Sanctuary, Deu. 12. 5, 6, 7. and and 16. 16, 17. Hereupon the Hebrewes say; Whether they be vowes or voluntary gifts, or other things which a man is bound to bring, as valuations, or prices, or tithes, or gifts for the poore, it is commanded by the Law, to bring them all at the feast which first cometh, &c. If there fall out a feast, and hee bringeth them not, he frustrate a commandment. If the three feasts (of the year) passe over him, and he bring not his offerings which he hath vowed, or voluntarily promised, &c. he transgresseth against this prohibition, Thou shalt not delay to pay it. Maim. treat. of offering the Sacrifices, chap. 14. sect. 13.

to pay it] This paiement must be made unto God of the best things (as is noted on Gen. 4. 4.) they might not bring any corrupt or blemished thing, Mal. 1. 14. Levit. 22. 21. nor any thing filthy or vile, Deut. 23. 18. Neither might any part bee kept backe, of that which was sanctified by vow unto the Lord, Act. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, &c. So for almes to the poore, the Hebrewes have these rules; *Almes is comprehended in the generall of vowes: therefore he that saith, Loe a shilling be upon me for almes, or, This shilling be an almes, he is bound to give it to the poore out of hand; and if he delay, he transgresseth against this precept, Thou shalt not delay to pay it. For loe it is in his power to give it out of hand, and there are poore present. If there be no poore there, he is to separate it, and lay it up till he finde some poore. Maimony treat. of gifts to the poore, ch. 1. f. 1. requiring, &c.] that is, will surely require it, and punish thee if thou pay it not. For so requiring implieth, Gen 9. 5. and 42. 22, Deut. 11. 19. finne] and so punishable. For God hath no pleasure in foolles; pay therefore that which thou hast vowed, *Eccles. 5. 4.

22 Verf. 22. shalt forbear] or cease, refuse: the Greeke translateth, If thou wilt not vow. So before they promised, it was in their owne power, as in Ananias case, Act. 5. 4. Howbeit, when duty bindeth us to shew thankfulness unto God for his mercies, we are willed to vow and to pay, Psal. 76. 12. The Hebrewes say, Although sanctified things, and things devote, and valuations be commanded, and it is meet for a man to exercise himselfe in these things, for to suppress his concupiscence, and that he be not niggardly, but may fulfill that which is commanded by the Prophet, HONOUR THE LORD WITH THY SUBSTANCE, (Prov. 3. 9.) yet notwithstanding, if he doe never sanctifie or devote, there is not any thing in it; for he the Law testifieth and saith; But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall not be sinne in thee. Maimony treat. of Valuations and Devote things, chap. 8. sect. 12.

not be sinne] to wit, not such sinne as a man is guilty of, if he vow and doe not pay, Eccles. 5. 5. For otherwise a man may sinne this way also, in negligence and unthankfulness, Luk. 17. 17, 18. In this sense Christ said to the Jewes; If ye were blind ye should have no sinne, Ioh. 9. 41. that is, no such sinne as now remaineth on you, for refusing the light. So in Ioh. 15. 22, 24. Iam. 4. 17.

23 Verf. 23. Thou which is gone out] that is, thy word, or promise: as; all that proceedeth out of the mouth of the LORD, Deut. 8. 3. is expounded, every word of God, Luk. 4. 4. keepe and doe] with heart and hand. But this is meant of lawfull vowes; for such as are idolatrous and wicked, are not to be kept, but repented of, and broken, Ier. 44. 25. — 27. Act. 23. 12, 21. a voluntary offering] all vowes were voluntary offerings, but all voluntary offerings were not vowes: see the difference noted on Levit. 7. 16. and Deut. 12. 6. with thy mouth] Hereupon Solomon saith, Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sinne; neither say thou before the Angell, that it was an unadvised error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the worke of thine hands? Eccles. 5. 6. If a man had spoken it with his heart onely unto God, he was bound to pay it, as the Hebrewes teach: See the notes on Levit. 7. 16.

Verf. 24. When thou comest] the Chaldee translateth, when thou art hired: and of such doe the Hebrewes understand this Law, that labourers hired to worke in a vineyard, are to eat of the fruit thereof. Hereunto the Apostle seemeth to have reference, when he saith; Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof: or, who feedeth a focke, and eateth not of the milke of the focke? 1 Cor. 9. 7. Whereby not the owners onely, but the labourers also are intended. This and the like law following, seemeth to extend also to such as occasionally travel thorow vineyards or fields, who may for their refreshing in time of need gather and eat: as our Lords Disciples, going thorow the sowne fields, plucked the eares of corne, and did eat, Mat. 12. 1. vineyard] and by proportion, his olive-yard, or any such like. The Hebrewes say; Labourers which doe worke upon any thing that groweth out of the earth, &c. the householder is commanded to let them eat of that which they are working upon, Deut. 23. verf. 23, 24. which law we have bene taught, that it is not written of any thing but concerning the hired (labourer.) And if he did not hire him, how was it permitted him to come into his neighbours vineyard, or standing corne, without his knowledge? But thus he saith; When thou shalt come, by the owners leave, to labour, thou shalt eat: Maimony tom. 4. treat. of hired things, chap. 12. sect. 1. Howbeit they restraine this law to such things onely as grow out of the ground; therefore they adde, He that milketh, or churseth butter, or maketh cheese, eateth not (thereof) because they are things that grow not on the ground: ibidem sect. 4. But he that reapeth (the corne) and be that thresheth, and be that fanneth and purgeth it, be that cutteth downe the grapes, and be that treadeth them (in the wine-press,) or doth any such like worke, they may eat by the Law. ibidem sect. 8. eat grapes] and so if he labour upon the fig-tree, he may eat figgs; and all the like: but he may not eat (they say) save of that whereabouts hee laboureth: and if he labour both in the grapes and in the wine-fat, he may both eat of the grapes, and drinke of the must (or new wine.) If he worke on the fig-tree, he may not eat of grapes: if on grapes, he may not eat of figges. And he that is working upon one vine-tree, may not eat (the fruit) of another vine. Neither may he eat grapes with any other thing; as with bread, or the like. But if he have agreed with the householder, for the quantity that he shall eat, he may eat with bread, or with salt, or with any thing that he pleaseth. Maimony ibid. sect. 10. 12. as thy soule] to wit, desireth; or, according to thy soule, that is, thine appetite. The Greek joyneth it with the word following, thus, so much as thy soule (that is, thine appetite) may be filled with. So in Psalm. 78. 18. they asked meat for their soule, that is, for their lust or appetite. From this the Hebrewes gather, that onely he himselfe, not any other of his family may eat. The labourer that shall say, Give my wife and children that which I should eat; or, he I will give a little of this which I have taken, to my wife or my child for to eat, they bearken not unto him: for the Law doth not vouchsafe it to any, but to the workman himselfe. Though he be a Nazarite, which worketh in the grapes, [who may not by the law eat any of them, Num. 6. 3.] if he say, Give it my wife and children, they bearken not unto him. A workman that laboureth himselfe, and his wife, and his children, and his servants, and conditioneth with the householder, that he will not eat of any thing that he worketh upon, neither be nor his; then they may not eat, to wit, the greater sort of them; for they have wittingly remitted (of their right,) But the little ones he cannot make agreement that they shall not eat: for they eat not of that which is their fathers, or of that which is their masters, but of that which is Gods. Maimony ibid. section. 13. 14. not put] Hebr. not give any, either to carry home for himselfe, or for any of his.

25 Vers 25. with thine hand] to wit, for to eat, vers. 24. as did Christs Disciples, Mat. 12. 1. upon the warrant of this law, as is probable: howbeit, the Hebrewes understand it of the labourers, as before. And the Chaldee version here also saith, When thou art hired into thy neighbours standing corne, then thou maist plucke, &c. Which though the meaning bee good, (for even the beasts were by Gods Law to eat of that whereon they laboured, Deut. 25. 4) yet the extent hereof seemeth to reach further, even to all such as came in occasionally, and had a desire or need to taste of the fruits. not move a sickle] namely, for to cut down for thine owne eating, or for to carry away with thee, as v. 24. God, whose the earth is, and the plenty thereof, Psalm. 24. 1. and whose the land of Canaan was in speciall, Lev. 25. 23. who reserved the first-fruits, tithes, corners, gleanings, &c. for himselfe, his priests, and the poore of his people, Num. 18. Deut. 24. 19, 21. would have the fruits in some sort common for the necessities of all men, especially to those that laboured in them, whether men or beasts; so shewing his bountie to all, yet reserving the right and propriety of the owners, which no man might infringe: that mercie and justice might meet together, and not one man to put his sickle into another mans corne, to reape that which another hath sown. The equity of this Law reacheth also unto spirituall things, and to Gods labourers in his harvest, 2 Cor. 10. 14, 16. 1 Cor. 9. 7, 9, 10, 14. Rom. 15. 20.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Of divorce. 5 A new married man goeth not 10 warre. 6 10 Of pledges. 7 Of man-stealers.
8 Of leprosie. 14 The hire to be given in due time.
16 Of justice. 19 The forgotten sheafe is for the poore. 20 And the gleanings of the fruits to be left for them.

Vhen a man hath taken a wife, and beene her husband, and it shall be that she finde not grace in his eyes, because he hath found in her matter of nakednesse: and he shall write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her away out of his house: And she depart out of his house, and goe and be another mans: And the latter man hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her away out of his house; or if the latter man die, which tooke her to him to wife: Her first husband which sent her away, may not returne to take her to be unto him to wife, after that she is caused to be defiled, for that is abomination before Jehovah; and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance.

When a man hath taken a new wife, hee shall not goe out in the Armeie, neither shall any thing passe upon him: hee shall be free in his house one yeare, and rejoyce with his wife which he hath taken.

(A man) shall not take to pledge the neather mill-stone, or the upper mill-stone; for he taketh to pledge, the soule.

If a man bee taken stealing a soule of his brethren, of the sonnes of Israel, and maketh gaine to himselfe by him, and selleth him; then that theefe shall die, and thou shalt put away evill from the midst of thee.

Take thou heed in the plague of leprosie, to observe diligently and to doe according to all that the Priests the Levites shall reach you; as I commanded them ye shall observe to doe. Remember what Jehovah thy God did unto Marie, in the way, after ye were come forth out of Egypt.

When thou lendest thy neighbour the loan of any thing, thou shalt not goe in into his house, to fetch his pawne. Thou shalt stand without, and the man to whom thou doest lend, shall bring forth unto thee the pawn without. And if he be a poor man, thou shalt not lie downe with his pawne. Restoring ring thou shalt restore the pawne unto him when the Sunne goeth downe, that he may lie downe in his raiment and blesse thee, and unto thee it shall bee justice before Jehovah thy God.

14 Thou shalt not fraudulently oppresse an hired servant that is poore and needy, of thy brethren, or of thy stranger which is in thy land, within thy gates. In his day thou shalt give his hire, and the Sun shall not go down upon it, for hee is poore, and unto it he lifteth up his soule, that he cry not against thee unto Jehovah, and it be in thee a sinne.

16 The father shall not be put to death for the children, and the children shall not be put to death for the fathers: they shall bee put to death every man in his owne sin. Thou shalt not wrest the judgement of the stranger, nor of the fatherlesse: thou shalt not take to pledge the garment of the widow. But thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in Egypt, & Jehovah thy God redeemed thee thence, therefore I command thee to doe this thing.

19 When thou reapest thine harvest in thy field, and hast forgot a sheafe in the field, thou shalt not return to take it; it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherlesse, and for the widow, that Jehovah thy God may blesse thee in all the worke of thine hands. When thou beatest thine Olive-tree, thou shalt not goe over the boughes after thee; it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherlesse, and for the widow. When thou gatherest the grapes of thy vineyard, thou shalt not gather the single grapes after thee; it shall bee for the stranger, for the fatherlesse, and for the widow. And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, therefore I command thee to doe this thing.

Annotations.

1 Beeke her husband] that is, done an husbands duty, lien with her: as the Greeke translateth, dwell together with her. So Deut. 21. 13. For his marriage is signified by the former phras, taken a wife, as is noted on Deut. 22. 13. grace] or, favour in his eyes; in Greeke, grace before him, that, if he like her not. matter of nakednesse] or, the nakednesse of any thing, that is, the discovery of some uncleane thing: or, by transplacing the words, any thing of nakednesse, that is, of shame and ignominy; as the Greeke translateth, a shamefull (or uncomely) thing. This is thought of some not to be meant of adultery, for which she was to die if it were proved, Deut. 22. 22. but of some evill thing in her conditions or actions, which displeased her husband. So the phras was used in

Deut. 23. 14. for that which was uncleane and unseemely. and he shall write] understand from the former sentence, and if hee shall write: for this is not a commandement, but a permission, as our Saviour saith, Moses because of the hardnesse of your hearts; suffered you to put away your Wives: but from the beginning it was not so, Matt. 19. 8. So after in vers 3. And the latter man shall hate her, that is, if he shall hate her; for all is supposition, and permission, untill v. 4. where she is forbidden to her first husband. But the Hebrewes mistooke this for a commandement, Matt. 19. 7. and so doe to this day, as is to be seene in their writings, wherein good and bad are mixed together thus; A man may not take a wife, and have a purpose in him to divorce her, &c. She may not remaine under him, and minister unto him, if he be purposed to divorce her, A man may not put away his first wife, except he hath found in her the nakednesse of some thing: and it becomes him not to be hasty to send away his first wife; but the second, if he hate her, let him send her away. A woman that is of evill conditions, and is not modest, as are the honest daughters of Israel, it is commanded to put her away. Maimony tom. 2. treat. of Divorces, chap. 10. sect. 21, 22. But the Lord, the God of Israel saith, that he hateth putting away, Mal. 2. 16. And, What God hath joyned together, let no man put a sinder, Matt. 19. 6. bill of divorcement] or, libell (booke) of cutting off; which the Greeke version (approved by the Evangelists, Mark. 10. 7.) calleth, a libell of divorcement, or, of departing away, because by it the woman was cut off from her husband, and departed from him and his house. Of this the Hebrewes have many canons; and the forme of this bill is in the Talmud in Gittin, chap. 9. and by Maimony in treat. of Divorces, chap. 4. sect. 11. set downe in these words:

IN such a day of the weeke, in such or such a day of the moneth N. in such or such a yeer from the creation (of the world,) or from the supputation (of Alexander) after the accounts which wee are wont to count by, here in the place N. I. N. the son of N. of the place N. (or if there be any other name or surname which I have, or my fathers have had, or (which) my place hath, or my fathers place have had) have voluntarily, with the willingnesse of my soule, without constraint, both dismissed, and left, & put away thee, even thee N. the daughter of N. of the city N. (or if thou hast any other name or surname, thou, or thy fathers, or thy place, or thy fathers place) which hath beene my wife heretofore, but now I dismissee thee, and leave thee, and put thee away, that thou maiest be free, and have power over thine owne soule, to goe away, to be married to any man whom thou wilt; and that no man be refused of thine hand, for my name, from this day and for ever. And thus thou art lawfull for any man; and this is unto thee from mee a writing writing of divorcement, and bill of dismission, and an epistle of putting (thee) away, according to the Law of Moses and Israel.

give it] or, deliver it into her hand, and this also before witnesses. The Hebrewes observe ten things, which they say are requisite by the Law, and are the root (or foundation) of the divorce; 1 That a man put her not away, but of his owne will: gathered from these words, If she finde not grace in his eyes; but the woman may be put away, whether shee be willing or not. 2 That hee put her away by a writing, not by any other thing. 3 That the matter of the writing be to divorce her and put her away out of his possession. 4 That the matter of that divorcement bee betwene him and her. 5 That it bee written by her name. 6 That there be no action wanting after the writing thereof, save the delivery of it unto her. 7 That hee give it unto her. 8 That hee give it her before witnesses. 9 That hee give it her by the Law of Divorces. 10 And that it be the husband, or his deputy that delivereth it unto her. Maimony treat. of Divorces, chap. 1. sect. 1. Vnto these they adde also sundry other cautions, as, Where it is said in the Law, AND HE SHALL WRITE HER A BILL, &c. Whether he write it with his owne hand, or speake to another to write it for him; and whether he deliver it with his owne hand, or speake to another to deliver it, (it is all one) it is not said, HE SHALL WRITE, but to signifie, that shee may not be put away but by a writing; and HE SHALL GIVE (to signifie) that shee may not take it of her selfe. But it is necessary, that the husband speake himselfe unto the Scrivener to write it, and to the witnesses to subscribe it. Every bill that is not written by the name of the man that divorceth, and by the name of the woman divorced, is no bill. Who so writeth (a bill) to put away his wife, and betinketh him, and doth not put her away, but winketh himselfe with her after it is written, he may not put her away by that bill at another time when he would put her away. Whereas the Law saith, AND GIVE IT IN HER HAND; the Scripture meaneth no more, but that it come unto her; and whether it be in her hand, or in her bosome, or to her deputy (or attorney) whose hand shee hath made at her hand, it is all one. But it is necessary that he be made her attorney before two witnesses, and that there be two witnesses to testifie, that the bill came to the hand of her attorney. The husband cannot make an attorney to receive the bill for his wife, but he may make one to carry it to his wife. If the attorney have received the bill, and before it cometh to the woman's hand, the husband change his minde, and saith unto him, the bill which I sent by thee, be of none effect; or if he say before unto his wife, the bill which I have sent unto thee, be of none effect; or if hee send another messenger to make it of none effect; or if hee say unto others, the bill which I have sent to my wife be of none effect, loe it is of none effect, though it come (after) to his wives hand. But if (he speake it) after it be come to her hand, or to the hand of her attorney, which was to receive it for her, he cannot make it of none effect. Hee that divorceth upon condition, if the condition be confirmed shee is divorced; if not, shee is not divorced. As if he say, loe hee is thy bill, upon condition that thou give me 200 pence, within these thirty daies; if shee give them with his consent within thirty daies, shee is divorced; if after thirty daies, shee is not divorced. If shee give them to him by force, so that he is not willing to receive them, the bill is of none effect, till shee give them with his consent, &c. Maimony treat. of Divorces, chap. 2. sect. 1. 5. and ch. 3. f. 1. 5. and c. 6. f. 1. 3, 16. and c. 8. f. 1. 21.

Verf. 2. be another mans] or, be to another man: either by full marriage, or by espousals onely; for a betrothed woman is a mans wife, Deut. 22. 23, 24. So the Hebrewes say; He that putteth away his wife, and shee is betrothed to another, although she be not married to him, shee is unlawfull for the first (husband.) And if the first doe returne and marry her, he is to be beaten, and to be compelled to put her out, Deut. 24. 4. Maimony in Divorces, chap. 11. sect. 12. She might also become another mans by fornication, though shee married not, Jer. 3. 1. yet the phrase often implieth the state of marriage, Rom. 7. 3, 4. unto which sense the Hebrewes re-straine it here.

Verf. 3. And the latter] understand from the last clause, And if the latter man hate, and if he write her a bill, &c. for these are but suppositions, and bare permissions, not commandements which God would have done, as is before noted.

Verf. 4. may not returne] or, cannot, it is not lawfull for him to take her againe: and this is the Law which God commandeth, whereby he sheweth a dislike of the former divorcements, as after he plainly confirmeth by the Prophet, Mal. 2. 16. For, Whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery, [and it be marry another, he committeth adultery,] and whosoever shall marrie her that is divorced, committeth adulterie, Matth. 5. 32. and 19. 9. [shee is caused to be defiled] or, is caused to defile her selfe: The Greeke and Chaldee translate, shee is defiled: but the Hebrew word Hattamaah is of such a composition, as implieth both the defiling of her selfe, and the cause thereof by her husband, who put her away first. It was therefore an error in the Jewes, to take this for a commandement of God, which he tolerated only for the hardnesse of their hearts; and shewed the woman to be defiled by her second marriage, after her first unjust divorce. not cause the land to sinne] or, not suffer the land to sinne: which may be understood, that by their example others should not be occasioned to doe the like; or, that by the Magistrates neglect of punishing this evill, others be not emboldened. Or rather, that the land be not in sin, that is, punishable for this sin, which extendeth not onely to the persons that do it, but to al the people that suffer it: as there be examples of the like in other cases, as Jos. 7. and 22. 17, 20. Therefore the Prophet alicaging this Law, saith, that the land should be greatly greatly polluted, Jer. 3. 1. and so the Greeke version here, in stead of in faith, and ye shall not defile the land. This Law is figuratively applied in the practise of it unto God and his Church, unto whom he was an husband, Jer. 31. 32. and unto whom in time he did give a bill of divorcement, but for her adultery, Jer. 3. 8. not upon displeasure, without her due merit, as the Israelites often did to their wives, (for such a bill of divorce they could not shew) but for her transgressions she was put away, Eccl. 50. 1. And though by this Law, a woman put away, and becoming another mans, might not returne to her first husband againe, yet God (who is above his Law) offereth his Church, after her many adulteries, to returne againe unto him by repentance and faith, Jer. 3. 1. Hos. 2. 3, 19. & 3. 1, 5. The Apostle also applieth this Allegory to the Churches estate under the Law, and under the Gospel of Christ, Rom. 7. 1, 2, 3, &c.

5 Verse 5. in the armie] unto the war, as the Greeke translateth. In Deut. 20. a law was given for such as were betrothed and not married, had planted vineyards, or built houses, and not eaten of, or dwelt in them; the Hebrews understand those two also in this Law, saying, He that hath builded a house, and dedicated it, and he that married his betrothed wife, or his brothers wife, (Deuteronomie 25. 6.) and he that hath made his vineyard common, these goe not out to war till the yeere be ended. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Kings, chap. 7. sect. 10. any thing] or, ought of any thing, that is, of any charge or burthen concerning wars, or the like. Therefore whereas such as had not married their spouses, nor dedicated their houses, nor made common their vineyards, when they were sent backe from the armie, were to provide victuals, and prepare the waies for the armie, as is noted on Deuteronomie 20. 7. they were all this first yeere free from these and other the like charges, as the Hebrews say, These goe not out to the warre, neither are they charged with any thing in the world, Deuteronomie 24. 5. By word of mouth we have bene taught, that he shall be free a yeere, both for the house that he hath dedicated, and for the wife that he hath married, and for the vineyard whose fruit he hath begun to eat of. All the yeere long he neither provideth victuals, nor prepareth the way, nor watcheth on the walls, nor giveth to the tributes of the citie, neither may any thing in the world passe upon him. Maimony treat. of Kings, ch. 7. sect. 10, 11. passe upon him] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, be laid upon him. free] that is, exempted from all public labours and charges. In the wars that K. Ase made with Baasa, none was free, 1 Kin 15. 23. where may be understood, none save such as Gods Law did exempt: or, not they neither, because of the great necessity of helpe. rejoyce with his wife] By this Law God shewed how much he approved of holy wedlocke, (as by the former he shewed his hatred of unjust divorces) when to encourage the newly married, against the cumbrances which that estate bringeth with it, and to settle their love each to other, he exempted those men from all wars, cares and expences, that they might the more comfortably provide for their owne estate.

6 Verse 6. (A man) shall not take] Hebr. He shall not take: this is to be understood of any man: therefore the Greeke and Chaldee change the person, to make the sense plainer, Thou shalt not take, speaking to every man, as after Moses also speaketh in vers. 17. neither millstone] elsewhere this word Recharim signifieth both millstones, or the mill in generall, Exod. 11. 5. Here, by reason the upper millstone is after mentioned, the nether stone is specially meant. And under these particulars, all other of like necessary use for mans life are forbidden to be taken to pledge. The Hebrewes say, Hee that lendeth to his Neighbour, &c. may not take to pledge vessels (or instruments) wherewith they make readie (meats) for the life; as Millstones, or the wooden Mill, or Pott which they boyle meate in, or Baichers knetes, or the like things, Deuteronomie 24. 6. and if he take such to pledge, he must be forced to restore; and if the Pannet be lost, or burnt before he doe restore it, he is to be beaten. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of the Lender and Borrower, chap. 3. sect. 2. the upper millstone] called Recheb, & Gharra, because of the running thereof upon the nether stone: From hence they say, He that taketh to pledge many instruments which are for food, &c. is guilty for every instrument (or vessel) by it selfe, though they be two instruments wherewith they doe one worke, [as the nether Millstone and the upper] he is guilty for them by the name of two instruments, and for them twaine he is to be twice beaten. Maimony ibid. chap. 3. sect. 3. See after in vers. 11, 12, 17. the soule] that is, the life of the soule (or body) meaning, the instruments of his livelihood: and as Thargum Ierusalem expounds it, the necessities of the soule (or life). The Chaldee paraphrase thus, For by them is made (ready) meat for every soule. Thus the Millstones are named but for an instance, forbidding all other of like sort.

7 Verse 7. a soule] that is, any person, man, woman, or childe. of Israel] This the Hebrewes take as a limitation to Israel, and the Proselytes thereof: and for stealing Infidels, they hold hee was but to make restitution. Maim. tom. 4. treat. of Theft, chap. 3. sect. 1. and chap. 9. sect. 6. make him guine] or, serveth himselfe; the Greeke translateth, and bringing him under his power, selleth him. See this word used in Deut. 21. 14. and selleth him] The Hebrewes joine this to the former, without which they thinke the theefe was not to dye. A theefe is not guilty of death, until he steale an Israelite, and get him into his power, and serveth himselfe of him, and selleth him to others, Deut. 24. 7. If he steale him, and serve himselfe with him, and doe not sell him, or doe sell him before he hath served himselfe by him, he is free (from death) Maim. treat. of Theft, ch. 9. sect. 2, 3. Others thinke that if he either served himselfe with him, or sold him, hee was to dye: and this may well be the meaning of the Law; for and often signifieth or, as is noted on Gen. 13. 8. and 19. 12. shall dye] as the Hebrewes say, he was to be strangled to death. Maim. ibid. ch. 9. sect. 1.

8 Verse 8. plague of Leprosie] which might bee on mens bodies, or on garments, or in houses. The Law of all these is given at large, in Levit. 13, and 14 Chapters. all that the Priests] the Greeke translateth, all the Law that the Priests the Levites shall shew unto you. This is a warning to Israel, that if any man had the Leprosie, or a sore like the Leprosie, he should not dissemble or hide it, or pluck off, or cut away the signes thereof, or labor by medicines to cure it, or doe any thing thereto, but as the Priest directed him according to the Law; because this plague was usually by the hand of God for mens finnes, and did pollute both the person himselfe, and all that touched him; so that for the discerning and curing of this plague, they should seeke unto God, by the meanes which he appointed. Therefore from this Law, the Hebrews teach; He that plucketh off the signes of uncleannesse, either all or some of them, or seareth the living (raw) flesh, all, or some of it, or cutteth all the fore out of his flesh, or out of a garment, or house, either before he come to the Priest, or whiles he is shut up, or after, &c. he transgresseth against this prohibition, TAKE THOU HEED IN THE PLAGUE OF LEPROSIE, &c. (Deuteronomie 25. 8.) Maimony tom. 3. treat. of Leprosie, chap. 10. sect. 1. See the Annotations on Levit. 13. as I commanded them] If then the Priest spake or did otherwise than God prescribed, it was not to stand. A Priest that pronounceth him unclean that is cleane, or him cleane that is unclean, he doth nothing at all, for it is written (in Lev. 13. v. 14, 15.) he is unclean, and the Priest shall pronounce him unclean, &c. Maimony in Leprosie, chap. 9. sect. 3.

9 Ver. 9. unto Miriam] in Hebrew Mirjam, in Greeke Mariam; she was the sister of Moses and Aaron, a Prophetesse in Israel, who for speaking against Moses, was smitten of God with Leprosie, Numb. 12. whose example is for a warning to all, that they should not sinne as she did, lest God plague them also; and that the justice of the Law should be executed upon all Lepers, without respect of persons. So all other examples in Scripture are examples unto us, 1 Cor. 10. 6, - 11. and so Christ saith, Remember Lots wife, Luk. 17. 32.

10 Ver. 10. when thou lendest] or, when thou shalt exact of thy neighbour the exactiō of any thing, that is, any debt: which if it were with rigour, or of a poore man that had not to pay, was unlawfull. See the notes on Exod. 22. 25. The Greeke translateth, If there be a debt in thy neighbour, (that is, if he be indebted to thee) what debt soever. See the notes on Deut. 15. 2. thou shalt not goe in] This is spoken to the creditor, and (as the Hebrews say) to the messenger of the Magistrate sent to take a pawne. He that lendeth to his neighbour poore or rich, may not take a pawne of him, but by the Synedrion, [that is, by authority of the Magistrate:] and though it be the messenger of the Synedrion that cometh for a pawne, he may not come into his house and take his pawne, but must stand without, and the borrower is to bring out a pawne unto him, Deut. 24. 10. If it be so, what (difference) is there betwene the creditor, and the Messenger of the Synedrion? The messenger of the court, he may take the pawne out of the hand of the borrower by force, and give it the lender: but the creditor may not take the pawne, till the borrower give it him with consent. If the creditor transgress, and goe into the borrowers house for his pawne, or snatcheth a pawne out of his hand by force, he is not to be beaten, because the act is broken off; for he must restore the pawne, Deuteronomie. 24. 13. If he keepe not this commandment to restore it, as if the pawne be lost or burnt, he is to be beaten, and to restore the price of the pawne. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of the Lender and Borrower, chap. 3. sect. 4.

Ver. 12. not lie downe] to sleepe; not goe to bed. For breach of this Law, the Lord reproveth Israel; They lay themselves downe upon clothes laid to pledge, by every altar, Amos 2. 8. But hereby, not onely the use of the poore mans pawne, but the keeping of it is forbidden; with his pawne, that is, and his pawne by thee (or in thy custody) Maimony in Lender and Borrower, chap. 3. sect. 5.

Ver. 13. when the Sun] or, as the Greeke translateth, about the going downe of the Sunne: in Exod. 22. 26. it is said, before the Sunne goeth downe; see the Annotations there, where is shewed, that every pawne is to be restored when the poore man hath need of it, by night or by day. If the pawne must thus be restored when he hath need, what booteth it to take the pawne? The Hebrewes answer, that by this meanes the debt is not released in the seventh year, (which the Law biddeth, Deut. 15. 1, 2, 3.) and if the borrower die, his moveables are not made his childrens, but payment is made by the pawne after his death. Maimony ibid. chap. 3. sect. 5. justice] in Greeke, almes, a worke of mercy, which God will reward: as on the contrary in v. 15. he saith, is he in thee a sinne, that is, an iniquity which God will punish.

Ver. 14. not fraudulently appresse] or, not defraud: the Greeke translateth, Thou shalt not fraudulently keepe backe the hire of the poore, &c. which word the Apostle useth in like case, saying, Behold the hire of the labourers, &c. which is by you fraudulently kept backe, crieth, &c. Jam. 5. 4. and among the other weighty lawes, our Saviour nameth this for one, in Mark. 10. 19. See also Levit. 19. 13. thy gates] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee translate, thy cities.

Ver. 15. In his day] in Greeke, The same day. Day, is used for all time. his hire] or, his wages, whether for his owne labour, or for his beasts, or other things. So the Hebrewes explaine it, Whether it be the hire of man, or the hire of beasts, or the hire of instruments, he is bound to give it in his time: and if he keepe it after the time, he transgresseth against a prohibition Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Hiring, chap. 11. sect. 1. not goe downe upon it] in Levit. 19. 13. it is said, it shall not abide all night with thee; which two the Hebrewes unfold thus; What is the time (or day) of him that is hired? He that is hired for a day, (his hire) is due all that night; and of him it is said (in Lev. 19. 13.) it shall not abide all night with thee until the morning: and he that is hired for a night, it is due all the day; and of him it is said, In his day thou shalt give him hire, (Deut. 24. 15.) And he that is hired for hours of the day, it is due all the day; if for hours of the night, it is due all the

the night. He that is hired for a weeke, or for a moneth, or for a yeeve, or for seven, if (the terme) goe out by day, it is due all that day; if it goe out by night, it is due all that night. Maimony ibidem, chapter 11. section 2

listeth up his soule } that is, hopeth for and desireth it for the maintenance of his life. So the Greeke here translateth, be his hope; and in Jer. 22. 27. and 44. 14. the lifting up of the soule signifieth a desire: and the soule is often put for life. Hereupon the Hebrews say; Whosoever withholdeth the hirelings wages, is as if he tooke away his soule (or life) from him; for it is written, unto it be listeth up his soule: and he transgresseth against foure prohibitions, and one Commandement; against, Thou shalt not fraudulently oppresse; and against, Thou shalt not rob; and against, The hirelings worke (or wage) shall not abide all night with thee; and against, The Sun shall not goe downe upon it; and, In his day thou shalt give his hire. Maimony treat. of Hiring, chapter 11. sect. 2. a sinne] that is, a great iniquitie which God will punish: for though he cry not, yet is it a sinne; but the cry of the poore halteth Gods judgement; as on the contrary, the blessing of the poore procureth a good reward from the Lord, verse 13. According to this phrase it is said, The wicked thought of foolishnesse (that is, of the soule) is sinne, Proverbs 24. 9. that is, damnable, and to be punished of God. So in Jam. 4. 17. Joh. 15. 22, 24. & 9. 41. And in 1 King. 1. 21. I and my son Solonon shall be sinners, that is, punished as malefactors. Accordingly God threatneth to come neere to them in judgement; and to be a swift witness against those that fraudulently oppresse the hireling in his wages, Mal. 3. 5.

16 Verse 16. for the children] Hebr. for the sonnes. This law concerneth the Magistrates, who should not kill the children for the parents, or parents for the children, no not in case of treason, as K. Amaziah slew his servants, which had slaine the King his father, but the sonnes of them that slew him, he put not to death, according to this law of Moses, 2 King. 14. 5, 6. 2 Chronicles 25. 4. And God himselfe professeth so to deale, saying, The sonne shall not beare the iniquity (that is, the punishment) of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, &c. the wickednesse of the wicked shall be upon him, Ezekiel 18. 20. The Chaldee Paraphrast here translateth, by the mouth of the son; and so after, by the mouth of the fathers; meaning that they should not die by their testimonie. And so the Hebrews gather from this Law, saying, Neere kinsfolke are not fit to be witnesses by the Law, as it is written, The fathers shall not be put to death for the sonnes, &c. We have been taught, that in this generall prohibition is comprised, that the fathers be not put to death by the mouth of the sonnes, nor the sonnes by the mouth of the fathers; and the same right is for other neere a kin. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Witnesses, chap. 13. sect. 1. But the first interpretation is most proper and certaine. not be put to death] so it is also alleaged in 2 King. 14. 6. but in 2 Chron. 25. 4. it is, they shall not die. The one openeth the other, and so die, is often used for, so be put to death, as Num. 35. 12, 30. Deut. 17. 12. & 18. 20. & 22. 22, 24. in his sin] and for his sin; for so the Hebrew is often noteth the cause: see Deut. 9. 4.

17 Verse 17. not wrest] or, not pervert, decline, or turne aside. This is forbidden in all judgment generally, Exo. 23. 2. Deut. 16. 19. specially concerning the poore, Exod. 23. 6. more specially here concerning the stranger and fatherlesse: against such as thus wrest judgment, the Lord will come neere to judgment, and be a swift witness against them, Mal. 3. 5. The Hebrews say, Whosoever wresteth the judgement of any one of Israel, transgresseth against one prohibition, viz. Thou shalt not doe unrighteousnesse in judgement, Leviticus 19. 15. And if it be of a stranger, he transgresseth against two prohibitions, Deuteronomie 14. 17. and if it be of the fatherlesse, he transgresseth against three prohibitions, Deuteronomie 24. 17. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chap. 20. sect. 12.

nor of the fatherlesse] the word nor, or and, is supplied also by the Greeke version, and so is often to be understood, as two three Eunuchs, 2 King. 9. 32. for two or three, so, to morrow, the third day, for, or the third day, 1 Samuel 20. 12. Like a Crane, a Swallow, that is, or a Swallow, Esay 38. 14. and sundry the like. The holy Ghost sometime supplieth the defect, as is noted on Exodus 22. 30. In the Greeke here is added, and of the widow: so in Deuteronomie 27. 19. Cursed be he that wresteth the judgement of the stranger, fatherlesse, and widow: and all the people shall say, Amen. garments of the widow] or any other thing of hers that she hath need of: the garment is named but for an instance; as in Job 24. 3. there is mentioned the widows ore. The Hebrews have this generall canon; A widow, whether she be poore or rich, they may take no pawning of her, neither at the time when they lend unto her, nor at any other time, neither by the commandement of the Synedrion, Deut. 24. 17. and if any take her pledge, they force him to restore it. If the pawning be lost or burnt before he restore it, he is to be beaten. Maimony treat. of the Lender and Borrower, chap. 3. sect. 1.

19 Ver. 19. reapest thine harvest] This is an addition to the Law in Lev. 19. 9. there, a corner of the field, and the gleanings were commanded to be left for the poore; and here the forgotten sheafe. These three were due to the poore out of every corn-field in Israel. And the Hebrews say, this law of the forgotten sheafe extended also to the vineyard, and other fruit trees, where whatsoever was forgotten, might not be taken againe by the owner: see the Annotations on Lev. 19. 10. hast forgot] This the Hebrews understand as spoken both to the owner, & to his labourers; that it is not a forgotten sheafe till all have forgotten it. But so as that they all be in the field; for if the owner be in the citie, and speaketh of the sheafe in the field, which hee thinketh his workmen will forget, and they doe forget it, this (notwithstanding his remembrance of it) is a forgotten sheafe. Two sheaves asunder one from another are (counted as) forgotten; but 3. (or more) are not. So for other things; as two vines, or other trees, standing asunder one from another, are as forgotten, but not more. A tree that is forgotten among the trees, though it have many peckes of fruit upon it, yet is counted as forgotten. Finally, among many other like cautions, they say; What is forgotten among the sheaves? All that he cannot stretch out his hand and take it: [that is, if it be further than hee can reach from the place where he standeth.] Maimony tom. 3. in Mattanoh gnanijim, chapter 5. And as it is for the sheaves, so for the standing corne: if a man forget some of the standing corne, and reape it not, it is for the poore. Maimony ibidem, chapter 1. section 6. for the stranger] in Greeke, the Proselyte, one joynted to the Church of Israel: to such these gifts peculiarly belonged, and to other poore: see the Annotations on Lev. 19. 10. And as forgetting often signifieth a neglect, or passing over of a thing, so in this case: and a man might purposely passe over a sheafe and leave it as forgotten, for the poore, as Boaz did for the stranger Ruth, saying to his harvest-men, Let fall some of the sheaves for her, and let it lie that she may gather it up, Ruth 2. 16. Or, if a man did it not purposely, but unawares, yet was he to consider herein the providence of God, which caused him to forget or passe over a sheafe, for the poores sake: for as the Ostrich is said to forget her egges which she leaveth in the earth, because God hath deprived her of wisdom, &c. Job 39. 15, 17. so in this case of the sheafe, that the poore also might have occasion to minde the providence and love of God towards them, in this releefe. in all the worke] or, in every worke; the Greeke saith, in all the workes. This promise of blessing is to encourage them in well doing, for which they should not lose their reward: for that which is done unto poore Christians, is done unto Christ himselfe, Matthew 25. 40. and, He that is gracious unto the poore, lendeth unto the LORD; and that which he hath given will he pay him againe, Prov. 19. 17. So Boaz for his kindnesse unto Ruth, (whom afterwards he tooke to wife) had a son of her (as a blessing of God) Obed, the grandfather of David the King, Ruth 4.

20 Verse 20. beatest] that is, as the Greeke translatheth, gaibereft the olives. The same is to be understood of all other trees of fruit which they gathered. not goe over the boughs] in Greeke, thou shalt not returne to gather the (olives) after thee: in Chaldee, thou shalt not take away after thee. It is the same law for trees, which was before for corne, that what was forgotten or past over at first, should not after be gathered, but left for the poore. As that which is forgotten in the revenues of the field, and the like, so that which is forgotten in all trees (is for the poore) as Deuteronomie 24. 20. When thou beatest thine olive tree, &c. And the same law is for other trees. So there are two gifts for the poore from the trees, that which is forgotten, and the corner, Leviticus 19. Maimony in Mattanoh gnanijim, chapter 1. section 6, 7.

21 Verse 21. not gather the single grapes] or, not glean, and properly the grapes which grow not in clusters, as is noted on Leviticus 19. 10. which law is here repeated: and by saying, after thee, he seemeth to teach the same for the vine, which hee taught for the corne and other trees, that all forgotten grapes should be for the poore. So the Hebrews observe, that there are foure gifts for the poore in the vineyard; the grapes that are broken off, and the single grapes, and the corner, and that which is forgotten. Maim. in Mattanoh gnan. ch. 1. f. 7.

CHAP. XXV.

1 God commandeth just judgement towards all.
2 To beat such as deserve it, but not with more than forty stripes.
4 Not to mousell the Oxe when he treadeth out the corne.
5 Of raising seed unto a brother deceased without issue.
7 What was to be done unto the man that would not raise up seed unto his brother.
11 The immodest woman must have her hand cut off.
13 Against unjust weights and measures.
17 The memory of Amalek for cruelty to Israel, is to be blotted out from under heaven.

IF there be a controversie between men, and they come neere unto judgment, and they judge them; then they shall justifie the just, and condemne for wicked the wicked. And it shall be, if the wicked be worthy to be beaten; that the Judge shall cause him to lie downe, and to be beate before his face, according to his wickednes, by a number. Forty (stripes) he may smite him; hee shall not adde more, lest if he adde to smite him above these with many stripes, then thy brother be vile in thine eies.

Thou shalt not mousell the Oxe, when he treadeth out the corne.

If brethren dwel together, and one of them die, and have no sonne, the wife of the dead shall not be to one without, to a man that is a stranger, her husbands brother shall goe in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and do the duty of an husbands brother unto her. And it shall be, that the first-born which she beareth, shall stand up in the name of his brother, which is dead, that his name be not blotted out of Israel. And if the man like not to take his brothers wife, then let his brothers wife go up to the gate, unto the Elders and say, My husbands brother refuseth to raise up unto his brother a name in Israel; he is not willing to do the duty of an husbands brother unto mee. And the Elders of his citie shall call him and speak unto him: and if he stand and say, I like not to take her; Then shall his brothers wife come neere unto him in the eies of the Elders, and she shall pull off his shooe from off his foot, and shall spit in his face: and she shall answer and say; So shall it be done unto the man which will not build up his brothers house. And his name name shall be called in Israel, The house of him that hath his shooe pulled off.

11 When men strive together, a man and his brother, and the wife of the one draweth neere for to deliver her husband out of the hand of him that smiteth him, and putteth forth her hand, and taketh hold by his secrets; Then thou shalt cut off her hand, thine eye shall not spare.

13 Thou shalt not have in thy bag a stone and a stone, a great and a small. Thou shalt not have in thine house an Ephah and an Ephah, a great and a small. A perfect stone and a just shalt thou have, a perfect Ephah and a just shalt thou have, that thy daies may be lengthened in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee. For he is an abomination to Jehovah thy God, whosoever doth these things, whosoever doth unrighteousnesse.

17 Remember that which Amalek did unto thee by the way when yee were come forth out of Egypt. How hee met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, all that were feeble behind thee, and thou wast faint and wearie; and he feared not God.

19 Therefore it shall be, when Jehovah thy God hath given rest unto thee, from all thine enemies round about, in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance to possesse it, thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under the heavens: thou shalt not forget it;

I A Controversie is a plea, or strife; in Greeke, a contradiction. and they] or, that they (the Judges) may judge them. And this Law concerneth all Courts, the highest of seventy one Judges, the Court of twenty three, and the Court of three; the lowest of which judged inferiour causes and money matters, and had authoritie to beat malefactors, but not to put to death. justifie that is, pronounce just, and so absolve or acquit in judgement. condemne for wicked or, pronounce wicked, and so condemn in judgement; as the Greeke translateth it, condemne. This is contrary to the former, and to the Apostle opposeth them, saying, It is God that justifieth, who is he that condemneth? Rom. 8. 33, 34. This Law is perpetuall, the transgression whereof is a great sin; for, He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are an abomination to the LORD, Prov. 17. 15.

2 Verse 2. worthy to be beaten Hebrew, a sign of beating, which the Greeke translateth, worthy of stripes;

and the Chaldee, a signe guiltie of, or worthy to be beaten. So the sonne (or childe) of bell, Mat. 23. 15. is one worthy of hell fire; the son of death, in 1 Sam. 20. 31. is one that was worthy of death, and therefore should be killed; and in the Gospel, If the sonne of peace be there, (in the house) Luke 10. 6. which another Evangelist explaineth thus, If the house be worthy, Matth. 10. 13. Now, who they were that deserved beating, are by the Hebrews shewed thus; He that transgresseth against a prohibition, whereby the (contrary) commandment to be done, is broken off, and they warned him of it, and said unto him, Do not this thing, for if thou dost it, and keepest not that which is commanded concerning it, thou shalt be beaten; and he transgresseth and keepeth not the commandment, so he is to be beaten. Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 16. sect. 4. More particularly, These are to be beaten, whosoever transgresseth against a prohibition, for which he deserves to be cut off, but is not to be put to death by the Synedrion, as he that eateth fat, or blood, or leaven at the Passover. Likewise whosoever transgresseth against a prohibition for which they are guilty of death by the hand of God: as he that eateth of fruits, before the first-fruits, tithes, &c. be paid; and a Priest that is unclean, and eateth of the heave-offering which is cleane. Likewise who so transgresseth against a prohibition, wherein there is an act (or worke:) as he that boyles a Kid in his mothers milke [which the Hebrews understand of eating fish with milke,] or that weareth Linsie woollsey. But a prohibition wherein is no act, as to walke as a tale-bearer, to revenge or beare grudge, or receive a false report, &c. for such he is not beaten: [nor for any other where in there is an act, some few excepted.] Every prohibition, for which they are to be put to death by the Magistrate, as adulterie, working on the Sabbath, &c. they are not beaten therefore. So every prohibition, for which they are to make satisfaction, as robbery, theft, &c. they are not beaten for it. And every prohibition, whereby the (contrary) commandment is broken off, as, Thou shalt not take the dam with the young, (Deut. 22. 6.) Thou shalt not wholly rid the corner of thy field, (Lev. 19. 9.) &c. they are not beaten for it, unless they keepe not the commanded thing concerning them, [that is, unless they omit the letting of the dam goe, Deut. 22. 7. and the leaving of the corner for the poore, Lev. 19. 10.] And for a prohibition (implied) in the generall, they are not beaten: but all other prohibitions which are in the Law, they are to be beaten for doing them. What is that prohibition (comprised) in the generall? It is one prohibition which generallly compriseth many things, as, ye shall not eat with the blood, (Lev. 19. 26.) And so when it is said, Do not such a thing, and such a thing, forasmuch as there is not a particular prohibition for every one of them he is not to be beaten for every one of them, unless they be divided in other prohibitions, or said by word of mouth that they are divided. As there is said, Eat not of it raw or sodden, (Exodus 12. 9.) he is not beaten (for eating of it raw and sodden) twice, but once. Of the first-fruits he saith, Thou shalt not eat bread, and parched corne, and green eares, (Lev. 23. 14.)

a man for eating these three is to be beaten thrice; by word of mouth we have bene taught, that these are divided (or severall.) It is said (in Deuteronomie 18. 10.) Let there not be found in thee, any that maketh his sonne or his daughter to passe thorough the fire; a diviner of divinations, an observer of times: although all these things be comprehended generally in one prohibition, yet are they divided in other prohibitions, as (in Leviticus 19. 26.) ye shall not observe fortunes, and ye shall not observe times: to teach, that every one of these is a prohibition by it self severall; and so all other of like sort. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 18. section 1, 2, 3. Finally they say, All prohibitions, for which cutting off is due, but not death by the Magistrate, for which men are to be beaten, are one and twentieth. All for which death is due by the hand of God, which are prohibitions wherein an act is, for which men are to be beaten, are eighteen. All prohibitions in the Law, for which there is neither cutting off due, nor death by the Magistrate, for which men are to be beaten, are an hundred sixtie and eight. So there are found in all which are to be beaten, 207. Maimony ibidem, chapter 19. All which are there particularly related, but would be too long here to repeat. the Judge] that is, the Judges, as the Greeke translateth: for one Judge sate not alone to judge controversies. Neither was any man to be beaten without witnesses of his crime. No man is to be beaten but by witnesses and evidence; and they are to examine the witnesses by inquiry and diligent search, even as they doe in judgements of life and death. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 16. section 4. cause him to lie downe] or, to be laid downe, and bound fast: the manner is said to be thus; both his hands are fast bound unto a post, this way and that way, and the minister of the Congregation [the executioner] taketh hold on his garments, if they rend they rend, or if they seam-rend they seam-rend, untill he make bare downe to his heart, for he is not to beat him upon his clothes. And he that is beaten neither standeth nor sitteth, but barreth downe. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 16. section 8, 10. to be beaten] or smitten; in Greeke, scourged. The Hebrews say, There was a stone laid behinde him, on which the minister that did beat him stood, who had in his hand a scourge of a Bulls hide, doubled 10 two, and two to foure; and two scourges (or thonges) of an Asses hide, that flided up and downe in it: and the breadth of the scourge was an hand breadth, and the length so as it might reach to the fore-part of his belly; and the handle of the scourge was an hand breadth long. He that did beat him, lifted up the scourge with both his hands, and smote him with one hand, with all his might, &c. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 16. section 8. before his face] the Greeke translateth, before them, meaning the Judges, who were to see him beaten. And they say, that The greatest of the Judges read all the while that he was in beating, (that in Deuteronomie 28. 58, &c.) If thou wilt not observe to doe all the words of this Law, &c. then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderfull, &c. And the second of the Judges counted [the number of the strokes] and the third said unto the minister, Smile: all the while that he smote, he did smile at his bidding. Maimony ibidem, chapter 16. section 11.

according to his wickednesse] or, as the Chaldee interpreteth it, according to the sufficiency (the proportion) of his sinne: but the Greeke saith, according to his impietie. So that the Judges might moderate his blowes, according to the nature of his trespassse, and the mans abilitie to beare the stripes; but they might not exceed the number set here of God. They may not adde more than fortie, though he be as strong and lustie as Sampson: but they may abate from him what is weake, &c. If they have judged him to have fortie stripes, and after that they have begun to beat him, they see him to be weake, and say, he cannot beare more than these nine or twelve stripes which he hath received, then he is free. If they adjudged him to receive twelve, and after that he is beaten, they see him strong, and able to beare more: he is free notwithstanding, and may not be beaten with more than they adjudged him. Who so deserveth many beatings, for many transgressions that he hath done, or for one that deserveth many, if they adjudge him one measure (or judgement) he is beaten and discharged; if not, they beat him, and he healeth himselfe, and then they beat him againe. Who so is beaten by the Magistrates for a sinne which deserveth cutting off, and is beaten the second time for the same sinne; as he that eateth fat, (Leviticus 7. 25.) and is beaten for it, and eateth fat the second time, and is beaten for it; if he eat the third time, they beat him not, but put him into Little-cuse, a narrow place as high as himselfe, wherein he cannot lie downe; and they give him the bread of distresse, and water of affliction, till his bowells be shrunk, and he be sicke: and afterward they feed him with barley till his belly burst. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 17. section 1, 2, 4. and chapter 18. section 4. by a number] that is, by a certaine number, determined by the Judges.

Verse 3. Forty stripes] this number forty the Scripture useth sundry times in cases of humiliation, affliction, and punishment: as Moses twice humbled himself in fasting and prayer fortie daies and fortie nights, Deut. 9. 9, 18. Elias fasted fortie daies, 1 King. 19. 8. and our Saviour, Mat. 4. 2. Forty yeeres Israel was afflicted in the wilderness for their finnes, Num. 14. 33, 34. and forty yeeres Egypt was desolate for treacherous dealing with Israel, Ezek. 29. 11, 12, 13. Forty daies every woman was in purification from her uncleannesse, for a manchild that she bare, and twice forty daies for a woman-child, Lev. 12. 4, 5. Forty daies and forty nights it rained at Noes flood, Gen. 7. 12. Forty daies did Ezekiel beare the iniquity of the house of Judah, Ezek. 4. 6. Jonas preached, yet forty daies and Niniven shall be overthrowne, Jon. 3. 4. Forty yeeres space the Canaanites had to repent, after Israel came out of Egypt, and wandred so many yeeres in the wilderness, Num. 14. 33. And thrice forty yeeres the old world had Noe preaching unto them repentance, Genesis 6. 3. It was forty daies ere Christ ascended into heaven, after his resurrection, Acts 1. 3, 9. And forty yeeres space of repentance he gave unto the Jewes, from the time that they killed him, before hee destroyed their Chie and Temple, by the Romanes. By

By the Hebrews this Law is expounded thus, *How many stripes doe they beat (an offender) with? with fortie lacking one: as it is written (Deut. 25. 2, 3.) by number fortie, that is, the number which is next to fortie. Talmud. Bab. in Maccoth, chapter 3. This their understanding is very ancient, for so they practised in the Apostles daies, as Paul testifieth, Of the Iewes five times received I fortie (stripes) save one, 2 Cor. 11. 24. But their reason which they give is not solid: as when they say, If it had bene written, FORTIE IN NUMBER, I would say it were full fortie: but being written, in number fortie, it meaneth the number which reckoneth fortie next after it, that is, thirtie nine. By this exposition they confound the verses, and take away the distinction, I thinke rather this custome was taken up, by reason of the manner of their beating fore-spoken of, which was with a scourge that had three cords, so that every stroke was counted for three stripes, and then they could not give even fortie, but either thirtie nine, or fortie two, which was above the number set of God. And hereof they write thus; *When they judge (or condemne) a sinner to so many (stripes) as he can beate, they judge not but by strokes that are fit to be trebled, [that is, to give three stripes at one stroke by reason of the three cords.] If they judge that he can beate twentie, they doe not say he shall be beaten with one and twentie, to the end that they may treble (the stripes) but they give him eightene. Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 17. sect. 2. Thus he that was able to beate twentie stripes, had but eightene; the Executioner smote him but six times, for if hee had smitten him the seventh, they were counted one and twenty stripes, which was above the number adjudged: so hee that was adjudged to fortie, was smitten thirtie nine times, which being counted one for three, make thirtie nine. And so R. Bechaias writing hereof, saith, The strokes are trebled (that is, every one is three) and three times thirtie are nine and thirtie. be may smite] in Greeke, they may scourge, (or shall scourge) implying all the Judges with the Executioner: so after, and they shall not adde, not adde] not exceed the number set of God. The Hebrews say, If he that is beaten, die under the hand of the Executioner, he is free; but if he adde one stripe more to the measure, and he die, then the Executioner is banished for it. If he die not, yet he transgresseth against this prohibition: and so for all other that smite their neighbours. For if when the law giveth leave to smite, the Scripture commandeth not to smite a man (more than the appointed measure) for his wickednesse, much more any other man. Therefore who so smiteth his neighbour, though he smite a servant with a stroke, for which there is not due a farthing recompence, he is to be beaten: but if there be recompence to be made for it by money, no man payeth, and is beaten also. Maimony in Sanhedrin, chapter 16. section 12. with many stripes] or, with any more stripes: Hebr. with much smiting. thy brother be vile] or, be contemptible. By this God teacheth to hate and despise the sinne, not the sinner, who is by this chastisement to be amended: as the power which the Lord hath given, is to edification, and not to destru- ction, 2 Corinth. 13. 10. This vilenesse or ignominie is opposed to glorie or honour, Eiaſay 16. 14. The Greeke translateth it, Aſchemoneſei, that is, be ignominious, or behave himselfe unseemly: which word Paul useth when he saith, Love doth not behave itselfe unseemly, or is not ignominious, or contumelious, 1 Corinthians 13. 5. From this the Hebrews teach, that whosoever hath sinned and is beaten, he returneth to his dignitie, because it is said, Then thy brother be vile in thine eyes; after he is beaten, he be is thy brother. And all that deserve cutting off, when they are beaten, are free from cutting off. The high Priest when he sinneth, is beaten by three, as all other of the people, and returneth to his highnesse (or dignitie:) but the Chiefe of the Session, when he sinneth, they beate him, and he returneth not to his first estate; yea, he returneth not to be as one of the rest of the Synedrion, for they ascend in holinesse, and descend not. Maimony in Sanhedrin, ch. 17. sect. 7, 8, 9.

Verse 4. the oxe] or the asse, or any other beast: the oxe is named but for an instance. And if the beast may not be mousſed, that is, have his mouth tied up (as the Chaldee translateth) but is to eat that wherein he worketh, how much more men. Hereupon the Apostle saith, Doth God take care for Oxen? or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt this is written, that he that ploweth should plow in hope, and he that threſeth in hope should be partaker of his hope, 1 Corinth. 9. 9, 10. See also the notes on Deuteronomie 22. 10. when he treadeth] or, in his treading or threſhing: which the Greeke (followed also by the Apostle) translateth, treading or threſhing. They used in Israel to threſh their corne, not onely with flails as we doe, but with the feet of beasts they trod it out, Hosea 10. 11. and sometime with Cart-wheels, as Eiaſay 28. 27, 28. So they were wont in other nations, as the Romans did beat out their corne with flaves, or tread it out with cartell. Columel. de rust. lib. 2. cap. 21. Spiritually this signified the labour of the Ministers of the Word, preparing the bread of life for the soule, as the Apostle sheweth, saying, Let the Elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the Word and Doctrine: for the Scripture saith, Thou shalt not mousſell the oxe that treadeth out the corne, 1 Timothy 5. 17, 18. and to this the Proverbe agreeth, Where no oxen are, the crib is cleane (or empty) Proverbs 14. 4. Touching this Law, the Hebrews write thus; A beast is to eat all the while that is worketh in things that grow out of the ground, whether they be yet upon the ground, or pulled up: he is also to eat of the burdens that are upon his backe, &c. whosoever restraineth a beast from eating, in the time of his working, he is to be beaten, Deuteronomie 25. 4. whether it be an oxe, or other kinde of beast, uncleane or cleane, and whether he tread out the corne, or doe any other worke in that which groweth out of the ground; and it is not said, the oxe when hee treadeth, but for an instance. And whether he mousſell him at the time of his worke, or before the time, and then doth worke with him; yea, though hee mousſell him by voice, [that is, frayeth him by his voice from eating] he is to be beaten. If he hire a beast, and mous- sell him, and treadeth out corne with him, he is both beaten, and payeth to the owner thereof foure Kabs for a bullocke, and three Kabs for an asse. [A Kab was a measure that held as much as 24. egges.] If an Israelite tread out corne with the bullocke of an heathen, (and mouzell it) he transgresseth against this Law, Thou shalt not mouzell: but if an heathen tread with an Israelites bullocke, he transgresseth not: [for what things soever the Law saith, it saith to them that are under the Law, Romans 3. 19.] If he mouzell him not, but put a pricke in his mouth, that he cannot eat, or cause a Lyon to lie thereby [to fray him from eating] or layeth the (bullocks) calfe without [to keepe her from eating] or that the beast is a thirst, and he giveth it no drinke, or spread a skin upon the corne that he may not eat; all these and other the like are unlawfull, though he is not beaten [for doing them.] &c. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Hired things, chap. 13. sect. 1, 2, 3.

5 Verse 5. If brethren dwell together] This Law is first to be understood of naturall and next brethren (the Hebrews restraine it to Israelites, and brethren by the fathers side onely,) and secondly, if there be no brethren, the next kinsman (for all kinsmen are in the Scripture phrase brethren) is to doe the dutie here required, as the example of Boaz and Ruth sheweth, Ruth 3. & 4 chap. And their dwelling together seemeth to denote their single state of life, whilst they abode in their fathers house; as there is an example of Er, Onan, and Selah, in Judahs family, where before Moses time this Law was practised, Gen. 38. 7, &c. One of them die] One is often used for the first, as in Genesis 1. 5. and 8. 5. So some understand this Law to be for the first-borne of the brethren onely: others take it generally for any one of them; and thus the Hebrews take it in the largest sense. It is commanded by the Law, that a man should take the wife of his brother by the fathers side, whether of such as be married or betrothed, if he die without seed, Deuteronomie 25. 5. Brethren by the mothers side (onely) are not counted for brethren, in the case of inheritance, or of taking the brothers wife, and putting off (the shoe) but are as if they were none: for there is no brotherhood but by the fathers side. Strangers that are become Profelytes, and servants which have their freedome, have no brotherhood at all, but are as strangers one to another, &c. Maimony tom. 2. in Iibbum, (or treat. of taking the Brothers wife) ch. 1. sect. 1, 7, 8. So in the Gospel this case is propounded to our Saviour in generall termes, Moses said, if any (man) die, Mat. 22. 24. or if any (mans) brother die, Marke 12. 19. Luke 20. 28. that it seemeth even then, this was not thought to intend the first-borne onely.

have no sonne] Hebrew, no sonne to him, that is, no childe: for sonne, the Greeke translateth seed, which comprehendeth sonne or daughter: so in the Gospel it is translated, having no children, Mat. 22. 24. or, he die childlesse, Luke 20. 28. and in Mat. 22. 25. it is said, having no seed. Thus the Hebrews expound it, That which is said in the Law, AND HAVE NO SONNE; whether it be sonne or daughter, or seed of sonne, or seed of daughter, &c. if he have seed by that wife, or by another, he freeb his wife from unloosing the shoe, or marrying his brother: yea, though he have a seed which is a bastard, &c. But if he have a sonne by a bond-woman, or by an alien, he freeb not his wife: for the seed that cometh of a bond-woman, are servants, Exodus 21. 4. and they which come of Infidels, are Infidels, and are as none; for of the heathen be saith, HE WILL TURNE AWAY THE SON FROM AFTER MEE, Deuteronomie 32.

4. hee turneth him away from being counted of the Church. And though his sonne by the bond-woman be made free, or his sonne by the alien be become a Profelyte, yet are they as other strangers, and freed (servants) and doe not discharge his wife, &c. Who so dieth, and leaveth his wife with childe, if she have an untimely birth after his death, she is to marry her husbands brother: but if she bring it forth, and the childe cometh out alive into the aire of the world, although it die in the house that it is borne, loe his mother is discharged from pulling off the shoe, or marrying her husbands brother. Maim. in Iibbum, chap. 1. sect. 3, 4, 5.

a stranger] that is, of another family in Israel, as the Greeke translateth it, a man not neere, that is, not neere of kin. The Hebrews say, If she be married to another, and he lie with her before she be married to her husbands brother, or have pulled off his shoe, he and she are to be beaten, and she is to goe out by (Bill of divorce). Maim. in Iibbum, chapter 2. section 18.

her husbands brother] or next nearest kinsman, as in Ruths case, Ruth 3. Here they say, Who so dieth and leaveth many brethren, it is commanded that the eldest marry his brothers wife, or pull off his shoe. If the eldest will not, they turne to all the other brethren: if they will not, they turne againe to the eldest and say, Upon thee the commandement (lieb) either to put off (the shoe) or to marry thy brothers wife: and they cannot compell the husbands brother to marry her, but they may compell him to pull off (the shoe.) If the eldest brother be gone into another countrey, his younger brother may not say, the commandement lieb upon my elder brother, wait for him till he come: but they say to this, that hee now marry, or pull off (the shoe.) Maimony in Iibbum, chap. 2. sect. 6. -- 9.

goe in unto her] into the chamber, as Iudg. 15. 1. that is, take her to wife. The Hebrewes thinke this might not be done till they had waited 90. daies after her husbands death, which was to see whether she was with child or not: and such was the custome for al other women that were widows; they married not till after three moneths. Maimony in Iibbum, ch. 1. f. 19. This seemeth necessary in this case, for if she were with child, and brought if forth alive, it was not lawfull for her brother in law to have her, Levit. 18. 16.

Verf. 6. stand up in the name of his brother] that is, be counted and called the seed of the dead man, not of the living: & for this cause Onan sinned in nor performing this duty, because he knew that the seed should not be his, Gen. 38. 9. Thus Obed, whom Boaz begat of Ruth, is said to be the sonne of Naomi, Ruth. 4. 17. And as hee did this for his dead brother, so by the Hebrewes, Who so married his brothers wife, hee was the wife of all his brothers goods. Maimony tom. 4. treat. of Inheri-

nances, chap. 3. sect. 7. his name be not blotted out] or, not wiped out; for that was an heave judgment in Israel, Deut. 9. 14. & 29. 20. Psal. 109. 13. Therefore to comfort the godly Eunuchs, the Lord promiseth to give them a name better than of sonnes and of daughters, Esay 56. 5. And this sheweth the reason of this Law, that God would have brethren shew mercie one to another, both to the living, and to the dead, as Ruth 2. 20. that widowes should not be left comfortlesse, and that families should not be cut off from their inheritances in Canaan, (which were figures of a better and heavenly heritage, as is shewed on Gen. 12. 5.) but that the name of the dead might be raised up upon their inheritances, Ruth 4. 5, 10. And as Christ himselfe came according to the flesh, after this manner of kindnesse shewed by Boaz his grandfather; so unto him, and his Church, may the truth of this shadow and legall ordinance be applied. For the Church of Israel was his wife, Hosea 2. who bare him no children by the Law, Rom. 7. 10. & 11. But the Apostles (his brethren, Joh. 20. 17.) by the immortall seed of the Gospel, begat children unto him, both of the Jewes and Gentiles, 1 Cor. 4. 15. Gal. 4. 19. 1 Pet. 1. 23. not that they should be called by any mans name, 1 Cor. 1. 12, 13. but to carry the name of Christ, whose name shall be for ever, and continued as long as the Sun; in whom all nations shall blesse themselves: and blessed be the name of his glory for ever, Psal. 72. 17, 19.

7 Verse 7. like not] or be not willing, have no delight or pleasure: so in verse 8. Though God would have brethren performe the foresaid dutie, yet if their affections were contrary, he forced them not hereunto, lest worse evils should grow in families, through want of love, which is the bond of perfectnesse. But what if the woman her selfe were not willing? For this God giveth no expresse Law: but by the Hebrews opinion, if she were fit to marry him, and would not, she was judged as a woman rebellious against her husband, and was put away without a dowrie, which all other widowes had. If her husbands brethren were manie, and the eldest required her, and she were not willing thereto, but would have another brother, they hearkened not unto her, for the commandement is, that the eldest should have his brothers wife. Maimony in Ibbum, chap. 2. sect. 10. to the gate] where the Judges used to sit: so the Chaldee explaineth it, to the gate of the Iudgement Hall (or Court) before the Elders: see Ruth 4. 1, 2, &c.

8 Verse 8. and speake unto him] The brothers wife goeth after her husbands brother, in the place where he is, and commeth to the Judges: and they call him, and give him counsell, such as is meet for him and her. If it be good to marrie, they counsell him to marrie her: and if it be good to put off the shoe, as if she be very yong, and he an old man, or she an old woman, and he a yong man, they counsell him to put off (the shoe.) And it is needfull that the Judges appoint a certaine place to sit in, and afterward she pulleth off his shoe there before them, &c. Maimony in Ibbum, chapter 4. section 1, 2.

9 Verse 9. pull off his shoe] It is said in Ruth 4. 7. that this was the manner in former time in Israel, concerning redeeming, and concerning changing, for to confirme all things; a man pulled off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour, and this was a testimonie in Israel. So in that case it was a signe, that the brother gave over his right in the woman, and resigned her to any other. Sometimes it is a signe of ignominie, Esa. 20. 2, 4. that also is implied here, as the words following manifest. The manner of performing this Rite, is said to be thus; They brought him a shoe of Leather, which had an heele, &c. and he put it on his right foot, and tied the latchet thereof upon his foot, and stood he and she in the Synedrion (or Court.) And he setting his foot upon the ground, and she sitting downe, stretched out her hand in the Court, and loosed the latchet of his shoe, and pulled the shoe off his foot, and cast it on the ground. After this she stood up, and spitted on the ground before his face, with spittle that might be feare of the Iudges; and it was necessarie that the Iudges should see the spittle that came out of her mouth. And afterwards she said, THUS SHALL IT BE DONE TO THE MAN WHICH WILL NOT BUILD UP HIS BROTHERS HOUSE; AND HIS NAME SHALL BE CALLED IN ISRAEL, THE HOUSE OF HIM THAT HATH HIS SHOOE PULLED OFF; all in the holy tongue. And all that sate there, answered after her, HE THAT HATH HIS SHOOE PULLED OFF, three times. Maimony in Ibbum, chap. 4. sect. 6, 7, 8. Spiritually this signified, that such as would not beget children unto Christ, it should be declared of them, that their feet are not shod with the preparation (or stabilitie) of the Gospel of Peace, mentioned in Ephes. 6. 15.

spit in his face] or in his sight, as this phrase is interpreted, Deut. 4. 37. or before him, as Deut. 11. 25. The Hebrews expound it of spitting on the ground before him, as is before noted. And this spitting was a signe of shame and ignominie, as Numbers 12. 14. Esay 50. 6. build up his brothers house] that is, beget seed for his brother: as Rachel and Leah are said to build the house of Israel, by bearing children, Ruth 4. 11. See the Annotations on Genes. 16. 2. the house of him] So there was a note of infamie not upon himselfe onely, but his house, his posteritie after him: whereby God shewed how much hee disliked this his unkindnesse. And concerning that nearest kinsman, which refused to marry Ruth, lest he should marre his owne inheritance, Ruth 4. 6. wee may observe how neither he nor his hath any name or memoriall in the booke of GOD, though there seemed to be just occasion to have named him, Ruth 4. 1, &c. whereas Boaz who did the dutie, hath not onely his Genealogie rehearsed, Ruth 4. 18, 22. but is in the Rolle of the kindred of our Lord Jesus Christ, who came of him according to the flesh, Mat. 1. 1, 5. After all these rites were performed, the Hebrews doe record, that the Judges gave unto the woman a Bill subscribed with their names, wherein they testified to all men, that such a man and such a woman had on such a day and yeere appeared before them, and done all the things forementioned, according to the Law of Moses and Israel: which bill was a testimoniall of her full discharge from this man, after which she was free to be married to any other. Maimony in Ibbum, chapter 4. section 29, 30.

11 Verse 11. When men strive] or fight, as it were flying one upon another. and his brother] that is, his neighbour; brother is taken here in a large sense, as in Exod. 2. 11. and in many other places.

to deliver her husband] This though it was lawfull for her to doe, and a fruit of her love; yet God forbiddeth it to be done by any unlawfull or immodest manner: for we may not doe evill that good may come, Rom. 3. 8.

putteth forth her hand] This noteth a purposed act: for if shee had done this unawares, the penalty following was not to be inflicted upon her. So the Hebrews conclude in the generall for all men, He that bringeth shame (on his neighbour) is not guiltie (of punishment) for the shame, unless he doe it purposely, as it is written, AND SHE PUTTETH FORTH HER HAND: but he that doth shame to his neighbour without intent, is free. Maimony tom. 4. in Chobel (or treat. of him that doth hurt and dammage) chap. 1. sect. 10.

by his secrets] or privities; which in the Hebrew have their name of Shame, the shamefull parts. From hence the Jewes have a generall law, that men are to make satisfaction for all manner shame that they bring upon their neighbour, as is noted on Exod. 21. 19. Their saying is, He that hurteth his neighbour, is bound to make him satisfaction for five things, viz. the dammage, and the paine, and his healing, and his resting, and the shame; and these five things are recompensed out of the best of his goods, &c. He is bound to pay for the shame by it selfe, Deuteronomie 25. 11, 12. under which law is generally comprehended he that bringeth shame (upon his neighbour.) Maimony in Chobel, chapter 1. section 1, 8.

12 Verse 12. cut off her hand] the instrument wherewith she sinned: by it teaching to cut off and abstaine from such actions. And this severe punishment God appointeth for her immodest carriage.

13 Verse 13. a stone and a stone] that is, as the Gr. and Chaldee translate, a weight and a weight; meaning divers weights, wherewith to deceive in buying and selling, called the bag of deceitfull weights, Mich. 6. 11. In Israel they used to have their weights of stone, or the like: see the Annotations on Lev. 19. 36. So an heart and an heart, meaneth a double deceitfull heart, 1 Chron. 12. 33. This Law forbiddeth not onely all unrighteousnesse in buying, selling, and exchanging; but all unjustice in judgment, Matth. 7. 1, 2. as God blaming the Judges, saith, I will weigh the violent wrong of your hands in the earib, Psal. 58. 3. The like evill is to be avoided in handling the word of God, that it be not deceitfully, 2 Cor. 4. 2. So for measuring the ordinances of God in his Church, by the Reed & Line which he hath given therefore, Ezek. 40. 3, 5. & 43. 10. Rev. 11. 1. called a golden Reed, Rev. 21. 15.

14 Verse 14. in thine house] Though a man doe not weigh or measure with such, yet it is unlawfull to have a light weight, or scant measure in his house or shop, (as the Hebrews teach from this place) for another may come, who knoweth not that it lacketh weight, and may weigh with it. Maimony treat. of Theft, chapter 7. section 3. Ephah] or Bustell: in Greeke and Chaldee, a measure and a measure, that is, a double measure. The Ephah is named in stead of all other: what it was, see on Levit. 19. 36. and Exod. 16. 36. So in Prov. 20. 10. A stone and a stone, an Ephah and an Ephah, are an abomination to Iehovah, even both of them. See also Proverbs 11. 1. and 20. 23.

15 Verse 15. A perfect stone] in Greeke, A true weight: so after, a true measure. Hence Solomon saith, A perfect stone is the Lords delight, Prov. 12. 1. and a just] Hebr. and (a stone of) justice: so an Ephah of justice, that is, most just and exact: contrary to them that made the Ephah small, and the shekel great, Amos 8. 5. So in Ezek. 45. 10. it is said, Balances of justice, and an Ephah of justice, and a Bath of justice, shall ye have. God here commandeth justice and equitie in all things, corporall and spirituall, as our Saviour teacheth us, saying, Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Give, and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed downe, and shaken together, and running over, &c. Luke 6. 37, 38. And Iob applying this to his state of life, saith, Let him weigh me in balances of justice, that God may know mine integritie, Job 31. 6. And every man is willed to ponder (or weigh) the path of his feet, Proverbs 4. 26. that is, (as the Apostle expoundeth it) to make strait pathes for his feet, Heb. 12. 13. may be lengthened] or prolonged; or, that they may lengthen thy daies; of which phrase see Exodus 20. 12. As a just weight and balance are the Lords, Proverbs 16. 11. and his delight, Proverbs 11. 1. so he rewardeth with blessing and long life, the keeping of this law, than which there is none more necessarie in humane societie.

16 Verse 16. an abomination] that is, most abominable; yea, not onely the person that doth these, but even the weights and measures themselves are said to be an abomination, Prov. 11. 1. and 20. 23. and the rather for that this injury is done under a shew of justice, and done especially to the poorer sort, which buy by re-tale, whose wrong God especially regardeth. unrighteousnesse] or injurious evill: which generall word is here added, to imply all other wrongs and deceits, which abound among men, whereby they oppresse and defraud one another: but the Lord is the avenger of all such, 1 Theff. 4. 6. and he hath sworn by the excellencie of Jakob, Surely I will never forget any of their workes, Amos 8. 5, 7.

17 Verse 17. Remember] Hebr. To remember, of which phrase see the notes on Exod. 13. 3. Amalek] that is, the Amalekites, which were the children of Esau, Jakobs brother: of whose wickednesse see Exod. 17. 8, &c.

18 Verse 18. he met thee] by way of enmitie, not of of anity; therefore the Greeke translateth; he resisted thee; when it had been his duty to have met them with bread and water, for their refreshing, Deut. 23. 4. In 1 Samuel 15. 2. it is said, he laid (wait) for Israel in the way. [note the hindmost]

Hebrew, cut off the taile; a stratagem of warre, lawfull against Gods enemies, as Josua 10. 19. but wicked against his people. The Greeke translateth, Cut off thy hindmost troope; in Chaldee, be killed. [feeble] in Greeke, wearied; in Chaldee, lingering: which fast was cruelty in Amalek; for the faint and feeble ought to be comforted and refreshed, Matth. 11. 28. 1 Thess. 5. 14. and such were gathered in the Rereward, as Israel marched, Numb. 10. 25. Though this might be a just correction from God, for such as fainted in their travell, wherein they should have been incouraged. See the notes on Exod. 17. 8. [fear not God] the Chaldee saith, he feared not the glorie of the Lord: for his glorie conducted them in a pillar of cloud and fire, Exodus 13. 21. and God by signes and wonders, great plagues and terrible-nesse, had brought Israel out of Egypt, which made all peoples afraid, Exod. 15. 14, &c. yet Amalek feared not. As by the feare of the Lord, men depart from evill, Prov. 16. 6. so the want of his feare is the cause why men rush into all evill, Psal. 36. 1, 2, &c.

19 Vers. 19. given rest unto thee from all] under which is implied, a subduing of all the enemies; for so these phrases doe explaine one another, 2 Sam. 7. 11. with 1 Chronicles 17. 10. And here God deferreth vengeance till after many yeeres: so shewing forbearance towards the wicked, which should leade them to repentance, Rom. 2. 4. and compassion towards his people, whom he would not exercise with all waters at once, lest they should be discomfited. See Exod. 13. 17. [blot out] or, wipe out the remembrance, that there should no name or memoriall of them remaine: a signe of great wrath, as Deuter. 9. 14. and 29. 20. This judgement God executed by Saul the first King of Israel, whom he sent to destroy utterly these Amalekites, both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheepe, camell and ass. 1 Sam. 15. 2, 3. But he failed in the performance of it: therefore God stirred up the Simeonites (in King Ezekiels dates) and they smote the rest of the Amalekites, that were escaped, 1 Chron. 4. 42, 43. yet Haman of Agag the Amalekite remained, who plotted the death of all the Jewes: but he and his ten sons were killed; and Amaleks memory is perished, Hest. 5. &c. And under this, the like judgement on Antichrist was figured: see the Annotations on Exodus 17. [shalt not forget] that is, Take heed thou forget it not: by forgetting he implieth also neglect of performing this judgement. Therefore Saul who performed it not thorowly, but spared the King, and the best of the cattell, (though for sacrifice unto the Lord) was rejected of God, as having sinned greatly, 1 Sam. 15. 9, 21, 23. and for it he was slain, 1 Chron. 10. 13. and, an Amalekite had an hand in his death, 2 Sam. 1. 8, 9, 10.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The profession of him that offereth the basket of first-fruits. 22 The confession of him that hath given his third yeares Tithes. 16 The Covenant between God and the people.

And it shall be when thou art come into the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance, and thou possessest it, and dwellest therein; That thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land, which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt goe unto a place which Jehovah thy God shall chuse to cause his name to dwell there. And thou shalt come unto the Priest, which shall be in those daies, and shalt say unto him, I professe this day unto Jehovah thy God, that I am come into the land which Jehovah sware unto our fathers for to give unto us. And the Priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and shall set it downe before the Altar of Jehovah thy God. And thou shalt answer and say before Jehovah thy God, A Syrian (ready to perish) was my Father, and he went downe into Egypt, and sojourned there with a few men, and became there a nation great, mighty and many. And the Egyptians evill intreated us, and afflicted us, and laid upon us hard servitude. And we cried out unto Jehovah the God of our Fathers, and Jehovah heard our voice, and saw our affliction, and our labour, and our oppression. And Jehovah brought us forth out of Egypt, with a strong hand, and with an out-stretched arme, and with great terrible-nesse, and with signes, and with wonders. And hee hath brought us into this place, and hath given unto us this land, a land flowing with milke and honey. And now, behold, I have brought the first fruit of the land, which thou, Jehovah, hast given unto me; and thou shalt set it downe before Jehovah thy God, and shalt bow downe thy selfe before Jehovah thy God. And thou shalt rejoyce in all the good which Jehovah thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou, and the Levite; and the stranger that is in the midst of thee.

When thou hast made an end of tithing all the tithe of thy revenue, in the third yeere, the

- the yeere of tithe, and hast given it unto the Levite, to the stranger, to the fatherlesse, and to the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled. Then thou shalt say before Jehovah thy God, I have put away the holy thing out of mine house, and also have given it unto the Levite, and to the stranger, to the fatherlesse, and to the widow, according to all thy commandment, which thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments, neither have I forgotten. I have not eaten thereof in my mourning, neither have I put away ought thereof for the uncleane, neither have I given ought thereof for the dead: I have hearkned to the voice of Jehovah my God; I have done according to all that thou hast commanded me. Looke downe from the habitation of thine holinesse from the heavens, and blesse thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast give unto us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk & hony. This day Jehovah thy God hath commanded thee to doe these Statutes and Judgements, and thou shalt keepe and doe them, with all thine heart, and with all thy soule. Thou hast avouched Jehovah this day to be unto thee for a God, & to walk in his waies, and to keepe his Statutes, and his Commandments, and his Judgements; and to hearken unto his voice. And Jehovah hath avouched thee this day, to be unto him for a people of peculiar treasure, as he hath spoken unto thee, and to keep all his Commandments. And to give thee to be high above all nations which hee hath made in praise, and in name, and in beautifull glorie; and that thou maist be an holy people unto Jehovah thy God, as he hath spoken.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the fiftieth Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

When thou art come] or, When thou shalt be come. He sheweth that they were not bound to (bring) the first fruits, till the land were subdued, and parted among them, saith Sol. Iord. on this place.

Verse 2. of the first] or, of the beginning; which the Greeke translateth, of the first fruit of the fruits of thy land; meaning, of those which were first ripe, then they were to honour God with in the first place, and to shew their thankfulness for his blessings, that so they might be sanctified and increased unto them, Pro. 3. 9, 10. These first-fruits were to be separated before all other, as is noted on Numbers 18. 13. And Sol. Iord. scanne the words thus; Of the first, and not all the first: for all fruits were not bound to give the first-fruits, but the seven sorts onely, for which the land of Israel is commended (in Deuteronomie 8. 8.) the like is said by others of them; They bring no first-fruits save of the seven kinds spoken of in commendation of the land, (Deuteronomie 8.) and they are wheat, and barley, and grapes, and figs, and pomegranats, and olives, and dates: and if one bring any besides these seven sorts, they are not sanctified: They bring not of the Dates that grow on Mount aines, nor of the fruits that grow in Vallies, nor of Olives which are not of the chiefest, but of the Dates that grow in vallies, and of the fruits that grow on Mount aines, because they are of the chiefest (or best.) They bring no first-fruits of liquors, save of olives and of grapes onely; for it is said, OF THE FRUIT OF THE LAND, and not of the liquor: and if one bring of the liquors, they receive them not of him. They that dwell nere to Jerusalem, bring figs and grapes that are moist, and they that dwell farre off bring them dried. Maimony tom. 3. in Bicurim, chapter 2. section 2, 3, 4. The first-fruits have no measure set by the Law, but by the words of our wisemen, he must separate one of sixtie. And he that will make all his field first-fruits, may so doe. If he have separated his first-fruits, and returneth, and addeth more unto them, that which he addeth is at the first-fruits. Ibidem section 17, 18. giveth] or, is giving unto thee; the Greeke addeth, by lot, or for subsistance: this was the land of Canaan, the seat of Gods Church, and figure of a better inheritance by Christ: the first-fruits wherof (which are the graces, or the first-fruits of the Spirit, Romans 8. 13.) are to be brought unto the Lord, that they may be accepted in Christ. Yea, wee our selves, whom he hath begotten with the word of Truth, that we should be a kinde of first-fruits of his creatures, (Jam. 1. 18.) are to present our bodies unto him, and our reasonable service, Romans 12. 1. The Hebrews say, If one bring first-fruits from without the land, they are no first-fruits. Maimony in Bicurim, chapter 2. section 1. In a basket] so the Greeke and Chaldees translate the word Tene, used onely here, and in Deuteronomie 28. 5, 17. The Hebrews understand it generally of any vessell, and hold it necessarie (from this place) that the first-fruits be brought in a vessell, also they teach, that Every sort of fruit should be brought in a vessell by it selfe: but if he brought them in one vessell, it would serve. And they might bring them mixed all together, but the Barley underneath, and the Wheat above it, and the Olives above that, and the Dates above them, and the Pomegranats above them, and the Figs uppermost in the vessell: And there should be some thing put betwixt every severall kinde, as chittie, or rushes, or leaves, or the like; and they laid down the figs, clusters of grapes outward. If he brought them in a vessell of metall, the Priest took the first-fruits, and restored the vessell to the owner: but if he brought them in a vessell of Osiens, or of Rushes, or the like, when both the first-fruits and baskets were the Priests. Maimony tom. 3. in Bicurim, (or Treatise of First-fruits, chapter 3. section 7, 8. on the land shaluge) namely, at the feast of Harvest, or Pentecost, which was seven weekes after the Passover, as may be

be gathered by Exodus 34. 22. and Deuteronomie 16. 9, 10. then the people went up together, and carried of their first-fruits with them. The Hebrews say, They brought no first-fruits before the Pentecost, as it is written, And the feast of Harvest of the first-fruits of thy labours, (Exodus 23. 16.) and if any brought them (before,) they received them not of him, but he left them there untill the solemn feast came. Maimony in Biecurim, chapter 2. section 6. his name to dwell] the Chaldee faith, his divine presence to dwell; the Greeke, his name to be called upon there: meaning the Tabernacle or Temple, called elsewhere, the house of Jehovah, Exodus 23. 19. This in ages following, was at Shilo, and then at Jerusalem, whither the people used to repaire with great solemnitie; and at the performance of this service, they are said to doe thus: When they carried up the first-fruits, all the cities that were in a Station (or Countie) gathered together to the (chiefe) citie of the Station, to the end they might not goe up alone; for it is said, In the multitude of people is the Kings honour; (Proverbs 14. 28.) And they came and lodged all night in the streets of the citie, and went not into the houses for feare of pollution. And in the morning the Governour said, Arise, and let us goe up to Sion the citie of the LORD our God. And before them went a Bull which had his hornes covered with gold, and an Olive garland on his head, to signifie the first-fruits of the seven kinds (of fruits.) And a Pipe struck up before them, untill they came neere to Jerusalem; and all the way as they went, they sang, I rejoiced in them that said unto me, We will goe into the house of the LORD, &c. (Psalm 122.) When they were come nigh to Jerusalem, they sent messengers before them, to signifie it to the men of Jerusalem, &c. Then the Captaines and Governours went out of Jerusalem to meet them: if many men came, there went out many; and if but few, few. And when they all were come within Jerusalem gates, they began to sing, Our feet have bene standing in thy gates, O Jerusalem, (Psalm 122.) All the chiefe Artificers that were in Jerusalem stood before them, and saluted them, Welcome brethren, the men of such a place. And they went in the midst of Jerusalem, and the Pipe striking up before them, till they came neere to the mount of the house (of God:) when they were come thither, they tooke every man his basket on his shoulder, and said, Hallelujah, Praise God in his Sanctuaries, &c. (Psalm 150.) and they went thus and sang till they came to the Courtyard; when they were come thither, the Levites sang (the 30. Psalm) I will exalt thee, O LORD, for thou hast drawne up me, &c. Talmud Bab. in Biecurim, chapter 3. section 2, 3, 4. and Maimony in Biecurim, chapter 4. section 16. Unto this, and other like manner of solemn assembling, the Prophet hath reference, when hee saith, Thou shalt have a song as in the night when an holy solemnity is kept; and gladnesse of heart, as when one goeth with a Pipe, to come into the mountain of Jehovah, to the Rock of Israel, Esay 30. 29.

3 Verse 3. unto the Priest] Gods publick minister, and the figure of Christ, of whom it is written; By him let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruits of the lips, confessing to his name,

Heb. 13. 15. which shall be] that is, which shall minister in his course in those daies; for the Priests ministred by turnes: see 1 Chron. 24. I profess] or, I declare, I shew openly before the LORD. And because of this presenting themselves and their first-fruits to him, the Hebrews say, Thou when they brought their first-fruits, they brought in their hand Turtle doves and yong Pigeons; some they hang upon the bankes, and they were for burnt-offerings and some in their hands, which they gave unto the Priests. Maim. in Biecurim, ch. 3. sect. 9.

Verse 4. before the Altar] that there it might be sanctified by Christ, figured by the Altar, Matthew 23. 19. Hebrews 13. 10, &c. and so made acceptable to God.

5 Verse 5. shalt answer] that is, shalt speake, or pronounce: These words were to be spoken by every man that brought the first-fruits, except hee were not a man, or not the owner of the land, or the like: for such exceptions they doe put. He that brought the first-fruits, might if he would give them to his servant, or to his neighbour, all the way, till he came at the mount of the house (of God.) When he came to the mount of the house, he himselfe was to take the basket on his owne shoulder, yea, though he were the King, the greatest in Israel: and when he came at the Courtyard he professed, whiler the basket was upon his shoulder, I PROFESSE THIS DAY UNTO THE LORD THY GOD, &c. Then he let downe the basket from his shoulder, and the Priest put his hand under it, and waved it, and he said, A STRIAN READY TO PERISH WAS MY FATHER, &c. and he left it by the Altars side, at the Southwest borne (of the Altar) on the Southside of the borne, and bowed himselfe downe, and went out. But the confession is not alike for all: some are bound to bring first-fruits, and yet make no confession over them; as the woman, and he that is of neither sex, and hee that is of both sexes, male and female; because they cannot say, WHICH THE LORD HATH GIVEN UNTO ME. Likewise Tutors (or Guardians) and Servants and Messengers; for they cannot say, which the Lord hath given unto me. The Proselyte bringeth and professeth, as it is said to Abraham, A father of a multitude of nations have I given thee to be, (Genesis 17. 5.) Behold, he is the father of all the whole world, which are gathered under the wings of the divine Majesty. And to Abraham was the oath at first, that his sonnes should inherit the land. Likewise the Priests and Levites doe bring (first-fruits) and profess, because they have Cities and Suburbs. He that separateth his first-fruits, and selleth his field, bringeth them, but professeth not; for he cannot say, WHICH THE LORD HATH GIVEN ME, because the land is not his. And he that bought it, is not bound to separate other first-fruits of that sort; because he that sold it hath separated them already; and if he doe separate any, he may bring them, but not make profession; but of another sort he may separate, bring, and profess. He that separateth first-fruits, and they are lost before they come at the mount of (Gods) house, and he separateth other for them, he bringeth the second, but professeth not, because he cannot say, THE FIRST OF THE FRUIT OF THE LAND, (Deuteronomie 26. 10.) for they

they are not the first, &c. He that bringeth first-fruits of one kinde, and maketh profession, and commeth againe and bringeth first-fruits of another kinde, he maketh no profession over them; for it is said, I PRO-FESSE THIS DAY; one time in the yeere doth he make profession, and not twise. He that bringeth first-fruits after the feast, untill the dedication, although he separated them before the feast, bringeth them, but maketh no profession, because it is said (in verse 11.) AND THOU SHALT REIOICE IN ALL THE GOOD; so there is no professing, but at the time of rejoycing, from the (beginning of the) feast of Weekes, untill the end of the feast. Maimony in Biccurim, chapter 3. section 12. &c. and chapter 4. section 1. &c. In that which is said of the Profelyte (or Stranger) Maimony differeth from his fellowes; for in Talmud Bab. in Biccurim, chapter 1. section 4. it is said, The Profelyte bringeth, but professeth not, because he cannot say, Which thou hast sworn to our Fathers to give unto us; but if his mother were an Israelitess, he bringeth and professeth. But the former well agreeth with the myserie of the Gospel; for as it is prophesied in Ezekiel 47. 22. Ye shall divide (the Land) by lot, for an inheritance to you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be unto you as borne in the countrey, &c. So when Christ came, Zacchaeus the chiefe Publican became the son of Abraham, Luke 19. 9. and in Christ there is neither Iew nor Greeke, but all are one in him, and Abrahams seed and heires, according to the promise, Galathians 3. 28, 29. And in him is this service in the myserie of it fulfilled, when wee at our Pentecost, that is, when we receive the first-fruits of Gods Spirit, (Act. 2. Romanes 8. 23.) doe honour him with our persons, our substance, and with the first-fruits of all our increase, Proverbs 3. 9. offering the sacrifice of praise unto God continually, the fruit of our lips, confessing to his name, Heb. 13. 15. For as the first of all fruits were holy, so the Church is holy unto the Lord, of all peoples in the earth, Rev. 14. 4. Iam. 1. 18. as it is written, Israel is holiness unto Iehovah, the first-fruits of his revenue, Jer. 2. 3. And as these first-fruits were brought into the Sanctuary in a basket, so the good Israelites whom God would accept for his, are likened to a basket of good figs set before the Temple of the Lord, even like the figs that are first ripe, and them God promiseth to acknowledge, & to set his eyes upon them for good, and that they shall be his people, and hee will be their God, &c. Ier. 24. 1, 2. 5, 6, 7.

A Syrian ready to perish] Hebr. An Aramite perishing, or, of perdition; that is, ready to perish through poverty, affliction, and misery, As in Prov. 31. 6, 7. Give strong drinke unto him that is ready to perish, &c. Let him drinke and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more. An Aramite is after the Greeke called a Syrian, as is noted on Genesis 10. 22. and this Syrian here spoken of was Isaac, who dwelt in Syria with Laban the Syrian, twenty yeeres in hard service; Gen. 28. 5. and 31. 38. 40. 41. 42. Hos. 12. 12. and therefore though hee was naturally an Hebrew, yet for his misery is called a Syrian; as contrariwise Is- ther, who by nature was an Ismaelite, 1 Chron. 2. 17. is for his faith and state of grace called an Israelite, 2 Sam. 17. 25. And thus God said to the Jews that dwelt in Canaan, Thy nativity is of the land of Canaan; thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother a Chetbite, Ezek. 16. 3. Others understand it here of Laban, translating, A Syrian was destroying my father, (or working his perdition;) and to this the Chaldee agreeth, saying, Laban the Syrian sought to destroy (or undo) my father: and the Vulgar Latine, A Syrian persecuted my father. The Greeke differeth from both, translating, My father left Syria. By this speech they were taught to acknowledge their first estate and originall to have beene most miserable; and so we ought all to confesse, Ephesians 2. 2, 3. a few men] in Chaldee, a small people: they went downe but with seventie soules, Genesis 46. 27.

Verse 6. evil intreated] did evil, or reviled: and this is a commemoration of their second maine affliction, whereof see Exod. 1. &c. and it was a figure of our bondage under sinne and Satan, which we being delivered from, are to mention with thankfulness, Rom. 6. 17, 18. Tit. 3. 3. hard servitude] in Greeke, hard workes: they made them serve with rigour, that their lives were bitter unto them, Exod. 1. 14. God would nor have us forget our former miseries, though we be come out of them: he sundry times commandeth this; Thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in Egypt, Deut. 16. 12. Remember that yee having beene in times passed, heathens, &c. were without Christ, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, Ephesians 2. 11, 12.

Verse 7. we cried out] in Chaldee, we prayed: see Exo. 2. 23, 24, 25. heard our voice] in Chaldee, accepted our prayer. saw] in Chaldee, it was revealed (or manifest) before him; see Exo. 3. 7. our labour] or our molestation.

Verse 8. out-stretched] in Greeke and Chaldee, as high arme: see Exod. 7. &c. terriblenesse] or terror: this the Greek and Chaldee translate visions; and so in Deut. 4. 34.

Verse 9. milk and honey] under which two, all other earthly blessings and heavenly also, in figure, are implied: and hereby they acknowledge the truth of Gods promises made unto their fathers; whereof see the notes on Exod. 3. 8. So after in verse 15.

Verse 10. the fruit] in Greeke, the first-fruits of the fruits. As we our selves are the Lords first-fruits, Rev. 14. 4. and have received the first-fruits of his Spirit, Rom. 8. 23. so we then doe give the first-fruits unto him, when in Christ (the true Sanctuary) we acknowledge, that we and ours are his, and have this grace not of our selves, or for our owne merits, but of his goodnesse and liberality, 2 Cor. 3. 5. Eph. 2. 8, 9, 10. Tit. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6.

set it down] or leaves it for the Priests, which did after eat it. The first-fruits were given to the men of the charge [the Priests that ministered] and they divided them among them, as the [other] holy things of the Sanctuary. Maimony in Biccurim, chapter 3. section 1. It figured, that we should com-

secrete our selves & ours for ever unto the Lord, Rom. 12. 1. and 6. 19. 22.

11 Verſ. 11. Shalt rejoyce] as they were bound to doe at all other feasts, Deut. 16. 11. 15. So that after this homiage, the people abode in the holy Citie all that night feasting, and the next day they might depart, and not before. Hereupon the Hebrewes note seven things, which they that brought first fruits were bound unto; the coming to the place; and the vessel (or basket;) the Profession to be made; and the oblation (or sacrifice;) and the Song; and the Waving of it by the Priest; and the tarrying all night. When hee hath brought his first-fruits to the Sanctuary, and made profession, and offered his peace-offerings; hee may not goe out of Ierusalem that day, to returne to his owne place, but must tarry there all night, and returne on the morrow to his owne Citie; as it is written (in Deut. 16. 7.) and thou shalt turne in the morning, and goe unto thy tent. All the turnings which thou shalt turne out of the Sanctuary after thou art come thither, shall not be but in the morning. Maimony in Bicurim, chapter 3. sect. 14.

in all the good] or, as the Greeke tranſlateth, for all the good things: the chiefest whereof are the first-fruits of the spirit, wherewith God sanctifieth his people: as when Christ teacheth that Our Father which is in heaven will give good things to them that aske him, Matth. 7. 11. another Evangelist expoundeth it, he will give the holy Spirit to them that aske him, Luke 11. 13. For this Spirit and graces of God which we have received, we ought to rejoyce before him continually, Psal. 100. Luke 10. 20. Phil. 3. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 8. 1 Theſſ. 5. 16.

12 Verſ. 12. of thy revenue] which the Greeke expoundeth, of the fruits of thy land. See the notes on Deut. 14. 22. the yeere of tithes] that is, the yeere when the second tithes was to be given to the poore, which was the third and the sixth yeare of every seven yeares, whereof the Law was given before in Deut. 14. 28. The Greeke tranſlateth, the second tithes thou shalt give to the Levite, &c. Of this the Hebrewes say, We are commanded to confesse before the LORD, after that wee have brought forth all the gifts which be of the seed of the land, and this is called the Confession of the tithes. And we make not this Confession, but after the yeere wherein wee have separated the Tithes of the poore, Deut. 26. 12. Maimony tom. 3. in Maasar sheni, (or treat. of the Second tithes) chap. 11. sect. 1. 2. within thy gates] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldees expound it, thy cities: see Deut. 14. 28, 29.

13 Verſ. 13. Then] Hebr. And thou shalt say. The time is recorded by the Hebrewes, to be at the Mincbah [the Oblation] in the last good day of the Paschever of the fourth (yeere) and of the seventh; as it is said, WHEN THOU HAST MADE AN END OF TITHING: at the Feast wherein all the tithes are culled. And the Paschever of the fourth yeere commeth not, but all the fruits of the third (yeere) are tithed, whether they be the fruits of the trees, or fruits of the land. Maimony in Maasar sheni, chap. 12. sect. 3. The reason hereof was, the Paschever was kept in Abib (or March) Dan. 16. 1. and the first of Tisri (that is, September) was the beginning of the yeere for the tithes of some seeds, and herbes: and the fifteenth of Shebat (which wee call January) was the beginning of the yeere for the tithes of the fruits of trees, as Maimony sheweth in Maasar sheni, chap. 11. sect. 2. so by March following, the tithes of the third yeere (which they had laid up within their gates, Deut. 14. 28.) might all be bestowed, and the Paschever was the next feast that ensued, when all men were bound to appeare before the Lord, Deut. 16. 16.

say before Jehovah] that by this solemn confession, they might testifie their voluntary obedience to his lawes with a cleare conscience, and so crave and expect his further blessing. The Hebrewes say, This confession might be uttered in any language that a man spake; and every one spake for himselfe; and if many would confesse joyntly in one, they might. And it is commanded to be done in the Sanctuary BEFORE THE LORD; and if they confessed in any place, they were discharged. Maim. in Maasar sheni, c. 11. s. 5, 6.

put away the holy thing] in Chaldee, the holy thing of the tithes: Hebr. the holiness; meaning, things of holiness; as the Greeke tranſlateth, I have purged the holy things out of my house: so that this confession respected not the tithes of the poore onely, but all other holy things, which they were bound to give unto God, or his Ministers, or the poore. And putting away, signifieth the removing and utter taking away, so that nothing remaineth. So the Hebrewes say, A man confesseth not untill there be not any of the gifts remaining with him; as it is said, I have put away the holy thing out of (mine) house: And in the evening of the last good day (of the Paschever) was the putting away; and on the morrow was the confession. Thus he did: if there remained with him any peace-offering of the Tithes, he gave it to the Priest: if any of the first Tithes, he gave it to the Levites: if any of the poore's Tithes, he gave it to the poore. If there remained with him any of the fruits of the second Tithes of confession, or of that which was of the fourth yeeres plantation (Leviticus 19. 24.) or any money of their redemption, he put them away, and cast them into the Sea, or burnt them. If any first-fruits remained with him, hee put them away in every place; whereby is meant, that hee burned and put away that which remained with him of the fruits which hee could not eat all of them before the good day came, &c. Hee cannot confesse till hee have brought out all the gifts; as it is said, I HAVE PUT AWAY THE HOLY THING, that is, the second tithes, and the fourth yeeres plantation, called HOLY, Lev. 19. 24. OUT OF MY HOUSE, that is, the Cake (Num. 15. 20.) which is the Priest's gift in the house, I HAVE GIVEN IT TO THE LEVITE, this is the first tithes, (Num. 18. 21.) AND ALSO I HAVE GIVEN IT, which implieth generally, that the other gift was before, namely, the great Heave-offering (of first-fruits) and the Heave-offering of the tithes: TO THE STRANGER, TO THE FATHER LESSE, &c. this is the tithes of the poore, and the gleanings, and the forgotten (sheaf) and the corner, (Deut. 24. 19. Lev. 19. 9. 10.) although the gleanings, the forgotten, and the corner, doe not hinder the making of confession.

And

And hee must separate the gifts in order, and afterward make confession, as it is written, ACCORDING, TO ALL THY COMMANDEMENT, &c. Lo, if the second tithe were given before the first, hee might not make confession. If his untithed fruits were burnt, he might not make confession, because he hath not separated the gifts nor given them to whom they were due. He that had nothing but the second tithe only, made confession, for the ground of the confession is in the tithe. And so if he had nothing but first-fruits only, he made confession, as it is said, I HAVE PUT AWAY THE HOLY THING, &c. Maimony in Maafer sheeni, chapter 11. section 7. &c. thy commandments] in Greeke, commandments: and the word according, implieth the order of doing all things, as before is noted. not transgressed] by doing any thing amisse, as giving bad for good; and as the Hebrewes expound it, one kind for another, or old for new, or new for old, or the like. Of Transgression, see the notes on Deut. 17. 2. forgotten] this the Hebrewes apply to forgetting to blesse God for it, and to mention his name upon it. Maimony ibidem, chap. 11. sect. 15. But it is more generall, implying the neglect of any precept, concerning the things here spoken of: for in spirituall duties unto God, all men are faulty, Psalm. 19. 12. Eccles. 7. 20.

14 Ver. 14. in my mourning] or, in my sorrow: By this it appeareth, that this Law and confession extended further than to the third yeares tithe, which was al given to the poore, Deut. 24. 28. 29. and might not be eaten by the owner of the land: and reached to the first and second yeares tithes, which the owners were to eat before the Lord, Deuteronomie 14. 22. 23. but might not eat of it in their mourning, upon paine of being beaten by the Magistrate, as Maimony sheweth in Maafer sheeni, chapter 3. section 5. where he further saith (in sect. 6. 7.) Who is this mourner? Hee that bewaileth any of his kindred, whom hee is bound by the Law to mourne for. And in the day of death hee is bound to mourne by the Law, (Lev. 10. 19.) If hee be kept unburied many dayes, he is a mourner all those dayes till hee be buried, by the doctrine of the Scribes. And not the second tithe only, but all the holy things, every one, if he eat of them in mourning, by the Law he is to be beaten; if in his mourning, by the Scribes doctrine, he is to be scourged. Compare herewith the saying of the Prophet, Their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted, Hos. 9. 4. put away] the word before used in ver. 13. but otherwise turned here in the Greeke, I have not taken fruit thereof: which Greeke word is used in Ios. 5. 12. for eating fruit: and so the Hebrewes expound this here of eating; He that eateth the second tithe in uncleanness, is to be beaten; for it is said, I have not put away thereof for the unclean: whether the tithe be unclean, and the eater cleane; or the tithe cleane, and the eater unclean: and hee that eateth it in Ierusalem before it be redeemed. The unclean is in the unclean; and if hee eat that second tithe, he is to be beaten by the Law, &c. Maimony in Maafer sheeni, ch 3. sect. 1. 4. for the unclean]

so the Greeke translateth it; meaning for any unclean person to eat of it; or for any unclean use. Hebr. in unclean, whereby may be meant, in uncleanness. for the dead] or, to the dead: whereby may be understood, to any idoll, or for any idolatrous use; as Idolaters are said to eat sacrifices of the dead, Psalm. 106. 28. or to be eaten at any dead mans funerall, whereby the holy thing might be polluted; as Hos. 9. 4. for at funeralls they used to eat and drinke, Ezek. 24. 17. Ier. 16. 7. The Hebrewes expound it thus, that hee hath not received (or bought) therewith coffin or shroud (for the buriall of the dead) nor given thereof to other mortuaries. Maimony in Maafer sheeni, chap. 11. section 15. Further they say, The second tithe is given to eat and to drinke, Deuteronomie 14. 23. and anointing is as drinking. And it is unlawfull for a man to bring it out for his other needs; as to receive therewith vessels, or garments, or servants; as it is written, I have not given thereof for the dead; as if hee should say, I have not brought it out for any thing which keepeth not alive the body, &c. Ibidem chapter 3. section 10.

Ver. 15. the habitation of thy holiness] that is, thy holy habitation; as the Greeke translateth it, thyne holy house. By this prayer they submitted themselves unto the triall & judgement of God, for their upright keeping of these his lawes (as Psalm. 26. 1, 2, 3.) and having cleare consciences, they had boldnesse before God, to crave and expect his blessing: for hee that is a doer of the worke (of God) this man shall be blessed in his deed, Iam. 1. 25.

Ver. 16. This day] Moses concluding his exposition of the Lawes, with a warning of obedience, teacheth the children that they are alike interested in Gods covenant, as were their fathers; and so their posterity: for what was spoken and done unto them, concerneth us also, Hos. 12. 4. Psalm. 66. 6, 7. thy God] the first argument of obedience, from the person of God, and his grace towards them, who hath soveraigne authority thereby to command.

Ver. 17. hast avouched] or, hast made to say, that is, to promise: in Greeke, hast chosen. A second reason of obedience, because of the mutuall covenant betweene God and his people: see Exod. 19. 3, 4, 8. which covenant was not with the fathers onely, (Deut. 5. 2, 3.) but being now renewed with their children, and in them with al their posterity, served both to confirme their faith, and to increase their obedience and sanctification. unto thee for a God] or, as the Greeke translateth, thy God: what this meaneth is shewed on Exod. 20. 2, 3. his wayes] which he commandeth to walke in; and they imply both doctrines of faith, and precepts of manners, (as is noted on Gen. 6. 12. and 18. 19.) and an imitation of him, as beloved children, Ephes. 5. 1, 2. Matth. 5. 48. statutes] the ordinances of worship and service which he taught: see the notes on Deut. 4. 1. Commandments] the morall law given in Exod. 20. Judgements] the Iudicial lawes, whereof see Exodus 21. 1, &c. So all whatsoever are in God

Gods law, are comprehended under these heads.

a peculiar people; in Chaldee, a beloved people: ſee the notes on Exod. 19. 5. to keepe] that is, that thou ſhouldeſt keepe; which as it is a part of the covenant on Gods behalfe, ſo is it the worke of his grace in all his people, as he hath ſaid, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, Ier. 31. 33.

 And this is the third argument to perſwade obedience, in reſpect of the high excellency which Gods people begin to obtaine by him in this life,

 God; as it is written, As the girdle cleaveth to the loines of a man, ſo have I cauſed to cleave unto mee the

CHAP. XXVII

1 The people are commanded to write the Law upon the ſtones, when they are come into the land of Canaan.
 5. To build an altar of whole ſtones. 11 The Tribes divided on Gerizzim and Ebal. 14 The curſes pronounced on mount Ebal.

1 And Moſes, and the Elders of Iſrael, 1 commanded the people, ſaying: Keep all the commandment which I com- 2
 mand you this day. And it ſhall be in the day when you ſhall have paſſed over Iordan, unto the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, that thou ſhalt ſet thee up great ſtones, and plaſter them with plaſter.

And thou ſhalt write upon them all the 3
 words of this Law, when thou art paſſed over, that thou maieſt goe in unto the land which Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee, a land that floweth with milke and honey; as Jehovah the God of thy fathers hath ſpo- 4
 ken. And it ſhall be when yee are paſſed over Jordan, yee ſhall ſet up theſe ſtones
 which I command you this day in mount Ebal, and thou ſhalt plaſter them with plai-ſter. And thou ſhalt build there an Altar un- 5
 to Jehovah thy God, an Altar of ſtones, thou ſhalt not liſt up any iron upon them.

Of whole ſtones ſhalt thou build the Al- 6
 tar of Jehovah thy God, and thou ſhalt offer thereon Burnt-offerings unto Jehovah thy God. And thou ſhalt ſacrifice Peace- 7 offerings, and ſhalt eat there, and rejoyce before Jehovah thy God. And thou ſhalt 8 write upon the ſtones all the words of this Law very plainly. And Moſes, and the Priests the Levites ſpake unto all Iſrael, ſay- 9
 ing: Take heed, and heare, O Iſrael, this day thou art become the people of Jehovah thy God. Therefore thou ſhalt obey the voice of Jehovah thy God, and doe his Commandements and his Statutes, which I command thee this day.

And Moſes commanded the people in 11
 that day, ſaying: Theſe ſhall ſtand to bleſſe 12
 the people upon mount Gerizzim, when yee
 are paſſed over Iordan: Simeon, and Levi, and Judah, and Iſſachar, and Joſeph, and Benjamin. And theſe ſhall ſtand for the curſe on 13 mount Ebal: Reuben, Gad, and Aſer, and Zabulon, Dan and Naphtali. And the Levites ſhall answer, and ſay unto all the men of Iſrael with an high voice. 14

Curſed be the man that maketh a graven 15
 or a molten image, an abomination unto Jehovah, the worke of the hand of the craft-ſman, and putteth it in a ſecret place: and all the people ſhall answer and ſay, Amen.

Curſed be hee that ſetteth light by his fa- 16
 ther, or his mother: and all the people ſhall ſay, Amen.

- 17 Cursed be he that removeth his neighbours limit : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 18 Cursed be hee that maketh the blinde to erre in way : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 19 Cursed be he that wresteth the judgement of the stranger, fatherlesse, and widow : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 20 Cursed be hee that lieth with his fathers wife, because he uncovereth his fathers skirt: and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 21 Cursed be he that lieth with any beast: and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 23 Cursed be hee that lieth with his mother in law: and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 24 Cursed be he that smiteth his neighbor in secret : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 25 Cursed be he that taketh a reward to smite a soule, the blood of an innocent : and all the people shall say, Amen.
- 26 Cursed be hee that confirmeth not the words of this Law to doe them : and all the people shall say, Amen.

Annotations.

- 1 THe Elders of Israel] in Greeke, the Senate of the somes of Israel : compare verse 9. Here Moses giveth order for the confirmation of all the Lawes before repeated, by outward signes once to be performed by Israel, when they should be come into Canaan. The end whereof was, to reach them salvation by Christ, and that they should not expect it by the workes of the Law, for that leaveth them under the curse, verse 26. Gal. 3. 10. all the commandment] that is, commandments, as the Greeke translateth it; or, every commandment. See verse 10.
- 2 Verse 2. the day] that is, the time, the first opportunity. For this rite was fulfilled not the first day that Israel went into Canaan, but after, as Ios. 8. 30. &c. So day is used for time. Luk. 19. 42. set up] or, erect, to wit, stones for pillars, as in Exod. 24. 4. to signifie the tribes of Israel; who being brought of God into his good land, were by this extraordinary rite to profess their homage and obedience unto him, otherwise to undergoe the curses of his Law. Which their consciences accusing them of, they might be led unto Christ, for redemption from the curse. with plaster] or with lime, whiting, that the words of the Law might be written thereon; a memorial of Gods benefits unto them. The word plaster is used to signifie hypocrisie, as Paul called Ananias a plastered (or whited) wall, Act. 23. 3. and the Pharisees are likened to whited (or plastered) sepulchres, which appeare beautifull outward, &c. Mat. 23. 27. And that seemeth also to bee intended here; that all such as seeke life by the workes of the Law (which Israel after did, Rom. 9. 31. 32.) have their hearts within hard and stony, (Ezek. 36. 26.) though outwardly they appeare of another nature and colour, and have the profession of the Law upon them, wherein they glory, Rom. 2. 17. 23. Therefore afterward blessings & cursings are mentioned, vers 12. 13. but Moses rehearseth none but curses, as being the due of all such hypocrites. And from the last verse of this Chapter, Paul proveth, that as many that are of the workes of the Law, are under the curse, Gal. 3. 10.

Verse 3. all the words] either the ten commandments called the ten words, Exod. 34. 28. which are the summe of all Law: or, all the words following in this Chapter. See the notes on vers. 8.

that thou maist goe in] and consequently possesse and enjoy the land, which figured heaven: for the Law promiseth life to them that doe it, Rom. 10. 5. though unto man it is impossible. Or, it may be read, for that thou art come in: as being a reason of this service, and of their dutie to keep the Law. And so the Greeke translateth, When thou art come in.

Verse 4. Ebal] or, Gabal; as the Greeke writeth it, Gaibal: and here the other mount Gerizim, (vers. 12.) is also understood; but because the Curses onely, are after expressed, and they were on mount Ebal, therefore it is named. Of this mount: see vers. 12. 13. with plaster] or, with lime, as ver. 2.

Verse 5. An Altar] to signifie God, the other party in the covenant, as was at mount Sinai, Exod. 24. 4. and to teach by it, and the sacrifices offered thereon, that there could be no salvation but by Christ, and his sacrifice for remission of sinnes. iron] that is, any iron toole, to hew or polish them, but they should be as they were naturall; to signifie the perfection that should bee in Christs humane Nature, whereby he was acceptable to God, though before men he seemed altogether deformed, Esay 52. 14. and 52. 3. hee was the stone cut out without hands, Dan. 2. 34. 35. And no man might lift up an iron toole upon these stones, to teach that mans wisdom is foolishnesse with God: see the notes on Exod. 20. 24. where the axe of man, polluteth the Altar of God.

Verse 6. of whole stones] and not of beven, Exod. 20. 25. Of such whole or entire stones did Iosua build it, Ios. 8. 31. Burnt-offerings] to obtaine of God by Christ forgiveness of sinnes; and sanctification of life: see the Annotations on Lev. 1.

Verse 7. Peace-offerings] to shew their hope of peace and prosperity by Christ; and their thankfulness for his graces: see Lev. 3. eat there] keeping holy banquet: for the flesh of the peace-offerings were eaten by the owners & Priests, Levit. 7. 15. &c. This taught them the spirituall joy which

which they should have in Christ, for his deliverance of them from the curse of the Law; and his flesh we doe eat unto life eternall, Gal. 3. 13. Ioh. 6. 51.

8 Verſ. 8 very plainly] or, plainly and well (or fairly) Hebr. making them plaine, doing them well. Hereby is meant a large and faire writing, easie to be read of all, as in Habak. 2. 2. That all sorts of people might have the knowledge of Gods Law, and learne to doe the same. And by this it appeareth, that all the words commanded to bee written, (or the Copie of the Law, which Iesus wrote, Ioh. 8. 32) were not the whole booke of Deuteronomie, much lesse all Moses books, as some have thought; for what stones would suffice for such a worke? With these whited stones, on whose out-side the Law was written, wee may compare that white stone (in Rev. 2. 17.) which Christ giveth to all his, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it: those being to shew the worke of the Law outwardly; this, the worke of Christs grace and Spirit inwardly. Compare also 2 Cor. 3. 2, 3.

9 Verſ. 9. Take heed and heare] or, Attend (hearken) and heare, as the Chaldee expoundeth it; but the Greeke saith, Be silent and heare. art become the people] or, art made for a people to Iehovah, by renewing of the covenant, declared so to be; and therefore bound to obey his commandements: as it is said, For all peoples will walke, everyone in the name of his God: and we will walke in the name of Iehovah our God, for ever and ever, Mic. 4. 5.

10 Verſ. 10. therefore thou shalt] Hebr. And thou shalt obey; the Chaldee saith, shalt receive the Word of the Lord. By obeying (or hearkning unto), is meant the due observing or keeping of the things spoken: as, our fathers have not hearkned unto the words of this booke, 2 King. 22. 13. is explained, our fathers have not kept, 2 Chron. 34. 31. commandements] or, commandment, meaning every one in particular, and all in generall: for the offending in one point, maketh us guilty of all, Iam. 3. 10. See the like in Deut. 5. 10.

12 Verſ. 12. Gerizzim] called in Greeke Garizein; of it, and the other mount Ebal, Moses said before, they were over against Gihon, beside the Ols of Moreh, Deut. 11. 30. and Benjamin] these six here named were the worthiest tribes, all borne of Iakobs wives the free women, and none of the handmaids children: God shewing hereby the strength and noblenesse of the Blessings (above the Curses;) and that they belong to such children, of the free women, as Paul teacheth us in an allegorie, Gal. 4. 22. - 31. Howbeit, though Moses appointeth these to blesse, yet he expresseth not the blessings: by such silence leading his prudent reader to looke for them by another, which is Christ, Ioh. 7. 17. Act. 3. 26. For silence in the holy story often implieth great mysteries, as the Apostle (in Heb. 7.) teacheth from the narration of Melchisedek, in Gen. 14.

13 Verſ. 13. for the curse] that is, to pronounce it. In speaking of the blessings, hee nameth, the people, verſ. 12. but now for the curse, hee mentioneth not the people, but implieth them onely, as if he were loath to name them for such misery.

Ebal] in Greeke, Gabal: this is reported to be neere mount Gerizzim, but northward; and Gerizzim towards the South, (which is the right side of the world, Psal. 89. 13.) if so they were, it foreshewed the blessings which should be pronounced to those which at the last day shall stand on the right hand, and the curses upon those on the left, Matth. 25. 33. 34. 41. The manner of performing this Law is recorded by the Hebrewes thus; Six tribes went up towards the top of mount Gerizzim, and six tribes went up towards the top of mount Ebal; and the Priests and Levites and the Arke stood beneath in the midst. The Priests were round about the Arke, and the Levites about the Priests, and all Israel on this side and on that, as it is written. And all Israel, and their Elders, and Officers, and their Judges, stood on this side the Arke, and on that side, before the Priests the Levites, which bare the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord; as well the stranger, as hee that was borne among them; halfe of them over against mount Gerizzim, and halfe of them over against mount Ebal, (Ioh. 8. 33.) They turned their faces towards Gerizzim and pronounced the Blessing, Blessed be the man that maketh no graven or molten (Image;) and those (on the one side) and those (on the other) answered, Amen. They turned their faces towards mount Ebal, and pronounced the Curse, Cursed be the man that maketh a graven or a molten (Image) &c. and those (on the one side) and those (on the other) answered, Amen; till they had finished the blessings and the curses. And afterwards they brought stones and built an Altar, &c. Thalmud. Bab. in Sotah, chap. 7.

Reuben] he was the eldest of all Iakobs sonnes by Leah the free-woman, Gen. 29. 32. yet as for defiling his fathers bed he lost his dignity, Gen. 49. 3, 4. so here hee is taken from his brethren, to be among the handmaids sonnes, and set on the mount for the curses, one of which was this, CURSED BE HE THAT LIETH WITH HIS FATHERS WIFE, &c. verſe 20. so the memory of his sinne remained to his posterity in speciall manner.

Gad and Aser] the sonnes of Zilpah, Leahs handmaid, Gen. 30. 10, 11, 12, 13. Zabulon] the sixth and youngest of all Leahs sonnes, Gen. 30. 20. and because there were to bee six tribes on this mount, two must be taken of the free womans sons: and God tooke none of Rachels, but the eldest and youngest of Leahs. Dan and Nephthali] the two sonnes of Bilhah Rachel's handmaid, Gen. 30. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

Verſ. 14. the Levites] that is, some of the Priests the Levites, Ioh. 8. 33. their office was to teach Iakob Gods judgements, and Israel his Law, Deut. 33. 10 and as the solemne blessing was by the Levites usually, Deut. 10. 8 so here the curses were by them pronounced to the people. shall answer] that is, speak, or pronounce. Answering is often used for the beginning of a speech, as in Iob 3. 2. to all the men] or, to every man: the Greeke saith, to all Israel.

Verſ. 15. Cursed] It was commanded that the blessing blessing should be put upon mount Gerizim, Deut. 11. 29. and so in the fulfilling of this precept, Iosua read as well the blessings as the curses , Ios. 8. 34. But the chief end of this ordinance was to teach, that so many as are of the workes of the Law, are under the curse, as is opened in Gal. 3. 10. The manner is rehearsed before out of the Thalmud, and the like is in the Ierusalem Thargum upon this place, saying, They turned their faces towards mount Gerizim, and opened their mouth with blessing; Blessed be the man that maketh not any Image, or figure, or any similitude which is hatefull and abominable before the Lord, the worke of the hands of the sonne of man, and putteth it not in a secret place. They turned their faces towards mount Ebal, and said, Cursed be the man which maketh an Image, or a figure, or any similitude, which is hatefull and abominable before the Lord, the worke of the hands of the sonne of man, and putteth it in a secret place: and all the people, these (on the one side) and these (on the other side) answered and said, Amen. Cursing is both in words and deeds, and implieth both the with-holding of all good things, and the inflicting of all evill, especially of eternall damnation and torment, Matt. 25. 41. See the Annotations on Gen. 3. 14. and 4. 11.

the man] that is, every one, as Paul expoundeth the last of these curses, Galathians 3. 10. teaching us to understand the like of all. graven] the Chaldee, and Thargum Ierusalem, interpret it I selem, an image: under graven & molten images, all other like humane Inventions are implied, as is noted on Exod. 20. 4. And the like is to be understood for the transgression of any other commandment of the first table. an abomination to] or, the abomination of Iehovah, that is, which he greatly abhorreth. Hereupon Images and Idols are often called Abominations, 2 King. 23. 13. Esay 44. 19. Ezek. 7. 20. the craftsman] or artificer, implying all devices of the most wise and prudent, which make Idols according to their owne understanding, Hof. 13. 2. For Artificers were employed in the worke of Gods sanctuary, 1. Chron. 29. 5. but when they leave the word of God, and follow their owne inventions, their worke is cursed and condemned, Ierem. 10. 3. 9. Esay 40. 18. 30. Hof. 8. 6. a secret place] so that not open idolatry only, but the most secret is execrable, though it be even in the heart: see Ezek. 8. 12. Psal. 44. 20. 21. Amen] or, So be it, as the Greeke translateth it. A confirmation of the curse with their owne mouths, desiring that it might bee, and beleeving that it should be: see Num. 5. 22. The Hebrewes say of Blessing, Who-soever answereth Amen after him that blesteth, he is as he that blesteth. Maim. in Misneh treat. of Blessings, chap. 1. sect. 11. The same is to bee thought of saying Amen after all these curses.

16 Ver. 16. settleth fight by] or, as the Greeke hath, discomoureth: see the Annotations on Exod. 20. 12.

17 Ver. 17. limit] or, land-marke, border: against which the Law was before given, in Dent. 19. 14.

18 Ver. 18. blind to erre] or, to goe astray. They that see, ought to be eyes to the blind, Iob 29. 15. and are forbidden to put a stumbling block before them,

Lev. 19. 14. much more to seduce them from the right way: for they that are proud, and erre from Gods commandments, are cursed, Psal. 119. 21. how much more if they cause others to erre? He that causeth the righteous to goe astray in an evill way, shall fall himselfe into his owne pit, Prov. 28. 10.

Ver. 19. wresteth] or, perverteth, turneth aside: See the Law concerning this, in Dent. 24. 17.

Ver. 20. sinners wife] of this, and the rest that follow, see Levit. 18. Because men give themselves over to divers noysome lusts of the flesh, God causeth divers curses to bee pronounced against this sin, the more to deterre men from following the same in any sort.

Ver. 24. smite] this word is used sometime for slaying or killing, as Deut. 1. 4. & 13. 15. sometime for wounding only, Zach. 13. 6. or chastising, Deut. 28. 27. 28. sometime for smiting with the fist of wickednesse, Esay 58. 4. or with the tongue, Ier. 18. 18. in secret] the Greeke expoundeth it, by guilt.

Ver. 25. a reward] a bribe, or gift: as the Greeke translateth it, gifts: and this is the Magistrates sinne, Deut. 16. 19. and was found in Israel, as Mic. 3. 11. The heads thereof judge for bribes. to smite] in Chaldee, to kill a soule, that is, a person. the blood of an innocent] or, as the Greeke expoundeth it, of innocent blood; which is an effect of bribery, as in Ezek. 22. 12. In thee have they taken bribes, to shed blood.

Ver. 26. Cursed be he] the Greeke translateth, Cursed be every man: and so the Apostle alleageth it, Gal. 3. 10. where he giveth this doctrine, So many as are of the workes of the Law, are under the curse: that whiles men doe the Law outwardly, yet are they cursed by the Law, as being privie transgressors: for the Law is spirituall, but men are carnall, sold under sinne, Rom. 7. 9. - 14. confirmeth not] or, stablisheth not: which the Greeke, and our Apostle in Gal. 3. 10. expound contineth not. For when the just man turneth away from his justices, and committeth iniquitie, &c. all his justice that he hath done shall not be mentioned; in his trespasses that he hath trespassed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall hee die, Ezek. 18. 24. See the Annotations on Levit. 26. 15. the words] in Greeke, all the words: see the like in Levit. 25. 18. Exod. 25. 40. Deut. 19. 15. And so the Apostle citeth this place in Gal. 3. 10. contineth not in all things written in the booke of the Law. to doe them] this is an exposition of the former word confirmeth; & sometime the one is put for the other; as, to confirme the words of this covenant, 2 King. 23. 3. for which another Prophet saith, to doe the words, 2 Chron. 34. 31. For not the bearers of the Law are just before God, but the doers of the Law shall be justified, Rom. 2. 13. And forasmuch as there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good and sinneth not, Eccles. 7. 20. therefore by the deeds of the Law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight, Rom. 3. 20. that the Apostle rightly gathereth, as many as are of the workes of the Law, are under the curse, Gal. 3. 10. Therefore the use of the Law was to be a Schoolemaster unto Christ, who hath redeemed us from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for us, Gal. 3. 24. 13.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Upon condition of observing and doing all Gods commandments, hee promisseth many blessings earily and heavenly. 15 But for disobedience, hee threatneth manifold curses, plagues, and miseries.

1 AND it shall be, if hearkening thou shalt hearken unto the voice of Jehovah thy God, to observe to doe all his commandments, which I command thee this day, that Jehovah thy God will give thee to be high above all the nations of the earth.
2 And all these blessings shal come upon thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of Jehovah thy God. Blessed shalt thou be in the citie, & blessed shalt thou
3 be in the field. Blessed shall be the fruit of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattell, the increase of thy kine, 4 and the flocks of thy sheepe. Blessed shall
5 be thy basket and thy dough-trough. Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, & blef-
6 se shalt thou be whe thou goest out. Jehovah will give thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and fly be-7 fore thee seven wayes. Jehovah will com-
8 mād the blessing to be with thee, in thy store-
9 houses, and in al that thou settest thine hand unto, & he wil blesse thee in the land which
10 Jehovah thy God giveth unto thee. Jehovah will stablish thee unto him-selfe for an holy people, as he hath sworne unto thee, if thou shalt keepe the commandments of Jehovah thy God, and walke in his wayes. And all people of the earth shall see, that the name of Jehovah is called upon thee, and they shal
11 be afraid of thee. And Jehovah will make thee plenteous in good things, in the fruit of thy wombe, and in the fruit of thy cattell, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which Jehovah sware unto thy fathers to 12 give unto thee. Jehovah wil open unto thee his good treasure, the heavens, to give the raine of thy land in his season, & to blesse all the worke of thine hand: & thou shalt lend unto many nations & thou shalt not borrow.
13 And Jehovah wil give thee to be the head, and not the taile, and thou shalt be above on-ly, and shalt not be beneath, if thou hearken unto the commandments of Jehovah thy God, which I command thee this day, to ob-
14 serve and to doe. And thou shalt not goe

aside from any of the words which I command you this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

And it shall be, if thou wilt not hearken 15 unto the voice of Jehovah thy God, to observe to doe all his commandments, and his statutes which I command thee this day, that all these curses shal come upon thee, & overtake thee. Cursed shalt thou be in the citie, & 16 cursed shalt thou be in the field. Cursed shall 17 be thy basket, and thy dough-trough. Cur-18 sed shall be the fruit of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy ground, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheepe. Cursed shalt 19 thou be when thou comest in, and cursed 20 shalt thou be when thou goest out. Jehovah will send upon thee a curse, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto,
which thou wouldest doe, until thou be destroyed, and untill thou perish quickly, because of the evill of thy doings for that thou hast forsaken me. Jehovah will make the 21 pestilence cleave unto thee, until hee have consumed thee from off the land whither thou goest to possesse it. Jehovah will smite 22 thee with the consumption, & with the burning-ague, & with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with meldeu, & they shal pursue thee untill thou perish. And thy hea-23 vens which are over thine head shal be brass,
& the earth which is under thee shall be iron.

Jehovah wil give thee raine of thy land to 24 be powder and dust, from the heavens shall it come down upon thee until thou be destroyed. Jehovah will give thee to be smitten be-25 fore thine enemies; thou shalt goe out against him one way, & flee before him seven waies,
and thou shalt be for a removing to all the kingdomes of the earth. And thy carkasse 26 shall be for meat to al the fowles of the heavens, & to the beasts of the earth, and none shall stay them away. Jehovah will smite 27 thee with the boyle of Egypt, and with the Emrods, and with the scab, & with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed. Jehovah 28 will smite thee with madnesse, & with blind-nesse, and with astonishment of heart. And 29 thou shalt be groping at noone day, as the blind gropeth in thicke darkenesse, and thou shalt not prosper in thy waies, and thou shalt be onely fraudulently oppressed & robbed
all daies, and none shall save thee. Thou shalt 30 betroth a wife, & another man shal lie with her; thou shalt built an house, and thou shalt not dwel therein; thou shalt plant a vineyard
and

31 and shalt not make it common. Thine ox shall be slaine before thine eyes, & thou shalt not eat thereof: thine asse shall be violently taken away from before thy face, & shal not returne unto thee; thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none 32 to save. Thy sonnes and thy daughters shall be given to another people, & thine eyes shall see, & shall faile with longing for them al the day, and there shall be no power in thine hand.
 33 The fruit of thy hand, and all thy labour shall a people eat up which thou knowest
 not: and thou shalt be only fraudulently op-34 pressed & crushed all daies. And thou shalt be mad for the sight of thine eies which thou 35 shalt see. Jehovah will smite thee with an evill boyle on the knees, & on the legs, wher-of thou canst not be healed, from the sole of thy foot, even unto the top of thine head.
 36 Jehovah will bring thee, and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which thou hast not knowne, thou or thy fathers,
 and there thou shalt serve other gods, wood 37 and stone. And thou shalt be for an astonishment, for a proverbe, and for a by-word among all peoples, whither Jehovah shall lead 38 thee. Much seed shalt thou carry out into the field, and little shalt thou gather in, for 39 the Locust shall consume it. Thou shalt plant vineyards and dresse them, but thou shalt not drinke the wine; nor gather (the grapes) for 40 the worme shal eat it. Thou shalt have olive-trees in all thy coast, but thou shalt not anoint thy selfe with the oyle, for thine Olive 41 shall cast (his fruit.) Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but they shall not be thine, 42 for they shall goe into captivity. All thy 43 trees, and the fruit of thy land shall the gras-hopper possesse. The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee on high on high, and thou shalt come downe below be-44 low. Hee shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him; hee shall be the head, and 45 thou shalt be the taile. And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee,
 and overtake thee, untill thou be destroyed,
 because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice
 of Jehovah thy God, to keepe his comman-
 dements & his statutes which he hath com-46 manded thee. And they shall be upon thee for a signe and for a wonder, and upon thy 47 seed for ever. Because thou servedst not Jehovah thy God with joyfulness, and with goodnesse of heart for the abundance of all 48 things. Therefore thou shalt serve thine enemies, whom Jehovah wil send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakednesse, and in want of all things: and he will put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee. Jehovah will bring against thee a nation from far, from the end of the earth, as the Eagle flieth: a nation whose tongue thou shalt not heare. A nation of a strong face, which will not regard the face of the old,

 nor shew grace to the young And he shal eat
 the fruit of thy cattell, and the fruit of thy land, untill thou be destroyed, which shall not leave unto thee, corne, new wine, or new oile, the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheepe, untill he have destroyed thee. And hee shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thine high and fenced walls come downe,
 wherein thou trustedst, thorowout al thy land,
 and hee shall besiege thee in all thy gates, thorowout all thy land, which Jehovah thy God hath given unto thee. And thou shalt eat the fruit of thy wombe, the flesh of thy sons & of thy daughters which Jehovah thy God hath given unto thee, in the siege & in the straitnesse wherewith thine enemies shal distresse thee. The man that is tender among you & very delicate, his eye shal be evil towards his brother, and towards the wife of his bosome, & towards the remnant of his sons which he shall leave. So that he will not give to any one of them of the flesh of his sons, whom he shal eat, because hee hath not left unto him any thing in the siege & in the straitnesse, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates. The tender wo- man among you and delicate, which would not adventure the sole of her foot to set it on the ground for delicatenes & for tendernesse, her eye shal be evill towards the husband of her bosome, & towards her son, and towards her daughter: And towards her after-birth that commeth out from betweene
 her feet, and towards her sonnes which shee shall beare, for she shall eat them for want of al things, in secret, in the siege & in the strainesse, wherewith thine enemy shall distresse thee in thy gates. If thou wilt not observe to doe all the words of this Law, that are written in this booke, to feare this glorious and fearefull name Jehovah thy God. And Jehovah will make marvellous thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed; plagues great
 and permanent, and sicknesses evil & permanent. And he will bring upon thee every disease of Egypt, which thou wast afraid because of them, & they shall cleave unto thee.
 Also every sickness, and every plague, which

- which is not written in the book of this law, them will Jehovah bring upon thee, untill thou be destroyed. And yee shall be left with a few men, whereas yee were as the stars of the heavens for multitude, because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of Jehovah thy God. And it shall be, as Jehovah rejoyced over you, to doe you good, and to multiply you, so Jehovah will rejoyce over you to make you perish, and to destroy you, and yee shall be plucked from off the Land, whither thou goest in to possesse it. And Jehovah will scatter thee among all peoples, from the end of the earth, and unto the end of the earth; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which thou hast not knowne, thou or thy fathers, wood & stone. And in those nations thou shalt not find ease, neither shall there be rest for the sole of thy foot: and Jehovah will give unto thee there, a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, & pining of soule.
- And thy life shall be hanging in doubt before thee, and thou shalt dread night & day, and shalt not have assurance of thy life. In the morning thou shalt say, Who will give the evening; & in the evening thou shalt say, Who will give the morning: for the dread of thine heart wherewith thou shalt dread, & for the sight of thine eies which thou shalt see.
- And Jehovah will returne thee to Egypt with ships, by the way whereof I said unto thee, Thou shalt not see it againe any more; and there yee shall be sold to your enemies, for bondmen and for bond-women, & none shall buy you.

Annotations.

Hearkening thou shalt hearken] that is, shalt continually and diligently hearken to (or obey) the voice; which the Chaldee translateth, shalt receive the word of the LORD. As in the former Chapter the Law was confirmed by blessings & curses pronounced by the people; so here it is confirmed in like sort, but more largely by God himselfe: that Israel might be kept in due obedience, and finding in themselves the impossibility of doing the Law, they might have recourse unto Christ by faith.

to observe to doe] in Greeke, to observe (or keep) and to doe.

give thee to be high] that is, set and stablish thee high: as giving, 1 Chron. 17.22. is expounded, stablishing, 2 Sam. 7.24. And highnesse meaneth heavenly dignity given of God, by the high (or heavenly calling,) whereof they were made partakers; Phil. 3.14. Heb. 3.1. whereby they were to seeke and mind the things that are above, Col. 3.1, 2. and have their conversation in heaven, Phil. 3.20. For the way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath, Prov. 15.24. See also Deut. 26.19.

Verf. 2. overtake thee] or, take hold on thee: The Greeke translateth, find thee. It meaneth obtaining of all blessings, and effectually applying of them, for their good and comfort. The like is said of their curses, in v. 15. 45. and generally of Gods words & statutes, of which the Prophet telleth the Jewes, that they overtake (or take hold) of their fathers, when they were punished for transgressing them, Zach. 1.6.

Verf. 3. Blessed thou] The first blessing is upon the person, who must be acceptable to God, before any of his workes are accepted, Gen. 4.4. and the person being blessed, all things prosper about him. What blessing is, see the Annotations on Genesis 1.22. and 2.3. and 12.2. by this, and the field, all places, and all estates of life are meant.

Verf. 4. fruit of thy wombe] or, of thy belly: the Chaldee saith, the child of thy bowels. The second blessing is upon a mans possessions, of all sorts for increase, which was at the first by Gods blessing the creatures, Gen. 1.22. 28. and so continueth, as it is written, And be blest they, and they are multiplied greatly, Psal. 107.39. So Psal. 128. 1.3. thy ground] or land, the fruits whereof were also figures of heavenly blessing: see Levit. 26.4. increase] or young: in Greeke, birds: see Deutor. 7.13.

Verf. 5. baskets] whereinto fruits are put when they are gathered, Deut. 26.2. dough-trough] or dough, or store: see Exod. 8.3. and 12.34. These two are named in stead of all places and vessels, wherein the fruits and commodities which God sendeth, are kept for use and store. Therefore the Greeke for baskets, translateth barrels (as Luke 12. 18.) and for the dough-trough, remainders, or store that is left. So in ver. 17. And this is the third degree of blessing upon the commodities which men reape of their possessions.

Verf. 6. commest in] by coming in, and going out, the Scripture meaneth all employment and administration in any business, or office, as in government of a kingdome, 2 Chron. 1.10. of the Church, Act. 1.21. of a family, Gen. 39.11. Psalm. 104. 13. and generally of all other affaires, as 2 Sam. 3.25. Act. 9.28. So this fourth blessing concerneth the whole administration and conversation of the Saints.

Verf. 7. smitten] that is, as the Greeke and Chaldee expound it, crushed, and broken: see an example of this in Davids enemies, 2 Sam. 22.38. 43. And the fifth blessing concerneth the safety of Gods people, and their victories over their enemies, of whom the chiefe is Satan himselfe, and him will the God of peace crush under the feet of his people, Rom. 16.20. see] a signe of discomfiture and destruction: therefore when one Prophet saith, Will thou see before thine enemies, 2 Sam. 24.13. another explaineth it, to be destroyed before thine enemies, 1 Chron. 18.12. seven times] that is, many times, to signify a full conquest over them, for seven is a compleat number, often used for many.

ny, as is noted on Gen. 2. 2. and 33. 3. Levit. 4. 6. It signifieth also their dispersion, every man his way, whereas they came out joyntly together, all one way.

8 Verſ. 8. will commend] that is, will powerfully ſend, and effectually procure the bleſſing. Of this phraſe, ſee Levit. 25. 21. The contrary hereunto is, he will ſend upon thee, v. 10. the bleſſing] whereunto is oppoſed the curſe, vexation, and rebuke, v. 20. store-houſes] or barnes; in Chaldee, treafures: ſo in Prov. 3. 10. that thou ſetteſt thy hand unto] Hebr. the ſetting to of thy hand: whereof ſee Deut. 12. 7. Thus this ſixt promiſe implieth a generall bleſſing upon all that the godly hath or doth.

9 Verſ. 9. ſtabliſh thee] ſet thee up firme and ſure. This ſeventh bleſſing properly concerneth ſpiritual things and heavenly, for the ſanctification of the Church, and eſtabliſhment thereof in that grace, by reaſon of the covenant & oath of God, whereof he never repenteth, Pſal. 110. 4. For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance, Rom. 11. 29.

10 Verſ. 10. is called upon thee] that is, thou art called by his name: as before Moſes ſaid, Tee are the ſinner of Iehovah your God, Deut. 14. 1. Of this phraſe, ſee the Annotations on Gen. 48. 16. Here God enlargeth his former bleſſings, in cauſing them to be knowne and acknowledged of all other peoples. afraid of thee] as was fore-promiſed, Deut. 11. 25. and had come to paſſe unto Iſrael, Deut. 2. 25. and unto Abraham, Eſay 41. 5. and other particular perſons, as Saul was afraid of David, becauſe the Lord was with him, 1 Sam. 18. 12. 15. 29.

11 Verſ. 11. make thee pleniſh] or, make thee to excell; in Greeke, multiply thee. in good] or, for good things. An enlargement of the bleſſing promiſed in verſ. 4. which all ſhould ſee by the abundance of good things from beneath.

12 Verſ. 12. treafure] or, treafury, ſtore-houſe, which he expoundeth after to be raine from heaven, for ſo the Scripture elſewhere mentioneth, treafuries of the ſnow, and treafuries of the baile, and of the wind, Iob 38. 22. Pſal. 135. 7. and theſe were bleſſings from above, which cauſed the increaſe of thoſe good things promiſed in v. 4. 5. in his ſeaſon] that is, in due ſeaſon; meaning the firſt and latter raine, mentioned in Deut. 11. 14. See the notes on Levit. 26. 4. ſhalt lend] that is, ſhalt have ſuch plenty, as that thou ſhalt lend unto many nations; a ſigne both of wealth, liberality, and ſoveraignty; for, the borrower is ſervant to the man that lendeth, Prov. 22. 7. therefore the Greeke giveth here a double interpretation; thou ſhalt lend unto many nations, and thou ſhalt not borrow: and ſhalt rule over many nations, and they ſhall not rule over thee: which words are borrowed here from Deut. 15. 6.

13 Verſ. 13. the head] a figure or parable, meaning chiefe in authority & power, (called before, a ruling over many nations, Deut. 15. 6.) as the tail ſignifieth inferiority and baſeneſſe, which the Chaldee expoundeth thus, The Lord will give thee to be ſtrong and not weak. This is opened in Eſay

9. 14. 15. The Lord will cut off from Iſrael, head and tail, &c. the ancient and honourable, he is the head; and the Prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail. Thus by head here, we may alſo underſtand ſpiritually, the honour of the truth, wherewith the Church of God ſhould be adorned and exalted.

above] in honour and dignity, not earthly onely, but heavenly, as in verſe 1. So Chriſt ſaid to the Jewes, Tee are from beneath, I am from above: yee are of this world, I am not of this world, Ioh. 8. 23. Likewise of his Diſciples he ſaith, They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world, Ioh. 17. 16. If thou hearkeſt] The condition of the former promiſes, the firſt branch whereof is obedience, to do all that is commanded.

Verſ. 14. and thou ſhalt not] that is, If thou ſhalt not; for this is the ſecond branch of the condition, reſtraining all diſobedience againſt any of Gods words. other gods] which the Chaldee expoundeth, Idols of the peoples.

Verſ. 15. not hearkeſt] in Chaldee, not receive the Word of the LORD. Here followeth a large commination of the curſes that ſhall come upon the tranſgreſſors of the Law: compare herewith Levit. 26. 14. &c. and this condition is oppoſite to the former in verſe 1, 2.

Verſ. 16. Curſed thou] The firſt curſe is upon their perſons, oppoſed to the bleſſing in verſe 3. What the curſe meaneth, ſee Deut. 27. 15. Gen. 3. 14.

Verſ. 17. dough-trough] or ſtore; in Greeke, thy remainders. This ſecond curſe is oppoſed to the third bleſſing in verſe 5.

Verſ. 18. fruit of thy wombe] in Chaldee, the child of thy bowels. This third curſe is ſet againſt the ſecond bleſſing in verſe 4.

Verſ. 19. commett in, &c.] that is, in all thy waies and adminiſtration. The fourth curſe, oppoſed to the fourth bleſſing, in verſe 6.

Verſ. 20. a curſe] ſo God threatneth the Prieſts, in Mal. 2. 2. and this ſift denunciation is againſt the ſixt promiſe of bleſſing, in verſe 8. This curſe the Greeke expoundeth, lacke, or penny. vexation] or, trouble, tumult and deſtruction, as Deuter. 7. 23. this the Greeke interpreteth, famine; but the word is more generall, implying warres alſo, and other plagues upon the body, as Zach. 14. 13. 1 Sam. 14. 20. and 5. 9. And this judgement was upon Iſrael, 2 Chron. 15. 5. rebuke] this is not only from men, but from God, who is ſaid to rebuke, not only by words, but by deeds, whereupon men periſh, Pſal. 80. 17. and his rebuke is with flames of fire, Eſay 66. 15. Hereupon the Greeke here tranſlateth it conſumption. How this came upon Iſrael, ſee Eſay 51. 20. and 30. 17. forſaken me] in Chaldee, for ſaken my feare.

Verſ. 21. the peſtilence] The Greeke and Chaldee translate it, death: ſee the Annotations on Exod. 5. 3. and Levit. 26. 25. The fulfilling of this plague is mentioned in Amos 4. 10.

Verſ. 22. conſumption] of this and the ſword following, ſee Levit. 26. 26. the ſword] or draught; but the Greeke taketh it in the firſt ſenſe, tranſlating it ſlaughter: ſo in Levit. 26. 25. blaſting] of corne & fruits with a dry wind, 1 Kin. 19. 26.
for

for the originall word signifieth drinesse; and such was the East-wind that blasted in those parts, Gen. 41. 6. Therefore the Greeke translateth it, corruption with wind. The fulfilling of this judgement is shewed in Amos 4. 9. Hag. 2. 17.

mildew] which hath the name in Hebrew of pale-ness (as Ier. 30. 6.) and so is here translated in Greeke, and is a plague upon corne, through too much moistnesse, (as blasting is with drinesse) whereby the naturall greenesse is gone before it be ripe, and the colour faded. So in Amos 4. 9. Hag. 2. 17. 2 Chron. 6. 28.

23 Verſ. 23. thy heavens] in Greeke and Chaldee, the heaven: see the Annotations on Levit. 26. 19. It meaneth a restraint of raine, whereby the land should be barren.

24 Verſ. 24. powder] or small dust. In stead of raine, your ayre shal be filled with dust, which the wind and other things raise in time of drought. This word is used, when speech is of Gods judgements, Esay 5. 24. and 29. 5. Ezek. 26. 10. Nahum. 1. 3. Luke 9. 5. and with dust was Egypt plagued, Exodus 9. 9. from the heavens] that is, from the aire.

25 Verſ. 25. smitten] in Chaldee, broken: this is opposite to the fifth blessing, in verſ. 7. flee] and consequently fall and perish; as to flee three months before the enemy, 2 Sam. 25. 13. is expounded, to be destroyed three months, 1 Chron. 21. 12. for a removing] that is, removed, shaken, and dispersed; as the Greeke translateth, thou shalt be in dispersion. This word Jeremy useth when the time of their dispersion was come upon them, Ier. 15. 4. & 29. 18. and 34. 17. So in 2 Chron. 29. 8.

26 Verſ. 26. thy carcasſe] that is, carcasſes; the Greeke expoundeth it, your dead men: hee meaneth that they should not have honest buriall; but being slaine by the sword, should be eaten by beasts. These words of Moses Jeremy repeateth, Ier. 7. 33. and 16. 4. and 34. 20. And Asaph lamenteth the complement of this plague, Psal. 79. 1, 2, 3.

27 Verſ. 27. boyle of Egypt] or, Egyptian ulcer, whereof see Exod. 9. 9, 10, 11. emruds] or piles, a disease wherewith God smote the Philistines in their secret hinder parts, 1 Sam. 5. 9. Psal. 78. 66. For this disease the Hebrew hath two names, the one in the line Gnapholim, the other in the margin Techorim; and this latter is used in the line, in 1 Sam. 6. 11. 17. itch] so the Greeke expoundeth it: the Chaldee saith, a dry scab. whereof] or, so that thou canst not be healed: and this is contrary to the promise made upon their obedience, in Exod. 15. 26.

28 Verſ. 28. madnesſe] or, furie; this is properly in the mind, but manifested by foolish gesture, 1 Sam. 21. 13. 14. And because the Prophets were often moved with extasies, & carried themselves strangely, some in contempt would call them mad men, 2 King. 9. 11. Ier. 29. 26. blindnesſe] that is both in body and mind, Esay 42. 19. The contrary blessing we receive by Christ, Esay 42. 7. 16.

astonishment] or, amazement, wondering: this is threatened even to the Prophets, in Ier. 4. 9. and other unbelievers, Habak. 1. 5. Act. 13. 41.

Verſ. 29. groping] or, feeling; meant as an effect of blindnesse of soule, as Paul speaketh of Gods workes to the heathen, that they should seeke the LORD, if haply they might feele (or grope) after him, and finde him, Acts 17. 17. So it is said of the wicked, in Job 5. 14. They meet with darknesse in the day time, and grope in the noone day as in the night: and in Job 12. 35. They grope in the darke without light.

save thee] that is, as the Greeke translateth it, thou shalt have no helper. So in 2 Sam. 23. 42. they looked, but there was none to save.

Verſe 30. he will her] or, defile, ravish her. The Hebrew Shagal signifying the act of generation, as here and in Esa. 13. 16. & Zach. 14. 2. expounded in the Hebrew margine to be read Shagab, which is to lie with. make it common] that is, gather and eat the grapes thereof. See Deut. 20. 6. On the contrary, when God promiseth grace, he saith, the planters shall plant (vines) and shall make them common, Jer. 31. 5.

Verſe 31. not returne] that is, not be returned, or restored, as the Greeke explaineth it. See the Annotations on Gen. 2. 26. & 16. 14. to save] in Greeke, no helper: as verſe 29.

Verſe 32. faile] or, be consumed, to wit, with longing, or desire: so it is elsewhere spoken of the eyes, in Psal. 119. 82. of the soule, Psal. 84. 3. and of the reines, Job 19. 27. where Iob speaketh of his desire to see God at the resurrection. no power in thy hand] so the Chaldee expoundeth it, and the Greeke, thy hand shall not be strong (or able) or we may interpret it, nothing shall be in the power of thine hand. The contrary is in Mich. 2. 1. Genesis 31. 29.

Verſe 33. eat up] or, devoure: this judgement came upon Israel by the heathens, Esa. 1. 7. Jer. 5. 17. and 8. 16.

Verſe 34. for the sight] in Greeke, for the sights (or visions) meaning that they should see such heaveie troubles, as should make them mad through feare and sorrow, being without falth, comfort, and patience. These are the lively and powerfull effects of the Law upon the conscience of sinners, that it bereaveth them of all sense of Gods favour: for, the Law is not of faith, Gal. 3. 12.

Verſe 35. evil boyle] fore, or malignant ulcer: such a plague spirituall God sendeth on the Antichristians, Revelation 16. 2. And in body Iob was afflicted with such from the sole of his foot unto the top of his head, for the triall of his faith and patience, Job 2. 7.

Verſe 36. bring] or lead, make goe into captivity. This foretelleth the overthrow of their state, which was accomplished by Assyria and Babylon, 2 King. 17. 6. and 25. 1, &c. thy King] in Gr. thy Princes: both were fulfilled, 2 King. 24. 14, 15. other gods] as in their owne land they served other Gods, that is, Idols of wood & of stone, Jer. 2. 27. so God threatneth to send them as slaves into other lands, where they would do the like, though by his Prophets he warned them not to doe so, Esay 44. 8, 9. &c. Jeremie 10. 2, 3, 11. So for making an Idoll in the Wildernesse, God had before given them up to worship the host of heaven, Act. 7. 41, 42. The Chaldee here translatranslateth, thou shalt serve peoples that serve idols of wood and of stone: So after in verse 64.

37 Vers. 37. a by-word] a sharpe or cutting name: thus God threatned againe immediatly before it came to passe, Ierem. 24. 9. and before that in Solomons dayes, 1 King. 9. 7. and it came upon them, as Psal. 44. 14. 15. &c.

38 Vers. 38. the Locust] that is, Locusts: see the judgements here threatned, fulfilled in Joel 1. 4. Amos 4. 9. and 7. 1, 2. Hag. 1. 6. 11.

42 Vers. 42. Grafshopper] called in Hebrew T sefasal, a word here only used; the Greeke translateth it erisubee, which is a blasting or mildew, that spoileth corne.

44 Vers. 44. the head] or, for the head, that is, the chiefe, which the Chaldee expoundeth strong; as the taile is in Chaldee the weake: see vers. 13.

46 Vers. 46. for a signe] the Greeke and Chaldee translate plurally, signes and wonders. thy seed] Chaldee, thy formes.

47 Vers. 47. goodnesse of heart] the Greeke translateth it, a good heart; the Chaldee, truth of heart: it meaneth also gladnesse, as in Esay 65. 14. it is opposed to sorrow. Of this the Iewes made confession when they were returned from Babylon, Nehem. 9. 35. of all] Greeke, of all things; and Thargum Jonathan addeth, of all good: and so in v. 48. want of all good.

48 Vers. 48. yoke of iron] that is, hard servitude under heathen Rulers; as Ier. 28. 13. 14. for servants are said to be under the yoke, 1 Tim. 6. 1.

49 Vers. 49. as the Eagle] that flieth swiftly and violently, therefore the Greeke translateth, like the violence of an Eagle. This is a prophesie of the Babylonians, the Lion with Eagles wings, Dan. 7. 4. So Nebuchadnezzar is likened to a great Eagle with great wings, &c. Ezek. 17. 3. 12. not beare] that is, not understand: see the notes on Genesis 11. 7.

50 Vers. 50. of a strong face] that is, bold, fierce, cruell, and (as the Greeke translateth) impudent. This title is given to Antiochus Epiphanes, the great afflicter of the Iewes, Dan. 8. 23. not regard] not respect or honour any person.

51 Vers. 51. fruit of thy cattell] thy young beasts. See the fulfilling of this mentioned before the captivity, Esay 1. 7. corne] The enemies devouring of these earthly blessings in Canaan, the holy land, figured also that Israel should for their finnes be deprived of Gods heavenly blessings, till God should turne them againe to himselfe by the faith of the Gospell: and then he sweareth, If I give (that is, surely I will not give) any more thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, and the formes of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for which thou hast laboured: but they that have gathered it, shall eat it, and praise the Lord, and they that have brought it together, shall drink it in the Courts of my holinesse, Esay 62. 8. 9.

52 Vers. 52. thy gates] in Greeke and Chaldee, thy cities: so v. 55. See this fulfilled, 2 King. 17. and 25.

53 Vers. 53. the fruit of thy wombe] in Chaldee, the children of thy bowels. The like threatning is in Levit.

26. 29. Ierem. 19. 9. fulfilled, 2 King. 6. 29. Lam. 4. 10.

Vers. 54. eye shall be evil] that is, he shall grudge and envie: see Deut. 15. 9. The Greeke translateth, he shall bewitch with his eye. So in verse 56. of his bosome] that is, which lieth in his bosome, as Mic. 7. 5.

Vers. 47. her after-birth] and so her little one therein; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the least of her children.

Vers. 58. fearfull] in Greeke, marvellous.

Vers. 59. thy plague] or, every of thy plagues: as the forme of the Hebrew word implieth.

thy seed] Chald. thy children. permanent] or firm, faithfull, and continuing long: as Tharg. Jonathan explaineth, which shall dure long upon your bodies.

Vers. 60. disease] or sickness: in Greeke, sorrow. Of the plagues of Egypt, see Exod. 8. &c.

Vers. 62. with a few men] Greeke, in a short (or small) number: Chald. a people of number, that is, soone numbred. See this fulfilled, Esay 1. 9.

beakenedst not] Chaldee, receivedst not the word.

Vers. 63. will rejoyce] although the destruction of the wicked is to themselves miserable, yet Gods judgements upon them are unto him, his Angels, and all the Saints joyfull, Revel. 18. 20. Psal. 58. 11, 12. Ier. 51. 48: for, when the wicked perish, there is shouting joy, Prov. 11. 10.

Vers. 64. and unto the end, &c.] that is, from one end of the earth to another. A like phrase is, from the end of the heavens unto the end of them, Matth. 24. 31. Marke 13. 37. This disperision of the Iewes is visible even to this day.

serve other gods] the Chaldee expoundeth it, serve peoples that serve idols: but it implieth Gods judgement, in giving them over to other sinne: see the notes on verse 36.

Vers. 65. not find ease] or, not have quietnesse. Vnto this curse of the Law for sinne, is opposed the promise of grace in Christ, Ier. 31. 2. a trembling heart] in Greeke, a faint (or discouraged) heart. See Levit. 26. 36. Esay 1. 5. fainting of eyes] in Greeke, failing eyes, that shall looke for deliverance, but not see it. pining of soule] in Greeke, a melting soule, that is, sorrowfull and fearefull. See Levit. 26. 16. 1 Sam. 2. 33.

Vers. 66. hanging in doubt] that is, uncertaine, as after followeth. So the Greeke, thy life shall be hanging before thine eyes. not have assurance of thy life] or, not beleve in thy life; in Greeke, not beleve thy life; that is, have no assurance of it, but alwayes feare death.

Vers. 67. Who will give] that is, O that it were evening: see Deut. 5. 29. A lively description of misery, wherein every houre by night or by day seemeth long and tedious. Compare Iob 7. 3, 4.

Vers. 68. to Egypt] the house of bondage, Exod. 20. 2. and figure of spirituall bondage under sin and Satan: in which estate the Law leaveth all men, till they be redeemed by grace in Christ. So another Prophet saith, They shall not dwell in Iebonahs land; but Ephraim shall returne to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria, Hof. 9. 3.

CHAP. XXIX.

Moses being to renew the covenant, exhorteth Israel to obedience, by the memory of the works they have seen.
 10 All stand before the Lord, to enter into his covenant.
 18 The great wrath on him that flattereth himselfe in his wickednesse. 29 Secret things belong unto God.

1 THese are the words of the covenant which Jehovah commanded Moses to strike with the sonnes of Israel, in the land of Moab, beside the covenant which he stroke with them in Horeb.

2 And Moses called unto all Israel, and said unto them, You have seene all that Jehovah did before your eies in the land of Egypt, unto Pharaoh, and unto all his servants, and
 3 unto all his land. The great tentations which thine eies have seene, the signes, and those 4 great wonders. Yet Jehovah hath not given unto you an heart to know, and eies to see,
 5 and eares to heare, unto this day. And I have lead you forty yeares in the wilderness; your cloathes are not waxen old upon you,
 6 and thy shooe is not waxen old upon thy foot. Ye have not eaten bread, neither have you drunke wine or strong drinke, that yee might know that I am Jehovah your God.
 7 And ye came unto this place, and Sihon king of Heshbon, and Ogh king of Bashan came out against us unto battell, and wee smote them.
 8 And we tooke their land, and gave it for an inheritance to the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to halfe the tribe of the 9 Manassites. Therefore ye shall keepe the words of this covenant, and doe them, that ye may wisely doe all that ye doe.

10 Ye stand this day all of you before Jehovah your God, your heads of your tribes, your elders and your officers, all the men of 11 Israel: Your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is within thy campe, from the hewer of thy wood, unto the drawer of thy 12 water. That thou shouldest passe into the covenant of Jehovah thy God, and into his oath which Jehovah thy God striketh with 13 thee this day. That hee may stablish thee this day for a people unto himselfe, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath spoken unto thee, and as he hath sworne unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jakob.

And not with you your selves alone doe I 14
 strike this covenant and this oath; But with 15
 him that is standing here with us this day before Jehovah your God, and with him 16 that is not here with us this day. For yee know, how we have dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how wee have passed in the midst of the nations which yee passed by. And yee have seene their abominations, 17 and their filthy idols, wood and stone, silver and gold which were with them. Left 18
 there should be among you man or woman, or family or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from Jehovah our God, to go to serve the gods of those nations; lest there should bee among you a root that beareth gall and wormewood. And it be when he heareth the words of this oath, that hee 19 blesse himselfe in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, though I walke in the imagination of mine heart, to adde the drunken to the thirsty. Jehovah will not spare him; 20
 but then the anger of Jehovah and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and every curse that is written in this booke shall lie upon him, and Jehovah will blot out his name from under the heavens. And 21
 Jehovah will separate him unto evill, out of all the tribes of Israel; according to all the curses of the covenant that is written in this booke of the Law. And the after generation, your sonnes that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a farre land, shall say, when they shall see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses thereof, wherewith Jehovah hath made it sicke; That all the land thereof 23 is brimstone and salt, and burning, that it is not sowed, neither springeth, nor any grasse groweth therein, like the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah, and Zebojim, which Jehovah overthrew in his anger and in his wrath.

Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath 24
 Jehovah done thus unto this land; what meaneth the heat of this great anger? Then they 25 shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of Jehovah the God of their fathers, which he stricke with them when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt. For they went and served others gods, 26 and bowed themselves downe unto them; gods whom they knew not, and hee had

- 27 not imparted unto them. And the anger of 28 Jehovah was kindled against this land, to bring upon it every curse that is written in this booke. And Jehovah rooted them out of their land, in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into ano-29 ther land, as it is this day. The secret things belong unto Jehovah our God, and the things revealed belong unto us, and to our sonnes for ever, to doe all the words of this Law.

Annotations.

- 1 TO strike] or to cut, whereof see the notes on
 Gen. 15. 18. Here the covenant is renewed betweene God and the people; and it is the same in effect with the covenant made at Horeb, Exod.
 19. and 24. save that Christ, who is the end of the legall covenant, is here more cleerly revealed, especially in chap. 30. vers. 11, 14. of Moab] the country on the out side of Jordan, whereof see Deut 1. 1, 5. in Horeb] or Choreb, that is,
 mount Sinai, where the covenant was given, Exo.
 30. and the blessings and curses for confirmation thereof, Lev. 26. 3, 46.
- 3 Vers. 3. temptations] or trials, whereby God tried the Israelites faith, and the hardnesse of the A-Egyptians in letting Israel goe: see Deut. 4. 34. and 7. 19. From Gods former benefits, whereof they had experience, hee exhorteth them to the keeping of the covenant.
- 4 Vers. 4. not given unto you] This sheweth the un-
 ability of man to understand the things of God, without the gift of God. And long after this,
 Paul complaineth of the Jewes, even unto this day,
 when Moses is read, the veile is laid over their hearts, 2 Cor. 3. 15. and Christ saith, that to them it was not given to understand the mysteries of the kingdome of heaven, Mat. 13. 11, 13, 14.
- 5 Vers. 5. upon you] or from upon you; that is, so as you should put them off and cast them from you.
 Compare Deut. 8. 4.
- 6 Vers. 6. bread] to wit, ordinary bread out of the earth, but God hath nourished you with Manna, the bread of heaven, Psal. 78. 24, 25. Deut. 8. 3.
- 7 Vers. 7. Sibon] in Greeke, Sem King of Eschbon. Of this History, see Num. 21.
- 8 Vers. 8. we tooke] in Chaldee, we subdued.
 to the Renbenites] in Chaldee, to the tribe of Reuben, &c. See the performance hereof in Num. 32.
- 9 Vers. 9. wisely doe] or prudently carry, and with understanding, and consequently prosper: so in 1 King. 1. 3. Jos. 1. 7, 8.

Here beginneth the one and fiftieth
 Section of the Law: see the notes on Gen. 6. 9.

- 10 Vers. 10. your heads of your Tribes] that is, your heads, or chiefe men, which are the heads of your

Tribes: the Greeke translateth them by one word Archipbuloi, that is, the Chiefe, or Rulers of the Tribes.

Vers. 11. thy stranger] in Greeke, the Proselyte which is in the midst of your campe. Such of that mixed multitude as came out of Egypt with Israel, Exod. 12. 38. and others that had joyned themselves to the Church. hewer of thy wood] such as hewed wood, and drew water, were the basest servants or slaves of Israel, (as afterward was the case of the Gibeonites, Jos. 9. 21, 27.) who also by faith were admitted into the Church and covenant of Israel.

Vers. 12. That thou shouldest passe] He speaketh to them all, as to one man; and to passe into the covenant, is a phrase taken from the manner of making covenants, when they passed betweene the parts of the sacrifices, Genesis 15. 17. Jeremie 34. 18, 19, 20. his oath] or, his execration; in Greeke, his curses, because they tooke the curses of the Law upon them, if they kept not the Covenant.
 This is called the oath of God, Eccles. 8. 2. So this people returning from the captivitie of Babylon, entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walke in Gods Law which was given by the hand of Moses, Nehemiah 10. 29.

Vers. 13. a God] or, for a God: this is the substance of the Covenant, even such as is made with us in Christ, 2 Cor. 6. 16. Heb. 8. 10. Revel. 21. 3.
 See the Annotations on Gen. 17. 7.

Vers. 15. not here] meaning their posteritie
 throughout all generations, to whom this covenant did alike belong. So in Targum Jonathan it is expounded, and with every generation that shall rise up unto the worlds end, &c. But this is to be understood with exception of the new Covenant, which God promised, and hath now established unto us in Christ, Jeremie 31. 31, 32, 33. Heb. 8.
 7, 8, 9, 10.

Vers. 16. how we have dwelt] or, that which we have dwelt, which Jonathan expoundeth, the num- ber of yeeres that we have dwelt. This their peregrination in Egypt, and deliverance thence, with Gods gracious conduct of them thorow the wilderness, are named as motives to perswade unto obedience.

Vers. 17. filthy idols] in Hebr. Gillulim (whereof see Levit. 26. 30.) in Greeke Idols.

Vers. 18. Left there should be] or, as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it, That there be not.
whose heart] the heart is to be kept with all diligence, because out of it are the issues of life, Prov.
 4. 23. According therefore to this, Paul warneth the Israelites, Take heed brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God, Hebrews 3. 12. from Jehovah] in Chaldee, from the feare of the LORD. the gods]
 in Chaldee, the idols of the peoples. a root] an evill heart forementioned, which is hidden from men, as the root is hidden in the earth, but the fruits after doe appeare. The Chaldee translateth it, a man. beareth] or fructifies, beareth fruit: in Greeke, springeth up; which word Paul useth in Hebrews 12. 15. gall and worme-

wormwood] the Greeke translateth, with gall and bitterness; whereby is meant finnes, (as the Chaldee explaineth it, and) as it was said to Simon Magus, Thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquitie, Act. 8. 23. The Apostle respecting this place, saith, lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, Hebrews 12. 15. (for enchole, with gall, saying, enochles, trouble.) Gall (or Hemlocke) was a bitter and poisonous weed, growing in the East-countries, as appeareth by Hos. 10. 4. and wormewood likewise: which are applied sometime to finnes, as here and in Amos 6. 12. Deuteronomie 32. 32. sometime to bitter punishments, as in Jeremie 9. 25. and 23. 15. Lamentations 3. 15, 19.

19 Verse 19. of this oath] or as the Greeke saith, of this curse: see verse 12. I shall have peace] or, peace shall be unto me, that is, safety and prosperity, without hurt or punishment. imagination] or contemplation, that which the heart hath spied out, and looketh unto. So the Chaldee translateth it, imagination, (or conceit) but the Greeke calleth it aberration. This sinne Jeremie often imputeth to this people, Jeremie 3. 17. and 7. 24. and 9. 14. and 11. 8. and 16. 12. and 18. 12. and 23. 17.

to adde the drunken] to wit, the drunken soule to the thirstie, or, the moist to the dry; meaning, to adde sinne unto sinne in abundance; as in Esay 30. 1. The soule that desireth is said to thirst, Psal. 63. 1. and as the godly doe hunger and thirst after righteousness, Matthew 5. 6. so doe the wicked after unrighteousnesse, and drinke it up like water, Job 34. 7. which when he hath glutted himselfe therewith, he may be said to have added drunkennesse to his thirst. Some understand it also of punishment for sinne, which the Chaldee favoureth, translating, that I may adde unto him the finnes of Ignorance, unto (the finnes of) Presumption. The Hebrew Sephoth, to adde, is sometime used for, to confirme or destroy, (as in Psal. 40. 15.) in which sense the Greeke Interpreters take it here, saying, that the sinner destroy not also him that is without sinne.

20 Verse 20. not spare] or, not forgive him in mercie. For, if we walke in the light, as (God) is in the light, the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth us from all sinne, 1 Joh. 1. 7. But God will not be mercifull to any that unfaithfully commit iniquitie, Psal. 59. 6. jalousie] which is the rage of a man, that he will not spare in the day of vengeance, Prov. 6. 34. applied here unto the Lord, as in Exo. 20. 5. smoke] in Greeke, burne: a signe of great displeasure, as in Psal. 74. 1. shall lie upon him] the Greeke and Chaldee translate, shall cleave unto him. See this word in Gen. 4. 7.

21 Verse 21. out of all the Tribes] in Greeke, from all the finnes of Israel, that is, from the communion of the Church (whereto he addeth daily such as shall be saved, Act. 2. 47.) even as before in v. 20. the man was separated from communion with God. So he threatneth against the false Prophets, They shall not be in the seares of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the Land of Israel, Ezek. 13. 9.

And this is a separation unto evill, or for his hurt, as on the contrary the Levites were separated for their good, when they were designed to stand before the LORD, to minister unto him, Dent. 10. 8. that is written] in Chaldee, that are written: meaning all and every one.

22 Verse 22. made it sicke] in Greeke, which he hath sent upon it. God here signifieth such a certainty of his judgments, as all peoples (within the Church and without) should be witnesses of them.

23 Verse 23. and salt] which maketh the land barren, as saltnesse is used for barrennesse, in Psal. 107. 34. So Abimelech sowed the citie with salt, which he made utterly desolate, Judges 9. 45. and the wicked man shall dwell in a salt land and not inhabited, Jeremie 17. 6. and of myrie places, which should not be healed, it is said, they shall be given to salt, Ezekiel 47. 11. any grasse] or any herbe: in Greeke, any greene thing; which phrase is used in Rev. 9. 4. This signified a spirituall barrennesse in mens hearts, that they should not bring forth the fruits of the Spirit, Heb. 6. 7, 8. overthrow of Sodom] wherof see Gen. 19. 24, 25. with the Annotations. Zebojim] by the letters, Zebim, but read Zebojim, as is noted on Gen. 14. 1. in Greeke, Seboim. These two cities were destroyed with Sodom and Gomorreh; and so another Prophet saith unto Israel, How shall I make thee as Admah? shall I set thee as Zebojim? Hos. 11. 8. in his anger] to their condemnation, 2 Pet. 2. 6. hee overthrew them, and repented not, Ier. 20. 16.

24 Verse 24. shall say] every man to his neighbour, as Ier. 22. 8. that is, one to another.

25 Verse 25. stroke] Hebr. cut, that is, made with them; which the Greeke translateth, covenant (or despised) with their fathers. For things done to the fathers are applyed to the children: see v. 14. 15. The like speech is in 1 King. 9. 8, 9. they shall say, Why hath Iehovah done thus unto this Land, and to this house? And they shall answer, Because they have forsaken Iehovah their God, who brought forth their fathers out of the Land of Egypt, &c. which another Prophet recordeth thus; Because they have forsaken Iehovah the God of their fathers, who brought them forth out of the Land of Egypt, 2 Chron. 7. 22. So in Ierem. 22. 8, 9.

26 Verse 26. other gods] in Chaldee, the idols of the peoples. gods whom they knew not] or gods which knew not them. and he had not imparted] that is, and hee, to wit, any of those gods, had not imparted or bestowed any good thing upon them. Thus the Chaldee Paraphrast expounds it, and they had not done good unto them; and Jonathan in Tharg. and they had not divided unto them. Or it may be referred to the true God, that he had not imparted, that is, taught the to have any part or fellowship with those gods, or their services. The Greeke translateth, neither had hee distributed unto them. And whereas it is said of the Sunne, Moone, and Stars, that God hath imparted them unto all nations, Dent. 4. 19. this here may aggravate their Idolatry, that not onely worshipped such, but even the fictitious also of the heathens, gods which they never saw, knew, or had any manner of benefit by them; M m m m m 2 where whereby their sinne was the more odious.

27 Verse 27. every curse] the Greeke paraphraseth, according to all the curses of the covenant, which are written in the booke of this Law. The accomplishment of this was acknowledged by Daniel, The curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the Law of Moyses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him, Dan. 9. 11, &c.

28 Verse 28. rooted them out] or, plucked them up: which is contrary to planting, Jer. 24. 6. and 42. 10. and 45. 4. Thus the Law of Moyses leaveth sinners under the curse, and rooted out of the Lords land: but grace in Christ towards repentant and beleiving sinners, planteth them upon the land, and they shall no more be plucked up, Amos 9. 15. for they are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, 1 Pet. 1. 5. and cast them] or, sent them: in the Hebrew, the word cast, hath an extraordinary great letter, to signifie the greatnesse of this punishment. And Baal Hatturim noteth upon it, There is a great Lamed, and a want of Lod, to teach, that there is no casting away like that of the ten Tribes. Wherof see 2 King. 17. 18, 23.

29 Verse 29. The secret things belong] or hidden things are to be left unto Jehovah. This is to be understood generally of all secret things which God hath not revealed in his word, as the times or seasons which the father hath put in his owne power, Act. 1. 7. the day and houre of judgement, Mat. 24. 36. and all other like things. Particularly it may be applied to Gods counsell concerning the Israelites, in punishing, and casting them off for their finnes, and afterward calling a remnant of them: which the Apostle treating of in Rom. 11. saith; O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his waies past finding out! Romans 11. 33. The Hebrew Nistaroth (here used) sometime meaneth secret finnes, as Psal. 19. 13. Unto which some of the Hebrews referre this speech, that secret sins God will punish, but open finnes are for men to punish. Chazkuni on Deuteronomie 29. and so Ionathan in Thargum explaineth it, Hidden finnes are manifest before the LORD our God, and he will take vengeance on them, &c. and the things revealed] or, but open (or manifest) things belong to us, and to our finnes: upon which last words, the Hebrew text hath extraordinary pricks, to stir up attention to the matter here spoken, as it is indeed worthy of all observation, for it teacheth the continuall duty of Gods people in all ages, to learne his Law, to doe the same, and to have care that true Religion may bee continued among their posteritie. The Hebrews say, Every man of Israel is bound to learne the Law, be he poore or rich, be he in health of body, or under chastisements; be he young, or old and decrepit; though he be so poore that he lives on almes; yea, though he have wife and children, he is bound to set himselfe a time to learne the Law, by day and by night, as it is said, And thou shalt meditate therein day and night. The great wise men of Israel, some of them were brewers of wood, and some drawers of water, and some blinde: notwithstanding they employed themselves in learning the Law, day and night. How is a man bound to learne the Law? Until the day of his death, as it is said, And lest they depart from thine heart, all the daies of thy life, (Deuteronomie 4. 9.) and all the while that he employeth not himselfe in learning, he forgetteth. Adumony in Thalmud Torah, chapter 1. section 8, 9, 10.

CHAP. XXX.

- 1 Great mercies promised to the repentant sinners.
11 The commandment is manifest, and word neere.
15 Life and death are set before them, with an exhortation to chuse life.

AND it shall be when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse which I have set before thee, and thou shalt cause them to returne unto thine heart, in all the nations whither Jehovah thy God hath driven thee: And thou returne unto Jehovah thy God, and shalt hearken to his voice, according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy sonnes, with all thine heart, and with all thy soule: Then Jehovah thy God will returne thy Captivitie, and have compassion upon thee, and will returne and gather thee from all the peoples, whither Jehovah thy God hath scattered thee. If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost
part of the heavens, from thence will Jehovah thy God gather thee, and from thence will he take thee. And Jehovah thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possesse it;
and he will doe thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers. And Jehovah thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love Jehovah thy God,
with all thine heart, and with all thy soule,
that thou maist live. And Jehovah thy God will put all these curses upon thine enemies,
and upon thy haters which persecuted thee.
And thou shalt returne and hearken to the voice of Jehovah, and doe all his commandements which I command thee this day.
And Jehovah thy God will make thee plenteous in every worke of thine hand, in the fruit of thy wombe, and in the fruit of thy cattell, and in the fruit of thy lard for good,
for Jehovah will returne to rejoyce over thee for good, as he rejoyced over thy fathers. If thou shalt hearken unto the voice
of Jehovah thy God, to keepe his commandements, and his statutes, that which is written in this booke of the Law, if thou shalt returne.

11 returne unto Jehovah thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule. For, this commandement which I command thee
 this day, it is not hidden from thee, neither 12 is it far off. It is not in the heavens, to say,
 Who shall goe up for us to the heavens, and take it for us, and cause us to heare it, that we 13 may doe it? Neither is it beyond the sea, to say, Who shall goe over to beyond sea for us, and take it for us, and cause us to 14 heare it, that we may doe it? But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in 15 thy heart, to doe it. See, I have set before thee this day life and good, death and evill.
 16 In that I command thee this day to love Jehovah thy God, to walke in his waies, and to keepe his commandements, and his statutes, and his judgements, that thou maist live and multiply, and Jehovah thy God may blesse thee in the land whither thou goest in to 17 possesse it. But if thine heart turne away, and thou wilt not heare, but shalt be drawne away, and bow downe thy selfe to other 18 gods, and serve them; I denounce unto you this day, that perishing ye shall perish, yee
 shall not prolong your daies upon the land,
 which thou art passing over Jordani to goe 19 in thither to possesse it. I take the heavens and the earth to witnesse against you this day; life and death I have set before thee,
 the blessing and the curse, therefore chuse
 thou life, that thou maist live, thou and thy 20 seed. To love Jehovah thy God, to hearken to his voice, and to cleave unto him; for he is thy life, and the length of thy daies, to dwell upon the land which Jehovah sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jakob, to give unto them.

Annotations.

1 These things] Hebr. these words, that is, things before spoken of. Here follow promises of grace in Christ to repentant and believing sinners. the blessing] that is, as the Chaldee explai-neth it, the blessings and the curses. After the experiment of the Law, and weaknesse thereof, that it cannot keepe men in the state of blessednesse, nor deliver them from the curse, they are as by a Schoolmaster brought unto Christ, Galath. 3. 24.
 Rom. 8. 3, 4. have set] Hebr. have given. So in ver. 15. & 19. cause them to returne] or redunt, bring againe to thine heart, that is, call to minde, consider seriously. So in Deut. 4. 39. This is the beginning of repentance and turning to the Lord, by calling to minde their sins, and Gods words and works; as in 1 King. 8. 46, 47. If they sin against thee, &c. and thou be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, &c. If they shall make it returne to their heart, in the land whither they were carried captives, and returne and make supplication unto thee, &c.

 So in Esay 46. 8. Shew your selves men, make it returne to heart, O ye transgressors: and in Lamentations 3. 21. This I make to returne to my heart, therefore have I hope. A like phrase is of the prodigall sonne, in Luke 15. 17. that he came to himselfe.

Verse 2. unto Jehovah] the Chaldee expoundeth
 it, unto the feare of the LORD. This is true repentance, both to leave the evill, and to turne unto the good, from which they departed. So in Lament. 3. 40. Let us search and try our waies, and turne againe to the Lord. The contrary is complained of in Hos. 7. 16. they returne, but not to the most high. And here faith also is implied; for as to come unto Christ, is to believe in him, Joh. 6. 35. so to turne unto the Lord with all the heart, is to believe in him; for with the heart man believeth unto righteouss-nesse, Rom. 10. 10. and by faith the heart is purified, Act. 15. 9. unto which obedience and good works
 are adjoynd, Jam. 2. 14, 26.

Verse 3. will returne thy captivity] will bring thee againe out of bondage under thine enemies,
 which figured the bondage under sinne, 2 Pet. 2.
 19, 20. Therefore the Greeke translateth it, will break thy sinnes, that is, will forgive them; as bea-ling, in Mat. 13. 15. is expounded, forgiving of sins, Mark. 4. 12. This is a promise of grace to be performed by Christ, who preached deliverance to the captives, Luke 4. 18. and it is the joy of his people, Psal. 14. 7. and 126. 1, 2. and a figure of their salvation, Esay 10. 22. compared with Rom. 9. 27.
 Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be a Prince and Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes, Acts 5. 31. have compassion] or, shew tender mercie; this is the cause of the former grace and deliverance. It is of Jehovahs mercies, that we are not consumed, because his compassion faileth not, Lamentations 3. 22. So the father of the Prodigall sonne, seeing him a farre off, had compassion, Luke 15. 20. And this compassion or mercie respecteth mans miserie, Matthew 9. 36. and 14. 14. and gather thee] So after the captivity
 of Babilon, God promiseth, He that scattered Israel, will gather him, and keepe him as a shepherd doth his flocke, Jeremie 31. 10. This worke Christ hath spiritually accomplished, of whom it is said, that he should die, not for the nation of the Jewes only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad, John 11. 51, 52.
 Therefore this gathering is often celebrated, as in Psalm. 107. 1, 2, 3. and 147. 1, 2. and 166.
 47, 48.

Verse 4. If any of thine be driven] Hebr. If thy driven out; speaking of every particular person,
 and of all, as one man. The Greeke translateth,
 If thy dispersion be, that is, thy dispersed, which word is used in this sense, in Joh. 7. 35. 1 Pet. 1. 1.
 outmost part of the heavens] that is, of the world,
 which seemeth to be bounded by the heavens.
 The Greeke translateth it, from the end (or M m m m m 3 outmost

outmost part) of heaven, unto the end of heaven: which phraze Christ useth, of gathering together his Elect at the last day, Matth. 24. 31. See the notes on Deuteronomie 4. 32. This promise Nebemias looked unto, in his prayer alleaging Gods words, If ye transgresse, I will scatter you abroad among the nations: But if ye turne unto me and keepe my commandements, and doe them, though any of thine were driven out unto the outmost part of the heavens, yet will I gather them from thence, and bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my Name there, Nehem. 1. 8, 9.

thy God gather thee] The Thargum called Iunathans, expoundeth this to be the Word of the LORD; and the performance to be by the hand of Elias, and by the hand of the King Christ. Respecting (as it seemeth) the promise of Eliu, Mal. 4. 5, 6. which was Iohn the Baptist, the fore-runner of Christ, Luke 1. 16, 17.

5 Verse 5. shalt possesse] or, shalt inherit it. This is a promise of restoring them unto his Church, figured by the land of Canaan, Psalm. 69. 36, 37. Ezek. 36. 8, 11, 12, 24, 28, &c.

6 Verse 6. will circumcise thine heart] the Greeke translateth, will purge (or cleanse round about) thine heart: and both the Chaldee Paraphraists expound it, will take away the foolishnesse of thine heart, and the foolishnesse of the heart of thy sonnes. This is a promise of spirituall blessings in regeneration and sanctification by Christ, in whom we are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, buried with him in baptisme, &c. Col. 2. 11, 12. And of this it is said, Circumcision is that of the heart in the spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men but of God, Romans 2. 29. See the Annotations on Gen. 17. The Hebrew Doctors in the Midrash, or Commentarie on Song 2. 12. from these words, The time of pruning (or of cutting the vines) is come, give this exposition; For, the time is come, that Israel shall be redeemed, the time is come that the superfluous fore-skin shall be cut off, which is spoken of in Deuteronomie 30. 6. and the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, &c. where they apply this worke of grace unto Christ whom they looked for.

to love] this is the effect of Christs circumcision, that it taketh from us evill, and giveth good; Love being the fulfilling of the Law, Romans 13. 10. and implying all other graces; as it is said, I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may feare me all daies, &c. Jeremie 32. 39. And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you: and I will take the stonie heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh, that they may walke in my Statutes, and keepe my ordinances, and doe them, &c. Ezek. 11. 19, 20. that thou maist live] so the Greeke translateth the Hebrew phraze, for thy life, meaning the life of God, here by faith and holinesse, Romans 6. 11, 13. and hereafter for ever in heaven: as to enter into life, Matthew 18. 9. is expounded, to enter into the kingdome of God, Marke 9. 47.

7 Verse 7. will put] Hebrew, will give. Here follow earthly blessings, which God of his grace will adde unto the former spirituall. Of which,

one is the curses upon their enemies, concerning which it is said, Thou wilt render unto them a recompence, O LORD, according to the worke of their hands: thou wilt give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them; thou wilt persecute in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD, Lamentations 3. 64, 65, 66.

8 Verse 8. hearken to] or obey the voice; which the Chaldee interpreteth, receive the Word of the LORD: so in verse 10. The condition of obedience is set before the temporall blessings; for godlinesse hath the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Tim. 4. 8.

9 Verse 9. make thee plenteous] or, make thee excellent, unto which Thargum Ionathan addeth, for good, that ye may prosper in all the workes of your hands.

rejoyce over thee] This Christ taught in parables, of rejoycing for the lost sheepe that was found, Luke 15. 6, 7. and of the Prodigall sonne hee faith; It was meet that we should make merry and be glad; for this thy brother was dead, and is alive againe; and was lost, and is found, Luke 15. 32. So in the other Prophets, I will rejoyce in Jerusalem, and joy in my people, Esay 65. 19. and, I will rejoyce over them to doe them good, Jeremie 32. 41. See also Deuteronomie 28. 63.

10 Verse 10. that which is written] meaning all and every thing written; so teaching us exact obedience. unto Iehovah] in Chaldee, unto the feare of the Lord.

11 Verse 11. this commandement] which after in v. 14. he calleth the Word; and the Apostle expoundeth it, the Word of faith, Rom. 10. 8. So this speech is not of the Law onely, neither sheweth it what man can doe by the Law, much lesse by nature; but is the speech of the right confesse of faith, Rom. 10. 6. Though Moses teacheth them also, not to blame the Law of hardnesse to be learned, seeing God had now caused it to be written and expounded unto them. not bidden from thee] or, not too marvellous and hard for thee to know, and so, not impossible, through faith in Christ, as is the Law without faith, in that it is weak through the flesh, Rom. 8. 3. The Chaldee translateth, it is not separated from thee; and Thargum Jonathan expoundeth, it is not covered (or hid) from you. The holy Ghost in Greek translateth this word marvellous, Mat. 21. 42. from. Psalm. 118. and impossible, Luk. 1. 37. See the Annotations on Gen. 18. 14. and Deut. 17. 8. By Esaias also God faith; I have not spoken in secret in a darke place of the earth, Esay 45. 19.

12 Verse 12. to say] that is, that thou shouldest say; so in v. 13. see the Annotations on Gen. 6. 19. where sundry like speeches are shewed. This saying is meant of the heart also; wherefore the Apostle citeth it thus; Say not in thine heart, who shall goe up into heaven? Rom. 10. 6. Who shall goe up for us] the Ierusalem Thargum explaineth it, What we had one like Moses the Prophet, that might goe up into the heavens, &c. but the Apostle applieth it more heavenly to Christs incarnation; Who shall goe up into heaven, that is, to bring Christ downe from above? Rom. 10. 6. Unto which doubt hee opposeth the confession with the mouth, that Iesus is the LORD, verſe 9. that is, that God was maniſteſt in the fleſh, 1 Timothee 3. 16. for, no man hath aſcended up to heauen, (of whom we may learne the true understanding of the Law) but he that came downe from heauen, (even the Son of man to whom it is in heauen, John 3. 13. and cauſe us to beare it) that is, preach it unto us. that we may doe it] or, and we would doe it.

13 Verſe 13. beyond the ſea] Thargum Ionaſan explaineth it, beyond the great ſea; and Thargum Ieruſalemie addeth, Neither is the Law beyond the great ſea, that thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Oh that we had one like Ionaſ the Prophet, that might goe downe to the bottome of the great ſea, and bring it to us, &c. All things hidden from men, which they cannot attaine, are either in heauen above, or beyond ſea, in the farre places of the earth: but the Law of God is in neither of theſe, but neere unto every one, to learne and to doe. who ſhall goe over to beyond ſea] Paul alleageth this place thus, Who ſhall goe downe into the deepe, that is, to bring up Chriſt from the dead? Romans 10. 7. unto which hee oppoſeth in verſe 9. beleeve in the heart, that God hath raiſed him from the dead. Now, Ionaſ the Prophet, to whoſe example the Ieruſalemie Thargum applieth this, was a figure of Chriſt, as himſelfe hath ſaid, As Ionaſ was three daies and three nights in the Whales belly; ſo ſhall the Son of man be three daies and three nights in the heart of the earth, Mat. 12. 40. And as the ſea in Ionaſ caſe is called the Deepe, Pſal. 104. 6. & 107. 24. 26. Exod. 15. 5. ſo David (propheſying of Chriſt) ſaith that God had brought him up from the deeper of the earth, Pſal. 71. 20. So the Apoſtle ſpeaking of Chriſts riſing out of the grave, uſeth the word Abyſſe or Deepe, which is ſpoken both of earth and ſea.

14 Verſe 14. But the word] This the Apoſtle expoundeth thus, But what ſaith (the rightconſneſſe which is of faith?) The word is nigh thee, &c. that is the word of faith which we preach, Rom. 10. 8. By this it appeareth that Moſes wrote of Chriſt, Joh. 5. 46. and that he was cloſely taught in the Law. For Chriſt is the end of the Law, for rightconſneſſe to euerie one that beleeueth, Rom. 10. 4. And the Jewes, which cleaving to the Law reſuſed the Goſpel, or word of faith, had a zeale of God, but not according to knowledge, Rom. 10. 2. in thy mouth] or, for thy mouth, that is, for thee to confeſſe with thy mouth, that Ieſus is the LORD, as Rom. 10. 9. So in is uſed for, in Deut. 9. 4. & 24. 16. in thine heart] or, for thine heart: that thou maiſt beleeve in thine heart, that God hath raiſed him (Chriſt) from the dead, (and ſo maiſt be ſaved) Rom. 10. 9. to doe it] the Law, which is fulfilled by beleeving in Chriſt; as it is ſaid, This is the worke of God, that ye beleeve in him whom he hath ſent, John 6. 29. upon which beleeve true obedience followeth, Hebrews 8. 10.

15 Verſe 15. I have ſet] Hebrew, I have given, that is, propoſed and confirmed by my doctrine. So in verſe 19. life and good] life as the end, and good as the meanes leading to life: or life, that is, God himſelfe, of whom he ſaith in verſe 20. he is thy life;) and good, that is, felicitie following.

The Greeke verſion changeth the order thus, life and death, good and evil. Thargum Ieruſalemie explaineth it, the Law of life, which is a good Law; and the Law of death, which is an evil Law. And Thargum Ionaſan thus; The way of life, for which a good reward ſhall be recompenced to the juſt; and the way of death, for which an evil reward ſhall be recompenced to the wicked.

Verſe 16. to love] this is a declaration of the life and good fore-mentioned, which they, whoſe hearts God would circumciſe, verſ. 6. ſhould come unto by the faith that is in Chriſt. in his waies] the Chaldee ſaith, in the waies that are right before him. keeps his commandments] which is an effect of love; as, If ye love me, keep my commandments, John 14. 15. and, This is the love of God, that we keep his commandments, 1 John 5. 3. And this is his commandment, That we ſhould beleeve on the name of his Son Ieſus Chriſt, and love one another, &c. 1 John 3. 23.

Verſe 17. But if] or, And if thine heart turne, &c. This is the death and evil fore-ſpoken of: ſee Deuteronomie 29. 18. other gods] in Chaldee, the idols of the peoples.

Verſe 18. perſhing ye ſhall periſh] that is, aſſuredly and ſpeedily periſh; as the Greeke ſaith, periſh with perdition. So in Deut. 4. 26.

Verſe 19. I call the heavens, &c.] This obteſtation of heavens and earth, (uſed alſo before in Deut. 4. 26.) may be underſtood of God and the Angels in heaven, (as Paul expreſſeth them in 1 Timothee 5. 21.) or of the other creatures alſo in heaven and in earth; as Ieſus ſaid, This ſtone ſhall be a witneſſe unto us, for it hath heard all the words of the Lord, &c. Joſ. 24. 27. So in Deut. 32. 1. Eſa. 1. 2. Give eare O heavens; and heare O earth: and in Pſal. 50. 4. He will call to the heavens from above, and to the earth to judge his people; and in Job 20. 27. the heavens ſhall reveale his iniquitie, and the earth ſhall riſe up againſt him. I have ſet] Hebr. I have given, that is, faithfully propoſed by doctrine, and diſcharged my dutie: ſo in verſe 15. The life and bleſſing which he ſet before them, was by the faith of Chriſt, Gal. 2. 16. & 3. 9. the death and curſe was by reſuſing Chriſt, and ſeeking to be juſtified by the workes of the Law; for, as many as are of the workes of the Law, are under the curſe, Galath. 3. 10.

therefore choſe] Hebr. and choſe thou; or, and thou ſhalt choſe: which is the dutie of all Gods people, to be performed by grace in Chriſt. So David choſe the way of the truth, the precepts of God, Pſal. 119. 30. 173. Compare alſo Joſ. 24. 15, 22. Thargum Ionaſan explaineth this ſpeech thus, and choſe ye the way of life, which is the Law, that ye may live in the life of the world to come, you and your ſonnes. This is true, if it be underſtood not of the Law of workes, but of the Law of faith, as Romans 3. 27, 28. and 9. 31, 32, 33.

Verſe 20. to hearken to his voice] in Chaldee, to receive his word. unto him] Chaldee, unto his ſeare. he is thy life] that is, the author of thy life and ſalvation through Chriſt as in Joh. 17. 3. This is life eternall, to know theſe the onely true God, and Ieſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent: yea, Chriſt himſelfe himselfe is the resurrection and the life, Joh. 11. 25. and 14. 6. And in 1 Iohn 5. 20. We know that the Sonne of God is come, and hath given us an understanding that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Sonne Iesus Christ; this is the true God, and eternall life.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Moses being ready to die, encourageth the people that should goe into Canaan. 7 He encourageth Iosua that should be their Governour. 9 He delivereth the Law unto the Priests, which was to be read in the seventh yeere unto the people. 14 Moses and Iosua present themselves before the Lord, 16 who foretelleth the peoples falling from him, and his anger against them therefore. 19 He commandeth a song to be written, to testifie against the people. 24 Moses delivereth the booke of the Law to the Levites, to be kept in the side of the Arke, for a witnesse against them and their rebellion. 28 He maketh a protestation to the Elders.

DDD

1 AND Moses went and spake these 2 words unto all Israel. And he said unto them, I am an hundred and twen-3 tie yeeres old this day, I can no more go out and come in: and Jehovah hath said unto me, 4 thou shalt not goe over this Jordan. Jehovah thy God he goeth over before thee; he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possesse them: Iosua he shall
goe over before thee, as Jehovah hath said.
5 And Jehovah will do unto them as he did to Sihon, and to Og, Kings of the Amorite, and unto the land of them whom he destroyed.
6 And Jehovah will give them before you, and ye shall doe unto them according to every commandement which I have commanded
you. Be ye strong and couragious, feare not, neither be discouraged because of them: for Jehovah thy God, he is that goeth with thee, he will not faile thee, nor forsake thee.
7 And Moses called unto Iosua, and said unto him, in the eyes of all Israel: Be thou strong and couragious, for thou shalt goe in with this people into the land which Jehovah hath sworne unto their fathers to give unto them, 8 and thou shalt cause them to inherit it. And Jehovah, he is that goeth before thee; he will be with thee, he will not faile thee, nor forsake thee; feare not, neither be dismayed.
9 And Moses wrote this Law, and gave it unto the Priests, the sons of Levi, which bare the Arke of the covenant of Jehovah, and unto 10 all the Elders of Israel. And Moses commanded them, saying; At the end of seven

yeeres, in the solemnity of the yeere of release, in the feast of Boothes, When all Israel is come to appeare before Jehovah thy God in the place which he shall chuse, thou shalt reade this Law before all Israel in their eares. Gather together the people, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and that they may learne, and may feare Jehovah
your God, and observe to doe all the words of this Law. And that their sons which have not knowne may heare, and learne to feare Jehovah your God all the daies that ye shall live on the land, whither ye are going over Jordan, to possesse it.

And Jehovah said unto Moses, Behold thy daies approach to die; call Iosua, and present
your selves in the Tent of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Moses and Iosua went and presented themselves in the Tent of the congregation. And Jehovah appeared in the Tent, in a pillar of a cloud, and the pillar of the cloud stood over the doore of the Tent. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Behold, thou liest down with thy fathers, and this people will rise up, and goe a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they are going in to be amongst them, and will forsake me, and break
my covenant which I have stricken with them. And mine anger shall be kindled against the in that day, & I will forsake them, and will hide my face from them, and they shal be devoured, and many evils and distresses shall finde them; and they will say in that day, have not these evils found us, because our God is not amongst us. And I, hiding will hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have done, in that they are turned unto other gods. And now write ye this song for you, & teach it the sons of Israel, put it in their mouthes, that this song may be a witnes for me against the sons of Israel.
For I will bring them into the land which I sware unto their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey, and they shall eat and be filled, and be fat, and they will turn unto other gods, and serve them, and despightfully provoke me, and breake my covenant. And it shall be when many evils and distresses have found the, that this song shall answer before them for a witnes, for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouth of their seed: for I know their imagination which they doe this day,
before I have brought them in unto the land which I sware. And Moses wrought this song

23 song in that day, and taught it the sonnes of Israel. And hee charged Joshua the sonne of Nun, and said; Be strong and couragious, for thou shalt bring in the sonnes of Israel unto the land which I sware unto them, and I will 24 be with thee. And it was when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this Law in a booke, untill they were finished, 25 That Moses commanded the Levites which bare the Arke of the covenant of Jehovah, 26 saying: Take this booke of the Law, and put it in the side of the Arke of the covenant
of Jehovah your God, that it may be there 27 for a witnesse against thee. For I know thy rebellion, and thy stiffe-neck: Behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have bin rebellious against Jehovah, and how much 28 more after my death? Gather together unto mee all the Elders of your Tribes, and your Officers, that I may speake in their eares these words, and call the heavens and the 29 earth to witnesse against them. For I know, that after my death, corrupting ye will corrupt (your selves), and will turne aside from the way which I have commanded you, and evill will befall you in the latter daies, because ye will do evill in the eyes of Jehovah, 30 to provoke him to anger through the worke of your hands. And Moses spake in the eares of all the Church of Israel the words of this song, untill they were ended.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the two and fiftieth Section or Lecture of the Law: See the notes on Genesis 6. 9. And here Moses setteth the state of Israel in order before his death.

2 OLd] Hebrew, some of an hundred and twentie yeeres; of which phrase see Genes. 5. 32. So long while Noe preached to the world, building the Arke, Gen. 6. 3, 14. 1 Pet. 3. 19, 20. Of these 120. yeeres, Moses lived 40. in Pharaohs Court in Egypt, Acts 7. 20, 23. forty in the land of Ma-dian, Acts 7. 29, 30. Exod. 7. 7. and forty yeeres he governed Israel. I can no more goe out] that is, no more administer in my office: see the Annotations on Numb. 27. 17. This inability of Moses was not so much for his age, (for his eye was not dim, nor his naturall moisture fled, Deut. 34. 7.) as for the ordinance of God next mentioned. and Jehovah] or, for Jehovah hath said; as is shewed in Numb. 20. 12. Deut. 3. 25, 26. And is often in stead of For, as is noted on Gen. 12. 19. Or it may be taken as another reason, why Moses might no longer governe them.

Verse 3. Joshua] in Greeke, Iesus, who was substitute in Moses place, Num. 27. 16, 17, 18, &c.
A figure of our Lord Jesus, who by grace and truth bringeth us into Gods eternall rest, after the ending of Moses Law, Joh. 1. 17. Rom. 10. 4.
Thus the people are comforted in respect of their sorrow for Moses death, by promise of the Lords presence among them, and Joshuas succeeding government under him.

Verse 4. of the Amorite] that is, of the Amorites,
as the Greeke translateth: by whose destruction (before mentioned in Numbers 21. 23, &c. Deuteronomie 2. and 3.) Israel is encouraged against their other enemies. the land] that is, the people of the land.

Verse 5. commanded you] which was, to root
them out, and let none remaine, Deut. 20. 16, 17.

Verse 6. Be ye strong] or, Be confirmed, Hold fast,
to wit, your faith in God: in Greeke, Quit you like men; which word Paul useth in 1 Cor. 16. 13.
So after, in verse 7. couragious] or, be bards, strong, valiant in heart and carriage. This word is applied to the heart in Psal. 27. 14. and armes, in Proverbs 31. 17. and signifieth an increase and stedfastnesse, Prov. 24. 5. Ruth 1. 18. The like exhortation is often used, as Jos. 10. 25. 1 Chro.
22. 13. 2 Chron. 32. 7. be it is] in Chaldee, his Word it is. So in verse 8. saile thee] or, let thee goe, leave thee to thy selfe, but will hold thee fast. So v. 8. & Jos. 1. 5. Heb. 13. 5.

Verse 7. strong and couragious] or, confirmed and strong, as verse 6. Iosua being to beare the charge and toile of the people, hath the same exhortation & promise in particular, that was before unto all: and it was in the eyes of all, lest any after Moses death should deny his authority. A like speech David made to Solomon, 1 Chron. 28. 20.

Verse 8. he will be with thee] the Chaldee para-
phraseth, his Word will be thy helpe.

Verse 9. this Law] in Greeke, all the words of this Law in a booke. which bare the Arke] they had the chiefe charge to looke to the Arke, and other holy things; and though the Levites bare it, as ap-peareth by Num. 3. 31. and 4. 15. & 10. 21. yet sometimes the Priests themselves also bare it, as when they passed over Jordan, Jos. 6. 17. when they compassed Iericho, Jos. 6. 12. So after in v. 25. Mo- ses spake to the Levites. the Elders] the Magistrates: as the Priests by teaching, so the Elders
by governing are to looke that the Law of the Lord be observed, Mal. 2. 7. Hos. 4. 6. Mich. 3. 1.
2 Chron. 19. 6, 8, 9, 10.

Verse 10. of seven yeeres] that is, of every seventh
yeere, which was a yeere of release, Deut. 15. 1.

the solemnity] or, the set time; as the Greeke and Chaldee translate it, the time. release] of debts, Deut. 15. 1, 2, &c. that being freed from worldly cares, they might apply their mindes to Gods
Law. A figure of the yeere of grace, and remission of our debts by Christ; whereupon wee should give our selves to holinesse, Luke 4. 18, 19, 21. Rom. 6. 11, 12, 13. Booths] or Tabernacles, whereof see Levit. 23.

Verse 11. which he shall chuse] to set his Arke
and

and Tabernacle, and so to place his name there, Deut. 16.2. thou shalt read] speaking to Israel generally, and it was performed in speciall by the chiefe of them, either the high Priest, as Ezra (the chiefe of them that returned from Babylon) read it, Nehem. 8. 1, 2, 3. &c. or as the Hebrewes say, the King himselfe (when they had a King) used to read. For this Commandement was to Iosua, and therefore the King read it, saith Chazkuni upon this place. Which is by others of them declared thus, The King was he that read in their eares, and they read in the womens Court; (which was the outer Court-yard of the Temple.) And the King read sitting, and if he read standing, it was the more commendable, He read from the beginning of Deuteronomy, &c. When he read, they blew trumpets through all Ierusalem, for to assemble the people. And they set up a great Pulpit of wood, [as is mentioned also in Nehem. 8. 4.] and set it in the midst of the Court-yard, and the King went up and sat thereon, that they might heare him read; and all Israel that went up to the feast, gathered round about him, And the Minister of the Synagogue (such as wee reade of in Luke 4. 17, 20.) tooke the booke of the Law, and gave it to the Ruler of the Synagogue, (such as in mentioned in Luke 13. 14.) and the Ruler of the Synagogue gave it to the Sagan, or second chiefe Priest, called in Acts 5. 24. the Captaine of the Temple, and the Sagan gave it to the High Priest, and the High Priest to the King, for to honour him before the multitude. And the King tooke it standing, and if he would he sat downe and opened it, and seeing it, he blessed God, (as is recorded of Ezra in Neh. 8. 5, 6.) and after read till he made an end: Then he folded it up, and blessed (God) againe after it, as the manner was to blesse in the Synagogues. Both the reading and the blessing was in the holy tongue. The hearers were bound to prepare their hearts, and to make their eares attentive to heare with feare and reverence, and with joy and trembling, as in the day when (the Law) was given on (mount) Sinai: though they were great wise men, which knew the whole Law every whit, they were bound to heare with great attentivnesse, &c. for the King is the Messenger (of the Congregation) to cause the words of God to be heard. If the day of assembling (the people) began to bee on the Sabbath, they deferred it till after the Sabbath, because of the blowing with Trumpets, &c. which might not put away (the keeping of) the Sabbath. And it is cleare, that such as were of neither sex, or of both sexes, were bound to come seeing women were bound. 18 Vers. 18. other gods] in Chaldee, idols of the peoples: so in vers. 20.

19 Vers. 19. this song] in Greeke, the words of this song; after described in Chap. 32. containing a prophesie of their falling away, and of Gods judgments following. It was given in a song, that it might the more easly be learned, and kept in memory, with delight, and might move their affections against] or in, that is, amongst the sources of Israel: so in vers. 26.

Vers.

20 Verse 20. and be for] the like is prophesied in Deut. 32. 15. and shewed to have come to passe in Neh. 9. 25, 26.

21 Verse 21. answer before them] that is, resist before (and against) them. their imagination] the thing forged in their heart; which the Greeke tranlateth, their maliciousnesse (or naughtinesse.) This imagination is before the thoughts or cogitations, as appeareth by 1 Chron. 28. 9. and 29. 18. See Gen. 6. 5.

23 Vers. 23. I will be with thee] in Greeke, he will be with thee; as being the words of Moses (whom the Greeke before named) concerning God. The Chaldee tranlateth, my Word shall be thy helpe. See verse 8.

Verse 25. the Levites] especially the Priests the sons of Levi, as in verse 9.

Verse 26. in the side] or, by the side: which in Thargum Jonatham is expounded, in a coffin by the right side of the Arke.

Verse 27. stiffe necke] or, hard necke; which elsewhere it is likened to an iron sinew, Esay 48. 4. See Exod. 32. 9.

Verse 28. Elders of your Tribes] in Greeke they are named by one word Phylarchai, that is, Rulers (or Princes) of your Tribes.

CHAP. XXXII.

1. Moses song, which setteth forth Gods mercies unto Israel, their sinnes, and his chastisements by sword, famine, pestilence and captivity. 36 His mercie in Christ towards them in the end. 46 Moses exhorteth them to set their hearts upon his words. 48 God sendeth him up to mount Nebo, to see the land of Canaan, and die.

1 GIVE eare ye heavens, and I will speake, and let the earth heare the sayings of thy mouth.

2 My doctrine shall drop as the raine, my speech shall distill as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showres upon the grasse.

3 For I will proclaime the name of Jehovah; give yee greatnesse unto our God.

4 The Rocke, perfect is his worke, for all his waies are judgement: God is faithfulness, and without iniquity; just and righteous is he. They have corrupted themselves, their spot is not (the spot) of his sonnes, (they are) a crooked and perverse generation.

6 Do ye thus requite Jehovah, O people foolish & unwise? Is not he thy Father that hath bought thee? hath not he made thee, & established thee?

7 Remember the daies of old, consider the yeeres of generation & generation, ask thy Father, and he will shew thee; thy Elders, and they will tell thee. When the most high divided inheritance to the nations, when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the peoples, according

8 to the number of the sons of Israel.

GIVE eare O heavens to that which I declare, and heare, O earth, what my mouth sayings are. Drop down as doth the rain shall my doctrine, distill as dew so shall my speech divine: as on the tender

herbe the small rain powres, and as upon the grasse

the greater showres: For I Jehovahs name proclaim abroad; O give ye greatnesse unto him our God,

The Rocke, most perfect is his action,

Because his waies are judgement every one:

God is most faithfull, and iniquitie

In him is none, but just and right is he.

They on themselves have brought corruptions,

Their spot is not of (those that be) his sonnes

They are a generation which is

Turn'd to perversnesse, and to crookednesse.

Doe ye Jehovah in this wise reward,

O foolish folke, and wanting wise regard?

Thy Father that hath bought thee, is not he?

Hath he not made thee, and established thee?

Remember thou the dayes that were of old,

Mind ye the yeares of ages manifold:

Aske thou thy Father, and thee shew will hee,

Thine Elders (aske) and they will tell it thee.

When the most High dealt to the Nations

Their Heritage, and severed Adams sonnes,

The borders of the peoples set he then,

As number was of Israels children.

11 He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the fruits of the field, and he made him to sucke honey out of the rocke, and oyle out of the flinty rocke. Butter of kine, and milke of the flocke, with fat of Lambs, and of Rams of Basan stocke, and of Goats, with fat of wheaty kidnies fine, and of the grapes blood thou didst drink red wine.

17 The Rocke that thee begat thou mindest not, And God that formed thee thou hast forgot. And of his sonnes and daughters, then the Lord Did see the provocation, and abhor'd.

They have mee unto jelousie moved With that which is not God, have mee stirred To indignation with their idols vaine: I them will move to jelousie againe With those which are no folke; so indignation I will provoke them with a foolish nation.

23 dations of the mountaines. I will heape evils upon them, I will spend 24 mine arrowes upon them; They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured
with the burning coale, and with a bitter stinging plague, and I will 25 send upon them the teeth of beasts,
with the poyson of serpents of the dust. Without, the sword shall be-reave; and from the chambers, ter-virgin, the suckling with the man of gray haire. I said I wou'd scatter them into corners, I would make the 27 remembrance of them to cease from among men. Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely; lest they should say, Our high hand, & not Jehovah hath done 28 all this. For they are a nation void of counsels, & there is no understand- 29 ing in them. O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end.

 30 How should one chase a thousand, & to put ten thousand to flight, except their Rocke had sold them, and Je-31 hovah had shut them up. For their Rocke is not as our Rocke, even our enemies being judges. For their vine 32 is of the vine of Sodom, and of the blasted fields of Gomorrah: their Grapes are Grapes of gall, they have 33 most bitter clusters. Their wine is the poyson of dragons, and the cru-34 ell venome of aspes. Is not this laid up in store with me, and sealed up in my treasuries?
 35 To me belongeth vengeance and
 recompence; in the time their foot shall slide; for the day of their calamity is neere, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.
 36 For Jehovah will judge his people,
 and repent himselfe for his servants,
 when hee shall see that the hand is gone, and there is none shut up, or 37 left. And he shal say, Where are their gods, the Rocke in whom they 38 trusted for safety? Which did eat
the fat of their sacrifices, did drinke the wine of their drink-offerings? Let 39 them rise up, and he'pe you, let him
be an hiding-place for you. See now that I, I am he, and there is no God

Vpon them I will heape up evill sorrowes,
upon them I will spend my piercing arrowes.

They shall be burnt with hunger, and devour'd
with burning coales, and bitter plague out-pour'd:
and teeth of beasts upon them I will bring,
with poyson of serpents in dust creeping.

Without, the sword it shall bereave them quise,
and from the inmost chambers fearefull fright:
both the choise young man, and the virgin faire,
the suckling, with the man of hoary haire.

I said, I would them into corners drive,
I would men of their memory deprive.

Were it not that the wrath of th'enemy
I feared, lest behave themselves strangely
their adversaries should, lest they should say,
our high hand hath done all this, and not Iah.

For they a people whose counsels are gone,
and understanding in them there is none.

O that they wise were, would this understand,
that they consider would their latter end.

* * *

How should one make a thousand flee in chase,
and two make even ten thousand flie apace,
except their strong Rocke had them sold away,
Jehovah had them shut up to decay.

For their Rocke is not like our Rocke mighty,
and judge, let be our very enemy.

For their vine of the vine of Sodome is,
and of Gomorrahs blasted vine branches:
their Grapes they be the grapes of poysoned gall,
the clusters that they have are bitter all.

Their wine is of the dragons poison fell,
and of the aspes whose venome is cruell.

Is not this same laid up in store with me,
even sealed up within my treasuree?

To me belongs vengeance, and to repay
in time, when as their foot shall slide away:
for day of their calamity is nie,
and things that come on them, come hastily.

For Iah will to his people doe judgement,
and for his servants will himselfe repent,
when he shall see that their strong hand is gone,
and shut up, or remaining there is none.

And he shall say, where doe their gods abide,
the rocks on whom for safety they relide?

They which their sacrifices fat devour'd,
which drank the wine on their oblations powr'd?
let them arise, and shew you helpfull grace,
let him be unto you an hiding place.

Behold yee now, that I, even I am he,
and God there is not any beside me:

with

with mee: I doe kill and make alive; doe wound, and I heale; and there is none that delivereth out of mine hand. For I lift up my hand to the heavens, and say, I live for ever.

41 If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on judgement, I will render vengeance to my adversaries, & will reward them that hate mee. I will make mine arrowes drunke with blood, and my sword shall devoure flesh, with the blood of the flaine, and of the captives from the beginning, the revenges of the enemy. Shout joyfully yee nations with his people, for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will make atonement for his land, for his people.

44 And Moses came, and spake all the words of this song in the eares of the people, hee and Hoshea the sonne of Nun. And Moses made an end of speaking all these words unto all Israel: And hee said unto them, Set your heart unto all the words which I testifie among you this day, which you shall command your sonnes, to observe to doe all the words of this Law. For it is not a vaine word for you, because it is your life; and through this word yee shall prolong your dayes upon the land, whither yee are going over Iordan to possesse it.

48 And Jehovah spake unto Moses in that selfe-same day, saying; Goe up into this mountaine of Abarim, mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, that is over against Iericho, and see the land of Canaan which I am giving to the sonnes of Israel for a possession.

50 And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and bee gathered unto thy peoples, as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered unto his peoples. Because yee trespassed against me among the sonnes of Israel, at the waters of Meribah of Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin, because yee sanctified me not in the midst of the sonnes of Israel. Yet thou shalt see the land before thee, but thither thou shalt not goe in unto the land which I am giving to the sonnes of Israel.

I kill and quicken, wound, and whole I make, and out of mine hand none away can take.

For to the heav'ns my hand I lift on hie, and say, I live unto eternity.

If that my glittering sword I sharp do make, and that mine had on judgement hold doth take, unto my foes I render will vengeance, and them that hate me I will recompence.

Mine arrowes I wil drunken make with blood, (my sword shall also flesh devoure for food) with blood of them that wounded are, & thral, even from the first beginning principall, shall be revenges on the enemy.

Tee Gentiles with his folke shout joyfully, blood of his servants for avenge will be, and render vengeance unto them that be his adversaries, and atonement make both for his land, and for his peoples sake.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the three and fiftieth Section of the Law: See Gen. 6. 9.

Give eare] or, bearken yee heavens. Moses beginneth this propheticall song, calling as with the sound of a trumpet, the heavens and earth, (and all the creatures in them,) to bee witnesses of his word, (as in Deut. 30. 19. and 31. 28.) the more to affect the hearts of the people. So Esaias beginneth his prophesie against rebellious Israel, Esay 1. 2. For though men die, yet heaven and earth endure, Psalm. 119. 89. 90. 91. Eccles. 1. 4. And though men will not heare, yet other creatures shall heare and witnesse against them, Ios. 24. 27. and I will] or, that which I shall speake: as, and hee shall prepare, Mal. 3. 1. is expounded, which shall prepare, Mar. 1. 2. and let the earth beare] or, beare O earth; for he changeth the person, and in Esay 1. 2. he changeth the order also, Heare yee heavens, and give eare thou earth; and in Ierem. 22. 29. O earth, earth, earth, beare the word of Iehovah.

Verf. 2. My doctrine] or, My received learning: the doctrine of religion is so called, because it is received from God, not devised by men; as in 1 Chron. 11. 23. I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you. So our Saviour saith, As my Father hath taught me, I speake these things. Iohn 8. 28. And so it should bee received of the hearers, as the word of God, not of men, 1 Thess. 2. 13. shall drop] or, let it drop; as being a wish, and also a promise that his doctrine should bee profitable and effectual, as the raine; which as it waiteth not for the sonnes of men, Mich. 5. 7. so it commeth downe from heaven; and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud: in like sort, the word of God shall not returne unto him void, but it shall accomplish that which hee pleaseth, Esay 55. 10. 11. The Chaldee translateth, My doctrine shall be sweet at the

the raine: the Greeke, let it bee expected as the raine.

the raine] which maketh the barren earth fruitfull, & so resembleth the word of God, and effect thereof in the hearts of men: see Esay 45. 8. Contrary to false teachers, which are clouds without water, Inde v. 12. For, who so boasteth himselfe of a false gift, is clouds and winde without raine, Prov. 25. 14.

shall distill] or, let it distill, or flow downe: as the Greeke tranllateth, let my words come downe as the dew; and the Chaldee, let my speech be received as the dew. The manner of delivering Gods word is here, and often, likened to a dropping, Ezek. 20. 46. and 21. 2. Matth. 23. 6. the Word it selfe, to raine or dew, figures of heavenly graces. See Genes. 27. 28.

the small raine] or small drops; in Hebrew Seghirim, so named of haire, like which it falleth. Or it may have affinity with Saghuar, a storme, and meane a stormy raine, figuring the doctrine of the Law, which as it was given with storme and tempest, Heb. 12. 18. so it worketh like effect in the conscience. So the Greeke tranllateth it a showre, or showery raine: the Chaldee, as the rainy winds which blow upon the tender herbe. the showres] the strong or greater raine, which falleth with manifold drops, or with violence as arrowes: the Chaldee tranllateth them drops of the latter raine; whereof see Deut. 11. 14. The with-holding of these was a punishment, as in Ier. 3. 3. the showres have bene with-holden, and there hath bene no latter raine: the giving of them was a blessing, Psal. 65. 11. and 72. 6. Mic. 5. 7.

grasse] as the people sometime are likened to grasse, for their fraile and momentary state, Esay 40. 6, 7. so here they are likened to grasse & herbs, which grow by the raine, Iob 38. 26, 27. that they should not be unfruitfull hearers, like stones or sandy ground, whereon nothing groweth.

3 Ver. 3. proclaime] or publish, preach: but the Chaldee turneth it, pray in the name of the Lord. give ye greatness] or majesty, that is, magnifie him: so in Inde 25. to the only wise God our Saviour be glory and majesty (or greatness:) and in 1 Chro. 29. 11. Thine, O Iehovah, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, &c.

4 Ver. 4. The Rocke] that is, as the Greeke tranllateth, God: so in verse 18. 30. 37. 1 Sam. 2. 2. 2 Sam. 22. 32. God is called the Rocke, because of his might, stability and immutability; and to his Church hee is a firme foundation, Matth. 16. 18. and Christ is the Rocke, 1 Cor. 10. 4. his worke] in Greeke, his workes; so worke, in Psal. 95. 9. is worker in Heb. 3. 9. and it implieth his workes both of creation, and redemption of his people, and all other wrought in them; which are laid to be perfect, or unblemished, because there is no defect, no fault in any of them. Therefore in it the righteous doe rejoyce, Pl. 92. 5.

his wayes] that is, his administration, his doings. judgement] that is, most judicious, right & equal: and so shal they find that walke in them, Psal. 25. 8, 9, 10.

faithfulness] or faith: understand, a God of faith, that is, most faithfull and true, that all may relie safely upon him and his word. without iniquity] or, there is no iniquity, (no injurious evil) in him, as the Greeke tranllateth. So in Psal. 92. 16. Iehovah is righteous, my Rocke, and no iniquity is in him.

right] or, righteous: in Greeke, just and holy the Lord is. As his faith is constant to those that follow him, so is his justice righteous to such as forsake him.

5 Ver. 5. They have corrupted themselves] or, It hath corrupted it selfe; speaking of the people, (as is expressed in Exod. 32. 7.) as of one man, and prophesying here their falling away from God. Or, It hath corrupted (it selfe) before him, that is, before or against God. The Greeke tranllateth, they have sinned: and corruption is used both for sinne, as in Gen. 6. 11. and for destruction following sinne, as Gen. 6. 13. it being alwayes the changing of the state of a thing from good to evill. And this corrupting themselves, was chiefly by idolatry, as verse 15, 16, 17, &c. Exod. 32. 7. and implieth also their destruction; and it is ascribed to themselves, that it might not bee imputed unto God: so in Hos. 13. 9. Hereupon Esaias called them children that were corrupters, Esay 1. 4. & this their action is opposed to the perfection of Gods worke, in ver. 4. their spot] or, their blot, their blemish; that is, their vice, or evill, (as the word is explained in Deut. 17. 1.) and thereupon their blame. This is opposed to Gods faithfulness in ver. 4. and it is an effect of their foresaid corruption, and an evident signe thereof.

not of his finnes] that is, not such a spot (or blemish) as is in the sons of God through their infirmity, whereto all are subject; but such as is in a crooked and perverse generation, that will not be reclaimed from their vices. And this is a declaration of the effect of the Law in Israel; which was added because of transgressions, Gal. 3. 19. and when it came, sin revived; and the passions of sins, which were by the Law, did effectually worke in their members, to bring forth fruit unto death, as Rom. 7. 9, 5. But the grace of God through the Gospel, worketh contrary effects of sanctification, which the Apostle laith downe in these words of Moses thus; That yet ye may be blameless and sincere, the children of God, unblemished (or spotlesse) in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom shine ye as lights in the world, holding fast the word of life, Phil. 2. 15, 16. The Chaldee expoundeth it, They have corrupted themselves, and not him; finnes that have served Idols.

crooked] or froward; it is contrary to strait or even, Esay 42. 16. and they that are thus in heart, are an abomination to the Lord, Prov 11. 20. This title Peter gave unto the Jewes that refused the Gospel, Act. 2. 40. and herein the people are opposed to God just and righteous, in ver. 4. as they that perverted all equity, Mich. 3. 9. and had made them crooked pathes, Esay 59. 8.

perverse] that turne and writhe themselves and others, as wrestlers use: but this word is applied to such as are perverse in minde and counsell, Iob 5. 13. used also by our Saviour in Luk. 9. 41. O faithlesse and perverse generation. Hereby Israels habit in evill is signified, resisting the Holy Ghost, Act. 7. 51. so that their corruption and spot could not bee cured, but remained upon them as malignant ulcers. Compare Esay 1.5.6. Jer. 5.3.

- 6 Verſ.6. requite] or reward, recompence. This is a ſharpe rebuke of the ungratefull people, (ſet downe therefore queſtion-wiſe,) who in faith and obedience ſhould have ſhewed at leaſt their thankfull hearts, as did he which ſaid, What ſhall I render unto Iehovah for all his beneficiall rewards unto me? I will take up the cup of ſalvation, and call upon the name of Iehovah, Pſalme. 116.12.13. fooliſh] vile: the Hebrew Nabal is ſuch a fool, as hath his underſtanding and judgement faded and depraved, whereupon he becommeth vile and wicked, ſaying in his heart, there is no God, Pſal. 14.1. and blaſpheming his name, Pſalm. 74.18. This fool, or vile perſon, is oppoſed to the noble or liberall, Esay 32.5. The Chaldee here tranſlateth, people which have received the Law, and are not wiſe. Father] by regeneration, as 1 Pet. 1.3. Deut. 14.1. bought thee] or, thy purchaſer, thy Poſſeſſor, owner; ſee the Annotations on Exod. 15.16. And this aggravateth their ſinne, who denied the Lord that bought them, as 2 Pet. 2.1. for the oxe knoweth his owner (or him that bought him) though Iſrael did not know, Esay 1.3. made thee] not only in the firſt creation, as Gen. 1.26. but in exaltation to dignity after redemption, as God is ſaid to have made Mofes and Aaron, 1 Sam. 12.6. who advanced them to that honour in his Church. Therefore this word is uſed for a degree of grace after creation, as in Esay 43.7. I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea I have made him. So Chriſt is ſaid to have made twelve, when he ordained them to the office of Apoſtleſhip, Mar. 3.14. And Paul ſaith of Iſrael, that God exalted the people, when they dwelt as ſtrangers in the land of Egypt, Act. 13.17. eſtabliſhed] formed, fitted, and ordered firme and ſtable, that thou mighteſt abide in his grace.

- 7 Verſ.7. of old] or, of the world and ages paſt, all which will teſtifie of Gods grace unto his people. Thus Mofes confirmeth that which he ſpoke of Gods goodneſſe towards them, in verſ.6. and by this the Saints confirmed themſelves in their troubles and feares, Pſal. 77.6.7. &c. and 119.52. and 143.5. So in Esay 46.9. Remember the former things of old, for I am God, and there is none elſe, &c. generation and generation] that is, all generations, and every of them: ſo in Pſal. 89.2. to generation and generation; and Eſth. 3.4. day and day, that is, every day; and Ezr. 10.14. citie and citie, that is, every citie. he will ſhew] This the Pſalmiſt confirmeth, ſaying, O God, with our eares wee have heard, our Fathers have told unto us, the worke thou wroughteſt in their dayes, in dayes of old, &c. Pſal. 44.1.2. &c. So in Iudg. 6.13. Where be all his miracles, which our fathers told us of?

- 8 Verſ.8. divided inheritance] that is, appointed and gave lands and Countries for the nations to inherit; as mount Seir to the Edomites, Deut. 2.5. Ar to the Moabites, Deut. 2.9. and ſo to others, Amos 9.7. For God hath made of one blood all mankind, for to dwell on all the face of the earth: and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitations, that they ſhould ſeek the Lord, if haply they might ſeeke after him, and find him, Act. 17.26.27.

ſeparated] into diſtinct families, and peoples, with ſeverall languages; whereof ſee Gen. 10. and 11. chapters. bounds] or, borders, limits of the peoples; which may bee referred ſpecially to the peoples in the land of Canaan, whole bounds God proportioned beforehand, according to the number of the ſonnes of Iſrael, that they might be poſſeſſors of it after the Canaanites. Though generally there is alſo a proportion betweene the 70. nations reckoned in Gen. 10. and the ſeventy ſoules of Iſrael, which was their whole number when they went downe into Egypt, Gen. 46.27. Deut. 10.22. and more particularly betweene Canaan with his 11. ſons, Gen. 10.15.--18. and the twelve ſons of Iſrael, which became Patriarchs to the Church of God, Exod. 1.1.--4. Gen. 48.28. Act. 7.8. the ſons of Iſrael] in Greeke, the Angels of God: ſo the LXX tranſlated this place purpoſely, leſt the heathens ſhould here take offence, that Iſrael ſhould bee matched with the 70. nations, that is, with all peoples of the world. And the Iewes ſuppoſed there were ſeventy Angels, rulers of the 70. nations; and therefore they ſay according to the number of the Angels of God, whereby they meane ſeventy. Their opinion is to be ſeene in R. Menachem on Gen. 46. where he ſaith, It is a generall rule that there is one (degree of) glory above another, and they that are beneath, are a ſecret ſignification of thoſe that are above, and the 70. ſeales (Gen. 46.27.) ſignifie the 70. Angels that are round about the throne of (Gods) glory, which are ſet over the nations. But we are warned to beware how wee intrude our ſelves into thoſe things which we have not ſeene, Coloff. 2.18.

Verſ.9. portion] or part, which hee hath divided unto himſelfe, Exod. 19.5.6. and for whom hee long before prepared an habitation. And as hee hath taken his people for his portion, ſo they againe take him for theirs, Pſal. 142.6. and hee is called the portion of Iakob, Jer. 10.16. and ſ.1.19. This word Paul applieth to our heavenly calling in Chriſt, ſpeaking of the portion of the inheritance of the Saints in light, Coloff. 1.12. Iakob] that is, the poſterity of Iakob; which being the name of his infirmity, before he was called Iſrael, commendeth Gods love unto his, when they were weak and unworthy. And Iakob is the generation of them that ſeek Gods face, Pſal. 24.6. the line] or, the cord of his inheritance, that is, his heritage, as by line or meaſure befallen or allotted to him; and ſo his peculiar, whom none other can challenge. Compare Pſalme 16.6.7.

Verſ.10. He ſound him] that is, God ſound Iakob; meaning Iakobs poſterity, the Iſraelites, whom God found, and was preſent with them in the wilderneſſe, to helpe them in all their miſeries. Therefore the Greeke tranſlateth, He ſufficed him: and the Chaldee, He ſufficed their neceſſities: as ſounding is uſed for ſufficing, in Numb. 11.22. Gods people of themſelves doe all goe aſtray like loſt ſheepe: but hee ſeeketh and findeth them, for their their salvation, Esay 53.6. Psal. 19. 176. Luk. 15. 2.4. - 7.32. Land of wilderness] a wild or desert land, where no inhabitants were, no dwelling citie, no food to sustain him, Psal. 107. 45. Ier. 2.6. See before in Deut. 8. 15. The wilderness figured the peoples of the world, Ezek. 30.35. amongst whom Gods people strayed, till hee found them up: for when we were yet sinners, & enemies, he loved us, and reconciled us to himselfe by the death of his Son, Rom. 5.8. 10. empty place] in Chaldee, a dry place; Hebr. empiness: a place not to be inhabited, as appeareth by the opposition in Esay 45. 18. So all men naturally are empty, till they be filled with grace, and made the habitation of God through the Spirit, Eph. 2. 11. 12. - 22. howling of the desert] or, yelling of Ieshimon: the wilderness is called a place of howling, for the wild beasts that dwell there, or for the wants that men find therein: and Ieshimon, which signifieth a desert, or desolation, may be taken for a speciall wilderness so named, as in Num. 21. 30. or generally, for all desolate waste places: & such was that which Israel wandered in, Psal. 78. 40. The Greeke and Chaldee translate it, a waterlesse place; and so in Esay 43. 20. God promisseth to give waters in Ieshimon, (or in the wilderness.) It figured our estate in sinne, without Gods Word and Spirit, which are likened unto waters, Esay 44. 3. Iohn 3. 5. and 7. 38. 39. hee led him about] to wit, in the wilderness forty yeeres, as Deut. 8. 2. Or, hee compassed him about, to wit, with his love and providence: so the Greeke translateth, he compassed him, and the Hebrew well beareth it. Thus David saith to God, thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance, Psal. 33. 7. and in Ier. 31. 32. compassing is used for going about to winne ones love and favour; which may also bee intended here. The Chaldee translateth, Hee placed them round about his divine Majestie: which may have reference to Israels encamping round about Gods Tabernacle, Num. 2. instructed him] or, made him to understand, to wit, by his Law, and by his Spirit, as Nehem. 9. 13. 20. So the Chaldee explaineth it, he learned them the words of the Law. apple of his eye] or, the blacke (the sight) of his eye; that is, with all diligent care and love tendering them. Thus David prayeth, Keepe me as the apple of the eye, Psal. 17. 8. and the Prophet saith, He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye, Zach. 2. 8.

Verf. 11. an Eagle] the chiefest of all birds, which similitude God therefore applieth to himselfe here, and in Exod. 19. 4. stirreth up] or, maketh up her nest, that is, her young ones: which the Eagle rowleth up with her cry; so God did his people with his Word and promises, whiles they slept in their sinnes in Egypt. This is declared in Ezek. 20. 5, 6, 7. and the history is in Exod. 4. 29, 30, 31. So to the Church it is said, Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Sion, &c. Esay 53. 1. and Awake thou that sleepest, and stand up from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light, Eph. 5. 14. stirreth] or moveth and cherisheth. This is the word used in Gen. 1. 2. the Spirit of God moved (or stirred) upon the face of the waters. That openeth the meaning here to be Gods motions by the Spirit in the heart of his people. spreadeth abroad] as preparing her selfe to flight, and thereby provoking her young to goe with her. This God performed by spreading out the wings of his power against Egypt in plaguing them, and for Israel in preserving them from those plagues; so making way for his people to passe out of the place of their bondage. taketh them] that if they bee slacke or negligent, hee may procure them to come away. So God by his Angels took hold on Lots hand, and led him out of Sodom, Gen. 19. 16. and hastened the departure of Israel out of Egypt, Exod. 12. on her wings] in gentleness, and for their safety: not in her talents wherewith she beareth her prey. And the Eagle soaring high, her young being on her wings, are safe from all danger. Thus God led Israel safe thorow the red sea, Exod. 14. and into the wilderness of Sinai, where he said unto them, You have seene what I did to the Egyptians; and I have borne you upon Eagles wings, and brought you unto my selfe, Exod. 19. 4. So Christ giveth to the woman his Church, two wings of a great Eagle, that shee might flee into the wilderness, into her place where shee is nourished, Revel. 12. 14.

Verf. 12. alone lead] or, lead him alone; which may be referred to Jehovah their only leader, and so the Greeke explaines it: or, to the people lead alone, as in Num. 13. 9. and Deut. 33. 28. they are said to dwell alone, and thus the Chaldee interpreteth it. lead him] that is, lead Israel, conducting them thorow the wilderness in safety, as Deut. 8. which mercie is often mentioned, Psal. 78. 14. 52, 53. and 136. 16. Nehem. 12. The Angel of his presence saved them, Esay 63. 9. with him] with Jehovah; or, with Israel; as the Greeke translateth, with them. God erected his Tabernacle, and set his true worship in Israel, without commixture with the idolatry of the nation. And unto that they should have kept themselves, as Psal. 81. 8, 9, 10. The Chaldee paraphraseth, there shall no service of Idols be established before him.

Verf. 13. made him ride] made Israel to conquer and triumph: so riding is often used for conquering and subduing: as, Psal. 45. 4. and 66. 13. Rev. 6. 2. and 19. 11. 14. high places of the earth] or, of the land, to wit, Canaany, which they conquered: and by the high places, are meant the mountaines, and high walled cities which they subdued, Deut. 1. 28. A like promise is made in Esay 58. 14. I will cause thee to ride on the high places of the earth: and in Deut. 33. 29. thou shalt tread upon their high places. The Chaldee here translateth, Hee placed them on the strong places of the earth. and bee did eat] or, that bee might eat: the Greeke saith, hee fed them with the fruits of the fields. fruit] or, fruitfulness, all things that grew in the fields. honey out of the rocks] that is, honey of Bees nestling in rocks: or hony fruits, as dates and the like, which grow on palme trees, (as olle on olive trees,) in rocky places: that whereas rocks and stones are usually barren, God made such places fruitfull to Israel; even as hee gave them water out of the rocks in the wilderness, Exo. 17. 6. Num. 20. 11. wherto this here also may have reference, & meane waters sweet as honey and oile. This honey and oile figured the heavenly graces which God bestoweth upon his Church in Christ, (who is likened to a Rocke, 1. Cor. 10. 4.) and which hee would continue, if men would hearken unto his Law, Psalm. 81. 14. 17. and 119. 103. Song. 4. 11.

Verf. 14. Butter of kine] or, of the herd, that is, made of Cowes milke: these things were a signe of the fruitfulness of the land, as is observed by the Prophet, Esay 7. 21. 22. And as soft and smooth words are sometimes likened to butter, and oyle, Psalm. 55. 22. so here they figured the soft and comfortable words of grace, wherewith God satisfieth the soules of his people. The Chaldee paraphraseth, He gave them the spoiles of their kings and rulers, with the riches of their great and strong men, &c. and so in Amos 4. 1. Princes of Samaria are called kine of Basan.

of the flocke] of sheepe and goats, Lev. 1. 10. for the food of them and of their household, as Prov. 27. 27.

fat of lambs] that is, fatted lambs, rams, &c. of the breed of Basan] Hebr. formes of Basan, that is, bred and fed on mount Basan, which was a fertile place, and good to nourish cattell, Numb. 32. 1. 3. 4. 33.

fat of the kidneys of wheat] that is, fine flower of the kernels of wheat. The flower which is the best and the principall, is called the fat, here and in Psalm 81. 17. and 147. 17. and the kernels are called kidneys, because when they are full, they resemble kidneys in shape.

blood] that is, juice of the grape, which is red coloured like blood. Hereupon Christ killing his enemies, and having his clothes sprinkled with blood, is described like one treading grapes in the wine-fat. Esa. 62. 2. 3. Rev. 14. 19. 20. and 19. 13. And this sense the Chaldee keepeth here, translating it, the blood of their mighty men shed like water. But literally it is meant of the wine that was plentiful in the land of Canaan; & spiritually of the heavenly graces wherewith Christ filleth his people, Esay 55. 1. thou didst drinke] he turneth his speech to Israel: the Greeke for more plainnesse translateth as before, they dranke.

pure wine] or red wine, as in Psalm. 75. 8. & in Esay 27. 2. In that day sing ye unto her, a vineyard of red wine; and such was the best wine in the land: the Greeke translateth it only wine. Thus Moses, by honey, oile, butter, milke, fat flesh, fine bread, and wine, (seven things under which number al other are comprehended) signifieth the manifold blessings which Israel enjoyed in their land. Which was a figure unto them of the most fertile Kingdome of Christ, and the heavenly comforts of his Word and Spirit, wherewith hee satisfieth his people. And of these, some are food for children to sucke, as honey, oile, butter, & milke, Esay 7. 15. 16. the rest are stronger meats for men: so the faithfull have in their infancy easie instruction, the sincere milke of the Word, to grow thereby; and in their ripe age, the higher mysteries of the Gospel, as 1 Pet. 2. 2. 1 Cor. 3. 1. 2. Heb. 5. 12. 13. 14.

Verf. 15. I surnen] or Iesurun, that is, as the Chaldee explaines it, Israel; the Greeke, Beloved; so in Deut. 33. 5. 26. where the Chaldee againe translates it Israel; the Greeke Beloved; and in Esay 44. thou Iesurun whom I have chosen; the Chaldee saith, thou Israel: the Greeke: thou beloved Israel. It hath the name of Iosher, Righteousnesse, as being a righteous people by calling, having Lawes right and equall, if they had walked in them. Or it may be derived of Sbor, which is to Looke or See, because this people saw the glory of God at the giving of the Law. The same word Sbor is also a Bullocke, which some thinke Moses here alludeth unto, as if Israel were waxed like a fat Bullocke which kicked. But the other places where this word is used, imply no such thing.

waxed fat] in Chaldee, waxed rich. This was the occasion of their falling from God, the prosperity and blessings which they had in Canaan, as is also shewed in Nehem. 9. 25. 26. They took strong cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, Wells digged, Vineyards, and Oliveyards, and fruit trees in abundance: so they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodness. And they turned disobedient, and rebelled against thee; and cast thy law behind their backs, &c. The like complaint is in Jer. 5. 27. 28. Though this may imply also the fatnesse of their heart, whereof see Esay 6. 10. Matth. 13. 15. kicked] that is, behaved themselves contemptuously, and waxed wanton: and it signifieth their contemptuous abuse of Gods holy ordinances, as he complaineth of Priests, Wherefore kicke ye at my sacrifice, and at mine offering, which I have commanded, &c. 1 Sam. 2. 29. This word Paul seemeth to respect, when hee speaketh of such as tread under foot the Sonnes of God, Heb. 10. 29.

thou art covered] or, thou hast covered, thy selfe, thy face, or thine heart with fatnesse, as is explained in Iob 15. 27. thus; he covereth his face with his fatnesse; and maketh collaps of fat on his flanks. And in Psalm. 17. 10. They are inclosed in their owne fat; with their mouth they speake proudly: and in Psalm. 73. 7. Their eyes stand out with fatnesse.

be forsooke God] in Chaldee, he forsooke the service of God: hee turneth his speech away from the people, as they that would not heare; and speaketh to heaven and earth for to witnesse; as in verse 1. And this is the first part of their sinne, to forsake the good God.

made him] by creating, and advancing him, as in ver. 6. lightly esteemed] or, vilely and foolishly despised; Hebr. jenabbet, of Nabal foolish, as hee called them in v. 6. The Chaldee expounds it, bee provoked to anger.

the Rocke] the mighty God Christ; as v. 4. So the Greeke translateth, he departed from God his Saviour.

Verf. 16. provoked him to jealousy] or, made him jealous, that is, exceeding angry: for jealousie is the rage of a man; therefore hee will not spare in the day of vengeance, Prov. 6. 34.

strange gods] the Chaldee explaineth it, the service of Idols, or idolatry. So in Psalm. 78. 58. they provoked him to jealousy, with their graven images. And in 1 King. 14. 22. 23. the Iewes provoked him to jealousy with their sinnes, &c. for they also built them high places, and and images, &c. And this is the second part of their sinne, to turne to idols and devils. abominations that is, abominable idols, or false gods, and other sinnes, as Levit. 18. 26, 27. Deutero. 7. 25. 2 King. 23. 13.

17 Vers. 17. to devils that waste and destroy mankind, as their name Shedim here signifieth: see Levit. 17. 7. and these are in this respect opposed to God, who maketh and saveth his people, v. 15. So Ieroboams calves are called Devils, 2 Chro. 11. 15. & all the Gentiles Idols are Devils, 1 Cor. 10. 20. and Antichrists, Revel. 9. 20. And unto devils the Israelites sacrificed their sonnes and their daughters, when they sacrificed them unto the Idols of Canaan, Psal. 106. 37, 38. whom they knew not had no knowledge or experience of any good from them: or, gods which knew not them, that is, had done them no good; as on the contrary the true God saith, I did know thee in the wilderness, Hos. 13. 5. where the Chaldee explaineth, I supplied their necessities. came lately up Heb. came from meere, that is, from meere time: which when it is spoken of a thing past, meaneth lately; when of a thing to come, it meaneth shortly, as in Ezek. 7. 8. were not afraid with horreur, lest they should be hurt by him. So the originall word properly signifieth, and therein differeth from that fear or reverence which wee owe to the true God. He meaneth, that they were such Gods as could neither doe good nor evill, as is said in Ier. 10. 5. Be not afraid of them for they cannot doe evill, neither also is it in them to doe good.

18 Vers. 18. the Rocke that is, as the Greeke saith, the God, and the Chaldee, the strong Feare, that is, the strong God: see v. 4. begat thee with the word of truth, that thou shouldst be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures, as Iam. 1. 18. The Chaldee expoundeth it, created thee; which may also be applied to creating in Christ Iesus unto good works, as Ephes. 2. 10. unmindfull in Greeke, hast forsaken: this and the word following, hast forgotten, sheweth their long continuance in their sin, whereof God complained by the Prophet, My people have forgotten me dayes without number, Ier. 2. 32. And is not only forgetfulness in mind, but in affection and action; as when they made a Calfe in the wilderness, they forgot God their Saviour, Psal. 106. 19, 21. So God when he will punish them, threatneth, I will utterly forget you, and forsake you, Ier. 23. 39. Hereupon he saith, Remember thefi O Iakob and Israel, for thou art my servant; I have formed thee, thou art my servant, O Israel, shew not thy selfe forgetfull of me, Esay 44. 21. that formed thee or, that brought thee forth: in Greeke, that nourished thee: in Chaldee, that made thee. God is here likened to a father that begat, and a mother that bare or brought forth, both which doe set forth his love, and the worke of his grace.

19 Vers. 19. saw the Chaldee saith, it was revealed before the Lord. God the Iudge first taketh notice of the sinne, as in Gen. 18. 20, 21. contemptuously abhorred or, loathed, despised as loathsome; which the Greeke expresseth by two words, he was jealous, (or servent) and hee was provoked: the Chal-

dee, his anger was strong. This word, which is commonly used for mens contemptuous provoking or despighting of God, is here and in Lam. 2. 6. applied to God his despising and loathing of sinne and sinners. the provoking or, the angering, the indignation or griefe, caused by his sons and daughters, that is, by them which had beene his children by his gracious calling of them, and would seeme so to bee still; but their spot was not such as his childrens, v. 5.

20 Vers. 20. will hide my face the Chaldee expounds it, will take away my divine presence. It meaneth also the withdrawing of his favour; therefore his children often prayed against this, Psal. 27. 9. and 102. 23. Exod. 33. 15, 16. And when God threatneth iudgement to his people, he saith, I will shew them the backe and not the face in the day of their calamity, Ier. 18. 17. And here their punishment is answerable to their sinne: as they first withdrew their love and obedience from God, so hee withdrew his presence and grace from them; that though they sought him, they should not find him, Prov. 1. 28. The contrary is promised to the faithfull, They shall see his face, Rev. 22. 4.

will see and let others see: as the Greeke saith, I will shew what shall be to them at the last. Now the last end of sinners, if they convert not, is their destruction, Psal. 73. 17, 18. Prov. 14. 12, 13. and 23. 32. very froward Hebr. a generation of frowardnesse, or, of perversities, that is, a most froward and perverse people. This word Paul useth of heretickes, Tit. 3. 11. no faith no firmnesse, truth, or stability: for faith hath the name of stedfastnesse: see the notes on Exod. 17. 12.

21 Vers. 21. not god or, no god: a prophesie of the reiection of the Iewes, with the cause thereof. They left the Lord their God, & tooke another, for they made him jealous and angry: the Lord also will leave them and take another people; so they shall be provoked. their vanities that is, as the Greeke translateth, their idols, or, as the Chaldee expounds it, their service of idols. So Idols are called vanities, Ier. 8. 19. and 14. 22. 2 King. 17. 15. because they are nothing, 1 Cor. 8. 4. not a people or, no people, that is, by the Gentiles which are not now my people, whom I will call to my faith and obedience by the Gospell, where by the Iewes shall have occasion of jealousie and anger. So Paul expoundeth this in Rom. 10. 19. &c. And in 1 Pet. 2. 10. which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God. And in Hos. 1. 10. In the place where it was said unto them, Tce are not my people; there it shall bee said unto them, Tce are the sonnes of the living God. Thus God threatneth to take his Kingdome from the Iewes, and give it to the Gentiles. a foolish nation and therefore vile and despised: so this is a reward of their foolish despising of the Lord, forementioned v. 15. The Iewes understand these things of the Chaldeans, which caried them captive & so grieved them; because it is written, Behold the land of the Chaldeans, this was not a people, &c. Esay 23. 13. But the Apostles exposition is heavenly, shewing the reiection of the Iewes for refusing Christ; and calling of the Gentiles, (esteemed of them fooles) for which the Jewes were angry, as appeareth by Rom. 11. 14. 1 Thess. 2. 15, 16. which Gentiles are called foolish, because they were carried away after dumbe idols, 1 Cor. 12. 2. Whereupon it is said, They are altogether brutish and foolish: the stocke is a doctrine of vanities, Ier. 10. 8. They became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened: professing themselves to be wise, they became fooles, Rom. 1. 21, 22.

22 Vers. 22. kindled in mine anger] or, burneth from mine anger, or, through my nostrill, that is, by the breath thereof. By fire is meant Gods fiery judgements, which by the enemy, drought, blasting, and otherwaies he would bring upon their land, Amos 2. 2. 5. So in Ezek. 30. 8. God, saith he, will set a fire in Egypt, which the Chaldee there expoundeth, peoples strong as fire; but here the Chaldee translateth, For an East-wind strong as fire cometh forth from before me in anger. As before, God withdrew his good things from them, so now hee threatneth to inflict evils upon their land, & upon their persons. the lowest hell] or, the hell of lownesse, that is, the lowest part of the earth; for so Sheol, or Hell, here and often meaneth, as Num. 16. 30. 32, 33. See the Annotations on Gen. 3. 7. 3. 5. This meaneth a most vehement fire, which should burne downeward, even to the middest of the earth. the earth] or, the land, wherein Israel dwelt, which should bee wasted with warre, drought, &c. that no man should dwell, no fruits should grow thereon: for God turneth springs of waters into dry ground; a fruitful land into salnesse (or barrennesse) for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein, Psal. 107. 33, 34. So upon the famine in Israel the Prophet complaineth, The fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt all the trees of the field, Ier. 1. 4. 19. foundations of the mountains] that is, the strongest places of the land, Jerusalem it selfe, founded on the holy mountaines, was destroyed by the fire of Gods wrath, Amos 2. 5. Lament. 2. 1. 2. 3. So it is said, The Lord hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof, Lam. 4. 11.

23 Vers. 23. I will heape] or, will adde: I will enshewe, will spend evils on them: the Greeke saith, I will gather together evils against them. These plagues concerne the people, as the former did their land. arrowes] that is, plagues that shall come suddenly and swiftly, Zach. 9. 14. Arrowes meane plagues of all sorts, as the Scriptures mention the evill arrowes of famine, Ezek. 5. 16. of pestilence, Psal. 91. 5. and other sicknesses, Psal. 38. 2, 3. Iob 6. 4. of warres, Ier. 50. 14. of thunder, lightning, &c. 2 Sam. 22. 14, 15. And among the Gentiles this phrased was used, as the pestilence is called, an evill arrow, by Homer in Iliad. 1.

24 Vers. 24. burnt] in Greeke, consumed: Moses useth a word not elsewhere found in Hebrew, but in the Chaldee it signifieth to beat or burne; and so it may intimate their destruction by the Chaldeans, at what time they were so burnt with famine, that their visages were black as a cole, their skin clave to their bones, Lament. 4. 8. Others translate it, filled or mested; so it answereth to their sinne, who had filled themselves, and kicked, ver. 15. and now for a punishment should bee filled with hunger. This the Chaldee favoureth, translating it, blowne up (or swollen) with famine. And this is the first evill arrow of famine, as Ezek. 5. 16.

the burning cole] hereby the lightning or lightning bolts seemeth to be meant, as in Psal. 78. 48. or the burning carbuncle, a fiery ulcer on the body, as in Habak. 3. 5. this word is joyned with the pestilence. Properly the word signifieth fiery coles, Song. 8. 6. figuratively it is applied to arrowes that fly, Psal. 76. 4. The Greeke and Chaldee here expound it, devoured with sowles.

bitter] in Greeke, inenrable. stinging plague] in Hebrew, Keteib, which is the name of a deadly stinging disease, joyned with the pestilence, in Psalme 91. 6. which the Apostle tranlateth a sting, in 1 Cor. 15. 55. from Hos. 13. 14. and so the Greeke there expoundeth it. But here the Greeke calleth it the disease Opisthotonus; which is a strange and vehement disease in the neck, when by the stiffenesse of the nerves or sinewes, the necke is strained backward to the shoulders, and killeth a man within foure dayes, as Cornel. Celsus sheweth in 1. 4. c. 8. But it seemeth here to be more generall, for the pest and other terrible sicknesses, whereby God soone cutteth off the life of man with bitterness. The Chaldee expoundeth it evill spirits.

the teeth] Hebr. the teeth of beasts, wild beastes to devoure men and cattell: see Levit. 26. 22. Ezek. 5. 17. and 14. 21. serpents] or, creeping things, wormes: the Chaldee translateth it, dragons that creepe in the dust. The wild beastes kill by force; wormes and serpents by secret subtilty.

25 Vers. 25. Without] abroad out of the cities. the sword] of the enemy by warres. bereave] or rob, to wit, all sorts and sexes, as after followeth. Thus God threatneth his foure sore judgements mentioned in Ezek. 14. 21. Revel. 6. 8. the sword, and the famine, and the evill beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from them man and beast. inward terrour of conscience, whereof see Iob 15. 20. 24. terrours of death, as Psal. 55. 5. and so the Chaldee translateth it, dread of death; meaning that they should even die through feare.

both the young man] to wit, shall be bereaved: so all sorts shall be cut off with these judgements.

26 Vers. 26. scatter them into corners] or, drive them from corner to corner: in Greeke, disperse them; in Chaldee, destroy them. Here God sheweth the measure of their punishments, which though they deserved to have in all extremity, yet he would moderate in mercy.

27 Vers. 27. Were it not] or, but that I feare the wrath (or provocation) of the enemy. God speaketh these things after the manner of men: and in regard of his glory (that the enemy should not blaspheme) hee would spare Israel from utter destruction. So God pleadeth also with them in Ezek. 20. 13. 14. 21, 22. 44.

behave themselves strangely] or, make strange of the matter, deny and dissemble the truth of the things which the Chaldee expoundeth, magnifie themselves. Compare Psal.

Psal. 140. 8. Or, it may meane the strange and inhumane dealing of the enemies against Israel.

28 Verſ. 28. For they] that is, the Israelites, as the next verse sheweth, and it is a reason of the destruction which God thought to have brought upon them, v. 26. it may also be applied to their enemies.

void of counsels] or, as the Greeke translateth, which have lost counsell, in that they have forsaken Gods Law, which should be their counsellor, Psal. 119. 24.

29 Verſ. 29. O that they were] or, as the Chaldee translateth it, If they were wise Compare Psal. 107. 43. Hof. 14. 9. understand] which is the effect of wisdom, whereof they deprived themselves.

consider their latter end] study and apply their minds to Gods workes past, present, and to come: this want of wisdom in them, the Prophet lamenteth, She remembered not her latter end, therefore she came downe wonderfully, Lament. 1. 9.

30 Verſ. 30. one chase a thousand] Seeing God promised Israel that they should chase their enemies, and an hundred of them should put ten thousand to flight, Levit. 26. 7. 8. how should on the contrary, one enemy chase a thousand of them, if God had not sold the Israelites for their sinnes?

their Rocks] that is, God, as the Greeke translateth: see v. 4.

fold them] in Chaldee, delivered them, meaning to the enemies, to whom they were sold even for nothing, as Psal. 44. Esay 52. 3. and this was for their iniquities, Esay 50. 1.

shout them up] in Greeke, delivered them; meaning into the enemies hand, as Psal. 31. 9. So God is said to shout up (that is, deliver) his people to the sword, Psal. 78. 62. See this phrase in Deut. 23. 15.

31 Verſ. 31. their Rocks] the god on whom the heathens relye: so the Greeke explaineth it, For our God is not like their gods. The person is changed, as if Moses, or the people spake of the heathen idols, that they could never have given their worshippers power over Israel, if God their Rocke had not sold them.

Judges] for the enemies were afraid of the God of Israel, because of his former judgements on the Egyptians, 1 Sam. 4. 8. Balaam confessed the power of God, & his goodness unto Israel, Numb. 23. 8. 12. 19, 20, 21, &c. The Egyptians would have fled, for they perceived that God fought for Israel, Exod. 14. 25.

32 Verſ. 32. their vine] the vine of Israel; so other Prophets compare Israel with Sodom and Gomorrah, Esay 1. 10. Ezek. 16. 45, 46, 56. Although therefore these things may be applied to the heathens, yet chiefly they respect Israel in their apostasie; for, what things soever the Law saith, it saith it to them that are under the Law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God, Romanes 3. 19. By the vine here, the Chaldee understandeth punishment, translating, Their vengeance is like the vengeance of the people of Sodom. And that such were their sinne and punishment, Jeremy complaineth in Lam. 4. 6. This may also be applied to the apostasie of Antichrist.

of the vine] or, above the vine of Sodom, that is, worse than it. God had planted Israel a noble vine, wholly a right seed, but they turned it into the degenerate plant of a strange vine, Ier. 2. 21. So God planted the Christian Church in Christ the true vine, Ioh. 15. 1. but they degenerated, and worshipped the beast Antichrist, whose citie is spiritually called Sodom, Revel 11. 8.

blasted fields] or, blasted vines (or vine branches) that grow in Gomorrah's fields. So the Greeke translateth it here, a vine branch. And the Hebrew Shedemab, which is sometime used for a field, or vine, Esay 16. 8. is in Esay 37. 27. blasted corne; and for it in 2 King. 19. 26. is written Shedephah, which properly significeth blasted corne, or blasting, Deut. 28. 22. which sense I thinke is to be retained here, as the Chaldee translateth it, their snoring or beating, that is, when Gomorrah was burnt with fire, Gen. 19. and the fields and vines in them blasted, they brought forth none but bitter & hartfull grapes; so did this people Israel, and so doe Antichristians.

their grapes] the grapes of them and him, that is, of them all, and of every one, for so much the Hebrew forme implieth; by grapes meaning their workes, as in Esay 5. 4.

gall] that is, bitter, venomous, and hurtfull, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the gall of serpents: See Deut. 29. 18.

most bitter] Hebr. clusters of bitterness; meaning, most evill and noisome doctrines & actions: and as sometime it is used for bitter afflictions, Iob 13. 26. so here the Chaldee applieth it to the reward of their evill workes. The breast of Christs Church (out of which the people suck the wine of Gods graces by the ministry of the Gospel) are likened to clusters of grapes, Song. 7. 7. So here on the contrary is signified the corruption of true doctrine by false Prophets and ministers of Antichrist.

Verſ. 33. their wine] wine is sometime used to signifie the fruits & graces of Gods Spirit, Song. 4. 10. and 5. 1. and 8. 2. Here it signifieth the corrupt doctrine & heresies wherewith the Jewes poisoned themselves and their disciples: and the wine of fornications, that is, the heresies and idolatries of Antichrist, wherewith all nations have beene made drunken, as Rev. 17. 2.

poison of dragons] in Greeke, fury (or boon wrath) of dragons, that is, their doctrines and actions are venomous and deadly to soule and body, as being doctrines of devils, and the poison of the old dragon whom Antichristians adore, 1 Tim. 4. 1. Rev. 13. 4. and 12. 3, 4, &c. So in Esay 59. 5. They hatch Cockatrice egges, Or. bee that eateth of their egges dieth.

cruell] in Greeke, incurable fury of aspes; in Chaldee, the gall of aspes, the cruell serpents, which are venomous serpents that will not be charmed, Psal. 58. 5, 6. and so it noteth their incurable maliciousnesse: and when it is used for punishment, it noteth also the grievousnesse of it, as, He shall sucke the poison of aspes, the viper's tongue shall slay him, Iob 20. 16.

Verſ. 34. this] in Greeke, these things; that is, the sins of Israel forementioned; as the Chaldee expounds it, all their workes.

laid up in store] which the Chaldee interpreteth, manifest before me. Their evill fruits, the grapes of Gomorrah, & of gall, God laid up for to punish.

sealed up] not to be

be lost, or forgotten, or left unpunished; wherefore the Chaldee paraphraseth, laid up against the day of judgement in my treasures. According to this phrase Iob speaketh, My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and thou shalt open up my iniquity, Iob 14. 17. speaking of his sins which God left not unpunished: though the time & meanes of punishment is to man unknowne, as a sealed booke cannot be read, Esay 29. 11. in my treasures] or, among my treasures: meaning Gods secret wisdom and knowledge, when and how to punish them for it. So the Apostle speaketh of treasures of wisdom and knowledge, Coloss. 2. 3. and in Iob 38. 22, 24. the treasures (or treasuries) of snow and of haille are mentioned, which God reserveth against the time of trouble, against the day of battell and warre.

35 Vers. 35. To me vengeance] or, vengeance is mine, to punish Israel for their rebellions, and to punish their enemies for abusing them. Therefore the Apostle maketh this a generall doctrine, and teacheth us to commit our injuries unto God; Beloved, avenge not your selves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written, vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord, Rom. 12. 19. And by this he would deterre us from sinne, Heb. 10. 29. 30. in the time] or, at the time, to wit, which I have appointed, that is, in due time; or, as the Gr. translateth, in the time when their foot shall slide: meaning, then his vengeance should be seene. their foot shall slide] or, shall be removed; which the Chaldee expoundeth; they shall be carried captive out of their land. But it is more generall, and signifieth their fall into manifold afflictions, against which David prayeth, and comforteth himselfe in the mercy of God, Psalm. 17. 5. and 38. 16. 17. and 121. 3. and 94. 18. calamity] The originall word properly signifieth a fogge, or thick cloud, and is fitly applyed to the time of affliction and dismall day; which the Greeke translateth, day of perdition; and the Apostle calleth the day of judgement, the day of perdition of ungodly men, 2 Pet. 3. 7.

that shall come upon them] or, that are ready for them and for him, that is, for every of them. make haste] Heb. maketh haste: a word singular and masculine, joynd with the former word plurall and feminine, to intimate a particular hastening of every judgement in sore measure. This sentence the Apostle hath reference unto, when prophesying of false teachers, he saith, their judgement now of a long time longeth not, and their perdition slumbereth not, 2 Pet. 2. 1. 3.

36 Vers. 36. Judge his people] that is, punish the evil, and defend the good against the oppressors. So against such as forsake Christ Paul alleageth this sentence, The Lord will judge his people; and addeth, It is a fearefull thing to fall into the hands of the living God, Hebrewes 10. 30. 31. And for defence the Psalmist saith, Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an unmercifull nation, Psal. 43. 1. repent himselfe] change the course of his administration towards his people, as a man when hee repenteth changeth his way. This is spoken of God not properly, (for he cannot repent, 1 Sam. 15. 29.) but after the manner of men, as is noted on

Gen. 6. 6. For this repentance of God concerning his servants, Moses prayeth, in Psal. 90. 13. and God promiseth, if a nation turne from their evill, hee will repent him of the evill that hee thought to doe unto them, Ier. 18. 8. and performed it towards the Ninevites, Ion. 3. 10. and towards the Israelites, Amos 7. 2. 3. 6. And hereupon men are exhorted to turne unto the Lord, For he is gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and repenteth him of the evill, Joel 2. 13. the hand] of his people, that is, their strength; which the Greeke explaineth thus, for he seeth them feeble. So hand is for strength, or power; as, the hand (or power) of the Lord, Iob 5. 20. the hand of the dog, Psal. 32. 21.

and there is shew up] or, and nothing is shew up or left: or, and come to nothing (consumed) is he that is shew up, and that is left. And so it may be understood both of persons and of goods, that there is none shew up in the enemies hand, as captive or prisoner, none left untaken by the enemy; or, none shew up in houses, cities, towers, to escape the enemy; none left escaped from destruction. It meaneth an utter overthrow in their state and kingdome; as the overthrow of Ieroboams house is threatned in these termes, I will cut off from Ieroboam him that pisseth against the wall, him that is shew up and left in Israel, 1 King. 14. 10. The like is threatned to Abah, 1 King. 21. 21. And this compassion here promised, was in some sort shewed to Israel, in the dayes of Ieroboam, sonne of Iasah, as it is written, For the Lord saw the affliction of Israel, that it was very bitter, for there was not any shew up, nor any left, nor any helper for Israel, 2 King. 14. 26.

Vers. 37. And he shall say] that is, the Lord shall say, as the Greeke version explaineth it. God here upbraideth the idols which Israel followed, as being vaine, and unable to helpe them: whereby Israel also receiveth a sharpe rebuke, and checke of conscience for leaving the Lord, to follow such. It may also be referred to the gods of the heathens, over whom God thus triumphed, after he hath redeemed his people. But Ieremy useth the like speech against Israel, Where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? Let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble, &c. Ier. 2. 28.

Vers. 38. did eat the fat] that is, to whom they burned the fat of their sacrifices, which therefore are said to be eaten by those gods, as the sacrifices to the Lord, was called his bread, Lev. 2. 6. let him be] in Greeke, let them be: but this hath reference to the Rocke (the mighty God) forementioned, vers. 37. in whom they hoped for safety. So God said to Israel, Go and cry unto the gods which yee have chosen, let them save you in the time of your tribulation, Iudg. 10. 14. It is a sharpe reproofe, with an upbraiding of their folly.

Vers. 39. See now] in Greeke, See now, God having manifested the vanity of false gods, provoketh all to come unto him, who is himselfe alone eternall, powerfull, and gracious. Iohathan in his Thargum paraphraseth here thus; When the word of the Lord shall be revealed for to redeeme his people, hee will say to all peoples, See now, &c. I am he] in Greeke, I am: it is the more vehement by doubling the

the word I, as the like is found in Esay 43. 25. Hof. 5. 14. it meaneth also, I am the same, that is, eternall and unchangeable: so in Psalm. 102. 28. Thou art he, which the Apostle expoundeth, thou art the same, Heb. 1. 12. Jonathan aforesaid openeth it thus, I be that am, and have bene, and I be that shall be. This accordeth with Gods describing of himselfe in Rev. 1. 4. and 16. 5. And here the myserie of the Trinity is implied, as in Deut. 6. with me in Greek, besides me; and so in Esay he saith, besides me there is no God, Esay 45. 5. I doe kill none but I have power of death and life: So Arms in her Song saith, Ibriah killeth and maketh alive, he bringeth downe to the grave, and bringeth up, 1 Sam. 2. 6. Hereby Christ is knowne to be very God. For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and maketh them alive; even so the sonne maketh alive whom hee will, Ioh. 5. 21. Hee hath the keyes of hell and of death, Revel. 1. 18. Gods killing and wounding, implicth the hatred which he hath in justice against sinne and sinners: his reviving and healing, sheweth his love out of grace to his creatures, and mercy in respect of their misery. I beale so in Iob 5. 18. Hee maketh sore, and bindeth up; he woundeth, and his hands doe beale. And in Hof. 6. 1. He hath torne, and hee will beale us: he hath smitten, and hee will bind us up, Jonathan in his paraphrase saith, I have smitten the people of the house of Israel, and I will beale them in the latter dayes. that delivereth or, can deliver: so in Esay 43. 13. even before the day was I am he, and there is none that delivereth out of mine hand: I will worke, and who shall let it? It teacheth us the omnipotencie which God only hath.

40 Vers. 40. For I lift or, when I lift up my hand; which is a signe of swearing, as in Gen. 14. 22. Exod. 6. 8. Numb. 14. 30. So the Greeke here explaineth it, I will lift up my hand unto heaven, and sweare by my right hand, and say, &c. Though the lifting up, or stretching forth of the hand, is also for a signe, to make the hearers attentive, Esay 49. 22. Act. 26. 1. I live understand, as I live: these are the words of an oath; as in Ier. 4. 2. thou shalt sweare Iehovah liveth. And because God can sweare by no greater, hee sweareth by himselfe, Heb. 6. 13. So the Angell lifted up his hand to heaven, and sweareth by him that liveth for ever and ever, Revel. 10. 5. 6. And as an oath is for confirmation, and to shew the immutability of his counsell, Heb. 6. 16. 17. so here God confirmeth the former threatnings and promises by an oath; which Jonathan in his Thargum explaineth thus; As I live, so will I not breake mine oath for ever.

41 Vers. 41. my glittering sword Hebr. the lightning of my sword, that is, the bright glittering blade of my sword; which the Greeke translateth, If I wbet my sword like lightning. So in Gen. 3. 24. the flame of a sword, that is, a bright flaming sword; and in Hab. 3. 11. at the shining of the lightning of thy speare, that is, of thy glittering speare. This similitude sheweth Gods judgements to be swift, violent, powerfull, terrible, as in Zach. 9. 14. his arrow shall goe forth as the lightning. So in Ezek. 21. 10. his sword is fourbished that it may glitter. on judgement] that is, on weapons of judgment; the arrows after mentioned, v. 42. or, take hold of it (the sword) in judgement. Here judgement seemeth to be meant of rigour and severity, opposed unto mercie, Jam. 2. 13. Esay 34. 5.

42 Verse 42. drunk with blood this signifieth a great slaughter of the enemies, and a full satisfying of Gods justice upon them. Like this is the dipping (or embruing) of the foot in the blood of the enemies, Psal. 68. 23. shall devoure, or shall eat flesh; which the Chaldee expoundeth, shall kill among the peoples. So the Lords sword is said to devoure, in Jer. 12. 12. with the blood or from the blood. the slaine or the wounded; speaking singularly of one, but meaning every one, as the Greeke translateth, wounded ones. the captives Hebrew, the captivitie; which word is often used for a multitude of captives, or prisoners taken in war: as in Numbers 21. 1. Deuteronomie 21. 10. Judges 5. 12. So the Chaldee translateth, of them that are killed, and of captives. from the beginning or, from the head: which word is sometime used for the first beginning, Judges 7. 19. but commonly for the head, chief, and principall; and so the Greeke here translateth it, from the head; whereby the heads, captains, and chiefs of the enemies are meant, on whom God would take vengeance. Or, from the beginning, that is, from the first time that the enemies have oppressed Gods people, God will leave none of them unpunished. revenge of the enemy that is, revenges shall be executed upon the enemy, for all their wrongs that ever they did to Israel since the beginning.

43 Verse 43. Shout joyfully or sing: in Greeke, rejoyce. nations or Gentiles. with his people the Greeke addeth this word with, which the Apostle alloweth in Rom. 15. 10. So, he followeth not us, Mark 9. 38. is explained, he followeth not with us, Luke 9. 49. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Land yee peoples, the judgement of his people. It is an exhortation to the Gentiles, to sing praises unto God, for his mercie to them and to the Jews; as the Apostle saith, That the Gentiles might glorifie God for mercie; as it is written, For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy Name. And againe he saith, Rejoyce ye Gentiles with his people, Rom. 15. 9. 10. the blood of his servants in Gr. his sons. So in Rev. 19. 1, 2. much people in heaven say Alleluia, and glorifie God, for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his servants at her hand: meaning the blood that was shed, as in Psal. 79. 10.

make atonement and to be reconciled unto: in Greeke, will purge the land, to wit, from the sinne and uncleanness thereof; as the high Priest on Atonement day did make atonement for the holy place, because of the uncleanness of the finnes of Israel, and because of their transgressions, in all their finnes, Lev. 16. 16. So it is a prophesie of grace in Christ, who should make expiation for his Church and people; for him God fore-ordained to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, Rom. 3. 25. for his people] the Greeke translateth it, the land of his people: the Chaldee better, for his land and for his people, speaking according to the types of old; where where the land of Canaan was the inheritance, the people of Israel the heires, that was called, the Lords land, Hof. 9. 3. and they the Lords people.

44 Verf. 44. Moses came] the Greeke addeth, unto the people; and Jonathan in his Thargum addeth, from the tabernacle the house of doctrine. this song] in Greeke, this Law, as in v. 46. So Asaph called his song, a Law, Psalm. 78. 1. Hosheab] in Greeke, Iesus: elsewhere called after the Hebrew, Ioshua: see Numbers 13. 17. and Deuteronomie 31. 14. 19.

46 Verf. 46. set your heart] that is, your hearts; as, harden not your hearts, Psalm. 95. 8. is interpreted, your hearts, Hebr. 3. 8. in Greeke, attend with your heart. It meaneth a diligent consideration and application, which elsewhere God explaineth thus, Behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee, Ezek. 40. 4. and 44. 5.

47 Verf. 47. a vaine word] or, a vaine thing; that in doing thereof you should lose your labour; but in keeping it, there is great reward, Psalm. 19. 12. your life] so Paul saith, Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the Law, that the man which doth those things shall live by them, Rom. 10. 5. 6. where hee opposeth it to the righteousness of faith. And by life is meant eternall life, &c. Do this and thou shalt live, Luke 10. 25. -- 28.

48 Verf. 48. in that selfe same day] Hebr. in the body (or strength) of this day. See this phrase in Gen. 7. 13. and 17. 23.

49 Verf. 49. Nelo] the performance of this commandement, see in Deut. 34. 1. &c. See also Num. 27. 12.

50 Verf. 50. unto thy people] thy godly forefathers: in Greeke, thy people. See the Annotations on Gen. 25. 8. mount Hor] whereof see Numb. 20. 23. &c.

51 Verf. 51. trespassed] in Greeke, disobeyed my word. Of this trespass, see Numb. 20. 10. 11. 12. Here Moses at his death maketh a commemoration of his sinne, for an acknowledgement of Gods justice against him, and a warning to all people, not to disobey by his example. Meribah] or, contention of Cadesh: so the Greeke translateth it, contradiction.

52 Verf. 52. before thee] or, over against thee, that is, a farre off, for so this phrase often signifieth, as is noted on Numb. 3. 2. So that may be said here of Moses, which Paul speaketh of the godly fathers, These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seene them a far off, and were perswaded of them, and saluted them, &c. Hebr. 11. 13.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Moses blessing Israel before his death, sheweth the Majesty of God, and his love to the people, in giving them his Law, and guiding them thorow the wilderness.

6 The blessing of Reuben; 7 Of Judah; 8 Of Levi; 12 Of Benjamin; 13 Of Joseph; 18 Of Zabulon and Issachar; 20 Of Gad; 22 Of Dan; 23 Of Naphtali; 24 and of Aser. 26 The excellencie of God, and of Israel under his protection, who should dwell in a fruitfull land, and through his helpe subdue their enemies.

ANd this is the blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the sons of Israel, before his death. And he said, Jehovah came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; hee shined forth from mount Pharan, and hee came with ten thousands of Saints: from his right hand the fire of the Law for them. Yea, the lover of the peoples, all his Saints, are in thine hand, and they sate downe at thy feet, every one shall receive of thy words. Moses commanded us a Law, the inheritance of the Church of Jacob. And he was in Ieshurun a King, when the heads of the people gathered themselves together, the tribes of Israel.

Let Reuben live, and not die, and his men be a number.

And this (is the blessing) of Judah: and hee said, Heare, Jehovah, the voice of Judah, and unto his people bring thou him: his hands be enough for him, and an helpe from his distressers be thou.

And of Levi he said, Thy Thummim and thy Vrim, with the man thy gracious saint, whom thou temptedst in Massah, contendedst with him at the waters of Meribah. Who said of his father, and of his mother, I respect him not, & his brethren he acknowledgeth not, and his sonnes he knoweth not, for they observe thy saying, and keepe thy Covenant. They shall teach thy judgements unto Jakob, and thy Law unto Israel: they shall put incense in thy nostril, and the whole burnt-sacrifice upon thine Altar. Bless, O Jehovah, his power, and the worke of his hands favourably accept thou: smite thorow the loines of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not againe.

Of Benjamin he said, The beloved of Jehovah shall dwell in confident safety by him: he shall cover him all the day, and betweene his shoulders he shall dwell.

And of Joseph, he said, Blessed of Jehovah be his land: for the precious things of the heavens, for the dew, and for the deepe that coucheth beneath. And for the precious things

15 things, the revenues of the Sunne; and for the precious things the thrusting forth of the 16 Moones; And for the chief things of the ancient mountaines; and for the precious things of the everlasting hills. And for the precious things of the earth, and the plenty thereof; and the favourable acceptation of him that dwelt in the bramble-bush, let it come on the head of Joseph, and on the crowne
of the head of the separated among his bre-17 thren. His glorie (bee like) the firstling of his bullocke, and his hornes the hornes of an Unicorn: with them hee shall push the peoples together, to the ends of the land;
and they are the ten thousands of Ephraim,
and they are the thousands of Manasses.

18 And of Zabulon he said, Rejoyce Zabulon in thy going out, & Issachar in thy tents.
19 They shall call the peoples to the mountaine,
there they shall sacrifice the sacrifices of Justice, for they shall suck the abundance of the seas, and treasures hid in the sand.

20 And of Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Gad; as a courageous Lyon he dwelleth and teareth the arme with the crown of 21 the head. And he provided the first part for him, because there in a portion of the Lawgiver was he protected; and he came with the heads of the people; he did the justice of Jehovah, and his judgments with Israel.

22 And of Dan he said, Dan is a renting Lyons whelp, he shall leape from Bashan.

23 And of Naphtali he said, Naphtali satisfied with favourable acceptation, and full with the blessing of Jehovah, possesse thou
the Sea and the South.

24 And of Aser he said, Blessed with sons be Aser, let him be favourably accepted of his 25 brethren, and dipping his foot in oyle. Iron and brasse thy shooes, and as thy dayes thy strength.

26 There is none like God, Jeshurun, who rideth upon the heavens for thy helpe, and in 27 his excellency on the skies. The God of antiquity is thy mansion, & underneath are the armes of eternity, and he will thrust out the enemy from before thee, and will say de-28 stroy. And Israel shall dwell in confident safety alone, the fountaine of Jacob, upon a land of corne and new wine, also his heavens
29 shall drop downe dew. O happy art thou Israel! who is like thee O people? Saved by Jehovah the shield of thy helpe, and whose sword is thy excellency, and thine enemies shall falsly deny unto thee, and thou shalt tread upon their high places.

Annotations.

Here beginneth the 54. and last Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Genes 6. 9.

THe man of God] which the Caldee expoun-deth, the Prophet of the Lord. So Samuel is called a man of God, 1 Sam. 9. 6, 7. and in vers. 9.
he is also called a Seer, and this is added, he is now (called) a Prophet, was before time called a Seer.
So these three names are one: though a man of God is so named in respect of his divine calling to the ministry (wherefore the Minister of the New Testament is also called, a man of God, 1 Tim. 6. 11.
2 Tim. 3. 17.) a Seer is in respect of the Visions which they saw, Esay 1. 1. and a Prophet, for uttering the things seene and taught of God. See Gen. 20. 7. Exod. 7. 1.

Verf. 2. from Sinai] or, as the Greek translateth
it, unto Sinai: for the Hebrew Min, which usually signifieth From, is sometime put for unto, by the Interpretation of the Holy Ghost himselfe, as;
from Baale of Judah, 2 Samuel 6. 2. is by another Prophet explained to Balaah, 1 Chron. 13. 6. So the Deliverer shall come from (or out of) Zion, Rom.
11. 26. is the same that hee shall come unto Zion,
Esay 59. 20. Min bashamajim, from Heavens;
2 Chron. 6. 21. is El bashamajim, unto (or in) heaven, 1 Kings 8. 30. Thus Mishkedem is to the East, or Eastward, Gen. 13. 11. Misfshabon is Northward, 1 Sam. 14. 5. and sundry the like. Sinai is a mountaine in Arabia, Gal. 4. 25. where God gave his Law, Exod. 19. from (or out of) that mountaine, God came unto Israel, and (as the Chaldee inter-preteth) was revealed there unto them; and from thence came with his people to conduct them towards Canaan. Or came unto Sinai, and to his people there. And this is the first chiefe blessing unto Israel, Gods Law, Tabernacle, Statutes, and Judgements given them at Sinai: after which he called them to journey towards the land of promise, Deut. 2. 6, 7. rose up] as the Sunne ar-iseth; for of that rising the Hebrew word is properly used. The Chaldee translateth it, the bright-nesse of his glorie from Seir appeared unto us. So E-saias prophesying grace to the Church saith, The glory of Jehovah is risen (as the Sunne) upon thee.
And of the heavenly Jerusalem which Christ hath built, it is said, The Citie hath no need of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to shine in it; for the glory of God doth lighten it, and the Lambe is the light thereof, Revelat. 21. 23. from Seir] the mountaine of the Edomites, Deut. 2. 4, 5. As Israel compassed Edoms land, they were stung with fiery serpents for their murmuring: then God appoynted the Brazen serpent (a figure of Christ) to be set up to heale them, Numb. 21. 4, 9. And heere was a second degree of grace, whereby God shined unto them, as he doth unto us by his Gospell, after we have been under the Schoole-master of his Law, Rom. 7. 4, 25. Gal. 3. 23, 24, 26. unto them]

O o o o o

or,

or, unto him, meaning Israel; therefore the Chaldee expoundeth it, unto us. shined forth] or, shined bright and cleare, as the Sunne shineth in his strength. This word is used for the cleare manifestation of Gods power, in saving his people, or punishing their enemies, Psalm. 82. and 94. 1. and 50. 2. The Greeke here translateth, hee hastened from mount Pharan; the Chaldee, hee was revealed in his might upon mount Paran. Pharan] or, Paran, the name of a mount, and of the wilderness of the Ismaelites, Gen. 21. 21. thorow which Israel travelled, Num. 10. 12. Neere it, Moses by the spirit of God explained the law more clearly, and repeated this booke of Deuteron. Deut. 1. 1. &c. So the Prophet after speaketh, the Holy One (came) from mount Pharan Selah, Habak. 3. 3. Some of the Hebrewes understand these things otherwise thus, Hee rose up from Seir unto them, that is, to the sonnes of Esau, that they might receive the Law, but they would not. From thence hee went to the sonnes of Ismael, that they might receive it, but they would not. And then hee came unto Israel. R. Sol. Iarchi on Deut. 33. So Jonathan in his Thargum on this place, and R. Eliezer in Pirkei, chap. 41. But unto us it sheweth the third degree of Gods grace, who after we are come unto Christ by faith, doth sanctifie us by his spirit, informing vs in his truth and wayes, and so prepareth us to enter into his heavenly rest, as by Moses hee prepared Israel to enter into the land of Canaan, Rom. 8. 23, — 11. Gal. 3. 2, 14. and 4. 6. and 5. 16, 18. of Saints] Hebrew, of sanctitie; meaning, spirits of sanctitie, which Jonathan in his Thargum expoundeth, by Angels. So Stephen saith, that Israel received the Law by the disposition of Angels, Actes 7. 53. and Paul calleth the Law, the word spoken by Angels, Hebr. 2. 2. So wee by grace in Christ are come to ten thousands of Angels, Hebr. 12. 22. which are all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall bee heires of salvation, Hebr. 1. 14. Compare Psalm. 68. 18. Or by Saints wee may understand the Israelites, (as in v. 3.) with whom, or for whom God came from Sinai. from his right hand] to wit, went, or, at his right hand was. the fire of the Law] or, of the ordinance; Hebr. Esh dath (of which word Dath, the Greekes borrowed their word Tatto, to order, or ordaine the Legall fire, or the fiery Law) and it is so called, because the Lord spake those words out of the midst of the fire, Deut. 5. 22. and to shew the nature and effect of the law, which is like fire, Jer. 23. 29. The Greeke translateth it, Angels Angels with him: the Chaldee thus, His right hand wrote out of the midst of fire, the Law hee gave unto us. Answerable to this Legall fire is that fire of the law of the Spirit, which was given with cloven tongues like fire, Actes 2. 3, 4. The Hebrewes say by Tradition, that the Law appeared, written with blacke fire upon white fire, before the Lord. R. Moses Gerundens. and Sol. Iarchi on Deut. 33. which seemeth to be either mysticall or fabulous. Unto us the fire of the Law is the Spirit of God, whiles wee being baptized with the holy Spirit and with fire, Matth. 3. 11. are by the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Iesus, made free from the Law of sinne and death Romans 8. verse 2.

Verse 3. Yea the lover of the peoples] that is, yea (or certainly,) hee loveth, or, thou (O God) lovest the peoples, or protectest them. The Hebrew Choleb signifieth a loving embracing, or hiding, as in the bosome; and so implyeth Love and Protection. And the peoples are meant of the tribes of Israel, as in Judg. 5. 14. after the Benjamin, among thy peoples; and in Act. 4. 27. the peoples of Israel. The Greeke translateth, And he spared his people: the Chaldee, yea, hee loved them for tribes, that is, of his love chole and disposed them to be tribes. It may imply also the strangers converted unto God. And now in Christ there is neither Jew nor Greeke, neither bond nor free, for wee are all one, in him, Gal. 3. 28. all his Saints] that is, the Saints of Israel, as the Chaldee expoundeth all the Saints of the house of Israel. Or, the Saints of God, as in Psal. 34. 10. Fearre Jehovah ye his Saints. So his Saints may be used for thy Saints, as his Commandments, Dan. 9. 4. for thy commandments: see the notes on Deut. 5. 10. in thine hand] in thy power and custody, under thy guidance, care, and protection. Hand is often for power: so the Chaldee hree translateth, with power hee brought them out of Egypt: and in the hand, is under the guidance and direction, Numb. 4. 28, 33. so the Greeke here translateth, and all the sanctified ones are under thine hand. It noteth the safety of Gods people, as Christ saith of his sheepe, none shall plucke them out of mine hand, my Father which gave them me is greater then all, and none is able to plucke them out of my Fathers hand, Joh. 10. 28, 29. set downe] or, were set downe, were joynd: the Hebrew word Tucn here used, is not found elsewhere; but after the Arabick, it signifieth to sit downe; and the Greek word Tbakeo to sit, seemeth to be borrowed of it. And it hath reference here to the Israelites, abiding at the foot of mount Sinai, to receive the Law, Exod. 19. and to the manner of Disciples sitting at their Masters feet, to be taught; as Paul saith, he was brought up at the feet of Gamaliel, Actes 22. 3. The Greeke translateth, and they are under thee: the Chaldee, and they were led under thy cloud; respecting the guidance of Israel thorow the wilderness, Numb. 10. 11, 12. Other Hebrewes refer it to the peoples comming into the Sanctuary, to learn Gods commandments, for that is called the foot stoole of his feet, (Psal. 99. 5. Ezek. 43. 7.) Chazkuni on Deut. 33. every one shall receive] or, he (speaking of the people) shall receive: which the Greeke translateth, he received: the Chaldee, thy received.

Verf. 4. Moses commanded us] these are the words of the people, therefore Jonathan in his Thargum prefixeth, The sonnes of Israel said, Moses commanded, &c. The Law was first and properly of God; but being given by Moses ministry, it is called The Law of the Lord by the hand of Moses, 2 Chronicles 34. 14. and thereupon the Law of Moses, 2 King. 14. 6. Luke. 24. 44. John 7. 23. 1 Cor. 9. 9. And the particular things commanded of God in the Law, re said to bee commanded by Moses, Marke 1. 44. and 10. 3. The inheritance] or, possession, to have and enjoy it to them and their posterity, as a thing of worth and excellency. Hereupon David saith, Thy Testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever, for they are the joy of my heart, Psal. 119. 111. So men are said to inherit the promise, Hebr. 6. 12. to inherit the blessing, Heb. 12. 17. 1 Peter 3. 9. to inherit eternall life and salvation, Math. 19. 29. Hebr. 1. 14. the Church] or, Congregation; in Greeke, the Synagogue of Iakob, that is, of the posterity of Iakob, the twelve tribes; as Jonathan in his Thargum saith, The Church of the tribes of Iakob.

5 Verſ. 5. he was] Moses was in Iesurun a King; which the Greeke translateth, a Prince. So the Hebrews (as Chazkuni on this place) say, Moses was the King; and Maimony in Misn. in Beth habchirah, chap. 6. f. 11. Moses our master was a King. So Princes are called Kings, in Psal. 105. 30. Ier. 19. 3. Or it may be understood of God himselfe, that he was their King, as 1 Sam. 12. 12. Iesurun] in the Chaldee, Israel; see Deut. 32. 15. the heads] that is, the chiefe, the Governours, together with the people, as was at the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 7, 17.

6 Verſ. 6. Let Reuben live] the Chaldee addeth, to life eternall. This blessing may respect Reubens sinne with his fathers Concubine, for which hee lost his birth-right of his father, Gen. 35. 22. and 49. 4. and the sinne of the Princes of that tribe, which rebelled with Korah, Num. 16. 1, &c. But mercy is here promised in Christ, that he should live before God among his brethren. So he went armed before them against the Canaanites, Ios. 4. 12. and not die] the Chaldee expounds it, and let him not dye the second death; (by which name the Scripture calleth eternall damnation, Revel. 20. 6, 14.) So Jonathan in his Thargum paraphraſeth, Let Reuben live in this world, and not dye with the death wherewith the wicked shall die in the world that is to come. It is very usuall in the Scripture, to set downe things of importance and earnestnesse, by affirmation of the one part, and deniall of the other; as in Esay 38. 1. Thou shalt dye and not live, Num. 4. 14. that they may live and not dye, Psal. 118. 17. I shall not dye but live, Gen. 43. 8. that we may live and not die, Jerem. 20. 14. Cursed bee the day, &c. Let not that day bee blessed, 1 John 2. 27. It is true, and is not lying, 1 Iohn 2. 4. hee is a lyar, and the truth is not in him, Iohn 1. 20. hee confessed and denied not, 1 Samuel 1. 11. and remember mee, and not forget thine handmaid, Deut. 9. 7. Remember, forget not, Deuteron. 32. 7. O people foolish, and not wise; and many the like. a number] by a number may be understood few: as in Deut. 4. 27. Gen. 34. 30. men of number is a few men, soone numbered; and in Esay 10. 19. a number meaneth few; and then the former deniall not, is againe to be repeated to this sense, and his men be not few in number. Examples of such understanding the word not are shewed in the Annotations upon Numbers 4. 15. O therwise, by a number is meant a great number; as the Greeke translateth, many in number. Onkelos the Chaldee paraphraſt expoundeth it, and let his finnes receive their Inheritance by their number: and Jonathan paraphraſeth, Let his young men be numbered with the young men of his brethren of the house of Israel.

Verſ. 7. the blessing of Iudab] the word blessing is to be understood from v. 1. And Jonathan in his Thargum supplieth it. So doth the Scripture often, as in 1 King. 22. 24. which way went the spirit? the word way is supplied from 2 Chron. 18. 23. and sundry the like, as is noted on Gen. 4. 20. and 24. 33. Here Iudab the fourth brother is in the second place, for the honor of the kingdome which was to be in this tribe, Gen. 4. 9. and he marched formost of all the tribes, Num. 10. 14. so he is set before Levi here; (as hee is also by his precious stone in Rev. 21. 19.) Simeon his name is quite omitted in this blessing, for by his sinne of old he lost his honour, and was to be scattered in Israel, Gen. 49. 5, 7. and his posterity for their sin in the wilderness were greatly diminished, that being at the first muster fifty nine thousand and three hundred men, Num. 1. he was at the latter muster but twenty two thousand & two hundred, Num. 26. 14. Neither were there any Judges of his tribe, as God raised up of sundry others, Iudg. 2. 16, &c. Yet forasmuch as Simeons Inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the formes of Iudab, Ios. 19. 1. and he went with his brother Iudab to fight against the Canaanites, Iudg. 1. 3. it is thought that his blessing was implied in Iudabs; and so Jonathan in his Thargum coupleth Simeon with Iudab in this place. Howbeit the Greeke in many Copies joyne Simeon with Reuben in the former blessing thus; Let Reuben live and not die; and let Simeon be many in number. the voice] when he prayeth, as the Chaldee translateth; Receive, O Lord, the Prayer of Iudab, when hee goeth forth to warre. This blessing is to be compared with Iakob, who likeneth Iudab to a Lyons whelp, gone up from the prey, &c. Gen. 49. 9. and it had accomplishment in David, who was of Iudab, and a fighter of the Lords Battels; in which he often prayed, as his Psalmes testifie. Likewise in Abijah and the Iewes against Israel, 2 Chron. 13. 14, 18. in Aſa, warring against the Ethiopians, 2 Chron. 14. 11, 12, 13. In Iehosaphat fighting against the Ammonites, 2 Chron. 20. 5, 6, 18. in Ezekias against the Assyrians, 2 Chron. 32. 20, 21, 22. and others. But chiefly in Christ, the Lion of the tribe of Iudab, Revel. 5. 5. him God did heare alwayes, Ioh. 11. 42. bring thou him] the Chaldee addeth, in peace; and Thargum Jonathan addeth, from the battell in peace. This had accomplishment, as otherwise, so in Dauids returne to his people and kingdome, 2 Sam. 19. 11, 15. and Christs returne unto Israel, whereof see Rom. 11. 26, 31. be enough for him] when hee fighteth, as God taught Dauids hands to warre, and his fingers to fight, Psalme 144. 1. and girded him with strength to battell, 2 Sam. 21. 35, 40. The Greeke translateth, judge for him; the Chald. execute vengeance for him on them that hate him. So in Genes. 49.8. thine hand (Judah) shall bee in the necke of thine enemies. be thou] for by his owne strengib no man shall prevaile, 1 Sam. 2. 9. Therefore David often acknowledged God to be his helper, Psal. 28.7. and 40.17. and 54.4. and 63.7. and 118.7. &c.

8 Vers. 8. of Levi] or, unto Levi, that is, the tribe or posterity of Levi: as in Thargum Jonathan it is said, And Moses the Prophet blessed the tribe of Levi, and said. thy Thummim and thy Urim] by interpretation, thy perfectiōs and thy Lights: these were mysteries put into the high Priests breast-plate; whereof see the Annotations on Exo. 28. 30. so they signifie here the graces & office of the Priesthood, which was committed to Aaron and his seed, till Christ came, who had the Priesthood for ever, after a more excellent order, Heb. 6. 20. And the speech here may be directed unto God, who gave these mysteries to the Priest: and so the Chald. explaineth it, Thummim and Urim thou didst put upon the man that was found holy before thee: and Sol. Jarchi saith, He speaketh as to the Majestie of God. Or it may be spoken to the tribe of Levi, who had the Urim and Thummim among them, but appropriate to one man onely, who was the high Priest, a figure of Christ. with the man] understand, be with the man, or, to the man, that is, they belong to him, with him they are, and so let them remaine. thy gracious saint] thy mercifull, pious, or holy one, or, of thy holy one: which title is given to God himselfe, (Jer. 3. 12.) to Christ, (Psal. 16. 10. with Actes 13. 35, 36, 37.) and to all godly men (Psal. 149. 5.) And here referring it to Aaron, or to Christ, the man thy holy one, may meane one thing, thy holy man, (as a man a Prince, in Exod. 2. 14.) or, if we reade it, the man of thine holy one, it is meant the man of God: and in Psal. 106. 16. Aaron is called the Saint of the L O R D.

temptedst] or triedst. This word is sometime spoken of God, as he tempted Abraham, Genes. 22. 1. and the Israelites in the wildernesse, Deut. 8. 2, 15, 16. Sometime of men who are said to have tempted God and Christ, Exodus 17. 2. 1 Corin. 10. 9. in Massah] or, in the temptation; a place so called because there Israel tempted God, Exod. 17. 7. or, with temptation, and so it is no proper name contendedst] or, strivedst, pleadedst, this also is sometime spoken of God, whose contending with men, is the blaming and punishing of them, Esay 49. 25. Joh. 10. 2. Jer. 2. 9. sometime of mens contending, as Israel did with the Lord at the waters of Meribah (or of Contention) Numb. 20. 13. By reason of this diverse use of these words, the understanding of this blessing is also divers, thus; Thy Thummim and thy Urim (O God) be with the man thy gracious Saint, (Aaron and his seed) whom thou temptedst with temptation; contendedst with him (for his sinne) at the waters of Meribah, Numb. 20. 12, 13. Or, thy Thummim and thy Urim (O Levi) be with (Aaron and his seed) the man of thy gracious (God) whom thou (with the other Israelites) temptedst in Massah, &c. Exod. 17. 2. Numb. 20. Or thus, Thy Thummim and thy Urim (O Levi) is with (or belongs unto) the man thy gracious Saint (Christ Jesus) whom thou temptedst in Massah, &c. 1 Corin. 10. 9. In this last sense, the weaknesse of the Leviticall Priesthood is implied, which kept not Urim and Thummim, but lost them at the captivity of Babylon, Ezra 2. 63. and it is not knowne that they ever had them more, untill by Christ (our High Priest after the order of Melchisedek) they were restored by the Light and Truth of the Gospel. The Chaldee interpreteth it in Aarons or Levies praise, Thummim and Urim thou didst put upon the man (or clothedst with them the man) that was found holy before thee, whom thou temptedst with temptation, and he was perfect; thou provedst him at the waters of contention, and he was found faithfull. This may seeme not well to accord with the history in Num. 20. touching Aarons person: yet the Hebrewes (as Sol. Jarchi on this place) say of the Levites, that they murmured not with the other murmurers. And of Levi God saith by his Prophet, My covenant was with him, life and peace, and I gave them to him for the feare wherewith he feared mee, &c. Malac. 2. 5. And againe, They kept his Testimonies and the Ordinance that he gave them, Psal. 99. 7. The Greeke translateth, And of Levi he said, Give yee Levi his Manifest-ones and his Truth, (that is, his Urim and his Thummim) to the holy man whom they tempted in temptation, they reviled him at the water of Contradiction. This interpretation may well be applied unto Christ also, as before is shewed.

Vers. 9. who saith] or, who said. of his] or, unto his father, &c. I respect him not] I see not, or, looke not upon him. The Greeke translateth, That saith to his Father and to his Mother, I have not seene (or, I respect not) thee. This is meant either of the Priests continuall duty, who by the Law, if his father, mother, brother, or childe did die, he might not mourne for them, but carry himself as if he did not respect, know, or care for them; as is said of the High Priest, that was anointed and clothed with the ornaments, and had Urim and Thummim upon his heart; for his father, or for his mother he shall not be defiled, neither shall hee goe out of the Sanctuary, &c. Levit. 21. 11, 12. Neither might Aaron mourne for his sonnes, or Eleazar and Ishamar for their brethren Nadab and Abihu that were slaine, neither might they goe out from the doore of the Tabernacle, on paine of death, Levit. 10. 2, 7. For God would have them more to regard their function, and duty in his service, then any naturall affection whatsoever. And herein Christ was figured, (unto whom this blessing chiefly belongeth) who when hee was told, that his mother and his brethren stood without to speake with him, hee answered, Who is my Mother? and who are my brethren? &c. whoever shall doe the will of my Father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother, Matth. 12. 46, 50. This may also have reference to the Levites fact, who being commanded of Moses, killed every man his brother, friend, neigh-

neighbour, and some, that had sinned in making and worshipping the golden Calfe, and so filled their band, or consecrated themselves unto the LORD, that hee might give upon them a blessing, Exod. 32. 26, -- 29.

acknowledgeth not] or, acknowledged not: the first respecteth the Law, Levit. 21. the other their fact, Exod. 32. To this latter the Chaldee referreth it, translating thus, Who had no compassion on his father, or on his mother, when they were guilty of judgement; and accepted not the sacrifices (or persons) of his brother, or of his sonne.

his sonnes] or, his sonne, that is, any of his sonnes, or children: see the notes on Deut. 2. 33.

knoweth not] or, knew not. Here knowledge is used for care or regard, as in Job 9. 21. knowing is opposed to disposing; and in 1 Thess. 5. 12, know them which labour among you, that is, regard them: and in Prov. 12. 10. a righteous man knoweth (that is, regardeth, or hath care of) the life of his beast, for they observe] that is, by Law are bound to observe, Levit. 21. or, they have observed in their practise, Exod. 32. The Greeke translateth it singularly, He hath observed thine oracles, and kept thy covenant.

10 Ver. 10. They shall teach] or, Let them teach. As in v. 8. hee mentioned their gifts and calling, in v. 9. their sanctification; so here he teacheth their administration in the Word, Praier, and other ministeriall duties. For it is said, They shall teach my people (the difference) betwene the holy and prophane, and cause them to discern betwene the uncleane and the cleane; and in controversie they shall stand in judgement, and they shall judge it according to my judgments &c. Ezek. 44. 23, 24. Compare also Levit. 10. 11. Deut. 17. 9, 10, 11. and 24. 8. and the commendation which God giveth of Levi, in Mal. 2. 6, 7. The Law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with mee in peace and equity, and did turne many away from iniquity. For the Priests lips should keepe knowledge, and they should seeke the Law at his mouth, for he is the Angell of the LORD of Hosts. unto Iakob] by Iakob and Israel, are meant, all the posterity of Iakob, and the weak with the strong: for the Church in respect of her infirmity is called Iakob, Amos 7. 2, 5, 8. and for her valour by faith is surnamed Israel: see the Annotations on Gen. 32. 28. Thus Christ commanded Peter to feed both his Lambes and his Sheepe, Ioh. 21. 15, 16.

incense] the sweet perfume which the Priests burnt daily upon the golden Altar; a figure of Christs mediation with the praier of the Saints, Revel. 8. 3, 4. See the notes on Exod. 30. This was the peculiar work of the Priests, wherefore it is written, It pertaineth not unto thee Vzziah, to burne incense unto the Lord, but to the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense, 2 Chron. 26. 18. in thy nostrill] or nose, that is, before thee; or, as the Greeke translateth, in thine anger: for the Hebrew Aph signifieth both Nose and Anger: and both agree well with the Priests worke; for when God in anger sent a plague among the people, Aaron put incense in his censor, and made attonement for the people, so the plague was staid, Num.

16. 46, 47, 48. the whole burnt-offering] Hebr. the Calil; whereof see Lev. 6. 22, 23. the Greeke here translateth it the continuall (oblation.) Hereby all other sacrifices are meant, which the Priests offered on the Lords altar, Levit. 1. and 2. and 3. wherein the worke of Christ, offering himselfe for his Church, was figured.

Ver. 11. his power] so the Greeke translateth, his strength; By power, is meant sometime an army of men, as Ezek. 37. 10. So here the first praier is for a blessing upon the persons which administered, that they might be increased and strengthened in number and in knowledge. Wherefore the company of Levites is called an host or armie, Num. 4. 3, &c. In this sense Maimony (in treat. of the Release and Iubile, chap. 13. sect. 12.) expoundeth it, saying, The Levites are separated from the waies of the world, they wage not warre like the other Israelites, neither have they inheritance, &c. but they are the power (or armie) of God, as it is written, Bless Lord his power. Sometime by power, riches and substance is meant, as in Deut. 8. 18. and so the Chaldee expoundeth it here. For whereas Levi had no inheritance among the tribes, but had the Lord, and his first-fruits, tithes, and offerings for their inheritance and livelihood, Num. 18. 20, 21. &c. Moses praileth for a blessing on this means of theirs. worke of his hands] all his administration, in doctrine, burning incense, sacrificing, &c. Compare Ezek. 43. 27. that rise against him] as Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, that rose up against Moses and Aaron, were all destroyed with their assistants, Num. 16.

Ver. 12. Of Benjamin] or, Unto Benjamin, who is blessed here before the other Tribes, and before his elder brother Joseph, because the lot of his inheritance was betwene the sonnes of Judah and the sonnes of Joseph; and Ierusalem (where the Levites after administered in the Temple) belonged to Benjamin, Isa. 18. 11, 28. And in the heavenly Jerusalem (the Church of Christ) the first foundation is a Iasper, which was Benjamins stone, Rev. 21. 19. Exod. 28. 20. And when the other Tribes fell away from the Kingdome of Judah, and Priesthood of Levi, Benjamin continued with them in the truth, 2 Chron. 11. 1, 3. 12, 13. Beloved] meaning the tribe of Benjamin, who as their father was beloved of Iakob, Gen. 44. 20, 22. 29, 30. so his posterity should be beloved of the Lord.

by him] by the Lord, who would tender this little tribe, as Iakob tendered Benjamin, whom he kept at home with him, Gen. 42. 4. So Benjamins posterity dwelt in Ierusalem and the coasts therabout, by the Temple of God. he shall cover him] or let him, meaning God, cover him: so the Greeke translateth, God overshadoweth him. The word meaneth a covering or protection from evil, as in Esay 4. 6. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he shall be a shield over him. all the day] or, every day; in Greeke, all daies, that is, continually and for ever. his shoulders] that is, Benjamin; and by shoulders are meant the coasts of his land, as Numb. 34. 11. the shoulder of the sea of Chinnereth is the side or coast thereof. So this is a prophesie, that the temple (wherein God dwelt amongst his people) should be builded in Benjamins lot, and in the head or chiefe citie, which was Ierusalem.

he shall] that is, God shall dwell: so the Chaldee translateth, and on his land the divine Majesty shall dwell. And when God had chosen mount Sion for his habitation, he said, This is my rest for ever, here will I dwell, Psal. 132. 14.

13 Ver. 13. of Ioseph] or, unto Ioseph. Hee is next blessed, because the first birth-right was derived unto him, 1 Chron. 5. 2. And his posterity were many and great in Israel, Ios. 17. 14. — 18.

his land] Iosephs inheritance in Canaan. And as the Land which the Lord curseth, yeeldeth not fruit, or bringeth forth thornes and briars, Gen. 4. 11, 12, and 3. 17, 18. so the land which hee blesteth, bringeth forth much and good increase, Psal. 65. 10. — 14. The Hebrewes say, There was not of all the inheritance of the tribes, a land so full of all good things as Iosephs was. Sol. Iarchi on Deut. 33.

for the precious things] or, with dainty fruits. Of this word, see the Annotations on Gen. 24. 53.

of the heavens] which God by the influences and moisture of the heaven and aire causeth the land to bring forth. And these were figures of spirituall blessings in heavenly things by Christ, whereby the barren nature of man is made fruitfull.

for the dew] or, by the dew, and raine which maketh the earth to fructifie. So Isaac blessing Iakob, said, God give thee of the dew of the heavens, Gen. 27. 28. On the contrary, David said for a curse, ye mountaines of Gilboa, let there be no dew, neither let there be raine upon you, 2 Sam. 1. 21.

that cometh beneath] or, that lieth under; whence waters spring out of the earth: so the Greeke translateth, of the deepes of the fountaines beneath. Likewise the Chaldee, for the welling fountaines and deepes that proceed from the deepe places of the earth beneath. See Gen. 7. 11. and Deut. 8. 7. This is another meane of fruitfulness, as in Ezek. 31.

4. The waters made him great, the deepe set him upon high, with her rivers running about his plants. And with this blessing Iakob blessed Ioseph, in Gen. 49. 25. but Moses here enlargeth it.

14 Ver. 14. the revenues] that is, the fruits which by the warmth of the Sunne are brought forth. It is said by the Hebrewes, that Iosephs land lay open to the Sunne, which made the fruits sweet. Sol. Iarchi on Deuter. 33.

the thrusting forth of the Moones] that is, fruits which every Moone thrusteth forth, or causeth to grow every moneth: for all fruits grew not at once; in one moneth they gathered summer fruits, in another Olives, in the third Dates, saith Chazkuni; and Sol. Iarchi addeth, There are some fruits which the Moone ripeneth, as Cucumbers, and Gourds. As the Sunne by warmth, so the Moone by moisture maketh the earth fruitfull.

15 Ver. 15. chiefe things] Hebr. the head, that is, principall; the Greeke translateth it, the top of the mountaines. There fruits are first ripe. ancient mountns] Hebr. mountaines of antiquity, or, of priority, which were from the beginning: so after, hills of eternitie, that is, everlasting hills; which are so called, because they are unmoveable & lasting, have beene from the beginning, & shall continue to the end of the world; or because of their continuall fruitfulness. So in Habak. 3. 6. Compare this with Iakobs blessing, Gen. 49. 26. Iosephs heritage in Canaan had many fertile mountaines and hills often mentioned, as Mount Ephraim, Iudg. 17. 1. the mountaines of Samaria, Amos 3. 9. and 4. 1. and 6. 1.

Ver. 16. the plenty thereof] all creatures that fill the same, Psal. 24. 1.

the favourable acceptation] or, the good will, favour. The Greeke translateth, and the things acceptable unto him that appeared in the Bramble-bush: The Chaldee thus, and the good will of him whose dwelling is in heaven, and unto Moses hee appeared in the Bramble-bush.

of him that dwelt] or, of my dweller, that is, of my God that dwelt in the bramble, that is, God which appeared unto Moses there, Exod. 3. 2. where the Angel Christ appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bramble-bush, which burned, but was not consumed: a figure of Christs presence with his people in afflictions, that they perish not in them.

let it] that is, let this blessing come, or, it shall come; the Greeke saith, let them come; the Chaldee, let all these things come: and the originall word come, implieth an abundant and speedy coming. Compare Gen. 49. 26. from whence Moses taketh this blessing.

the crowne of the head] whereby is meant an open, apparant, and plentiful powring out of these blessings, as the like phrase is used also in curses, Psal. 7. 17.

the separated among his brethren] or, the Nazarite of his brethren, meaning Ioseph, who was separated and exempted to bee a choise and chiefe man among his brethren: as the Greeke translateth it, the honoured (or glorified) among his brethren: see the notes on Genesis 49. 26. So Chazkuni here explaineth it, Ioseph that was Prince of all his brethren.

Ver. 17. His glorie] or, Hee hath glory (or beauty, comeliness) like his first-borne bullocke. The Chaldee expounds it, The chiefe of his sonnes, his glory, &c. And Chazkuni applieth it to Josua, The first King which the holy blessed (God) chose him of Iosephs seed, was Josua, &c. and a King is likened to a bullocke, which is king of beasts.

bornes] which signifie strength, and glory, and kingdom, Psalm. 75. 5. 11. and 112. 9. and 89. 18. 25. Luke 1. 69. whereupon bornes are used to denote Kings, Dan. 8. Revel. 17.

of an Vnicorne] that is, of Vnicornes, the singular put for the plurall: it is a beast which will not be tamed, Iob. 39. 9. 10, 11. See the notes on Numb. 23. 22.

push] in Chaldee, kill. So in Psal. 44. 6.

ends of the land] or, of the earth, to wit, the land of Canaan, for Josua with his hornes & armies conquered al that land. and they] the bornes forementioned. So Chazkuni on this place saith, the bornes are the ten thousand of Ephraim, &c. And here hee giveth to Ephraim the younger, ten thousands, & to Manasseh the elder but thousands, according to Iakobs prophesie. that that Ephraim should be greatest, Gen. 48. 19. and so was his increase greater than his brothers, in Numb. 1. 33. 35. though in the last mustering of them, and now when Moses blessed them, the men of Manasse were many more than of Ephraim, Numb. 26. 34. 37. See the notes on Gen. 48. 19. The ten thousands of Ephraim, are referred to Joshua and his men that conquered Canaan; the thousands of Manasse, to Gedeon and his men, (Judg. 7.) by Sol. Iarchi, on Deut. 33.

18 Vers. 18. of Zabulon] or, to Zabulon; and with him hee joyneth Issachar his brother, (both sons of Lea) as partner of his blessing. So these two joyned in one, and the foure next (the sonnes of the handmaids;) are set and blessed together next after Joseph And it is a tradition of the Hebrewes, that these five, Zabulon, Gad, Dan, Naphtali and Aser, were those five mentioned in Genesis 47. 2. when Joseph tooke of his brethren five men, and presented them before Pharaoh. Iol. Iarchi on Deut. 33. and Thargum Jonathan on Deut. 47. 2.

Rejoyce Zabulon] that is, God so blesse thee, as thou maist have cause to rejoyce in thy prosperity. thy going out] to trade in merchandise by shipping; for Zabulon, by Iakob's blessing, was to dwell at the haven of the Sea, &c. Gen. 49. 13. so here Moses blesseth them with good successe in his trafficke, or going out to warres, as Genes. 14. 8. 2 Sam. 11. 1. & so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, in thy going out to warre against thine enemies. And in Judg. 5. 18. Zabulon is commended for jeopardizing their lives unto the death, in the high places of the field.

and Issachar] to wit, rejoyce thou also. Issachar was elder brother to Zabulon, Gen. 30. 18. 20. yet Iakob blessed Zabulon first, Gen. 49. 13. 14. and so doth Moses here; and God in parting their inheritance preferreth Zabulon, giving him the third lot, and Issachar the fourth, Ios. 19. 10. 17. in thy tents] that is, in thy dwelling at rest, or tarrying at home; for so the remaining in tents is opposed unto going forth to warres, or trafficke, or hunting abroad, Ios. 22. 4. Judg. 7. 8. and 5. 24. Gen. 25. 27. And tent is often used for ones home, house or citie, as, the tents of Iakob, Mal. 2. 12. where the Chaldee translateth, the cities of Iakob: so these tents of Issachar, meane his quiet life at home, differing from Zabulons going abroad to trade. Chazkuni (on this place) noteth, that Issachars land was good to sow, and hee sate in tents keepe his fields; and Moses prayeth that he might prosper and rejoyce in his fields. And so Iakob said unto him, (in Gen. 49. 14.) couching betwene two bounds; betwene the limits, to keepe his fields. The Chaldee translateth, and Issachar in thy going to appoint the times of the solemne feasts in Israel: having reference to that which is written in 1 Chron. 12. 32. of the sonnes of Issachar that had understanding for the times, to know what Israel ought to doe, &c. which some of the Hebrewes understand of the times and seasons of the year, new moones, and feasts. So Sol. Iarchi here expoundeth it, and Issachar prosper in thy sitting in tents, for the Law, sitting and making intercalation of the yeares, and appointing the new moones; as it is said (in 1 Chron. 12. 32.)

And of the sonnes of Issachar, that knew understanding for the times, &c. the heads of them were two hundred, they were heads of the Counsell, imployed hereabouts, &c.

19 Vers. 19. They shall call] or, let them call, and so shew their thankfulnesse to God, by inviting others to Gods house, & shewing them a good example, by their own frequenting the Lords mountaine. the mountaine] mount Sion, where Moses by the Spirit, foresaw Gods Temple should be builded. The Chaldee paraphraeth, They shall gather the tribes of Israel to the mountaine of the house of the Sanctuary. Though by peoples the Gentiles also may be implied, whom they having occasion to trade with, should provoke to true religion, as in Esay 2. 3. All nations shall flow unto it, and many people shall goe and say, Come ye, and let us goe up to the mountaine of the house of the Lord, &c.

of justice] that is, just, righteous and acceptable sacrifices, offered in faith, according to Gods Law: as the way of justice, is a iust & righteous way, Matt. 21. 32. So David exhorteth, Sacrifice yet the sacrifices of justice, and trust unto Iehovah, Psal. 4. 6.

the abundance] in Greeke, the riches of the Sea; which the Chaldee expoundeth, they shall eat the riches of the peoples: taking sea figuratively for peoples, as is often in the Prophets. So in Esay 60. 5. 16. The abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, &c. and thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles.

treasures hid in the sand] or, hidden treasures of the sand. The Greeke translateth, the merchandise of the nations, that dwell by the sea coast.

20 Vers. 20. enlarge Gad] this may be understood of Gods inheritance, which the blessed God would enlarge, as hee promised Israel, I will enlarge thy border, Exod. 34. 24. Or understood of his person, & then his enlarging is his deliverance out of distresse, as in Psal. 4. 2. thou hast enlarged mee, when I was in distresse. So it hath reference to Gods troubles, prophesied in Gen. 49. 19. see the Annotations there; and the historie of Gods enlargement by Iephthah, in Judg. 11. a courageous Lyon] see this word in Gen. 49. 9. There were of the Gadites in Davids time mighty warriors, whose faces were like the faces of Lyons, and were as swift as the Roes upon the mountaines, 1 Chr. 12. 8.

the arme] this noteth strength, as the crowne of the head, principality; meaning that none should bee so strong or excellent, but Gad should overcome them. The Greeke translateth, he shall breake the arme and the Ruler: the Chaldee, hee shall kill, uers with kings. This may have reference both to his warres in subduing the Canaanites, going armed before his brethren, Ios. 1. 12. 13, 14. and to that famous victory which he got over the Hagarims, 1 Chron. 5. 18. 19. 21, 22. as also to the courageous acts of Iebus, 1 King 9. and 10. chapters.

21 Vers. 21. be provided the first part for him] or, as the Greeke translateth, bee sate his first-fruits: or, bee provided in the beginning (at the first) for himselfe. Gad, with Reuben, saw the Land of Iazer and Gilead, that it was a place for cattell; and the sonnes of Gad and of Reuben asked of Moses and of the Princes, that the land might be given them for

for a possession Numb. 32. 1. -- 5. It may also be understood of the Lord, that he provided this first portion for Gad; or, that Gad himself saw, that is, enjoyed (as the Chaldee expoundeth it, received) his first part. Sol. Jarchi openeth it thus, He saw (or provided) to receive his portion in the land of Sihon and Og, which was the first-fruits (or beginning) of subduing the land.

in a portion of the Law-giver] the portion which God by Moses the Law-giver gave unto Gad, Numb. 32. 33.

protected] or, bidden, covered, sealed: there in the fenced Cities they left their wives and children under Gods protection, whiles they went to warre before their brethren, Num. 32. 26, 34, 35. &c. Jos. 1. 14.

he came] that is, Gad came. with the beads] that is, the Princes and Captaines of the people, with whom Gad went to warre, Jos. 1. 14.

and so it is a prophesie of a thing to come, as already done. Or, he came to the beads, to the Princes, when he desired to have that land given him, Num. 32. 2. But the former seemeth fittest; and so Sol. Jarchi explaineth it, They went armed before them when they conquered the land. justice] that which was just and right in the Lords eyes, and his judgements upon the Canaanites in destroying them: so Iesus commendeth their obedience, Jos. 22. 1, 2, 3. It may also have reference to other judgements, as those executed by Iehu, 2 King. 9. and 10. and by Elias the Prophet upon Baals Priests, 1 Kings 18.

22 Verse 22. Lions whelp] in Chaldee, strong as a Lions whelp. In Gen. 49. 17. Iakob likened Dan to a Serpent, for his subtil and secret undermining of his enemies: Moses here likeneth him to a Lion, which signified his strength and prowesse, shewed when this tribe fought against Issachar, and smote it with the edge of the sword, Jos. 19. 47. Judges 18. 27, 29. he shall leape] or, that leape; referring it to the Lion leaping from mount Basan, where Lions kept: for Basan was not Dans possession, but Manasschs, Deut. 3. 13. Numb. 32. 33. Jos. 13. 7, 8, 11. Chazkuni here saith, because Basan was a place of Lions and wilde beasts, he liketh him to a Lion. The Chaldee expoundeth it, his land shall be watered with the rivers that run from Basan.

23 Vers. 23. Naphtali] in Greeke, Nephthaleim. Hee was Dans brother, both of them borne of Bilhah Rachels handmaid; but Gad and Aser were of Zilpha, Leahs maid. Moses keepeth not Iakobs order (Gen. 49.) in blessing the tribes. satisfied with favourable acceptation] in Greeke, the satiety (or abundance) of acceptable things: hee meaneth, that the tribe of Naphtali should have in their land many good and acceptable fruits, through Gods favour and blessing. There also the light of Gods favour in Christ abundantly appeared, Matth. 4. 13, 15, 16. and Capernaum in this tribe was Christs Citie, Mar. 2. 1. Matth. 9. 1. wherein hee did many mighty workes, Matth. 11. 23. the blessing of Iehovah] blessings given of him; and, as Chazkuni expoundeth it, Whosoever cometh into his land, and seeth the first ripe fruites, shall blesse the Lord for them. But the Greeke translateth, let him be filled with blessing of (or from) the Lord. the sea] this the Chaldee interpreteth, the sea of Genesareth, called in the New Testament the lake of Genesareth, Luke 5. 1. in Hebrew Chinnereth, Numb. 34. 11. Deut. 3. 17. R. Sol. Jarchi here saith, The sea of Chinnereth fell to his portion.

24 Vers. 24. with sonnes] or, for sonnes, for multitude of children; the Chaldee saith, with the blessing of sonnes: as in Afers tribe there were now 53. thousand and foure hundred men of warre, Numb. 26. 47.

let him be] in Greeke, he shall be acceptable to his brethren. dipping] in Greeke, hee shall dip his foot in oyle, that is, shall have plenty of oyle, that he may set his feet therein: according to Iakobs blessing, that his bread should be fat, Genes. 49. 20.

25 Vers. 25. thy shooes] that is, the ground under thee shall have Mines of iron and brasie, that thy feet may seeme to be shod with them. This also may signifie his strength, to tread downe his enemies; as Christs feet were of fine brasie, Rev. 1. 15.

thy strength] or, thy old age. The Hebrew Daab (here only used,) is in Greek translated strength: and so the Chaldee expoundeth it, as the dayes of thy youth, thy strength. The Latine version, and others expound it old age, so named of weaknesse; meaning that his old age should be strong and lusty, as the dayes of his youth. Others, same, or report; that as his dayes were, so his fame should be as long as he lived. Chazkuni saith, Daba is the same that Daab, weaknesse or debility, (as Cetes is the same that Ceseb a Lambe) and that it meaneth the dayes of old age in which a man is weak; as if hee should say, even in the time of their old age they shall be strong.

26 Vers. 26. Ieshurun] that is, O Israel: see Deut. 32. 15. The Greeke translateth, There is none like the God of the beloved one: the Chaldee saith; there is no God like the God of Israel. This conclusion concerneth all the tribes of Israel in generall, celebrating the glory and goodnesse of God, communicated with his Church; & their participation of his graces, to their perpetuall happinesse.

rieth] which is a signe of honour, and of his speedy coming to help his people: so in Ps. 68. 34. For which cause he is said also to ride upon the Cherub, 2 Sam. 22. 11. and to ride upon his horses and chariots of salvation, Hab. 3. 8. This was fulfilled in the warres against the Canaanites, Jos. 10. 10, 11, 13. and before, against the Egyptians, Ex. 9. 23. and 14. 24, 25. And Christ still ride; in heaven upon a white horse, to conquer the enemies, for his Churches sake, Rev. 6. 2. and 19. 11, -- 16. The Chaldee translateth, in whose habitation (or, divine majestie) is in the heavens. in thy helpe] or, for thy helpe: in Greeke, thine helper. in his excellency] or, for his high majestie, magnificence; in Chaldee, strength. So in Psal. 68. 35. Gods workes are for the manifestation of his excellent glory, in the helpe and salvation of his people. skies] the highest heavens, which the Greeke calleth the firmament; the Chaldee, the heavens of heavens.

27 Vers. 27. The God of antiquity] that is, the ancient (or eternall) God; which the Chaldee interpreteth, preteth, God that was from the beginning. Hereupon David intituleth him the God that sitteth from antiquity, (or abideth of old) Psal. 55. 20. and Alph. saith, God is my King from antiquity, Psal. 74. 12. And hee is before all things, and by him all things consist. Coloss. 1. 17. is thy mansion] or, will be thy habitation: or, prayer-wise, be thy mansion, that is, thy protection; as the Greeke translateth, will protect thee. So Moses saith, Lord, thou hast bene our mansion (or habitation,) in every generation and generation, Psal. 90. 1. Vnder this name Mansion, all things needfull are implied, both for life and salvation in this world, and in that which is to come, Joh. 14. 2. armes of eternity] that is, eternall (or everlasting) armes: or, armes of the world. Israel is protected under Gods everlasting armes or power; God is their defence over and under: his left hand is under the head of his Church, and his right hand doth imbrace her, Song 2. 6. The Greeke translateth, under the strength of the everlasting armes: the Chaldee expoundeth it, and by his word the world was made. Sol. Jarchi explaineth it thus, and underneath his Mansion doe all strong armed dwell. The armes of the world were Siron and Ogh, and the Kings of Canaan, which were the strength and power of the world, &c. but their strength was weakened before him. But the armes of eternity are rather meant here of the armes of the eternall God, who is most ancient without beginning; and eternall, without ending; who saith, I am the first, and I am the last: and besides me there is no God, Esay 44. 6. destroy] speaking to Israel, whom he would enable to destroy their enemies: the Greeke translateth, Perish, speaking to the enemy. So God by Christ, not onely preserveth his people from harme, but destroyeth him that hath the power of death, that is, the devill, Heb. 2. 14. and with him all other enemies perish.

28 Ver. 28. alone] secure from enemies, as Jer. 49. 31. or, alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations, as Numb. 23. 9. This dwelling in safety had accomplishment under Christ, of whom it is said, In his dayes Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely, Jer. 23. 6. the fountaine] that is, the people which flow out of Jakob, as out of a well or fountaine: so that fountaine is here used for a river or streame issuing from a fountaine, as in Psal. 104. 10. and waters often signifie peoples, Revelat. 17. 15. Thus David called them of the fountaine of Israel, Psalm. 68. 27. and Esaias saith, which are come forth out of the waters of Judah, Esay 48. 1. The Hebrew word sometime signifieth a fountaine, sometime an eye; in which latter sense some interpret it here, the eye of Jakob, shall looke unto a land of corne, &c. his heavens] the heaven or ayre over the land of Israel, shall drop down dew, whereby it shall be fruitfull. Thus Moses confirmeth to Jakobs seed the blessing which Isaak gave unto Jakob, Gen. 27. 28. Spiritually heavens signifie the Ecclesiasticall estate, Revel. 4. 1. dew and raine signifie heavenly doctrine, as Deuter. 32. 2.

29 Ver. 29. who is like thee] not any people. So David said, What one nation in the earth is like thy people, like Israel, 2 Sam. 7. 23. See also Deut. 4. 7. by Iehovah] or, in Iehovah, that is, Christ; called Iehovah our righteousness, Jer. 23. 6. shield of thy helpe] that is, thine helpfull shield, which aideth thee against thine enemies; the Chaldee saith, strong for thine helpe; the Greeke, thy helper will shield (or protect) thee. sword, is thy excellency] in Greeke, thy glory (or boasting:) that thou mayst truly glory in his sword, not in thine own: as the Church doth in Psal. 44. 4, 7. they inherited not the land by their owne sword: and, my sword shall not save me. Christ appeared with a two-edged sword in his mouth, Revelat. 1. 16. and with a sword in his hand, as Prince of the Lords host, Jos. 5. 13, 14. and the sword of the spirit is the word of God, Ephes. 6. 17. shall falsely deny] shall dissemble that they were thine enemies, and faine to be friends for feare. This David acknowledged, the sonnes of the stranger falsely deny unto me, Psalme 18. 45. The Greeke translateth, shall lie unto thee. Chazkuni explaineth it thus, They that are enemies to thee in their heart, shall falsely deny unto thee through feare, and shall shew themselves thy friends, and shall be obedient to doe thy pleasure. And Sol. Jarchi giveth an example, as the Gibeonites which said, from a very farre countrey thy servants are come, &c. tread on their high places] or, on their heights: in Greeke, thou shalt ride upon their necke: see a like phrase in Psal. 66. 12. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thou shalt tread on the joints of the neckes of their Kings: which thing was fulfilled in Iosuahs time, Jos. 10. 24, 25. By heights or high places, are meant all the high and fortified places, wherein the enemies kept for their safety; as mountains, high walled Cities, &c. David when he was safe from his enemies, rejoyceth that God had set him upon his high places, 2 Sam. 22. 34. And as it is the glory of God, that he treadeth upon the high places of the earth, Amos 4. 13. Mich. 1. 3. and upon the high places (or heights) of the Sea, Job 9. 8. so he communicateth this glory to his people, that should vanquish all their enemies; as was also said in Deut. 32. 13. he made him ride on the high places of the earth. And by the weapons of their warfare, which are mighty through God, they pull downe strong holds, and cast down every high thing that exalteth it selfe against the knowledge of God, 2 Corin. 10. 4, 5. Death shall be swallowed up in victory, 1 Cor. 15. and Satan himselfe shall be trodden underneath their feet, Rom. 16.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Moses from mount Nebo vieweth the land
5 He dyeth there, and is buried of God. 7 His age and vigour when he dyed. 8 The Israelites mourne for him thirty dayes. 9 Iosua succeedeth him.
10 The praise of Moses.

ANd Moses went up from the plaines of Moab unto mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is over against Jericho:

Jericho: and Jehovah caused him to see all
 2 the land from Gilead unto Dan. And all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Ma-nassch, and all the land of Judah, unto the 3 hindmost sea. And the South, and the plaine of the valley of Jericho, the Citie of Palme-4 trees, unto Zoar. And Jehovah said unto him, This is the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaak, and unto Jakob, saying, unto thy seed will I give it: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt 5 not go over thither. And Moses the servant of Jehovah died there in the land of Moab, 6 according to the mouth of Jehovah. And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab,
 over against Beth-peor, and no man knoweth 7 of his Sepulchre unto this day. And Moses was an hundred and twenty yeeres old when he died, his eye was not dimme, nor his natu-8 rall moisture fled. And the sonnes of Israel wept for Moses in the plaines of Moab, thirty daies: and the daies of weeping, of moun-9 ning for Moses, were ended. And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands upon him, and the sons of Israel hearkened unto him, and 10 did as Jehovah commanded Moses. And there arose not a Prophet since in Israel like 11 Moses, whom Jehovah knew face to face. In all the signes and wonders which Jehovah sent him to doe in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to all his 12 land. And in all the mighty hand, and in all great terrour which Moses did in the eyes of all Israel.

Annotations.

1 Moses went up] as God commanded him, Deu.
 32. 49. plaines of Moab] in the wildernesse where Israel pitched, and where Moses had explained all this Law unto them. See Num. 22. 1.
 Deut. 1. 1. 5. The Greeke retaineth the Hebrew name, Araboth Moab. mount Nebo] or, of Nebo, that from thence hee might view the holy land, as John from an high mountaine was shewed
 the holy Ierusalem, Revel. 21. 10. and Ezekiel likewise before him, Ezek. 40. 2. Nebo was the name of a mountaine, & of a City by it, which was given for a possession to the Reubenites, Numb. 32.
 37. 38. 1 Chron. 5. 3, 8. Pisgab] in Greeke, Phasga: in Chaldee, Ramatba: so named of the highnesse of it: See Deut. 3. 27. Ierecho] in Greeke Iericho, a City within the land of Canaan, which the Israelites first conquered, by faith causing the wall to fall downe, Jos. 6. Heb.
 11. 30. See after on verse 3. caused him to see] as in verse 4. or, shewed him, as the Greeke translateth. from Gilead] in Greeke, the land of Galaad: But Gilead was on the outside of Jordan, and given to Reuben, Gad, and halfe Manasseh, Deut. 3. 12, 13. being conquered by Moses himselfe; so that there was no need to view that, but from that Countrey forward he viewed all the rest. Therefore the Hebrewes expound the word Eth, by Min, From; saying, From Gilead

which was on the outside of Jordan, towards the Sunne rising, wherein Moses was standing; unto Dan, which is the border of the land of Israel, as it is written, from Dan even to Beersheba, (1 Sam. 3. 20.) Chazkuni on Deut. 34. Others referre it to a spirituall vision of things to be done after in this Countrey;
 as Jonathan in his Thargum paraphraseth. The Word of the Lord shewed him all the mighties of the land;
the valiant actes which should be done by Iephthe of Gilead, and the victories of Sampson sonne of Manah of the tribe of Dan, Likewise Sol. Jarchi expoundeth
it, Hee sheweth him the finnes of Dan committing idolatry, as it is written (in Judg. 18. 30.) and the finnes
of Dan set up the graven image: and he shewed him
Sampson, that should come out of him for a Saviour.
 By Dan here we are to understand Lessem, or Laish,
 a city in the furthest part of the land Northward, called also Dan, Jos. 19. 47. Judg. 18. 27, 29.

Verse 2. all Naphtali] in Greeke, all the land of Nephtali, which lay also Northward in Galilee, Matth. 4. 15. of Ephraim and Manasseh] meaning the halfe tribe of Manasseh that dwelt within Jordan; this was the middest of the land in Samaria: see Jos. 16. and 17. 7, 11. of Ju- dah] which was the Southerne part of the Countrey, Jos. 15. 1. &c. for the land was farre more long than broad: and by naming these few chiefe
 countries, he implieth all the rest with them.
 These also in Thargum Jonathan, and Sol. Jarchi, are applied to the captaines of the house of Naphtali,
 that were joynted with Barak, and the Kings which Losua the sonne of Nun, of the tribe of Ephraim, should kill;
 and the valiant acts of Gedeon sonne of Joash, of the tribe of Manasseh, and all the Kings of Israel, and kingdome of the house of Judah, that should rule in the land, untill the Sanctuary should be destroyed at the last.
the hindmost] or, utmost sea, that is, the maine
 sea, which was the Western coast: see the notes on Deut. 11. 24.

Verse 3. the south] in Greeke, the Wildernesse:
 the utmost Cities of the tribe of the sons of Judah, towards the coasts of Edom, described in Jos.
 15. 21. &c. So in Num. 34. 3. your south quarter shall be from the wildernesse of Zin, along by the coast of Edom, &c. Thus Moses viewed the land after the order that Abraham did at the first: see Gen.
 12. 6, 7, 8, 9. with the Annotations there. God here sheweth Moses all the kingdomes, and glory of Canaan, from an high mountaine, for his comfort and strengthening of his faith, who saw the promises a farre off, saluted them and dyed, as did his godly forefathers, Heb. 11. 9, 13. On the contrary, the Devill taketh Christ up into an exceeding high mountaine, & sheweth him all the king-domes of the world, & the glory of them, to draw him

him (if he had beene able) from the faith and service of God, unto the worship of Satan, Matth. 4.8,9. the plaine of the valley of Iericho] in Greeke, the regions about Iericho: this last part which Moses viewed, was the first which the Israelites possessed, Jos. 2. 1. and 3. 16. and 4. 13, 19. Sol. Jarchi here saith, God shewed to Moses, Salomon casting the vessels of the Sanctuary, as it is said, In the plaine of Iordan did the King cast them, 2 Chronicles 4. 17. Citie of palma-trees] so Iericho is called here, and in 2 Chr. 28. 15. Judg. 1. 16. and 3. 13. and of them and other fragrant fruits there growing, as Balm and the like; the Citie had the name Iericho, by interpretation, O-doriferous, or Fragrant. unto Zoar] in Greeke, Segor. Thus the last part which Moses viewed, was both nearest unto him, and the pleasantest of all the land of Canaan: for all the plaine of Iordan was well watered, it was as the garden of the Lord, Gen. 13. 10.

4 Ver. 4. I swore] that is, I promised by oath: see Gen. 12. 7. and 22. 16, 17. Psal. 105. 9, 10, 11. thy seed] in Greeke, your seed: in Chaldee, thy sonnes. caused thee to see] in Greeke, I have shewed it to thine eyes. This view was by the marvellous worke and grace of God towards his servant; that in one place and time he should behold so large a countrey; and in it (by the eye of his spirit) so many mysteries as in that holy Land (so called in Zach. 2. 12.) were comprehended: and it being th: Land of Immanuel (or of Christ) Esa. 8. 8. the beholding thereof was the beholding of the blessings to be enjoyed by Christ Jesus; unto whom Moses and his Law is a Schoolemaster, Gal. 3. 24. not goe over] to wit, over the river Jordan, because Moses had not beleev'd to sanctifie the Lord in the eyes of the sonnes of Israel, Numb. 20. 12. And as he and others could not enter into the good land, because of their unbelief, Heb. 3. 19. so all that are of the workes of the Law, and not of the faith of Christ, though they may behold the blessing a farre off, yet shall they not enter in to enjoy the same, Gal. 3. 9, 12. Rom. 9. 31, 32.

5 Ver. 5. servant] so he is often called, even of God himselfe, Jos. 1. 2. and in the New Testament, as Rev. 15. 3. The song of Moses the servant of God. This title he had in respect of his office, being governour of Israel: as David also had, in Psal. 18. 1. and 36. 1. See Numb. 12. died there] in the mountaine, Deut. 32. 50. as Aaron died on the top of mount Hor, Numb. 20. 28. In that the death of Moses immediately followed after his viewing of the promised land, it foreshew'd the end and abrogation of Moses Law, when men are come to the Gospel of Christ: for, after that saith is come, we are no longer under the Schoolemaster, Gal. 3. 25. The Law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth. for the woman which hath an husband is bound by the Law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead she is loosed from the Law of the husband: So we also are become dead to the Law, by the body of Christ, that we should be to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, Rom. 7. 1, 2, 4. Therefore upon this death of Moses, God speaketh unto Israel, to go over Jordan into the Land, Jos. 1. according to the month] in Greeke and Chaldee, by the word. The day of his death, by the Jewes tradition, was the seventh of Adar, (which we call February:) so Jonathan in his Thargum on this place saith; On the seventh day of the month of Adar, Moses the Master of Israel was borne; and on the seventh day of the month of Adar he was taken out of the world.

Ver. 6. he buried him] that is Jehovah buried him, or Michael, (that is, Christ, who is Jehovah, one with the Father,) Jude verse 9. Signifying that none but Christ should abolish the Law and Ordinances given by Moses, Rom. 8. 3. Gal. 3. 13, 14. Col. 2. 14, 16, 17. Heb. 9. 9, 10, 11, &c. and 10. 1, 9. And this was a speciall honour unto Moses person, whom the Lord loved when he was dead, and buried his corps (which we find not done to any man else in the world,) wh he will also raise up incorruptible & glorious, at the day of his appearing. in a valley] he died in the mountain, Deut. 32. 50. but was buried a valley. over against Beth-Pehor] the Greeke saith, neere to the house of Phogor; of which place, see Deut. 3. 28. no man knoweth] God would not have Moses sepulchre to be knowne (though the Devill contended with him hereabout, Jude verse 9.) because there should be no occasion of superstition or idolatry thereby, as is thought of some. Chazkuni saith, that none which inquire of the dead (as Deut. 18. 11.) might seeke unto him. The chiefe cause seemeth to be a mysterie, that the Law (whereof Moses was the minister) being once dead and abrogated by Christ, should never more be sought after, but quite abolished out of the conscience of sinners, that the grace of Christ may live & reign alone. See Gal. 4. 9, 10, 11, and 5. 4. Also that the legall rudiments should by the coming of the Gospel be taken away from Israel, never to be found or enjoyed by them any more. For Christ destroyed both their City and Sanctuary, as was foretold in Dan 9. and they have beene many daies without a King, and without a Prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim; and so shall be untill they returne and seeke the Lord their God, and [the sonne of] David their King, Hos. 3. 4, 5.

Ver. 7. yeares old] Hebr. some of 120 yeares: so the yeare of his death fell out in the 2553 yeare of the world: and his yeares accord with Noes preaching and preparing of the Arke, Genes. 6. 3. his eye] in Greeke, his eyes: his eye-sight failed him not, as did Isaack, Gen. 27. 1. The eye is also used for the outward appearance and color of a thing, as Exod. 10. 5. Num. 11. 7. so it may be meant here also, his visage was not wrinkled. Chazkuni here expoundeth it, the shining of his face, mentioned in Ex. 34. 30. his naturall moisture] his radicall humour, wherein the life and strength of the body consisteth, which when it is spent and dried up, a man dyeth. The Greeke translateth, his lips were not corrupted: the Chaldee saith, the brightness of the glory of his face was not changed: having reference to Exod. 34. 30, &c. dead] that is, departed parted from him. This outwardly and inwardly Moses retained his vigour, beauty and naturall strength; that he dyed not through feebleness, or defect of nature, as most men did at his age, though he had beene a man of sorrowes, and broken with many cares for the people. And hereby the continuall force of the Law is signified; the power whereof decayeth not in the conscience of sinners by number of daies, or multitude of workes, till God take it away, and abolish it by grace in Christ. The Law hath dominion over a man as long as he liueth: whiles we are in the flesh, the passions of sins which are by the Law, doe worke in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death. Rom. 7. 1, 5.

8 Verſ. 8. the plaines of Moab] in Greeke, Araboth Moab by Jordan, over against Iericho; as v. 1. thirty dayes] so long they mourned also for Aaron: see Numb. 20. 28.

9 Verſ. 9. Iofua] in Greeke, Iesus the sonne of Nave. of wisdomes] in Greeke, of underſtanding the spirit of wisdomes, meaneth wisdomes ministred by the spirit of God, wherein he was a figure of Iesus Christ, who being full of the holy Spirit, entred upon the worke of his ministration here on earth, Luk. 4. 1, &c. On him the Spirit of the Lord rested, the spirit of wisdomes and understanding, the spirit of counsell and might, the spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord, Esa. 11. 2. laid] or, imposed his hands upon him: of this see Numb. 27. 18, 23. As Moses by imposition of hands authorized Iesus the sonne of Nave, and bare record unto him: so the Law of Moses which was in the heart and bowels of Iesus the sonne of God, gave authority and bare record unto him, Heb. 7. Acts 26. 22, 23. and Moses himſelfe appeared talking with Iesus, and speaking of his decaſe, which he ſhould accompliſh at Ieruſalem, Luke 9. 30, 31. hearkened unto him] that is, obeyed him: as after also they promiſed, in Jof. 1. 16, 17, 18. See the notes on Numb. 27. 20.

10 Verſ. 10. knew face to face] the Chaldees ſaith, was revealed unto him face to face. So in Exod. 33. 11, it is ſaid, Iehovah ſpoke unto Moſes face to face, as a man ſpeaketh unto his friend: and in Numb. 8. he ſaid, with him will I ſpeake mouth to mouth. See the Annotations there.

Verſ. 12. the mighty hand] that is, workes wrought with a mighty hand, and powerfull government; and adminiſtration; according to that which is ſaid, Humble your ſelves therefore, under the mighty hand of God, &c. 1 Pet. 5. 6. great terrour] that is, workes done with great terrour; which the Greeke tranſlateth, great marvels: the Chaldees, great viſions. Theſe things doe magnifie Moses office and adminiſtration, that the Lawes which he hath written and confirmed by ſuch ſignes and wonders might be acknowledged to be of God; wherefore he and his writings are worthily celebrated throughout the world, confirmed of God himſelfe, Num. 12. 7, 8. approved and expounded by all the Prophets after him, by Christ, himſelfe & his Apoſtles; ſo that they which beare not him, will not be perſwaded though one ſhould come from the dead, Luke 16. 31. But unto us God hath raiſed up a Prophet like unto Moses, as he promiſed, Deut. 18. 18. Acts 3. 21. even Iesus the ſonne of the Moſt High, a man approved of God among the Iſraelites, by miracles, wonders and ſignes, which God did by him in the middeſt of them Acts 2. 22. Heb. 2. 4. in whom God was reconciling the world unto himſelf, 2 Cor. 5. 19. whom God buried not, as he did Moses, but raiſed him from the dead, that he ſaw no corruption. Of him Moses wrote, and to him gave all the Prophets witneſſe, that through his name, whoeſoever believeth in him ſhall receive remiſſion of ſinnes, Acts 10. 40, 43. And by him, all that beleere are juſtified from all things, from which we could not be juſtified by the Law of Moses, Acts 13. 19. This is the true God and eternall life, 1 Joh. 5. 20. To him be honour, and glory, and praiſe, throughout all generations; and let all the earth be filled with his glory, Amen, and Amen.

ADVERTISEMENT
TO THE READER,

Touching
SOME OBJECTIONS MADE against the sinceritie of the Hebrew Text, and Allegation of the Rabbins, in these former ANNOTATIONS.

Mongst other vanities and vexations of spirit, Solomon observed all travell, and every right worke, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour, Eccles. 4. 4. And against this kind of worke of interpreting the Scriptures, there have at all times beene Carpers and Opposers, of whom Gods Labourers have complained. To me therefore it is not strange, that being the least of Gods servants, and having so many ignorances and infirmities, such things have befallen me. And had the Exceptions been against my labour onely, I would have made use of them, and kept silence: but when the Adversarie (besides the wounds which thorow my sides he giveth unto many worthy men) striketh at the very Text it selfe, so weakening our common Faith, I could not but speake, and helpe to remove the stumbling blocks, whereat the ignorant might be offended.

There are above eight hundred words in the Hebrew Bible, which have Marginall Readings, differing from the words in the line, some of great and good use in all Translations, other some of speciall use for the Hebrew Tongue and Grammar. The words in the line have usually the prickles or vowels of the words in the Margine, and so the Marginall words are noted to be read. Some have judged this to be a corruption of the Text, through negligence or oversight of the Scribes that wrote out Copies, whiles Printing was unknowne: others of better judgement (as I suppose) esteeme both Line and Margine to be of Divine Authoritie.

Vpon this occasion, difference and seeming contrarietie sometimes are to be seene in Translations, while some follow the Line, some the Margine, as they thinke best, and sometime note both, yea, and translate both as the authenticke Text: and the same Interpreters (revising their owne labours) doe change the one for the other, otherwise than they did at first. To begin with our owne; In Ex. 21. 8. our ancient English Bibles read, If she please not her Master, and he give her to no man to wife; where they followed the Hebrew in the line: but the other, called the Geneva Version, and the last set forth by authoritie, translate according to the Margine, If she please not her Master, who hath betrothed her to himselfe. The ancient English in 2 Sam. 22. 51. readeth, Which sheweth great salvation for his King: The Geneva,

Geneva, and our latest version read, He is the tower of salvation for his King. In Iob 6. 21. the Geneva saith, Surely now ye are like unto it, following the Hebrew Margine: but our late version, according to the line, rendreth it thus, For now ye are nothing (or are not.) In 1 Chron. 11. 11. the Geneva version, following the Margine, saith, the chiefe among thirtie, as the Gr. also of old translated it: our latter Bibles respecting the Hebrew in the line, say, the chiefe of the Captaines; which may be confirmed by 2 Sam. 23. 8. In Dan. 9. 24. the Geneva translating the line, saith, and to scale up the sins: our new version, according to the Hebr. Margine, giveth it thus, and to make an end of sins: yet noteth in the Margine, Or, to scale up; and sundry the like. Examples in the same Translatours, are these. Tremellius and Junius, who joyntly laboured in setting over the Hebrew into Latine, and are esteemed among the best; in their first Edition, following the Margine, say, Abi die ei, &c. Goe, say unto him, thou maist certainly recover, 2 King. 8. 10. but Junius in his latter worke, chuseth rather the line, saying, Abi die non, &c. Goe say, thou shalt not certainly recover. So in Ezra 4. 2. their first version hath, Et eadem sacrificamus; and we sacrifice unto him: the latter thus, non enim (alteri) sacrificamus; for we sacrifice not to any other: that, according to the Margine: this, to the line. In 1 Chron. 11. 20. it was first rendred, eratque nominatissimus, and he had a name among these three: in the last Edition, Sed non (fuit ei) nomen, but he had no name among these three. In 1 King. 22. 48. they first followed the Margine, Iehoshaphat paravit classem, Iehoshaphat made ships: afterward Junius keepeth the line, Iehoshaphat decem (fuerunt) naues, Iehoshaphat had ten ships: and sundry other of like sort, where the latter version differeth from the former, by reason of the difference betweene the line and the Margine in the Hebrew Text.

These things, not commonly knowne, may cause the Readers to marvell and be offended at such varietie and seeming contrarietie, both in these and other common versions set forth in vulgar tongues: for no translation almost in any language, but followeth sometimes the one, and sometimes the other; and afterward sometime varieth from it selfe, upon this occasion. Now I, (without prejudice to any of better judgement) setting downe both, as the Reader may see, in Exod. 21. 8. Levit. 11. 21. and 25. 30. and otherwhere: and according to the measure of knowledge which God hath given me, indeavouring in the Annotations to cleare the Scripture of that seeming contradiction, am publicquely taxed, as setting downe that which the Hebrew hath not; as making God like unto Ianus Bifrons, the Idol with two faces, to looke two divers waies at once; with other like hard imputations: and this diversity of writing and reading, is from the authoritie of some late Rabbines, said to arise from corruption, confusion, doubting and uncertainty of Scribes, &c.

I will set downe the reason of my contrary judgement, vvithout purpose of further contention; let the discreet Reader approve of vvhat liketh him best.

If those divers Readings, vvhich the Hebrews call Keri and Cethib, be corruptions of the Scripture, they have been many of them done voluntarily and purposely, as is apparant to all of understanding that looke upon them. For beside that the * Affirmative and the * Negative in this vvord Lo, are not one like another to deceive the eye, so often in Moses and the Prophets; it could not arise from mistaking of letters, to vvrite Gnapholim, for Techorim, the Emerods, as in Deut. 28. 27. and 1 Sam. 5. or Shagal for Shacab, as in Deut. 28. 30. Esey 13. 16. and Zach. 14. 2. Chorejonim, for Dibjonim, as in 2 Kings 6. 25. Chorachem for Tsamtham; and Shenehem, for Meme raglehem, as in Esay 36. 12. and 2 King. 18. 17. Macharath, for Mosath, as in 2 Kings 10. 27. And when Naurah a Tongwonan, is but 22. times used by Moses, that it should 21. times be written with want of the last letter, so that in Copies wanting prickles (as many have done, and doe) it might be read Naar, a Tong man: that these and sundry the like should be of negligence or oversight, cannot vvith reason be supposed. Besides that those vvords in the line, have there and usually the prickles or vvowels of the vvords in the Margine, after vvhich they were read.

1. It standeth not vvith the vvildome, goodnesse and providence of God, vvho preserveth all his creatures, and hath magnified his Word above all his name, Psal. 138. 2. that he should suffer his Word, in the originall and fountaine thereof, left for a peculiar treasure to his Church in all ages, to be corrupted and depraved, and that in many hundred places, to the scorne of Infidels, and offence of his weake people. The Jewes vvhich hold that God hath more care of the letters and syllables of the Law, than of the stars of heaven, vvill loathe them that shall seeke so to disgrace the holy Scripture.

2 It is noted by the Apostle, for a chiefe priviledge of the Jewes, that unto them were committed the Oracles of God, Ro. 3.1.2. And from them we Christians have received them. But this is no praise or advantage (as the Apostle attributeth unto them) if they have through negligence and of purpose corrupted so many places: so that the corruption (if such it be) hath spread as a Leprosie over all the Bible; there being scarce any one little book, but hath the markes of their violent hands upon it. Not any one of Moses books; not Iosua, Judges Ruth, Samuel, or the Kings: not Iob, the Psalmes, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, or the Song of Songs: not Esai, Ezekiel, Jeremy, the Lamentations, or almost any of the final Prophets. Not the bookes written after the captivity of Babylon, as the Chronicles, Ezra, Esther, Daniel, Haggai, Zacharie: no not so much but the ten Commandements (as in Deu. 5.10.) are tainted with this pollution. Where then is the praise of the Jew? Or where is the faithfulness of the Church of God, (the pillar & stay of Truth, 1 Tim. 3.15.) if we cannot have the Oracles of God from them, with so much fidelity as we have human writings from many heathens.

3 These sixteen hundred yeeres, whiles the Jewes have bin cast off from being the Church of God, and have been scattered for their sinnes upon the face of the earth, and have bent their studies to disprove Christianity; yet can they not justly be charged (to my knowledge) that they have corrupted the Scripture, but the Hebrew text remaineth as it was in the Apostles dayes; & may we think that they were lesse carefull or conscionable in former times, whiles they were Gods Church, & had alwaies some good people among them, that would have care of the Law? They have been these many yeeres so watchfull, that if any fault escape the Scribe, the book is not allowable to be read in their Synagogues til it be corrected. They have these rules, that if the book of the Law doe want but a letter; or, if it have but one letter more than it should; or, if one letter touch another; or, if the forme of any letter be so corrupted that it cannot be read; it is a booke which Children may learne on, but it may not be read publickly. Maim. in Sepher Torah. c. 10. And for these divers readings called Keri and Cethib (which with them are accounted of Divine Authority) they say, If the word which is full be written defective; or that which is defective, full: or if a word which is to be read (in the margin) be written (in the line) as it is to be read; as, if Iishcabennah be written in the place of Iishgalennah (Deut. 28.30.) or Techorim in the place of Gnapholim (Deut. 28.27.) or the like; the booke is not allowable, neither hath in it the holinesse of the booke of the Law at all; but is as a booke on which children learne. Maim. ibidem, c. 7. f. 11. Yea so farre hath their diligence extended this way, that they have reckoned every letter how often it is found thorowout the Bible: no people on earth have shewed like religious care of any booke, as they have of the holy Scriptrue: that we have no reason to suspect them in former ages, whiles they inhabited Sion, out of which the Law was to come forth unto all nations, Esay 2.3.

4 Kimchi, Arias Montanus, and such as think that these divers readings were occasioned by the captivity of Babylon, and calamities then upon the Jewes, have little shew of reason. For (beside that Kimshi himselfe sometimes alleageth both readings without condemning of either, and sheweth the meaning of both, as is to be seen in his Commentaries on Esay 9.3. Ios. 19.33. Esay 61.1, &c. and Arias translateth now the line and then the margin; and sometimes noteth both) what are 70 yeeres to corrupt all Copies? When as a Copie written on Parchment (as was their manner) will endure many 70 yeeres intire. Jeremy with some Jewes remained a while in the land; Ezekiel, Daniel, and many godly men were in Babylon: may wee suppose that none of them would keepe the Scriptures pure? Ezra, the learned Priest and Scribe, came with the people out of Babylon; they also had Prophets, Haggai, Zacharie, & Malachie, by whom these errors (if they had bin such) might have bin corrected, & a pure Bible preserved for the Churches use. Yea, even the Books which Ezra, Daniel, Zacharie, &c. wrote, have divers readings, as hath Moses and the former Prophets.

Our Saviour blameth the Priests, Scribes and Pharisees, for corrupting the Law by wrong interpretation, Mat. 5. & 15. & 23. if they had violated & falsified the writing of the Scripture, would he have spared them? Or, would not he, by himselfe, or by his Apostles, have provided a perfect canon of the Word to be left unto his Church? But we find no blame laid upon them for marring the Text: yea, Christ and his Apostles send all to reade the Scriptures, Luk. 16.29. Iob. 5.29. 2 Pet. 1.19. & our Saviour confirmeth the Law unto every jot and tittle, Mat. 5.18. al which things doe perswade that the holy Text was not then corrupted: and they that most labour to discredit it, cannot shew how it should be corrupted since, there being besides the Apostles, many thousands of the Jewes, & Churches of the Jewes, that came to the Christian faith, Act. 21. 20. Iam. 1. 1. and so could bring uncorrupted copies of the Scriptures with them, unto the Christian Gentiles.

6 The divers readings fore-spoken of, are such as favour not of humane superstition, but to men of understanding, doe shew Gods wisdom, as the residue of the Scripture; and good reasons have beene rendred by many, as well Christian as Jewish Expositors, of both line and margin, being in stead of brieve Commentaries one to another: and if we cannot doe the like of all, yet ought we not to condemne that we know not, but in humility to seeke for further light.

7 The holy Ghost in many places approveth the Keties or readings in the margin, as where one Prophet writeth Tamor, 1 King. 9. 18. (in Greek Thamor) and noteth in the margin to read it Tadmor; another Prophet after confirmeth it, writing only Tadmor, 2 Chron. 8. 4. and there the Greek also hath Thedmor. Ieish in Gen. 36. 5. 14. is noted in the margin to be read Ieush, and so the line writeth his name in Gen. 36. 18. and in 1 Chron. 1. 35. When one writeth Ish chai, a lively man (as Vatablus noteth and interpreteth it) but warneth in the margin to read Ish chajil, a valiant man, 2 Sam. 23. 20. another Prophet writeth this marginall text only, Ish chajil, 1 Chron. 11. 22. When in speech of the first person, there is a sudden change to the third, as in 2 Sam. 12. 33. 34. his way, & his feet: that this should not seem strange, the Hebrew margin there readeth it, my way, and my feet: and this is confirmed by the Hebrew line in Psal. 18. 33. 34. Neither may we say that the former place is corrupted, seeing the Scripture useth such change of person other where, as in Dent. 5. 10. Job 18. 4. Mic. 1. 2. Psal. 59. 10 & 65. 7. Dan. 9. 4. So Duke Aljah in 1 Chro. 1. 51. is there in the margin to be read Alvah; and so Moses wrote his name in Gen. 36. 40. Hezrai in the Hebrew margin, 2 Sam. 23. 35. is by the letters in the line Hezro, & in 1 Chro. 11. 37. only Hezro, Zaanaim in Judg. 4. 11. is read in the Hebrew margin Zaanaunim, and so the name is written in Ios. 19. 33. In 2 Sam. 23. 13. whereby the letters in the line, Shalishim, the Captaines of the thirty went downe, the margin and vowels read it Sheloshah, three of the thirty; and so it is after written Sheloshah, three, in 1 Chron. 11. 15. So, he shall take, 2 King. 20. 18. is by the vowels and margin read, they shall take; and approved in Esay 39. 7. Hee had not the name, 1 Chron. 11. 20. is read in the Hebrew margin, He had the name: and so it is written affirmatively in 2 Sam. 23. 18. In 1 Chron. 11. 11. where the Hebrew letters in the line say, Chiefe of the thirty, and so it is translated in the Greeke Bible, and in our first English, and the Geneva version after it, and in the old Latine and the Spanish translations, and by Pagnine; there by the vowels, and by the Keri in the margin, it is read Chiefe of the Captaines: for confirmation of this, another Prophet writeth it Chiefe of the Captaines, or the Chiefe Captaine, 2 Sam. 23. 8. & sundry other examples might be shewed. The new Testament approveth also the marginall readings, for whereas Guanijim, that is, Poore or afflicted, in Prov. 3. 34. is to be read in the margin Gnanavim, that is, Lowly, or Humble; the Holy Ghost translateth according to the margin, in Iam. 4. 6. and in 1 Pet. 5. 5. giveth grace to the Humble. Where Chasidea is written in the line with jod, a signe of the plurall number, Psal. 16. 10. (so that in Bibles unvowelled it may be taken for Chadsideca, thine Holy ones; which in sundry other examples may also be observed, as in Psal. 145. 6. Eccles. 5. 1. Iudg. 13. 17. 1 Sam. 24. 5. and 26. 8. Dan. 3. 12. 18. Ezra 10. 12. Esay 26. 20. Ezek. 9. 5.) there in the margin, that signe of the plurall number jod is noted to be redundant: and accordingly it is interpreted by the Spirit of God, in Act. 2. 27. and 13. 35. ton Hosion sou, thine Holy one.

8 As the Jewish nation (a few late men excepted) approve of those readings in the margin, and yet hold the word in the line uncorrupted: so among Christians of all languages they have beene revered, & Translators from the Hebrew have at their discretion taken sometimes the one, sometimes the other, without condemning that which they omit. Our last English version translateth the margin commonly, yet often noteth the other; sometimes the line, and noteth also that which is in the margin, as is to be seene in 1 King. 22. 48. Ios. 8. 12. & 15. 53. 2 King. 20. 4. & 23. 33. 2 Sam. 14. 20. Psal. 100. 3. Prov. 17. 27. Ier. 2. 20. Dan. 9. 24. Esay 9. 3. & 30. 32. & sundry other places. The French version set out by the Pastors & Doctors of Geneva, in Exod. 21. 8. readeth the negative, & in the margin noteth the affirmative: also in Prov. 26. 2. & Psal. 100. 3. Againe, in Lev. 11. 21. & 1 Sam. 2. 3. & Esay 63. 9. reads the affirmative, & in the margin noteth the negative, & often other where translateth the one, noting the other in the margin: as in 2 Sam. 22. 51. Eccl. 9. 4. Ier. 2. 20. & other places. The ancient Dutch version likewise observeth these readings by noting the different in their margin, margin, as in 1 Sam. 2. 3. 1 King. 22. 48. 2 King. 10. 4. &c. The German Bible set forth by Piscator, followeth sometime the line, as in Levit. 11. 21. 2 Sam. 2. 51. Psalm. 100. 3. 2 King. 20. 4. Esay 9. 3. & 49. 5. and 63. 9. Job 6. 21. &c. sometime the margin, as in Ex. 21. 8. Lev. 25. 30. Job 13. 15. 2 Sam. 23. 13. &c. sometime by the annotations explaineth both, as in Jer. 2. 20. 2 Sam. 14. 21. and 18. 13. Dan. 3. 12. Nehem. 3. 30. 31. The Spanish translation also followeth the line, in Exod. 21. 8. Psalm. 100. 3. 2 Sam. 14. 22. Esay 9. 3. and 49. 5. and 63. 9. &c. Again it followeth the Hebrew margin, in Lev. 11. 21. and 25. 30. 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 King. 8. 10. Ezra 4. 2. Job 6. 21. and sometime by marginall annotations also toucheth them both, as Job 13. 15. Ezek. 32. 32.

The Latine versions differ not from this. Tremellius and Iunius follow the one, or the other indifferently, as they like best; and sometimes note both, as in Psalm. 11. 1. Flee thou, or, Flee yee: and Junius afterward changeth the one for the other, as in some instances is before shewed, and moe might be produced.

The Tigurine Latine version dealeth as the former, but more frequently noteth the other reading, as in Dan. 9. 24. ad consummandum, to make an end: or, ad obsequium, to scale up: in Job 13. 15. non expectarem; or, eum expectarem: so in Esay 63. 9. 1 Sam. 2. 3. Pro. 17. 27. and other places.

Pagnine followeth the line in Exod. 21. 8. Ios. 8. 12. 16. 2 King. 8. 10. Psalm. 100. 3. Pro. 19. 7. Eccles. 9. 4. & 12. 6. Esay 49. 5. Jer. 2. 20. againe he leaveth the line, and followeth the Hebrew in the margin, in Lev. 11. 21. Ios. 5. 1. 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 Sam. 16. 18. Dan. 9. 24. 2 King. 20. 4. 1 King. 22. 48. Pro. 17. 27. Ezek. 42. 16. and 3. 15. &c. Arias Montanus and his assistants that laboured to reduce Pagnines version to a more exact agreement with the Hebrew, doe with him sometime translate the line, as in Psalm. 100. 3. 2 King. 8. 10. Pro. 19. 7. Eccles. 9. 4. Esay 49. 5. Jer. 2. 20. sometime they render the margin, not the line, as in Lev. 11. 21. 1 King. 22. 48. Pro. 17. 27. 1 King. 12. 33. Ezek. 3. 15. & 42. 10. Sometime they change the one for the other, as in Levit. 25. 30. 1 Sam. 2. 3. & 20. 2. 2 Sam. 16. 18. Dan. 9. 24. and often. Yet sometime they doe by a marginall note warne of both readings, as in Exod. 21. 8. Eccles. 12. 6. 2 Sam. 12. 9.

Vatablus in his Latine annotations giveth notice often of these divers readings, as may be seene on 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 Sam. 23. 20. Psalm. 11. 1. Ezra 4. 2. Job 13. 15. Eccles. 9. 4. & 12. 6. Esay 9. 3. Pro. 17. 27, &c.

Expositors in their Commentaries do the like. Calvin in his Comment on Moses, on Ex. 21. 8. scanneth the two contrary senses of Lo the affirmative, & Lo the negative, shewing the meaning if it be taken affirmatively, or if it be taken negatively, which later he liketh best. Likewise in his Prelections on Esay 63. 9. reading the affirmative, he noteth in the margin the negative: & on Jer. 2. 20. I will not serve, or, I will not transgresse, for there is (saith he) a double reading. Peter Martyr in his Commentary on 1 Sam. 2. 3. saith, Sed quantum ex Hebraeo liquet, &c. It appeareth by the Hebrew, that this clause may be read both affirmatively and negatively, because of the word Lo. If it affirmeth, it must be referred unto God, whose workes are firme and constant: but if it denieth, it respecteth mens endeavours, which come to nought, &c. Hierom the learnedst of the Fathers in his age, reading that in Esay 63. 9. according to the line, In all their affliction he was not afflicted, saith in his Commentary on this place, Lo, is an adverb of denying, and may be read Not, and also He: that the meaning may be, In all their affliction he was afflicted, to wit, God: so that he should bear not our sins only, but also our afflictions.

Now if these (and other Interpreters which might further be alleaged) had judged these divers readings in the Hebrew, to be Jewish corruptions, they might not, and it is to bee thought they would not have taught men sometime the one, sometime the other, and sometime either of both, for the pure Word of God, and Text of holy Scripture.

Come we to the ancient versions, & we shal see the like. The old Latine, though in sundry places of these divers readings it followeth the word in the Hebrew line, as in Esay 9. 3. & 49. 5. & 63. 9. Psalm. 100. 3. Pro. 19. 7. 2 Sam. 23. 51. Jer. 2. 20. 2 King. 5. 12. yet doth it most commonly translate the word that now standeth in the Hebrew margin, as in Ex. 11. 8. Lev. 11. 21. 2 Sam. 2. 3. 2 King. 8. 10. Job 13. 15. Pro. 26. 2. Ios. 5. 1. & 8. 12. & 15. 47. 1 King. 22. 48. 2 King. 20. 4. Jer. 21. 12. Ezek. 3. 15. & 25. 7. and 42. 16. and in many other places.

The Chaldee Interpreters (of whom Jonathan that translated the Prophets, is as ancient as the Apostles dayes, if not more) they likewise sometime expresse the word in the line, as in Ios. 9. 7. & 18. 24. 2 Sam. 22. 51. 2 King. 20. 18. Iob 6. 21. Pro. 26. 2. & 19. 7. Esay 63. 9. but usually they follow the Hebrew margin, as in Exod. 21. 8. Lev. 11. 21. & 25. 30. Gen. 30. 11. Dent. 28. 27. 30. Ios. 5. 1. & 8. 12. 16. & 15. 47. 2 Sam. 16. 18. & 23. 21. Psal. 100. 3. Eccles. 9. 4. 2 King. 8. 10. Esay 9. 2. & 49. 5. Iob 13. 15. Ier. 2. 20. & 21. 12. Ezek. 3. 15. & 25. 7. & 42. 16. and in most other places.

Likewise the Greek Bible, as now we have it, translateth according to the line, in Exod. 21. 8. Ios. 9. 7. Psal. 100. 3. 2 Sam. 22. 51. 1 King. 9. 18. 2 King. 5. 12. Esay 63. 9. Prov. 17. 27. & 19. 7. Ier. 2. 20. and in many places according to the margine, as Levit. 11. 21. & 25. 30. Ezra 4. 2. 2 King. 20. 4. & 8. 10. 1 Sam. 20. 2. 1 King. 1. 47. & 22. 48. Esay 9. 3. & 49. 5. 2 Sam. 23. 18. 21. 35. and otherwhere. So that whether wee respect the later, or the most ancient Translators, we shall find these marginall readings to be many of them regarded as the authentike text: and if we may not refuse them all (except we will goe against all that ever interpreted Scripture) what warrant have we to condemn any, being all of like authority?

„ Answer. Were it so, that they never yeilded us but one only, yet seeing they take that one sometime from the Text in the line, but most commonly from the margine, it may teach us not to reject those marginal notes, as the Rabbines fictions; unlesse we will say, that all men in all ages, have delivered the Rabbines traditions in stead of the pure Word of God. And it would be known of this Excepter (for he hath not shewed his mind) whether he would have men alwaies to follow the word in the line, or that in the margin, or to take that which they think best of either, & to condemne the other; and what warrant men have so to doe. But many of the best translations do afford us both, if not in the line (which is not easie to be done) yet by an or in the margin, as may be seene in our last English Bible, where in many of the places before alleaged they do by a marginal note compared with a line, give us a different, & sometimes (in seeming) a contrary reading: and the like (though perhaps not so frequently) is done by Bibles in other languages. Yea sometimes (when both readings may be joyned in one) they doe give us both joyntly for the Text of Scripture. Witnesse our last English Bible, which in Pro. 19. 7. rendreth both negative & affirmative (according both to the Hebrew line & margine) they are wanting to him: whereas our former version was only after the negative in the line, they will not. And before them, the Pastors of Geneva in their French version, translate both line and margine in the same place, though in another sense, Il n'y a que paroles pour lui. Likewise in Esay 9. 3. reading in French according to the Hebrew margin, Tu lui as accru la joye: they note thereby another translation implying both line & margine, Ou, mais tu ne lui as point baillé plus grande joye. Againe, in 2 Sam. 23. 13. they first translate according to the margent reading, trois d'entre les trente capitaines: and by it they note, according to both margine & line, Ou les trois principaux capitaines par dessus les trente.

Tremellius and Junius, besides that they translate either indifferently (as is before shewed) & sometime note the Massorites observation, as on 1 Sam. 27. 8. Girzeum, pro Gexeo, transpositus literis, ut notant Massorites; and likewise expresse the Hebrew line in their line, and the margine in their margine, as Abana and Amana, in 2 King. 5. 12. and read the word which is written in the margin, and hath but the vowels only in the line, as in 2 King. 19. 31. Iehovah of hosts; & in Ruth 3. 5. & 3. 17. 2 Sam. 16. 23. 2 King. 19. 37. they also joyne both line and margine in their text, when commodiously they can; as in Ios. 8. 12. where the line hath Ir, the Citie; and the margine At, the proper name; they put both in their Text, the citie At, and so againe in v. 16. In Prov. 23. 26. where the word in the line is derived of Rasab to be willing; and that in the margine noted to be read, is of Nasfar to keepe; they joyne both in their version, studiosè custodiant, studiously (or willingly) keepe: where the Greek and Chaldean, and most translations follow the margine only. In 1 King. 16. 26. where the line hath the forme plurall, in his sins, and the margine the singular, in his sin; they render both in their translation, in singulis peccatis ejus, in all or every of his sins. So in Dan. 9. 17. every of his words; where both line and margine are joyned in one. Likewise in Eccles. 5. 1. Keepe thy foot, or, thy feet: they expresse it, Pedem utrumque tuum. Also in Ezek. 42. 16. where the margine hath Meoth, hundred; and the line ammoth, cubits; Tremellius and Junius give these both as the Text of God, Quingentorum cubitorum calamis, reeds of five hundred cubits.

The Tigurine Latine version, in 1 King. 22. 48. where the marginall Hebrew is Asah, bee made;

made; and the I neall Asar, ten; putteth these both for divine Scripture, Fecit decem naves, he made ten ships. Again in 2 Sam. 23. 13. from the marginall word Sheloshah, three; and the other in the line Shalishim, Princes or Captaines; it giveth a translation compounded of both tres isti principes, the sethree Princes. There also our last English Interpreter translating And three of the thirty, put in their margine; Or, the three Captaines over the thirty. Moreover in Esay 61. 2. where Pekach koach in two words, or Pekachkoach in one word, is referred to the release of prisoners, or opening of the eyes of the blind; the said Tigurine version following the Evangelist, Luke 4. 18. rendreth both, vincit aperitionem, & (cacis) visum: opening (or deliverance) to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind. And those two interpretations of the Evangelist, may give light to this controversie: and by this meanes (rather than by any other that I know) may that place in the new Testament bee cleared. Zuinglius in his Latine version of the Psalmes, expresseth both the marginall Hebrew Carn, and the word in the line Caari, in Psal. 22. 17. translating frangit manus & pedes meos instar leonis, breaketh my hands and my feet like a Lion. And Arias Montanus (one whom my adversary citeth on his side) in his poetickall Psalmes, doth the like, Perfodere meas cum pedibus manus Frendens unguibus ut leo.

Munsteron 2 Sam. 23. 13. giveth both readings together, as doth the Tigurine version, of Sheloshah and Shalishim, saying, Descenderunt vero tres isti principes, &c. And in 1 King. 22. 48. fecit decem naves. The Gr. Bible in Dan. 9. 24. rendreth first the line, Kai tou sphragisai hanartias, and to seale up sinnes; then the margine, Kai apaleipsai tas anomias, & to wipe out (or do away) iniquities: & then proceedeth with the sentence following, & to make reconciliation for iniquity. So it seemeth to have reference unto both readings in Judg. 19. 3. & Pro. 26. 3.

The Chaldee paraphrast in Psa 22. 17. translateth both Carn the margine, & Caari the line, saying, Nichthin hec cearya, they did bite like a Lion: & in 2 Sam. 23. 13. (the place before mentioned) by Tlasha gibbaraja, three mighty men, it expresseth both readings. Now seeing all these have thus done before me, how is it that I only should have such blame imputed unto me?

„ Object. You make God like unto Ianus Bifrons, the idoll with two faces, to looke two divers wayes at once, in these divers and contrary readings of the same Text.

Ans. 1. A Turke or Infidell might thus object against all Christian translations, which some read one contrary to another, sometime contrary to themselves, and sometime give both readings, as before is shewed.

2. A Jew may so object against the new Testament, which alleaging the testimony of the Prophet, thou Bethlehem Ephratah art little, Mic. 5. 2. expresseth it by the negative, thou Bethlehem art not the least, Mat. 2. 6.

3 If it please God in the same speech to look divers or contrary wayes, in divers respects; What is man that hee should plead against the Lord? There is no absurdity, to a modest mind, whether with the Greek & other common Interpreters we read the negative in the line, He hath made us, and not we: or, the affirmative in the margine, He hath made us, and his we are, Psal. 100. 3. as the Chaldee, Hierom, and some other doe explaine it. Whether according to the line, we read Though he slay me, should I not trust? or after the margin, Though he slay me, I will trust in him, Iob 13. 15. for both these are one in effect; as, bath not my hand made all these things? Act. 7. 50. is the same that My hand hath made all these things, Esay 66. 2. So in 2 Sam. 2. 3. the negative in the line may be referred unto men, the affirmative in the margin unto God, as Peter Martyr accordeth them. So other seeming contrarieties in Esay 9. 3. & 49. 5. & 63. 9. and other places have bin both by Christian and Jewish Expositors reconciled by referring them to divers things or persons. Yeathus the Holy Ghost himselfe teacheth us: for in 2 Sam. 23. 18. Abishai is said to * have the name among the three: but after in 1 Chron. 11. 20. it is written, that he had not the name among the three: and so Iunius and Arias Montanus translate it. The reason hereof is, that the Scripture speaketh of two threes, the first and the second: among the second he had the name, Howbeit he attained not unto the (first) three, as is expressly said in 2 Sam. 23. 19. To signifie this, God by the later Prophet saith, he had not the name; yet noteth therewith in the margin, that he had the name, 1 Chron. 20. and sheweth the reason in vers. 21: Of the three (to wit, the later three) he was more honourable than the two, and was their captaine; howbeit he attained not to the three, to wit, the first three. Thus we see how both readings are approved of God himselfe, & even such as in shew may seem one repugnant to another. The like I have before shewed in sundry other places.

“ Object. many Hebrew Bibles want these readings you speake of; as that by Sebast. Munster;
“ the great Edition by Plantine; those by Rob. Stephanus, Raphelengius, and R. Isaak bar Shime-“ on: so that we may say with as good reason as you, that the Hebrew hath them not.

Ans. It followeth not; because some have printed the Bible without these marginall notes, therefore they were not in the originall Copies. Some of our latter small English Editions have none of the marginall notes, or signification of both readings: to say therefore that the Translators affixed no notes of those divers readings, (as in the former Editions are to be seene,) were to doe them wrong. 2 Many Hebrew Bibles are printed also, and heretofore written without any prickles, vowels, or accents: if we shall hereupon conclude, therefore the Hebrew hath them not, and they are not of Divine authority; we magnifie the Jewish Rabbins greatly, in accepting their expositions for Scripture. For all men that know that tongue, know also, that without the vowels and accents, many words & sentences may otherwise be interpreted than they are. And all Translators in all languages do now follow the Hebrew as it is vowelled. 3 The Editions spoken of by Munster, Plantine, and the rest, such of them as I have seene, have the vowels which properly belong to the words in the margin, and agree not with the words in the line, as in 2 King. 6. 25. & 10. 27. and 18. 27. and many other places, which argue those bookes to be unperfect, which have vowels to be read with consonants that are not expressed, or fit for them. 4 If the marginall readings be omitted, some Scriptures will not easily be read with any true and perfect sense, as in Ezek. 42. 16. five cubits, for five hundred: so 2 Chron. 11. 18. 1 King. 22. 33. Psal. 22. 17. 1 Sam. 4. 13. and other like, which no Interpreter that ever I saw hath expounded without the margine. 5 Munster (who is first named) omitteth not the marginal readings wholly; for in the Hebrew Bible which he set forth with his Latine version and annotations, there he conjoyneth both line & margine in his translation, 2 Sam. 23. 13. and 1 King. 22. 48. and often he expresseth both the line and margine in his Hebrew, and translateth after the margine, as in 1 Sam. 23. 18. 20. 21. 2 King. 19. 31. 37. and elsewhere.

“ Object. But the Massorites Bible have a thousand superstitions more, which by like warrant “ are there recorded unto us as divine traditions, &c. The Thalmudists also have another vile “ practise, their altikri, in changing and altring the reading of the Scripture according to their “ lust, as in Gen. 2. 4. Psal. 3. 7. and 68. 18. &c.

Ans. It cannot be shewed (for ought that I know) that ever the Jewish nation received the other Masoriticall notes, or the altikries, for part of the Canon, or text of Scriptures, as they have done all the bookes of the old Testament, with the Keries in the margine, which they reckon 848 in number. Neither can it be shewed that Translators old or new, have rendred them for divine Scripture, as I have before shewed all of them to have translated the Keries, or marginall readings in very many, yea in the most places. Neither are those notes and altikries approved by the Holy Ghost in other Scriptures, as sundry of the marginall readings are before shewed to be. Neither have the Thalmudists, or any Jew (to my knowledge) put the altikri for the word in the Text: but leave the Scripture intire as it is, and give the other but as their glosse or exposition, after that their manner of phrase, which is not to be approved. And the Massorites many notes, have their Grammaticall use for the Hebrew tongue: though the Bible is perfect without them, and translations in other languages need them not.

“ Object. If these (divers readings) were written by the Spirit of God as you will have it, “ then must they be for our learning and instruction, for increase of our comfort and hope, Rom.
“ 15. 4. but if you cannot shew that there is a certaine and sure way to gather necessary doctrine
“ from them for our edification then have we no reason to thinke with you, that they are any part “ of the Scriptures of God, or written by the Spirit of God.

Ans. All Translators old & new wil have many of them to be written by the Spirit of God, as by their versions & notes hath bin manifested; yea, and the Spirit of God himselfe by other Prophets hath confirmed sundry of them: & they are all (for ought that hath bin yet shewed) of equall authority. 2 If I, or another man cannot shew a sure way to gather necessary doctrine from every one of them, it followeth not that therefore a sure way could not heretofore, or cannot now, or shal not hereafter be shewed by any. 3 From many of them, both doctrine & comfort hath soundly bin gathered by sundry men: the like (I doubt not) may be done from the rest, as God shall furnish men with more abundance of his Spirit.

Object.

“ Object. If it were true, that Keri and Chethib were both written by the Spirit of God, &c.
“ then doe you herein declare your selfe to be guilty of great sinne, treachery and unfaithfull dealing with the Scriptures, in that you doe leave out divers parts of the same at your pleasure,
“ &c. as in Gen. 8. 17. and 10. 19. and 25. 23. and 27. 3, &c.

Ans. 1. This reason (if it be of weight) wounderth not me alone, but thorow my sides, all ancient and later Interpreters, that have read, noted, or expounded some of them, as is formerly manifested; for none hath ever read or noted them all. Though this be no excuse for me, wherein I have done amisse.

2 Those marginal readings doe many of them concerne the Hebrew tongue & Grammar, which however they may be of great and good use for the Hebrewes, & such as know that tongue; yet are they not of such use in other languages. When Arjeb a Lion, is noted to be read Ari a Lion, in 2 Sam. 23. 20. it sheweth in the Hebrew tongue an agreement with 1 Chron. 11. 22. where it is written only Ari: but in other tongues which write the name of a Lion but one way, it hath not such use. When Shenajim (in statu absoluto, as Grammarians call it) is noted to be read Shene (in statu constructo) 2 King. 17. 16. both which in English signifie two, which word with us varieth not the forme as doth the Hebrew: when Anu is by the margin to be read Anachnu in Jer. 42. 6. both which in our language signifie Wee: when in the night, Lam. 2. 19. is by the letters in the line beleb, & by the vowels and margin ballajlah, both which signifie one thing; and many the like; as in 1 King. 18. 5. & 19. 4. and 21. 8. 2 King. 7. 12. and 11. 20. and 15. 25. Esay 54. 16, &c. these differences may be profitably observed by them that know that first tongue; but in other speeches cannot so be discerned. So the order of the Hebrew Alphabet is set downe of God in some Psalmes, and in Jeremies Lamentations: which when the Hebrew is turned into other tongues, wil not so appeare. And thus Hofse in Gen. 8. 17. being to be read by the vowels and margin Hajise, bring forth; Gojim, nations, being written in the line with jod, and read in the margin with vau, in Gen. 25. 23. and sundry the like; because they so specially belong to the Hebrew tongue, and vary not in our English, I have therefore omitted to speake of. And if this reason be not of weight, let me beare my deserved blame: but let not the book of God be accused of corruption. And let the judicious and learned Reader judge of that which hath bin said.

Of the Hebrew Records.

VV Hiles the Iewes Common-wealth did stand, they had besides the writings of Moses and the Prophets, (which were of Publike & Divine authority) other civill Monuments, & private Records, (as all Kingdomes for the most part have,) for their use; some of which are mentioned in the holy Scriptures, 1os. 10. 13. 1 King 11. 41. & 14. 19. 29. But those ancient stories are now lost; some that were written betwene the times of the last Prophets, & the Apostles, yet remaine; as the two bookes of the Maccabees, and that which Iunius calleth the booke of Simeon (others, the third of the Maccabees,) the writings of Josephus, Philo, and the like. When the second Temple was destroyed by the Romans, and the Jewes Common-wealth overthrowne, & their people scattered, about the yeer of Christ 150. R. Judah hannasi began to gather the private writings, notes, records and observations which were in the hands of the Doctors of his time, & to compile them in one volume: others after him added moe unto them, with their own Commentaries; which worke they called the Thalmud, or Doctrinall. In which they have recorded the practise of the Law from old time, in their Common-wealth & Church, according to their understanding: but so, as many Jewish fables, vaine traditions received from their fathers, and false expositions of the Scriptures, are mixed with other things of better note and use. The Thalmud called Ierusalemi, was finished about the yeer of our Lord 230. and the other called Babeli, about the yeere 500. according to the Canons and constitutions whereof the Jewes live to this day. These longsome volumes were after abridged by Moses sonne of Maimon, (called Maimony, and Rambam) who lived 1100. years after our

our Lords birth; and he set downe in plainer Hebrew, the expositions, canons and traditions according to which they had interpreted the Law of God given by Moses, and practised the same: omitting the discourses, fables, disputes, &c. wherewith the Thalmud is referred. And this Maimony is of such esteeme among the Jewish nation, that of him it is said, From Moses (the Prophet) to Moses (sonne of Maimon) there was none like thus Moses. Other Expositors they have, some ancient as the Chaldee paraphrasts, of which Iorathan that interpreted the Prophets, is reported to be the Scholler of Gamaliel, at whose feet our Apostle Paul learned the Law: and Onkelos who paraphrased on the Law, was not long after him. Their latter Writers follow for the most part the Thalmuds: and notwithstanding the many fables and falsehoods that are found generally in them, yet for the many good things and probable truths which from elder dayes they doe record, they have beene and are regarded of Christian Writers heretofore, and at this day: that of them it is said, When they doe well, they are the best Expositors; and when they doe evil, they are the worst.

Now whereas I have alleaged many of their interpretations, especially from the Greek and Chaldee, and Maimony the chiefe of esteeme among them; I am for this blamed, those Writers generally condemned; and to make them the more odious, their heresies, fables, falsehoods are displayed, by him, that from two or three late Rabbines, and one Papist, disputed against the sincerity of the Hebrew Text, as before is to be seene. I will not speake of the things by me noted, but leave them to the judgement of the indifferent Reader; nor justifie my selfe for all their allegations, because they being taken from that confused heape of the Jewes traditions, some of them may haply favour too much of their leaven: They that have laboured in this kind before me, have had their second thoughts, and altered both their owne Annotations and translations in sundry points, as their publike writings manifest. But that such a generall censure should passe upon them all, (for my sake) and the Wheat should be plucked up because of the Tares, seemeth not to proceed from love, nor from a sound judgement.

And first, the esteeme which all Christian Churches have had, & yet have, of such books of the Jewish Rabbins as were written in Greek, & so came to be knowne more easily than other Chaldee and Hebrew workes, might somewhat allay the rigour of this sentence. For the story of the Maccabees, Ecclesiasticus, Wisdome, and the other Apocryphall writings of the Jewes, notwithstanding the evils in them, have beene, and are translated, commented upon, and commended to be read for instruction.

2 Other of the Rabbines, as the Thalmud, Maimony, and the like, have beene also by Expositors of the Scriptures (and those of the best esteeme) occasionally alleaged: as Tremellius in his notes upon his version of the New Testament out of Syriak, sundry times produceth them. Beza in his large Annotations on Matt. 26. noteth from Josephus, Paulus Burgensis, Tremellius, and Scaliger, sundry rituals of the Jewes about the Pascheover, and some such as I am taxed for, because I name them on Exod. 12. Vatablus often recordeth the expositions of the Chaldee and learned Hebrewes. And how many other have done the like in their notes and Commentaries, all men of learning and reading doe well know.

3 To object the Jewes heresies, fables, and false expositions of many Scriptures, is no sound reason to condemne the good things which are found in them. For even among Christian writers (and those of the ancients) sundry such things are to be seen: yet many profitable things are found in them for the opening of the Scriptures. In the Apostles dayes the Jewes were guilty of these finnes, Matth. 15. and 23. chap. Rom. 10. 3. Tit. 1. 14. 2 Pet. 1. 16. Yet Christ commanded to heare the Scribes and Pharisees sitting in Moses chaire, Matth. 23. 1. 2. Now the eare trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat, Iob 34. 3. and as by hearing their speeches, the godly wise might discern when they taught according to Moses, and when they spake of themselves; so by reading their writings, men of understanding may doe the like at this day.

4 The Apostles also in alleaging sometimes the Testimonies of the Rabbines, do teach us that their writings are not wholly to be despised. Paul nameth Iannes and Iambres the chief forcerers of Egypt, 2 Tim. 3. 8. out of the private Records of the Jewes, as may yet be read in their Thalmud. He rehearseth the persecutions of the godly under Antiochus, recorded in the book of the Maccabees, Heb. 11. 35 &c. Others speake of the content on between Michael and the devill, about the body of Moses; and of the prophesie of Enoch, Iude v. 9.

14, 15. of the marriage betweene Salmon and Rachab, Math. 1. 5. and the like, Act. 5. 36, 37.

5 The Gentiles were fallen from God, and turned his truth into a lie, and corrupted religion with their fables and vanities, Rom. 1. yet the Holy Ghost citeth and maketh use of their sayings in the Scriptures, Acts 17. 28. 29. 1 Cor. 15. 33. Tit. 1. 12. And who hath ever interpreted the visions of Daniel, and of the Apostle Iohn in the Revelation, without the helpe of the stories of the Maccabees, Josephus, Polybius, Eusebius, and other humane Writers? Wherefore, as I my selfe have reaped light and profit by the things which I have read in such, so have I noted sundry of them, for the good of others. As for the Exceptions taken against the Greeke version of the Bible, (so much approved by the Holy Ghost in the new Testament) and the Chaldee paraphrases, they are such, as before men of knowledge and understanding need no further reply.

Of the Interpretation of the Stone Iahalom, in Exod. 28. 18.

I Will only annex a few words about a place of Scripture, for the interpretation whereof I am specially blamed. It is for expressing the Hebrew Iahalom, in Exod. 28. 18. by the Greeke name Sardonix, as I understand the Holy Ghost to expound it, in Revel. 21. 20. I am asked for prooffe or shew of prooffe, that Iohn did translate all the 12 stones from Natons breast, to the heavenly Ierusalem, (in Rev. 21.) and am charged with presumption in obstruding my conceits upon the Holy Ghost, and taking the name of God in vaine: and it is affirmed, that Iahalom should be translated the Adamant or Diamond, according to the example of the best Translators both new and old.

All men of any reading doe know how diversly those 12 stones in Exod. 28. are expressed by Interpreters, that scarcely any two agree together; if then among many I have somewhere missed in interpreting them, it might be imputed to humane infirmity, rather than to presumption, especially seeing I ground my exposition upon that other Scripture, Revel. 21. My prooffe, or shew of prooffe, that the Holy Ghost there translateth the 12 stones from Exod. 28. is this:

1 The continuall course of the Spirit of God throughout the booke of the Revelation, which is to take matters, words and phrases, from Moses and the Prophets, and apply them to the things there prophesied. As in Revel. 4. the Church is described from the ancient figure the Tabernacle of Moses, and from the visions of other Prophets, Esay 6. Ezek. 1. The number of 24 Elders, according to the lots & divisions of the Priests and Levites by David, in 1 Chron 24. 3. -- 19. and 25. 7. -- 31. The foure living creatures answerable in number to the foure standards in the campe of Israel, Numb 2. in shape, to the living creatures, in Ezek. 1. In Rev. 5. Christ is shewed like a Lambe slaine, according to the sacrifice under the old Testament. In Rev. 6. Gods administration is set forth by the similitude of horses and riders, as in Zach. 1. and 6. and with such judgement as the Prophets threatned of old Esay 34. 4. In Revel. 7. Gods people are sealed on their foreheads, according to Ezek. 9. 4. & the twelve tribes of Israel are expressed by their names. And so in other things throughout that booke, as the studious Reader may observe, which for brevity I will now omit. If then the whole tenour of that Revelation be to prophesie of matters from former types and predictions, it is consonant and proportionable that the like is done in Revel 21.

2 And that 21. Chapter foretelling the restauration of the Church, after the fall of Antichrist, & withall (as the best Expositors have opened it) of the calling againe of the Jewes, according to the prophesies of old, and of our Apostle in Rom. 11. it is not likely, but the holy Ghost, who throughout those visions, & in matters concerning the Gentiles, alludeth to the old Testament, would much rather doe the like where he prophesieth of the Jewes.

3 Many particulars in that Chapter confirme this, as when the Church is called by the old name Ierusalem, Rev. 21. vers. 2. 10. and the Tabernacle of God, vers. 3. when expresse mention mention is made of the names of the twelve tribes of Israel; to be at the twelve gates, ver. 12. when the Citie is measured (according to the visions of old, Ezek. 40. 3.) with a reed, ver. 16. when God and the Lambe are called the Temple of it, vers. 22. and sundry the like.

4. It will not be denied (I suppose) by men of understanding which compare the Scriptures, that these last visions of Iohn have reference in many things to the last visions of Ezekiel. As the gates of the Citie have their names of the tribes of Israel, which there are expressed, one of Reuben, one of Judah, one of Levi, &c. Ezek. 48. 31, &c. so the gates of the Citie which Iohn saw, have at them the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel, Rev. 21. 12. There, waters issue out of Gods house, Ezek. 47. 1. &c. so here is a pure river of water of life, Rev. 22. 1. There, trees grow by the river, Ezek. 47. 12. here, the tree of life, Rev. 22. 2. with other things concordant. So that the state of the Church there being described from Israel, and the possession of the tribes by name, Ezek. 48. yeeldeth strong probability of the like allusions here; and consequently of the twelve precious stones, to the stones of the tribes, which are no where named but by Moses in Exodus.

5. And this the rather, because as Aarons ornaments were for glory and beauty, Exod. 28. 2. so these stones are for garnishment to the foundations of the walls of the Citie, Rev. 21. 19. And the Tabernacle of Moses was walled (as we may say) with the twelve Tribes which compassed it in a square, Num. 2. Now, seeing the Saints are compared to precious stones, Lam. 4. 1, 2, 7. 1 Pet. 2. 5. unto what company rather than to the 12 tribes, described by the precious stones in Aarons Ephod, may we think hath the Lord reference in Rev. 21.

6. Again, seeing the names of the Lambs twelve Apostles are in the foundations of this wall, Rev. 21. 14. which Apostles are answerable to the twelve Patriarchs of the tribes, both in number (so noted by the Spirit of God, v. 12. 14.) and in propagation of the Church spiritually by the Gospel, 1 Cor. 4. 15. Gal. 4. 19. 3. Ioh. v. 4. as the Patriarchs were fathers of the ancient Church, both in the flesh, and in the Lord; and in government, as the other governed the Tribes, Psal. 45. 16. Matt. 19. 28. 1 Cor. 4. 19. 21. besides other things wherein they may be compared, it seemeth most fit, & according to the things both in this Chapter, & whole Book, that the precious stones by which these twelve foundations are described, should be answerable to the 12 precious stones whereon the names of the Patriarchs were graven, Ex. 28. for there is no place else in the Scripture whereto they can have reference.

7. Moreover, there is in the Prophets another name of the Adamant, or Diamond, called in Hebrew Shamir, which is noted of the Holy Ghost to be hard, even harder than flint, Zac. 7. 12. Ezek. 3. 9. and to be of use for graving, Ier. 17. 1. so that the speciall things which mine Opposite observeth from Plinie an heathen writer, of the nature of the Adamant, are by the testimony of God found in this Shamir. And it is translated the Adamant, by consent of the most Interpreters both old and new, & by the Greeke version in Ier. 17. 1. that if the voices of learned men may end this controversie, there be as many or moe for Shamir to be the Adamant, than can (I suppose) be brought for Iahalom. And the same Prophet which useth Shamir for the Adamant, when he hath reference to the stones on the Ephod, retaineth the names in Exodus, & the Iahalom among them, Ezek. 3. 9. & 28. 13. Wherefore if Shamir be the Hebrew name of the Adamant, the stone Iahalom in Ex. 28, may well be another than it; and if another, where may we safer seek it than in Rev. 21. for the reasons before shewed?

That which is alleaged for the contrary, from the notation of the word Iahalom, & consent of many Interpreters, and the like, hath (I confesse) probability; and were it not for the causes above shewed, I would thinke it to be the Adamant, though the notation likewise of Shamir, and agreement of Interpreters, may also perswade it to be the Adamant; and for Plinies testimony of the Adamants, that they are desired of engravers, it accordeth to this Shamir, as we may learne of the Prophet, Ier. 17. 1. And for the price of the Adamant above the Sardonix, or any gem, or other humane things, as the same Plinie reporteth, it wil not (though so it be) end this question; seeing it is not necessary to conclude, that God would chuse the most precious thing to signifie grace in men, which have it but in part; especially, seeing he putteth this stone not in the first, but in the sixth place, as the Iahalom is ordered in Ex. 28. 18. Yea, it is plainly without likelihood, that God would impart the most precious thing among the Patriarchs, & take it away from among the Apostles, (for it is sure, no Adamant is to be found in Rev. 21.) This were to preferre the old Testament before the New the Law before the Gospel, Moses before Christ, contrary to the Apostles doctrine in 2 Cor. 3. and to make the

the holy Jerusalem, the Bride the Lambs wife, (which is said to have the glory of God, and her walls garnished with all manner of precious stones, and many other like excellencies, Rev. 21. 9. 10. 19. &c.) to be inferiour in glory to Moses Sanctuary, & the earthly Jerusalem, & those that ministred in the same; which a man of sound judgement will not easily beleewe. And whatsoever Plinie saith of the preciousnesse of the Adamant, we are assured from God that the Sardonix is precious, Revel. 21. 19. 20. & Plinie himselfe confirmeth it, by the example of the Tyrant Polycrates, who so greatly esteemed the Sardonix in his ring, that he valued the losse thereof, with all his wealth and felicity, which hee confessed to be exceeding great, Nat. Hist. l. 37. c. 1. And Claudius the Romane Emperour used to weare Emeralds and Sardonyches, Plin. ibidem c. 6. so that the Latine Poets when they noted men for their stateliness, spake of their hands garnished with Sardonyches, Martial. l. 3. Iuvenal. Sat. 6. and shew of what esteeme they were, in saying, gemmaq; princeps Sardonychus, loculis qua custoditur eburnis, Iuvenal. Sat. 13.

The reason from Rev. 7. 5-8. that the tribes are there reckoned up by the Holy Ghost, with omission of Dan, otherwise than they are reckoned in any place of the old Testament; weakneth not, but rather confirmeth that which I have said. For as there is no new person put in stead of any tribe, or new name given to any tribe, but such as was given before in the old Testament: so neither is it likely that in Rev. 21. any other new stone should be placed, than such as agreeth with the description of Moses; so that the Sardonyx should be looked for in Exo. 28. among the rest. Againe, the omission of Dan in Rev. 7. accordeth very well with the old Testament; for though Josephs sonnes Ephraim and Manasses made two tribes, Genes. 48. 5. 6. Num. 1. 30. 33. 35. so that after a sort there were thirteene; yet the Scripture usually nameth and reckoneth them but twelve, that the name of the twelve tribes is famous also in the new Testament, Luk. 22. 30. Act. 26. 7. Iam. 1. 1. Rev. 21. 12. And when they are reckoned by the Prophets, one commonly is omitted; for either Joseph is named in stead of his two sonnes, as in Gen. 49. or if they two be mentioned, Levi (for his separation to the Lords service in the Tabernacle) is omitted, as in Num. 13. and often; or if both he & they be expressed, some one of the other is let passe, as Simeon is unnamed in the blessing of the tribes, Deut. 33. Accordingly the Spirit of God in Rev. 7. naming Levi, and Manasses, and Joseph for his sonne Ephraim, wasto omit the name of some other; unlesse hee should have counted 13. tribes, contrary to the course of the Scriptures, and scope of the matter therein hand. Why Dan is not named in Rev. 7. or Simeon in Deut. 33. belongeth not to this question; it sufficeth that there is no new practise in Revel. 7. differing from the Prophets; neither need we looke for any innovation among the precious stones, Rev. 21

Thus have I, according to the measure of knowledge which God hath given me, and as the extreme infirmity of my body would permit, made answer to the chiefe matters objected, especially such as concerne the Scriptures, and may by them be decided. Other things wherein I have shewed either mine owne, or other mens judgement, I will not contend about. Let not any thing which I have written be accepted without triall, or further than it agree h with the truth. The learned which have interpreted and opened the Scriptures, have had their second thoughts, & altered both their versions & Expositions in sundry places, as al men know but in part. For things wherein I have missed, I humbly crave pardon of God, & of his people; to such as have the spirit in them that lusteth after envie,

I wish a better mind; to such as love the truth, encrease of knowledge & grace:

and for ought that is good and profitable in my labours, the praise therefore be unto him that is Author of every good gift and worke; the benefit thereof unto those that love his Name, which be blessed for ever, Amen.

A PREFACE CONCERNING DAVID, his Life and Acts.

DAVID the son of Iesse, of the tribe of Iudah, of the lineage of Abraham in the ^afourteenth generation, was borne in Bethlehem (a towne in the tribe of Iudah, in the land of Canaan,) about 2917 yeeres after the creation of the World, in the dayes when Samuel the Prophet was Iudge of Israel. He was the ^bseventh and youngest of all Iesses sons, of least esteeme among them, and set to keepe his fathers ^csheepe. In the 23. yeere of his life, hee was by Samuel the Prophet privately in Bethlehem anointed ^dKing over Israel, in the midst of his brethren, and the Spirit of the Lord came upon him from that day forward. Hee was ^eruddy, of a beautifull countenance, and goodly to looke to; a ^fcunning player on the Harpe, a mighty valiant man of warre, and prudent in speech, and a comely person, and the Lord was with him: Who also gave him these testimonies and promises; ^gI have found David, the son of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which shall fulfill all my will. ^hI have laid helpe on one that is mighty, I have exalted one chosen out of the people, with whom my hand shall be established, mine arme also shall strengthen him; I will ⁱbeat downe his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him. In my name shall his borne be exalted; I will set his hand in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers; I will make him my first borne, higher than the Kings of the earth. My mercy will I keepe for him for ever, and my covenant shall stand fast with him; his seed will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the dayes of heaven, &c.

After Davids anointing in Bethlehem, he went againe and fed his ^lfatthers sheepe: but the Spirit of God wrought mightily in him. Hee killed ^mGoliath the Philistian Giant, from whose face ⁿall the men of Israel fled away for feare: David overcame him (in the name of the Lord of hosts) with a sling and with a stone. He was a cunning Musician; and ^oplaying on his Harpe with his hand, he refreshed King Saul, who was vexed with an evill spirit from the Lord. He was imployed in wars against the Philistines: and ^pwhither soever Saul sent him, he behaved himselfe wisely and prospered, and was accepted in the eyes of all the people; so that the women of Israel sang of him, ^qSaul hath slaine his thousands, and David his ten thousands. But that praise ^rprocured him envie from Saul ever after, and he sought to slay him: but ^sal Israel loved him. And though he after tooke to wife Michal, Sauls daughter, yet ^tSaul continued his hatred against his sonne in law; and first secretly, then openly sought his life: so that David was faine to flee and hide himselfe in the land of Israel, and in strange countries, to the ^ugreat affliction of his soule.

When Saul was dead, and David ^vthirtie yeeres of age, the men of Iudah ^wanointed him King the second time, in Hebron, over the house of Iudah. Ishbosbeth, Sauls son, resisted him; but David waxed stronger and stronger. Then ^xall Israel anointed sing unto him among the nations: so he sang of his^o power, he sang loud of his mercy in the morning, that God had beene his defence and refuge in the day of his distresse.

And hereof this booke of Psalmes (most whereof David made) is a glorious testimony; wherein by manifold Psalmes, and Hymnes, and spirituall Songs, hee set forth the praises of God, his owne faith in his Word, exercise and delight in his Law, with narrations of Gods former and present mercies, and prophecies of future graces to be fulfilled in Christ, whom he (being a Prophet)^p knew that he should be the fruit of his loines concerning the flesh, and should sit upon his throne, whose incarnation, afflictions, death, resurrection, ascension, and eternall glorious kingdome and priesthood, he sang by the Spirit, with such heavenly melody, as may not only delight, but draw into admiration every understanding heart, and comfort the afflicted soule with such consolation as David himselfe was comforted of the Lord.

Now because many things, both for phrase and matter, are difficult to such as are not acquainted with Davids language, I have (out of my slender store) annexed a few briefe notes, comparing the Scriptures, and conferring the best Expositors, especially the ancient Greeke and Chaldee versions, whereby if any helpe of understanding may arise, the praise be to God, the comfort to his people.

THE BOOKE OF PSALMES, OR HYMNES.

PSALME I.

¹ The happinesse of the godly, whose conversation is described, and their prosperity like a fruitfull tree. ⁴ The contrary course of the wicked, for which they and their way doe perishe.

Blessed is the man that doth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornfull. But hath his delight in the law of Jehovah, & in his law doth hee meditate day and night. And he shall be as a tree planted by brooks of waters, which shall give his fruit in his time, and his leafe shall not fade, and whatsoever he shall doe, shall prosper. Not so the wicked; but as the chaffe which the wind driveth it away. Therefore the wicked shall not stand up in judgement, and sinners in the assembly of the just. For Jehovah knoweth the way of the just, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

Annotations.

THE Booke of Psalmes] so our Lord himselfe intitlesh it, Luke 20. 42. but the Hebrew title Tebillim, signifieth Hymnes or Praises. According to the Greeke, it is called the Psalter.

Verf. 1. O blessed] or O Happy, or Well fares the man. A joyfull acclamation for the mans welfare and felicitie, as going right forward, and so having good successe, Contrary hereunto is Woe, or Alas, Eccles. 10. 16, 17. Luk. 6. 20, 24. This word

Ashrei in the Hebrew, is alwayes applied to men and so differeth from another word, Barnu, blessed; which is ascribed both to God and men, Psal. 115. 15, 18. the contrary whereto is, cursed, Psal. 37. 22. doth not walke] or, hath not walked. But the time past, and time to come, are in the Hebrew often used for to expresse continued actions: Walking signifieth ones conversation, both touching faith and workes, Psalm. 119. 1. Gen. 5. 24. compared with Hebr. 11. 5, 6. 2 Pet. 2. 10. Iud. 11. To walke in the counsell of any, is either to doe as they advise and suggest, as did Ahaziah, 2 Chron. 22. 3, 4, 5, or by imitation to doe like others before, as did Israel, Mich. 6. 16. But in every respect the counsell of the wicked should bee farre from us, Iob 21. 16. and 22. 18. Wicked] that is, ungodly: so our English word meaneth, being made of the old Danish wgudelig; or we may call them according to the originall, Restlesse, turbulent, unjust, ungracious. The Hebrew rasbangh, signifieth restlesse, and is opposed to quietnesse, Iob 34. 29. Such men are without peace in themselves, and seeke to disturbe and molest others, Prov. 4. 16. likened therefore to the raging sea, Esay 47. 20, 21. And because for their evill deeds they are often brought forth to judgement, & condemned; therefore is this name given to condemned persons, Psal. 109. 7. Iob 27. 7. And as to make just, or justifie, is to acquit or absolve in judgement, Psal. 82. 3. so, to make or pronounce wicked, is to condemne, Psal. 37. 33. and 94. 21. Deut. 25. 1. Way] track, or trade. This word also signifieth any religion, doctrine, manners, actions, administration, or course of life, Psal. 5. 9. and 25. 4. and 86. 11. Act. 18. 25, 26. and 22. 4. 2 Pet. 2. 2. 15. 21. Sinners] or misdoers, erroneous, enormous. Though there is no man just on earth, that doth good, & sinneth not, Eccle. 7. 22. yet such are usually called sinners, as be given to vice, & have the course of their life evil,

Gen. 13. 13. 1 Sam. 15. 18. Psal. 26. 9. and 104. 36. Matt. 26. 45. Luke 7. 37. Ioh. 9. 16. 31. In this respect, they that are borne of God, are said not to sinne, 1 Ioh. 3. 9. and Solomon opposeth the sinner to the good man, Eccles. 9. 3. See the note on Psal. 4. 5.

not sit in the seat] or, and hath not sitten, &c. To sit is to abide, continue, dwell, Psal. 2. 4. and 101. 6, 7. and 132. 14. or to company, and have familiarity with any, Psal. 26. 4, 5. And the originall moshab here Englished seat, is diversly used, as, for a seat or chaire to sit on, 1 Sam. 20. 25. Iob 29. 7. (which noteth authority;) sometime, an habitation or dwelling, Psal. 107. 4. 7. and 132. 13. sometime an assise, session, or assembly, Psal. 107. 32. And so may it be here taken for the assembly of the scornfull, and their society, as the Chaldee version explaineth it.

The scornfull] Proud rhetorical mockers, Losels. The word importeth pride, as, the Lord scorneth the scorners, Prov. 3. 34. that is, resisteth the proud, Iam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5. It implieth also eloquence, often used in mockes, Iob 16. 20. The Greeke translateth them pestilent; they are of the worst sort of sinners, which admit of no reproof: therefore it is said, Rubinke not a scorner, lest hee hate thee, Prov. 9. 7. 8.

Verf. 2. hath his delight] or his pleasure is.

Law] or doctrine. See the notes on Psal. 19. 8.

Jehovah] or the Lord, as the Greek and the new Testament usually expresseth it. The opening of this name, see on Psal. 83. 19. and Gen. 2. 4.

doth meditate] or shall meditate, that is, usually meditateth. This word importeth study and exercise of the mind, which often bursteth out into voice. It is used for musings in the mind or heart, Prov. 24. 2. Esay 33. 18. for musering with the mouth, that which the heart mindeth, Psal. 3. 1. and 37. 30. Prov. 8. 2. Isa. 59. 3. but with a low imperfect voice, Isay 8. 19. day and night] or, by day and by night, that is, continually.

3 Verf. 3. Brookes] or, beckes, riverets; in Hebrew called Plagim, that is, divisions or partitions, being little streames derived either from a great river, as Psal. 46. 5. or from a well or fountaine, as Prov. 5. 16. or from any other head, Iob 39. 6. In hot countries they use to plant gardens neere well-springs of water, from which the husband-man deriveth many little becks or riverets, to run on the roots of the trees set in a row, whereby they are moistned and made fruitfull. See Ezek. 31. 3. 4. Eccles. 2. 6. According to this, Christ is called the fountain of the gardens, that is, of the Churches, Song. 4. 15. Also in Ier. 17. 8. the godly man is likened to a tree planted by waters, which thrusteth out his roots by the river, and feeleth not when the heat commeth, and careth not for the yeere of drought, nor ceaseth from making (or yeelding) fruit. in his time] that is, in due time or season; so Psal. 104. 27. and 145. 15. Lev. 26. 4. The Chaldee translateth, whose fruit is ripe in his time. whatsoever he shall doe] or, all that he shall make or yeeld, meaning the tree, the resemblance of the man. For a tree is said to make fruit, when it beareth or yeeldeth it, Ier. 17. 8. So in Matth. 3. 8. 10. where men are trees, & their workes fruits, which they make or yeeld. Shall prosper] or thrive, and so be of good use. And this is in a tree, when the fruit is for meat, and the leafe for medicine; as Ezek. 47. 12. The just mans fruit, is the fruit of the tree of life, Prov. 11. 30. So the Chaldee (in the Masorites Bible) calleth this tree here spoken of, the tree of life.

Verf. 4. drizeth it away] or tosseth away; therefore the Chaldee, for wind, translateth whirle-wind, or tempest; and in Iob 21. 18. it is said, such are as chaffe, that the tempest stealeth away. Compare also Psal. 35. 5. Hos. 13. 3. The word it is added for vehemencie sake, and may be omitted in our English, as it is sometime in the Hebrew, 2 Chro. 28. 3. compared with 2 King. 16. 3. yet such manner of speeches the Greeke also in the New Testament useth, Revel. 7. 2. 9.

Verf. 5. stand up] or rise up, consist, stand sure; opposed to lying or falling downe, Psal. 18. 39. and 20. 9. God is hee that riseth up to judgements, Psal. 76. 10. & men doe stand or fall therein, when they are justified or condemned. See Mat. 12. 41. Rev. 6. 16. So the Chaldee (in the Masorites Bible) expoundeth it, they shall not be justified in the great day of judgement. and sinners] to wit, shall not stand up. The former deniall, not, is againe to be understood, as in Psal. 9. 19.

Verf. 6. knoweth] or acknowledgeth. This word also importeth regard and care of; as, the just man knoweth (that is, regardeth) his beasts life, Prov. 12. 10. so Iob 9. 21. 1 Thess. 5. 12. Also to approve, or allow, as Psal. 10. 1. 4. Rom. 7. 15. 1 Ioh. 3. 2. And as Gods knowledge of his, implieth their election, 2 Tim. 2. 19. so his not knowing of the wicked, implieth their rejection, Mat. 25. 12. & 7. 23.

shall perish] or, be done away, decay, be lost. To this way of the wicked, which perisheth, is opposed the good way, which is everlasting; wherein David desired God to lead him, Psal. 139. 24.

PSALME II.

1 David prophesieth of the rage of Iewes and Gentiles against Christ. 4 Gods wrath against them for it. 6 Christ is established King, 7 declared to be the Sonne of God, 8 heire and ruler of the world. 10 Kings are exhorted to submit unto him.

1 VVhy doe the heathens tumultuously rage; & the peoples meditate vanity? The Kings 2 of the earth set themselves, and the Princes doe plot together against Jehovah, & against his Christ. Let us break their bands, & cast 3 their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens laugheth, the Lord mocketh at 4 them. Then will he speake unto them in his anger, & in his wrath he will suddenly trouble them. And I have anointed my King up- 5 on Sion, the mountaine of my holinesse. 6

7 I will tell the decree; Jehovah said unto me, thou art my son; I this day begat thee.
8 Aske of mee and I will give the Heathens for thine inheritance, & the ends of the earth for thy firme possession. Thou shalt roughly rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessel of a potter thou shalt scatter them in peeces.
10 And now, O ye Kings, be prudent, be nurtured ye Judges of the earth. Serve yee Jehovah with feare, and be glad with trembling. Kisse yee the sonne lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his anger shall burne suddenly; O blessed are all that hope for safety in him.

Annotations.

1 WHY or, For what? David was the writer of this Psalm, (as the Greeke prefixeth this title, A Psalm of David;) and hee beginneth with marvelling at the rage and folly of the Iewes and Gentiles, in persecuting Christ and his Church, Act. 4. 25, &c. And as David himselfe was a figure of Christ in his kingdome, and a father of him according to the flesh: so suffered he the like opposition at the hands of his owne people, and of the nations round about him, 2 Sam. 2. 10. and 3. 1. and 5. 17. and 10. 6, 7, &c. Tumultuously rage or, battle together, converse with rage and up-rore mutinously. This word is also used in Daniels case, Dan. 6. 6. 11. and after in Psalm. 64. 3. The Greeke ephraxan, whereby the Holy Ghost translateth it, Act. 4. 25. denoteth rage, pride, and fiercenesse, as of horses that neigh and rush into the battell. peoples or nations: under these names are comprehended the Iewes with the Gentiles, Act. 4. 27. 28. meditate vanity mutter a vaine or empty thing, which shall have no effect. And here the Hebrew changeth the time (as it doth very often elsewhere) will meditate, noting by such phrase a continuance of the action, as they that did still or usually meditate vaine things. But the holy Ghost in Act. 4. 25. keepeth like time here as before: whose example I follow, according to the propriety of our tongue. So after in this Psalm and many other. The Hebrew text it selfe sometime doth the like, as Isai. 37. 33. compared with 1 King. 19. 33. See the notes on Psalm. 18. 7.

2 Verf. 2. Set themselves or present themselves, will stand up, noting a settled purpose in the heart, with a standing up in person to act the same, 1 Chron. 11. 14. princes rulers, or privie counsellors, subtle, prudent, and employed in making decrees, Prov. 8. 15. next therefore in place to Kings, and joynd with them, as here, so in Judg. 5. 3. Hab. 1. 10. Prov. 31. 4. plot conspire, or, are founded, that is, have their foundation, plot, or groundworke laid, as, Exod. 9. 18. Isa. 44. 28. and this by assembling and consulting, and is therefore interpreted, gathered together, Act. 4. 26. So the Chaldee translateth it, conspire (or joynd together) to rebell before the Lord, and to fight against his anointed.

Christ or Anointed, in Hebrew, Masbiach or Messias, which word, though it be generall for the ancient Kings, and Priests, and Prophets that were anointed with oyle, (Psalm. 89. 21. and 105. 15. Isa. 45. 1. Numb. 3. 3. 1 King. 19. 16.) yet is it principally the name of the Son of God, our Saviour, Dan. 9. 25. 26. who was knowne in Israel by the name Messias, Ioh. 1. 41. and 4. 25. and among Greekes, by the name Christ; of whom wee that beleeve in his name, are also called Christians, Act. 11. 26. because we have an Anointing from him that is holy, 1 Joh. 3. 20. 27. himselfe being first anointed with the Spirit, and with the oyle of gladnesse above his fellowes, Luke 4. 18. Psalm. 45. 8. Of him is this Psalm interpreted by his Apostles, saying; Of a truth, Lord, against thy holy Child Iesus, whom thou anointedst, gathered were both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the nations and peoples of Israel, to doe whatsoever thy hand and thy counsell had fore-determined to be done, Act. 4. 27. 28.

Verf. 3. their bands These were signes of subjection, Ier. 27. 2, 3, 6. 7. And thus the Kings and nations speak, refusing to serve Christ, though his yoke be easie, Matt. 11. 29. 30. Ier. 5. 5. The Hebrew phrase mo, importeth their bands and his; speaking of the Father and the Son joyntly, and of the Son in speciall: but hee that honoureth not the Sonne, he honoureth not the Father which sent him, Ioh. 5. 23. So in the verse following, the Lord mocketh at them and at him; meaning them all joyntly, and each severally. The like manner of speech see in Esay 53. 8. and 44. 15. Lam. 4. 10. Psalm. 5. 12. and 11. 7. and 49. 14. and 59. 9. Iob 22. 19. Exod. 15. 15. Deut. 32. 23 32 35. 37 cords or ropes, thick twisted bands: signes also of subjection and restraint. Iob 39. 15. Ezek. 4. 8. and sometime of love, Hosea 11. 4.

Verf. 4. The Lord in Hebrew, Adonai; which in this forme is the peculiar title of God; having the forme plurall, and vowels of Jehovah, myttically signifying my staies, or my sustainers, my pillars. And where in one place Adonai is used, another speaking of the same thing hath sometime Jehovah. See Psalm. 57. 10. with Psalm. 108. 4. It cometh of Aeden, a base or pillar which sustaineth any thing. The Chaldee translateth it, the Word of the Lord, that is, the title of Christ, Iohn 1. 1. Revel. 19. 13. Our English word Lord hath much like force, being contracted of the old Saxon Laeford, or Hlaeford, which cometh of Laef, to sustaine, refresh, cherish. mocketh will mocke, deride. This implieth both their folly, their punishment for it, and how God will leave them helpelesse in their miserie, Psalm. 59. 9. Prov. 26. 28. It is spoken of God, after the manner of men, that he laugheth, mocketh, is angry, and the like, not that he hath such passions as men, but because hee doth such things as men use to do when they are moved with such passions: and as the Hebrew Doctors say, The law speaketh (of God) according to the language of the formes of Adam. See the Annotations on Gen. 6. 6.

5 Verse 5. anger] ire, outward in the face, grame, grimnesse or fiercenesse of countenance. The originall aph signifieth both the Nose by which one breatheth, Psal. 115. 6. and Anger which appeareth in the snuffing or breathing of the nose; as Saul is said to breath out threatnings and slaughter, Acts 9. 1. The circumstances of the Text will shew which of the two is meant: though sometime it is doubtfull, as Psalme 138. 7. wrath] seruent ire, inflamed displeasure. This word Charon, noteth burning or inflammation of choler; sometime of griefe, Gen. 4. 5. Ier. 4. 10. sometime of other affections, Nehem. 3. 20. suddenly trouble] or vex, apall fright make them to start. It noteth hastinesse of feare and trouble: opposed to firme staiednesse.

6 Verse 6 And I] The word And is here a signe of indignation stirred, as was in the Apostle, when he said, And sittest thou to judge me, &c. Acts 23. 3. or and may be used here for but, as in Genes. 42. 10. Isai. 10. 20. and often otherwhere. have anointed] or powred out, that is, ordained, authorized: by powring out the oyle of the spirit, the oyle of gladnesse, as is noted on verse 2. Of this word Nasac that signifieth to shed or powre out, Nasick is used for a governour, or one in authority, Psalme 83. 12. Ios. 13. 21. Mic. 5. 5. Dan. 11. 8. According hereto, the wisdom of God saith, Prov. 8. 23. I was anointed (or authorized from everlasting. In David Christs figure, this was outwardly performed, when hee was anointed King, with oyle, 1 Sam. 16. 1. 13. and 2 Sam. 2. 4. and 5. 3. upon Sion] or, over Tsjon, the name of an high mountaine in Ierusalem, on top whereof was a strong fort, which the heathen Iebusites kept by force from Israel, till Davids dayes, Ios. 15. 63. 2 Sam. 5. 6, 7. but he tooke it from them, fortified it, and called it Davids citie, 1 Chron. 11. 4, 5, 7. Neere unto this was mount Marijab, whereon Solomon built the Temple, 2 Chron. 3. 1. Hereupon Ierusalem was called the holy citie, Nehem. 11. 1. Esay 53. 1. and 48. 2. Matt. 4. 5, with Luke 4. 9. and Sion is named the Lords holy mountaine, Ioel 3. 17. which he loved, Psal. 78. 68. from which the law should come forth, Isay 2. 3. and where he would dwell for ever, Psa. 132. 13, 14. Therefore was it a figure of Christ Church, Heb. 12. 22. Revel. 14. 1. Isai. 60. 14. mountaine of my holinesse] or my mount of holinesse, that is, my holy mount, as the Greeke turneth it. So the Temple of Gods holinesse Psalme 79. 1. and people of his holinesse, Esay 63. 18. And in speech to Daniel, Ierusalem is called, the citie of his holinesse, that is, his holy citie, by him so esteemed and regarded, Dan. 9. 24. Such Hebrew phrases, because they are more forcible, the Apostle often used in Greeke, to inure the Gentiles with them: as Christ is called the Sonne of Gods love, that is, his beloved sonne, Col. 1. 13. our Lord Iesus Christ of glory, that is, our glorious Lord, Iames 2. 1. and many the like.

7 Verse 7. I will tell] telling is often used for preaching, declaring, shewing, as Psalme 32. 23. with Hebr. 2. 12. Exod. 9. 16. with Rom. 9. 17. So hereby Christ noteth his propheticall office. the decree] Here the Hebrew el seemeth to be used for etb: as el badereb, 2 Chron. 6. 27, is the same that

etb badereb, 1 King. 8. 36. we may also read it thus, I will tell of the decree; el being many times used for of, as Gen. 20. 2. Job 43. 27. 2 King. 19. 32. Ier. 51. 60. So the Greeke pros (answering to the Hebrew el) is used for of, or concerning, Heb. 1. 7. and 4. 13. decree] prescript, law or statute: the Greeke translateth it, the ordinance of the Lord; the Chaldee, the Covenant of God. The Hebrew Cbook usually denoteth the rules, decrees, and ordinances about Gods worship, as the decree of the Passover, Exodus 12. 24. 43. the decree of dressing the lamps, Exodus 27. 21. of the Priests office and garments, Exodus 29. 9. of their washing, Exodus 30. 21. of the sacrifices, Levit. 3. 17. and 6. 18. 22. and many other things about Gods service. So may it here be taken, that Christ preacheth the decree or rule of his calling to the office of Priesthood, as the Apostle gathereth from this place, Hebr. 5. 5. or of serving God, fulfilled of us by faith and obedience to his Gospel, when these legall ordinances had an end, Ioh. 4. 21, &c. thou art my sonne] Though holy men bee called the sonnes of God, Deut. 14. 1. 1 Ioh. 3. 1. and likewise Angels, Iob 1. 6. and 38. 7. yet is this title naturall & peculiar to our Lord Iesus, the only begotten of the Father; whereupon the Apostle saith, to which of the Angels said he this at any time? Heb. 1. 5. The word art is supplied by the Apostle, in Acts 13. 33. the like is sometime in the Hebrew Text it selfe; as, True was the word, 1 King. 10. 6, which in 2 Chro. 9. 5. is, True the word: so, Thou leading out, 1 Chron. 11. 2. Thou wast leading out, 2 Sam. 5. 2. Also in the Greeke of the New Testament, Summer neere, Mat. 24. 32. Summer is neere, Luk. 21. 30.

I, this day] or, to day begat thee, The word this is often omitted in the Hebrew; as Deut. 4. 4. 8. 39. and 5. 1. 3. and 26. 17, 18, and often is expressed, as Deut. 2. 25. 30, and 4. 20, and 26. 16. and 27. 9. Of this point. thus speaketh the Apostle: Tou- ching the promise made to the Fathers, God hath fulfilled it unto us their children, in that he raised up Iesus, as it is written in the second Psalme, Thou art my sonne, I this day begat thee, Acts 13. 32. 33. See also Rom. 1. 4 and Hebr. 5. 5. where Christs calling to bee our high Priest, is from hence proved.

8 Verse 8. for thine inheritance] or, to be thine inheritance. This noteth the subjection of the nations to the Sonne of God; as the like manner of speech importeth, Esay 14. 2. Zeph. 2. 9. Levit. 25. 46. Hereupon Christ is called beire, that is, Lord of all, Heb. 1. 2. See Psalme 82. 8. Ier. 49. 2.

for thy firme possession] or, to bee thy sonement, to have and to hold. It implieth Christs government of the world; and so the Chaldee expoundeth it, the dominion of the ends of the earth for thy possession. The word for, or sonne such like, is here to bee understood, and sometime the Hebrew expresseth it: as the house, 1 King. 7. 51. in stead of, for the house, 2 Chron. 5. 1. servants, 1 Chron. 18. 6, in stead of for servants; 2 Sam. 8. 6, and sundry the like.

9 Verse 9. roughly rule them] or, bruse, crush them. The word signifieth to increase evil, or rigorously: and this is meant of Christs enemies. potter] or former of the clay: this signifieth their utter destruction;

destruction; for a potters vessell broken cannot be made whole againe. Ier. 9. 11. Esay 30. 14. So in Dan. 2. 44. it is prophesied, that Christs kingdom should breake in peeces and consume all those kingdomes, and it shall stand for ever.

10 Ver. 10. be prudent] be skilfull, or, beaue your selues skilfully, prudently, wisely. be nurtured] or, restrained, chastised, disciplined: and so the Chaldee translateth, receive chastisement yee governours (the Greeke saith, all yee Iudges) of the earth.

11 Ver. 11. be glad] This word signifieth open and manifest joy, exultation, or outward glee. Gladnesse and trembling are here joynd together, as feare and joy, Matth. 28. 8. The Greeke sheweth in whom this gladnesse should be, saying, shew gladnesse unto him; the Chaldee translateth, pray with trembling.

12 Ver. 12. Kisse the sonne] Kissing was used in signe of love and of obedience, Gen. 41. 40. 1 Sam. 10. 1. it was used also in religion and divine worship, 1 King. 19. 18. Hof. 13. 2. Iob 31. 27. All these are due to Christ: but Iudas betrayed the Sonne of man with a kisse, Luke 22. 48. The Greeke translateth, Receive nourture (or instruction) and the Chaldee, receive doctrine; both are implied in kissing of the Sonne, Prov. 24. 26. perish in the way] or, from the way. To perish or be lost in the way, importeth sudden destruction, whiles they are doing their actions: to perish from the way, is to wander or lose the right way, and not know whither to goe. So Deut. 32. 28. perishing in (or from) counsels, is to bee void of counsell, not knowing what to deliberate. The Chaldee translateth it, and yee lose the way: the Greeke, and yee perish from the just way. when his anger shall] or for his anger will burne; or, his angry countenance. suddenly] or very soone, or a very little: this manner of speech sometime meaneth a short time, speedily, Psal. 81. 15. Esay 26. 20. 2 Chron. 12. 7. sometime, a little deale, as Isa. 1. 9. The Greeke here turneth it, soone or suddenly. See also Psalme 8. 6. that hope for safety] or, that shewd, that relie confidently, that betake themselves for refuge and safety unto him. For, he is made the author of eternall salvation to all that obey him, Heb. 5. 9.

PSAL. III.

1 David in Absaloms rebellion complaineth to God of his many enemies: 4 Comforteth himselfe in Gods protection: 6 Testifieth his security therein. 8 Prayeth for full deliverance, 9 and a blessing upon Gods people.

1 A Psalme of David when he fled from the face of Absalom his sonne.

2 Iehovah, how many are my distresses?
3 many that rise up against me. Many,
4 saying of my soute, There is no salvation
5 for him in God, Selah. But thou Jehovah art a shield about me, my glory, & the lifter up of my head. With my voicc I called unto Jehovah, and hee answered me from the mountaine of his holinesse, Selah. I lay 6 downe and slept, I waked up, for Jehovah

7 sustained me. I will not feare for ten thou-8 sands of people, which round about doe set against me. Rise up, Jehovah, save me, O 9 my God; for thou hast smitten all mine enemies on the cheeke bone: thou hast broken thee teeth of the wicked. To Jehovah
the salvation. upon thy people thy blessing, Selah.

Annotations.

A Psalme] called in Hebrew Mizmor, which hath the signification of pruning or cutting off superfluous twigs, and is applied to songs made of short sentences or verses; where many superfluous words are cut away. There be three kinds of songs mentioned in this booke; 1 Mizmor, in Greek Psalms, a Psalme: 2 Tehillah, in Greek him-nos, a hymne or praise: 3 and Shir, in Greek Ode, a song or Laie. All these three the Apostle mentioneth together, where he willet us to speak to our selves with Psalmes, and Hymnes, and spirituall Songs, Ephes. 5. 19. of David] or to David:
and so after in this booke usually. But the Hebrew speech useth these indifferently; as Iasderoth, 2 King. 11. 15. and hasderoth, 2 Chron. 23. 14.
Lammagbaloib and hammagbaloib, Psal. 120. 1. and 121. 1. So the sword of Iehovah, Ier. 47. 6. the Prophet of Iehovah, 1 Kings 22. 7. 2 Kings 3. 11.
and many the like. So in the Greeke, Disciples to thee, Marke 2. 18. and Disciples of thee, Matthew 9.
14. are one and the same. from the face] or, presence, or for feare of: So the woman fled from the face of the serpent, Rev. 12. 14. Of Davids flight it is thus written; Then David said to all his servants that were with him in Ierusalem, Rise up and let us flee, for we shall not escape else from the face of Absa-lon; make speed to depart, lest hee come suddenly and take us, and bring evil upon us, and smite the citie with the edge of the sword. So the King departed, and all his household after him, 2 Sam. 15. 14. 16. his sonne] David having sinned in defiling Bathsheba, and killing her husband Uriah, 2 Sam. 11. was threatned
therefore of God, that hee would raise up evill against him, out of his owne house,
2 Sam. 12. 11. which was fulfilled in this rebellion of Absalom.

Verse 2. how many are] or, how multiplied are. For, the conspiracie was great, and the people multiplied still with Absalom, 2 Sam. 15. 12.

Verse 3. Ad any saying] or, how many doe say?
of my soule] that is, of me, of my life, concerning me;
or, to my soule, and so the Greeke translateth it,
no salvation] or, no manner salvation; no bealib, helpe or deliverance at all. The Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinary, to increase the significati-
on. The like is in many other places, as Psal 44.

lateth it, to sing. The originall word Menasseach signifieth one that urgeth the continuance of any thing unto the end, or the going forward with a worke till it be overcome, 2 Chronic. 2. 2, 18. and 34. 12, 13. Ezra 3. 8, 9. and such as in 2 Chron. 2. 18. are called Menassechim, masters, are in 1 King. 5. 16. called Rodim, rulers. And in musick, there were Levites appointed for severall duties, and some menassech, to ply, or to set forward, and be over the rest, 1 Chron. 15. 21. and these were such as excelled in the art of singing and playing on instruments, to whom sundry Psalmes are intituled, that by their care and direction they might be sung excellently unto the end. There were in Israel some Levites singers that attended therunto, and had no other charge, 1 Chron. 9. 31. on Neginoth that is, stringed instruments of musick, played on with the band. See the note on Psal. 33. 3.

2 Vers. 2. when I call or, in my calling; which the Chaldee expoundeth, In the time of my prayer, receive thou it of me. God of my justice that is, my just God, author of my justice, and avenger of my just cause. in distresse or in straitnesse, thou hast widened or enlarged for me. prayer appeale, interpellation or intercession, whereby we refer the cause of our selves or others to the judgement of God, calling upon him, appealing to him for right, praying against condemnation, or the like. For the Hebr. word Tephillath commeth of Pillel to judge or determine causes for which appeales are made, 1 Sam. 2. 25. and Pelilim, are Judges or Arbiters, Exo. 21. 22. whereupon to pray, is in Hebrew, bishpallel, as it were to appeale or present himselfe and his cause unto the Judge, or to judge ones selfe.

3 Vers. 3. Sons of men Hereby is meant, Great men, the Hebrew being Ish, which is the name of Man, in respect of his power and dignitie, as appeareth after in Psal. 49. 3. shall my glory be to ignominie or, will ye turne my honour to defamation, slander, and calumnie. God had promised David the honour of the kingdom, which Saul with his Nobles sought to defame and calumnieate, and so turne it to shame and reproach. will yee seeke a lye? or, ye seeke a lye, or deceivable falsehood; ye seeke that which shall not come to passe. The Hebrew Cazab (here used) is such a lie as deceiveth mens expectation, Job 40. 28. Psal. 89. 36. Isa. 58. 11. 2 Kings 4. 16.

4 Vers. 4. marvellously separated or separated in wondrous sort, exempted as with some signe of excellencie, called out. So God marvellously severed the Israelites from the Egyptians, Exo. 8. 22. and 9. 4. and 11. 7. See also Psal. 17. 7. Exo. 33. 16. a gracious Saint or pious, holy, mercifull one, meaning himselfe. The Hebrew Chasid, (which the New Testament in Greeke calleth bosios, that is, pious or holy, Acts 13. 35.) signifieth one that hath obtained mercie, goodnesse, pietie, grace and benigneitie from the Lord, and is againe (after Gods example) pious, kind, gracious and mercifull to others, Neh. 13. 14. See Psal. 136. 1. to him that is, his gracious Saint, as the Greeke explaineth it; or referring it to the former, be hath separated to himselfe a gracious man.

5 Vers. 5. Be stirred or Be commoved, which may be understood, Be angry, be grieved, or tremble: and the Chaldee addeth for him, meaning God. The originall word Ragaz, noteth any stirring or moving, Job 9. 6. as to be moved or tremble with feare, Psal. 18. 8. Deut. 2. 25. Isa. 14. 9. to be moved with griefe, 2 Sam. 18. 33. to be stirred with anger, Prov. 29. 9. 2 Kings 19. 27, 28. Ezek. 16. 43. This latter the Greeke here followeth, saying, Be angry, and sin not, and the Apostle hath the same words, Eph. 4. 26.

sin not for misdoe not. This word signifieth to misse of the way or marke: as in Jud. 20. 16. men could sling stones at an haire bredth and not sin, that is, not misse: and Pro. 19. 2. he that is haffie with his foot sinnet, that is, misseth or swarseth. In religion Gods law is our way and mark, from which when we swarve we sin. Therefore sin is defined to be transgression of law, or unlawfulness, 1 Joh. 3. 4. say in your heart that is mind seriously what you do, and what the end will be; Consider with your selves. The like phrased is in Psal. 14. 1. and 35. 25. Mat. 24. 48. Rom. 10. 6. Revel. 18. 7. be still or silence, stay, pause; as 1 Sam. 14. 9. Jos. 10. 12, 13. By this word is often meant in Scripture a modest quietnes of the mind, the troubled affections being allayed. See Psal. 131. 2. & 37. 7. & 62. 2. Lam. 3. 26. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus; Say your request with your mouth, and your petition with your heart, and pray upon your bed, and remember the day of death for ever.

6 Vers. 6. Sacrifice The word signifieth killing or slaughtering; as beasts were killed for offerings to God, figuring mans mortification, or dying to sin, Pl. 5. 19. sacrifices of justice such Moses speaketh of, Deut. 33. 19. and David afterward, Psal. 51. 21. meaning sacrifices just and right, and in faith, according to the intendment of Gods law: contrary to those which the Prophet reproveth Mal. 1. 14. So sacrifices of triumph or joy, Psal. 27. 6. are joyful sacrifices offered with gladnesse. And the way of justice, Mat. 21. 32. for a just or right way. The Chaldee giveth this sense, Subdue your lusts, and it shall be counted unto you as a sacrifice of justice. trust or be confident, have stedfast hope, secure and firme confidence; and it is opposed to feeblenesse of mind, feare and doubt, Isa. 12. 2. Prov. 28. 1.

7 Vers. 7. Many doe say Hebr. are saying: which may be turned, doe say, as in Mat. 22. 23. boi legontes, saying, is in Marke 12. 18. boi times legontes, which say. who will cause us to see that is, to enjoy, or have the fruition of good, Psal. 50. 23. And this is the forme of a wish; as David desired and said, Who will give me drinke of the water, &c. 1 Chron. 11. 17. and, who will give me wings as a dove, Psal. 55. 7. and many the like. the light of thy face that is, thy lightsome chearfull face or lookes, meaning Gods favour, grace, and the blessings of knowledge, comfort, joy, &c. that flow therefrom. This is in Christ, who is both the Light and the Face or Presence of God, Luke 2. 32. Exod. 33. 14. and the Angell of his face, Isa. 63. 9. According to this phrased Solomon saith, In the light of the Kings face is life, and his favour is as a cloud of the latter raine, Prov. 16. 15. See also Psal. 44. 4. and 31. 17, 21. and 67. 2. Job 29. 3.

8 Vers. 8. hast given joy or shalt give or put joy: so giving is used for putting, often times, Psalm 8. 2. and which hath the signification of paine or sorrow, is of large use, denoting all sinfull and unjust actions, or endeavours, which cause paine or sorrow, or be painfully done, and is applied in speciall to idolatry joyned with Teraphim or images, 1 Sam. 15. 22. And Beth-el, that is, Gods house, is called of the Prophets, Beth-aven, an Idols house, or place of iniquitie, Hof. 4. 15. and 10. 5. because Ierobam had there set up false worship, 1 Kings 12. 29. And in Isa. 66. 3. he that blesseth Aven, or an Idoll, is turned in Greeke, a blasphemor. Thus Pogmakel-aven, be such as worke practise, or commit idolatry, superstition, or other sin and iniquitie, wherof comes sorrow, griefe, miserie, and at last confusion, however such evill workers doe polish and trim their evill actions; for they shall be rejected that worke unlawfulnessse (boiergaxomenai ton anomian) Mat. 7. 23. or are workers of iniquitie, (boiergatai tes adikias) Luke 13. 27. as this Hebrew phrase is by the Evangelists interpreted. The phrase is taken from Job, chap. 31. 3. and 34. 8, 22. The Chaldee translateth, them that doe falsehood.

7 Verse 7. Thou wilt bring to perdition] or wilt doe quite away, wilt fordoe, or make perishe. man of blouds] that is, bloody man, or murderor, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the man that sheddeth innocent blood. When blood is used in the plurall number, it usually noteth murder or manslaughter, and the guilt following it: as Gen. 4. 11. the voice of thy brothers blood crieth, 1 Chron. 22. 8. thou hast shed many bloods: so after in Psal. 9. 13. and 106. 38. and 51. 16. Sometime it signifieth naturall uncleannesse, as we are born in sin, or sin deserving death, Ezek. 16. 6, 9. I saw thee polluted in thine owne bloods, &c. Hereto we may compare the Apostles speech, John 1. 13. which are borne not of bloods, &c. A man of bloods, is one that is defiled therewith, or given thereto, 2 Sam. 16. 7. Psal. 26. 9. and 55. 24. and 59. 3. and 139. 19. See the like phrase, opened, Psal. 140. 12. and of deceit] that is, man of deceit, (as is expressed, Psal. 43. 1.) meaning the deceitfull man, saylor, or impostor: so noting hereby the secret sinner, as by the former speech the open and violent. Deceit, dolo, or guile, called in Hebrew Mirmah, is named of Ramah, to heave, or cast, or shoot with bow. And as warpen bowes doe cast and shoot awry, and deceive the Archer, Psal. 78. 57. so impostors or men of guile, doe first as it were lift up a man with vaine hope, that being disappointed he may have the more heave overthrow. See 1 Chron. 12. 17. Gen. 29. 25. So in another phrase, to lift up the soule, signifieth, to deceive with vaine hope, Jer. 37. 9.

8 Verse 8. mercie] or kindnesse, benignitie: in Chaldee, goodnesse. See the note on Psal. 136. 1. thy house] or edifice, named in the Hebrew of building, beith: in Greeke, of dwelling, aikos: in English, of tuition and custodie, a house: of the Almein buis, which is of bu, to defend. By house here is meant Gods Tabernacle, called his house, 1 Chron. 9. 23. Mar. 2. 26. for the Temple was not built in Davids daies. will doe worship] or bow downe my selfe, in signe of honour. towards the palace] for the worshippers entred not into the Sanctuarie it selfe, but into the Court-yard, and at the doore offered their gifts, Psal. 116. 19. Lev. 1. 3. Heb. 9. 6. A palace (Heikal) is the name of Kings houses, Psal. 45. 9, 16. Prov. 30. 28. attributed to the places where Gods Majestie was said to dwell, as the tabernacle, 1 Sam. 1. 9. and 3. 3. the temple, 1 Kings 6. 17. and heaven it selfe, Psal. 11. 4. Mic. 1. 2.

Verse 9 in thy justice] that is, in the religion and conversation set forth in thy Law, called the paths of justice, Psal. 23. 3. or, for thy justice sake. envious] or spiteful, observers that pry for evill. So Psal. 27. 11.

Verse 10. no certainty] no certaine stable thing, no firme truth, which one may trust unto: or no true word. his mouth] that is, the mouth of any of them; which the Chaldee explaineth thus, the mouth of the wicked men. inward part] properly, that which is nearest unto them: this the Gr. translateth bari. And these in parts, are put for the thoughts, affections, purposes in them: as Psal. 49. 12. wofull evils] barvob the originall signifieth woes, sorrows, heave annoyances, mischiefs, and wofull evils: so named of boi or bowah, which signifieth wee, Ezek. 7. 26. they make smoothe] or make flattering, and consequently deceitfull, as the Greeke translateth, which the Apostle followeth, Rom. 3. 13.

Verse 11. Condemne them as guilty] Asham, is a guilt, sin or trespass, Lev. 5. 19. whereof the word here used, is to make guiltie, or damne of trespass: and so the Greek here hath it, Iudge or damne, and the Chaldee, make guiltie (or condemne.) And because destruction and desolation abideth such as are damned for crime, therefore is this word used also for desolating, abolishing, destroying, Ezek. 6. 6. Joel 1. 18. And so may it be here meant, punish or make them desolate, O God. So Psal. 34. 20, 23. and 69. 6.

with the multitude] or for the multitude, the manie. trespasses] or sedition iniquities, desertions, done purposely and disloyally, and are therefore heinous and criminall. The Greeke often translateth it unlawfulnessse, or transgression of Law, which the Apostle following, Rom. 4. 7. from Psal. 32. 1. It is more than sin, as may be gathered by Gen. 31. 36. Exod. 34. 7. and Job 34. 37. be added trespass to his sin. drive them away] or drive him, that is, each of them. A like phrase as was before, Psal. 2. 3. So after in verse 12. upon them and him.

turned rebellious] or turned bitter, and so are very distastfull unto thee, by reason of their disobedience and stubbornnesse, and consequently doe provoke to bitterness and wrath, doe exasperate. The Hebrew word Marah hath properly the signification of changing and of bitterness applied to apostasie, rebellion and disobedience, Deut. 1. 26. and 31. 7, 20. Jos. 1. 18. against thee] which the Chaldee expoundeth, against thy Word.

Verse 12. for ever] or to eternitie. shout] or shrill out, sing joyfully, for so commonly the Hebrew Rann signifieth; & is therefore by the holy Ghost interpreted, to be merry or joyfull Rom. 15. 10. from Deut. 32. 43 & Gal. 4. 27. from Isa. 54. 1. yet sometime this word is to shout, shrill, or cry aloud for sorrow; as Pla. 142. 7. A loud shrill noise or shouting was used in thanksgivings and prayers, Levit. 9. 24. 1 King. 3. 28. Psal. 17. 1 and 118. 15. and 126. 2. and 33. 1. and thou shalt cover] or, for thou wilt cover, cover, protect, or cast a covering over them: and this is answerable to their hope or seeking covert in God before mentioned, and signifieth a safe protection from all hurt or evill; as Exo. 33. 22. Psa. 140. 8. be glad] or leape for joy, exult. The word signifieth outward gladnesse in gesture and countenance. So also doth the Greeke answerable hereto: that where one Evangelist writeth, Rejoyce and be glad, Mat. 5. 12. another saith, Rejoyce and leape, Luke 6. 23. The Chaldee here againe translateth, they shall be glad in thy Word.

13 Verle 13. buckler] a picked shield called tsimab, of the sharpe pickednesse: as another kinde of Scutcheon is called Magen, Psa. 3. 4. of fencing or protecting. favourable acceptation] or good will, gracious liking or acceptance. So the Hebrew Raisin meaneth, derived of a word which by the Apostle signifieth to accept, Hebr. 12. 6. from Prov. 3. 12. and to be well pleased or delighted, Mat. 12. 18. from Isa. 42. 1. So the yeare of acceptation is the acceptable yeare, Luke 4. 19. from Isa. 61. 2. and the time of acceptation, is the acceptable time, 2 Cor. 6. 2. from Isa. 49. 8. It is also interpreted will or pleasure, Heb. 10. 7. from Psa. 40. 9.

PSAL. VI.

Dauids complaint in his sicknesse, with prayer for release. 9 By faith he triumpheth over his enemies.

1 To the Master of the Musicke on Neginoth, upon the eight; a Psalm of David.
2 Iehovah, rebuke mee not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrathfull heat.
3 Be gracious unto me, Jehovah, for I am weake; heale me, Jehovah, for my bones are troubled. And my soule is troubled vehemently: and thou, Jehovah, how long? Returne Jehovah, release my soule: lave me for thy mercies sake. For in the death is no memorie of thee: in hell who shall confesse to thee? I faint with my sighing, I make my bed to swim in every night, I water my bedstead with my teares. Mine eye is gnawne with indignation: it is waxen old because of all my distressers. Away from me, all ye that worke painfull iniquitie, for Jehovah hath heard the voice of my weeping. Jehovah hath heard my supplication for grace, 11 Jehovah hath accepted my prayer. All my enemies let be abasht and troubled vehemently; let them returne, be abasht in a moment.

Annotations.

1 Vpon the eight] or after the eight: meaning the eight time, which was grave, as that which we call the Befe. So David fetching home Gods Arke, appointed some Levites with harps upon the eighth, for the honour and service of God, 1 Chron. 15.

21. And so the Chaldee here translateth, To sing with playing upon the Harpe of eight strings.

Verle 2. wrathfull heat] or choller. This word noteth the inward affliction, as the former doth the outward appearance. David prayeth not simply against correction, (for, as many as God loveth, he doth rebuke and chastise, Rev. 3. 19.) but would have his nurture with moderation, lest it broke him in pieces; as Jeremie likewise prayeth, Jer. 10. 24. So after in Psa. 38. 2.

Verle 3. heale me] recure me. Though this may have reference here to bodily sicknesse, Psa. 107. 18, 20. yet is it also applied to soule-sicknesse, and curing of it; as Psa. 41. 5. heale thou my soule, for I have sinned against thee.

Verle 4. how long?] or till when? An imperfect speech, through trouble of minde, which may thus be supplied: how long wilt thou cease, or deferre to helpe, or how long wilt thou afflict me? So Psa. 90. 13. The Chaldee supplieth the want thus, Let me have a refreshing.

Verle 5. release] loosen, or deliver my soule or me, meaning from death, as is expressed, Psa. 116. 8.

Verle 6. for in the death] This Doctrine King Hezekiah explaineth thus; For hell shall not confesse thee; death shall not praise thee; they that goe downe the pit shall not hope for thy truth: the living the living, be shall confesse thee as I doe this day: the father to the children shall make knowne thy truth, Isa. 38. 18, 19. So after in Psa. 115. 17, 18. hell] or the greiv, the place or state of the dead. See the note on Psa. 16. 10. confesse] or give thanks, celebrate with praise and commendation. This same word is also used for confessing of sins, Psa. 32. 5.

Verle 7. I faint] or am over awed with my sighing; the like speech Barnab useth, Jer. 45. 3. The originall word Iagabon, signifieth swimming, toile, turmoile and fore labour of body or minde, and consequently fainting through wearinesse, and is opposed to rest or quietnesse, Lam. 5. 5. every night] or the whole night. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I speake in my sorrow all the night (or every night) upon my bed. I water] that is, bathe, or dissolve into water; or I melt my bedstead. These are excessive figurative speeches, to expresse the greatnesse of his sorrow. In the Hebrew they are also in the future time, I shall melt, I shall make swim, that is, I usually melt and bathe, noting the continuance of his affliction.

Verle 8. mine eye] this may be taken for the whole face or visage: as in Num. 11. 7. the eye is used for the colour or appearance. gnawne] in Gr. troubled. The Hebrew Gbnasht, is to gnaw and fret, and so to make deformed and ugly, and so consume. Hereof Gbnasht is a moth-worme, Psalm. 39. 12. that fretteth garments. A like speech Job useth, mine eye is dimmed with indignation, Job 17. 7. but gnawne here, is a word more vehement. So after in Psalm. 31. 10, 11. with indignation] for griefe that I take, being provoked by the enemies.

Verle 11. let be abasht] or shall be abasht. The Hebrew Bosh signifieth to be abasht, wax pale and worn, as when the colour fadeth and withereth; and noteth both disappointment of ones expectation, Job 6. 20. and confusion or destruction, Jer. 48. 1, 20. opposed led unto joy, Esay. 65. 13. let them returne] or, recoile; a signe also of discomfiture and shame: so Psa. 56. 10. in a moment] or in a minute, that is, a short space, or suddenly.

PSAL. VII.

David prayeth against the malice of his enemies, professing his innocencie. 11 By faith he seeth his defence, and the destruction of his enemies.

1 Shigajon of David, which he sang to Jehovah, upon the words of Cush, sonne of Jemini.

2 Iehovah my God, in thee I hope for safety: save thou me from all that persecute me, and deliver thou me. Left he teare
3 in peeces my soule like a Lion; breaking,
4 while there is none delivering. Jehovah my 5 God, if I have done this, if there be injurious
6 evill in my hands: If I have rewarded evill
7 to him that had peace with me: (yea, I have 8 released my distresser without cause:) Let 9 the enemy pursue my soule and take it, and 10 tread downe my life on the earth, and my 11 glory let him make it dwel in the dust. Selah.
12 Rise up Jehovah in thy anger, be thou lifted 13 up, for the rages of my distressers, and wake
14 thou up unto me, the judgement thou hast 15 commanded. And the congregation of 16 peoples shall compasse thee about, and for 17 it returne thou to the high place. Jehovah
18 will judge the peoples: judge thou me Jehovah according to my justice, and according to my perfection in me. Oh let the malice of the wicked be at an end, and stablish thou the just: for thou triest the hearts and reines, just God. My shield is in God, the Saviour of the upright in heart. God is a just Judge, and God angerly threatneth every day. If he turne not, he will whet his sword: he hath bent his bow and made it ready. And for him he hath made ready the instruments of death: his arrows he worketh for the hot persecutors. Lo he shall be in travell of painfull iniquitie; for he hath conceived molestation, and shall bring forth a lie. He hath digged a pit and delved it, and is fallen into the corrupting ditch hee wrought. His molestation shall returne upon his head, and upon his crowne shall his violent wrong descend. I will confesse Jehovah according to his justice, and will sing Psalme to the name of Jehovah most High.

Annotations.

Shigajon] An artificiall song of David, or Davids delight. The word properly signifieth Aberration, or, Ignoration; & is here, and in Hab. 3. 1. onely used in the title of songs, which seeme to be made of sundry variable and wandring verses, which being composed by art, cause the more delight. The Hebrew word (Shagab) whereof this is derived, is used for delight, or wandring in pleasure, Pro. 3. 19, 20. According to which we may name this song, Davids delight, or solace. Or in the other signification, Davids error; as setting forth the sum of his cares, which made him almost to goe astray. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Davids interpretation of the Law: upon the words] or concerning the words, or matters, affaires. Word, is both in Hebrew and Greeke often used for a thing or matter, Exod. 18. 16. Deut. 17. 1. 1 King. 14. 13. Luk. 1. 65.

Of Cush] This may be meant of K. Saul himselfe, who was of Kish, and of Jemini, 1 Sam. 9. 1. called closely Cush, that is, an Aethiopian, or Blackemore, for his blacke and ill conditions, his heart not being changed, as the Blackmore changeth not his skin, Jer. 13. 22. Or else it might be one of Sauls retinue, whose name indeed was Cush, but we find no mention of him elsewhere. The Chaldee saith plainly thus, upon the destruction of Saul the sonne of Kish, which was of the tribe of Benjamin.

Verf. 3. Lion] called here in Hebrew, Arjeb, that is, a renter or Tearer; and elsewhere, Laby, that is, hearty and courageous, Psa. 57. 5. and Keppir, that is, lurking, or couchant Psa. 91. 13. the reason of these names is shewed, Psa. 17. 12. The renting Lion (Arjeb) as greedy to teare; and the lurking Lion (Keppir), as biding in covert places. Other names are also given to this kind, as Shachal, of ramping, or fierce nature, Psa. 91. 13. and Lajish, of subduing his prey, Pro. 30. 30. my soule] that is, mee, or my life. breaking] this may be referred to the Lion, breaking a sinder, or renting his prey: the word also is used for breaking of jokes of affliction, that is, saving, rescuing, redeeming, or delivering; as, Psa. 136. 24. Lam. 5. 8. The Greeke so turneth it here, there being none redeeming nor saving. Thus the deniall none let after in the Hebrew, serveth for both words; (as after in Psa. 9. 19.) And it is the propriety of this tongue sometime to want, sometime to abound with words; as in 1 King. 10. 21. there be two denials, when in 2 Chron. 9. 20. there is but one, in the same narration.

Verf. 4. done this] which Cush accuseth me of. He speaketh of some common slander. injurious evill in my hands] or, in my palmes, that is, bad, dishonest dealings in secret: the palm or hollow of the hand, being a place where filthinesse may be hidden: the hand also is put for the actions. So Im. 3. 8. Psa. 109. 27. and 78. 42.

Verf. 5. that had peace with me] my friend and confederate. Such treachery David much blameth in his foes, that in time of peace made war, Psa. 41. 10. and 55. 13. 15. 21. yea I] Hebr. and I; which which may be resolved; yea, or when I released my distresseder: which may have reference to his sparing of Saul, and delivering him from death, 1 Sam. 24. 6, 7, 8, 11, 12. and 26. 9, 10, 11. &c. without cause or without effect and fruit in vaine.

6 Verſ.6. my life] in Hebrew, lives; ſo uſually called for the many faculties and operations that are in life; the many yeares, degrees, eſtates thereof. The Apoſtles in Greeke retain the ſingular number life, Act. 2. 28 from Pſa. 16. 11. 1 Pet. 3. 10.
from Pſal. 34. 13. my glory] or honour; meaning either his honourable eſtate, renowne, and poſteritie, as Hſ. 9. 11. Iob 19. 9. or his ſoule, as Gen 49. 6.
in the duſt] that is, in baſe eſtate and ignominie, as
Pſ. 113. 7. Iob 16. 3. or, the duſt of death, the grave, as Pſal. 22. 16. Iſa. 26. 19.

7 Vers. 7. in the rages] or, because of the outrages, surpassing indignations, so called of the passing out of the heat and choler. wake up] or, raise up, to wit, thy selfe, and come unto me; for judgement thou hast commanded or appointed. It may also be read, raise up to me the judgement which thou hast commanded: so the Chaldee paraphrase here supplieth the word which, saying; Hasten unto me, (or for me) th: judgement which thou hast commanded; the Hebrew it selfe sometime doth the like; as 1 King. 9. 8. this house is high, 2 Chr. 7. 21. this house which is high.

8 Verſ. 8. for it] for the ſame emigrations ſake, which cometh about thee expecting judgement. to the high place, or to the height, that is, the throne of Judgment, for thrones were ſet high, 1 King. 13. 19. This word height is alſo uſed for heaven, Pſal 93. 4. and there Gods throne is, Pſa. 11. 4. The Chaldee ſaith, returne to the houſe of thy diuine habitation (or Majeſtie)

9 Verse 9. Iehovah] The Chaldee translateth it, The word of the Lord shall judge, &c. judge] two words are here used in Hebrew for judging, 1 Dan, and 2 Shaphat; the first is more speciall to give doom or sentence in controversies: the latter more generall, for judging or doing right in all causes. The Apostles expresse these two by one Greeke word krino, judge, as Heb. 10.30. from Dent. 32.36. and Rom. 3.4. from Psal. 51.6. my justice] the justice and equitie of my cause, in respect of my persecutors, So Psal. 18.21,—25. Elsewhere he appealeth to Gods justice, Psal. 35.24. my perfection] or integritie, the simplicitie of my wayes, and simplicitie of my heart. See Psa. 26.1. in me] or unto me, to wit, reward thou, as the Chaldee explaineth it.

10 Verf. 10. for thou triest [or, he trieth. God who is possessor of the reines, Pſal. 139. 13. doth alſo trie them as mettall in the fire. The heart may ſignifie the cogitations, and the reines the affections. So Pſal. 26. 2. Jer. 11. 20. and 20. 12 Rev. 2. 23.

12 Verſ. 12. angrily threatneth] or deſteth, diſdaineth in wrath, namely the wicked, and menaceth their deſtruction. So the Chaldee paraphraſeth, he is mightily angry againſt the wicked every day.

13 Verſ. 13. If he that is, If the wicked turne not as the Chaldee explaineth it, If he turne not unto his fear. The Greeke tranſlateth, if ye turne not.

14 Verſ. 14. he worketh for the ~~boſ~~ ^{poſ}perſecutors] or poliſeth, to wit, to ſhoot at them that fervently perſe-cure, namely the just, as the Chaldee addeth. The Hebrew delak, which signifieth burning, Ezek. 34. 10. is applied to hot persecution: see Psal. 10. 2. Gen. 31:35. Lam. 4. 19.

Verf. 15. he shall be in travel] or, continually tra-velleth, that is, taketh great paines to accomplish iniqui- ty, as a woman with childe to be delivered. molestation] or moyle, miserie. The Hebrew glamal signifieth toilſome labour and moleſtation, both which a man endureth himſelfe, Pſa. 25. 18. and 73. 5. and which he cauſeth another to endure, Pſal. 94. 20.
and 55. 11. And thus it is here meant, as the 17.
verſe ſheweth. bring forth a lie] or ſalfbood, meaning either calummie and ſlander of others, (which in verſe 17 ſeemeth to be called violent wrong;) or a deceit of himſelfe, frustrating his owne expectation. This ſimilitude of the conception, travel, and birth of ſin, is memorable, mentioned alſo in Iob
15. 35. Iſa. 59. 4. Lam. 1. 15. much like another ſimilie of ploughing, ſowing, and reaping iniquitie, Iob 4. 8.

Verf. 16. is fallen] to wit, unto his owne perdition, as Prov. 26. 27. Elkef. 10. 8. or, to lurke there for the perdition of others. See P^{sa}. 10. 10. the corrupting ditch be wrought] or, pit of corruption which he made. The original Shachath signifieth corruption, P^{sa}. 16. 10. and is applied to any pit or ditch where one perisheeth and corrupteeth, P^{sa}. 57. 7. and 94. 13. and sometime the word pit is plainly added, as in P^{sa}. 55. 24. the pit of corruption.

Ver. 17. his crowne] the scalp, or heads top : meaning also abundantly, and apparently in the view of all.
See Esth. 9. 25. Violent wrong] The word Chama
signifieth injurie done by force and rapine, violation of right and justice.

Verf. 18. ſing Pſalme to] or praiſe with Pſalme, and this importeth a ſong artificiall and ſkilfully compoſed. See Pſal. 3. 1.

PSAL. VIII.

Gods glory is magnified by his works. 6 A prophesie
of Christ his humiliation, glorie and dominion.

To the Master of the Musicke upon Gittith; a Psalm of David.

I Ehovah our Lord, how wondrous excellent is thy name in all the earth; which hast given thy glorious Majestie above the heavens. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast founded strength, because of thy distressers, to make cease the enemy and self-avenger. When I behold thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moone and the stars which thou hast stably constituted; What is sorry man that thou remembrest him, and the son of Adam that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him lesser a little than the Gods, and crowned him with glory and comely honor. Thou gavest him dominion over the works of thy hands; all thou

8 thou didst set under his feet. Sheep and ox-9 en all of them, and also the beasts of the 10 field. The fowle of the heavens, and the fishes of the sea, that which passeth thorow
 the paths of the seas. Jehovah our Lord, how wondrous excellent is thy name in all the earth.

Annotations.

1 Gittib] or the Gittib, which title is also given to the 81 and 84 Psalms. Gath in Hebrew is a wine-press, Isa. 63. 2. It is also the name of a citie of the Philistines, 1 Sam. 17. 4. A citie also of the Levites was called Gath-rimmon, Jos. 21. 25.
 whereupon Obed-Edom the son of Jeduthun, a Levite and singer in Israel, was called a Gittite, 2 Sam. 6. 10. So by Gittib here may be meant, either such instruments as were used by the posterie of Obed-Edom the Gittite, or that these Psalms were made upon occasion of transporting Gods arke
 from the house of that Obed-Edom, the history whereof is in 2 Sam. 6. 6, 10, 11, 12, &c. or that these Psalms were to be sung for praise of God at the Vintage when grapes were pressed. And according to this the Greeke translateth it the wine-presser. Or it may be the same musick instrument;
 and so the Chaldee Paraphrast translateth it, To sing upon the harpe that came from Gath.

2 Ver. 2. our Lord] or, our sustainers: See the note on Psal. 2. 4. wondrous excellent] or wondrous ample, illustrious and magnificent. The originall word signifieth ample or large, and excellent withall, cleare
 and splendour in glory: The Greeke turneth it won-derfull: the Chaldee, high and laudable. So in v. 10.

name] this word is often used for renowne or glory, Gen. 6. 4. Eccl. 7. 3. Phil. 2. 9. as on the contrary, vile persons are called men without name, Job. 30. 8.
 Gods name is also used for his kingdome and Gospel,
 Mat. 19. 29. compared with Luk. 18. 29. Mar. 10.
 29. And this Psalm treateth of the spreading of Christs Kingdome and Gospel, as after is manifested. hast given] that is, put or set; as, I have given,
 Isa. 42. 1. is by the Evangelist in Greeke, I will put.
 Mat. 12. 18. & in the Hebrew text, as he hath given thee over them for king, 2 Chro. 9. 8 for which is written in 1 Kings 10. 9. he hath set (or put.) It may also import a setting sure or stablishing; as, thou hast given thy people, 1 Chron. 17. 22. that is, thou hast stabilished thy people, 2 Sam. 7. 24. Here also is a grammaticall change in the Hebrew; to give, for thou hast given. glorious majestie] venerable or praise-worthy glory. The word Hodh, is generall for any laudable grace or vertue for which one is celebrated, revered
 and commended. above] or over, or upon the heavens.
 This phrase is used of God, Numb. 27. 20. where he willeth Moses to give of his glorious majestie upon Iosua: and may have use in the mysticall applying of this Psalm to Christs kingdome, as Mat. 21.
 26. teacheth us: heavens being also often used in Scripture for the Church of Christ, Isa. 65. 17. and 66. 22. Rev. 21. 1.

3 Verfe 3. hast founded] that is, firmly decreed, appointed, and consequently fitted and perfected, as the

Greeke ketertiso, (which the Apostle useth) signifieth, Mat. 21. 16. So in Esther 1. 8. the king had founded, that is, decreed, appointed. See also before,
 Psal. 2. 2.

strength] that is, strong praise, for so this word seemeth often to be used, as Psal. 29. 1.
 & 96. 7. & 118. 14. therefore the Greeke, which the Apostle followeth, Mat. 21. 16. translateth it praise. This word strength or firmnesse, may be taken or kingdome firmly strengthened, as in this place, so in Psal. 110. 2. & 86. 16. & 89. 11. so make cease]
 that is, put to silence, or do away, abolish and destroy.
 So after in Psal. 119. 119. & 89. 45. & 46. 10.
 selfe-avenger] or, him that avengeth himselfe; the proud and mighty which will not suffer his honour or gaine to be diminished. So Psalm. 44. 17.
 This was fulfilled, when children crying Hosanna
 to welcome Christ, the chiefe Priests and Scribes
 disdained, and sought to destroy him: but hee stopped their mouths by alleaging this Scripture, Mat. 21. 15, 16. Marke 11. 18. Gods people are taught though they suffer wrong, not to avenge themselves, but to give place unto wrath, Rom. 12. 19.

Verse 5. what is sorry man] to wit, thus thinke I with my selfe, what is man, &c. Here man is called Enosh, (the name of Adams Nephew, Gen. 4. 26.)
 which signifieth dolefull, sorry sorrowfull, wretched, and sicke incurably. And this name is given to all men, to put them in mind of their misery and mor-talitie; as Psal. 9. 21. let the heavens know that they be Enosh. son of Adam] or of earthly man. As before men are called Enosh for their dolefull estate
 by sin; so are they called Adam, and sons of Adam,
 that is, earthly, to put them in minde of their originall and end, which were made of Adamab the earth, even of the dust, and to dust shall againe returne, Gen. 2. 7. & 3. 19. Adam was the name both of man and woman, Gen. 5. 2. and is also the name of all their children, Psal. 22. 7. & 36. 7. & 39. 6.
 and in many other places. See the note on Pla. 49.
 3. visitest him] that is, hast care of, providest for, and lookest to him. The originall word thus largely sig-nifieth, and is used indifferently for visiting with favour, as Psal. 65. 10. or with displeasure, as Psal. 59.
 6. Here it is meant for good; for Gods providence is singular towards man, and his visitation preserveth our spirits, Job 10. 12. Compare also herewith, Psal. 144. 3. Job 7. 17, 18.

Verse 6. For thou madest him lesse] or, And thou madest him lesse; or, I though thou madest him to want a little of the Gods. a little] The originall word signifieth either a little while, Psal. 37. 10. or a little deale, Psal. 37. 16. 1 Sam. 14. 29. The Greeke brachysi (which the Apostle useth) also signifieth both, Act 5. 34. Job. 6. 7. howbeit, by his applying this to Christ, he seemeth to mean a little or short time, Heb. 2. 7, 9. than the Gods] or than God; but by Gods here is meant the Angels, as the Apostle expoundeth it, according both to the Gr. version & Chaldee paraphrase. And those heavenly spirits are for their office & service called Angels, that is, messengers; but for their honourable dignity they are called Gods, here and in Psal. 97. 7. and the sons of God, Job 1. 6. & 38. 7. The Princes of the earth are named Gods, Psal. 82. 6. how much more may the Angels be called so, that are Chiefe Princes, Dan. 10. 13. and crowndst him] This may be understood of man as he was first made in Gods image, and Lord of the world, Gen. 1. 26. but since the transgression, it is peculiar to Christ and to Christian men that have their dignity restored by Christ. Vnto him the Apostle applieth this Psalm, thus: Wee see Iesus crowned with glory and honour, which was a little made lesser than the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by the grace of God he might taste death for all, Hebr. 2. 9. Glory seemeth to respect inward vertues; as wisdom, holinesse, &c. and Honour for his outward good estate in ruling over the creatures, as verse 7, 8, 9. comely honour] The Hebrew badar denoteth all honourable comelinesse, bonest, grave, adorned decencie.

7 Verse 7. all, didst thou set] in the first creation, God gave man rule over fishes, fowles, beasts, and all that moue on the earth, Gen. 1. 26. but after, for his sake and sin, the earth was cursed, and he enioyed it with sorrow, Gen. 3. 17. But the Son of man, who is heire of all things, Hebr. 1. 2. restoreth our losse, & will cause the remnants of the people, even whosoever overcometh, to inherit all things, Zach. 8. 12. Rev. 21. 7. though unto man living here in sorrowes, wee yet see not all things subdued, Hebr. 2. 8.

8 Verse 8. Sheepe and oxen] or Flocks and herds; the flocke comprehending both sheepe and goats, Levit. 1. 10.

9 Verse 9. The fowle] that is, fowles or birds; one is used for many or all; so the Hebrew often speaketh of other things, as ship, for ships, 1 King. 10. 22. with 2 Chron. 9. 21. spear, for speares, 2 King. 11. 10. with 2 Chron. 23. 9. So Psal. 20. 8. & 34. 8. of the heavens] that is, of the aire, for al this Outspread or firmament spread over the face of the earth, God called Heavens, Gen. 1. 17. the place also above where the Sun and stars are, be called heavens, Gen. 1. 17. and the highest place where the Angels dwell, (and God himselfe is said to sit in) is likewise called heaven, Matt. 5. 9. and 24. 36. and by the Apostle named the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. So other Scriptures mention the birds of heaven, Matt. 13. 32. the winds of heaven, Dan. 7. 2. the clouds of heaven, Dan. 7. 13. the dew of heaven, Dan. 4. 12. &c. The Hebrew name Shamajim, hath the forme of the duall number: but the Evangelists expresse it indifferently by the singular or plurall; as where one saith, your reward is great in the heavens, Matt. 5. 12. another saith, it is much in heaven, Luke 6. 23.

PSAL. IX

David praiseth God for executing of judgement. 12 Hee inciteth others to praise him. 14 Hee prayeth that hee may haue cause to praise him. 16 The judgements that shall come upon the wicked.

I To the Master of the Musicke upon Muth labben; a Psalm of David.

I Will confesse Jehovah with al my heart, 2
I will tel all thy marvellous workes. I will 3 rejoyce and shew gladnesse in thee, I will 4
sing Psalme to thy name, O most high. 5
When mine enemies turned backward, they 6 stumbled and perished from thy face. For 7 thou hast done my judgement & my doom, 8
hast sitten on the throne, judge of justice. 9
Thou hast rebuked the heathens, hast 10
brought to perdition the wicked one; their 11
name thou hast wiped out for ever and aie. 12
The dolations of the enemy are wholly 13
ended to perpetuity, and the cities thou hast 14
pulled up, perished is the memoriall of them 15
of them. And Jehovah shall sit for ever, he 16 hath prepared his throne for judgement. 17
And hee will judge the world with justice, 18
will iudge the peoples with righteousnesse. 19
And Jehovah will be an high refuge for the 20
oppressed, an high refuge at times in distresse. 21
And they that know thy name will trust in thee, for thou forsakest not them that 2 seeke thee Jehovah. Sing Psalme to Jehovah that dwelleth in Sion, thew forth among 3 the peoples his doings. For he that seeketh 4 out bloods remembreth them, forgetteth 5 not the cry of the meeke afflicted. Be gracious to me, Jehovah, see mine affliction from 6
my haters, lifting up me from the gates of 7 death. That I may tell all thy praises in the 8
gates of the daughter of Sion, may be glad 9 in thy salvation. The heathens are sunke 10
downe in the corrupting pit that they made; 11
in the net that they hid caught is their foot. 12
Knowne is Jehovah, judgement hee hath 13
done: in the worke of his hands insnares is 14
the wicked one: Meditation, Selah. The 15 wicked shall turne into hell, all the heathens 16
that forget God. For not to perpetuity 17 forgotten shall be the needy one, nor the expectation of the poore afflicted ones perish 18 for aie. Rise up Jehovah, let not sory man 19 be strong; let the heathens be judged before 20 thy face. Put thou, Jehovah, a feare in them, 21
let the heathens know that they be sory men, Selah.

Annotations.

Vpon Muth labben] This, if it be referred to the musicke, seemeth to be a kind of tune like that we call the Comuer-temur. Otherwise it may be read, For the death of Labben; but who he was, is uncertaine: some thinke it was Goliath; the Chaldee saith, for the death of the Son. It seemeth to me, as the former Psalm was of the propagation of of Christs kingdome, so this is of the destruction of Antichrists.

Verse 1. marvellous workes] or wonderfull things, miracles. The originall word signifieth high and hidden, such as mans power cannot performe, nor reason reach unto, and therefore are admired.

Verse 3. in thee] the Chaldee saith, in thy word.

Verse 4. when my enemies turned] This may be taken for a summe of his praise for deliverances past, or, in faith for like to come, and may be read, when my foes turne backe, they shall stumble and perishe. from thy face] from before thee, because of thy presence, that is, for feare of thee, and shut out from thy face or presence. So after Psal. 68. 2, 3, 9. So the Apottle speaketh of the wickeds perdition from the face of the Lord, 2 Thess. 1. 9.

Verse 5. done my judgements] that is, given sentence, and executed according to the right of my cause: See Psalme 7. 9. The Chaldee expoundeth it, my vengeance. sitten on the throne] or, set thee downe on the throne, the seat of judgement or tribunall. This noteth both kingly authority, Psalme 132. 11, 12. and the acting or executing of the same, 2 Chron. 18. 18. Esay 6. 1. Dan. 7. 9. Rev. 20. 11.

Verse 6. hast rebuked] with rough and severe words: but this, when God doth it, commonly importeth confusion, as being to his enemies, and therefore joyned with the curse, Psal. 119. 31. and 68. 31. and 76. 7. & 18. 16. Zach. 3. 2. So elsewhere he saith, at the rebuke of thy face they perishe, Psalme 80. 17. wiped out] or, wiped away, as with the hand. And this wiping out the name, no- teth an utter abolishing with great wrath, Deut. 9. 14. & 29. 20. Psa. 109. 13. for ever and aye] or, for ever and yet; or, to eternity and perpetuity. The Hebrew Ghned, yet, is added to eternity or ever, to increase the durance of it, and to note all eternities, Psal. 10. 16. and 21. 5. and 104. 5. & 145. 1, 2. taken from Moses, Exod. 15. 18.

Verse 7. The desolations] which the enemy made in spoyling our land; or the desolate places which the enemy builded for himselfe, as in Iob 3. 14. great men are said to build themselves desolate places. of the enemy] So the Greeke turned it. We may also reade it, O enemy, the desolations are quite ended (which thou madest;) or, are they ended? to perpetuity] or, to victory, that is, so as it continueth for ever. Ever or Eternity hath the name Ghnoham in Hebrew, of being hid, and so unknowne: perpetuity, Nesach, is named of prevailing and getting victory by perpetual durance. Here- upon that speech of the Prophet, bee hath swal- lowed up death to perpetuity, or victorious aye, Esay 25. 8. is translated by the Apottle, Death is swal- lowed up to victory, that is, for ever, as the same word in Amos 8. 7. and Lam. 5. 20. is also turned in Greeke by the LXXij. Interpreters.

Pulled up] a similitude taken from trees, applyed here to the pulling downe of cities: so planting and pulling up of a people, are set one against another, Ier. 24. 6. and 42. 10. & 45. 4. of them] twice repeated, for more vehemencie; meaning, all and every of them: or, with themselves, their memory in gone: the Greeke translateth, their memoriall is per- ished with a sound.

Verse 9. will judge] or give downe unto. Two severall words for judging are here used, as before, Psal. 7. 9. with righteousnesses] that is, all manner righteousnesses and equitie, or most righteously, most equal- ly. See the like speech after, Psal. 98. 9. and 96. 13. and often otherwhere.

Verse 10. an high refuge] in Hebrew Misgab, which is, an exaltation; that is, an high place, tower, or fort to resist the enemy, Ier. 48. 1. wherein men are protected, and escape their foes invasion, Deut. 2. 36. for the oppressed] or to the beaten downe, the poore is so called, as being pounded or stamped by the adversary. So Psal. 10. 18. and 74. 21.

at times] or in seasons, that is, seasonably at all times when they be in distresse. So Psal. 10. 1.

Verse 11. that know] or that acknowledge thy name: such are Gods people, Esay 52. 6. and shall by him be delivered and advanced, Psal. 91. 14.

Verse 12. dwelleth in Sion] or sitteth in Sion. The Chaldee saith, hath placed his divine habitation (or Majestie) in Sion. Sitting is often used for dwell- ing, as is noted Psal. 11. The word in is many times omitted in Hebrew, but necessarily to be understood, as the Text it selfe sheweth, as Beit, house, for habeth, in the house; 2 King. 14. 14. com- pared with 2 Chron. 35. 24. and 2 Chron. 26. 21. with 2 King. 15. 5. and 2 Chron. 34. 30. with 2 King. 23. 2. his doings] his practises, or won- tered workes. The originall word signifieth actions done naturally, or purposely and studiously; de- signs, gests, or exercises enterprised advisedly, and prosecuted studiously, of naturall disposition and inclination, as Prov. 20. 11. 1 Sam. 25. 3.

Verse 13. seeketh out] or requireth blouds, that is, God, who followeth, findeth out, punisheth and avengeth bloudshed or murder, according to the Law, Gen. 9. 5, 6. See the Annotations there. The Chaldee expoundeth it, be that requireth the bloud of the innocent, remembreth his just ones. mecke affli- cted] The originall here hath a double reading, Ghnanajim, that is, afflicted, poore; and Ghnanavim, meke, modest, lowly: for affliction often causeth meeknesse. Therefore also Ghnanai, that is, afflicted, is translated Praun, Adeske, Matt. 21. 5. from Za- charie 9. 9.

Verse 14. from my huters] that is, which com- meth upon me from them. lifting up] or, O- lister up (exalter) of me. gates of death] This no- teth present perill and feare of death, as being now nere at the very doore or gate thereof, Gen. 4. 7. Judg. 5. 8. It noteth also power, strength, and jurisdiction which death hath; (even reigning, as the Apottle saith, Rom. 5. 14.) because Magistrates sate, and Judgements were executed at the gates of Cities, Deut. 21. 15. Job 31. 21. Amos 5. 10, 15. So in other Scriptures the gates of death and of hell denote their perill, strength and horror, Psal. 107. 18. Esay 38. 10. Mat. 16. 18. Job 38. 17.

Verse 15. gates of the daughters of Sion] these are opposed to the former gates of death and meane the publike places where Gods people come to- gether at Sion gates, where God sate, verse 12. and which he loved most, Psal. 87. 2. The daughter of Sion signifieth the Church or Congregation there gathered; as also the Chaldee Paraphrase here sheweth, translating it the congregation of Sion, for every chiefe citie was counted as a mother, 2 Sam. 20. 19. (whereupon the Apostle calleth Ierusalem, the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.) the villages that were neere and pertained unto such cities, are called daughters; Ios. 15. 45. 2 Chron. 13. 19. Psal. 48. 12. and the inhabitants there seated, or assemblies of people resorting thither, are likewise named daughters, as being bred, borne, nourished there, and subject therto. Such speeches are often in the Scripture, as, daughter of Ierusalem, Lam. 2. 19. daughter of Sion, Mat. 21. 5. from Zach. 9. 9. daughter of my people, Ier. 4. 11. daughter of Tirus, Psalm. 45. 13. daughter of Babel, Psal. 137. 8. and the like.

17 Vers. 17. Judgement he hath done] or, by the judgements that he hath executed. his hands] or his palmes, the wicked owne hands, called the palmes or bowlowes, for the secret manner of working. So Psal. 7. 4. Meditation Selah] meaning, that this is a matter of deepe meditation, worthy to be well minded, and spoken or sung with earnest consideration alwaies Some retainē the Hebrew word, Higgajon Selah, for that it may import a kinde of Song or tune, (as the Greeke turneth it,) being found in this forme, onely here, and in Psal. 92. 4.
The Chaldee interpreteth it, the just shall joyfully
shout for ever.

18 Verſ. 18. into bell] into bell it ſelfe: for the word into is in effect twice put in the Hebrew for more vehemencie. forgets God] the Chaldee addeth, that forgets the feare of God.

19 Verſ. 19. needy one] two names are here given to the poore, Aſſion, needy and deſirous, which importeth want of things needfull, to be ſupplied by liberalitie, Pſa. 132. 15. and 112. 9. Gbnani, poore afflicted, which need helpe and deliverance from vexation as before, verſ. 13. yet this precise difference is not alwaies obſerved in Scripture. perish for aye] that is, ſhall never periſh. Here the word not, ſet in the beginning, ſerveth for a deniall of all that followeth, ſhall not be forgotten, ſhall not periſh, or be loſt; So in Iob 30. 20, 25. and 31. 20. And the Chaldee here repeateth the word not, for more plainneſſe. Contrary to this is the wicked's hope and expectation, which ſhall periſh, Prov. 10. 28. Iob 8. 13. and 11. 20. be ſtrong] or, ſtrengthen, confirm and harden himſelfe, and ſo prevaiſe. This *is fitly oppoſed both to the name and nature of man, which is infirm, ſorrowfull, and mortal.

21 Verſ. 21. Put a feare in them] The originall
morab (uſed in this place onely) ſeemeth to be put for Mora, which is Feare or Terrour, Pſal. 76. 12.
theſe two Hebrew letters being often put one for another, as Amor, Ier. 52. 15. for Hamor, 2 King.
25. 11. Shinna, 2 King. 25. 29. for Shinnah, Ier. 52.
33. Or according to the Letters it may come of Horab, to teach, and ſignifie a law or doctrine, and this the Gr. favoureth, translating ſet a Law-giver (or teacher) over them. ſory men] in Hebrew En- noſh, the proper name of *Adan*is nephew, Gen. 4.
26. ſignifying Sorrowfull; and is after commonly given to every man for his dolefull state and mortali-tie, Psal. 8. 5. and here collectively is the name of man kinde.

PSAL. X.

11 The Prophet complaineth to God of the outrage
of the wicked against God himselfe and his poore people. 12 He prayeth for remedie. 16. He professeth his confidence.

VWherefore Jehovah dost thou stand in a place farre off, dost thou hide at times in distresse? In the haughtinesse of the wicked, he hotly pursueth the poore afflicted, let them be taken in the crafty purposes that they have thought. For praise doth the wicked for the desire of his soule,
and the coverous he blesseth, he dispirith Jehovah. The wicked, such is the loslineffe of his nose, that he seeketh not: there is no God, in all his craftie purposes. His waies do well succeed in all time, thy judgements are on high above his sight, all his distresses he pusseth at them. He saith in his heart, I shall not be removed, for that I shall not be in evill to generation and generation. His mouth is full of cursing, and of deceits and fraud; under his tongue is molestation and painful iniquitie. He sitteth in the waiting place of the villages, in the secret places doth he murder the innocent, his eies lurk for the poore.
He lieth in wait in the secret place, as a Lion in his den he lieth in wait to snatch away
the poore afflicted; he snatcheth away the poore afflicted, in drawing him into his net.
Hee croucheth, he boweth downe, that fall
may into his strong pawes a troop of poore.
He saith in his heart, God hath forgotten,
he hideth his face, he will not see to perpetu-itie. Rise up Jehovah, ô God lift up the hand, forget not the meeke afflicted. Wherefore doth the wicked despise God? he saith in his heart, thou wilt not enquire. Thou seest, for thou beholdest molestation and indignation, to give it into thy hand, unto thee the poore doth leave it: thou art the helper of the fatherlesse. Breake thou the arme of the wicked one, and of the evil man; seek out his wickednesse, till thou findest none. Jehovah is King for ever and aye; perished are the heathens out of his land. Jehovah thou hast heard the desire of the meek, thou preparest
firme their heart, thou makest attentive thine care. To judge the fatherlesse and the oppressed, that he adde not any more to daunt
with terrour sory man out of the earth.

Annotations.

THis Psalm is in the Greek version a continuance and part of the former ninth. Whereupon the count of the Psalmes following, doth in the Greeke books, and such as follow them, differ from the Hebrew; the 11. Psalm being reckoned for the 10. the 12. for the 11. and so forward. Yet to make up the number of 150. Psalmes, they divide the 147. into two. Likewise the 114. and 115. Psalmes they make one, and the 116. they part in two.

1 Vers. 1. wherefore dost thou stand] or, wilt thou stand ? This forme of expostulation implieth an earnest prayer, Lord stand not farre off. For questions may be resolved into plaine affirmations, or denials: as where one Evangelist saith, why diseasest thou the Master, Mark. 5. 35. another saith, Disease not the Master, Luke 8. 49. See the notes on Exod. 32. 11. dost thou hide] to wit, thine eyes, as Esay 1. 15. or, thine eare, as Lm. 3. 56. or thy selfe.

times in distresse] that is, when we are in distresse. So Psal. 9. 10. Times, may specially note troubled times. See Psal. 31. 16.

2 Vers. 2. he hotly pursueth] or, burne doth the poore, doth broile in affliction, is hotly persecuted. See Psal. 7. 14. The Apostle useth like speech for exceeding griefe, 2 Cor. 11. 19. Who is offended and I burne not ? craftie purposes] or, devices, policies; The word noting sometime good purposes, and sometime evill. See also Psal. 26. 10. The Greeke translateth, they are taken in the counsels.

3 Vers. 3. praise doth the wicked] to wit, himselfe, or his fortune, for that he hath what his soule desireth. And the soule of the wicked desireth evill, Prov. 21. 10. the covetous] or gain-thirsty, he blest] to wit, himselfe, and his fortune. The covetous hath his name of a word which sometime signifieth to pierce or wound, Ier. 2. 8. And fitly is the gain-thirsty so called, both for the hurt he doth to others, whose life oft he would take away, Pro. 1. 19. and for that he woundeth himselfe with his greedy carke; the holy Ghost testifying that such as lust after gaine, doe pierce themselves thorow with many sorrows, 1 Tim. 6. 10. he despiseth] or contemptuously provoketh with evill words or carriage, and so incenseth or stirreth him to wrath. So vers. 13. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, he thus blesteth the unrighteous man, abhorreth the word of the Lord.

4 Vers. 4. such is the loftinesse of his nose] or, according to the height of his countenance, or, of his anger. The nose and casting up of it, signifieth a proud, carnefull, and sometime an angry countenance; For as the highnesse of the heart, Psal. 131. 1. and of the spirit, Prov. 16. 18. noteth inward pride: so the loftinesse of the eyes, Psal. 101. 5. and here of the nose, noteth outward pride and disdainfull behaviour. The Hebrew hath one word, for the nose, and for anger, (as is observed, Psal. 2. 5.) the Greeke here saith, according to the multitude of his anger, meaning that whereby he persecuteth the poore. The Chaldee translateth it, in the pride of his spirit. he seeketh not] nothing regardeth or careth, to wit, for God, or his will. Or it may be translated, The wicked inquire not into the height of his anger, that is, into Gods anger, he careth not nor feareth his wrath.

in all his craftie purposes] or, in all his presumptuous cogitations; meaning that he doth not once thinke of God, whiles he purpoeth against the poore; or he persuadeth in heart, andaine would so perswade himselfe that there is no God. He studieth Atheisme, as Psal. 14. 1. The Chaldee expounds it, He saith in his heart, that all his cogitations are not manifest before the Lord.

Vers. 5. His waies, &c.] or, bring forth do his waies; a similitude from bringing forth children with paine, which being effected, causeth joy, Job. 16. 21. Therefore here, (as in Job 20. 21.) it is used for good successe and (as the Chaldee explaineth it,) prosperitie. Or referring it to the poore whom he persecuteth, we may reade, his waies in the sorrowfull, or are grievous; the Greeke saith, are polluted.

in all time] or, in every time, that is, always continually. So Psal. 34. 2. and 62. 9. and 106. 3. so the Apostle in Greeke saith, praying in all time, that is, always, Ephes. 6. 18. like phrase is, in all day, that is, dayly, Psal. 145. 2. above his sight] or out of his presence, from before him.

he passeth] that is, despise and setteth them at nought, dominiers over them (as the Greeke translateth it) as if he could overthrow them with his breath. Or he puffeth, bloweth, and consequently setteth them on fire, and consumeth them: as, fornefull men puffed (that is, inflamed, or as the Greeke saith, burne) the citie, Prov. 29. 8. So Ezek. 21. 31. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he is angry at them.

Vers. 6. I shall not be in evill:] or, that am not in evill; that is, I who am not now in evill, shall never be; meaning by evill, trouble or affliction; as the Israelites saw themselves in evill, Exod. 5. 19. Or, perhaps, by evill, he meaneth sinne and maliciousnesse, (as when Aaron said, the people were in evill, Exod. 32. 22) and then he boasteth here of his innocencie, for which he promiseth to himselfe a settle estate. The Chaldee giveth this sense; I will not be moved from generation to generation, from doing evill.

Vers. 7. of cursing] or, of execration or adjuration. The Hebrew Alah signifieth an oath with execration or cursing, Numb. 5. 21. for cursing was added to an oath, for to confirme it the more, Neh. 10. 29. Dent. 29. 12, 21. therefore one and the same thing is called both an oath, and a curse, Gen. 24. 8. 41. This here the Apostle calleth in Greeke Arz, Cursing, Rom. 3. 14. deceits and fraud] or impostures and inward guile, that is, outward deceitfull shewes and promises, and privie guile lurking in the heart.

Vers. 8. in the waiting place of the rillages] or, the ambush of the court-yards, both which have their name in Hebrew of the grasse that groweth in them, as it were grasse-yards. And because such places commonly are rich mens possessions, therefore (it seemeth) the Greeke translateth, in the waiting place with the rich.

Vers. 10. He croucheth] or, And he croucheth, to wit, himselfe, lest he should be espied. See this spoken

ken of the Lion, Iob 39.2. that fall may into his strong pawes a troope] or, and he falleth with his strong pawes on the troope of poore. Strong pawes] or,

Strong members; Here wanteth a word to be supplied, as often in this and other tongues; as, a full for a full cup, Psa. 73.10 a new, for a new sword, 2 Sam. 21.16. cold, for cold water, Matth. 10. 42.

This want sometime the Scripture it selfe supplieth in repeating histories; as, he set in Aram, 1 Chr. 18.6. for he set garrisons in Aram, 2 Sam. 8.6. the first of the feast, Matth. 26.17. for the first day of the feast, Mark. 14.12. So after, Psa. 22.13. and 27.4.

troope of poore] or, the weake, the poore; called here by a name that noteth their power, wealth, and facultie, to be dimmed or decayed, or, a company of obscure persons. This word is no where found, but thrise in this Psalme, in the eight verse before, in this, and againe in the fourteenth.

11 Ver. 11. he will not see] or, not at all respect. The like prophane speeches of the wicked are set downe, Psa. 94. 7. Ezek. 8. 12. and 9. 9. Isay 29.15.

12 Ver. 12. lift up thy hand] that is, shew openly thy power for helpe of thy people, and confusion of thy foes. Lifting up the hand is applied to the publishing and manifesting of the Gospell, Isay 49.22. sometime for signe of helpe, Ezek. 20.5. sometime for hurt, 2 Sam. 18.28. and sometime for signe of an oath, as Psa. 106.26. Deut. 32.40. In this latter sense the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it here, Confirme the oath of thy hand.

14 Ver. 14. to give it into thine hand] that is, to take the matter into thy hand, to manage it, or, to give with thy hand, that is, liberally to recompence the evill that is done. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, It is manifest before thee, that thou wilt send upon the wicked sorrow and wrath, thou lookest to pay a good reward to the just with thy hand. unto thee] or, upon thee the poore leaveth, to wit, his cause, or himselfe. To leave, isto commit unto ones fidelitie, Gen. 39.6. Esa 10.3. Iob 39.14. And so the Chaldee saith, thy poore, trust in thee. See also 2 Tim. 1.12.

15 Ver. 15. Breake the arme] the arme noteth strength, meanes, power, and helpe. Ezek. 30.21,25. Isa. 33.2. Dan. 11.6.22. also violence, Iob 35.9. In respect of all these, the armes of the wicked men shall be broken, Psa. 37.17. till thou findeest none.] In Jer. 50.20. the finnes of Gods people being sought for, are not found, because of his mercy in pardoning them: but here of the wicked they are not found, because of his judgment in consuming them, as he saith in Ezek. 23.48. thus will I cause wickednesse to cease out of the land.

16 Ver. 16. beathens out of his land] the land of Canaan, whose peoples the Lord droye out, Psa. 44.3. and of which he said, the land is mine, Levit. 25.23. It may also be understood of the wicked Israelites, which in conditions were like the heathens, and borne of them, Ezek. 16.3. such were also called beathens, Psa. 2.1. as appeareth by Act. 4.27.

17 Ver. 17. thou preparest firme] to wit, by thy Spirit, which helpeth the infirmities of men that know not what to pray as they ought, Rom. 8.26. Or we may reade it prayer-wise, prepare thou their heart, apply &c. for prayers are often made in faith, as if they were already done; as, where one saith, it hath pleased thee to blesse, 1 Chron. 17.27. another saith, let it please thee to blesse, 2 Sam. 7.29 thing care] the Chaldee addeth, to their prayers. The Greeke thus, to the preparation of their heart thing care attendeth.

Ver. 18. that he adde not] he, that is, the wicked man spoken of before, ver. 15. unlesse we refer it to that which followeth, the man of the earth. to daunt with terror] or, to breake with feare, to dismay or terrifie. The word is indifferent, applied sometime to God, Psa. 89.8. sometime to wicked men, Psa. 37.35. The Apostle following the Greek version, saith, be not troubled, 1 Pet. 3.14. for, be not daunted with feare, Esay 8.12. but more fully the word is opened by Paul, saying, in nothing be terrified (or daunted) of your adversaries, Phi. 1.28. pturōmenoi sory man, out of the earth] or sory men, (Amsb.) as Psa. 9.21. This may be referred to the fatherlesse and oppressed, whom the wicked would daunt and skare out of the earth, or land. Or, changing the order of the words, thus, that man of the earth (that is, earthly man,) doe no more terrifie the meeke. The Chaldee explaineth it thus, Let the sons of men not any more be broken (or daunted) from before the wicked of the earth.

PSAL. XI.

David being counselled to flee, encourageth himselfe in God against his enemies. 4 He sheweth the providence and justice of God.

To the Master of the Musick, a Psalm of David.

IN Jehovah doe I hope for safety; how say ye to my soule, flee to your mountain as a bird? For loe the wicked bend the bow, they prepare their arrow upon the string to shoot in the darknesse at them that are upright in heart. For the foundations are cast down, the just what hath he done? Jehovah in the palace of his holinesse, Jehovah in the heavens his throne; his eyes will view, his eye-lids will prove the sonnes of Adam. Jehovah will prove the just one, and the wicked one; and him that loveth violent wrong his soule doth hate. He will raine upon the wicked, snares, fire and brimstone, and wind of burning stormes shall bee the portion of their cup. For just Jehovah hee loveth justices, his face will view the righteous.

Annotations.

A Psalm of David:] this word Psalm waiting in the Hebrew, is supplied in the Greek. So

So in Psal. 14. and 25. and 26. and 27. and many other. See the note on Psal. 10. 10. fit or fit. In the Hebrew there is a double reading, see thou, and see ye, meaning David in speciall, and his retinue with him. to your mount or, from your mount; but the Greeke and Chaldee supplieth the word to. In mounts, rocks and caves, David hid himselfe from Sauls persecution, 1 Sam. 23. 14. and 24. 3, 4. as a bird] This noteth his danger, who was hunted as a partridge on the mount-ynes, 1 Sam. 26. 20. and his feare, as in Isa. 16. 2. Hereupon is that proverb, As a bird fleeing from her nest, so is a man fleeing from his place, Prov. 27. 8.

3 Verse 3. For the foundations or the things set up. The originall word Shaitoth signifieth things orderly set and disposed, and may be applied to many things; as in buildings, to the foundation; in hunting, unto nets or snares; in the Common-wealth, unto constitutions or positive lawes; in warres, unto engines or leagers, as Psal. 3. 7. in the minde of man, unto purposes, plots, deliberations; in Religion, unto Faith, which is the foundation and beginning of the hypostasie, or the hypostasie (that is, the subsistence and expectation) of things hoped for, Hebr. 3. 14. and 11. 1. According to all, or most of these, may this sentence be applied, either to the plots, purposes, snares, set for Davids ruine, but pulled downe by the Lord; or to Sauls estate and kingdome which seemed settled, but by the Lord was overthrowne; or, to Davids estate and faith, which the enemies boasted to be come to nought. The Greeke version of the Lxx. translateth thus, for the things that thou hast perfected, they have destroyed. are cast down or shall be broken downe, destroyed. The Chaldee giveth this interpretation. For if the foundations be destroyed, why doth the just doe innocencie?

4 Verse 4. Palace of his holinesse or his holy palace or Temple, which here may be taken for very heaven, as also in Hab. 2. 20. for the holy places made with hands, were antitypes (or answerable similitudes) of the true Sanctuarie, Hebr. 9. 24.

5 Verse 5. prove the just or trie them; by the persecution of the wicked, as well as by other afflictions, Psal. 66. 10, 11, 12. his soule] that is, Gods soule doth hate. This is attributed to God after the manner of men; as he is also said to have eyes, hands, eares, &c. So Leviticus 26. 11. my soule shall not loath you.

6 Verse 6. snares] hereby is often meant in Scripture, strange, sudden, and inevitable judgements, Job 22. 10. and 18. 9, 10. Isa. 8. 14. and 24. 17, 18. The Chaldee expounds it, He will send downe the raine of vengeance on the wicked that breathe fire, &c. fire and brimstone] such was the wrath that fell on Sodom and the Cities by it, Genes. 19. 24. and was threatned unto Gog, Ezek. 38. 22. and figureth the vengeance of eternall fire, Jude 7. Revelat. 20. 10.

wind of burning stormes] or, of blasting tempests, that is, a horrible blasting whirlwind. David felt such from his persecutours, Psalm. 119. 53. and here they feelee such from God, for persecuting him. Ieremie applieth this word to the burning storme of hunger, Lam. 5. 10. but it is properly a bideous burning tempest, rushing out of the dark-

some cloud; such as the Evangelist calleth animos torbidos, a smouldring burning wind, named in Greeke Eurochdon, Act. 27. 14. the portion of their cup] that is, the due measure of their punishment. See Psal. 75. 9. and 16. 5.

Verse 7. loveth justices] that is, all manner justice, both to punish the evil, and preserve the good, both just causes and persons. his face or their faces, in myserie of the holy Trinitie; as often in the Scripture. See Psal. 149. 3. The Hebrew here may be Englished, the face (the aspects) of them, or of him: See the note on Psalm. 2. 3. will view the righteous] usually vieweth the right. And this noteth the manifesting of Gods care and favour towards the righteous, both cause and person. The Greeke translateth, His face seeth righteousness: the Chaldee thus, The just shall see the sight of his face.

PSAL. XII.

David destitute of humane comfort, craveth helpe of God. 4 He comforteth himselfe with Gods judgements on the wicked; and confidence in Gods tried promiser.

To the master of the musicke upon the eight, 1
a Psalme of David.

SAVE O Jehovah, for the gracious Saint 2
is ended, for the faithfull are diminished 3
from the sons of Adam. They speake 3 false vanitie, each man with his next friend, 4
with lip of flatteries; with a heart and a 4
heart they speake. Jehovah cut off all lips 4 of flatteries, the tongue that speaketh great 5 things. Which have said, with our tongue 5
we will prevaile, our lips are with us, who is 6
Lord over us? For the wastfull spoile of 6
the poore afflicted, for the groaning of the 7
needy ones: now will I rise up, saith Jeho- 7
vah; I will set in salvation, he shall have 8 breathing. The sayings of Jehovah are pure 7 sayings: as silver tried in a subliming fur- 8
nace of earth, fined seven times. Thou Jeho- 8
vah wilt keep them, wilt preserve him from 9
this generation for ever. The wicked walke 9 on every side, when vilenesse is exalted of 9
the sonnes of Adam.

Annotations.

Verse 1. upon the eight] which the Chaldee expoundeth, upon the eight stringed harpe: See Psalm 6. 1.

SAVE] or helpe. This word is largely used, for 2
all manner saving, helping, delivering, preserving, &c.,

&c. as to helpe or defend from injury, Exod. 2. 17. 2 King. 6. 26. 27. to deliver from all aduersities, Psal. 34. 7. as from sicknesse, Mat. 9. 21. Marke 6. 56. from drowning, Mat. 8. 25. from shipwrack, Act. 27. 31. from hands of enemies, Psal. 18. 4. Iude 5. from sinne, Mat. 1. 21. from death, Matt. 27. 40. from wrath, Rom. 5. 9. & infinite the like. And is not onely a helping in trouble, but a riddance not of it, as one Evangelist saith, Let us see if Elias will come and save him, Mat. 27. 49. another saith, if Elias will come and take him downe, Marke 15. 36. the faulshull are diminished] or, faulsh, fidelities are ceased. The originall word is used both for true and faulshull persons, 2 Sam. 20. 19. & for truths or fidelities, Esay 26. 2. The Greeke translateth, the truths.

3 Verse 3. false vanity] or vaine falshood; in Greeke, vaine things. The word (shav) noteth vanity both of words and deeds, Exod. 20. 7. Ier. 2. 30. and often that which is also false, Exod. 23. 1. as that which Moses in Exod. 20. 16 calleth witnesse of falsehood, (Shaker) relating it he calleth false vanity, (Shav) Deut. 5. 20. with his next friend] or his neighbour, his friend with whom he is associate. Sometime this word is used for a speciall friend, 2 Sam. 13. 3. Psalm. 35. 14. Prov. 17. 17. but often generally for a neighbour, or next, as the new Testament translateth it in Greeke, Mat. 19. 19. from Levit. 19. 18. And who is our neighbour, our Lord teacheth us, Luke 10. 29. ~ 36. with lip of flatteries] that is, smooth deceitfull speeches, as the Greeke translateth, deceitfull lips, a lip being sometime put for a speech or language, Gen. 11. 1. Of such deceivers, that had taught their tongues to speake lies, Ieremy also complaineth, chap. 9. verse 4. 5. a heart and a heart] that is, a double heart, and deceitfull. So stone and stone, Ephab and Ephab, Deut. 23. 13. 14. meaning double and deceitfull weighs and measures. The men of Zabulun are commended for that they were not thus of a heart and a heart, 1 Chron. 12. 33. The Greeke translateth, with a heart and a heart he speaketh evil things.

5 Verse 5. our lips are with us] or, are ours, that is, we have skill, power, and liberty to speake; who shall controul us?

6 Verse 6. I will rise up] the Chaldee addeth, will rise up to judgement. set in salvation] that is, deliver out of all misery, and safely settle in health and prosperous estate. he shall have breathing] or, he (meaning God) will give breathing, or respiration to him, that is, to every poore man, (as after in verse 8.) or, hee will breathe out, that is, speake plainly to him. The Greeke, changing the person, translateth, parresia somai, that is, I will speake plainly with him. So it noteth the bold assured comfort which God by promise giveth to the afflicted, whose faithfull word is therefore commended in the verse following. This word sometime is used for plaine and confident breathing out, or uttering of the truth, Habak. 2. 3. Prov. 12. 17. Or we may understand it of the wicked, thus, I will set in salvation him whom he puffeth at, that is, whom the wicked boldly defiecth, (as this word was used before, Psal. 10. 5.) or, whom he bath insnared. The Chaldee ex-

poundeth it, I will appoint salvation for my people, but against the wicked I will testifie evil.

Verse 7. The sayings] or, the words, promises, tried] examined, fined, as in fire. The like praise of Gods pure word is in Psalme 18. 31 and 119. 140. Prov. 30. 5. a subliming furnace of earth] This furnace, called Ghnatil, a sublimatory, of subliming or causing to ascend upward, is the best and choicest vessell for trying and subliming of mettall, called therefore in Greeke Dokimion, a Trial. And the Apostle hath the like word for a Trial of faith, better than gold, 1 Pet. 1. 7. seven times] or seven fold, that is, many times, fully and sufficiently. Seven is a perfect number used for many, 1 Sam. 2. 5. Prov. 24. 16. and 26. 25.

Verse 8. preserve him] that is, every one of them: so before in the end of the sixth verse, and often in the Scripture, like sudden change of number may be observed. It may also be read prayer-wise, keep them, preserve him. The Greeke changeth person also, saying, will keepe us, and preserve us. from this generation] that is, from the men of this generation; as when Christ said, Whether shall I liken this generation? Matt. 11. 16: he meant, Whether shall I liken the men of this generation? Luke 7. 31. The like may be scene in Matt. 11. 12. 42. compared with Luk 11. 31. The originall word Dor, that is, generation, race or age, hath the signification of durance, or durable dwelling and abiding, Psal. 84. 11. and so noteth the whole age or time that a man dureth in this world, Eccles. 1. 4. and so consequently for a multitude of men that live together in any age, as here, and Dent. 1. 35. and in many other places.

Verse 9. vilenesse] or, vile luxuriousnesse, riotize. The word Zullush here used, is derived from Zol, that is, a rioter, glutton, or luxurious person, Deut. 21. 20. Prov. 23. 21. and consequently one vile, contemptible and nought worthe, opposed unto the precious, Ier. 15. 19. And here vilenesse or riotize may either be meant the vice it selfe, or of vicious doctrine, opposed to Gods precious word, before spoken of, ver. 7. or a vile and riotous person, may so be called, for more vehemencie sake, as Pride for the Proud man, Psal. 36. 12. The Greeke translateth thus; according to thine highnesse, thou hast much increased (or made abundant) the sons of men. The Chaldee thus; the wicked walke round about, as an horseth that sucketh the blood of the sonnes of men.

PSAL. XIII.

David complaineth of delay in helpe; 4 prayes, for mercy 6 and glorieth therein.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalme of David.

HOW long Jehovah wilt thou forget me for ever: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? How long shall I set counsels in my soule, sorow in my heart by

by day: how long shall my enemy be exalted above me? Behold, answer thou me, Jehovah my God; lighten thou mine eyes, lest I sleep the death. Lest my enemy say, I have prevailed against him; my distressers be glad when I am moved. But I, in thy mercie doe I trust, my heart shall be glad in thy salvation: I will sing to Jehovah, for he hath bounteously rewarded unto me.

Annotations.

2 Hide thy face] that is, withdraw thy favourable countenance and comfort; which the Chalde expoundeth, the brightness of thy face. This is contrary to the lifting up of the light of Gods face, Psalm. 4. 7. and importeth trouble and griefe, and is caused by sinne, and is the cause of many adversities and discomforts, Deut. 31. 17, 18. Isa. 59. 2. Ezek. 39. 23, 24, 29. therefore this Prophet doth often complaine hereof, and pray against it, Psal. 30. 8. and 104. 29. and 88. 15. and 69. 18. and 102. 3. and 145. 7. and 27. 9.

4 Verse 4. lighten my eyes] that is, make them see cleere; and consequently, make me joyfull; for, the light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart, Prov. 15. 30. Or, keepe me alive: which sense the words following seeme to imply, and the like speeches in Prov. 29. 13. Eccles. 1. 7, 8. The eyes are said to be enlightened, when penurie, sorrow, sicknesse, or other affliction whereby they were dulled, is done away, and the senses by some meanes refreshed, 1 Sam. 14. 27, 29. Esra 9. 8. also when ignorance is by Gods Word and Spirit done out of the minde, Psal. 19. 9. Eph. 1. 18. See also Psal. 38. 11. lest I sleepe] or, that I sleepe not the death, meaning, the sleepe of death, that is, lest I die. For death is often called sleepe in the Scripture, Psal. 76. 6. Job 3. 13. and 14. 12. Act. 7. 60. and 13. 36. the sleepe of eternitie, Jer. 51. 39. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Enlighten mine eyes in thy Law, lest I sinne, and sleepe with them which are guiltie of death.

6 Verse 6. But I] or, And I, as for me. bounteously rewarded] The originall word Gamal signifieth to give one thing for another; as prosperitie, after one hath bene in adversitie, &c. And though it be sometime used for rewarding evill for good, Psal. 7. 5. or evill for evill, Psal. 137. 8. yet from God to his people, it commonly signifieth a bountifull rewarding of good things, in stead of evill, which we rather doe deserve. So Psal. 116. 7. and 119. 17. and 142. 8. and 103. 2, 10. The Greek translateth deus bounteously; the Chaldee, rewarded me good.

PSALME XIV.

1 David describeth the corruption of all naturall men; 4. and convinceth them by the light of their conscience. 6 He sheweth their enmities against Gods people, who wish for, and glory in his salvation.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalm of David.

THe foole saith in his heart, there is no God: they have corrupted, they have made abominable their practise; there is none that doth good! Jehovah from the heavens looked downe upon the sons of Adam, to see if there were any that understand, any that seeketh God. All is departed, together they are become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, none nor one. Doe they not know, all that worke painful iniquity, that eat my people as they eat bread; they call not on Jehovah. There dread they a dread, because God is in the just generation.

The counsell of the poore afflicted yee would make abashed, because Jehovah is his hope. Who will give out of Sion the salvation of Israel: when Jehovah returneth the captivitie of his people, Jakob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoyce.

Annotations.

THe foole] Nabal (which hath the signification of fading, dying, or falling away, as doth a leafe or flower, Isa. 40. 8. 1 Pet. 1. 24.) is a title given to the foolish man, as having lost the joyce and sap of wisdom, reason, honestie, and liness; being fallen from grace ungratefull, without the life of God; as a dead carcasse, (which of this word is called Nabalab, Lev. 11. 40.) and therefore ignoble, and of vile esteeme; opposed to the noble man, Isa. 32. 5. The Apostle in Greeke turneth it imprudent or without understanding, Rom. 10. 19. from Deut. 32. 21.

saith in his heart] that is, mindeth, and perswadeb himselfe in secret. So Psalm. 10. 4. and 53. no God] the Chaldee expoundeth it, no power (or dominion) of God in the earth. they have corrupted] marred, to wit, themselves; therefore the Greeke saith, they are corrupted; the Chaldee saith, corrupted their workes. This word is used for corruption both of religion and manners, by idolatry and other vices, Exod. 32. 7. Deut. 31. 29. Gen. 6. 12. And that which he spake before as of one man, he now applieth to all mankind. made abominable] or made loathsome to wit, their action or themselves; as the Greeke saith, they are abominable, or become loathsome. So in 1 King. 21. 26. The Chaldee interpreteth, they abhorre good. practise] meaning their evill actions: therefore in Psalm. 53. 2. it is gnavel, evill; which here is guisish, action.

Vers. 3. All in] or, the all, that is, the whole universall multitude is departed; all in generall, and every one in particular, as is expressed, Psalm 53. 4. become unprofitable] or fit for no use; so the Apostle expresseth it in Greeke: the word here used, being rare, and taken from Job 15. 16. and betokeneth a thing loathsome, stinking, and so unfit for use.

4 Verse 4. Do they not know? meaning, doubtlesse they know, and cannot pleade ignorance. A question hath often the force of an earnest asseveration. eat my people that is, the poore, as is added for explanation in Exod. 22. 25. for Gods people commonly are the poorer sort, Jam. 2. 5, 6 Luke 6. 20. and such are eaten or devoured of the wicked; Psalm. 79. 7. who eat their flesh, and flay off their skin, and chop them in pieces as flesh for the Caudron, Mic. 3. 3. as they eat bread the word eat seemeth here to be understood, or without it, we may reade, they eat bread, that is, are secure, and without remorse, doe give themselves to eating and drinking. So eating of bread is used for banqueting, Exod. 18. 12.

5 Verse 5. There dread they a dread that is, they are sore adread, or feare a great feare, as Luke 2. 9. So, bath feared a sinne, Lam. 1. 8. that is, bath grievously feared. And by there, he meaneth the suddenesse of it, as also in Psal. 36. 13. or there, that is, in their heart and conscience. The Greeke translateth, they dreaded with feare, where no feare was: the Chaldee, they feared with a false feare, with which it was not meet to feare. because God is this may be taken as a cause of their foresaid feare, as Saul was afraid of David, 1 Sam. 18. 14, 15. or it is an opposition to their dread, but God is in the just generation, and therefore they dread not, but are defended from the siege of their enemies, as Psa. 53. 6. The Chaldee saith, because the word of the Lord is in the generation of the just.

Verse 6. ye would make abashed that is, ye reproach it, and would confound, frustrate, and bring it to nothing. abasing and shame is often used for frustration of ones purpose and hope, Psal. 6. 11. because Jehovah or, but Jehovah is his shelter and hope, therefore he shall not be abashed, Psal. 25. 3. Contrariwise, the wicked shall be abashed, because God refuseth them, Psal. 53. 6.

7 Verse 7. Who will give or, O that some would give! it is a forme of wishing often used in the Scripture, as Psal. 55. 7. Deut. 5. 59. Job 6. 8. out of Zion this is meant of Christ the salvation of God to Israel, who was expected out of Zion; as it is written, the Redeemer shall come out of Zion, and shall turne away impieties from Jakob, Rom. 11. 26. returneth the captivitee that is, bringeth againe those that were led captives: according to the promise, Deut. 30. 3. and this was performed by Christ, Luke 4. 18. Ephes. 4. 8. Captivity or leading away, is here used for the people led away; as another word of like signification is so used, Ezek. 11. 24, 25. So Psal. 126. Jakob, Israel that is, Gods people, the posteritie of Jakob, who also was called Israel. (So Aaron was put for his posteritie, the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. and 27. 17. and David, for his children, 1 Chro. 4. 31.) Jakob is a name that noteth infirmities; for he strove for the first birthright, but obtained it not, when he took his brother by the heele in the wombe; and thereupon was called Jakob, Gen. 25. 22, 26. But Israel is a name of power and principality; for after he had wraisted with the Angel, behaved himselfe princely, wept, prayed and prevailed, his name was changed from Jakob to Israel, as a Prince or prevailer with God, Gen. 32. 24, 26, 28. Hof. 12. 3, 4. Therefore is the name Israel given to all Gods people, even the Gentiles also, that have Jakobs faith, Galat. 6. 16. as long before Isaiah, who was by nature an Ismaelite, 1 Chron. 7. 17. was for his faith and religion called an Israelite, 2 Sam. 17. 25. It may also be observed, how in this word ISRAEL are contained the first letters of the names of Abraham and Sarah his wife, of Isaak and Rebekah his wife, of Jakob and of both his wives, Leah and Rachel: all which persons (except Rachel) were also buried together in one cave, Gen. 49. 29, 31.

PSAL. XV.

David describeth a Citizen of Zion, by his godly and righteous conversation.

A Psalme of David; Jehovah, who shall sojourn in thy Tent, who shall dwell in the mountaine of thy holinesse? He that walketh perfect, and worketh justice, and speaketh truth in his heart. Slandereyth not with his tongue, doth not evill to his next friend, and taketh not up a reproach against his neighbour. In whose eyes an abject is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare Jehovah: sweareth to his hurt, and changeth not. Giveth not his money to biting usury, and taketh not a bribe against the innocent: he that doth these things shall not be moved for ever.

Annotations.

IN thy Tent] or Pavilion, called in Hebrew Obel, or of spreading over. God caused an habitation to be made in the wilderness, wherein he dwelt among men, Exod. 26. Psal. 78. 60. that Mansion, made of ten curtaines, he called Mishcan, an Habitation, or Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 1. Psalm. 26. 8. over which, other curtaines were made and cast for a covering, called Obel, a Tent or covering, Exod. 26. 7. Hereupon the whole place is called sometime Obel, a Tent, sometime Mishcan, a Tabernacle. To this Tent all Gods people were to come for his publike worship, Levit. 17. 4, 5. Deut. 12. 5, 6. It was a moveable place, and so differed from an house or settled habitation, 2 Sam. 7. 1, 6. 1 Chron. 17. 5. yet for the use, it is sometime called a house, as is noted on Psal. 5. 8. mountaine the mountaine of Zion, whereof see Psal. 2. 6. The Chaldee calleth it, the mount of the house of thy holinesse.

Verse 2. walketh perfect that is, leadeth his life perfect, entire, simple, sincere, and unblemished. It noteth noteth the integritie that is before God, in heart and spirit; according to the covenant, walk before me, and be perfect, Gen. 17.1. and, thou shalt be perfect with Jehovah thy God, Deut. 18.13. Mat. 5.48. Therefore this perfectnesse must first be in the heart, Psal. 119.80: then in the waies, Psal. 18.33. and 119.1. worketh] or effecteth justice; this is wrought by faith, Hebr. 11.33. and such a man is acceptable to God, Act. 10.35.

3 Verſ. 3. Slandereſt not] or deſameſt not, backbiteth not. This word Ragal, (from whence Regeſt, a ſow, is derived) properly noteth a going to and fro, prying and ſpying, and carrying tales and rumours, and is uſed for deſaming, or calumniating by craft and guile, 2 Sam. 19.27. and here generally for all buſie, craftie, deceitfull or malicious abuſe of the tongue: which the Greeke expreſſeth by uſing fraud or dole, taketh not up a reproach] or layeth not on, or beareth not a reproach. This importeth both the firſt raiſing, and the after receiving and reporting of a reproachfull tale, Exod. 23.1. Levit. 19.16. The like phraſe is uſed ſometime for bearing or ſuffering reproach, Psal. 69.8. Ezek. 36.15. that ſenſe is not amiſſe here; beareth not reproach upon his neighbour, that is, ſuffereth not his neighbour to be reproached: as elſe-where he ſaith, beare not ſinne upon thy neighbour, or ſuffer him not to ſinne, Levit. 19.17.

4 Verſ. 4. In whoſe eyes an abject] or, In his eyes a reprobate is contemned. The order alſo may be changed thus, in whoſe eyes the contemptible (or vile perſon, as Dan. 11.21.) is rejected. See examples of ſuch carriage, 2 King. 3.14. Eſth. 3.2. Luke 23.9. The Greeke tranſlateth it, an evill doer is ſet as nought before him: the Chaldee thus, He that is deſpiſed in his owne eyes, and contemned. ſweareth to his hurt] or to his evill, his hinderance, or to afflicte himſelfe. Which may be underſtood of oathes to men, turning to his owne loſſe and dammage, which yet he keepeth; or of oathes to God, vowing to afflicte himſelfe, by abſtinence. The Hebrew word which ſignifieth evill, is often uſed for affliction; as in Ruth 1.21. the Almighty hath done evill unto me, that is, hath afflicted me. Otherwiſe if we underſtand it of doing evill to another, the meaning is, ſweareth to doe evill, but doth not recompence it; that is, performeth it not: for the word change, here uſed, ſometime ſignifieth recompence, as Job 15.31. compare this place with the Law for ſwearing to doe evill, or good, Levit. 5.4. The Greeke tranſlateth ſweareth to his neighbour: for raugh, evill, reading reangb; a neighbour: this ſenſe is good. And raugh, though not uſuall, may be taken for a neighbour here, and in Prov. 6.24.

5 Verſ. 5. money] Hebr. ſilver, that is, money uſually made of ſilver. to biting uſury] or with biting, that is, uſury, fitly ſo called, becauſe it bites and conſumeth the borrower and his ſubſtance. See the notes on Exod. 22.25. be moved] or ſhaken, removed. And commonly it implieth in it ſome evill to the thing moved, Psal. 38.17. and 94.18. and 135.5. and 60.4. and often in the Pſalmes; therefore the juſt have this privilege of God, never to be moved, Psal. 55.23. Prov. 10.30. and 12.3.

PSAL. XVI.

David propheſieſh of Chriſts confidence in God, and love to the Saints on earth. 4. The ſorrowes of Idolaters, with whom he hath no communion. 5. He is content with his lot and heritage, 7. bleſſeth God in his afflictions, 9. profelleth his hope of reſurrection from the dead, and eternall joyes at the right hand of God.

Michtam of David: Preserve mee O God, for I hope for ſafetie in thee. Thou haſt ſaid to Jehovah, thou art my Lord; my good not unto thee. To the Saints which are in the earth, and the excellent, all my delight in them. Their ſorrowes ſhall be multiplied that endow another: I will not powre out their powred out oblations of bloud; neither will I take up their names upon my lips. Jehovah the portion of my part and of my cup, thou ſuſtainest my lot. The lines are fallen to me in the pleaſant places, yea the heritage is faire for me. I will bleſſe Jehovah, which hath counſelled me, yea in the nights my reines doe chaſtiſe me. I have propoſed Jehovah before me continually, for he is at my right hand, I ſhall not be moved. Therefore my heart rejoyceth, and my glory is glad; alſo my fleſh ſhall dwell in confidence. For thou wilt not leave my ſoule to hell, thou wilt not give thy gracious Saint to ſee corruption: Thou wilt make me know the way of life: ſatiety of joyes before thy face; pleaſures at thy right hand to perpetuallie.

Annotations.

Michtam of David:] David's jewell, or notable Song. Cethem is fine glistening gold, Psal. 45.10. of that this Michtam may be derived; for a golden jewell: and ſo note the excellencie of this Pſalme. The like title is before the 56, 57, 58, 59 & 60. Pſalmes. Preserve me O God] Chriſt ſpeaketh this Pſalme by David his figure, as wee are taught in the New Teſtament, Act. 2.25, 31. & 13.35. and here is handled his mediatorſhip, death, reſurrection and aſcenſion. in thee] Chaldee in thy word. Verſe 2. Thou haſt ſaid] he ſpeaketh this to himſelfe; Thou O my ſoule ſayeſt: to the Chaldee Paraphraſe explaineth it; and the Greeke to make it plainer, tranſlateth, I have ſaid. Or, it may be ſpoken to the Spouſe or Church of Chriſt. my good not unto thee] underſtand, extendeth not, or pertaineth not to thee, or is not for thee; which the Greeke expoundeth thus, of my goods thou haſt needed. For, if man be juſt, what giveth he to God? or what receiveth receiveth he at his hand? Job 35.7. The Chaldee saith, my good is not given but of thee.

3 Verse 3. To the Saints] to wit, my good extendeth, as elsewhere Christ saith, for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also may be sanctified through the truth, Joh. 17. 19. are in the earth] such is the meaning of the Hebrew phrase, in earth they; the relative being put for the verbe, which sometime the Hebrew it selfe explaineth: as, he not the King of Israel, 1 Kin. 22. 33. for, it was not the King, 2 Chr. 18. 32. so he overseer, 2 King. 25. 19. for, was overseer, Jer. 52. 25. and sundry the like. excellent] or noble, glorious, wonderfull: an honorable title given to Christians. See Pl. 8. 3. The Chaldee addeth, excellent in good works. all my delight in them] or, in whom all my pleasure is; Heb. Chephisibam, that is, my pleasure in them; so in Esay 62. 4. the Church is called Chephisibab, that is, my pleasure in her.

4 Verse 4. Their sorrowes shall be multiplied.] This is meant of Idolaters, who hastily endow, that is, offer sacrifice to another God, and so increase their griefes; which may be understood of afflictions, or of grievous Idols: for the Hebrew gmatsabim, sorrowes, is often used for Idols, as in Plal. 115. 4. and so the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it here, saying, the wicked they multiply their Idols, and after they hasten to offer their gifts. Accordingly the sense may be this, They whose grievous Idols are multiplied, they endow another God; I will not powre out their oblations, that is, I will not partake with them, or be a mediatur for them. endow another] or hasten to another. A similitude from dowries given in marriages, meaning gifts and oblations hastily brought for divine worship. powred out oblations] or shed-offerings; effusions properly, put by figure of speech for effused or powred out liquor, commonly called Drinke-offerings, which were wont to be powred out upon the sacrifices, and by Gods law were to be of wine or Shecar, Numb. 15. 5, 7, 10. and 28. 7. but among idolaters were of bloud. The Chaldee giveth this sense, I will not receive with favour their drinke-offerings, nor the bloud of their sacrifices. take up their names] that is, not mention or speake of them, according to the Law, Exodus 23. 13. Job. 23. 7.

5 Verse 5. of my part] or, of my partage, that is, of the inheritance parted, shared, and dealt unto me. So the Greeke turneth it, of mine inheritance. The word is generally used for lands, cities, goods, spoiles, &c. that are shared out. And this here hath reference to the Law of the Priests, which had no part among the people, for that the Lord was their part and inheritance, Numb. 18. 20. The Lord is his peoples part, Jer. 10. 16. and 51. 19. and againe, his people are called his part, Deut. 32. 9. my cup] that is, measure and portion of joyes or afflictions, Plal. 23. 5. and 11. 6. my lot] this also is used for an inheritance obtained by lot, Job. 18. 11. Judg. 1. 3. The Apostle calleth Christs Church by this name, 1 Pet. 5. 3. The Greeke translateth, thou arte that restorest mine inheritance to me.

6 Verse 6. The lines] or Cords, such were used in measuring of lands or heritages, Plal. 105. 11. and 78. 55. 2 Sam. 8. 2. and figuratively a line is put for the portion measured, Job. 17. 5, 14. is faire for me] or, which is faire unto me, that is, which pleaseth me well.

7 Verse 7. counsell me] given me counsell by his word and Spirit, touching my sufferings, and the glory that shall follow, 1 Pet. 1. 11. Luke 24. 35, 26. God is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in work, Esay 28. 29.

8 Verse 8. I have proposed] or equally set: the Greeke (which the Apostle followeth) saith, I beheld before, Act. 1. 25. he is at my right hand] The word is, is supplied, Act. 2. 25. For God to be at the right hand, is powerfully to assist and comfort: as on the contrary, for Satan to be there, is greatly to resist and annoy, Plal. 109. 6. Zach. 3. 1. I shall not be moved] or, that I be not moved, Act. 2. 35.

9 Verse 9. my glory] this by the Apostle is applied to the tongue, Act. 2. 26. which is the instrument wherewith we glorifie God. See Plal. 30. 13. and 57. 9. Gen. 49. 6. dwell in confidence] or abide with hope, that is, boldly, safely, and securely; meaning that his flesh (his body) should abide (or rest) in the grave, with sure hope of rising againe from death the third day.

10 Verse 10. my soule] The Hebrew Nepheesh, and Greeke Psychē, which we call soule, hath the name of breathing or respiring, and is therefore sometime used for the breath, Job 41. 12. it is the vitall spirit that all quick things move by; therefore beastes, birds, fish and creeping things, are called in Scripture, living soules, Genes. 1. 20, 24. And this soule is sometime called the bloud, Gen. 9. 4. because it is in the bloud of all quicke things, Lev. 17. 11. it is often put for the life of creatures; as, keepe his soule, Job 2. 6. that is, spare his life: a righteous man regardeth the soule of his beast, Prov. 12. 10. that is, the life: so to seeke the soule, is to seeke ones life, to take it away, Plal. 54. 5. Mat. 2. 20. It is also many times used for ones selfe; as, Job justified his soule, that is, himselfe, Job 32. 2. Take heed to your soules, that is, to your selves, Deut. 4. 15. so Gen. 19. 20. Luke 12. 19. And thus it is put for the person, or whole man; as, give me the soules, that is, the persons, Gen. 14. 21. so an hungrie soule, Plalm. 107. 9. a full soule, Prov. 27. 7. a wearie soule, Prov. 25. 25. eight soules, 1 Pet. 3. 20. seventie five soules, Act. 7. 14. and many the like. It is used also for the lust, will or desire, as Plal. 41. 3. Exod. 15. 9. for the affections of the heart, Plal. 25. 1. for the body of man that hath life and sense, Plal. 105. 18. and 35. 13. and finally, it is sometime a dead body or corps, Num. 5. 2. and 9. 10. and 19. 11, 13. though this be figurative and very improper, for at ones death the soule goeth out, Gen. 35. 18. The word being thus largely used, is to be weighed according to the matter and circumstances of each text. For this here in the Psalme, compare it with the like in other places, Plalm 30. 4. and 116. 8. and 89. 49. and 88. 4. and 94. 17. Christ gave his soule for the ransome of the world, and powred it out unto death, Isa. 53. 12. Matthew 20. 28. Joh. 10. 11, 15, 17. and 15. 13. is bell] or in hell, in deaths estate, or deadly-bell. This word Hell properly signifieth deepe; whether it be high or low; and though by custome it is usually taken for

for the place of devils and damned wights; yet the word is more large: and as heaven is not onely the dwelling place of God and his Saints, but generally all places above us, where the stars, the clouds, the winds, the birds, &c. are, as is shewed, Psal. 8. 9. so hell is all places beneath. Wherefore it may in this large sense serve to expresse the Hebrew word Sheol here used; which Sheol is a deep place, Job 11. 8. Prov. 9. 18. and said in Scripture to be beneath, Psal. 86. 13. Deut. 32. 22. Isa. 14. 9. as heaven is above, and it; with the Greeke word haides, is opposed to heaven, Psal. 139. 8. Amos. 9. 2. Mat. 11. 23. it commeth of Shaal, to grave, take, or require, because it requireth all men to come unto it, and is never satisfied, Psa. 89. 49. Prov. 30. 15, 16. & 27. 20. It is a place or estate which all men, even the best, come unto; for Iakob made account to goe thither, Gen. 37. 35. and Iob desired to be there, Job 14. 13. (for he knew it should be his house, Job 17. 13.) and our Lord Christ was there, as this Psalm, with Act. 2. 31. sheweth; and Solomon telleth, that all goe thither, Eccles. 9. 10. It is usually joyned with grave, pit, corruption, destruction, and the like words pertaining to death, with which Sheol or haides is joyned as a companion thereof, Rev. 1. 18. & 6. 8. Dathan and Abiram, when the earth swallowed them up, are said to go down quicke into Sheol, Num. 16. 30, 32, 33. Ionas in the Whales belly, was in the belly of Sheol, Jon. 2. 3. and other holy men that were delivered from great miseries and perils of death, are said to be delivered from Sheol or hell, Psal. 86. 13. & 30. 4. & 18. 6. & 116. 3. and those that are dead, are gone to Sheol, Ezek. 32. 21, 27. And as death is said figuratively to have gates, Psal. 9. 14. so Sheol, haides, hell, hath gates, Isa. 38. 10. Mat. 16. 18. and a soule, Isa. 5. 14. & a band, Psal. 49. 16. & 89. 49. and a minn, Psal. 141. 7. and a fling, which by Christ is done away, 1 Cor. 15. 55. so that as he was not left to Sheol, but rose from death (from the heart of the earth, Matth. 12. 40.) the third day: so all the Saints shall likewise be delivered from Sheol, or haides, Psal. 49. 16. Hos. 13. 14. and it with death shall be abolished, Rev. 20. 14. So by the Hebrew word Sheol, the Greeke haides, and our English hell, we are to understand the place, estate, or depth of death, deadlied. See the Annotations on Gen. 37. 35. And these words, thou wilt not leave my soule to hell, teach us Christs resurrection; as if hee should say, thou wilt not leave me to the power of death or grave, to be consumed, but wilt raise me from the dead, as the words following, & the Apostles explanation doe manifest, Act. 2. 24, 31. & 13. 34, 35. thou wilt not give not grant or suffer. An Hebrew phrase often used, as, I gave thee not to touch her, Gen. 26. 6. God gave thee not to hurt me, Gen. 31. 7. he will not give you to goe, Exod. 3. 19. So Psal. 55. 23. and 66. 9. and 118. 18. and many the like. to see corruption that is, to feele corruption, or, to corrupt, to rot. As to see death, is to die, Psal. 89. 49. Luke. 2. 26 Joh. 8. 51, 52. so, to see evill, Psal. 90. 15. and to see good, Psal. 34. 13. is to feele and enjoy it, and to see the grave, Psal. 49. 10. corruption the Hebrew Shachath properly signifi-

eth corruption or rottenesse; and is so to be taken here, as the Apostle urgeth the force of the word, Act. 13. 36, 37. David saw corruption, but he whom God raised up, saw not corruption. Yet often the word is used for a pit or ditch, wherein carcases doe corrupt. See the note on Psal. 7. 16.

Verse 11. Thou wilt make me know or, hast made me know, (as Act. 2. 28.) that is, gives me experience of the way of life or journey of lives: the way or course to life from death, and to continue in life eternall; the Apostle saith, waies of life, Act. 2. 28. And hereby, life in heaven with God is implied; as, to enter into life, Mat. 18. 9. is to enter into the kingdom of God, Marke. 9. 47. before thy face or with thy face, that is, in thy presence I shall have fulnesse of joyes. The Greeke, which the Apostle followeth, Acts. 2. 28. saith, Thou wilt fill me with joy, with thy face. The Hebrew an penei and lipnei, with or before the face, are both one, and sometime put one for another; as 1 Kings. 12. 6. with 2 Chronicles. 10. 6. Gods face or presence, as it is our greatest joy in this life, Exodus. 33. 14, 15, 16. so shall it be in the next, Psal. 17. 15. Wherefore the wicked shall then be punished, from his presence, 2 Thess. 1. 9. pleasures or pleasantnesses, (that is, pleasant joyes) at thy right hand, the place of honour, delights and joyes eternall, Matth. 25. 33, 34, 46.

PSAL. XVII.

David in confidence of his integritie, craveth defence of God against his enemies. 10 He sheweth their pride, craft and eagernes. 13 He prayeth to be delivered from them who have their portion in this life; but his hope is for the life to come.

A Prayer of David.

Hear thou Jehovah, justice; attend to my shrill crie: hearken to my prayer, without lips of deceit. From before thy face, let my judgement come forth; let thine eyes view righteousnesses. Thou hast proved my heart, hast visited by night; thou hast tried me, but hast not found: I have purposed, my mouth shall not transgresse. For the workes of men by the word of thy lips, I have observed the paths of the breaker thorow. Sustaine thou my steps in thy beaten paths, that my footsteps be not removed. I call upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God: bow thine eare to me, heare my saying. Marvellously separate thy mercies, O Saviour of them that hope for safety; from them that raise up themselves with thy right hand. Keepe thou me as the blacke of the apple of the eye; in the shadow of thy wings hide thou me. From faces of the wicked

- ked that waste me, my enemies in soule, that 10 inviron round against me. With their fat 11 they have closed up, with their mouth they 12 speake in pride. In our steps now they com-
 13 passe us; their eyes they set bending downe
 14 into the earth. His likenesse is as a renting 15 Lion that is greedy to teare, and as a lurking Lion sitting in secret places. Rise up Jehovah, prevent thou his face, make him bow down, deliver my soule from the wicked one with thy sword. From mortall men with thine hand, Jehovah, from mortall men of the transitory world, who have their part in this life, and their belly thou fillest with thine hid treasure; satisfied are the sons, and they lay up their overplus for their babes.
 I, in justice shall view thy face, shall be satisfied when I awake with thine image.

Annotations.

- 1 I Justice] that is, my justice, as the Greek explaineth
 it, my just cause and complaint. The Chaldee saith, accept Lord my prayer in justice. shrill cry] or shouting, that is, loud complaint: See Psal. 5. 12.
without lips] or, not with lips of deceit, that is, which prayer is unfained, not uttered with guile.
- 2 Verse 2. come forth] or proceed, that is, let my judgement be clearly pronounced and executed. Therefore in Hof. 6. 5. he addeth the similitude of the light or Sonne. righteousnesses] or equities:
 this is all righteous causes and persons, or my most righteous cause.
- 3 Verse 3. hast tried] or examined me, to wit, as metal in the fire: So Psal. 66. 10. hast not found] or, shalt not at all finde, to wit, any dross, or deceit, or,
 as the Chaldee addeth, corruption. The Greeke translateth, iniquitie was not found in me. shalt not transgresse] or, transgresseth not, that is, I purposed not to transgresse with my mouth, by murmuring against thy fierie triall of me; or that which I purposed, my mouth transgresseth not, but my thoughts and words agree. The Chaldee thus, I have thought evil, it hath not passed my mouth.
- 4 Verse 4. For the workes] or concerning the workes
 of men: Adam is here used for all earthly men.
have observed] or taken heed of, to wit, lest they should hurt me, or, that I should not walke in them, as the next verse sheweth: otherwise, sometime to observe waies, is to walke in them, Psal. 18. 22. the breaker
thorow] that is, the robber or thief, as this word is expounded in Greek, Mat. 21. 13. from Jer. 7. 11.
 one that breaketh bounds or limits, houses, hedges, lawes, &c. So Ezek. 18. 10.
- 5 Verse 5. Sustaine] Hold up, or containe; this is spoken prayerwise to God, as the next verse ma-nifesteth: the Greeke turneth it, Make perfect. It may also be read, Sustaining, or To sustaine; and so have reference to the former verse, I observed the robbers paths, not to walke in them, but to sustaine

(or sustaining, holding fast) my steps in thy paths.
 The Hebrew Tamoch may be Englished Sustaine
thou; as Zachor is remember thou, Exodus 20. 8.
Shamor, observe thou, Deuteron. 5. 12. Halec, is Go thou, 2 Sam. 24. 12. for which in 1 Chron. 21. 10.
 is written Lec, Go thou. my steps] or, my stepping forward, my right-forth steps. So Psal. 37. 31. and 40. 2. beaten paths] or round paths; properly the word signifieth paths beaten with wagon wheels;
 here used generally for strait, direct and beaten waies.
 So Psal. 23. 3. and 65. 12. and 140. 6.

Verse 7. marvellously separate] or make marvellous, that is, in wondrous and excellent sort shew me thy mercies, which are common unto all, let them now peculiarly be bestowed on me. See Psal. 4. 4. The Greeke saith, Make marvellous. When Christ cometh, he will be made marvellous in them that beleve, 2 Thelsalonians 1. 10. hope for safety] or, trust, to wit, in thee, as the Greeke explaineth it, or in thy right hand, as is after expressed. God is Saviour of all men, specially of them that beleve, 1 Timoth. 4. 10.

with thy right hand] this seemeth to have reference to the first, O Saviour (or thou which seest) with thy right hand; as Psal. 138. 7. and 60. 7. It may also be referred to the second, them that hope in thy right hand; or to the last, them that raise up themselves against thy right hand: And thus the Greeke turneth it. But the Chaldee otherwise, Avenge them on those which rise up against them, with thy right hand.

Verse 8. the blacke] that is, the sight in the midst of the eye, wherein appeareth the resemblance of a little man; and thereupon seemeth to be called in Hebrew, Ishon, of Ish, which is a man. And as that part is blackish, so this word is also used for other blacke things, as the blacknesse of the night, Prov. 7. 9.
 and blacknesse of darknesse, Prov. 20. 20. of the apple]
 so we call that which the Hebrew here calleth bath; and in Zach. 2. 8. babath, that is, the little image appearing in the eye, as before is noted. The word bath also signifieth a daughter, whereto the Gr. corae doth agree. By this is meant the tender care of God for his people: and David here useth both words for more vehemencie; whereas else-where one of them only is used, Ishon, the blacke, in Deut. 32. 10.
 Pro. 7. 2. babath and bath, the apple, in Zac. 2. 8. Lam.
 2. 18. hide thou me] Hebr. thou shalt hide, or keepe me secret. It is the property of the Hebrew tongue, often to set down a prayer in this forme, especially in the end of a sentence, as noting some assurance to have the request fulfilled. So in Psal. 54. 3. & 59. 2. & 64. 2. Job 6. 23. & 21. 3. and 40. 5. See also the note on Psal. 10. 17.

Verse 9. from faces] or because of the wicked. See Psal. 3. 1. enemies in soule] or, for the soule; meaning deadly enemies, that seeke the soule or life. See Psal.
 35. 4. The Chaldee expoundeth it, in the will (or desire) of their soule.

Verse 10. They have closed up] to wit, their face or body; (much like that speech in Job 15. 27. he hath covered his face with his fatnesse) or their face they close up, meaning that they pamper and barden themselves
 in pride] that is, proudly or haughtily.

Verse 11. In our steps] or in our going, that is, where.

wherever we go, thy grace our footing, they compass me and us: the Hebrew hath both these readings, meaning David, with his compaignie. they set] to wit, upon us. bending downe] to wit, themselves, that they be not eschewed: as Psal. 10. 10. or to bend downe, to wit, us, to overthrow us, or to set downe their nets and snares.

12 Verse 12. His likeness] that is, the likeness (or view) of every one of them; or he may seeme some principall one, as Saul.

13 Verse 13. prevent his face] that is, first come to helpe me, and suddenly and unlookt for come upon him, and disappoint him. with thy sword] that is, thy judgement and vengeance, for all meanes of destruction are the Lords sword, Isa. 66. 16. and 27. 1. Jer. 47. 6. Zeph. 2. 12. The Chaldees expoundeth it, the wicked which deserve to be killed with thy sword; or understand, which wicked man is thy sword, as Ashtur is called the rod of his wrath, Esay 10. 5. and so in the verse following, from mortall men, which are thy hand; or with thy hand, that is, thy judgement or plague, for so Gods hand often signifieth, Exo. 7. 4. Act. 13. 11.

14 Verse 14. of the transitorie world] that is, worldlings, as they of the Citie are Citizens, Psalm. 72. 16. The word Cheled is used also for the short time of mans age and durance, Psal. 39. 6. and 89. 48. Here and in Psal. 49. 1. it is the world, named of the transitorinesse, for the fashion of this world passeth away, 1 Cor. 7. 31. in this life] according to Abrahams speech, Some remember that thou in thy life time receivedst thy good things, Luke 16. 25. Of the wicked prosperitie here, see Job 21. 78, &c. the sonnes] to wit, of those worldlings, meaning that both they and their children have their fill. Or, satisfied are they with sonnes, as in Job 21. 11. they send forth their children like a flocke. their overplus] the residue of their store, or their excellencie. For this word Iether is used sometime for overplus in quantity, Exod. 23. 11. 1 Kings 11. 41. sometime it noteth also the excellencie or dignitie, Genesis. 49. 3.

15 Verse 15. in justice] meaning in the justice (or righteousness) which is of God by faith in Christ, as Phil. 3. 9. View thy face] that is, enjoy thy comfortable favour, as Psal. 4. 7. and 19. 11. or shall see and know thee plainly and perfectly, as 1 Corinth. 13. 12. 2 Corinth. 3. 18. 1 Joh. 3. 2. when I awake] to wit, out of the dust of the earth, from the sleepe of death, as Esay 26. 19. with thy image] to wit, I shall be satisfied with it; so meaning by image, Gods glorie, or, with thy image, that is, having it upon me: for, as we have borne the image of the earthly man, so shall we beare the image of the heavenly, 1 Cor. 15. 49. Compare herewith Psal. 73. 20. The Hebrew Doctors expound this in justice, to be meant of the Garden of Eden (the heavenly Paradise) called justice, and that in the world to come, which is after the raising of the dead to life: it is in the light stored up, called the Image; and this is that (in Psalm 17.) I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thine Image, saith R. Menachem on Deuteronomie 4. But the same Rabbine on Leviticus 10. giveth a better exposition of this word justice, saying, For there is no coming before the most high and blessed King, without the Shecinah (that is, the divine Majestie of God in Christ) to signifie which thing (it is said) I in justice shall view thy face.

PSAL. XVIII.

David having been delivered from all his enemies, professeth his love unto God therefore. 5 He remembreth the great dangers wherein he had been, 7 his cries unto God, 8 the Lords wonderfull judgements upon his enemies, 17 and deliverance of David. 21 He sheweth his integritie if life, 27 Gods justice towards all men, 33 the victories which he gave unto David, 44 and dominion over peoples. 50 The glorie of Gods name among the Gentiles, for his salvation of Christ (whom David figured) and of all nations by him.

To the Master of the Musick, a Psalm of the servant of Jehovah, of David, which spake to Jehovah the words of this song, in the day that Jehovah had delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul.

And hee said;

I Will dearly love thee, Jehovah my firme strength. Jehovah, my Rocke and my fortresse, and my deliverer, my God, my Rocke, in whom I hope for shelter, my shield and horne of my salvation, mine high defence. I called upon the praised Jehovah, and from mine enemies I was saved. The pangs of death compassed mee, and the streames of Belial frightened me. The pangs of hell went round about me, the snares of death prevented me. In the distresse upon me, I called upon Jehovah, and unto my God I cried out: he heard my voice out of his Palace, and my out-crie before him entred into his eares. And the earth shaked and quaked, and the foundations of the mountaines were stirred, and they shooke themselves, because he was wroth. Smoke ascended in his anger, and fire out of his mouth did eat, coales burned from it. And he bowed the heavens and came downe, and gloomy darknesse was under his feet. And he rode upon the Cherub, and did fly; and he flew swiftly upon the wings of the wind. He set darknesse his secret place, round about him his pavilion: darknesse of waters, thick clouds of the skies. From the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed away, haile, and coales of fire. And Jehovah thundred in the heavens, and the Most high gave his voice, haile and coales of fire. And he sent his arrows, and

and scattered them asunder: and lightnings he hurled forth, and terribly stricke them 16 downe. And the channels of waters were scene, and the foundations of the world were revealed: at thy rebuke, Jehovah, at the 17 breath of the wind of thine anger. He sent from the high place, he tooke me, he drew 18 mee out of many waters. Hee rid mee from my strong enemy, and from my haters, for 19 they were mightier than I. They prevented me in the day of my cloudy calamitie:
 20 and Jehovah was for a staffe unto me. And he brought me forth to a large room: he released me because hee delighted in mee.
 21 Jehovah rewarded me according to my justice: according to the purenesse of my hands rendred he unto me. Because I observed the waies of Jehovah, and did not
 22 wickedly from my God. For all his judgments were before me, and his decrees I did
 23 not turne away from me. And I was perfect with him, and kept my selfe from mine iniquitie. And Jehovah rendred to me according to my justice, according to the purenesse of my hands before his eyes.
 24 With the gracious Saint thou wilt shew thy selfe gracious: with the perfect man thou wilt shew thy selfe perfect. With the pure thou wilt shew thy selfe pure: and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe wry. For thou wilt save the poore afflicted people, and wilt bring low the lofty eyes. For thou hast lighted my candle, Jehovah my 30 God hath brightned my darknesse. For by thee I have broken thorow an host, and by my God I have leaped over a wall. God his way is perfect, the saying of Jehovah is tried, he is a shield to all that hope for safety in him. For who is God besides Jehovah? and who is a Rocke except our God? God that girdeth me with valour, and giveth my way perfect. He matcheth my feet as Hindes feet: and upon my high places hee maketh me stand. He learneth my hands to the warre, and a bow of brasse is broken 36 with mine armes. And thou hast given to me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath upheld me, and thy meeknesse hath made me to increase. Thou hast widened my passage under me: and my legs have not staggered. I followed mine enemies, and overtooke them, and turned not till I had consumed them. I wounded them, and they could not rise up: they fell under my feet. And thou hast girded me with valour to the warre: them that rose against me thou hast made to stoope downe under me. And thou hast given to mee the necke of mine enemies: and them that hated me I have suppressed. They cried out, but there was none to save; unto Jehovah, but he answered them not. And I did beat them small as dust before the wind: as the clay of the streets, I did powre them out. Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast put me for the head of the heathens: a people whom I have not knowne doe serve me. At the hearing of the eare they obey me: the sons of the stranger falsly denie unto me. The sons of the stranger fade away and shrinke for feare, out of their closets. Jehovah live, and blessed be my rock, and exalted be the God of my salvation. The God that giveth vengeance to me, and subdueth peoples under me. My deliverer from mine enemies, also from them that rose up against me, thou hast exalted me, from the man of violent wrong thou hast rid me. Therefore I will confesse thee among the heathens, Jehovah, and to thy name I will sing Psalme. Hee maketh great the salvations of his King, and doth mercie to his annointed; to David and to his seed for ever.

Annotations.

THe servant of Jehovah] So he intituleth himselfe here, and in Psal. 36. 1. for his service in administering the kingdome. This song is also written in 2 Sam. 22. with some little change of a few words which shall be observed. hand of Saul] which noteth the power of the King, above that which is noted by the hand or palm of other enemies: yet for this word hand, in 2 Sam. 22. 1. is used palm: the Chaldee expoundeth it, the sword of Saul.

Verse 2. I will dearly love] or, I love heartily with my inmost bowels. The originall word is in this place for inire love; but otherwhere is often used for tender mercie, or bowels of compassion, Psal. 25. 6. and 102. 14. and 103. 13. This verse is added here, more than in 1 Sam. 22.

Verse 3. fortresse] or, munition, a place or hold to flee unto, when one is hunted and chased. See Psal. 31. 3. rocke] Two names of a Rocke are in this verse; the first Sela, a firme stonie Rocke or cliffe; the latter Tsur, a strong or sharpe rocke, and is often the title of God himselfe, and turned in Greeke, Theos, that is, God, as in the 32 and 47 verses of this Psalme, Deut. 32. 4, 18, 30, 31. Psal. 71. 3. and in many other places. borne of my salvation] that is, the borne that saveth me. A borne signifieth power and glory, Psal. 92. 11. Amos 6. 13. Hab 3. 4. therefore therefore hornes are used to signifie Kings, Dan. 8. 21. Rev. 17. 12. And Christ is called the horne of salvation, Luke 1. 69. high defence] or tower, refuge. See Psal. 9. 10. In 2 Sam. 22. 3. there is added more, and my refuge, my Saviour from violent wrong thou hast set me.

4 Verse 4. Prised] that is, glorious, excellent, praiseworthy; and accordingly for his mercies usually praised of his people. So Psal. 48. 2. The Chaldee expoundeth it, with a praise (or Hymne) I prayed before the Lord. And the Greeke, praising I will call upon the Lord.

5 Verse 5. the pang] paines, throves, sorrowes, as of a woman in childbirth; so the originall word signifieth, Hof. 13. 13. Esay 13. 8. and 66. 7. and so the Chaldee explaineth it, Anguish compassed me as of a woman which sitteth in the birth, and hath no strength to bring forth, and she is in danger of death. Or, The bands, the cords: (as the word also signifieth, Job 36. 8. Proverbs 5. 12.) For this in 2 Sam. 22. 5. another word is used, that signifieth breaches; which also is applied to the breaking forth of children at the birth, Hof. 13. 13. Esay 37. 3. and to the billows of the sea, Psal. 42. 8. streames] or brookes, bournes. The originall word Naghal is used as our English bourne, both for a brooke or stream running in a valley, and for the valley it selfe, 1 King. 17. 3, 4. Waters doe often figure out afflictions, Psal. 69. 2, 3. ournes or streames of waters, meane vehement and violent afflictions, Psal. 124. 4. Jer. 47. 2.

Belial] or ungodlinesse. The Hebrew Belijagmal, (which the Apostle in Greek calleth Belial, 2 Cor. 6. 15.) is used to denote extreme mischief and wickednesse, or most impious and mischievous persons, called sonnes of Belial, Deutero. 13. 13. daughters of Belial, 1 Sam. 1. 16. men of Belial, 1 Sam. 25. 25. and sometime Belial it selfe; as in Nah. 1. 25. Belial shall no more passe thorow thee; and 2 Sam. 23. 6. Belial shall be to every one as thornes thrust away: and Job 34. 18. Wilt thou say to a King, Belial? It is also applied to speciall sinnes and sinners, as a witnesse of Belial, Prov. 19. 28. a counsellour of Belial, Nah. 1. 15. Also to mischievous thoughts, words or things, Deut. 15. 9. Psal. 41. 9. and 101. 3. The Apostle opposeth Belial to Christ, 2 Cor. 6. 15. and it seemeth to be put for the Devill or Satan, (as the Syriak and Arabik translations there explain Pauls terme;) or for Antichrist; for so Belial is opposed to Christ and his kingdome, 2 Sam. 23. 6. By interpretation, Belial signifieth an Unbride, or Without yoke, lawlesse; as Antichrist is called the lawlesse man, 2 Thess. 2. 8. and in this Psalme the Greeke translate streames of lawlesse, or iniquitie: which the Chaldee Paraphrast calleth the company of the unrighteous. frighted me] shred, or vexed with terror. This word is used of Sauls vexation by an evil spirit, 1 Sam. 16. 14, 15.

6 Verse 6. of bell] which the Chaldee expoundeth, a company of wicked persons. snare of death] deadly snares, engines set for by death; a similitude taken from fowlers snare, Eccles. 9. 12. So Prov. 13. 14. & 14. 27. The Chaldee explaineth it, men armed with weapons of slaughter. Prevented me] that is, were ready to take hold on me suddenly and unawares.

Verse 7. distresse upon me] or to me, that is, in that my distresse, or while it was upon me. So Psal. 96. 13.

be heard] The Hebrew properly is, will beare; but the time to come is often put for the time past; therefore in 2 Sam. 22. 7. it is plainly written, and he heard: so after in the 12. verse, he will set, which in Samuel is written, and he set: againe in the 14. verse, thunder; for which in Samuel is written, will thunder: the like may be observed of the Hebrew phrase, in the 16, 39, 41. and 44. verses of this Psalme, compared with the same in 2 Sam. 22. So often in other Scriptures, which the Hebrew text it selfe sometime sheweth, as bikkibu, they smote him, 2 Chron. 22. 6. for which in 2 King. 8. 29. is written, jakkubu. See also the note on Psal. 3. 1. his palace] or his Temple: which the Chaldee explaineth thus; He received my prayer from the Palace of his Sanctuary which is in heaven. entred] or came into; this word is omitted in 2 Sam. 22. 7. suppld here; as oftentimes there want words, which are to be understood. So verse 29. and Psal. 69. 11.

8 Verse 8. foundations of the mounts] that is, the roots and bottomes of the mountaines. By those and the words following, under the similitude of a fore tempestuous weather; Gods judgements against the wicked are excellently set forth. Compare herewith Psal. 82. 5. and Deut. 32. 21. where the foundations of the mountaines are set on fire. For mountaines, in 2 Sam. 22. 8. is written heavens, either for that the mountains reaching high, seeme to be the foundation, and as they are called in Job 26. 11. the pillars of heaven; or in a mysticall sense, as the shaking of heaven and earth, signifieth the changing of civil polities and of religions, Heb. 12. 26, 27. be was wroth] or kindled to him was his anger; or burnt with his nose: for in the Hebrew another word is sometimes added, which signifieth anger or nose, Deut. 6. 15. Exod. 32. 11. See the notes on Psal. 2. 5. and the note following. The Greeke translate, for God was angry with them.

9 Verse 9. in his anger] or, in his nose: the like speech is in Esay. 65. 5. these are a smoke in my anger, or, for those a smoke is in my nose: and it noteth fore indignation; for smoke is a signe of vehement anger, Psal. 74. 1. and 80. 5. Deut. 29. 26. This narration here may be compared with the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 18, &c. where was smoke, fire, earthquake, thunder, lightning, and the like. For these with the speeches following of clouds, winds, tempests, thunderbolts, hail, &c. doe lively describe Gods Majestie, appearing in his workes, and for punishment of his enemies, as Exod. 9. 23, 24. Josh. 10. 11. Judg. 5. 20. 1 Sam. 2. 10. and 7. 10. and 12. 17. Rev. 16. 18, 21. did eat] that is, consume. See Psal. 50. 3. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he sent his wrath like burning fire, scales of fire were kindled at his Word.

10 Verse 10. he bowed the heavens] This was for the helpe of David, and discomfiture of his enemies: therefore the Prophet prayeth for the like againe, Psal. 144. 5, 6. Esay. 64. 1, 2. and came downe] that is, as the Chaldee openeth it, his glorie appeared. glorie darknesse] myrke and shick dark.

darknesse, or a darke cloud: as 2 Chron. 6. 1. Job 22. 13. such as was on mount Sinai, when God came downe on it, Deuteronomie 4. 11. and 5. 22. a signe of terrour, as the Apostle sheweth, Hebrews 12. 18. So Psal. 97. 2.

- 11 Verse 11. on the Cherub] a Cherub, and the plurall number, Cherubim or Cherubines, is a name given to the Angels, Gen. 3. 25. and to the golden winged images which were in the Tabernacle and Temple, Exod. 25. 18, 19, 20. 1 King. 6. 23, 24, 25, 29, 32. The living creatures also which Ezekiel saw in vision, Ezek. 1. 5. are called Cherubims, Ezek. 12. 1, 15. Likewise the King of Tyre is called an anointed and a covering Cherub, Ezek. 28. 14, 16. The Hebrew name hath affinitie with Reebub a Chariot, used in Psal. 104. 3. almost in like sense as Cherub is here; and the Cherubines are called a Chariot, 1 Chron. 28. 18. and Gods Angels are his Chariots, Psal. 68. 18. and they seeme to be meant in this place; for as the Angels are said to flie, Dan. 9. 21. so the Cherubines had wings, Exod. 25. 20. and are of the Apostle called Cherubines of glory, Heb. 9. 5. In Psal. 80. 2. God is said to sit on the Cherubines; as here, to ride: and a Cherub may be put for many, or all the Cherubims; as chariot for chariots, Psal. 68. 18. See the note on Psal. 8. 9. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus; And he was seene in his strength upon the light Cherubims; and brought his power upon the wings of the whirlwinde. flew swiftly] or glanced; a similitude taken from Eagles and like swift fowles that flie with a swinge, Deut. 28. 49. Jer. 48. 40. For this, in 2 Sam. 22. 11. is written iera, that is, he was seene: which here with little difference of one letter is jede, that is, he flew swiftly. So in Psal. 104. 3. God is said to walk upon the wings of the wind.

- 12 Verse 12. his pavilion] or covert, tabernacle. In the Chaldee it is explained thus; He placed his divine Presence in the darknesse, and his glory was compassed with clouds as a pavilion: and he made raine to come downe upon his people, and mighty waters from the moving of the darke clouds upon the wicked, from the heighth of the world. darknesse of waters] that is, darke blacke waters: meaning watrye clouds, as Psal. 104. 3. & 29. 3. In 2 Sam. 22. 12. this is thus set downe: and he set darknesse round about him, for booties: blacknesse of waters, &c. the skies] that is, the heavens, named in Hebrew Shebakim, of their thin, fine and subtil substance.
- 13 Verse 13. passed away] that is, vanished; for Gods brightnesse expelled them. So passing away, is used for vanishing, Esay 29. 5. baile and coales] that is, there was, or there came baile, to wit, from his brightnesse, as in 2 Sam. 22. 13. it is written, From the brightnesse before him there burned coales of fire. Haile and fire are instruments of Gods war and punishments, Job 38. 22, 23. Josh. 10. 11. Rev. 16. 21. Zach. 12. 6. Ezek. 10. 2.
- 14 Verse 14. thundred] this also is a signe of Gods anger, 1 Sam. 2. 10. and 7. 10. Isa. 29. 6. and of his power and glory, Psal. 29. 3. and 77. 19. Job 26. 14. and 37. 4, 5. and 40. 4. gave his voice] a common phraze for all loud and high speech, cry, noise, thundring, &c. Psal. 46. 7. and 68. 36. and 77. 18. and

104. 12. Jer. 2. 15. Num. 14. 1. 2 Chron. 24. 9. Hab. 3. 10. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, the most High lifted up his Word, he cast baile and coales of fire. coales of fire] that is, fiery vapours, lightning, &c. This sentence is omitted, in 2 Sam. 22. 14. and is wanting also in the Greeke version here.

Verse 15. his arrowes] the instruments of his wrath and judgements; for God hath arrowes of pestilence, Psal. 91. 5. of famine, Ezek. 5. 16. and other arrowes to wound the hearts of his enemies, Psal. 45. 6. and 64. 8. or to afflict his children, Psal. 38. 3. Job 6. 4. Here and in Psal. 144. 6. by arrowes may be meant thunderbolts, or the bailestones forementioned; as the bailestones that fell, Jos. 10. 11. are called arrowes, Hab. 3. 11. The Chaldee saith, he sent his Word as arrowes. he hurled] or he shot, as the word signifieth, Gen. 49. 23. it may also be turned, he multiplied. This is omitted in 2 Sam. 22. 15. terribly stricke them downe] discomfited, troubled, and felled them downe with dread, noise and tumult. This word is used in the examples of his wrath, Exod. 14. 24. Josh. 10. 10. Judg. 4. 15. 1 Sam. 7. 10. Deut. 7. 23.

Verse 16. channels of water] that is, of the sea, 2 Sam. 22. 16. channels signifie violent currents, or forcible streames, running rivers. So Psal. 42. 2. and 126. 4. The Greeke here translateth them, fountains of waters. foundations of the world] that is, the deepe waters and maine Seas, whereon the world is founded, Psal. 24. 2. wind of thine anger] or, of thy nose, as before, verse 9. meaning a blast, storme, or whirlwinde which God in anger sent forth. This manner of speech is taken from Job 4. 9.

Verse 17. drew me out, &c.] this hath reference to Moses case, who was drowne out of the water, and thereupon called Mosheh, Exod. 2. 10. that word Mosheh, is used here by David, and no where else in Scripture. Waters signifie troubles, as is noted verse 5. and sometime multitudes of peoples, Rev. 17. 15. so the Chaldee turneth it here, he delivered me from many peoples.

Verse 19. cloudy calamitie] The Hebrew Aid is a fog, vapour or mistie cloud, Gen. 2. 6. Job 36. 27. by figure it is put for calamitie, or miserie of man, Deuteronomie. 32. 35. As elsewhere, the cloudy and darke day, Ezek. 34. 12.

Verse 22. from my God] meaning by swearing, or turning away from him; which the Chaldee expresth thus, I walked not in wickednesse before my GOD.

Verse 23. not turne away from me] in 2 Sam. 22. 23. it is, turned not away from it, that is, from any of his statutes. The Greeke translateth, they departed not from me.

Verse 24. from mine iniquitie] that is, from the iniquitie that I am prone to fall into. The Hebrew word signifieth that which is unright, unequal, crooked or perverse; opposed to that which is right; and is fitly applied to sin, and so translated by the Apostle, Rom. 4. 8. from Psal. 32. 2. In this estate we all are borne, Psal. 51. 7. so it noteth the viciositie or crookednesse of nature and originall sin, which the Apostle called the sinne dwelling in him, Rom. 7. 17. and he that was first borne, first applied this this word to himselfe, Gen. 4. 13. It is figuratively used oft times for punishment due to sinne: whereof see Psal. 31. 11. The Chaldee openeth this verse thus; And I was perfect in his feare, and he was the saviour of my soule from sinnes.

25 Verse 25. purenesse of my hands] in 2 Sam. 22. 25. my purenesse.

26 Verse 26. graciously] or mercifully, pious, godly. See Psal. 4. 4. man] or mightie one; called Giber, of his strength, valour, and superiority: for which in 2 Sam. 22. 26. is put Giber, that is, Strong, or a Champion: a mightie man, Psal. 19. 6. and 45. 4.

with the forward thou wilt shew thy selfe wry] A like speech is used in Moses, Levit. 26. 27. 28. if ye walke stubbornly against me, I will walke stubbornly in anger against you: But here David useth two words, whereof the first, forward or crooked, is alwaies spoken of doing evill and wrong; the latter word wry, not so, but is a similitude taken from warstlers, and noteth a writing of ones selfe against an adversarie. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth this graciously Saint to Abraham; the perfect man, to Isaac; the pure, unto Iacob; and the forward, unto Pharaoh and the Egyptians.

28 Verse 28. the lofty eyes] In 2 Sam. 22. 28. it is thus set downe: and thine eyes are upon the lofty, that thou maist bring them low.

29 Verse 29. hast lighted my candle] or, dost lighten my lampe, that is, givest me comfort, joy, prosperitie after troubles; as on the contrary, the wicked candle shall be put out, Job 18. 6. and 21. 17. Proverbs 13. 9. and 24. 20. and 20. 20. In 2 Sam. 22. 29. this word lighted is left out to be understood, as before in the 7. verse. Sometime the eye is called the candle of the body, Matthew 6. 22. and Solomon saith, that a mans minde (or soule) is the candle of the LORD, Prov. 20. 27. sometime ones ebilde succeeding him in Government, is his candle, Psal. 132. 17. 1 King. 11. 36. and 15. 4. Num. 21. 30. All these in David were lighted; and Christ his son according to the flesh, is the candle of the new Jerusalem, Rev. 21. 23. the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, Joh. 1. 9. brightned my darknesse] that is, turned my griefe and affliction into joy and comfort, Job 29. 3. Esther 8. 16. Luke 1. 79.

30 Verse 30. broken thorow an host] Hebr. shall breake, or run thorow an host, or troope. This, and the leaping over a wall which followeth, may be understood both of escaping danger himselfe, and of quelling his foes, and winning their walled cities, and both these speedily. The Chaldee explaineth it thus; For by thy word I shall multiply armies, and by the word of my God subdue fenced towers.

31 Verse 31. in him] the Chaldee saith, in his word.

32 Verse 32. who is a rocke] that is, a mighty Saviour and defender. The Greeke here for Rocke hath a God; and in 2 Sam. 22. 32. a Creator. And this hath reference to the words of Anna, there is no Rocke like our God, 1 Sam. 2. 2.

33 Verse 33. that girdeth me] that is, prepareth and strengtheneth me: therefore in 2 Sam. 22. 33. it is written, my strength: elsewhere he speaketh of being girded with joy, Psal. 30. 12. valour] or power, force, prowess. And this word is used both for valour, activitie and courage of body and minde; also for a power, or armie of men, Psal. 33. 16. and 136. 15. and also for wealth gotten by industrie, whereby men are able to doe much, Psal. 49. 7. 11. and 62. 11.

and giveth] that is, maketh or disposeth my way to be perfect, that is, without impediment; or, as the Greeke translateth, without blemish. For giveth, in 2 Samuel 22. is, looseneth, which also freeth from let.

34 Verse 34. He matcheth my feet as bindes] that is, maketh me swift to runne like the Hinds, and so to escape danger, and stand safe upon my high places; which usually denoteth securitie, honour and prosperitie, Deuter. 32. 13. and 33. 29. Isa. 58. 14. The like speech Habakuk hath in the end of his Song, Hab. 3. 19.

35 Verse 35. bow of brasse] or of steell, and this is observed to be stronger than iron, Job 20. 24.

36 Verse 36. thy right hand hath upheld me] or, firmly stayed (and strengthened) me. This sentence is added here, more than in 2 Sam. 22. 36. thy meeknesse] or modestie, lenitie, humilitie, whereby thou abasest thy selfe to regard me; and deale meekly with me; even gently chastising and nurturing me. Wherefore the Greeke turneth it thus, thy chastisement hath redified me. The Chaldee saith, and by thy word thou hast made me to increase.

37 Verse 37. hast widened my passage] or enlarged my pase, that is, given me room to walke steadily and safe. Contrary to that which is said of the wicked, that his strong (or violent) passages are straightened; (or made narrow) Job 18. 7.

38 Verse 38. overtooke them] and consequently quelled, or cut them off, as is expressed 2 Samuel 22. 38.

39 Verse 39. I wounded them] or strucke thorow, embrewed with blood. This verse in 2 Sam. 22. 39. is read thus; And I consumed them, and wounded them, and they rose not, but fell under my feet.

41 Verse 41. the rage of mine enemies] that is, put them to flight, and subdued them, 2 Chronicles 29. 6. Genesis 49. 8. And this respecteth Gods promise, Exodus 23. 27.

42 Verse 42. They cried out] for an helper, as the Chaldee addeth. For this, in 2 Sam. 22. 42. is, They looked. answered] in Chaldee, they prayed to the Lord, and he received not their prayer.

43 Verse 43. powre them out] or emptie them, that is, tumble them downe, to be trodden, as dirt; I spread them abroad; as in 2 Samuel 22. this verse is written, And I did beat them small as the dust of the earth: as the clay of the streets I pounded them, I spread them abroad.

44 Verse 44. of the people] in 2 Sam. 22. it is, the contentions of my people, hast kept me for the head, &c. and hereby Christs headship over the Church of the Gentiles is signified, and the contradiction of his owne people the Jewes, Rom. 10. 20, 21. See after in verse 50.

45 Verse 45. At the bearing of the eare] that is, speedily, so soon as they beare, without further adoe; or By the bearing of the eare, that is, with diligent bearkening and attendance. sonnes of the stronger]

ger] of the aliant, or of alienation: that is, aliens, outlanders, strangers from the commonwealth of Israel, they and their progenitors: So Psal. 144. 7. Isa. 62. 8.

falsly denie] or dissemble. In the Greeke, they lie: meaning, they fainedly submit themselves, for feare or other sinister respect, against their wils. And this agreeth with the last promise of Moses, Deut. 32. 29. thy enemies shall falsly deny to thee. The originall word is used both for denying, Gen. 18. 15. and for hying or falsifying, 1 King. 13. 18. See after, Psal. 59. 13. and 66. 3.

46 Verse 46. fade away] or fall, to wit, or leaves of trees that wither.

47 Verse 47. my Rocke] in Greeke, my God.

48 Verse 48. that giveth vengeance to me] that is, giveth me power to be avenged of my foes; or, giveth vengeance for me, that is, avengeth and punisheth for my sake. Whereupon he is called the God of vengeance, Psa. 94. 1. So to give vengeance, is to execute it, Num. 31. 3. subdueth] bringeth into good order and subjection, therefore in 2 Sam. 22. it is said, subdeth or bringeth downe. And sometime this word signifieth a subduing by overthrow and destruction; as 2 Chronicles 32. 10. she subdued: for which in 2 King. 19. 17. is written, she brought to perdition, or destroyed.

50 Verse 50. I will confesse thee] that is, give thee publike and solenne praise and thanks. This verse is applied in Romans 15. 9. to the calling of the Gentiles unto the faith of Christ, and praise unto God therefore. By which we are taught, that of Christ and his kingdom this Psalme is chiefly intended.

51 Verse 51. He maketh great] or magnifieth; He is the magnifier of the salvations, that is, of the full salvation and deliverance. In stead of Magdil, that is, magnifier, in 2 Samuel 22. 51. there is Migdol, which is so written, as by the vowels signifieth a tower of salvations, and by the consonants a magnifier. Hereupon the Hebrew Doctors (in Midrash tillin upon this place) say, One Scripture saith, MAGNIFIER, and another saith, TOWER: and what tower is made for them? The King Christ is as a tower, as it is said, the tower of salvations: it is also written, The name of the LORD is a strong tower, &c. Prov. 18. 10. his anointed] or his Messiah, his Christ, as before in Psal. 2. 2. David and his seed] this may be referred both to the first David and his posteritie, on whom God shewed great mercie; and also to our Lord Christ, who is called by the Prophets, David, Ezek. 34. 23, 24. Hos. 3. 5. and his seed are his disciples, the children which God hath given him, Hebr. 2. 13. or himselfe is the seed here mentioned, Act. 13. 23. Rom. 1. 3. as hee also is called Abrahams seed, Gal. 3. 16.

PSAL. XIX.

2 The creatures shew Gods glorie. 8 The Law more cleerely revealeth his will. 13 His grace cleanseth and sanctifieth through Christ the Redeemer.

To the master of the musicke, a Psalme of David.

THE heavens doe tell the glory of God, and the out-spred firmament sheweth the worke of his hands. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night manifesteth knowledge. There is no speech and no words; nor heard is their voice. Thorow all the earth gone out is their line, and to the utmost end of the world their speakings; he hath put a tent in them for the Sunne. And he is as a bridegroom, going forth out of his privie chamber; joyeth as a mighty man to run a race. From the utmost end of the heavens is his egress, and his compassing regress is unto the utmost ends of them, and none is hid from his heat. The Law of Jehovah is perfect, returning the soule: the testimony of Jehovah is faithful making wise the simple. The precepts of Jehovah are right, giving joy to the heart: the commandment of Jehovah is pure, giving light to the eyes. The feare of Jehovah is cleane, standing to perpetuall aye; the judgements of Jehovah are truth, just they are together. To be desired more than gold, and than much fine gold, and sweeter than honey and liquor of the honey combs. Also thy servant is cleerly admonished by them; in keeping of them there is much reward. Unadvised errours who dorch understand from secret faults cleanse thou mee. Also from presumptuous sinnes withhold thou thy servant, let them not have dominion in me, then shall I be perfect and made cleane from much trespasse. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart be before thee, be to favourable acception, Jehovah my Rocke and my Redeemer.

Annotations.

DOE tell] to wit, unto men, and so give occasion unto them to tell; as the Chaldee translates, They that looke upon the heavens doe tell, &c. the glory] that is, the glorious worke, so in Exod. 16. 7. Num. 14. 21, 22. Joh. 1. 40. the out-spred firmament] the whole cope of heaven, with the aire, as the Chaldee saith, they that behold the aire: which though it be soft & liquid, and spred over the earth, yet is it fast and firme, and therefore called of us according to the common Greeke version, a firmament: the holy Ghost expresseth it by another terme, Mid-heaven, Rev. 8. 13. and 14. 6. and 19. 17. This out-spred firmament, or expansion, God

God made amidst the waters for a separation, and named it Heavens, Gen. 1.7. 8. which of David is said to be stretched out as a curtaine or tent, Psal. 104. 2. and elsewhere is said to be firme, as molten glasse, Job 37. 18. So under this name Firmament, bee comprised the orbs of the heavens, and the aire, and the whole spacious roomth above the earth.

3 Verse 3. Day unto day] one day unto and after another: so unto is used for after, in Exod. 16. 1. and 19. 1. Uttereth] or wellets out, as a fountaine continually and plenteously. manifesteth] or sheweth lively.

4 Verse 4. not heard is their voice] that is, whose voice is not heard or understood: meaning that they are no mute or obscure speeches, whereby the heavens preach to the world, but manifest to all, as the next verse sheweth, and Paul plainly confirmeth, Rom. 1. 19. 20. and the Greeke version here leadeth us so to understand this sentence, together with the Apostles allegation, Rom. 10. 19. and the like Hebraismes are usuall, as Job 3. 3. Let the day perish, I was borne in it, that is, wherein I was borne: and hearing is often put for understanding, Gen. 11. 7. 2 King. 18. 26. 1 Cor. 14. 2. Compare also herewith the Hebrew phrase in Jer. 38. 5. Or we may read it thus: There is no speech nor words: not heard is their voice: that is, the heavens make no speech, or Sermon, nor utter any reasonable words, no nor any voice (or sound) at all of theirs is heard: but their line is gone forth, &c. Or, (taking words for peoples that speake them,) there is no speech nor words, where the voice of the heavens is not heard.

5 Verse 5. their line] or, their rule, their delineation: which is a meane to teach the rude and simple; as Esay 28. 10. or by line is meant a building, frame or edifice, which is made by line and rule, Zach. 1. 16. Job 38. 5. The Greeke translateth it, their sound; which word the Apostle also useth, Rom. 10. 18. where he speaketh of the preaching of the Gospel, by which the Church is taught and edified.

their speakings] or, their words: but this is used sometime generally for signification any manner of way: as Prov. 6. 13. he speaketh (that is, signifieth) with his feet. And taking him before to have shewed how the heavens have no speeches, words nor voyce; this here may be meant of their significations, by the wonderfull frame, course, order, &c. that all men may see in them. he hath put a tent]

God hath put (or set) in the heavens a tabernacle, that is, a fitting habitation: for that the sunne never stayeth in one place. The Sunne is in Hebrew called Shemesh, that is, a minister or servant; which very name should have kept the nations from worshipping and serving it, which God hath distributed to all people under the whole heaven; as Deut. 4. 19.

6 Verse 6. as a bridegroom] the Chaldee addeth, in the morning as a bridegroom. The Sunne when hee riseth is gloriously adorned with beautiful rayes, and seemeth most cheerfull; which two things are set for by similitude of a bridegroom, Esay 61. 10. & 62. 5. to run a race] a long way, journey, or course. The swift course of the Sun is joyfully performed, as when a Champion runneth for a game.

8 Verse 8. The law] or Doctrinall: an orderly manner of instruction, an institution, or disposition, called in Hebrew Torah, which implieth both doctrine, & an orderly disposition of the same, therefore, where one Prophet relating Davids words, saith, the law of man, 2 Sam. 7. 19. another saith, the orderly estate (or course) of man, 1 Cor. 17. 17. The Holy Ghost in Greeke calleth it Nomos, a Law, Heb. 8. 10. from Jer. 31. 33. This name is most commonly ascribed to the precepts given by Moses at Mount Sinai, Deut. 33. 4. Mal. 4. 4. Job. 1. 17. and 7. 19. it is also largely used for all his writings. For the history of Genesis is called Law, Gal. 4. 2. from Gen. 16. And though sometime the Law bee distinguished from the Psalms and Prophets, Luk. 16. 16. and 24. 44. yet the other Prophets books are called Law, 1 Cor. 14. 21. from Esay 28. 11. the Psalms are also thus named. Ioh. 10. 24. & 15. 25. from Psal. 83. 6. & 35. 19. Yea one Psalme is called a Law, Psal. 78. 1. and the many branches of Moses doctrine; as the Law of the sin-offering, &c. Levit. 6. 25. and generally it is used for any doctrine; as, the Law of workes, the Law of faith, &c. Rom. 3. 27. is perfect] or, is a perfect Law. The word before is againe understood here and in the speeches following: as sometime it is fully expressed, Psal. 119. 7. returning the soule] or, restoring the life. To returne the soule is sometime to deliver it from evils, Psal. 35. 17. Job. 33. 30. sometime to refresh it with food that keepe in-life, Lam. 1. 11. 19. to refresh it with rest, comfort, and the like, Ruth. 4. 15. Psal. 23. 3. Prov. 25. 13. All which may be found in the law of God.

the testimony] God called the two tables of his law, the testimony, Exod. 25. 16. 21. and 31. 18. and the Arke wherein they were kept, had thereupon the like name, Num. 17. 4. Exod. 25. 22. and so the tabernacle wherein the Arke was, Exod. 38. 21. Rev. 15. 5. Gods Law hath this title because of the testimony, contestation, and earnest charge which he & his Prophets gave concerning it, as Psal. 81. 9. 2 King. 17. 15. Neh. 9. 29. 30. Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 4. and as a record it testifieth what is Gods will & covenant, Ioh. 5. 39. And as the Law, so the Gospel (yea Christ himselfe) is called a testimony, 1 Cor. 2. 1. 2 Thess. 1. 10. 1 Tim. 2. 6. faithfull] or, a faithfull testimony: this word meaneth also, sure, certaine, firme and constant; as faithfull plagues, Deut. 28. 59. are sure and durable: a faithfull house, 2 Sam. 7. 16. is seised, firme and stable, &c. Gods word hath like commendations, Psal. 93. 5. & 111. 7. the simple] or filly. The originall peibi, meaneth one that is easily persuaded, or entised, credulous, and light of beleete, according to the proverbe, Peibi, The simple beleeveth every thing, Prov. 14. 15. Consequently it is used for Vnskilfull, and applied sometime to evill foolish persons, Prov. 9. 6. and 22. 3. sometime to the good and simple, as Psal. 116. 6. The Greeke often translateth it, a babe, and so Christ calleth such, Mat. 11. 25. This verse and the two next following, which treat of Gods Law, are in Hebrew written every of them with ten words, according to the number of the ten commandments, which are called ten words, Exod. 34. 28.

9 V. 9. The Precepts] or Commissions, Charges. This word is by David only applyed to Gods commandements, called of him Pikkudim, of Paked, to Visit; as if we should say Visitations, or precepts, the transgressions whereof God hath threatned to visit or punish; as Exod. 20. 5. and 32. 34. Or of hipkud, to commend or commit unto ones charge and custody, because these are committed unto men, carefully to be observed, as it is written, Thou hast commanded thy precepts to be kept vehemently, Psalm 119. 4. the commandements] that is, the commandements: one put for all; as judgements, 2 King 25. 6. for judgements, Ier. 52. 9. and many the like.

10 Verse 10. The feare] or reverence, that is, the religion and worship prescribed of God; as in Matth. 15. 9. that is called Worship, which in Isa. 29. 13. is named Feare; and this is said to be cleane from all filthinesse, because he requireth to be worshipped in spirit and truth, and with pure hands, Ioh. 4. 24. 1 Tim. 2. 8. Or, as God himselfe is called Feare, Psalm 76. 12. so his law may also here be called Feare, for that it was given with fearefull majesty, and worketh in men the feare and reverence of God, Exod. 20. 18. 19. 20. Deut. 5. 24. - 29. standing] or abiding, continuing firme, yet and perpetually. judgements]

Such lawes as were annexed to the ten commandements, for punishing the offenders, have this title prefixed; as Exod. 21. 11. These are the judgements which thou shalt set before them, &c. And as decrees or statutes are often put for the ordinances of Gods worship; (as is noted on Psalm 2. 7.) in stead whereof David here seemeth to use the former word feare; so judgements are lawes and rites for humane duties. These two Moses often joyneth together, saying; Hearken O Israel to the statutes and to the judgements, &c. Deut. 4. 1. 5. 8. 14. 45. and 5. 1. 31. and 6. 1. 20. and 7. 11. and 8. 11. &c. just together] that is, all of them together, and each of them apart, i. just, or justified.

11 Verse 11. fine gold] or solid gold, called Paz, which hath the name of strength, fastnesse, or solidity: such gold was rare and precious, Esay 13. 12. Lam. 4. 2. The Arabians now call gold Phez. It was very fine: therefore when one Prophet calleth it gold Napbax, 2 King. 10. 18. another calleth it tabor; that is, fine or cleane gold, 2 Chron. 9. 97. liquor of the honey combs] or liquid honey of the combs. Each of these words is used by Solomon for the dropping honeycombe, Prov. 5. 3. and 16. 24. and both are joyned for more vehemencie.

12 Verse 12. clearely admonished] The word signifieth illustrating, making bright or shining, Dan. 12. 3. and so by warning or information, to make the soule cleare and circumspect, Exod. 18. 20. 2 King. 6. 10. Eccles. 4. 13. Ezek. 3. 17. 18, 19, 20. much reward] or much end: that is, great profit or reward, as the Greeke translateth it. The Chaldee applieth this peculiarly to David, saying, and because he kept them, he was made the Prince of Israel. The Hebrew Ghamekeb, signifying the beck or foot sole, is used figuratively for the end of a thing, (as the head, for the beginning, Psalm 119. 160.) and so for the success, event and recompence that followeth thereupon. As another word, acharith, which signifieth end, is used also for reward, Prov. 23. 18. and 1 Pet. 1. 9.

Verse 13. Unadvised errors] or, Ignorant faults, Unwitting and inconsiderate finnes. The law for which is given, Levit. 4. 2. &c. who doth understand] or, who can discern? meaning, no man can. So Psalm 77. 5. I spake not, for, I could not speake. See the Annotations there. cleane] cleane from me] or, make me innocent, free, guiltlesse, empty. The word is also used for exempting or absolving, free from punishment due to finne, Exod. 20. 6. & 34. 7.

Verse 15. be to favourable acceptation] that is, be acceptable or well-pleasing; or, as before, they shall be acceptable. For the Hebrew will beare either interpretation. Therefore also in the Greeke, these two phrases are used as one, He shall be, Marke 10. 44. and Let him be, Mat. 20. 27. Of the word acceptation, see the notes on Psalm 5. 13. my redeemer] or deliverer; the Hebrew Goei is interpreted in the Greeke by both these, Rom. 11. 26. from Esay 59. 20. Act. 7. 35. The word is of large use, for redeming of things sold or mortgaged, Levit. 25. but applied to redemption or deliverance from danger, Psalm 69. 19. from violence, Psalm 72. 14. from corruption, Psalm 103. 4. from the enemies hand, Psalm 106. 10. from death, Hos. 13. 14. and from all evill, Gen. 48. 16. And in speciall, one that challenges or redeemeth any person, or thing that was before alienated, and restoreth it to the first estate, by right of kindred, is called by this name, 1 King. 16. 11. Ruth. 39. 12. 13. and 4. 1. 3. &c. Therefore is this title given to God and Christ, who is our redeemer, and allied unto us, as concerning the flesh, Esay 43. 14. and 44. 6. and 47. 4. 1 Thess. 1. 10. Heb. 2. 14. 15.

PSALME XX.

The Church blesteth the Kings in his exproits: 6 Promiseth thankfulnesse, 7 testifieth confidence in Gods succour; 8 and triumpheth by faith in Christ.

To the master of the musicke, a Psalm of David.

Iehovah answer thee in day of distresse, the name of the God of Jakob set thee on high. Send thy helpe from the Sanctuary, and uphold thee out of Sion. He remember all thy oblations, and thy burnt-offering he turne to ashes, Selah. Hee give to thee, according to thy heart, and fulfill all thy counsell. We will flout in thy salvation, and in the name of our God set up the banner; Jehovah fulfill all thy petitions. Now I know that Jehovah saveth his anointed, answereth him out of the Heavens of his holinesse.

holinesse, with powers the salvation of his 8 right hand. These (make mention) of cha-9 riors, and these of horses: but we make men-10 tion of the name of Jehovah our God. They stoope downe and fall, but we rise up and stand upright. Jehovah save thou the King, he answer us in the day we call.

Annotations.

1 A Nswer thee] hee O King, whom after he calleth Messias, or Anointed, verse 7. And this sentence is let downe in Iakobs words, Gen. 35. 3.
as after he mentioneth the God of Iakob. And the whole Psalm is a prophesie of Christs sufferings, and his deliverances out of them, for which the Church with him triumpheth. For answer, the Church saith, accept thy prayer. set thee on high
in a high refuge, and so defend and keepe thee safe:
see Psalm 9. 10. As Gods name, even his only is advanced high, Psalm 148. 13. so is it also a strong tower which the righteous runneth unto, and is set on high, Prov. 18. 10.

3 Ver. 3. from the Sanctuary] or sanctity; Thus the tabernacle was called; Levit. 16. 2. and the temple, 1 King. 8. 10. as being the place of holinesse,
for the presence of God there.

4 Ver. 4. remember all thy oblations] This hath respect to the Law, which appointeth part of the oblation (or meat-offering) to be burnt on the altar unto God, with oile and incense for a memoriall, Levit. 2. 2. The Hebrew Minchah, is generally a gift or present carried to any, Psal. 45. 13. and 72.
10. Gen. 32. 13. and in speciall, a gift or oblation presented to God, Gen. 4. 3. 4. 5. Psal. 96. 8. most specially the oblation of corne or floure, called the meat-offering, Levit. 2. Numb. 29. The Apostle in Greeke turneth it Prophora, an oblation, Heb. 10. 5.
8. 10. from Psalm. 40. 6. burnt-offering] which according to the originall word Gholah, signifi-eth an ascension, because this kind of sacrifice was wholly given up to God in fire, Levit. 1. 3. 9. 13.
Therefore in Greeke it is translated holocaustoma,
that is, a whole burnt-offering. turne to ashes] that is, consume to ashes with heavenly fire: for so God approved and accepted the sacrifices of his people, Levit. 9. 24. 1 King. 18. 28.

5 Ver. 5. fulfill all thy counsel] or accomplish it: Counsell is as empty if it bee not effected and accomplished; and the performance is as the filling thereof. So to fill or accomplish petitions in the verse following: to fulfill joy, Ioh. 3. 29. and 15.
11. to fulfill words, is to confirme them, 1 King. 1
14. and to performe or effect them, 1 King. 2. 27.

6 Ver. 6. Wee will shew] or, that we may shew, or shrill. For these two phrases are used indifferently: See the note on Psalm 43. 4. thy salvation] which thou (O King) hast received; or which thou (O God) hast given. set up the banner] or,
display the flag or ensigne, which was for triumph and victory, to honour God, and to terrifie the enemies, Song. 6. 3. 9.

Ver. 7. thy anointed] or Messias, that is, thy King, 7 verse 10. Psalm. 2. 6. with powers the salvation] that is, with full power (or puissance), even with the salvation of his right hand. For Gods right hand is of wondrous excellent force, and doth valiantly, Exod 15. 6. Psalm. 118. 16. and 89. 14.

V. 8. These] that is, Some mention chariots and 8 some horses. Chariot is used for chariots, as also in Psalm. 68. 18. so bird for birds, Psalm. 8. 9. Angell for Angels, Psalm. 34. 8. make mention of the name] that is, make it to be knowne and to be remembred with honour, Psalm. 45. 18. Esay 49. 1. 2 Sam. 18. 18.

Verse 9. stand upright] or, set our selves sure to 9 continue yet. So after in Psalm 146. 9. and 147. 6.

Ver. 10. the King, be answer us] By the King 10 here seemeth to bee meant Christ, of whom this whole Psalm is composed: as also the Chaldee Paraphrast understood it, and therefore explained this verse thus; O word of the Lord, redeme us;
O mighty King, receive our prayer in the day of our invocation. But the Seventy (not keeping the distinctions) turne it in Greeke thus; Lord save the King, and beare us in the day that we call upon thee.

PSAL. XXI.

The King giveth thanks for many blessings received.
8 He professeth his confidence of further grace, and pro-
phesieth the destruction of the wicked.

To the master of the musicke, a Psalm of David.

1 Jehovah, in thy strength the King shal re-
2 joyce, & in thy salvation how vehement
3 glad shall hee be! Thou hast given to him his hearts desire, & the earnest request
of his lips thou hast not kept backe, Selah.
4 For thou preventest him with blessings of goodnesse, thou settest on his head a crowne
5 of fine gold. Life he asked of thee, thou ga-vest it him; length of dayes, ever and aye.
6 Great is his honour in thy salvation; glorious Majestic and comely honour hast thou 7 put upon him. For thou hast set him to bee
8 blessings to perpetuall aye; thou hast made him chearefull with joy, with thy face. For 9 the King trusteth in Jehovah, and through the mercy of the most high hee shall not be 10 moved. Thy hand shall find out all thine enemies; thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee. Thou wilt set them as an o-11 ven of fire at the time of thy face; Jehovah
in his anger wil swallow them up, & fire shal eat them. Their fruit from the earth thou wilt destroy,

D d d d d 1 destroy,

- 12 destroy, and their seed from the sons of Adam. For they have intended evill against 13 thee: they have thought a crafty purpose, but they shall not be able. For thou wilt set 14 them as a Butt, with thy strings thou wilt make ready against their faces. Be thou exalted Jehovah in thy strength, wee will sing
and praise with Psalme thy power.

Annotations.

- 2 IN thy strength] or, for thy strength, thy kingdome, strong helpe and deliverance. This Psalme, as the former, gratulateth the victory and salvation of Christ, and is by the Chaldee Paraphrast applied to the reigne of King Messias. Also the Hebrew Iismach, (shall rejoyce), hath the letters (being transplaced) of the name Masbiach, Christ.
shall rejoyce] or, rejoyceth continually.

- 4 Verse 4. a crowne] a signe of glorious victory,
and of the Kingdome.

- 5 Verse 5. length of dayes] that is, a long continued life time, Isa. 53. 10. Iob 12. 12. So Psal. 23. 6. & 93.
5. and 91. 16. On the contrary, short of dayes, is short lived, Iob 14. 1. ever and aie] to eternall and perpetuall aie. Christ being raised from death, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him, Rom. 6. 9. But behold hee is alive for evermore, Amen, Rev. 1. 18. and ever liveth to make intercession for them that come to God by him, Heb. 7. 25.

- 7 Verse 7. hast set him blessings] that is, made him to abound with all manner blessings himselfe, and to be an example of, or to impart blessings unto others. So to Abram it was said, be thou a blessing, Gen. 12. 2. the like promise is to his children, Ezek. 24. 36. Esay, 19. 20. with thy face] or, before thy face, in thy presence, as Psal. 16. 11.

- 9 Verse 9. shall find out all thy enemies] to wit, to punish them, as the like phraze importeth, Esay 10.
10. or, shall find for all, that is, shall bee enough for all thy foes, that is, sufficiently able to overcome them: so finding is used for sufficiencie Numb. 11. 22. Iudg. 21.
14. For band, the Chaldee saith, the stroke of thine
hand.

- 10 Verse 10. wilt set them] or, put them all and every one, as is noted on Psal. 2. 3. So also after in verse 11. and 13. an oven of fire] a fiery furnace;
meaning in great affliction, Lam. 5. 10. the time of thy face] that is, of thine anger, as the Chaldee Pa-raphrast explaineth it, for the face sheweth forth pleasure or displeasure, favour or wrath: so face is used for anger, Psal. 34. 17. Levit. 20. 6. Gen. 32.
20. Lam. 4. 16. Ier. 3. 12. swallow them] that is, destroy or abolish them: so Psal. 35. 25. and 52. 6.
and 55. 10. fire] the Chaldee expoundeth
it, the fire of Gehenna, (or of Hell.)

- 11 Verse 11. Their fruit] that is, their children, called the fruit of the body and wombe, Psalme 127. 3.
and 132. 11. Dent. 28. 4. or their labour, and that which comes thereof; as Prov. 31. 16. 31. their seed] that is, children, or posterity, Psal. 22. 24. 31. and 37. 25. Gen. 17. 7. 10.

Verf. 12. shall not be able] to wit, to establish, (as the Greeke explaineth) or, to effect it. After this word can, or able, there often wanteth a word to be understood: see Psalme 101. 5.

Verf. 13. a Butt] to shoot at, Hebr. a shoulder;
because the earth is heaped up like shoulders. The Chaldee paraphraseth, thou hast set them to thy people as one shoulder. make ready] or fit, namely thine
arrowes against their faces. The Chaldee otherwise, in the cords of thy Tent thou wilt order thy law before them.

PSAL. XXII.

David as a figure of Christ complaineth of his many afflictions; 10 Prayeth with faith for deliverance; 13 Foresheweth the sundry evils which the wicked would doe unto Christ at his death. 23 After deliverance, Christ
declareth Gods name and praises to his brethren, 27 Com-municateth the fruits of his death and resurrection to the ends of the earth. 31 Whereupon they shew forth their obedience, and preach his justice.

To the master of the musicke, concerning the Hind of the morning; a Psalme of David.

MY God, my God, wherefore hast thou forsaken me, art farre off from my salvation, from the words of my roaring: My God, I call by day, & thou answerest not, and by night, and there is no silence to me. And thou art holy, sitting, the praises of Israel. In thee our fathers trusted, they trusted, & thou deliveredst them. Unto thee they cried out, and were safe delivered; in thee they trusted, and were not abashed. But I am a worme, and not a man; the reproach of men, and despised of the people. All they that see mee doe scoffe at me, they make a mow with the lip, they wag the head. He confidently turned unto Jehovah, let him deliver him, let him rid him, because he delighteth in him. But thou art the drawer of me forth out of the belly, the maker of me to trust, even at my mothers breasts. Vp-
on thee I have beene cast from the wombe;
from my mothers belly, thou art my God.
Be not thou gone farre off from mee, for distresse is neere; for there is no helper. Many bullocks have compassed mee about;
mighty buls of Bashan have environed mee.
They have wide opened upon mee their mouth, as a renting and roaring Lyon.
I am powred out as waters, and all my bones dispart themselves; my heart is as waxe, it is molten in the midst of my bowels. My able strength is dried up like a pot-sheard, and my tongue
cleaveth

17 cleaveth to my Jawes, & thou hast brought me down to the dust of death. For dogs have compassed me; the assembly of evill doers have inclosed me, they lyon-like pierced my 18 hands and my feet. I may tell all my bones:
19 they did behold, they did view mee. They parted my garments among them, and for 20 my coat they cast a lot. And thou Jehovah be not farre off: my fortitude, hasten to my 21 helpe. Rid my soule from the sword, my 22 alonely soule from the hand of the dog. Save me from the mouth of the Lion, and from the hornes of Vnicornes, thou hast answered 23 mee. I will tell thy name to my brethren; in the midst of the Church I will 24 praise thee. Yee that feare Jehovah, praise him; all ye seed of Jakob, honour him; & be 25 afraid of him all ye seed of Israel. For hee hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poore afflicted, nor hid his face
from him. and when he cried out unto him 26 he heard. Of thee shall be my praise in the great Church, my vowes I will pay before 27 them that feare him. The meeke shall eate and be satisfied, they shall praise Jehovah that seeke him, your heart shall live to per-28 petuall aye. All the ends of the earth shal remember and turne unto Jehovah, and all fa-29 milies of the heathens shal bow down themselves before thee. For to Jehovah pertaines 30 the Kingdome: and he is ruler among the nations. Al the fat ones of the earth shal eat and bow down themselves, all that go down 31 to the dust, shall bend downe before him: &
he that quickneth not his soule. A seed shal 32 serve him, it shal be accounted to the Lord for a generation. They shall come and shall declare his justice to a people that shall be borne, that he hath done this.

Annotations.

I THe Hind of the morning] meaning Christ, who as a Hind was by Jewes and Gentiles, the dogs, verse 7. hunted and worreyed in the morning, Iohn 18. 28. and also rose from death the third day early in the morning, Ioh. 20. 1. when God had made his feet like Hindes feet, and set him on his high places, Psalm. 18. 34. Compare with this, Song. 2. 9. 17. & 8. 14. where Christ is also likened to a young Hart. And in Psalm. 49. 15.
the resurrection is called, the morning; for then the true light of comfort and salvation shall appear.
A Hind called in Hebrew Aijeleth, hath the name of promise or fortitude, (as in the 20 verse of this Psalm, Aijeleth is fortitude,) and so it may be understood for the strength (or fortitude) of the morning, that is, the helpe and power of God to raise

up Christ from the dead; which may be the meaning of the Greeke translation, for the morning helpe. Some of the Jewes have interpreted it, the morning starre; which (although the word be no where else found in Scripture, for a star) agreeth also to our Lord Christ, who is intituled, the bright morning star, Revel. 20. 16. Others applying this title to the Musicke, retaine the Hebrew words still; Aijeleth basbachar. The Chaldees expoundeth it, To praise (God) for the mighty continuall sacrifice.

Verse 2. My God, my God, &c.] Christ speaketh
this Psalm to God his Father. The Hebrew is, El, El, lammah gbn. azabani; which words our Lord uttered on the crosse, Mat. 27. 46. (save for the later, hee used the Syriak, sabachani, of the same signification.) At which the prophane Jewes mocked, saying that hee called for Eliar,
Mat. 27. 47. 49. Wherefore hast thou forsaken me?
or, why leavest thou me? They are the words of faith, striving in tentation, and do imply both a hope of, and a prayer for deliverance, as it is noted on Psalm 10. 1. See the like also in Psalm. 42.
10. & 43. 2. my roaring] this argueth great griefe of heart, uttered with loud complaint: So Psalm. 38. 9. and 32. 3. Job 3. 24. And Christ, in the dayes of his flesh, offered up prayers, with strong crying and teares, to him that was able to save him from death, Heb. 5. 7.

Ver. 3. no silence to me] or, but I have no silence; and consequently, no rest or ease. So Job 30. 20. 27.

Verse 4. sitting] or sittest, that is, abidest still one and the same; as Psalm. 9. 8. and 55. 20. and 102.
13. or sittest, to wit, still; as Ruth. 3. 18. that is,
risest not up to helpe me: or sittest, that is, inhabi-test, as Psalm. 9. 12. and 132. 15. The Chaldees tran-slateth, which stablisheth the world for the praises of Israel. the praises] in Greeke, the praise of Israel;
that is, art he to whom Israel singeth all praises for deli-verances, and of whom Israel glorieth in all time of need.
So Moses said to Israel, he is thy praise, Deut. 10. 21.
and Ier. 17. 14.

Verse 7. a worne] that is, wake. (as the Chaldee explaineth it) wretched, and trodden under foot.
So Job 25. 6. Esay 41. 14.

Verse 8. make a mow] make an opening with the lip;
which may bee taken both for mowing or thrusting out of the lip, and for licentious opening thereof to speake reproach. wag the head] a signe also of scorne, Esay 37. 22. Matt. 27. 39:
Iob 16. 4. Psalm. 44. 15. Lam. 2. 15.

Verse 9. He confidently turned] or rolled; that is,
trusted, as in the New Testament this phrase is explained, Mat. 27. 43. where they mocke at Christ.
The Hebrew applyeth this word roll or turne, figuratively to a confident committing of ones selfe, wayes, or actions unto another; as here, so in Psalm 37. 5. Proverbs 16. 3. and Col. properly is Roll thou, but put for bee rolled, or trusted, as the like phrase, make the hearts of this people fat, &c. Esay 6. 10. is thus resolved, this peoples heart is waxed fat, &c. Matt. 13. 15. or it is the indefinite, to turne for he turned, as in Elth. 9. 16. to stand, is used for thy stood.

- 11 Verse 11. beere cast from the wombe] that is, from my infancie committed to thy care and custody. So else-where hee saith, The Lord hath called me from the wombe, &c. Esay 49. 1. Contrariwise, the wicked are estranged from the wombe, Psal. 58. 4.
- 13 Verse 13. bullocks] that is, strong and lusty persons, such as were the high Priests, Scribes, &c. that set against Christ. So the Chaldee expoundeth, peoples like pushing bulls. mighty Bulls of Basan] which was a fertile countrey, good to feed cattel, Numb. 32. 4. and such as there fed, were fat and strong, Deut. 32. 14. Ezek. 39. 18. The Jewes were the Bulls of Basan, as the Prophets foretold, Deut. 32. 15. Amos 4. 1. Hof. 4. 16. and the history sheweth, Mat. 27. Here the word bulls is to be supplied unto the word mighty, as also in Psal. 50. 13. and 68. 31. See the notes on Psal. 10. 10.
- 14 Verse 14. wide opened] or, gaped; and this also is a signe of reproach and contempt, Iob 16. 10. Lam. 3. 46. and 2. 16.
- 15 Verse 15. dispart themselves] or, are sundred, that is, out of joynt. as waxe] that is, tender, and melting through faintnesse, and feare, Psalm. 68. 3. and 57. 5. Like this is Iobs complaint, God hath softened my heart, Iob 23. 16. So the word following molten, noteth feare and discouragement, Ioh. 7. 3. and 14. 8. Deut. 20. 8. The Greeke translateth, as molten wax.
- 16 Verse 16. cleaveth] or, is made cleave to my jawes, which phrase meaneth inability to speake; Psal. 137. 6. Iob 29. 10. Ezek. 3. 25. and sometime extremity of thirst, Lam. 4. 4. and so may have reference here to that thirst, which our Saviour felt, Ioh. 19. 28. hast brought me downe] or set and bounded me in the dust of death, meaning death it selfe, or the grave which turneth men to dust, Gen. 3. 19. the Chaldee turneth it, the house of the grave. See Psal. 7. 6.
- 17 Verse 17. dogges] the Greeke addeth, many dogs, that is, base and vile persons of rancorous disposition, Iob 30. 1. Prov. 26. 11. Rev. 22. 15. Matt. 7. 6. Phil. 3. 2. Psal. 59. 7. 15. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, a company of wicked sinners which are like to many dogs. These were the high Priests and rulers of Israel, of whom it is said, that Pilate knew well that for envie they had delivered Iesus, Mat. 27. 18. they Lyon-like pierced] The originall hath a double reading, Caari, like a Lyon, and Caru, they digged or pierced. This later the Greeke followeth: but the Chaldee in the Masorites Bible keepeth both readings, they did bite like a Lyon. This was fulfilled in the nailing of our Lord to the crosse, by his feet and hands, Mat. 27. 35. Ioh. 20. 25.
- 18 Verse 18. did view me] or see in me; namely, their desire or lust, or the affliction upon me, they saw with delight. See the like phrase, Psal. 54. 9. and 59. 11. and 118. 7.
- 19 Verse 19. for my coat] or, my vesture: The Souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments (and made foure parts, to every Souldier a part) and his coat; and the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. Therefore they said one to another, Let us not divide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, &c. Ioh. 19. 23. 24.

Verse 21. from the sword] the Chaldee saith, from them that kill with the sword. my alonely soule] which is one alonie, solitary, and desolate. So after in Psal. 35. 17. and 25. 16. and 68. 7. the Chaldee expounds it, the spirit of my body. band of the dog] the power of the devill, the prince of this world, who then came to Christ, but had nought in him, Ioh. 14. 30. Or dog is put for dogs meaning the malicious Jewes spoken of before, verse 17. and band is often put for power: see Psal. 63. 11.

Verse 22. mouth of the Lyon] so the Devill is named, 1 Pet. 5. 8. and wicked rulers, Prov. 28. 15. Ier. 50. 17. The Chaldee here saith, from the mouth of him that is strong as a Lyon, and from Kings mighty and proud like Vnicornes. horns of Vnicornes] the Devils Angels, principalities, powers, worldly governours, princes of the darkenesse of this world, &c. Ephes. 6. 12. The Vnicorne is so fierce, and wild, that he will not be tamed, Job 39. 12. 13. &c. and his strength and pride is in his horn. See Psal. 92. 11. Numb. 23. 22. Deut. 33. 17. Esay 34. 7. thou hast answered] for answer thou me; a speech of faith, inserted in his prayer; therefore next followeth thanksgiving. Answering is here used for safe delivering upon prayer: as the Chaldee translateth, hast accepted my prayer.

Verse 23. to my brethren] the disciples and beleivers of Christ: for he that sanctifieth, and we which are sanctified, are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call us brethren, Heb. 2. 11. 12. Iohn 20. 17. the Church] or, Convocation, Assembly, Congregation.

Verse 26. Of thee, my praise] or From with thee, shall be my praise: it shall begin and continue of thee, thou art the cause and ground thereof. the great Church] either that assembly where Christ after his resurrection personally appeared to more than five hundred brethren at once, 1 Cor. 15. 6. or the great Church of the Gentiles, with whom Christ is spiritually present, Mat. 28. 19. 20. So after in Psal. 40. 10. u.

Verse 27. and be satisfied] It was a curse of the Law, that men should eat and not be satisfied, Leviti. 26. 26. Mic. 6. 14. but it is a blessing of the Gospell, that the meeke and needy shall eat and have enough, Psal. 132. 15. God filleth the hungry with good things, and sends away the rich empty, Luke 1. 53. The meeke meaneth the regenerate, who are mortified with Christ, and their fierce nature made meeke and humble. your heart shall live] hee turneth his speech to the meeke and seekers of God, who should eat of Christs flesh that was given for the life of the world, and thereby live for ever, Iohn 6. 51. The living of the heart, importeth also the chearing, comfort and solace of the same, Gen. 45. 27. the contrary whereof is in the dying of the heart, 1 Sam. 25. 37. See also the like promise, Psalme 69. 33. The Chaldee yeeldeth this sense, The spirit of prophesie shall rest in the thoughts of their hearts for ever.

Verse 28. All the ends, &c.] that is, the dwellers in the utmost parts and ends of the world. A prophesie of the calling of the Gentiles, by the preaching ching of the Gospell, Rom. 16.26. Ephes. 2.12. &c. remember] the Chaldee addeth, remember his miracles. families of the heathens] or kindreds of the nations; whereof see Genesis 10. 5. 18. 20. 31. 32.

29 Verie 29. ruler among the heathens] to reigne over them by his Word and Spirit, and so to be God, not of the Jewes only, but also of the Gentiles, Rom. 3.29.30.

30 Verie 30. All the fat ones] that is, the rich and mighty personages, fat with plenty, Deuteronomie 31. 20. For, Kings and Queenes, and men of authority and wealth, are also called to the participation of Christs grace in his Church, Esay 60.3.5. 10. Revel. 21. 24. 1 Tim. 2.1.2. Sometime fatnesse is used to note out Gods spirituall blessings, Psal. 36.9. and 63.6. and 65. 12. & 92.15. Prov. 28.25.

all that goe downe to the dust] that is, the poore base and wretched people, which for their misery and affliction, are said to goe downe and sit in the dust, as Psal. 113.7. Esay 47. and 29.4. Iob 30.19. Lament. 3. 29. but the Chaldee expounds it, the house of the grave. that quickeneth not] or cannot quicken; that is, the poore wretched man, that doth not, (or cannot, as Psal. 77.5.) keepe alive his soule; that cannot nourish himselfe, he shall eat. So to keepe alive, is to nourish, Esay 7.21. Or, he that revived, that is, cheered me, nor refreshed his soule with comfort, as before verie 27. or hee that cannot keepe alive his soule, that is, not save it from wrath and eternall death, by his owne workes, he shall live by faith in Christ. So this phrase to keepe the soule alive, is used, Ezek. 18. 27. The Chaldee giveth this sense, and hee will not keepe alive the soule of the wicked.

31 Verie 31. A seed] The posterity of those godly forementioned, for God chuseth the seed with the parents, Deut. 10. 15. and 30.6.19. Psal. 69. 37. and 102. 29. Esay 43. 5. and 44.3. Or the seed of Christ, the children which God giveth him, as Esay 53. 10. Hebr. 2.13. Or a seed, that is, a small remnant, as Rom. 9.29. the Chaldee saith, the seed of Abraham. for a generation] a race of Gods children, as Psalme 73.15. and 24.6. or, to generation, that is, for ever, through all ages.

32 Verie 32. They shall come] The Chaldee explaineth it, Their sinneres shall come. his justice] the justice of God, which is by faith in Christ, Psal. 71.15.16.24. Rom. 10.3.4. people that shall be borne] hereafter to come; or, a people borne, that is, regenerate, Psalme 87. 4.5. Iohn 1.13. 1 Pet. 1.33. So a people created, Psalme 102.19. that he hath done] hath performed, or accomplished that justice, and all things appertaining to it. The Greeke referreth it to the people, whom the Lord hath made: the Chaldee, to the marvellous workes which he hath done.

PSALME XXIII.

David under the similitude of a Shepheard, sheweth Gods love and mercies to his people, whereby their faith is confirmed.

A Psalme of David.

Iehovah feedeth mee, I shall not lacke. In folds of budding-grasse he maketh me lie downe; he easily leadeth me by the waters of rests. He returneth my soule, hee leadeth me in the beaten paths of justice, for his Name sake. Yea, though I should walke in the valley of the shade of death, I wil not feare evill, for thou wilt be with me; thy rod and thy staffe, they shall comfort me. Thou furnishest before me a table, in presence of my distressers: thou makest fat my head with oyle, my cup is abundant. Doubtlesse, good and mercy shall follow me all the daies of my life, and I shall converse in the house of Jehovah to length of dayes.

Annotations.

Feedeth me] or, is my Feeder, my Pastor. The word comprehendeth all duties of a good Herd, as together feeding, guiding, governing, and defending his flocke. Therefore Kings also have this title, and are said to feed their people, Psal. 78.71. 72. 2 Sam. 5.2. Hereupon it is attributed to God, and to Christ, feeding his Church, as the Shepherd of their soules, Psal. 80.2. Ezek. 34.12, 14, 15. Esay 40.11. Iob. 10.11. 1 Pet. 2.25. The Chaldee referreth this to a former worke, saying, The Lord fed his people in the wilderness, they lacked nothing.

Verse 2. of budding grasse] pleasant pastures and leas, where greene and tender herbs doe spring. be maketh me] or, will make me to lie downe, to wit, for rest from beas. This also is another dutie of a good Herder, as, I will feed my flocke, and I will make them lie downe, saith the Lord, Ezek. 34. 15. and Shew me, O thou, whom my soule loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest lie downe at noone, Song. 1.6. easily leadeth] or comfortably guideth me; it noteth a soft and gentle leading, with sustaining of infirmity, as Genesis 33.14. Esay 40.11. Therefore the Greeke turneth it, hee nourisheth mee. So Psalme 31. 4. by waters] or unto waters of rests, that is, most quiet (or calme) waters, and such as give rest and refreshing. All these things Christ performeth to his flocke, as it is written, They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the Sunne light on them, nor any beat; for the Lambe which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them to the lively fountaines of waters, Revel. 7.16.17.

Verse 3. returneth my soule] or, will returne or restore it, and consequently give it rest. See Psalme 19.8. Verse 4. shade of death] that is, darke and dreadful shadow; and in a manner, the very state of death. This speech denoteth imminent danger, Jer. 2. 6. sore affliction, Psal. 44.20. & 107. 10.14. feare and terror, Iob 24.17. and dreadful darknesse, Iob 10.21. 22. whereto spiritually is opposed the light and comfort comfort of the Gospel and grace of Christ, Matt. 4. 16. Luke 1. 79. wilt bee with me] or, art with me: and this implieth his good, safety, and protection. As when God said, I will be with thee, Gen. 31. 3. Iakob understood it thus, I will doe thee good, Gen. 32. 9. for Gods presence is a singular favour, and our preheminance, Exod. 33. 15. 16. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thy Word shall be for my helpe. thy rod] with such shepherds use to guide and rule their flocks, Levit. 27. 32. and with such the Lord is said to rule his people, Ezek. 20. 37. Wherefore the Prophet prayeth, feed thy people with thy rod, Mic. 7. 14. The rod is also for chastening and punishment, Psalm. 89. 33. And for the rebellious God hath a rod of iron and indignation, Psal. 2. 9. Lam. 3. 1. Of Christs rods or slaves where-with he feeds his flocke, see Zach. 11. 7. &c. The Chaldee translateth thy rod and thy law.

5 Verse 5. Thou furnishest] or wilt furnish, and make ready a table. This and the things following, note the abundant supply of all good things, for necessity and for delight, as at a sumptuous banquet, Prov. 9. 2. &c. So by Christ the good shepherd, his sheepe find pasture, have life, and have it in abundance, Joh. 10. 9, 10. in presence] or before them, which causeth the enemies that see, to grieve, as Psal. 112. 10. makest fat] that is, plentifully moistenest and supplest with oyle or balsam. In those countries they used to welcome and cheare their guests with powring out precious sweet oyles or balsam upon their heads, Luke 7. 46. Joh. 12. 3. It signifieth joy, Eccles. 9. 8. Esay 61. 3. The Chaldee applieth it to the Priests of Israel, thou hast made the Priests beads fat with the anointing oyle. is abundant] to wit, with liquor, (as the word importeth) for to drinke my fill.

6 Verse 6. converse] or, quietly repose my selfe, and dwell, as the Greeke translateth it. Likewise the Chaldee, saying, I shall dwell in the house of the Lords Sanctuary. to length of dayes] that is, a long life-time, or for ever. See Psal. 21. 5. and 93. 5.

P S A L. XXIV.

Gods Lordship in the world. 3 The Citizens of his spirituall kingdome. 7 An exhortation to receive him.

A Psalm of David.

1 THe earth is Jehovahs, and the plenty thereof; the world, and they that sit therein. For he hath founded it
2 upon the seas, and established it upon the rivers. Who shall ascend into the mountaine
3 of Jehovah, and who shall stand in the place of his holiness? The cleane in hands,
4 and pure in heart, which lifteth not up his soule to false vanity, neither sweareth to de-
5 ceit. He shall receive a blessing from Jehovah, & justice from the God of his salvation.

This is the generation of them that enquire for him, of them that seeke thy face, of Iakob Selah. Lift up ye gates your heads, and bee lifted up yee doores of eternity, that the King of glory may come in. Who is this King of glory? Jehovah, strong and valiant; Jehovah valiant in battell. Lift up yee gates your heads, and lift up yee doores of eternity, that the King of glory may come in. Who is he this King of glory? Jehovah of hosts, he is the King of glory Selah.

Annotations.

A Psalm of David] unto this title the Greeke addeth, of the first day of the weeke: meaning that this Psalm was wont to be sung in the Temple every first day of the weeke, which now with us is the Lords day, the Christians Sabbath: and of Christ his Church and kingdome, and the entertaining of his Gospel, doth this Psalm treat. In Solomons Temple God ordained Levites with Cymbals, Psalteries and Harpes, and Priests with Trumpets, and other Levites that were singers, & in the time that the burnt-offering began, the song of the Lord began with trumpets and instruments, and they sang praises with the words of David, and of Asaph, 2 Chron. 29. 25. — 30. The Hebrew Doctors recording their daily service in the Sanctuary, write thus; They said not the Song, but over the burnt-offerings of the Congregation, and the sacrifices of their peace-offerings that are spoken of in the Law, &c. The Song which the Levites said in the first day, was (Psalm 24.) The earth is the LORD S, and the plenty thereof. In the second (day) they said (the 48 Psalm.) Great is the LORD, and praised vehemently in the citie of our God, &c. In the third they said (the 82. Psalm,) God standeth in the assembly of God, hee judgeth in the midst of the gods. In the fourth they said (the 94. Psalm) O God of vengeance, &c. In the fifth they said (the 81. Psalm) Shout joyfully unto God our strength, &c. In the sixth they said (the 93. Psalm,) The Lord reigneth, hee is clothed with high Majesty, &c. In the Sabbath they said (the 92. Psalm,) A Psalm, a Song for the Sabbath day. Maimony in Misneh, tom. 3. in Tamidin, (or Treat. of the Daily sacrifices,) chap. 6. sect. 7, 8, 9. The earth is Jehovahs] or, To Jehovah the earth belongeth. Of him, and by him, and for him are all things; yet in speciall he hath chosen Iakobs posterity for to be his people, ver. 6. Thus David maketh use of Moses doctrine, who said, Lo, to Jehovah thy God pertaine the heavens, and the heavens of heavens, the earth and all that therein is: notwithstanding, Jehovah sit his delight in thy fathers to love them, and did chuse their seed after them, even you above all peoples, as appeareth this day, Deut. 10. 14, 15. See also another use of this doctrine, in 1 Cor. 10. 26, 28. where the Apostle proveth, that every creature in the earth may be used of Christians for food.

food, or otherwise, because all is the Lords, and in Christ ours.

plenty] or, fulnesse, that is, all contained therein, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the creatures thereof. So, the plenty of the Sea, Esay 42.10. the plenty of the citie, Amos 6.8. and sundry the like.

that sit] that is, dwell or inherit, as it is noted on Psal. 1.1. The like manner of speaking the holy Ghost useth also in Greek, Levit. 21. 35. on all them that sit on the face of the whole earth. So Psal 69.36. and often otherwhere.

2 Verse 2. upon the seas] or above them. The earth is said to be founded (or fast settled) upon the seas, (the beapes of waters were called seas; Gen. 1.10.) because the waters which naturally would sit and above the high mountaines, Psal. 104.6. are by the word of God gathered together, and thrust under the earth, that the dry land might appeare and be inhabited, Exod. 20.4. Gen. 1.9. And these which may seeme a most weake and flitting foundation, yet are firme bases, and mighty foundations, Psal. 104.5. Mic. 6.2. to magnifie Gods power, who as hee brought light out of darkenesse, so setleth he the solid earth on the liquid waters; yea, hangeit the earth upon nothing, Job 26.7.

3 Verse 3. Who shall ascend] The Chaldee paraphraseth, Who shall be worthy to ascend into the mountaine of the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord?

4 Verse 4. The cleane in hands] He whose hands or palmes are cleane, or free of evill. So Job 17.9. This noteth good workes, as purenesse of heart meaneth holy faith and affections, Act. 15.9. not lifted up his soule] or, my soule. The Hebrew hath two readings; by the letters in the line, his soule, and in the margine, my soule; as if this were spoken in the person of God, and of him; which then may be understood of swearing. For this forme of words is used in the third Commandement, Exod. 2. Thou shalt not lift up (or take up) the name of Jehovah thy God to false vanity. But forname, here is put Soule. And God is said to swear by his soule, that is, by himselfe, or his life, Ier 51.14. Amos 6.8. It was also the wont in Israel to take an oath thus, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soule liveth, 1 Sam. 20.3. 2 King. 2.2.4.6. Also concerning a mans owne soule, in swearing this forme was used, I call God for a record against my soule, 2 Cor. 1.23. And thus the Chaldee expounds it, which hath not sworn in vaine to the condemnation of his soule. Otherwise, if this bee not understood of vaine swearing, the meaning is, he that affecteth not, or, regardeth not vanity; for so the lifting up of the soule also signifieth; see Psal. 25.1. to deceit] or, deceitfully.

5 Verse 5. He shall receive] or shall take up, or beare away a blessing. justice] or, righteousness; whereof see Phil. 3.9. Psal 69.28. Hereby also may be meant a benefit, the fruit or reward of righteousness. The Greeke turneth it mercy, or almes: and by justice, mercies and benefits are sometimes meant, Iudg. 5.11. Psal. 112.9. Dan. 4.24.

6 Verse 6. of Iakob] understand, this is the generation of Iakob] or, this is Iakob; these are true Israelites, whom God will acknowledge for his, Ioh. 1.47. Rom. 9.6. Iakob when hee wraisted with an Angell, saw God face to face, and called the place Peniel, that is, Gods face or presence; there hee wept and prayed, and bare away a blessing, Gen. 32.24.26.29.30. Hof. 12.4. That history hath use here.

7 Verse 7. Lift up yee gates &c.] This may first have reference to the gates and doores of the Temple; into which the Arke (the glory of Israel, 1 Sam. 4.21.) should enter; on which Arke, betweene the Cherubims, God was said to dwell, 1 Sam. 4.4. 1 King. 8.1. &c. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, gates of the house of the Sanctuary; though in the 9. verse otherwise, saying, Lift up, O yee gates of the garden of Eden, your heads. Secondly, it may be referred to Christian men, which are the true temple of God, 1 Cor. 3.17. at the doore of whose hearts he knocketh to have entrance, Rev. 3.10.

doores of eternity] that is, strong, durable, everlasting doores: which being referred to the doores of Solomons Temple, note the perpetuall abiding of Gods Arke therein, as 1 King. 9.3. Psal. 132.13.14. whereas before the Arke was removed from place to place, 1 Chron. 17.5. Or being applied to Christians, it noteth the eternall durance of the Church.

that enter may] or, and enter shall the King of glory, that is, the glorious King; So Christ is called the Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2.8. Iam. 2.1. and the opening of the doores before him, signifieth his entrance into, and administration of the Kingdome, as Esay 45.1.

10 Verse 10. Jehovah of hosts] or, as the Hebrew is, Jehovah Tsebaoth, for so the word is used by the Apostles, untranslated in the Greeke, Sabaoth, Rom. 9.29. Iam. 5.4. It signifieth hosts or armies standing ready in martiall order, and in battell ray, and comprehendeth all creatures in heaven and in earth, which are prest to doe the will of God, Gen. 3.1. 1 King. 22.19 Exod. 12.41.

PSALME XXV.

Dauids desire and confidence in God. 4 Hee prayeth for instruction; 7 and for remission of finnes. 8 Hee celebrateth Gods goodnesse and mercy to such as feare him. 15 He prayeth for deliverance out of his afflictions, and for the redemption of Israel.

1. A Psalm of David.

V Nto thee Jehovah, lift I up my soule,
2. My God, in thee doe I trust, let me not be abashed; let not my enemies shew gladnesse over me.

3. Yea all that earnestly expect thee, shall not be abashed; they shall be abashed, that unfaithfully transgresse in vaine.

4. Thy wayes, Jehovah, make thou mee to know; learne me thy paths.

5. Make me to tread in thy truth, & learn me, for thou art the God of my salvation; thee doe I earnestly expect all the day.

6. Remember thy tender mercies, Jehovah, and thy kind mercies, for they are from eternity.

7. The

- 7 The finnes of my youth, and my trespasses, remember thou not: according to thy mercy doe thou remember me, for thy goodnesse sake Jehovah.
8. Good and righteous Jehovah is, therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
9. He will make thee meeke to tread in judgement, and will learne the meeke his way.
10. All the paths of Jehovah are mercy and truth, to them that keepe his covenant, and testimonies.
11. For thy Namesake, Jehovah, even mercifully pardon wilt thou my iniquity, for it is much.
12. Who is the man that feareth Jehovah? he will teach him in the way that he shall chuse.
13. His soule shall lodge in good, and his seed shall inherit the land.
14. The secret of Jehovah is to them that feare him, and his covenant to make them for to know.
15. Mine eyes are continually unto Jehovah, for hee will bring forth my feet out of the net.
16. Turne the face unto me, and be gracious to mee, for I am solitary and poore afflicted.
17. The distresses of my heart are enlarged; bring thou me forth out of my vexations.
18. See mine affliction, and my molestation, and forgive all my finnes.
19. See mine enemies, for they are multiplied, and with hatred of violent wrong have they hated me.
20. Keepe thou my soule, and deliver me; let me not be ashamed, for I hope for safety in thee.
- 21 Let perfection and righteousness preserve me, for I earnestly expect thee.
22. Redeeme Israel, O God, from all his distresses.

Annotations.

OF David] This Psalme is composed after the order of the Hebrew letters or Alphabet: which care denoteth the weight and excellencie of the matter in it. The same is to be observed of some other Psalmes, as the 34. and 37. & 111. and 112. and 119. and 145. Lift I up my soule] The Chaldee addeth, in prayer. This signifieth an earnest desire, with delight and expectation or hope to have what he would. For to lift up the soule, is to desire, Ier. 22. 27. and 44. 14. and a like phrase in Ezek. 24. 25. implieth both desire and delight; and in Deut. 24. 15. the poore man is said to lift up his soule unto his hire or wages, hoping by it to have his life sustained. In this place, every of these hath use, and so in Psal. 86. 4.

Verf. 2. In thee] the Chaldee expoundeth it, In thy Word: so in verf. 3. not be abashed] that is, not disappointed of my hope, nor vanquished by my foes. See Psal. 6. 11. shew gladnesse] insub or triumph for joy, as having got the victory, 2 Chro. 20. 27.

Verf. 3. yea all] or, Yea any: for, whosoever believeth in God, shall not be ashamed, Rom. 10. 10. earnestly expect] or, patiently hope. they shall be] or prayer wise, let them be. Vnsauisfully transgresse] that deale disloyally, contrary to duty, promise, and trust reposed in them. So elsewhere he prayeth, that no grace be shewed to such, Psal. 59. 6. in vaine] or without cause, and without fruit, Psal. 7. 5.

Verf. 4. Thy wayes] that is, thy true faith and religion, as Act. 18. 25. 26. and thy guidance of me therein. So Moses prayed, Exod. 33. 13. learn me thy paths] inure me with thy paths, or journeyes. Learning implieth ure and exercise, and informing by customeable practise.

Verf. 5. Make me to tread] or to goe; guide my way in thy truth; that is, in thy word, for that is, the truth, Ioh. 17. 17. 3 Ioh. 3. So after, verf. 9.

Verf. 6. tender mercies] or bowels of compassion: See Psal. 18. 2. This word noteth the inward affections, as the next, kind mercies, imply the actions or effects of love. from eternity] or, from ever. This in humane affaires sometime meaneth but of old, or a long while, Gen. 6. 4. Esay 42. 14. But here and elsewhere it noteth the eternity of Gods love, which was firme unto his before the world was, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Ephes. 1. 4 so shewed throughout all generations, and is in like sort for ever, or to eternity, Psal. 100. 5. because our firme happinesse shall have no end, Dan. 12. 3. 1 Pet. 1. 4. And these both are conjoynd, Psal. 103. 17.

Verf. 7. Sinnes of my youth] This imagination of mans heart is evill from his youth, Gen. 8. 21. and of all mans life, youth commonly is most vaine, Eccles. 11. 9. 10. for which God often punisheth men in their age, so making them (as Iob saith) to inherit the iniquities of their youth, Iob 13. 26. Ier. 3. 25.

Verf. 8. will be teach] or informe with the law; for of this word the Law is derived, Psal. 19. 8. sinners in the way] that is, such as sinne and misse the right way, God will teach and reduce them: thus the Greeke interpreteth it. Or, those that are sinners be will teach and informe in the way that is right, or in his way, as verse 9.

Verf. 9. to tread in judgement] to walke judiciously, and as is right and fit.

Verf. 10. his covenant] his testamentall bond or league, called in Hebrew Brith, which hath the signification of brotherly or friendly parting, and of explaining the conditions of agreement. For at the making of solemn covenants, beasts were killed and parted asunder.

asunder, and the covenant makers went between the parts, Gen. 15. 9. 10. 17. Ier. 34. 18. Hereupon is the phrase of cutting (or striking) a covenant, Psalme 50. 5. and 83. 6. and 89. 4. The Apostles in Greek call it diatheke, a testament, a testamentall covenant, or disposing of things, Heb. 8. 8. from Ier. 31. 31. And there be two principal covenants or testaments; the first, that which God made with our Fathers, when hee brought them out of Egypt; the summe whereof was contained in the ten Commandments written by the finger of God, Deuteronomie 4. 13. Exod. 24. 28. 1 King. 8. 21. and the other lawes written by Moses in a booke, called the booke of the covenant, 2 Kings 23. 2. Exod. 24. 4. 7. The second covenant is that new testamentall bond, which God hath made with us in Christ, established upon better promises, and confirmed by the blood and death of Christ the testator, as the first was by the blood and death of beasts, Luke 22. 20. Hebr. 8. 6. 8. and 9. 16. 17. 18. &c.

11 Verse 11. even mercifully pardon] or, therefore thou wilt mercifully forgive. This David taketh from Moses, who first used this word in a case of great offence, Exod. 34. 9. and it betokeneth to spare or pardon upon pacification, of grace and mercy; and is interpreted by the Apostle in Greeke, to be mercifull, propitious or appeased, Heb. 8. 12. from Ierem. 31. 34. Often used in the Law, for forgiveness upon oblation or intercession made by the Priest, Leviticus 4. 20. 26. 31. 35. and 5. 10. 13. 16. 18. &c.

12 Verse 12. Who is the man] or, What manner of man shall he be? The Hebrew phrase is, VVho is the man: which also may be resolved, Who soever is the man. he shall chuse] that is, which hee shall love and like; or, which he loveth. So chosen, Esay 42. 1. is translated in Greeke, beloved, Matt. 12. 18. Or, which hee shall require and command; for so choosing sometime signifieth, 2 Sam. 19. 38. and 15. 15.

13 Verse 13. lodge in good] that is, continue in good estate, ease and prosperity. So lodging is for continuance, Iob 17. 2. Prov. 19. 23. and for good, the Chaldee saith, the blessednesse of the world to come: the Greeke translateth, in good things. the land] meaning Canaan, the land promised for a possession to Abraham and his seed, Gen. 15. 7. and 12. 7. called therefore the land of promise, Hebr. 11. 9. and elsewhere, the holy land, Psalme 10. 16. the land of Immanuel, that is, of Christ, Esay 8. 8. a land flowing with milke and honey, and the pleasauntest of all lands, Ezek. 20. 6. the seat of Gods ancient Church, and figure of his Kingdome.

14 Verse 14. The secret] or The mysterie of the Lord; meaning that his secret favour is towards them, and his secret counsell and mysterie of the faith is revealed unto them: for so this word noteth, as when Iob saith, Gods secret was upon his tabernacle, meaning his favour and providence, Iob 29. 4. and Gods secret is his counsell, Iob 15. 8. Ier. 23. 18. 22. and the hid thing of Christ are often called a mysterie, Romanes 16. 25. 1 Cor. 2. 7. and 4. 1. 1 Tim. 3. 9. 16. Ephes. 3. 3. 4. 9. Col. 1. 26. 27. So Prov. 3. 32.

16 Verse 16. turne the face] or Have respect unto me. This was a blessing promised in the law, Levit. 26. 9. I will turne the face unto you, and make you increase. Contrary to this is the bidding of Gods face, Psalme

69. 17. 18. solitary] alone or desolate; see Psalme 32. 21.

Verse 17. are enlarged] or doe enlarge themselves, doe make wide roomth. Hee sheweth his heart to be penned in with straights and distrelling sorrowes, which largely spread themselves over all. vexations] or anguishes, tribulations, which presse and wring.

Verse 18. See my affliction] This phrase is taken from Deuter. 26. 7. he saw our affliction. And it here meaneth, a seeing and regarding with compassion, and so a redresse and helpe, Gen. 29. 22. Exodus 3. 7. 8. Psalme 31. 8. and 119. 153. and 106. 44. Sometime it meaneth otherwise, as in the next verse, See my enemies. forgive] or lift up, take away. This word which properly signifieth to take up or beare, is applyed to forgiveness of finnes, Rom. 4. 7. from Psal. 32. 1. and the phrase hath reference to Christ, who bare and tooke away the finnes of the world, Ioh. 1. 29. For when it is applyed to a man himselfe, bearing his owne sinne, it meaneth guilt and punishment, Numb. 5. 31.

Verse 19. of violent wrong] that is, most violent, or wrongfull hatred.

Verse 22. his distresses] or their distresses, for Israel being put for the whole people, may have with it a word singular or plurall, which the Hebrew text also often useth; as, all Edom was, 2 Sam. 8. 14. or, all Edom were, 1 Chron. 18. 13. The like is in 2 King. 23. 30. with 2 Chron. 36. 1. He tooke, or they tooke, speaking of the people.

PSAL. XXVI.

David committeth the triall of himselfe unto God, in confidence of his integrity and good conversation. 9 Hee prayeth for mercy, 11 and promiseth upright walking and thankfulness.

A Psalme of David.

1 I Vdge me, Jehovah, for I walk in my perfection, and doe trust in Jehovah I shall not stagger. 2 Prove me, Jehovah, and 3 tempt me: try my reines and my heart. For 4 thy mercy is before mine eyes, and I walke 5 in thy truth. I doe not sit with mortall men 6 of false vanity, and with the hidden I enter 7 not. I hate the Church of evill doers, and 8 with the wicked I sit not. I will wash my 9 hands with cleannesse, and compasse thine 10 altar, Jehovah. To cause to heare with voice 11 of confession, and to tell al thy marvellous 12 workes. Jehovah, I love the mansion of thy house, and the place of the habitation of thy glory. Gather not my soule with sinners, and my life with men of bloods. In whose hands is a mischievous purpose, & their right hand is full of bribes. And I doe walke in my

- 12 my perfection, redeemethou me, & be gracious to me. My foot standeth in righteousness, in the Churches I wil blesse Jehovah.

Annotations.

- 1 IN my Perfection] or, integrity, simplicitie: and that is, when a man meaneth not, nor witteth of any evil, 2 Sam. 15. 11. Such a walker walketh confidently, and blessed shall be his children after him, Prov. 10. 9. and 20. 7. in Jehovah] Chaldee, in the word of the Lord.

- 2 Verse 2. try my reines] examine as in the fire my inmost affections. Thus Job also offered himselfe to triall, Job 31. 6.

- 3 Verse 2. I walke] to wit, continually, (as the forme of this word importeth,) or converse. The Greeke saith, I have pleased: so to walke with God, is to please God, Heb. 11. 5.

- 4 Verse 4. man of false vanity] that is, vaine most all men, or false persons, Job 11. 11. So Ieremie saith, be sate not in the secret assembly of mockers, Ier. 15. 17. the bidden] that is, hypocrites, dissemblers, secret evill doers: as the Chaldee saith, with them that bide themselves to doe evill. I enter not] or come not, that is, have no company, or conversation. So the word is also used, Ios. 23. 7.

- 5 Verse 5. church of evill doers] the malignant church, or congregation.

- 6 Verse 6. my hands with cleanness] or palmes in innocency. He hath respect to the washing which God appointed for such as came to his altar, Exod. 40. 32. Hereupon wee are willed to lift up pure hands when we pray unto God, 1 Tim. 2. 8. See also Isa. 1. 15. 16.

- 7 Verse 7. To cause to beare] that is, to sound forth, or proclaim so as may be heard. So Psal. 66. 8. and 106. 2. And in 1 Chron. 15. 16. David appointed Levites with instruments, to cause to beare, or to resound, lifting up the voyce with joy.

- 8 Verse 8. mansion] or habitation. This name is given to the tabernacle which Moses made, and God dwelt in, 1 Sam. 2. 29. 32. and afterward to Solomons temple, 2 Chron. 36. 15. And heaven it selfe is also thus called, Deut. 26. 15. where there are many mansions, Ioh. 14. 2. of the habitation] or the habitacle, the tabernacle. The tent which Moses made, was thus called, Exod. 26. 1. 6. and Solomons house, 2 Chron. 29. 6. In Exod. 40. 34, 35. it is shewed, how Gods glory filled that tabernacle, when he first tooke possession of it; whereupon it is here called the habitacle of his glory (or honour:) and elsewhere, the habitacle of the Lord, Levit. 17. 4. and of his name, Psalme 74. 7.

- 9 Verse 9. Gather not my soule] Gathering is used for taking away, as Ier. 16. 5. Esay 4. 1. and so for death, Esay 57. 1. 1 Sam. 15. 6 Ezek. 34. 29. and sometime is expressed, to whom they are gathered; as, to their fathers, to their people, to the grave, 2 King. 22. 20. Numb. 20. 24. 26. and what is gathered, the soule, as here; or the ghost, the spirit, as Psalme 104. 29. So David here desireth that God would not take away his life among sinners, that is, with such as for their crimes deserve to die: as 1 King. 1. 21. Contrariwise, gathering is sometime used for gracious receiving or succouring, as Psalme 27. 10. men of blood] blood-guilty persons. See Psalme 5. 7. The Chaldee expoundeth it, with men that shed innocent blood.

Verse 10. a mischievous purpose] craftily devised evill. The Chaldee translateth it, counsell of sinne; the Greeke, iniquities. See Psalme 10. 3. Sometime this word is generally used for any abominable evil. Levit. 18. 17. and 19. 29. and 20. 14. full of bribes] and consequently, of injustice; for bribes cause justice to be perverted, Dent. 16. 19. Contrariwise, Gods right hand is full of justice, Psalme 48. 11.

Verse 12. in righteousness] or, in a right, even and plaine place, as the word signifieth, Deut. 3. 10. Ier. 21. 13. the Apostle expresseth the word by righteousness, Heb. 1. 8. from Psal. 45. 7. it is opposed to crookednesse, Esay 40. 4. See also Psal. 27. 11. in the churches] or congregations, assemblies, church-meetings, called in Greek ecclesiast; and so in the new testament, 1 Cor. 14. 34. So also Psal. 68. 27. The Chaldee translateth, the congregation of just men.

PSALME XXVII.

David sustaineth his faith by the power of God: 4 by his love to the service of God: 9 by prayer for Gods assistance and instruction. 13 The fruits of faith and patience.

A Psalme of David; Jehovah is my light 1
and my salvation, for whom should I 1
feare? Jehovah is the strength of my 2 life, for whom should I dread? When evill 2 doers made battel against me to eat my flesh, 3
my distressers and my enemies to me; them- 3 selves stumbled and fell. If a pitched host 3
shal pitch against me, my heart shal not fear: 4
if war shal rise up against me, in this, I trust.

One thing I have asked of Jehovah, the 4
same I wil request, that I may sit in the house 4 of Jehovah all the daies of my life, to view 5
the pleasantnesse of Jehovah, and to inquire 5 in his Palace. For he will keep me privily in 5 his pavilion, in the day of evill: he will keep 6
me secret, in the secret place of his tent; on a 6
rocke he wil exalt me. And now shall mine 6
head be lifted up above my enemies round 7
about me; and I will sacrifice in his tent, sa- 7
crifices of shouting: I wil sing, & sing Psalm 7
to Jehovah, Heare, Jehovah, my voyce when 7
I call, and be gracious to me, and answer me. 8
To thee, said my heart, seeke yee my face; 8 thy face, Jehovah, I doe seeke. Hide thou 9 not thy face from me, turn not aside in anger 9
thy servaint: thou hast bin my succour, leave 9 me

me not, neither forsake me, O God of my sal-10 vation. Though my father and my mother
 11 should forsake mee, yet Jehovah would ga-12 ther me. Teach me, Jehovah, thy way, and 13 lead me in the path of righteousness, because 14 of my enviers. Give me not to the loule of my distressers, for witnesses of falshood doe
 stand up against me, and he that breatheth violent wrong. Except I had believed to see the goodnesse of Jehovah in the land of the living. Earnestly expect thou for Jehovah, be confirmed, and let thine heart wax strong;
 and earnestly expect thou for Jehovah.

Annotations.

1 OF David] the Greeke addeth, before he was anointed. my light] that is, my comfort, joy, &c. So God and Christ are often called the light or illumination of his people, Mic. 7. 8. Esay 16.
 19, 20. and 10. 17. Luke 1. 79. and 2. 32. Revel.
 21. 23. Joh. 1. 4. and 8. 12. The Chaldee expound-2 eth it, The Word of the Lord in my Light. the strength] or strong fort, fortification: see Psal. 28. 8.

2 Verse 2. made battell] or came neere against me, to wit, in fight. So this word is used for battell, Psal.
 55. 19, 22. my enemies to me] a vehement manner of speech (as 2 Sam. 22. 2. my deliverer to mee:) noting against whom in speciall their hatred was bent.

3 Verse 3. if war] that is, warriors, or an armie, as the word is used, Josh. 8. 11. See also Psal. 76. 4.

4 Verse 4. One thing] or One request, as is expressed,
 1 King. 2. 20. 1 Sam. 2. 20. For such want of words to be supplied, see the notes on Psa. 10. 10.

that I may sit] that is, dwell, or abide. to view the pleasantnesse] to see the pleasantnesse or amenity of Jehovah, and consequently to enjoy it. The Tabernacle had the figure and patterne of heavenly things in Christ, Hebr. 8. 5. which David in spirit here desireth to contemplate. The Hebrew phrase is, view in the pleasantnesse; and after in the 13. verse
 see in the goodnesse; which signifieth, to have the fruition, use, and enjoying of pleasure and goodnesse, Eccles. 2. 1.
 And as to seeke in Jehovah, 2 Chron. 34. 26. is to seeke Jehovah, 2 Kings 21. 18. so to see in the good, is to see the good, and enjoy it. So in Psal. 106. 5. and 128. 5. and 50. 23. to enquire] or seeke early, that is, diligently.

5 Verse 5. will keepe privily] or bide me, that is, keepe me safe as in the most holy of his Sanctuary, into which none might enter, Levit. 16. 2. called therefore Gods hidden place, Ezekiel 7. 22. and his Saints are his hidden ones, Psal. 83. 4.

6 Verse 6. sacrifices of shouting] or of triumph, of joyfull sounding and alarme. This hath respect to the Law, which appointed over the sacrifices, trumpets to be sounded, Num. 10. 10. whose chiefest, most loud, joyfull and triumphant sound was called Trugbnah, triumph, alarme or Iubilation, Num.

10. 5, 6, 7. So to other instruments this triumphant noise is adjoynd, Psa. 33. 3. and is applied sometime to mans voice or shouting, Jos. 6. 5: 1 Sam.
 4. 5. Ezra 3. 11. See also Psal. 89. 16. and 47. 6.
 and 81. 2. and 100. 1.

Verse 8. seeke ye my face] an imperfect speech, 8
 which we may supply and explaine thus, (thou saidest) seeke ye my face; and this thy commandment
 my heart minded, and spake of to thee in my tentations;
 and I made it a ground of my action and request following. See a much like defect of a word, in 1 Kings 20. 34. To seeke the face, is of desire to see, heare, and know, 1 Kings 10. 24. and to pray and take counsell in doubts, distresses, &c. 2 Sam. 21. 1. Hof. 5. 15. So Psalme 105. 4.

Verse 10. Thou my father &c. should] see the like 10 in Esay 49. 15. Or, For my father &c. have forsaken me, but Jehovah will gather me, that is, receive and take me to him. So the word gathering is also used, Judg.
 19. 15. Jos. 20. 4. Matth. 23. 37. He meaneth God would be a father unto him.

Verse 12. to the soule] that is, to the will, lust, or 12 desire. So soule is for will, Psal. 41. 3, 5. and 105.
 22. Ezek. 16. 27. and for lust, Psal. 78. 18. the Chaldee expoundeth it the will. that breatheth]
 or puffeth out. See Psal. 105.

Verse 13. Except I had believed] an imperfect 13 speech; where we may understand, I should have fainted, or They had overthrown me, if I had not belee-ved: but the Greeke saith, I beleeve to see the good things of the Lord. Land of the living] that is, where men live in this world, and in speciall, the land of Canaan, the seat of Gods Church, Ezek. 36. 20. So Psal. 52. 7. and 116. 9. and 142. 6. Job 28. 13.
 For by death, men are said to be cut out of the Land of the living, Esay 53. 8. and 38. 11. Jer. 11. 19. but the Chaldee expounds it, the land of life eternall: and that was figured by the land of Canaan.

Verse 14. be confirmed] be comfortable, bold fast, (as 14
 the Greeke hath) be manly, or quit thee as a man;
 which word the Apostle useth, 1 Cor. 16. 13. These are the words of encouragement against remis-nesse, feare, faintnesse of heart, or other infirmities, as Deut. 31. 6, 7. Jos. 10. 25. 1 Chron. 22. 13.
 Dan. 10. 19. let thy heart wax strong] so also the Greeke turneth it: or we may reade it, be will strengthen thy heart. So after in Psal. 41. 25.

PSALME XXVIII.

David prayeth for deliverance from his enemies. 6 He bleseeth God for hearing and helping him. 9 He prayeth for the Lords people.

A Psalme of David. Vnto thee Jeho- 1
 vah do I call; my Rock, cease not as deafe from me, lest thou be silent frō
 me, & I be made like to them that go down the pit. Heare thou the voice of my supplica- 2
 tions for grace, whē I cry out unto thee, whē
 I lift up my hands unto the oracle of thine
 holinesse

E e e e e

- 3 holinesse. Draw mee not with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie, that speak 4 peace with their neighbours, and malice is in their heart. Give thou to them according to their worke, and according to the evill of their practises; according to the deed of their 5 hands give thou to them; render their reward unto them. Because they will not discreetly attend unto the works of Jehovah, &
to the deed of his hands, he will break them 6 downe, and will not build them up. Blessed be Jehovah, for he hath heard the voice of 7 my supplications for grace. Jehovah is my strength and my shield, in him my heart trusted, and I was holpen, and my heart sheweth gladfomenesse; and with my song will I 8 confesse him. Jehovah is a strength to them, and he is the strong fort of the salvations of 9 his Anointed. Save thou thy people, and blesse thy inheritance, and feed them and advance them even for ever.

Annotations.

- 1 Cease not, &c.] that is, cease not to speake unto and answer me, be not silent as turned away from me; so the like phrase meaneth, Job 13. 13. Jer. 38.
27. or, cease not to speake for me, as the phrase also importeth, 1 Sam. 7. 8. and so by the Rocke fore-mentioned he may meane Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. who is our Advocate with the Father, 1 Joh. 2. 1. And to be silent (or still) is not in words only, but deeds,
as in Judg. 18. 9. 1 King. 22. 3.
- 2 Verse 2. oracle of thy holinesse] thy holy oracle: The inmost, and most holy place of the Temple was thus named, 1 Kings 6. 5, 16. 19, 20. called the Holy of Holies, 1 Kings 8. 6. and that which one Prophet calleth the Oracle, 2 Kings 6. 23. another calleth the house of the Holy of Holies, 2 Chronicles
3. 10. The Hebrew Debir hath the signification of Speaking; for from the most Holy place God spake to his people, Numbers 7. 89. The Apostle seemeth to expresse it, by that which is within the veile, Hebrews 6. 19.
- 3 Verse 3. Draw me not] to wit, unto death, that is, destroy me not. So drawing is used, Ezek. 32. 20. Job 21. 33. and 24. 20. an example whereof see in Sifera, Judg. 4. 7.
- 4 Verse 4. the evill of their practises] This hath reference to the curse denounced against sinners, Deuteron. 28. 20.
- 5 Verse 5. not discreetly attend] or consider, so as to discerne and understand them. The like sinne is blamed, Isaiah 5. 12. breake them downe] or destroy: opposed to building up or edifying; and applied figuratively to men: so Jer. 1. 10. and 42. 10.
2 Cor. 13. 10. build] that is, conserve, exalt, prosper them. See the like phrase, Job 22. 23. Mal. 3.
15. Jer. 12. 16.
- 8 Verse 8. strength to them] or, to him, as Psal. 2. 3.
meaning, his people, (as the Greeke expresseth) and his anointed King: both which follow. Cr, Jeho-vab strength is his, that is, kingdome and power belong to him. the strong fort] or fortification.

The former word strength is in Hebrew Gibor; and this strong fort, Magbor; by addition of a letter, adding to the force of the signification. And this is often used for a fortification or strong defence place, Dan. 11. 10. Judg. 6. 26. of the salvations
of his Anointed] or of the deliverances (the victories) of his Anointed, that is, of me his anointed King. This sentence may also be turned thus: and the strong fort of salvations, his Anointed (Christ) is; meaning, that the Christ of God is the saving strength of his people. The last word He is often put for Is, sometime in the Hebrew text it selfe, as is noted in Psalme 16. 3.

Verse 9. inheritance] that is, people or Church, 9
Deut. 4. 20. and 32. 9. Psal. 33. 12. and 94. 5. 1 Pet.
5. 3. Sometime it is the land where they dwelt, Psal. 79. 1. advance them] or beare them up, releeve them. The word is used for advancing to honour, Est.
3. 1. & 9. 3. and for bearing up, supporting, helping, as 1 Kings 9. 11. Ezra 1. 4. and 8. 36.

P S A L M E XXIX.

David exhorteth Princes to give glorie to God.
3 The marvellous effects of the Lords Voice. 10 His providence at the Flood, 11 and protection of his people.

A Psalm of David.

1 Give yee to Jehovah, sons of the mighties, give yee to Jehovah glory and strength. Give yee to Jehovah the 2 glory of his Name: bow downe your selves to Jehovah, in the comely honour of the fan-ctuary. The voice of Jehovah is upon the 3 waters, the God of glory thundereth: Jeho-vab, upon many waters. The voice of Jeho-4 vah is with able power; the voice of Jehovah with comely honour. The voice of Jehovah
5 breaketh the Cedars; and Jehovah breaketh asunder the Cedars of Lebanon. And hee
6 maketh them leap like a calfe: Lebanon and Shirjon like a yong Vnicorne. The voice of 7 Jehovah striketh flames of fire. The voice
8 of Jehovah maketh the wildernesse to tremble: Jehovah maketh the wildernesse of Ka-9 desh to tremble. The voice of Jehovah ma-keth the Hindes tremblingly to travell, and maketh bare the forrests, and in his Palace every one saith glory. Jehovah sate at the 10 Flood, and Jehovah shall sit King for ever.
Jehovah will give strength to his people; Je-11 hovah will blesse his people with peace.

Annotations.

1 A Psalm of David] The Greeke addeth to this title, Exodion skenes, that is, of the solemn assembly

bly of the Tabernacle. (or Boote) for the solemn assembly at the Feast of Tabernacles, mentioned in Levit. 23. 36. called in Hebrew Ghuasereib, is there and in other places translated in Greeke Exodion: so this title intimateth that this Psalm was sung at the Feast of Tabernacles. And so Maimony in Misneh, tom. 3. in Tamidin, ch. 10. sect. 11. saith that every day of the daies of that Feast, they said a peculiar Song for the addition of the day; and in the first of the working daies of the solemn Feast, they said (Psalm 39.) Give ye unto the LORD, sonnes of the Mighties, &c. Sonnes of the Mighties that is, ye mightie men, or Potentates. So Psal. 89. 7. The Chaldee referreth it to the companie of Angels strength for strong praise. See Psal. 3. 8. and 1 Tim. 6. 16.

2 Verse 2. honour of the Sanctuarie that is, the honourable Sanctuarie, (as the Greeke explaineth it, in his holy Court) or with honour of sanctitie, that is, with holy honour. So Psal. 96. 9. 1 Chron. 16. 29. This phrase is sometime used of Gods holy Majestic, 2 Chron. 20. 21.

3 Verse 3. The voice that is, the thunder, as Exod. 20. 18. called Gods voice, Exod. 9. 28, 29. Yet voices and thundrings are sometimes distinct, as Revel. 4. 5. and 8. 5. and 11. 10. and 16. 18. This word voice is generally used for all noise or sound, 2 Kings 7. 6. 1 Cor. 14. 10. upon the waters which are above the firmament, Gen. 1. 7. where the thunder is heard. So waters meane watry clouds, in Psal. 18. 12. Or above the waters, that is, a louder voice than the roaring of the waters: whereof see Ezek. 1. 24. and 43. 2. Rev. 1. 15. and 14. 2. and 19. 6. Gods voice shakeb heavens and earth, Heb. 12. 26. Iehovah upon that is, thundereth upon, or his voice is above many waters.

5 Verse 5. Cedars of Lebanon The Cedar is a tree tall, strong and durable; and for the driness of it, the timber rotteth not. They are called Cedars of God, Psal. 80. 11. and by him planted, Psal. 104. 16. Lebanon is a mountaine in Canaan, high, pleasant, and fruitfull, full of Cedars and other trees, the glory of that Mount, 2 Chron. 2. 8. Song 3. 9. and 5. 15. Isa. 60. 13. Hof. 14. 6, 7, 8. It is called Lebanon, of whitenesse, for the snow that lieth on it, Jer. 18. 14. To this Mount, and to the goodly trees thereon, great kingdomes and personages are compared, Ezek. 31. 3. & 17. 3. Jer. 22. 23. Judg. 9. 15. 2 King. 14. 9. And the just mans estate in speciall, Psal. 92. 4.

6 Verse 6. Shirjon that is mount Hermon, called of the Sidonians, Shirjon, and of the Amorites, Shenir, Deut. 3. 9. and by another name Sion, (not Tsijon, spoken of in Psal. 2. 6.) Deut. 4. 48. for this Shirjon or Hermon, lay without the river Iarden, where Og reigned, Jos. 12. 15. 1 Chron. 5. 23. Here also grew goodly trees, and many wilde beasts kept in it, Ezek. 37. 5. Song 4. 8. Of Hermon see more in Psal. 89. 13. and 133. 3. and 42. 7. a young Unicorne a fierce untamed beast; see Psal. 22. 22. The Hebrew phrase is, son of the Unicorne; the like is also Psal. 114. 4. All yong creatures, and things that come of, or belong to another, are in Hebrew called sons: so the sons of the eagle, are sparkes, Job 5. 7. the sons of the quiver, are arrowes, Lam. 3. 13. the sonne of the morne, is the morning starre, Isa. 14. 12.

the sonnes of Sion, are the Citizens there, Psalme 149. 2. the sonnes of the wedding chamber, are the Bridegroomes friends, Matthew 9. 16. and many the like.

Verse 7. strikerh or cutteib flames, as the flashes of lightning with the thunder.

Verse 8. makeib tremble or quake, or prineib the wilde nesse, that is, the wilde beasts there, which being frightened by Gods voice or thunder, doe travell and bring forth her young with paine and trembling.

Kadesb called also Paran and Zin, a desert thorow which the Israelites passed from Egypt to Canaan, Numb. 13. 27. and 33. 36. and had the name of the citie Kadesb by which it lay, Numb. 20. 1. 16. The beasts of the wilderness were cruell, Deut. 8. 15. and 32. 10.

Verse 9. the bindes though of all other creatures they bring forth with great trouble, bowing themselves, brusing their young, and casting out their sorrowes, Iob 39. 4. 6. makeib bare by driving the beasts with the thunder into their dens; as the Chaldee addeth, the beasts of the forest; or, by beating off the leaves and fruits of the trees: So the figtree is said to be made bare, Joel 1. 7. every one]

so the Greke turneth it: or it may be read, every whit, or all of it, meaning of his people, ver. 11. which saith, glory to God, or all of it, that is, of his glory, he saith (that is God declarst) in his Temple. The Chaldee saith, and in the Temple of the house of his Sanctuarie which is above, all his ministers doe say his glory.

Verse 10. as the flood meaning Noahs flood, Gen. 6. and 7. for to that onely both the Hebrew and Greeke word is applied. And here the Chaldee paraphraseth thus, The Lord at the generation of the flood, sate on the seat of judgements, to take vengeance on them: he sate also upon the seat of mercies, and delivered Noah, and reigneth over his sonnes for ever and ever.

Verse 11. with peace or in peace; which word betokeneth integritie, perfection, a making whole and absolute; opposed both to warre and sword, Psal. 120 7. Matthew 10. 34. and to division, confusion, and tumultuous disorder, Luke 12. 51. 1 Corinthians 14. 33. It denoteth all prosperitie, safety, and welfare of soule and body, and specially that spoken of in Ephes. 2. 14, 15. where Christ is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stop of the partition wall, &c. to make of twaine, one new man in himselfe, so making peace.

PSAL. XXX.

David praiseth God for his deliverance. 5 He exhorteth others to praise him by example of Gods dealing with him.

A Psalme, a song of the dedication of the house of David. I will exalt thee Jehovah, for thou hast drawn up me, and hast not made my enemies to rejoyce at mee. Jehovah my God, I cried out unto thee,

- 4 thee, and thou healedst me. Jehovah, thou
 5 hast brought up my soule from hell, thou
 6 hast kept me alive from them that goe down
 7 the pit. Sing Psalme to Jehovah, ye his gra-
 8 cious Saints, and confesse ye to the remem-9 brance of his holinesse. For a moment is in 10 his anger, life in his favourable acceptation;
 11 in the evening lodgeth weeping, and at the 12 morning shouting joy. And I, I said in my 13 safe quietnesse, I shall not be moved for ever. Jehovah, in thy favourable acceptation thou hast settled strength to my mountain:
 thou didst hide thy face, I was suddenly troubled. Vnto thee Jehovah I called, and unto Jehovah supplicated for grace. What profit u in my bloud, when I goe downe unto corruption? shall dust confesse thee? shall it strew forth thy truth? Heare thou Jehovah, and be gracious to me; Ichovah, be thou an helper to me. Thou hast turned my mourning to a dance to me: thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and hast girded me with joy.
 That my glory may sing Psalme to thee, and not be silenced: Ichovah my God, I will confesse thee for ever.

Annotations.

- 1 Dedication] or initiation, which is, when a new thing is first employed and put to that use for which it was made. It is applied to houses, as here, and Deut. 20. 5. to altars, as Num. 7. 84, 88. to walls, as Nehem. 12. 27. to images, as Dan. 3. 2. and to men, and then it meaneth instruction, or training up, as Prov.
 22. 6. Gen. 14. 14. It is recorded by the Hebrews, that when the Israelites brought their baskets of first-fruits into the Sanctuary, according to the Law in Deut. 26. and came thither in companies, as their manner was, they sang by the way the 122. Psalm, and when they came to the Sanctuary, with every man his basket on his shoulder, they sang the 150. Psalme; and when they were come into the court-yard, the Levites said this 30. Psalm,
 I will exalt thee, &c. Maimony in Misn. tom. 3. in Bicurim (or Treat. of First-fruits) chap. 4. sect. 17.
 And the Chaldee expoundeth this title, For the dedication of the house of the Sanctuary an Hymne of David.

- 2 Verf. 2. hast drawne up me] as out of a pit of waters;
 for this word is used for drawing of waters, Exod.
 2. 16, 17. waters signifying troubles. at me] or over me, for my ruine. Or, my enemies to me, that is, my utter enemies, as Psal. 27. 2.

- 3 Verf. 3. healedst me] that is, helpedst me out of trouble: So Psal. 41. 5. and 60. 4. Hos. 7. 1. 2 Chron.
 7. 14. my soule from hell] me, or my life from the perill and estate of death. So Psal. 86. 13. Jonas meant the same, when he said, thou hast brought out my life from the pit, Ion. 2. 6. Of hell, See Psal. 16. 10.

them that goe downe] that is, which die, that I should not be among them: The Hebrew also hath another reading, that I should not goe downe the pit.
 The meaning is the same.

Verf. 5. to the remembrance] or for it, that is, that his holinesse may be had in remembrance, as Isa. 26. 17.
 So Psal. 67. 12.

Verf. 6. a moment] or little while. For Gods anger towards his, and their affliction, is short and momentary, as Isa. 54. 7, 8. 2 Cor. 4. 17. life] or lives, meaning a blessing and the continuance of it, as Psal. 133. 3. and 21. 5. Life is here opposed to a moment. So yeares of life, meane many good yeares, Prov. 3. 2. and the Chaldee here for life, saith life eternall. lodgeth] that is, abideth: or be (meaning God) causeth weeping to lodge, as if it should be an abiding guest. So another Prophet saith, At eventide loe there is trouble, but afore the morning it is gone, Isa. 17. 14. The Chaldee here translateth the latter part thus, in the morning be raised up with song.

Verf. 7. in my safe quietnesse] or tranquillitie. Gods children have so great infirmities, that in prosperity they are too secure, (as David sheweth here, and Job, in chap. 29. 18, 19, 20.) and in adversities they are too fearefull, as David elsewhere
 doth confesse, Psal. 31. 23. and 116. 11.

Verf. 8. seked] or made stand, that is, reared up, constituted and stablished sure. So this phrase impor-teth, Psal. 107. 25. and 31. 9. to my mountaine]
 that is, mount Sion, where Davids house or court was:
 or, figuratively, he meaneth his kingdome, as Isa.
 2. 2. Dan. 2. 35, 44. See Psal. 65. 7. thy face]
 thy favourable countenance; the Chaldee calleth
 it Shecinah, the divine Majestie of God.

Verf. 10. what profit] what gain (or use) will there be in my bloud; which here may meane his violent death, as in Psal. 72. 14. unto corruption]
 the grave, or place where the body rotteth. See Psal.
 16. 10. shall dust] that is, my body when it is turned to dust. The Chaldee saith, they that lie in the dust. See the like in Psal. 6. 6. and 88. 11. and 115.
 17. Isa. 38. 18.

Verf. 12. to a dance] which is a signe of joy, Jer.
 31. 4, 13. therefore the Greeke turneth it here, joy.
 The contrary is in Lam. 5. 15. where their dance is turned into mourning. loosed my sacke] or, done off
 my sackcloth; which was wont to be worne in time of sorrow, Esth. 4. 1. Jon. 3. 6. Psal. 35. 13.

Verf. 13. my glory] so the Greeke putteth to the word my; by glory, meaning the tongue or soule.
 See Psal. 16. 9. But the Chaldee translateth, That the glorious ones of the world may praise thee. silenced]
 or made silent, which is, when men are cut off by death, as Psal. 31. 18.

P S A L. XXXI.

David shewing his confidence in God, craveth his helpe,
 9 rejoiceth in his mercies, 10 prayeth in his calamities, 20 professeth Gods goodnesse to such as feare him: 22
 blesteth him for the mercies that he had found, 24 and encourageth all the Saints.

1 To the master of the musicke, a Psalm of David.

2 IN thee Jehovah do I hope for safety, let me not be abashed for ever: in thy justice 3 deliver mee. Bow unto mee thine care, speedily rid me: be thou to me for a rock of 4 firme strength, for a house of fortresses, to save me. For thou art my firme rocke and 5 my fortress, and for thy Names sake wilt guide me and lead me. Thou wilt bring me 6 forth out of the net that they have hid for me, for thou art my firme strength. Into thy 7 hand doe I commit my spirit; thou hast redeemed me, Jehovah, God of truth. I have 8 hated them that observe vanities of vain falshood; and I, unto Jehovah doe I trust. I 9 wil be glad and rejoyce in thy mercie, which hast seen my affliction, hast knowne my soule 10 in distresses. And hast not shut me up in the hand of the enemy, hast made my feet stand in a large roomth. Be gracious to me, Jeho-11 vah, for distresse is on me: gnawne is with indignation mine eye, my soule, and my belly.
12 For my life is quite spent with pensivenesse,
& my yeeres with sighing: my able strength is decayed with my iniquitie; and my bones 13 are gnawne. With all my distressers I am a reproach, and to my neighbours vehement-ly, and a dread to my knowne acquaintance; 14 seeing me in the street they fled from me. I am forgotten, as a dead man out of heart; I 15 am as a vessell of perdition. For I heare the infamie of many; fearfulnesse from every 16 side; when they plot together against me, they craftily purpose to take my soule. But 17 I, unto thee doe I trust, Jehovah, I said thou art my God. In thy hand are my times, rid 18 thou me from the hand of my enemies, and from my persecutours. Make thy face to 19 shine upon thy servant; save me through thy mercie. Jehovah, let me not be abashed, for
I doe call upon thee; let the wicked be aba-20 shed, let them be silenced to hell. Let the lips of falsehood be mute, that speake against the just an hard word in haughtinesse and de-21 spite. How much is thy goodnesse, which thou hast laid up for them that feare thee,
hast wrought for them that hope for safety 22 in thee before the sons of Adam! Thou keepest them secret, in the secret of thy face,
from the rough prides of man; dost lay them
up in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.
23 Blessed be Jehovah, for he hath made marvellous his mercie to me in a citie of strong defence. And I said in my hastening away, I am cut downe from before thine eyes; yet

certainly thou heardest the voice of my sup-plications for grace, when I cried out unto thee. Love ye Jehovah, al his gracious saints: 24 Jehovah keepeth the faithfull, and repayeth abundantly him that doth haughtinesse. Be 25
ye confirmed, and let your heart wax strong,
all that hopefully wait for Jehovah.

Annotations.

[IN thee] the Chaldee faith, in thy word.

Verse 3. a house of fortresses] a place of defence, a most safe hold, David being often forced to take such forts for his safetie, did not make them, but God his strength: see 1 Sam. 22. 4. and 23. 14, 19. and 24. 1, 23. 2 Sam. 5. 7, 9.

Verse 6. commit my spirit] or commend, dispose, of trust to be kept. Such words our Lord Christ uttered on the Crosse to his Father, Luke 23. 46.

Verse 7. I have hated] in Greeke, Thou hast hated. Compare Psalm 139. 21. Vanities of vaine falschood] that is, most vaine, false, and lying vanities. The word vanitie (Hebel) here used, besides vaine worldly things, against which Solomon writeth, Eccles. 1, &c. meaneth in speciall idolatry, for Idols are often called vanities, as being light, vile, and things of nought, Deuteron. 32. 21. 1 King. 16. 26. 2 King. 17. 15. Jer. 2. 5. and 8. 19. and 10. 15. and 14. 22, &c. They that observe lying vanities, forsake their owne mercie, Jonas 2. 8.

Verse 8. hast knowne my soule] that is, acknowledged, cared for, and (as the Greeke translateth) saved it. See Psalm 1. 6.

Verse 9. not shut me up] or closed me, that is, not given me into their power: So Psalm. 78. 48, 50, 62. Deut. 32. 15. and 32. 30.

Verse 10. gnawen] that is, fretted, and consumed as with wormes: in Greeke, troubled: see Psalm 6. 8.

Verse 11. decayed] or weakened, so as one stumblith and falleth downe through weaknesse, Psalm 37. 2. So Psalm 109. 24. and 105. 17. with my iniquitie] that is, punishment due for iniquitie; so the word often is used, Genesis 19. 15. 2 Kings 7. 9. So, whoredome, for the punishment of whoredome, Numbers 14. 33.

Verse 12. knowne acquaintance] that is, such as I knew, respected and favoured, and to whom I made knowne my minde, estate, &c. my familiars.

Verse 13. out of heart] that is, out of minde, or memory; for the remembrance of the dead is forgotten, Eccles. 9. 5. therefore the grave is the land of forgetfulness, Psalm 88. 13. vessell of perdition] that is, a lost or broken vessell, or instrument. So Paul mentioneth vessels of perdition, Rom. 9. 22. Or, a vessell perishing, that is, ready to perish and be lost; as a perishing sheepe, Psalm 119. 176.

Verse 14. the infamie of many] or the diffamation (the ill report) of mightie men. The like complaint Jeremie maketh in his troubles, Jeremie 20. 10.

fearfulnesse from every side] or terror round about, In Hebrew, Magor missabub, which nameth

Jeremie gave to Pasbur the Priest, signifying that he should be a terror to himselfe, and to all his friends, Jer. 20. 3, 4. This phrased Jeremie often useth, Jer. 6. 25. and 46. 5. and 49. 29. Lam. 2. 22. when they plot for whiles they can rule: See Psal. 2. 2.

16 Verse 16. my times] Hereby he meaneth, that his many and sundry events, troubles, deliverances, prosperities, adversities, life and death, (for all things have their appointed time, Ecclesiastes 3. 1, 2.) were in the hand and disposition of God. Though times here, (as daies in Psalm. 119. 84.) may chiefly be meant of his troubles, as Psalm. 9. 10. and 10. 1. but the Chaldee expoundeth it, the times of my redemption. So in 1 Chron. 29. 30. mention is made of the times that went over David, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the lands.

17 Verse 17. Make thy face to shine] that is, cause thy favourable countenance to appear. This is taken from the blessing prescribed, Numb. 6. 25. and is often used in requests for grace. See Psal. 4. 7. and 67. 2. and 80. 4, 8, 20. and 119. 135.

18 Verse 18. silenced] that is, through shame and feare be confounded, tamed, quieted, and made still. The word is sometime used for cut off, or destroyed, and so may here be taken. So Psalm. 49. 13, 21. The Greeke translateth, let them be brought downe.
to hell] understand, thrust downe to hell, or, to the grave; as the Chaldee calleth it, the house (or place)
of buriall.

19 Verse 19. an hard word] or durable speech; a reproach which lasteth long to a mans infamie. The Hebrew Ghnathak signifieth durance, hardnesse, and antiquitie, Psal. 6. 8. and respecteth both antique things long agoe, 1 Chron. 4. 22. and things lasting or durable for time to come; Proverbs 8. 18. Isay 23. 18. And in speeches, it is put for an old said saw, taken up and applied to ones reproch, and so during long; and generally for any hard or stout speech, 1 Sam. 2. 3. Psal. 94. 4. and 75. 6. The Greeke here expoundeth it, iniquitie.

Verse 21. Thou keepst them secret] or, hidest them in the hiding place of thy presence, where thou alwayes lookest vnto them, in secret fauour, which the world knoweth not of. rough prides] or knots, knobs, rough troubles. The Hebrew Racas signifieth Knitting or binding with knots, Exodus 28. 28. and 39. 21. from which a word is derived, in Isa. 40. 4. signifying knotty, knobby, or rough places, opposed to smooth or plaine. Hereby David useth it figuratively for rough affections or actions of men, meaning their pride; conspiracies or molestations, as the Greeke translateth, from the trouble of men. lay them up] or hide them. Hereupon Gods people are called, his stored or hidden ones, Psal. 83. 4. the strife of tongues] plea, or contradiction, as the Greeke turneth it, and the Apostle, Jude verse 11.

22 Verse 22. made marvellously his mercie] or marvellously favoured it, as Psalm. 4. 4. favoured his mercie in marvellous and hidden manner. As contrariwise God threatned to make marvellous the plague of sinners, Deuteronomie 28. 59. of strong defence] or of siege, that is, a fortified, defended citie, as 2 Chronicles 8. 5. or a besieged citie, as 1 King. 24. 10. The Hebrew Masir signifieth both a Fort or Skance, and a siege or Leager, Deuteronomie 20.20. and 28.53.

Verſe 23. my haſtning away] namely through amazement or feare, as the word commonly inter-deth, Deuteronomie 20.3, Pſalm.48.6, 2 Sam.4.
4. The Greeke calleth it an extaſie (or trance).
And that David haſtened him away for feare, is recorded 1 Samuel 23. 26. So Pſal.116.11. and downe] Jonas in his affliction reſpected this ſpeech
of David, and changing a letter for Nigratti, ſaith
Nigratti, I am driven away from before thy face, &c.
Jonas 2.4. So the Greeke here tranſlateth it, I am caſt away.

Verse 24. the faithfull] or, keepest fidelities, as Isa. 26. 2. The originall word signifieth either faithfull persons, or truths, fidelities, as Psalm. 12. 1.
The Gr. here hath truths. payeth abundantly] or to abundance, with surplussage. that doth haughtinesse
This sense the Greeke giveth. The Hebrew may also thus be Englished, be (that is, God) doth haughti- nesse, that is, high magnificent acts. For the origi-nall word Gasab sometime noteth Gods high magnificence, Psalm. 68. 35. sometime mans haught- pride, Psal. 10. 3.

Verse 25. was strong] or, he will strengthen. See Psal. 27. 14. hopefully wait] or persevere with hope and patience. The word jaehal implieth both a pa- tient waiting, Gen. 8. 10. and a hope or trusting, as the holy Ghost expoundeth it, Mat. 12. 23, from Isa 43. 4. for Iehovah] which the Chaldees expoun-deth, the word of the Lord.

PSAL. XXXII.

David teacheth that blessednesse consisteth in remission of sinnes. 3 Hiding of sinnes causeth trouble, but confession giveth ease to the conscience. 8 An instruction unto voluntary obedience. 10 The different ends of the wrath of the just.

An instructing Psalme of David.

O Blessed he whose trespasse is forgiven, whose sinne is covered. O blessed is the man, to whom Jehovah imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirit is no deceit. Because I ceased speaking, my bones wore away with age in my roaring all the day. For day & night thy hand was heavy upō me; my moisture was turned into the droughts of summer Selah. My sin I acknowledged to thee, & my iniquity I covered not. I said, I will confesse against me my trespasses to Jehovah: and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin Selah. For this shall every gracious Saint pray unto thee at the time of finding: surely, at the flood of many waters, unto him they shall not reach. Thou art a secret place to me, from distress thou wilt preserve me; with shouting songs of deliverance thou wilt compasse me Selah. I will make thee thee prudent, and will teach thee in the way that thou shalt goe: I will give counsell, mine eye shall be upon thee. Be not ye as the horse, as the mule, without understanding, whose mouth must be stopped with bit and bridle, which come not neere unto thee. Many pains are for the wicked, but he that trusteth in Jehovah, mercie shall compasse him. Rejoyce ye in Jehovah, and be glad ye just, and shout joyfully all ye upright of heart.

Annotations.

AN instructing Psalme] or, A Psalme that maketh prudent, that causeth understanding. As in the 8. verse of this Psalme he saith, I will make thee prudent, or instruct thee. This title is set before sundry other Psalms. whose sinne is covered] meaning, by the Lord, Psal. 85. 3. not by a man himselfe, who must not cover, but acknowledge sinne, Psalme 32. 5. otherwise, he shall not prosper, Prov. 28. 13. Now God covereth sinne, when he imputeth it not, as the verse following sheweth: and as this is mans happinesse, so for God not to cover it, is woe and miserie, Nehem. 4. 5.

Verse 2. not impute] not thinke, count, or reckon. And this is an effect of his grace in Christ, as it is written, God was in Christ, and reconciled the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes unto them, 2 Corinthians 5. 19. And hereunto the Apostle applieth this Psalme thus; David saith, blessednesse is the mans unto whom God imputeth in sinnes without worke; saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sinnes are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord shall not impute sinne, Romans 4. 6, 7, 8.

Verse 3. because I ceased speaking] or, when I kept silence, forbearing to confesse my sinnes, as after, verse 5. Like doctrine Eliahu teacheth, Job 33. 19, 22.

Verse 4. thy hand] in Chaldee, thy plague, moisture] the chiefe sap, or radicle moisture, which is an aery and oily substance, dispreed through the body, whereby the life is fostered, and which being spent, death ensueth. This word is used onely here and in Num. 11. 8. where it is applied to the best moisture (or cream) of aile.

Verse 5. confesse] Confessing of sinnes is when one freely manifesteth them, accusing himselfe, and praising Gods mercie, which he expecteth in faith: see Jos. 7. 19. against me my trespasses] or concerning my trespasses, but both the Greeke version plainly hath, against me, and elsewhere the Hebrew ghnalai (here used) seemeth to be put for ghnalai: as Psal. 108. 10. compared with Psal. 60. 10. the iniquities of my sinne] that is, the guilt and punishment of it; as Psal. 31. 1. And thus he that confesseth and forsaketh sinne, shall have mercie, Prov. 28. 13. for if we acknowledge our sinnes, God is faithful and just, to forgive us them, 1 Joh. 1. 9. See also Job 33. 27, 28.

Verse 6. the time of finding] or, time to finde: which may be meant of the time when afflictions shall finde, that is, shall come upon him; as Psalme 116. 3, 4. or the time when God may be found, as Isay 55. 6. and that time is, when he is sought with the whole heart, Deuteronomie 4. 29. Jer. 29. 13. 2 Chron. 15. 15. To this latter the Chaldee applieth it, saying, of favour. found] or imputation. As waters signifie afflictions, Psalme 69. 2. to a flood of waters denoteth great troubles and persecutions, Daniel 9. 26. and 11. 22. Nahum 1. 8. Isa. 59. 19. Revel. 18. 15, 16. The Chaldee paraphraseth, in the time when many peoples come as waters, they shall not come neere him to doe him evill.

Verse 7. shouting songs of deliverance] or, of evasion, that is, thou wilt give me occasion by deliverance of me, to sing many songs of praise unto thee.

Verse 8. mine eye shall be upon thee] or, mine eye I will set upon thee, that is, I will have care of, and looke well unto thee, as Jer. 40. 4. Eara 5. 3. Dent. 11. 12. Psalme 34. 16. So the Chaldee explaineth it, I will counsell thee, and set mine eye upon thee for good. Or thus, I will give counsell unto thee with mine eye, that is, with my care and providence. Thus Christ counselled Peter with his eye, Luke 22. 61. So the eye is said to mocke, Prov. 30. 17.

Verse 9. as the horse, &c.] that is, be not foolis, and brutish, so as ye must be ruled by force and rigour, not by reason. For, unto the horse belongs a whip, unto the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe, Prov. 26. 3. mouth must be stopped] or, jaw is to be tied, Hebr. to stop; for, to be stopped, active for passive; as after Psalme 36. 3. which come not neere] that is, which will not obey or doe the service, unless they be forced and ruled by the bridle: according to the saying of the Apostle, Behold, we put bits into the horses mouths that they should obey us, James 3. 3.

Verse 10. Many paines] or, Great smartes (or fores) are for the wicked: So Solomon saith, Affliction followeth sinners, &c. Proverbs 13. 21. and 19. 29. and 24. 20.

Psalm XXXIII.

God is to be praised for his goodness, & for his powerful workes, 12 and for his providence. 20 Confidence is to be placed in God.

Shout joyfully ye just in Jehovah, praise becommeth the righteous. Confesse ye to Jehovah with harpe, with Psalterie with ten stringed instrument, sing Psalme unto him. Sing ye to him a new Song, doe well playing on the instrument, with triumphant noise. For righteous is the word of Jehovah, and all his worke is faith. He loveth justice and judgement, the earth is full of the mercie of Jehovah. By the word of Jehovah the heavens were made, and all the host host of them by the spirit of his mouth.

 7 He gathereth together as an heape, the wa-
 8 ters of the Sea; he giveth the deepes into 9 treasuries. Let all the earth be in feare of 10 Jehovah, let all the Inhabitants of the world
 11 shrink with feare for him. For he said, and 12 it was; he commanded, and it stood. Jeho-
 13 vah dissipateth the counsell of the Nations, 14 he bringeth to nought the cogitations of the 15 peoples. The counsell of Jehovah shall 16 stand for ever, the cogitations of his heart
 17 to generation and generation. O blessed 18 is the Nation whereof Jehovah is God, the 19 people that he hath chosen for a possession to 20 himselfe. From the heavens Jehovah doth 21 behold, doth see all the sons of Adam. From 22 the firme place of his dwelling he looketh forth unto all the inhabitants of the earth.
 He formeth altogether their heart, he discreetly attendeth unto all their works. There is no King saved by multitude of a power; a mightie man shall not be delivered by multitude of able strength. A horse is falshood for salvation, and shall not deliver by multitude of his power. Loe the eye of Jehovah is unto them that feare him, to them that hopefully wait for his mercie. To rid free their soule from death, and to keepe them alive in famine. Our soule earnestly waiteth for Jehovah, he is our helpe and our shield. For in him our heart shall rejoyce, for in the name of his holinesse doe we trust. Let thy mercie Jehovah be upon us, even as wee hopefully wait for thee.

Annotations.

1 Becommeth] the word denoteth a faire and comly grace, for which a thing is to be liked and desired. So Psal. 93. 5. and 147. 1. The Apostle ex-presseth it in Greeke, by faire or beautifull, Rom.
 10. 15. from Esa. 52. 7.

2 Verse 2. with harpe] or with Sitterne; in Hebrew
Kinnor: a Muscicall instrument invented by Jubal,
 Gen. 4. 21. used for mirth and joy, Psal. 137. 1, 2.
 Esa. 24. 8. Gen. 31. 27. and therefore is called the pleasaunt harpe, Psal. 81. 3. opposed unto mourning, Job 30. 31. in skill on this instrument David excelled, 1 Sam. 16. 16, 23. and with this and other they used in Israel to celebrate the Lord with gladnesse, 1 Chro. 13. 8. & 15. 16, 28. & 25. 1. Neh.
 12. 27. So spiritually in the New Testament, Rev.
 14. 2. with Psalterie] or Lute, or Violl: In Hebrew Nebel; an instrument so called of the forme,
 which (as seemeth) was with a round hollow bulke, much like a bottle: (for Nebel is also a bottle or pincel, 1 Sam. 10. 3. Lam. 4. 2.) and of this the Greeks and Latines had their instruments named

Nablé, Naulon, Nablum. The Greeke here calleth
 it Psalterion. ten stringed instrument] this differ-red from the Psalterie, Psal. 92. 4. therefore the word with is here supplied.

Verse 3. a new song] A thing is said to be new,
 which is alwaies fresh, renewed upon new occasions, and so permanent; as Job saith, my glorie was new with me. So Love is both an old and a new commandement, 1 Joh. 2. 7, 8. Or these new songs (mentioned here, and Psal. 40. 4. & 96. 1. & 98. 1. and 144. 9. Esay 42. 10.) may have reference to the state of things under the Gospel where there is a new Covenant, Heb. 8. 8, 13. new heavens and new earth, Rev. 21. 1. a new man, Ephes. 2. 15. and 4. 24.
 a new Ierusalem, Rev. 21. 2. and all things new, 1 Cor.
 5. 17. Revel. 21. 5. See also Revel. 5. 9 and 14.
 3. doe well playing, &c.] that is, make good mu-sicke, or melodie. So 1 Sam. 16. 17, 18. Esa. 23. 16.
 And this melodie we are now willed to make to the Lord in our hearts, Ephes. 5. 19. The Hebrew Neggan, (whereof commeth Neginoth, Psal. 4. 1.) properly is to play with the hand upon an instrument,
 1 Sam. 19. 9.

Verse 4. in faith] that is, faithfull, true and constant: for so this word is often used, as Exodus 17. 12. Moses hands were with faith, that is, steddie, firme, constant.

Verse 5. the earth is full] the like is said, Psal. 5 119. 64. For God doth good unto all, both just and unjust, Matthew 5. 45. and saveth man and beast, Psalme 36. 7.

Verse 6. the host of them] that is, the many creatures in them; as Angels, Sunne, Moone, Starres, &c.
 Psal. 148. 1, 2, 3, 5. Gen. 2. 1. So mention is made of the powers or hosts of heaven, Matth. 24. 29.
Spirit] or breath; thus Jehovah his Word and his Spirit are noted to be the maker of the world, as in Genesis 1.

Verse 7. giveth the deepes] that is, putteth or di-sposeth the deepe waters into treasuries, or in cellars and secret store-houses, hidden from the eye of man, called elsewhere the secret roome of the deepe, Job 38. 16.
 So God is said to have treasuries or store-houses of winde, Psal. 135. 7. of snow and hail, Job 38. 22. of darknesse, Isa. 45. 3. and the like. The Chaldee translateth, he putteth (the waters) into the treasuries of the deepe.

Verse 9. it stood] that is existed firme and stable,
 and so continued. So Psal. 119. 91.

Verse 10. dissipateth] or maketh frustrate, undoeth, 10 abrogateth; a word opposed to ratifying, confirming,
stablishing, Isa. 8. 10 and 19. 3. bringeth to nought,
annihilateth, and breaketh.

Verse 11. shall stand] that is, continue and have 11 effect, whatsoever men purpose to the contrary.
 See Isa. 14. 24, 27. and 46. 10. Prov. 19. 21.

Verse 12. is God] to wit, by speciall covenant and so-vour, though all the earth be his, Gen. 17. 7. Exod. 19. 5.
 and this is by the new Covenant, Heb. 8. 10. So
 Psal. 144. 15.

Verse 15. altogether] or alone. The Hebrew jachad sometime signifieth alone without others, Job 34. 29. Ezra 4. 3. (and so the Greeke Interpreters tooke it here, translating it kata monos, alone, or by himselfe.)

himselfe) sometime it signifieth wholly, or every whit, Job 10.8. sometime together, or in one, Psal. 3.2. All these agree well here; for God onely and wholly formeth every mans heart and spirit, Zacharie 12. 1. whereupon he is called the Father of spirits, Hebrews 12. 9. and the God of the spirits of all flesh, Numbers 16. 22.

16 Verse 16. Of a power] that is, of an armie; so called, because there are strong, valiant, and active men, Psal. 136. 15.

17 Verse 17. A horse is falsehood] that is, a false and deceitfull helpe cannot save a man, but faileth those that trult in him, Zach. 10. 5. Pia. 76. 6. The horse is here used for all warlike furniture; this being above other creatures, strong, fierce, and courageous, Job 39. 22, 28. and therefore is prepared for the day of battell, but salvation is of the Lord, Prov. 21. 31.

18 Verse 18. The eye of Jehovah] that is, his care and providence for good, as the next verse sheweth, and as Psal. 32. 8. Zach. 12. 4. 1 Pet. 3. 12. Sometime the Lords eye is upon men for evill, Amos 9. 4, 8.

20 Verse 20. for Jehovah] in Chaldee, for the redemption of the Lord.

21 Verse 21. in him] Chaldee, in his word.

PSAL. XXXIV.

David praiseth God for his deliverance, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience. 9 They are blessed that trust in God. 12 He exhorteth to the feare of God. 16 The privileges of the righteous, and miseries of the wicked.

1 A Psalme of David, when he had changed his behaviour befor Abimelech, and he had driven him away, and he was gone.

2 I Will blesse Jehovah in all time, continually his praise shall be in my mouth.

3 In Jehovah my soule shall glorie, the meeke shall heare and rejoyce.

4. Magnifie ye Jehovah with me, and let us extoll his name together.

5. I sought Jehovah, and he answered me, and rid me free from all my feares.

6. They looked to him and flowed, and their faces be not ashamed.

7. This poore afflicted-man called, and Jehovah heard, and saved him out of all his distresses.

8. The Angell of Jehovah pitcheth a campe about them that feare him, and releaseth them.

9. Taste ye and see, that Jehovah is good: O blessed is the man that hopeth for safetie in him.

10. Feare Jehovah ye his Saints, for there is no want to them that feare him.

11. The Lions are impoverished and an hungred, but they that seeke Jehovah shall not want any good.

12 Come sonnes, hearken to me, I will learne you the feare of Jehovah.

13. Who is the man that willeth life, that loveth daies to see good?

14. Keepe thy tongue from evill, and thy lips from speaking guile.

15. Eschew evill, and doe good; seeke peace and pursue it.

16. The eyes of Jehovah are unto the just, and his cares unto their out-cric.

17. The face of Jehovah is against them that do evill, to cut off their memoriall from the earth.

18. They cried, and Jehovah heard, and rid them free out of all their distresses.

19. Jehovah is neere to the broken of heart, and the contrite of spirit he will save.

20. Many are the evils of the just, and out of them all Jehovah will rid him free.

21. He keepeth all his bones, one of them is not broken.

22. Evill shall slay the wicked, and they that hate the just shall be condemned as guiltie.

23. Jehovah redeemeth the soule of his servants, and they shall not be condemned as guiltie, all that hope for safetie in him.

Annotations.

His behaviour] or his sense, reason, properly the taste, as in verse 9. Job 6. 6. and often otherwise, which is used both for ones inward sense or reason, and outward gesture and demimour, (as the Greeke here translateth it, face,) because by it a man is discerned and judged to be wise or foolish, as meats are discerned by the taste. David when he was afraid of the King of Gath, changed his behaviour before them, and sained himselfe made in their hands, and scrabbled on the doores of the gate, and let his spittle fall downe upon his beard, 1 Sam. 21. 12, 13. Abimelech] whose proper name was Achish King of Gath, a citie of the Philistims, 1 Sam. 21. 10. and as every King of Egypt was called Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 1. Exod. 5. 1. 1 King. 11. 18. so every King of the Philistims was called Abimelech, that is, Father King, Gen. 20. 2. and 26. 1. bad driven] or expelled. For Achish said to his servants which had taken and brought David to him, Doe ye see the man is beside himselfe, wherefore have ye brought him to me? have I need of mad men? &c. So David departed thence, 1 Sam. 21. 14, 15. and 22. 1. Vpon that he made this Psalme,

Verf.

2 Verse 2. in all time] or in every season. See Psalme 10. 5. This Psalme is also composed according to the order of the Hebrew Alphabet, as is observed on Psal. 25. 1.

3 Verse 3. shall glorie] or joyfully boast. For so the Apostle expoundeth this word, which properly signifieth to praise ones selfe, 1 Cor. 1. 31. from Jer. 9. 23, 24. So in Psal. 52. 3. and 97. 7. and 105. 3. and 106. 5.

4 Verse 4. Magnifie] or Make great, to wit, by praising. So Deuter. 32. 3. Give ye greatnesse unto our God.

6 Verse 6. They looked] to wit, the mecke, mentioned before, verie 3. or generally, they that looke and flow unto him. flowed] ran as a river; the like similitude is, Isa. 2. 2. and 60. 5. Jer. 31. 12. and 51. 44.

be not ashamed] or, shall not be ashamed; which word in the originall signifieth digging; as Psal. 35. 7. applied to shame, which causeth men to seeke to hide themselves, as is lively described, Revel. 6. 15, 16.

8 Verse 8. The Angell] that is, the Angels; for hee speaketh of an host: And often in the Hebrew, one is put for a multitude; as the inhabitant, for the inhabitants, 2 Sam. 5. 6. with 1 Chron. 11. 4. So, frog for frogs, Psal. 78. 45. tree for trees, quail for quails, Psal. 105. 33, 40. See the note on Psal. 8. 9.

pitched a campe] a similitude taken from warres; as Psal. 27. 3. So Iacob, when the Angels of God met him, said, This is Gods campe (or host) Gen. 32. 1, 2. Likewise about Elisha, the mountaine was full of horses and chariots of fire, 2 Kings 6. 17. See also Psal. 91. 11, 12.

9 Verse 9. Taste and see] that is, make triall and you shall find that God is good, sweet and delectable; and you will the more desire him. Thus the Apostle applieth these words, saying; As new borne babes desire ye the sincere milke of the Word, that ye may grow thereby, if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is good, 1 Pet. 2. 2, 3. in him] The Chaldee expoundeth it, in his Word.

10 Verse 10. Feare Iehovah] under this word Feare, is comprehended Gods whole worship, as is shewed on Psal. 19. 10. and the walking in his waies, as it is expounded in 2 Chron. 6. 31. compared with 1 King. 8. 40. and Psal. 128. 1.

11 Verse 11. Lions] Lurking lions (whereof see Psal. 7. 3.) which are lustie, strong, toothed, fierce, roaring, ravenous, as appeareth by Psal. 58. 7. and 104. 21. Mic. 5. 8. Ezek. 19. 3, 5, 6, 7. Job 39. 1, 2. And hereby may be meant the rich and mightie of the world, whom God often bringeth to miserie; and so the Greeke for Lions, putteth here the rich. Tyrants and strong men are sometime called Lions, Jer. 2. 15. 1 Chron. 11. 22. Nahum 2. 13. See Luke 1. 53. are impoverished] or suffered penurie. See Job 4. 10, 11. Prov. 10. 3. that seeke Iehovah] Chaldee, that seeke the Doctrine of the Lord.

13 Verse 13. that willetb] that is, faine would have and delighteth. daiet to see good] that is, to enjoy good many daies; which the Apostle (following the Seventie) expresth thus, to see good daies, 1 Peter 3. 10. that is, daies of prosperitie, pleasure, comfort.

Verse 14. Kepe thy tongue] to wit, by restraining and making it cease from evil, as the Apostle teacheth, 1 Pet. 3. 10.

Verse 16. their out-crie] or, their deprecation, their prayer for need, as the Greeke (which the Apostle followeth) expresth it.

Verse 17. The face] that is, open anger, Leviticus 17. 10. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, The face of the Lord is angry against evil doers: See Psalme 21. 10.

Verse 18. They cried] that is, as the Greeke saith, They just cried: and the Chaldee, they just prayed.

Verse 19. the broken of hearts] them that have their hearts broken, and their spirits contrite (or humble) for their finnes. See the like speeches, Psalme 51. 19. and 147. 2. Isaiah 57. 15. and 61. 1. Jeremie 23. 9. Luke 4. 18.

Verse 20. the evils] that is, griefes and afflictions, as Deut. 31. 17. Psal. 27. 5. and 88. 4. Mat. 6. 34. the word also may import finnes and vices, as Psal. 28. 3. and 94. 23. So after in verse 22.

Verse 22. slay the wicked] or dee him die, kill him; because he shall not be delivered therefrom, as the just man is, verse 20. The Greeke and Chaldee expound it, The death of sinners (of the wicked) is evil. condemned as guiltie] and consequently perish. See Psal. 5. 11.

Verse 23. all that hope] that is, any one of them. So all is used for any, Psal. 147. 20.

PSALME XXXV.

David prayeth for his owne safety and his enemies confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongfull dealing, and sheweth his contrary carriage. 22 Therefore be incited God against them.

A Psalme of David.

PLead thou Jehovah, with them that plead with me, war thou against them that war against me. Lay hold on the shield and buckler, and stand up for my helpe. And draw out the speare and sword to meet with my persecutors; say to my soul I am thy salvation. Let them be abashed and ashamed that seek my soule, let them be turned backward and confounded that thinke mine evil. Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and the Angell of Jehovah driving them. Let their way be darknesse and slippernesse, and the Angell of Jehovah pursuing them. For without cause they have hid for me the corruption of their net, without cause they have digged for my soule. Let tumultuous ruine come on him, he not aware; and let his net which he hath hidden catch him; with tumultuous ruine let him fall thereinto. And my soule shall be glad in Jehovah, shall joy in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, Jehovah, who is like thee, that riddest free the poore afflicted from the stronger than himselfe, and the poore afflicted and needy from the spoiler of him? Witnesses of cruell wrong did rise up, things that I knew not they did aske of me. They repayed mee ill for good, the bereaving of my soule. And I, when they were sicke, my cloathing was sackcloth; I afflicted my soule with fasting, and my prayer returned upon my bosome. I walked as if he had been a fellow-friend, as if he had been a brother to me: I bowed downe sad as he that bewaileth his mother. But in my halting they rejoyced and were gathered together, the smiters were gathered together against me, and I knew it not: they rent and were not silent. With hypocrites, scoffers for a cake of bread, gnashing their teeth against me. Lord, how long wilt thou see: returne my soule from their tumultuous ruines, my alonely soule from the Lions. I will confesse thee in the great Church, I will praise thee among a mightie people. Let not them that are my enemies with falsity, rejoyce at me, them that are my haters without cause winke with the eye. For they speake not peace, and against the quiet ones of the earth they imagine words of deceits. And they have enlarged their mouth against me; they have said, aha, aha, our eye hath seene. Jehovah thou hast seene, cease not as deafe: O Lord, be not farre off from me. Stirre up and awake to my judgement, my God and my Lord, to my plea. Judge me according to thy justice, Jehovah my God, and let them not rejoyce at me. Let them not say in their heart, aha our soule: let them not say, we have swallowed him up. Let them be abashed and confounded together that rejoyce at mine evill; let them be cloathed with bashfulnesse and shame that magnifie against mee. Let them shout joyfully and rejoyce that delight my justice; and let them say continually, magnified be Jehovah, that delighteth the peace of his servant. And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, all the day thy praise.

Annotations.

1 PLead] This properly is, to commend or debate a matter with many words, as the next word, war or fight, is with deeds. But Gods pleading oft times is in action; as he pleaded Davids cause against Nabal, when he slew him, 1 Sam. 25. 39. And as here

David prayeth, so God elsewhere promisseth to plead with those that plead with his people, Isaiah 49. 25. war] which in the originall tongue hath the name of cutting, biting, or devouring; for warres devoure and consume many. So the sword is said to have a mouth, that is, an edge, Job 1. 15. Hebrews 11. 24. and to eat, that is, to kill and consume, 2 Samuel 11. 25.

Verse 3. draw out] or, as the Hebrew phrase is, empty, that is, unsharpened; the like is of the sword, Exodus 15. 9. Leviticus 26. 33. sword] or close weapon, as the name signifieth. This interpretation seemeth best, because of the Hebrew paule, which joyneth this word with the former, spear: thus also these two weapons of offence are answerable to the former two of defence, the shield and buckler: and of this Hebrew name Sagor, the Greeke Sagari (and perhaps the Latine Securis) seemeth to be borrowed, for a sword or axe. And in Job 28. 15. this word is used for a close treasure, or stored gold; as here for a close weapon. Otherwise we may reade according to the Greeke, and other versions, close thou, or stop, to wit, the way or passage.

Verse 4. thai seeke my soule] that is, my life to take it away: for so this phrase commonly meaneth, as Psalm. 38. 13. and 54. 5. and 70. 3. Exodus 4. 19. Mat. 2. 20. and sometime is so explained, as Psalm. 63. 10. 1 Kings 19. 10. they seeke my soule to take it away. Yet sometime this phrase intendeth seeking the soule for ones good, as Psalm. 142. 5. turned backward] a token of feare, shame, and discomfiture; as Psalm. 129. 5. and 40. 15. and 70. 3. and 9. 4. Isaiah 42. 17. Jer. 46. 5.

Verse 6. Darknesse, &c.] that is, most darke and slippery: meaning, fearfull, dangerous, troublesome, &c. Nahum 1. 8. Psalm. 88. 7. and 107. 9. Prov. 4. 19. So elsewhere it is said, Their way shall be unto them in slipprinesses in the darknesse; they shall be driven and fall therein, Jer. 23. 12.

Verse 7. the corruption, &c.] that is, their corrupting pernicious net, or their insinuating corruption: or understanding the word in, we may reade, they bid their net for me in a pit, (or, in a corrupting ditch;) as Psalm. 7. 16. have digged] to wit, a pit to fall in; so Job 6. 27. Or, have diligently searched, and laid wait. So digging is used for seeking, Job 3. 21. and 39. 32.

Verse 8. tumultuous ruine] calamities, wasting or depolation that is with noise and sound as of waters, Isaiah 17. 12, 13. So Psalm. 63. 10. Prov. 1. 27.

Verse 10. my bones] that is, my strong and solid members (as the Chaldee translateth it members) delivered out of danger, meaning that with all his strength he would praise God: So the bones are said to rejoyce, Psalm. 51. 10. the loines to blesse, Job 31. 20. the spoiler] or robber that by open violence taketh away. Compare Job 5. 15.

Verse 11. of cruell wrong] that is, cruell, violent, or (as the Greeke saith) unjust wronges. So Exodus 23. 1. Deut. 19. 16.

Ver. 12. the bereaving of] that is, to deprive, bereave or rob me of my soule or life; or, to bereave my soule of comfort. The word properly signifieth the bereaving or hysse of children.

Verse

13 Verse 13. sackcloth] used to be worne in signe of sorrow, Psal. 69. 12. Genes. 37. 34. Matth. 11. 21. Rev. 11. 3. Here we are to understand the word was, or gate, as is expressed, Psalm. 69. 12. even as the word afflicted, here expressed, is there understood, Psal. 69. 11. with fasting] another signe and cause of sorrow: wherefore mourning and fasting are used for the same, Matth. 9. 15. with Marke 2. 19. returned upon my bosome] or, into my bosome. The meaning may be, I prayed often for them, secretly, and with hearty loving affliction. For, the returning of the prayer seemeth to meane the often minding and repeating of it; the bosome signifieth secrecie, Prov. 21. 14. and 17. 23. Psalme 89. 51. and inward affliction, Numbers 11. 12. Joh. 1. 18. Or we may reade it thus; Let my prayer returne into thy bosome, that is, I wished no worse to them than to my selfe, let mee receive of God such good as I prayed for them. See Psal. 79. 12.

14 Verse 14. sad or blacke, to wit, in blacke and mournfull attire, and with sad and heauie countenance, as the Greeke here translateth it, Scutbropazon, which word the new Testament also useth, Mat. 6. 16. Luke 24. 17. So after in Psal. 38. 7. and 42. 10. and 43. 2. bewaileth his mother mourneth at her funeral. In this case the affections are most strong. Therefore the Priests were permitted to mourne for such, Levit. 21. 1, 2, 3.

15 Verse 15. my halting] that is, my calamitie and infirmities, whereby I seemed ready to fall. So in Psa. 38. 18. Jeremie 20. 10. the smiters] that smite me with the tongue, as Jer. 18. 18. and as here followeth, they rent, &c. The Seventy in Greeke turne it Scourges, alluding (as I thinke) to the scourge of the tongue, as Job 5. 21. and another Greeke version hath plekai, smiters. It may also be read the smitten, that is, abjects, vile persons, Job 30. 8. (as the Chaldee expresseth it, the wicked;) or understand smitten on their feet, as 2 Sam. 4. 4. that is, lame, so faining themselves : or smitten in spirit, as Esa. 66. 2. that is, grieved in outward shew. they rent] to wit, me with reproaches, as Mat. 7. 6. or rent their garments, counterfeiting sorrow for me, Job 2. 12.

16 Verse 16. hypocrites] or close dissemblers, which outwardly cover and cloke their wickednesse, wherewith inwardly they are defiled, Matth. 23. 27, 28. or which have their hearts covered, Job 36. 13. The Greeke also (from whence our English word hypocrisie is borrowed) signifieth an under judgement, that is, disimulation. scoffers] or, of scoffes, that is, men that make scoffes; as Psalm. 36. 12. pride is for proud persons. for a cake of bread] that is, for good cheare, for their bellies: or, at their belly cheare, at banquets. So Solomon speaketh of some that will transgresse for a piece of bread, Prov. 28. 21. The originall word Magbinog is a cake, 1 Kings 17. 12. and as bread is used for all food, Psal. 136. 25. so a cake seemeth to be used for all juncates or dainty meats; as in Hosea 7. Ephraim is likened to a cake, and their enemies to banqueters that greedily eat them up, verse 8, 9: so here David matcheth his adversaries with hypocriticall and scoffing parasites, whose God was their belly, as Philip. 3. 19. Or we may figuratively take this word for a mecke, jist, or merim, and so read it, with hypocriticall j. s. i. n. g. j. e. s. s. e. r. s. : and this the Greeke favoureth, saying, they mocked me with mockage. *gnast*ing] or, they gnasted : Hebrew, in gnast ; but a word thus indefinite, following another with person, is it selfe of the same, by proprietic of the Hebrew tongue. So Psal. 49. 15. their teeth] the teeth of them and him, that is, of every of them. See Psal. 2. 3.

Verse 17. returne] or redunce, restore, stay my soule or life: so Job 33. 30. alonely] or solitarie, desolate 17
soule: See Psal. 22. 21, 23.

Verse 18. a mighty people] or, a strong, to wit, in number, that is, a great multitude. The word Glatism, as it is mighty in strength, Psa. 135. 10. Prov. 30. 26. so is it many in number, Psa. 40. 6, 13. and 105. 24. and 137. 17.

Verse 19. enemies with falstie] that is, for a false cause; or (as the Greeke explaineth it) unjustly. 19

winks] make secret signes by the winking of the eye, which argueth both privie and scornfull gesture; therefore this alwaies is a signe of evill, Proverbes 10. 10. and 6. 13. not peace] that is, not peaceably, or friendly, which yet some hypocrites doe, Psa. 28. 3. or, not speake to come to any sound composition, or peaceable end, which one may trust unto. But God speaketh peace to his people, Psal. 85. 9. words of deceit] deceitfull words or things.

Verse 21. hath seene] or, seeth, to wit, the will of David, or, that which we desired. In speeches of evil cases, often the Hebrew useth silence. So after in Psal. 54. 9. and 59. 11. and 118. 7.

Verse 23. to my judgement] that is, to judge and avenger of mine enemies: so after, to my plea, is, to plead my cause, as verse 1.

Verſe 25. aha our ſoule] that is, aha we haue 25
our deſire. Soule is ſometime put for deſire, Pſal.
41. 3.

Verse 26. cloathed with basfulness] meaning, their confusion on every side, when nothing but their shame appeareth and so continueth. So Psal. 109. 29. and 132. 18. Job 6. 22. that magnifie] to wit, their mouths, as is exprest, Hobad. 1. 12. Ezek. 35. 13. that is, speak great things and boastfully, as the Greeke explaineth. So after in Psal. 38. 17. and 55. 13. delight my justice] whom my justice and innocencie pleaeth or delighteth, and the defence thereof.

PSAL. XXXVI.

The grievous estate of the wicked. 6 The excellencie of Gods mercies to such as trust in him. 11 A prayer for the righteous, 13 and prophecie of the wickeds fall.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalm of David, the servant of Iehovah.

THe trespass of the wicked assuredly faith in the inmost of my heart, no dread of God is before his eyes. For he flattereth him. selfe in his owne eyes, to 4 find his iniquity which he ought to hate. The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit;

 he hath left off to be prudent, to doe good.
 5 He thinketh iniquity upon his bed, he setteth himselfe on a way not good, he refuseth not 6 evill. Jehovah, thy mercy is in the heavens,
 7 thy faithfulness unto the skies. Thy justice as the mountaines of God, thy judgements
 a great depth: Jehovah thou savest man and 8 beast. How precious is thy mercy, O God, and the sons of Adam hope for safety in the 9 shadow of thy wings. They shal be plenteously moistened with the fatnesse of thy house, and the streame of thy pleasures thou 10 wilt give them to drinke. Because with thee is the well of life: in thy light we see 11 light. Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, and thy justice to the right of 12 heart. Let not the foot of pride come on me; and the hand of the wicked, let it not 13 make me flee. There have they fallen, that worke painefull iniquity: they have bene thrust downe, and have not been able to rise.

Annotations.

2 THe trespass of the wicked] or, Trespasse saith to the wicked, that is, persuadeth, imboldnes, hardeneth
 him. assuredly saith] or, it is an assured saying, a faithfull affirmation. This word is peculiar to the oracles of God, which are sure and faithfull, (as the Apostle sometime mentioneth faithfull sayings, 1 Tim. 1. 15. and 3. 1. and 4. 9.) In the new Testament it is interpreted, said, Matt. 22. 44. from Psalme 110. 1. And David by the spirit here testifieth, that the wicked mans trespass is such, as assuredly saith (or avoucheth) even in his heart and conscience, that hee dreads not God. in the inmost of my heart] in the mids, or within my heart: meaning that hee certainly knew it, and was much affected with it.

3 Verse 3. to find] that is, to performe, or accomplish; as to find the will, is to performe or doe the same, Esay 58. 13. So in Rom. 7. 18. Or, to find, that is, to obtaine and get, as Gen. 6. 8. Matt. 11. 29. Rom.
 4. 1. Or, to find, that is, to invent or devise new mischiefs; as the Apostle speaking of inventers (or finders out) of evill things, Rom. 1. 30.
 which he ought to hate] or, which is to be hated, is odious. So, to keepe, Psalme 119. 4. that is, to be kept:
to stop, Psalme 32. 9. for, to be stopped: to doe, Elth. 6.
 6. for, is to be done. So Psalme 49. 15. Ios. 2. 5.
 See also the verbe active expounded passively, by the Apostles authority, Psalme 51. 6. But the Chaldee expounderh it, he hateth doctrine.

5 Verse 5. he setteth himselfe] namely, to stand or walke continually in a way not good, as Isa. 65. 2. or, bee
standeth still, as Exod. 14. 13.

6 Verse 6. in the heavens] elsewhere it is said, unto the heavens, Psal. 57. 11. so here in may be used for unto: sometime it is, above the heavens, as Psal.

 108. 5.

Verse 7. mountaines of God] that is, high, mighty, or excellent mountaines. The Hebrew useth to note excellent things, by adding the name of God; as Cedars of God, Psal. 80. 11. Adams of God, Psal. 68.
 16. river of God, Psal. 65. 10. wrestlings of God, Gen.
 30. 5. harps of God, Rev. 15. 2. and sundry the like.
 So the Chaldee here saith, high as the strong moun- taines.

Verse 8. How precious] that is, honourable and much to be esteemed; sometime the word signifieth bright and glorious, Iob 31. 26. Zach. 14. 6. which also agreeth well here. and the shadow of thy wings] or,
when, or therefore the shadow, shadow of thy wings that is, thy protection, so Psal. 63. 8. and 91. 4. called sometime, the secret of Gods wings, Psal. 61. 5.

Verse 10. Well of life] or, as the Chaldee tran-slateth, well of living waters, that is, an ever-springing fountainne, from whom life and all graces spring and flow.
 So God is called the Well of living waters, Ier. 2.
 13. and 17. 13. Song 4. 15. we see light] or,
enjoy light, that is, knowledge, comfort, joy, &c. See Iob 29. 3. Esay 9. 2. Iam. 1. 17. Psalme 27. 1.

Verse 11. Extend thy mercy] or draw it, meaning, exerise and skew it; as Psalme 109. 12. also prolong or continue it; as Psalme 85. 6. Eccles. 2. 3.

Verse 12. foot of pride] or of haughtinesse, that is, (as the Chaldee translateth) of the proud man, as Ier. 50. 31. 32. the thing being put for the person in whom it is. As deceit, for a deceitfull man, Prov.
 12. 27. Poverty, for poore people, 2 King. 24. 14. habi- tation, for inhabitants, 2 Sam. 9. 12. Circumcision for circumcised, Rom. 2. 26. Helpings, governings, for hel- pers, governours, 1 Cor. 12. 28. dreames, for drea- mers, Ier. 27. 9. sinne, for sinner, Prov. 13. 6. and many the like. See also Psalme 5. 5. and 12. 9. and 55. 21. and 109. 4. and 78. 31.

Verse 13. There] to wit, in the very enterprise,
while they laboured to remove me.

PSAL. XXXVII.

David persuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and wicked.

1 A Psalm of David.

FRet not thy selfe for the evill doer; envie not for them that doe injurious evill. 2. For they shall soone bee cut downe as grasse, and shall fade as the green-nesse of the budding herbe.

3. Trust thou in Jehovah, and doe good;
 dwell in the land, and feed on faith. 4. And delight thy selfe in Jehovah, and he wil give thee the petitions of thy heart.

5. Turne confidently thy way upon Jeho-vain, and trust upon him, and he will doe.
 6. And will bring forth thy justice as the light, & thy judgement as the non-bright-nesse.

7 Be

7. Be silent for Jehovah, and wait still patiently for him; fret not thy selfe for him that prospereth in his way, for the man that effecteth devices.

8. Surcease from anger and leave off wrath, fret not thy selfe also to doe evill.

9. For evill doers shall bee cut downe, & they that earnestly wait on Jehovah, they shall inherit the land.

10. And yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: and thou shalt consider his place & he shall not be. 11. And the meek shall inherit the land, and shall delight themselves in the multitude of peace.

12. The wicked deviseth against the just, and gnaweth his teeth against him. 13. The Lord laugheth at him, for hee seeth that his day doth come.

14. The wicked have drawne the sword, and bent their bow, to fell downe the poore afflicted and needy one, to slay them that be right of way. 15. Their sword shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shall be broken.

16. Better is the litle of a just man, than the plenteous mammon of many wicked men. 17. For the armes of wicked men shall be broken; but Jehovah upholdeth the just.

18. Jehovah knoweth the dayes of perfect men, and their inheritance shall be for ever. 19. They shall not be abashed in time of evill, and in the dayes of famine they shall have enough.

20. But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of Jehovah, as the precious fat of rams; they are consumed, with the smoke they are consumed.

21. The wicked boroweth and repayeth not, and the just sheweth grace and giveth.

22. For his blessed ones shall inherit the land, and his accursed ones shall bee cut off.

23. By Jehovah the steps of the man are established, and his way hee delighteth. 24. When hee shall fall hee shall not be cast off, for Jehovah upholdeth his hand.

25. I have beene young, also I am waxed old, and I have not seene the just man forsaken, and his seed seeking bread. 26. All the day he sheweth grace and lendeth, and his seed are in the blessing.

27. Eschew evill and doe good, and dwell for ever. 28. For Jehovah loveth judgement, and will not forsake his gracious Saints, they are kept for ever, and the seed of the wicked is cut off:

29. Just men shall inherit the land, and shall dwell thereon to perpetuall aye.

30. The mouth of the just will utter wisdom, and his tongue speake judgement.

31. The Law of his God is in his heart, it shall not stagger in his steps.

32. The wicked spieth for the just, and seeketh to worke his death. 33. Jehovah will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him for wicked when he is judged.

34. Wait thou earnestly for Jehovah, and keepe his way, and he will exalt thee for to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35. I have seene the wicked daunting terrible, and spreading himselfe bare, as a greene selfe-growing lawrell. 36. And hee passed away, and loe hee was not, & I sought him and hee was not found.

37. Observe the perfect man, and see the righteous, for the attter end of the man shall be peace. 38. And trespassers shall bee destroyed together, the attter end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39. And the salvation of just men is of Jehovah, their strength in time of distresse.

40. And Jehovah will helpe them, and deliver them: hee will deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they hope for safety in him.

Annotations.

THis is the third Psalm pennaed Alphabet-wise; there being two verses allowed to everie letter, except foure, in verse 7, 20, 29, 34. See Psalm. 25. 1.

Verse 1. Fret] or Inflame not, burne not thy selfe with anger or griefe. So attter, verse 7. and 8. Prov. 24. 19. evill doers] to be like unto them, as the Chaldee addeth; which accordeth with verse 8. envie not] or, have not envious zeale or emulation. This word is generall for all hot and fervent zeale, whether good or evill, emulation, jealousie, envie, and the like, Psalm. 106. 16. and 69. 10.

Verse 3. Dwell in the land] This may be taken either for a Commandement, to dwell in the land of Canaan, which God had given them to possesse, Num. 33. 53. though troubles and wants should arise therein, as did the Patriarchs by faith, Gen. 37. 1. and 26. 3, 12. Hebr. 11. 9. Or, for a promise, dwell, that is, thou shalt dwell, that is, abide long, as attter in v. 27. So, see, for thou shalt see, Psal. 128. 5, 6. Seeke me and live, Amos 5. 4. that is, ye shall live. seed on faith] to wit, which shall grow out of the land, Psalm. 85. 12. that is, of the fruits which the land truly and faithfully bringeth forth. Or, as a pro-

- promise, thou shalt feed on faith, that is, on the faithfull constant increase; and thus the Greeke explaineth it, thou shalt be fed with the riches thereof, meaning, of the land. Or, feed on faith, that is, nourish thy selfe and live by it; for the just man liveth by his faith, Habak. 2. 4. and walketh by it, not by sight, 2 Cor. 5. 7. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Stand, (or exerts thy selfe) in the faith. Or, feed in faith, that is, thou shalt be fed faithfully and assuredly. Contrary hereto, is to feed on the wind, Hos. 12. 1. and on albes, Esay 44. 20.
- 4 Verse 4. delight thy selfe or, thou shalt delight, or place thee: so verse 11. and Iob 22. 26.
- 5 Verse 5. Turne confidently Commit of trust: in Hebrew, Roll, in Chaldee, Reveale before the Lord: see Psalme 28. 9. So Prov. 16. 3. Roll (or Commit) thy works unto Iehovah. will doe that which thou d firest; or will execute, to wit, thy judgements, as the next verse sheweth, and as elsewhere is expressed, Mic. 7. 9.
- 6 Verse 6. as the light to wit, of the morning, or sunne: (for so light sometime signifieth, Neh. 8. 3. Iob 31. 26.) that is, dearly, manifestly. So Hos. 6. 5. Compare also Iob 11. 17.
- 7 Verse 7. be silent or, be still, stay and tarry silently. See Psalme 4. 5. The Greeke saith, be subject. wait still patiently or, paie thy selfe, that is, set thy selfe with earnestnesse and patience to wait for.
- 8 Verse 8. Surcease or Slake. Let goe. A word contrary to holding fast, applied here to the swaling or abating of anger; so Iudg. 8. 3. also is doe or, which is but to doe; or, at least to doe evil.
- 9 Verse 9. inheris or possesse. So Esay 57. 13. He that trusteth in me (saith the Lord) shall inheris the land, and possesse my holy mountaine.
- 11 Verse 11. And the meeke or But the meeke. From hence our Lord saith, Blessed are the meeke, for they shall inheris the land, Mat. 5. 5.
- 13 Verse 13. his day that is, his dismall day, the time appointed for his affliction and destruction, 1 Sam. 26. 10. Ezek. 21. 25. 29. So the Chaldee explaineth it, the day of his calamity. Day is often used for the time of punishment; as, The posterity shall be astonished at his day, Iob 18. 20. Woe unto them, for their day is come, Ier. 50. 27. So, the day of Madian, Esay 9. 4. the day of Izreel, Hosea 1. 11. the day of Ierusalem, Psalme 137. 7.
- 14 Verse 14. drawne Hebrew, opened, or loosed. meaning out of the shead. A like phrase is, the emptying of the sword, Psalme 35. 3.
- 16 Verse 16. the little of a just man or, a little (a small portion) to the just. See Prov. 15. 16. and 16. 8. plenteous mammon The Hebrew hamon signifieth multitude, plenty or store, of riches, or any other thing. Herethe Greeke translateth it riches. From this Hebrew word, riches are called mammon, Luke 16. 9. 11. 13. many wicked or great, (mighty) wicked.
- 17 Verse 17. armes that is, power, helps, &c. See Psalme 10. 15.
- 18 Verse 18. knoweth that is, acknowledgeth and regardeth, as Psalme 1. 6. the dayes that is, the events, good or evil of states, calamities that at any time befall them, as verse 13. Psalme 116. 2. and 119. 84.

- See also Psalme 31. 16. shall be for ever meaning, that they and their seed after them should inheris the land, Exodus 32. 13. Ios. 14. 9. 1 Chron. 28. 8. Proverbs 13. 22. Esay 60. 21. and then come to their immortall inheritance, 1 Peter 1. 4.
- 20 Verse 20. the precious fat that which is precious in the rammes, the best, and that was the fat, all which was the Lords; and might not therefore be eaten by any man, but was burned upon the altar, and so consumed away in smoke, Leviticus 3. 15, 16, 17. So, the precious fruits of the earth, Iames 5. 7. The Hebrew Carim, elsewhere used for fields or pastures, Psalme 65. 14. is here fat pastured rammes or muttons: so Deuteronomie 32. 14. Esay 34. 6. Amos 6. 4. with the smoke which vanissheth in the ayre; therefore the Greeke saith, in the smoke: so Psalme 103. 4. The Chaldee paraphraeth, they shall be consumed in the smoke of Gehenna, (or of Hell).
- 21 Verse 21. repaieth not shall not; or will not pay againe. It may intend both his inability, that he cannot, and his unconscionableness, that he will not pay. Borrowing in the Law is noted for a curse; as lending, for a blessing, Deuteronomie 28. 12. 44. for the borrower is servant to the lender, Prov. 22. 7. sheweth grace or, doth graciously, that is, is liberall and bountifull. So the Apostle calleth liberality, grace, 1 Cor. 16. 3. 2 Cor. 8. 4. 19.
- 22 Verse 22. his blessed ones or, they that are blessed of him, that is, of God. The Chaldee addeth, they that are blessed by his VVord: and after, they that are cursed by his oath.
- 23 Verse 23. steps of the man the gate, or wayes of such a man as is before spoken of; or as after followeth, whose way God delighteth; called here Geder, a valiant man. A like phrase is in Esay 60. 12. the nations, that is, those nations, such as are there before mentioned. stablished or firmly directed and perfected. The word noteth the ordering, perfecting and fast stablishing of any thing. and his way or thus, to wit, whose way bee delighteth (or affecteth). So Gedeon and his house, Iudges 8. 27. for, Gedeon, to wit, (or that is to say) his house.
- 24 Verse 24. shall fall to wit, into sinne, by occasion or infirmity, Gal. 6. 1. or into affliction and trouble, Mic. 7. 9. Thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, if he fall into sickness, he shall not die. For, the just man falleth seven times, and riseth againe, Prov. 24. 16. upholdeth his hand and consequently, raiseth him up. A like phrase is of strengthening the hand, Esay 8. 11. 1 Sam. 23. 16.
- 26 Verse 26. his seed that is, his children or posterity are in the blessing, or are appointed to the blessing, as the heires thereof, Gen. 28. 3. 1 Pet. 3. 9. and have still abundance, though they give to others: For, the blessing of the Lord maketh rich, Proverbs 10. 22. And, there is that scattereth, and is more increased, Proverbs 11. 24.
- 27 Verse 27. dwell for ever that is, thou shalt dwell; as verse 3. The like promise is in Ier. 7. 5. 7.
- 28 Ver. 28. is cut off a like judgement is in Iob 18. 19. He shall have neither son nor nephews among his people, F f f f f f 2 nor nor any posterity in his dwellings. See also Psal. 21. 11. and 109. 13. and the contrary, Psalme 102. 29.

30 Verse 30. will meditate] usually meditate; that is, reneweth, uttereth, as Psalme 35. 28.

31 Verse 31. in his heart] so God commanded, Deut. 6. 6. and there hath he promised to write his law, Hebr. 8. 10. See also Psalme 40. 9. Isa. 51. 7. it shall not stagger] understand, his foot shall not stagger, or, faulter, Job 12. 5. Or, any one of his steps (or feet) shall not stagger or slide.

33 Verse 33. condemne him for wicked] make (or pronounce) him wicked, that is, condemne him. Opposed to justifying: so Psalme 94. 21. Job 9. 20.

35 Verse 35. daunting terrible] sorely dismayng others with his terror: in Greeke, lifted very high. See Psalme 10. 18. spreading bare] making bare, that is, strutting forth and shewing himselfe.

greene] that is, fresh and flourishing, as Dan. 4. 1. It is not meant for colour only, but for juice and vigour: So Psalme 52. 10. selfe-growing lawrell] a tree that groweth in his naturall place, which commonly sprout and thrive better, than such as are removed to an other soile: therefore the Greeke explaineth it, as the Cedars of Lebanon.

37 Verse 37. the after end] or, the last, or the posterity. This word is sometimes used for the end, as Deut. 11. 13. and 32. 20. 29. Jer. 39. 11. sometime for posterity of children left behind, as Psalme 109. 13. Dan. 11. 4. And thus it may be understood here, specially in the verse following. The Greeke tranlateth, there is a remnant to the peaceable man.

40 Verse 40. in him] Chaldee, in his word.

P S A L. XXXVIII.

David in sore afflictions, invocateth God not to be angry with him, 5 complaineth of his finnes, and chastisements, 11 of his owne weaknesse, 12 of his friends forsaking him, 13 and his enemies malice: 16 yet his faith is in God, whose helpe he desireth.

1 A Psalme of David, for to record.

2 Iehovah, rebuke mee not in thy fervent
3 anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath-4 full heat. For thy arrowes are stucke in 5 me, and thou lettest downe thy hand upon 6 me. No soundnesse is in my flesh, because 7 of thy angry threat, no peace is in my bones, 8 because of my sinne. For my iniquities are gone over my head: as a heaue burden, they are too heaue for me. My stripes do stinke, are putrified, because of my foolishnesse. I am crooked, I am bowed downe very vehemently, all the day I walke sad. For my flankes are full of parching, and there is no soundnesse in my flesh. I am weakened and crushed very sore, I roare out for the groaning of my heart. Lord before thee is all my desire, and my sighing is not hid from thee. My heart panteth, my able strength forsaketh mee, and the light of mine eyes even they are not with me. My lovers and my neereft friends stand from before my stroke, and my neighbours stand a farre off. And they that seeke my soule, set snares; and they that seeke my evill, speake

wofull evils, and all the day they meditate deceits. And I as a deafe man heare not,
and as a mute man openeth not his mouth.
And I am as a man which heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reprooves. Because for thee Jehovah I doe hopefully wait, thou wilt answer, O Lord my God. For I said, lest they rejoyce at me, and when my foot is moved doe magnifie against mee. For I am ready to halting, and my paine is before me continually. For I doe declare my iniquity, I am carefull for my sinne.
And my enemies are alive mighty, and multiplied are they that hate me falsly.
And they that repay evill for good, are my adversaries, for that I follow good. Forsake me not, Jehovah; my God, be not far off from me. Hasten to my helpe, Lord, my salvation.

Annotations.

FOr to record] or to cause remembrance for commu-
ration, to wit, of Davids troubles, as Psal. 138. 1.
and of Gods mercies, deliverances, and prayers for the same, as Esay 63. 7. The like title is of the 70.
Psalme. David appointed before the Arke singers of the Levites for to record, and to confesse, and to praise Jehovah the God of Israel, 1 Chron. 16. 4. The Greeke addeth to the title, A Psalme of David for remembrance concerning the Sabbath.

Verse 2. neither] Hebr. and, where the word
not is againe to bee repeated, as is noted, Psalme 9. 19. and as is expressed, Psalme 6. 2. where the like prayer is made.

Verse 3. thy arrowes] so Iob saith, *the arrowes
of the Almighty are in mee, the venom wherof drin-
keth up my spirit*, Iob 6. 4. Arrowes are sicknesses, or plagues of body or mind, Psalme 18. 15. and 91. 5. thy hand] in Chaldee, the stroke of thy hand.

Verse 4. no soundnesse] or, there is nothing sound, or whole. So Esay 1. 6. angry threat] or detestation, indignation. See Psalme 7. 12.

Verse

6 Verse 6. my stripes] or shars; properly such fore
markes, wounds or stripes, as wherein the blood and humours are gathered, and doe appeare after beating; named in English, wailes. foolishnesse] The Hebrew Ivceleib, meaneth rash and unadvised folly, through want of prudence. Therefore though commonly in Greeke it is turned imprudence, yet sometime it is called unadvised rashnesse, Prov. 14. 17. and Evil the Foole is named rash or beady, Prov. 10. 14.
And by foolishnesse is meant usually viciousnesse or sinne, and is so expressed by the Greekes, Prov. 13.
16. and 15. 2. and 26. 11. and our Saviour numbreth foolishnesse among other evils that defile a man, Marke 7. 22.

7 Verse 7. sad] mournfully. See Psalme 35. 14.

8 Verse 8. my flanks] or loines. parching] or, burning, roasting: so elsewhere hee complaineth of the burning of his bowels, Psalme 102. 4. and so the Chaldee Paraphrast here taketh this word, which may also be translated, vile matter: meaning a vile or loathsome dis ease, full of burning paine. The Greeke turneth it, mockings.

9 Verse 9. the growling] or rundling, roaring noise.

11 Verse 11. persecute] throbbe, beateth about, through trouble and distemperature. able strength] force
and ability that is in the heart and bowels;
as elsewhere he saith, my heart forsaiketh me, Psalme
40. 13. are not with mee] that is, I have no use of them; I cannot see, Psalme 40. 13. Through faintnesse oft times the eye-sight faileth, 1 Sam.
14. 28, 29. Psalme 13. 4.

12 Verse 12. my plague] or, stroke, touch, burn. The Hebrew useth touching, for striking, or burning any manner of way, Psalme 105. 15.

13 Verse 13. seeke my soule] to kill me. See Psalme 35.
4. woofull evils] in Greeke, vanities; in Chaldee, falsehood.

15 Verse 15. no reprehensions] no arguments, or con- victions.

16 Verse 16. thou wilt answer] or, that thou make an- swer, that is, heare and deliver me, Psalme 3. 5.

17 Verse 17. I said, lest] or, I say, (I thinke) it is to bee feared, lest, &c. An unperfect speech through passion. my foot is moved] that is, slip. This is alwayes in the evill part, when ones estate is changed to worke, Deut. 32. 35. Psalme 66. 9. and 94.
18. and 121. 3. Alike phrase is of moving of the hand, Levit. 25. 35. magnifie] vaunt themselves:
in Greeke, speake great things: See Psal. 35. 26.

18 Verse 18. to halting] to shew my infirmity in my tri- als and afflictions; as Iakob halted, after his wrastling with God, Gen. 32. 31. See Psalme 35. 15.
In the Greeke, I am ready for scourges, that is, to suffer correction and punishment for my finnes: so the Chaldee saith, for calamity.

19 Verse 19. am carefull] or, will shew care, taking thought as for feare of some evill or danger to come. So the originall word importeth, Ioshua 22. 24. 1 Sam.
9. 5. and 10. 2. Esay 57. 11.

20 Verse 20. are alive] or living, that is, lively, just, chearefull, haile, and sound. Or rich, as the word seemeth to meane in Ecclef. 6. 8. are mighty] or strengthened, compacted, by power, riches, number,

&c. See Psalme 35. 18. falsly] or in falsitie, that is, for a false wrong and unjust cause, Psalme 35.
19. So the Greeke translateth it, unjustly.

Verse 21. my adversaries] or, are adverse to me, 21 opposite, to les and hinder me. The Hebrew Satan is hereupon applied to the Devill, who is an adversa- ry to hinder all goodnesse, Zach. 3. 1. Marke 1. 13.
Revelat. 12. 9. So after, Psalme 71. 13. and 109.
4. 6. 20. 29.

PSAL. XXXIX.

Dauids care of his words: 5 his consideration of the brevity and vanity of life; 8 his hope in God, 10 patience and prayer in affliction. 12 Hee confesseth mans weaknesse, and in respect of his short pilgrimage desireth refreshing.

To the master of the musicke, to Ieduthun; a Psalme of David.

I Said I will take heed to my wayes from sinning with my tongue: I will keepe a bridle on my mouth, while the wicked is before me. I was dumbe with stillnesse, I was silent from good, and my paine was troubled. Mine heart was hot within mee,
in my meditation the fire burned, I spake with my tongue. Jehovah, make mee to know mine end, & the measure of my daies
what it is: let me know how soone ceasing I am. Loe, thou hast given my dayes of hand bredths, and my worldly time is as nothing before thee; surely all vanity is every man, though settled Selah. Surely in an image walketh each man, surely in vanity doe they make a stir, hee heapeth up, and knoweth not who shall gather them. And now what expect I Lord? my hopefull expectation it is for thee. Deliver me from all my trespasses, put me not the reproach of the foole. I am dumbe, I will not open my mouth, because thou hast done it. Turne away thy plague from me; by the striking of thine hand I am consumed. With reproofes for iniquity thou chastisest a man, and makest that which is to be desired of his, to melt away
as a moth: surely vanity is every man Selah. Heare my prayer, Jehovah, and mine out-cry, give care unto my teares; cease
not as deafe, for a stranger I am with thee,
a sojourner as all my fathers. Stay from me, and let me refresh my selfe before I goe, and I be not.

Annotations.

- 1 TO Ieduthan] or, for him: and it may be meant not onely for his person, but for his posterity, as Aaron is put for the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. This Ieduthan and his sonnes were singers in Israel with the harpe: hee prophesied for the confessing & giving praise to Jehovah, 1 Chron. 25. 3. So Psalme 77. 1. The Chaldee addeth to the title thus: To praise for the keeping of the house of the Sanctuary, by the mouth of Ieduthan.
- 2 Verse 2. take heed] or, beware, observe. The like speech is used, 1 King 2. 4. from sinning] that is, as the Greeke translateth, that I sinne not, or misse not. If any man sinne not in word, hee is a perfect man and able to bridle all the body, Iam. 3. 2. a bridle] or mouzell: the Greeke turneth it a ward: by this the untamednesse of the tongue is noted, which must by force and watchfulnesse be restrained. See Iames 3. 3. -- 8.
- 3 Verse 3. with stillnesse] or, silentnesse, tamed subjection, as the word often signifieth, Psalme 4. 5. Wherefore the Greeke here turneth it, I was humbled. from good] in Greeke, from good things, which the Chaldee explaineth, the words of the Law. my paine was troubled] my sore was exacerate, renewed (as the Greeke saith,) and increased.
- 4 Verse 4. fire burned] with this speech of David we may compare that of Jeremy; And I said I will not mention him, nor speake any more in his name: but it was in my heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and could no longer, Ierem. 20. 9.
- 5 Verse 5. how soone ceasing] how temporary, fragile, brittle and short-lived; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, when I shall cease out of the world; or, how defective I am: so the Greeke saith, what I lacke, to wit, of the end of my dayes; what is the terme and period of my life.
- 6 Verse 6. of hand breadths] that is, thou hast exactly measured them out, and they are but short. A hand breadth is a short measure, the breadth of foure fingers. my worldly time] my life-time, my temporary age. The Greeke translateth it, my substance; the Chaldee, my body. The Hebrew Cheled, is the world, Psalme 17. 14. used here for mans life-time in this world. So Psalme 89. 48. Iob 11. 17. surely] or, but only. all vanity] or, a meere vapour, all manner vanity, and nothing else. Whatsoever vanity is in the world, may all be scene in man. The Hebrew Hebel is a vanishing vapour, as the breath of ones mouth. To this the Apostle hath reference, saying; What is your life? it is even a vapour, that appeareth for a litle time, and afterward vanisheth away, Iam. 4. 14. every man] or, all mankind: Heb. all Adam. Adam called his second sonne Hebel, that is, vanity, Gen. 4. 2. and here David saith, that all Adam (every man) is Hebel, vanity. Solomon in Ecclesiastes declareth this at large. See also Psalme 62. 10. though settled] or standing, stedfast, and in good estate: in Greeke, living. The Chaldee saith, but all just ones live for ever.

Verse 7. walketh in an image] or, in a shadow, that is, obscurely, changeth daily, leadeth an imaginary life, rather than a life it selfe, and so soone passeth hence; He steeth as a shadow, and abideth not, Iob 14. 2. So Paul saith, the fashion (or image) of this world geeth away, 1 Cor. 7. 31. The Chaldee explaineth it otherwise, walketh in the image of the Lord. make a stirre] or, a tumult; disquieting themselves and one another. be heaped up] that is, any one heapeth up, to wit, goods, and knowes not who shall enjoy them. See Eccles. 2. 18. 19.

Verse 9. put me not] or, expose, make me not to be the reproach of the foole, of Nabal; whereof see Psal. 141.

Verse 10. I am dumbe] or tongue-tied. This is a profession of his patient sufferance of the things laid upon him by God. And so did David carry himselfe, 2 Sam. 16. 10. and Aaron, Levit. 10. 3.

Verse 11. the striking] or, buffeting: this noteth the greatnesse and oft reiteration of his trouble.

Verse 12. melt] that is, consume away. a moth] to wit, as a moth-worme consumeth, or perissheth, which is suddenly, as Iob 4. 19. they are destroyed before the moth. Or, as the moth consumeth garments, so thou with thy rebukes consumest them, as Hos. 5. 12. Iob 13. 28. Esay 50. 9. and 51. 8. that which is to be desired of his] or his desirable; meaning his beauntious grace, best strength, dignity, and every whit of him, that is amiable, to be desired, or liked: which the Greeke expoundeth to be his soule; the Chaldee, his body.

Verse 13. unto my teares] which cry unto God, (as blood is said to cry, Genes. 4. 10.) or, which are joyned with earnest prayers, as Heb. 5. 7. a stranger with thee] This is taken from the Law, Levit. 25. 23. The land is mine, yee are but strangers and sojourners with me. The like acknowledgement is also in 1 Chron. 29. 15. Hence saith the Apostle, They confessed that they were strangers and pilgrimes on the earth, and, they that say such things declare plainly that they seeke a countrey, to wit, an heavenly, Heb. 11. 13. 14. 16.

Verse 14. Stay] or Leave off, to wit, thine anger, or affliction: or, Looke away, shut the eye, as this word sometime signifieth, Esay 6. 10. and let me refresh] or, that I may recover strength. This speech is taken from Iob 10. 20, 21. I goe] to wit, unto death: See Gen. 15. 2. and 25. 32. and 5. 24.

PSAL. XL.

David prophesieth of Christs afflictions and deliverance. 7 the abolishing of legall sacrifices, and the oblation of himselfe. 10 Whereupon the righteousness of God is preached unto the Church 13 His many troubles against which he prayeth. 15 The confusion of his enemies, and joy of those that love his salvation.

To

To the Master of the Musicke, Davids Psalme.

V Vairing, I waited for Jehovah, & he bended unto me, and heard my cry. And hee brought me up out of the pit of sounding calamity, out of the mire of mud, and set up my feet upon a rocke; hee ordered steadily my steps. And he hath given in my mouth a new song, a praise to our God: many shall see and feare, and shall trust in Jehovah. O blessed is the man that putteth Jehovah his secure trust, & respecteth not unto the proud and them that turne aside unto a lye. Thou Jehovah, my God, hast made many thy marvellous works and thy thoughts towards us; none can count them in order unto thee: would I declare & speake of them, they are mightily increast, moe than can be told. Sacrifice and oblation thou wouldst not; mine eares hast thou digged open: burnt offering and sin-offring thou askedst not. Then said I, loe I come; in the roll of the booke it is written of me. My God, I delight to doe thy acceptable will, & thy law is within my bowels. I have preached the glad tidings of justice in the great Church; loe I close not up my lips, Jehovah thou knowest. Thy justice I have not covered within my heart; thy faith & thy salvation have I said: I have not concealed thy mercy and thy truth to the great Church. Thou Jehovah, close not up thy tender mercies from me: let thy bounteous mercy, and thy truth continually preserve me. For innumerable evils have assailed me round about: my iniquities have taken hold on mee, and I am not able to see; they are mightily increased, moe than the haire of my head: and my heart forsaketh me. Vouchsafe, Jehovah, to deliver me: Jehovah, make haste to my helpe. Let them be abashed & ashamed together, that seeke my soule to make an end of it: let them be turned backward, and blush, that delight mine evill. Let them be made desolate, for a reward of their shame, that say to me, aha aha. Let all that seeke thee, be joyfull and rejoyce in thee; let them say continually, magnified be Jehovah; they that love thy salvation. And I, poore afflicted and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art my helpe and my deliverer; my God; delay not.

Annotations.

Davids Psalme] or, a Psalme of David; but Davids name is here set first, which elsewhere commonly is last: or, A Psalme concerning David, that is, Christ, who is called David in the Prophets, Hos. 3. 5. Jer. 30. 9. Ezek. 34. 23. and 37. 24. Of him this Psalme intreateth, as the Apostle teacheth, Heb. 10. 5. 6. &c.

Verse 2. Waiting] or, expecting, the doubling of this word noteth earnestnesse, constancie, patience. bended] to wit, bent, as is expressed, Psalme 17. 6.

Verse 3. pit of sounding calamity] or, dungeon of tumultuous desolation, which echoed and resounded with dreadfull noises, denoting hereby the greatness of Christs afflictions. mire of mud] that is, muddy (or dirty) mire, or clay, signifying fast cleaving afflictions. So Psalme 69. 3.

set up] or stablished, set fast my feet on a rocke, that is, on firm ground, opposed to the former mud.

Verse 5. respecteth not] or turneth not the face; which implieth liking, or inclination of the mind and affections, Job 36. 21. the proud] or slow, that in confidence of their strength carry themselves insolently.

turne aside to a lye] swear (or revolt) to deceivable falsehood; meaning Heretikes and Idolaters.

Verse 6. thy thoughts] thy good meanings, or purposes. none can count in order] or, they cannot be orderly counted, or propounded. The Chaldee paraphraseth, it is not possible for to order unto thee thy praise.

Here the word used for ordering of speech, as in Job 32. 14. Sometime it is used for matching, or comparing; so the Greeke turneth it here, in thy thoughts there is not any thing can be likened to thee. would I] or, if I would declare. mightily increast] or, strong, to wit, in number many; so after in vers 15. see Psal. 35. 18.

above telling] that is, moe than I or any can tell; or, moe than can be told.

Verse 7. thou wouldst not] or dearest not; Christ was to cause the sacrifice and oblation to cease, Dan. 9. 27. because it was impossible that they should purge finnes, Heb. 10. 4. therefore speaketh he thus to God his Father, Heb. 10. 5. mine eares] or, earess to me: see Psal. 3. 1.

digged open] or pierced, that is, thou hast made me obedient to thy voice, (contrary to which is the stopping of the eare, Psal. 58. 5.)

so the Chaldee explaineth it, thou hast digged open mine eares, to hearken unto thy commandments: Or, mine eares thou hast boared, as thy servant forever, according to the law, Exod. 21. 6. The Greeke Interpreters, to make the sense plainer, say, but a body hast thou fitted to me; meaning that his body was ordained and fitted to be a sacrifice for the finnes of the world, when the other legall sacrifices were refused as unprofitable. And thus the Apostle alleageth the words, following the Greeke, Heb. 10. 5, 10.

burnt-offering] sacrifice that groweth all up in fire: See Psal. 20. 4. sin-offering] or, expiation, oblation for sinne, as the Apostle calleth it, Heb. 10. The word sinne is often in the Law put for the sinne-offering, Levit. 4. 24. &c. Exod. 29. 14. So the Apostle saith, Him that knew no sinne, he made sinne (that is, a sinne-offering) for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

Verse 8. Loe I come] or, am come, to wit, into the world, Heb. 10. 5. and particularly, to Ierusalem to give my selfe a sacrifice for sinne. See Marke 10. 32. 33. 34. The Chaldee, not understanding this mysterie, paraphra seth, Loe I enter into life eternall, when I have studied (or exercised my selfe) in the roll of the booke of the law, which is written for me: alluding as it seemeth to Deut. 17. verse 18. 19. 20.

the roll] or volume of the booke, that is, a booke or scroll of paper or parchment, rolled up. The like phrase is used, Jer. 36. 2. &c. Ezek. 3. 9. &c. The Hebrew Sepher, booke, is used generally for any writings, evidences, bills, court-rolls, &c. Deut. 24. 1. 2 King. 5. 5. 6. Jer. 32. 11. & the bookes in Israel were written in long scrolls, and folden or wrapped up. Hence is that phrase, the heavens shall be folden up like a booke, Esay 34. 4. Rev. 6. 14. it is written] So Christ saith, The son of man goeth as it is written of him, Mat. 26. 34. and Moses wrote of me, Ioh. 5. 46. See also Luke 24. 44. 46. Act. 13. 29.

9 Verse 9. thy acceptable will] by the which will we are sanctified, even by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once, Hebr. 10. 10. See also Ioh. 6. 38. Luke 22. 42.

10 Verse 10. I have preached the glad tydings of] or, I have evangelized justice; of this word, the Evangelie or Gospell hath the name, the Greeke signifying Good tidings, and the English also to like effect, made of the Saxon godspell, that is, a good speech. And the justice here meant is thus set forth by the Apostle; Now is the justice of God made manifest without the law, having witness of the law and of the Prophets; namely the justice of God, by the faith of Iesus Christ, unto all and upon all that beleve, &c. Rom. 3. 21. 22. the great church] or, assembly, congregation. So Psalme 22. 23. close not up] restraine not, as in a prison, that words should not be uttered, Jer. 32. 2, 3.

11 Verse 11. I said] that is, mentioned, and spoke of, as 2 Sam. 6. 22. to the great church] the word to is referred to Gods mercy and truth extended to the church. The Greeke referreth it to concealed, and translateth, from the great church. And the Hebrew elsewhere usually speaketh, Psalme 69. 6. and 78. 4. and 139. 15.

13 Verse 13. iniquities] this word as the former evils, is sometime used for sinne, sometime for the punishment of sinne. See Psalme 31. 11.

14 Verse 14. Vouchsafe] or, Let it please thee.

15 Verse 15. to make an end of it] to consume or destroy it. Compare this conclusion with the 70. Psalme.

16 Verse 16. made desolate] or, wondrously wasted, unto amazednesse and astonishment. So after in Psalme 46. 9. and 69. 26. and 73. 19. and 79. 7. for a reward] or, an end of their shame, that they would bring upon me. End is used for reward, as Psalme 19. 12. or, For because of their shame. The Hebrew word sometime signifieth because, Esay 5. 23. Gen. 22. 11. Deut. 7. 12. abs] the Chaldee openeth it with this paraphrase, we are glad at (his) destruction

18 Verse 18. thinketh on me] in Greeke, hath care of me: in Chaldee, thinketh good for me. delay not] prolong not the time till the last, and consequently, faile not. The word is so to tarry or linger, as to dis- appoint one of his expectations, as Habak. 2. 3. Though it tarry, wait thou; for it shall surely come, and shall not delay, that is, not faile. And thus may we understand other like Scriptures, as Deut. 7. 10. God will not delay (that is, not faile) to reward him that hateth him, Deut. 23. 21. when thou vowest a vow to the Lord, thou shalt not delay (that is, not faile) to pay it. So Exod. 22. 29. and sundry the like.

PSAL. XLI.

David prophesieth of Christs poverty and afflictions. 5 His prayer, and complaints of his enemies. 10 Judas his treachery. 11 Christs resurrection and glory, for which he blesteth God.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalme
of David.

O Blessed is hee that prudently attendeth unto the poore weakling: in the day of evill, Jehovah will deliver him. Jehovah will keepe him and preserve him alive, hee shall be made blessed in the earth; and give thou him not to the soule of his enemies. Jehovah will uphold him on the bedsted of languishing sorrow; all his bed thou hast turned in his sicknesse. I did say, Jehovah be gracious to me; heale my soule, for I have sinned against thee. My enemies said evill of me; when shall he die, and his name perish? And if hee come to see, hee speaketh false vanity in his heart, he heapeth up painefull iniquity to him-selfe: he goeth forth, abroad he speaketh it. Together against me whisper doe all that hate me; against me, they thinke evill to mee. A mischievous thing is fastened in him, & he that lieth downe, shall no more rise up. Also the man of my peace, hee whom I trusted in, that eateth my bread, he hath greatly lifted up the heele against me. And thou Jehovah be gracious to me, and raise me up, and I shall repay them. By this I know that thou delightest in me, because my enemy shall not shout triumphantly over me. And me, thou hast sustained me in mine integrity, and hast setled me before thy face for ever. Blessed is Jehovah, the God of Israel, from eternitie, and unto eternitie: Amen, and Amen.

Annotations.

That prudently attendeth] or, skilfully carrieth him-selfe; it implieth both a skilfull minding or judging, and a carriage according in word & deed: therefore therefore the Chaldee paraphraseth, attendeth to the afflictions of the poore to have pitié on him. the poore weakling. The Hebrew Dal hath the signification of diminution, or emptying, and is applied to the weak, lean, sickly, whose flesh and health is spent, Gen. 41. 19. 2 Sam. 13. 4. and to the poore, whose wealth is wasted, Psalme 72. 13. and 113. 7. opposed to the rich, Exod. 30. 15. And as the poore are thus called weak, thine, or lean, so rich and great men, are called thicke, or fat, Psalme 78. 31. The poore weakling created of here, was David and his sonne Christ, as appeareth by the 10 verse, compared with Ioh. 13. 18.

3 Verse 3. preserve him alive] conserve his life and health, as Deut. 20. 16. or restore him to health from sickness, as Hezekiah is said to live, when he recovered his health, Esay 38. 9. 21. give thou him not] hee turneth his speech to the Lord: and so againe in the next verse. to the soule] that is, to the lust or will, as Luke 23. 25. see Psal. 27. 12. The Greeke saith, into the hands: the Chaldee, to the will.

4 Verse 4. lanquishing sorrow] or, of sickness, feebleness. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, The Word of the Lord will helpe him in his life, and will appeare unto him on the bed of his sickness. thou hast turned] or, hast changed. It may be understood either of making his bed easie, that is, comfortable in his sickness, or of changing his estate from lying sicke, to sitting up in health.

5 Verse 5. heale my soule] that is, heale me, who now am sicke: or, heale my soule, of sinnes, infirmities, &c. so God healed the people, when hee pardoned their uncleanness, 2 Chron. 30. 20. and healed the broken hearted, Psal. 147. 3. And that which the Prophet speaketh of healing of the people, the Evangelist expoundeth of forgiving them their sinnes, Esay 6. 10. Marke 4. 12. Mat. 13. 15.

7 Verse 7. abroad] or, in the street.

9 Verse 9. A mischiefous thing] or, Some devillish matter; Heb. a word of Belial. See word for thing, in Psalme 7. 1. and Belial, (which the Chaldee here translateth perverse and wicked.) in Psal. 18. 5. And both joynd as here, in Psal. 101. 3. Dent. 15. 9. It may be understood of some odious sin and wicked vice, or of some grievous punishment for the same. is fastned] or, is poured into him. The originall word signifieth both, and may denote the greatness and fast cleaving of his sinne, and likewise of his punishment: for plagues are said to be poured out, Revel. 16. 1. &c. shall no more rise] or, shall not adde to rise.

10 Verse 10. the man of my peace] that is, my familiar friend which was at peace with me, as Judas Christ's own disciple. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the man that should have sought my peace. greatly lifted up] or, magnified the bee'e, or the foot-sole: that is, hath insolently and contumeliously abused me, seeking my overthrow. And this Christ applyed to himselfe, Ioh. 13. 18. He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up the bee'e against me.

12 Verse 12. shout triumphantly] this word noteth any loud sound with voice or trumpet, as Ioh. 6. 5. 20. Numb. 10. 7. sometime a sorrowfull crying out, as Ierem. 20. 16. but commonly joyfully shouting, as here, and after, Psal. 81. 2. and 47. 2. and 66. 1.

Verse 13. And I] or, As for me.

Verse 14. Amen] or, as the Greeke translateth, So be it. But the Hebrew word Amen is used in the Greeke, English, & all other languages, to betoken unity of faith and spirit: and it implieth both a wishing of the thing so to be, and a persuasion in faith, that so it shall be, when it is added to the end of blessings, prayers, or imprecations, Num. 5. 22. Deut. 27. 15. &c. Mat. 6. 13. 1 Cor. 14. 16. It is used also in the beginning of speeches, and then it is an earnest asseveration, as Ioh. 6. 26. Amen, Amen, that is, Verily, Verily. For so elsewhere, when one Evangelist saith Amen, Mat. 24. 47. an other, (speaking of the same thing) saith, Verily, or, truly, Luke 12. 44. Sometime it is the title of God himselfe, Isa. 65. 16. and of Christ Revel. 3. 14. because of his faithfulness and truth in performing all promises. The Chaldee paraphraseth upon this verse thus, Blessed be the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, from this world, and unto the world to come: and let the just say, Amen and Amen.

The second Booke.

PSAL. XLII.

The Prophet sheweth his desire to appeare before God; 4 his teares for his absence; 6 he speakech himselfe for his weaknesse, 8 complaineth of his troubles, 12 and encourageth his soule to trust in God.

To the Master of the Musicke, an instructing Psalme to the sonnes of Korach.

As the Hinde desirously brayeth for the streames of waters, so my soule desirously braieth unto thee O God. My soule thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appeare before the face of God! My teares have beene to me bread day and night, while they say unto me all the day, where is thy God? These things I remember, & powre out upon me, my soule, because I had passed with the throng, had resorted with them unto the house of God, with voice of shouting and confession, a multitude keeping festivity. Why bowest thou down thy selfe, my soule, and makest thou a tumultuous stirre within me? wait hopefully for God, for yet I shall confesse him: the salvations of his face. My God, within me my soule boweth downe it selfe, for that I remember thee from the land of Iordan and Hermonim, from the little mountaine. Deepe unto deepe calleth, at the voice of thy water-spouts; all thy bil-

lowes

- lowes and thy waves doe passe over me. By day, Jehovah wil command his mercy, and in the night his song with me; a prayer to the 10 God of my life. I will say to God my rock, why hast thou forgotten me, why goe I sad 11 for the oppression of the enemy? With a murdering weapon in my bones, my distressers doe reproach me; when they say unto 12 me all the day, where is thy God? Why bowest thou downe thy selfe, my soule; and why makest thou a tumultuous stirre within me? wait hopefully for God; for yet I shall confesse him; the salvations of my face, and my God.

Annotations.

THe second Booke] to wit, of Psalms. For though they be all compiled in one volume (as were also the small Prophets) which thereupon is called The booke of the Psalms, Act. 1. 20. (as, The booke of the Prophets, Acts 7. 42.) yet in the Hebrew there are five books; the first reacheth to the end of the 41. Psalme fore-going, which is concluded with Amen and Amen. The second, to the 72. Psalme, concluded also with Amen Amen, and the end of Dauids prayers. The third reacheth to the 89. Psalme, concluded likewise with Amen and Amen. The fourth unto the 106. Psalme, whose conclusion is Amen, Hallelujah. The fifth, unto the 150. Psalme, ended with Hallelujah.

- 1 Verse 1. Korah] this was the Levite that rose up and rebelled against Moses and Aaron, for which God destroyed him and his family, and all that tooke part with him, Numb. 16. Howbeit, there were of his sons that died not, Num. 26. 11. departing (as it seemeth) from their fathers Tents, as all were counselled, Numb. 16. 24. 26. Of his race came Samuel the Prophet, and Heman his Nephew was a singer, 1 Chron. 6. 33. To those sons of Korah, this and sundry other Psalms are commended, which for the most part are songs of comfort, against afflictions & sorrowes. The Chaldee expoundeth the title thus, To laud with good understanding by the hands of the sons of Korah.

- 2 Verse 2. As the Hinde] or the Hart, a beast thirstie by nature, and whose thirst is increased when she is hunted. The Hinde, the female is here meant, as the word annexed, she brayeth, and the Greeke article be elapbos, manifest. And in females the passions are stronger than in males. desirously brayeth] in Greeke, desireth. This word is used but here, and in Joel 1. 20. O Lord, the beasts of the field bray also unto thee.

- 3 Verse 3. thirsteth] that is, earnestly desireth: So Psal. 63. 2. Of thirst for Gods grace and spirit, see Isa. 55. 1. Joh. 7. 37. Revel. 22. 17. the living God] so called here, because he is the well of living (that is, of continuall springing) waters, Jer. 17. 13. abundantly refreshing those that come to him. Or, living, is opposed to the dead, that is, false Gods, Psal. 106.

28. 1 Thess. 1. 9. see turned from idols to serve the living and true God. Or, living, that is, lively, powerful, effectually; as Psal. 38. and Neh. 13. 31. the Chaldee saith, living and permanent, before the face of God] that is, before his Arke or Tabernacle wherein he dwelt among men. So, that which in 1 Chron. 13. 10. is before God; in 2 Sam. 6. 7. is, with the Arke of God. And there all men were bound to appeare (or be seene) before God three times a yeare, Exod. 23. 17. and 34. 23, 24. And here the word before or unto, is to be understood, as often in the Hebrew, which sometime is supplied; as may be seene by comparing 2 Sam. 16. 2. with 1 Chron. 19. 2. and 1 King. 22. 29. with 2 Chron. 18. 28. The Chaldee expoundeth it, when shall I goe in to see the brightnesse of the Majesty (or Divine presence) of the LORD.

Verf. 4. to me bread] that is, my bread, my food. So, bread of teares, Psal. 80. 6. they say] my fier, as verf. 11. or while it is said, all the day] or every day, as the Greeke turneth it.

Verf. 5. These things] namely my absence from Gods face, verf. 3. & my adversaries reproach, ver. 4. The Chaldee addeth, These signes I remember, powre out upon me] or shed with me, or by my selfe. This noteth exceeding sorrow, or fainting, like that in Job 30. 16. And now my soule powreth out it selfe upon me, and the dayes of affliction have tooke hold on mee. So 1 Sam. 1. 15. Lament. 2. 12. bring] a multitude preasing to goe before God: the Chaldee expoundeth it a shadow, saying, When shall I goe under the shadow, shall I together be strengthened in the tents of the just, in the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, &c. keeping festivities] or, with a multitude dancing, or keeping a feast. For at their solenne assemblies they kept feasts, Exod. 23. 14. with dancing, eating, drinking and joy, Exod. 32. 5, 6, 19. Judg. 21. 19, 21. Deut. 16. 14, 15.

Verf. 6. Why bowest thou downe] to wit, with sorrow; and therefore the Greeke turneth it, why art thou sorrowfull? For Sorrow or Care in a mans heart boweth it downe, but a good word rejoiceth it, Prov. 12. 25. the salvations] understand, and, or for the salvations, that is, the full salvation, or perfect deliverance: So the Chaldee saith, for the redemption which is from his face. of his face] that is, which his face, favour, and gracious presence giveth unto me. The Greeke readeth thus; the salvation of my face and my God; transplacing the Hebrew letters, as in the last verse. Compare Psal. 59. 10, 18.

Verf. 7. for that I remember] and cannot come before thee; as, verf. 3. or, therefore I will minde thee, seeing I have no way else to comfort mee in my absence from thee. The Chaldee referreth it to others, therefore they remember thee which dwell on the other side of Iordan. the land of Iordan] which lay eastward from Jerusalem where Gods Sanctuary was. and Hermonim] that is, the inhabitants, (or the mountaines) of Hermon, which was a high mount in the North parts of the land, called also mount Shirjon: See Psal. 29. 6. the little mount] so is the Greeke: others make it a proper name, Mount Misfar. Hee may meane the smaller mountaines, that were small in respect of Hermon.

Hermon. Mount being put for mounts, as chariot, for chariots, Psalme 20.8. But the Chaldee much differeth, saying, and the people which received the Law at mount Sinaï (which is) low and little. But that seemeth not to be meant here.

8 Verse 8. Deepe unto deepe calleth] that is, one Affliction (or temptation) followeth and occasioneth another, without intermission of trouble. A deepe abisme, or Gulfe, is a place of many waters, signifying great afflictions, Ezek. 26.19. Ion. 2.5. The Chaldee tranlateth, the higher deepe calleth the lower deepe. billowes] such are most dangerous to drowne: they have their name of breaking, as the next word waves, of wallowing or tumbling; both signifie afflictions. So Psal. 88.8. Ion. 2.3.

9 Verse 9. command his mercy] that is, appoint, or send it with speed, power, and authority: a phrase taken from the Law, and often used for more vehemencie; or because God by his Angels procureth good to his people, Deuter. 28.8. Levit. 25. 21. 2 Sam. 17.14. So after, in Psal. 44.5. & 133.3. and 71.3. & 68.39. and 7.7. and 91.11. his song] that is, cause and matter for me to sing him praise. So God is said to give songs in the night, Iob 35.10. See also Esay 30.29. a prayer] to wit, I shall make a prayer. And some Psalmes are intituled prayers, as Psal. 17.1. & 90. 1. and 102. 1. and 142.1. Habak. 3.1.

10 Verse 10. sad] mournfull. See Psal. 35.14.

11 Verse 11. with a murdering weapon] Reisab, murder seemeth here to be a sword, or weapon of murdering; (as pride is a proud person, Psalme 36.12.) meaning that his adversaries words did sorely afflict & grieve him, as if a dagger had bin thrust into his bones. For, reproachfull words are piercing like swords, Psalme 57.5. and 59.8.

12 Verse 12. salvations of my face] that is, he which giveth me full manifest and apparant salvation, or present deliverance. See before, verse 6. according to which the Chaldee tranlateth it here, for the redemption which is from his face.

PSAL. XLIII.

Hee prayeth to be delivered from the wicked, and restored to Gods Sanctuary. 5 Hee encourageth his soule to trust in God.

1 I Vdge me O God, & plead my plea, from the nation unmercifull, from the man of decit, and injurious evill, do thou deliver me. For thou art the God of my strength, why thrustest thou me away: why go I still
2 sad, for the oppression of the enemy? Send thy light and thy truth, let them lead me, let them bring me unto the mountain of thy holin^{sse}, and unto thy dwelling places. And I
3 will come unto the Altar of God; unto God, the joy of my gladnesse; and confesse thee
4 with harpe, O God my God. Why bowest

thou downe thy selfe, my soule, and why makest thou a tumultuous stirre within me? wait hopefully for God, for yet I shall confesse him; the salvations of my face, and my God.

Annotations.

1 I Vdge me] This meaneth an examination of the cause, giving sentence, and executing of it, by delivering the oppressed: so judging is used for delivering, 1 Sam. 24. 15. 2 Sam. 18. 16. 31. Iudg. 3. 10. Pleading also ones plea is of like meaning: see Psal. 35.1. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Judge me O God with judgement of truth, for it is thy part to plead my plea.

2 Verse 2. my strength] or my strong fort, as Psalme 28. 8. for which in Psalme 42. 10. hee useth the word Rocke.

3 Verse 3. dwelling places] meaning the holy Tabernacle or Sanctuary, which had severall roomes, holy and most holy, parted by veiles; as also the Apostle observeth, Hebr. 9. 2. 3. 6. 7. or, the high place at Gibeon where the tabernacle was, and in Ierusalem where the Arke was, 2 Chron. 2. 3 4. for in both those places God dwelt, and was worshipped. But the first seemeth most proper, because of Psal. 132. 5. See also Psalme. 46. 5. and 84. 2. The Chaldee explaineth the former to be the mount of the house of thy Sanctuary; and these later, the Schooles of the house of thy divine Majesty. By Schooles meaning such places about the Sanctuary as the Doctors fate in, Luke 2. 46.

4 Verse 4. And I will come] or, That I may come, for so the Hebrew phrase may often be resolved: and the new Testament useth both indifferently in the Greeke, as Luke 6. 37. and ye shall not be judged; for which in Matth. 7. 1. it is, that yee be not judged.

to the Altar] Chaldee, to offer an offering upon the Altar. the joy of my gladnesse] that is, author of my gladsome joy, meaning inward joy, outwardly shewing it selfe in gladsome gesture.

5 Verse 5. why bowest, &c.] This verse is the same with Psal. 42. 12. of my face] the Chaldee explaineth it, for the redemption which is from his face, for hee is my God.

PSAL. XLIV.

The Church in memory of former favours when they inherited the Land, 10 complaineth of her present evils, being subject to persecutors. 18 Professing her integrity in greatest afflictions, 24 she fervently prayeth for succour.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, to the sonnes of Korach, an instructing Psalm.

2 O God, with our eares we have heard, our fathers have told to us the work thou wroughtest in their dayes, in 3 dayes of old. Thou wish thy hand didst dispossesse

4 possesse the heathens, and didst plant them; thou didst evill to the peoples, & didst propagate them. For, not by their owne sword inherited they the land, and their arme saved them not; but thy right hand, and thy arme, and the light of thy face, because thou didst
 5 favour them. Thou art he my King, O God;
 6 command the salvations of Iakob. In thee we shall push with the horne our distressers, in thy name we shall tread downe them that rise up against us. For I will not trust in my 7 bow, and my sword shall not save me. For thou hast saved us from our distressers, and 8 our haters thou didst make ashamed. In God we praised all the day, and thy name for ever we will confesse. Selah.
 10 But now thou thrustest away, and makest us ashamed, and goest not forth with our armies. Thou makest us turne backward from 11 the distresser, and they that hate us do spoile for themselves. Thou givest us as sheepe for 12 meat, and fannest us in the nations. Thou sellest thy people for no wealth, & increasest
 13 not by the prizes of them. Thou exposhest us a reproach to our neighbours, a scoffe and a 14 scorne to them that be round about us. Thou puttest us for a parable among the heathens, a 15 nodding of the head among the nations. All the day my ignominie is before me, and 16 the abashing of my face covereth me. For the voice of the reproacher and taunter, for 17 the face of the enemy and selfe avenger. All this is come on us, and we have not forgotten
 18 thee, not dealt falsly against thy covenant. Our heart hath not turned back-19 ward, nor our stepping swarved from thy path. Though thou hast crushed us in the 20 place of Dragons, and hast covered over us with the shadow of death. If we have forgotten 21 the name of our God, and spread out our hands to a strange god. Shall not God
 22 search out this? for hee knoweth the hid 23 things of the heart. But for thee we are killed all the day, are counted as sheepe of 24 slaughter. Stir up, why sleepest thou, Lord?
 25 awake, thrust not away for ever. Wherefore hidest thou thy face, forgettest thou our 26 affliction and our oppression? For our soule is bowed down to the dust, our belly cleaveth
 27 unto the earth. Rise up, for an helpfulnesse to us, and redeeme us for thy mercy sake.

Annotations.

3 D if possesse or, disinherit the nations, meaning the Canaanites, as the Chaldee expoundeth it:

Thou by thy strong band didst cast out the peoples of Canaan, and plantedst the house of Israel. See examples hereof in the Amorites, Num. 21. 32. and the other Kings of Canaan, Jos. 12. seven nations greater and mightier than Israel, Deut. 7. 1. plantedst them to wit, our fathers, the Israelites, as Exod. 15. 17. a figure taken from the planting of vines, whereof see Psalme 80. 9. &c. the peoples that dwelt before in Canaan. So Psal. 106. 34. didst propagate or, send forth, make spread, as the vine sendeth out or disspreadeth the branches, Psalme 80. 12. Ezek. 17. 6.

Verse 4. light of thy face thy favourable countenance in Christ: See the note on Psalme 4. 7. and 89. 16.

Verse 5. thou art he that is, Thou art the same my King (as the Greeke expresseth it:) this noteth Gods unchangeableness. See Psalme 102. 28. command procure by thy commandment. See Psal. 42. 9. salvations of Iakob that is, the full salvation (the absolute deliverance) of thy weake people the posterity of Iakob. See Psalme 14. 7.

Verse 6. push with the horne a speech taken from Moses, Deut. 33. 17. and meaneth a vanquishing or subduing, 1 King. 22. 11. Dan. 8. 4. tread downe or, tread under foot, which signifieth both a subduing or destroying, 2 Chron. 22. 7. and a contempt or setting them at nought, Proverbs 17. 7. and so the Greeke here translateth it, we shall set at nought. So after in Psalme 60. 14, and 108. 14.

Verse 9. In God, we prayed to wit, his actions, salvations, &c. See a like phrase in Psalme 56. 5. 11. and Psalme 71. 6. Or understand, we prayed our selves, that is, gloried, triumphed. And thus the Greeke, In God we shall be prayed; the Chaldee saith, in the word of our God.

Verse 12. sheepe for meat or, of meat, that is, to be eaten. So after, verse 23. sheepe of slaughter, that is, to be slaine. fannest or dispersest, strowest abroad, as the fan that winnoweth, Ier. 4. 11. and 51. 2. So after in Psalme 106. 27.

Ver. 13. for no wealth that is, for a vile price without gaine. God is said to sell his people, when he delivereth them into their enemies hands, as out of his owne possession. So Deut. 32. 30. Likewise in Esay 52. 3. the Lord saith, ye have beene sold for nought, and yee shall be redeemed without money. increasest not or gaineest not by the prices of them; takest no other people in their stead: or increasest, that is, highlyneest not their price.

Verse 15. a parable a by-word, or proverb. This is often used for grave, wise, and princely sentences; as Psalme 49. 5. here in the ill part for a by-word, reproach and fable: so Psalme 69. 12. Iob 17. 6. And thus is fulfilled that which was dreamed, Deut. 28. 37. 1 King. 9. 7. Ier. 24. 9. nodding of the head that is, a mockage, Psa. 22. 8. 9.

Verse 17. taunter or, blasphemer, Num. 15. 30.

Verse 20. of Dragons or, of whale fishes. For the Hebrew word is common both for land and water-dragons or whales: so Psalme 148. 7. And hereby is meant the place of desolation and affliction, as the Greeke here translateth it: See Mal. 1. 3. Isa. 34. 13. Ier. 9. 11. and 10. 22. Job 30. 29. with the

- 21 the shade] or, in the shade: See Psalme 23: 4.
 Verse 21. spread out our hands] or our palmes, that is, have prayed unto: for in prayer they spread out the palmes of their hands, as to receive a blessing from God, 1 Kings 8. 32. Exod. 9. 29. Psal. 143. 6. So the Chaldee explaineth it, spread out our hands in prayer, to the idols of other peoples.
- 23 Verse 23. But for thee] or, For, for thy sake, that is, so farre wee be from following strange gods, as that for thy sake we are killed daily. And this also is a comfort in affliction. See Rom. 8. 36.
- 24 Verse 24. Stir up] to wit, thy selfe. These things are spoken of God after the manner of men, for properly, he that keepeth Israel, stumbereth not, nor sleepech, Psal. 121. 4.
- 26 Verse 26. in the dust] this noteth a base and abject state, Psal. 113. 7. like this is the soule cleaving to the dust, Psal. 119. 25. and putting the mouth in the dust, Lam. 3. 29.
- 27 Verse 27. an helpfullnesse] that is, a full helpe. The Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinary, to increase the signification. So Psa. 63. 8. and 94. 17. See the notes on Psal. 3. 3.

PSAL. XLV.

The Majestie and grace of Christ and his Kingdome.
 11. The duties of the Church, and the benefits thereof.
 14. The glorie of Christians.

1 To the Master of the Musike upon Shoshannim, to the sons of Korach, an instrumentall Psalm; a song of the well-beloved virgins.

- 2 Mine heart hath boiled a good word; I doe say my workes to the King, my tongue the pen of a speedy writer. Thou art much fairer than the sonnes of Adam; grace is powred out in thy lips, therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.
- 3 Gird thy sword upon the thigh, O mightie one, thy glorious majestie and thy comely honour. And in thy comely honour, prosper ride on word of truth, and of meeknesse and of justice: and thy right hand shall teach thee fearfull things. Thy arrows are sharp, peoples shall fall under thee, in the heart of the Kings enemies. Thy throne, O God, is ever and perpetuall, the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness. Thou lovest justice, and hatest wickednesse, therefore God thy God hath anointed thee with oile of joyfulness above thy fellowes.
- 4 Myrrh and Aloes Cassia all thy garments, out of the Ivory palaces, more than they that make thee joyfull. Kings daughters are among thy precious ones, set is the Queen at thy right hand, in fine gold of Ophir. Heare

O daughter, and see and bend thine ear, and forget thy people and thy fathers house. And the King will cover thy beauty, for hee is thy Lord, and bow down thy selfe to him. And the daughter of Tyrus with oblation shall earnestly beseeke thy face, even the rich of the people. The Kings daughter is all glorious within, her clothing is of purled workes of gold. In embroideries shee shall be led along to the King, virgins after her, her fellow-friends brought in to thee. They shall be led along with joyes and gladnesse, they shall enter into the Kings palace. In stead of thy fathers shall be thy sonnes, thou shalt put them for Princes in all the earth. I will make memorie of thy name in every generation and generation, therefore peoples shall confesse thee for ever and aye.

Annotations.

Shoshannim] that is, Six-stringed instruments: for so by comparison with other titles it seemeth here to be meant of muscull instruments: as Shalishim, be three-stringed instruments, 1 Sam. 18. 6. Elsewhere it signifieth six-leaved flowers, that is, Lilies, as Song 2. 6. which may also be minded here. The Hebrew word is derived of Shesh, that is, Six. Like title is in Psa. 69. 1. & 80. 1. The Chaldee expoundeth it, for them that sit in the Synedrion (or Council) of Moses, which was spoken in prophesie by the say of Korah. of the wellbelov'd virgins] Kings daughters and other honourable daughters attending upon and comming with the Queene; the friends of the Bridegroom and Bride, verse 10. 15. who should sing this marriage-song in praise of them. Therefore this Hymne setteth forth Christ in his glory, and his Spouse the Church in her beauty. For Christ is the Bridegroom, and Jerusalem the Bride, Joh 3. 29. Rev. 21. 9, 10. all true Christians are Virgins, for their spirituall chastity, Rev. 14. 1, 4. following and loving the Lambe; for the sweet odour of his Name or Gospel, Song 1. 2. and are beloved of him, and have this new song of praise put into their mouthes. Of him is this Psalm, as the Apostle expoundeth it, Hebr. 1. 8.

Verse 2. hath boiled] or frierd, boileth as in a frying-pan, that is, hath studied and prepared by fervent meditation. A similitude taken from the Mincab or Mear-offering in the Law, which was dressed in the frying-pan, Lev. 7. 9. and there boiled in oile, being made of fine flower unleavened, mingled with oile, Levit. 2. 5. and after was presented to the Lord by the Priest, verse 8, &c. Here the matter of this Psalm is as the Mincab or oblation, which with the oile, the grace of the spirit, was boiled and prepared in the Prophets heart, and now presented. So the Psal. 141. is likewise compared to the Mincab or oblation presented at evening, Ps. 141. 2. This word is not elsewhere read in the Scripture. a good word] an excellent, sweet and pleasant matter. A word is used often for a thing or matter, Psal. 41. 9. here it is for the whole Argument of this Psalme. I doe say] or, I am saying, that which fervently boileth in me. For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. my workes to the King] my Poems of the King; that is, of Christ; concerning him, and dedicated to him in this Psalme or Ditty. my tongue, the pen] understand, it is as the pen; or Prayerwise, be it as the pen. The Chaldee addeth, my tongue shall speak swiftly, as the pen, &c. of a speedy writer] or of a swift (a ready) Scribe. So Ezra was called not onely for writing, but also for interpreting the Law, Ezra 7. 6. Scribes were both Seriveners or Notaries, 2 Kin. 18. 10. & 22. 3. and Expositors of the Law, or Counsellors, Mat. 23. 2. 1 Chron. 27. 32.

3 Verse 3. thou art much fairer] The Hebrew word is of double forme, to note out double, that is, very excellent beautie. This fairnesse is not of body only, but of minde, in wisdom, holinesse, &c. as in Ezek. 28. 7. there is mentioned beautie of wisdom. Here the Psalmist beginneth his speech to Christ and of his praises: which the Chaldee Paraphrast explaineth thus; thy fairnesse O King Christ, exceedeth the sons of men. See the description of Christs spirituall beautie in Song 5. 10. 16. grace is powred out in thy lips] that is, thou speakest gracious words abundantly. Christs lips were like Lillies dropping downe pure myrrh, Song 5. 13. all that heard him speake, wondred at the words of grace that proceeded out of his mouth, Luke 4. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth it, The Spirit of prophesie is given into thy lips. therefore] to the end that thou shouldest powre out thy gracious words to men: or because God hath blessed thee.

4 Verse 4. Gird thy sword] that is, make ready to the fight, Exod. 32. 27. 1 Samuel 15. 13. Song 3. 8. The spirituall sword is the word of God, Eph. 6. 17. Therefore Christs sword properly commeth out of his mouth, Rev. 1. 16. and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked, Isa. 11. 4. upon the thigh] understand, thy thigh. The Hebrew often omiteth words of this sort easie to be understood; so the Greeke in the new Testament, as mending the nets, Mark. 1. 19. or mending their net, Mat. 4. 21. to put away, Mark. 10. 4. for, to put her away, Matth. 19. 7. and many the like. O mighty one] or Champion; Hebrew, Gibbor, one of the titles of Christ, Isa. 9. 6. The Chaldee paraphraseth, as a mightie one to kill Kings and Rulers. thy glorious Majestie] this sheweth of what manner sword he speaketh, called glory and comelinesse, or magnificence, because of the powerfull effects. Of these words, see Psal. 8. 2, 6.

5 Verse 5. prosper ride] that is, ride prosperously: see the like phrase, Psalm. 51. 4. The Chaldee openeth it thus; Thine honour is great, therefore thou shalt prosper, to ride upon the Throne of the kingdom. on word of truth] which is the Gospel of our salvation, Ephes. 1. 13. the white Horse whereon Christ rideth, Rev. 19. 11. or because of truth; for the truths sake. The Hebrew al debar is often used for because, Psal. 79. 9. Gen. 43. 18. Deut. 23. 24.

and so the Greeke version hath it here. of meeknesse] so Christ came riding meeke, Mat. 21. 5. and his word is both to be taught and to be received with meeknesse, 2 Tim. 2. 25. Jam. 1. 21.

and of justice] or meeknesse of justice, that is, justice meekly administred: but the Greeke supplieth the word and. shall teach thee] or, let it teach thee fearfull things. In the Greeke it is, thy right hand will guide thee marvellously.

Verse 6. Thy arrows] that is, thy words where- by thou convincest and beatest downe sinne and sinners. So the rider on the white Horse hath a bow when he goeth to conquer, Revel. 6. 2. Arrows are words, Psal. 64. 4. or judgements, Deuter. 32. 23. and the Chaldee here addeth, Thine arrows are drawne out to kill multitudes. in the heart] understand, they pierce the hearts of the Kings enemies. And this noteth the efficacy of these words or judgements, as elsewhere he saith, I will send all my plagues upon their hearts, Exod. 9. 14. also their inward operation which is mighty, dividing asunder the soule and the spirit, discerning the intents of the heart, casting downe imaginations, and bringing into captivitie every thought, Heb. 4. 12. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5.

Verse 7. Thy throne O God] The Chaldee addeth, in heaven. Here Christ our King is magnified as God above the Angels, as the Apostle sheweth, Heb. 1. 8. But unto the Son he saith, thy throne O God is for ever, &c. Hereby also is meant the perpetuities of Christs kingdome. So 1 Chron. 22. 10. 2 Sam. 7. 16. a Scepter of righteousness] or, a rod, (a Mace) of equitie, plaine and righteous in administration. hath anointed thee] of this Hebrew Masbach, hath anointed, our Lord is called Masbiach or Messias, and in Greeke Christ, that is, Anointed: see Psalm. 2. 2. oyle of joy] the holy Ghost which joyeth the heart, Luke 4. 18. 1 Thel. 1. 6. above thy fellows] that is, above all Christians who are thy fellows, comforts, and partners in the anointing, 1 Joh. 2. 20, 27. who are also made Kings and Priests, Revel. 5. 10. and with whom thou hast taken part of flesh and blood, Heb. 2. 14. Or by fellows, may be meant all Kings and Potentates whom he excelleth, Psal. 89. 28.

Verse 9. Myrrh] named of the Hebrew word Mor, and is the gumme or liquor of a tree, in taste bitter, in smell odoriferous; therefore it was used in the precious ointment of the high Priest, and Tabernacle, Exo. 30. 23. and in other sweet perfumes; Est. 2. 12. Prov. 7. 17. See Song 4. 14. and 5. 1, 13. Aloes] of the Hebrew name Abalib, a sweet wood wherewith perfumes were also made, Num. 21. 7. Song 4. 14. The Arabians call it, sandal. Cassia] or Cassies, also of the Hebrew Kassioth, elsewhere it is not found in Scripture. It seemeth to be the barks or skins of that sweet shrub Cassia mentioned in Plinie, lib. 12. cap. 20. all thy garments] that is, they be of them, or smell of them, or are anointed with them: or, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, are perfumed with them. out of the Ivorie palaces] or palaces of Elephants, such; as the Chaldee here addeth the name of the Elephants, meaning that either the King commeth out of them, or, the garments were taken out of

of such palaces or coffers. Kings palaces were sometime made of Ivorie or tooth, 2 King. 22. 39. more than they that make thee joyfull] or, than theirs that make thee glad: that is, thy garments are more odoriferous than the garments of thy fellowes, forementioned verse 8. For though the Spouse or Church hath the savour of her odours, better than all spices, and the smell of her garments as the odour of Lebanon, she being perfumed with myrrh, and incense, and all spices of the merchants, Song 4. 10, 11. and 3. 6. yet Christ himselfe is more odoriferous, even wholly delectable, for God hath not given him the Spirit by measure, Song 1. 2. and 5. 16. Joh 3. 34. And the Saints are said to make Christ joyfull, for all his delight is in them, Psal. 16. 3. Song 7. 6.

10 Verse 10. Kings daughters] These the Chaldee interpreteth Countries of Kingdomes. among thy precious ones] that is, with thy honourable women: or, in thy preciousnesses, that is, are in thy precious honourable ornaments, or palaces. set is the Queene] or, married Queene, (the wife) is placed at thy right hand, that is, in the most honourable place, 1 Kings 2. 19. The Chaldee referreth this to the Booke of the Law, at the right hand of the King. The word Shegal is used here, and Nehemiah 2. 6. Dan. 5. 23. for the Kings wife, the Queene in fine gold] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, cloth of fine (or glistering) gold, called Cerben; a speciall name for the most pure and spendant gold, Job 28. 16, 19. and 31. 24. Song 5. 11. Daniel 10. 5. Hereof is Mickam, Psal. 16. 1. of Ophir] that is, out of the land of Ophir, who was the son of Iektan, the son of Shem, the son of Noach, Gen. 10. 29. who dwelt in a part of India, and of him the country was called Ophir: from thence was much Cerben or fine gold brought to Judea and other coasts, as appeareth 1 Kings 9. 28. and 10. 11. and 22. 48. 1 Chro. 29. 4. The gold it selfe was called by his name Ophir, Job 22. 24.

11 Verse 11. Heare O daughter] He speaketh to the Queene fore-mentioned, figuring the Church, or heavenly Ierusalem, the Lambs wife, Revel. 21. 9, 10, &c. And so the Chaldee paraphraseth, Heare O congregation of Israel, the Law of his mouth, and see his marvellous workes: and bow thine eare to the words of the Law, and forget the evill workes of the wicked of thy people, and the house of Idols whom thou servedst in thy fathers house. and thy fathers house] As man and wife must leave their parents, to cleave each to other, Genesis 4. 24. and 31. 14. so must we leave all, to cleave unto Christ, Matthew 10. 37. Luke 14. 26.

12 Verse 12. will covet thy beauty] will delight himselfe in thy fairness, (thy sanctitie;) set forth in Song 1. 14. and 2. 14. and 4. 1, &c. So the King is tied in the rapiers, Song 7. 5. and bow downe] or, therefore worship thou him.

13 Verse 13. the daughter of Tyre] that is, the people, or Common-wealth of Tyre; as daughter of Sion, Psal. 9. 15. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, They that dwell in the fort of Tyre. Tyre or Tyrus (in Hebrew Tfor, which signifieth a Rock or Fortress) was a strong citie appertaining to the tribe of Aser, Jos. 19. 29. but possessed still by the heathens, whose King Hiram became friend to David, 2 Sam. 5. 11. and to Solomon his sonne, 1 Kings 5. 1, 2, &c. yet afterwards Tyrus remembered not the brotherly covenant, Amos 1. 9. but rejoyced at the desolation of Ierusalem, Ezek. 26. 2. banded it selfe with other enemies against Israel, Psal. 83. 8. and was wasted of Nebuchadnezar King of Babel, by Gods judgement, 70. yeares, Esa. 23. 15. Ezech. 26. 7. It continued under idols till the Macchabees times, and then had still Hercules for their chiefe God, 2 Mac. 4. 18, 19. This one citie Tyre is here named in stead of other nations, because it was the chiefe citie of traffique in the world, being an Ile in the Sea, whose merchandise and magnificence the Prophet largely describeth, Ezek. 27. her merchants were Princes, her chapmen the Nobles of the world, Esa. 23. 8. she beaped up silver as dust, and gold as the myre of the streets, Zacharie 9. 3. Of the subjection here prophesied, which they should yeeld unto the Church, we may see it fulfilled in the New Testament, where many that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon flocked after Christ, Marke 3. 8. and he resorted into their borders, Mar. 7. 24. and by their readinesse, he upbraided the backwardnesse of the Jewes, Mar. 11. 20, 21. and afterwards in the Apostles daies there was a Church of zealous Christians in that Citie, Act. 21. 3, 4, 5, &c. See also Psal. 87. 4. earnestly beseeke thy face] shall instantly pray (or sue) unto thee O Queene. The originall word naturally signifieth to make sicke or sorry, and being joyned with the word face (which oft is used for anger) it meaneth, to abate the anger by importunate prayer and by humble sute to prevaile. So after, Psal. 119. 58. rich of the people] the wealthy among them, meaning of the Tyrans, which were a wealthy nation, and generally other peoples. See Esa. 60. 1, 3, 5, 11. and 49. 23. Revel. 21. 24, 26. where the riches and honour of the Gentiles are brought to the Church.

Verse 14. glorious within] or honourable inward, in the heart adorned with faith, hope, love, &c. or in the inner man, as Ephesians 3. 16. Here the Chaldee maketh this paraphrase; Every thing that is praise-worthy, faire and to be desired, the wealth of countries and treasures of Kings, which are laid up within, shall they offer for oblations before the King, and gifts unto the Priests, whose garments are woven with fine gold. purled workes] or grounds, closures of gold, such as precious stones are set in, Exodus 28. 11, 14. Compare also herewith, Ezekiel 16. 13.

Verse 15. In embroideries] with broidered (or neede wrought) garments. Hereby is meant the varietie of graces, and embroidery of the spirit. So Ezek 16. 10.

Verse 17. In stead of thy fathers] Here the Hebr. is of the masculine gender: so these words are spoken to the King. Though sometime the masculine is used in speech of women, as Num. 27. 7. So labem, 1 King. 22. 17. laben, 2 Chron. 18. 16. shall be thy sons] thy children shall succeed, meaning either all Christians, that by the immortall seed of the word are begotten to Christ and his Church, he being the father, this the mother of us all, Isa. 9. 6. Gal. 4. 26. or in speciall, the Apostles may be intended. See Heb. 2. 13. shalt put them] shall place, constitute, or appoint them for Princes: As all Christians are called Kings, Rev. 1. 6. & 5. 10. Or in speciall, by the Fathers, may be meant the 12 Patriarchs, by the sonnes, the 12 Apostles succeeding them, as the heavenly Ierusalem hath at the 12 gates, the names of the 12 tribes, and in the foundations of the wall, the names of the lambs 12 Apostles, Revel. 21. 12, 14. which Apostles were sent into all the nations of the world, Mat. 28. 19. to goe and bring forth fruit, and their fruit to remaine, Joh. 15. 16. Like this is the promise made for Sarah, that Kings of peoples should come of her, Gen. 17. 16.

- 18 Verse 18. I will make memorie] will mention and make to be remembred. The inditer of this Psalme speaketh this to Christ, and of his eternall kingdom and glorie. shall confesse thee] shall celebrate, or praise thee. The Hebrew is Iebodu, of it Iebuda had his name, Gen. 29. 35. from which name his blessing was derived, thou art Iudab, thy brethren (Iodu) shall confesse thee, Genesis 49. 8. This here is fitly applied to Christ the Lion of the Tribe Iudab, Revelation 5. 5. and aye] or, and to perpetuallie.

PSALME XLVI.

The confidence which the Church hath in God. 5 The river that maketh glad the citie of God. 6 His presence and helpe from enemies. 9 An Exhortation to behold his workes.

- 1 To the Master of the Musicke, to the sons of Korach, upon Alamothe a song.
- 2 God will be to us an hopefull shelter and a strength, a helpe in distresses
- 3 we shall find very great. Therefore
- 4 we will not feare though the earth change, and though the mountaines be moved into the heart of the seas. Though the waters thereof make a noise, be muddy, though the mountaines quake for the haughtinesse thereof Selah. A river, the streames thereof shall
- 5 make glad the citie of God, the holy, the dwelling places of the most high. God in
- 6 the mids of it, it shal not be moved, God will helpe it at the looking forth of the morning.
- 7 The Nations made a noise, the Kingdomes were moved, he gave his voice, the earth
- 8 melted. Jehovah of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob a high refuge for us Selah. Come
- 9 on, behold the workes of Jehovah, who putteth wondrous desolations in the earth. He
- 10 maketh wars to cease unto the utmost end of the earth, he breaketh the bow and cutteth

the speare, the chariots he burneth in fire. Surcease and know that I am God: I will be exalted in the nations, I wil be exalted in the earth. Jehovah of hosts is with us, the God of Jakob, a high refuge for us Selah.

Annotations.

ON Alamothe] This seemeth to be some musical instrument, or tune, 1 Chron. 15. 20. We may call it Virginals, or Virgin tunes, having high and shrill voices or notes: for Alamothe signifieth also Virgins, Song 1. 2. The originall word Alamo signifieth Hid: whereupon the Greeke translateth it here, κρυβιον, bidden ones, or bid things. And the Chaldee after mention of the sonnes of Korah, addeth, By their hand was it spoken in prophesie, as what time their father was bidden from them, but they were delivered and said this Song. If it be not referred to the Musicke, it seemeth rather to intend the hid counsels of God appertaining to his Church in Christ.

Verse 2. we shall find] to wit, an helpe: or in distresses that we shall find, as in Psa. 116. 3 distresse and sorrow I did find; that is, did feele, or fall into. And thus the Greeke saith here, in tribulations that have found us vehemently. Or we may translate it, be is found, that is, God is present, at hand; as in Gen. 19. 15. thy daughters which are found, that is, which are present. very great] or very mightie, vehement.

Verse 3. though the earth] or, when the earth change, to wit, her place. By the changing of the earth, and removing of the mounts, are often meant the alteration of states and policies, Hag. 2. 22, 23. Revelation 6. 14. Jeremie 51. 25. beats of the seas] that is, the middest, or deepest bottomes of them, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the Gulse of the great sea. The like phrase is in Exod. 15. 8. Jonas 2. 3. Prov. 23. 34.

Verse 4. be muddy] or cast up mud, that is, rage or be troubled, as the Greeke translateth it, Waters, are peoples, Rev. 17. 15. Jer. 47. 2. and their restless stirre is likened to the seas that cast up myre and dirt, and foame out their owne swaine, Isa. 57. 20. Jude verse 13. for the haughtinesse] the proud swelling rage and surges.

Verse 5. A river, the streames thereof] or, There is a flood, whose riverets (or streames.) In the earthly Ierusalem this may be meant of the river Kidron, 2 Samuel 15. 23. Job 18. 1. and the streames or lesser rivers of Gibon and Shiloah, 2 Chron. 32. 4, 30. Isa. 8. 6. In the heavenly Ierusalem, there is a pure river of the water of life, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lambe, Revelation 22. 1. Ezekiel 47. 1, &c. See also Joel 3. 18. Genesis 2. 10. Psalm. 65. 10. But as waters sometimes signifieth peoples, so here the Chaldee paraphraseth, people as floods, and the streames of them shall come and make glad the citie of God, and shall pray in the house of his Sanctuarie of the Lord, in the Tabernacles of the most High. the citie of God] that is, Ierusalem, called also the citie of

of the great King, Psal. 48. 3. the citie of Iehovah, Isa. 60. 14. the holy citie, Esay 52. 1. Matth. 4. 5. the holy] meaning the holy place Sion, or the Sanctuarie there. dwelling places] or habitacles; see Psalm. 43. 3. Esay 4. 5.

6 Verse 6. at the looking forth of the morning] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, very early, when the morning peereth, or sheweth the face. The like phrase is in Exodus 14. 27. Judges 19. 26. and so of the looking forth of the evening, Genes. 24. 63. Deuteronomie 23. 11.

7 Verse 7. gave his voice] that is, spake aloud, or thundered; see Psal. 18. 14. or, gave with his voice: but the word with or in seemeth to be superfluous in the Hebrew, as elsewhere, Jer. 12. 8. Psa. 68. 34. So to seeke in Iehovah, 2 Chron. 34. 26. is to seeke Iehovah, 2 King. 22. 18. The Chaldee referreth it to Gods voice on mount Sinai; when he gave the Law to his people, the nations were troubled, the kingdomes trembled. melted] that is, was dismayed with feare. So Psal. 75. 4. and 107. 26. Exod. 15. 15. Amos 9. 5, 13. Ios. 2. 9.

10 Verse 10. chariots] or round shields, as both the Greeke and Chaldee Paraphrast here taketh it: but elsewhere it is not so found, but for wagons very often.

11 V. 11. Surcease] or, Leno off: see Psal. 37. 8. The Chaldee expounds it of Surceasing from wars.

PSAL. XLVII.

The nations are exhorted cheerfully to entertaine the kingdome of Christ.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, to the sons of Korach, a Psalm.

2 All peoples clap ye hands, shout triumphantly to God with voice of shrilling. For Iehovah is high, fearfull, a great King over all the earth. He hath subdued peoples under us, and nations under our feet. He hath chosen for us our inheritance, the high excellencie of Jacob, whom he loveth Selah. God is gone up with triumph, Iehovah with voice of trumpeter. Sing Psalm to God sing Psalm; sing Psalm to our King sing Psalm. For God is King of all the earth; sing an instructing Psalm. God reigneth over the heathens, God sitteth on the throne of his holinesse. The bounteous Princes of the peoples are gathered, the people of the God of Abraham, for the shields of the earth are Gods; vehemently is hee exalted.

Annotations.

2 Clap hands] or the Palmes; Hebrew, the palm: a signe of joyfull approbation, used at other times, so at the coronation of Kings, 1 King.

11. 12. So after Psa. 98. 8. voice of shrilling] that is, a shrill voice and joyfull. See the notes on Psal. 5. 12. and 41. 12.

4 Verse 4. He hath subdued] or will subdue: So in the next verse, He will chuse; but the time to come is often used for the time past or continued. And here it seemeth to be spoken of the subduing of the Canaanites, and the future subduing of nations to Christ, by preaching of the Gospel. Of subduing, see Psal. 18. 48. the Chaldee here translateth it, kill.

5 Verse 5. our inheritance] the land of Canaan, Psal. 78. 55. and that immortall undefiled heritage reserved in heaven for us, 1 Pet. 1. 4. high excellencie] or glorious highnesse; meaning the kingdome, Priesthood, Temple, &c. (as the Chaldee mentioneth, the house of the Sanctuarie:) whereby Jacobs posteritie excelled, Ezek. 24. 21. Amos 6. 8. and 8. 7. Nahum 2. 2. and all the heavenly promises given to the Church in Christ.

6 Verse 6. God is gone up] as when the Arke went up from Kirjath-jearim to Ierusalem, 2 Sam. 6. 15. 1 Chron. 13. 8. & 15. 28. when the Arke was carried by Solomon into the Temple, 2 Chro. 5. when Christ ascended with triumph into heaven, Luke 24. 51, 52. and with like glory shall he come againe, 1 Thes. 4. 16. Act. 1. 9, 11. The Chaldee referreth this Going up, to the Exalting of Gods name.

7 Verse 7. an instructing Psalm] Maschil, the title of Psalm. 32. and many others, here used in like sense for a Psalm to give instruction; or, as in Psalm. 14. 2. for a prudent understanding person; in this sense, sing Psalm every one that is prudent; or, as the Greeke explaineth it, sing prudently; the Chaldee, with good understanding.

9 Verse 9. throne of his holinesse] Greeke, his holy throne. See Psal. 9. 5. Rev. 4. 2. The Chaldee calleth it, the throne of his glorie.

10 Verse 10. The bounteous Princes] or, the voluntaries, Nobles. A name given to the liberall and free hearted, Isa. 32. 5, 8. Exo. 35. 21, 29. and to Princes or Nobles, Numb. 21. 18. Psal. 113. 8. and 118. 8. Job 12. 21. So here the Greeke hath Princes. are Gods] or, to God (belong) the shields of the earth: He is the great conquerour and protectour of all, Gen. 15. 1. Shields also are Magistrats and Governours, that protect the Commonweales, Hof. 4. 18. Psa. 89. 19. So the Greeke here hath, the strong men of the earth.

PSAL. XLVIII.

God is magnified for the ornaments, privileges, and protection of the Church.

1 A song a Psalm, to the sons of Korach.

2 Great is Iehovah, & praised vehemently in the citie of our God, the mountaine of his holinesse. Faire in situation, the joy of all the earth is mount Sion, in the sides of the North; it is the citie of the

G g g g g g 3 great

4 great King. God in the lofty places there-
 5 of, knowne he is for an high refuge. For loe
 6 the Kings were assembled, they went toge-7 ther. Themselves saw, so they wondered;
 8 they were suddenly troubled, they were 9 frightened away. Trembling tooke hold on 10 them there; paine, as of her that travellet
 11 with childe. With an East wind thou wilt 12 breake asunder the ships of Tarshish. Even 13 as we have heard, so have we seene; in the 14 citie of Jehovah of hosts, in the citie of our 15 God; God will establish it for ever Selah.
 Wee have quietly minded thy mercie; O
 God, in midst of thy Palace. As thy name, O God, so thy praise unto the ends of the earth; thy right hand is full of justice. Let mount Sion rejoyce, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgements.
 13 Compasse ye Sion, and goe round about it; 14 tell the towers thereof. Set your heart on the fort therof, distinctly view the lofty Pa-15 laces thereof, that ye may tell to the generation after. That this God is our God, ever and aye; he will guide us untill death.

Annotations.

1 Somes of Korach] See the notes on Psalm. 42. 1.
 Shore the Greeke addeth, for the second (day) of the Weeke, that this Psalme was then to be sung in the Temple, as is before noted on Psal. 24. 1.

2 Verse 2. the mountaine] in the Greeke, his holy mountaine; in Chaldee, the mount of the house of his Sanctuarie. This was mount Sion, verse 3. a figure of the Church of Christ, Heb. 12. 22. Rev. 14. 1.

3 Verse 3. Faire in situation] or, Beautifull of coast, or climate; situate in a faire climate or region.
 The Chaldee expounds it, Faire as a Bridegroom, the joy of all that dwell on the earth. the sides of the North] the place where the Temple was builded.
 So Isa. 14. 13. of the great King] that is, of God, who dwelt in this Citie, verse 9. Zach. 8. 3.

 Hereupon Christ said, Swear not by Ierusalem, for it is the citie of the great King, Mat. 5. 35.

4 Verse 4. lofty Palaces] or high Bowers, or Steeples. So verse 14. and Psal. 122. 7.

5 Verse 5. the Kings] we may referre this either to the Kings of Moab and Ammon, in the daies of Josaphat, 2 Chronic. 20. or to Sennacherib and his Captaines in the daies of Ezekiah, 2 Kings 18.
 19. or to the Philistian Princes, 2 Samuel 5.
 were assembled] or came together, to wit, by agreement at an appointed time and place; so the originall word importeth.

7 Verse 7. that travellet with childe] or, that bringeth forth. And this paine is great, and sudden, and inevitable. See Mic. 4. 9. 1 Thes. 5. 3.

8 Verse 8. an East wind] which is strong and boystrous, also dry and parching, Isa. 27. 8. Jer. 18. 17.
 Exod. 14. 21. and 10. 13. Gen. 41. 7. Ezek. 19. 12.

Jon. 4. 8. Hereupon the Greeke translateth it, vilent wind; and the Chaldee, a strong East wind as a fire from before the Lord. of Tarshish] or, of the Ocean sea. Tarshish was the name of the son of Javan, the son of Iapheth, the son of Noah, Gen. 10.
 4. of whom Tarsus (mentioned in Act. 21. 34.)
 the chiefe citie of Cilicia in Syria had the name.
 From thence they went by shipping into farre Countries, Africa, India, Ophir, &c. 1 Kings 22. 48. and 10. 22. Hereupon that Sea was called Tarshish; and generally the name is applied to every Ocean, or maine sea.

Verse 10. we have quietly minded] or, in silence thought upon; and consequently, waited for.

Verse 12. daughter of Iudah] the lesser cities of that tribe, which were as daughters to the mother Citie Ierusalem, as the lesser Cities of the Ammo-nites were daughters to Rabbah, Jer. 49. 3. So Ekron with her daughters, Jos. 15. 45. and many the like.
 So Psal. 97. 8.

Verse 13. tell the towers] number, count them: These things seeme to intend not only a taking notice,
 but also a care and fortification of Ierusalem against all enemies. See Esay 33. 18.

Verse 14. Set your heart] minde earnestly, set your affections on, as Psal. 62. 11. the fort] or strong frontier, skince, rampart, made for strength and safeguard of the citie, 1 Kings 21. 23. 2 Sam.
 20. 15. So Psal. 122. 7. The Chaldee understands it of the strength of people, the multitude. distinctly view] or lift up, meaning the eyes to behold, or reare up the bankes or buildings. The Hebrew Passu is here only used; of it is Pisgah, the name of an hill or mount, Num. 21. 20. and 33.
 14. Deut. 3. 17. and 34. 1. The Greeke translateth here, distinguish or distribute, following the Chal-
 dee Passu, which is to distribute or divide.

Verse 15. ever and aye] for ever and yet, to eternitie and perpetuities. will guide us] or lead us to wit, as a flocke of sheep, Psal. 78. 52. 72. the fort the Greeke turneth it, poimant, he will feed, or rule as a shepherd. A like phrase is also used in speech of defence from enemies, 2 Chronicles 32. 22. will death] in Greeke, for ever. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, For this God is our God, his divine Majestie is within it, and his dwelling is in the heavens for ever and ever; he will lead us in the daies of our youth.

PSALME XLIX.

All are exhorted to heare Christs wisdom and parables. 7 To build the faith of Resurrection from the dead,
 not on worldly power, but on God. 17 Worldly prosperitie is not to be admired, for man without understanding per-risbeth like the beast.

To the Master of the Musicke, to the sons of Korach, a Psalme.

HEARE ye this, all peoples; hearken
 ye all inhabitants of the transitorie world. Both sons of base man, and sons

sons of noble man, together rich and poore.
 4 My mouth shall speake wifdomes; and the 5 meditations of my heart, prudencies. I will incline mine eare to a parable, I will open 6 with harp mine hidden matter. Why should I feare in the daies of euill, when the iniquity 7 of my footsteps shall compasse me? They that trust in their wealthy power, and glory 8 in the multitude of their riches. A man shall not redeeming redeeme his brother, shal not 9 give to God his ransome. So precious shall be the redemption of their soule, and it shall 10 cease for ever. That he may live yet to continuall aie, may not see the pit of corruption.
 11 For he seeth the wise doe die, together the unconstant foole and brutish doe perish, and 12 leave to others their wealthy power. Their inward thought is, that their houses shall be for ever, their dwelling places to generation and generation; they proclaime their names 13 on lands. But man in honour doth not lodge
 a night; he is likened to beasts that are silen-14 ced. This their way is unconstant folly to them, and their posteritie like well of their 15 mouth Selah. As sheep they are put in hell, death shal feed them, and righteous men shal have rule over them at the morning, and their forme weare away in hell, from his 16 dwelling place. But God will redeeme my soule from the hand of hell, for he will re-17 ceive me Selah. Feare thou not when a man shall grow rich, when the glory of his house 18 shall be multiplied. For he shall not when he die take any thing, his glory shal not descend 19 after him. Though in his life he blesseth his soule, and they will confesse thee, when thou 20 doest good to thy selfe. It shall come unto the generation of his fathers, unto continuall 21 aye, they shall not see the light. Man in honour, and understandeth not, he is likened to beasts that are silenced.

Annotations.

2 The transitorie world] see Psal. 17. 14.
 3 Verse 3. base man] in Hebrew Adam, who was so called of Adamah the earth, whereupon this title is given to the baser sort of people. The Greeke translateth it here Earth-borne. So the Apostle saith, the first man of the earth, earthly, 1 Cor. 15. 47.
noble man] in Hebrew Isb, which is the name of man respect of beat, valour, noblenesse and dignitie, whereby man is, and excelleth; and in opposition to the former word Adam, it meaneth the great or nobler sort of people. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Both sons of Adam the first; and sons of Jakob, together righteous and sinners.

Verse 4. wifdomes] that is, excellent and manifold wifdome; so after, prudencies, for very excellence pru- dence, and of sundry sorts. So Solomon calleth the chiefe and most excellent wifdome, wifdomes,
 Prov. 1. 20. and 9. 1.

Verse 5. a parable] or a proverbe in Hebrew Ma-
shal, which denoteth rule, superioritie or excellencie, because such speeches prevaile much in the minds of men, and are in esteeme. The new Testament in Greeke tranllateth it, a parable, Matth. 13. 35.
 from Psal. 78. 2. of the Latine, we name it a Pro- verbe: in old English or Saxon, it was called a big-spel. Sometime it is used in the euill part, for a by-word, Psal. 44. 15. and 69. 12. mine bidden
matter] my darke question, or grave doctrine, my riddle.
 The Hebrew Cbidah, riddle, hath the name of sharp- nesse, as proceeding from a sharpe wit, and needing the like to expound it. See Judg. 14. 12, 18.
 Num. 12. 8. 1 Kings 10. 1. Prov. 1. 6. The holy Ghost expresseth it in Greeke by hidden things,
 Mat. 13. 35. from Psal. 78. 2.

Verse 6. Why should I feare] This is the hidden doctrine or riddle, which the Prophet propoundeth
 as in his owne name, and therefore also called a parable. By feare, he meaneth dismay, or discourag- ment. See verse 17. the iniquitie] that is, pu- nishment or death, which is the wages of sinne; see Pla. 31. 11. and by foot-steps or foot-foles, he mea-neth his waies or workes. Or, he may call death
 the punishment of his heelles or feet, because the Serpent bruisseth Christ and his people but in the heele, Gen. 3. 15. the sting of death being done away, and it made a passage into life and glorie,
 1 Cor. 15. 55, 57.

Verse 7. their wealthy power] their riches; which are thus called, because they are gotten by power
 given of God, Deut. 8. 18. with labour and industry;
 and to the rich, their goods are their strong citie,
 Prov. 10. 15. therefore here they are said to trust in them: contrary to 1 Timoth. 6. 17. Job 31. 24.
 Marke 10. 24. glorie] or praise themselves, vanni,
 contrary to Jer. 9. 23.

Verse 8. not redeeming redeeme] that is, shall in no
wise, or not at all redeeme. The Chaldee expoun-deth it, a wicked man cannot redeeming redeeme his cap- tived brother.

Verse 9. So precious shall be] or, And deare (costly)
 is: and consequently rare and hard to obtaine, as Daniel 2. 11. 1 Samuel 3. 1. of their soule] of their life.
 So Exodus 21. 30. cease for ever] that is, it shall never be accomplished. So ceasing is used for the not doing of a thing, Deuteron. 23. 22.
 Zach. 11. 12.

Verse 10. That he may live] this is referred to the end of the 8. verse, not give his ransome, and so live. And, is here for That; see Psalm. 43. 4. The Chaldee expoundeth live, to be the life eternall, and the pit, to be the judgement of Gehenna (or hell.)

Verse 11. the wise] The Chaldee saith, For he shall see wicked wise men that die the second death,
 and are adjudged to Gehenna. unconstant foole
 and brutish] these two names are often joyned together, as Pla. 92. 7. & 94. 8. the one noting sickle- nesse and mutability, called Cesil, which is both the name of a foole, and of a starre that causeth change of weather and tempests: (whereupon Solomon speaketh of the restlesse of this kind of folly, Eccles. 7. 27. and of the tumultuousnesse and light behaviour of such fooles, as having their eyes wandring unto the ends of the earth, Proverbs 9. 13. and 17. 24. the other, noting want of discretion, as brute beasts had with sensualitie, and carried with ardent furious affections, 2 Peter 2. 12. Jude 10. See Psalm 73. 22.

- 12 Verse 12. Their inward thought] or, their meaning, purpose. This word signifieth the nearest and most secret thought or purpose, the heart. See Psalm. 5. 10. and 55. 5. and 64. 7. their houses for ever] to wit, shall continue: by houses, meaning their children or posteritie, as Psalm. 115. 12. which they that want, are said to be barren of house, Psalm. 113. 9.

they proclaime their names on lands] or, they call lands, (their lands, as the Greeke explaineth it) by their owne names. As the land of Canaan, of Misraim, (that is, Egypt) of Asbur, &c. So Absalom called his pillar by his owne name, 2 Sam. 18. 18. Cain, his citie by his sownes name, Gen. 4. 17. thus thinking to make their memory everlasting. Or, they proclaime their names (seeking to be famous) thorowout the lands or countries. The Chaldee expoundeth it, they were proud, and got themselves an evil name on earth.

- 13 Verse 13. But man] or And Adam: and this may be minded both for the first man Adam, who continued not in his dignity, and so for all his children: as the Chaldee saith, And the son of man a sinner, abideth not in honour. in honour] being in honour, dignitie, or estimation. nor lodge a night] or, not continue. The word though it properly signifieth a night's lodging, or abiding, Gen. 28. 11. Exo. 23. 18. yet is used also for longer continuance, Psalm. 25. 13. and 55. 8. Zach. 5. 4. The Greeke translateth, understandeth not, as the Hebrew also in verse 21, are silenced] that is, are cut off, die, or perish: the Greeke translateth, are like unto them. The Hebrew word signifieth silence or stibnesse, not onely in speech, but in motion: as, the Sun was still, or silent, when it moved not, Job. 10. 12, 13. and people destroyed, are said to be silenced, Isa. 15. 1. and the grave or death is called silence, Ps. 115. 17. and things without life are in the Hebrew phrase, dumbe, or silent, Hab. 2. 19. Exod. 15. 16.

- 14 Verse 14. unconstant folly to them] that is, is their folly: or, a constant hope to them, that is, is their confidence. The originall word hath contrary significations: unconstant folly, Eccles. 7. 27. and constant hope, Psalm. 78. 7. Job 31. 24. both waies it may here be taken: confident hope, in their owne conceit, but indeed folly. The Greeke turneth it a scandal (or stumbling-blocke.) to them and to their posteritie] or, yet those after them, their successors. their mouth] that is, their words, doctrine, counsell, precepts. The mouth is figuratively used for whatsoever cometh out of the same; as words, or commandment, 1 Samuel 12. 15. Job 39. 30. Numb. 9. 20. Deuteronomie 1. 26. Matthew 18. 16. Luke 19. 22. The Chaldee here differeth much, saying, This their way occasioneth folly to them, and in their end with their mouth they shall manifest their sins to the world that is to come.

Verse 15. they are put] or Laid: or, they put, that is, men put them. An Hebrew phrase, as Luke 12. 20. they shall fetch away thy soule, that is, it shall be fetched away. The like is often used, Psalm. 105. 28. and 141. 6. The Hebrew Text it selfe sometime explaineth this; as, they had anointed David, 2 Samuel 5. 17. that is, David was anointed, 1 Chron. 14. 8. Howbeit the Chaldee taketh it actively, saying, Like sleepe they put the just to death and kill them, and crush the Saints, &c. in bell] into a ditch: to the lowest grave or state of death, called Sheol. See the notes on Psalm. 16. 10. death shall feed them] as a shepherd shall feed and rule them, as Psalm. 78. 72. or death shall feed on them to devour them, as Jer. 50. 19. at the morning] the last day of judgement, for then all that sleepe in the dust of the earth shall awake and rise, and the new day of eternall life shall begin. their forme] their figure, shape, or image, with all their beauty and proportion: or their rocke, that is, their strength, or, (as the Greeke saith) their helpe, that wherein they trust: in Chaldee, their bodie. The Hebrew Tsur is usually a rocke; here it seemeth to be all one with Tsurab, a forme or figure: and this is confirmed by the writing, for though by the vowels and reading it is Tsur, yet by the letters it is Tsir, which is an image, Isa. 45. 16. And Tsiram, is for Tsiratham, as tebimam, is for tebunatham, in Hof. 13. 2. were away in bell] or, wax old in the grave; understanding the word in, which is expressed in the Greeke: or without it thus, Hell (the grave) shall wear away (shall consume) their forme. The Hebrew leballoth, being indefinite, to wear out with age, is here of like signification as that which went before, shall have rule. The like Hebraisme is in Jer. 14. 5. Zach. 12. 10. and 3. 4. See also Psalm. 65. 11. and 56. 14. and by this their affliction in hell is meant, as that which one Prophet calleth wearing out (or wasting) 1 Chron. 17. 9. another calleth afflicting, 1 Sam. 7. 10. from his dwelling place] that is, every of them, coming from (or being thrust out of) his dwelling, or home: as the Greeke saith, they are thrust from their glorie. It may also be Englished, for his dwelling place; and so the Chaldee understood it, saying, Therefore their bodies shall wax old in Gehenna, because they stretched out their hand, and destroyed the dwelling place of the house of his divine Majestie.

Verse 16. from the hand of bell] that is, from the power of the grave, death, and damnation. So of all the faithfull he saith, I will redeeme them from the hand of bell, Hof. 13. 14. but so can no man redeeme himselfe, Psalm. 89. 49. Hand is put for power, as Psalm. 22. 21. And this is meant of the resurrection and redemption of body and soule from damnation by Christ. for he will receive me] or, when he shall receive, or take me: meaning, up into heaven, where God himselfe is, 1 Thessalonians 4. 14. John 14. 3. This manner of speech is used in Gen. 5. 24. Enoch was no more, for God received him. The Chaldee explaineth this verse thus. But God will redeeme my soule from Gehenna, for he will teach me his Law, and 17 and will lead me to his portion in the world to come. Verse 17. Feare thou not] that is, be not dismayed, or overcome with feare. The Hebrew phrase usually when it counselleth or prayeth against a thing, meaneth the height and full measure of it. So feare not, Gen. 50. 19. and grieve not, Gen. 45. 5. that is, be not overcome with griefe. So, lead us not into temptation, Mat. 6. 13. that is, let us not be overcome with temptation, 1 Cor. 10. 13. Therefore that which one Evangelist writeth, Feare not, Mat. 28. 5. another writeth, be not astonished, Marke 16. 6. noting the excessse of feare.

18 Verse 18. take any thing] Hebr. take of all; that is, ought of all that he hath. For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine that we can carry nothing out, 1 Tim. 6. 7. Job 1. 21.

19 Ver. 19. Though in his life] that is, whils he liveth. So Psal. 63. 5. and 104. 33. and 146. 2. he blessing his soule] that is, himselfe: as it writeth, Soule, thou hast much goods laid up for many yeares, live at ease, eat, drinke, and take thy pastime, Luke 12. 19. will confesse thee] will commend, laud, and celebrate thee. doest good to thy selfe] that is, makest much of, cherishest, pampereest thy selfe. So good is used for worldly pleasure and emoluments, Psal. 4. 7.

20 Verse 20. It shall come] to wit, the soule forespoken of, or the person: or, Thou shalt come. to the generation of his fathers] that is, to his wicked predecessors that are dead and gone; as the godly also at their death are gathered to their fathers and people, Judg. 2. 10. Deut. 32. 50. Or, to the habitation of his fathers, their house or lodge: for so Dor is used for an habitation, Esa. 38. 12. The Chaldee applieth this first branch to the just, the latter to the wicked. The memorie of the just shall come to the generation of the fathers, but the wicked for ever and ever shall not see the light. to continually eye they shall not see] or, which for ever shall not see the light, to wit, the light of the living here on earth, as Psalm. 56. 14. Job 33. 28, 30. nor the light of joy in the world to come, being cast out into the utter darknesse, Mathew 8. 12.

21 Verse 21. understandeth not] or discerneth not, wanting prudence. A repetition of the 13. v. with a little change of jalin, lodgeis, into jabin, understandeth; which the Chald. openeth thus; A man, a sinner, when he is in honor, and understandeth not; when his honor is taken away, he is like a beast and brought to nothing.

PSAL. L.

The Majesty of God in the Church. 5 His order to gather Saints. 7 The pleasure of God is not in legall sacrifices; 13 but in sinceritie of obedience. 16 The wicked are shut out from Gods Covenant. 21 They abuse Gods patience to their destruction, 23 but the godly shall see his salvation.

A Psalm of Asaph.

THe God of gods, Jehovah speaketh and calleth the earth, from the rising up of the Sun, unto the going downe thereof. Out of Sion the whole perfection 2 of beauty, God shineth cleerly. Our God 3 come and not keepe silence, a fire shall eat before him, and round about him shall a storme be moved vehemently. He will call 4 to the heavens from above, and to the earth to judge his people. Gather yee 5 to me my gracious Saints, that have stricken my covenant with sacrifice. And the 6 heavens shall openly shew his justice, for God he is judge Selah. Heare O my peo- 7 ple, and I will speake, O Israel, and I will testify to thee; I am God thy God. I will not 8 reprove thee for thy sacrifices, for thy burnt offerings are before me continually. I will 9 not take a bullocke out of thine house; goat-bucks out of thy folds. For every wilde 10 beast of the wood is mine; the beasts that be on a thousand mountaines. I know all the 11 fowle of the mountaines, and the store of beasts of the field is with me. If I were hun- 12 gry I would not tell it thee, for mine is the world, and the plenty thereof. Will I eat 13 the flesh of mightie buls, and drink the bloud of goat-bucks? Sacrifice thou to God a 14 confession, and pay thy vowes to the most high. And call on me in day of distresse, I 15 will release thee, and thou shalt glorifie me. But to the wicked saith God, what hast 16 thou to doe to tell my statutes, and that thou shouldest take up my covenant on thy 17 mouth. And thou hatest nurture, and castest my words behind thee. If thou seeest a 18 theefe, then thou runnest with him, and thy part is with the adulterers. Thy mouth 19 thou sendest out in evill, and thy tongue joy- neth together deceit. Thou sittest, thou 20 speakest against thy brother, against thy mothers sonne thou givest ill report. These 21 things thou hast done, and I kept silence, thou didst thinke that I was surely like thee; I will reprove thee and set in order to thine eyes. O now consider this ye that forget 22 God, lest I teare, and there be no rescuer. He that sacrificeth confession, honoureth me, 23 and he that disposeth his way, I will cause him to see the salvation of God.

Annotations.

A Psalm of Asaph] that is, made by him, as the Chaldee saith, An hymne by the hand of Asaph; or to Asaph, that is, committed unto him to sing. For Asaph was a Seer or Prophet, which made Psalmes as did David, 2 Chron. 29. 30. Also he and his sons, were singers in Israel, 1 Chron. 25. 2. The God of

of Gods] that is, God of all Angels, Judges and Rulers of the world: or as the Chaldee saith, The mighty (God) the God of Iehovah. Three titles of God here used together, El, Elolim, Iehovah. So in Jos. 22. 22. the going downe] that is, the West, where the Sunne setteth, or (after the Hebrew phrase) goeth in, as at the rising, it is said to goe out, or come forth, Gen. 19. 23.

2 Verse 2. Out of Sion] the state of the Church under the Gospel, Heb. 12. 18, 22. Psal. 2. 6. therefore in this Psalme, the legall sacrifices appointed at mount Sinai, are reprov'd, and the worship of God in spirit and truth commended. the whole perfection] or the Universalitie of Beautie, that is, which is holy and perfectly beautifull. See the like praise of Sion, Psal. 48. 3. Lam. 2. 15. shineth cleerly] as the Sunne shineth in his strength: that is, appeareth in glorious majestie. This also is a signe of favour, Job 10. 3. Psal. 80. 2. So, God shined from mount Paran, Deut. 33. 3.

3 Ver. 3. Our God is come] a prayer to hasten his coming, as in Rev. 22. 20. or, as the former, our God will come. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, The just shall say, In the day of the great judgement, our God will come, and not silent, to execute the vengeance of his people. fire shall eat] that is, consume, devour. So God is called an eating fire, Deuter. 4. 24. that is, as the Apostle expoundeth it, a consuming fire, Hebrews 12. 29. and the light of his glorie on mount Sinai, was like eating (consuming) fire, Exod. 24. 17. and fire out of his mouth eateth, Psalme 18. 9. a storme be moved] a tempest raised: which maketh fire the more fierce and forcible. And these things signifie Christs judgements against hypocriticall carnall worshippers: see Mal. 3. 1, 2, 3. Mat. 3. 12.

4 Verse 4. call to the heavens, &c.] that heaven and earth may beare record; as in Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 1. The Chaldee expoundeth it, He will call the high Angels from above, and the just of the earth from beneath.

5 Verse 5. have stricken my covenant] or have cut, that is, made covenant with me with sacrifice. For at holy covenants, the sacrifices were cut asunder, and they went betwene the parts, Genesis 15. 10, 13, 18. Jeremie 34. 18. See Psal. 25. 10. See also a covenant betwene God and his people with sacrifice, Exod. 24. 4, 8. The Chaldee openeth it thus; which have stricken the covenant, and confirmed the Law, and bene busied in prayer, which is like to sacrifices.

6 Verse 6. And the heavens] hereby may be meant the heavenly Angels, as in Job 15. 15. and so the Chaldee translateth, high Angels, or the meteors in the aire, thunder, lightning, &c. Exodus 19. 16, 18. See also Psal. 97. 6. and 89. 6. he is Judge] himselfe in his owne person, and not by his servants onely, as aforetime, Heb. 1. 1, 2. 2 Tim. 4. 1.

7 Verse 7. testifie to thee] that is, give thee contestations, admonitions, charges, &c. to cause the more obedience, as Nehem. 9. 29. 2 Kings 17. 15. Exodus 19. 21, 23. or, testifie against thee, (as this phrase sometime signifieth, Deuteronomie 4. 26. and 31. 28.) that is, convince thee of disobedience: Both these are done in this Psalme, verse 14, 15, 18, 19, &c.

Verse 8. for thy sacrifices] so elsewhere he saith, 8 I shake not to your Fathers, &c. concerning sacrifices, Jeremie 7. 22. are before me] so the Greeke explaineth it; and so Israel used to weary God with outward offerings, Isa. 1. 11, 14. Mic. 6. 6, 7. Amos 4. 4, 5.

Verse 9. goat-buckes] the bee-goats; such with but- 9 locks, were principall in the sacrifices, Numb. 7. 17, 23, &c. Psal. 66. 15.

Verse 11. store of Beasts] all sorts of Beasts that 11 range about. So Psal. 80. 14.

Verse 12. If I were hungry] This the Chaldee 12 expoundeth, If the time come of the continuall sacrifice, I will not tell thee. So it may be a prophesie of Christs abolishing the daily sacrifice, as in Daniel 9. 27.

Verse 14. a confession] a thank-offering. There 14 was an oblation in the Law thus called, Levit. 7. 12, 15. mentioned also in Psal. 116. 17. & 107. 23. which the Apostle openeth, exhorting to offer the sacrifice of praise continually to God, that is, the fruit of the lips, confessing to his name, Hebr. 13. 15. See also Psal. 95. 2. The Chaldee saith, Subdue evil concupiscence, and it shall be counted before the Lord as a sacrifice of confession. vowes to the most High] that is, to God, Gen. 14. 18. so he that in Luke 6. 35. is the most High, in Mat. 5. 45. is our Father which is in heaven. To him vowes were made with prayers, Gen. 28. 20. Psal. 61. 6. and paid with thanksgiving, Psal. 65. 2. and 66. 13, 14. and by law their payment was required, Deuteronomie 23. 23. Eccles. 5. 5. Psal. 76. 12. and there were sacrifices for vowes, Levit. 7. 16. But the Chaldee referreth this here to the vow which they made at mount Sinai, to confirme the Commandements, (Exodus 19.)

Verse 16. what hast thou to doe] the Hebr. phrase 16 is, what to thee? the Greeke, wherefore dost thou?

Verse 17. nurture] or restraint, abasement; which 17 is the way of life, Prov. 6. 23. & 12. 1. The Chaldee addeth, nurture of wise men. beinde thee] or after thee. See a like speech, Neh. 9. 26.

Verse 18. then thou] Hebr. and thou runnest, or 18 readily consentest takest pleasure. And may be omitted in our English, it serveth to increase the readines and earnestnesse of the affections. He that partaketh with a sheefe, batieth his soule, Prov. 29. 24.

Verse 19. thou sendest out] that is, arest and appliest. 19 thy tongue joyneth] or, with thy tongue thou joynest, framest, compactest.

Verse 20. ill report] or infamie, offensive scandalous 20 speech; (as the Greeke turneth it, scandall) a word not found but in this place.

Verse 21. I was surely] Hebrew, I being had 21 beene, or was. set in order] to wit, thy faults; as the Greeke explaineth it, I will set thy finnes before thy face. The Chaldee giveth this paraphrase, Thou thoughtest to be for ever; thou saidst in thy heart, I shall be like God: but I in powerfull wrath will take vengeance on thee, I will rebuke thee in this world, and order the judgement of Gehenna in the world to come, before thee.

Verse

22 Verse 22. no reseruer] or no deliverer. A similitude taken from lions, which catch and teare their prey, from whose jawes none can rescue. See the like in Hof. 5. 14.

23 Verse 23. be that sacrificeth confession] that is, which giveth confession (or thanks) as a sacrifice; the Greeke translateth, The sacrifice of praise shall glorifie me; the Chaldee, He that sayeth evill conceipience, and subdueth it, it shall be counted to him as a sacrifice of confession. dispose his way] compose and ordereth it according to these directions: or, be that pursueth this way before him. to see the salvation] that is, to enjoy it; or, I will shew it him. In Hebrew the word in redoundeth. See Psal. 27. 4. So Psa. 91. 16. and 85. 8.

PSALME LI.

David prayeth for remission of sinnes, whereof he maketh a deepe confession. 8 He prayeth for sanctification. 18 God delighteth not in sacrifice, but in a broken spirit. 20 A prayer for the Church.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalm of David. When Nathan the Prophet came unto him after he had gone in unto Bathsheba.

3 BE gracious to me, O God, according to thy kinde mercie, according to the multitude of thy tender mercies wipe away my trespasses. Much wash me from my iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne. 4 For I know my trespasses, and my sinne is before mee continually. Against thee, against thee onely have I sinned, and have done that which is evill in thine eyes, that thou maist be just when thou speakest, maist be pure when thou judgest. 5 Loe in iniquity was I painfully brought forth, and in sinne my mother conceived me. 6 Loe the truth thou delightest in the inward parts, and in the secret thou hast made me know wisdom. 7 Thou wilt purge me from sin with Hyssop, and I shall be cleane, wilt wash me and I shall be whiter than snow. 8 Thou wilt make me to heare joy and gladnesse, the bones that thou hast crushed, shall be glad some. 9 Hide thy face from my finnes, and wipe away all my iniquities. 10 A cleane heart create thou to mee, O God, and a firme spirit renew thou within me. 11 Cast me not from thy face, and take not from me thy spirit of holinesse. 12 Restore to me the joy of my salvation, & firmly sustaine me with a free spirit. 13 I will teach trespassers thy waies, & sinners shall convert unto thee. 14 Deliver me from blouds, O God, the God of my salvation, my tongue shall shout thy justice. Lord thou shalt open my lips, & my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. 17 For thou delightest not sacrifice, else would I give it; burnt offering thou wilt not contentedly accept. 18 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit, a heart broken and contrite, O God, thou wilt not despise. 19 Doe well in thy good pleasure unto Sion, build thou the wals of Jerusalem. 20 Then shalt thou delightfully accept the sacrifices of justice, the burnt offering and the whole oblation: then shall they offer up bullocks upon thine Altar. 21

Annotations.

2 HE had gone in] to wit, into the chamber, as Judg. 15. 1. that is, had lien with, as the phrase importeth, Gen. 6. 4. and is expressed, 2 Sam. 11. 4. Bathsheba] the daughter of Eliam, 2 Sam. 11. 3. called also Bathshua daughter of Amiel, 1 Chron. 3. 5. She was wife to Captaine Urijah the Hittite, and whiles her husband was at the leaguer of Rabbah, David lay with her; and she being with childe, he first sought to cover his fault by sending for Urijah home, that he might be esteemed the father, which not succeeding, he sent him backe with privie Letters to Joab the Generall, for to procure his death. Which being done, David married his wife Bathsheba, so thinking to cloake his sinne. But God was displeased, and sent Nathan to reprove David; whereupon he repented and made this Psalm, for an example unto, and comfort of sinners. See the Historie at large, 2 Sam. 11. and 12.

4 Verse 4. much wash me] or multiply wash me, that is, thoroughly wash me, againe and againe. He applieth the washings used in the Law, (Lev. 11. 25, 32. Exod. 19. 10. Num. 19. 19.) to the spirituall washing from sinne in the blood of Christ, Rev. 7. 14. Joh. 1. 7. So after in verse 9. and Jer. 4. 14. The Hebrew Hereb (or Harbeh) multiply, is used for much, as 2 Kings 10. 18. where it is opposed to little. And that which in one place is written harbh, multiply; in another is la-rob, and rabbah, much as 1 Kings 10. 10. with 2 Chron. 9. 9. 2 Sam. 8. 8. with 1 Chron. 18. 8.

5 Verse 5. I know] or acknowledge. So Isa. 59. 12. Jer. 3. 13.

6 Verse 6. Against thee] or, Unto thee onely. This is either because he concealed his sinne from men, but could not from God, 2 Sam. 12. 12. or, that onely God could remit the punishment of his sin, Isa. 43. 25. So Psal. 41. 5. I have sinned] and so am deprived of the glorie of God, as Romans 3. 23. that which is evill, &c.] which displeaseth thee. This hath reference to 2 Sam. 11. 9. and 11. 27. that thou maist be just] that is, thou hast suffered me to fall into sinne, that thou maist be just, (or justified) in whatsover thou hast spoken for the salvation of thy servants, or punishment of my sinne, 2 Samuel 12. 10. For the injustice of man, commendeth the justice of

of God, Rom. 3. 4, 5. or it may have reference to the former words, I know (and acknowledge) my sinne, that thou maist be just. when thou speakest] or in thy speaking, that is, in thy words, as Rom. 3. 4. so after, in thy judging. maist be pure] or cleare, sinere, unreprouable, and consequently maist win the victorie in judgement: whereupon the Apostle (according to the Greeke version) saith, maist overcome, Rom. 3. 4. The Hebrew Zacab also in the Syriak tongue, is used for overcomming.

7 Verse 7. in iniquitie] the perversnesse or vitiosity of nature, commonly called originall, and by the Apostle, inhabiting sinne, Rom. 7. 17. whereby all men are carnall, sold under sinne, Joh. 3. 6. Rom. 7. 14. The Chaldee calleth it, the sinne of evill concupiscence. This David maketh the fountaine of all his actual sinnes. painfully broughs forth] borne with sorrow. The Hebrew signifieth, the painfull travell of child-birth, Isa. 26. 17, 18. and 51. 2. Psal. 29. 9. conceived] or was warme in heat, as Genesis 30. 38, 39, 41.

8 Verse 8. the inward parts] or the covered parts, the heart roots where wisdom is seated of God, Job 38. 36. named in Hebrew of covering, plastering, or pargetting. the secret] or, the closed place; which being referred to the person, meaneth the heart, which God reneweth, Ezek. 36. 26. and wherein he writeth his lawes, Heb. 8. 10. And thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, the close place of the heart, which the Apostle calleth the hid man of the heart, 1 Pet. 3. 4. or, if it be referred to the thing, it meaneth the secrets of wisdom, Job 11. 6. the wisdom of God in a mysterie, the hid wisdom manifested by the Gospel, 1 Cor. 2. 7. And thus the Greeke applieth it, saying, the unmanifest and hid things of wisdom thou hast manifested to me. hast made] or wilt make me know; thus he riseth by faith out of his sin, being taught wisdom of God.

9 Verse 9. Thou wilt purge me from sinne] or prayer-wise, Purge thou me from sinne, or make me sinlesse, expiate or purifie my sinne. Prayers are often made in this manner, as with assurance that they shall be performed, See the note on Psal. 17. 8. Eixop] or hyssop, of the Hebrew Ezob, and Greeke hyssopos, an herb or tree growing out of the wall, 1 Kin. 4. 33. appointed in the Law for to sprinkle and cleanse with, Exo. 12. 22. Num. 19. 6, 18. Lev. 14. 4, 6, 49. Heb. 9. 19. and the sprinkling with it, was the last part of the purification of the uncleane, here used to signifie the full cleansing from sinne by the blood of Christ, Heb. 9. 13, 14. whether it were that herbe which we now call Eixop, or no, is uncertaine. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Thou wilt sprinkle me like a Priest, which sprinketh the uncleane with the purifying waters, with hyssop, with the ashes of a beiffer, and I shall be cleane. wash me] another legall rite for purifying the uncleane, Levit. 14. 8. and 25. 5, 8, 13, 22. figuring our sanctification, Heb. 10. 22. Tit. 3. 5. Isa. 4. 4.

10 Verse 10. to heare joy] the joyfull tidings of the forgivenesse of my sins. bones that thou hast crushed] or brayed; noting hereby the greatnesse of his griefe and affliction, Job 2. 2, 5. and 30. 17. and 33. 19, 21. Psal. 38. 4.

Verse 11. Hide thy face] that is, regard not my sinne to visit them on me. See the contrary, Psal. 90. 5. and 109. 14, 15. Jer. 16. 17.

Verse 12. firm spirit] a spirit ready, prepared, steadfast, and certaine. The like is applied to the heart, Psal. 112. 7. and 57. 8.

Verse 13. from thy face] or from thy presence: This was an effect of Gods utmost anger against sinners, 2 Kings 24. 20. Jeremie 7. 15. and 52. 3. Genesis 4. 16. thy spirit of bolinesse] thy holy Ghost: which the Chaldee expoundeth, thy holy spirit of Prophecie.

Verse 14. the joy of thy salvation] the joy which proceedeth from thy salvation and deliverance of me from sin. a free spirit] a voluntary, free willing spirit, or a princely ruling spirit, as the Greeke turneth it. See this word, Psal. 47. 10. by a free or princely spirit, he meaneth a spirit not in bondage to sinne, called elsewhere the spirit of adoption, Rom. 8. 15, 16. whereby a man is made willing to obey the Lord, as Exod. 35. 21.

Verse 16. from blouds] that is, from the guilt of my murder in shedding the blood of Uriah; as the Chaldee saith, from the judgement of murder; or, from my native corruption. See the note on Psal. 5. 7. shall shout] or shrill, sing joyfully and proclaim thy justice; such as Paul speaketh of, Philippians 3. 9.

Verse 17. shalt open my lips] shalt give me occasion to speake freely and boldly: the Chaldee addeth, in thy law. This phrase is used Job 41. 5. and 32. 20.

Verse 18. else I would give it] or, for else I would give it: as the Greeke turneth it, if thou wouldest sacrifice, I had given it.

Verse 19. The sacrifices of God] that is, which please God; or, as the Chaldee saith, holly to God. So, the workes of God, Joh. 6. 28. heart broken] to wit, with sorrow for sinne. So Isa. 61. 1. Luke 4. 18. Compare with this, Rom. 12. 1. also Isa. 57. 15. and 66. 2.

Verse 20. Doe well] or Doe good, deale bountifully: it comprehendeth all things needfull for profit or pleasure. unto Sion] the Church and place of publike worship. See Psalm. 2. 6. walls of Ierusalem] or of Ierushalaim, as the Hebrew writeth it in the duall form, as it were the double Ierusalem, to wit, the higher & the lower: from which the Apostle gathereth an Allegory, Gal. 4. 25, 26. This citie was first called Salem, that is, Peace, where Melchisedeck was King, Gen. 14. 18. Heb. 7. 2. It was named also Iebus, Judg. 19. 10. of one Iebus son of Canaan, Gen. 10. 16. and was possessed by his seed the Iebusites, who held therein the fort of Sion, till David wan it from them, 1 Chro. 11. 4, 5, 7. Here also was the mount Morijah, whereon So'omon built the Temple, 2 Chron. 3. 1. where Abraham offered his son Izaak, Gen. 22. 2. And because there Gods providence was seene, he named the place Iehouab-jireh, Gen. 22. 14. which Iireh, put to the former name Salem, maketh it Ierusalem, where peace is seene: and as the citie was enlarged by taking in mount Jireh, or Morijah, so is the name: yet sometime (though very rare) it is called called by the first name Salem, as Psalme 76. 3. This citie God chose to be the place of his public worship, and there to dwell, 2 Chron. 7. 12. Psalme 132. 13. 14. and honourable things are spoken of this citie, Psalme 87. 3. and of the walls thereof, which in the Ierusalem from above are of Laffer stone, with twelve foundations, garnished with all manner precious stones, and having the names of the Lambes 12 Apostles, Revel. 21. 10. 14. 18. 19. &c. the walls are called Salvation, and the gates Prayse, and they are ever in Gods sight, Isa. 60. 18. and 49. 16. For the building up of these doth David here pray.

21 Verse 21. Thou shalt thus accept when the place is builded which thou hast choiten; for hee forbade his people to offer in every place, Levit. 17. 5. 8. 9. Deut. 12. 11. 13. and promised to accept their sacrifices on his holy mountaine, Ezek. 20. 40. Therefore Israel was in great affliction and reproach, when the walls of Ierusalem were unbuilded, Neh. 1. 3. and the peoples negligence in building Gods house was sharply blamed Hag. 1. 2. 4. 8. 9. and 2. 15. &c. of justice] that is, sacrifices offered in faith, and according to the will of God. See Psalme 4. 6. the whole oblation] the Calil: a kind of oblation that was wholly & every whit given up in fire unto God: and differed from the Gnolah, or Burnt-offering, which was only of beasts or birds, Levit. 1. whereas the Calil was also of flowers, called the Meat-offering, but burned all together, which the common Meat-offerings were not, Levit. 6. 20. 22. 23. It was also of beasts, 1 Sam. 7. 9.

PSAL. LII.

David condemning the highly-furthest of Doeg, prophesies his destruction; 8 at which the just shall rejoyce. 10 David upon confidence of Gods mercie, giveth thanks.

1 To the master of the Musicke, an instructing
2 Psalme of David. When Doeg the Adomite came and shewed to Saul, and said to him, David came unto the house of Achimelech.

3 VVhy boastest thou in evill, O mighty man? the mercie of God endureth all the day.
4 Thy tongue thinketh wofull evils, as a sharpe
5 rasour doing deceit. Thou lovest evill more 6 than good; falshood more than to speake justice Selah. Thou lovest all words of 7 swelling, the tongue of deceit. Also God will destroy thee to perpetuity, hee will pull thee away and plucke thee out of the tent, and will root thee up, out of the land of the 8 living Selah. And the just shall see and 9 feare, and shall laugh at him. Behold the man that put not God for his strength, but trusted in the multitude of his riches; hee was strong in his wofull evill. But I, as a greene Olive in the house of God, I trust in the mercy of God ever and aye. I will confesse thee for ever, for thou hast done this; and will patiently expect thy name, for it is good before thy gracious Saints.

Annotations.

2 Doeg] a servant of King Saul, and master of his herd-men, 1 Sam. 21. 7. the Adomite] that is, an Edomite, or, Idumean, as the Greeke here translateth: or a man of Adamah, a citie of the tribe of Naphthali, Jos. 19. 36. of Achimelech] David flying from Sauls tyrannie, came for comfort to the house of God in Nob, where Achimelech the Priest administred. He gave unto David and his company the shew-bread to eat, armed him with the sword of Goliath the Philistian, and asked counsell of the Lord for him. Doeg saw this, and told King Saul, and after (when no other man would) himselfe at the Kings commandement, ran upon Achimelech and the Priests, and killed 85 persons: and Nob the citie of the Priests he smote with the edge of the sword, both man, woman, child and beast. But Abiathar Achimelechs son escaped unto David, and told him, who thereupon made this Psalme. See 1 Sam. 21. and 22. Matth. 12. 3. 4.

3 Verse 3. in evill] the Chaldee expoundeth it, in an evill tongue. O mighty man] or, Potentate, Doeg is thus named, for his chiefe place over King Sauls herd-men, 1 Sam. 21. 7. and his killing of so many Priests of the Lord, 1 Sam. 22. 18. 19. in which mischievous prowesse he vaunted himselfe.

4 Verse 4. thinketh] or understand, Why thinketh thy tongue? that is, uttereth the evils thought and premeditated. doing deceit] that is, as a rasour which in stead of cutting the haire, cutteth the throat. Or it may be referred to the man, Q doer of deceit, as the Greeke saith, thou hast done deceit.

5 Verse 5. justice] that is, truth or faithfulness.

6 Verse 6. words of swelling] or of devouring, of perniciousnesse, that is, pernicious words which cause destruction.

7 Verse 7. destroy] or pull thee downe: a similitude taken from buildings pulled downe, Levit. 14. 45. applied here to mans overthrow. So Iob 19. 10.

pull thee away] or take thee hence, as a coale of fire is taken with the tongs, Esay 30. 4.

plucke thee] as the stakes are plucked up when the tent is removed. This is applyed to expulsion out of ones settled place, and is opposed to stablishing, Deut. 28. 63. Prov. 23. 21. and 15. 25. root thee up] as a tree plucked up by the roots, Jude 12. So Iob 31. 12.

land of the living] that is, this world. See Psalme 27. 23.

8 Verse 8. shall see] the Chaldee paraphraseth, shall see thy punishment, and feare before the Lord.

Verse

- 9 Verse 9. the man] the mighty man. It hath reference to verse 3. he was strong] or, would be strong, and prevail; as Psalme 9. 20. or, strengthened and hardened himselfe. his wofull evill] or, in that he hath, that is, his substance; the Greeke saith, in his vanity.
- 10 Verse 10. greene olive] alwayes fresh and flourishing. See Psalme 37. 35. Jer. 11. 16. aye] continually: see Psalme 9. 6.
- 11 Verse 11. hast done] the Chaldee addeth, hast done the vengeance of my judgements.

PSAL. LIII.

David describeth the corruption of a naturall man, 5 and convinceth them by the light of their consciences. 7 He glorieth in the salvation of God.

- 1 To the maker of the musicke on Machalath, an instructing Psalme of David.
- 2 THe foole saith in his heart there is no God: they have corrupted, and have made themselves abominable with injurious evill; there is none that doth good.
- 3 God from the heavens looked downe upon the sonnes of Adam, to see if there were any that understandeth, that seeketh God. Every one is gone backe, together they are become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, none, not one. Doe they not know, that worke painefull iniquity, that eat my people as they eat bread, they call not upon God.
- 6 There they dreaded a dread where no dread was, for God hath scattered the bones of him that besiegeth thee; thou hast made them abashed, for God hath contemptuously cast them off. Who will give out of Sion the salvations of Israel? when God returneth the captivity of his people, Iakob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoyce.

Annotations.

- 1 Machalath] this seemeth to be a kind of instrument much like Nechiloth, Psalme 5. 1. It may also be interpreted sickness or infirmity. So in the title of Psalme 88. an instructing Psalme] Maskil: see Psalme 32. 1. This Psalme is the same in effect, and almost in words, with the 14 Psalme, some few things changed. See the notes there.
- 2 Verse 2. with injurious evill] so the Greeke saith, with iniquities they are made abominable. Or, we may read, they have done abominable iniquity.
- 4 Verse 4. every one is gone backe] Hebr. All bee, that is, Each one, or whoever he be, in particular. In Psalme 14. 3. he speaketh generally, all is departed.

Verse 6. where no dread was] that is, no cause of dread. God giveth to the wicked a trembling heart, Deut. 28. 65. and a sound of feare is in their eares, Iob 15. 21. yea the sound of a hase chaseth them, and they flee when none pursueth, Levit. 26. 36. Prov. 28. 1. of him that besiegeth thee] or, that pitcheth camp against thee, speaking to the godly man. The Greeke turneth it, of men-pleasers. hast made them abashed] or, shalt make abashed, (for it is a promise, but let downe as already performed, for the more assurance) or, shalt put to confusion, to wit, them, or their counsell, as they would have confounded thine. See Psalme 14. 6.

Verse 7. who will give] a wish; O that there were given, &c. See the notes on Psalme 14. 7. salvations] that is, full salvation, healing or deliverance.

PSAL. LIV.

David complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for salvation. 6 Upon his confidence in Gods helpe hee promiseth sacrifices.

To the master of the musicke on Neginoth, an instructing Psalme of David. When the Ziphims came and said unto Saul, doth not David hide himselfe with us?

O God, in thy name save me, and in thy power judge me. O God, heare my prayer, hearken to the words of my mouth. For strangers are risen up against me, and daunting tyrants seeke my soule, they have not set God before them Selah. Loe God is mine helper, the Lord is with them that uphold my soule. Hee will turne the evil to my enviers: in thy truth suppress thou them. With voluntarinesse I will sacrifice unto thee, I will confesse thy Name Iehovah, because it is good. For hee hath freely rid me out of all distresse, and mine eye hath seene on mine enemies.

Annotations.

- Ziphims] or Ziphians, the Inhabitants of Ziph, a citie in the tribe of Judah, Ios. 15. 24. by which there was a wilderness and wood, where in David hid himself when he fled from Kellah for feare of King Saul, and was bewrayed by these Ziphims unto the King, once and the second time, whereupon he made this Psalme. See the history 1 Sam. 23. 14. 15. 19. &c. and 26. 1. 3.
- Verse 5. strangers] the Ziphims, estranged from God, and alienated from his people, Psalme 58. 4. Esay 1. 4. So wicked men are called Heathens, Psal. 59. 6. In Psa. 86. 14. this is repeated by David: but for Zarim, strangers, there he calleth them Zedim, proud.

proud. daunting tyrants] terrible dismayers, as Saul and his retinue, whose terrour daunted many. See Psal. 10. 18. seeke my soule] my life, to take it away: see the note on Psal. 35. 4.

6 Verse 6. with them that uphold] or, among the upholders, the valiant souldiers that helped David in his battels: as 1 Chron. 12. 1. &c. a like manner of speech is, Iudg. 11. 35. thou art among them that trouble me.

7 Verse 7. returne the evill] to wit, which they intend against me. For the righteous escape out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead, Prov. 11. 8. suppresseth them] restraine them, or cut them off. Compare Psalme 143. 12.

8 Verse 8. With voluntarinesse] or, In freenesse, that is, freely, liberally, of a willing mind. Such sacrifices the Law mentioneth, Levit. 7. 16.

9 Verse 9. eye hath seene] to wit, the worke, or reward of God; in Chaldee, the vengeance on mine enemies, mentioned before in verse 7. and as is expressed in Psal. 91. 8. but often this word is concealed, as Psal. 35. 21. and 93. 12. or hath viewed them with delight: see Psalme 22. 18.

PSAL. LV.

David in his prayer complaineth of his fearefull case. 10 Hee prayeth against his enemies, of whose wickednesse and treachery hee complaineth. 17 Hee comforteth himselfe in Gods preservation of him, and confusion of his enemies.

1 To the master of the Musicke, on Neginoth, an instructing Psalme of David.

2 HEARE thou, O God, my prayer, and
3 hide not thy selfe from my suppli-4 cation for grace. Attend to me, and 5 answer me; I mourne in my meditation, and 6 make a troubled noise. For the voice of the 7 enemy, because of the vexation of the wic-
8 ked; for they bring upon me painefull ini-
9 quity, and in anger they spightfully hate me.
10 My heart is pained within me, & the terrours
11 of death are fallen upon me. Feare & trem-12 bling is come into mee, and horreur hath covered me. So that I say, who will give me a wing as a dove, that I might fly and dwell.
Loe, I would make farre off my wandring flight, I would lodge in the wildernesse, Selah. I would hasten my safe escaping from the wind of driving forward, from the tempest. Swallow them, Lord, divide their tongue for I see violent wrong and strife in the citie. Day and night, they compasse it upon the wals thereof, and painefull iniquity and molestation are within it. Wofull evils are within it, and fraud and guile departeth not from the street thereof. For not an 13 enemy reproached me, for I could beare it:

14 not my hater magnified against mee, for I could be hidden from him. But it was thou
O man esteemed of as my selfe, my guide & 15 my knowne acquaintance. We which together made sweet secret counsell, went into 16 Gods house with the society. Let death seize upon them, let them goe downe quicke 17 to hell; for evill are in their dwelling place in 18 their inmost part. I will call unto God, and Jehovah will save me. Evening, and morning, and at noone, will I meditate and make 19 a noise, and he heard my voyce. Hee hath redeemed my soule in peace from the battel 20 against mee, for vvith many vvere they vvith me. God will heare and afflict them, even he that sitteth from antiquity, Selah, for 21 that they have no changes, neither fear they
God. Hee sent forth his hand on his peacea-22 ble friends, he profaned his covenant. The words of his mouth were smoothen than butter, but battell was in his heart; his words were softer than oyle, but they were drawne 23 swords. Cast thou thy carefull burden upon Jehovah, and he will sustaine thee; hee will not give the just man for ever to be moved.
24 But thou, O God, wilt make them go down to the pit of corruption; men of bloods and of deceit shall not live halfe their dayes, but I will trust in thee.

Annotations.

Verse 3. I mourne] as one cast downe with sorrow, making a dolefull noise. meditation] or discouraging talke, prayer, complaint. The Hebrew Siach signifieth any large discourse or exercise of the mind or mouth, by busie musing, talking, praying, communing with ones selfe or others.

Verse 4. they bring] they make move, or turne upon me iniquity; both by unjust imputation of evill, and inflicting of punishment. For the word is used both for iniquity and the punishment thereof, as is noted Psal. 5. 6. The Chaldee saith, they testifie falshood against me. spightfully hate me] or beare me a privie grudge, with a purpose to avenge, as the word signifieth, Gen. 37. 41. and 50. 15.

Verse 5. is pained] or, trembleth with paine. The word usually meaneth such paines as a woman feelth in her travell.

Verse 6. borrow] or, amazed quaking; when the senses are smitten with astonishment. Therefore the Greeke turneth it, darknesse.

Verse 7. who will give] a wish, O that I had, or O that some would give. See Psal. 14. 7. wing of a dove]

dove] which being a fearefull bird, flieth fast to defarts and rocks to hide it selfe, Ier. 48.28. wing is put for wings, as fowle for fowles, Psalme 8.9. that I might fly] or, I would fly and dwell, to wit, some where, where I can find safety; but no place is named, to note the more uncertainty.

8 Verse 8. in the wilderness] the place whither the woman (the Church) also flieth in her persecution, Revel. 12.6.14.

9 Verse 9. hasten safe escaping, &c.] or, I would speed my evasion, hasten my deliverance. So David hastened his flight from Absalom, 2 Sam. 15.14. &c. from wind of driving forward] that is, from the driving (stormy) wind, that beareth all things away before it: meaning the storme of persecution, which forced him to fly. The Greeke turneth it, from pusillanimie (or feebleness of spirit:) intimating his inly feares driving him to this flight.

10 Verse 10. Swallow] that is, destroy. It hath respect to Dathan and Abirams death, who with their company were swallowed alive into the earth, Num. 16.32. as after in the 16. verse here is explained.

divide their tongue] for, their tongues, that is, their language, counsels, plots, &c. As at Babel tongues were confounded, Gen. 11.7. so tongues of Absaloms Counsellors (that persecuted David) were divided, 2 Sam. 17.1.5-14.

11 Verse 11. they compassed it] to wit, violent wrong and strife before mentioned, which were as wals about the towne: or they, that is, those wicked persons,

13 Verse 13. For, not an enemy] or, Because it was no enemy that reproached me: the Greeke turneth it thus, for if an enemy reproached me, I could suffer it, &c. for I could beare] Hebr. and I could beare it: and being instead of for, or otherwise, as in Psalme 60.13. and 51.18. magnified] that is, speake great and boastfull words: See before Psalme 35.26.

14 Verse 14. But thou] Hebr. And thou; and is often used for but, as Gen. 42.10. Isa 10.20. So in Greeke, Rom. 1.13. and often in the Psalmes. The Chaldee addeth, But thou Achitophel a man like to me, &c. esteemed of as my selfe] or, according to mine order, or estimation, that is, my very equall, my peere: of as much regard and worth as my selfe. The Greeke turneth it, like minded: a word which the Apostle useth, Phil. 2.20. my guide] or, my Duke, my Chieftaine, or master. So the Hebrew Aluph is used generally for a Duke or Chiefe governor, Gen. 36.15. &c. and so the Greeke turneth it here. It is also used in speciall for a chiefe friend, Prov. 16.28. and 17.9. Mic. 7.5. which sense is good in this place. Achitophel may bee the man here aimed at, as the Chaldee nameth him, who was one of Davids Princes and friends, even his chiefe Counsellor, and became a traytor, 2 Sam. 15.12.31. and 16.23. my knowne acquaintance] or, my familiar whom I acquainted with my counsels, purposes, &c. as Psal. 31.12.

15 Verse 15. made sweet secret counsell] that is, sweetly communicated our secret affaires each to other, or the mystrie of godlinesse, whereof see Psal. 25.14. These were fulfilled betweene David and Achitophel, Christ and Judas the traytor, with the society] or, in the concourse, company, that is, the multitude that runne together, frequenting the publike assemblies. And this was done with outward haste and hurtling together, and with concordant minds: wherefore the Greeke here turneth it unanimity or concord. This word is after used for a company or concourse, Psal. 64.3. and hath the name of tumultuous running together, Psal. 2.1.

Verse 16. Let death seize] or, Death shall seize, exact his due as a creditor on his debtor. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Let sentence of death make them guilty. upon them] and, on him, as the Hebrew forme noteth, that is, on every of them. to bell] to the place and state of death, Psal. 16.10. as the conspirators with Korah went downe quick into bell, Numb. 16.30.33. in their dwelling place] or, in their sojourning place; for this life is a pilgrimage where men are but guests. in their inmost part] or, within them, in the midst of them, meaning their heart.

Verse 18. and at noone] These three times in the day they used to pray in Israel, as David here practised, and Daniel afterwards, Dan. 6.10. and at the sixth houre (which was their noone tide) Peter went to prayer, Act. 10.9. Though the day was then divided into twelve houres, Ioh. 11.9. yet of old they had but these three times or houres. meditate] or pray: see the note on verse 3. and Psal. 77.4.

Verse 19. from the battell against me] from the neere fight (the conflict) with me: the Greeke saith, from them that draw neere to me, meaning his foes; as Psalme 27.2. with many] or, in many were they with me. This is doubtfull whether it bee meant of foes or friends. If of foes, it may be resolved thus, for with many (with a great multitude) they were fighters with me. If of friends, It may be understood of Gods Angels, that in a great number were with him, pitching campe for his aid, Psalme 34.8. as Eliphaz said, many moe are with us than with them, 2 King. 6.16.17. The Chaldee explaineth it, for in many afflictions his word was for my helpe.

Verse 20. even he that sitteth] that is, the eternall, that abideth one & the same, in counsell, power, &c. no changes] or alterations from evil to good, and are not bettered. Thus the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it, of sinners which change not their evil way. It may also be meant no alterations of their good estate, that is, no adversities, as Iob 10.17.

Verse 21. He sent forth his hand] that is, laid violent hands: as Nehem. 13.21. his peaceable friends] or, them that were at peace with him.

Verse 22. drawne swords] that is, wounding deadly. A like similitude Solomon useth, Prov. 12.18. There is that speaketh words like the pricking of a sword. See also Psalme 57.5.

Verse 23. thy carefull burden] or thy gift, that is, whatsoever thou art carefull to have given thee in all thy wants and need, or whatsoever he giveth thee to exercise thy faith & patience, by adversities. The Greeke well turneth it, thy care: which phrase the Apostle useth, 1 Pet. 5.7. Cast all your your care upon him, &c. The Chaldee saith, Cast thy hope on the Lord. Compare also herewith Matt. 6. 25. Luke 12. 22. Psal. 37. 5. sustaine thee] or, foster and nourish thee, with food and all other necessaries. The word though it be generally, yet is often used for nourishing, Gen. 45. 11. and 47. 12. 1 King. 18. 4. So the Greeke also turneth it here.

not give] that is, not suffer, as Psal. 16. 10.

24 Verse 24. pit of corruption] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the deepe Cebema. men of blood, &c.] that is, bloody men; as Psalme 5. 7. not live halfe] Hebr. not halfe their dayes, that is, not come to halfe the dayes of their life, but be cut off by untimely death. So Iob 15. 32.

PSAL. LVI.

David praying to God in confidence of his word, complayneth of his enemies. 10 Hee professeth his confidence in Gods word, and promiseth to praise him.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, concerning the dumbe dove in far places, Michtam of David, vvhenthe Philistims tooke him in Gath.

2 BE gracious to mee, O God, for sory man would swallow me up; at the day
3 warring he oppresseth me. Mine enviers would swallow mee up all the day, for many doe warre with mee, O most high.
4 In the day I shall feare, I will trust unto thee.
5 In God, I will praise his vvord; in God doe
I trust, I will not feare what flesh can doe un-6 to me. All the day my vvords they grievously wrest; against me all their thoughts 7 be for evill. They draw together, they keepe close themselves, they doe observe my steps, because they earnestly expect my 8 soule. For painfull iniquity shall they escape safe: in anger cast downe the peoples, O 9 God. Thou hast counted my wandring; put thou my teares in thy bottle: are they 10 not in thy register? Then shall mine enemies turne backe in the day that I call; this I 11 know, that God will be for me. In God, I will praise the word; in Jehovah, I will 12 praise the word. In God doe I trust, I will not feare what earthly man can do unto me.
13 Thy vowes are upon me, O God; I will pay 14 confessions unto thee. For thou hast delivered my soule from death; hast thou not also my feet from sliding? for to walke on, before God, in the light of the living.

Annotations.

1 Concerning the dumbe dove] or after the Hebrew phrase, the dove of dumbnesse; thus David speaketh of himselfe, as of a dove subject to vexation among the ravenous kites the Philistims, which were farre disioyned from Gods people in faith, though neere in habitation; as the Greeke translateth it, the people farre off from the Saints. Or, Akm, interpreted dumbnesse, may also be turned a Congregation, as in Psalme 58. 2. and so the meaning is, the dove of the Congregation of them that be farre off, that is, of the Philistims. And thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, To praise for the congrega- tion, which is like to a filene dove, in the time when they are driven farre from their cities, &c.

Michtam] a Jewell, or golden Psalme: See Psalme 16. 1.

tooke him in Gath] David fleeing from Saul to Achish King of Gath, and being there knowne, changed his behaviour, and fained him- selfe foolish, and was so dismissed, 1 Sam. 21. 10. &c. whereupon he made the 34. Psalme. After that he fled againe to K. Achish, and dwelt there with him, he and his company, 1 Sam. 27. 1, 2, 3, &c.

Verse 2. would swallow me up] or, breatheth after me, to take and devour me. This word Shaph is used for sooping in of drinke; Iob 5. 5. also, of the wind or breath, Ier. 2. 24. and 14. 6. and so for breathing after any thing to come thereto, Iob 7. 2. Ecclef. 1. 5. So after in Psal. 57. 4. & 119. 131.

O most high] O high God, as the Greeke explain- eth it. The Greeke saith, from the height; wee may also translate it, in height, that is, highly (proudh) they warre against me. But Meerom Height, is sometime Gods attribute, as Mich. 6. 6. Psalme 92. 9.

Verse 4. In the day] or, what day, that is, when- soever I shall be afraid.

Ver. 5. What flesh can doe] or question-wise, what can flesh doe unto me? by flesh, meaning corrupt and weak man, as is exprest, verse 12. The like ti- tle is given to men, in Psalme 78. 39. Genesis 6. 3. Esay 40. 6.

Verse 6. they grievously wrest] they painfully forme, and frame my words (or my matters): perverting them, and giving them another figure or fashion. So the Hebrew word is used for fashioning, Iob 10. 8. It signifieth also, grieving, Esay 63. 9.

Verse 7. They draw together] or, gather, that is, convene and combine together, or, gather warres, as is exprest, Psal. 140. 3. So Psal. 59. 4. my steps] or my beeles, or foot-soles, after the manner of that old Serpent, Gen. 3. 15.

Verse 8. cast downe] or make descend, to wit, to the pit of corruption, as Psal. 55. 24. or neither parts of the earth, as Ezek. 32. 18.

Verse 9. my wandring] my sitting to and fro, as from Sauls presence to Gath, 1 Sam. 21. 10. from thence to the cave of Adullam, 1 Sam. 22. 1. from thence to Mispah in Moab, verse 3. then to the fo- rest of Horeth in Iudah, verse 5. then to Keilah, 1 Sam. 23. 5. thence to the wilderness of Ziph, verse 14. thence to the wilderness of Maon, v. 25. then to Engedi, 1 Sam. 24. 1, 2. and so from place to place, as a Partrich on the mountaines; in all which David acknowledged Gods care and pro- vidence towards him. in thy bottle] that is, reserve them diligently. Bottles were used to put in milke and wine, Iudg. 4. 19. 1 Sam. 16. 20. In the Hebrew there is an allusion to the former word wandering, called Nod, a bottle being also in that tongue called Nod, having difference in writing, but none in sound. are they not in thy register?] or, in thy booke and reckoning? meaning, doubtlesse they are. A question is often used for an earnest affirmation or deniall. As when one Evangelist saith, Doe yee not erre? Mar. 12. 24. another saith, yee doe erre, Mat. 22. 29.

10 Verse 10. that God will be for me] or, with mee, or, that God is mine: as the Greeke saith, thou art my God.

13 Verse 13. Thy vowes are upon me] that is, I have thank-offerings ready, wherewith to pay my vowes which I made unto thee. A like phrase is in Prov. 7.

14. Vpon me are peace-offerings. See also how vowes were paid with peace or thank-offerings, Levit. 7. 15.

16. Psalme 66. 13. Or, they are upon me, that is, I am bound to pay them, or, doe now bind my selfe and take them upon me. The Chaldee saith, On me I have received, O God, thy vowes.

confessions] that is, as the Chaldee saith, sacrifices of confession, or thanks: which were distinguished from vowes, Levit. 7. 12. 15. 16.

14 Verse 14. hast thou not also] meaning surely thou hast: as before in verse 9. and Psal. 116. 9.

from sliding] or, from driving, from thrust, that is, from sliding by the thrust of my enemies. to walke

on] or converse: it noteth a continuall and pleasing carriage of ones selfe acceptable to God: therefore the Greeke explaineth it by well-pleasing; and the Apostle followeth the same, in Heb. 11. 5. from Gen. 5. 24. So in Psal. 116. 9. The meaning also of the phrase here is, that I may walke: as that which one Prophet saith, Lasbabeth, so dwell, 1. Chron. 17. 4. another saith, lesbibi, that I may dwell, 2 Sam. 7. 5. the light of the living] or, light of life: meaning the vitall of lively light which men here on earth doe enjoy: and therefore in Iob 33. 28. 30. this is opposed to the pit or grave; and in Psal. 116. 9. it is called the land of the living: whereof see Psal. 27. 13. This also respecteth the better light of life, mentioned by our Saviour, Ioh. 8. 12.

P S A L. LVII.

David in prayer flying unto God, complaineth of his dangerous case. 8 Hee encourageth himselfe to praise God.

1 To the master of the musick, Corrupt not, Michtam of David, when he fled from the face of Saul into the cave.

2 BE gracious to me, O God, be gracious to me, for in thee my soule hopeth for safety, and in the shadow of thy wings will I hope for safety, til the wofull evils passeth over. I will call unto God most high, to the God that perfectly accomplisheth towards me. He will send from heavens, and save me; hee hath put to reproach him that would swallow me up, Selah: God wil send his mercy and his truth. My soule is among Lions; I lie among inflamers, the sons of Adam; their teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword. Be exalted over the heavens, O God, over all the earth be thy glory. They prepared a net for my steps, he bowed downe my soule; they digged a pit before me; they are fallen into the midkt of it, Selah. Firmely prepared is my heart, O God, firmly prepared is my heart; I will sing and praise with Psalme. Raise up my glory, raise up Psalterie and Harpe, I will raise up at the day dawning. I will confesse thee among the peoples, O Lord, I will praise thee with Psalme among the nations. That thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the skies. Bee exalted over the heavens, O God, over all the earth be thy glory.

Annotations.

Corrupt not] or, Bring not to corruption, or perdition. This word sometime importeth corruption of faith and manners, by sinne, as is noted on Psal. 14. 1. sometime perdition, or utter destruction, the punishment of sinne, Psal. 78. 38. 45. Gen. 6. 13. and 9. 11. 15. it is a more vehement word than killing, Ezek. 9. 6. 8. This word is also in the title of the 58. 59. and 75. Psalmes.

Michtam] a golden song. See Psal. 16. 1. from face] or, for feare of Saul. See Psal 3. 1. into the cave] Saul sought David in the wilderness of Engedi, upon the rocks, among the wild goats; and being there in a cave, David cut off the lap of Sauls coat, and would not kill him. Which when Saul afterward perceived, his heart relented for Davids kindnesse, and he wept, acknowledging his fault. And taking an oath of David that he should not destroy his seed, hee ceased his persecuting for a time, 1 Sam. 24. David in that distresse made this Psalme.

Verse 2. evils passeth] that is, every evil; or, the whole heape of evils passeth.

Verse 3. perfectly accomplish] or performeth, to wit, his grace, or his promise; or my affaires, bringing them to a full end and stay. So Psal. 138. 8. A like speech the Apostle useth, Phil. 1. 6.

Verse 4. He will send] or usually sendeth, to wit, his hand, Psal. 144. 7. or, his Angell, as Dan. 3. 27. and so the Chaldee explaineth it; or, his mercy and truth, as after followeth. Swallow mee] or, breatheth after me. See Psalme 56. 2.

Verse 5. Lions] called here Lebaim, bearty, fiery, courageous Lions; of Leb, that is, heart, courage. As

As there be sundry sorts of Lions, so have they sundry names; see Psalme 7. 3. Lions are mentioned in the Scriptures for the stoutnesse of their heart, 2 Sam. 27. 10. boldnesse, Prov. 28. 1. and grimmesse of their countenance, 1 Chron. 12. 8. Saul and his Courtiers are here Lyons to David, as were the Kings of Ashur and Babel after unto Israel, Ier. 50. 17. the Roman Emperour to Paul, 2 Tim. 4. 17. and all wicked rulers over the poore people, Prov. 28. 15. inflamers of houses, meaning fiery, fierce, and raging persons, that flamed with wrath and envie, and inflamed others. Of such David did complaine to Saul, 1 Sam. 24. 10. speares] Heb. the speare; as chariot for chariots, Psal. 68. 18. So Agur speaketh of a generation whose teeth are swords, and their jaws knives, to eat up the afflicted out of the earth, Prov. 30. 14. See also Psal. 55. 22. and 59. 8.

6 Verse 6. over the heavens] the Chaldee expoundeth it, over the Angels of heaven: so in verse 12.

9 Verse 9. Raise up] or stirre up, to wit, thy selfe, or Awake. A word of exciting, Iudg. 5. 12. Compare this with Psalme 108. 2. 3. &c. my glory] my tongue or soule. See Psalme 16. 9. and 30. 13.

at the day dawning] I will rouse up my selfe with my instruments. Or, I will raise up the day dawning, that is, I will prevent the early morning, and be up before it, and so stirre it up. A figurative speech.

11 Verse 11. That thy mercy] or, For thy mercy is great, &c. Compare Psalme 36. 6.

PSAL. LVIII.

David reproveth wicked Judges: 4. describeth the nature of the wicked; 7. devoteth them to Gods judgments: 11. Whereat the just shall rejoyce.

1 To the Master of the Musicke. Corrupt not; Michtam of David.

2 INdeed, O assembly, speake yee justice? judge ye righteousnesses, O sonnes of A-
3 dam? Yea in heart yee worke injurious
4 evils in the land, ye weigh the violent wrong
5 of your hands. The wicked are estranged
6 from the wombe, they erre from the belly,
7 speaking a lye. Hot poyson they have, like
8 as the hot poison of a Serpent, as of the deaf 9 Aspe, that stoppeth his care. Which will 10 not heare the voice of charmers, of him that inchanteth, inchantments of him that is made wise. O God, breake their teeth in their mouth; burst out the Lions tusshes, O Jehovah. Let them be refused as waters that passe away: bend hee his arrowes, be they as cut off. As a snail that melteth, let him goe away; as the untimely birth of a woman; as they that have not scene the Sunne.
Ere that they shall perceive your thornes of the Bramble: even alive, even in wrath, he will tempestuously whirle it away. The just shall rejoyce when he seeth the vengeance;

hee shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked. And earthly man shall say, Surely there is fruit for the just; surely there is a God that judge in the earth.

Annotations.

Corrupt not] Bring not to perdition, &c. See Psal. 57. 1. and 16. 1.

Verse 2. O assembly] O band, Company or congregation. The Hebrew Elelem, which hath the signification of binding as a sheaf or bundle, seemeth here to be a company that are combined, and confederate. Or, it may be taken for the binding of the tongue, that is, dumbnesse, (as before in Psal. 56. 1.) and be read thus; Of a truth, doe ye speake dumbe justice? or, muteness of justice? As blaming them for speaking and boasting of justice, when indeed justice was dumbe, and opened not her mouth, but they gave most unjust sentence.

righteousnesse, or equities, that is, righteous, plaine, and equall things. Judges are called Gods, Psal. 82. 6. and therefore should imitate God, who saith, I doe speake justice, and declare righteousnesses, Esay 45. 19.

Verse 3. yee weigh] or, yee balasse, (of the Hebrew Palal) yee peise. A similitude taken from the weighing of things which should be in even peise and proportion, Prov. 16. 11. so justice should weigh all words and workes in equity, & reward them accordingly: but these weighed out wrong for right.

Verse 4. from the wombe] that is, even from their mothers wombe, the wicked are estranged, (doe alienate themselves) from God, justice, and vertue. This noteth mans naturall corruption. So in Esay 48. 8.

Verse 5. Hot poyson they have] or, Hot wrath is to them. The Hebrew Chamath signifieth both poyson and rage or fury, each of them being hot. The Greeke here turneth it rage; the similitude of a serpent rather giveth it to be poyson, as Psal. 140. 3. Rom. 3. 13. Deut. 32. 24. Though both are fitly applyed to the wicked, who like serpents in fury spit out their venome and malice. like as] or, according to the likeness. It meaneth an exact comparison, as no whit inferiour to the serpent, which was the instrument to poison mankind, Gen. 3. serpent] or snake, called in Hebrew Nachash, of expertnesse, for it was more subtiler than any beast of the field, Gen. 3. 1. deaf aspe] or cockatrice, or the serpent Python, called in Hebrew Pethen, which name noteth (by the contrary) the unperswadednesse which this Psalme sheweth to bee naturally in that beast. And so the wicked have the title of Apeitbeis, Unperswaded, or Disobedient, Tit. 1. 16. Ephes. 2. 2. stoppeth] Hebr. will stop, that is, usually stoppeth his care, with his taile (as humane writers report) whiles the other hee layeth

- eth on the ground; or, is naturally deafe of it.
- 6 Verse 6. the voice of charmers] which with words use to charme serpents, that they can neither bite nor sting, as may be gathered both by this place, and by Eccles. 10. 11. Ier. 8. 17. And these Char-mers have their name in Hebrew of whispering, or, soft, sweet, and eloquent speaking, Psal. 41. 8. Isa. 3. 3. of him that inchanteth] or that conjureth, conjoineth, associateth. Inchanters have this title here, and in Deut. 18. 11. either because by forcery they associate Serpents, making them tame and familiar, that they hurt not; or because such persons use to bind and tie bands or things about the body, to heale or hurt by forcery; or because by their conjuring art, they have society and fellowship with Devils. And that these evill arts are not here approved, the Law sheweth, Deut. 18. Onely similitudes are taken from them, as elsewhere from the theefe, Revel. 16. 15. the unrighteous Judge, Luke 18. 1. 2. 6. 7 the unjust Steward, Luke 16, &c. of him that is made wise] of the wisest, that is, the learned, expert, the cunning Mage.
- 8 Verse 8. refused as waters] that is, (as the Greeke explaineth) set at nought, nothing esteemed; as waters that passe away and are not regarded. bend be his arrowes] or, his arrow, (for the Hebrew hath a double reading;) that is, every of his arrowes. And this may be meant of the wicked man, whose arrowes bent at the just, shall be broken: or, of God, who shooteth at the wicked, and cutteth them off. be they as cut off] or, let them be as if they were cut off, or, even as straws: meaning it of the wicked's arrowes: or if of their owne persons, let them be even cut off, as the Greeke saith, untill they be weakened.
- 9 Verse 9. snail that melteth] or, snail of melting, that is, a consuming snail; which creeping out of the shell, casteth her moistures, and so waiteth to death. Also with salt, a snail melteth into water. let him goe away] or, walke; meaning, let him dye. So where one Prophet saith, to goe with thy fathers, 1 Chron. 17. 11. another saith for it, sleep, that is, die, 2 Sam. 7. 12. the untime birth] or fallen birth, meaning fallen before due time. So Iob 3. 19. Eccles. 6. 3. 5.
- 10 Verse 10. Ere that they shall perceive] or, Before men shall understand. Hee speaketh to the wicked of their sudden destruction. The meaning seemeth to be this: Ere men shall perceive (or feele) the pricking of your thornes, which are thornes of the Bramble. God will as with a whirlwind destroy every of them. The bramble or brier (mentioned also in Iothams parable, Iudg. 9. 14. 15.) hath strong and sharpe thornes, fit to resemble the evill counsels and deeds of the wicked. The Hebrew Sir is used both for a thorne, and a pot: wherefore some here translate pots, yet yeelding the same sense. The Greeke turneth it thornes. as alive] or even quicke; which noteth sudden destruction, as Psal. 55. 16. let them goe downe to hell alive: or their lively vigour, which made them feare no destruction, as Psalme 38. 20. my enemies are alive are mighty. This word is sometime used for raw flesh, 1 Sam. 2. 15 which some that translate the former word pots, retaineth also here. even in wrath] or, as with burning anger. Wee may also understand the word thorne thus: as well the living thorne, (that is, fresh and greene) as the thorne of burning: that is, the burnt or seare thorne: because on the bramble, some of the thornes are parched and dry, when others are young and greene. be will tempestuously whirle it away] God will take away, (or shave away) it, that is, every thorne, as with a whirlwind or tempest. For, as with a whirlwind that passeth, the wicked is no more, Prov. 10. 25.

Verse 11. his feet in blood] This noteth both the greatnesse of the slaughter, and comfortable use which the just shall make hereof. Compare Psal. 68. 24. Esay 63. 3. Revel. 14. 20.

Verse 12. earthly man] Hebr. Adam, put here for men in generall, as son for sons, 2 King. 21. 6. with 2 Chron. 33. 6. See also Psal. 8. 9. fruit] that is, a comfortable reward, after their labours and troubles. As Heb. 12. 11. Iam. 3. 18. So the Chaldee translateth it, a good reward. God that judge] or Gods judging. A myserie of the holy Trinity, used sundry times in the Scripture, as, Gods caused me to wander, Gen. 20. 13. be in holy Gods, Ios. 24. 19. be in living Gods, Ier. 10. 10. though most commonly it is otherwise. See the note on Psal. 3. 3.

P S A L M E L I X.

David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies, 7 He complaineth of their cruelty. 9. Hee trusteth in God. 12 Hee prayeth against them. 17. Hee prayeth God.

To the Master of the Musicke, Corrupt not; Michtam of David, when Saul sent, and they kept the house for to kill him.

DEliver me from mine enemies, O my God: from them that rise up against me, set thou me on high. Deliver me from the workers of painefull iniquity, and save thou me from the men of bloods. For loe they lay wait for my soule, the strong doe draw together against mee: not for my trespassse, nor for my sinne, Jehovah. Without iniquity in me, they run and make ready: raise thee up to meet me, and see. And thou Jehovah God of hosts, God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathens: be not gracious to any that unfaithfully worke iniquity, Selah. They returne at evening, they make noise as a dogge, and compass the Citie. Loe, they utter with their mouth; swords are in their lips: for vvho heareth? But thou Jehovah vvilt laugh at them, thou vvilt mocke at all the heathens. His strength, unto thee wil I take heed, for God is mine

11 mine high defence. The God of my mer-12 cie will prevent me, God will let me see on mine enuiers. Slay them not, lest my people forget; make them wander abroad in thy 13 power, and bring them downe, our shield,
 Lord. The sinne of their mouth, the word of their lips; when they shall be taken in their haughtinesse; and of cursing, and of 14 false deniall, let them tell. Consume in wrath, consume & let them be no more; and let them know that God ruleth in Iakob, to 15 the ends of the earth, Selah. And they shall returne at evening, make noise as a dog, and 16 compasse the citie. They shal wander abroad for to eat, and shall howle if they be not sa-17 tisfied. But I will sing thy strength, and wil shout at morning thy mercy; for thou hast beene an high defence to me, and a refuge in 18 day of my distresse. My strength, unto thee will I sing Psalme, for God is mine high defence, the God of my mercy.

Annotations.

- 1 Corrupt not] or bring not to perdition. See Psalme 57.1. Michtam] a notable song: see Psalme 16.1. to kill him] or to doe him die. Saul having cast his speare at David, and missed him, sent messengers after unto Davids house, for to keepe (or watch) him, and to kill him. But his wife Michal (Sauls daughter) bewrayed the matter, let David downe at a window, and so hee escaped, 1 Sam. 19. 10. 11. 12. Hereupon hee made this Psalme.
- 2 Verse 2. sent me on high] set me aloft, where I may be safe, that my foes reach not to me.
- 4 Verse 4. not for my trespass] to wit, against them; as else-where David professeth, 1 Samuel, 24. 10. 12.
- 5 Verse 5. without iniquity] to wit, of me, or on my part, understanding it of sinne, as in the former verie: or without punishment (understanding it of the enemies) they runne, &c. Iniquity is often used for Punishment: See Psalme 69. 28. Or, without iniquity, (without blame) in their owne conceit; as in Ierem. 50. 7. their enemies said we offend not, because they have sinned, &c. to meet me] meaning, for good, that is, to assist me. For sometime meeting is to oppose and resist, Psalme 35. 3.
- 6 Verse 6. to visit] namely, with punishment, as Exod. 20. 5. So otherwise, in Psalme 8. 5. the heathens] that is, the wicked mine enemies, called here heathens, as else-where strangers, Psal. 54. 5. unfaithfully worke] or, disloyally commit. See this word, Psalme 25. 3.
- 7 Verse 7. They returne at evening] The enemies, like hungry dogs, come at evening, secretly to surprise and devoure me. So wicked persecutors are likened to dogs, Psal. 22. 17. or it may be a prophesie of their extreme poverty, that when others goe to rest, they goe about howling for meat. make noise as a dog] barking, grinning, grinning, howling, as a dog for his meat; as after, verse 15. 16. therefore the Greeke turneth it, they are hungry.

Verie 8. utter] or well out, as from a fountaine; belch or babble, as Prov. 15. 2. 28. This similitude is explained, Ierem. 6. 7. As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so shee casteth out her malice. swords, &c.] that is, they speake sharpe denouncing words. So the Chaldee interpreteth it, words that are sharpe like a sword. See Psalme 57. 5. who beareth] These are the aduersaries words, who thought that none did heare, or (as the Chaldee addeth) would punish them.

Verse 20. His strength] understand, O God that art his strength: and may bee meant of himselfe, though he speake as of another: 1. Because in the Hebrew there is sometime a sudden change of the person, as Dan. 9. 4. thou keepest covenant towards them which love him, that is, which love thee, Deut. 5. 10. that love mee, and keepe his Commandments, for, my commands, Mic. 1. 2. Hear ye people all they, for all yee. 2. Because in the last verie of this Psalme it is repeated, My strength. 3. Also in this place, both the Greeke and Chaldee turne it My strength. 4. Because in the next verie, it is written in the Hebrew text letters, his mercy, but by the vowels and margine, read, my mercy; which giveth occasion to suppose the like meaning here. Howbeit the sense is good, if we understand it of the enemy Saul, thus; O God that art his strength, and hast given him the kingdome, & this power. For even wicked rulers have no power, except it be given them from above, Ioh. 19. 11. And David much respected Saul, as Gods Anointed, 1 Sam. 26. 11. 2 Sam. 1. 14. I take heed for, will I keepe, observe, that is, wait upon thee, or keepe thanks and praises for thee, as verse 18.

Verse 11. God of my mercy] or, of his mercy, (as is observed in the former verie;) or, my God of mercy, that is, my mercifull God. prevent me] to wit, with mercy, or blessings, as Psalme 21. 4. let me see] to wit, vengeance, Psalme 54. 9. as the Chaldee also here explaineth it.

Verse 12. people forget] to wit, their sinne and punishment for the same. Dead men are forgotten, Psalme 31. 13. Ecclef. 9. 5. so their punishment whiles they live, is the more memorable. make them wander] to wit, as vagabonds. The word hath reference to Cains judgement, who was not killed, but marked for a vagabond, Gen. 4. 14. 15. Some punishments are lesse tolerable than death it selfe, Revel. 9. 6.

Verse 13. The sinne of their mouth, &c.] This sentence is difficult; for, 1. It may have reference to the former, that my people forget not their sinnes and punishments, but may tell of them: or, 2. It may respect themselves; let them tell (or confesse) their owne sinnes and punishments, as did Cain, Iudas, &c. Gen. 4. 13. 14. Mat. 27. 4. Or, 3. It may shew the cause of their judgements, For the sin of their mouth, &c. & so the Chaldee expounseth it.

it. when they shall] or, and let them be taken.
and of cursing] or, for the curse, (the execration,) which may be understood of the sinne, according to Psal. 10. 7. or, of the punishment thereof, as Deut. 30. 7. of false deniall] of their lying, or of their leamessse. The originall signifieth either, and may also be meant of sinne, or the punishment
 thereof. let them tell] or, they shall tell, speaking of his people, or of the wicked themselves.

14 Verse 14. Consume] to wit, them, as Loose, Mat.
 21. 2. for, loose him, Marke 11. 2.

15 Verse 15. And they shall returne] or, let them returne, &c. a prophesie of, or prayer for their punishment answerable to their sinne, as before,
 verse 7.

16 Verse 16. They shall wander] or make themselves wander, scatter themselves abroad. The Hebrew hath a double reading, to include both these: so 2 Sam. 15. 20. See a like punishment of the wicked, Iob 15. 23. The Chaldee addeth, They shall wander abroad, that they may take a prey for to eat.
shall howle] or, shall tarry all night, to wit, hungry and unsatisfied. The Hebrew signifieth either of these: but the Greeke chooseth the former, they shall murmur, howling for hunger.

17 Verse 17. sing thy strength] that is, praise with song thy strength, who canst defeat my foes, and protect me.

PSAL. LX.

David complaining to God of former afflictions, now upon better hope prayeth for deliverance. 8 Comforting himselfe in Gods promises, hee craveth that helpe wherein he trusteth.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, upon Shushan
 eduth, Michtam of David, for to teach.
 2 When he fought with Aram of Mesopotamia, and with Aram of Zobah: and Iobab turned and smote Ædom in the valley of salt, twelve thousand.

3 O God, thou didst cast us away, thou didst break us, thou wast angry; turn 4 againe unto us. Thou didst make the land to quake, didst rive it; heale thou 5 the breaches thereof, for it is moved. Thou didst shew thy people a hard thing; thou did-6 didst give us to drinke the vvine of astonishing horror. Thou hast given to them that feare thee, a banner to be high displayed, be-7 cause of the certaine truth, Selah. That thy beloved may be delivered, save thou with 8 thy right hand, and answer me. God spake
 by his holinessse, I vwill be glad: I shal divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Suc-
 9 coth. Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh mine, and Ephraim the strength of mine

head; Iehudah shall be my lawv giver. Moab my vvashing pot: over Ædom I shall cast
 my shooe: Palestina thou thou over mee.
 Who will lead me along to the citie of strong defence, vvho vvill lead me unto Ædom?
 Is it not thou, O God, that hadst cast us a-vvay, and vvouldst not goe forth, O God,
 in our hosts? O give thou us helpe from distressse, for vaine falshood is the salvation of earthly man. Through God vve shall doe valiantnesse, and he vvill tread dovne our distressers.

Annotations.

Shusan] that is, the six-stringed instrument, (or Lute.) See Psal. 45. 1. eduth] that is, the testimony; which here either belongeth to the musical now unknowne to us, or meaneth the Psalm to be a testimony of Davids faith and thankesfulnesse; or to bee sung by the Priests before the Arke of God in the Sanctuary; which Arke and Tables of the covenant in it, was called the Testimony, Exod. 40. 5. 20. Michtam] a golden song: see
 Psal. 16. 1.

Verse 2. Aram] that is, the Aramites, or Syrians;
 the posterity of Aram, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 22. Mesopotamia] a countrey so commonly called of the Greeke, Act. 7. 2. in Hebrew Naharajim, that is, of (or between) the two rivers, meaning Tygris & Euphrates, between which this land lay. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, Aram which is by Euphrates. Zobah] a countrey near the other, called of Greek Writers Syria Saphena.

Ædom in the valley of salt] that is, the Ædo-mites, or Idumeans in the salt valley, a place in that countrey, whereof mention is also made, 2 King.
 14. 7. twelve thousand] in the history, 2 Sam. 8.
 13. this victory is ascribed to David, in 1 Chron.
 18. 12. it is ascribed to Abishai, Iobabs brother, and there also the number is eightene thousand. It seemeth that Captaine Abishai first set on them, and slew 6000. after him followed Iobab, and slew 12000. moe, here mentioned. And David in this victory attributed, because he was King.

Verse 3. cast us away] This complaint seemeth to have reference unto that miserable state wherein Israel was, 1 Sam. 13. 19. &c. and 31. 7.
turne] The Chaldee addeth, turne thy glory to me.

Verse 4. the land quake] that is, *change the state
 thereof*; as Hag. 2. 7. compared with Hebr. 12. 26, 27, 28. also Ezek. 31. 16. This land the Chaldee expoundeth the land of Israel. rive it] as at earth-quakes rifts and chinkes appeare. This word is not else-where used in Scripture. heale] that is, repaire: See the like phrase, 2 Chron. 7. 14.

Verse 5. astounding horror] or reeling, giddinesse:
 meaning, they were drunken with afflictions,
 which caused horror, as drunkennessse with wine
 causeth giddinesse. This word is also used, Esay
 51. 17, 20, 21, 22.

Verse 6. a banner] or ensigne. This word is applied

plied to the flagge or ensigne of the Gospell, Esay 11.12. and 49.22. and 62.10. here, to David and his victory. to be high displayed] or, to use for a banner, which hath the nam: of lifting high. the certaine truth] of thy promises.

7 Verse 7. answer me] or us, me and my people. The Hebrew hath both readings. The Chaldee explaineth it, Reserve my prayer.

8 Verse 8. shall divide] this meaneth a full possession after conquest, Ios. 1.6. and 13.7. Shechem] a citie in the tribe of Ephraim, not far from Samaria, Gen. 33.18. Ios. 20.7. Succoth] a citie in the tribe of Gad, beyond the river Iarden, Ios. 13.27.

9 Verse 9. Gilead] and Manassah: These were the utmost borders of the land of Canaan without Iarden: which howsoever for a time they resisted David, and clave to Ishbosheth Sauls son, 2 Sam. 2.8.9. &c. yet were by Gods promise to be subjected unto David. strength of my head] that is, my hornes wherewith I shall smite the people together, according to that promised blessing, Deut. 33.17. or by head, may bee meant head-ship, kingdome, or principality. law-giver] or statute-maker, a title of authority; therefore the Greeke translateth here, King. This also accordeth to the promise made to Judah, Genesis 49.10. 1 Chron. 5.2.

10 Verse 10. Moab] the land or people of the Moabites, neere to the land of Israel; these were the posterity of Lot, Abrahams nephew, begotten by Lot in his drunkenesse, of his owne daughters, Gen. 19.33. 36.37. they had now forsaken the true God, and worshipped Baal-pebor and Chemosh, Num. 25.1.3. and 21.29. were enemies to Israel, Numb. 22. Iudg. 3.12. and subdued by David, 2 Sam. 8.2. washing pot] that is, used for base services, as a vessell to wash my feet in. over Edom shall I cast my shoe] that is, I shall walke thorow, possesse, and tread downe the land of Edom (or Idumea) whose inhabitants were Edomites, the posterity of Edom, that is, Eseu the elder brother of Iakob, who prophanely selling his birth-right for a messe of red pottage, (called in Hebrew Adom) had his name therefore Edom, to the perpetuall shame of him and his seed, Gen. 25.30. and 36.8.9. Heb. 12.16. as Iakob by faith obtained the glorious name of Israel; see Psal. 14.7. Palestina shout thou] for this, in Psal. 108.10. it is said, over Palestina I will shout. So here it seemeth to be spoken in mockage; intimating, that howsoever the Philistines dominered and triumphed for a while, (as appeareth, Iudg. 10.7. and 13.1. 1 Sam. 4.10. and 31.1.) yet should they by David bee subdued; as came to passe, 2. Sam. 8.1. Therefore the Greeke turneth it, the aliens are subject to me: the Chaldee thus, concerning the Philistines, shout and be strong, O congregation of Israel. Palestina (called in Hebrew Palestiah) was a part of the land of Canaan, westward by the sea, inhabited by the Philistines, which came of the Castubims, nephewes of Asixram the son of Cham, the sonne of Noah, Gen. 10.14. These with the Caphorims, first inhabited Caphor, and from thence came to Palestina, Amos 9.7. where they drove out the Avims, (the ancient inhabitants of the land) and dwelt in their stead, Deut. 2.23. And this seemeth to be the reason why usually the Philistines are called in Greeke Allopylois, Aliens, (of another tribe or nation;) because they were not the first naturall inhabitants.

11 Verse 11. Who will lead] it is a kind of wish, as Psal. 14.7. yet implying also some difficulty, as the next verse here sheweth. of strong defence] that is, defended or fortified: see Psal. 31.22. This may be meant generally of all strong cities that resisted David; or specially of Rabbah, the chiefe citie of the Ammonites, wherof see 2 Sam. 12.26. 29. &c.

13 Verse 13. from distress] or from the distresser, the adversary. for vaine] Hebr. and vaine: but and is often used for because, or for; as 2 Sam. 22.28. with Psal. 18.28. so Esay 64.5.

14 Verse 14. doe valiantnesse] or valour, that is, valiant acts: according to the prophesie, Num. 24.19. or make a power, that is, gather an army; as the phrase is used, 1 Sam. 14.48. and in Ezek. 28.4. it is used for gathering of wealth. See the notes on Psalme 18.33. will tread downe] in Greeke, will set at nought, or contemne.

PSALME LXI.

David flieth to God upon his former experience. 5 He voweth perpetuall service unto him, because of his promises.

To the Master of the Musicks, upon Neginath, a Psalme of David.

HEARE thou, O God, my shouting, attend to my prayer. From the end of the land unto thee do I call when my heart is overwhelmed: lead thou me unto the rock that is higher than I. For thou hast beene a safe hope to mee, a tower of strength from the face of the enemy. I will sojourne in thy tent for ever, I will hope for safety in the secret of thy wings, Selah. For thou, O God, hast heard my vowes, hast given inheritance to them that fear thy name. Thou wilt adde dayes unto the dayes of the King, his yeares shall be as generation & generation. He shall sit for ever before God; prepare thou mercy and truth, which may keepe him. So will I sing Psalme to thy name, unto perpetuity, that I may pay my vowes day by day.

Annotations.

VPon Neginath] or with neginath, that is, the playing on the strings of the instrument: meaning that this Psalme was to be sung with musick of stringed instruments. See Psal. 4.1.

Verse 3. end of the land] the utmost border of the land of Canaan, where David sometime was driven to

to abide, 2 Sam. 17. 24. or, end of the earth. is over-whelmed] or covered over, to wit, with griefe, (as the Greeke explaineth it) whereby it fameth; oppressed with sorrow. So Psal. 102. 1. and 77. 4. and 107. 5. and 142. 4. lead thou] or, thou wilt lead: a speech of faith, from former deliverances, as the next verse sheweth. higher than I] which I cannot get upon, unlesse thou lead me.

4 Verse 4. a safe hope] or, shrouding place, where hee hoped for, and had found safe shelter.

5 Verse 5. I will sjourne] or shall abide. See Psal. 15. 1. in the secret] or, the hiding place, called else-where the shadow of his wings, Psal. 36. 8. and 63. 8. See Psalme 91. 1. - 4.

9 Verse 6. my vowes] that is, my prayers made with vowes, as the Saints used, Gen. 28. 20. Iudg. 11. 30. 31. Hereupon, prayer is called in Greeke Proseube, of pouring out vowes to God. inheritance to them] so the Greeke also hath it; or, give me the inheritance of them; that is, such a blessing as usually thou bestowest on such as feare thee. The Chaldee paraphraseth, thou hast given an inheritance in the world to come to them that feare thy name.

7 Verse 7. Thou wilt add] or prayer-wise, add thou, &c. so the rest. dayes unto dayes] or, upon dayes, that is, a long life. of the King] meaning himselfe, and specially Christ, who was to be his Sonne after the flesh. So the Chaldee saith, of the King Christ. See Psalme 72. and 89. 21. 30. 37. 38.

8 Verse 8. He shall sit] to wit, on the throne, that is, reigne, or sit, that is, dwell, or abide, as Psalme 140. 14. prepare] or, appoint, as his due and ready portion. The Hebr. is Man, a name whereby that prepared meat was called, which God gave his people from heaven, Psalme 78. 24.

9 Verse 9. day by day] or day and day, that is, daily. The Hebrew usuall phrase is, day day; so Psal. 68. 10. Gen. 39. 10. Eley 58. 2. Exod. 16. 5. sometime day and day, as Hest. 3. 4. 2 Cor. 4. 16. So two two, Marke 6. 7. for, two and two. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, when I pay my vowes in the day of the redemption of Israel; and in the day when the King Christ shall be anointed to reigne.

PSALME LXII.

David professing his confidence in God, discourageth his enemies. 6. repeateth his assured confidence; 9. Teacheth the people to trust in God, not in worldly things. 12. Power and mercy belong to God.

1 To the master of the musicke over Ieduthun, a Psalme of David.

2 YEt surely unto God my soule keepeth
3 silence; from him is my salvation.
4 Surely he is my rocke, and my salvation, mine high defence, I shall not be moved much. How long will ye endeavour mischief against a man: ye shall be killed all of you; ye shall be a bowed wall, as a fence that is shooed at. Surely they consult to thrust him downe from his high dignity, they delight in a lye: with his mouth each of them blesseth, and with their inward part they curse, Selah. Yet unto God, my soule keep thou silence: for from him is my expectation. Surely he is my rocke and my salvation, mine high defence, I shall not be moved. In God is my salvation and my glory, the rocke of my strength, my safe hope, is in God. Trust ye in him in all time, O people; powre out your heart before him; God is a safe hope for us, Selah. Surely the sons of base man are vanity, the sons of noble man are a lye: in balances to mount up, they together are lighter than vanity. Trust not ye in oppression, and in robbery become not vaine: if powerfull wealth do increace, set not the heart thereon. Once did God speak, twise heard I this same: that strength pertaineth to God. And to thee O Lord, mercy for thou wilt pay to man according to his work.

Annotations.

Over Ieduthun] that is, over Ieduthuns posterity, who was a singer in Israel, 1 Chron. 25. 3. or, to Ieduthun: See also Psalme 39. 1.

Verse 2. Tei surely] or Only. It is an earnest affirmation, against some contrary temptation or speech, and excludeth all other things. So verse 3. 5. 6. 7. 10. keepeth silence] or is silent, or still, that is, quiet, submisse, and (as the Greeke explaineth it) subject; the rebellious affections being tamed and subdued. See also Psalme 4. 5.

Verse 3. moved much] or, moved with a great moving. Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast downe, but I perish not, as 2 Cor. 4. 9. for God graseth the iust with the temptation, 1 Cor. 10. 13. The Chaldee expounds it, I shall not be moved in the day of great affliction.

Verse 4. endeavour mischief] this word is not found elsewhere in the Scripture. It denoteth both a purpose in mind, and a thrusting forward in all of any mischievous deed. against a man] in Chaldee, against a gracious man. So man here is used as in Ier. 5. 1. if ye can find a man, that is, a just and godly man. ye shall be killed] or will ye be murdered? violently killed. Some Hebrew copies varying a point or vowell, give it an active signification, will ye murder? This the Greeke followeth; but the former sense here fitteth best.

shooed at] or thrust, namely, for so fall, as is expressed, Psal. 118. 13. Hereby is meant a great and sudden ruine, as Eley 30. 13. Ezek. 13. 13. 14.

Verse 5. from his high dignity] or excellencie whereunto he was exalted of God. David speaketh this of himselfe, (therefore the Greeke hath, mine honour;) and blameth them here for oppugning his dignity.

dignity, as he did before in Psal. 4.3. they delight] or readily like of, and accept of a delectable lie.

each of them blest] Hebrew, they blest: but his mouth leadeth us to minde it of all in generall, and every one in particular. Compare Pla. 5.10. Blessing is used for faire words, and sometimes stuttery, Rom. 16.18.

6 Verse 6. my expectation] that is, my salvation expected, and hoped for, as verie 2.

9 Verie 9. in all time] that is, alwaies: See Psal. 34.2. powre out your heart] that is, the desires of your heart, your prayers with teares. A similitude taken from powring out of waters, as is expressed, Lam. 2.19. powre out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord. This was practised in Israel when they drew water (from their heart) and powred it out (by their eyes) before the Lord, 1 Sam. 7.6. A like phrase is of powring out the soule, Psal. 42.5. 1 Sam. 1.15. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, Cast downe before him the prides of your heart, and pray before him with all your heart, and say, God is our hope for ever.

10 V.10 noble man] hereby is meant men of all degrees, high and low. See the notes on Ps. 49.3. in ballances to mount up] or, to ascend: meaning that all men together, if they be put in one ballance, & vanity in another, they will mount up, that is, be lighter than vanity it self. And the word hebel, vainly, here used, denoteth a vaine light thing, as the breath of ones mouth, or bubble on the water.

11 Verie 11. in oppression] that is, in goods gotten by oppression, extortion, or fraudulent injurie: this word importeth guilefull wrong, as the next, more open violent robbrie. See also Isa. 30.12. become not vaine] that is, foolish and vile in respect of others, and deceiving your selves. For to make vaine, is to deceive, Jer. 23.16. and to wax vaine, is to be vile and come to nothing. Job 27.12. Jer. 2.5. Rom. 1.21. This instruction which concerneth all men, David applieth to his souldiers, that they should not give themselves to the spoile. Compare Luke 3.14.

powerfull wealth] riches; see Psal. 49.7. set not the heart] that is, doe not affect it, or carefully regard it, but use this world as though you used it not, 1 Cor. 7.31. So, to set the heart, is to regard or care for a thing, 1 Sam. 4.20. & 9.20. 2 Sam. 18.3. Exod. 7.23. Prov. 22.17.

12 Verie 12. Once] Hebrew One, meaning one time, as Exod. 30.10. and as is expressed, Jos. 6.3. So twise, or two times. Though it may also be interpreted one thing, two things (as achab is one thing, Psal. 27.4.) The Greeke here saith, Once spake God, these two things have I heard.

13 Verie 13. to man] that is, to every one, as this phrase is opened, Matth. 16.27. Rom. 2.6. Revel. 22.12. to his worke] whether it be good or evil. See the like in Prov. 24.12. Jer. 32.19. Job 34.11. Ezek. 7.27. 2 Cor. 5.10. Ephes. 6.8. Col. 3.25. 1 Pet. 1.17.

PSAL. LXIII.

David under perscution sheweth his thirst for God, and comforts that he had found in him. 10 His confidence of his enemies destruction, and his owne safety.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee; my soule thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth ardently for thee in a land of drought, & weary without waters. So as I did view thee in the Sanctuary, for to see thy strength, and thy glory. Because thy mercie is better than life, my lips shall celebrate thee. So will I blesse thee in my life, in thy name will I lift up my palmes. My soule shall be satisfied as with fat and fatnesse, and my mouth shall praise with lips of shouting joy. When I remember thee on my beds, meditate on thee in the night-watches. That thou hast beene a helpfullnesse to me, and in the shadow of thy wings I shouted. My soule cleaveth after thee, thy right hand upholdeth me. But they that seeke my soule for tumultuous ruine, shall go into the lower parts of the earth. They shall make him run out by the hands of the sword, they shall be the portion of Foxes. But the King shall rejoyce in God; euery one that sweareth by him shall glory, but stopped shall be the mouth of them that speake a lye.

Annotations.

VV [wildernesse of Judah] the Forrest of Hareth, 1 Samuel 22.5. or, the wilderness of Ziph, 1 Samuel 23.14. both which were in the Tribe of Judah.

Verf. 2. early] this noteth care and diligence, Job 8.5. Hof. 5.15. Psal. 78.34. Prov. 1.28. Luke 21.38. longeth ardently] this word (which is here onely found) seemeth to denote an earnest or hot appetite for meat, as the former thirst is for drinke.

land of drought] that is, dry land, for so the wilds or desarts were usually waterlesse, Psal. 107.33,35. Exod. 17.1. Numbers 20.1,2. Jer. 2.6. weary] and consequently thirsty, which is caused by wearinesse. So Psal. 143.6. Or wearisome to travell, as the Greeke translateth it, waylesse, which none can goe in.

Ver. 3. the Sanctuary] or, the sanctitie, the holy place, so called for the more reverence, and because holinesse became that house, Psal. 93.5. for to see] this may be meant of his present desire to behold it as in time past: or as a continued speech of his past comfort, when I did behold thy strength, thy strength and thy glorie] both these were seene in the Arke of the Testimanie, whence Gods oracles were uttered, Exo. 25.22. Num. 7.89. called therefore the Arke of Gods strength, Ps. 134.8. and also his glory, 1 Sam. 4.21,22. See also Ps. 78.61. and 105.4.

IIIIII

Verse 4.

4 Verse 4. celebrate] land, or glorifie thee. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this verse thus: because thy mercie which thou wilt doe to the just in the world to come, is better than the life which thou hast given to the wicked in this world, therefore my lips shall laud thee.

5 Verse 5. So will I blesse thee] to wit, when thou restorest me againe into thy Sanctuarie: therefore also it may be taken for a prayer, So let me blesse thee.

in my life] that is, whiles I live here on earth: as the Chaldee saith, in my life in this world. So Psal. 49. 19. and 104. 33. and 146. 2. lift up my hands] that is, pray: which was with this gesture of holding up the palmes of the hands towards heaven, as looking to receive a blessing. So Job 11. 13. Lam. 2. 19. & 3. 41. Psal. 141. 2. It is called also the lifting up of the hands, Psal. 28. 2. and spreading out of the palmes, Psal. 44. 21. & 88. 10.

6 Verse 6. fat] or sewet and sainesse. Both words in the originall signifie sainesse: and hereby is meant satiety of pleasures; so Jeremie 31. 14. Psalm. 36. 9. The Chaldee expoundeth it, satisfied with thy Law.

7 Verse 7. when I remember] or, if I remember, that is, so oft as. The Hebrew um, if, is here used for when; as also 1 Samuel 15. 17. So in Greeke, ean, if, Matthew 6. 22. is hotan, when, Luke 11. 34. watches] or custodies, observations, which were in the night, as is expressed, Psal. 90. 4. See the notes there.

8 Verse 8. helpfulnesse] that is, a full helpe, as Psal. 44. 27. of thy wings] which the Chaldee translateth, of thy divine Majestie. So Psal. 57. 2.

9 Verse 9. cleaveth after thee] this noteth love, constancie, and humilitie, and union in the spirit: for as man and wife cleaving together, are one flesh, Gen. 2. 24. so he that cleaveth to the Lord, is one spirit, 1 Corinthians 6. 17. And this union commeth of the Lord, who saith by the Prophet, as the girdle cleaveth to the loynes of a man, so have I tied to me the whole house of Israel, that they might be my people, Jer. 13. 11.

10 Verse 10. for tumultuous ruine] that is, to bring my soule unto destruction, or ruine. See this word, Psalme 35. 8.

11 Verse 11. They shall make him run out] or, They (the enemies) shall powre out him, meaning some principall, as Saul, or every of his foes: or He (every one that seeks my soule) shall be made run out, that is, his blood shall be shed, as waters, Psalm. 79. 3. A like phrase is used Jer. 18. 21. Ezek. 35. 5. The Greeke translateth, They shall be delivered unto the hands of the sword hands] that is, the edge, or force of the sword, as Job 5. 20. Jer. 18. 21. portion of foxes] that is, left unburied, for foxes and other wilde beasts to prey upon and devoure. So Sauls blood flowed out by the sword, and his company slain on mount Gilboa, lay for a prey to the beasts, 1 Sam. 31. So Christs enemies slaine with the sword are eaten of ravenous fowles, Rev. 19. 21.

12 Verse 12. But the King] that is, I who am King by Gods anointing, 1 Sam. 16. 12, 13. and Christ the sonne of David. swareth by him] that is, by God; the Chaldee saith, by his word: by swearing, meaning Gods whole worship, whereof swearing was a part, Deut. 6. 13. Esa. 45. 23. and 65. 16. Jer. 4. 2. Therefore that which the Prophet calleth Swearing, Esa. 45. 23. the Apostle calleth Confessing to God, Rom. 14. 11.

PSALME LXIV.

David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies. 8 He prophesieth their destruction, whereat all men shall feare.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalme of David.

HEare my voyce, O God, in my prayer; preserve my life from dread of the enemy. Hide me from the secret of evill doers, from the tumultuous rage of them that work painfull iniquity. Which have whetted their tongue as a sword, have bent their arrow, even a bitter word. To shoot in secret places at the perfect; suddenly will they shoot at him, and feare not. They confirme to themselves an evill word; they tell to hide snares: they say, who shall see them? They search out injurious evils, they accomplish an exquisite search, even the inmost of each man, and the deepe heart. But God hath shot at them an arrow, suddenly their strokes have beene. And when they have caused them every one to fall upon themselves by their owne tongue, they shall betake themselves to flight, whosoever seeth them. And all men shall feare, and declare the worke of God, and prudently consider his deed. The just man shall rejoyce in Jehovah, and hope for safety in him, and glory shall all the upright of heart.

Annotations.

Payer] or meditation: see Psal. 55. 3. the Greeke saith, when I pray unto thee.

Verse 3. the secret] or secrecie, mysterie, that is, councell, or assembly of evill doers, that is, the malignant Church, as the holy Church is called the secrecie (or mysterie) of the righteous, Psal. 111. 1.

Verse 4. bent their arrow] that is, laid their arrow ready on their bended Bow. The like phrase was in Psal. 58. 8. See also Psal. 111. 2.

bitter word] or bitter thing, as the Greeke explaineth it. So after in verse 6. an evill word, or thing. See the notes on Psal. 7. 1. A bitter word is here called an arrow; and in Jer. 9. 3. their tongue is called their Bow.

Verse 6.

6 Verse 6. they tell, to hide ] or, of hiding, that is, impart their counsell one to another, how to hide inares. they accomplish an exquisite search ] or, a search searched out, that is, a curious diligent search. The Greeke translateth, they are consumed searching out searches : meaning that they spend both their time and themselves, in searching out evils against the iust. It may also be read, we are consumed by the search searched out, meaning that in their judgement we cannot escape their snares. even the inmost ] Hebr. and the inmost, that is, what soever any mans wit and deepe heart can finde out : or, So deepe (is) the inward part and heart of man.

8 Verse 8. have bene ] or, assuredly shall be : the time past being used for more certainty, as in Isa. 9.6. And by have bene, is meant the sure event and accomplishment of Gods judgements on them, with the continuance of the same. As the Hebr. word of being, signifieth to come to passe, or have event, 1 Sam. 4. 1. Job 37. 6. and to continue to be, Dan. 1.23. Esa. 66.2. Ruth 1.2.

9 Verse 9. they have caused them every one ] Hebr. caused him : which being spoken of many, as in this place, meaneth them all severally, to one man. to fall, &c. ] or to stumble downe : signifying, that Gods strokes should have effect to overthrow them by their owne devices. be- take themselves to flight ] or, shall wander about in their flight ; which noteth great feare and unstaiednesse, (which the Greeke therefore turneth, are troubled) and is meant of the wicked, their favourites.

PSAL. LXV.

Gods praises in Sion for hearing prayer, 4 for pardoning sinnes, 6 for his just administration in the world, 10 and for his manifold blessings upon his land and people.

1 To the Master of the Musike, a Psalme, a Song of David.

2 Praise, silent waiteth for thee, O God,
3 in Sion; and to thee shall the vow be
4 paid. Thou hearest prayer, unto thee
5 all flesh shall come. Words of iniquities
6 have prevailed against me; our trespasses,
7 thou wilt mercifully cover them. O blessed 8 is he whom thou chusest and takest neere, that he may dwell in thy courts; we shall be satisfied with the good things of thine house, with the holy things of thy Palace. Fearfull things in justice thou wilt answer us, O God of our salvation, the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of those far off by sea. O hee that stablisheth the mountaines by his able might, is girded about with strength. Which appeaseth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumultuous noise of the peoples. And feare doe they that dwell in the utmost parts, for thy signes; the out goings of morning and evening, thou makest shout. Thou visitest the land, and plentifully moistenest it; very much thou enrichest it, with the streame of God full of waters; thou preparest their corne, when so thou hast prepared it. Thou waterest abundantly the ridges of it, thou settest the furrowes of it, thou makest it soft with showers, thou blestest the bud of it. Thou crownest the yeere of thy goodnesse, and thy pathes drop fatnesse. They drop on the pastures of the wildernesse, and the hills are girded about with gladnesse. The pastures are clad with sheep, and the vallies are covered with corn; they shout, they also sing.

Annotations.

Praise, silent, waiteth ] or, is silent, that is, submissly and quietly expecteth thee : see Psalm. 62.2. or, Unto thee there is silence and praise, that is, silence looking to receive mercies, and praise for them being received. The Greeke saith, praise becometh thee. The Hebrew also may imply the same, though it be more significant. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, The praise of the Angels is counted as silence before thee, O God, whose Majestie (is) in Sion.

Verse 3. Thou bearest ] or, O thou that bearest, or, be that beareth : see after in verse 7. all flesh ] that is, all sorts of men; as Gen. 6.12. Psalm. 145. 21. Acts 2.17. This is a prophesie of all Nations converted unto Christ.

Verse 4. words of iniquities ] or, of perversities, that is, perverse things, or words, unrighteous deeds. Words are often put for things, as Pla. 7.1. mercifully cover ] or expiate, propitiate, purge away, and so cover, and forgive. Of the Hebrew Caphar, which signifieth to cover, the Cover of the Arke was called Caphareth, Exod. 25.17. in Greeke bilasterion, that is, the propitiatory, or mercie-seat, Heb. 9.5. which name Paul giveth to Christ, Rom. 3.25. who is the true propitiation for our sins, 1 Joh. 2.2.

Verse 5. takest neere ] or, causest to approach, to wit, unto thy selfe; the Greeke saith, takest unto thee.

thy courts ] or court-yards, the open places of the Tabernacle and Temple. There was an inner court and an outward, 1 Kings 7. 12. one for the Priests, another for the people, called the great court, 2 Chron. 4.9. 2 Kings 21. 5. good things ] so the Greeke explaineth it well : the Hebrew speaking of the good thing in generall, comprehending the whole store of pleasures and commodities; as Deut. 6.11. Gen. 45.23. The like here followeth, holy, for all holy things. And among good things, understand the principall, the gift of the holy Ghost : as that which in Matth. 7.11. is good things, in Luke 11.13. is called the holy Ghost.

6 Verse 6. Fearfull things, &c.] God out of his Tabernacle gave oracles and answers to his people, Numb. 7. 89. and from Heaven he answered to their prayers against their adversaries, Psal. 3. 5. he answered alwayes things reuerend and fearefull. those farre off by sea] whereby is meant, not onely those upon the sea, whose hope God is, Psal. 107. 23, 28, &c. but those also that dwell farre asunder disjoyned by the sea, as in Ilands, which wait for his Law, Isa. 42. 4. So the Chaldee interpreteth it, and of the Iles of the Sea which are disjoyned from the dry land (or continents.)

7 Verse 7. O be that stablisheth] or, which setteth fast: it is a continued speech to God, as the words before and after manifest, but the person changed for more passion, like that in Job 18. 4. O be that teareth his soule, for, O thou that tearest thy soule. See the notes on Psal. 59. 10. mountaines] hereby is often meant kingdomes, polities, and Commonweales, Jer. 51. 25. See Psal. 30. 8. The Chaldee understands it here, of Gods preparing food for the wilde Goats of the mountaines.

8 Verse 8. of the sea] waters signifie peoples, Revel. 17. 15. and seas are the huge armies of peoples, Jer. 51. 42. Esa. 17. 12, 13. All such, as well as the naturall seas, God asswageth. See also Psal. 46. 7.

9 Verse 9. And they] or, When they feare. in most parts] or borders, to wit, of the earth, as is expressed, Isa. 41. 5. the out-goings of morning, &c.] This may be meant both of the successiue course of day and night, and of them that go out at morning and evening, which be men to their labour, and beasts for their prey, as is shewed, Psal. 104. 20, 23. and of people, inhabiting the East and West parts of the world.

10 Verse 10. plenteously moistenest it] This sense the Greeke yeeldeth: the Hebrew also may be turned, when thou hast made it to desire raine: or, and givest it the desire thereof. These things are spoken first of the land of Canaan, (as the Chaldee expoundeth, thou remembreth the land of Israel;) which God visited and blessed continually, as Moses telleth, Deuteronomie 11. 12. and spiritually are meant of Christs Church, Ezek. 36. 8, 9, &c. very much] or, with multitude, to wit, of riches, (or good things) the streame] or Brooke, rivers. See Psal. 1. 3. & 46. 5. The Chaldee paraphraseth, from the fountaine of God which is in heaven, which is full of the showers of blessing. of God] that is, with heavenly, sweet and wholesome streames of waters, not as Egypt, watered with mans labour, but drinking waters of the raine of heaven, Deut. 11. 10, 11. The streame of God may be here taken for an excellent streame, as mountaines of God, Psal. 36. 7. and the word with is to be supplied. Compare herewith Joel 3. 18. Revel. 22. 1. where a fountaine, and pure river of water of life, come forth from the Lords house and throne. their corne] theirs that dwell in thy land, and house: after that thou hast thus prepared the land, and watered it, thou makest it fruitfull.

11 Verse 11. selest the furrowes] or, the clods, that is, with raine thou causest the clods to be close to cover the seed. The Hebrew words being indefinite, to settle,

&c. have like signification with the former. See Psal. 49. 15. and 77. 2. and 103. 20. makest it soft] or meldest, resolvest, makest it moist, with drops of raine, that fall many. See Psal. 72. 6. the bud] or branch, that which springeth up out of the earth. This name is given to Christ himselfe, Esa. 42. Zach. 3. 8. and 6. 12.

Verse 12. yeere of thy goodnesse] that is, thy good yeere, which thou honourest with singular blessings. So God commanding the Sabbath yeere, promised to blesse the sixth yeere, that it should bring forth fruit for three yeeres, Lev. 25. 20, 21. But the good yeere is that acceptable yeere of the Lord, which Christ preached, Esa. 61. 2. Luke 4. 19. thy pathes drop] the clouds which are Gods chariot, Psal. 104. 3. in which water is bound, Job 26. 8. and from which raine is dropped, to cause the earth to fructifie, Job 36. 28. and 38. 26, 27. And pathes here are properly such tracks as are made by chariot wheelles.

Ver. 13. of the wildernesse] where there is no man, Job 38. 26. that grasse may grow for beasts, Psal. 104. 14. Though sometime shepherds there feed their flocks, Exo. 3. 1. girded with gladnesse] rejoycing for the store of grasse that grow on them on every side. Things are figuratively said to be glad, when they attaine unto and abide in their naturall perfection: so light is said to rejoyce when it shineth cleare and continually, Prov. 13. 9.

Verse 14. the pastures] or fields, are clothed, that is, covered, abundantly stored with flocks of sheepe. For fields, the Greeke putteth Rams of the sheepe: the Hebrew Carim signifieth both, Isaiah 30. 23. and 34. 6. but the Grammaticall construction and coherence here sheweth it rather to be fields or pastures.

PSALME LXVI.

An Exhortation to praise God, 5. to observe his workes, 8. to blesse him for his gracious benefits. 13 The Prophet voweth religious service to God. 16 Hee declareth Gods speciall goodnesse to himselfe.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Song,
a Psalme.

S Hout ye unto God, all the earth. With 2
Psalmes sing the glory of his name, put 3 glory to his praise. Say unto God, how 3 fearfull is every of thy workes! through the 4
greatnesse of thy strength thine enemies shal 4
falsly denie to thee. Let all the earth bow 4 down themselves to thee, and sing Psalmes to 4
thee; let them sing Psalm to thy name Selah. 5
Come and see the workes of God; he is fear- 5
full in his doing toward the sonnes of A- 6
dam. He turned sea to dry land, they passed 6
thorow

thorow the River on foot, there did we re-7 joyce in him. He ruleth with his power for ever, his eyes espie amoug the nations; the rebellious, let them not exalt themselves Se-8 lah. Ye peoples, blesse our God, and make 9 the voice of his praise to be heard. That put-teth our soule in life, and hath not given our 10 foot to be moved. For thou, O God hast proved us, thou hast tried us as silver is tried.
 11 Thou hast brought us into the net, thou hast
 12 laid straitnesse on our loines. Thou hast caused men to ride upon our head, we came into fire and into waters, and thou hast brought 13 us out to an abundant place. I will come into thine house with burnt-offerings, I will pay 14 to thee my vowes. Which my lips have opened, and my mouth hath spoken in the di-15 stresse upon me. Burnt-offerings of marrowed rammes I will offer up to thee with incense; I will make ready Beeves, with goat-16 bucks Selah. Come heare ye & I will tell, all ye that feare God, what he hath done to my 17 soule. Vnto him I called with my mouth, and 18 he was extolled under my tongue. If I had seen in my heart painfull iniquitie, the Lord 19 would not have heard. But surely God hath heard, hath attended to the voice of my 20 prayer. Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer & his mercy from me.

Annotations.

- 1 Shout] to wit, with a joyfull or triumphant noise:
 see Psal. 41. 12. all the earth] or, all the land, that is, the Inhabitants thereof, as the Chaldee explaineth. So verse 4. and Psal. 98. 4. and 100. 1. and often in the Scripture.
- 2 Verse 2. put glorie] in Greeke, give glorie to his praise, that is, make his praise glorious and honourable.
 A like phrase is in Jos. 7. 19. put glory to Iehovah,
 that is, give him glory.
- 3 Ver. 3. fearfull in every, &c.] or, fearfull art thou in thy works. One word singular, and another plurall, meaneth exactly all and everyone, as Psal. 57.
 2. and 62. 5. falsely deny] or lie, that is, fainedly
 submit: See Psal. 18. 45.
- 4 Verse 4. Let all] or All shall.
- 5 Verse 5. in his doing] or, in practise; the Greeke
 translateth, in counsels: see Psal. 9. 12.
- 6 Verse 6. sea to dry land] the red sea God turned to dry land by a strong East wind, dividing the waters, that Israel might goe thorow it, Exo. 14. 21.
 22. thorow the river] Iordan, when the banks therof were full, was dried; the waters stood still on an heape till all the people went thorow it, Jos. 3. 13, 14, 17. So the Chaldee explaineth it, thorow the river Jordan the sonnes of Israel went on their feet. there did we rejoyce] he teacheth

them to apply their fathers deliverances to themselves: for all things fore-written are for our learning and use, Rom. 15. 4. A like speech another Prophet useth, be found him in Bebel, and there be shake with me, Hof. 12. 4. The Chaldee paraphraseth, I will leade them to the mount of the house of the Sanctuary, there we will rejoyce in his Word.

Verse 7. espie] that is, watchfully view in the nations, that is, (as Solomon expoundeth it) in every place, both the evill (persons) and the good, Proverbs 15. 3. the rebellious] or, the off-fallen, forward and refractarie persons, which exasperate and provoke the Lord to bitterness, as the Greeke here translateth. exalt] or be exalted (pust up)
 in themselves.

Verse 8. peoples] tribes of Israel, called also peoples, Act. 4. 27. make to be heard] or cause (men)
 to heare, sound forth audibly: see Psal. 26. 7.

Verse 9. Thou puttest our soule in life] that is, first givest, then preservest life, and finally rettoreth our dead soules unto life. Saving from dangers of death, Psal. 30. 4. quickning them that were dead in sinnes, Ephel. 2. 1. The Chaldee expounds it, the life of the world to come. given our foot to be moved] that is, suffered our estate to be changed to our raine: So Psal. 38. 17. and 121. 3. See
 Psal. 15. 5.

Verse 10. as silver is tried] Hebr. as to try silver;
 and this meaneth sore afflictions, as at large is shewed, Ezek. 22. 19, 20, 21, 22. wherefore when God mentioneth lesser trials, he saith, Lo, I have tried thee, but not as silver, Isa. 48. 10. Hereby also is meant a purifying from dross and corruption by afflictions. See Mal. 3. 3. Zacharie 13. 9.
 1 Peter 1. 7.

Verse 11. straightnesse] or affliction, as the Greeke also turneth it; but hereby a strait chaine or wringing girt may be meant, such as burthens are tied with to Beasts backs.

Verse 12. upon our head] to use us as Beasts for to carry them; it meaneth servile subjection: see the like in Isa. 51. 23. came into fire and into waters] that is, passed thorow afflictions of sundry sorts, Psal. 32. 6. Ezek. 15. 6, 7. Also in Num.
 31. 23. those things are said to come thro (or passe thorow) fire, which would abide the same without being consumed, as metals. That sense hath also use here; as after is shewed. an abundant place] or, a moist, a well watered land, where wee may drinke our fill. The Greeke calleth it a refreshing; which well fitteth with the comforts of the Gospel, as Act. 3. 29.

Verse 14. opened] that is, uttered, or promised distinctly and seriously, as the Greeke saith, distinguished: for the mouth being opened in vowes,
 signifieth that they may not be called back, Judg.
 11. 35, 36. distresse upon me] or in my distresse:
 so Psal. 18. 7. and 59. 17.

Verse 15. marrowed rammes] that is, fat and lusty.
 The word Rammes is in Hebrew set after the word incense: which may therefore be read, the incense (or perfume) of Rams, meaning the fat which was burned on the Altar. And so it may intend peace offerings, as before he mentioned burnt offerings:

See Levit. 3. 9, 10, 11. compared with Levit. 1. 10, -13. The Chaldee expoundeth it, incense of spices, and sacrifices of Rams. make ready or offer, as the Greeke interpreteth it. The Hebrew word to make or doe, is used for *dress*ing or making ready of meat, or sacrifices, Gen. 18. 8. Judg. 6. 19. Exod. 10. 25. and 29. 36. Levit. 16. 24. and 22. 23.

Beeres] the Hebrew bakar is the Beest generally; one for many, as in Psal. 8. 9. These were the principall sacrifices, Levit. 1. 2, 10.

17 Verse 17. under my tongue] that is, with my tongue: or it may be meant of the heart and inward parts, which are under the tongue.

18 Verse 18. If I had seene in my heart] that is, had regarded with it: so to see, is to behold with a corrupt affection, Job 31. 26. Thus God cannot see evill, Hab. 1. 13. would not have heard] for, God beareth not sinners, John 9. 31. nor hypocrites, Job 27. 8, 9. Prov. 15. 29. The Greeke maketh it a wish, Let not the Lord beare me.

PSALME LXVII.

A Prayer for the enlargement of Gods kingdome, to the joy of all peoples, and increase of Gods blessings.

1 To the master of the musick on Neginoth, a Psalme, a Song.

2 GOD be gracious unto us, and blesse us, he make his face to shine with us Selah. That they may know in the earth thy way, thy salvation among all the Heathens. Peoples shall confesse thee, O God, peoples all of them shall confesse thee. The nations shall rejoyce and shout, for thou wilt judge the peoples with righteousness, and the nations in the earth, thou wilt guide them Selah. Peoples shall confesse thee, O God, peoples all of them shall confesse thee. The earth yeeldeth her increase, God our God will blesse us. God will blesse us, and all the ends of the earth shall feare him.

Annotations.

2 Face to shine] or, to be light, that is, cheerfull and favourable. See Psal. 4. 7. and 31. 17.

3 Verse 3. That they may know] meaning men, indefinitely: or, that thy way may be knowne. Gods way is generally his administration in the world, specially his Gospel, Act. 18. 25, 26. as his salvation is Christ, Luke 2. 30.

4 Verse 4. shall confesse] or, let them confesse: and so after.

7 Verse 7. The earth] or land of Canaan, (as the Chaldee explaines it, the land of Israel) the seat of Gods Church; whose fruitfull increase God promised in the Law, Levit. 25. 19. and 26. 4. and the Prophets apply it to the spirituall graces of the Gospel, Ezek. 34. 27. Zach. 8. 12. Eley 45. 8. and our land or earth is our hearts regenerate, to beare fruits to the Lord, Matthew 13. 19, 23. Hebrews 6. 7.

PSAL. LXVIII.

A Prayer at the removing of the Arke, with a Prophecie of Christs resurrection. 5 An Exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 8 and for his care of the Church. 19 A Prophecie of Christs ascension and benefits following, for which God is to be blessed; 32 and of the conversion of the Gentiles unto his further praise.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalme, a Song of David.

1 LEt God arise, let his enemies be scattered, and they that hate him flee from his face. As smoke is driven away, so drive thou them away; as wax is melted at the face of fire, so let the wicked perish from the face of God. And let the just rejoyce, let them shew gladnesse before the face of God, & let them joy with rejoycing. Sing ye to God, sing Psalme to his name; make an high way for him that rideth in the deserts, in Jah his name, and shew gladnesse before his face. He is a father of the fatherlesse, and a Judge of the widowes; even God, in the mansion of his holinesse. God seateth the solitary in house, bringeth forth those that are bound in chaines; but the rebellious dwell in a dry land. O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou marchedst in the wilderness Selah. The earth quaked, also the heavens dropped, at the face of God: Sinai it selfe at the face of God, the God of Israel. A raine of liberalities thou didst shake out, O God; thine inheritance when it was wearied, thou didst confirme it. Thy company doe dwell in it, thou doest prepare in thy goodnesse for the poore afflicted, O God. The Lord will give the speech of those that publish glad tidings to the great armie. The Kings of the armies shall flee, and shee that remaineth in the house shall divide the spoile. Though ye lie between the pot ranges, yee shall bee as the wings of a Dove, which is decked with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold. When the Almighty scattereth abroad Kings in it, it shall be snow white in Tsalmon. A mountaine of God mount Bashan is, an hilly mountaine mount Bashan. Why leape ye,

18 O hilly mountaines? this is the mountaine
God desireth for his seat; yea, Jehovah will 19 dwell in it to perpetuall aye. Gods Chariot, twise ten thousand thousands of Angels; the Lord is with them, as in Sinai in the Sanctua-20 rie. Thou art ascended to on high, thou hast led captive a captivie, thou hast taken gifts
unto men, and also the rebellious to dwell, 21 O Jah God. Blessed be the Lord, which day by day loadeth us: the God our salvation Se-22 lah. Our God is a God of salvations, and to Jehovih the Lord belong the issues of death.
23 But surely God will wound the head of his enemies, the hairie scalpe of him that goeth on in his guiltinesses. The Lord hath said, I 24 will bring againe from Bashan: I will bring againe from the gulfes of the sea. That thy foot may imbrue it self in bloud, the tongue of thy dogs in bloud of thine enemies, even of 25 every of them. They have seene thy goings, O God, the goings of my God, my King, in 26 the Sanctuarie. The singers went before, the players on instruments after: amongst them 27 the Damosels beating on Timbrels. In the Churches blesse ye God, even the Lord, ye 28 of the fountaine of Israel. There little Benjamin with their ruler, the Princes of Judah
wish their assembly, the Princes of Zebulun, 29 the Princes of Naphtali. Thy God hath commanded thy strength; strengthen, O 30 God, that thou hast wrought for us. For thy Palace in Jerusalem, Kings shall bring thee a 31 present. Rebuke the company of speare-men, the congregation of mightie bulls, with the calves of the peoples, and him that submit-teth himselfe with pieces of silver: he hath 32 scattered abroad the peoples that delight in wars. Princely Ambassadors shall come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shall hastily stretch her 33 hands unto God. Sing unto God, yee king-domes of the earth: sing Psalmes to the Lord 34 Selah. To him that rideth in the heavens of heavens of antiquitie: loe, he will give his 35 voice a voice of strength. Give the strength to God, his high Majestie is upon Israel, and 36 his strength in the skies. Fearfull art thou, O God, out of thy Sanctuaries: the God of Israel he giveth strength and forces to the people; blessed be God.

Annotations.

2 L Et God arise] or stand up. By God here is meant Christ our Lord; for of him is this Psalme interpreted by the Apostle, Ephes. 4. 8, 9, 10. This entrance is taken from Moses, Num. 10. 35. where when the host of Israel rose up from mount Sinai

to journey towards Canaan, the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord went before them three daies journey, to search out a resting place for them. And when the Arke went forward, Moses said, Rise up Jehovah, and let thine enemies be scattered, &c. where Moses respected not only the Arke, (the figure of Christ)
but the promise of God: Behold, I send an Angell before thee to keepe thee in the way, and to bring thee to the place which I have prepared; beware of him and heare his voice, &c. for my Name is in him, &c. Exodus 23.
20, 21. This was the Angell of the Covenant, Mal.
3. 1. the Angell of Gods face or presence, which saved
the people, Isaiah 63. 9. even Christ, whom they tempted in the wilderness, 1 Corinthians 10. 9.
in whom God was, 2 Corinthians 5. 19. and who himselfe is God our all blessed for ever, Amen, Romans
9. 5. David applieth these things to his owne time and action of bringing home the Arke, 1 Chronicles 13. and prophelieth also of things to come, as Acts 2. 30, 31.

Verse 4. let them joy] to wit, inwardly, with delight, (as the Greeke explaineth it) as the former word signifieth, outward joyfull carriage and exultation.

Verse 5. make an high way] or exalt: but that this is meant of a way, or easie, first the Hebrew word Sollu naturally beareth, as Isa. 62. 10. & 57.
14. secondly, the Greek verlion bodopaisate, make way, confirmeth it; thirdly, the scope of this place sheweth it, compared with Esay 40. 3. where the Voice in the wilderness crieth to prepare the way of the Lord Christ, Matthew 3. 2. deserts] places
where things are mixed and confused, as the word Ghmaraboth properly signifieth. So Ghmarab is a desert or wilderness, Isaiah 40. 2. and there is a declaration of this place, that vallies should be exalted, mountaines debased, crooked things made strait, and rough places smoothe, Isaiah 40. 3. Luke 3. 5.
The Greeke verlion here, epi dusmoon, meaneth also the same: for though the word be ambiguous, and signifieth the west parts, yet is it often used for the deserts, or plains of the wilderness, Numb. 33. 48, 50. & 36. 13. Deut. 1. 1. Josh. 5. 10.
2 Sam. 4. 7. in Iah his name] or by Iah his name, to wit, sing and praise him. Iah is the proper name of God in respect of being or existence, for he is of himselfe, Exod. 3. 14. giveth to all life and breath, and all things, and in him we live, and move, and have our being, Acts 17. 25, 28. It is the same in effect with Jehovah, but more seldome used: of which see Psal. 83. 19.

Verse 6. a Judge] that is, a defence and avenger of their wrongs: see Exod. 22. 22, 23, 24. Isa. 1. 17.
Jam. 1. 27. mansion of his holinesse] or his holy mansion, whereof see Psal. 26. 8.

Verse 7. the solitarie] them which are alone, or desolate, meaning without children. in house] that is, giveth them children: see Psalme 113. 9.
in chains] or in conveniences, that is, in convenient and commodious sort; or into fit (and commodious)
places. The Greeke saith, in fortitude. The Chaldee thus, be brought forth the sonnes of Israel, which were

were bound in Egypt. dry land] or barren ground, named in the originall of the blacknes or whitenesse, as whereon nothing groweth. This the Chaldee referreth to Pharaoh and his host, which were obstinate, and would not send away Israel, that they dwelt in a dry land.

9 Verse 9. Sinai it selfe] or, this Sinai, to wit, quaked, when God came downe upon it to give his Law: see Exo. 19. 16, 18. Heb. 12. 18. The Chaldee saith, Sinai, the smoke thereof ascended like the smoke of a furnace, because the Majestie of God, the God of Israel, was revealed upon it. These words David borrowed from Deborahs song, Judges 5. 4, 5. Sinai is a mountaine in Arabia, Galathians 4. 25. in the wilderness, therow which Israel passed, Exodus 19. 1. It was called also Horeb: see Psalm. 106. 19.

10 Verse 10. raime of liberalities] that is, a liberall, plentifull, free and bountifull raine, proceeding of Gods free grace. So elsewhere is mentioned the raine of blessing, Ezek. 34. 26. Spiritually this meaneth the doctrine of the Gospel, Deut. 32. 2. Isa. 45. 8. Hof. 14. 6, 7. and 6. 3. Heb. 6. 7. See Psalm. 65. 10. shake out] or, shed and sprinkle abroad, as with the waving of the hand; the Greeke turneth it, separate. God divideth the founts for the raine, Job 38. 25, 26, 28. and 37. 6. when it, &c.] Hebr. and wearied, that is, dry, fainting for want of water, as Psalm. 63. 2.

11 Verse 11. Thy company] the host of Israel, seated in Canaan. The Hebr. word Chejab signifying Life, is used for all living creatures, commonly Beasts, and among them wilde beasts, in which most life appeareth, Gen. 1. 24, 25, &c. also for fishes, Psalm. 104. 25. Applied to men, it meaneth a company or societie, either good, as in this place, or evil, as after in ver 31. It is used for an host of men, as 1 Sam. 23. 13. in stead wherof, in 1 Chro. 11. 15. is written Machaneh, a Campe or Leaguer. The Greeke here turneth it Zoa, Living rights: which word is used in Rev. 4. 6. and 5. 8, 9. where mysticall speech is of Christs Church. prepare] to wit, thine inheritance (or, fruitfull blessing therein) for the poore (or afflicted) that is, the Church. This every man was to acknowledge when he brought the first fruits unto God: see Deuter. 26. 5, 6, 9, 10. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thou preparedst the hosts of the companies of Angels for to doe good to the poore afflicted.

12 Verse 12. will give the speech] or, gave the word; but it may be taken for a prophesie. And by giving the speech (or word) is meant either the ministering of matter and speech unto them, or the confirming and performing of that which they have spoken. So Paul desired the prayers of the Churches, that speech might be given him, Ephes. 6. 19. Colos. 4. 3. But the Chaldee referreth this to the Law, The Word of God gave the words of the Law to his people. of those that publish glad tidings] or, (applying it to Christs time) of the Evangelists, of the soules that preach the Gospel, or carry good newes. Such are in armies, they that carry tidings of victorie, as 1 Sam. 18. 19. Such in Christs armie are the Preachers of the Gospel, Rom. 10. 15. The origi-nall word here mebassroth, is of the feminine gender, usually understood therfore of women, such as sung songs of victorie, as Exod. 15. 20. 1 Sam. 18. 6, 7. but the Scripture no where calleth such the publishers of glad tidings: we may therefore understand it of men; for, 1. as Solomon called himselfe Kobeleth, that is, a Preacher, (in the feminine gender) or a preaching soule, Eccles. 1. 1. so may any Evangelist in like sort be called Mebassereb. 2. Also the Greeke version maketh it the masculine, the Lord will give the word (tois Euangelizomenois) to the men that Evangelize. 3. And in Isa. 40. 9. such are spoken to in this sort and forme as did preach good tidings to Sion and Ierusalem; which seemeth to be principally meant of the Apostles. 4. The Chaldee Paraphrast also applieth it to men, though past, as to Moses and Aaron, which evangelized the Word of God to the many companies of Israel. to the great armie] meaning the Church, of whose warfare see Isa. 40. 2. Rev. 19. 14. 2 Cor. 10. 4. or if we referre it to the Evangelists, there is a great host of them: or to the tidings that they tell, it is of much warre. The Chaldee referres it to Moses and Aaron, that evangelized Gods Word to the great hosts of Israel.

Ver. 13. shall flee] this is meant of Christs enemies, as in verse 2. though here is another word, signifying a wandering flight, seeking where to hide them, as Rev. 6. 15. So five Kings fled from Ioseph and hid them in a cave, Jos. 10. 16. See also Jos. 11. 1, 4, 5, 8. she that remaineth] Hebrew, the mansion (or habitation) that is, the woman or women, who goe not out to warre, but keepe at home, as Judg. 5. 24. Tit. 2. 5. As the Church is sometime likened to a Woman, Revelat. 12. 1. so the Chaldee applieth this here to the congregation of Israel, that divided the spoile from heaven. divide the spoile] this is a blessing, Isa. 53. 12. done after victorie, Judg. 5. 30. Luke 11. 22. and with joy, Isa. 9. 3. For spoiles are used to denote riches, Prov. 1. 13. and 31. 11. and 16. 19.

Verse 14. betweene the pot-ranges] or, betweene the two banks or rewes, to wit, of stones made to hang pots and kettles on in the camp or leaguer: places where Scullions lie, and so are black; meaning hereby affliction and miserie; as on the contrarie, by the doves silver wings is meant prosperiety. Or, we may understand it of the two bounds and limits of the enemies, where they are continually assailed and indangered. And this the Creek seemeth to favour, turning it, [ana meson toon cleroon] amidst (or betweene) the inheritances; even as they also translate the two burthens or limits between which Isachar couched, Gen. 49. 14. which Tribe had the Philistians at one end, and Ammonites on the other, that vexed them. The Chaldee giveth this paraphrase, The God of Israel said, Though ye Kings lie (or sleepe) betweene the curtaines, behold the Church of Israel, which is like unto a dove, covered with clouds of glory, divideth the spoile of the Egyptians. with yellow gold] understand againe, decked with yellow (or greenish) gold, that is, of a golden colour and green, as the originall word importeth, Leviticus 13. 49. and 14. 37.

- 15 Verse 15. the Almighty] or Al-sufficient, that is, God, named in Hebrew Shaddai, of his power and sufficiency to goe thorow with all things, and for wasting and destroying his enemies, as at the drowning of the world. To this the Prophets have reference, saying, that food (destruction) shall come from Shaddai, (the Almighty) Iſa. 13.6 Joel 1. 15. scattereth] or spreadeth abroad, having discomfited the kings, his enemies, in that his inheritance, verse 10. 11. So spreading is used for scattering, Zach. 2.6. it shall be snow-white] or, thou shalt be snowy, speaking to the Church, or of it. Whitenesse denoteth victorie, joy, glory, Rev. 2. 17. and 3. 7. Luke 9. 29. and whitenesse as snow, is a resemblance of purifying from sinne, Pſal. 51. 9. Iſa. 1. 18. Tſalmon] in Greeke, Selmon, a mount of Samaria, in the Tribe of Ephraim neere the City Sichem, as appeareth Iudg. 9. 47, 48. situate in the heart of the Country. Tſalmon signifieth shady, or dark, and so it seemeth this mount was, with caves, glinns, and trees that grew thereon; but with snow upon it was made lightsome. So to bee snow white in Tſalmon, is to have light in darknesse, joy in tribulation.
- 16 Verse 16. A mount of God] that is, high, large, and full of divine blessings; for Basan was a fat and fruitfull mountaine: See Pſal. 22. 13. and 36. 7. an billy mount] or, a mount of billocks or knobs, having many tops. This seemeth to be a comparison; Basan is a goodly large mountaine, but this Sion doth excell it, for here God dwelleth with his Angels, &c.
- 17 Verse 17. leape ye] insult ye proudly; or lay ye wait for. The originall Rasfad is no where found in Hebrew but here onely. In Arabik it signifieth to essie and lie in wait for the hurt of others, which agreeth well with the argument here. for his seat] to dwell in it. The Lord chose Sion, and desired it for his seat: this shall be my rest for ever, Pſal. 132. 13, 14. So, the Lambe Christ is on mount Sion, Rev. 14. 1. But the Chaldee referreth this also to mount Sinai, upon which the Word of God desired to place his divine presence.
- 18 Verse 18. Gods chariot] which he useth for his owne service, for defence of his Church, and destruction of his foes: see Pſal. 18. 11. Chariot is put for Chariots (as ship, 1 King. 10. 22. for ships, 2 Chro. 9. 21.) or to note out the joint service of all the Angels, as of one. twice ten thousand] or double myriads, that is, innumerable; in the Greeke, ten thousand fold; meaning, innumerable. Angels] the Hebrew Shinan, translated Angels, is not elsewhere found in Scripture. It seemeth to come of Shanah, to second, as being second or next to God; the chiefe Princes, Dan. 10. 13. as those in place next Kings are called the second unto them, 2 Chron. 28. 7. Eſth. 10. 3. If we referre it to the number, we may turne it redoubled or manifold. If to the Chariots, and derive it of Shanam, to sharpen, it may note a kind of Chariots with sharp books used in warres, as many humane writers record, 2 Maccab. 13. 2. Statim lib. 10. Thebaid. Macrobius, &c. How ever the word be doubtfull, the meaning seemeth to be of Angels (as the Chaldee plainly expresseth) which the Greeks here translate chearefull ones, as of the Hebrew Sham, to be in tranquillitie and joy: and the Apostle seemeth to have reference to this place, where he mentioneth mount Sion, the celestiall Ierusalem, and the company of ten thousands of Angels, which now we are come unto in Christ, Heb. 12. 22. And Angels have appeared like ferie Chariots, 2 King. 6. 17. with them] or in them] as in Sinai] as God was in Sinai, with ten thousands of holy ones, when hee gave the ferie Law, Deut. 33. 2. so is he in Sion with ten thousands of Angels; Heb. 12. 22. Here the words as in, seeme necessarily to be supplied; or the word Lord, as the Lord of Sinai, with like meaning as before.

Verse 19. Thou art ascended, &c.] Thou (Lord Iesuu) art gone up to the highest Heaven, having first descended to the lowest earth. So the Apostle teacheth us to understand this place, Eph. 4. 8, 9. to on high] or to the high place: see Pſal. 7. 8. The Chaldee translateth it, to the firmament. led captive] or, captived a captive i.e., that is, a company of captives, a prey of people taken in warre: See the like phrase, 2 Chron. 28. 5. 11. Iudg. 5. 12. Numb. 21. 1. Deu. 21. 10. So poverty is used for a company of poore people, 2 King. 24. 14. Christs enemies, Satan, sinne, death, hell, &c. were by him subdued, Colof. 2. 15. his Eleſt captived by Satan, were of him redeemed; of whom also this may bee meant, as Pſal. 126. 1, 4. hast taken gifts unto] that is, hast given (and distributed) gifts among men. An Hebrew phrase often used, as, Take me a sword, 1 King. 3. 24. that is, give or bring it me. Take her me to wife, Iudg. 14. 2. Take me an offering, Exodus 25. 2. Take me a little water, 1 King. 17. 10. that is, Give. Giving also is sometime used for taking, as Gen. 42. 30. he gave (that is, took) us for spies. Rightly therefore doth the Apostle turne this in Greeke, given, Ephes. 4. 8. and the next words ba-Adam, is unto men, as Paul explaineth it, or among men, as Ieremy 49. 15. And the gifts are the Ministers of the Gospoll, given for the good of the Church, Ephes. 4. 11, 12. So the Chaldee here addeth, thou hast taught the words of the Law, hast given gifts to the sounes of men. and also the rebellious] or disobedient, to wit, thou hast led captive. They that continue rebellious are subdued to destruction, Pſal. 2. 9. Iſa. 11. 4. others by conversion, as Saul, breathing out threatenings and slaughter, was by Christ subdued, Act. 9. And after spake of himselfe and others, we our selves were in times past unwise, disobedient, &c. but when the bountifullnesse and love of God our Saviour towards man appeared, he saved us, &c. Tit. 3. 3, 4, 5.

Verse 20. day by day] or daily: see Pſal. 61. 9. lodeth us] to wit, with his blessings or gifts, verse verse 19. or with afflictions, wherewith the Saints are burdened, and yet blesse him for his comforts in them, 2 Cor. 5. 4. and 1. 3, 4, 8. and 6. 4, -6. The Chaldee understandeth it of such loading as is by adding precepts upon precepts.

- 21 Verse 21. Our God, &c. or, God to us is a God for salvations, that is, all manner health, helpe and deliverance that fully satisfieth. Iehovih so the name of God is written usually, when Adonai, Lord, next followeth it, as here and Psal. 109. 21. or goeth before it, as Gen. 15. 2, having the vowels of Elolhim, God, and so is by the Jewes pronounced; as other times having the vowels of Adonai, it is so pronounced, Lord. So, for Adonai, Iehovih, 2 Sam. 7. 18. is written, Iehovah Elolhim, 1 Chro. 17. 16. See Psal. 83. 19. issues or passages, that is, waies and meanes of death, or to death: meaning that he hath many waies to bring his enemies to death, and to deliver his people out of it. For, he hath the keyes of death, Revelation 1. 18. he killeth and giveth life, woundeth and healeth, and none can deliver out of his hand, Deut. 32. 39. So issues of life, Prov. 4. 23.

- 22 Verse 22. hairie scalpe Hebrew, the crowne (or scalpe) of haire, meaning open and inevitable judgement on the chiefeft and most fierce enemies. guilinesse guiltie finnes, impieties: So Psal. 69. 6.

- 23 Verse 23. I will bring againe or, will returne, reduce, to wit, thee my people, as I brought thee from the perill of Og in Bashan, Num. 21. 23, 35. and of Pharaoh at the red sea, Exod. 14. 22, 23, 18, 29. Former deliverances are often by the Prophets applied to the times and workes of Christ: See Isa. 11. 1, 11, 15, 16. and 51. 10, 11. gulfs or deeps, bottomes: see Psal. 69. 3.

- 24 Verse 24. That thy foot may embrew that is, be embrewed, or, That thou maist embrew thy foot. It is the same word which before in vers. 22. is Englished wound, and signifieth, to make gore bloody; and is here by consequence put for embrewing or dipping in gore blood: as the Greeke turneth it, That thy foot may be dipped. And this noteth a great slaughter of the enemies; as the dipping of the foot in oyle, Deut. 33. 24. meaneth abundance thereof. in blood of thine enemies] or, which floweth from thine enemies from him, that is, from each of them, or from the greatest of them, Antichrist: or, of the same blood. Compare herewith the slaughter of Christs enemies, Revel. 19. 17, 18, -21.

- 25 Verse 25. They have scene that is, Men have scene (not naming any speciall persons) thy goings, or waies, and administration. The Chaldee saith, The house of Israel have scene the goings of thy Majestie upon the Sea, O God. in the] that is, which art in the Sanctuary, or into the Sanctuary, referring it to Davids carrying of the Arke into the holy Tent, 1 Chron. 13. 6, 8. and 15. 28.

- 26 Verse 26. beating on Timbrels or on Tabers, to wit, with the hand; so in the triumph at the red sea, Mary the sister of Aaron, and all the women after her with Timbrels and Pipes, sung praise to God, Exod. 15. 20, 21. unto that the Chaldee here referreth it. So at the slaughter of the Philistims,

1 Sam. 18. 6, 7. and at the slaughter of the Ammonites, Judg. 11. 34. A Timbrel (or Taber) is in Hebrew named Toph, of the like sound that it maketh when it is stricken.

Verse 27. In the Churches or congregations: see Psal. 26. 12. ye of the fountaine] that come out of Israel, as out of a well or fountaine; a phrase taken from Deut. 33. 28. Esaie hath also one much like it, Isa. 48. 1. It seemeth to be meant of the people, though it may also be referred to Christ: blesse the Lord, who is of the fountaine of Israel. For, of the Israelites, concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is God over all, blessed for ever, Amen, Romans 9. 5.

Verse 28. There in the Churches be little Benjamin, the Tribe or posteritie of Benjamin, who was himselfe little, that is, youngest of all Israels children; and his Tribe little, that is, few in number, being almost all destroyed for the sinne of Gibeon, Judg. 20. 1, &c. their Ruler] the Prince of that Tribe. The Greek version saith, in a trance, taking the Hebrew Radem to be of Radam, though it be not found elsewhere in this forme; yet rare words but once used, are sundry times found in this and other Psalmes. These things applied to Christs times and after, are very mysticall. Benjamin the least is here put first; so in the heavenly Jerusalem, the first foundation is a Lasper, Rev. 21. 19. which was the last precious stone in Aarons Brest-plate, on which *Benjamin*s name was graven, Exod. 28. 10, 20, 21. In this Tribe Paul excelled as a Prince of God, though one of the last Apostles, 1 Cor. 15. 8, 9, 10. who was converted in a trance or extasie, Act. 9. 3, 4, &c. and in extasies he and other Apostles saw the mysteries of Christs Kingdom, Acts 10. 10, 11, &c. 2 Corinthians 12. 1, 2, 3, 4. their assembly] in Greeke, their Governours; the Hebrew word Regamah but once used, causeth this ambiguitie: for comming of Ragam, to throw an heape of stones, Leviticus 24. 14. may either be taken for an heape or assembly, or for a stone, that is, a Ruler; as elsewhere a stone signifieth, Gen. 49. 24. Of this Tribe of Judah were the Apostle James, and other our Lords brethren, Galathians 1. 19. Acts 1. 14. Zebulun, Naphtali] these Tribes were situate in the farthest parts of Canaan, as Judah and Benjamin were in the first and chiefeft parts; meaning by these few, all other Tribes gathered to praise God. In these coasts Christ called to the Apostleship Simon Peter, Andrew, &c. Fishers of Galilee.

Verse 29. commanded thy strength that is, powerfully appointed it, speaking to the Church. See the like phrase, Psal. 133. 3. and 45. 5. By strength also, Kingdom is often meant. strengthen] the Chaldee paraphraseth, dwell in this house of the Sanctuary which thou hast made for us.

Verse 30. For thy Palace or Temple, which was after Davids daies to be built: in the heavenly Jerusalem, the Lord and the Lambe are the Temple of it, Rev. 21. 22. bring a present] or lead along a gift, that is, gifts or presents. So Psal. 76. 12. which presents are sometimes of the persons of men. See Isaiah 18. 7. and 66. 20. Rom 15. 16. and 12. 1.

31<sup>1</sup> Verse 31. Rebuke] that is, Destroy. See Psalm. 9. 6. companie of speare-men] or of Archers, the roul (or crue) of the Came, that is, such as use Cams or Reeds, whereof Speares or Arrowes were made. Of this word companie, see before, v. 11. It may also be read, the wilde beasts of the Reeds, meaning the salvage wicked people. So the Chaldee turneth it, the armies of sinners. mighty bulls] the high Priests and great Personages: see Psalm. 22. 13. that submitte] that is, the Hypocrite which faineth subjection (as the former were professed enemies) or till he (that is, everyone) submit, as Deu. 33. 29. The word signifieth such submission, as when one casts downe himselfe at the feet, as to be trodden on: so Prov. 6. 3. he hath scattered] this is spoken to the Church of God. The Greek turneth it as the former, Scatter thou.

32 Verse 32. Princely Ambassadors] Hebr. Chash-mavim, a word not used but here. The Greeke saith, Presbeis, Ambassadors. Egypt] in Hebrew called Misraim, the name of the sonne of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 6. who called the country where he and his posterity dwelt by his own name. In Greek, and in the new Testament, it is alwaies called Egypt. This is a prophesie of the calling of the Gentiles to the faith, as the Chaldee saith, that they may be made Proselytes. Ethiopia] in Hebrew Cush, another son of Cham, brother to Misraim and Canaan, Genes. 10. 6. the country where he and his children dwelt, is called by his name Cush, in Greek Ethiopia. The people we call blacke Moores. basily stretch] Heb. make run: noting the readinesse of that nation to offer gifts and sacrifices, (or as the Chaldee explaineth it, to spread out their hands in prayer) and to receive the Gospel: see Acts 8. 27, &c.

34 Verse 34. of heavens of antiquitie] that is, the most ancient and highest heavens, which were since the world began, noting hereby Gods powerfull Majestie and helpe to his Church, as Deut. 33. 26. will give] or giveth usually his voice, that is, speakes aloud, or thundereth: see the notes on Psalm. 46. 7. & 29. 3. Some Apostles were called Sons of thunder, Mark. 3. 17. and Christs powerfull voice raiseth the dead, Joh. 5. 25.

35 Verse 35. Give the strengih] that is, strong praise, and the glory of the Kingdome: see Psalm. 8. 3.

36 Verse 36. Sanctuaries] the holy and most holy places of the Tabernacle, and Heaven it selfe: see Psalm. 43. 3. the people] that is, as the Greeke explaineth his people. So the soule, Psalm. 69. 2. for my soule: see Psalm. 45. 4. Blessed be God] Hereupon God was called in Israel, the Blessed one, as Marke 14. 61. Art thou Christ the son of the Blessed? that is, the son of God, Mat. 26. 63.

PSAL. LXIX.

David (the father and figure of Christ) complaineth of his great afflictions. 14 He prayeth for deliverance. 23 He devoteth his enemies to destruction. 31 He praiseb God for the salvation of his Church.

S Ave me, O God, for waters are entred even to the soule. I sinke downe in the mud of the gulfe, where no standing is; I am entred into the deeps of waters, & the streaming floud overfloweth me. I am weary with my crying; my throat is burnt, mine eyes faile, I attentively waiting for my God. Many are, more than the haire of my head, they that hate me without cause; mighty are they that would suppress me, mine enemies falsly: that which I tooke not away, then I restored. O God, thou knowest my foolishnesse, and my guiltinesses are not concealed from thee. Let not them be abashed for me that hopefully expect thee, Lord Jehovih of hosts: let them not be ashamed for me that seek thee, O God of Israel. For, for thy sake doe I beare reproach, shame covereth my face. I am become a stranger to my brethren, and a forreiner to my mothers sons. For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me up: and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me. And I wept, with fasting afflicted my soule, and it was for reproaches to me. And I made my raiment sack cloth, and I was to them for a Proverbe. They that sit in the gate spake against me, and they that drinke strong drinke made melodies. And I, my prayer is to thee, Jehovah, in time of acception; O God, in multitude of thy mercie answer thou me, in the truth of thy salvation. Deliver mee out of the mire, and let me not sinke downe: let me be delivered from my haters, and out of the deeps of waters. Let not the streaming floud of waters overflow me, neither let the gulfe swallow me; neither let the pit shut her mouth upon me. Answer me, Jehovah, for thy kinde mercie is good; according to the multitude of thy tender mercies turne the face unto me. And hide not thy face from thy servant, for distresse is on me; make hast, answer me. Draw neere to my soule; redeeme it; because of mine enemies, ransom me. Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour; before thee are all my distressers. Reproch hath broken my heart, and I am full of heavinesse; and I looked for some to mone me, but none came; and for comforters, but I found none. But they gave me gall for my meat, and in my thirst they gave me vineger to drinke. Let their table be before them for a snare, & for recompences for a trap-fall. Let their eyes

25 be darkened that they see not, and make 26 their loines to shake continually. Powre out 27 upon them thy detesting ire, and let the bur-28 ning wrath of thine anger take them. Let 29 their Castle be desolate; within their tents
 30 let there not be a dweller. For they perse-31 cuted him whom thou hast smitten, and they 32 tell of the sorrow of thy wounded ones.
 33 Give thou iniquitie unto their iniquitie, and 34 let them not come into thy justice. Let them 35 be wiped out of the Booke of the living, and 36 let them not be written with the just. And I, 37 poore afflicted and forrowing, let thy salvation, O God, lift me up. I will praise the Name of God with a song, and magnifie him with confession. And it shall be better to Jehovah, than a yong Bull that hath hornes, that parteth the hoofe. The meeke shall see it, they shall rejoyce; the seekers of God, and your heart shall live. For Jehovah heareth the needy, and despiseth not his prisoners. Praise him let heavens and earth, seas, and all that creepeth in them. For God will save Sion, and build the Cities of Judah; and they shall dwell there, and have it for inheritage. And the seed of his servants shall possesse it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

Annotations.

1 S Hosbammim] that is, six-stringed Instruments, or,
 Lilies: see Psal. 45. 1.

2 Verse 2. Save me, &c.] David in his troubles, being a figure of Christ, prayeth for deliverance
 from tentations and persecutions, under the simi-litude of waters, mud, myre, pit, deeps, streames, &c.
 and that this Psalme had accomplishment in Christ, the Evangelists shew, Mat. 27. 48. Joh. 19.
 29. that the use hereof is for us, the Apostle sheweth, Rom. 15. 3, 4. that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. waters] The Chaldee expoundeth these, armies of sinners, which beset him like waters. the soule] to wit, of me, as the Greeke explaineth it, that is, *are ready to drown
 and choke me*: so Jon. 2. 5. see also Psal. 45. 4.

3 Verse 3. mud of the gulfie] or, of the deepe, that is, the deepe of gulfie mud in the bottomes of the sea, as Psal. 68. 23. Jon. 2. 4. another signe of great calamitie, as also in Psal. 88. 7. wherefore Babylon that held captive Gods people, is called a Gulfie, or Deepe, Isa. 44. 27. no standing] no stay or ground, but I sinke more and more. deeps of waters] in Greeke, deeper of the sea.

4 Verse 4. is burne] that is, parched, dried, or (as the Greeke explaineth it) boarse. eyes faile] eyes are consumed, to wit, with teares and earnest expectation, as Lam. 2. 11. & 4. 17. This was a curse of the Law, Lev. 26. 16. Deut. 28. 65. but Christ became a curse for us, Gal. 3. 13. So after Psal. 119. 82.

Verse 5. falsly] in Greeke, unjustly. tooke not array] or, which I robbed not, tooke not by force and rapine. This though it may be taken for all unjust criminations, whereof David and Christ were innocent, yet in speciall it was verified in Christ, who being in the forme of God, thought it no robbery to be equall with God, Phil. 2. 6. notwithstanding for witnessing himselfe to be the son of God, he was put to death by the Jewes, Joh. 19. 7.

Verse 6. my foolishnesse] that is, my sinne: see the note on Psal. 38. 6. In David were sins properly;
 in Christ, by imputation: for God made him sinne for us, which knew no sin, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Or this may be meant of false imputation, O God thou knowest
 my foolishnesse, if any such be, as my foes charge me with: so Psal. 7. 4, 5.

Verse 7. abashed for me] for my sake, to wit, If I be not delivered. So of Christ, his Disciples hoped that he should be the Saviour of Israel; but when he was killed, they began to doubt and feare, Satan winnowing their faith to make them ashamed; but Christ prayed for their confirmation, Luke 24. 20, 21. & 22. 31, 32. So great are Christs afflictions, that blessed is he that is not offended in him, Mat. 11. 6. Jehovah] or God, it hath the vowels of Elohim: see Psal. 68. 21.

Verse 8. beare reproach] that is, are reproached:
 contrary hereunto is, to beare grace and favour, that is, to be favoured and well liked, Elth. 2. 15, 17. Compare herewith Psal. 44. 16, 23.

Verse 9. forreiner] to wit, in their estimation & carriage towards me. This also was the case of Job and others, Job 19. 13. Gen. 31. 15. & of Christ the Jewes said, they knew not whence he was, Joh. 9.
 29. and his brethren believed not in him, Joh. 7. 5.

Ver. 10. zeale of thine house] or jealousie, indignation for the polluting of thine house, and studious fervent care to have it conserved holy. See this performed by Christ, when he whipped buyers and sellers out of the Temple, Joh. 2. 15, 16, 17. eater me up] devoured, or consumed. For love and jealousie are a fire and vehement flame, Song 8. 6. See also Psal. 119. 139. are fallen on me] that is, I have taken them on me, & willingly beare them, as the Apostle gathereth from these words, that Christ pleased not himselfe (that is, sought not his own pleasure or profit) but for his Fathers sake and his brethrens, did beare all things: and this is an example for us to doe the like: see Rom. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Verse 11. afflicted my soule] the word afflicted is here supplied from Psal. 35. 13. for often there is want of a word to be understood, which the Hebrew Text sometime sheweth; as 2 Chron. 10. 11,
 14. I, with Scorpions, for which in 1 Kings 12. 11,
 14. is written, I will chastise you with Scorpions: see the notes on Psal. 18. 7, 29. & 2. 7. it was for] or it was turned to reproaches, that is, to much reproach and opprobrie. So Iohns fasting turned to his reproach;
 they said, he had a Devill, Luke 7. 33.

Verse 12. And I made] or, when I gave, that is, made, or put on. So giving is for putting, Psal. 8. 2.

Verse 13. that sit in the gate] that is, great men in the publike assemblies. The rulers of the Jewes, Deut. 25. 7. Ruth 4. 1, 2, &c. spake] or talked
 and

and meditated, communed how to worke me evil, Luke 22.24. strong drinke] Heb. Sheker, which is all manner strong drinke which will make drunken, as ale, beere, wine, sicer, methaglin, &c. The Greeke here turneth it wine. melodies] or songs sung with instruments of musicke of me. So Iob also complaineth, Iob 30.9.

14 Verse 14. And I] that is, And (or but) as for me. time of acceptation] that is, an acceptable time, as the Apostle interpreteth this phrase, 2 Cor. 6. 2. from Esay 49.8. in truth of thy salvation] that is, for thy saving truths sake, or faithfull salvation.

15 Verse 15. mire] the Chaldee expoundeth it, captivity, which is like unto mire.

16 Verse 16. shut her mouth] so that I cannot get out of miserie; as Dathan, Abiram, &c. went downe alive into the pit, and the earth covered over them, that no hope was left of their returne, Num. 16.33. But Christ in all troubles had comfort, even in the grave his flesh rested in hope, Psal. 16.9, 10. The Chaldee expoundeth this verse thus, Let not the strong king, which is like to a fruid of waters, captivate me, neither let the mighty prince swallow me, &c.

17 Verse 17. turne the face] or, respect, regard mee with favour: See Psal. 25.16.

20 Ver. 20. dishonour] or ignominie, slander, calumnie: See Psal. 4.3.

21 Verse 21. full of heavinesse] or, sicke, sorrowfull; of this word in Hebrew man hath his name A-nosh: see Psal. 8.5. to mine] to pittie, and solace me, or, to shew compassion: So Iob 42.11. found none] in Christs greatest need, all his Disciples forsooke him and fled, Mat. 26.56. and all his acquaintance stood a farre off, Luke 23.49.

22 Verse 22. gall] in Hebrew Rosh, an Herbe bitter as wormewood, with which it is often joyned, Deut. 29.18. Am. 6.12. Lam. 3.19. It groweth in Corne fields, Hof. 10.4. the water or juyce hereof signifieth bitter affliction, Ier. 9.15. These things were also actually done to Christ, whom the Iewes refreshed with gall and vineger, Mat. 27.34. Ioh. 19.28, 29, 30.

23 Verse 23. and for recompences] that is, and for a full recompence of that which they did to me (let their table be) a trap unto them. Or, and for peaces, that is, and the things which they expect peace and welfare by, let become a trap unto them. But the first sense agreeth with the Apostles interpretation, Rom. 11.9. These are Davids imprecations against the Iewes, and prophecies of their rejection, as the Apostle sheweth; and by their table we are to understand all meanes of comfort and refreshing both of body and soule, which turne to the ruine of the wicked, even an odour of death unto death, 2 Cor. 2.15, 16.

24 Verse 24. that they see not] so the Apostle explaineth the Hebrew phrase, from seeing, Rom. 11.10. The like is in Esay. 44.18. And hereby is meant the eyes of their understanding, that seeing they see and perceive not, because a veile is over their hearts, Ioh. 12.39, 40. Act. 28.26, 27. 2 Cor. 3.14, 15. make their loines to shake] bow downe their backs, saith the Apostle, Rom. 11.10. and this meaneth bondage and miserie, as appeareth by the contrary blessing of going upright; which God once vouched safe unto that people; Lev. 26.13.

Verse 26. their castle] or their tower palace, habitation, faire and orderly builded, Gen. 25.16. Num. 31.10. Song 8.9. This which David speaketh of all Christs enemies, Peter applieth to Iudas that betrayed him, Let his habitation be desert, Act. 1.20. but Christ threatneth the like to them all. Mat. 23.38. Castle here is for Castles or Palaces, as Chariots for Chariots, Psal. 68.18.

Verse 27. whom thou hast smitten] Christ the shepherd, who was smitten of God, and wounded for our finnes, Esay. 53.4, 5. Mat. 26.31. they tell of the sorrow; that is, tell one another vauntingly, of the sorrow (smart or paine) of thy wounded, thy servants who are wounded for thy sake; or, they preach hereof: see the like phrase, Psal. 2.7. or, they tell to the sorrow, that is, adde unto and increase it, as the Greeke turneth it.

Verse 28. Give thou iniquity, &c.] that is, Adde sinne unto their sinne, give them over to a reprobate minde, which was Gods heavie judgment first on the Gentiles, Rom. 1.24, 28. afterward on the Iewes, who fulfilled their sins when wrath came on them to the utmost, 1 Thes. 2.16. Rom. 11.8. Mat. 23.32. Or by iniquity, may be understood punishment for it, as Psal. 31.11. not come into thy justice] that is, not beleve thy Gospell, and so come to the justice of God, which is by faith, as the Scriptures shew, Rom. 10.3, &c. Phil. 3.9. Ioh. 12.39, 40. The Chaldee expounds it, let them not enter into the Church of thy just ones.

Verse 29. booke of the living] or, Booke of life, wherein the just that live by faith are written, that is, let them be cut off from being any longer counted thy people, or registred in the writing of the house of Israel, as Ezek. 13.9. Rom. 11.20. Phil. 3.2, 3. Psal. 87.6.

Verse 30. lift me up] or, set me on a high place, that is, safely defend me.

Verse 32. better to] that is, more pleasing and acceptable. a young bull] so the Greeke explaineth the Hebrew phrase, a bull a bullocke, that is, a bull which is but young, or a bullocke. So Iudg. 6.25. where the order is changed, take the bullock of the bull, that is, the young bull or bullock. Some understand it here of two, better than bull or bullock, that hath horns] Hebr. borneth, that is, brings forth or beareth horns, and parteth the hoofs: for such were fittest for sacrifice; but confession and thanks are more pleasing to God, specially Christs obedience: see Psal. 50.13, 14, 15. and 40.7.

Verse 33. the seekers] or, ye seekers of God, to wit, shall see it, and your hearts shall live; yee shall have inward life, joy and consolation: See Psalme 22.27.

Verse 34. his prisoners] such as are persecuted and bound in prisons for his truth: Thus Paul calleth himselfe the prisoner of Christ, Ephes. 3.1.

Verse 35. beavens] the Chaldee saith, Angels of Heaven, and the inhabitants of the earth.

Verse 36. save Zion] that is, his Church, figured out

K k k k k

out by Sion and Judah: see Psal. 2. 6. and this building of Judahs cities is by preaching of the Gospel, 1 Cor. 3. 9. 10. a figure of this worke was done by Iehothaphat, 2 Chron. 17. 9. 13, 13. and Isaiah prophesieth the like, Isa. 44. 26.

P S A L. LXX.

David prayeth for speedy helpe, to the shame of the wicked, and joy of the godly.

- 1 To the master of the musicke, a Psalm
of David for to record.
- 2 O God, for to deliver me; Jehovah,
3 to mine helpe make haste. Let them be abashed and ashamed that seeke 4 my soule; let them be turned backward and blush that delight mine evill. Let them turne 5 backe for a reward of their shame, that say, aha, aha. Let all that seeke thee be joyfull 6 and rejoyce in thee; and let them say continually, magnified be God; they that love thy salvation. And I, poore afflicted and needy, O God, make haste to me; thou art mine helpe and deliverer; Jehovah, delay not.

Annotations:

- 1 TO record] or to cause remembrance: see Psalm 38. 1.
- 2 Verse 2. to deliver] or to rid me free; understand,
make haste, or vouchsafe, as is expressed in Psal. 40.
14. for this Psalm is the same in substance, and almost in words with the end of that Psalm: see the annotations there.
- 3 Verse 3. that seeke my soule] to make an end of it, as Psalm 40. 15.
- 4 Verse 4. turne backe] desolate or wasted, as Psalm 40. 16.
- 5 Verse 5. be God] in Psalm 40. 17. it is written,
be Jehovah.
- 6 Verse 6. O God, make haste to me] for this in Psalm 40. 18. is, the Lord thinketh on me.
Iehovah] in Psalm 40. 18. my God.

P S A L. LXXI.

The Psalmist in confidence of faith and experience of Gods favour, prayeth both for himselfe and against the enemies of his soule. 14 He promisseth constancie. 17 Prayeth for perseverance. 19 Prayseth God, and promisseth to doe it cheerefully.

IN Jehovah doe I hope for safety, let me not be abashed for ever. In thy justice rid thou mee, and deliver mee; incline thine eare unto me, and save me. Be thou to me for a rock of habitation to enter continually; thou hast commanded to save me, for thou art my rock and my munition. My God, deliver mee out of the hand of the wicked, out of the palme of the evil doer &
the levened. For thou art mine expectation, Lord Jehovah, my confidence from my childhood. By thee have I bin holden up from the wembe; from my mothers bowels
thou tookest me; of thee is my praise continually. As a wonder I am unto many, but thou art my strong hope. Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, all the day with thy glory. Cast me not away at the time of old age, when mine able strength faileth, forsake thou not me. For mine enemies speake of me, and they that observe my soule consult together. Saying, God hath forsaken him; pursue & take him, for there is none to rescue. O God, be not thou far away from me; my God, make haste to mine helpe. Let them be abashed and consumed that are adversaries of my soule: let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek mine evil. And I will patiently wait continually, and adde unto all thy praise. My mouth shall tell thy justice, all the day thy salvation, though I know not the numbers. I wil enter in the powers of the Lord Jehovah; I will record thy justice, thine only. O God, thou hast learned me from my child-hood; & hitherto have I shewed thy marvellous works.
And also unto old age & hoarinesse, O God forsake mee not; untill I shew thine arme to this generation, thy power to every one that shall come. And thy justice, O God, which is to on high, which hast done great things;
O God, who is like thee? Which didst make me to see distresses many & evill, didst
returne and quicken me; and from the deeps
of the earth didst returne and bring me up.
Thou didst much increase my greatnesse, and didst turne about and comfort me. Also
I will confesse thee with the instrument of Psalterie, even thy faithfulness, my God;
I will sing Psalm to thee with Harpe, O holy One of Israel. My lips shall shew when I sing Psalm unto thee, and my soule which thou hast redeemed. Also, my tongue shall talke of thy justice all the day, for they are abashed, for they are ashamed that seeke
mine evill.

Annotations.

- 1 In thee] Child. In the word of the Lord. This Psalme which hath no title in the Hebrew, is in Greeke thus intituled: Of David, a Psalme of the sonnes of Ionadab, and of them that were first captived.
- 2 Verse 2. deliver] or, make me to escape safe.
- 3 Verse 3. of habitation] or of mansion, a rock where- to I may fly and there dwell safe. God is often called a Rock, Psal. 18. 3. and a mansion (or habitation) to his people, Psal. 90. 1. The Greeke here makes it plaine thus, Be to me for a God protector.
- 4 hast commanded] to wit, thine Angels, as Psalme. 91. 11. or, hast effectually appointed: See Psal. 44. 5.
- 5 Verse 4. evil doer] or, injurious, wrong doer.
- 6 the leavened] that is, the malicious: for maliciousnesse and wickednesse is likened to leaven, 1 Cor. 5. 8. The Hebrew Chomets properly signifieth that which is leavened or sowre, Exod. 12. 39. here used for the malicious or violent cruell man, as the Greek turneth it, the injurious, or Chomets may be used for Chomets, the violent.
- 7 Verse 5. Iehovih] or God, for it hath the vowels of Aelohim: so after, verse 16. See Psalme 68. 21.
- 8 Verse 6. tookest me] or, didst rid me, to wit, from danger: Compare this with Psalme 12. 10. 11.
- 9 of thee] or in thee, but in is often used for of, as Psal. 63. 7. and 87. 3. See the notes there.
- 10 Verse 7. a wonder to many] or, a monster to the mighty: a signe whom the many (or mighty) doe gaze upon, speake of, and shew to others, and wonder at. A wonder and a signe are sometimes used as one, 2 Chron. 32. 24. with 2 King. 20. 8. 9. So Christ and his Disciples were as signes and wonders in Israel, Esay 8. 18. Heb. 2. 13. Iehoshuah and his fellowes, were monstrous persons, Zach. 3. 8. the Apostles a gazing stocke to the world, 1 Cor. 4. 9.
- 11 hope] or refuge, a place where one hopeth for safety.
- 12 Verse 8. with thy glory] or glory of thee, that is, with glorifying thee, honouring, beautifying, and commending thy Majesty.
- 13 Verse 10. speake of] or say of me, that God hath forsaken me, verse 11. or, they speake against me.
- 14 observe] that is, lay wait for, it is meant here for evil, as is the observing of the steps, Psalme 56. 7. but often this phrase is used for good, to keepe, regard, and preserve the soule or life, Psal. 97. 10. and 121. 7. Prov. 22. 5.
- 15 Verse 14. add unto all thy praise] that is, increase it; I will prayse thee more than I have done, or, more than others doe, as 2 Chron. 10. 11. I will add unto your yoke, that is, increase it.
- 16 Verse 15. though I know not] or for I know not the numbers, to wit, of them. Gods justice and salvation is innumerable wayes administred, which are to be celebrated, but cannot be reckoned, Psal. 40. 6.
- 17 Verse 16. I will enter] to wit, into this worke of praying God in his power, not mine owne: or, I will enter, that is, begin with his powerfull workes to praise them; or, I will enter, that is, goe in hand, or goe forward with my busines through his power.

Verse 18. unto old age] or, thine old age is upon me, as verse 9. So elsewhere God saith, that hee had borne Israel from the wombe and birth, & would beare them still unto old age and the hoary haire, Esay 46. 3. 4. thine arme] that is, strength, helpe, salvation. So Psalme 77. 16. Esay 51. 5. and 53. 1. Deut. 33. 27. this generation] the men of this age. The word this (or present) is understood by that which followeth: see also Psalme 45. 4.

Verse 19. And thy justice, O God, which is to on high] that is, which reacheth up to heaven, viz. I will shew it. Thus the Greeke understandeth it. Wee may also translate, For thy justice is unto the high place, that is, to heaven, incomprehensible, as Psalme 36. 6, 7. And may be in stead of For, as Psalme 60. 13. and the high place is by the Chaldee expounded, the high heavens: so Psalme 93. 4. Matt. 21. 9.

Verse 20. didst make me see] or as see: shewedst me and us; for the Hebrew hath a double reading, meaning David in speciall, & other Gods people with him: so after, it is read in the margine, quicken me, bring me up, (as also the Greeke hath it) but written in the line, quicken us, bring us up. By making see, is also meant experience and feeling, as Psalme 49. 10. and evill] or evils, that is, calamities.

didst reurne] that is, didst againe quicken, or, wilt againe quicken me. So after. But the Greeke turneth it in the time past. deeps] abysses of the earth, gulfs of affliction and death, elsewhere called the lowest parts, Psal. 88. 7. such Christ in his humanity, sorrowes and death, went down unto and returned, Eph. 4. 9. Rom. 10. 7.

Verse 21. my greatnesse] or magnificence, majesty, honour; for Christ after afflictions entred into his glory, Luke 24. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 11. Phil. 2. 8, 9. & the godly must suffer with him, Rom. 8. 17.

Verse 22. psalterie] or lute: see Psal. 33. 2. even thy faith] or, for thy faithfull truth. holy one] or Saint of Israel: God is so called, both for that he is holinesse it selfe, & sanctifieth his people, Lev. 20. 8. 26. and againe is sanctified, that is, holily praised and honoured of them, Esay 8. 13. So Psal. 78. 41. and 89. 19.

Verse 24. talke of] or meditate, that is, speake advisedly, and after due meditation: See Psal. 1. 2. for they] or when they are abashed, that is, destroyed: see Psal. 6. 11.

PSAL. LXXII.

David praying for Solomon, sheweth the goodnesse and glory of his type, and in truth of Christs Kingdome. 18
Hee bleisseth God.

For Solomon:

O God, give thy judgements to the King, and thy justice to the Kings sonne. That he may judge thy people with justice, and thy poore afflicted ones with judgement. The mountaines shal bring forth peace to the people, and the hills with justice.

K k k k k k

- 4 justice. He shall judge the poore afflicted of the people; he shall save the sons of the needy, and shall breake downe the fraudulent 5 oppressour. They shall feare thee with the Sunne, and before the Moone, to generation 6 of generations. Hee shall come downe like the raine upon the mowen grasse; as the showers, the dispersed moisture of the earth.
7 In his dayes shall the just man flourish, and multitude of peace, untill the Moone be not.
8 And he shall have dominion from sea unto sea, and from the river unto the ends of the 9 land. They that dwell in dry places shall kneele before him, and his enemies shall lick 10 the dust. The Kings of Tharshish and of the Iles shall render an oblation; the kings of She-11 ba & Seba shall offer a present. And all kings shall worship him, all nations shall serve him.
21 For hee shall deliver the needy that cryeth out, and the poore afflicted, and him that 13 hath no helper. Hee shall mercifully spare
the poore and needy, & shall save the soules 14 of the needy. He shall redeeme their soule from fraud and violent wrong, and precious 15 shall their blood be in his eyes. And he shall live, and he shall give to him of the gold of Sheba, and shall pray for him continually, 16 shall blesse him all the day. There shall bee a parcell of Corne in the land, in the top of the mountaines; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon, and flourish shall they of the 17 City as the herbe out of the earth. His name shall be for ever, his name shall be continued
before the Sunne, and they shall blesse themselves in him; all Nations shall call him bles-18 sed. Blessed be Jehovah God, the God of Israel, which doth marvellous things him-19 selfe alone. And blessed be the name of his glory for ever; and let all the earth be filled with his glory; Amen, and Amen.
20 Ended are the prayers of David sonne of Iesse.

- 1 FOr Solomon] the Greeke addeth, a Psalm of David for Solomon; and the last verse sheweth it to be made by David, and it concerneth Christ and his Kingdome, figured by Solomon, Song. 3. 11. and therefore called by his name, as elsewhere hee is called David, Hof. 3. 5. Such also is the title of the 127. Psalm. Kings sonne] to whom the right of the Kingdome belongeth by birth and inheritance. So Christ was King Davids sonne, and borne King of the Jewes, Mar. 11. 10. Mat. 2. 2. and 22. 42. to him the Father gave all judgement, Iohn 5. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth the King to be Christ, and the Kings sonne to be King Davids sonne.

Verse 2. That he may] or, Let him judge, that is, governe thy people in justice, that is, justly, wherefore he is named Melchizedek, that is, King of justice, Heb. 7. 2. of whom it was prophesied, I build a King shall reigne in justice, Isa. 32. 1.

Verse 3. The mountaines shall bring forth] or, shall beare, to wit, as their fruit; for so this phrase importeth, Iob 40. 15. This and the rest that follow, may also be read prayer-wise, let the mountaines beare, &c. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The dwellers on the mountaines shall bring peace to the people of the house of Israel. peace] that is, prosperity, plenty of fruits which should be enjoyed with peace, as all Solomons dayes Israel dwelt without feare, every man under his vine and fig-tree, 1 King 4. 25. And under Christ, the worke and effect of justice, is peace, quietnesse, and assurance for ever, Esay 33. 17. Rom. 5. 1. the mountaines drop downe new wine, and the hills flow with milke, Iob. 3. 18. Amos 9. 13. hills with justice] that is, the hills also shall beare peace with justice, both peace and justice, as these two are said to kisse each other, Psal. 58. 11. and Christ is King both of justice and peace, Heb. 7. 2. his kingdome is justice, peace, and joy Rom. 14. 17. It may also be read for justice.

V. 4. shall judge] that is, shall deliver; see the notes on Psal. 43. 1. save the sons of the needy] that is, the needy persons; in Chaldee, shall redeeme the sons of misery, that is, such as are in wretched case. the fraudulent oppressor] whom the Gr. here calleth scrophant, which word is used for injuring by forged cavillation, Luk. 19. 18. and 3. 14. See before in Psal. 62. 11.

Verse 5. They shall feare] men shall reverence, that is, worship, and serve thee. So feare is used for worship, Esay 29. 13. Mat. 15. 9. with the sun] or before the sun, as is after expressed, verse 17. and as the Hebrew ghnim, with, is elsewhere used for before, Est. 7. 8. and before the sun and moone, meaneth continually, so long as they shine on the earth, which is, so long as the world endureth, Gen. 8. 22. Psal. 89. 37, 38. The Chaldee interpreteth it, with the rising of the sunne, and in the light of the moone, that is, at morning and evening, day and night; as the twelve Tribes are said so instantly to serve, Act. 26. 7.

Verse 6. the mowen grasse] the medow, which being mowen in the beginning of Summer, craveth raine that it may grow again. The originall word signifieth also a borne fleece of wooll; which sense some keepe here, and referre it to the dew that fell on Gedeons fleece, when the land was dry, and againe on the land when the fleece was dry, Iudg. 6. 37.—40. Solomon and Christ are here said to come downe as raine, in respect of the doctrine and administration of judgement by them. So Moses said, My doctrine shall drop as the raine, &c. Deut. 32. 2. and Iob said, they waited for me as for the raine, &c. Iob 29. 23. and the Lord shall come unto us as the raine, &c. Hof. 6. 3. the dispersed moisture] understand, which are the moisture, that is, which showres doe moisten the earth. Zarciph, the Hebrew word used only in this place, hath the signification of dispersing moisture or water, as is by showers, God having divided spirits for the raine, wherby it is strowed abroad upon the earth, Iob 38. 25.

38.25. Wherefore the former word showers, implyeth raine that falleth with manifold (or millions of) drops, as Psal. 65. 11.

7 Verse 7. multitude of peace ] to wit, shall be, or, shall flourish: and this Shalom, peace, may respect the name of Shelomoh or Solomon, which signifieth peaceable, as was promised to David, Behold, a sonne is borne to thee which shall be a man of rest, for I will give him rest from all his enemies round about, therefore his name is Solomon, and I will send (Salom) peace and quietness upon Israel in his dayes, 1 Chron. 22. 9. move be not ] or be taken away, as the Greeke explaineth it, that is, till the worlds end, as before, verie 8.

8 Verse 8. from sea to sea ] from the salt Sea, (the lake of Sodom, Gen. 14. 3) to the maine sea. See Num. 34. 3. -6, &c. where the limits of the land are described. from the river ] the great river Euphrates, Gen. 15. 18. Deut. 11. 24. In Solomon this was accomplished, when he reigned over all kingdoms, from the river to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt, 1 King 4. 21. in Christ, when all Nations were brought into his subjection by the Gospell, as Mat. 28. 18, 19. Act. 1. 8. Col. 1. 5, 6. Revel. 11. 15.

9 Verse 9. in dry places ] or, in deserts, which the Greeke explaineth, the Aethiopians. The Hebrew T sijim signifieth here, and Psal. 74. 14. people that dwell in dry desert places: sometime it is used for wild beasts that haunt such deserts, as Esay 34. 14. and 13. 21. Ier. 50. 39. lick the dust ] like a Serpent, as is expressed in Mic. 7. 16. noting hereby great feare and subjection, testified by bowing downe their faces to the ground, as is the manner in the Easterne countries. In Esay 49. 23. a like promise is made to the Church of Christ.

10 Verse 10. Of Tharsish ] or of the Ocean, that dwell by the maine sea. See the Note on Psal. 48. 8. Sheba and Seba ] that is, of Aethiopia and Arabia, far southerne Countries, inhabited by the posterity of Sheba and Seba, the Nephew and sonne of Cush, the son of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 7. The Queene of Sheba (or of the South) came from the utmost parts of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon, & gave him much gold, sweet odours, and precious stones, 1 King. 10. 1, -10. Mat. 12. 41.

12 Verse 12. hath no helper ] or, to whom no helper. See the like by Iob, Iob 29. 12.

14 Verse 14. precious shall their blood be ] that is, their death, meaning, that he regardeth their life, and will not easily suffer them to be killed, for that it is precious and deare unto him: as on the contrary Paul said, his life was not deare unto himselfe, when hee was willing and ready to lose it for Christs cause, Act. 20. 24. See Psal. 116. 15.

15 Verse 15. he shall give ] meaning man in generall, or each one brought in subjection, as the Greeke saith, to him shall be given, meaning to Solomon. gold of Sheba ] the Greeke saith, of Arabia: See ver. 10 all the day ] or daily.

16 Verse 16. There shall be a parcell, &c. ] where a handfull of corne shall be sowne on the top of the mounts (the most barren places) there shall be such increase that the fruit shall shake & make a noise like the trees of Lebanon. shake ] or stir with noise, rustle. Lebanon ] that is, trees of Lebanon; as the earth, for the inhabitants of the earth, Psal. 66. 1. of this mount see the Note on Psal. 29. 5.

they of the Citie ] that is, the citizens, as, they of the world are worldlings, Psalme 17. 14. yee of the heavens, Psal. 148. 1. are the inhabitants there. The Chaldees addeth, of the City Ierusalem. Compare here with Isa 27. 6.

Verse 17. continued ] to wit, as a sonne continueth his fathers name, for the originall jinnin (or janin) commeth of Nin, which is a Sonne: the Greeke also turneth it, his name continueth; and Christs name is continued in us that beleeve in him, called Christians, Act. 11. 26. and his children, Heb. 2. 13. 14. before the sun ] that is, so long as it endureth, as ver. 5. So Psal. 102. 29. they shall blesse ] to wit, men of all nations shall count and speake of their blessednesse in him. So Gen. 22. 18. call him blessed ] or happy, shall beautifie him.

Verse 19. name of his glory ] that is, his glorious (or honourable) name. So Lord of glory, Iam. 2. 1. for glorious Lord. filled with his glory ] that is, with the manifestation of his glorious works, and prailing him for the same. See the like speeches, Num. 14. 21. Isa. 6. 3. Revel. 18. 1. Ezek. 43. 2. Amen ] So be it. This second booke of Psalms is concluded with twise Amen, as was the former: see Psalme 41. 14.

Verse 20. Ended ] or Compleat are, meaning that this Psalme was the last of Davids prayers or hymnes (as the Greeke translateth it) howsoever it is not set last in order as neither other be. Or, that this matter touching Christs Kingdome is the last thing whereof David prophesied, and for which he prayed, as 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11. Iesse ] or Ishai, as the Hebrew foundeth it, and sometime Ishai, 1 Chron. 2. 12, 13. which name signifieth strength and manhood, as David, amiable.

PSAL. LXXIII.

The Prophet prevailing in a temptation, sheweth the occasion thereof, the prosperity of the wicked. 13 The wound given thereby, diffidence. 15 The victory over it, knowledge of Gods purpose in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous.

A Psalme of Asaph

YEt surely God is good to Israel, to them that are pure in heart. And I, my feet almost swerved aside; my steps had well-nigh slipped out. For I envied at vain glorious fooles, when I saw the peace of the wicked. For there are no bands in their death, & lusty is their strength. They are not in the molestation of sory man, and with earthly man they are not plagued. Therefore pride compasseth them about as a

K k k k k k 3 chaine

7 chaine, violence covereth them as a garment. Their eyes standeth out wth fainesse, they passe the imaginations of the heart.
 8 They doe corrupt and speake with maliciousnesse of oppression, they speake from aloft. They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh thorow the earth. Therefore his people turneth hither,
 10 and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them. And they say, How doth God know, and is there knowledge in the most high?
 11 Loe, these are the wicked, and in tranquillity ever; they increase wealthy power.
 12 Surely in vain have I cleansed mine heart, & washed my hands in innocency. And am plagued all the day, and my rebuke is in the mornings. If I say, I will tell thus; loe, I unfaithfully wrong the generation of thy sons.
 14 And I thought to know this, but it was a painfull thing in mine eyes. Vntill I entred into the Sanctuaries of God, did prudently attend to their last end. Surely thou dost set them in slippery places, dost make them fall to desolations. How are they brought to wondrous desolation as in a moment? are they at an end, are they consumed with troublesome frights? As a dream after one awaketh; O Lord, when thou raisest up, thou wilt despise their image. Surely mine heart was leavened, & I was pricked in my reines. And I was brutish and knew not; as the beasts was I with thee. Yet I continually was with thee, thou hast holden me fast by my right hand. Thou wilt guide me with thy counsel, and after wilt receive me to glory. Whom have I in the Heavens? and with thee I delight not any in earth. Wholly consumed is my flesh and my heart; the Rock of my heart and my portion is God for ever. For loe, they that are gone farre from thee shall perish, thou suppressst every one that goeth a whoring from thee. And I, to draw nigh to God is good for me; I have set my hope for safety in the Lord Jehovih, for to tel all thy workes.

Annotations.

The third Booke ] to wit, of Psalms. See the Note on Psal. 42.

1 Verse 1. of Asaph ] or, to Asaph, who was both a Prophet and a singer: see Psal. 50. 1. The like title is of the 10. Psalms following. These are for the most part complaints and meditations of the troubles of Gods people.

2 Verse 2. almost ] or, a very little lacked, but my feet had swarved so after, well nigh, or, almost nothing lacked, but my steps had beene shed: noting hereby his great danger to have fallen through his infirmity, had not faith in God sustained him.

swarved ] or turned, declined. This and the next word slipped have a double reading in the Hebrew by the vowels, they had swarved, they had slipped; by the consonants, it had swarved, it had slipped; meaning each of his feet, and every of his steps, to his utter ruine. slipped out ] or beene poured out, to wit, as water, and so I had beene lost.

Verse 3. envied ] or was jealous, had envious zeal: See Psalme 37. 1.

Verse 4. bands ] or knots, that is, paines, sores, diseases, &c. in their death ] or till their death, meaning that they live long in pleasure, and dye at ease, as is explained, Job 21. 13. They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly they get downe to the grave. The Chaldee saith, For they are not terrified or troubled for the day of their death. but lusty ] or, and fat is their fortitude (their firme strength of body) as Job saith, one dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperity, his breasts are full of milke, and his bones run full of marrow, Job 21. 23. 24.

Verse 5. molestation of fery man ] that is, such turmoil as other miserable men endure. See the like phrase in 2 Sam. 7. 14. Enosh and Adam are here the names of all wretched mankind. See Psal. 8. 5. The Chaldee expoundeth it, They labour not in the labour of men that study in the Law, and with just men, &c.

Verse 6. compasseth, &c. ] or, is a chain to them and to him, that is, every of them; as a collar that is hanged for an ornament about the neck. And of this word Anak, to hang a chaine, that Giant Anak had his name, whose children were called Anakims, men great of stature, proud and cruell. See Num. 13. 23. 34. Ios. 15. 13, 14. a garment ] a habit or ornaments, finely fitted to the body; such was the barbers habit, Prov. 7. 10.

Verse 7. eyes standeth ] that is, Each eye standeth or starteth out of the hole for fainesse. In Chaldee, The similitude of their faces is changed for fainesse. So in Job 15. 27. he hath covered his face with his fainesse. they passe the imaginations, &c. ] that is, they exceed in prosperity above that they could imagine or thinke; or, they surpass in wickednesse above that which mans heart can thinke, according to that which here followeth, and as in Ier. 5. 28. it is said they are waxen fat and shining, they doe passe the words (or deeds) of the wicked.

Verse 8. They doe corrupt ] or consume, dissolve or make dissolute by their wicked speeches, & by their oppression of men. It may be understood of corrupting, or making rotten with sin themselves or others; or consuming and wasting with oppression. with maliciousnesse ] or in evil, that is, maliciously or malignantly. from aloft ] that is, loftily. Or, of the most High, that is, of God, as in the next verse: but the Chaldee expoundeth it, of the highnesse of their heart.

Verse 9. against Heavens ] that is, against God and his Saints whom they blaspheme, as it is written, he opened his mouth unto blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in Heaven, Revel. 13. 6. So elsewhere Heavens are used for God, Dan. 4. 23. Luke 15. 18.

Verse 10. his people ] Gods owne people are by this afflicted.

afflicted. Therefore the Greeke saith my people; the Psalmist speaking of his brethren, as after of himselfe, ver. 13. hither] to these thoughts and tentations, which follow in the next verses.

a full] the word cup or basin is here to be understood; as strong, for strong pannes, Psal. 10.9. See the note there. By waters of a full cup, are meant abundance of teares, which they must drinke, that is, of afflictions and tentations which they suffer; as in Psal. 80.6. So the Chaldee explaineth it, and teares as many waters shall flow from them. wrong out to them] or drunke (sucked up) by them, as in Psal. 75.9.

12 Verle 12. in tranquillity] or quiet, safe, wealthy, at ease. Compare herewith Ier. 12.1.2. wealthy power] ability by riches: see Psal. 49.7.

13 Verle 13. cleansed] that is, laboured to cleanse and purge, by faith and continuall sanctification, Act. 15.9.1. Ioh. 3.3. otherwise, who can say, I have made mine heart cleane, Prov. 20.9. innocency] or cleanness: see Psal. 26.6. and 24.4.

14 Verle 14. am plagued] or touched with afflictions, punished, which the wicked are not, v.5. my rebuke] or blame, to wit, I beare the chastisement for my sinnes. in the morning] that is, every morning, or early: the like phraze is Psal. 101.8. Iob 7.18. Lam. 3.23. Esay 33.2.

15 Verle 15. I will tell thus] that is, if these tentations prevaile against me, so that I should tell and declare for truth these my carnall thoughts. Telling is often used for publishing and preaching to others: See Psal. 2.7. unfaithfully wrong] or faithlessly transgresse against the generation of thy finnes, (O God) that is, of thy people, called the sons of God, Deut. 14.1. 1 Ioh. 3.1.

17 Verle 17. prudently attend to] or, consider their latter end. A like speech Moses useth, Deut. 32.29.

18 Verle 18. slippery place] whereby suddenly fall to perdition. The Chaldee saith, in darke places.

19 Verle 19. wondrous desolation] such as astonieth the beholders. Such sudden strange desolation God brought on Babylon of old, Ier. 51.37.41. and will againe, Rev. 18.10.17.

20 Verle 20. As a dream] to wit, so they are; or, so vanishest their prosperity; which when one awaketh, is gone, as is plainly set forth in Esay 29.7.8. So elsewhere it is said, he shall see away as a dream, and not be found, and shall passe away as a vision of the night: the eye which saw him shall doe so no more, &c. Iob 20.8.9. The Chaldee explaineth it, as the dream of a drunken man. thou raisest up] to wit, thy selfe, that is, risest up to punish them, as Psal. 35.23. or raisest up, to wit, them, at the last day of judgement. So the Chaldee Paraphrast turneth it, saying, in the day of the great judgement, they shall rise up out of the house of the grave, in wrath thou wilt despise their image. The Greeke saith, in thy citie thou wilt despise their image: the Hebrew word bagmir being ambiguous. In this sense compare herewith Eccles. 8.10. despise their image] or their shadow, that is, destroy their transitory estate; for, man walketh in an image, Psal. 39.7. Or, referring it to the last judgement, their image may meane their corrupt sinfull state. Gen. 5.3. and the despising of it, is their utter rejection; for then they shall rise to shame and contempt eternall, Daniel 12.2.

Verle 21. was leavened] or leavened it selfe, that is, was vexed, grieved, fawled, was soure as leaven, with my fretting griefe and anger. I was pricked] or,

sharpened (pricked) my selfe, that is, felt sharpe paines, to wit, with my fretting thoughts and desires.

Verle 22. brutish] that is, foolish, sensuall, like a brute beast, not having the understanding of a man in me: as is explained, Pro. 30.2. See also Psal. 49.11. as the beast] that is, as one of them, or a great beast, Hebr. Behemoth; which is used for the vast Elephant, Iob 40.10. The Greeke here turneth it beastiall, or brutish.

Verle 24. to glory] or wish glory, that is, gloriously, honourably. See 1. Tim. 3.16. Phil. 3.21. Heb. 2.10. 1 Pet. 5.1.4. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Thou wilt guide me with thy counsell in this world; and after that the glory is accomplished, which thou hast said thou wilt bring upon me, thou wilt receive me.

Verle 25. whom have I] or, who is for me, but thee to trust in, or call upon. delights not] or take no pleasure, in any person, or thing.

Verle 26. the Rocke] that is, the strength and hope; the Greeke saith, the God of my heart.

Verle 27. gone farre] that is, the wicked who are here said to be farre from God; and in Psalm 119.150. are farre from his Law, and therefore salvation is farre from them, Psal. 119.155. as here they perish, whereas the righteous are a people neere God, Psal. 148.14. that goeth a whoring from thee] that is, goeth after idols, departing from the true God, as Hof. 1.2. for idolatry or breach of Gods covenant, is often called whoredome or fornication, Ier. 3.9.20. Ezek. 23.3.5.7. &c. Psal. 106.39.

Verle 28. to draw nigh] so both the Greeke and Chaldee doe explaine the Hebrew phraze the drawing neere of God; and thus it is also used in Esay 58.2. and is done by the faith of the Gospell, Heb. 7.19. Iehovah] or God: see Psal. 68.21. The Chaldee saith, in the word of God, to tell] that I may tell, or declare, as the Greeke explaineth it.

PSALME LXXIV.

The Prophet complaineth of the desolation of the Sanctuary. 10 He moveth God to helpe in consideration of his power, 18 of his reproachfull enemies, of his children, and of his Covenant.

An instructing Psalm of Asaph.

Wherefore, O God, hast thou cast us off to perpetuity: shall thine anger smoake against the sheepe of thy pasture? Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old, the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, this mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt. Lift up thy feet to the desolations of perpeturie, the enemy hath done evill to all things in the Sanctuary. Thy distressers roar in the mids

5 mids of thy synagogues; they have set their 6 signes for signes. He was knowne, as he lifted on high, axes against the thicket of the wood. And now the carved works therof all together they have beat downe, with beetle 7 and mallets. They have cast into the fire thy sanctuaries, to the earth they have profaned 8 the dwelling place of thy name. They said in their heart, let us make spoile of them altogether; they have burned all the syna-9 gogues of God in the land. We see not our signes, there is not any Prophet more, nor any 10 with us that knoweth how long. How long, O God, shall the distreſſer reproach? shall
 the enemy blaspheme thy name to perpetui-11 ty? Wherefore turnest thou away thine hand, even thy right hand? draw it out of the 12 midst of thy bosome, make a full end. For God is my King from antiquity, he worketh 13 salvations in the midst of the earth. Thou didst break asunder the sea by thy strength,
 didst break in peeces the heads of the dra-14 gons in the waters. Thou didst quite burst the heads of Livjathan, didst give him for meat to the people that dwell in dry desarts.
 15 Thou didst cleave the fountaine and the streame, thou diddest dry up the rivers of 16 strength. The day is thine, the night also is thine; thou hast prepared the light and the 17 Sun. Thou hast constituted all the borders of the earth, the summer and the winter, them 18 hast thou formed. Remember this, the enemy reproacheth Jehovah, and the foolish 19 people blaspheme thy name. Give not the soule of thy turtle-dove to the wild company; the company of thy poore afflicted for-20 get not to perpetuity. Have respect unto the covenant, for full are the darknesſes of the earth, of the habitations of violent wrong.
 21 Let not the oppressed returne ashamed; let the poor afflicted & needy praise thy name.
 22 Rise up, O God, plead thou thy plea, remember thy reproach from the foole all the 23 day. Forget not the voice of thy distreſſers;
 the tumultuous noise of them that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

1 OF Asaph] or, we Asaph, in Chaldee, by the bands of Asaph: see Psal. 30. 1. If Asaph (who lived in Davids dayes) made this Psalme, it was a prophesie of troubles to come. If some other Prophet made it when calamities were on Israel,
 then was it committed to Asaphs posterity, the singers, called by their fathers name; as Aarons posterity, are called Aaron, 1 Chron. 12. 27. thine

anger smooke] or, thy nose smoke, that is, burne, as was threatned, Deut. 29. 20. A manifestation of sore displeasure: see Psal. 18. 9. and 80. 5. sheepe

 thou broughtest them out of Egypt, Exod. 15. 16.

inheritance, Deut. 32. 9. which he measured out for himselfe as land is meted with a rod or line. It may also be read the scepter, or the tribe of thine inheri- tance, as Esay 63. 17. for the Hebrew Shebet, which properly is a rod or staffe, is sometime a scepter, Psal. 45. 7. sometime a tribe, Psal. 78. 67.

Verse 3. Lift up thy feet] or thy hammers, that is,
thy strokes, to stampe or beat downe the enemy unto perpetuall desolations. Thus the feet are used to tread downe with. Esay 26. 6. and so the Greeke taketh it here, changing the metaphor, and translating it, thy hands, which are also instruments to strike downe with. Or lift up thy feet, that is, Come quickly to see the perpetuall desolations which the enemy hath made. hath done evil] that is, broken, robbed, burned, wasted all things; as did Nebuchadnezar in the Temple, 2 King. 24. 13.
 and 25. 9. 13, 14. &c.

Verse 4. thy synagogues] or assemblies, either the courts and places about the temple, where the people assembled, or the other synagogues in Ierusalem, as after v. 8. he speaketh of all the synagogues in the land, places where prayers and lectures of the law were used, Act. 16. 13. & 15. 21. The assembly of Christians is called also by this name synagogue,
 Iam. 2. 2. their signes] or banners, which are signes
 of victory, or of idolatry. See after, verse 9.

Verse 5. He was knowne] He, that is, A man, or every one of the enemies was knowne, that is, renowned, or famous, as having done some notable
 act. as he lifted on high] or, as he that brings it aloft, that is, as a man brings the axe aloft over his head, to fell downe the thicke wood with might and maine. They cut downe the wood of the Temple, as men doe trees in a forest. thicket
of the wood] that is, the thicke wood or tree, whose boughes are wrapped one in another: or, (if we understand it of the wood-work in the Temple)
the infolded graven wood, which he that did most eagerly cut downe, was most renowned.

Ver. 6. And now] or, And then, at the same time.
 So Psal. 27. 6. carved workes] gravings, or, (as the Hebrew phrase is) openings, used for graves or car- ved workes, Exod. 28. 11. The Greeke here turneth
 it, doores, which also have their name of opening.

Verse 7. thy sanctuaries] the temple which had divers holy places) was laid by Nebuzar-adan, 2 King 25. 9. to the earth] to wit, burning or ra-sing downe to the ground.

Verse 8. Let us make spoile] or, we will oppress, prey upon them. Of this Hebrew root, the Dove hath her name in that tongue, as being subject to the prey and spoyle of Hawkes, &c.
 vvherefore

wherefore in ver. 19 he calleth the Church a turtle-dove.

9 Verse 9. our signes] the testimonies of Gods presence and favour, extraordinary or ordinary, as the sacrifices, &c. Dan. 11. 31. So Circumcision, the Passover, the Sabbath, &c. were for signes to Israel, Gen. 17. 11. Exod. 12. 13. and 31. 13. or, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the signes which the Prophets gave us. any Prophet] that could see and foretell the spirit an end of these troubles, Lam. 2. 9. A Prophet (Nabi) is one that from the inward counsell of God uttereth oracles. In old time he was called a Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Amos 7. 12. how long] to wit, this affliction shall endure. The like speech is in Psalme 6. 4.

11 Verse 11. draw it, &c] this word, or some such, seemeth here to be understood, as often in the Hebrew: see Psal. 69. 11. The drawing the hand out of the bosome denoteth a performance of the worke without slacknesse, as we may see by the contrary, Prov. 26. 15. full end] by consuming our enemies, and accomplishing our deliverance.

13 Verse 13. the sea] in Chaldee, the waters of the red sea. of the dragons] or whales, meaning the noble men of Egypt, who pursuing the Israelites, were drowned in the red sea, Exod. 14. 28. For great persons are likened to Dragons or Whale-fishes, as Ezek. 29. 3.

14 Verse 14. the heads] that is, the head, as the Greeke translateth it, called heads for the excellency and principality. of Leviathan] or, of the whale, meaning Pharaoh king of Egypt, who was drowned with his Princes, Psal. 136. 15. Leviathan is the name of the great whale-fish, or sea Dragon, so called of the fast joyning together of his scale; as he is described, Job 40. 20. and 41. 6. &c. and is used to resemble great tyrants, here, and in Esay 27. 3. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the heads of Pharaohs mighty men. in dry deserts] that is, to the wild beasts of the wilderness, which might devour the Egyptians after they were drowned, and cast upon the shore, Exod. 14. 30. The beasts may be called a people, as Comes, Pismires, Locusts, &c. are called peoples and nations, Prov. 30. 25. 26. Joel. 1. 6. See also the notes on Psal. 72. 9. unlesse by these dwellers in dry places, we understand the Israelites in the wilderness, to whom the spoyle of the Egyptians was as meat; as elsewhere they said of the Canaanites, they are bread for us, Numb. 14. 9. This the Chaldee favoureth.

15 Verse 15. didst cleave the fountaine] bringing a well and streame of water to thy people out of the rocks, Exod. 17. 6. Num. 20. 11. Esay 48. 21. Psal. 105. 41. rivers of strength] that is, strong, rough, or vehement rivers, as the waters of Iarden were dryed up, that Israel might goe thorow, Ios. 3. 15. 17. The Chaldee Paraphrast addeth also the rivers Arnon and Iabok; whereof see Numb. 21. 14. Deut. 2. 37.

16 Verse 16. the light] The Hebrew Maor is properly a lightsome body, as is the Sunne, Moon, Stars, &c. Gen. 1. 14. 15. and here may be meant of the Moone, as the Chaldee translateth it, for the Sunne next followeth. For these God is elsewhere also celebrated, Psal. 1. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Verse 19. foole of thy turtle-dove] that is, the life of thy Church, called a turtle-dove, for their danger to be pierced upon by the wicked, as before, v. 8. being of themselves weake, mournfull, and timorous; also for their faith and loyalty towards God, & innocency of life. In these respects are doves mentioned, Hos. 11. 11. Ezek. 7. 16. Esay 38. 14. and 59. 11. Song. 4. 1. and 6. 8. Matth. 10. 16. So the Chaldee explaineth it, Give not the soules of them that teach thy law, to the people which are like wild beasts. wild company] or wild beasts, as the Greeke translateth it, meaning the cruell people like wild beasts, as the Chaldee saith. The same word straight-way followeth for the Church, or lively flocke of Christ. See the notes on Psal. 68. 11 31.

Verse 20. the covenant] which thou didst make with our fathers, (as the Chaldee addeth to explaine it) it may be meant of the covenant with Abraham and his seed, as is expressed, Psal. 105. 8, 9, 10. or, which was made with Noah, that the world should no more be drowned, as once it was, when it was full of cruelty, Gen. 6. 13. 17, 18. and 8. 21. 22. which covenant the Prophets apply to the Church after, Esay 54. 9. the darkenesses] that is, darke places, as in Psal. 88. 7. and 143. 3. hee meaneth that the base obscure places were full of violence, even folds or habitations of cruelty; no cottage being free from the rapine of the enemies. Darke places may be put for base or meane: as in Prov. 22. 29. darke or obscure persons, are the base sort. The Gr. here also translateth it darke persons, meaning the vile gracelesse enemies.

Verse 22. plead thy plea] defend thine owne cause: see Psalme 35. 1. from the foole] understand, which thou sufferest from the foole, or impious Nabal, which word was also before, ver. 18. whereof see Psalme 14. 1. The Chaldee paraphraseth, from the foolish King.

Verse 23. ascendeth] that is, commeth up unto thee, it is so great; as Iona. 1. 2. or, it increaseth, as the battell is said to ascend when it increased, 1 King. 22. 35.

PSAL. LXXV.

A confession to God, and promise to judge uprightly.
5 A rebuke of the proud, by consideration of Gods providence.

To the Master of the Musicke, Corrupt not:
a Psalme of Asaph, a Song.

VEE confesse to thee, O God, wee confess, & neer is thy name; they tell thy wondrous workes. When I shall receive the appointment, I wil judge righteousness. Dissolved is the earth & all the inhabitants therof; I have set sure the pillars therof. Selah. I said to the vain-glorious fooles,

he

- 6 be not vain-gloriously foolish; & to the wicked, lift not up the horne. Lift not up your horne to on high, nor speak with a stiffe neck.
- 7 For not from the East, or from the West, neither from the desert commeth promotion.
- 8 But God is the judge, he abaseth one, and
- 9 exalteth another. For a cup is in the hand of Jehovah, & the wine is red, it is full of mixture, and hee powreth out of the same; but the dregs thereof wring out and drinke shall
- 10 all the wicked of the earth. And I will shew for ever, will sing Psalme to the God of Iakob.
- 11 And will hew off all the hornes of the wicked; the hornes of the just man shall be advanced.

Annotations.

- 1 Corrupt not ] or, Destroy not; see Psalme 57. 1. The Chaldee addeth, in the time when David said, destroy not the people. of Asaph ] or to Asaph; in Chaldec, by the hand of Asaph: see Psalm. 50. 1.
- 2 Verse 2. and weere is ] to wit, neere in our mouthes and hearts to celebrate it. Thus Gods word is said to be neere, Rom. 10. 8. and, thou art neer in their mouth, Ier. 12. 2. In this sense the Greeke also explaineth it, and we will call on thy name. they tell ] that is, I and others with mee: so the Greeke saith, I will tell.
- 3 Verse 3. receize the appointment ] or, take the appointed thing, (or time, as the Chaldee translateth it;) that is, the office appointed and promised. They seeme to be the words of the Psalmist (as appeareth more plainely by verse 10. and 11.) in person of Christ, to whom the kingdome of Israel was appointed in due time; whom David was a figure of, in taking and administering the kingdome when it was distracted with troubles. See 2 Sam. 3. 17. 19. and 5. 1, 2, 3. righteousnesse ] that is, most righteously.
- 4 Verse 4. dissolied ] or melted, that is, faint with troubles, feares, &c. as Ios. 2. 9. set sure ] or, will fasten, artificially stabliss, as by line and measure, that they fall not. Pillars ] the mountaines, which may also meane Governours; for great personages are likened to Pillars, Gal. 2. 9.
- 5 Verse 5. the horne ] the signe of power and glory, Psal. 112. 9. and 89. 18. 25. Luk. 1. 69. In 1 Chro. 25. 5. mention is made of prophecies, to lift up the horne.
- 6 Verse 6. to on high ] that is, abst, or against the high God. with a stiffe neck ] like untamed oxen shaking off the yoke of obedience. Or, speak not a hard thing (as Psal. 31. 19.) with a neck stretched out, that is, arrogantly, or with one neck, that is, with joynt force: as heart, in Psal. 83. 6. is for one heart.
- 7 Verse 7. the desert ] that is, the South or North: for deserts were on both ends of the land of Canaan. promotion ] or exaltation; or as the Greeke translateth, desert of the mountaines, that is, the

mountainy desert, meaning that preferment or deliverance comes not from any of the nations round about. The Hebrew Havim is ambiguous, signifying both exaltation, and mountaines. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, For there is none besides me, from East to West, from the North the place of the desert, or from the South the place of the mountaines.

Verse 8. abaseth one ] Hebr. this man. another ] Hebr. this man. It may also be read, He (this God) abaseth, and he advanceeth.

Verse 9. a cup ] to measure our afflictions; as Psal. 11. 6. a similitude often used: see Hab. 2. 16. Eze. 23. 31. 32. Ier. 25. 28. The Chaldee saith, a cup of curse. wine ] that is, wrath or indignation, as is expressed, Ier. 25. 15. Iob 21. 20. Revel. 14. 10. red ] or thicke, troubled, muddy, noting fierce indignation. The Greeke turneth it, acraton mere, meaning strong wine, not allaied. So in Revel. 14. 10. where mere, or pure wine, meaneth great afflictions. The Greeke there is taken from this Psalme.

of mixture ] that is, of liquor mixed, ready to bee drunke: as wisdom is said to have mixed her wine, Prov. 9. 2. that is, tempered it ready. So Revel. 14. 10. The Chaldee addeth, mixture of bitterness. he powreth out ] to wit, unto his owne people, afflicting them, as is expressed, Ier. 25. 17. 18. 28. 29. the dregs ] the most grievous afflictions, as Esay 51. 17. 22. wring out ] or sucke up, that is, seek, and be affected with it. So Ezek. 23. 34. Esay 51. 17.

Verse 10. will shew ] to wit, this worke of God, his mercy, and judgement. The Chaldee explaineth it, will shew thy miracles. hornes of the wicked ] their power, dominion, and pride, whereby they afflict and scatter Gods people, Ier. 48. 25. Lam. 2. 3. Zach. 1. 21. Revel. 17. 12. 13. as by hornes of the just man, is meant his power, dominion, glory, Psalme 132. 17. and 92. 11. and 148. 14. 1 Sam. 2. 10. So the Chaldee openeth it, And I will humble all kingdomes, the high strength of the wicked.

P S A L. LXXVI.

A declaration of Gods majestie in the Church, against her enemies. 12 An exhortation to serve him reverently.

To the master of the musick on Neginoth, a Psalme of Asaph, a Song.

God is knowne in Judah, his name is great in Israel. And in Shalem is his tabernacle, and his dwelling in Sion. There brake he the burning arrowes of the bow, the shield & the sword, & the war, Selah. Bright, wondrous excellent art thou, more than the mountains of prey. The mighty of heart have yeelded themselves to the spoil; they have slumbered their sleep, and none of the men of power have found their hands. At thy rebuke, O God of Iakob

both

both chariot and horse hath bin cast asleep.
 8 Thou, thou art fearefull, and who shal stand 9 before thee when thou art angry? From the heavens thou causedst judgement to bee 10 heard; the earth feared, & was still. When God arose to judgement, to save all the 11 meeke of the earth, Selah. Surely the wrath-full heat of men shal confesse thee, the remnant of the wrathfull heats thou wilt gird.
 12 Vow ye, and pay to Jehovah your God: all they that be round about him, let them bring 13 a present to the FEAR. To him that ga-thereth as grapes the spirit of the Gover-nours, that is fearefull to the Kings of the earth.

Annotations.

1 ON Neginoth] or with stringed instruments: see Psal. 4.1. of Asaph] or, to Asaph: see
 Psal. 50.1.

3 Verse 3. Shalem] or Salem, the Citie of Mel-chisedek, Gen. 14.18. afterwards called Ierusalem;
 whereof see the notes on Psal. 51.20. The Greeke translateth it, in Peace, which is the interpretation of the name Salem, as the Apostle sheweth, Heb.
 7.2. The Chaldee paraphrase saith, Ierusalem.
 his tabernacle] or tent, pavilion, which is both a meane dwelling, and a moveable, Levit. 23.42.43.
 Hebr. 11.9.10. For both Moses tabernacle and Solomons Temple were meane cottages in respect of Gods glory, 1 King. 8.27.

4 Verse 4. burning arrows] or fiery darts, (as the Apostle calleth the tentations of that wicked
 one, Ephes. 6.16.) The Hebrew Risphai, is properly burning coles, Son. 8.6. figuratively here the glistening brasse-headed arrows, elsewhere the fiery thunder-bolts, Psal. 78.48. and burning plague, Deut.
 32.24. Habak. 3.5. likened to arrows, Psal. 91.5.
 Here it may leade us to mind this Psalme, to celebrate the victories against Satan, figured by the vanquishing of the Assyrians, and other enemies, 2 King. 19.35. The Chaldee explaineth it thus,
 When the house of Israel did his will, he placed his divine majesty among them; there brake be the arrows and bowes of people that warred; shield, and sword, and battle-ray, destroyed be for ever. and the warre] that is, the army of warriors, the battle-array. See Psalme 37.3.
 And thus Shalem, or Peace, is maintained by breaking all warlike instruments: as Esay 2.4.

5 Verse 5. Bright] made light, that is, Glorious:
 speaking to God, as vers. 7. wondrous excellent] magnificent: see Psalme 8.2. mounts of prey]
 the mountaines of the Lions and Leopards, Son.
 4.8. meaning the kingdomes of this world, which make prey and spoyle one of another, like wild beasts, Dan. 7.4, 5, 6, 7. whom the Lambe on mount Sion excelleth in power and glory, Revelation.
 14.1. and 17.14. Or, from the mounts of prey, that is, when thou commest from conquering the enemies, which lie in the mountaines to make prey of thy people.

6 Verse 6. mighty of heart] or stout, stubborn-hearted;
 a title of the wicked that are farre from justice,
 Esay 46.12. called here in Greeke unwise in bearts.
 their sleepe] their eternall sleepe, Ier. 51.39.57. the sleepe of death, Psal. 13.4. So in the next verse.

none of] Hebr. all (or any) have not found, that is, none found. So 1 Ioh. 3.15. every man-slayer hath not, that is, none hath life. See also Psal. 143.2. men of power, able men, for strength, courage, and riches, (in which last sense the Greeke taketh it here) these did not resist, or could not, as Psal. 77.5. They were not able (as the Chaldee saith) to take their weapons in their hands.

7 Verse 7. thy rebuke] that is, punishment, destruction: see Psal. 9.6. charme] that is, Princes and Captaines riding on chariots and horses, on which they were wont of old to fight, Iudg. 4.3.
 1 King. 22.31.34. These by Gods rebuke have bin slaine, as in the campe of Asshur, 2 King. 19.35.
 and the host of Antichrist, Rev. 19.18.-21.

8 Verse 8. when thou art angry] Hebr. from then (that is, from the time of) thine anger, after thine anger is once kindled.

9 Verse 9. the earth] or, the land; which the Chal-
 dee understandeth thus; the land of the heathens feared, the land of Israel was quiet.

11 Verse 11. shall confesse thee] that is, shall turne to thy praise, when thy people are delivered from the rage of their foes. the remnant] or, the remainder, that is, thy people which remaine and perish not in the rages of the wicked. thou wilt gird] to wit, with joyfulness, that they shall sing praise to thee; as the Greeke explaineth it, shall keepe a feast to thee. As in Iohel. 1.13. Gird yee, there is understood, with sorrow, or sack-cloth: so here seemeth to be understood joy or gladnesse, wherewith persons (or things) are said to be girded, Psal. 30.12. and 65.13. or, thou wilt gird with strength, as Psalme 18.40. Or if we referre it to the hot rage of the wicked, the residue thereof thou wilt gird, that is, blind or restrain from attempting further evill.

12 Verse 12. Vow ye] men in danger, or delivered from it, were wont to make vowes unto God, Gen. 28.20. Iona. 1.16. Psal. 66.13, 14.
 round about him] a description of his people, as the twelve tribes pitched round about the Tabernacle, Numb. 2.2. and the foure and twenty Elders were round about Gods throne, Rev. 4.4. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, yee that dwell about his Sanctuary. to the feare] that is, the most fearefull
 God, called Feare or Terrour, for more reverence and excellency, unto whom all feare is due, as Esay 8.12.13. Malach. 1.6. So Iakob called God the Feare of his father Isaak, Genesis 31.53. And this was performed when after Asshurs overthrow, many brought offerings to the Lord, 2 Chron.
 32.21.23.

13 Verse 13. To him that gathereth] so the Greeke, to him that taketh away: or we may reade, He gathereth, (or Cutteth off as in vintage,) a similitude from grape-gatherers, which cut off the clusters of the vines; applyed here to the cutting off the lives of men. The like is in Rev. 14.18, 19, 20. also in Iudg. 20.45. The Chaldee explaineth it,

To him that representeth the pride of the spirit of governours; God, to be feared above all Kings of the earth. Governours] or Princes, Captaines, that leade and goe before the people. So Gods Angell destroyed all the valiant men, and Princes, and Captaines in the Campe of the King of Asshur, 2 Chro. 32. 21.

P S A L. LXXVII.

The Psalmist sheweth what fierce combat hee had with diffidence. 11 The victory which he had by consideration of Gods great and gracious workes done of old.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, to Jeduthun, a Psalme of Asaph.

2 MY voice was to God, and I cried out: my voice was to God, and he gave
3 eare unto mee. In day of my distresse I sought the Lord, my hand by night
4 reached out and ceased not, my soule refused to be comforted. I remembered God, and 5 made a troubled noise; I meditated, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah. Thou heldest
6 the watches of mine eyes, I was stricken amazed and could not speake. I recounted 7 the daies of antiquity, the yeeres of ancient times. I remembered my melody in the 8 night; with my heart I meditated, and my spirit searched diligently. Will the Lord cast 9 off to eternities, and not adde favourably to accept any more? Is his mercy ceased to 10 perpetuity; is his word ended to generation and generation? Hath God forgotten to be 11 gracious; hath he shut up in anger his tender mercy Selah? And I said, doth this make me 12 sicke, the change of the right hand of the most high? I will record the actions of his;
13 surely, I will remember thy miracle from antiquity. And I will meditate of all thy 14 worke, and will discourse of thy practises. O God, thy way is in the sanctuary; who is so 15 great a God as God? Thou art the God that doest a marvellous worke, thou hast made 16 known thy strength among the peoples. Thou hast redeemed thy people with arme, 17 the sons of Jakob, and of Joseph Selah. The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw 18 thee, they trembled, also the deeps were stirred. The clouds streamed downe waters, the 19 skies gave out a voice, also thine arrows walked about. The voice of thy thunder was in 20 the round aire; lightnings illuminated the world, the earth was stirred, and quaked.
Thy way was in the sea, and thy pathes in the many waters, and thy footsteps were not known. Thou didst leade thy people like a flocke, by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Annotations.

TO Jeduthun] or, for him: see Psal. 39. 1. and 62. 1.

Verse 2. he gave eare] so the Greeke explaineth the Hebrew phrase to give eare: see the like, Psal. 65. 11.

Verse 3. sought the Lord] in Chaldee, sought instruction from before the Lord, and the spirit of prophesie rested upon me. reached out] or, flowed, was poured out, that is, was stretched out in prayer: (a vehement figurative speech, like that of pouring out the heart, Psal. 62. 9.) or, was wet with continuall wiping of mine eyes: or by hand may be meant plague or sore (as in Iob 23. 2.) which continually ran. The Chaldee expoundeth it, by night mine eye dropped teares, and ceased not.

Verse 4. meditated] or praised. See Psal. 55. 3, 18. overwhelmed] or covered it selfe, that is, sorrowed or fainted with sorrow. So Psal. 142. 4. and 143. 4. and 107. 5. Lam. 2. 12.

Verse 5. the watches] or the wards, custodies, (that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the lids) of mine eyes, so that I cannot sleepe. stricken amazed] beaten with terrour, as with a hammer; or, as the Greeke saith, troubled. So Dan. 2. 13. Gen. 41. 8.

could not speake] so the Hebrew phrase speake not, is sometime to be interpreted: as, who shall judge, 2 Chron. 1. 10. for which in 1 King. 3. 9. is written, who can (or, is able to) judge. So Psalme 78. 20.

Verse 6. of ancient times] or, of eternities, that is, of ages past. This he did according to the commandment, Deut. 32. 7. for former histories are written for our learning. Rom. 15. 4. 1 Cor. 10. 11.

Verse 7. my melody] or musically play, to wit, how I had before time played, and sung songs of praise for thy benefits; (see Psal. 33. 2, 3.) or, I remembered my musick; and tooke my instrument, and thus I sung. spirit searched] in Chaldee, the knowledge of my spirit searched marvellous things.

Verse 11. doth this make me sicke] doth it grieve and weaken me, that the right hand (the administration) of God is changed, and he keepeth not one constant course in his workes? The Prophet seemeth to checke himselfe, for his infirmity. Or, (taking it not for a question) it maketh me sicke; or, this is my infirmity. the change] or, that changed it; for so the Hebrew phrase, to change, may be resolved.

Verse 12. will record] will remember for my selfe, and mention to others. The Hebrew implieth both these, by a double reading. miracle] that is, miracles or wondrous workes (as the Greeke explaineth it) all and every of them, done of old. So after in verse 15.

Verse 13. discourse] or meditate, intreat of, both in minde and talke.

- 14 Verſe 14. in the Sanctuarie] or in ſanctitie, in the holy place, as the Greeke turneth it: meaning, it is moſt holy, and ſecret, bidden from the eyes of the world, as holy things were hidden in the Sanctuarie, eſpecially the Arke and Cherubims where God ſate. So as it was not lawfull for people or Priests to ſee them, Num. 4. 6, 7, 15, 20. Lev. 16. 2. Compare alſo herewith, Pſal. 73. 16, 17. - 16 Verſe 16. with arme] that is, with power: an arme ſtretched out, as Exo. 6. 6. in Greeke, with thine arme of Iſaak] that is, the Tribes of Iſrael, borne of him. of Iſoſeph] this may be meant (as the Chaldee Paraphraſt taketh it) of all the Iſraelites whom Iſoſeph nourished, Gen. 45. 10, 11. and 50. 21. called therefore his ſons; or in ſpeciall of the Tribes of Ephraim and Manaſſes, the ſons of Iſoſeph, noted from the reſt, for more honour. PSAL. LXXVIII.

An Exhortation both to learne and to preach the Law of God. 9 The ſtorie of Gods wrath againſt the incre-dulous and diſobedient Iſraelites. 67 Ephraim being refused, God choſe Iudah, Sion, and David.

An inſtructing Pſalme of Aſaph.

Give care my people to my law, incline
your care to the words of my mouth.
I will open my mouth in a parable, I will utter hid things, of antiquitie. Which we have heard, and have knowne them, and our fathers have told us. We will not hide from their ſons, to the generation after, telling the praises of Jehovah: his power alſo, and his marvell which he hath done. How he ſtabliſhed a teſtimonie in Jakob, and put a law in Iſrael, which he commanded our fathers, to make them knowne to their ſons.
That the generation after, ſons that ſhould be borne might know, might riſe up and tell their ſons. And they might put their con-ſtant hope in God, and not forget the acts of God, and might keepe his commandements. And not be as their fathers, a generation perverſe and rebellious: a generation that prepared not aright their heart, and whoſe ſpirit was not faithfull, with God.
The ſons of Ephraim armed ſhooting with bow, turned backe in the day of battell.
They keepe not the covenant of God, and in his Law they refuſed to walke. And for-gote his actions, and his marvellous workes which he had ſhewed them. Before their fathers, he had done a miracle in the land of Egypt, the field of Tſoan. He cleſt the ſea and made them paſſe thorow, and made the waters to ſtand as an heape. And led them with a cloud by day, and all the night with a light of fire. He clave the Rocke in the wilderneſſe, and gave drinke as out of the great deeps. And brought forth ſtreames out of the rock, & made waters deſcend like rivers.
And they added yet to ſin againſt him, to provoke bitterly the moſt high in the dry deſart. And tempted God in their heart, asking meat for their ſoule. And they ſpake, a-gainſt God they ſaid; Can God furniſh a table in the wildeſſe? Lo, hee ſmote the Rock, & waters gushed out, & ſtreams overflowed: can he alſo give bread; or can he prepare fleſh for his people? Therefore Jehovah heard, and was exceeding angry, & fire was kindled againſt Jacob; and alſo anger came up againſt Iſrael. Becauſe they belee-ved not in God, & truſted not in his ſalvati-
on. Though he had commanded the ſkies from above, and opened the doores of heavens. And rained upon them Manna to eat, and the wheat of heavens he gave to them.

LIIII

Man

25 Man did eat the bread of the mighties, hee
 26 sent them meat to satietie. Hee made an East-wind to passe forth in the heavens, and brought on a South-wind by his strength.
 27 And rained flesh upon them as dust; and fea-28 thered fowle, as the sand of the seas. And made it fall in the midst of his campe, round 29 about his dwelling places. And they did eat and were filled vehemently, and their de-30 sire he brought unto them. They were not estranged from their desire, their meat was 31 yet in their mouth. When the anger of God came up against them, and slew of the fat of 32 them, and smote downe the choise yong men of Israel. For all this they sinned yet, and beleevd not for his marvellous workes.
 33 And he consumed their daies in vanitie, and 34 their yeeres in hasty terrour. When he slew them, then they sought him, and returned, 35 and sought God early. And remembred that God was their Rocke, and the most high 36 God, their Redeemer. But they flattering-ly allured him with their mouth, and with 37 their tongue they lied to him. For their heart was not firmly prepared with him, neither 38 were they faithfull in his covenant. And he being compassionate, mercifully covered in-iquitie, and corrupted not, but multiplied to turne away his anger, and did not stir up all 39 his wrathfull heat. For hee remembred that they were flesh, a wind that goeth and shall 40 not returne. How oft did they bitterly pro-41 voke him in the wilderness, grieve him in the desert! For they returned and tempted 42 God, and limited the holy one of Israel.
 They remembred not his hand, nor the day 43 in which he had redeemed them from the 44 distresser. When he put his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Tsoan. And 45 turned their rivers into bloud, and their streames, that they could not drinke. Hee sent among them a mixed swarme which 46 did eat them, and the frog which corrupted 47 them. And he gave their fruit to the caterpiller, and their labour to the locust. He kil-48 led their vine with haile, and their wild figtrees with the blasting hailestone. And hee shut up their cattell to the haile, and their 49 flocks of cattell to the lightnings. Hee sent among them the burning of his anger,
 exceeding wrath, and indignation, and dis-
 stress, by the sending of the messengers of e-50 vils. He weighed out a path to his anger, he withheld not their soule from death, & their 51 wilde beast he shut up to the pestilence. And smote all the first-born in Egypt, the beginning of strengths in the tents of Cham. And he made his people passe thorow as sheepe,

 and led them on as a flock in the wilderness.
 And led them in confident safety, and they 53 dreaded not, and the sea covered their ene-54 mies. And he brought them to the border of his holinesse: this mountaine, which his right hand purchased. And he cast out the 55 heathens from their faces, & made them fall in the line of possession, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents. And they 56 tempted & bitterly provoked the most high
 God, and kept not his testimonies. But tur-57 ned backe and unfaithfully transgressed like their fathers; they were turned like a warping bow. And provoked him to anger by 58 their high places, and by their graven idols they stirred him to jealousy. God heard, & 59 was exceeding wroth, and vehemently abhorred Israel. And he forsook the dwelling 60 place of Shilo, the tent he had placed for a dwelling among earthly men. And gave his 61 strength into captivitie, and his beauteous glory into the hand of the distresser. And 62 shut up his people to the sword, and was exceeding wroth with his inheritance. The 63 fire did eat their choise yong men, and their virgins were not praised. Their Priests fel by 64 the sword, and their widows wept not. And 65 the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe; as a mighty one shouting after wine. And smote 66 his distressers behinde, he gave them eternal reproch. And he refused the tent of Joseph, 67 and chose not the tribe of Ephraim. But he 68 chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Sion which he loved. And builded his Sanctuary 69 like high places, like the earth which hee founded for ever. And he chose David his 70 servant, & took him from the folds of sheep.
 From after the ewes with yong brought hee 71 him, to feed Jakob his people, and Israel his possession. And he fed them according to 72 the perfection of his heart, and by the discretions of his hands led he them.

Annotations.

M<sup>T</sup> Law] or Doctrine, for of it the Law hath the name in Hebrew; see Psal. 19. 8. Christ speaketh in this Psalme to his people, as the next verse sheweth. So Isa. 51. 4.

Verse 2. in a parable] that is, in (or with) para-
 2 bles, as the holy Ghost expoundeth it, Mat. 13. 34-
 35. All these things Iesus spake to the multitude in parables, &c. that it might be fulfilled which was spoken
 by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, &c. Here the narration and applying of ancient Histories are called Parables, because all these things

things came unto our fathers as types, and were written to admonish us, 1 Cor. 10. 11. What a Parable meaneth, see Psal. 49. 5: will utter ] or well out, as from a spring or fountaine. bid things ]

so the holy Ghost expoundeth it in Greeke, Mat. 13. 35. the Hebrew word signifying harpe or obscure speeches, or riddles: see Psal. 49. 5. of antiquity ] understand, which are of antiquity, that is, ancient things since the foundation of the world, Matt. 13. 35.

5 Verse 5. stablished ] or reared up. testimony ] or witness, meaning the Covenant: see Psalm. 19. 8. in Iakob ] among the Israelites, the children of Iakob. to their sonnes ] all their posterity, as Deut. 4. 9. teach them thy sonnes, and thy sons sons. So Deut. 6. 6. 7. 21.

8 Verse 8. perverse ] or froward, stubborn. So Israel is noted to be, Exod. 32. 9. Deut. 31. 27.

9 Verse 9. Ephraim ] The ten tribes of Israel, of which Ephraim was chiefe, though they were valiant warriors, yet for their sins fell before their enemies, 1 King. 17. Hof. 10. 11. 14. Some understand it of that slaughter of Ephraims sonnes mentioned, 1 Chron. 7. 21, 22, 23. which was while their father lived in Egypt.

10 Verse 10. refused to walke ] as 2 King. 17. 14. 15. they would not obey, but hardened their neckes, &c. and refused his statutes and his covenant, which hee made with their fathers, &c.

12 Verse 12. a miracle ] that is, miracles, marvels, as in verse 2. parable is for parables. of Tisim ] or of Tanis, as the Greeke and Chaldee calleth it. It was a chiefe citie in Egypt, & the Kings Court or palace, and a place of great antiquity, Esa. 30. 3, 4. Numb. 13. 23. And the field of Tisim, is the countrey or territories of that citie, as the field of Edom, Gen. 32. 3. the field of Moab, Gen. 36. 35. Numb. 21. 20. So after, verse 43.

13 Verse 13. desi the sea ] the red sea, where the Israelites were baptised, Exod. 14. 1 Cor. 10. 2.

14 Verse 14. a cloud ] to shadow them from the Sunne; and to guide them in their journeyes: a figure of Gods protection over his Church, and guidance of the same, Exod. 13. 21. and 40. 38. Numbers 9. 17, 22. Nehem. 9. 19. Esay 4. 5.

15 Verse 15. the Rocks ] once at Horeb, Exod. 17. 6. and againe at Cadesh, Num. 20. 1. 11. The Rock was spiritually Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. great deeps ] that is, the great deepe, as the Greeke turneth it: the phrase is taken from Gen. 7. 11. though here deeps is put for deepe, for the more vehemencie, or, for every of the great deeps. Or we may turne it, as in deeps very much, to wit, drinke.

17 Verse 17. to provoke bitterly ] by rebellion, exasperating, and causing wrath and bitterness, as both the Hebrew and Greeke words signifie, Psal. 5. 11. Hebrewes 3. 16.

18 Verse 18 for their soule ] that is, their lust, their appetite: See Psalme 27. 12.

20 Verse 20. bread ] that is generally, food, Psalme 136. 25. and in speciall flesh, as after is explained, and the Hebrew lechem sometime signifieth, Levit. 3. 11. Num 28. 2. Of this their lusting, see Num. 11. 4. &c. can bee prepare ] The word can is again to be repeated from the former sentence. See also the note on Psal. 77. 5.

Verse 21. ascended ] that is, burned: for fire mounteth upward: so verse 31.

Verse 24. Manna ] or as in Hebrew, Man, a small round thing like Coriander seed, coloured like Baklinum, (that is, like wax, & clear, but white) hard, to be ground in Mills, or pounded; of it cakes were made, whose taste was like the best fresh oile, and like wafers made with hony. When the dew fell on the host by night, the Manna fell with it; when the dew was ascended, the Manna appeared like the hoare frost on the earth; then the people gathered it, for when the heat of the Sun came, it was melted. It was a meat which they knew not, nor their fathers: when they saw it, they said, It is Manna (that is, a ready meat, or What is this?) for they wist not what it was: and Moses said, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat, Num. 11. 7, 8, 9. Exo. 16. 14, 15, 31. Deut. 8. 3. Of this they had to eat forty yeers in the wilderness, till they came into Canaan, Exo. 16. 35. Jos. 5. 12. It was a figure of Christ and his spirituall graces, Joh. 6. 31, 32, 33. Rev. 2. 17.

Verse 25. man did eat ] or Every one did eat. bread of the Mighties ] that is, of the Angels, (as the Chaldee and Greeke explaineth it) which are mightie in strength, Psal. 103. 20. and Manna is called their bread, either because by their Ministerie God sent it, or because it came from heaven, the habitation of Angels, as the Chaldee paraphraseth: or because it was excellent, so as the Angels (if they needed any food) might eat it. So the tongue of Angels; 1 Cor. 13. 1. is the most sweet and excellent tongue: Or by Mighties, we may understand the mightie heavens. meat ] The Hebrew isdab, properly signifieth venison, that is, meat caught with hunting; but generally is used for all food. So Psal. 132. 15. to satiate ] or enough: for every man had an Omer full (that is, the tenth part of an Ephah or Bushell) of Manna for a day, Exod. 16. 16, 36. and of flesh they had store, till it came out at their nostrils, and was loathsome unto them, Num. 11. 19, 20.

Verse 26. brought on ] led or drove forward; as Num. 11. 31. Then there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought Quailes from the Sea, &c.

Verse 27. flesh as dust ] that is, Quailes in great abundance; so that he that gathered least, gathered ten Omers full, (that is, an hundred Ephahs or Bushels;) for one Omer contained ten Ephahs, Num. 11. 32. Ezek. 45. 11.

Verse 28. made it fall ] the flesh, the Quailes, being fat and heaue fowle, and by the moist South-east wind made more heaue, fell upon the campe a daies journey on each side, round about the host, and they were about two cubits aboye the earth, Numb. 11. 31. his campe ] the Lords, because he dwelt among them, Num. 5. 3. called elsewhere the hosts of the Lord, Exod. 12. 41. or his, that is, Israels: so verse 63, 64.

V. 30. They were not estranged ] that is (as the Greeke explaineth it) they were not deprived, their desired meat was not taken away from them; as it is written, The flesh was yet between their teeth, it was not yet cut off: (that is, taken from them, as Joel 1. 5.) and the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the people, Num. 11. 33. Or it may be understood of their affections and lust, not yet changed.

31 Verse 31. ascended] that is, burned, as verse 21. This is meant of the plague wherewith God smote the people, Num. 11. 33, 34. fat] that is, the chiefe and strongest, as Judg. 3. 29. So weake, poore, or bale men, are called lean or thin, Psa. 41. 2. Fat, (or fatnesse) is here figuratively put for fat persons. See the notes on Psa. 36. 12. and 106. 15.

choise young men] young men are called chosen, because they are selected for warres, and other serviceable affaires, when ancient men are let rest, Numb. 1. 3. and 8. 24, 25, 26. Exod. 24. 5.

33 Verse 33. hastie terror] or, a sudden plague, as was threatned, Levit. 26. 16.

36 Verse 36. flatteringly allured] or deceivd, that is, went about to deceive, by perswading flattering words.

37 Verse 37. firmlly prepared] aright seled, ready and stable, as is the heart of the godly, Psa. 111. 7. and 57. 8.

38 Verse 38. mercifully covered] made expiation, and forgave: So Psa. 65. 4. and 79. 9. corrupted] that is, destroyed utterly: so Deut. 4. 31. multiplied to torne] that is, much and often turned away his anger.

39 Verse 39. flesh] that is, weake, and corrupt. See Psalm. 56. 5. a wind] mans life is a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and afterward vanisheib away, Jam. 4. 14.

40 Verse 40. How oft] ten times (as the Lord said, Num. 14. 22.) this people tempted him, and obeyed not his voice. 1 At the Red Sea, for feare of the Egyptians, Exod. 14. 11, 12. 2 At Marah, where they wanted drinke, Exod. 15. 23, 24. 3 In the wilderness of Sin, where they wanted meat, Ex. 16. 2. 4 In keeping Manna till the morrow, which God had forbidden, Exod. 16. 20. 5 In going out for Manna on the Sabbath day, Exod. 16. 27, 28. 6 At Rephidim, murmuring for lacke of water, Exod. 17. 1, 2, 3. 7 At Horeb, where they made the golden Calfe, Exo. 32. 8 In Taberah, murmuring for tediousnesse of their way, Numb. 11. 1. 9 At Kibroth hataavah, where they lusted for flesh, Num. 11. 4. 10 In Paran, where they refuse the land of Canaan, being discouraged by their Spies, Num. 14. 1, 2, &c. And after this they sinned seven times; as 1 In pressing to goe fight, when God forbade them, Numb. 14. 44, 45. 2 In the rebellion of Korah, Dathan and Abiram, Numb. 16. 1, &c. 3 In the murmuring for the death of Korah and his company, Numb. 16. 41, &c. 4 At Meribah, murmuring for lacke of water, Num. 20. 2, 3, &c. 5 For grieve of their way, murmuring and loathing Manna, Num. 21. 4, 5, &c. 6 At Shitim, committing whoredome with the daughters of Moab; 7 And in the same place, coupling themselves to Baal-peor, and eating the sacrifices of the dead, Num. 25. 1, 2, 3, &c.

41 Verse 41. returned and tempted] that is, eslimes, again and again tempted, contrary to the Law, Deut.

6. 16. limited] prescribed limits, bound or mark, as before, verie 20.

Verse 44. to blond] The first of the ten plagues, wherewith God smote the Egyptians, which had drowned his children in their rivers, Exod. 7. 19, 20, 21. and 1. 22. whereto agreeth the third viall of wrath powred out on Antichrists kingdome, spiritually called Egypt, Rev. 16. 4, 6. and 11. 8.

Verse 45. a mixed swarme] a mixture, sundry sorts of flies, vermine, or hurtfull beasts: by the Greeke they were flies; by the Chaldee, mixtures of wilde beasts. It was the fourth plague of Egypt: See Exod. 8. 24.

the frog] that is, frogs, (as afterward caterpillar, locust, for locusts, &c.) The second plague of Egypt, Exod. 8. 6. figures of uneleane spirits, which gather the Kings of the world to the battell of the great day of God, Rev. 16. 13, 14. corrupted] that is, marred and destroyed.

Verse 46. their fruit] all that growes out of the earth.

caterpillar] a worme that consumeth and spoileth grosse and fruits, Joel 1. 4. to st] or grasshopper, (which have their name of their multitude, for they lie many together, Prov. 30. 27. Nah. 3. 15. Judg. 6. 5.) Locusts in those countries lie in the aire multitudes together; and wheresoever they fall, they devour every greene thing. This was the eighth plague of Egypt, whereby all herbs and fruits were consumed, Exod. 10. 14, 15. Figures of Antichrists Ministers, Rev. 9. 3, 4, &c.

Verse 47. blasting hailstone] a word no where found but in this place. The seventh plague of Egypt was grievous haile mixed with fire, that killed men, beasts, herbs and trees, Exod. 9. 24, 25. So in Revelation 16. 21. haile of talnt weight falleth on blasphemers.

Verse 48. be skat up] that is, gate: See Psa. 31. 6. so verse 50. lightnings] or, the flying fire-coles, thunderbolts: see this word, Psa. 76. 4. The Greeke turneth it, fire.

Verse 49. messengers] or Angels of evils, or as the Greeke saith, evill Angels: such indeed God useth to punish men by, Job 1. 12, 16, &c. The Chaldee also translateth, sent by the hand of them that doe evill. But hereby may be meant Moses and Aaron, whom the Lord sent to denounce these plagues before they came, and by their hand brought them on Egypt, Exod. 7. 1, 2, 19. and 8. 1, 2, 5, 16, 21. and 9. 14, 15, &c.

Verse 50. He weighed] to wit, making his punishments proportionable to their sins and obstinacie: for as men increase sin, so doth God judgement, Levit. 26. 21, 23, 24, 27, 28. wilde beast] that is, beasts, which have their name of livelinesse (as is noted, Psa. 68. 11.) therefore some turne it here, life, but the Greeke plainly saith cattell. The fifth plague of Egypt, was the pest or murraine of all beasts and cattell, Exod. 9. 3.

V. 51. the first-borne] the tenth and last plague was the death of al the firstlings of Egypt, in the night that Israel kept the Passeeover, and departed the land, Exod 12. 27, 29, 30. The first-borne usually ministred to God: but God smote all such idolatrous ministers in Egypt, & upon their gods also hee did execution, Numb. 33. 4. but spared the

- the first-born of Israel, by the blood of the Lamb; and after chose the tribe of Levi to minister in their stead, Num. 3. 40, 41, 45. and 8. 16, 19. beginning of strengths] or chiefest of painfull mightis: so the eldest childe is named, Gen. 49. 3. Deut. 21. 17. Therefore were they to be given to the Lord. tents of Cham] the dwellings of the Egyptians, which were the posteritie of Cham, the sonne of Nob, Gen. 10. 6. See the Note on Psalme 68. 32.
- 52 Verse 52. his people passe forth] the Israelites tooke their journies from Rameses, Exodus 12. 37. See Psal. 77. 21.
- 54 Verse 54. border of his holinesse] his holy border; meaning the land of Canaan, sanctified to be the possession of his people, and limited in all the borders of it, as Num. 34. 2, 3, 12. or, border of his Sanctuarie. this mountaine] that is, mountainie countrie Canaan, called a land of mountaines and valleyes, Deut. 11. 11. So Exod. 15. 17. Or in speciall he may meane mount Zion: whereof after in verse 68.
- 55 Verse 55. the Heathens] the seven mightie Nations of Canaan, where Ioshua and Israel killed one and thirtie Kings, Deuteron. 7. 1. Josh. 12. 7, 24. made them fall in the line] that is, made their countrie fall out by line and measure, to be the inheritance of Israel, Jos. 15. and 16 and 17 chapters. Tribes] the posteritie of the 12 sons of Israel, called Tribes, after the Roman name, where at first the whole multitude was divided into three parts, called thereof Tribes: but the Hebrew name signifieth Staves or Rods, as growing out of one stocke or tree, and these were twelve, Num. 13. 3, 5, 16.
- 56 Verse 56. And they tempted] The Israelites notwithstanding all former mercies, tempted God and finned in Canaan their possession, as is manifested in the Booke of Judges.
- 57 Verse 57. like their fathers] whose carkasses fell in the wilderness. For of six hundred thousand men that came out of Egypt, not any one came into Canaan, save Caleb and Ioshua, Exod. 38. 26. Num. 14. 29, 30. and 26. 64, 65. a warping Bow] or, Bow of deceit, that shooteth awry, and so deceiveth. So Hos. 7. 16.
- 58 Verse 58. high places] Temples, Chappels, and consecrated places on mountaines, where the nations used to sacrifice, and Israel imitated them, Num. 33. 52. Deut. 12. 2. 1 Kings 11. 7. and 12. 31, 32. and 14. 23. to jealousie] to jealous anger, for which a man will not spare in the day of vengeance, nor can beare the sight of any ransom, Prov. 6. 34, 35. unto this, God is moved by idolatry, which is spirituall fornication, Exod. 20. 4, 5. Deut. 31. 16, 17. and 32. 21.
- 59 Verse 59. abhorred] or refused, with loathsomenesse and contempt. So after, verse 67.
- 60 Verse 60. the dwelling place] the Tabernacle set in Shilo, 1 Sam. 1. 3. There God dwelt among men, Exod. 29. 44, 45, 46.
- 61 Verse 61. his strength] the Arke of his covenant, (called the Arke of his strength, Psal. 132. 8.) this was captived by the Philistims, 1 Sam. 4. 11. The Chaldee translateth it, his Law. beauteous glorie] or sainnesse, magnificence; meaning the Arke forementioned, as Phineas wife said, th: glorie is departed from Israel; for the Arke of God is taken, 1 Samuel 4. 20, 22.

Verse 62. shut up] that is, delivered his people to the sword of the Philistims, who killed thirtie thousand Israelites, 1 Sam. 4. 10.

Verse 63. The fire] that is, Gods wrath, by the sword of the Philistims, as verse 21. So in Ezek. 30. 8. a fire in Egypt, signifieth (as the Chaldee there expoundeth it) a people strong like fire. were not praised] by Hymnes, and Songs, as was the wont at their espousals and marriages; that is, they were not married.

Verse 64. Their Priests] Hophni and Phineas, 1 Sam. 4. 11. The Hebrew is singularly, His Priests, and so before and after, his choise young men, &c. meaning Israel, who is spoken of, as of one man. But the Scripture useth these phrases indifferently; as, All Edom was servants, 2 Sam. 8. 14. for in 1 Chron. 18. 13. is written, All Edom were servants. Of this name the Priests, see Psal. 99. 6. wept not] that is, lamented not at their funerall; for Phineas wife her selfe died in travell, 1 Samuel 4. 19, 20.

Verse 65. awaked] stirred up himselfe to punish the Philistims, whereas before he seemed to sleepe, as Psalme 44. 24. after wine] or, by reason of wine, that is, when hee hath drunke wine, which cheareth and encourageth the heart; so did God beleave himselfe.

Verse 66. behinde] that is, in the hinder secret parts; (as the Chaldee addeth, with Emerods in their hinder parts;) for so God smote the Philistims with Piles or Hemoroids for abusing his Arke, 1 Sam. 5. 1, 6, 9, 12. eternall reproach] by this punishment, and the monuments thereof; for the Philistims were forced to make similitudes of the Hemoroids and secret parts, of gold, and send with the Arke home to Israel, as an oblation for their sinne, 1 Sam. 6. 4, 5, 11, 15, 17.

Verse 67. he refused] or abhorred, dispised, as verse 59. the tent of Ioseph] that is, the Tribe of Ephraim, the son of Ioseph, where the Tabernacle and Arke had remained many yeeres in Shiloh: God returned not the Arke thither, but to Bethshemesh and Kirjathyearim, cities of Judah, 1 Sam. 6. 12. & 7. 1, 2. Wherefore Shiloh is used after for an example of judgement, Jer. 7. 12, 14. & 26. 6, 9. Or this may be meant of the ten Tribes of Israel, (of whom Ephraim of Ioseph was chiefe) which were cast off for idolatry, and captived by the Assyrians, 2 Kings 17.

Verse 69. builded the Sanctuarie] the glorious Temple by Solomon son of David, 1 Kings 6. 1, 2, 3, &c. like high places] Kings palaces or towers. The Greek and Chaldee turn it, Unicornes, whose hornes are high, Psal. 92. 11. For Ramim, high places, they reade Ramim, Unicornes.

Verse 70. from the fold of sleepe] that is, from base estate. For David keeping his fathers sheepe, was by Samuel anointed King over Israel, 1 Sam. 16. 11, 13. 2 Sam. 7. 8. So Amos 7. 14, 15.

71 Ver. 71. to feed Iakob] so the Greeke well explaineth the Hebrew phrase, to feed in Iakob; where in is to be omitted in English, as the like phrase sheweth, 1 Sam. 16. 11. & 17. 34. and the Hebrew it selfe often omitteth it, as 2 Sam. 5. 2. and 7. 7. So here in the former verse, he chose in David, that is, he chose David. Kings are said to feed their people, because their office is like to the good shepherds, in guiding and governing. See Psal. 23. 1. And Pastors are Princes, Jer. 6. 3. and 19. 10.

72 Verle 72. discretion of his hands] or Prudencies of his palmes, that is, with most prudent and discreet administration menaged he them; figuring Christ herein, who is called David, and the great and good Pastor of his flocke, Ezek. 34. 23. Joh. 10. 11. Hebr. 13. 20.

PSAL. LXXIX.

The Psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Ierusalem.
8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promisseth thankfulness.

1 A Psalm of Asaph.

2 O God, the heathens are come into thine inheritance; they have defiled the Palace of thine Holinesse, they
3 have laid Ierusalem on heaps. They have given the carcase of thy servants, for meat, to the fowle of the heavens; the flesh of thy gracious Saints to the wilde beast of the 4 earth. They have shed their blood like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was 5 none to bury them. We are a reproach to our neighbours, a scoffe and a scorn to them
6 that are round about us. How long, Jehovah, wilt thou be angry to perpetuities; shall thy 7 jealousy burn as fire? Powre out thy wrathfull heat upon the heathens which know thee not, and upon the kingdoms which call 8 not on thy Name. For hee hath eaten up Jakob, and his habitation they have wonderously desolated. Remember not against 9 us former iniquities, make hast, let thy tender mercies prevent us, for we are brought
10 very low. Helpe us, O God of our salvation, because of the glory of thy Name, and rid us free, and mercifully cover our finnes
11 for thy names sake. Why shall the heathens say, where is their God? knowne be among the heathens before our eyes, the vengeance of the blood of thy servants that is shed.
12 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thy face; according to the greatnes of thine arme, reserve thou the sons of death. And render to our neighbours seven-fold into their bosome, their reproch, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord. And we thy people, and sheepe of thy pasture, will confesse to thee for ever; to generation and generation, we will tell thy praise.

Annotations.

OF Asaph] or to him: see Psal. 50. 1. thine inheritance] or possession; the land of Canaan invaded by the Gentiles, Exod. 15. 17. 2 Sam. 20. 19. Jer. 50. 10, 11. Lam. 1. 10. heapes] that is, ruines, Mic. 1. 6. and 3. 12.

Verse 2. carcasse] for carcases, as after beast, for beasts; and prisoner, verse 11. for prisoners: See Psal. 34. 8.

V. 3. none to bury] which is a thing most dishonorable, Eccl. 6. 3. Compare herewith Rev. 11. 9.

Ver. 5. jealousie] that is, hot wrath burne, as Psal. 89. 47. So Ezek. 36. 5. elsewhere it is said to smoke, Deut. 29. 19. this fire is the flame of Iah, Song 8. 6.

Verse 6. which call not, &c.] a note of profanenesse, Psal. 14. 4. This sentence Ieremie useth, Jerem. 10. 25.

Verse 8. former iniquities] iniquities of former times (or persons;) done by us, or our fathers, as Psal. 25. 7. both are joyned together, Levit. 26. 40. Lam. 5. 7. Former, and iniquities, differ in gender, yet many times such are coupled, the sense being regarded more than strict forme of words, which the Hebrew Text sometime manifesteth, as taba, 2 Sam. 8. 5. for which in 1 Chron. 18. 5. is jabo; lo-ben, 2 Chron. 18. 16. lahem, 1 Kings 22. 17. So againe in this Psalm, verse 10. brought low] or weakened, emptied, impoverished. See this word, Psal. 41. 2. and 116. 6.

Verse 10. knowne be] to wit, the vengeance, let it be open and manifest. The Chaldee translateth, Let him be revealed among the peoples, that we may see the vengeance of thy servants blood that is shed. Here againe the words differ in gender, (as was noted before, vers. 8.) wherefore some turne it, let him (that is, God) be knowne by the vengeance, &c. Compare herewith Deut. 32. 42, 43. Jer. 51. 36, 37.

Verse 11. the sighing] or the groaning mournfull cry: So Psal. 102. 21. reserve] or make to remaine; that is, keepe alive from destruction; which if God had not done, they had been as Gomorrab, Isa. 1. 9. And this God promised to do, Ezek. 6. 7, 8. & 12. 16. sons of death] that is, persons appointed to die, or worthy of death; in Chaldee, delivered to death: as 1 Sam. 20. 31. Deut. 25. 2. So Psal. 102. 21. and, Son of perdition, 2 Thes. 2. 3.

V. 12. seven-fold] that is, fully and abundantly. See Psal. 12. 7. into their bosome] that is, largely, and that it may affect, and cleave unto them, so Isa. 65. 7. Jer. 32. 18. See also Luke 6. 38.

PSALME LXXX.

The Psalmist complaineth of the miseries of the Church.
9 Gods former favours are turned into judgement. 15 He prayeth for deliverance.

1 To the Master of the Musicke on Shoshannim, Eduth, a Psalm of Asaph.

2 O Thou that feedest Israel, give care; thou that ledest Joseph as a flock, thou that sittest on the Cherubims, shine bright. Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stirre up the strength, and come for salvation to us. O God, returne us, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

3 Jehovah God of hosts, how long wilt thou smoke against the prayer of thy people?

4 Thou makest them eat the bread of teares, and makest them drinke of teares a great measure. Thou puttest us a strife to our neighbours, and our enemies mocke among themselves. O God of hosts returne us, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

5 Thou removedst a vine out of Egypt, thou drovest out the heathens and plantedst it.

6 Thou preparedst the way before it, and rootedst in the roots of it, and it filled the land.

7 The mountaines were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughes of it were like the

8 Cedars of God. It sent out the branches thereof unto the Sea, and the sucking sprigs thereof unto the river. Why hast thou

9 burst downe the hedges of it, so that all which passe by the way have plucked it? The

10 Boare out of the wood hath rooted it up, and the store of beasts of the field have fed

11 it up. O God of hosts returne, O now; behold from heavens and see, and visit this

12 Vine. And the stocke which thy right hand planted, and the sonne whom thou madest

13 strong for thy selfe. It is burned with fire, it is cut downe; at the rebuke of thy face they

14 perish. Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of Adam, whom

15 thou madest strong for thy selfe. And wee will not goe backe from thee, quicken thou

16 us, and we will call on thy Name. Jehovah God of hosts returne us; cause thy face to 17 shine, and we shall be saved.

Annotations.

1 Shoshannim] that is, six-stringed Instruments, or Lilies: see Psalm. 45. 1. — Eduth] that is, a Testimonie, or Ornament. An excellent testimoniall of the faith of Gods people in afflictions. The Chaldee applieth it to them that saue in the Synedrion, that studied in the testimonie of the Law. See also Psalm. 60. 1.

2 Verse 2. feedest Israel] O God, Pastor of the Israelites. See Psalm. 23. 1. Joseph] the posteritie of Joseph, and with them the other tribes. Joseph is named as principall, the first birth-right being taken from Reuben, and given to him, 1 Chron. 5. 1, 2. So Psalm. 77. 16, 21. on the Cherubims] which were upon the Arke of the Covenant, in the Sanctuarie from whence God gave Oracles to his people, when they sought unto him, Exo. 25. 22. Num. 7. 89. 1 Sam. 4. 4. 2 Sam. 6. 2. 2 Kings 19. 15. Of these Cherubs, see the Note on Psalm. 18. 11. shine bright] that is, shew thy glorie, and thy favour to us, as Psalm. 50. 2. and Job 10. 3. where shining is favour. This is taken from Deut. 33. 2. So after in Psalm. 94. 1.

Verse 3. Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh] that is, the Tribes, or posteritie of these three Patriarchs, which were all joyned together in one quarter, on the West side of Gods Tabernacle; and when it removed, they went next after it, Num. 2. 17, 18, 20, 22. & 10. 31, 22, 23, 24. After the captivitie of Babylon also, the remnants of these Tribes dwelled in Ierusalem, for which they were thanked by the people, 1 Chron. 9. 3. Neh. 11. 2. a salvation] or full salvation and deliverance. By adding a letter, the signification is increased, as in Psalm 3. 3.

Verse 4. returne us] or restore us, to wit, from sorrow to joy, from captivitie to libertie, &c. Psalm. 126. 1. and 23. 3. So the Chaldee saith, returne us from our captivitie. face to shine] or, to be light, that is, chearfull, comfortable. See Psalm. 4. 7. and 31. 17. and 67. 2. Dan. 9. 17. and we shall] or, that we may be saved: as Psalm. 43. 4. so verse 8. and 20.

Verse 5. smoke] be very angry against the prayer, that is, not heare, but shut it out, as Habak. 1. 2. Lamentations 3. 8. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, wilt thou not receive the prayer. See smoke for anger, Psalm. 74. 1.

Verse 6. bread of teares] bread steeped in teares, as the Chaldee saith, or teares in stead of bread, as Psalm. 42. 4. meaning great afflictions. a great measure] The Hebrew Shalhish is the name of a measure, so called of three, as containing a third part of the greatest measure, foure times as big as the usuall cup to drinke in.

Verse 7. a strife] contention, or contradiction, that our neighbours contend and speake against us, or strive who shall vanquish and possesse us. among themselves] for their pleasure; or, mocke at them, (as Psalm. 2. 4.) that is, at thy people, as verse 6. that is, at us, as the Greeke translateth it. This may be the meaning, though we went before; for the Hebrew sometime changeth person, though it meane the same; as Deut. 5. 10. that love me, and keepe his (that is, my) commandments. See also Psalm. 59. 10. and 65. 7. and 115. 9.

Verse 8. and we shall] or, that we may be saved. This verse is the same with the fourth, save that there was onely God; here is added, God of hosts; and in verse 20. (where it is the third time repeated) is added, Jehovah, God of hosts; thus increasing faith and earnestnesse in their prayers.

Verse 9. removedst a Vine] that is, a Church, the Common-wealth of Israel; as it is writen, the Vineyard yard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant plant, Isa. 5. 7. Jerem. 2. 21. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, the house of Israel, which is likened to a Vine. And removing or translating, is the word so often used in Numb. 33. where all the journies of Israel are rehearsed. the beathens] the seven Nations of Canaan. See Psal. 78. 55.

10 Verse 10. preparedst] or madest away: so this word is translated in Greeke, Mat 3. 3. from Isa. 40. 3. and Mat 11. 10. from Mal. 3. 1. where the word way is expressed; and here also the Greeke saith, thou madest way; properly it signifieth to take away all impediments, that the plaine way may appeare. The Chaldee explaineth it, thou removedst the Canaanites from before it. rootedst in] that is, madest to take deepe root.

11 Verse 11. Cedars of God] that is, the great and goodly Cedars, as Psal. 36. 7. or, Cedars planted of God, as Psalm. 104. 16. These the Chaldee expoundeth to be Teachers (of the Law) likened to strong Cedars.

12 Verse 12. the river] Euphrates: see the Notes on Psal. 72. 8.

13 Verse 13. the hedges] the fences; whereupon the spoile of it followeth, as Isaiah 5. 5. So after, Psal. 89. 41, 42.

14 Verse 14. Beare] beastly tyrants, like swine; as the Assyrians, Babylonians, &c. which wasted the land of Canaan, 2 Kings 17. 6. and 25. 1, 2, &c. store of beasts] as Psal. 50. 11. So the Law threatened, I will send wilde beasts upon you, which shall spoile you, &c. Leviticus 26. 22. But here beasts, are wicked people.

16 Verse 16. the stocke] or vine-yard: the base or place which beareth up the vine-branches. and the son] or branch: understand againe, visit him, or looke upon him. By the sonne may be meant Christ, as the Chaldee Paraphrast plainly saith, the King Messias, (called in verse 18. the son of man, and so here also in the Greeke version:) who is the true Vine, his Father the husbandman, his disciples the branches, Joh. 15. 1, 5. who taketh part with the afflictions of his people, was himselfe called out of Egypt, Mat. 2. 15. and when his servants are vexed, it is done unto him, Act. 9. 4. Otherwise by the sonne may be understood a yong Vine, or branch, as elsewhere boughes are called daughters, Gen. 49. 22. And so by the sonne be meant Israel, as Exod. 4. 22. the Lords plant, Isa. 5. 7.

18 Verse 18. man of thy right hand] whom thou lovest, honourest, and powerfully helpest. So Iakob called the sonne whom he loved, Benjamin, that is, the Son of the right hand, Gen. 35. 18. Hereby also is meant Christ, called the son of Gods love, Col. 1. 13, and the Church his body, translated into his kingdome. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the man to whom thou hast sworn by thy right hand.

PSAL. LXXXI.

An Exhortation to a solenne praising of God. 5 God challengeth that duty by reason of his benefits. 9 Exhorting to obedience, complaineth of their disobedience, which turneth to their hurt.

To the Master of the Musicke upon Gittith, 1
A Psalm of Asaph.

Shout joyfully unto God our strength, 2
Shout triumphantly unto the God of Ja- 3
kob. Take up a Psalm and give the 4 timbrell, the pleasant harpe with the psal- 5
terie. Blow up the Trumpet in the new 6
Moone, in the appointed time, at the day of 7
our feast. For it is a statute to Israel, a 8 judgement due to the God of Jakob. He 9 put it into Joseph for a testimonie, when he 10
went forth from the land of Egypt, where I 11 heard a language that I knew not. I remo- 12 ved his shoulder from the burden; his hands 13 passed from the basket. Thou calledst in 14
distresse, and I released thee: I answered 15
thee in the secret place of thunder, I proved 16 thee at the waters of Meribah Selah. Heare, 17
O my people, and I will testifie unto thee, O 18
Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me. If there 19 shall not be in thee a forraine God, neither 20
thou bow down thy selfe to a strange God. 21
I am Jehovah thy God, which brought thee 22 up out of the land of Egypt, open wide thy 23 mouth, and I will fill it. But my people 24
hearkened not to my voyce, and Israel was 25 not well affected to me. And I sent him 26 away in the perverse intendment of their 27
owne heart, let them walke in their owne 28 counsels. O that my people had been obe- 29
dient to me, that Israel had walked in my 30
waies. Even soone would I have humbled 31
their enemies, and turned my hand upon 32 their distressers. The haters of Jehovah 33 should have falsly denied to him, and their 34 time should have beene for ever. And hee 35 would have fed him with the fat of wheat, 36 and out of the rocke, with honey would I 37
have sufficed thee.

Verse 4. Blow the trumpet] or the Cornet, (where- 6 of see Pl. 98. 6.) this was done both to proclaim 7
the solemnitie unto men, and to be a memoriall 8
for them before God, Lev. 23. 4. Num. 10. 10. for 9 feast, with special worship was appointed of God, Num. 28. 11, 14. and at these times (as on the Sabbaths) they used to assemble to worship, and hear Gods word, 2 Kings 4. 23. Ezek. 46. 3. Eſa. 66. 23. theſe feaſts were a ſhadow of things to come, but the body is in Chriſt, Col. 2. 16, 17.

the appointed time] or, the ſolemnitie, ſolemne feaſt, which was thrice in the yeere, 1 at the Paſſeover, 2 at Pentecoſt, and 3 at the feaſt of Tabernacles, Deut. 16. 26. of which laſt, ſome underſtand this feſtivitye, Ceſeb, as having the name of covering in boothes; others of the covering, that is, the change of the Moone, when it is hid by the Sunne. feſt] or dance, ſee Pſal. 42. 5. This may be meant of all feaſts; or in ſpeciall of the feaſt of blowing Trumpets, in the firſt day of the ſeventh Moneth, Levit. 23. 24. or of the Paſſeover, as after, verſe 6.

5 Verſe 5. a judgement] that is, a rite, or ordinance, made by God, and a duty to be performed to him. So judgement is for dutie, Deut. 18. 3.

6 Verſe 6. in Iſeeph] among the poſteritie of Iſeeph, and the other Tribes of Iſrael. Iſeeph is named as principall, having the birth-right, 1 Chro. 5. 1, 2. So Pſal. 80. 2. from the land] ſo the Greeke turneth it, the Hebrew Gbnal, being here for Meghnal, the ſame that min, from, as 2 Chron. 33. 8. with 2 Kings 21. 8. Zach. 4. 3. At their going out of Egypt, the feaſt of the Paſſeover was appointed, Exod. 12. after in the wilderneſſe, the other feaſts, Levit. 23. or we may reade it, againſt the land, viz. to deſtroy it, and the firſt-borne, Exod. 11. 4, 5. The Chaldee applieth this to Iſeeph when he went out of priſon, and ruled over the land of Egypt. I heard a language] Hebrew; a lip, uſed for the ſpeech or language, as Gen. 11. 1.

7 Verſe 7. from the burden] that is, burdens, where-with they were vexed in Egypt, making bricks, building cities, Exod. 1. 11. and 5. 4, 5, 7, 8. basket] or pot; ſuch veſſels as wherein they carried ſtraw, Mortar, Bricke, &c.

8 Verſe 8. Thou calledſt] Iſrael having left Egypt, Pharaoh with his hoſt purſued them, and they were ſore afraid and cried to the Lord, Exo. 14. 10, 15. ſecret place of thunder] out of the blacke cloud, wherewith God guided and proteſted Iſrael; but with thunder, raine, &c. diſmayed the Egyptians, Exod. 14. 19, 20, 24, 25. See alſo Pſal. 77. 18, 19. of Meribah] that is, of Strife, ſo named becauſe Iſrael there ſtrove with Moſes, and almoſt aſtonied him, Ex. 17. 1, 2, 3, 4, 7. There God proved the, to know what was in their heart, whether they would keep his commandements or no, Deu. 8. 2. Ex. 15. 25. & there they proved God, Pſ. 95. 9.

9 Verſe 9. teſtiſe] or proteſt, take to witneſſe, namely the heavens and earth, &c. as Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 1, 46. and 30. 19. and deeply charge thee. Compare herewith Exod. 19. 3, 4, 5, &c. and 20. 22, 23. Jer. 11. 7, 8, 9.

11 V. 11. open wide] that is, ſpeake and aſke freely. This ſentence our Saviour openeth thus, If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, aſke what ye will, and it ſhall be done to you, Joh. 15. 7. and the Apoſtle thus, Whatſoever we aſke of God, we receive of him, becauſe we keepe his Commandements, &c.

1 Joh. 3. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Open thy mouth to the words of the Law, and I will fill it with all good.

Verſe 12. not well affected] had no will; or good inclination; which they ſhewed preſently after the giving of the Law, by making themſelves gods of gold, and by their continuall rebellions afterward, Exod. 32. 1, 31.

Verſe 13. perverſe intentions] or ſtubborne opinion, writhing and obſtinate intention, which they looked after in their erroneous heart. This word is taken from Deu. 29. 19. and after often objected to them by Ieremie, Jer. 3. 17. and 7. 24. and 9. 24. and 11. 8. And this is noted for a judgement of God, when he ſufforeth people to walke in their owne waies, Acts 14. 16.

Verſe 15. bumbled] and ſo have given them reſt from their enemies, as in 1 Chr. 17. 10. compared with 2 Sam. 7. 11.

Verſe 16. faſtly denied] or, fainedly ſubmitted: ſee Pſal. 18. 45. and 66. 3. their time] if this be referred to the enemies, it is meant their time of diſtreſſe, as Pſ. 10. 1. and 31. 16. ſo time is uſed, Jer. 27. 7. Iſa. 13. 22. if to Gods people, it meaneth their continued ſecled ſtate, which the Chaldee tranſlateth, their ſtrength.

Verſe 17. ſed him] that is, his people, verſe 14. fat of wheats] the principall, or flower of corne: ſo Deut. 32. 14. Pſa. 147. 14. out of the rocke] out of which God had made his people ſucke honey and oile, Deut. 32. 13. Spiritually, the Rocke is Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 4. the honey is the gracious words that flow from him; ſweetmeats to the ſoule, and beaſtib to the bones, Prov. 16. 24 Pſal. 19. 11. Song 4. 11.

PSAL. LXXXII.

An Exhortation to the Judges, and reproofe of their negligence.

A Pſalme of Aſaph.

God ſtandeth in the aſſembly of God, he judgeth in the miſt of the Gods.

How long will ye judge injurious evil, and accept the faces of the wicked Selah? Judge ye the poore weakling and the fatherleſs: juſtifie the afflicted and the poore. Deliver the poore weakling and the needy, rid free out of the hand of the wicked. They know not, neither will they underſtand; they will walke on in darkneſſe: moved ſhall be all the foundations of the earth. I have ſaid ye are Gods, and ye all are ſonnes of the moſt high. But ſurely ye ſhall die as men, and as one of the Princes ſhall ye fall. Riſe up, O God, judge thou the earth, for thou ſhalt inherit in all nations.

Annotations.

The aſſembly of God] that is, the aſſiſe (or ſeſſion) of Magiſtrates; whoſe office is the ordinance of God.

God, Rom. 13. 1, 2. Deut. 16. 18. and who are to execute not the judgements of man, but of the Lord, who is with them in the cause and judgement, 2 Chron. 19. 6. Deut. 1. 17. in the midst of the Gods] that is, among the Judges (as the Chaldee tranſlateth) or Magiſtrates, (v. 6.) who in the Law are called Gods, Exod. 22. 8, 9, 28. because the word of God was given to them, Joh. 10. 34, 35.

2 Verse 2. How long, &c.] Thus God by his Prophet judgeth and reproveth the Gods or Judges for unrighteous judgement. The Chaldee addeth, How long, ye wicked, will ye judge, &c. accept the faces] reſpect the perſons, lift up, admire, honour or favour the faces; a thing forbidden both concerning rich and poore, Deut. 1. 17. and 16. 19. Lev. 19. 15. Prov. 18. 5. Lam. 2. 1, 9.

3 Verse 3. Judge ye] that is, deſend, deliver; ſee Pſa. 43. 1. Eſa. 4. 17. juſtice] that is, doe juſtice, as 2 Sam. 15. 1. and acquit or abſolve him, his cauſe being right, Deut. 25. 1. Jer. 22. 3.

5 Verse 5. They know not] The Judges are ignorant of their dutie, Micah 3. 1. Jer. 10. 21. Proverbs 29. 7. The Chaldee paraphraſeth, They are not wiſe to doe good, and they underſtand not the Law. they will walke on] that is, continue wilfully ignorant, and ſinfull in perverting juſtice, Mic. 3. 9. To walke in darkneſſe, is to live in ſin, 1 Joh. 1. 6. Eph. 4. 17, 18. & 5. 8. moved ſhall be] to wit, therefore moved, as the Chaldee explaineth it; or though moved be all the foundations; though all lawes and orders be violated, all eſtates diſturbed, and ſtrongeſt helpes come to ruine, Eſa. 24. 18, 19.

6 Verse 6. ſonnes of the moſt high] the Chaldee paraphraſeth, as the Angels of the high. And Magiſtrates ſhould be as Angels for wiſedome, 2 Samuel 14. 20.

7 Verse 7. as earthly men] as Adam, that is, as any other mortall man: ſo after, as one of the Princes, that is, of the other Princes of the world: ſee the like in Judg. 16. 7, 11, 17. Gen. 49. 16. for this Pſalme was ſpoken to the Magiſtrates of Iſrael: for whatſoever the Law ſaith, it ſaith it to them that are under the Law, Rom. 3. 19.

8 Verse 8. inherit] that is, have ſoveraignty and dominion. So this word meaneth, Levit. 25. 45, 46. Jer. 49. 2. And Chriſt is called heire (that is, Lord) of all, Heb. 1. 2. See Pſal. 2. 8.

A complaint to God of the enemies conſpiracie. 10 A prayer againſt them that oppreſſe the Church.

1 A Song, a Pſalme of Aſaph.

2 O God, keepe not thou ſilence, ceaſe not as deafe, and be not ſtill, O God.

3 For loe, thine enemies make a tumultuous noiſe, and thy haters lift up the

4 head. Againſt thy people have they craftily taken ſecret counſell, and conſulted againſt thine hidden ones. They have ſaid, Come and let us cut them off from being a nation, that the name of Iſrael may be remembered no more. For they have conſulted in heart together, againſt thee they have ſtricken a covenant. The tents of Edom, and the Iſmaelites; Moab and the Hagarens. Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek: the Philiftines, with them that dwell in Tyruſ. Alſo Aſhur is joyned with them: they have beene an arme to the ſons of Lot Selah. Doe thou to them as to Midian, as to Siſera, as to Jabin, at the brooke of Kiſhon. Which were aboliſhed in Endor, they became dung for the earth. Put them even their Nobles, as Oreb and as Zeeb, and as Zebach, and as Salmunah, all their authorized Princes. Who ſaid, Let us poſſeſſe to our ſelves the habitations of God. My God, ſet them as a rolling thing, as ſtubble before the wind. As the fire burneth a wood, & as the flame ſeareth the mountaines; So purſue them with thy tempeſt, and ſuddenly trouble them with thy ſtorme. Fill their faces with ſhame; that they may ſeek thy name Jehovah. Let them be abaſhed and ſuddenly troubled unto perpetuities; and let them be aſhamed and periſh. That they may know that thou whoſe name is J E H O V A H, onely thou art the moſt high over all the earth.

Annotations.

Keepe not ſilence, &c.] Hebrew, let not ſilence (or ſtilneſſe) be to thee, that is, ſit not ſtill, but ſtir up thy ſelf to help and avenge us on our enemies. So ſilence is uſed for ſitting ſtill, Judg. 18. 9.

Verse 3. lift up the head] inſolently and boldly, vaunting themſelves, and warring againſt us. So Judg. 8. 28. On the contrary, Gods people ſhall lift up their heads, that is, be of good comfort and courage, when their redemption draweth neere, Luke 21. 28.

Verse 4. thine hidden ones] that is, as the Greeke explaineth it, thy Saints, which are bidden of God in his Tabernacle in the day of evil, from the ſtrife of tongues, Pſal. 27. 5. and 31. 21. whoſe life is bid with Chriſt in God, Col. 3. 3.

Verse 5. from being] or, that they be no more a nation; Moab and others conſult thus againſt Iſrael; after, the like is againſt Moab, and effected, Jeremie 48. 2.

Verse 6. in bearts together] this noteth their earneſtneſſe, craftineſſe, and joint conſent in evil.

Verse 7. The tents] that is, armies with their Kings and Captaines, Judg. 7. 13, 15. 2 King. 7. 7. 10. Jer. 6. 3. Hab. 3. 7. Edom] the Edomites, or Idumeans, which were the ſons of Eſau, named Edom: the brother of Iſrael; ſee the Notes on Pſal. 60. 10. the Iſmaelites] children of Iſmael, the

the sonne of Abraham, who was (with the bond-woman Hagar his mother) cast out of his fathers house for persecuting his brother Isaac, in whose evill waies his children here walke, Gen. 16. 1, 15. & 21. 9, 10, 14. Galath. 4. 22, 29, 30. Moab] the Moabites, the posteritie of Lot; see Psal. 66. 10.

the Hagarens] the Chaldee Paraphrast calleth them Hungarians. They were the posteritie of Ismael, Maphisib, and other like children of Ismael son of Hagar, of whom came twelve Princes of their nations, Gen. 25. 12, 15, 16. some of which were called by their fathers name, Ismaelites, (as before) some by their grandmothers name Hagarens, and dwelt in Arabia, Eastward from Gilead, neere to the Israelites, 1 Chron. 5. 10, 19. The word Hagarens, signifieth fugitives, or strangers, (as the Greeke turneth them, paroikous, 1 Chron. 5. 10.) they were after called Saracens, which in the Arabick tongue is theeves.

8 Verse 8. Gebal] that is, the Gebalites, or Gibleans, that dwelt in the Province or Citie Gebal, (or Gabala) in Phœnicia neere Sidon, whence Solomon had Masons, or stone-hewers, 1 Kings 5. 18. Ezek. 27. 9. Ammon] the Ammonites, that came of Lot, as did the Moabites, Gen. 19. 37, 38. These nations which were neere allied unto Israel, and whom God would not suffer the Israelites to molest, when they came out of Egypt, Deut. 2. 4, 5, 9, 19. combine here together against Israel to cast them out of Gods inheritance, so evill did they reward them, as King Iehoshaphat complained, 2 Chron. 20. 10, 11, 12. Amalek] the Amalekites, which were of Eliphaz, the son of Esaü, the brother of Israel, Gen. 36. 12, 16. they dwelt in the South country neer Canaan, Num. 13. 30. were the first that fought against Israel, Exo. 17. 8, &c. for which God would have their remembrance put out from under heaven, Deut. 25. 17, 18, 19. and King Saul was sent to performe it, but did it not fully, 1 Sam. 15. 2, 3, 9. & 28. 18. & was himself slain by an Amalekite, 2 Sam. 1. 8, 9, 10. the Philistines] or Palestina: see the Note on Pl. 60. 10. Tyrus] the Tyrians, which remembred not the brotherly covenant that had been between them and Israel, Amos 1. 9. See the note on Psal. 45. 13.

9 Verse 9. Assur] the Assyrians, the posteritie of Shem the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 22. This nation was the rod of Gods wrath against Israel, who in the end captived ten Tribes, Esa. 10. 5, 6. 2 Kings 15. 29. and 18. 9, 11, 13, &c. The Chaldee paraphrasteth, Senacherib also the King of Assur, &c. an arme] that is, an helpe (as the Greeke saith) and a strength to Lots sons, the Moabites and Ammonites. Thus were here ten peoples, confederates against God and his people. So in Gen. 15. 19, 20, 21. there are ten wicked nations, whose land is given, upon conquest, to Abrahams seed.

10 Verse 10. as to Midian] the Midianites, the posteritie of Abraham, by his Concubine Keturah, 1 Chron. 1. 32. who being turned Idolaters, drew Israel to sin in the wilderness, for which Moses revenged the Israelites of them, by the slaughter of all their males, & their five Kings, and a wonderfull great spoil, Num. 31. 1, 7, 8, 16, 32, &c. but after that recovering and oppressing Israel in their owne land, were by Gedon and 300 men, vanquished, when they lay in the valley like grasshoppers in multitude, Judg. 6. 1. & 7. 7, 12, 22, &c. and to this victory hath the Psalmist here reference.

as to Sifera] the Captain in the host of Iabin, King of the Canaanites; he had nine hundred chariots of Iron, and vexed Israel sore, but by Deborah a Prophetesse, and Barak a Captaine of Naphtali, the Lord destroyed Sifera, with all his host and chariots; there was not a man left, and Sifera flying, was killed by Iael, Hebers wife, who drove a naile into the Temples of his head, Judg. 4. 2, 3, 21.

Iabin] the King of Canaan, who upon the death of his Captaine Sifera forementioned, was subdued and destroyed before the Israelites, Judg. 4. 23, 24. at the brook] or in the bourn, that is, the valley of Kishon: the Hebrew Nachal (as our English bourn) signifieth both a valley and a river running in it, Kishon was a river at the foot of mount Carmel; by it Sifera and the Kings of Canaan fought, & were vanquished; and the bourn Kishon swept them away, Judg. 4. 13. & 5. 19, 21. Endor] a citie by Kishon, neere unto Taanach and Megiddo, where the Canaanites perished, Jos. 17. 11. Judg. 5. 19.

dung for the earth] that is, lay rotting above ground unburied, as is explained, Jer. 8. 2. & 36. 4.

Verse 12. Put them] or him, that is, every one of their nobles, and all jointly. See the Notes on Pl. 2. 3. Oreb and Zeeb] two Princes of the Madianites whom Gedon slew, Judg. 7. 25. Zeeb and Salmunack] two Kings of the Madianites, whom Gedon also pursued and killed, Judg. 8. 12, 21. authorised] or anointed, that is, Princes, as the Greeke expresth, and the Chaldee translateth them Kings. See the Notes on Pl. 2. 6.

Verse 14. as a rolling thing] or wheele; but here is meant a light thing, as chaffe or straw, that rolleth or turneth round before the whirlwind, as the next words shew, and a like speech in Isa. 17. 13. plainly manifest. Elsewhere the word signifieth also a wheele, Isa. 28. 28, and the sphere or round orbe of the aire, Psal. 77. 19.

Verse 15. seare] or burne up. See the like similitudes, Deut. 32. 22.

Verse 17. with shame] or dishonour, contempt: the Hebrew word properly signifieth lightnesse; as the contrary honour is so called of weightinesse, Pl. 3. 4. that they may seeke] or, and let them seeke: it may be meant of the enemies forementioned, forced to seeke and call on God, as Pl. 18. 42. or indefinitely, that men may seek. So after in v. 19.

Verse 19. Iehovah] this is the chiefest name of the eternall and most blessed God, so called of his essence, being, or existence, which is simply one, Deuteronomie 6. 4. The force of this name the Holy Ghost openeth by He that is, that was, and that will be, or is to come, Revelation 1. 4, 8. & 4. 8, & 11. 17. and 16. 5. and the forme of the Hebrew name implieth so much, Ie, being a signe of the time to come, Iehovah, he will be; ho, of the time present, Hoveh, he is; and Vah, of the time past, Hovah, he was. It importeth that God Is, and hath his being of himself from before all all worlds, Isa. 44. 6. that he giveth being or existence unto all things, and in him all are and consist, Act. 17. 25. that he giveth being unto his word, effecting whatsoever he hath spoken, whether promises, Exod. 6. 3. Isa. 45. 2, 3. or threatnings, Ezek. 5. 17. & 7. 27. It is in effect the same that Eb-jeh, I will be, or I am, as God calleth himselfe, Exo. 3. 14. Of this the Gentiles named the greatest God, Iove and In-piter, that is, Iah father, (of the shorter name Iah, mentioned Psa. 68. 5.) and V arro the learnedst of the Romans, thought Iove to be the god of the Jews; August. l. 1. de consens. evan. c. 22. Hereof also in Greeke writers he is called Iao, Di-odor. Sicul. l. 2. c. 5. Clem. Alex. Strom. l. 5. Microb. l. 1. Saturnal. cap. 18. But in the Greeke tongue the name Iehovah cannot rightly be pronounced; and for it the Greeke Bibles have Lord, which the new Testament followeth, as Mar. 12. 29. from Deut. 6. 4. and elsewhere usually; as the Hebrew Text sometime putteth Adonai, Lord, or Elohim, God, for Iehovah; as Psa. 57. 10. compared with Psa. 108. 4. 2 Chro. 25. 14. with 2 Kings 14. 14. When Adonai, Lord, is joyned with it, it is written, Iehovib, as Psa. 68. 21. then the Jewes read it Elohim, God, as at other times they read it Adonai, Lord; and pronounce not Iehovah at all at this day; though in ancient daies it appeareth to be otherwise. The Greeke historie of Baruch, seemeth to use in stead of it Aionius, that is, the Eternall, or Everlasting, Bar. 4. 10, 14, 20, 32, 34, 35. and 5. 2. See the Annotations on Gen. 2. 4. onely thou or onely thine, that is, which onely hath Iehovah for thy name; for the true God hath onely being, and Idols are nothing in the world, 1 Cor. 8. 4. and Angels, and Magistrates are called Elohim, Gods, Psa. 8. and 82. but Iehovah is peculiar to very God alone. And this is that name (I suppose) which the Authour of the Booke of Wisdome calleth Incommunicable, Wisd. 14. 21. Yet this is the name of Christ, called Iehovah our justice, Jer. 23. 6. for Gods name is in him, Exod. 23. 21. and he is very God, and eternall life, 1 Joh. 5. 20.

The Prophet longing for the communion of the Sanctuary, sheweth how blessed they are that dwell therein. 9 He prayeth to be restored unto it.

1 To the master of the musicke upon Gittith, a Psalme to the sonnes of Korach.

2 HOW amiable are thy dwelling places, O Iehovah of hosts! My soule
3 longeth, and also fainteth for the courts of Iehovah; my heart and my flesh
4 doe shout unto the living God. Yea the sparrow findeth a house, and the swallow a nest for her, where she laieth her yong: thine
5 Altars Iehovah of hosts, my King and my God. O blessed are they that abide in thine house, still they shall praise thee Selah. O blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, they in whose heart are the high-waies. They that passing thorow the vale of Baca, put him for a well-spring, also with blessings the raine covereth. They shall goe from power to power, he shall appeare unto God in Sion. Iehovah God of hosts, heare thou my prayer: give care, O God of Jakob, Selah. See thou, O God, our shield, and looke upon the face of the Anointed. For, better is a day in thy Courts than a thousand: I have chosen to sit at the threshold in the house of my God, rather than to remaine in the tents of wickednesse. For Iehovah God is a Sunne and a shield, Iehovah will give grace and glory, he will not withhold good from them that walke in perfection. Iehovah of hosts, O blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

Gittith] see Psa. 8. 1.

Verse 2. dwelling places] or habitacler, see the Notes on Psa. 43. 3.

Verse 3. for the courts] that I may come into them: for the Priests onely went into the Temple, the people stood in the Courtyards which were two, 2 Kings 21. 5. See Psa. 65. 5. show] to wit, for desire to come unto God.

Verse 4. the Sparrow] or Bird: in Chaldee, the Dove; the Hebrew Tippor is generally any Bird, Psa. 11. 1. Gen. 7. 14. specially the Sparrow, when other birds are named, as here, and Psa. 102. 8. for such haunt mens houses. Swallow] or free bird, called in Hebrew dor, of libertie which this bird seemeth to hath above others, flying boldly and nestling about houses: so Prov. 26. 2. The Greeke takes it here for the Turtle Dove, (which hath in Hebrew another name, Psa. 74. 19.) so also doth the Chaldee, adding this reason, because her yong are lawfull to be offered on thine Altar. thine Altars] to wit, are the places where the birds nestle neere unto them, in houses or trees, which sometime were by Gods tabernacle, Jos. 24. 26. or understand as before, (I long for) thine Altars.

Verse 6. the High-waies] or Causiyes; namely, which lead to thy house: that is, they which affect heartily, long after, and delight to goe up to thy house. Spiritually these wais or paths are made by preaching of the Gospel, Efa 40. 3. and 35. 8. and 11. 16.

Verse 7. They that passing] or, of them that passe of Baca] that is, of Mulberrie trees, which use to grow in dry places. The Greeke saith, vales of teares. Both meane, that through wants and afflictions we must come into the kingdome of God. This valley was neere unto Ierusalem, as may be gathered by 2 Sam. 5. 22, 23. Jos. 15. 8. pus him] or or set him, that is, God, making him by faith a well of life unto them; for he is the fountaine of living waters, Ier. 2. 13. Or, set it, that is, the valley, making it a fountaine by digging wells therein. And this may be an allusion to that well, digged by the Princes and Captaines of Israel, Num. 21. 16. 18.

all with blessings, &c.] that is, bountifully, and abundantly the raine shall cover them. Raine figureth out the doctrine of the Gospell, Deut. 32. 2. Esay 45. 8. Joel. 2. 23. Revel. 11. 6. the raine of blessings is a bountifull abundant raine, Ezek. 34. 26. (as to sow with blessings, 2 Cor. 9. 6. is to sow abundantly, or liberally; and blessing is liberality, 2 Cor. 9. 5. Prov. 11. 25.) So God would cause a bountifull raine of grace and comfort, to cover them that goe up to his house in Ierusalem; as elsewhere hee is said to refresh his inheritance with the raine of liberalities strowed upon it, Psal. 68. 10. whereas on the contrary, who so will not goe up to Ierusalem, to worship the King the Lord of hosts, upon them shall come no raine, Zach. 14. 17. The Greeke turneth this sentence thus, the Law-giver (or Teacher) shall give blessings; the original Morab being ambiguous, sometime signifying a Teacher, Iob 36. 22. sometime raine, Joel. 2. 23. Esay 30. 20. so that from the Hebrew it may also be interpreted, with blessings the teacher shall cover them; the meaning much like the former; the Teacher being God or Christ, in whom we are blessed with all spirituall blessings in heavenly things, Eph. 1. 3. The Chaldee expounds it, with blessings he will cover them that continue in the doctrine of his Law. Some understand brooth, blessings, to be here as brooth, pooles so digged & filled with raine. Both mean one thing.

Verse 8. from power to power] that is, increasing their power (or strength) daily more and more; as the Apostle saith, wee are changed into Gods image, from glory to glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. and Gods justice is revealed from faith to faith, Rom. 1. 17. our faith and glory increasing more and more, Prov. 4. 18. Or from army to army, (from troupe to troupe) respecting the troupes of Israel, which went all the males thrice every yeare to appeare before the Lord, Exod. 23. 14. 17. The Hebrew Chajil, power, is used sometime for an army of men, Psal. 33. 16. and sometime for riches, Psalme 39. 7. which also may be implied here. he shall appeare] or, till he, that is, every one of them appeares; according to the law, Exod. 34. 23. Zach. 14. 16.

Verse 10. of thine anointed] or Messiah, our Lord Christ, in whom God respecteth us; or David, his figure, and father in the flesh, called also Gods anointed, 2 Sam. 23. 1.

Verse 11. thou a thousand] to wit, in any other place. fit at the threshold] that is, bee in the lowest roome and basest estate; as the Greeke saith, be cast downe, (or an abject.) And by Gods house may be meant his tabernacle; as Luke 11. 51. with Mat. 23. 35. to remaine] or abide my whole life long.

Verse 12. is a Sun] or, will be a Sun, that is, a light Isa. 60. 19. Rev. 21. 23. understanding hereby all blessings and comforts, by Christ the Sonne of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2.

PSAL. LXXXV.

The Psalmist out of the experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 9 He promiseth to wait thereon out of confidence of Gods goodness.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalme
to the sonnes of Korach.

THou hast beene favourable to thy land, O Jehovah; thou hast returned the captivity of Iakob. Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin Selah. Thou hast gathered away all thine exceeding anger, thou hast turned from the fervencie of thine anger. Turne thou us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine indignation against us to cease. Wilt thou be angry with us forever? wilt thou draw out thine anger, to generation and generation? Wilt not thou turne and revive us, that thy people may rejoyce in thee? Shew us, Jehovah, thy mercy, and give us thy salvation. I will heare what God Jehovah will speake, for he will speake peace unto his people, and unto his gracious Saints; and let them not returne to unconstant folly. Surely his salvation is neerer to them that feare him, that glory may dwell in our land. Mercy and truth are met, justice and peace have kissed. Faithfulnesse springeth out of the earth, and justice looketh down from heaven. Also Jehovah will give the good, and our land shall give her fruit. Justice shall goe before his face, and hee will put her footsteps in the way.

Annotations.

TO the sonnes] or, of them. See Psal. 42. 2.
Verse 2. hast beene favourable to] or, hast favourably accepted, bene well pleased, to wit, in times past. This also respecteth the promise, Levit. 26. 42. captivity] that is, the company of captives, or prisoners; as Psal. 68. 19. See also Psal. 14. 7.

Verse 4. gathered away] that is, withdrawn, ceased, or asswaged, as the Greeke interpreteth it. So in Joel. 2. 10. the stars gather away (that is, withdrawn) their shining.

Verse 5. Turne us] to our former estate. cause to cease] or dissipate; as Psal. 33. 10.

Verse 6. wilt thou draw] that is, continue: see Psalme 36. 11.

Verse 7. wilt not thou turne and revive] that is, againe revive us. See Psal. 71. 20. The Greeke saith, O God, thou turning wilt revive us. For bal, they reade ba-al, the letters transplac'd.

8 Verse 8. Shew us ] or Let us see, that is, enjoy. So Psalme 50.23.

9 Verse 9. the God ] or, the Almighty, AEl.

10 Verse 10. that glory may dwell ] or, glory shall dwell; meaning that glory of God, which wee are destitute of by sinne, Rom. 3.23. shall be restored by grace in Christ, and God will dwell among men, and communicate with them his glory, Revel. 21.3. 11. Isa. 60. 1. and they are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord, 1 Cor. 3. 18. 11 Verse 11. are met ] that is, come together, which before seemed asunder; and they have mutuall society; (so meeting importeth, Prov. 22.2. Esay 34.14.) 14 Verse 14. Injustice shall goe ] or, Hee will cause jus- tice to goe before him. will put her foot-steps ] or, will set (her) in the way of his foot-steps: which seemeth to meane a settled course of walking in ver- tue. Or, when he shall put his foot-steps into the way.

David strengtheneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodnesse and power of God. 11. He desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud, he craveth some token of Gods goodnesse.

A Prayer of David.

Bow down thine ear: Jehovah, answer me, for I am poore, afflicted, and needy. Keepe my soule, for I am merci- full; thou my God save thy servant, that trusteth unto thee. Be gracious unto me, Je- hovah, for unto thee doe I call all the day. Rejoyce the soule of thy servant, for unto thee Lord lift I up my soule. For thou Je- hovah art good, and mercifully pardonest, and much of mercy to all that call upon thee. Give care Jehovah to my prayer, and attend to the voyce of my supplications for grace. In the day of my distresse will I call un- o thee, for thou wilt answer me. There is none like thee among the gods, O Lord, and none like thy workes. All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and bow downe themselves before thee, O Lord, & shal glo- rifie thy Name. For great art thou, and dost marvellous things; thou art God thy selfe alone. Teach me, O Jehovah, thy way, I will walke in thy truth; unite my heart for to feare thy Name. I will confesse thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart, and will glorifie thy Name for ever. For thy mercy is great toward me, and thou hast delivered my soule from the lowest hell. O God, the proud are risen up against me, and the assem- bly of violent men seeke my soule, & they have not set thee before them. But thou Lord art a God, pittifull and gracious, long suffering, and much of mercy and truth. Turne the face unto me, and be gracious to me; give thy strength to thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid. Doe with me a signe for good, and let my haters see and be abashed, because thou, Jehovah, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

A Prayer ] the like title is of Psalme 17. To Christ may this Psalme fitly be applied.

Verse 2. mercifull ] or, a gracious Saint, pious, holy. See Psal. 4.4. This title God taketh to himselfe, Ier. 3.12.

Verse 5. mercifully pardonest ] or, art propitious, a forgiver: the Chaldee addeth, of them which turne to the Law. See Psal. 25.11.

Verse 8. among the gods ] Though there be that are called Gods, whether in beaven or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many Lords;) yet unto us there is but one God, &c. 1 Cor. 8.5, 6. all the gods of the peoples are idols, Psal. 96.5. Or, by gods may be meant Angels, as the Chaldee here explaineth it, and the Princes of the world. and none ] to wit, can doe works like thine; or, no workes are like thy workes, Psal. 136.4.

ground-worke of the Temple which was built upon the mountaines, Adonijah and Sim, 1 Chron. 3.1. Pſalm. 2. 6. Some referre it to the Pſalme, the foundation (or argument) whereof is of the Church of Chriſt. The Chaldee ſaith, By the hands of the ſonnes of Korah the Pſalme was ſaid,

32. this man] that is, (as the Greeke ſaith)
theſe men; meaning all before mentioned. So the Hebrew often ſpeaketh of a whole nation, as of one man. See Pſalm. 25.22. and 130.8. But the Chaldee expoundeth it, where this kingdome is borne.

was borne] in the citie of God] aforeſaid.
There, of immortall ſeed by the word and Spirit of God, are men borne a new, 1 Pet. 1.23. Iam.
1.18. A thing to come is here ſet downe as already done: ſo in Pſalme 9.6.

Verſe 5. man and man] ſo the Greeke alſo ex-preſſeth the Hebraiſme. Hereby ſeemeth to bee meant, every man, ſucceſſively, as Hiſt. 1.8. For Ieruſalem is the mother of us all, Gal. 4.26. (So day and day, is every day, Heſt. 3.4. Pſalm. 61.9.) Or, man and man is many men, of this and that Nation,
of each eſtate and degree. ſtabliſh her] that the gates of bell ſhall not prevail againſt her, Mat. 16.18.
Therefore this citie lieth ſquare ſetled in all changes, Rev. 21.16. Ezek. 48.15, 20. It may alſo be read, and he will ſtabliſh her on high: and ſo
the Chaldee expoundeth it; and Ieruſalem is ſaid to be above, Gal. 4.26.

Verſe 6. writing the peoples] in the writing of the houſe of Iſrael, that is, the Church, Ezek. 13.9. Ma.
4.3.

Verſe 7. And fingers] or, And ſinging are, &c. This may have reference to the ſolemn worſhip of God

God used in the Church of Israel, where singers and players on instruments had in charge continually to laud the Lord, &c. 1 Chron. 9.33. & 25. 1.2.&c. and dances were used at their holy feasts, to honour him with, Iudg. 21.19.21. So Christ the Lamb hath harpers with him on mount Sion that sing as it were a new song before the throne, Rev. 14.1.2.3. Or it may respect that which followeth, all my springs in thee (or of thee) are singing (that is, doe sing) as also dance, (or as they that dance) that is, show joyfulness. players on flutes ] or dancers, for so this word may also be taken for dancing, (to wit, at the sound of the flute or pipe;) as Iudg. 21.21. Compare herewith, Esay 30.29. The Greeke here turneth it, rejoycers; and it may foretell the joy that should bee in the world for the conversion of the Gentiles. my well-springs ] or fountaines, (streames of water, as Psal. 104.10.) that is, all gifts and graces, which the Scripture noteth by lively fountaines of waters, wherewith they are refreshed that serve God in his Temple day and night, Rev. 7.15.17. and well-springs of salvation, Esay 12.3. And as Christ is called a fountain, so is his Church, Song. 4.15.12. in thee ] for now, unto principalities and powers in heavenly places, is known by the Church, the manifold wisdom of God, Eph 3.10. 1 Pet. 1.12. Or we may read it, as before in the third verse, of thee all my springs doe sing, &c.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A Prayer containing a grievous complaint of manifold miseries.

- 1 A Song, a Psalme to the sonnes of Korach : to the master of the musicke, on Machalath leannoth, an instructing Psalme, of Heman the Ezrachite.
- 2 O Jehovah, God of my salvation, by day I cry out, and in the night before thee. Let my prayer come before thee; bow thine eare to my shrill cry. For my soule is filled with evils, & my life draweth neere to hell. I am counted with them that goe downe the pit; I am as a man that
- 3 hath no strength. Among the dead, free like the slaine that lie in the grave, whom thou remembrest no more; and they are cut away
- 4 from thine hand. Thou hast put mee in the pit of the lowest places; in darknesse, in the deepe places. Thy wrathfull heat stayeth upon me; and with all thy billowes thou afflictest me Selah. My knowne acquaintance
- 5 thou hast put farre away from mee, hast set me for abominations to them; I am shut up and cannot get out. Mine eye languisheth through mine affliction; I call on thee Jehovah, all the day: I spread out my hands
- 6 unto thee. Wilt thou doe a miraculous work to the dead, or shall the deceased rise up, shall they confesse thee, Selah? Shall thy mercy be told in the grave, thy faithfulness in perdition? Shall thy miraculous worke be knowne in the darkenesse, and thy justice in the land of oblivion? But I, unto thee Jehovah doe I cry out, and in the morning my prayer shall prevent thee. Wherefore Jehovah dost thou reject my soule; dost thou hide thy face from mee? I am poore afflicted, and breathing out the ghost from my youth; I beare thine affrightings, I am doubtfully troubled. Thy wraths passe over me, thy terrors doe dismay me. They compass me about as waters, all the day; they are gone about against me together. Thou hast put far away from me, lover and fellow friend, my knowne acquaintance are in darknesse.

Annotations.

M Achalath ] a kind of wind instrument; or, by interpretation, infirmity: see Psal. 53.1. leannoth ] or, to sing by turns, which is when one part answereth another in singing; it may also be interpreted to afflict (or humble.) This Psalm is the most dolefull of all the Bible, full of complaints even to the end. Heman the Ezrachite ] so the next Psalm is intituled of Achan the Ezrachite: there were two of this name, Heman and Achan, sons of Zerach the sonne of Judah the Patriarch, 1 Chron. 2.4.6. men renowned for their wisdom, 1 King. 4.31. also Heman and Achan, singers & musicians of the posterity of Levi the Patriarch, 1 Chron. 15.17.19. & 16.42. Heman being son of Ioel the son Samuel the Prophet, 1 Sam. 6.33. himselfe being also a Seer or Prophet in King Davids dayes, 1 Chron. 25.5. And of the kingdome promised to David, doth Achan intreat, Psal. 89.4. &c. Christs afflictions and kingdome are in these Psalmes foretold; he was the true David, Hof. 3.5.

Verse 4. draweth neere ] or toucheth bell, or the grave. So, to touch (or come neere to) the gates of death, Psal. 107.18.

Verse 5. a man ] Heb. geber, that is, a strong man; but without ability or power to helpe my selfe as the Greeke saith, helplesse.

Verse 6. free ] that is, acquitted; or discharged from the troubles and affaires of this life; for in death, the prisoners rest together, and the servant is free from his master, Iob 3.18.19. or free, that is, sequestered, apart from others; as King Azariah being leprous, dwelt in an house of freedom, that is, alone, apart from other men, 2 King. 15.5. from thine hand ] that is, from thy care, helpe, guidance, &c. as King Azariah before-said, was cut off from the house of the Lord, 2 Chron. 26.21. or by thine hand; and so understand, from the land of the living, as Isa. 53.8.

Verse 7. pit of the lowest places ] the nethermost pit, as the Gr. saith; which the Chaldee paraphraseth thus;

put to perpetuity, and his throne in the dayes
 31 of heavens. If his sonnes shall leave my law, 32 and shall not walke in my judgements. If 33 they shall profane my statutes; and not keep 34 my commandements. Then will I visit their 35 trespasses with the rod, & their iniquity with 36 stripes. But my mercy I will not make fru-37 strate from with him, nor deale falsly against 38 my faithfulness. I will not profane my 39 covenant, and that which is gone out of my 40 lips, I will not change. Once I have sworne
 41 by my holiness, if I lie unto David. His seed
 42 shall be for ever, and his throne as the Sun
 43 before me. As the Moone it shall be stabli-44 shed for ever, and a witness in the skie faith-
 45 ful! Selah. But thou hast cast off and refused,
 46 hast bin exceeding wroth with thine Anoin-47 ted. Hast abolished the covenant of thy 48 servant, hast prophaned his crowne to the 49 earth. Hast burst downe all his hedges, hast 50 put his fortresses a ruine. All that passe by 51 the way rob him, hee is a reproach to his 52 neighbours. Thou hast exalted the right 53 hand of his distressers, hast rejoyced all his enemies. Also thou hast turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battell. Thou hast made his bright-nesse to cease, and his throne thou hast cast downe to the earth. Thou hast shortened the dayes of his youth, hast enwrapped him with shame Selah. How long Jehovah wilt thou hide thy selfe to perpetuity? shall thy hot wrath burne like the fire? Remember how transitory I am; unto what vanity thou hast created all the sonnes of Adam. What strong man shall live and not see death; shall deliver his soule from the hand of hel Selah?
 Where be those thy former mercies, Lord,
 thou swarest to David by thy faithfulness?
 Remember Lord the reproach of thy servants, that I beare in my bosome, of all great peoples. Wherewith thine enemies, Jehovah, doe reproach; wherewith they doe reproach the footsteps of thine Anointed.
 Blessed be Jehovah for ever, Amen, and Amen.

 3 V. 3. I said] to wit, by thy spirit, therefore

thou (Lord) saidest. built up] that is, conserved;
propagated, increased continually. in them] or,
with them, that so long as the heavens endure, thy faithfulness shall continue; as vers. 30, 37, 38. Psa.
 72. 5. & 119. 89. or by heavens may spiritually be meant the Church, called often heaven, and the kingdome of heaven, Esa. 66. 22. Revel. 4. 1, 2. and 12. 1.

 and 15. 1. Math. 3. 2. and 13. 24, 31. and the planting of the Church is called the planting of the heavens, Esa. 51. 16.

Verf. 4. my chosen] mine elect people. Therefore the Greeke changeth the number, my chosen ones;
 but the Chaldee translateth, with Abraham my chosen. David] the figure and father of Christ, according to the flesh; who also is called David, Eze.
 34. 23. Ier. 30. 9. Hos. 3. 5 of him is this and other Psalmes chiefly to be understood, Acts 2. 30. and 13. 36, &c.

Verf. 5. thy seed] Christ and Christians, the Children of Christ, the Sonne of David, Heb. 2. 13. Rev.
 22. 16. thy throne] the kingdom of Christ,
 unto whome God gave the Throne of his father David, to reign over the house of Jacob for ever, Luke 1.
 32, 33, 69. Ierusalem is this throne, Ier. 3. 17. which is continually builded of God, Psal. 147. 2.

Verse 6. the heavens] the heavenly creatures, Angels and godly men, Luk. 2. 13, 14. Phil. 3. 20. Rev.
 7. 9, 10, 11, 12. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the Angels of heaven. See also Pl. 50. 6. in the Church] or, in the Congregation, to wit, shall be confessed, or co-lebrated.

Verse 7. sonnes of the mighties] or, of the Gods, that is, Princes of the world. See Psal. 29. 1. and 82. 1, 6.
 The Greeke saith, sonnes of God, whereby also Angels may be meant, as Job 1. 6. and so the Chaldee here paraphraseth.

Verse 8. daunting terrible] in Greeke, glorified.
 See Psa. 10. 18. the secret] or mysterie, or (as the Greeke turneth it) council: meaning the Church or Congregation, where the secrets or mysteries of Gods kingdom are manifested, Mat. 13. 11. Rom.
 16. 25. 1 Cor. 4. 1. Ephe. 3. 4 This word is sundry times used for a Council or Congregation, Psal. 111.
 1. Ezek. 13. 9. Ier. 6. 11. and 15. 17. or it may here
 be understood of the company of Angels, as 1 Kings 22. 19. very much] to wit, terrible; or, referring it to the latter, in the great secret Council. over all] or, above all; see Psal. 76. 12. The Chaldee pa-raphraseth, above all the Angels which stand round about him.

Verse 11. Rahab] in Greeke, the proud; hereby may be meant the Egyptians, as Psal. 87. 4. (and so the Chaldee expounds it of Pharaoh the wicked;) or,
 the proud sea, as Job 26. 12. both were subdued
 when Israel came out of Egypt, Exod. 14. and 15:
 See Isa. 51. 9. The raging sea, and smelling waters, doe also signifie wicked enemies of God and his people, Esa. 57. 20. Jude 13. Psal. 124. 4, 5.
thine] or, to thee the earth, to wit, belongeth. See
Psal. 24. 1, 2.

Verse 13. The North] which God hath stretched out over the empty place, Job 26. 7. the right side] that is, the South, (as the Chaldee Paraphrast explay-neth,) so called, because a man standing with his face to the East, (as they were wont when they praied) the South is on his right hand. So the East is called Kedem, before; and the West, Achor, that is, behinde. Job 23. 8. Esa. 9. 12. It seemeth that this turned to Superstition and Idolatry, that men prayed

prayed towards the East; therefore God so ordered his Tabernacle and Temple, that all worshipped therewith their faces to the West, Ezek. 8. 16. Exo. 27. Num. 3. Tabor a goodly mountain in Galilee, Jos. 19. 22. Judg. 4. 6, 12. Hermon another faire mountaine eastward without Jarden, called also Sbirion: See Psal. 42. 7. and 29. 6. by these are meant the East and West parts, answerable to the former North and South: as the Chaldee Paraphrast saith, Tabor in the West, and Chermion that is in the East.

15 Verse 15. the prepared place] establishment, or base, on which the throne is settled; so the word sometime signifieth, as Ezra 3. 3. Psal. 104. 5. So Psal. 97. 2. goe before] or come before, prevent, as prest and ready at hand.

16 Verse 16. the shouting sound] or the alarme, the shrill clanging sound of the Trumpet, which was blowne at the warres, journeyes, assemblies, solemne feasts, and over the sacrifices of Israel, Psal. 81. 4. and 17. 6. Numb. 10. 3, 9, 10. Joel 2. 1, 15. or the shouting, the jubilation, to wit, of the King that is among his people, as Num. 23. 21. who by the sound of his word, as of a trumpet, warneth, informeth and guideth his people, Isa. 58. 1. Ezek. 33. 3-7, 8. Hos. 8. 1. Jer. 6. 17. 3 Chron. 13. 12, 15. Zac. 9. 14. Revel. 1. 10. and 4. 1. light of thy face] the favour of God shining in the Gospel, and light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Iesus Christ, Joh. 1. 23, 5. 2 Cor. 4. 6. See also the notes on Psal. 4. 7. and 44. 4.

18 Verse 18. the glory] or beauty, by whom they conquer and triumph over their enemies. our borne] a signe of honour, strength, kingdome, glory and salvation, Psal. 112. 9. and 92. 11. and 148. 14. 1 Chron. 25. 5. Luke 1. 69. So after, in vers. 25.

Verse 19. of Iebouab] or to him, to wit, pertained. or shield] that is, our protection, or Protection, meaning David and Christ: See Psal. 47. 10.

20 Verse 20. in a vision] by the spirit of prophesie Isa. 1. 1. Lam. 2. 9. to thy gracious Saint] that is, Saints, (for so the Greeke changeth the number) meaning the Prophets, Samuel and Nathan, the one of which anointed David, the other foretold of the perpetuity of his kingdome, 1 Sam. 16. 2 Sam. 7. 4, 5, &c. put helpe] the Chaldee addeth, for my people. upon a mighty one] or a Worthy, a Champion, meaning David, who holpe Gods people in fighting the battels of the Lord, 1 Sam. 18. 13, 14, 30. But chiefly these things are meant of Christ. The Chaldee expoundeth it, one mighty in the law. chosen] and consequently beloved, as Mat. 12. 18. from Elay 42. 1.

21 Verse 21. oil of mine holinesse] that is, mine holy oile, powred on David by Samuel, on Christ the Holy Ghost, 1 Samuel 16. 1, 13. Luke 4. 18, 21. John 3. 34.

23 Verse 23. the enemies shall not exalt] or not seaze, as a creditor doth on the debtor. Satan and death prevailed not against Christ, though he became surety for our debts, Joh. 14. 30. 1 Cor. 15. 26. Heb. 2. 14. See this word, Psal. 55. 16. some of injurious evill] that is, the injurious, wicked person:

this promise is in 2 Sam. 7. 10. applyed in this phrase to all Gods people. A sonne of evill, is one addicted and given over to it, Deut. 13. 13. So sons of death, Psal. 79. 11. some of perdition, 2 Thess. 2. 3.

Verse 26. set his hand] that is, give him power and dominion over them that dwell by the sea and rivers; whereof see the notes on Psal. 7.

Verse 27. my father] so God promised, I will be his father, and he shall be my sonne, 2 Sam. 7. 14. The Apostle applieth this to Christ, and proveth hereby that he is greater than the Angels, Heb. 1. 4. 5.

Verse 28. first-borne] or first-begotten, that is, the principall, as is after explained. For the first-borne had three prerogatives, a double portion of goods, Deuteronomie 21. 17. the government or chiefty, 2 Chron. 21. 3. and the priesthood, Numbers 8. 14. 15, 16, 17. Mal. 2. 5, 6, 7. and 3. 3. See the notes on Psalme 78. 51. This honour is peculiar to Christ, who is said to be the first-borne of every creature, and the first-borne of the dead, that in all things bee might have the preeminence, Coloss. 2. 9, 5. 18. to bee worshipped therefore of all the Angels of God, Heb. 1. 6. and Prince of the Kings of the earth, Rev. 1. 5. The Chaldee addeth, the first-borne of the Kings of the house of Iudab.

Verse 30. his seed] Christians borne of God, are called Christs seed and children, Elay 53. 10. Heb. 2. 13. and Christ is called the Everlasting Father, Isa. 9. 6. his throne] that is, kingdome, which shall be perpetuall, 2 Sam. 7. 13. Heb. 1. 8. Dan. 2. 44. and 7. 14. The accomplishment of these promises cannot be found in Solomon, whose seed and throne was overthrowne, Ier. 22. 30. Ezek. 21. 25, 26, 27.

Verse 31. If his finnes, &c.] This explaineth the promise, If he sin, &c. 2 Sam. 7. 14, 15. for being understood of Christ, he properly sinned not, 1 Pet. 2. 22. but was made sin for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21. & the sins of his sons or people are counted his, for God laid on him the iniquity of us all, Elay 53. 6.

V. 33. with the rod] the rod of men, 2 Sam. 7. 14. that is, with moderate correction, & for their profit, that they may be partakers of my holinesse, Hebrewes 12. 6. 10.

V. 34. not make frustrate] not break off or cease, (as Psal. 85. 5.) that is, not utterly take for, the mountains shall sooner remove, Isa. 54. 10. & no afflictions can separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Iesus our Lord, Rom. 8. 35. 39. See the fulfilling of this touching David, in 1 Kin. 11. 6. 12, 13, 36. 39.

Verse 36. Once] or One time: See Psal. 62. 12. by my holinesse] by my selfe, who am the holy God, Gen. 22. 16. Elay 5. 16. Because he hath no greater to sweare by, God sweareth by himselfe; and willing more abundantly to shew the beires of promise the stableness of his counsell, bindeth himselfe with an oath, Hebrewes 6. 13, 17, 18. if I be] that is, surely I will not be: for so the Hebrew phrase is sometime explained, as Mark. 8. 12. if a signe be given to this generation, for which in Matt. 16. 4. is written, a signe shall not be given. So, if they shall enter into my rest, Psal. 95. 11. Heb. 3. 11. which the Apostle openeth thus, bee swears that they should not enter, Heb. 3. 18. An oath usually implieth an imprecation, which which for the most part is concealed. See 1 Sam. 14.44. 1 King. 20.10.

37 Verse 37. as the Sunne] that is, perpetuall and glorious, (as the Chaldee explaineth it, shall shine as the Sunne.) See Psal. 72.5.

38 Verse 38. it shall be stablished] or, which is stable, referring it (as doth the Greeke,) to the Moone, which although it sometime waxeth and sometime waneth, and seemeth to be gone, yet is continually renewed, and so stable: a fit resemblance of the throne or Church of Christ, which hath not alwaies one face or appearance in the world, though it be perpetuall. and a witnesse] the Moone and perpetuall of it, with the successive course of night and day, is made a witnesse of Gods faithfulness in his covenant, Ier. 33.20,21. Christ also himselfe is called a faithful witnesse, Rev. 1.5. Esay 55.4. and faithful meaneth steadfast, as 2 Sam. 7.16. compared with 1 Chro. 17.14. and that yet not, Prov. 14.5.

39 Verse 39. But thou] or, And thou, a word of griefe and indignation, as Psal. 2.6. Ethan complaineth of the miseries of the Church, whereby all the former promises seeme to be frustrated.

40 Verse 40. his crowne] or diademe, prophaned by casting to the ground. Nezer, a separation, is figuratively used for a crowne or garland, such as Kings wore, 2 Sam. 1.10. and high Priests, Exod. 29.6. as being a signe of their separation from others, in respect of some dignitie or holinesse; and hereof the Nazarites had their name, Numb. 6.2,5,7. So Psal. 133.18.

42 Verse 42. rob] or risle him, meaning Christ in his members: for that which is done to any one of them, is done unto him, Act. 9.4. Mat. 23.40,45.

45 Verse 45. his brightnesse] or puritie, that is, the splendent glory and dignitie of the kingdome, defiled and prophaned by the enemies.

46 Verse 46. dayes of his youth] of his strength and vigour, hastening old age and misery upon him, Hosea 7.9. See the contrarie, Psalm. 103.5. Iob 33.25.

48 Verse 48. how transitory] or, of what worldly time, of what short duranee: See Psalm. 39.6. the Greeke turneth it, what my substance is. Compare herewith, Iob. 10.9,10,&c.

49 Verse 49. see death] that is, die. So Luke 2.26. Psal. 16.10. The Chaldee saith, see the Angell of death, the hand of hell] the power of the grave, or of death: See Psal. 49.16.19.

51 Verse 51. of all great peoples] or, of all the many (the multitudes of) peoples.

52 Verse 52. the foot-steps] or foot-foles, that is, the wayes, life, actions, and sufferings, Psal. 56.7. and 49.6. This referred to Christ, respecteth the oracle, Gen. 3.15. that the Serpent should bruise the foot-sole of the womans seed. Referred to Christians, which follow his foot-steps, in suffering and dying with him, that we may be glorified with him, (1 Pet. 2.21. Rom. 8.17.) it noteth the scandall of the crosse of Christ, to the Iews a stumbling block, and to the Greekes foolishnesse, 1 Cor. 1.23. 1 Pet. 4.13,14. The Chaldee understands it of the slacknesse of the foot-steps.

Verse 53. Blessed be] These be words of faith and joy, as finding an issue out of the temptation, and rejoycing in the midst of tribulation, as Rom. 7.24,25. 2 Cor. 13.4,&c. and Amen] This is this third Booke of the Psalms also concluded. See the notes on Psal. 41.14. and 72.19.

The fourth Booke.

PSAL. XC.

Moses setting forth Gods providence, 3 complaineth of humane fragilitie, 7 divine chastisements, 10 and brevitie of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of Gods good providence.

A prayer of Moses the man of God.

Lord, thou hast beene to us an habitation in generation and generation.

Before the mountaines were borne, and thou hadst brought forth the earth and the world; even from eternitie unto eternitie thou art God. Thou turnest sory man unto contrition; and sayest, returne ye sons of Adam. For a thousand yeares, in thine eyes, are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. Thou carriest them away with a flood, they are as a sleepe in the morning, as the grasse that is changed. In the morning it flourisheth and is changed; at the evening it is cut downe and withereth.

For we are consumed in thine anger, and in thy wrathfull heat we are suddenly troubled. Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our hidden sins to the light of thy face.

For all our dayes doe turne away in thine exceeding wrath; we have consumed our yeares as a thought. The dayes of our years, in them are threescore and ten yeares; and if they be in strengths, fourescore yeares; and their pride is molestation and painfull iniquitie; for it is cut downe speedily, and we flie away. Who knoweth the strength of thine anger, and according to thy feare, thine exceeding wrath? To number our dayes, so make thou us to know, that we may apply the heart to wisdom. Returne, Jehovah, how long! and let it repent thee concerning thy servants. Satisfie us in the morning with thy mercy, that we may shout and rejoyce in all our daies. Makethou us rejoyce, according to the daies thou hast afflicted us, the yeares wherein we have seene evill. Let thy worke appeare unto thy servants, and thy comely honour unto their sons. And let the the pleasantnesse of Jehovah our God, bee upon us, and the worke of our hands establish thou upon us; yea the worke of our hands, establish thou it.

Annotations.

- 1 THe man of God] that is, the Prophet, as Deut. 33.1. For a Prophet, a Seer, and a man of God, were all one, 1 Sam. 9.6. 8. 9. 10. 11. The Chaldee Paraphrast sheweth it here, saying, A Prayer that Moses the Prophet of the Lord prayed, when the people of the house of Israel had sinned in the wilderness. This Psalmie hath reference to that history in Num. 14. an habitation] or mansion, in all our travels in this terrible wilderness, Exod. 33. 14. Deut. 1. 15. and 33. 27.
- 2 Verse 2. were borne] this and the next word, brought forth, are similitudes taken from procreation of children, to signifie the creation of the world. Like speeches are in Iob 38. 28. 29. of the raine, dew, ice, and frost.
- 3 Verse 3. unto contrition] till he be contrite, or broken, that is, even to death; as the Chaldee explaineth it, Thou turnest man for his sinne unto death. returne] the body to the earth, Psalmie 146. 4. and the spirit to God, Eccles. 12. 7.
- 4 Verse 4. a watch] a ward or custody, which is about three houres space: for the Jewes divided the day into twelve houres, Ioh. 1. 9. and so the night, which they subdivided into foure watches, Mat. 14. 15. named the evening, midnight, cock-crowing, and dawning, Mark. 13. 35. Luke 12. 38. 39. Mat. 24. 43. See also Exod. 14. 24. 1 Sam. 11. 11.
- 5 Verse 5. a sleepe] the Chaldee paraphraeth, If they turne not, thou wilt bring death upon them, which is like a sleepe unto them, and in the world to come they shall be changed, as the grasse which is cut downe.
- 6 Verse 6. is changed] or changeth, to wit, the estate thereof, that is, sprouteth or groweth, as the Chaldee explaineth it. And so the Hebrew (which generally signifieth a change, passage, or shifting,) is sometime used for the better, to sprout, Iob 14. 7. So the change the strength, Esay 40. 31. is to renew or increase it.
- 8 Verse 8. our hidden sinnes] or, sins of our youth, as the Chaldee here taketh it. The Hebrew word will beare both; so also the sense, for we have both secret sinnes, Psal. 19. 13. and sins of our youth, Psal. 25. 7. which God often punisheth us for, Iob 20. 11. to the light of thy face] that is, knowing, remembring, manifesting, and punishing them, Ier. 16. 17. Psal. 109. 14. 15. For the Lord lighteth things that are hid in darknesse, and maketh the counsels of the heart manifest, 1 Cor. 4. 5. hee is of pure eyes, and cannot see evil, Hab. 1. 13. therefore David praieith, bide thy face from my sinnes, Psal 51. 10.
- 9 Verse 9. doe turne away] or, turne the face, decline, as the day drawing to an end, Ier. 6. 4. as a thought] or as a word, a sound that passeth out of the mouth, as Iob 37. 2. as a tale that is told, for mans life is a breath or vapour, Psalmie 39. 6. I am,

4. 14. and so the Chaldee translateth it, as the breath of the mouth in winter. Moses bewaileth the decaying of the people in the wilderness, for they came out of Egypt six hundred thousand men, Exod. 12. 37. and not one feeble among them, Psal. 105. 37. and being mustered at mount Sina, from twenty yeeres old and above, they were 603 550 men, besides the Tribe of Levi, Numb. 1. 46, 47. but for their sin, at Kadesh God sware their carcasses should fall in the wilderness, Num. 14. 28, 29. which came so to passe: For being mustered about 38 yeeres after, there was of all that armie not left a man alive, save Caleb and Iosua, Numb. 26. 63, 64, 65.

Verse 10. if they] (the yeeres) be in strengths, that is, most strong and valid; or, if by reason of great strength. their pride] or promise, that is, the excellencie, or lutyhead of thole yeeres, the bravest of them is but miserie. painfull iniquitie] paine and miserie, the punishment of sin. Iniquitie is often put for the punishment of it, Psal. 32. 5.

Verse 11. according to thy feare] or, as thy feare, that is, who knoweth (or acknowledgeth) thy wrath, so as thy feare teacheth men to doe? meaning by feare, either Gods Law, as Psal. 19. 10. or his fearful judgements upon finners, which should strike a feare into mens heart, Deut. 13. 11. Psalm. 119. 120. Jonah 1. 16. Or, as thy feare, that is, so as to feare thee for thy wrath, and by it to depart from evill, as Proverbs 16. 6. 2 Corinth. 5. 10, 11. or even according to thy feare, so is thy wrath. The Chaldee paraphraeth, who knoweth to turne away the strength of thy anger; but the just which feare thee, appeasing thy wrath.

Verse 12. may apply] or, may bring, may make come. to wisdom] or, may get a heart of wisdom, that is, a wise heart; and so may bring it to thee, when we shall come to judgement.

Verse 13. how long?] wilt thou afflict us? as the Chaldee paraphraeth; or, wilt thou deferre to helpe us? See Psal. 6. 4. repent thee] to wit, of the evil intended or inflicted upon thy servants, as Deut. 32. 36. Joel 2. 13. Jon 3. 10. Jer. 18. 8.

Verse 14. in the morning] that is, early, after the darke night of afflictions; see Psalm. 5. 4. and 30. 6.

Verse 15. the yeeres, &c.] that is, as wee have beene many daies and yeeres afflicted, so let us have many yeeres of comfort.

Verse 16. thy comely honour] or magnificence, in releasing us from trouble, and refreshing us with mercie.

Verse 17. the pleasantnesse] or beautie, that is, the accomplishment of thy covenant and promise to our fathers, let now be seene upon us. So the stasse, beautie (or pleasantnesse) in the Lords hand, signified his covenant with them, Zach. 1. 7, 10. or generally it meaneth Gods amiable grace and favour: See Psal. 27. 4. The Chaldee expounds it, the pleasantnesse of Paradise. stablish] or direct, firme and sure. For the Lord worketh all our actions for us, Esay 26. 12. and without him we can doe nothing, Joh. 15. 5.

The state of the godly. 3 Their safety. 9 Their habitation. 11 Their keepers. 14 Their friend, with the effects of them all.

- 1 HEe that sitteth in the secret of the 2 most high, shall lodge himselfe in 3 the shadow of the Almighty. I will 4 say, of Jehovah, my safe hope and my for-5 tresse, my God, in him will I trust: For he 6 will deliver thee from the snare of the 7 Fowler, from the wofull pestilence. He will 8 cover thee with his wing, and under his fea-
9 thers thou shalt hope for safety; his truth
10 shall be a buckler and a shield. Thou shalt not 11 feare for the dread of the night, for the ar-
12 row that flieth by day. For the pestilence
13 that walketh in the darkenesse; for the sting-14 ing plague that wasteth at noone-day. A

the most high, thou hast put for thy mansion.
There shall not befall unto thee any evil, and keep thee in all thy waies. Vpon their hands shall they beare thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt tread upon the fierce Lion & the Aspe, thou shalt tread downe the lurking Lion & the Dragon. Because he cleaveth unto me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he knoweth my name. He shall call on me, and I will answer him; with him will I be in distresse; I will release him, & will honour

him. With length of dayes will I satisfie him, & will make him to see my salvation.

- 1 Secret] in Greeke, helpe. shall lodge] or, that lodge, abideth. shadow] that is, defence, as Numb. 14. 9. So the Greeke saith, protection; the Chaldee addeth, shadow of the clouds of the glory of the Almighty.
- 2 Verse 2. I will say] or, doe say, namely, to that man for his further comfort and assurance, as ver.
3. &c. or, in his name, putting my selfe for an example. The Greeke for more plainnesse changeth the person, thus; Hee shall say to the Lord, thou art
mine helper, &c. The Chaldee addeth, David said, I will say, &c. of Jehovah] or, to him, that he is my safe hope, (or my shelter.)

Verse 3. of the fowler] as Psal. 124. 7. or hunter, meaning the devill that hath the power of death,
and seeketh to destroy, Heb. 2. 14. 1 Pet. 5. 8.
the wofull pestilence] Hebr. the pest of wofull evils, that is, the most wofull, noysome and contagious pest.

Verse 5. the dread of the night] the dreadfull evil that terrifieth in the night, Prov. 3. 25. Song. 3. 4.
arrow] so the pestilence is called, Deut. 32. Ezek.
5. 16. The Chaldee calleth it, the arrow of the An- gell of death.

Verse 6. the stinging plague] the murraine (or pest) that suddenly pricketh and destroyeth, Deut. 32. 24.
The Apostle in Greeke calleth it a sting or prick,
1 Cor. 15. 55. from Hos. 13. 14. as there the LXX.
turned it. The Chaldee here expounds it, the com- pany of Devils. at noone-day] that is, openly:
So Jer. 15. 8.

Verse 8. shalt thou behold] or regard, consider, as the Greeke turneth it.

Verse 9. Because thou Jehovah] an imperfect speech, as in ver. 2. understand, Because thou sayest, thou Jehovah art &c. or, because thou hast put Jehovah
who is my covert: even the most high hast thou put for thy mansion, or dwelling place.

Verse 10. be fall unto thee] or occasionally be sent, be thrust upon thee, or caused to come unto thee: so Proverbs 12. 21.

Verse 12. upon their hands] or, their palms; 12
which the Chaldee expoundeth, their strength.
This Scripture the Devil alleaged, when he tempted Christ to throw downe himselfe head-long, Mat. 4. 6. Luke 4. 10, 11. but some of these words are there omitted. lest thou dash] or, that thou dash (or hurt) not. The Angels are all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for their sakes which shall be heires of salvation, Heb. 1. 14. See also Psalm. 34. 8.
a stone] the Chaldee interprets it, evil ac-
cuspience, which is like unto a stone.

Verse 13. the fierce Lion] or Libbard, in Ho-brew Shachal. Of Lions there be divers kinds, see Psal. 7. 3. aspe] or Cockatrice, Basiliske, as the Greek here turneth it: See Psal. 58. 5. under these names are meant all other things dangerous, or adverse to the life of man, which by faith are overcome, as Mark. 16. 17, 18. Heb. 11. 33, 34.

Verse 14. He cleaveth to me] or, is fastned, that is, affected to me, in faith, hope, love, delight, &c.
The Chaldee expounds it, to my word. God cleaveth in love to his people, Deut. 7. 7. so they also unto him: The Greeke here turneth it, bee hoped in me.
Elsewhere it is commonly used for fast-love and pleasure, Gen. 34. 8. Esay 38. 17. Deut. 21. 11.
set him on high] to wit, in a safe defenced place, as the word importeth: therefore the Greeke saith,
I will protect him. See the notes on Psal. 30. 2.

Verse 15. honour him] give him honour, or glory:
Elsewhere his people are said to honour or glorifie
him, Psalme 50. 15. See 1 Sam. 2. 30.

Verse 16. satisfie] or give him his fill. So Abraham, Isaac, David, Iob, &c. are said to be full or satisfied with dayes, Gen. 25. 8. and 35. 29. 1 Chro.
23. 1. Iob 42. 17. make him to see] that is,
to enjoy, or shew him: See Psal. 50. 23.

PSAUME XCII.

The Prophet teacheth how good it is to praise God, for his great workes, & for his judgement on the wicked, & for his goodnesse to the godly.

A Psalm, a song for the day of Sabbath.

It is good to confesse to Jehovah, and to sing Psalmes to thy Name, O most high, To shew forth thy mercy in the morning, and thy faithfullnesse in the nights. Upon the ten-stringed instrument, and upon the Psalterie, with meditation upon the Harpe. For thou hast rejoyced me, O Jehovah, with thy worke, in the acts of thy hands will I shew. How great are thine acts Jehovah: very deep are thy thoughts. A brutish man knoweth not, and an unconstant foole understandeth not this. When wicked men spring up as the grasse, and all that work iniquity doe flourish; that they shall be abolished unto perpetuity. But thou art high for ever, Jehovah. For loe thine enemies Jehovah; for loe thine enemies shall perish: they shall be scattered, all that worke iniquity. And my horne shall be exalted as the Unicorne; mine old age shall be anointed with fresh cyle. And mine eye shall behold on mine enviers; of evill doers that rise vp against me, mine cares shall heare. The just, he shall spring up as a Palme-tree, as a Cedar in Lebanon shall he grow. They that are planted in the house of Jehovah, in the courts of our God shall they flourish. Yet shall they sprout in graine: they shall be fat and Greene. To shew that Jehovah is righteous; my Rocke, and no injurious evill is in him.

Annotations.

Of Sabbath] that is, of Cessation, or Resting, to wit, from our owne workes, wils, wayes, and words, Exod. 20. 10. Esay 58. 13. Heb. 4. 10. which day was the seventh from the creation, wherein God rested from all his worke, and blessed and sanctified it, and commanded it to be kept holy unto him, Gen. 2. 2, 3. Exod. 20. 8. which was a token of his mercy unto, and sanctification of his people, Neh. 9. 14. Exod. 31. 13, 14. This day was sanctified by an holy convocation or assembly of the people, Levit. 23. 3. offering of sacrifices, Numb. 28. 9, 10. singing of Psalmes, as this title sheweth, with a Chro. 29. 26, 27. reading and expounding the Scriptures, Act. 13. 15. and 15. 21. praying, Act. 16. 13. disputing, conferring, meditating of Gods word and workes, Act. 17. 2. and 18. 4. and doing workes of mercy to them that were in need, Matth. 12. 2, — 7, 8, 11, 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, An hymn, a song which the first man Adam said for the Sabbath day.

Verse 3. in the night] see Psal. 134. 1.

Verse 4. with meditation] or meditated song, or upon Higgajon with the harpe. The word signifieth meditation, as Psal. 9. 17. Here some thinke it to be the name of an instrument, or a sekrete sound: the Greeke turneth it a song.

Verse 5. with thy worke] which is all done well and perfectly, Gen. 1. 3. and 2. 2, 3. Deut. 32. 4.

Verse 10. shall be scattered] or shall depart themselves: The Chaldee Paraphrast saith, shall be separated from the congregation of the just in the world to come.

Verse 11. shall be exalted] or thou wilt exalt as the Unicorne, therewith to smite mine enemies, as Deut. 33. 17. The horne signifieth kingdome, and strength, and glory: and the Chaldee here translateth it strength. See Psal. 75. 5, 11. Psal. 22. 12.

mine old age] so also the Greeke translateth it: or, when I am old. After which seemeth to be understood, shall be anointed (or, as before, shall be exalted) with oyle. Oftentimes words are not expressed, which are understood; as is observed on Psa. 69. 11. and 18. 7, 29. Others, for mine old age, doe turne it, I shall be anointed. fresh] or greene oyle.

Verse 12. mine eye shall view] to wit, evill, or destruction, as the Chaldee explaineth, or the reward of my foes. See Psal. 34. 9. and 91. 8. shall heare] the Chaldee addeth, the voice of their breakings.

Verse 13. palme-tree] or date-tree, which groweth not in these cold parts: it is a tree of tall and upright stature, whereto the Scripture hath reference, Song 7. 7. the branches faire and greene, wherewith they made bootes at their solemne feasts, Lev. 23. 40. the fruit pleasant to eat, Song 7. 8. Ex. 15. 27. This tree, though loaden and pressed, yet endureth and prospereth; therefore the branches carried in the hand, or worne in garlands, were signes of victory, Rev. 7. 9. With such graven trees, the walls of Gods house, and other holy things were beautified, 1 King. 6. 29. and 7. 36. figures of the flourishing estate of the godly alwaies, as this Psalm sheweth, with Ezek. 40. 16, 26, 31. and 41. 18, 19, 20. whereas the wicked prosperitie is momentary as grasse, verse 8.

a Cedar] see the note on Psal. 29. 5.

Verse 15. sprouts] or grow, waxing in stature and fruitfulness, through the blessing of God, in whose house they are planted, 1 Cor. 3. 6. Vnto this are all Gods people exhorted, Ephes. 4. 15, 16. Col. 1. 10. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Yet, as their fathers shall they procreate children. in graine] or boary age, when naturall strength decayeth; God minisreth vigour above nature. See Psal. 71. 9, 18. Esay 65. 22. Heb. 11. 11, 13.

Verse 16. no injurious evill] no manner of injustice, for the Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinarie, to increase the signification, as Psalm. 3. 3. and 135. 3. And this respecteth Moses speech, Deut.

Deut. 32. 4. where injurious evil is opposed to Gods faithfulness in his administration.

PSAL. XCIII.

The Majesty, power and holiness of Christs kingdom.

Jehovah reigneth, is clothed with high majesty; clothed is Jehovah, hath girded himselfe with strength; the world also is established, it shall not bee moved. Stable is thy throne from then; thou art from eternity. The floods have lifted up, O Jehovah, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their dashing noise. Than the voices of many waters, the wondrous strong billowes of the sea; more wondrous strong is Jehovah in the high place. Thy testimonies are very faithfull; holiness becommeth thine house, Jehovah, to length of dayes.

Annotations.

1 [S. clothed] or hath put on, to wit, as an ornament, and in abundant measure: for so cloathing doth signifie, Psal. 65. 14. [girded himselfe] that is, is in a readinesse to performe his worke, Esay 8. 9. Luke 12. 35.

2 Verse 2. from then that is, from the time that thou hast beene; which is, from eternity: Or, before then; which the Chaldee expoundeth, the beginning; this phrase spoken of God or Christ, meaneth eternity, Prov. 8. 12. in respect of the creatures, it is the beginning of time Esay 44. 8.

3 Verse 3. The floods these are often put for the tumultuous rage and tyrannie of peoples, Psal. 65. 8. and 18. 5. Esay 17. 12, 13. but here the Chaldee explaineth it of their lifting up their voice with song.

4 Verse 4. wondrous strong excellent, or magnificent billowes: this phrase is taken from Exod. 15. 10. See also this word, Psalme 8. 2. the high place or height, that is, heaven. So Psal. 71. 19.

5 Verse 5. faithfull or, made sure, constant. See the note on Psal. 19. 8. to length of dayes that is, for ever. See Psal. 21. 5. and 23. 6.

PSAL. XCIV.

The Prophet calling for justice, complaineth of tyrannie and impiety. 8 Hee teacheth Gods providence. 12 He sheweth the blessednesse of chastisements. 16 God is the defender of the afflicted.

1 O God of vengeance, Jehovah; O God of vengeance, shine thou clearly. Be thou lifted up, O Iudge of the earth; render a reward unto the proud. How long shall the wicked, O Jehovah; how long shall the wicked shew gladnesse? Shall they utter, shall they speake a hard word; shall they boast themselves, all that worke iniquity? Thy people, Jehovah, they bruise in peeces, and afflict thine heritage. They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse. And say, Iah shall not see, nor Iakobs God undertake. Understand yee brutish among the people, and unconstant fooles, when will ye be prudent? He that planted the eare, shall not hee heare? or he that formed the eye, shall not hee see? Hee that chastiseth the heathens, shall not he rebuke? hee that teacheth man knowledge? Jehovah knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity. O blessed is the man, he whom thou chastenest, O Iah, and teachest him out of thy Law. To give him quietnesse from the dayes of evill, untill a pit of corruption bee digged for the wicked. For Jehovah will not leave his people, and will not forsake his inheritance. But judgement shall returne unto justice; and after it, all the upright in heart. Who will rise up for mee against evill doers? who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity? Vnlesse Jehovah had beene an helper, I should have perished in silence. When I said, my foot is moved, thy mercy, Jehovah staid me up. When many were my cogitations within me, thy consolations delighted my soule. Shall the throne of wofull evils have fellowship with thee, which frameth molestation by a decree? They run by troupes against the soule of the just, and condemne as wicked the innocent blood. But Jehovah is to me for an high refuge; and my God, for the rocke of my safe hope. And hee will returne upon them their iniquity, and in their malice hee will suppress them: Jehovah our God will suppress them.

Annotations.

God of vengeance] to whom vengeance belongeth, as Deut. 32. 35. and which punisheth evils. So elsewhere he is called the God of recompences, Ier. 51. 56. shine clearly to our comfort, and our foes terrour. See Psal. 50. 2. and 80. 2.

Verse 2. be lifted up on thy throne, and in thy just judgement. So Psalme 7. 7, 8.

Verse 4. Utter or talke loosely, well out as a fountaine: see Psal. 19. 3. Iam. 3. 11. a hard word hard things, durable reproaches: see Psal. 31. 19. boast beast] or exalts themselves with speaking and applying things to their owne praise. This word is used in the good part, Esay 61.6.

9 Verse 9. that planted the ear] that is, made and set it in the body. So in Esay 51. 16. he is said to plant the heavens.

10 Verse 10. man knowledge] here is to bee understood, shall not be know? Such imperfect speeches through passion of mind, are often in Scripture, Psalme 6.4. 2 Sam. 5.8. supplied in 1 Chro. 11.6. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, Is it possible that he hath given the Law to his people, and they not be rebuked when they sinne? Did not God teach the first man knowledge?

11 Verse 11. the thoughts of men] the inward descriptions and reasonings of all men, even the wisest. This sentence Paul alleageth against the wisdom of the world, 1 Cor. 3.20. and as an expofitor, in stead of men, he putteth the wife.

12 Verse 12. the man] Hebr. geber, the mighty. chastest] or nurtured, instructed, as this word is Englished, Deut. 4. 36. which this place seemeth to have reference unto. For chastisement or restraint is by word or deed. And here the doctrine of Gods law is opposed to all wise mens cogitations.

14 Verse 14. not leave his people] not give him over, or reject them, (as the Greeke turneth it) to wit, those whom he hath foreknown and chosen, because it hath pleased the Lord to make them his people; as 1 Sam. 12.22. Rom. 11.1, 2. &c.

15 Verse 15. judgement shall returne to justice] that is, severity to mercy; the rigour of the Law changed to the clemency of the Gospell. So judgement is often used for sentence of punishment, as Ier. 52.9. and justice for grace and mercy: see Psal. 24. 5. Or, judgement, which in the affliction of Gods people, and prosperity of the wicked, seemeth to be parted from justice, shall returne unto it, when the godly are delivered, & the wicked punished.

after it] so the Greeke turneth it; or, after him, meaning God.

16 Verse 16. who will rise up] or, who standeth up, namely, to assist me? meaning, no man doth.

17 Verse 17. an helplesse] that is, a full help: see Psal. 44. 17. in silence] the place of stillnesse and silence, that is, the grave, as the Greeke explaineth it: so Psal. 115. 17. see also Psal. 49. 13.

18 Verse 18. is moved] or slippeth: see Psal. 38. 17.

19 Ver. 19. my cogitations] my carefull troubled thoughts, perplexed as the branches of a tree, (for so the word properly signifieth) therefore the Greeke turneth it forrowes. So Psal. 139. 23.

20 Verse 20. of wofull evils] or of mischiefs, the mischievous tyrannous throne of the unrighteous Iudge, shall it have fellowship (or be joynd) with thee (O God) meaning, it shall not: as, Shall thou build? 2 Sam. 7. 5. is, Thou shalt not build, 1 Chro. 17. 4. See also Pla. 5. 5. which frameth] or, be that frameth, or formeth.

21 Verse 21. run by trumps] combine and gather together as banded to fight: in Greeke, they run for.

23 Verse 23. will turne] Heb. both turned, that is, will assuredly turne. in their malice] or for their evil.

PSAL. XCIV.

An Exhortation to praise God, 3 for his greatnesse, 6 and for his goodnesse. 8 A warning not to harden the heart against Gods word, as Israel had done, who therefore entered not into his rest.

Come, let us shout joyfully to Jehovah, let us shout triumphantly to the Rocke of our salvation. Let us prevent his face with confession, with Psalmes let us shout triumphantly to him. For Jehovah is a great God, & a great King above all gods. In whose hands are the deep places of the earth, and the strong heights of the mountaines are his. Whole the sea is, for he made it, and the dry land his hands have formed. Come, let us bow downe our selves, and bend: let us kneele before Jehovah our maker. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and sheep of his hand, to day if ye will heare his voice: Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, as in the day of Massah in the wilderness. Where your fathers tempted me, proved me, also saw my worke. Fortie yeeres I was irked with that generation, and said, they are a people erring in heart, and they know not my waies. So that I sware in mine anger, if they shall enter into my rest.

Annotations.

Come] or Goe to. The holy Ghost by David thus exhorteth Israel to laud to the Lord, and obey his voice. For he penned this Psalme, Hebr. 3. 7. and 4. 7. the Rocke] meaning Christ, as the Apostle sheweth, Heb. 3. 6. 7. the Greeke translateth it, God our Saviour.

Verse 2. prevent] come first, and speedily.

Verse 3. great God] or great Potentate, Al. 90 Christ is also intituled, Tit. 2. 13. All Gods] Angels, Princes, or false gods, Psalme 8. 6. and 82. 6. and 96. 4, 5.

Verse 4. deepe places] or deepe closets; Hebr. stairways, that is, deep secret places for which search is made, Job 28. 1, 2, &c. and which cannot by mans search be found, Job 38. 4, 5, 6, 18. strong heights] or wearisome heights, high mounts which weary men to climbe them: but the word hath also a signification of strong, and not being wearied, Numb. 23. 22.

Verse 7. of his hand] that is, of his guidance, Psalme 77. 21. See also Psal. 100. 3. to day] hereby is meant the whole time wherein Christ speaketh by his Gospell, Heb. 3. 7, 13, 15. and 4. 7, 8.

Verse 8. in Meribah] that is, in the Contention (or Provocation, as the Greeke turneth it.) The name of a place in the wilderness, where Israel contended with Moses, and tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord among us or no? because there was no water for the people to drinke. Therefore he called the place Massah (Tentation) and Meribah (Contention) Exodus 17.1,2.—7. Also another place, where againe they contended with Moses, and with the Lord, Num. 20. 1.3.13. day of Massah] that is, of Tentation: by day againe we may understand the whole space wherein they tempted God ten times, as is said, Num. 14. 22. (so the day of salvation, 2 Cor. 6.2. is the time thereof.) Yet there was a speciall day and place of Tentation named Massah, Exodus 17. 2. 7. whereupon Moses warned the people, Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah, Deut. 6.16.

9 Verse 9. tempted me] hereupon the Apostle saith, they tempted Christ, 1 Cor. 10.9. my worke] that is, workes, Heb. 3.9. both in miraculous mercies giving them bread from heaven, and waters out of the rocks, &c. Psal. 78.15.—23. &c. and in punishments for their rebellions, Psal. 78.31.33. &c. Heb. 3.17. For worke sometime signifieth reward, Psalme 109.20. Iob 7.2. Levit. 19.13.

11 Verse 11. if they shall enter] that is, they shall not enter, Heb. 3.11.18. a part of the oath is not uttered; see Psal. 89.36. This oath was made at Kadesh, where the people through unbeliefe refused to enter the promised land, Numb. 14.21.23,23.30.32. Heb. 3.17.19. my rest] the land of Canaan, Deut. 12.9. 1 Chron. 23. 25; a figure of a better rest which wee that have beleaved the word doe enter into, Hebr. 4.3. for if that land (wherein now they were) had bene their rest, David would not have spoken of another; there remaineth therefore a Rest for the people of God; let us studie to enter into it, Heb. 4.8,9.11.

PSAL. XCVI.

An exhortation to praise God for his greatness. 5 The vanity of Idols. 8 God onely is to bee served. 9 His reigne and judgement is to be shewed to the Gentiles.

1 Sing yee to Jehovah a new song, sing ye
2 to Jehovah al the earth. Sing ye to Jehovah, bleffe ye his name, preach the good tidings of his salvation from day to day.
3 Tell among the nations his glory, among all peoples his marvellous workes. For great is 4 Jehovah, and praised vehemently, fearefull he is above all Gods. For all the gods of the 5 peoples are vaine idols, but Jehovah made the heavens. Glorious majesty and comely
6 honour are before him, strength and beauteous glory in his sanctuary. Give to Jehovah,
7 ye kindreds of the peoples, give to Jehovah glory and strength. Give to Jehovah the glory of his name; take up an oblation, & come into his courts. Bow downe your selves to Jehovah in the comely honour of the sanctuary, tremble yee at his feet all the earth. Say yee among the nations, Jehovah reigneth, the world also shall be stablished, it shall not be moved, hee will judge the peoples with righteousness. Let the heavens rejoyce, and the earth be glad: roare let the sea, and the plenty thereof. Let the field shew gladnesse, and all that therein is: then let all the trees of the wood shout joyfully. Before Jehovah, for hee commeth, for he commeth to judge the earth: hee will judge the world with justice, and the peoples with his faithfulness.

Annotations.

A New song &c.] see Psalme 33. 3. This Psalme is a part of that song wherewith God was celebrated when the Arke of his covenant was brought with joy into Davids citie from Obedom's house, 1 Chron. 16.23. &c. And it containeth a prophesie of Christs kingdome, and of the calling of the Gentiles from Idols to serve and praise the living God.

Verse 2. preach the good tidings] or Evangelists; see Psalme 40.10.

V. 4. praised] and praise-worthy; see Psal. 18.4.

Verse 5. Vaine idols] or things of nought, as the Apostle openeth this word, saying, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, 1 Cor. 8.4. Elim and Elohim, in Hebrew are Gods; of Strength, Elim, idols; as being Al-Elim not Gods, without strength. So elsewhere they are plainly called so Elohim, no Gods, 2 Chron. 13.9. unable to doe good or evill, and unprofitable, Ier. 10.5. Esay 44.9,10. And as the name of God is joyned with things to shew their excellencie, Psal. 36.7. so is this contrariwise, to shew their vanity; as of Physicians, Iob 13.4. of shepherds, Zach. 11.17. of false doctrine, Ier. 14.14. The Greeke here turneth it daimonia, devils, by which name idols are called, 1 Cor. 10.19,20. Rev 9.20. 2 Chron. 11.15.

Verse 6. beauteous glory] for this in 1 Chron. 16.27. is written joyfulness.

Verse 7. Give, &c.] Compare Psal. 29.1,2. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Bring a new song to God.

Verse 8. to his courts] to his face, or presence, as 1 Chron. 16.29.

Verse 9. of the sanctuary] or, of sanctity; see Psalme 29.2. tremble] or be pained, as in travell of child-birth.

Verse 10. with righteousness] that is, most righteousness.

Verse 11. Let rejoyce] or shall rejoyce; and so the rest. So Psalme 98.7,8,9. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Let the hosts of heaven rejoyce, and the just of the earth be glad.

Verse 13. with justice] or, in justice, that is, justly; so Revel. 19.11. Act. 17.31. Psal. 99.

PSAL. XC VII.

The majestic of Gods kingdom. 7 The Churchre-joyceth as Gods judgements upon idolaters. 10 An exhortation to godlinesse and gladnesse.

1 Jehovah reigneth, let the earth be glad,
2 let the many iles rejoyce. Cloud and gloomy darkenesse are round about him, 3 justice and judgement are the stable-place of his throne. Fire goeth before him, and fla-4 meth round about his distressers. His lightnings illuminate the world, the earth seeth
5 and trembleth. The mountaines like waxe melt at the presence of Jehovah, at the pre-6 sence of the Lord of all the earth. The heavens declare his justice, and all peoples see 7 his glory. Abashed be all they that serve a graven thing, that gloriously boast them-8 selves in vaine idols; bow down your selves to him all ye Gods. Sion heareth and rejoy-9 ceth, and glad are the daughters of Judah, because of thy judgements Jehovah. For thou Jehovah art high above all the earth,
vehemently art thou exalted above all gods.
10 Ye lovers of Jehovah, hate evil; he keepeth
the foules of his gracious Saints, he will de-11 liver them from the hand of the wicked.
12 Light is sowne for the just, and joy for the right of heart. Rejoyce ye just in Jehovah, and confesse to the remembrance of his ho-lineffe.

Vnto this the Apostle seemeth to have reference, saying, when he bringeth in his first begotten into the world, hee saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him, Hebr. 1.6. Although the very words of the Apostle are found in the Greeke version of Deut. 32. 43. but the Hebrew there hath none such. See the fulfilling of this, Luk. 2. 13.14. Marke 1.13. Rev. 5.11.12.

PSAL. XC VIII.

The Psalmist exhorteth the Iewes, 4 the Gentiles, 7 and all creatures to praise God for his salvation by Christ.

A Psalm.

1 Sing yee to Jehovah a new song, for hee hath done marvellous things: his right hand hath saved him, and the arme of his holinesse. Jehovah hath made knowne his 2 salvation, to the cities of the nations he hath revealed his justice. He hath remembered his 3 mercy, and his faithfulnessse to the house of Israel; all the ends of the earth have seene
the salvation of our God. Shout triumphant-4 ly to Jehovah, all the earth shout cheerfully, and shout joyfully, and sing Psalmes. Sing
5 Psalmes to Jehovah with harpe, with harpe
and voice of a Psalm. With trumpets, and 6 voice of the cornet, shout triumphantly before the King Jehovah. Let the sea roar, and 7 the plenty thereof, the world, and they that sit therein. Let the rivers clap the hands to-8 gether, let the mountaines shout joyfully. Be-9 fore Jehovah, for hee is come to judge the earth; hee will judge the world in justice,
and the peoples in righteousness.

PSAL. XCIX.

The Prophet setting forth the kingdome of God in Sion, exhorteth all by the example of fore-fathers, to worship God at his holy mountaine.

1 Jehovah reigneth, the peoples are stirred:
2 he sitteth on the Cherubims, the earth is 3 moved. Jehovah is great in Sion, and 4 high he is above all the peoples. Let them
5 confesse thy name, great and fearefull, holy 6 it is. And the strength of the King loveth
7 judgement: thou hast stablished righteous-
8 nesses, thou hast done in Iakob judgement 9 and justice. Exalt yee Jehovah our God, and bow downe your selves at the footstool of his feet, holy he is. Moses and Aaron, with his Priests, and Samuel, with them that call on his name: they called upon Jehovah, and he answered them. In the pillar of a cloud he spake unto them; they kept his testimonies, and the decree he gave them. Jehovah our God, thou answeredst them, a God forgiving thou wast unto them, and taking vengeance on their practises. Exalt ye Jehovah our God, and bow downe your selves at the mountaine of his holinesse, for Jehovah our God is holy.

Annotations.

1 A Re stirred] or, though they be stirred, to wit, with anger; as the Greeke translateth, bee angry: see Psal. 4. 5. This is opened in Rev. 11. 17, 18. thou (Lord) reignest, and the nations are angry. Thus the wicked are affected, but the godly doe rejoyce, Psal. 97. 1. bee sitteth] or, even bee that sitteth on the Cherubims, reigneth: see Psal. 80. 2. is moved] with indignation, stirred up to resist, as Act. 17. 13.

4 Verse 4. the strength] this is joyned with Gods wrath, Ezr. 8. 22. and here seemeth to have like meaning, that God is strong to punish in judgement the rebellious, and defend his people.

5 V. 5. at the footstool] or toward it, meaning the Sanctuary and Arke there, Esay 60. 13. 1 Chron. 28. 2. Lam. 2. 1. Psal. 132. 7. Ezek. 43. 7. he is] as is expressed, vers. 8. or it (the temple) is holy.

6 Verse 6. with his Priests] or, among his principall officers; see the like phrase in Psal. 54. 6. The Hebrew Cohen, which we call a Priest or Sacrificer, is the name of the Kings chiefe officer, as in 2 Sam. 8. 18. Davids sons were Cohens (chiefe Rulers, Aularchai as the Greeke termeth them) which is expounded in 1 Chron. 18. 17. to bee the first (or Chiefe) at the Kings hand. It hath the name of ministration, Esay 61. 6. 10. and was a title specially given to Aaron and his sonnes, that ministred unto God in the Sanctuary, Exod. 28. 3. 4. 41. called] or were calling, that is, prayed for the people, as Exod. 32. 11. &c. Num. 14. 17. 19. & 16. 22. 46. 1 Sam. 7. 9. and 12. 19. 23. Hercupon Moses and Samuel were noted for chiefe intercessours with God, Ier. 15. 1. So the Chaldee here expounds it, his Priests which gave their lives for the Lords people; and Samuel prayed to the Lord for them, as the fathers of old, which prayed in his name.

7 Verse 7. of a cloud] as Exod. 33. 9. Numb. 16. 42. and this noteth Gods favour, but with some obscurity; and so is inferiour to the mediation of Christ, who hath without clouds or shadowes obtained eternall redemption for us, that wee may goe boldly to the throne of grace, for to receive mercy and find grace to helpe in time of need, Heb. 4. 14. 16. and 7. 25. and 9. 11. 12.

8 Verse 8. a God for-giving] a mighty God that pardonedst or tookest away, to wit, the punishment of their sin: see Psal. 25. 18. and taking] or though thou tookest vengeance. on their practises] theirs, that is, the peoples, for whom Moses prayed, as Num. 14. 20, 21. 23. Exod. 32. 14. 34. 35. or theirs, that is, Moses and Aarons sins, which God punished, and would not be intreated, as Numb. 20. 12. Deut. 3. 23, 24, 25, 26.

PSAL. C.

An exhortation to prayse God cheerefully for his grace goodnesse, and fidelity.

A Psalm for Confession.

1 Shout ye triumphantly to Jehovah, all
2 the earth. Serve ye Jehovah with glad-
3 nesse, come before him with singing
4 joy. Know yee that Jehovah he is God, hee
5 made us, and not we, his people, and sheep of his pasture. Enter ye his gates with confession, his courts with praise; confesse yee to him, blesse ye his name. For Jehovah is good, his mercy is for ever, and his faith unto generation and generation.

Annotations.

1 For confession] for the publike praise of God, with thanks for his mercies. all the earth] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, all inhabitants of the earth.

Verse 2. singing] or shrilling, shouting mirth.

Verse 3.

- 3 Verse 3. made us ] this word is used both for our first creation in nature, Gen. 1. 26. and for the making of us high and excellent with graces & blessings, as 1 Sam. 12. 6. Deut. 32. 6. Elay 43. 7. and 29. 23. Ephes. 2. 10. and not we ] or, and his we are: as the Hebrew in the margine readeth it. Both senses are good: and the Chaldee keepeth this latter, his we are. sheepe ] or flocke which hee feedeth. See Ezek. 34. 30, 31. Psalme 95. 7.
- 4 Verse 4. confession ] the sacrifice of thanks was thus named, 2 Chron. 29. 31. Ier. 17. 26.
- 5 Verse 5. saith ] or, faithfulness: truth, in performing his promises.

P S A L M E C I I.

David maketh a profession of godlinesse touching his own person, his house, and the Citie of God, in cherishing the good, and suppressing the wicked.

A Psalm of David.

- 1 Mercy and judgement I will sing to thee, Jehovah will I sing Psalme. I
- 2 will doe wisely in the perfect way, when wilt thou come unto me? I wil walke in the perfection of mine heart, in the midst of mine house. I will not set before mine eyes any word of Belial: I hate the doing of them that turne aside, it shall not cleave unto me. A froward heart shal depart from me, I will know none evill. He that in secret hurteth with tongue his fellow-friend, him will I suppress: the haughty of eyes, and large of heart, him I cannot suffer.
- 6 Mine eyes shall be on the faithfull of the land, for to sit with me; he that walketh in the perfect way, he shall minister to me. He shall not sit within my house that doth deceit, hee that speaketh lies shall not be established before mine eyes. In the mornings I will suppress all the wicked of the land, for to cut off from the Citie of Jehovah all the workers of iniquity.

Annotations.

- 1 Mercy and judgement ] This may be meant of Davids owne administration: howbeit the Chaldee understandeth it of Gods, saying, If thou dealest mercifully with me, if thou dost judgement with me for all, I will sing praise.
- 2 Verse 2. doe wisely ] behave my selfe prudently; as David is said to doe, 1 Sam. 18. 14. when wilt thou come ] namely, to assist me in the performance hereof: or, when thou shalt come; namely, to call me unto an account of my life, &c.
- 3 Verse 3. of Belial ] that is, mischievous (or wicked) word or thing. See Psal. 41. 9.
- 4 Verse 4. know ] or acknowledge, that is, regard, or approve: so Psal. 1. 6.
- 5 Verse 5. hurteth with tongue ] that traduceth, or (as the Hebrew phrase is) betongueth. Hereupon

a man of tongue, is for a pratler or calumniator, Psa. 140. 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth, He that speaketh with a third (or three fold) tongue, against his neighbour; meaning a back-biter or calumniator, which is said of the Hebrew doctors to have a threefold tongue, because hee hurteth three therewith; both himselfe by his sinne, and his neighbour whom he backbiteth, and the receiver of his tale whom he corrupteth. Hereupon is that saying of Ben Syrach, A third tongue hath disquieted many, Ecclesi. 28. 15. and a third tongue hath east out verities women, Ecclesi. 28. 15: meaning the back-biter, or tale-bearer. See the Annotations on Levit. 19. 16. large ] or wide, broad of heart; meaning proud, as Prov. 21. 4. So, large of soule, Prov. 28. 25, is proud in mind. I cannot ] here the word beare, or suffer is to be understood, as is expressed, Prov. 30. 21. So Iohn 31. 23. and in Cor. 1 Cor. 3. 2.

Verse 8. In the morning ] that is, every morning, or early: see Psalme 73. 14.

The Prophet in his prayer complaineth of his miseries. 13. Hee taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God. 19. The record hereof is for posterity. 24. Hee sustaineth his weakness by the unchangeableness of Christ.

A Prayer for the poore afflicted, when hee shalbe overwhelmed, & shall powre forth his meditation before Jehovah.

Jehovah heare my prayer, and let my cry come unto thee. Hide not thy face from me in the day of distresse upon me, incline thine care unto me; in the day I call, make hast, answer me. For my daies are consumed as smoke, & my bones are burnt as an hearth. Mine heart is smitten as grasse and withered, that I forget to eat my bread. For the voice of my groning, my bone cleaveth to my flesh. I am like a Pelican of the wilderness: I am as an Owl of the desarts. I watch & am as a Sparrow, solitary upon the house rooffe. All the dayes mine enemies doe reproach me; they that rage against me, have sworne against me. For I eat ashes as bread, and mingle my drink with weeping. Because of thine angry threat & thy fervent wrath, forthou hast heaved me up, and cast mee down. My daies are as a shadow declined, & I am withered as grasse. And thou Jehovah fittest for ever, & thy memoriall to generation & generation. Thou wilt arise, wilt have tender mercy upon Sion, for the time to be gracious unto it, for the appointed time is come. For thy servants delight in the stones thereof, and doe pittie the dust thereof.

N n n n n 3

And

16 And the heathens shal feare the name of Je-17 hovah, and all the Kings of the earth thy 18 glory. When Jehovah shall build up Sion, 19 shall appeare in his glory. Shall turne unto 20 the prayer of the lowly, & not despise their 21 prayer. This shall be written for the gene-22 ration after, and the people created shall 23 praise Iah. For he hath looked downe from 24 the height of his holinesse, Jehovah from 25 the heavens did behold the earth. To heare 26 the groaning of the prisoner, to loose the 27 sons of death. To tell in Sion the name of 28 Jehovah, and his praise in Ierusalem. When 29 the peoples shall be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serve Jehovah. Hee hath afflicted my strength in the way, hee hath shortned my daies. I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my daies, thy yceres are through generation of generations. Afore-time thou hast founded the earth, and the heavens are the worke of thine hands. They shal perish, but thou shalt stand; and they all shall wax old as a garment, as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same, and thy yeers shall not be ended. The sons of thy servants shall dwell, and their seed shall be established before thee.

Annotations.

- 1 F Or the poore ] agreeing in his estate; or, of the
 poore. overwhelmed ] with feares, cares, sorrowes, &c. See Psalme 61.3.
- 4 Verse 4. as smoke ] or, with the smoke, vanishing in the aire, so Psal. 37.20. The Hebrew letters
 a beth, winb, and a beth, as, are one like another,
 and sometime put one for another, as 2 Sam. 5.
 24. with 1 Chron. 14.15. an heart ] the place
 whereon fire burneth. Compare Iob 30.30.
- 5 Verse 5. as grasse ] or as the herbes smitten with blasting, Amos 4.9. to eat my bread ] The Chaldee applieth this to the bread of the soule,
 the Law of God.
- 6 Verse 6. to my flesh ] that is, my skin, as Iob 19.
 20. so elsewhere skin is put for flesh, Iob 18.13. See also Lam. 4.8.
- 7 Verse 7. a Pelican ] a bird living in wild and desolate places, Zeph. 2.14. Esay 34.11. It seemeth to have the name in Hebrew of vomiting, and to be that fowle which we call the shouard, which swalloweth shell-fishes, and after vomiteth them to get the fish. It was a bird uncleane by the law, Levit. 11.18. Some thinke it to bee the birtour, which maketh a loud and dolefull noise. Compare Iob 30.29.
- 9 Verse 9. rage against me ] or vaunt against; or,
 would make a foole of me: the Greeke saith, that praise me; meaning fainedly. The word signifieth to lift up with praise and glory; and also ingloriously to vaunt, rage, or be mad: see Psal. 5.6.

 and 75.5. The word against is here to bee understood: as in Prov. 8.35. bee that firmeth against me.
 An example of such raging madnesse, see against Christ, Luke 6.11.

Verse 12. declined ] or stretched out; as the shadow of the Sunne, when it is neere downe, which though it seeme longer, yet soone passeth away.
 So Psalme 109.23. and 144.4.

Verse 13. fittest ] that is, continuest, as the Gr.
 explaineth it: for sitting and standing (as after in verse 27.) are often used for sure and seiled abiding.
 The Chaldee addeth, fittest for ever in heaven.
 thy memorial ] or remembrance of thee: so Psal. 135.
 13. from Exod. 3.15.

Verse 14. the appointed time ] promised for restoration of the Church, as Dan. 9.2. 24. 25. &c.
 Ier. 29.10.

Verse 15. delight ] or doe favour the stones, though ruinous: as Nehem. 2.13. &c. and 4.2. Zach. 1.12.

Verse 18. the lowly ] so the Greeke here turneth
 it, which elsewhere we call beate, that groweth in the wilderness, Ier. 17.6. and 48.6. by the name in Hebrew, it seemeth to be some naked shrub, and so a fit resemblance of Gods afflicted people,
 made low, naked, and desolate by their enemies.
 Or we may turne it, the broken downe, or ruined,
 from Ier. 51.58.

Verse 19. This shall be ] or, Let this be written, to wit, for remembrance to ages after, as Exod. 17.
 14. Deut. 31.19.21. This sheweth these to be prophecies for our times.

created ] that is,
 restored and made a new; as Psal. 104.30. Esay 65.18. created in Christ Iesus unto good works, Eph. 2.
 10. So, a people borne, Psalme 22.32.

Verse 20. the height of his holinesse ] that is, his holy high place, or his high sanctuary, meaning heaven.
 This is taken from Deut. 26.15.

Verse 21. groaning ] or mournfully cry: so Psal. 79.
 11. formes of death ] appointed to die, as Psal.
 79.11.

Verse 24. in the way ] in the course of my life; see Psalme 2.12. He respecteth the affliction of Israel, in the way that God led them thorow the wilderness, Deut. 8.2.3.

Verse 25. take me not away ] or, make me not affect: see Iohn 12.32. The Chaldee addeth, take me not away out of this world, bring mee unto the world that is to come.

Verse 26. Afore-time ] that is, At the beginning, Hebrewes 1.10. where these things spoken to God, are applyed to Christ, to prove his godhead.

Verse 27. shalt stand ] that is, endure, or continue,
 as the Greeke expresth it, Hebrewes 1.11.
 change them ] by folding them up, as the Greeke explaineth, Heb. 1.12. for the heavens when they are changed shall be folded like a booke, Esay 34.4.

Verse 28. art the same ] or, art he, that is, unchangeable, Mal. 3.6. Iam. 1.17.

Verse 29. shall dwell ] to wit, in Sion, verse 14.22.
 as is also exprest, Psal. 69.36.37. before thee ]
 that is, so long as thou dost dure, meaning for ever,
 as

as the Greeke well explaineth it. So, before the Moone and Sunne, Psalme 72. 5. 17. is so long as the Moone and Sunne endure.

PSALME CIII.

David stirreth up his soule to blesse God for his mercies. 6 Hee remembreth Gods former actions to his people; 8 His pitie, 9 Patience, 10 Clemency. 15 Mans frailty. 17 Gods constancie in his graces, for which all are to blesse him.

A Psalme of David.

1 MY soule, blesse thou Jehovah, & all 2 my inward parts the Name of his
3 Holinesse. My soule; blesse thou
4 Jehovah, & forget not all his rewards. That 5 mercifully pardoneth al thine iniquities, that
6 healeth all thy sicknesses. That redeemeth
7 thy life from the pit of corruption, that 8 crowneth thee with mercies and tender pit-
9 ties. That satiateth thy mouth with good
10 things, thy youth is renewed as an Eagles.
11 Jehovah doth justices and judgements to all 12 oppressed. He made knowne his wayes to 13 Moses, his actions to the sons of Israel. Je-14 hovah is pitifull and gracious, long suffering, 15 and much of mercy. He will not contend to 16 continuall aye, neither keepe (his anger) for 17 ever. He hath not done to us according to 18 our sinnes, nor rewarded us according to 19 our iniquities. But as is the height of the 20 heavens above the earth, so strong is his mer-21 cy over them that feare him. As far remote 22 as the East is from the West, so farre hath he removed our trespasses from us. As a father hath pittie on his sons, Jehovah hath pittie on them that feare him. For he knoweth our forming, remembring that we are dust. Sorry-man, his daies are as grasse, as a flower of the field so flourisheth he. For a wind passeth over it, and it is not, and the place ther-of shall not know it any more. But the mercy of Jehovah endureth from eternity, and unto eternity, upon them that feare him, and his justice to the childrens children. To them that keepe his covenant, and that remember his precepts for to doe them. Jehovah hath firmely prepared his throne in the Heavens, and his Kingdome ruleth over all. Blesse Jehovah, ye his Angels; mighty of strength doing his Word, hearkening to the voice of his Word. Blesse Jehovah, all ye his hosts, dayes of thy youth, as is said, Job 33. 25. This change is by the renewing of the mind, Romans 12. 2. wrought by the holy Ghost, Titus 3. 5. The Chaldee applieth it to reniuing in the world to come.

ture and condition, our matter and forme, the original word properly is a formed vessel of earth, applied to our fraile estate, Rom. 9. 20. 21. Sometime this is spoken of our fictions and sinfull ima-

Chaldee interpreteth it here, our evill concupiscence which carrieth in into error.

A meditation upon Gods powerfull workes and wonderful providence, in creating and governing the world and creatures therein. 31 Gods glory is eternall. 33 The Prophet cometh perpetually to praise him.

1 MY soule, blesse thou Jehovah; Jehovah, my God, thou art vehemently great: thou araicst thy selfe with 2 Majesty and comely honour. Decking himselfe with light as with a garment, stretching 3 out the heavens as a curtaine. Planchering his lofts in the waters, making the clouds his Chariot, walking upon the wings of the wind. Making his Angels spirits, his Ministers a flaming fire. Hee hath founded the 4 earth upon her bases, it shall not be moved 5 for ever and aye. Thou coveredst it with the 6 deepe as with a raiment, the waters stood above the mountaines. At thy rebuke they 7 fled, at the voice of thy thunder they hasted
8 away. The mountaines they went up, the vallies they went downe to the place which 9 thou foundest for them. Thou didst set a bound, they shall not passe, they shall not returne to cover the earth. That sendeth wel-
10 springs in the vallies, they walke betweene the mountaines. They give drinke to all the 11 wild beasts of the field, the wild asses break their thirst. By them the fowle of the Heaven dwelleth, from betweene the branches 12 they give the voice. That watreth the mountaines from his lofts, the earth is filled with 13 the fruit of thy workes. That maketh grasse to grow for the cattle, and the herbe for the 14 use of man, bringing forth bread out of the earth. And wine that rejoyceth the heart of 15 sorry man, making the face cheerfull with 16 oile; and bread that upholdeth the heart of 17 sorry man. Filled are the trees of Jehovah, 18 the Cedars of Lebanon which hee planted.

19 That there the birds may make their nest;
20 the Storke, the Fir-trees are her house. The 21 high mountains for the wild goats, the rocks
22 a shelter for the conies. He made the Moone 23 for appointed times, the Sunne knoweth his 24 going downe. Thou puttest darknesse and 25 it is night, in it do creep forth all wild beasts 26 of the wood. The lurking Lions roaring for 27 the prey, & seeking their meat of God. The 28 Sun riseth, they gather them away, & couch 29 downe in their dens. Out goeth man unto 30 his worke, & to his labour till evening. How 31 many are thy works, Jehovah! all of them
32 hast thou done in wisdom, the earth is full 33 of thy riches. This Sea great and wide of 34 spaces, there are creeping things even innumerable, small wild beasts with great. There 35 goe the ships; Leviathan whom thou hast formed to play therein. They all look attentively unto thee, to give them their food in his time. Thou givest it to them, they gather it, thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good. Thou hidest thy face, they are suddenly troubled; thou gatherest their spirit, they breath out the ghost, and returne unto their dust. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth. The glory of Jehovah be for ever, rejoyce let Jehovah in his deeds. Hee looketh upon the earth and it trembleth, he toucheth the mountaines and they smoke. I will sing to Jehovah in my selfe; I will sing Psalmes to my God while I am. Sweet shall my meditation be of him; I will rejoyce in Jehovah. Consumed be sinners out of the earth, and wicked men be they no more; my soule, blesse thou Jehovah, Hallelujah.

PSAL. CV.

An exhortation to praise God, and to seeke out his workes. 7 The story of Gods providence over Abraham; 16 Over Ioseph; 23 Over Iakob in Egypt; 26 Over Moses delivering the Israelites; 37 Over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, sed in the wilderness, and plained in Canaan.

1 Confesse yee to Jehovah, call on his
2 Name, make knowne his actions a-3 mong the peoples. Sing ye to him,
4 sing Psalme to him, discourse of all his mar-
5 vellous workes. Glory yee in the Name of 6 his holinesse, let the heart of them that seek 7 Jehovah rejoyce. Seeke Jehovah and his 8 strength, seeke yee his face continually. Re-9 member yee his marvellous workes that he
10 hath done, his wonders, and the judgements
11 of his mouth. Seed of Abraham his servant,
12 sonnes of Iakob his chosen ones. Hee is Je-13 hovah our God, his judgements are in al the 14 earth. He remembreth his covenant for ever,
15 the word that hee commanded to the thou-
16 sand generation. Which he stroke with A-17 braham, and his oath unto Isaak. And sta-18 blished it to Iakob for a decree, to Israel for 19 a covenant of eternity. Saying, To thee 20 will I give the land of Canaan, the line of 21 your inheritance. When they were men 22 (few) of number, very few, and strangers in 23 it. And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people. Hee suffered not any man to doe them wrong, but reprov'd kings for them. Touch not mine anointed, and to my Prophets doe no evill. And hee called a famine upon the land, he brake all the staffe of bread. He sent before them a man, Joseph was sold for a servant. They afflicted his feet with fetters, his soule entred the iron. Vntill the time his word came, the saying of Jehovah tried him.
The King sent and loosed him, the ruler of the people, and released him. Hee put him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his possession. To bind his Princes to his soule, and make wise his Elders. And Israel came into Egypt, and Iakob sojourn'd in the land of Cham. And he increased his people greatly, and made them stronger than their distres-fers. He turned their heart to hate his people, to deale craftily with his servants. He sent Moses his servant, Aaron whom he had chosen. They put among them the words of his signes, & wonders in the land of Cham.

He sent darknesse and made it darke, & they turned not rebellious against his word. Hee turned their waters to blood, and slew their fish. Their land abundantly brought forth frogs, in the privie Chambers of their kings.
Hee said, and there came a mixed swarme, lice in all their border. He gave their showers to be haile, fire of flames in their land.
And smote their Vine & their Fig-tree, and brake the trees of their border. He said, and the Grasshopper came, and the Caterpillar, even without number. And did eat up all the herbes in their land, and did eat up the fruit of their ground. And hee smote all the first-borne in their land, the beginning of all their strength. And he brought forth them with silver and gold, and none among their Tribes was feeble. Egypt rejoyced when they went out, for the dread of them had fallen upon them. Hee spread a cloud for a covering, and a fire to enlighten the night.
They asked, & he brought the Quale, and with the Bread of Heavens hee satisfied them. He opened the Rock, and the waters flowed out, they went in dry places like a river. For he remembred the Word of his Holinesse to Abraham his servant. And brought forth his people with joy, his chosen with shouting joy. And gave to them the lands of the Heathens, & they possessed the labour of the peoples. That they might observe his statutes and keepe his lawes, Halelu-jah.

Or, they may be referred to Moses and Aaron, who performed the things commanded them, though with danger to them.

P S A L. C V I.

The Psalmist exhorteth to praise God. 4 His prayer for pardon of sinne, as God did with the fathers. 7 The storie of the peoples rebellion and Gods mercies. 47 Hee concludeth with prayer and praise.

1 H Alelu-jah, Confesseye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever. Who can expresse the powers of Jehovah, can cause to heare all his praise? O blessed are they that keep judgement, is he that doth justice in al time.

4 Remember me, Jehovah, with the favourable acceptation of thy people; visit mee with thy salvation. To see the good of thy chosen, to rejoyce with the joy of thy nation, to glory with thy inheritance. We have sinned with our fathers, we have done crookedly, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers in Egypt did not prudently mind thy marvellous workes, they remem-

bred not the multitude of thy mercies, but turned rebellious at the sea, at the red sea. Yet hee saved them for his Name sake, to make knowne his power. And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried up; and hee led them in the deepes as in the wilderness. And he saved them from the hand of the hater, & redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. And the waters covered their distressers, one of them was not left. And they beleaved in his words, they sang his praise.

They made haste, they forgot his workes, they waited not for his counsell. But lusted with lust in the wilderness, & tempted God in the desert. And he gave to them their request, and sent leanness into their soule.

And they envied at Moses in the campe, at Aaron the holy one of Jehovah. The earth opened & swallowed up Dathan, and covered over the congregation of Abiram. And a fire burned in their congregation, a flame burnt up the wicked.

They made a calfe in Horeb, and bowed themselves to a molten Idoll. And turned their glory into the forme of an Oxe that eateth grasse. They forgot God their Saviour, that did great things in Egypt. Marvellous workes in the land of Cham, fearefull things by the red sea. And he said to abolish them; had not Moses, his chosen stood in the breach before him, to turne his wrathfull heart from destroying them.

And they contemptuously refused the land of desire, they beleaved not his Word. But murmured in their tents; they heard not the voice of Jehovah. And hee lifted up his hand to them, to fell them in the wilderness. And to fell their seed among the heathens, and to fan them in the land.

And they were joyned to Baal-pehor, and did eat the sacrifices of the dead. And moved indignation by their actions, and the plague brake in upon them. And Phineas stood & executed judgement, & the plague was restrained. And it was counted to him for justice to generation and generation for ever.

And they caused fervent wrath at the waters of Meribah, and evill was to Moses for their sake. For they bitterly provoked his spirit, and hee pronounced it with his lips. They abolished not the peoples which Jehovah had said unto them. But mixed themselves among the heathens, & learned their works. And served their Idols, & they were to them for a snare. And they sacrificed their sonnes

38 sons and their daughters to Devils. And shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons
and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed to the Idols of Canaan; and the land 39 was impiously distained with bloods. And they defiled themselves by their works, and 40 whored by their practises. And the anger of Jehovah was kindled against his people, and 41 he abhorred his inheritance. And hee gave them into the hand of the heathens, & their 42 haters ruled over them. And their enemies oppressed them, and they were humbled un-43 der their hand. Many times did he deliver them, and they bitterly provoked by their 44 counsell; and were brought downe by their 45 iniquitie. Yet he saw when distresse was on them, when he heard their cry. And he re-membred toward them his covenant, and re-46 pented according to the multitude of his mercies. And gave them to tender mercies;
before all that led them captives.
47 Save thou us, Jehovah our God, and gather us from the heathens, for to confesse unt 48 the Name of thine holinesse, to glory in thy praise. Blessed be Jehovah, God of Israel, from eternitie and unto eternitie; and let all the people say, Amen, Hallelu-jah.

voked to bitterness; see Psalme 5. 11. By the red sea
the Israelites distrusted God; and murmured against Moses, Exod. 14. 11, 12. yet there he saved them, verse 15, 16, &c. the red Sea] so the new Testament calleth it in Greeke, Hebr. 11. 29. but the Hebrew is the sea Suph, that is, the sea of sedgeor sea weeds which grew therein.

sed the waves, &c. See the like, Nahum 1. 4. Isa. 50.

rael went in the bottom of the red sea on dry ground,

the chiefe of them.

Verse 19. in Horeb] a Mount in the wilderness, called the mountaine of God, Exod. 3. 1. 1 Kings 19.
8. for there God gave his Law, and made a covenant with them, Deut. 4. 10. and 5. 2. but while Moses was with God in the Mount, they made themselves a god of gold, Deuteronomie 9. 8, 9, 12.
Exodus 32. 1, 4, 31. It was called also Sinai,

rab of the drineste, for it was a waterlesse desert,

and put out their name from under Heaven, as is expressed, Deuteronomie 9. 13, 14. in the breach] in the gap which their sinne had opened, for God as an enemy to enter and destroy them. A similitude taken from Warre, when by a breach in the wall, the enemy entrench the cite: so Ezek.

ped this breach, Exodus 32. 11, 14. destroy- naan, which was to be desired for the pleasures and

leeve refused to take possession of, Numb. 14. 1, 2, meat, Job 33. 20.

Verse 26. his hand] that is, sware (as the Chaldee explaineth) for so lifting up the hand often sig-

 name whereby the Heathens called their gods,

PSAL. CVII.

The Psalmist exhorteth the redeemed, in praising God
 to observe his manifold providence, 4 over Travellers, 10 over Captives, 17 over sicke men, 23 over Sea men, 33
 and in divers varieties of life.

CONFESSE ye to Jehovah, for he is good; 1
 for his mercie endureth for ever. Let 2
 the redeemed of Jehovah say it, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the di- 3 stresser. And gathered them out of the lands, from East & from West, from North 4 and from the sea. They wandered in the wilderness, in the desert without way; they 5 found not a dwelling Citie. Hungry and also thirsty, their soule was overwhelmed in 6 them. And they cried unto Jehovah in their distresse; he rid them free out of their angui- 7 shes. And he led them in a right way, for to come unto a dwelling Citie. Let them 8
 confesse to Jehovah his mercie, and his marvellous works to the sons of Adam. For he 9 hath satisfied the thirsty soule, and filled the hungry soule with good.

They that sit in darknesse and the shadow 10
 of death, bound in affliction and iron. Be- 11 cause they turned rebellious against the Words of God, and despised the counsell 12 of the most high. And he humbled their hart with molestation; they stumbled down, 13 and there was no helper. And they cried unto Jehovah in their distresse; he saved them 14 out of their anguishes. He brought them forth from darknesse and shadow of death, and brake their bands. Let them confesse to 15
 Jehovah his mercie, & his marvellous works
 to

16 to the sonnes of Adam. For he hath broken the doores of brasse, and hewed asunder the barres of iron.

17 Fooles, for the way of their trespassse, and 18 for their iniquities are afflicted. Their soule 19 abhorreth all meat, and they approch to the 20 gates of death. And they cry unto Jehovah 21 in their distresse; he saveth them out of 22 their anguishes. He sendeth his word and 23 healeth them, and delivereth from their cor-24 ruptions. Let them confesse to Jehovah his 25 mercie, and his marvellous workes to the 26 sons of Adam. And let them sacrifice the 27 sacrifices of confession, and tell his workes
28 with shouting.

29 They that goe downe to the sea in ships,
30 that doe their labour in the many waters;
31 They doe see the workes of Jehovah, and 32 his marvellous acts in the deepe. For hee
33 saith, and raiseth up the stormy wind; and it
34 lifeth up the waves thereof. They mount 35 up to the Heavens, they goe downe to the 36 deepes; their soule in evill melteth away.
37 They reele and stagger like a drunken man, 38 and all their wisdom is swallowed up. And 39 they cry unto Jehovah in their distresse, and 40 he bringeth them out from their anguishes.
41 He setteth the storme to a silent calme, and 42 the waves thereof are quiet. And they re-43 joyce because they are stilled, and he leades them unto the haven of their desire. Let them confesse to Jehovah his mercy, and his marvellous works to the sons of Adam. And let them exalt him in the Church of the people, & praise him in the sitting of the Elders. He putteth rivers to a wilderness, and issues of waters to a thirstinesse. A land of fruit to saltinesse, for the evill of them that dwell therein. He putteth the wilderness to a poole of waters, and the land of drought to issues of waters. And seateth there the hungry, and they firmly prepare a dwelling citie. And sow the fields, & plant vineyards;
& they yeeld fruitfull revenue. And he blef-seth them, and they are multiplied greatly; & their cattel he diminisheth not. And they are diminished & bowed down, by restraint, evill and sorrow. He powreth contempt on bounteous Princes, and maketh them erre in deformed wilderness without way. And raiseth up the needy from afflicting poverty, and putteth his families as a flocke. The righteous shall see and rejoyce, and all injurious evill stop her mouth. Who is wise and will observe these things; and they shall understand the mercies of Jehovah.

And they must make confession before tenne men, and two of them wise men, Psal. 107. 32. And the manner of confessing and blessing is thus; He standeth among them, and blesseth the Lord, the King eternall, that bounteously rewardeth good things unto sinners, &c. Maimony in Misneh, treat. of Blessings, chapter 10. section 8.

David encourageth himselfe to praise God. 6 He prayeth for Gods assistance according to his promise. 11 His confidence in Gods helpe.

1 A Song, a Psalm of David.

2 O God, mine heart is firmly prepared;
3 I will sing and sing Psalmes, yea with my glorie. Raise up Psalterie and Harpe; I will raise up at the day dawning. I will confesse thee among the peoples, O Jehovah, and will sing Psalmes to thee among the Nations. That thy mercie is great above the heavens, and thy truth unto the skies. Be thou exalted over the Heavens, O God, and over all the earth thy glory. That thy beloved may be delivered; save thou with thy right hand, and answer me. God spake by his holinesse, I will be glad; I shall divide Shechem, and measure the vally of Succoth. Gilead shall be mine, Manasseh mine, and Ephraim the strength of mine head; Jehudah shall be my Law-giver. Moab my washing pot, over Edom I shall cast my shooe, over Palestina I will shout. Who will leade me along to the citie of strong defence? who will conduct me into Edom? Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us away; & wouldst not goe forth, O God, in our hosts? O give thou us helpe from distresse, for false vanitie is the salvation of man. Through God we shall doe valiantnesse; and hee will tread downe our distressers.

Y Ea with my glory] that is, with my soule and tongue (as Psal. 16. 9.) or Yea my glory, to wit, shall sing. This Psalm is composed of the 57 Psalmes, from the 8. verse to the end, and of the 60 Psalmes, from the 7 verse to the end: see the Annotations there.

David complaining of his slanderous enemies, under the person of Iudas devoteth them. 16 He sheweth their sinne. 21 Complaining of his owne miserie, he prayeth for help. 29 He promiseth thankfulness.

To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalm of David.

O God of my praise, cease not as deafe. For the mouth of the wicked one, and the mouth of deceit are opened against me; they have spoken with me with a tongue of falshood. And with words of hatred have they compassed me about, & warred against me without cause. For my love they are adversaries to me, & I (give my self to) prayer. And they put upon me evill for good, and hatred for my love. Set in office over

7 over him the wicked one, and let the adversary stand at his right hand. When he shall 8 be judged, let him goe forth wicked, and his prayer be to sinne. Let his daies be few, his 9 office let another take. Let his sonnes be 10 fatherlesse, and his wife a widow. And let his sonnes wandering wander and beg, and 11 seeke out of their desolate places. Let the Creditor insnare all that he hath, & let stran-12 gers make spoile of his labour. Let there be none extending mercie to him, and let there be none shewing favour to his father-13 lesse children. Let his posterity be appointed to cutting off: in the generation next after let his name be wiped out. Let the iniquitie of 14 his fathers be remembred of Jehovah, and the sinne of his mother be not wiped out.
 15 Let them be before Jehovah continually, and hee cut off the memorie of them from 16 the earth. Because that he remembred not to doe mercie, but persecuted the poore afflicted and needy man, and the smitten 17 in heart, to slay him. And hee loved cursing, and let it come unto him; and he delighted not in blessing, and let it be farre 18 from him. And he cloathed himselfe with cursing as his raiment, and let it enter as waters into his inward part, and as oile into 19 his bones. Let it be to him as a garment wherewith hee may cover himselfe, and for a girdle wherewith hee may gird himselfe 20 continually. This be the worke of mine adversaries from Jehovah, and of them that 21 speake evill against my soule. And thou Jehovah, Lord, doe with mee for thy Name sake, for good is thy mercy, deliver thou me.
 22 For I am poore afflicted and needy, and 23 mine heart is wounded within me. As a shadow when it declineth I am gone away, I am 24 tossed as the Grasshopper. My knees are feeble through fasting, and my flesh is leane for 25 fatnesse. And I was a reproach to them;
 26 they saw me, they shaked their head. Helpe thou me Jehovah, my God; save me accord-27 ing to thy mercie. And let them know that this is thine hand, thou Jehovah hast done it.
 28 Let them curse, and doe thou blesse; rise
 they up and be abashed, and let thy servant
 29 rejoyce. Let mine adversaries be cloathed with ignominie, and let them cover them-30 selves with their shame as with a cloke. I will confesse Jehovah vehemently with my mouth, and in the midst of many will I praise 31 him. For he will stand at the right hand of the needy, to save him from them that judge
 his soule.

 ked Rulers. the adversarie] in Hebrew Satan, in Greeke the Devill, who is an adversarie to mankinde, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Rev. 12. 9. at his right hand] to resist and overcome him, Zach. 3. 1. and this is spoken of all his foes as of one man, or of some one speciall, as Doeg enemy to David, 1 Sam. 22. 9, &c.
 Judas to Christ, Joh. 13. 2. But God is at the right hand of the poore, verse 31. Psal. 116. 8.

Verse 8. his office] or charge, visitation, bishoprick, (Episcopée:) and this is applied to Judas, whose office was derived to Matthias, Act. 1. 16, 20, 26.

 is a common name to all overseers and offices,

 debted, or the extortioner, let him seise on all his goods, his labour] goods gotten by his labour.

Verse 13. posteritie] or his last end: see Pla. 37. 37.
 to cutting off] or, appointed to be cut off, to perdition or to destruction, as the Greeke explaineth.
 The verbe active is of passive signification, as Psal.
 32. 9. and 36. 3.

Verse 15. memory] or memoriall, Psal. 34. 17. Job
 18. 17.

Verse 16. smitten] with griefe, that is, sorrow-full, or as the Greeke saith, pricked in heart. So verse 22. See Psal. 102. 5. and 34. 19.

Verse 17. let it come] or, it shall come: and so after.

Verse 18. his raiment] or a mantell. let it enter] or, it entred: It may be understood of his delight in cursing, which pleased him as water and oile, or of the efficacy of the curse that should pierce his owne bowels and bones, as Num. 5. 22.

- 20 Verse 20. the worke] that is, the wage or reward due for his worke: so Lev. 19. 13. Isa. 49. 4. Iob 7. 2. Ezek. 29. 20.
- 21 Verse 21. Iehovah] the Name of God: see Psal. 68. 21. doe] to wit, mercy, as the next words shew, and is expressed, Psal. 18. 51. See also Psal. 103. 9. where the word anger is omitted.

See also Psal. 102. 12. 1 Chron. 17. 11. tosse as the grasshopper] or, shaken off as the Locust, which hath no nest or biding place, but is driven to and fro, being a fearefull creature, Nghum 3. 17. ## PSAL. CX.

David prophesieth of Christs Kingdome, 4 his eternall Priesthood, 5 his Conquest, 7 and his Passion.

A Psalm of David.

Iehovah assuredly said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand untill I put thine enemies the footstool of thy feet. Jehovah will send out of Sion the rod of thy strength; rule thou in the middes of thine enemies. Thy people shall be voluntaries in the day of thy power; in the beauties of holines, of the wombe of the early morning; to thee the dew of thy youth. Jehovah sware, and wil not repent, thou art a Priest for ever, according to the order of Malchisedek. The Lord at thy right hand, he hath wounded Kings in the day of his wrath. He shall judge among the heathens; he hath filled with corpses, he hath wounded the head over a great land. Of the brooke in the way shall he drinke, therefore he shall lift up the head.

Annotations.

Iehovah] that is; God the Father. assuredly said] see Psal. 36. 2. to my Lord] that is, to Christ, whom David here calleth his Lord, though he was also his sonne according to the flesh, Mat. 22. 42, 45. Rom. 1. 3. Act. 2. 34. So the Chaldee, The Lord said unto his Word, meaning, Christ, Ioh. 1. 1. fit at my right hand] sitting noteth reigning with continuance, 1 Cor. 15. 25. Heb. 10. 12, 13. So sitting on his throne, 1 King. 3. 6. is expounded, reigning in his stead, 2 Chron. 1. 8. Gods right hand meaneth his power and majesty in the Heavens, Luke 22. 69. Mark. 16. 19. Heb. 1. 3. and 8. 1. and this above all Angels, Heb. 1. 13. thine enemies] even all of them, the last whereof is death, 1 Corinthians 15. 25, 26. Of this place the Apostle giveth this exposition, Every Priest standeth daily ministring, and oft times offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sinnes: but this man having offered one sacrifice for sinnes, sitteth for ever at Gods right hand, henceforth expecting till his enemies be put the footstool of his feet, Hebrews 10. 11, 12, 13.

Verse 2. the rod] or staffe (Scepter) of thy strength; thy strong staffe (O Christ) that is, the powerfull word of thy Kingdome, Isa. 11. 4. Matth. 13. 19. which was to come out of Sion and Ierusalem, Isaiah 2. 3. Luke 24. 49. Acts 1. 4. and 2. 1, 2, &c. For in Sion Christ reigneth, Psal. 2. 6. Revel. 14. 1. rule thou] that is, thou shalt surely rule or have dominion: see the Notes on Psal. 37. 3.

Verse 3. voluntaries] a people of voluntarinesses, or of liberalities (as Psal. 68. 10.) that is, shall most freely, willingly, and liberally present themselves and their oblations to thee, as Judg. 5. 9. Acts 2. 41. Exo. 25. 2. Rom. 12. 1. Psal. 47. 10. & 119. 108. Song 6. 11. of thy power] or armie (as Psal. 33. 16.) that is, when thou sendest forth thy powerfull Gospel and Preachers of the same to conquer the world, Rom. 1. 16. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. Revel. 6. 2. Psal. 45. 4, 5, 6. in the beauties of holinesse] or in the comely honours of the Sanctuary; meaning either the comely (or honourable) places of holinesse, (or of the Sanctuary) as Psal. 29. 2. that is, the Church; or rather, in the beautifull ornaments of holinesse, that is, holy graces and vertues, wherewith Christ and his people are adorned, as the Priests and Levites of old with Urim, Thummim, and holy garments, Exod. 28. 2, 40. Isa. 52. 1. So, the Warriors in heaven are clothed with fine linen, white and pure, the righteousness of the Saints, Revel. 19. 8, 14. of the wombe, &c.] This place is difficult, and may diversly be understood, either of Christ himselfe, or of his people: and againe, if of Christ, either in respect of his Godhead or of his Manhood. Of his Godhead, that the Father saith unto him, of the wombe (that is, of mine owne essence) before the early morning, (that is, before the world was) to thee was (or thou hast) the dew of thy youth; (or birth) so noting the eternall generation of Christ before all worlds, as is shewed, shewed, Prov.8.22,23,24,25. And this sense the Lxx. Greek Interpreters seeme to follow, translating, Of the wombe before the morning starre begat I thee. If it be meant of Christs manhood, we may take it thus, of the wombe of the darke morning (or of the obscure wombe of the virgin) thou hadst the dew of thy birth. If of Christs people before mentioned, it may thus be read; Of the wombe of the morning to thee shall be (or shall come) the dew of thy youth, that is, thy youth (thy young or new-borne people) shall be to thee as the morning dew, which falleth secretly from heaven, and abundantly covereth the earth: For so the dew is sometime used, 2 Sam. 17. 12. and unto raine, dew, ice, &c. the Scripture applieth the names of wombe and begetting, Iob 38. 28, 29. and the increase of the Church is by this figure described, as, The remnant of Iakob shall be among many people, as, a dew from the Lord, as flowers upon the grasse, that waiteth not for man, &c. Mic. 5. 7. This last sense accordeth best with the beginning of the verse.

of the wombe] or from the wombe of the morning. of the early morning] or, before the dawning: the morning (or day-dawning) in Hebrew Mishchar, is named of the blacknesse or darknesse, which also the Scripture sheweth, Ioh. 30. 1. and the letter M. is either a preposition, signifying from or before, as Isa. 43. 13. or, but a part of the word, here meaning, of. to thee] understand was, or shall be; that is, thou hast, or shalt have. dew of thy youth] or, of thy birth, that is, thy youth which is like the dew. Youth or natiuitie, may either be taken properly for young age, as Eccle. 11. 9. or figuratively, for young persons, meaning the regenerate, which are as new borne babes, Ioh. 1. 13. and 3. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 2.

4 Verse 4. swore] Forasmuch (saith the Apostle) as it is not without an oath, &c. by so much is Iesus made surety of a better Testament, Hebr. 7. 20, 21. a Priest] or Sacrificer: see Psal. 99. 6. for ever,] Among the Levites, many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure by reason of death: but this man because he endureth ever, hath an everlasting priesthood. Wherefore hee is able also perfectly to save them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them, Heb. 7. 23, 24, 25. to the order] or according to my speech: both these interpretations are good, the one from the Apostles authority, Heb. 7. 17. the other from the Hebrew propriety dibrathi, as Job 5. 8. meaning the manner and order of Melchisedek, as God speaketh of him in the hist. rie, where he is brought in without father, mother, kindred, beginning of dayes, or end of life, continuing a Priest for ever, as the Apostle gathereth, Hebr. 7. 1, 3. from the narration, Genes. 14. 18. &c. of Melchisedek] the King of Salem, and Priest of the most high God, whose name and office is opened, Hebr. 7. 1, 2, &c. from which he inferreth, If perfection had bene by the Priesthood of the Levites, &c. what needed it that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedek, and not to be called after the order of Aaron? Hebr. 7. 11.

5 Verse 5. The Lord] Christ, as in verse 1. which the Chaldee calleth Shecinah, (the divine presence) of the LORD. at thy right hand] this may be spoken to God the Father, at whose right hand Christ sitteth, as verse 1. or to the people of God, at whose right hand he standeth, as Psal. 109. 31.

bath wounded] or shall wound, or embrew in bloud, as Psal. 68 22, 24. a prophesie spoken as of a thing done. So usually in the Prophets, Isa. 9. 6. and 53. 4, 5, &c. See this fulfilled, Rev. 19. 18.

6 Verse 6. bath filled] or shall fill, to wit, all places with dead bodies, slaine and unburi'd, as Ier. 16. 4. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, be bath filled the land with carcases of the wicked which are slaine. the head] Antichrist the man of sin, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, 2 Thes. 2. 3, 8. or head for heads, and land for lands; that is, all wicked governors wheresoever.

7 Verse 7. of the brooke] or streame, to wit, of afflictions (as waters usually signifie, Psal. 18. 5.) Christ was to drinke, that is, to suffer, and so to enter into his glory, Matth. 26. 39, 42. Luke 24. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 11. Philip. 2. 8, 9. Or, drinking of the brooke in the way, may meane a short refreshing of himselfe, and then a hot pursuit of his enemies without delay, till he hath got a full conquest of them. Compare herewith the history of Gedeons souldiers, Indg. 7. 4, 5, 6, &c. As waters sometimes signifie doctrine; so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, From the mouth of the Prophet he shall receive doctrine in the way.

PSAL. CXI.

The praises of God for his glorious and gracious workes.

- I Halelu-jah.
- I Will confesse Jehovah, with all the heart: in the secret of the righteous, and assembly.
- 2 Great are the actions of Jehovah, sought out of all that delight in them.
- 3 Glorious majesty, and comely honour is his worke, and his justice standeth to perpetuall aye.
- 4 He hath made a memoriall of his marvellous workes; gracious and pitifull is Jehovah.
- 5 He hath given a prey to them that feare him: hee will remember his covenant for ever.
- 6 He hath shewed to his people the able power of his actions, in giving to them the inheritance of the heathens.
- 7 The actions of his hands are truth and judgement; faithfull are all his precepts.
- 8 Stablished they are for aye for ever, done in truth and righteousness.
- 9 He sent redemption to his people, hee hath hath commanded his covenant for ever; holy and fearefull is his name.

10 The beginning of wisdome is the feare of Jehovah; good prudency have all they that doe them: his praise standeth to perpetuall aye.

Annotations.

1 Halelu-jah] Praise ye Ish. This Psalme setteth forth the praises of God, and is composed for, as Deut. 11. 12. Or sought out, that is, found, or manifested unto, as Isa. 65. 1. compared with Rom. 10. 20. Or sought, that is, worthy to be sought, as Praised, Psal. 18. 4. for praise-worthy. of all that

beare either sense.

3 Verse 3. Majestie] that is, most majesticall and honourable. standeth] that is, continueth, or

33. 11. 2 Cor. 9. 9. from Psal. 112. 9.

5 Verse 5. a prey] that is, a portion of meat, or food,
as the Greeke and Chaldee explaine it. So Prov.
31. 15. Mal. 3. 10.

6 Verse 6. in giving] or, to give unto them.

7 Verse 7. faithfull] or sure, constant: see Psal. 19. 8.

standeth] that is, abideth or continueth, as

PSAL. CXII.

The praises of the godly man, who hath the promises of this life, and of that which is to come. His prosperity shall be an eye-sore to the wicked.

Halelu-jah.

1 O Blessed is the man that feareth Jehovah; that delighteth greatly in his commandements.

2 His seed shall be mighty in the earth:
the generation of the righteous shall be blef-sed.

3 Wealthy store and riches shall bee in his house: and his justice standeth to perpetuall aye.

4 Unto the righteous light ariseth in dark-nesse: gracious, and pittifull, and just.

5 A good man doth graciously and lendeth: he will moderate his words in judgment.

6 Surely hee shall not be moved for ever: the just man shall be to everlasting momorie.

7 He will not feare for evill heare-say:
his heart is fixed, trusting in Jehovah.

8 His heart is stablished, he will not feare;
untill he see, upon his distresses.

9 He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poore; his justice standeth to perpetuall aye: his horne shall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked shall see, and be angry;
he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away:
the desire of the wicked shall perish.

Annotations.

Halelu-jah] or, Praise ye the LORD. This Psalme setteth out the praises of the godly man; and is composed after the order of the Hebrew Alphabet, even as the former 111. Psalme, with which in many things it is to be compared.

Verse 2. his seed] his children, as Psal. 21. 11.
Levit. 21. 17. So the Chaldee saith, his sones shall be mighty in the Law. the generation] their progenie, as Deut. 29. 22. Iob 42. 16. or, the na- tion, (the multitude) of righteous men: see Psal. 12. 8.
and 14. 5.

Verse 3. Wealth] or store of riches, sufficiency of wealth gathered with labour and indutry: the Hebrew Hon signifieth also sufficiency, Prov. 30. 15.

standeth] that is, continueth, abideth, as
Psa. 111. 3. where the very same is spoken of God.
So after, verse 9.

Verse 4. light ariseth] or springeth up, properly as the Sunne riseth, Mal. 4. 2. Light signifieth comfort, peace, joy, &c. as darknesse, affliction, Iob 30.
26. Esth. 8. 16. Psal. 107. 10. Lam. 3. 2. And so in Religion, A&T. 26. 18, 23. Rom. 2. 19. 2 Cor. 4. 6.
Compare this sentence with Esa. 58. 10. Exo. 10.
23. and the contrary, Iob 38. 15. gracious] this may be understood of God, thus; from him that is gracious, &c. as Psal. 111. 4. or of the godly man, that

that he is gracious, &c. as the next verse sheweth : or of the light, that it is gracious, &c. meaning it of God, who is our light, as Psal. 27. 1.

5 Verse 5. will moderate] or measure out, or carry and disperse them, as the Greeke explaineth it, by the similitude of a steward. his words] or affaires, matters. in judgement] or, with discretion, as is fit and right, Psal. 25. 9. Ezek. 34. 16.

6 Verse 6. Surely] or For: compare Psal. 15. 5.

7 Verse 7. heare-say] or bearing, that is, tidings, fame, rumour or report, which he heareth; as the word signifieth, Rom. 10. 16, 17. So that which one Euangelist calleth akos, hearing, Marke 1. 28. another calleth echos, a sound or echoe, Luke 4. 37. both meaning fame or rumour. See the contrary to this in the wicked, Jer. 49. 23. fixed] or firmlie prepared, not to be moved with ill tidings.

8 Verse 8. be see] to wit, Gods worke, or reward; see Psal. 54. 9. The Chaldee otherwise, thus, till he see redemption in distress.

9 Verse 9. scattered] to wit, his riches (as the Chaldee explaineth it) that is, given and lent it freely, without looking for any thing therof, as Luke 6. 35. though thereby he is more increased, Prov. 11. 24. See 2 Cor. 9. 9. justice] this generally is all righteousness, sometime almes; see Psal. 24. 5. his borne] that is, power and glory: so the Chaldee saith, his strength: see Psal. 75. 5, 11. and 92. 11. and 89. 18, 25. 1 Sam. 2. 1.

10 Verse 10. the desire] that is, the thing that hee desireth shall not be granted him. Compare Prov. 10. 24, 28. and 13. 12.

PSAL. CXIII.

An Exhortation to praise God for his excellencie, 6 for his mercie.

Halelu-jah.

1 Praise ye servants of Jehovah: praise
2 ye the name of Jehovah. Blessed be the name of Jehovah, from this time, 3 and for ever. From the rising of the Sunne, unto the going in of the same: praised be the 4 name of Jehovah. Jehovah is high, above all nations: his glory is above the heavens.
5 Who is like Jehovah our God, that lifteth
6 himselfe high, to sit? That debaseth himselfe low to see, in the heavens, and in the earth.
7 Hee raiseth the poore from the dust: hee
8 lifteth up the needy from the dung. To set him with bounteous Princes, with the boun-9 teous Princes of his people. He maketh the barren of house to dwell, a joyfull mother of children; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

2 From this time] or from now, henceforth. So Psal. 115. 18. and 121. 8. & 131. 3.

3 Verse 3. rising] that is, the East part of the world;

as Psal. 103. 12. going in] or going downe, that is, the West, where the Sunne is said to goe in, as when it riseth, to come out, Gen. 19. 23. meaning by East and West, all the world over: see Mal. 1. 11.

5 Verse 5. lifteth high to sit] or, to dwell, that is, (as the Greeke explaineth it) dwelleth on high: and so after, see the things below.

7 Verse 7. from the dust] that is, from base estate, as 1 Kings 16. 2. So after, from dung, as Lam. 4. 5. This speech is taken from 1 Sam. 2. 8.

9 Verse 9. the barren of house] that is, the woman which never had children; as on the contrary, fruitfull women are said to build their husbands houses, Ruth 4. 11. so house is used for children or posteritie, Psal. 115. 10, 12. Exod. 1. 21. See also Psal. 68. 7. The Scriptures apply this to the Church of the Gentiles; as, Rejoyce O barren that didst not beare, &c. Esa. 54. 1. Gal. 4. 26, 27.

PSAL. CXIV.

The deliverance of Israel out of Egypt affected the dumb creatures: all the earth are thereupon exhorted to feare God.

1 Vhen Israel went out from Egypt,
the house of Jakob from the people of a barbarous speech; Judah
2 was for his Sanctuary, Israel his dominions.
The sea saw, and fled: the Jarden turned a-3 bout backward. The mountains leaped like
4 Rams: the hills like yonglings of the flocke.
What ailed thee, O sea, that thou fleddest;
5 O Jarden, that thou turnedst about backward? O mountaines, that he leaped like 6 Rams: ye hills, like yonglings of the flocke.
At the presence of the Lord tremble thou
7 earth; at the presence of the God of Jakob.
That turneth the rocke to a lake of waters,
8 the flint to a fountaine of waters.

Annotations.

1 Barbarous speech] or, speaking barbarously, of a strange, rude, uncouth language. This word is here onely used, and meaneth all speech that was not understood of Gods people; which hee that speaketh, is called of the Apostle, a Barbarian, that is, a stranger, 1 Cor. 14. 11. even as here also the Chaldee turneth it. Spiritually it meaneth such as speake against the faith, the language of Canaan, Isa. 19. 18.

2 Verse 2. Judah] that is, the Congregation of that Tribe, which was most principall, Num. 2. 3. & 7. 12. and 10. 14. was] or became; and it is of the feminine gender, to signifie the Congregation, usually named a daughter, as Psal. 9. 15. his Sanctuary] sanctitie, or sanctification, which God had sanctified to dwell among them, Lev. 19. 2. and 20. 7, 26. and 26. 11, 12. 2 Cor. 6. 16. The Chaldee explaineth

plaineth it thus, The Church of the house of Judah was united to his holiness, Israel to his dominions. dominions] or dominations (Seigniories) ruling over the Tribes by his lawes and spirit.

3 Verse 3. The sea] the red Sea, thorow which Israel passed, Exod. 14.21. Psal. 77.17. and 78.13. and 66.6. and 136.13. the Iarden] the great river in the land of Canaan, Jos. 3. Psal. 66.6.

4 Verse 4. *The mountaines] Sinai, Horeb, and other hills in the wilderness quaked, Exod. 19.18. Hab. 3. 6, 10. Psal. 68. 9: So leaping is used also in Psalme 29. 6. The Chaldee paraphraseth, When he gave his Law to his people, the mountaines leaped, &c. younglings] Hebrew, sonnes; meaning Lambs: so verse 6.*

5 Verse 5. What ailed thee] or, what was to thee?

7 Verse 7. At the presence] or, At the face, or Before the Lord. For these phrases are used indifferently; as Millipnei, at the presence, 1 Chron. 16.33. is Lipnei, before, Psal. 96.13. So Millipnei, before, or from the face, 1 Chron. 19.18. for which in 2 Sam. 10. 18. is Miphnei, before. tremble thou] with paine, as a woman in travell; see Psal. 29.8. It is an answer to the former question, and therefore may also be turned, the earth trembled, (as the like is observed in Psal. 22.9.) and so the Greeke here translateth, the earth was shaken.

8 Verse 8. the flint] that is, hard flintie rocke, as is explained, Deut. 8.15. Compare Isa. 41.18.

PSAL. CXV.

Because God is truly glorious, and Idols are vanitie, he exhorteth to confidence in God, who is to be blessed for his blessings.

1 Not unto us, Jehovah, not unto us, but 2 unto thy name give the glory, for thy mercie, for thy truth. Where-3 fore should the Heathens say, Where is now
4 their God? And our God is in the heavens:
whatsoever pleaseth him, he doth. Their 5 idols are silver and gold, the worke of mens
6 hands. A mouth they have, and speake not:
7 eies they have, and see not. Eares they have,
and heare not: a nose they have, and smell
8 not. Hands they have, and feele not; feet
9 they have, and walke not: they make no 10 sound with their throat. Like them be they that make them: every one that trusteth in 11 them. O Israel, trust thou in Jehovah: he is 12 their helpe and their shield. O house of Aaron, 13 trust ye in Jehovah: he is their help, and their shield. Ye that feare Jehovah, trust in Jehovah: he is their helpe, and their shield.
Jehovah hath remembred us, he will blesse us: he will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron. He will blesse them that feare Jehovah; the small with the great. Jehovah will adde unto you; unto you, and unto your sonnes. Blessed shall you be of Jehovah, which made the heavens, and earth. The heavens are Jehovahs;

and the earth he hath given to the sonnes of Adam. Not the dead shall praise Jah; neither any that goe downe to silence. But we will blesse Jah, from this time, and for ever;
Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

Not to us] or, for us; the Chaldee addeth, not for our desert. This Psalme the Greeke joyneth with the former, and maketh it a part of the 114. Psalme. See the notes on Psal. 10.1.

Verse 2. now] or, I pray. A word of intreating, but used here in mockage. See Psal. 79.10.

Verse 3. And] or, But our God. It is a signe of indignation, as Psal. 2.6.

Verse 5. They have] Hebrew, is to them. speake not] or cannot speake, as Psal. 77. 5. and so the rest. Compare herewith Jer. 10. 3, 4, 5, 9, &c. Deuteronomie 4. 28.

Verse 7. sound] or mutter, meditate; see Psal. 1. 2.

Verse 9. *Israel] the Church is here distinguished into three parts: 1 Israel, or the body of the Common-wealth: 2 Aarons house the Ministers: and 3 the fearers of Jehovah, that is, strangers, converts of all nations, Acts 2.5. and 10.35. So after in verse 12, 13. and Psal. 118. 2, 3, 4. trust thou] the Greeke saith, hath trusted; and so the rest. See the notes on Psal. 22.9. and 114.7. their helpe] to wit, which trust in him. Or it may be for your helpe; one person put for another, as often is. See Psal. 59.7, 10, 65. and 80.7.*

Verse 10. House] that is, children or posterity. See Psal. 113. 9.

Verse 12. hath remembred] The Chaldee explaineth it, The word of the Lord hath remembred us for good. will blesse] to wit, us; as the Greeke turneth it, being mindfull of us, hath blessed us. See the like want, in Psal. 59.14. and 69.2. and 45.4.

Verse 13. small] or little, in age or degree. So Rev. 11. 18.

Verse 14. will adde unto] or adde upon you, that is, increase you, as Deut. 1.11. Esa. 26.15. or, adde his blessings.

Verse 15. shall you be of] or, are you to Jehovah, that is, by him. See the like phrase, Gen. 14. 19. 2 Sam. 2. 5.

Verse 16. bee hath given] or understand, which bee hath given: for, the earth also is his, Psal. 24. 1. though heaven properly is his dwelling place, yet not able to containe him, 1 Kings 8. 27, 30.

Verse 17. to silence] the grave, the place of silence and quietnesse: as Job 3. 17, 18. See Psal. 94. 17. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the place of buriall in the earth.

PSAL. CXVI.

The Psalmist professeth his love and dutie to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankfull.

1 I Love, because Jehovah heareth my
2 voice, my supplications. Because hee
3 bowed his eare unto me, and in my daies
4 I will call. The pangs of death compassed
5 me, and the straight afflictions of hell found
6 me: I found distresse and sorrow. And I cal-
7 led on the name of Jehovah: O Jehovah, de-8 liver my soule. Gracious is Jehovah, and 9 just: and our God is mercifull. Jehovah kee-10 peth the simple; I was brought low, and he 11 saved me. Return, O my soule, unto thy rest, 12 for Jehovah hath bounteously rewarded unto 13 thee. Because thou hast released my soule
14 from death, mine eie from teares, my foot
15 from sliding. I will walk on before Jehovah, 16 in the lands of the living. I beleaved, there-
17 fore did I speak; I was afflicted vehemently.
18 I did say in my hastening away, every man
19 is a lyer. What shall I render to Jehovah, 20 for all his bountifull rewards unto me? I will 21 take up the cup of salvations, and will call on 22 the name of Jehovah. My vowest to Jehovah
23 I will pay, in the presence now of all his peo-24 ple. Precious in the eyes of Jehovah, is the 25 death of his gracious Saints. O Jehovah, 26 surely I am thy servant, I am thy servant, the 27 son of thine hand-maid; thou hast unloosed
28 my bands. To thee will I sacrifice a sacrifice
29 of confession, and will call on the name of Je-30 hovah. My vows to Jehovah will I pay, in 31 the presence now of all his people. In the 32 courts of the house of Jehovah; in the midst
33 of thee, O Jerusalem; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

1 I Love] to wit, the Lord: or I am lovingly affected, and well pleased. The Greeke here beginneth the 114. Psalm: see the note on Psal. 10. 1. and after, verse 10. heareth] or will heare, to wit, continually.
2 Verse 2. and] that is, therefore will I call, or when I did call. my daies] that is, whiles I live: or daies of affliction, as Job 30. 16. See Psa. 119. 84. & 37. 12.
3 Ver. 3. pangs] or paines: compare Psa. 18. 5. & c.
hell] the state of death, or grave: see Psa. 16. 10.
found] that is, came upon me. So 1 Chron. 10.
3. Nehem. 9. 32. Esth. 8. 6. Psal. 119. 143.
5 Verse 5. Oh] or, I beseech thee, O now! The Hebrew Anna and Na, are words of intreating; as the Greeke Nai, Philem. 1. 20. Rev. 1. 7.
6 Verse 6. brought low] drawne dry, weakened,

and afflicted: see Psalm 41. 2. and 79. 8.

Verse 7. thy rest] thy quiet comfortable estate in God, without trouble of conscience. This Christ giveth, Mat. 11. 29. but sin taketh away, Deut. 38.
65. rewarded] or, as the Greeke saith, been beneficiall; the Chaldee explaineth it, the word of the Lord hath rewarded good unto thee: See Psal. 13. 6.

Verse 8. sliding] or thrust, fall: See Psal. 56. 14.
1 Sam. 2. 9.

Verse 9. walke on] to wit, pleasingly, as the Greeke
explaineth; or pleasingly administer: so 1 Sam. 2.
30. 35. Psal. 86. 14. the living] in this world: see
Psal. 27. 13.

Verse 10. therefore] the Greeke Ki, For, is here used for therefore, as the Greeke translateth, and the Apottle alloweth, 2 Cor. 4. 13. So may it also be taken, 1 Sam. 2. 21. so the Greeke hosi; as Luke 7.
47. for she loved, that is, therefore she loved much. Here the Greeke version beginneth the 115. Psalm.

Verse 11. my hastening] through feare; in Greeke
my extasie (or trance): see Psalm 31. 23. hereto is oppoed his quietnesse, Psal. 30. 7. every man]
even the Prophets, which have promised me the kingdome, &c. and thus it might be David's infirmity: or indeed, every man (in respect of God) is a lyer, and unable to helpe in time of need, Num.
23. 19. Rom. 3. 4. Psal. 33. 17.

Verse 12. for all] so the Greeke supplieth the word for: and by rewards, he meaneth benefits, as verse 7. Compare 1 Thes. 3. 9. 2 Chron. 32. 25.

Verse 13. the cup of salvations] or, of health, that is, of thanksgiving for Gods saving health and deliverance for me. For mercies received, the Israelites used to offer peace (or thanks) offerings;
whereof they did eat, and rejoyce before the Lord, and at their banquets, tooke up the cup of wine in their hands, and blessed God: called thereupon, the cup of blessing, 1 Cor. 10. 16. So our Lord at the feast of the Pascheover, tooke the cup, and gave thanks, Luke 22. 17. call on] that is, pray and praise God: or call in, that is, proclaime and preach Gods mercies: so verse 17.

Verse 15. Precious, &c.] that is, God will not easily suffer his Saints to be slaine: see Psa. 72. 14.
So the soule is said to be precious, when the life is spared,
1 Sam. 26. 31. 2 Kings 1. 13.

Verse 16. handmaid] borne thy servant in thy house: see Psal. 86. 16. bands] that is, hast set me at liberty, (as Job 39. 8.) from afflictions, Esa.
28. 22. a similitude taken from captives, Esa. 52. 2.

Verse 17. confession] that is, a thanks-offering: see Psalm 59. 14.

PSAL. CXVII.

The Gentiles are exhorted to praise God for his mercie
and truth.

Praise Jehovah all ye Gentiles; laud him
all ye peoples. For his mercie is mightie towards us; and the faithfulness of Jehovah endureth for ever; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

1 Gentiles] or Nations; all which are exhorted to glorifie God, for obtaining mercie by Christ, who hath received us into the glorie of God; as the Apostle sheweth from this Scripture, Romans 15. 7, 11.

PSALME CXVIII.

An Exhortation to praise God for his mercie. 5 The Psalmist by his experience sheweth how good it is to trust in God. 19 Under the type of the Psalmist, the comming of Christ in his kingdom is expressed.

1 Confesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good,
2 for his mercie endureth for ever. Let
3 Israel now say, that his mercie endu-
4 reth for ever. Let the house of Aaron now
5 say, that his mercie endureth for ever. Let 6 them that feare Jehovah, now say, that his 7 mercie endureth for ever. Out of straight af-
8 fliction I called on Jah; Jah answered mee
9 with a large roomth. Jehovah is for me, I
10 will not feare what man can doe unto mee.
11 Jehovah is for me with them that helpe me, 12 and I shall see on them that hate me. It is 13 better to hope for safety in Jehovah, than to 14 trust in man. It is better to hope for safety in 15 Jehovah, than to trust in bounteous Princes.
16 All nations compassed me, but in the name
17 of Jehovah I cut them off. They compassed
18 me, yea they compassed me, but in the name
19 of Jehovah I cut them off. They compassed
20 me as Bees, they were quenched as a fire of 21 thornes; but in the name of Jehovah I cut 22 them off. Thrusting thou thrustest mee to 23 fall, and Jehovah help me. Jah is my strength and song, and he hath beene to me for a salvation. A voice of shouting and of salvation is in the tents of the just; the right hand of Jehovah doth valiantnesse. The right hand of Jehovah is exalted; the right hand of Jehovah doth valiantnesse. I shall not die but live, and shall tell the works of Jah. Jah cha-stising chastised me, and gave me not to the death. Open ye unto me the gates of justice, that I may enter into them, may confesse Jah. This gate of Jehovah, into which the just shall enter. I will confesse thee because thou hast answered me, and hast been to me for a salvation. The stone which the builders refused, is become for head of the corner.
This was of Jehovah; it is marvellous in our eies. This is the day Jehovah made, let us be glad and reioice in it. Oh Jehovah save now, oh Jehovah prosper now. Blessed be he that commeth in the name of Jehovah; we blesse

you out of the house of Jehovah. God is Jehovah, and hath given light unto us: binde ye the feast-offerings with cords, unto the horns of the Altar. Thou art my God, and I will confesse thee; my God, I will exalt thee. Confesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for ever.

Annotations.

For he] or that he is good: so verse 29.

Verse 4. that feare] strangers of all nations, as before he mentioned the Church and Ministers: see Psalme 115. 9.

Verse 5. with a large roomth] that is, by bring- ing me into it, as is expressed, Pla. 18. 20. and 4. 2.

Verse 6. for me] to wit, an helper, as the Greeke explaineth; which the Apostle followeth, Heb. 13. 6. So the Chaldee saith, the word of the Lord is for mine helpe: so in verie 7. See also Psal. 56. 5. 12.

Verse 7. with them that helpe me] instead of all helpers: see a like phrase, Psal. 54. 6. The Greeke saith, mine helper. see on them] to wit, their re- ward, or vengeance, as the Chaldee explaineth. See Psal. 54. 9. and 91. 3.

Verse 10. but in, &c.] or, in the name of Jehovah, (I trust) that I shall cut them off. The Greek agreeth with the former; the Chaldee with this latter: and so in the verses following.

Verse 12. were quenched] or (on the contrary) were kindled, as both the Greeke and Chaldee doe translate it. Sundry words signifie contraries, as barao to blesse and to curse, 1 Kings 21. 13. The fire of thornes is both soone kindled and soone quenched: so Christs enemies. for] or, but in the name, &c.

Verse 13. Thrusting, &c.] that is, Thou diddest sorely thrust, speaking to the enemy: the Chaldee explaineth it, my same thrust me to fall. Thrusting thrust, is an Hebraisme often used; as after, verie 18. So Cutting shall be cut off, Numb. 15. 30. that is, shall die without mercie, Heb. 10. 28.

Verse 14. Song] or melodie, that is, whom I sing laud unto. This is taken from Exo. 15. 2. so Isa. 12. 2. for a salvation] or, a salvation, that is, hath saved or rescued me against mine enemies, as 2 Sam. 10. 11. where the like phrase is used: so after, verie 21, the word for may be omitted, as sometime in the Hebrew it selfe, 2 Chron. 18. 21. compared with 1 Kings 22. 22.

Verse 15. salvation] that is, victory, as Psal. 98. 1. or thanks for salvation, as Psal. 116. 13. See Revel. 19. 1. tents] that is, dwelling places; but spo- ken of as in warres, or for short continuance; as Heb. 11. 9. So tents of the Saints, Rev. 20. 9. See also 2 Chron. 31. 2.

Verse

18 Verse 18. gave] or delivered; so Ezek. 31. 14.

19 Verse 19. gates of justice] that is, of Gods Sanctuary, the gates whereof were to be opened by the Priests and Levites, for men to come and serve the Lord; 1 Sam. 3. 15. called gates of Justice, because only the just and cleane might enter into them, as v. 30. Isa. 26. 2. 2 Chron. 33. 19. Rev. 21. 27.

20 Verse 20. gate of Iehovah] this the Chaldee expoundeth, the gate of the Sanctuary of the Lord.

22 Verse 22. The stone, &c.] By this stone is meant David himselfe, and his Sonne Christ; by the builders, are meant the chiefe men of Israel, that refused David and Christ to reigne over them, Mat. 21. 42. Acts 4. 11. Of David, the Chaldee expoundeth it, The builders despised the yong man, which among the sons of Jesse was worthy to be made King and Ruler. for head] that is, the chiefe corner-stone, which coupleth and fastneth the building: See also Isa. 28. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 6, 7, 8. Ephes. 2. 20, 21.

24 Verse 24. made] that is, preferred in honour above others; so making sometime signifieth, as 1 Sam. 12. 6. and the making of a day, is the sanctifying and observing of it, Deut. 5. 15. Exod. 34. 31. Also day is the whole time of grace in Christ, 2 Cor. 6. 2.

25 Verse 25. save now] or, I beseech thee save; in Hebrew, Hosbiab-na, or Hosanna, as it is sounded in Greeke, Matth. 21. 9, 15. where the people and children welcome Christ into Ierusalem, singing Hosanna the sonne of David, that is, praying God most high, to save the King (Christ) who then came in the name of the Lord.

26 Verse 26. he that commeth] that is, the King (Christ) that commeth in the name (power and authority) of the Lord, Luke 19. 38. we blesse you] these seeme to be the Priests words, whose office was to blesse Gods people in his house, Num. 6. 23. Deut. 10. 8. 1 Chron. 23. 13.

27 Verse 27. the feast-offerings] or festivitie. This word often used for a festivall day, as Psal. 81. 4. is sometime figuratively used for the sacrifices offered at those feasts, as Exo. 23. 18. Isa. 29. 1. and so the Chaldee explaineth it here. Thus Christ is called our Passover, 1 Cor. 5. 7. that is, our Paschall lamb.

with cords] This word is sometime used for thicke twisted cords, Judg. 15. 13. sometime for thicke branches of trees, used at some feasts, Ezek. 19. 11. Levit. 23. 40. Hereupon this sentence may two waies be read; binde the feast with thicke branches, or binde the sacrifices with cords; both meane one thing, that men should keepe the festivitie with joy and thanks to God, as Israel used at their solemnities. unto the hornes] that is, all the Court over, untill you come even to the hornes of the Altar: intending hereby many sacrifices or boughes. The Chaldee interpreteth it, till he have offered him, and poured the blood at the hornes of the Altar.

Psal. CXIX.

This Psalm containeth manifold praises of the Law of God, and effects of the same; with sundry prayers, and professions of obedience.

O Blessed are they that are perfect in way, they that walke in the Law of Jehovah. 2 O blessed are they that keepe his testimonies, they that seeke him with all the heart. 3 Also, they that worke not iniquitie, but walke in his waies. 4 Thou hast commanded thy precepts to be observed vehemently. 5 On that my waies were directed to observe thy statutes. 6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandements. 7 I will confesse thee with righteousness of heart, when I shall learne the judgements of thy justice. 8 I will observe thy statutes, forsake thou me not very much.

9 Wherewith shall a yong man cleanse his way: by taking heed, according to thy word. 10 With all my heart have I sought thee, let me not wander from thy commandements. 11 In mine heart have I hid thy sayings, that I might not sinne against thee. 12 Blessed art thou, Jehovah, learne me thy statutes. 13 With my lips have I told all the judgements of thy mouth. 14 In the way of thy testimonies have I joyed, as above all store of riches. 15 In thy precepts will I meditate, and will have respect unto thy waies. 16 In thy statutes will I delight my selfe, I will not forget thy words.

17 Bounteously reward unto thy servant, that I may live and observe thy word. 18 Vncover mine eyes, that I may see the marvellous things of thy Law. 19 A stranger I am in the earth, hide not thou from me thy commandements. 20 My soule is broken small with desire unto thy judgements in all time. 21 Thou hast rebuked the proud accursed, that wander from thy commandements. 22 Turne thou from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies. 23 Princes also did sit, they spake against me, thy servant meditath in thy statutes. 24 Also thy testimonies are my delights; the men of my counsell.

25 My soule cleaveth to the dust, quicken thou me according to thy word. 26 I told my waies, and thou answeredst me; teach me thy statutes. 27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate on thy marvellous workes. 28 My soule dropeth for heaviness; raise thou me up, according to thy word. 29 Take away from me the way of falshood, and graciously give me thy law. 30 The way of faithfulness I have chosen, thy judgements I have proposed. 31 I have cleaved to thy testimonies, Jehovah,

7 Jehovah, let me not be abashed. 32 I will run the way of thy Commandements, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

n 33 Teach me, O Jehovah, the way of thy statutes, that I may keepe it unto the end.

n 34 Make me to understand, that I may keep thy Law, and observe it with all the heart.

n 35 Make mee to tread in the path of thy Commandements, for in it I take pleasure.

n 36 Incline mine heart unto thy testimonies, and not unto covetousnesse.

n 37 Turne away mine eyes from seeing false vanitie; quicken me in thy waies.

n 38 Confirm to thy servant thy saying, which is given to the feare of thee.

n 39 Turne away my reproach which I am afraid of, for thy judgements are good.

n 40 Lo, I have a desire to thy precepts; in thy justice quicken thou me.

1 41 And let thy mercies come to mee, O Jehovah; thy salvation, according to thy saying.

1 42 And I shall answer him that reproacheth me, because I have trusted in thy Word.

1 43 And pull not thou out of my mouth the word of truth very much, because I have hopefully waited for thy judgments.

1 44 And I will observe thy Law continually, for ever and perpetual aye.

1 45 And I shall walke in a large roomth, because I have sought thy precepts.

1 46 And I will speake of thy testimonies in the presence of Kings, and not be ashamed.

1 47 And I will delight my selfe in thy Commandements, which I have loved.

1 48 And I will lift up my hands to thy commandements which I have loved, & will meditate on thy statutes.

1 49 Remember the word of thy servant, for which thou hast made me hopefully to wair.

1 50 This is my comfort in mine affliction, that thy saying quickneth me.

1 51 The proud have scorned me very greatly; from thy Law I have not declined.

1 52 I remembered thy judgements of old, O Jehovah, and comforted my selfe.

1 53 A burning horror hath taken hold on me for the wicked, the forsakers of thy Law.

1 54 Thy statutes have beene songs to me in the house of my pilgrimages.

1 55 I remembered in the night thy name, O Jehovah, and observed thy Law.

1 56 This was to mee, because I kept thy precepts.

n 57 My portion, Jehovah, I have said, to observe thy words.

n 58 I have earnestly besought thy face with all the heart; be gracious to me according to thy saying.

n 59 I thought upon my waies, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

n 60 I made haste,

and delayed not, to observe thy commandements.

61 Bands of the wicked have robbed me; thy Law I have not forgotten.

62 At mid-night will I rise to confesse unto thee, for the judgements of thy justice.

63 I am a companion to all that feare thee, and that observe thy precepts.

64 The earth is full of thy mercie, Jehovah; learne me thy statutes.

65 Thou hast done good with thy servant, Jehovah, according to thy Word.

66 Learne mee goodnesse of reason and knowledge, for I have beleevd in thy commandements.

67 Before I was afflicted, I was astray; but now I observe thy saying.

68 Good art thou, and doest good; learne me thy statutes.

69 The proud have forged against me falsehood; I, with all the heart, do keep thy precepts.

70 Their heart is grosse as fat; I, in thy Law have delighted my selfe.

71 It is good for me that I was afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver.

73 Thine hands have made mee, and fashioned me; make me to understand, that I may learne thy commandements.

74 They that feare thee, shall see me and rejoyce, because I have hopefully waited for thy word.

75 I know, Jehovah, that thy judgements are justice, and with faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

76 Oh let thy mercie be to comfort me, according to thy saying unto thy servant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come to me, that I may live, for thy Law is my delights.

78 Let the proud be abashed, for with falsehood they have depraved me: I do meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let those turne to me that feare thee, and that know thy testimonies.

80 Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes, that I be not abashed.

81 My soule fainteth for thy salvation, I hopefully wait for thy word.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy word, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 Though I am like a bottle in the smoke, I have not forgotten thy statutes.

84 How many are the daies of thy servant? When wilt thou do judgement on my persecutors?

85 The proud have digged for me pits of corruption, which are not according to thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are faithfulness; with falsehood doe they persecute me, help thou me.

87 Almost they had consumed me in the earth, but I have not forsaken thy precepts.

88 According to thy mercie quicken thou me,

me, and I will observe the testimonie of thy mouth.
 89. For ever, O Jehovah, thy word is stedfast in the heavens. 90 Thy faithfulness is to generation and generation; thou hast stablished the earth, and it shall stand. 91 To thy judgements they stand this day, for they all are thy servants. 92 Vnlesse thy law had bene my delights, then had I perished in mine affliction. 93 For ever I will not forget thy precepts, for by them thou hast quickened me. 94 I am thine, save thou me, for I have sought thy precepts. 95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me; I consider thy testimonies. 96. Of all perfection I have seene an end; large is thy commandement vehemently.
 97. O how I love thy law! all the day it is my meditation. 98 Thou makest mee wiser then mine enemies, by thy commandements; for, for ever it is with me. 99. I am more prudent than all my teachers, for thy testimonies are my meditation. 100 I am of more understanding than the Elders, because I have kept thy precepts. 101 I have restrained my feet from every evill way, that I may observe thy word. 102 I have not departed from thy judgements, for thou hast taught me. 103 How sweet are thy sayings to my palate! more than honey to my mouth. 104 By thy precepts I have gotten understanding, therefore I hate every path of falshood.
 105. Thy word is a lampe to my foot, and a light to my path. 106 I have sworne, and will ratifie it, to observe the judgements of thy justice. 107 I am afflicted very vehemently; Jehovah, quicken thou mee according to thy word. 108 The free-offerings of my mouth, favourably accept thou, oh Jehovah; and learne me thy judgements.
 109. My soule is in my hand continually, and thy law I have not forgotten. 110 The wicked have laid a snare for me, and from thy precepts I have not strayed. 111 I possess for heritage thy testimonies for ever, for they are the joy of mine heart. 112 I have inclined mine heart to doe thy statutes, for ever to the end.
 113. I hate vaine thoughtes, and I love thy law. 114 Thou art my secret place, and my shield, I hopefully wait for thy word.
 115. Depart from me yee evill doers, that I may keepe the commandments of my God.
 116 Uphold me according to thy saying, that I may live; and let me not be abashed

for my hope. 117 Sustaine me, and I shall be saved, and I will delight in thy statutes continually. 118 Thou hast troden downe all them that stray from thy statutes, for their deceit is falshood. 119 Like drosse thou makest cease all the wicked of the earth, therefore I love thy testimonies. 120 My flesh feeleth horror for dread of thee, and I feare for thy judgements.
 121 I have done judgement and justice, leave me not to mine oppressours. 122 Be surety for thy servant, for good; let not the proud oppress me. 123 Mine eyes faile for thy salvation, and for the sayings of thy justice. 124 Doe with thy servant according to thy mercy, and learne me thy statutes. 125 I am thy servant, give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.
 126 It is time for Jehovah to doe, they have made frustrate thy law. 127 Therefore I love thy commandements, above gold, and above fine gold. 128 Therefore, all thy precepts of every thing I hold righteous; I hate every way of falshood.
 129 Marvellous are thy testimonies, therefore doth my soule keepe them. 130 The opening of thy words giveth light, giving understanding to the simple. 131 I opened wide my mouth and panted, for I longed for thy commandements. 132 Turne the face unto me; and be gracious to me, according to the judgement towards those that love thy name. 133 Firmely direct my steps in thy saying, and let not any iniquitie have dominion over mee. 134 Redeeme mee from the oppression of men, and I will observe thy precepts. 135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant, and learne mee thy statutes. 136 Rivers of waters runne downe mine eyes, because they observe not thy law.
 137 Just art thou Jehovah, and righteous thy judgements. 138 Thou hast commanded the justice of thy testimonies, and faithfulness vehemently. 139 My zeale suppresseth me, because my distressers have forgotten thy words. 140 Thy saying is fined vehemently, and thy servant loveth it.
 141 I am small and despised, thy precepts I have not forgotten. 142 Thy justice is a justice forever, and thy law is the truth. 143 Distresse and anguish have found me, thy commandements are my delights. 144 The justice of thy testimonies is for ever; make me to understand, that I may live.

P 145 I have called with the whole heart :
 answer me, Jehovah; I will keep thy statutes.
 P 146 I have called upon thee, save thou me,
 P and I will observe thy testimonies. 147 I
 P have prevented in the twilight, and cried; I
 P hopefully waited for thy word. 148 Mine
 P eyes have prevented the night-watches, to P meditate in thy saying. 149 Heare my voice,
 P according to thy mercy, Jehovah; according P to thy judgment quicken thou me. 150 They draw neare that follow after a mischievous purpose, they are farre off from thy law.
 P 151 Neere art thou, Jehovah, and all thy P commandements are truth. 152 Of old I have knowne of thy testimonies, that thou hast founded them for ever.
 153 See mine affliction, and release me,
 154 for I have not forgotten thy law. 154. Plead my plea and redeeme mee, according to thy 155 saying quicken thou me. 155 Salvation is farre from the wicked, because they seeke 156 not thy statutes. 156 Thy tender mercies
are many, O Jehovah; according to thy 157 judgements quicken thou me. 157 Many are my persecutors, and my distressers; from 158 thy testimonies I have not declined. 158 I saw unfaithfull transgressours, and was grieved for that they observed not my saying.
 159 See, that I love thy precepts; Jehovah,
 according to thy mercy quicken thou me.
 160 The beginning of thy word is truth, and for ever is every judgement of thy justice.
 W 161 Princes have persecuted me without
 W cause, & for thy word mine heart doth stand W in awe. 162 I am joyfull for thy saying, as W one that findeth much spoile. 163 False-
 W hood I hate, and I abhorre; thy law I doe
 W love. 164 Seven times in a day doe I praise
 W thee, for the judgements of thy justice.
 W 165 Much peace is to them that love thy
 W law, and to them is no stumbling-blocke.
 W 166 I have hoped for thy salvation, Jeho-
 W vah, and have done thy commandements.
 W 167 My soule hath observed thy testimo-W nies, and I love them vehemently. 168 I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies, for all my wayes are before thee.
 n 169 Let my shouting crie come neare ben fore thee, Jehovah; according to thy word n give thou me understanding. 170 Let my supplication for grace come before thee; according to thy saying, deliver thou mee.
 n 171 My lips shall utter praise, when thou hast
 n learned me thy statutes. 172 My tongue shall resound thy saying, for all thy commann dements are justice. 173 Let thine hand be to helpe me, for I have chosen thy precepts.

174 I have longed for thy salvation, Jehovah, and thy law is my delights. 175 Let my soule live, that it may praise thee; and let thy judgments help me. 176 I have strayed like a lost sheepe; seeke thou thy servant, for
 I have not forgotten thy commandements;

The Prophet prayeth against, and reproveth the evil tongue: 5 and complaineth of his necessary conversation with the wicked.

A Song of degrees.

VNto Jehovah, in my distressednesse, I cried, and he answered me. Jeho-vah, deliver thou my soule from the lip of falshood, from the tongue of deceit. What shall it give thee, and what shall it adde to thee, tongue of deceit. Sharpe ar-rowes of a mighty one, with coales of Iu-niper. Woe is me that I sojourne with Me-shec, dwell with the tents of Kedar. My soule it hath much dwelt with him that ha-teth peace. I am for peace, and when I speak, they are for warre.

Annotations.

OF degrees] or, of ascensions, of heights: (Hebr. ham-mahaloth) that is, a Psalme to be sung with an high voice; as the Levites are said to praise God with a great voice on high, (Hebr. te-mablah,) 2 Chro. 20. 19. Or, this title noteth the excellencie of the song, for short, grave and pithy sentences; as Adam ham-mablah, is a man of eminencie, (or of high degree) 1 Chron. 17. 17. Sundry other wayes is this title understood, as of the staires that went up to the house of the Lord, whereon the singers should stand; and this the Chaldee favoureth: also of the coming up from Babylon, (called mablah, an ascension, Ezr. 7. 9.) &c. Fifteene Psalmes together have this title prefixed. distressed-nesse] that is, fore distresse: the Hebrew addeth a letter to increase the signification; so, helpfulnesse, for full helpe, Psal. 44. 27. cried] in Chaldee, prayed, and he received my prayer.

Verse 3.

3 Verse 3. What shall it give] or, (as the Greeke hath) what shall be given, that is, what good, or profit shall thou get? meaning, none at all. The verbe active is often used passively; see Psal. 32.9. and 36.3. Or, what shall be (meaning God, or any one) give to thee, O deceitfull tongue? it adde] or bee added, to wit, in good, or advantage; so Psal. 115. 14. tongue] this may also be read, what shall be tongue of deceit give to thee, that is, profit thee, (speaking to the calumniator.

4 Verse 4. arrows, &c.] This may note out the hurt of a guilefull tongue, whose evill words are like arrows, Psal. 64. 4. Prov. 23. 18. or, the reward which God will give the deceitfull tongue, his plagues: like arrows, Psal. 45. 6. Deut. 32. 23. Ezek. 5. 16. coales of Iuniper] which wood in burning smelleth sweet, but the coales thereof burne extremely, and last long; so that under the ashes the glowing coales may be kept (as some write) a yeare long. So it fitly noteth the long lasting infamy of an evill tongue. Or, if wee referre it to Gods judgements, they are severe and durable, as Deut. 28. 59. Psal. 18. 9. & 140. 11.

5 Verse 5. sojourne] or am a pilgrim, a stranger. with Meshec] that is, with a profane and barbarous people, like the posterity of Meshec and Kedar, mentioned in Gen. 10. 2. and 21. 13. Meshec signifieth length or protraction, and so may here bee taken for no proper name, but I sojourne so long; and thus the Greeke turneth it, my peregrination is prolonged. Tents of Kedar] the sonne of Ismael, Gen. 25. 13. whose children dwelt in Arabia, Isa. 21. 13. -- 17. therefore the Chaldee here turneth it Arabians, they dwelt in Tents or Cottages in the wilderness, as shepherds. See also Esay 42. 11. Ier. 49. 28. 39. Ezek. 27. 21.

6 Verse 6. it hath much] or, to it selfe (in it owne seeming) hath long dwelt: so Psal. 123. 4.

7 Verse 7. for peace] or, to peace (as after for or to warre) that is, addicted thereto, or understand, a man of peace, that is, peacefull, as the Greeke expoundeth it; so Iob 5. 24. and 21. 9. 2 Sam. 17. 3. See the like phrase, Psalme 109. 4. Also in Obad. 7. thy bread, for, men of thy bread.

The great safety of those that trust in Gods protection.

A Song of degrees.

1 Lift up mine eyes unto the mountaines,
2 from whence shall come mine helpe.
3 Mine helpe cometh from with Jehovah,
4 which made heavens and earth. Let him not give thy foot to be moved, let him not slumber that keepeth thee. Loe he will not slumber nor sleepe, that keepeth Israel.
5 Jehovah is thy keeper, Jehovah thy shadow upon thy right hand. The Sunne shall not smite thee by day, nor the Moone by night, Jehovah will keepe thee from all evill, hee will keepe thy soule. Jehovah will keep thy going out, and thy comming in, from this time and for ever.

Annotations.

1 OF degrees] or, for degrees, or, ascensions: see the first note on the former Psalme. the mountaines] Sion and Morijah, where was the Sanctuary of God, who had his foundation in the holy mountaines, Psal. 87. 1. which was a figure of the heavens, Heb. 9. 24. and sometime mountaines and heavens are used for the same, as Psal. 18. 8. with 2 Sam. 22. 8. So the meaning is, that when hee looked up to God for helpe, he received it. Or we may reade it thus; Shall I lift up mine eyes to the mountaines? that is, to the places where Idols are worshipped, Deut. 12. 2. as if he should say, farre be it from me. For in vaine is helpe expected from the hills, or the multitude of the mountaines; but in Jehovah our God is the salvation of Israel, Ier. 3. 23. The lifting up of the eyes signifieth hope and expectation, Ezek. 18. 6. So Psalme 123. 1.

3 Verse 3. to be moved] or, to slide, or to commotion, which meaneth a falling into evill: see Psal. 38. 17. not slumber] that is, not neglect any care or diligence for thy good, Psal. 132. 4. Prov. 6. 4. Esay 5. 27.

5 Verse 5. shadow] that is, protection, comfort and refreshing from heat, Esay 25. 4. and 4. 6. Num. 14. 9. See also Psalme 109. 31.

6 V. 6. The Sunne] which annoyeth with heat, as the Moone doth with cold vapours, Ion. 4. 8. Gen. 31. 40. And the Sun and Moone being rulers of day and night, Psal. 136. 8, 9. imply all other things whatsoever. But this hath reference to Gods protection of Israel in the wilderness, Exod. 13. 21. Esay 4. 5.

8 Verse 8. Thy going out and comming in] that is, all thy administration, affaires and actions. See the like phrase, Deuter. 28. 6. 2 Chron. 1. 10. 2 Sam. 3. 25. Act. 1. 21. and 9. 28.

4 Verse 4. to the testimonie] that is, the Ark, wher-in were the tables of testimonie, and from whence God testified his presence by oracle, Exod. 25.
21, 22. or, by the testimonie to Israel, that is, according to the charge given for their coming thither, Deut.
16. 16, 17.

prosperitie: the word meaneth both quietnesse
from troubles, and abundance of welfare: so Psal. 30. 7. and 73. 12.

Then the proud waters had passed over our

For the rod of wickednesse shall not rest upon the lot of the just; that the just put not forth their hands unto any injurious evill. - 5 Verse 5. crookednesses] crooked wayes, or, vices. lead them away] or, make them goe away, that is, to die; as 1 Chron. 17. 11. compared with 2 Sam. 7. 12. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, will lead them to Hell; and their part shall be with the workers of iniquitie.

PSAL. CXXVI.

The Church celebrating her incredible returne out of captivitie, prayeth for; and prophesieth the good successe thereof.

- 1 A Song of degrees.
- 2 Vhen Jehovah returned the captivitie of Sion, we were like them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with joyfull shouting; then said they among the heathens, Jehovah hath done very great things with them. Jehovah hath done very great things with us, we are joyfull.
- 3 Turne thou, O Jehovah; our captivitie, as the streames in the South. They that sow with teares, shall reap with joyfull shouting.
- 6 He going goeth, and weepeth, bearing the sowing seed: he comming commeth with joyfull shouting, bearing his sheaves.

Annotations.

- 1 The captivitie] or, the reverfion, that is, the multitude of captives returning from bondage. See

Psal. 14. 7. and 68. 19. Deut. 30. 3. The returne from Babels bondage figured our redemption by Christ, Esa. 10. 21, 22. Rom. 9. 27. And to returne the captivitie, sometime is to restore all that was lost, Iob 42. 10. that dreame] that felt joy and comfort incredible, which we doubted whether it were true or not; as did Peter, Act. 12. 9. See also Esay 29. 7, 8. The Chaldee expoundeth it, like sleepers which wake from their dreamer.

Verse 2. joyfull shout] or song, or shrill singing: so verse 5. 6. Compare Iob 8. 21. done very great things] or done magnificently, or magnified his doings, as the Greeke translateth this phrase, in Ios. 2. 20. the Hebraisme being, he hath magnified to doe, like that in 2 Chron. 33. 6. Manassah multiplied to doe (that is, did much) evill. with them] or with these men.

Verse 4. our captivitie] that is, the rest of the captives which remaine yet behind, bring them also. So captivitie is for captives, Ezek. 11. 24, 25. in the South] that is, in the dry ground; for so the Hebrew word signifieth, and so South lands were waterlesse, Iudg. 1. 15. Here we may understand, this shall be to us as rivers in the South. The Chaldee paraphraseth, as the land is turned when water-springs breake forth into it, in time of drought.

Verse 5. shall reape] or, let them reape: as continuing the former prayer: so after.

Verse 6. He going goeth] that is, every former fore-mentioned: therefore the Greeke saith, why did going goe: which phrase meaneth a continuall and diligent going. the sowing seed] the seed to be sown, Hebr. the drawing of the seed, that is, the seed of drawing, or, of sowing, as this phrase meaneth, Amos 9. 13. or, the dray of seed, that is, the seed basket. Sometime drawing, is, purchasing, as Iob 28. 18. which may also be minded here, the purchased (that is, precious) seed.

PSAL. CXXVII.

The vertue of Gods blessings in all estates. 3 Gods children are his gift.

A Song of degrees for Solomon.

IF Jehovah build not the house, in vaine doe the builders thereof labour therein: If Jehovah keepe not the citie, in vaine doth the keeper wake. It is vaine for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrowes; so he will give his beloved sleepe.

Loe, sonnes are an heritage of Jehovah; the fruit of the wombe, his wages. As arrows in the hand of a mightie man, so are sonnes of the youth. O blessed is the man that hath filled his quiver with them: they shall not be abashed, when they shall speake with the enemies in the gate.

plead in judgement, which was at the citie gates;
see the contrary, Job 5. 4. It may also be read, but they shall subdue the enemies in the gate. The Greeke giveth the first interpretation. The Chaldee saith, when they contend with their adversaries in the gate of the judgement hall.

Many are the afflictions of Israel, but God delivereth them. 5 Their baters are cursed.

A Song of degrees.

- 1 O Ften have they afflicted me from my youth, may Israel now say. Often have they afflicted me from my youth, yet have they not prevailed against me. The plowers plowed upon my backe, they made long their furrow. Jehovah just,
he hath cut asunder the cord of the wicked.
Let them be abashed and turned backe, all that hate Sion. Let them be as the grasse of the house tops, which afore one pulleth it off, is withered. Wherewith he that moweth, filleth not his hand; or he that bindeth sheaves, his bosome. Neither doe they

5 Verse 5. Let them } or, They shall be abashed.

6 Verse 6: pullst it off | or pullst out, namely, the booke to cut it. The Chaldee explains it, which before is flourisheth, an East-wind commeth and bloweth
on it, and it withereth.

7 Verse 7: his bosom] his arms; as Esa. 49. 22.

Jehovah; my soule earnestly expecteth, and 7 for his word do I hopefully wait. My soule

For thy servant Davids sake, turne not away the face of thine Anointed. Jehovah sware unto David, truth; he will not turne from it; of the fruit of thy wombe will I set upon thy throne.  kingdome and power to increase, as the Chaldee saith, I will make a glorious King to bud in the house of

Praise ye the Name of Jehovah, praise him, O ye servants of Jehovah. That stand in the house of Jehovah, in the courts of the house of our God. Praise ye Iah, for Jehovah is good; sing Psalme to his Name, for it is pleasant. For Iah hath chosen to him-selfe Iakob, Israel for his peculiar treasure. For I doe know that Jehovah is great, and our Lord is above all Gods. All that pleaseth Jehovah he doth, in the heavens, & in the earth, in the seas, and all deepe places. Hee causeth vapours to ascend from the end of the earth; hee maketh lightnings with the raine; he bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures. Who smote the first-borne of Egypt, from man unto beast. Sent signes and wonders in mids of thee, O Egypt, on Pharaoh, and on all his servants. Who smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings. Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og, King of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan. And gave their land for a possession, a possession to Israel his people. Jehovah, thy Name is for ever; Jehovah, thy memory is to generation and generation. For Jehovah will judge his people, and for his servants he will repent himselfe. The idols of the heathens are silver and gold, the worke of the hands of men. A mouth they have and speake not, eyes they have and see not. Eares they have and heare not, also there is no breath in their mouth. Like them be they that make them, every one that trusteth in them. O house of Israel, blesse ye Jehovah; O house of Aaron, blesse ye Jehovah. O house of Levi, blesse ye Jehovah; yee that feare Jehovah, blesse Jehovah. for his mercie endureth for ever.
2 Confesse ye to the God of Gods, for 3 his mercie endureth for ever. Confesse ye to the Lord of Lords, for his mercie endureth 4 ever. To him that doth wondrous great things himself alone, for his mercie endureth
5 for ever. To him that made the heavens

6 ever. To him that spread out the earth above the waters, for his mercie endureth for 7 ever. To him that made the great lights,
8 for his mercie endureth for ever. The Sunne for dominion by day, for his mercie endureth

minions by night, for his mercie endureth 10 for ever. To him that smote Egypt in their first-borne, for his mercie endureth for ever.
11 And brought forth Israel from mids of 12 them, for his mercie endureth for ever. With a strong hand, & with a stretched out arm,

for his mercie endureth for ever. To him that 13 parted the red sea into parts, for his mercie
endureth for ever. And made Israel to passe 14 thorow the mids of it, for his mercie endu-

dureth for ever. To him which led his peo-16 ple in the wilderness, for his mercie endu- reth for ever. To him which smote great 17 Kings, for his mercie endureth for ever. And 18 killed magnificent Kings, for his mercie en-

21 possession, for his mercie endureth for ever.
A possession to Israel his servant, for his 22 mercie endureth for ever. Which remem-23 bred us in our base estate, for his mercie en- dureth for ever. And hath redeemed us from 24 our distreser, for his mercie endureth for ever. Which giveth bread to all flesh, for his 25 mercie endureth for ever. Confesse ye to the 26 God of heavens, for his mercie endureth for ever.

Annotations.

Mercie ] the Hebrew Chesed signifieth a sacred affection of mercie, piety, grace, benigni-ty, and bountifull good will towards any without respect of merit. In man sometime it is the pious benigne affection wherewith hee doth good:
sometime the mercy or benighted which hee receiveth; as in Esay 40. 6. it is the glorious grace which man hath from God, called by the holy Ghost in Greece, doxa, glory, 1 Pet. 1. 24. usually the Greeke version hath for it charis, mercy, which the New Testament alloweth, Matth 9. 13. from Hos. 6. 6.
Hereof a godly man is called Chasid, gracious, or mercifull: see Psalme 4. 4.

Verse 8. dominion ] or rule, sovereignty: see Gen. 1. 16.

Verse 10. Egypt ] or, the Egyptians: see Psal. 78. 43. -- 51.

Verse 13. parts ] or divisions. By the Jewes tradition the red sea was parted into twelve severall parts, for every of the twelve tribes to goe tho-row.

Verse 15. shooke off ] that is, overthrew: Exod. 15. 14. 27.

Verse 18. magnificent ] mighty and excellent, mentioned after, and Psal. 135. 10, 11, 12.

Verse 24. redeemed ] or delivered, broken off, and pulled away, as by violence; for so also the word
signifieth, Psalme 7. 3.

Verse 25. bread ] that is, food; Bread is used for all meat: so in the Gr. to buy bread, Mar. 6. 36. is, to buy meat, (or victuals) Mat. 14. 15. Therefore this word is used also for beasts food, Psal. 147. 9.

The Jewes teares in the captivity of Babel: Their constancie in God, and love to Ierusalem. 7 A curse on Edom and Babel.

BY the rivers of Babel there wee sate,
 yea we wept, when wee remembered
 Sion. Vpon the willowes in the mids thereof, wee hanged our harpes. For there they that led us captive asked of us the words of a song; and they that threw us on heaps, mirth; sing unto us of the Song of Sion. How shall we sing Jehovahs song, in the land of a stranger? If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget. Let my tongue cleave to my palate, if I doe not remember thee, if I prefer not Jerusalem above the head of my joy. Remember Jehovah unto the sons of Edom, the day of Ieru-salem; who said, rase, rase, even to the foundation thereof. Daughter of Babel wasted, O blessed shall he be that repaieth unto thee thy reward which thou hast rewarded unto us. O blessed shall he be, that taketh & dasheth in peeces thy babes, against the Rocke.

Annotations.

Babel] or Babylon, the chiefe citie in Chaldeas land of Shinar, where Nimrod, that mighty hunter (the son of Cush, the son of Ham) began his reigne, called therefore his land, Gen. 10. 9.
 10. Mic. 5. 6. There in a plaine the people were building a citie and tower, whose top mought
 reach to heaven; but God confounded their language,
 so the building ceased, whereupon it was called Babel, that is, confusion, Gen. 11. 1, 2, 4, 8, 9. Afterward when Nebuchadnezzar reigned there, it was the chiefe citie in the world for luxury, cruelty, idolatry, and other sins, (so that Shinar is noted for the land and seat of wickednesse, Zach. 5. 8, 11. and Babylon is a type of the citie and seat of Antichrist, Rev. 17. 1. -- 5.) In this citie and countrey were the Jewes captives 70. yeeres, Ier. 25. 11, 12. Ieru-salem and the Temple being burned, 2 King. 25.
 8, 9, 10, 11. In that captivity, they lamented, as in the Psalme is shewed.

Verse 3. words of Song] that is, songs: so words
of marvels, Psal. 145. 5. mirth] understand
 againe, they asked of us mirth, or words of merriments.

V. 4. land of a stranger] or land of alienation, that is, a strange land; or, of a strange god, or people.

Verse 5. hand forget] to wit, be forgetting; some such word is often understood in defective passionate speeches. See Psal. 103. 9.

Verse 6. to my palate] or to the rooffe of my mouth;
 that is, let me be speechlesse, as Ezek. 3. 26. Iob 29. 10. preferre] or, make to ascend. the head]
 that is, the chiefest.

Verse 7. unto the fowles of Edom] that is, against the Edomites: see the like speech in a contrary sense, Psal. 132. 1. Of Edom, see Psal. 60. 10. and 83. 7. the day] that is, the calamitous time:

see the Notes on Psal. 37. 13. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the day wherein they destroyed Ierusalem.

rase] or powre out empty (as the Gr. also turneth
 it) that is, destroy & leave it bare. See this word, Psal. 141. 8. The Edomites being alwayes enemies to their brother Israel, rejoyced at his ruine, and helped forward his destruction, for which they are menaced by the Prophet, Obad. 1. 12. 13.
 14. &c.

Verse 8. Daughter] that is, Congregation; or Common-wealth: see Psal. 9. 15. wasted] that is, worthy to be wasted; as praised, Psal. 18. 4. is praise- worthy. Or, that shall be wasted; as, is borne, Isa. 9. 6.
 for, shall be borne, because God had so certainly promised, Ier. 50. & 51. or, the master, to wit, of others.
thy reward] thy evill deed: see Psal. 13. 6. where it is contrarily used for a good deed. Compare herewith, Ier. 50. 29. Rev. 18. 6.

Verse 9. the Rocke] that is, rocks, or stones; so the
Rocke, Luke 8. 6. is rockie or stony places, Mat. 13. 5.
 Compare Esay 13. 16.

David prayseth God for the truth of his word. 4 He prophesieth that the Kings of the earth shall praise God.
7 He professeth his confidence in God.

A Psalme of David.

I Will confesse thee with all my heart, before the Gods will I sing Psalme unto thee. I will bow me downe towards the Palace of thine holinesse, and confesse thy Name, for thy mercy and for thy truth; for thou hast magnified above al thy Name thy word. In the day that I cryed, then thou an-sweredst me, thou hast made me couragious in my soule with strength. All the Kings of the earth shall confesse thee Jehovah, when they heare the words of thy mouth. And they shall sing in the wayes of Jehovah, for great is the glory of Jehovah. For Jehovah is high, yet hee seeth the lowly, and the haughty he knoweth a farre off. If I walke
 in the mids of distresse, thou revivest me;
 against the anger of mine enemies thou sendest forth thine hand, and thy right hand saveth me. Jehovah will perfectly accomplish for me, Jehovah, thy mercy is for ever, slack
 not the workes of thine hands.

Annotations.

THe Gods] the Kings and Princes of the earth, as v. 4. called Gods, Psal. 82. 1. 6. before such David used to confesse the Lord, Psal. 119. 6. The Gr. here for Gods, saith Angels, as Psal. 8. 6. which also behold Gods holy things in his Church, 1 Cor. 11. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 12. Eph. 3. 10. but the Chaldee translateth, before the Judges.

Verf.

2 Verse 2. thy word] or thy saying, thy promise in Christ concerning thy people, is greater than all other things whereby thou hast made thy selfe knowne.

3 Verse 3. with strength] which I have from thee; as the Greeke saith, with thy might, strengthened by Gods Spirit in the inner man, as Ephesians 3.16.20.

5 Verse 5. in the wayes] or of the wayes: whereof see Psalm 103.7.

6 Verse 6. For] or I thought. the haughty] the proud person; in Greeke, the high things. The Chaldee paraphraseth, the proud from the heavens farre off he will depreesse. a farre off] or aloofe, not neere, or familiarly, but in wrath to punish them.

7 Verse 7. revivest] or, wilt revive and keep me alive: so after. against the anger] to repress it, or, on the nose ( the face ) to smite it with thy hand. The Hebrew signifieth both anger and nose, Psalm. 2.5. but the Greeke saith, anger.

8 Verse 8. perfectly accomplish] or performe, to wit, his worke begun against my foes, and his mercy concerning me. So the Greeke turneth it, hee will recompence for me; and the Chaldee, hee will recompence them evill for me. See Psalm. 57.3. slacke not] or leave not off. It is properly to leave off worke by unloosing the hand, Neh. 6.3. So David prayeth, that God which had begun a good worke for him, would not give it over, but perform it untill the day of Iesus Christ, as Phil. 2.6.

P S A L. CXXXIX.

David praisheth God for his all-seeing providence. 17 and for his infinite mercies. 19 He desieth the wicked, 23 and prayeth for sincerity.

1 To the Master of the Musicke,
Davids Psalm.

2 Iehovah, thou hast searched mee and knowne. Thou knowest my sitting and my rising, thou understandest my familiar thought a farre off. Thou fannest my path & my lying down, and art accustomed to all my wayes. When the speech is not yet in my tongue; loe, Jehovah, thou knowest it all. Thou dost beset me behind and before, and puttest thy hand upon mee. A knowledge too marvellous for me; it is high, I cannot attaine to it. Whither shall I goe from thy Spirit? and whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up the Heavens, thou art there; and if I make my bed in hell, loe thou art there. Take I the wings of the morning, dwell I in the uttermost part of the sea. There also thy hand wil lead me, and thy right hand hold me. And if I say, but surely the darkness shall shroud me, then the night is a light about me. Yea, darknesse darkeneth not from thee, but night giveth light as the day; as is the darknesse, so is the light. For thou hast possessed my reins, hast covered me in my mothers wombe. I will confesse thee, for that fearefully, marvellously madeam I; marvellous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it very well. My bone was not hid from thee, when I was made in a secret place, was embroidered in the nether places of the earth. Mine unformed substance thine eyes did see, and in thy booke all of them were written, in the dayes they were formed, and when not one of them was. And to mee how precious are thy thoughts, O God, how mightily increased are the fums of them? Would I tell them, they will be moe than the sand; I awake, and still I am with thee. If thou wouldest slay the wicked, O God; and men of bloods, depart ye from me. Which speake of thee to a mischievous purpose; lift up doe thy foes unto false vanity. Doe not I hate them, O Jehovah, that hate thee; and am not I grieved for those that rise up against thee? With perfection of hatred doe I hate them, they are to me for enemies. Search me, O God, & know my heart; prove me, and know my cogitations. And see if the way of sorrow be in me, and lead me in the way of eternity.

Annotations.

Davids Psalm] see the Notes on Psalm. 40.1. Verse 2. my familiar thought] in Greeke, my reasoning ( or disputing ) thoughts: in Chaldee, my fellowship in the Church: the Hebrew hath the signification of friendship and familiarity, used here and in verse 17. for thoughts or cogitations.

Verse 3. fannest] or winnowest, or compassest, that is, discussest and triest out to the utmost, even tracing the footsteps, as the Greeke signifieth Compare Job 31.4. accustomed to] and so acquainted with; the Greeke saith, foreseest.

Verse 4. When the speech, &c.] or, For there is not a word in my tongue, but loe, &c. which the Chaldee expoundeth, a lying word in my tongue.

Verse 5. beset] straightly besiege and inclose, boldest straight, or, hast formed me. thy hand] or palm, that I cannot breake away. The like phrase is in Job 40.27. The Chaldee interpreteth it, the stroke of thine hands.

Verse 6. a knowledge] or, This knowledge, namely, of thee, as the Greeke addeth. it is high] or, set on a high place, as Psalm 59.2. attaine to it] or prevaille against it, as Psalm 129.2.

Verse 7. thy presence] or thy face.

Verse 8.

- 8 Verse 8. make my bed] or spread my couch; in Greeke, descent. Compare Amos 9.2.
- 9 Verse 9. wings of the morning] or, day-dawning, which is said to have wings, for that it speedily flieth over all the aire. of the sea] meaning the furthest parts of the world, for so the sea often signifieth, Psal. 65.6. and 72.8. Esay 24.14.
- 11 Verse 11. shroud] over-dim me, as with the darke twi-light; or shall bruise, shall crush me downe, as Gen. 3.15. so the Greeke, shall tread me downe.
- 12 Verse 12. darknes] that is, hideth: Compare Iob 34.22. Ier. 23.24. as is, &c.] or, like darknesse, like light, that is, they are equall, as that which in Mat. 22.30. is like, in Luke 20.36. is equall.
- 13 Verse 13. covered] that is, safely kept and protected, as the Greeke saith, holpen me, or covered me with skin and flesh, &c. as Iob 10.11.
- 14 Verse 14. fearfully] or in fearfull sorts, to wit, I am made: or, these are fearfull things: the Chaldee saith, thou hast done fearfull things. marvellously made] or excellently made; elsewhere this word is used for separated from, and excelling others: see Psalme 4.4.
- 15 Verse 15. my bone] that is, bones, any of them; or my substance, or strength; for thereof the bone, is named. embroidered] that is, cunningly wrought, with Nerves, Sinewes, Veines, and variety of limbs. A similitude taken from broderie worke, Psalme 45.15. neither places of the earth] so hee calleth his mothers wombe, because of Gods secret and unknowne making of men there, Eccles. 11.5. And thus may the like phrase, Ephes. 4.9. be understood of Christs incarnation.
- 16 Verse 16. My unformed substance] or, Mine embryo, which is the body in the wombe before it hath perfect shape, or, unwrought up, as the Greeke here translateth it. The Hebrew name is of wrapping or winding up like a bottome, my wound-up masse, or body. all of them] all my members wound up in that my embryo or unperfected substance. Or generally, all men. The Chaldee saith, all my dayes were written in the booke of thy memoriall. were written] Hebr. shall be written, which meaneth a continuall act: see Psal. 1.1. So after, shall be formed. in the dayes they were formed] or, what dayes they should be formed: meaning that all his members, in the dayes that they were in fashioning in his mothers wombe, were written down of God: or, that the dayes of their forming were written. The Chaldee saith, in the day when the world was created, &c. and when not one] Hebr. and not one of them, or in them. Meaning that God had written downe all parts of his body, not onely when they were in forming, but long before. So commending his providence, who calleth things which be not as though they were, Romans 4.17.
- 17 Verse 17. how precious are] that is, how rare are thy thoughts to me, how few of them can I speak of, how incomprehensible are thy cogitations! The words following shew this to be the meaning: Compare Iob 26.14. And a thing is said to be precious which cannot be attained unto or effected; see Psal. 49.9. Otherwise we may take it thus, by thoughts, that is, the thoughts that I have of thee, how precious, of how much esteeme and worth are they to me? So precious is used Psal. 36.8. The Chaldee expoundeth it, How honorable are they that love thee, O God, and how are their principles fortified. mightily increast] many and strong: see Psal. 40.5. the summes] Hebr. heads, used for summes, and so the Greeke, arbee, Numb. 1.2: and 26.6. I awake and] or, when I awake I am still with thee, that is, still meditating of thee. The Chaldee referreth this to the last resurrection thus, I shall rise againe in the world to come, and shall be still with thee. See Psalme 17.15.

Verse 19. If thou wouldest] or, O that thou wouldest, for it seemeth here to be a wish, as also in the Greeke of the new Testament, Luke 12.49. what will I, if it were (that is, O that it were) already kindled. So in 1 Chron. 4.10. If thou wilt blesse me, that is, O that thou wouldest blesse. Or, Surely thou wilt slay, &c. and men, &c.] this may also be referred to God thus, and wouldest say, Ye bloody men depart from me; or to David who saith, depart ye from me. The Chaldee expoundeth it, and let the men addicted to the judgement of death depart from me.

Verse 20. speake of thee] or against thee, as the like Hebraisme meaneth, 1 King. 21.13. witnessed of (or against) him. See the notes on Psal. 5.5. Or say thee, that is, mention or speake of, as Psalme 40.11. 2 Sa. 6.22. The Chaldee understands it of swearing, which sweare in thy name deceitfully. to a mischievous purpose] or with a crafty intent, that is, craftily, wickedly. See Psal. 10.2. lift up doe thy foes, &c.] or, thy foes take up thy name to vanity; this sense the Chaldee paraphrase giveth, and the phrase is taken from Exo. 20.7. the word name being understood, (as in Levit. 24.11. the word Lord is understood) or, thy foes lift up their head (as is expressed, Psal. 83.2.) in vaine, that is, they are vainely proud and insolent. Often times words wanting are to be supplied: see the Notes on Psal. 103.9. Or, they lift up thy foes in vaine, that is, the wicked (which speake evill of thee) doe vainely extoll thine enemies. to false vanity] or in vaine: see Psal. 12.3. & 24.4.

Verse 21. am not I grieved] or grieve (irke) my selfe: so Psal. 119.158. Compare also 2 Chron. 19.2. Prov. 29.27.

Verse 23. Prove] or try me. Compare Psal. 26.2.

Verse 24. way of sorrow] or of griefe, that is, wicked way (purposes or actions) which are grievous to God and men; and in speciall, the way of idolatry; for of this word Idols have their name: see Psal. 116.4. So a word of griefe, Prov. 15.1. is that which grieveth him to whom it is spoken. way of eternity] or of antiquity, the old way, as Ier. 6.16. meaning the way of faith & godlinesse, which God taught from the beginning, and which continueth for ever; contrary to the way of the wicked, which perisheth, Psalme 1.6.

David prayeth for deliverance from the wicked.

9 He

9 Hee prayeth against them. 13 He comforteth himselfe by confidence in God.

1 To the Master of the Musicke, a Psalm of David.

2 Release mee, O Jehovah, from the evill man; from the man of violent wrongs preserve thou me. Which thinke evill things in heart; every day they gather warres. They sharpen their tongue like a serpent; the hot poyson of the Aspe is under their lips Selah.

5 Keepe me, O Jehovah, from the hands of the wicked; from the man of violent wrongs preserve thou me, which thinke to thrust away my feet. The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the paths side, they have set grins for me Selah.

7 I said to Jehovah, Thou art my God; hear, O Jehovah, the voice of my supplications for grace. Jehovah Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of armes. Grant not, O Jehovah, the desires of the wicked; further not his crafty device, lest they exalt themselves Selah.

10 The head of those that compasse mee about, the molestation of their lips shall cover them. They shall bring upon them coales; he shall sell them into the fire, into deepe pits, that they rise not up. An ill tongued man shall not be established in the earth; a man of violent wrong, evill shall hunt him to a sudden overthrow. I know that Jehovah will doe the judgement of the poore afflicted; the doome of the needle. Surely the just shall confesse to thy Name, the righteous shall sit before thy face.

Annotations.

3 They gather warres] or are gathered to warres, getting themselves and other together. The active is often used passively, Psalm. 31.9. and 109.13.

4 Verse 4. of the Aspe] or Viper; Greeke of Aspes: so Rom. 3.13: Compare Psalm 58.5.

5 Verse 5. to thrust away my feet] or, to overthrow my footsteps.

6 Verse 6. by the paths side] or, fast by my path; Heb. at the band of the path. Compare Psalm. 142.4. Jer. 18.22. Prov. 29.5.

8 Verse 8. Jehovah] or God: see Psalm. 68.21. of armes] or of armour, that is, of battell, (as the Greeke translateth it) when men harness themselves. This is that helmet, salvation, Eph. 6.17.

9 Verse 9. further not] or, bring not to passe. lest they] or, they will exalt themselves, that is, be proud or lusty. Compare Deut. 32.27.

Verse 10. the head] that is, As for the head (the chiefe) of those, &c. An head sometime signifieth a company of chiefe men, 1 Chron. 4.42. though here perhaps some one man is meant, as the Chaldee nameth Achitophel. It is also used for a band of men, as Job 1.17. Sometime the Hebrew word signifieth gall, as Psalm. 69.22. Which sense also is not amisse here. shall cover] or prayer-wise, let it cover them, and him (as Psalm. 2.3.) that is, every of them.

Verse 11. They shall bring] or make move (as Psalm. 55.4.) upon themselves; or coales shall be moved (that is, throwne) upon them. The Hebrew hath a double reading, yeelding both these senses; their judgements to be from God, but procured by themselves. be] that is, God shall sell them, or indefinitely, they shall be sold, or cast. deepe pits] or sudden sorrowes; the Greeke saith, calamities; the Chaldee, the fire of Gehenna.

Verse 12. An ill-tongued man] Hebr. a man of tongue, that is, a prattler or evill speaker, that hath tongue at will to use and abuse at his lust, and to smite therewith, as Jer. 18.18. So a man of lips, Job 11.2. is one talkative; a man of words, Exod. 4.10. is one eloquent: a man of arme, Job 22.8. is one mighty; and sundry the like. to a sudden overthrow] or, his utter ruine and misery. Hebrew, to (or with) thrustings downe. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The Angell of death shall burn him, and thrust him downe into hell.

Verse 14. sit before thy face] or dwell with thy face, that is, in thy presence: see Psalm. 16.11. & 61.8.

P S A L. CXLI.

David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, his conscience sincere, and his life safe from snares.

A Psalm of David.

1 Jehovah, I call upon thee, make haste unto me, give care to my voice when I call unto thee. Let my prayer be firmly directed as incense before thee; the lifting up of my hands as the evening oblation. Set thou Jehovah, a watch before my mouth, keepe the doore of my lips. Incline not my heart to an evill thing; to pretend pretences in wickednesse, with men that work painfull iniquity: and let me not eat their dainties. Let the just man smite mee, it shall be a kindness, and let him reprove mee; the head-oile, let it not breake mine head; for yet my prayer also shall be in their evils. Their Iudges are throwne downe by the Rocks sides; and they shall heare my sayings, for they are pleasant. As when one cutteth and cleaveth on the earth, our bones are scattered at the mouth of hell. But mine eyes are unto thee, Jehovah Lord; in thee I hope for

9 for safety : powre not out my soule. Keepe me from hands of the snare, which they have laid for me. and the grins of them that work 10 painfull iniquity. Let the wicked fall into his net, whiles I together passe over.

Annotations.

2 BE firmly directed] or prepared; and so acceptable. as incense] or perfume, which was a consecration of sweet spices, made after the art of the Apothecary, pure and holy, and was by the Priests burned upon the golden altar, every morning before the Lord, Exod. 30. 34, 35, 36, 7. 8.
a figure of the prayers of the Saints, acceptable to God, through Christs mediation, as this place
sheweth, compared with Revel. 8. 3. my hands]
or palmes, lifted up in prayer: see Psal. 63. 5.
evening oblation] the Minchah properly was the meat-offring, (which was fine flour mingled with oile)
offered together with the Lambe every evening,
before the Lord continually, as Exod. 29. 39, 40, 41, 42. Num. 28. 2, 3, 8. Here it is taken for the whole oblation, at the time of the offering wher-of the godly used to pray, Exod. 9. 5. Dan. 9. 31.
it was at the ninth houre of the day (about three of the clock in the after-noon) called the houre of prayer, Act. 3. 1.

3 Verse 3. a watch] or, a ward, custody, to keepe
me from speaking amisse. keepe] observe thou:
or, an observation, before the doore. the doore]
or gate of my lips, by which my words passe out as
at a doore: so the doores of the wombe, Iob 3. 10.
The originall dal, is contracted for delecth, a doore:
though this be rare: yet the Hebrew text sometime doth the like, as Chajil, 2 Sam. 23. 23. for Chajil, 1 Chron. 11. 22.

4 Verse 4. Incline not] to wit, by Satan, or mine owne corruption: for God properly tempteth
no man to evill; but the devill, and mans owne concupiscence, Iam. 1. 13, 14. 1 Cor. 7. 5. and by Satan, God moveth mens minds, as appeareth,
1 Chron. 21. 1. with 2 Sam. 24. 1. So Matt. 6. 13.
evill thing] or word: see Psal. 7. 1. to pretend pretences] or, excuses; thus the Greeke turneth it:
the Hebrew also signifieth occasions pretended, as Deut. 22. 14, 17. Or we may reade it, so practise practises in wickednesse. with men that worke] or, with men workers, that is, such as stoutly, boldly, and manfully work iniquity. their daunties] the Chal-
dee expoundeth it, of their songs at banquets.

5 Verse 5. smite] or beat me; the word properly
signifieth beating with an hammer, Psal. 74. 6. Iudg.
5. 26. applied to sharpe rebukes. So Prov. 23. 35.
Compare also Prov. 9. 8. and 25. 12. and 28. 23.
Zach. 13. 6. it shall be a kindnesse] a mercy, or,
with kindnesse, that is, let him smite mee kindly;
and reprove me. the head-oile] that is, the chiefe
or precious oile: (as head spices are chiefe and princi-pall, Exod. 30. 23.) or oile of the head, which is to anoint the head with. Or, by head, understand the chiefest of his adversarie, as before Psal. 140. 10.
for this seemeth to be an opposition to the former thus; let the just smite me, but let not the precious oile (or the oile of the head) of the wicked brake mine head: and this the Greek favoureth, saying, but let not the oile of the firmer supple mine head: by oile meaning flattering words, as Psal. 55. 22. Otherwise

we may refer it to the former just mans reproofe, it shall be a precious oile, let him not make it faile my head. The Chaldee otherwise expoundeth it, and let the Priest reprove me, anointing me with the anointing oile of the Sanctuary: but let him not take the crowne of the kingdome from mine head. let it not break my head]
not distraet or dazell my wits, not overcome me;
the Hebrew word signifieth breaking and bringing to nought, Psal. 33. 10. and is applied to the breaking of the heart by discouragement, Numb. 32. 7. and here to the breaking of the head, or bringing to nought of counsels, purposes, &c. by flattery. Or, if it be understood of the just, we may reade it, let him not make it faile mine head, that is, let the oile of his re-proofe not be wanting upon mine head. in their evils] or, against their evils: which may be applied to the evill deeds of the wicked, or calamities of the just: and here understand, in or shall be in their evils:
or, as the Chaldee explaineth it, is ordered against their evill.

Verse 8. Their Iudges] the Princes of mine adversaries.

are throwne downe] or, throw downe themselves, that is, secretly pursue and beset me in the rocks and mountaines whither I am forced to flee, 1 Sam. 24. 3. and 23. 26. The word may also beare their throwing downe to destruction, as 1 Chron. 25. 12. by the rock sides] or, in rockie places; Heb. in the hands of the rocke; as Psal. 140. 6.
and they shall beare] or, though they have beared.

Verse 7. crieth and cleaveth] to wit, wood, or the ground with the plough. of bell] or, the grave. Compare Ezek. 37. 1, 11, 12. Iehovah] or God: see Psal. 68. 21. powre not out my soule]
to wit, unto death, as Esay 53. 12. that is, kill mee not: or, make not my soule bare, that is, leave it not desstitute and helpelesse.

V. 10. Let the wicked fall] or, They shall fall. into his net] that is, every of them into his owne net, or snare.
together] namely, with their fall, or together with them that are with me: or, altogether (wholly) passe over, and escape: the Greeke saith, alone I am, untill I passe over. See this word, Psal. 33. 15.

PSALME CXLII.

David sheweth that in his troubles, when his owne heart, and all other helpe failed him, all his comfort was in faith and prayer unto God.

An instructing Psalme of David: a praier
when he was in the cave.

Vith my voice unto Jehovah did I cry, with my voice unto Jehovah did I supplicate for grace. I powred out before him my meditation, my distresse
I did shew before him. When my spirit was overwhelmed within mee, then thou knewest my path: in the way that I walked they

5 they privily laid a snare for me. I did looke
on the right hand and see, and no man ac-6 knowledged me; refuge is perished from me, no man seeketh for my soule. I cried unto thee, Jehovah; I said, thou art my hope for 7 safety, my portion in the land of the living.
Attend unto my shouting, for I am brought
very low; deliver me from my persecutors, 8 for they are stronger than I. Bring forth my soule out of the close prison, to confesse thy name; the just shall inviron me about, for thou wilt bounteously reward unto me.

Annotations.

1 In the cave] fled thither from the persecution of Saul, 1 Sam. 24. 4. &c.

4 Verse 4. was overwhelmed] or, swounded, fainted:
see Psal. 77. 4. then thou] Heb. and thou: so,
And he saith, Marke 14. 34. is expounded, Then
he saith, Mat. 26. 38.

5 Verse 5. I did looke] or, Looke thou, &c. continuing his complaint to God. But the Greek turnneth it, I considered: and the Hebrew Looke thou, or
To looke, is often resolved by other definite persons: see the notes Psal. 22. 9. and 49. 15. & 65.
11. & 77. 2. & 103. 20. and see] or, and behold, to wit, on the left hand. refuge] or flight. is perished
from me] that is, faileth me: I have no place to fly unto and escape. So Iob 11. 20. Amos 2. 14.
seeketh] that is, careth for: so Prov. 29. 10. usually to seeke the soule, is in the ill part to destroy it:
see Psalme 35. 4.

7 V. 7. brought low] or weakened: see Psal. 116. 6.

8 Ver. 8 the prison] the cave wherein I am shut up close. invirow] compasse, as Psalme 22. 13. or,
expect, as Iob 36. 2. and so the Greeke translateth,
the just shall wait for me, untill thou reward mee. See Psalme 13. 6. The Chaldee saith, for my sake the just shall make thee a crowne of prayse, because thou wilt ren- der a good reward to me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

David prayeth for favour in judgement. 3 Hee complaineth of his griefes. 5 He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer. 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for sanctification, 12 for destruction of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

1 I Jehovah heare my praier, give care to my supplications for grace; in thy faithful-2 nesse answer me in thy justice. And enter not into judgement with thy servant, for before thee shall not any living bee justified.
3 For the enemy persecuteth my soule, smi-
teth downe my life to the earth, maketh mee 4 sit in darkeness, as the dead for ever. And my spirit is overwhelmed in me, in midst of 5 me my heart is wondrously amazed. I remember the dayes of old, I meditate on all thy worke, I muse on the action of thy hands. I spread out my hands unto thee; my soule, as a weary land, thirsteth for thee Selah. Make speed, answer me Jehovah, my 7 spirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, for I shall be made like to them that goe downe

the pit. Cause me to heare thy mercy in the 8 morning, for in thee doe I trust; cause me to know the way that I should walke, for unto thee doe I lift up my soule. Deliver me from 9 mine enemies, O Jehovah; unto thee I fly
for covert. Learne me to doe thine accepta-10 ble will, for thou art my God, thy good spirit shall lead mee in the land of righteous-11 nesse. For thy names sake Jehovah, thou wilt quicken me, in thy justice wilt bring 12 forth my soule out of distresse. And in thy mercy wilt suppress mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soule, for I am thy servant.

the judgement hall, namely, to judge with severity.

waterlesse: see Psal. 63. 2.

7 Verse 7. for I] or lest I; Hebr. and I; which may be supplied thus, lest I perish, and be made like,

PSAL. CXLIV.

David bleſſeth God for his mercy in helping him in his warres. 3. He confeſſeth mans miſery and unwarineſſe, 5. prayeth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies. 9. He promiſeth to praiſe God. 11. He ſheweth the vanity of worldly felicity, 15. and happineſſe of Gods people.

A Pſalme of David.

Bleſſed be Jehovah my Rocke, which learneth my hands to the battell, my fingers to the warre. My mercy and my fortrefſe, my high tower, and my deliverer for me; my ſhield, and he in whom I hope for ſafety, that ſubjecteth my people under me, Jehovah, what is earthly man, that thou takeſt knowledge of him; the ſonne of wretched man, that thou makeſt account of him? Earthly man is like to vanity, his daies are as a ſhadow that paſſeth away. Jehovah, bow thy heavens and come downe, touch the mountaines and they ſhall ſmoake. Lighten the lightning, and ſcatter them aſunder; ſend thine arrowes and diſturbe them. Send thy hands from the high place; releaſe me, and deliver me from the many waters, from the hand of the ſons of the ſtranger. Whoſe mouth ſpeaketh falſe vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falſhood. O God, I will ſing unto thee a new ſong; with Pſalterie and ten-stringed inſtrument I will ſing Pſalmes to thee. That giveth ſalvation unto Kings, that releaſeth David his ſervant from the evill ſword. Releaſe me and deliver me from the hand of the ſons of the ſtranger, whoſe mouth ſpeaketh falſe vanity, & their right hand is a right hand of falſhood. That our ſonnes as plants growne great in their youth, our daughters as corner ſtones, cut after the ſimilitude of a Palace. Our garner full, affording from meat to meat; our flocks bringing forth thouſands, increaſed by ten thouſands in our ſtreets. Our Oxen laden, no breaking in, and none going out, and no out-cry in our ſtreets. O bleſſed is the people whoſe ſtate is ſuch; O bleſſed is the people whoſe God is Jehovah.

The Psalmist voweth perpetuall praises to God. 3 He exhorteth not to trust in man. 5 God for his power, justice, mercy and kingdome, is only worthy to be trusted in, and celebrated.

Halelu-jah.

MY soule, praise thou Jehovah. I will praise Jehovah in my life, I will sing Psalmes to my God while I am. Trust not yee in bounteous Princes; in son of Adam, with whom is no salvation. His spirit goeth forth, hee returneth to his earth, in that day his thoughts perish. O blessed is he, in whose helpe the God of Iakob is, whose hope is in Jehovah his God. Which made heavens & earth, the sea, & all that in them is; w<sup>ch</sup> keepeth truth for ever. Which doth judgement to the oppressed, giveth bread to the hungry; Jehovah looseth the bound. Jehovah openeth the eyes of the blind; Jehovah uprightneth the crooked; Jehovah loveth the just. Jehovah keepeth the strangers, setteth upright the fatherlesse and the widow, and overthroweth the way of the wicked. Jehovah shall reigne for ever; thy God, O Sion, to generation and generation; Halelu-jah.

PSAL. CLXVII.

The Prophet exhorteth to praise God, for his care of the Church, wisdom, power, mercy and providence unto all. 12 To praise him for his blessings upon the kingdome, 15 for his workes in nature, 19 and for his gracious word and ordinances given to his people.

- 1 P Rayse yee Iah, for it is good to sing Psalmes to our God, for it is pleasant, praise is comely. Jehovah buildeth Ierusalem, gathereth together the outcasts of Israel. Hee healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their griefes. Counteth the number of the stars, calleth them all by names. Great is our Lord, and much in able might; of his understanding there is no number. Jehovah setteth upright the meeke, debaseth the wicked unto the earth. Sing yce to Jehovah with confession, sing Psalmes to our God with the harpe. That covereth the heavens with clouds that prepareth raine for the earth, that maketh the mountaines to bud forth grasse. That giveth to the beast his food, to the young ravens which cry. He delighteth not in the strength of the horse, hee taketh not pleasure in the legs of man. Jehovah taketh pleasure in them that feare him, that patiently hope for his mercy. Laud Jehovah, O Ierusalem; praise thy God, O Sion. For he strengtheneth the bars of thy gates, he blesteth thy sons within thee. He putteth in thy border peace: hee satisfieth thee with the fat of wheat. Hee sendeth his edict upon earth, his word runneth very swiftly. Hee giveth snow like wooll, the hoare frost hee scattereth abroad like ashes. He casteth forth his ice like morsels; who can stand before his cold? He sendeth his word and melteth them, he causeth his wind to blow, the waters flow. Hee sheweth his words unto Iacob, his statutes and his judgements unto Israel. Hee hath not dealt so with any Nation, and judgements they have not knowne them; Halelu jah.

P S A L M E CXLVIII.

The Psalmist exhorteth all the heavenly, 7. the earthly, 11, and the reasonable creatures to praise God.

Halelu-jah.

- 1 Praise yee Jehovah from the heavens, praise yee him in the high places.
2 Praise ye him all his Angels, praise ye 3 him all his hosts. Praise yee him Sunne and 4 Moone, praise yee him all starres of light.
5 Praise yee him heavens of heavens, and the 6 waters that be above the heavens. Let them
7 praise the name of Jehovah, for hee com-
8 manded, and they were created. And he sta-
9 blished them for aye for ever; a statute hee
10 gave, and it shall not passe. Praise ye Jeho-
11 vah from the earth, Dragons, and all deepes.
12 Fire and haile, snow and vapour, stormie
13 wind, doing his word. Mountaines and all 14 hills, fruitfull trees and all cedars. The wild beast and all cattell, creeping thing and fethered fowle. Kings of the earth and all peoples, Princes and all Iudges of the earth.
Young men and also maidens, old men with children. Let them praise the name of Jehovah, for high advanced is his Name, even his alone; his glorious Majestie is above earth and heavens. And hee hath exalted the horne of his people, the praise of all his gracious Saints, the sons of Israel, a people
neere him; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

- 1 From the heavens] yee heavenly creatures; as the Chaldee, yee holy creatures of heaven: so after,
from the earth, verse 7. is earthly creatures. Compare Revel. 5. 13. in the high places] which the Chaldee expoundeth, high Angels.
3 Verse 3. starres of light] bright shining starres, which prayed God together, Iob 38. 7.
4 Verse 4. above the heavens] in the clouds of the aire, Gen. 1. 7. Iob 26. 8. and 37. 11.
6 Verse 6. stablished] or, made them stand, Psalme
119. 91. a statute] that is, statutes or decrees, rules, ordinances, whereby every creature is bounded to his set time and place, as Iob 34. 5.
13. and 26. 10. whereupon mention is made of the statutes or ordinances of heaven, of the Moone and starres, &c. Iob 38. 33. Ier. 31. 35. and 33. 25.

it shall not passe] that is, not any of the things fore-mentioned shall passe the statute (or bound) set of God; or it, the statute shall not passe away, or faile, or, not be altered; as Esth. 1. 19. and 9. 27. 28.

Verse 7. dragons] or whale-fishes.

Verse 8. vapour] or smoke, exhalation, damps. As these and all other creatures, are here stirred up to praise the Lord; so for our sakes are these things written, that we should learne by them to praise the Creator. And it is a rule in the Hebrew Canons, that for winds when they blow tempestuously, and for lightning and thunder, &c. for lights in the aire which seeme to be stars that fall, or run from place to place, or blazing stars, comets, &c. when a man seeth any of these, he is to blesse God who hath filled the world with his power and might. Also, hee that seeth the beaustifull creatures, as going out into the fields or gardens in the spring time, seeth the trees sprouting and blossoming, he is to blesse God, who hath not let his world lacke any thing, but hath created in it goodly creatures and faire trees, &c. for the use of the sons of Adam. So, for mountaines and hills, sea and deserts, rivers, &c. if he see any of them from three dayes to three dayes, he is to blesse the Creator of the world. Maimony in Misneh, in Beracoth, chap. 10.
sect. 14. 13. 15.

Verse 10. feathered fowle] or winged bird: Hebr.
bird of wing.

Verse 13. high advanced] or set on high: so Esay
12. 4. It is a strong tower, into which the righteous runneth, and is also set on high in safety, Proverbs 18. 10.

Verse 14. the horne] the power and glory, as the Chaldee saith, the glory of the kingdome of his people:
see Psal. 75. 10. This is accomplished in Christ the horne of salvation, Luk. 1. 69. the praise] understand, which is the prayse of his Saints, that is, their glory, or, an argument of prayse to them. neere him] Gods people are said to be neere unto him, in respect of his covenant with them in Christ, Ephes. 2. 13. their service of him, Levit. 10. 3. and spirituall alliance in Christ, Ioh. 20. 17. 1 Iohn
3. 1. For this word high, is used for kindred, Levit.
21. 3. Christ draweth neere unto God for them, Ier.
30. 21. and they by him, Heb. 10. 19. 22.

P S A L. CXLIX.

God is publicly to be prayed for his graces to his Church, and power given to the same.

Halelu-jah.

Sing ye to Jehovah a new song, his praise in the Church of gracious Saints. Let Israel rejoyce in his makers, let the sons of Sion be glad in their King. Let them praise his name with flute; with timbrel and harpe, let them sing Psalmes unto him. For Jehovah taketh pleasure in his people, hee will beautifie the meek with salvation. The gracious Saints shall be glad some in glory, shall shout joyfully upon their beds. The 11 Nobles in fetters of iron. To doe on them

12 the judgement written, this comely honour
13 is to all his gracious Saints; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

2 His makers] the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost, which three are one, 1 Ioh. 3. 7. The mysterie of the Trinity is in the Hebrew phrase;
so in many other, as, Let us make man in our image,
Gen. 1. 26. Where is God my maker? Job 35. 10.
Thy maker is thine husbands, Esay 54. 5. Remember
thy Creators, Ecclef. 12. 1. and sundry the like.
God also is our maker, both in nature and grace:
see Psal. 100. 3. their King] Christ: as Mat. 21.
5. Song. 14.

3 Verse 3. with flute] as Psal. 150. 4. or, in a dance, as Ier. 31. 4. 13. Psalm. 30. 12. One name is given both to the dance, and the pipe whereto they danced.

4 Verse 4. beautifie] or adorn, make glorious: so Esay 60. 7. 9. 13. The Greeke saith, exalt.

6 Verse 6. The exaltations] that is, exalting songs,
high acts, high praises, or, lifting up of the voice,
preachings. in their throat] that is, aloud spoken of, and proclaimed: so Esay 58. 1. Cry with the throat, is, Cry aloud. two edged] Hebr. a sword of mouthis, that is, of two mouthes, as is expressed, Iudg.
3. 16. in Greeke, two mouthed, that is, two edged, biting or cutting two wayes. This sword is Gods word, and cometh out of Christs mouth, Ephes.
6. 6. 17. Heb. 4. 12. Rev. 1. 16.

7 Verse 7. on the heathens] by preaching against their Idolatries, Act. 14. 15. and 17. 16. 17. 22.
&c. Compare 2 Cor. 4. 5. 6. Esay 41. 15. re-
proofs] for sinne, as Ioh. 16. 8. &c.

8 Verse 8. To binde their Kings] restraining their vices, and bringing them under the bonds and subjection of the Gospell; see Psal. 2. 3. Marke 6.

of captivity, Nahum 3. 10. 2 Cor. 10. 4 5. 6. Mat.
16. 19. Nobles] or Honourable.

9 Verse 9. written] in the booke of God, see
1 Cor. 4. 6. Rev. 22. 18. So the Chaldee paraphra-seth, written in the Law. And this may have reference to that law, Deut. 7. 1. 2. &c. honour is] or, this shall be the honour of all his Saints.

PSAL. CL.

An exhortation to praise Gods holinesse, power, and goodnesse, with all kind of instruments, and all breath.

Halelu-jah.

1 Praise ye God in his sanctity, praise him
2 in the firmament of his strength. Praise him in his powers, praise him according to the multitude of his greatnesse

Praise him with the sound of the Trumpet, 3 praise him with the psaltery and harp. Praise 4 him with the Tymbrēl and Flute, praise him 5 with Virginals and Organ. Praise him with 6 well sounding Cymbals, praise him with loud sounding Cymbals. Let all breath praise lah; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

1 In his sanctity] or, for his holinesse; his most holy being, Esay 6. 3. the first argument of praise from Gods holy essence in himselfe: or, in his sanctity, (his sanctity) his holy place, meaning hea: en.
in the firmament of his strength] that is, for his strong firmament, (called heaven, Gen. 1. 8.) the second argument of praise, from the frame of the world, whereof heaven is chiefest: see Psal. 19. 2. or for the out-spreading of his strength, that is, for his strength spread out as the firmament.

2 Verse 2. in his powers] or for his powerfull acts, as Psal. 145. 4. the third argument of praise from Gods mighty administration of all things since the creation. of his greatnesse] or majesty, in speciall mercy towards his owne people and against their enemies; which is the fourth argument of his praise. Compare Deut. 3. 24. and 9. 26. & 32.
3. Exod. 15. 16. 1 Chron. 17. 19. Luke 1. 46. 49.
58. Act. 2. 11. Psalme 79. 11. and 145. 3. 6.
Majesty hath the name of greatnesse, and is applied to the greatest state of Policies or Commonweales; which is to be minded here.

4 Verse 4. Flute] or dance: Psal. 149. 3. Virgi-
nals] or, stringed instruments: this word is not elsewhere in Scripture. Organ] or, the Organon, as the Greeke translateth it: the Hebrew name signifieth a lovely (or a lightfull) instrument: it is one of the ancientest of the world, invented by Tu-bal, Genesis. 4. 21. and an instrument of joy, Job
21. 12. and 30. 31. well sounding Cymbals] Heb.
Cymbals of bearing, that is, easy or delighfull to bee
heard, which the Greeke translateth well sounding.
The Cymbals were of metall, as bells, and have their name of their shrill tinkling sound. loud soun- ding] or, joyfully sounding, or tinkling; as 1 Cor. 13.
1. Hebr. Cymbals of shouting sound.

6 Verse 6. all breath] or, every breath, that is, every thing that hath breath; this word is used for the breath that God inspired into man, Gen. 2. 7. and for the mans mind or immortall soule, Esay 57. 16.
and usually is applied to man, and to the breath of God, Psalme 18. 16. but in Gen. 7. 22. it seemeth
to be spoken of all living things. Compare Rev. 5.
13. where every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, were heard, saying; Unto him
that sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lambe, bee
blessing, and honour, and glory, and power for ever and ever, Amen.

Of the Musicke that ISRAEL had in the Temple.

AS muscicall Instruments were used with songs of old when Israel first came out of Egypt, Exod. 15. 20. and Trumpets were appointed of God at mount Sinai, which the Priests should blow over the Burnt-offrings and Sacrifices, which was an ordinance for ever, Num 10. 8, 10. so David, the sweet Psalmist of Israel, by the Spirit of God made Hymnes and Songs, with Cymbals, Harpes and Psalteries, which the Levites in their courses should sing and play upon continually in the Sanctuary. Which melodie was heard when the Arke of God was brought into the Tent which David had pitched for it, 1 Chr. 15. 1, 16, 19, 20, 21. then all Israel brought up the Arke of the Covenant of the Lord with shouting, & with sound of the

Cornet, and with Trumpets, and with Cymbals, making a noise with Psalteries and Harps, 1 Chr. 15. 28. The Trumpets which Moses made were of silver, Numb. 10. 2. Davids Cymbals were of brasse, 1 Chr. 15. 18. the Harpes and Psalteries were of fine wood, 2 Chr. 9. 11. These are called the instruments of musicke (or of the song) of the Lord, 2 Chr. 7. 6. and David appointed them to be used continually before the Arke, 1 Chr. 16. 4, 5, 6. and divided by lot the Levites which were Musicians into foure and twenty wards, 1 Chr. 25. and they were by their courses to stand every morning to confesse and to praise the Lord, and likewise at evening, 1 Chr. 23. 30. And when Solomon had builded the Temple, he continued therein the order set by David his father; so that the Levites, Singers, and Musicians being arrayed in white linnen, having Cymbals, and Psalteries and Harpes, stood at the end of the Altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests sounding with Trumpets; and the Trumpeters and Singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and confessing to the Lord, 2 Chr. 5. 12, 13. and 7. 6. and 8. 14. This order when it was interrupted by the sin of the Jews, K. Ezekias restored, 2 Chro. 30. 21. that when the Burnt-offring began, the song of the Lord began also, with the Trumpets and with the Instruments ordained by David King of Israel; and all the Congregation worshipped, and the Singers sang, and the Trumpeters sounded: all this continued untill the Burnt-offering was finished, 2 Chr. 29. 27, 28. The same order of song and musicke continued in the second Temple after their return from Babylon, as appeareth by Ez. 3. 10, 11. and Neh. 12. 24, 27, 35, 36, 42, 45. In the Psalmes of David we find mention also of Flutes (or Pipes) and Timbrels, and other Instruments used with songs of praise unto God Pf. 149. 3. and 150. 3, 4, 5. The Hebrew Doctors have recorded some things more particularly thus, They said the song over all the Burnt-offerings of the Congregation, which they were bound (to offer;) and over the Peace-offerings of the solemne assemblie, at the time when the wine [the Drink-offring] was poured out. But the voluntary burnt-offrings which the congregation offered, and the Drinke-offrings brought for the, they said not the song over the. A Levite that mourned, might not serve or sing And there might not be fewer then twelve Levites standing up on the bank (or stage) every day to say the song over the sacrifice: but they might alwayes have more, so many as they would. And they

they said not the Song, but by mouth, without Instrument. For the root (or foundation) of the Musicke is, that it be a service by mouth. And there were others standing there playing with instruments of Musicke. And they played on Psalteries, and Pipes, and Harpes, and Trumpets, and Cymball. There might not be fewer than two Psalteries, nor more than six: not fewer than two Pipes, nor more than twelve: not fewer than two Trumpets, nor more than an hundred and twenty; [so many as were at the dedication of the Temple, 2 Chron. 5. 12.] Not fewer than nine Harps, but as many more as they would: and but one Cymball onely. In all the daies of the solemne Feasts, and at the new Moons, there were Priests blowing with Trumpets in the houre of the sacrifice, Numb. 10. 10. and the Levites said the Song. The Trumpets were of silver, and it was not lawfull to have them of other mettall. The Pipes which they played on were of Cane (or Reed.) The Psalterie (Nebel) was an instrument like a Bottle, and it had strings, and they played thereon. Twelve daies in the yeere they played on the Pipe before the Altar; at the killing of the first Passeeover, and at the killing of the second Passeeover, and in the first good day of the Passeeover, and in the first good day of the Retention (or Pentecost) and in the eight daies of the Feast (of Tabernacles.) Maimony in Mishneh, tom. 3. in Cle hammikdash, chap. 3. and Thalmud Bab, in Erachin, chapter 7. These Ordinances being ended by the comming of Christ, (who was to destroy the Citie and the Sanctuarie, and to cause the Sacrifice and the Oblation to cease, Dan. 9. 26, 27.) it remaineth, that now the Word of Christ dwell in us richly in all wisdom, and that we be filled with the Spirit, speaking to our selves, teaching and admonishing one another in Psalmes, and Hymnes, and spirituall Songs, singing with grace, and making melodie in our hearts to the Lord, Colos. 3. 16. Ephesians 5. 18, 19.

THE SONG OF SONGS.

CHAPTER I.

1 The Song of Songs, which is Solomons.

2 Et him kisse mee, with the kisses of his mouth, for thy loves are better than wine.
3 For the savour of thy good ointments; thy name, is an ointment powred-forth: therefore, the 4 Virgins love thee. Draw me, we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers, we will be glad,
and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy loves, more than wine; the upright, love thee.

5 I am black, and comely; O ye daughters of Jerusalem: as the tents of Kedar, as the curtaines of Solomon.
6 Looke not upon mee, because I am blackish; because the Sunne hath looked downe upon me: the sonnes of my mother have beene angry with mee;
they made me the keeper of the Vineyards, my Vineyard which is mine, I have not kept.

7 Tell me, O thou, whom my soule loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest to rest at noone: for why should I be, as one that turneth aside, unto the flocks of thy companions?

8 If thou know not, O thou fairest among women: goe thy way forth, by the footsteps of the flocke, and feed
thy kids, besides thy shepherds tents.

CHAPTER I.

This may be sung as the 55 or 86 Psalme.

With kisses of his mouth,
let him kisse me;
Because thy loves, than wine
much-better be.

For thy good ointments odoriferous-
Thy name, it is a powred-forth ointment: (sent;
Therefore, the Virgins they have loved thee.

Doe thou me draw, run after thee will we:
Into his chambers brought me hath the King;
We will be glad in thee, and joyfull-sing:
We will record thy loves, the wine above.

They that are upright, doe thee dearly-love,
O daughters of Ierusalem, I am

Blacke, but am pleasing-comely with the same:
Like to the tabernacles of Kedar,

Like to the curtaines Solomons which are.

Looke not on me because that I am browne;

Because the Sun hath on me looked downe:

The children of my mother they have beene

Incensed against me with angry-teene;

To keepe the Vineyards they did me assigne,

I have not kept my Vineyard which is mine.

O my soules love, tell me where thou feedest,

Where thou dost make (thy flocke) at noone to rest.

For why should I be like to one that goes-

Aside, unto the flockes of thy fellows?

If thou thy selfe know not, O fairest one

Of womankind, then forth get thou thee gone,

By footsteps of the flocke, and thy yong-goats

Feed thou, besides the shepherds dwelling-cotes.

- 9 I have compared thee, O my love, to 10 the company-of-horses in the charrets of Pharaoh. Thy cheekes are comely with rowes, thy necke with chaines.
 11 We will make for thee rowes of gold;
 with specks of silver.
 12 While the King sitteth at his roundtable, my spikenard, giveth forth the 13 smell thereof. A bundle of myrrh, is my welbeloved unto me: he shall lye-14 all-night, betwixt my breasts. A cluster of Cypres is my wel-beloved unto me;
 in the Vineyards of Engedi.
 15 Behold thou art faire, my Love;
 behold thou art faire, thine eyes are as doves.
 16 Behold thou art faire, my beloved, yea pleasant; also our bed is green. The beames of our houses, are Cedars; our galleries, of Brutin-tree.

- 9 I have compared thee, my love, unto
 The horses-troop in Charrets of Phar'oh.
 Thy cheekes with rowes, thy necke with chaines
 are decks.
 11 Wee will make thee, gold rowes; with silver specks.
 12 At his round-table while the King doth sit;
 My spikenard giveth forth the smell of it.
 13 A bag of myrrh my Loved is to me.
 Betwixt my breasts, lye all the-night shall he.
 14 My Low'd to me a cluster of Cypres;
 That in the vineyards of Engedi is.
 15 Loe thou art faire, O thou my dearest love;
 Loe thou art faire, thine eyes are as the dove.
 16 Loe thou art faire, O thou my deare-loved,
 Yea pleasant art, greene also is our bed.
 Beames of our houses, of the Cedars be;
 Our galleries, are of the Brutin-tree.

Annotations.

THe Song of Songs ] Songs and Psalmes are for the most part arguments of joy and glad-nesse in them that sing, and of their praises, whom the Songs concerne, Jam. 5. 13. Ephes. 5. 19. Exo.
 15. Judg. 5. Esa. 26. 2 Sam. 22. Psa. 66. 1, 2, 3, &c. So this Booke treating of mans reconciliation unto God, and peace by Jesus Christ, with joy in the Holy Ghost; is called a Song: which therefore the faithfull should learn to sing with understanding, making melody in their hearts to the Lord, when they feele themselves made partakers of his
 joy. And it is intituled the Song of Songs, that is, the chiefeft and most excellent Song: as Christ,
 whom it concerneth, is called the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, Rev. 19. 16. and 17. 14. that is,
 the most high and mighty King, and supreme Lord of all. Solomon made a thousand Songs and five, 1 Kings 4. 32. of all which, this was most excellent; yea, and of all the Songs in the Scripture:
 for this celebrateth the mysteries of Christ and his Church, and the communion between them,
 more amply and excellently than any other.
 which is Solomons ] It is better to beare the rebuke of the wife, than for a man to beare the Song of fools, Eccles. 7.
 5. but Solomon, who made this Song in praise of Christ and of his Church, surpassed all the Kings of the earth in riches and wisdom, 2 Chronicles 9.
 22. Hee was wiser than all men; for God gave him wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largenesse of heart, even as the sand that is on the Sea shore, 1 Kings 4. 29, 31. and all the earth
 sought the face of Solomon, to beare his wisdom, which God had put in his heart, 1 Kings 10. 24.
 There was none like him before him, neither after him shall any arise like unto him, 1 Kings 3. 12. It may also be interpreted, which belongeth to (or concerneth) Solomon: understanding heereby,

Christ himselfe, whom Solomon prefigured in Kingdome, wisdom and glory. And Solomon (called in Hebrew Shelomoh, but after the Grecke Solomon, Matthew 1. 6.) had his name of peace;
 because he was a man of rest; and God said of him, Solomon shall be his name, and I will give (Solomon, that is) peace and quietnesse unto Israel in his daies; 1 Chronicles 22. 9. so, he had peace on all sides round about him, 1 Kings 4. 24. Now Christ is our peace, Ephesians 2. 14. even the Prince of peace, Eney 9. 6. and he is called Solomon in this Song, Chapter 3. 11.
 and David prophesying of Christs Kingdome, intituled his Psalmie, For Solomon, Psalmie 72.
 Thus the Penman of this Booke, being the wisest of all the Prophets, and Christ whom it concer-neth, being the very wisdom of God, 1 Cor. 1. 24.
 and greater than Solomon, Matthew 12. 42. this Song is commended unto us by the Holy Ghost, in the highest degree of excellencie. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this title thus; Songs and hymnes, which Solomon the Prophet, the King of Israel, uttered by the Spirit of prophesie, before the Lord, the Lord of all the world.

Verf. 2. Let him kisse me ] As the Scripture men-tioneth the Bride, the Bridegroom, and the friends of them both, the children of the Bride-chamber, Joh. 3.
 29. Matthew 9. 15. so in this Song all theie, (especially the two former) are brought in as speakers, every one of and unto another, so declaring their mutuall desires, loves and affections.
 The Bride is the Church espoused to Christ, and called the wife of the Lamb, Revel. 21. 9. to whom she is to be presented a chaste virgin, 2 Cor. 11. 2.
 and this Church Christ loved, and gave himselfe
 for it, that he might sanctifie and cleanse it with the washing of water, by the Word; that he might present it to himselfe a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such

such things; but that it should be holy, and without blemish, Ephes. 5. 25, 26, 27. Howbeit before Christ came in our humanity, the Church (according to the oeconomicall dispensation of God) was as a childe in her non-age, under tutors and governours, untill the time appointed of the Father, Gal. 4. 1, 2. kept under the Law, shew up unto the faith, which should afterwards be revealed; which Law was a Schoolmaster unto Christ, Gal. 3. 23, 24. In this estate she continued till faith came, and then she being dead to the Law, by the body of Christ, was to be married unto another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that she might bring forth fruits unto God, Rom. 7. 1, 4. So though our godly forefathers in the daies of the Prophets, saw the promises a farre off, and were perswaded of them, and embraced them, and did all obtaine testimonie (and were glorious) through faith, yet they received not the promise, God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us, should not be perfected, Heb. 11. 13, 39, 40. Now in Solomon's daies, the Church before Christs comming had greatest glory, having the Temple builded, living under that most wise, rich and peaceable King: the Israelites being many, as the sand which is by the Sea in multitude; eating and drinking, and making merry; and dwelling safely, every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree, 1 Kings 4. 20, 25. notwithstanding Solomon being a Prophet, foresaw the ruine of his house and kingdome, and in his Booke of Ecclesiastes, proclaimed all things under the Sun, to be vanitie; and in this Song prophesieth of the Church and kingdome of Christ. And as hee with many other Prophets, and Kings, and righteous men, desired to see Christ, and to heare his words, but did not, Luke 10. 24. Mat. 13. 17. so here he manifesteth the desire of himselfe and of all the faithfull, to enjoy the blessings and graces of Christ; saying, Let him kisse me. Whereby the Church desireth to have Christ manifested in the flesh, and to have the loving and comfortable doctrines of his Gospel, applyed unto her conscience; that she might not be alwaies under the Schoolmaster of the Law, (which worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15.) but might be prevented with the grace of Christ, be reconciled unto God, united unto Christ, and have the feeling of his love towards her. For, kissing is a token of love, 1 Pet. 5. 14. Luke 7. 45. was used at the meeting and salutation of friends, Exod. 4. 27. and 18. 7. 1 Thess. 5. 26. and David kissed Absalom, in signe of favour and reconciliation, 2 Sam. 14. 33. And as we are willed to kisse the Sonne, Psal. 2. 12. that is, lovingly and gladly to submit unto and obey his commandements: so the Church here prayeth first, that the Sonne would kisse her; that is, in love and kindnesse teach, and apply unto her the grace of his Gospel. For, herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Sonne to be the propitiation for our sinnes, 1 John 4. 10. Afterward, we love him, because he first loved us, 1 John 4. 19. and we kisse him, Song 8. 1. The Hebrew Expositors, as the Chaldee Paraphrast and others doe for the most part, apply these things to the giving of the Law by Moses: For they being ignorant of the righteousnesse of God, have gone about to establish their owne righteousnesse, Rom. 10. 3. Howbeit, some of the in ancient time, saw better, as appeareth by their Midrash, (an Hebrew Commentary on this Booke) which here saith; Moses taught them the Law, and whatsoever they learned, they forgot againe. Then they said unto Moses, O that God would shew himselfe againe, and kisse us with the kisses of his mouth, that his doctrine might be fastned in our hearts. Moses said unto them, This cannot be done now, but it shall be in the daies of Christ; as it is said, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts: Jer. 31. 33. kisses of his mouth] his owne lovely and gracious doctrines. As in Pro. 27. 6. the wounds of a friend, signifie sharp reproofes, and are opposed to the deceitfull kisses, that is, the flattering speeches of an enemy: so here the kisses desired of this friend, are the comfortable words of the doctrine of salvation; opposed to the severe rebukes which the Law giveth for our sinnes, condemning and cursing every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the Booke of the Law, to doe them, Gal. 3. 10. But Christ (into whose lips grace is poured, Psal. 45. 3.) openeth his mouth, and uttereth Blessings, Matth. 5. 2, 3, &c. for thy loves] She turneth her speech unto Christ, and sheweth a reason of her former desire. By loves, are meant graces, and the fruits of them, here first from Christ to his Church; afterward, from her unto Christ: which he acknowledgeth, saying, How much better are thy loves than wine! Song 4. 10. These she perceiveth from Christ, by the workes of Adoption, Redemption, Justification and Sanctification through Christ and his Spirit; as in 1 Joh. 3. 1, 16, & 4. 9, 10. John 15. 13. Rom. 5. 1, 5. Ephes. 5. 25, 26, 27. So in the contrary, Antichrists allarements to communion with his impiety, are with these words, Come, let us take our fill of loves untill the morning, Prov. 7. 18. and Israels communion with Babels idolatry is thus shewed, The sons of Babylon came to her into the bed of loves, Ezek. 23. 17. better than wine] or, good more than wine. The word good, is of large use, for profitable, pleasing, sweet, comfortable, joyfull, &c. as is noted on Gen. 1. 4. Wine is one of the most comfortable creatures, rejoycing the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. and wine maketh the life (or living) joyfull, Eccles. 10. 19. it causeth to forget affliction, poverty, misery, Prov. 31. 6, 7. It was also used in the legall sacrifices and service of God, Num. 15. 5. Hos. 9. 4. But the graces of Christ, and comfort of his Spirit, (wherewith the Saints are to be filled, Ephes. 5. 18.) doe far excell all worldly pleasure, and doe cause such as drink of them, to forget their bitternesse, poverty, sorrowes, which by the terrours of the Law, and guilt of conscience for sinne, did before afflict them, Rom. 7. 10, 15, 18, 24, 25. & 8. 2. And the service of God now in spirit and truth, John 4. 23, 24. and consolation which aboundeth by Christ, 3 Cor. 1. 5. is much more comfortable than were all the ordinances of divine service in the worldly Sanctuary, which could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience: Heb. 9. 1, -9. and 10. 1, 2, 3, 4.

3 Verse 3. For the savour ] or, For thy odour (smell) of thy good ointments. By savour or smell, is meant knowledge, understanding, sense or feeling; as the Apostle expoundeth it, the savour of his knowledge, 2 Cor. 2. 14. So a tree is said to bud through the smell (or sent) of water, Job 14. 9. and towe is broken when it smelleth the fire, that is, feeleth it, Judg. 16. 9. Good ointments (or good oiles) are precious and sweet ointments, wherewith special persons were anointed of old: as the holy anointing oyle made of principall spices, (Exo. 30. 23, 25.) is called the good ointment, Ps. 133. 2. and of the precious things which King Hezekiah shewed to the Ambassadors of the King of Babylon, the good ointment was one, 2 Kings 20. 13. and with such they were wont to be anointed at feasts, Amos 6. 6. Luke 7. 36, 46. and it was a signe of joy and cheerfulness, Eccles. 9. 7, 8. for sweet odours revive and comfort the spirits in man, when they are dulled with sorrow, or much meditation; wherefore it is said, Ointment and perfume rejoyce the heart, Prov. 27. 9. But in fasting or mourning, they used not to anoint themselves, Dan. 10. 3. 2 Sam. 14. 2. By this similitude the Church here commendeth the graces of Christ, which he had, being full of the Holy Ghost; for his God had anointed him with the oyle of gladnes above his fellows, Heb. 1. 9. and of him it is said, The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because hee hath anointed mee to preach the Gospel, &c. Luke 4. 18. Esay 61. 1. And the odour of these graces is smelt, when the Gospell preached, is by sense or judgement perceived, Phil. 1. 9. Luke 9. 45. Heb. 5. 14. thy name is an ointment poured forth ] As Messias and Christ, is by interpretation Anointed; and he is called the Oyle (or Ointment) in Esay 10. 27. so by his Name is meant his Law, the doctrine of grace, or Law of faith, Rom. 3. 27. as it is written, The Iles shall wait for his Law, Esay 42. 4. which is expounded, The Gentiles shall trust in his name, Matth. 12. 21. and the preaching of that grace, is called the bearing of Christs Name before the Gentiles, Acts 9. 15. and as a good Name is better then a good ointment, Eccles. 7. 1. so the name and doctrine of Christ, excelleth all other, that at the name of Iesus every knee should bow, Phil. 2. 10. This name is as a precious ointment poured forth by the preaching of the Gospel, and by the miracles confirming the same: accomplished not onely by Christ himselfe, (a man approved of God among the Israelites by miracles, wonders and signes, which God did by him, Act. 2. 22. so that there went out a fame of him through all the region round about, and he taught in their synagogues being glorified of all, Luk. 4. 14. 15.) but also by his Apostles; who were to preach on the house tops, that which they heard in the eare, Matth. 10. 27. which also they performed, Rom. 15. 19. and 16. 25, 26. and therein rejoyced, and said, Now thanks be unto God, which alwayes causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us, in every place. For we are unto God a sweet-savour in Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish: to the one, the savour of death unto death: and to the other, the savour of life unto life, 2 Cor. 2. 3, 14, 15, 16. And as the box of ointment

when it was broken & powred forth on Christs head, the house was filled with the savour of it; Marke 14. 3. John 12. 3. so when his Name and Gospel is preached abroad, it giveth the odour thereof into all Christian hearts; so that by the preaching of Faith, they also receive the Spirit, Gal. 3. 2, 5. and are anointed of God, 2 Cor. 1. 21. and have an Union from the Holy-one, and know all things, 1 John 2. 20. that whereas before they mourned from their sins and miseries, they now are comforted, and have the oyle of joy given unto them, Esa. 61. 3. the Virgins love thee ] These are the fellow friends of the Spouse, Psal. 45. 15. By Virgins are meane all such as are chosen and called of God, and faithfull (whether whole Churches, as 2 Cor. 11. 2. or particular persons) who with chaste and pure mindes serve the Lord onely, and worship him in spirit and truth, and stand with Christ on the mount Sion, having his Fathers name written in their foreheads; of whom it is said, These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins; these are they which follow the Lambe whithersoever he goeth: these were bought from among men, being the first fruits unto God and to the Lambe; and in their mouth was found no guile, for they are without fault before the throne of God, Revel. 14. 1, 4, 5. And these love the Lord, for the odour of his good ointments w<sup>ch</sup> they perceive by his Word & Spirit, though they see him not, 1 Pet. 1. 8. they love him, because he first loved them, 1 Joh. 4. 19. and hath shed abroad his love in their hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto them, Rom. 5. 5. and this is love, that they walk after his commandments, and keep them, 2 Joh. v. 6. Joh. 14. 15.

Verf. 4. Draw me ] A second request of the Spouse unto Christ, that he would not only call her outwardly, by the voice of his gospel, but (forasmuch as the word preached profiteth not, if it be not mixed with faith in them that heare it, Heb. 4. 2. and faith is not of our selves, it is the gift of God, Ephes. 2. 8. who worketh in us both to will and to do, of his good pleasure, Phil. 2. 13.) that he would also open her heart, Acts 16. 14. effectually worke in her by his Spirit, and continue and increase his grace towards her. For drawing, implieth power in him that draweth; as, He draweth the mighty with his power, Job 24. 22. & when it is unto good, it argueth grace & good will; as, I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, Hos. 11. 4. and continuance of grace; as, O draw (that is, continue) thy loving kindnesse, to them that know thee, Psal. 36. 10. and in them that are drawne, it is a signe of infirmity: as, No man can come unto me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him, Iohn 6. 44. And this is a fruit and effect of Christs death, as himselfe saith, And I, if I be lifted up, (or taken away) from the earth, will draw all men unto mee, Iohn 12. 32. This drawing is by being effectually taught of God, as againe he saith, It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God: every man therefore that hath heard and hath learned of the Father, cometh to me: Iohn 6. 45. and is a signe of Gods everlasting love towards such, as it was said unto Israel, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love, there- therefore with loving kindnesse have I drawne thee, Jer. 31.3. we will runne ] I, and the Virgins fore-mentioned I will runne after thee: for they follow the Lamb, whuber soever he goeth, Rev. 14.4. Christ is our Fore-runner, gone before us into heaven, Heb. 6.20. Our Christian conversation is called a running, Gal. 2.2. and 5.7 and our life is likened to a course (or race) which is runne, as John fulfilled his course (or race): Acts 13.25, and Paul saith, I have finished my course, 2 Tim. 4.7. Running signifieth readinesse of affection, and speedy performance in action, Hag. 1.9. 1 King 19.19.20. Psa. 147.15. it argueth also strength in the runner Dan. 8.6. all which are here implied as an effect of Christs grace drawing her, according to the Prophecie; Behold thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall runne unto thee, &c. Esay 55.5. And againe, They that wait on the Lord shall renew strength, &c. they shall runne and not be weary, they shall walke, and not faint, Esay 40.31. Now the way which we are to runne, is his commandements, of which David saith, I will runne the way of thy commandements, when thou shalt enlarge my heart, Psa. 119.32. Under this promise of the Church, is contained also the constant suffering of afflictions, for and with Christ; who being our Fore-runner, and being consecrated through sufferings, and so entring into his glory, Heb. 2.9. 10. Luk. 24.26. hath herein left us an example, that we should follow his steps, 1 Pet. 2.21 and hath said, If any man will come after me, let him deny himselfe, and take up his crosse daily and follow mee, Luke 9.23. Therefore it is written, Let us lay aside every weight, and the sinne which doth so easily beset us; and let us run with patience, unto the race that is set before us; looking unto Iesus, the author and finisher of our faith, Heb. 12.1,2. into his chambers ] This sheweth the benefits which they finde that follow Christ; they are brought not onely into the Kings palace, as in Psa. 45.16. but into his privy chambers, the most secer, safe, and quiet roomes of his Palace. Chambers are places of greatest secrecy, 2 King. 6.12. Luke 12.3. Matth. 6.6. and of most safety, Deut. 32.25. Ezek. 21.14. and in such the Bridegroom and Bride used to rejoyce together, Joel 2.16. Judg. 15.1. Hereby is signified the revelation of the mystery of the Gospell, the Secret of the Lord, which is revealed to them that feare him, Psa. 25.14 and the spirituall comforts which they reape thereby: for, Eye hath not seene, nor eare heard, neither have entred into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him: but God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea the deepe things of God; and thus, we have the mind of Christ. 1 Cor. 2.9. 10. 16. and are brought into such chambers, as by knowledge are filled with all precious and pleasurable riches: Prov. 24.4. Into them Paul (as a friend of the Bridegroom) endeavoured with great strife to bring the Church; that their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the fulnesse of understanding; to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ; in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge; Coloss. 2.1,2,3. In these chambers also, the Saints are kept safe from evill, Pl. 27.5. delivered from the wrath and judgements of God due for their sins, and comforted by the words of Christ against the persecution of men; that in him they may have peace, though in the world they have tribulation. John 16.33. Therefore unto them hee saith, Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee; hide thy selfe for a very little moment, untill the indignation be past, Esay. 26.20. Be glad and rejoyce ] be glad inwardly, and rejoyce outwardly: these comforts they find in the Kings chambers, whose Kingdome is not meat and drinke, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost, Rom. 14.17. Wherefore they say, I will greatly rejoyce in the Lord, my soule shall be joyfull in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness; as a bridegroom decketh himselfe with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth her selfe with jewels, Esay 61.10. and thus they rejoyce with joy unspeakable, and full of glory, receiving the end of their faith, even the salvation of their soules, 1 Pet. 1.8,9. will remember thy loves ] or, will record, rehearse, make mention of thy loves, more than mine; or, which are better then mine, as in vers. 3. The foresaid joy of the Saints, redoundeth to the praise and glory of Christ; whose loves manifested by his sufferings, death, resurrection, ascension, and the graces and benefits flowing from them to his Church, are remembered inwardly, recorded and mentioned outwardly. For they with joy, drawing water out of the wells of salvation, doe say in that day, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings, among the people, make mention, that his name is exalted, Esay 52.3,4. I will mention the loving kindnesse of the Lord, the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us; and the great goodnesse towards the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesse, Esay 63.7. I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only, Psa. 71.16. I will make thy name to be remembered in every generation and generation: therefore peoples shall confesse thee, for ever and ever. Psalme 45.18. The upright love thee ] Hebr. uprightnesses (or righteousnesses) love thee; whereby righteous or upright persons are meant (the virgins fore-mentioned in vers. 3.) who have upright hearts, and righteous conversation: as pride, in Jer. 50.31. is for a proud person; sin, in Prov. 13.6. is for a sinner; thanksgivings, in Nehem. 12.31. for companies of thanksgivers; and many the like. So this fruit commeth by remembering and mentioning Christs loves, that the righteous are confirmed and increased in love towards him, more & more: as the Apostle wrote to them that beleaved on the name of the Sonne of God, that they might beleeve on the name of the Sonne of God; that is, might be confirmed, continued, and increased in their beleeve, 1 John 5.13. The Hebrews, ignorant of Christ, have applied these things, unto Gods ancient mercies towards the, in the giving of his Law; as the Chaldee paraphrast saith; When the

the people of the house of Israel, was come out of Egypt, the divine-presence of the Lord of the world, was their guide, by the pillar of a cloud by day, and by the pillar of fire by night. The just men of that generation, said; O Lord of all the world, Draw us after thee, and we will run after the way of thy goodnesse; and bring us neere to the bottome of the mount Sinai, and give us thy Law out of thy treasure-house which is in the Firmament; and we will be glad and rejoyce in the twenty two Letters with which it is written: and we will remember them, and will love thy God-head, and will depart from after the idols of the peoples; and all just men which doe thus which is right before thee, shall feare thee, and love thy commandments. But the Law, being the ministrat[i]on of death, though it was glorious, hath no glory in respect of the ministrat[i]on of the Spirit, and of righteousness, which exceedeth in glory, 2 Cor. 3.7, 10. Therefore the New Testament being now confirmed in Christ, those former things (which were figures and shadowes) are no more remembered: as was prophesied in Jer. 3. 16.

5 Verse 5. I am blacke] Hitherto hath bene the Churches first speech unto Christ, testifying her faith and love: now follow her words to the daughters of Ierusalem, against the scandals and offences that might arise for the Churches afflictions & infirmities which appear in this life. Blacknesse signifieth tribulation, as Job complaineth: My skin is blacke upon me, and my bones are burnt with heat, Job 30. 30. and Ieremie lamenteth the blacknesse of the Nazarites visage, Lam. 4. 8. And here in the verse following, the Church sheweth her blacknesse to be because the Sun had looked downe upon her; and the scorching of the Sun, is by our Saviour expounded, tribulation or persecution arising because of the word, Matth. 13. 6, 20, 21. It may also imply her blacknesse by sinne, in respect of her owne negligence which shee acknowledgeth in the end of the 6. verse: and in respect of both, her blacknesse by sorrow and mourning for her present miseries; as blacke colour was the habit of mourners: For the hurt of the daughter of my people, am I burnt; I am blacke: astonishment hath taken hold on me, Ieremie 8. 21. Thus the Church is partaker of the afflictions of Christ, at whom many were astonished, his visage was so marred more than any man; and his forme more than the formes of men, Esay 52. 14. and comely] or but comely: and is here by way of opposition; though I am blacke, yet am I comely also. The Hebrew Navah, signifieth comely, beautifull, amiable, and to be desired. The Greeke here translateth it, goodly or faire, and in verse 10. beautifull. So the Apostle in Rom. 10. 15. expoundeth it beautifull, from Esa. 52. 7. This comeliness of the Spouse, is after shewed to be both in her sight or countenance, Song 2. 14. and in her speech, Song 4. 3. And as blacknesse is in the colour and skin, so comeliness is in the parts, features and proportion of the body, which the Church hath by her creation or new birth, as she is the workmanship of God, created in Christ Iesus unto good works, Ephes. 2. 10. Thus was she blacke in her selfe, but comely in Christ; for Gods strength is made perfect in weaknesse: therefore the Apostle said,

Most gladly will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me (or dwell in me;) therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christs sake, for when I am weak, then am I strong; 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10. And againe, We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; perplexed, but not in dispaire; persecuted, but not forsaken; cast downe, but not destroyed; alwayes bearing about in the body, the dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life also of the Lord Iesus, might be made manifest in our body; 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9, 10. daughters of Ierusalem] to these she speaketh againe in ch. 2. 7. and 3. 5, 10. and 5. 8, 16. and 8. 4. so they were the friends of Christ and his Church, the elect of God, though not yet perfectly instructed in the way of the Lord: as may be gathered by Song 5. 8, 9. and 6. 1. As the villages belonging to a City, are usually called the daughters of that city, 1 Chr. 7. 28. Num. 21. 25. so Ierusalem which is above, is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. whose daughters are the particular Churches and Christians, called Virgins, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Rev. 14. 4. And Sodom and Samaria are prophesied of, that they should be given to Ierusalem for daughters, Ezek. 16. 61. And thus in Psalm. 45. 13, 14. the Kings daughter (the Church) is brought unto the King in rayment of needlle-works; and virgins her friends offer her. Such are here comforted against the scandall of the Crosse, and infirmities which accompany the Church in this world. tents of Kedar] Kedar was the second sonne of Ismael, Gen. 25. 13. His posterity (which were still called by his name) dwelt in Tents in the desarts of Arabia; fed cattell, and were given to their Bow, and wars: see Esay 21. 13, 17 & 42. 11. Ezek. 27. 21. And the Psalmist lamenteth his state, that he dwelt with the tents of Kedar; which he after explaineth, with him that hateth peace, Psal. 120. 5, 6. And Kedar by interpretation signifieth Blacke: and the Kedarens that dwelt in tents, had therof their name Scimiters (as if we should say Tentaries) and their Tents were of haire cloth, made of goats haire, and in them they dwelt, and had no other houses, as is reported by Pliny, lib. 6. cap. 28. and Solinus Polyhist. in cap. 36. Here therefore the Church (which is called the Tents of Iakob, Jer. 30. 18. and the Tents of Iudah, Zach. 12. 7.) is for her afflictions, persecutions, pilgrimage, and many infirmities; in outward view of the world, like to the blacke and hairy tents of Kedar, or such as dwelt in them. curtains of Solomon] these are to set forth her comeliness; as Kedars tents did her blacknesse. And though curtains sometimes signifie tents, as the Arke of the Lord remained under curtains, 1 Chro. 17. 1. and Enlarge the place of thy Tents, and let them stretch forth the curtains, Esay 54. 2. yet Solomons curtains here seeme rather to meane the goodly hangings that were in his house, and about his bed. For Solomon dwelt not in Tents, but having riches and wealth and honour, such as no Kings had; 2 Chron. 1. 12. builded him houses, Eccles. 2. 4. and one which was thirtene yeeres in building, 1 Kings 7. 1. and for his Queene Pharaohs daughter, he builded an house, 1 Kings 9. 24. So though the Church be out-outwardly black like Kedars tents; yet is she inwardly beautifull as Solomons curtaines: for, The Kings daughter is all glorious within, Psalme 45. 14. The Chaldee paraphraeth on this verse thus: When the house of Israel made the Calf, (Exodus 32.) their faces were blacke, like the formes of Cush (the Ethiopians) which remaine in the Tabernacles of Kedar: and when they turned by repentance, and were forgiven, the brightnesse of the glory of their faces was increased, like the Angels; for that they made the curtaines for the Tabernacle, and the divine Majestie dwelt among them: and Moses their master went up to the firmament, and made peace betweene them and their King.

6 Verse 6. Looke not upon me ] Or, Behold me not, to wit, with contempt for my blacknesse; that is, Despise me not: as in Job 41. 34. He beholdeth all high things, that is, despiseth them. Or, Looke not upon me, with delight and gladnesse for my affliction: as in Obad. v. 12. thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother. Or, Looke not upon mee with astonishment, as the Apostle teacheth, That no man should be moved for these afflictions; for your selves know that we are appointed therunto, 1 Thes. 3. 3. blackish ] or somewhat-blacke; in Greeke, made blacke: the old Latine version translateth it, browne. The forme of the Hebrew word here, differing from the former, seemeth to diminish the signification: as in Levit. 13. 19. a word in the like forme meaneth, somewhat reddish. By this, she would teach, not to judge of her estate by her skin, by the outward appearance; where afflictions and infirmities onely are to be seene. the Sun hath looked downe ] Hereby afflictions and persecutions are meant; as that in the Parable, When the Sun was up, they were scorched; is expounded, when tribulation or persecution ariseth, because of the word, they are offended, Mat. 13. 6, 21. So she signifieth that this her blacke hue was not her proper colour, who is faire in Christ her beloved, Song 1. 8, 15. but by accident; God from heaven thus chastising her sinnes, and exercising her faith and patience, Lam. 1. 6, 13, 14, &c. the sons of my mother ] that is, either the children of the Church, false brethren, false Prophets, and deceivers: or, inordinate lusts, and sins which dwelt in her, and were conceived with her in the wombe; for with both these is the Spouse of Christ afflicted. Of the first, David complaineth, I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mothers sons, Psalme 69. 9. And the Apostle saith, Of your owne selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them, Acts 20. 30. Such are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness; for they call themselves of the holy Citie, Esay. 48. 2, 3. Such might be called the children of her mother (though not of her father) false brethren, among whom the Saints are often in perill, Gal. 2. 4. 2 Cor. 11. 26. who pretending faith and godlinesse, do dangerously oppose the same: as the true Church, Prophets, Christ himselfe, & his disciples have found in all ages. Of the second, the Apostles tell us of lusts that war in our members, James 4. 1. of fleshy lusts, which warre against the soule, 1 Peter 2. 11. and these may be called our mothers children, because in sinne and in iniquitie, we have beene conceived and brought forth, Psal. 51. 7. which sin reviveth in us, when the commandment of God commeth, deceiveth us, and slayeth us, and under it wee are sold; so that the good which we would, that do we not; but the evill which we would not, that doe we: Rom. 7. 9, 11, 14, 19. angry with me ] or, incensed against me, or, inflamed in me, to wit, with wrath; to resist, fight, and war in me and against me: as the Greeke version saith, forgot in me (or against me). So this phrase is used in Esa. 41. 11. All they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed, &c. and in Esa. 45. 24. all that are incensed against (the Lord) shall be ashamed; which being spoken there of outward enemies, may also be applied to our inward lusts, as in Jam. 4. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 11. they made me ] or, set, put, assigned me. the keeper of the vineyards ] where the Sun hath burnt me; as in Mat. 20. 1, 12. they that laboured in the vineyard, do complain how they have borne the burden and heat of the day. So in the captivity of Babylon, the poore of the land of Israel, were left to be Vine-dressers, and Husbandmen, 2 Kings 25. 12. And spiritually it is said unto the Church, the sons of the alien, shall be your plowmen and your vine-dressers, Esa. 61. 5. and the Kingdome of God committed into the hands of the Jewes, is likened to a Vineyard, let out unto Husbandmen, Mat. 21. 33, 34. and in Song 8. 11. Solomon let out the vineyard unto keepers. But here the vineyards, opposed to her owne vineyard, seeme to meane false Churches, and in them the corruption of religion, wherunto her mothers son sought to draw her: setting her to observe the ordinances and traditions of men, or otherwise to undergoe their cruelty and wrath. Thus the Pharisees made the word of God of none effect, through their tradition which they delivered, Mark. 7. 13. and bound heavie burdens, and grievous to be borne, and laid them on mens shoulders, Mat. 23. 4. and so did false Teachers in the Christian Churches, Acts 15. 1, 10. Gal. 6. 12, 13. Col. 2. 20, 23. my vineyards which is mine ] or, which appertaineth to me: the keeping whereof is committed to me of God. This phrase is againe used in Song 8. 12. my vineyard which is mine, is before me. Spiritually the Vineyard is the Church, as in Esa. 5. 7. the vineyard of the Lord of hosts, is the house of Israel, and the man of Judah his pleasant plant, the keeping of, or labouring in this vineyard, is the performing of the charge and duty which God hath laid upon every one therein: that so they may yeeld unto him the fruits of his owne graces, Mat. 21. 33, 34. Esa. 5. 2, 7. I have not kept ] either through her owne infirmity or negligence, or others tyrannie, or both. For as the Apostle complaineth, that hee did not what hee would, but what he hated: and found not how to performe that which is good, Rom. 7. 15, 18. so of the sloathfull man Solomon sheweth, how he went by the vineyards of the man void of understanding, and hee is as all growne over over with thornes, nettles had covered the face thereof, &c. Prov. 24. 30, 31. And by outward violence & persecution, the Church may be scattered abroad, Acts 8. 1. and when Judah was captived, the solemn feasts and sabbaths were forgotten in Zion, &c. Lam. 2. 6, &c. And oftentimes for the sinnes of his people God sendeth persecution and afflictions upon them, Esay 5. 2, 5, 6. Lam. 1. 14, 18, 22. The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this verse thus: The Congregation of Israel sayd before the peoples, Despise me not because I am blacker then you, because I have done worke like yours, and have worshipped the Sonne and Moone; for false Prophets they have bene the cause that the fierce wrath of the Lord hath come downe upon me; and they learned me to serve your idols, and to walke in your statutes: but the Lord of the world, who is my God, him have I not served, nor walked in his statutes, neither have I kept his precepts and his Law.

7 Verse 7. Tell me [or, Shew, declare unto me. A third request which the Church maketh unto Christ, for instruction in the administration of his Kingdom here on earth; that as hee had formerly made her partaker of his heavenly calling, so he would direct her further unto the place where, and manner how he feedeth his flock, in his public Assembly the Church, (whereunto the Lord addeth daily such as shall be saved, Acts 2. 47.) that there she maybe under his government, enjoy his ordinances, increase in knowledge, faith, and all other graces; may be strengthened against tentations, and afflictions. So men are commanded, Seek the Lord, and his strength; seeke his face continually, Ps. 105. 4. And, Unto the place which the Lord your God shall chuse out of all your tribes, to put his name there; even unto his habitation shall ye seeke, and thither thou shalt come, &c. Deut. 12. 5. That place is not alwayes easie to be discerned; for many will falsly say, Loe here is Christ, or loe he is there, Marke 13. 21, 22. and sometimes Christ, for mens sins, withdraweth himself, Song. 5. 6. God hideth his face, Deut. 32. 20. and saith, I will not feed you, Zach. 11. 9. Sometime the Woman is forced to flye into the wilderness, where she is nourished of God many dayes, Rev. 12. 14. and sometime the state of the Church is such, as that it doth not for the present enjoy the Pastors that should feed and guide the same, Acts 14. 21, 22, 23. Tit. 1. 5. my soule loveth this signifieth unfeigned and servant love, with a longing desire to enjoy the fellowship of her beloved: therefore she useth this phrase again, when in the absence of Christ, she earnestly seeketh for him in Chap. 3. verse 1, 2, 3, 4. Like it, is the affecting or longing of the soule, in Gen. 34. 8. the knitting of the soule, 1 Sam. 18. 1. the delighting of the soule, Esay 42. 1. and sundry the like, where thou feedest [or, how thou feedest; how thou makest to rest. feedest] Hebr. wilt feed, that is, art wont to feed, or usually and continually feedest, to weete, thy flocke; which word (as being easie to be understood) is often omitted; as in Gen. 37. 16. and 29. 7. Feeding implyeth all the duties of a Pastor or Heirder, as to lead in and out; to give pasture and water, to governe with the rod and staffe, &c. Psal. 23. Wherefore Kings are said to feed as Pastors, Psa. 78. 70, 71, 72. So Christ, as King, and great Pastor of the sheepe, Heb. 13. 20. doth by his Ministry, with his Spirit, Word, Seales, Censures, &c. feed his people; for whom he laid down his life: he calleth them by name, leadeth them out, goeth before them, saveth them from wolves that would devoure, giveth them eternall life, and they shall never perishe: Joh. 10. Of him it is prophesied, Hee shall feed his flocke like a shepherd; hee shall gather the Lambes with his arme, and cary them in his bosome; hee shall gently lead those that are with young, Esay 40. 11. Therefore shee desireth to bee under his guidance, and in his fold, that he feeding her she may not lacke: or desireth to know the manner how Christ feedeth, that she likewise may to feed her kids: as vers. 8. makest to rest [or, makest to lye downe, and so givest rest to thy flocke. Both these workes of grace God promisethto his people, with other the like, saying, I will both search my sheepe, and seeke them out; I will feed them in a good pasture; I will feed my flocke, and I will cause them to lye downe, saith the Lord God; I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sicke: but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and will feed them with judgement, Ezek. 34. 11, 14, 15, 16. at noone] in the heat of the day; signifying the heat of persecution, tribulation, tentation; and what soever may cause the disquiet and griefe of his flocke. In the midst whereof Christ giveth safe repose unto his sheepe: which have peace in him, though in the world they have affliction; for hee hath overcome the world, John 16. 33. They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor Sonne smite them: for he that hath mercy on them, shall lead them; even by the springs of water shall he guide them, Esay 49. 10. that turneth aside] or, as one that unwrappeth, or that covereth her selfe, or that is covered, or veiled: this latter sense the Greeke version giveth, according to the usuall signification of the Hebrew word. And this covering either is a signe of sorrow and shame; as mourners used to cover their faces, Ezek. 24. 17. or, of lightnesse and dishonesty, as Thamar was thought to be an harlot, because she had covered her face, Gen. 38. 14, 15. So here the Spouse desireth to know where Christ feedeth, lest she should wander about and seeke him with sorrow; and be by others reputed an harlot; for she would eschew all appearance of evill. Or, by saying as one that turneth aside, she intimateth her perill, lest through want of him whom shee loveth, shee fall into the hands of others, which boast to be Christs companions, and so in her faith & manners be corrupted: as were the Churches of Galatia, Gal. 1. 6, 7. For when men have not their abiding in the Lords inheritance, they are in danger to be drawn unto the service of other gods; as David acknowledgeth in 1 Sam. 26. 19. flockes of thy companions] or, herds of thy fellows; for, Gredar, is both a flocke and ambard, Joel 1. 18. It seemeth here to meane the congregations of false Christs, and false Prophets, which come in his name, saying, I am Christ, and doe deceive many, Matth. 24. 5, 24. 2 Pet. 2.

1. 2. But Christs sheepe follow him, for they know his voice, and a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers, Joh. 10. 4, 5. but they all, have one shepherd, Ezek. 37. 24. And as other shepherds are not to be followed, so neither other flocks or herds: for Gods Elect shall inherit his mountaine, and his servants shall dwell there, Esay 65. 9. In Jer. 6. 2, 3. the daughter of Zion is likened to a comely and delicate woman: her enemies are likened to shepherds with their flocks. Of the Hebrewes, Solomon Iarchi expoundeth this passage thus: Tell me, O thou whom my soule loveth: Now the Holy Ghost turneth and liketh her to a flocke, lovingly affected unto the Pastour. The Congregation of Israel saith before him, as a woman to her husband, Tell me, O thou whom my soule loveth, where thou feedest thy flocke, among these wolves amids whom they are: and where thou makest them to rest at noone, in this captivitie, which is a time of tribulation unto them, as the noone-tide which is a time of tribulation unto the flocke. And if thou sayest, Why art thou so carefull? This is not for thine honour, that I should be like a mourner, covering the lip, weeping for my flocke, by the flockes of other shepherds, which feed their flockes as thou dost; as if she should say, Among the troupes of the peoples that are joyed to other gods, and have Kings and Princes that menage (or governe) them. The Chaldee Paraphrast explaineth it thus: When the time was come, that Moles the Prophet should be dissolved out of the world, he said before the Lord; I know that this people will sinne, and shall goe into captivitie: now shew thou unto me, how they shall be governed, and dwell among the peoples, whose decrees are grievous, as the heat and scorching of the Sun at noone in the midst of Summer. And why shall they wander up and downe among the flockes of the sonnes of Esau and Ismael, which doe associate unto thee their errors (their idols) for companions?

8 Verse 8 If thou knowest not] that is, Forasmuch as, or Seeing that thou knowest not; as in Numb. 22. 20. If the men be come to call thee; that is, Forasmuch as they are come. Here Christ beginneth to speake unto his people, with words of comfort and instruction; and after proceedeth to shew the power and glory of the Church adorned with his graces. Sol. Iarchi saith, This is the answer of the Pastour. thou knowest not] or, thou thy selfe knowest not. Hebr. If thou knowest not to thee; or for thy selfe; which latter words are thought to be redundant, and are therefore omitted in most Translations; though here it may have a commodious sense; to signifie the ignorance which she hath in her selfe, upon acknowledgement wherof Christ informeth her. Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, If thou knowest not whether thou shouldst goe to feed thy flocke, thou fairest among women; because the Pastour he hath ceased to governe (or menage) them. fairest] Hebr. faire (or beautifull) among women; whereby is meant, more faire than other women, or, fairest of womankind: as the mother of our Lord is called, Blessed among women, Luke 1. 28, 42. that is, most blessed, or more blessed than other women: so the Lyon is said to be strong among beasts, that is, strongest, Prov. 30. 30. The Hebrew Iaphab, signifieth faire or beautifull, not onely in colour, but in comely proportion, and elegancie, such as draweth love and liking: for the same word is attributed sometime to cattell, Gen. 41. 2. to trees, Jer. 11. 16. and to every thing that God made, Eccle. 2. 11. And the Church is here called by Christ, (& after by her friends, Song 5. 9. and 6. 1.) the fairest among women, by reason of the graces, the spirituall beauty of faith, hope, love, patience, &c. wherewith God in Christ hath beautified her, who by nature was deformed and loathsome, as is shewed in Ezek. 16. where her nativity was of the land of Canaan, of Amorites and Hittites, ver. 3. she was cast out to the loathing of her person, in the day that she was borne, ver. 5. she was polluted in her owne blouds, ver. 6. till God gave her life, and excellent ornaments, ver. 7. covered her nakednesse, ver. 8. washed away her bloods, ver. 9. clothed, girded, decked her with ornaments, chaines, jewels, &c. and so she became exceeding beautifull, ver. 10. 13. She being privie to her owne infirmities, called her selfe blacke, ver. 5. but Christ here calleth her faire, and magnifieth her beauty in ver. 15. and often in this Song: because he hath sanctified and cleansed her, with the washing of water by the Word, that he might present her to himselfe a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish, Ephes. 5. 26, 27. Thus if we will condemne our selves, God will justifie us: and when we are weak, then are we strong, 2 Cor. 12. 10. And as we increase in obedience and sanctification, so doth the love of Christ increase towards us, Psal. 45. 11, 12. goe thy way forth] or get thee out, goe forth thou, Hebr. goe out for thee, or goe forth for thy selfe. As God said to Abram, Goe thou, or for thy selfe, Genes. 12. 1. so here Christ calleth forth his Church from sitting still in her mournfull estate, that she should not onely wish and desire, but indeavour, and put forth her selfe to doe the workes of her calling, to feed her kids, and to goe out to meet the Bridegroom, Mat. 25. 6. For, not every one that saith unto Christ, Lord, Lord; shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doth the will of his father which is in heaven, Matthew 7. 21. by the footsteps of the flocke] or, in the footsteps of the sheepe: that is, goe in those waies, and doe those workes which the sheepe or flocke of Christ have gone in and done before thee. Footsteps are the print of the feet in the way that is trodden before us: and as Christ himselfe hath left us an example, in his doings and sufferings, that we should follow his footsteps, 1 Peter 2. 21. and we are to be imitators (or followers) of God, Ephes. 5. 1. so should we be of the flocke of God, and of godly Pastors, in that faith and order which they have walked in before us: as it is said, Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ, 1 Cor. 11. 1. and, Remember your guides, who have spoken unto you the word of God; whose faith, imitate ye; considering the issue of their conversation, Hebr. 13. 7. So likewise of the flocke of Christ, as it is said, Ye brethren became imitators of the Churches of God, &c. 1 Thess. 2. 14. and we desire, &c. that ye be not fleshfull, but imitators of them, who through faith

faith and patience inherit the promises, Heb. 6. 11, 12. The flocke here spoken of, seemeth to be opposed unto the flocks (or herds) in vers. 7. as Christ is to his companions (or fellows) there mentioned: who as he is the One great Pastour, so hath he generally one fold and flocke, John 10. 16. Ezek. 34. 22, 23. which is his Church, as he saith, And ye my flocke, the flocke of my pasture, are men, Ezek. 34. 31. Their footsteps are their faith and workes set forth in the Scriptures: as we are taught to walk in the footsteps of the faith of our father Abraham, Rom. 4. 12. and so of all other our godly predecessors, Heb. 11. 1, 2-40. and 12. 1. after whom we should walke in the same spirit, in the same footsteps, 2 Corin. 12. 18. And thus the Hebrews also understand this place, as Iarchi explaineth it: Consider the waies of thy first Fathers, which received my Law, and kept my charge, and my commandments; and walke thou in their waies. Likewise the Chaldee Paraphrast saith, The Congregation which is like to a faire damsell, and whom my soule loveth, let her walke in the waies of the just men, and order her prayer by the mouth of her Governours, and let her lead her posteritie, and learne her children which are like to the Kiddes of the Goats, to goe into the Synagogue, and unto the Schoole, &c. feed thy kids] The flocke in Scripture, usually comprehendeth both sheepe and goats, as in Levit. 1. 10. and though goats sometime being opposed to sheepe, signifie the wicked reprobates, Mat. 25. 32, 33. &c. yet usually they figured in the Law, Christians given up as sacrifices to God: and Christ himselfe was figured by goats and kids, by the Apostles exposition, Hebr. 9. 12, 13, 14. and 1 Cor. 5. 7. compared with Exo. 12. 5. So here the kids signifie yong and tender Christians, which are to be fed with the sincere milke of the Word, that they may grow thereby, 1 Pet. 2. 2. And so Christ giveth charge, Feed my Lambs, Feed my Sheepe, John 21. 15, 16. And this is the end, why the fairest among women is willed to goe out, that she may find pasture for her kids: following herein the example of Christ, who leadeth out his sheepe, and putteth them forth, that they may finde pasture, John 10. 3, 4, 9. besides the tents] or, by the Tabernacles (the dwelling places) of the shepherds. By which those companions of Christ, ver. 7. seeme here to be meant, such as are transformed like the Ministers of righteousness, 2 Cor. 11. 15. and their flocke like the flocke of Christ: beside their tents, (or, as may be translated, above them) are the kids of Christ to be fed, whom he graciously preserveth even in the midst of wolves. Thus Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, by other peoples: Otherwise it may be understood (as the former sentence) of the good shepherds tents, which of old fed the flock of God in faith and love, as their footsteps are left recorded in the Scriptures, Psal. 77. 21. and 78. 70, 71, 72. Esa. 63. 1. Heb. 13. 7.

9 Verse 9. I have compared] or, I have likened, thought thee to be like. The order of the words in the Hebrew is thus: To the company-of-horses, in the charrets of Pharaoh I have compared thee, O my Love. my love] or, my fellow friend, my companion, familiar: so named of feeding and conversing together, and so partaking each of others good or evil: in Greeke, my neighbour or next. This title Christ giveth to his Spouse, often in this Song, as after in v. 15. and ch. 2. 2, 10, 13. & ch. 4. 1, 7. & 5. 2. & 6. 4. and sheweth the reason on both parties to his disciples, saying, I have called you friends, (not servants) for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made knowne unto you: and, Ye are my friends, if ye doe whatsoever I command you, John 15. 14, 15. Sometime a husband is called by this name friend, as in Jer. 3. 20. Hos. 3. 1. to the company of horses] or, to my company of horses. The word Susab, which being the feminine of Sus, a horse, may in propriety signifie a Mare; is here usually taken of Christian interpreters, and of the Hebrews, to signifie a company, or troupe of horses: and so the Gr. (which also is Tee bippo in the feminine gender) is sometimes used in Greeke Authors, for a company of horses. And in the Scripture phrase, the names of beasts, birds, &c. are often used collectively; as in Exo. 15. 1. the horse and his rider; for, the horses and their riders. The Hebrew letter Iod, which usually signifieth mine, is sometime added in the end of words without signification, as in Lam. 1. 1. Howbeit the Greeke version here translateth it, My company-of-horses: and it may have good use. The horse is a warlike beast, as God describeth him in Job 39. 19, 25. and Solomon saith, The horse is prepared against the day of battell, Proverbs 21. 31. in the charrets of Pharaoh] Pharaohs horses and charrets were of most request, as the Scripture often sheweth; & therefore were sought after by Solomon in his trading with Egypt, 2 Chron. 1. 16, 17. And the Prophet saith, Woe to them that goe downe to Egypt for helpe, and stay on horses, and trust in charrets because they are many, &c. Esa. 31. 1. And in Ezek. 17. 15. the King of Iudah sent his Ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses, and much people. For the meaning of this speech, it seemeth to be this; the Church being sent forth by Christ into the footsteps of the flocke, to feed her kids besides the tents (or dwellings) of the shepherds; was presently to looke for troubles in it selfe, Act. 20. 29, 30. and opposition at the hands of those companions, (forementioned in verse 7.) and their flocks: as the Scripture often speaketh of contention among shepherds, about the feeding and watering of their flocks, Gen. 13. 6, 7. and 26. 14, 15, 20, 21. Exod. 2. 16, 17. and when God threatneth wars against the daughter of Sion, he saith, The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her, they shall pitch their tents against her round about, &c. Ier. 6. 2, 3, 4. To comfort her therefore against such troubles, the Lord compareth her to the troupe of horses, in Pharaohs charrets, under this similitude, promising her victory: as in Zach. 10. 3. he saith (by a like simily) Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I punished the goats; for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flocke the house of Iudah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battell, &c. And they shall be as mighty men, which tread down (their enemies) in the mire of the streets in the battell, and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, &c. verse 5. And if we reade it, my company of horses, it accordeth with Zach. 10. 30. where the Lord liketh them to his goodly horse; and of the Hebrewes, Sol. Iarchi compareth it with the history in Exod. 14. where God by his power (as with horses) gave Israel the victory over Pharaohs horses and chariots; as the Prophet (speaking of that) saith unto God, I thou didst walke through the sea with thine horses, through the deepe of great waters, Habak. 3. 15. See also Revel. 19. 11. 14. where in the warre against Antichrist, Christ (the Word of God) sitteth on a white horse, and the armies in heaven (his Church, whose conversation is heavenly) followed him upon white horses.

10 Verſ. 10. Thy cheekes are comely ] or, are desireable, gracious, beautifull. The Greeke translateth, How beautifull are thy cheekes! These words are continued unto the Bride or Church, from Christ, shewing how she is decked with his ordinances and graces; as his cheekes are afterwards likened to a bed of spices, Song. 5. 13. But whether she be still compared hereby to a company of horses, as in verſ. 9. or to a woman (as she was a shepherdesse in v. 8.) is doubtfull; for both similitudes doe agree to the things here spoken of. The word cheekes is used sometime for the cheeks or jawes of beasts, and of horses, whose bridles are often adorned with rowes, especially in Kings Chariots: as in Esay 30. 28. there shall be a bridle in the jawes (or cheekes) of the people. Also the next words, thy necke with chaines, may have like reference: for the kings of Midian when they went to war, had chaines about their camels neckes, Iudg. 8. 26. Taking it thus, the Church compared to the Lords company of horses, is said to have her cheekes comely, with rowes of jewels, or ornaments upon her bridle wherewith the Lord menageth and guideth her, as his goodly horse in the battell, Zach. 10. 3. Or, retaining the similitude of a woman, it is meant of ear-rings and jewels which hang down & adorne the face and cheeks; as it is written, I decked thee with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke; and I put a jewell on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine eares, and a beautifull crowne upon thine head; thus wast thou decked with gold and silver: Ezek. 16. 11, 12, 13. The spirituall signification, according to either similitude, is one and the same, as after shall be shewed. rowes ] in Hebr. Torim: which being of the singular Tor, signifieth a disposition, row, or orderly course of things: and hath affinity with Torah, which hath the name of the Law, in Hebrew: and the one is put as an explanation of the other; as David said, Is this the Law of man, O Lord God, 2 Samuel 7. 19. which another Prophet relateth thus, thou hast regarded me, according to the order (disposition or estate) of a man of high degree, O Lord God, 1 Chron. 17. 17. And indeed the Law of God, is his ordinance, or orderly disposition of his precepts, the rules and canons of our life. The same word Tor, is also used for a Turtle-dove, and Torim are Turtles, as in the law of sacrifices, Lev. 12. which some therefore take here to bee jewels, or ornaments that had the figures of Turtle doves. And so the Greek version here translateth, How beautifull are thy cheekes, as of a turtle-dove! But in the verse following, (where the same word is againe used) the Greeke translateth, We will make for thee; similitudes of gold. chaines ] in Heb. Charnaim, a word not found but in this one place; translated in Gr. collars or chaines; and is interpreted by the Hebrew Doctors, chaines or jewels hanged on a string like chaines to put about the neck. These rowes and chaines, signifie the Lawes and ordinances of God, wherewith he adorneth the face and neck of his Church, that in her profession, practice, & obedience, she may be comely and gracious in the sight of God and his people; & being guided by them, may vanquish her enemies. Thus Solomon elsewhere saith: there is gold and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge, are a precious jewel, Prov. 20. 15. And againe, Asy some, beare the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the Law of thy mother: for they shall be an ornament of grace unto thine head, and chaines about thy necke, Proverb. 1. 8, 9. They meane also the gracious effects which the Law and doctrine of God worketh in his people, of humility, reverence, and other vertues: as on the contrary, pride, and other like vices, are said to compass evil men about as a chaine, and violence to cover them as a garment, Psalme 73. 6. Likewise holy persons, that teach, instruct, reprove; and such as receive doctrine and reproofe, Prov. 25. 12. and reproofes themselves are pearles, Matt. 7. Thus also the Hebrewes understood this Scripture, as the Chaldee paraphrase here saith: When (the Israelites) went forth into the wilderness, the Lord said unto Moses, How faire is this people; that the words of the Law should be given unto them, that they may be as bridles in their jawes, that they depart not out of the good way: as an horse goeth not aside that hath a bridle in his jawes! and how faire is their necke to beare the yoke of my precepts; that they may be upon them as a yoke on the necke of a bullocke that ploweth in the field, and feedeth both it selfe, and the master thereof.

11 Verſ. 11. We will make for thee ] A promise of increase of graces to the Church: by We, is understood the myserie of the Trinity, as in Genesis 1. 26. Let us make man. So in Rev. 1. 4, 5. Grace and peace is wished from the Father, Sonne, and Holy Ghost: and in 1 Corinth. 12. 4, 5, 6. the diversities of gifts are noted to be of the Spirit; the diversities of ministeries (whereby those gifts are administered to be of the Lord (Christ); and the diversities of operations (effected by the gifts and ministeries,) to be of God (the Father.) The Hebrewes also (as Sol. Iarchi here, interpret it, I and my judgement hall: by which phrase the Trinity of old was implied, though now the faithlesse deny the same: for, a judgement hall in Israel consisted of three at the least: which in their close manner of speech they applyed unto GOD: but their posterity understood it not. Christ here teacheth his Church, that every grace and good gift is from GOD, as also the increase thereof, Iames 1. 17. Ephes. 3. 16. that the spirituall ornaments are of his making, who worketh in us both to will

and

and doe, of his good pleasure, Phil. 2.13. Also that to him that hath shall be given, and he shall have more abundance, Mat. 13.12. As in our bodies wee come naked into this world, without clothes or ornaments, so is the estate of our soules by nature, naked and bare, Ezek. 16.4. 7. till Christ of his grace, by his Spirit, clotheth and adorneth us, Revelation 3.18. rowes of gold] he spake before of rowes simply, now he addeth of gold; either to signifie more excellent ordinances and graces under the Gospel, then under the Law, (as hee promiseth, For brasse I will bring gold, and for yron, I will bring silver, &c. Esay 60.17.) that should proceed from faith and love, & not from feare, as when she was under the bridle of the Law; (for wee should not be like horse and mule, whose jaw must be bound with bit and bridle, Psalme 32.9. & yeeld obedience by constraint;) or, it meaneth a new supply of graces, so that we are changed into the image of God, from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord, 2 Corinth. 3.18. These promises may respect both the rules, ordinances, gifts and graces bestowed on his people, Proverbs 20.15. and the persons themselves that are furnished with those graces; as the precious stones of Zion, are said to be comparable to fine gold, Lament. 4.1. speckes of silver] in Greeke, markes of silver: which word markes (Stigmata) Paul useth in Galatians 6.17. speaking of the markes of the Lord Iesus, by suffering for his Gospel. Here it meaneth variety of graces, in the communion of the Saints, for their mutuall helpe, comfort, and delight; as is opened in Proverb. 25.11.12. A word fitly spoken, is like Apples of gold, with pictures of silver. As an eare-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold: so is a wise reprovor upon an obedient eare. Where we are taught, that both instructions and reproofes, are the ornaments of the Saints; when they are prudently uttered, and obediently received. Neither of which can bee, without the speciall grace of God, who both maketh these ornaments for us, and maketh us fit to receive and put them on; for, The hearing eare, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them, Proverb. 20.12. The Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth this verſe, of the Law which God gave unto Israel on the two tables, by the hand of Moses. But though the ordinances of the Law, were likened to gold and silver, wherewith the Church then was decked, as God telleth them in Ezekiel 16.13. and the law of his mouth was better to his people, then thousands of gold and silver, Psalme 119.72. yet the doctrine of faith, and ordinances of the Gospell with the graces accompanying them (here promised) are much more excellent and glorious, 2 Corinthians 3.7.-11.

V.12. While the King] Here the Church speaketh of the fruits and effects of Christs former graces; how in her and from her so adorned by her beloved, the odour of the spirit of God in her, flowed forth and spread abroad to the delight of her selfe and others. By the King is meant Christ, as in verse 4. by his round table (which the Gr. translateth his sitting downe, which was wont to be in a round, or as in a ring, 1 Sam. 16.11.) may be understood the spirituall banquet of Christ with his Church, feeding her with his word and graces: as the table of the Lord, in Malac 1.12. and 1 Corinth. 10.21. signifie the communion between him and his people, as doth also the supping one with another, Revelat. 3.20. The Spikenard is one of the pleasant fruits in the garden of the Church, Song. 4.13.14. but here it seemeth to be the oyle or ointment made of Spikenard, which is very precious, which they used to poure out, and anoint men with; such as Mary anointed our Lord Iesus with; as hee saith at table with his friends, and the house was filled with the smell (or odour) of the ointment, Iohn 12.1,2,3. Spiritually it signifieth the sweet smelling fruits of repentance, faith, love, prayer, thanksgiving, &c. which the Church sheweth forth by the communion of Christ with her; and in speciall of mortification, and communion with Christs death, buriall, and resurrection, Romanes 6.3,4,5. &c. as that which Mary did unto Christ, was to anoint his body to the burying, Marke 14.8. Iohn 12.7.

Verſ. 13. A bundle] or, A bagge of myrrh: by myrrh is meant the sweet gumme that issueth from the myrrh tree, which is gathered and bound up in bagges: it was the first of the chiefe spices, whereof the holy anointing oyle in the Sanctuary was made, Exodus 30.23. and that holy ointment figured the graces of the Spirit, poured out upon Christ, and by him upon his Church, Esay 61.1. Psal. 45.8. 1 Iohn 2.20. See the annotations on Exodus 30.26. With myrrh and aloes, the dead body of our Lord Iesus was imbalmed, Iohn 19.39. and with it the wise men honoured him at his birth, Mat. 2. Hereby the Church professeth her spirituall comfort which shee had in Christ, taking our humanity, filled with the Spirit of God without measure, dying for her sins, and rising againe for her justification: the feeling whereof is as a sweet odour unto the beleeving heart. A bundle or bagge, is for to keepe safe, things that are of worth; as, The soule of my Lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with Iehovah thy God, 1 Sam. 25.29. So by this bagge of myrrh, shee signifieth her care to enjoy and possesse the benefits of Christ and of his death, to the remission of her finnes, which for his sake are all cast into the depths of the sea, Mic. 7.19. which otherwise without him should be sealed up in a bagge, and reserved against her for punishment, Iob 14.17. my welbeloved] that is Christ; whom she thus calleth, not because she loved him, but he loved her, and gave himselfe to bee the propitiation for her sins: whereupon she againe loveth him, because hee loved her first, 1 Iohn 4.10.19. So she glorieth not in her owne righteousness, but in that which her Beloved is unto her: who of God is made unto her, wisdom and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption, 1 Corinthians 1.30. Welbeloved, in Hebrew Dod, is written with with the same letters that David; whose name also signified Beloved: he was a figure of Christ, and his father after the flesh, Romanes 1.3. and Christ is often called David, as in Ier. 30.9. Ezek. 34.23. and 37.24. Hos. 3.5.

unto me] A speech of faith, applying the promises & graces of Christ unto her own soule; as the Apostle also teacheth by his owne example, Gal. 2.19.20.

he shall lye all night] or, he shall lodge, shall abide. The night usually signifieth the time of darknesse and affliction: wherefore she meaneth that Christ with his consolations, should be her continuall joy and comfort, whom she would hold fast by faith, against all tentations and troubles of this present life; and solace her selfe in him.

betwixt my breasts] dwelling in my heart by faith, Ephes. 3.17. The breasts signifie also the ministry of the Church, feeding the Saints with the sincere milke of the word, that they may grow thereby, 1 Pet. 2.2. whereupon the Prophet saith, Rejoyce yee with Ierusalem, &c. that yee may sucke and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, that yee may milke out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory, Esay 66.40.11.

14 Vers. 14. A cluster of Cypres] or, of Camphire; which is a sweet gumme; but Cypres is a tree whose fruit groweth in clusters, and is also sweet. The Hebrew name Copher, (from which Caphura or Camphire, as also the Cypres tree seemeth to be derived) usually signifieth Atonement, Propitiation, or Redemption: according to which interpretation the holy Ghost here may have reference to the worke and fruit of Christs death, whereby he became a cluster of redemption unto his Church, being a propitiation for the sinnes of the whole world, 1 Iohn 2.2. the sweetnesse whereof is resembled by a cluster (which is of many berries compact together) of the sweet Cypres: for that his blood cleanseth us from all sinne, 1 Iohn 1.7. and is accompanied with all other graces.

Egedi] the name of a place in the land of Canaan, which fell to the tribe of Iudah: and being neere the sea, and watered with springs, was a fruitfull soile, for gardens and vineyards, Ios. 15.61. Ezek. 47.10. it was called also Hazarim Tamar, 2 Chron. 20.2. where the enemies comming against Iehosaphat, hee prayed unto God, and was delivered. Which victory may also be respected here, as a figure of the victories which the Church obtaineth by faith in Christ.

15 Vers. 15. thou art faire] Christ here speaketh to his Church, commending her beauty, which she hath by his sanctification and cleansing, with the washing of the water by the word, Ephes. 5.26.27. as also by her constitution, and order, as mount Zion was befitfull for situation, Psalm. 48.2. Of Tyus (a city of merchandise) it is said, Thy builders have perfected thy beauty, Ezek. 27.4. and of her Ancients, wisemen, mariners, merchants, men of warre, &c. it is likewise said, they have made thy beauty perfect, Ezekiel 27.9, 10, 11. and in Ezek. 28.7. hee mentioneth the beauty of wisdom. So the city and Church of God, being builded by the doctrine of the Gospel, furnished with men of gifts and graces, and endued with wisdom from on high, is truly faire & beautifull in the eyes of Christ: and when she obeyeth the voice of God, and forgetteth and forsaketh her owne naturall corruptions, hee taketh delight in her beauty, as it is said, Harken O daughter, and consider, and encline thine eare: forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house: so shall the King greatly desire thy beauty, &c. Psalm. 45.10, 11. Thus is the prophesie fulfilled, with the joy, of the Bridegroom over the Bride, thy God will rejoyce over thee, Esay 62.5.

doves] so in Chap. 4.1. These doves eyes where-with the Spouse is beautified, doe set forth the simplicity, sincerity, humility, meeknesse, but especially the spirituall chastity of the Church; whose eyes are unto Christ alone, looking unto him for life and salvation, Matt. 10.16. Psalm 123. Philip. 3.7.--10. Esay 17.7, 8. Ezekiel 18.6. and 20.7. observing his wayes, Prov. 23.26. not beholding evill, nor looking on iniquity, Habak. 1.13. Contrary to which are the lofty eyes, Prov. 30.13. eyes after idols, Ezekiel 20.24. eyes full of adultery, 2 Pet. 2.14. eyes beholding strange women, Prov. 23.33. and the like.

16 Vers. 16. Thou art faire] the Spouse returneth the prayse of beauty unto her beloved: who is much fairer then the sonnes of Adam, Psalm 45.2, 3. from whom all her fairenesse is derived, so that the praise thereof belongeth not to her but unto him, Psalm. 115.1. as the Apostle saith, I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in mee, and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himselfe for me, Galat. 2.20. Howbeit, though Christ be most faire, and beauty it selfe; yet such was his basenesse and sufferings in the flesh, as his visage was marred more then any man, and his forme, more then the sonnes of men, Esay 52.14. and 53.2, 3. and such he often appeareth unto the world, to be in the Church, partaker of his afflictions. But the eye of faith, beholdeth his spirituall beauty, through all tribulations, and glorieth therein, Rom. 8.35.--39. 1 Pet. 1.5, 6. and 4.12, 13, 14. and when the mysteries of the Gospel are opened, and the ordinances of Christ faithfully taught & practised; then doth the Spouse behold the King in his beauty, Esay 33.17. And of his fulnesse wee have all received, and grace for grace, Iohn 1.16.

yea pleasant] or, also pleasant, amiable, delightfull, beautifull. This is an addition unto the beauty of Christ, in respect of his pleasant and gracious administration of his covenant, doctrines, reproofes, &c. For the Lords staffe called Beauty or Pleasantnesse, signifieth his Covenant made with the people, Zach. 11.10. and David desired to remaine in the Lords house all the dayes of his life, that hee might behold the pleasantnesse (or beauty) of the Lord, Psalm 27.4. and Moises desireth that the pleasantnesse of the Lord might bee upon them, in the performance of his covenant and promises, Psalm 90.17. And Solomon sheweth that pleasantnesse shall bee unto them that rebuke the wicked, Proverbs 24.24, 25. All which, and the like, have their accomplishment in Christ, teaching, admonishing, reproving, comforting his people, with words of grace, whose pleasant words are as an honey combe, sweet to the soule, and health to the bones, Prov. 16. 24.

our bed] or, our bed-sled. Beds were used either to rest and sleepe upon, as Psal. 132. 3. 4. or to sit upon when they did eate and banquet, as we doe at tables, Elth. 1. 5. 6. Amos 4. 4. Ezek. 23. 41. And figuratively the place of offering sacrifices, is called a bed, Esay. 57. 7.

greene] or flourishing and fruitfull: for it is not meant so much of colour, as of flourishing growth and increase. This word applied unto men, meaneth prosperous and flourishing estate, as Nebuchadnezar said, I was at rest in my house, and greene (or flourishing) in my palace, Dan. 4. 4. And David liketh himselfe to a greene (or flourishing) olive tree, in the house of God, Psal. 52. 10. where the Gr. translateth it, a fruitfull olive. Hereby then the Church signifieth, that by her communion with Christ (whether by the similitude of bed or boord) she became flourishing and fruitfull: as it is said of them that are planted in the Lords house; They shall still bring forth fruit in boary-age, they shall be fat and greene, Psalm. 92. 13, 14. And this is the nature of the Gospel, where it is received by faith, that it bringeth forth fruit, and maketh men fruitfull in every good worke, and increasing in the knowledge of God, Colos. 1. 6. 10. It may here also signifie the increase of the children of the Church, which are begotten by the immortall seed of the word, through the power of Christ, giving a blessing to the ministry of the same: The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this speech thus: The congregation of Israel answered before the Lord of the world; how faire is the Majestie of thy holinesse; in the time that thou dwellest amongst us, and in favourable acceptation receivest our prayers: and in the time that thou dwellest in our beloved bed, and our children are multiplied on the earth; and we doe grow and multiply like a tree that is planted by a spring of waters, whose lease is faire, and whose fruit is abundant.

17 Ver. 17. The beames] or, the rafters: it meaneth the timber whereof beames or rafters are made, which are called by this name, when they are cut downe in the wood, as in 2 King. 6. 2. 5.

houses] or, edifices; so named of building. Such figured the Churches of Christ, as in 1 Timothy 3. 15. the house of God, is expounded the Church of the living God: and the faithfull Hebrewes were the house of Christ, Hebrewes 3. 6.

Cedars] trees strong, tall, and durable, the timber whereof is of sweet smell, and it rotteth not. To such Cedars the Saints of God are compared, Psal. 92. 13. and the Tabernacle of Israel, are by Balaam likened unto such, for goodlinesse, Numbers 24. 5, 6. This wood was used in Solomons Temple, 1 King. 6. 9. 36. and 7. 12. and hee made it common in Israel, hee made Cedars like the Sycomore trees which are in the vale, for abundance, 1 King. 10. 27. prefiguring the graces which should abound under Christ.

galleries] walking places, named of running, because they runne along by the house sides. Elsewhere the word is used for gutters wherein waters runne, Genesis 30. 38. 41. Exodus 2. 16. which may also have use here, to signifie the pipes and conduits of Gods graces, through which the waters of his Spirit are conveyed into their hearts. But because the spake of houles, this may rather be understood of galleries, signifying the meanes of conversing with Christ, in the communion of his graces. See the notes on Song. 7. 5.

Brutine trees] or, Boratime trees. The Hebrew Brothim is found only in this place, and seemeth to bee that which in Latine is called Brute, which is a tree like Cypres, and of a pleasant smell like Cedar, as Pliny sheweth, in Nat. hist. l. 12. c. 17. Hereupon the Greeke translateth it Cypresse-trees: but Aquila, an exact Greeke translator, turneth it Boratime, as being of the tree named in Greeke Boraton, which hath also affinity with the Hebrew name, and is a tree growing in Arabia: Diador. Sicul. biblioth. lib. 3. These Cedar and Brutine trees, may be applied both to the persons of men, as is foresheved, and to the doctrines wherewith the Church is builded upon the foundation Christ, 1 Corinth. 3. 9. 10, 11, 12. all which set forth by these similitudes, are strong and firme, and of sweet odour unto the comfort of the Saints, and glory of Christ. So the holy persons and graces wherewith the Church should be adorned, are by the Prophets likened to goodly trees, in Esay 41. 19. and 55. 13. and 60. 13. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this verse thus: Solomon the Prophet said, How faire is the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, which is builded by mine hands, of Cedar wood: but fairer shall be the house of the Sanctuary which shall be builded in the dayes of the King Christ, the beames whereof shall be of the Cedars, of the garden of Eden (or of Paradise) and the galleries thereof shall be of Brutine trees, &c.

Annotations.

7] This is thought of some to be the speech of Christ: of others to be spoken by the Church: which seemeth most probable, and is so expounded by the Chaldee Paraphrast. If we understand it of Christ, it signifieth the excellency of graces in himselfe, which hee readily communicateth with his people: if of the Church, it sheweth her graces received from Christ, whereby she is lovely and delightfull, for sweet odour and beauty, Hof. 14. 7. the rose of Sharon] in Greeke, the flower of the field: but Sharon is the name of a place or plaine, which was very fruitfull, wherein King Davids herds of cattell were fed, 1 Chron. 27. 29. and the Prophet mentioneth the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, Esay 35. 2. and when he threatneth desolation, he saith, Sharon is like a wilderness, Esay 33. 9. but promising mercy to his people, he saith, Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, Esay 65. 10. The Rose is the Queene of flowers, most commendable for sweetnesse and beauty: so the Lillie (after mentioned) is glorious and amiable, even Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these, Matth. 6. 29. The Lily is next in nobility to the Rose, saith Pliny, hist. 1. 21. c. 5. of the valleys] or, of the low (or deep) places. These also were fruitfull places, where the Kings herds were fed, 1 Chron. 27. 29. And as roses and lilies growing in Sharon and these valleys, had more moisture then those that grew on hills and mountaines: so hereby it signified the blessed estate of the Church in Christ, by whose grace it is in low and base estate made sweet and amiable like the rose and lillie; as the Prophet saith, The wilderness and the dry-place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoyce and blossom as the Rose, Esay 35. 1. And the Lord saith, I will be as the dew unto Israel, hee shall blossom as the Lillie, and strike forth his roots as Lebanon, Hof. 14. 5. But as here is mentioned the plaine of Sharon, and the valleys, which were open places where cattell fed, and not inclosed gardens: so by it may be signified, how the Church is exposed to persecution, to be plucked of all that passe by the way, and troden downe and eaten of beasts. And this the words following doe more confirme. The Chaldee openeth these words thus: The congregation of Israel said, When the ruler of the world causeth his Divine majesty to dwell in the midst of mee, I am like to a moist (or greene) lillie out of the garden of Eden; and my workes are faire as the Rose which is in the plaine of the garden of Eden.

2 Ver. 2. among the thornes] These are the words of Christ concerning his Love the Church, where he confirmeth and amplifieth the former speech; preferring her above other peoples, as the lillie is above thornes and thistles: and withall signifying how she is afflicted and pricked with them, as with thornes. This similitude the Scripture often useth; as, If yee will not drive out the Inhabitants, &c. those which yet remaine of them, shall be pricks in your eyes, and thornes in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein yee dwell, Numbers 33. 55. And again, There shall be no more a pricking briar unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorne, of all that are round about them, that despised them, Ezek. 28. 24. This similitude sheweth also what the Church ought to be, harmlesse as Lilies among thornes; innocent as sheepe among wolves; as doves, among ravenous birds, Matth. 10. 16. The Lily among thornes, may also in speciall be understood of that which wee call the Wood-bird; which groweth and flourisheth in hedges and thornes.

my love] or, my fellow-friend; my companion: as in chap. 1. 9. the daughters] the congregations of peoples; as the Scriptures mention, the daughter of Babylon, Psalme 137. the daughter of Tyre, Psalme 45. and many the like.

V. 3. the apple-tree] The Church setteth forth the excellency of Christ by the similitude of an apple-tree, which the Scripture commendeth for three things, comfortable shadow, pleasant fruit, (both noted in this place) and sweet smel, Song. 7. 8. And as the apple-tree hath more variety of fruits, then any other tree that groweth; (that it is not easie to reckon up the many sorts of apples of different taste) so Christ excelleth in variety of graces w<sup>ch</sup> he bestoweth on his Church. The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this of the Pomecitron-tree; but for the cause aforesaid, I would not restraints it to any one kind, that the fulnesse of grace and truth which was in Christ, might here be observed: of whose fulnesse all wee have received, and grace for grace, Ioh. 1. 14. 16. of the wood] or, of the forest or grove: which are wilde trees, and without culture, bearing either none, or sowre, bitter, & unsavoury fruits. Such is the state of all the sons of men by nature, Rom. 11. 24. whom Christ farre excelleth in beauty, fruit, and comfort, Psal. 45. 3. Ioh. 15. 1. &c. my beloved] that is, Christ: in Hebrew Dod, the same in signification with David: see the notes on c. 1. 13. the sons] of Adam, all whom Christ far excelleth, Psal. 45. 3. The Chaldee expoundeth it of Angels, which are the sonnes of God, Iohn 1. 6. But though it be true that Christ excelleth them also, Heb. 1. yet the former similitude of the trees of the wood, leadeth us rather to understand it here of earthly creatures, as the Kings & Potentates, and wise men of the world, called sonnes in comparison with their peoples, before called daughters, in v. 2. So in Rev. 1. 5. Christ is the Prince of the Kings of the earth: in Ezek. 31. 3. 6. the King of Assyria is likened to a Cedar in Lebanon, under whose shadow dwelt all great nations: in Dan. 4. 20. 21, 22. Nebuchadnezar is likened to a tree, strong and high, under which the beasts of the field dwelt, &c. and Iosias King of Iudah, under whose shadow the Iewes hoped to live, Lam. 4. 20 and others. in his shadow] that is, in his protection, and defence. The tree shadoweth from the heat of the Sun; and Christ from the heat of the wrath of God, and from the persecutions of the world: as it is written, There shall be a Tabernacle for a shadow in the day time from the heat, &c. Isa. 4. 6. and, Thou (Lord) hast been a strength to the poore, a strength to the needy in his distresse; a refuge from the

the storme, a shadow from the heat; when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storme against the wall, Eley 25. 4. So the shadow of Egypt, Eley 30. 2. the shadow of Heshbon, Ieremi. 48. 45. signifie the defence wherein men trusted; which the faithfull repose in God and Christi alone, as in Psalme 36. 8. 57. 2. and 17. 8. 63. 8. and 90. 1. And they that trust in him shall be safe from evill, as Iehovah is thy shadow upon thy right hand; the Sunne shall not smite thee by day, nor the Moone by night; Iehovah will keepe thee from all evill, Psal. 121. 5, 6, 7. I desired and sate]

or, I much desired that I might sit. The forme of the Hebrew word increaseth the signification, as noting a continuall and fervent desire, of that which is pleasing, delightfull, or profitable: and by sitting is meant abiding and resting, as in Psalme 91. 1. The Church therefore being by sinne under wrath revealed by the Law; and being maligned by the world, as a lillie among thornes; acknowledgeth her faith, hope, love and delight, to bee in Christi Iesus, who hath delivered us from the wrath to come, 1 Theff. 1. 10. through whom wee have peace with God, Rom. 5. 1. and peace in him; though in the world we have tribulation, 1 Iohn 16. 33.

his fruit] another benefit which the Church reapeth by Christ, that shee is not onely delivered from evill, but made partaker of his goodnesse; in that the workes of his Prophesie, Priesthood and Kingdome, his death, resurrection, and all fruits of them are communicated unto her by the Gospel, which she feedeth upon by faith, to the refreshing and life of her soule. Fruits signifie graces and good workes, which are to the benefit of our selves and others, Mat. 3. 8. 10. Gal. 5. 22. &c. and is also applied to the doctrine of the Gospel, Iohn 15. 16. and signifieth a comfortable reward, Psal. 58. 12. Prov. 27. 18. The Hebrewes referre these things to the Law, which should better be applied to the Gospel: for the Chaldee paraphrast here saith, As the Pome-citron tree is faire and commendable, among the unfruitfull trees, and all the world knoweth it; so the Lord of the world was faire and commendable among the Angels, when hee was revealed upon mount Sinai, at the time that he gave the Law unto his people: at that time I desired to sit in the shadow of his Divine majesty, and the words of his Law were sweet to my palate, and the reward of his precepts is reserved for me, in the world that is to come.

4 Verf. 4. the house of wine] that is, either the wine cellar, the place where wine is kept; or rather the banquetting house, where wine is drunke. For cellars are called the treasuries or store-houses of wine, in 1 Chron. 27. 27. Wine, besides that it slaketh thirst, cheareth also the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. causeth him to forget his sorrow & misery, Prov. 31. 6, 7. comforteth the sicke, by cherishing and augmenting the vitall spirits. By this the Church signifieth increase of grace from Christ, as the fruit of the vine, excelleth the fruit of the apple-tree, and is more comfortable unto the heart. And as her troubles and tentations were increased, so was his grace towards her, for spirituall consolations; for as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ,

2 Cor. 1. 5. This house of wine, is like that in Prov. 9. 1. 5. where wisdom having builded her house, &c. inviteth the simple to come and eat of her bread, and drinke of the wine which shee hath mingled. Of the Hebrewes, Iarchi expoundeth this wine-house to be the Tabernacle of the congregation, where the interpretation and explanation of the Law is given: answerable to which now, is the assembly of the Saints, though it may also be understood of Gods booke or Scripture, the true wine-cellar that affordeth spirituall comforts.

his banner] for, his standard, a flag or ensigne spread abroad; a warlike signe, as in chap. 6. 4. 10. the Church is said to bee terrible as an army with banners. And the banner lifted up, is a signe of fighting with joy and victory, as in Psal. 20. 6. Wee will shout joyfully in thy salvation, and in the name of our God, wee will set up the banner. So Christs banner over her, signified his defence and the victory which hee giveth over all her enemies, Sin, Satan, and the world: also the signe, that as all souldiers doe campe under their owne standards, Numbers 2. 2. so she under the Gospel, the ensigne of Christs love towards her. love] that wherewith Christ hath loved us, 1 Iohn 4. 10. wherefore some reade it thus, his standard was love toward me. By love, the Church is redeemed, Ephes. 5. 25. by it, everlasting consolation is given us, and good hope through grace, 2 Theff. 2. 16. And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto us, Rom. 5. 5.

5 Verf. 5. Stay] or, Sustaine, Strengthen, Uphold ye me. The Church in her soule sicknesse speaketh to her friends, (the Ministers of Christ, & other Christians) that they, with the comfortable doctrines and promises of the Gospel applied unto her conscience, would stay and uphold her ready to fall as into a swowne, through trouble of mind, because of her owne infirmities, and want of feeling of Christs grace, and blessing. Thus in figure, when Isaak had blessed Iakob, he saith, with corne and wine I have sustained him, Gen. 27. 37. Spiritually we are sustained and strengthened by the words & promises of Christ, which comfort the heart, quicken the spirit, and strengthen faith when it is weake; as it is said, Be ye also patient, stablish, (or strengthen) your hearts; for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh, Iam. 5. 8. and, I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spirituall gift, to the end you may be established, Rom. 1. 11. An example may be seene in Iudah, when Ezekias spake unto their heart, and said, Be strong and courageous, &c. for there be more with us then with him: with him is an arme of flesh, but with us is Iehovah our God to helpe us, and to fight our battels. And the people stayed (or rested) themselves upon the words of Ezekias King of Iudah, 2 Chron. 32. 6, 7, 8. Likewise in the Apostles, who preaching the Gospel, confirmed (or stablished) the soules of the Disciples, Act. 14. 21. 22. & 18. 23. with flagons] to wit, of wine, which at banquetts was wont to bee distributed by flagons. When David had brought the Arke of God into his place, & had offered burnt-offrings and peace-offrings, and blessed the people, hee dealt to every one of Israel, both man and woman, to every one a loafe of bread, and a good peece of flesh, and a flagon, 1 Chron. 16.1,2,3. meaning a flagon (or pot) of wine; as flagons of grapes (that is, of wine made of grapes) are mentioned in Hos. 3. 1. So here, with flagons of the wine of grace and consolation, which Gods people have distributed among them in the spirituall banquet of the Gospel, doth the Church desire to bee sustained. Flagons are named for the wine in them: as the cup for the wine therein, Luk. 22.20. The Hebrewes after their wonted manner, apply this to the doctrine of the Law; as the Chaldee paraphrast here saith, Receive ye (O Moses and Aaron) the voice of the words of the Lord, out of the midst of the fire, and bring me into the house of doctrine, and sustaine me with the words of the Law, where-with the world is delighted. But it is the Law which causeth the sickness of the soule, as the Apostle sheweth in Rom. 7. and the Gospel of Christ healeth it, Luk. 4.18. strow me a bed] or, spread me, make me a couch, bolster me up. The originall Raphad, signifieth properly to spread abroad as a bed to lie on, Job 17.13. and so it is translated by the Greeke Stoibafate, which is, to strow a bed, as they were wont with herbes; or to stuffe & bolster up. Thus it is of like meaning with the former word, for they used beds and couches at banquets, Amos 6.4. Eth. 1.5, 6. or it further signifieth her falling downe as into a swoone; and as one not able to stand, is to lie down on her couch which she desireth may bee made and bolstered with the apples, the comfortable doctrines & fruits of Christ forementioned in verse 3. which the Chaldee explaineth, the interpretation of the holy words, which are sweet like the apples of the garden of Eden. sicke of love] in languishing with desire to enjoy the comforts of my beloved. The Greek translateth it, wounded of love. The originall word signifieth also weakenesse, as in Iudg. 16. 7. 11. This speech implieth a want of feeling and enjoying the presence and comforts of Christ, as by her after speech is manifest, when she saith, I adjure you, O daughters of Ierusalem, if yee find my beloved, that ye tell him that I am sicke of love, Song. 5. 8. And that such is the Churches estate sometimes, appeareth by Song. 3. 1, 2. &c. and 5. 6. And as love is one of the strongest affections, Song. 8. 6, 7. so the sickness which commeth of it, doth sore afflict and weaken the person; as may be seene in that evill example of Amnon, sicke of love for his sister Tamar, 2 Sam. 13. 1, 2, 4. This sickness ariseth in the heart, by feeling the wrath of God due to us for sinne, and curse of his law, Psal. 90. 8. and 38. 3, 5, 7. Dan. 9. 11. Rom. 7. 24. (whereupon it is said, The inhabitant shall not say I am sicke; the people that dwell therein, shall be forgiven their iniquity, Esay 33. 24.) and afflictions laid upon us for our humiliation, Mic. 6. 13. Job 7. 18. and 30. 15, 1. & 10. 6. Lament. 3. 17, 18. Amos 6. 6. in which Christ sometimes, as it were, hideth himself from us, Job 13. 24. Psal. 77. 6, 7, 8. and 80. 3, 7, 19. The Church feeling and acknowledging her selfe sick, seeking for the Physician, and is in the way to health: for they that are whole need not a Physician, but they that are sicke, Mat. 9. 12. And such as feelee not their death in sin, will not come unto Christ, that they may have life, Iohn 5. 40. who healeth all our sicknesses, Psal. 103. 3. as he himselfe was a man of sorrowes, and acquainted with sickness, Esay 53. 3.

Verf. 6. His left hand] understand, is under my head: or prayerwise, let it be under mine head. The Church by faith beholdeth the helpe of Christ himselfe, in the ministry of his Word & Spirit sustaining her, outwardly and inwardly, as with the left and right hand; upholding her head, folding about and comforting her heart, as a loving husband doth his wife in her sorrow & sickness, as the Apostle saith, the Lord doth nourish and cherish his Church, Ephes. 5. 29. The like speech is repeated in Song. 8. 3. under my head] as a pillow to rest upon. By finnes and afflictions, the whole head is sicke, and the whole heart faint, Esay 1. 5. By the righteousness of Christ, & consolations of his Spirit, our sins are forgiven, and our consciences comforted, 1 Iohn 2. 12. and 3. 24. Rom. 14. 17. This grace is felt, when by the ministration of the Word, the flagons and apples forementioned (in verf. 5.) are applied to the repentant beleeving sinner: who saith, when his flesh and his heart is consumed and faileth; The Rocke of my heart, and my portion, is God for ever, Psal. 73. 26. his right hand] which teacheth him fearfull things, Psal. 45. 5. so both his hands, even all that Christ is, his Godhead and Manhood, his life, death, resurrection, ascension; his weaknesse, power, and glory, are employed for the comfort and salvation of his Church. doth embrace me] or, let embrace me, or, will embrace me: it is a speech of faith, or prayer, (as in Chap. 1. 2. Let him kisse me), concerning the fruition of Christs love and graces. For to embrace or fould the armes about one, is (as kissing) a signe of love, Gen. 29. 13. and 48. 10. In this sense wee are counselled to embrace the wisdom of God, Prov. 4. 7, 8. This commendeth the love of Christ, that leaveth not his Church in her sickness, sins, and infirmities; but commeth to her, comforteth & sustaineth her with his owne hands, in manifestation of al love, compassion and kindnesse: and joyeth in her, as the bridegroome rejoiceth over the Bride, Esay 62. 5. and keepeth her safe from evill. It setteth forth also the Churches faith and thankfulness, which seeth Christ present in his doctrine and ordinances, and his Ministry, as if he were crucified before her, Gal. 3. 1. and rejoiceth before others for his love and helpe, 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4, 5. &c.

Verf. 7. I adjure you] that is, I earnestly charge you with an oath, for which if you breake it, you shall be guilty of punishment. This seemeth to be the speech of the Church here, as it is also after in ch. 3. v. 5. and ch. 8. v. 4. to the daughters of Ierusalem, her friends, of whom see chap. 1. 5. An adjuration, and a curse, are much of like nature, and one is sometime put for another: see Gen. 24. 8, 41. Ios. 6. 26. 1 Sam. 14. 24, 27, 28. So it sheweth the weightinesse of this speech. By the Roes] here may be understood, yee that are by the Roes:

Roes: yee which feed your flocks abroad in the fields, where the Roes and Hindes runne: or, abide with the Roes, or with the Hindes of the field. Some take it as if the oath were by them; which cannot bee but improper and figurative, seeing oaths and adjurations are by the name of God only, Deut. 6. 13. Gen. 24. 3. The Roes and Hindes are wild beasts of the field, and have the notation of their names, of armies and powers: and by wilde beasts, the nations of the world are often signified, which were not of the Lords fold, among his sheep: so that the daughters of Ierusalem (Gods elect) being with and among them, are charged (and it may be figuratively by them, as the instruments by whom God would punish them if they kept not this charge) to beware that they troubled not her Love. Moreover the Roe and the Hind are set forth in Scripture for examples of swiftnesse of foot, as in 2 Sam. 2. 18. and 22. 34. which being referred to the punishment for breaking this adjuration, may signifie the swiftnesse of Gods judgements on them that should so doe. These creatures are also mentioned when speech is of love betweene man and wife, as in Prov. 5. 19. Let her be as the living Hind, and as the pleasant Roe, &c. that as the males and females of these beasts, doe dearly love one another, so is the unfeigned love betweene man and wife, and betweene Christ and his Church. And hereunto this speech may have respect: the rather for that after in verse 9. she likeneth Christ to a Roe, or a young Hart. And as the heavens, earth, itones, &c. are called to witnesse against men if they sinne, Deut. 30. 19. Ios. 24. 27. so the Roes and Hindes shall rise up and condemne such as breake their faith and love unto Christ. if yee stirre, and if yee stirre up or, if ye awake, and if ye wake up: they are both words of one signification, save that they differ in forme; and being both referred to the Love after mentioned, they meane a stirring up or disquieting much or little. But the former may have reference to the daughters of Ierusalem, that they themselves stirre not, in this peace and quietnesse of Christ and his Church: the latter, if ye stirre up, is referred to the Love, that it be not disquieted. And the word If, used in oaths and adjurations, is a prohibition upon penalty, see that yee stirre not, as in Gen. 21. 23. swear unto me here by God, if thou shalt lie unto me; that is, that thou wilt not lye: and in Mark. 8. 12. if a signe be given: which is explained in Mat. 16. 4. a signe shall not be given. Stirring, is opposed unto quietnesse or sitting still, and unto sleepe and rest, Psal. 80. 3. and 35. 23. Dan. 11. 25. Zach. 2. 13. and 4. 1. and the Lord is said then to stir up, or awake when he delivereth his Church out of troubles, Psal. 78. 65, 66. and the Church then stirreth up the Lord, when it earnestly prayeth for such deliverance, Psal. 44. 24, 25. The Chaldee Paraphrast and other Hebrewes understand it so here; but apply it to the deliverance of Israel out of Ægypt, which might not bee untill the time appointed of God: and if we take it in this sense, the daughters of Ierusalem are charged to suffer affliction, for and with Christ, in faith and patience, unto the comming of the Lord, Iam. 5. 7. 1 Pet. 5. 6, 7. and not to provoke him by murmuring, or otherwise, through feare and unbelieve: a figure whereof may be seene in Christs sleeping in the storme, and the disciples waking him, Mar. 4. 37. 40. But it may be applied unto the stirring and provoking of Christ by sinne, for which hee often departeth from his people, and chasteneth their transgressions, Exod. 23. 20, 21. Esay 59. 2. and 63. 10. that they should by no meanes grieve the holy Spirit of God, Ephes. 4. 30. the Love understand my Love, meaning Christ her beloved, who is called Love, for excellency sake (as in Son. 1. 4. righteousnesse were righteous persons:) because God is Love, 1 Ioh. 4. 8. most worthy to be loved, and loving his most dearly. So loves for lovers, in Hos. 8. 9. Afterward the Spouse her selfe is called by this name Love, in Song. 7. 6. untill it please or, untill he please, speaking of Christ: and being understood of stirring or provoking him by sinne, it meaneth never; for so the word untill often signifieth: as Michal had no child untill the day of her death, 2 Sam. 6. 23. that is, she never had any: and this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till yee dye, Esay 22. 14. and, I will not leave thee, untill I have done that which I have spoken unto thee, Gen. 28. 15. and sundry the like.

Verf. 8. The voice Here the Spouse breaketh out and rejoyceth to heare the Bridegroomes voice, and signifieth to her friends, the comforts that she had thereby; as it was her soules sicknesse and grieve, when he withdrew himselfe, and kept silence. By the voice is meant the word of his grace, the preaching of the Gospel: which she knoweth to be his, and receiveth with joy, as Christs sheep are said to heare and to know the voice of the shepherd, and not a strangers, Iohn 10. 3, 4. &c. In this sense, he said before Pilate, Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice, Ioh. 18. 37. and, they knew not the voices of the Prophets, Act. 13. 27. that is, their doctrines; and to day if yee shall heare his voice, harden not your hearts, &c. Heb. 3. 7. This voice is heard before his comming, to prepare the hearers to receive him: as Iohn the Baptist (who prepared the way before Christ) is called the Voice of a cryer, &c. Marke 1. 2, 3. behold he cometh A further degree of grace from him, and comfort in her, that she not only heareth his voice, but seeth him comming to save her, as is promised in Esay 35. 4. By the preaching of the Gospel, received with faith, Christ himselfe cometh, and is present with his people, Iohn 13. 20. Gal. 3. 1. And as the Church was sicke of love, v. 5. so Christ here answereth to her desire, fulfilling that which he promised, If a man love me, hee will keepe my words; and my Father will love him; and wee will come unto him, and make our abode with him, Iohn 14. 23. leaping A similitude taken from the Roes and Harts, (whereunto Christ is likened in verse 9.) which are swift in running, and skip upon mounts, hills and rocks: as in Esay 35. 6. the lame man shall leape as an Hart. Hereby therefore Christs speed & readinesse to helpe is signified:

fied. upon the mountaines] that is openly and apparently to the eye of faith; as in Nahum. 1. 15. Behold upon the mountaines, the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, &c. Spiritually by the mountaines and hills, may be meant the Kingdomes and Nations of the world, subdued unto Christ by the preaching of the Gospel, Rev. 11. 15. Or, it may be translated; over the mountaines, and over the hills; passing over all impediments which might seeme to hinder him, as the sinnes of his people, the opposition of the world, and the like. So the adversaries of the Church, are likened to a mountaine, in Zach. 4. 7. Who art thou, O great mountaine? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plaine. And, by the preaching of the Gospel, every mountaine and hill shall be made low, Esay 40. 4. See also Esay 41. 15. and 42. 15. Habak. 3. 6.

- 9 Ver. 9. Like a Roe] for swiftnesse, 2 Sam. 2. 18. and for pleasantnesse, Prov. 5. 19. The same is meant by the next similitude of the Fawne or young Hart, 2 Sam. 22. 34. Prov. 5. 19. fawne of the Hindes] or, of the Hart, (for the original word implieth both males and females) and she speaketh in the plurall number, either because the Fawne is ingendred of both male and female, which delight each in other, or for excellency, as Sol. Iarchi expoundeth it, the Fawne of a choice Hinde (or Hart.) Here the Church sheweth the readinesse of Christ to helpe her; as in ver. 8. she saw him come leaping and skipping; so by these two creatures, most swift of foot, shee signifieth the speed he maketh; as in Ch. 8. 14. and the mutuall love and delight betweene them, according to Prov. 5. 19. behind our wall] This signifieth a more neere communion with Christ, then when he was farther off, leaping on the mountaines; and yet not so neere, but there was still a wall betweene her and him, which parted them: so the degrees of graces are here meant, whereby Christ manifesteth his love to his Church, not wholly at once, but as he seeth good for us; that by beholding and delighting in his goodnesse, we may be drawne to follow him, calling us after him, v. 10. His standing behind our wall, if it be referred to Christ himselfe, may be understood of his incarnation, when he dwelt in our house of clay (as it is called in Iob 4. 19.) and in our flesh, appeared, preached, suffered, &c. to draw us after him into the kingdom of his Father, as Iohn 1. 14. the word was made flesh, and dwelt amongst us, and wee beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. If it be referred to the wall, which God hath made for his Church, it may meane his holy ordinances (which in the time of the Law, were a middle wall of partition, as Paul nameth them, Ephes. 2. 14.) behind which Christ standeth, speaketh, and sheweth himselfe though more obscurely. But we may best apply it to our owne wall, meaning of the heart (as the Prophet speaketh of the walls of his heart, Ier. 4. 19. which the Greeke here translateth, the senses of his heart) and it agreeth with that saying, Behold I stand at the doore and knocke, &c. Revel. 3. 20. For the naturall senses & understanding of our hearts are as a wall to hinder us from Christ, till they be pulled down, and reformed according to the knowledge of God. And so it is prophesied of Christ, that he should unwall (or cast downe the wals of) all the sons of Seth, Num. 24. 17. that is, (as the Apostle openeth) should by the preaching of the Gospel, pull downe strong holds, cast downe imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it selfe against the knowledge of God; and bring into captivity every thought, to the obedience of Christ, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. looking through] or, looking in, at the windowes: this word, used only here and in Psal. 33. 14. & Esay 14. 16 signifieth a looking narrowly; and an intente observation of that which is done or suffered by others: So it noteth Christs providence and care of his Church, and all her wayes; to see how she would accept of him and his word. flourishing] or, blossoming; that is, shewing himselfe as a flower, sweet, pleasant, amiable: to teach, that Christ cometh not unto his, without profit and comfort to their soules. For as he is all gracious, so he profereth grace to his Church. The Greeke translateth it, looking in; agreeable to the former word. latteffes] a word not elsewhere used in the Hebrew; but the Chaldee useth it for windowes, as in Ios. 2. 21. And as windowes & latteffes doe both serve to let in light into the house: so (according to the former interpretation) they may here be applied to Christ, through whom grace shined in his humane nature; or to his ordinances, through which the light of grace shineth unto us, as by his Word, Seales of the Covenant, &c. or to the hearts of his people, into which hee conveyeth heavenly light. But his looking in to his Spouse through these, betokeneth also his secret observation of her, & all her doings; for things which one doth secretly unespied, are said to be by looking out at the window, as in Prov. 7. 6. &c. Gen. 26. 8. And as for her she seeth him not plainly but as through windowes and latteffes; for in this life we know but in part; and now we see through a glasse darkely, 1 Cor. 13. 12. The Chaldee referreth this speech to Gods respect of his people, when they kept the Pascheover in Egypt, Exod. 12. which was a figure of Christ our Pascheover sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5. 7.

V. 10. answered] or, spake. She telleth here the end and fruit of Christs swift coming, to call her by his Word and Spirit, from her present estate and place of affliction, unto a better; or from that sloath or security wherein she lay, to follow him in the faith & love of his Gospel: for when we with open face, behold as in a glasse the glory of the Lord, we have also this grace added, that we are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Rise up thou] Rise up for thy selfe, and for thy good: so after, Come away for thy selfe. Sitting or lying still sitteth not with a Christian in this life, who is called to runne the way of Gods commandements, Psal. 149. 3 & to follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth, Rev. 14. 4. By our owne default and negligence, we want the comforts of Christ and his communion: but this our sinne is reprov'd reproved and made manifest by the light: Wherefore he saith; Awake thou that sleepest; and arise from the dead; and Christ shall give thee light, Ephes. 5. 13.

14. Hereunto Christ calleth us, with words of love and kindnesse. come thou away ] or, get thee up. Such words God used to Abraham, when he called him out of his Countrey, Genesis 12.

11 Vers. 11. Winter ] a time of cold, hardnesse, storme and tempest; wherein flowers and fruits are consumed; travell is difficult: for then God casteth forth his ice like morsels; who can stand before his cold? Psal. 147. 17. Therefore Christ saith, Pray that your flight be not in the winter, Mat. 24. 20. raine is over ] or, is changed, that is, past away, and faire weather come in the place. Raine in winter is an hindrance of travell or going abroad, as appeareth also by Ezr. 10. 9. 13. These things may be applyed to outward troubles and grievances in this life, by the malice of the world: as when Israel was in the bondage of Egypt, and of Babylon; and after were released: likewise to the spirituall winter, raine and rage of Antichrist, after which the graces and fruits of the Gospel began to flourish againe. May also signifie the afflictions of soule, wherein feares and sorrowes are stirred up like tempests; by the wrath of God, caused by sin, discovered and stirred up by the Law, Rom. 3. 20. & 4. 15. & 7. 5. 8. 23. 24. All which by Christs coming are done away, Rom. 7. 25. For that man is an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, Esay 32. 2. and through him we being justified by faith, have peace with God, Rom. 5. 1. and his Tabernacle is for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storme and from raine, Esay 4. 6. The same thing is elsewhere signified by the scorching heat of the summer, Rev. 7. 16, 17.

12 Vers. 12. The flowers ] or, The flourishing things, (the flowerings) appear. A description of a pleasant and fruitfull Spring, after a dolefull winter: signifying Christs gracious and comfortable gifts, for the delight and benefit of his Church, after the removall of the former evils. These flowers may be understood, both of the Saints themselves which now began to hold up their heads: and of the graces of the spirit, wherewith they are adorned, for their mutuall comfort: while the joyfull tidings of the Gospel are discovered unto the consciences of afflicted sinners, to assure them of the favour of God. Thus unto Pharaohs Butler in prison, was signified his restoring to his former good estate, by a dreame of vine branches that budded, blossomed, and brought forth grapes, Gen. 40. 9. 10. 13. And when God promiseth grace to his people, he saith, Israel shall blossom, and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Esay 27. 6. and they of the citie shall flourish like grasse of the earth, Psal. 72. 16. the earth ] which being naturally dry and barren, (and cursed for mans sinne, Gen. 3.) is by the blessing of God, and by meanes of the raine and dew of heaven, made fruitfull; and this is applyed unto our sinfull barren nature, made fruitfull by the blessing and Gospel of Christ, Heb. 6. 7, 8, 9. So God promising to heale the backsliding of his people, and to love them freely, after his anger is turned away, saith, I will bee as the dew unto Israel, bee shall grow as the Lillie, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon; his branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the Olive tree, &c. Hos. 14. 4, 5, 6. The Chaldee Paraphrast applyeth these flowers to Moses and Aaron, which were like unto Palme tree branches, and appeared to doe miracles in the land of Egypt. singing ] to wit, of birds, as after in speciall, hee nameth the Turtle dove. This is both a signe and an effect of the Spring time, which cheareth all creatures, and causeth them in their kind, to sing praises unto God: and these birds and turtles, signifie the Saints, who feeling the comforts of Gods word and spirit, doe sing his prayse; and with Psalmes and Hymnes and spirituall songs, doe sing and make melody in their heart to the Lord, Ephes. 5. 19. As it is written, They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the Lord, &c. From the utmost part of the earth, have we heard songs, Glory to the righteous, Esay 24. 14, 16.

of the turtle ] The Church it selfe, is sometime meant by the Turtle, Psal. 74. 19. and the Dove, Song. 2. 14 and 5. 2. sometime the holy Ghost with his graces, is resembled by a dove, as at our Lords baptism, Matt. 3. 16. and thus the Chaldee expoundeth it here, the voice of the holy Ghost. So it signifieth the voice of the Spirit, in the people of Christ, mutually comforting one another, & joyntly praising God, with & for his graces. The Turtle dove casting her feathers, is said to hide her selfe in winter in holes of trees, her voice therefore being now heard, signifieth that Summer was come.

Vers. 13. her green figs ] or, her unripe figs; such as the figtree thrusteth out in stead of flowers which appeare on other trees. A signe not only of the Spring, but of a fruitfull yeare. Our Saviour saith, Learn a parable of the fig-tree. When her branch is yet tender and putteth forth leaves, ye know that Summer is nigh, Mat. 24. 32. And the blessing of God upon his Church, is hereby signified: as on the contrary, when he threatneth to consume the same, he saith, there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the vine-tree, &c. Jer. 8. 13. tender grape ] or, young small grape, called in Hebr. Smadar, a word used onely in this Song, here, and in verse 15. and ch. 7. ver. 12. By this variety of fruits, is figured the variety of graces, the good works and sweet odour of them, which appeare in the Saints after they are reconciled to God by Jesus Christ; who is the true vine, the faithfull are the branches; who when they beare much fruit, the Father is glorified, Joh. 15. 1, 5, 8. The people of God themselves are also likened to grapes, and figges; as, I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers, as the first ripe in the fig-tree, &c. Hos. 9. 10. rise up thou ] or, rise up for thy selfe, as in verse 10. which exhortation is here againe repeated.

Vers. 14. My dove ] so Christ calleth here his Church. The dove is mournfull, sociable, harmlesse, chaste, fearfull, &c. as, I did mourne as a dove, Esay 38. 14. and, we mourne sore like doves, Esay

Esay 59.11. Againe, who are these, that flie as the doves to their windows (or lockers) Esay 60. 8. and in Ezek. 7.16. they that escape of them, shall escape, and shall be on the mountaines, like doves of the vallies, all of them mourning every one for his iniquity. And in Hos. 11.11 they shall tremble as a dove, out of the land of Assyria: Matth. 10. 16. be harmlesse as doves. All which properties agree with the Church in this her estate: especially fearefulnesse, and mourning for her iniquities, whereby she became sicke of love, verie 5. the aleiss of the Rocke ] hidden there for feare of enemies; as it is written, O yee that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the Rocke; and be like the dove, that maketh her nest in the sides of the boles mount, Jer. 48. 28. The Rocke whither this dove the Church was now fled, seemeth most properly to mean faith in Christ, as Mat. 16. 18. wherein she hid her selfe, for feare of Gods wrath for her sin, and yet durst not shew her self: or, the election of God, which as a sure and rocky foundation abideth for ever. Herewith compare Exod. 32.22. where Moses was put in a clift of the Rocke, and covered with Gods hand, while hee passed by. secret place ] or, hiding place: thus David often calleth God his secret or hiding place: as in Psalme 32. 7. Thou art a secret place to me, from distresse thou wilt preserve me, &c. See also Psalms 61 5. and 91. 1. stayres ] Heb. stayre, or steepe place. This as the Rocke aforesaid may signifie Christ; by faith in him, we ascend unto God, by degrees, as by stayres: he being the Ladder, which Iakob saw in a vision, upon whom the Angels of God ascended and descended, Gen. 28. 12. Joh. 1. 51.

let me see thy countenance ] or, cause me to see thy personage, thy visage, thy forme, fashion, shape, sight, or appearance: (see chap. 5. 15.) that is, stirre up thy faith and hold up thy face with comfort, come unto me, walke before me, and be upright: as Ge. 17. 1. Present thy body, as a living sacrifice, holy, &c. Rom. 12. 1. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, Shew me thy countenance and thy righteous works.

beare thy voyce ] that is, thy prayers, prayes, songs, thanksgivings, &c. Psalm. 5. 3. and 26. 7. and 28. 2. and 42. 5. call upon me, in all thy feares and troubles: as in Psal. 50. 15. Call on me in the day of distresse, &c. By these words Christ both sheweth her the cause of her soules sicknesse, to be her own infirmities, and negligence in praier & other holy duties, as also comforteth her, against her feares, and the conscience of her infirmities. Thus the Chaldee also explaineth it, Let me beare thy voyce, for thy voyce is sweet in prayer, in the house, of the little sanctuary, and thy countenance faire, in good works.

is sweet ] that is, pleasing and acceptable, being uttered in faith, and according to the will of God: as it is written, Then shall the offerings of Iudab and Ierusalem be sweet (that is, pleasing) unto the Lord, Malac. 3. 4. but unto the transgressors he saith, your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me, Jerem. 6. 20. comely ] or, to be desired, beautifull, as in Song. 1. 4. These praises of the Church are spirituall, and according to the esteeme of God, not of men: for even Christ himselfe in respect of worldly reputation, had his visage & forme so marred, that many were astonied at him: he had no forme nor comelinesse, Esay 52. 14. and 53. 2.

Verf. 15. Take yee for us the foxes ] It is uncertaine whether these words be spoken by Christ, or by the Church, or both: but they seem rather to bee Christs words, directed chiefly to the watchmen, and ministers of the Church. By Foxes are meant false prophets and heretickes: as in Ezek. 13. 4. O Israel, thy prophets are like the Foxes in the deserts. Such are by Christ likened to wolves, Matt. 7. 12. And the Apostle to the Elders of Ephesus giveth warning of such, Act. 20. 28, 29. &c. and all Christians are to marke and espy such, Rom. 16. 17. The taking (or apprehending and holding fast) of these foxes, is the discovering and refuting of their errors, the judging, censuring, and casting them out of the Church, 1 Tim. 1. 3. 18. 19, 20. or avoiding them, if they be none of the Church, 2 John 10. And because the vine keepers knowing the malignity of Foxes, would destroy them, but by reason of their subtilty they often escape, and are not taken; therefore hee saith, Take: meaning by consequence the rooting of them out. And as the Foxe is famous for his craft and subtilty; so are false Teachers, called therefore deceitfull workers, transforming themselves into the Apostles of Christ, 2 Cor. 11. 13. And not they only, but crafty tyrants, and other like enemies, may be meant by foxes; as Christ called Herod a Foxe, Luk. 13. 32. also sinnes of all sorts, may by reason of their deceitfulness (Heb. 3. 13.) bee here implied under the name of Foxes; whose property is to have holes in the earth, Matth. 8. 20. as sins are hidden in the fraudulent hearts of men.

the little Foxes ] the lesser sort of sins, errors, false teachers, &c. even in their beginning & first bud; when they may seeme to be lesse hurtfull: as is said of Babylon, Happy shall he be that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the rocke: Psal. 137. 9.

corrupt the vineyards ] by devouring the grapes, the foxes corrupt, mar and destroy vines and vineyards: so sinnes, sinners, & heretickes, destroy the faith, doctrine, and Churches; making shipwracke of faith, 1 Tim. 1. 19. their word eateth as doth a canker, 2 Tim. 2. 17. they are vaine talkers, and deceivers of minds; who subvert whole houses, Tit. 1. 10, 11. they privily bring in heresies of perdition: being as naturall brut beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, 2 Pet. 2. 1. 12. Of such, the Lord complaineth, Many Pastors have corrupted my Vineyard, Ier. 12. 10. for ] Hebr. and: which word is often used in stead of for, as in Psalme 60. 13. Esay 64. 7. Gen. 12. 19. have tender grapes ] or, bring forth the tender grape. This reason sheweth the love and care of God towards his Churches and people that are fruitfull. If they beare wilde grapes in stead of wholesome fruit, hee will take away the bedge of his vineyard, & it shall be eaten up, Esa. 5. 4. 5. Every branch in Christ that beareth not fruit, his Father the Husbandman, taketh it away; and every branch that beareth fruit, hee purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit, Ioh. 15. 1, 2. and when the fruit is young and tender, he hath care care to preserve and cherish the same.

16 Verse 16. is mine ] Here the Spouse professeth the joyfull communion betweene Christ and her, which she now feelth renewed after her soule sicknesse. Christ is ours, when by faith wee apply him and all his graces, his death, resurrection, ascension, intercession, &c. unto our selves, as our owne. Because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then are all dead, 1 Corinthians 5. 14. I am crucified with Christ. Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me, &c. Galathians 2. 20. And we have knowne and believed the love that God hath to us, 1 John 4. 16. and I his] by the covenant of his grace: as it is written, I entered into covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine, Ezek. 16. 8. Or, as the former branch signified her faith to justification, so this latter, her sanctification; whiles by holiness of life, she giveth her selfe to Christ in all obedience to doe his will, Romans 6. And, hereby we know that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit, 1 John 4:13.

feedeth among the Lilies ] this signifieth the continuance and increase of grace; for that faith and holiness might be increased daily, Christ by his Spirit, and by the ministry of his word, feedeth his flocke among the faire, sweet and comfortable Lilies of the Scriptures; and in the communion of the Saints, which are like Lilies among thornes, verse 2.

17 Verse 17. Untill the day dawne ] or, untill the day blow, or breathe forth, to wit, light: as appeareth by that which followeth, the fleeing of shadowes. Although it may have reference to the blowing of the wind at the breake of the day. The like speech is used againe in Song 4. 6. the shadowes flye ] that is, the darkneses of the night flee: as on the contrary, when the day goeth away, the shadowes of the evening are said to be stretched out, Jeremie 6. 4. turn-about ] to wit, unto me, have respect unto, and care of me: it is a request of comfort from Christ, as David saith, Thou didst much increase my greatness, and didst turne about and comfort me, Psalm 71. 21. The Spouse here in the night and darknesse of her tribulation and temptation, desireth Christ to be ready at hand for her helpe, by the comfort of his Word and Spirit. The night and shadowes thereof, doe signifie either the darknesse of ignorance and sinne, when the truth and way of God is not knowne, Ephesians 5. 8. 1 John 1. 6. Micha 3. 6. or the time of trouble and persecution, Lamentat. 3. 1, 2. the day is the time of knowledge, holiness, comfort, peace and joy, 1 Thessalonians 5. 5. Romans 13. 12, 13. Esther 8. 16. The dawning or breake of this day, is the sense and feeling of inward joy and comfort by the Word and Spirit; as the Apostle willetth us to take heed unto the sure word of prophesie, as unto a light that shineth in a darke place, untill the day dawne, and the day star arise in our hearts, 2 Peter 1. 19. the fleeing of the shadowes, is the removing away of blindenesse, ignorance, sinfulness, misery and trouble; which God beginneth to his people in this life, and continuing to the end; when the day of the Lord, and the day of Christ shall appeare, 1 Thessalonians 5. 2. 2 Thessalonians 2. 2. when there shall be eternity of light, and joy to the faithfull. to a Roe ] for swiftnesse to helpe me, and pleasantnesse to delight me: see the notes on verse 9. sworne of the Hinds ] or of the Harts, that is, a young Hart: see verse 9. of Beiter ] or (by interpretation) of division, of partition. This seemeth to be the place called also Babron, which was on the outside of Jordan, 2 Sam. 2. 29. called partition, because it was parted by the River Jordan from the land of Judea. And on those mountaines (as by this Scripture appeareth) Harts and Roes used to run, from whom the similitude is taken.

CHAPTER III.

CHAPTER III.

1 Vpon my bed, in the nights, I sought him whom my soule loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.
2 I will rise now, and goe-about in the citie, in the streets, and in the broad-places, I will seeke him whom my soule
loveth: I sought him, but I found him not. The watchmen that goe-about in 3 the Citie, found mee: Saw yee, him whom my soule loveth? It was but a 4 little that I had passed from them; but I found him whom my soule loveth: I held him, and would not let him goe:
untill I had brought him into my mothers house; and into the chamber, of her

1 Vpon my bed, I in the nights him sought Whom my soule loves: I sought, but found him not.
2 Now will I rise, and 'bout the Citie goe,
Within the streets, in places-broad also,
I will seeke him whom I doe love in minde:
I did him seeke, but him I did not finde.
3 The watch that 'bout the Citie goe, found me:
Whom my soule loves, (said I) did ye him see?
4 It was but even a little that from them
I passed had, untill that I found him
Whom my soule loveth: hold on him I caught
And would not let him goe, till I him brought Into my mothers house: and into the Chamber, of her that hath conceived me.
(C) O daugh-

5 her that conceived me. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the Roes; or, by the Hindes of the field: if ye stir, and if ye stir-up the Love untill it please.

6 Who is this that commeth up, out of the wilderness, like pillars of smoake-perfumed with myrrh, and frankincense, with all powder of the Merchant?

7 Behold, his bed which is Solomons, threescore mighty-ones are about it: of the mighty ones of Israel. They all, hold the sword; being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of feare in the nights.

9 King Solomon, made him-selfe a charret, of the wood of Lebanon. He made the pillars thereof, of silver; the bottome thereof, of gold; the covering thereof, of purple: the midst thereof, being paved with love, of the daughters of Jerusalem. Goe forth, O ye daughters of Zion: and see King Solomon: with the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him, in the day of his espousals. and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

O daughters of Ierusalem, you by The Roes, or by Hindes of the field, doe I Adjure: if that ye stirring-doe-disease, And if the Love ye stir-up, till it please. Who is she this that making her egressse, Like smoaky pillars, from the wilderness: Perfum'd with myrrh and frankincense: with all The merchants powder-aromaticall? Behold his bed that which is Solomons, About the same are threescore mighty-ones: Of mighty ones of Israel which are. They all, doe hold the sword, expert in war: Each man his sword upon his thigh he dights, Because of fearfull-terror in the nights. A charret, of the wood of Lebanon, Make for himselfe did the King Salomon. Of silver, he did pillars of it frame: Of gold (he made) the bottome of the same: Of purple, was the covering-above: The midst of it, being pav'd with love, Of daughters of Ierusalem that be. O Zions daughters, get ye forth, and see King Solomon with royall-diademe, Even that wherewith his mother crowned him; The day wherein he his espousals had, And in the day wherein his heart was glad.

Annotations.

I Vpon my bed] The Church now sheweth greater afflictions into which she fell, through want of feeling the presence and comforts of Christ. Whiles she thought her selfe sure of her Beloved, and laid her downe as on the bed of ease, supposing him to be with her, she misseth his company, and seeking him by solitary meditation, found him not. Thus may we understand this place, comparing it with chap. 5. ver. 2, 3, &c. The bed sometime signifieth tribulation, as in Rev. 2. 22. which may be also implied here; that the Church sought and waited for the Lord, in the way of his judgements, as in Esa. 26. 8. the nights] the times of solitary and earnest meditation, as also of affliction, are signified by the nights: as in Psa. 63. 7. & 119. 55. & 77. 3, 4, 7, &c. So in Esa. 26. 9. With my soule have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me, will I seeke thee early. I sought] by prayer, study, meditation; upon repentance of sins and negligences, in faith of Gods promises, &c. See Mat. 7. 7, 8. Hosea 3. 5. and 5. 15. Jer. 50. 4. Zeph. 2. 3. Deuter. 4. 29. my soule loveth] Christ, whom before she called her Beloved, is here the love of her soule; for by withdrawing the light of his face, & afflicting the conscience, the love, zeale and affections of the Christian heart are kindled and increased, When he slew them, then they sought him; and returned and sought God early, &c. Psa. 78. 34, 35. I found him not] to wit presently, till afterward, v. 4. For neglect of taking hold on grace when it is offered, or not keeping it when it is received, God often withdraweth the light of his countenance, to stir up zeale and fervencie in his children, Prov. 1. 24, 28. Mic. 3. 4. Jer. 11. 10, 11.

V 2. I will rise now] or Let me rise now. This signifieth a stirring up of grace in her, an increase of faith, love, zeale and fervencie in spirit: Neh. 2. 12. 18. Lam. 2. 19. Psa. 57. 6. Thus afflictions are profitable, that we may learn Gods statutes, Ps. 119. 17 goe about in the Citie] a signe of earnest desire to obtain that which one seeketh, whether it be for evill, as in Psa. 55. 11. & 59. 7, 15. or for good, as in this place. See also Esa. 23. 16. By the Citie, understand Ierusalem the holy Citie, where Christ dwelt amongst men, and had seated his Temple, and the practise of his Ordinances, whither all Israel repaired thrice every year; which was a figure of the Church, Eccles. 10. 15. Esa. 26. 1. So amongst the people of God, in his word and ordinances, she sought Christ for the comfort of her soule. streets and broad places] or narrow streets, and broad streets, for both words are used for streets of a city; and the latter, for such broad places as oftentimes people met together in, as in 2 Chro. 32. 6. Neh. 8. 1, 3, 16. Job 29. 7. So this noteth an exquisite search, as in another case it is said, Run ye to and fro through the streets of Ierusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgement, &c. Jer. 5. 1. And she therefore seeketh him in the streets, because there wisdom uttereth her voice, Prov. 1. 20, 21.

21. there Christ teacheth, Luke 13.26. yet now in them she cannot finde him.

3 Verse 3. The Watchmen or The Keepers, Warders. These signifie the Officers or Ministers of the Church and City of God: for the Priests and Levites kept of old the watch or charge of the Lord, Num. 3.7.8. So in Esa. 62.6. it is said, I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace, day nor night, &c. found me] It is not said she sought them, but they found her; which phrase signifieth diligence rather on their part; and a thing unlooked for on hers. So God is said to finde his people in the wilderness, Deut. 32.10. and afflictions doe finde men, as Psa. 116.3. & 18. And this accordeth with the Watchmens duty, to finde out such as wander about the city in the nights. After she speaketh of the like and more, that the watchmen found her, & smote her, &c. Song 5.7. Saw ye him] she inquireth of them for Christ; but here is no mention of any thing they said to her before; nor of any answer they gave to her demand after. It is probable by this their silence, and her words following, that they told her no tidings of her beloved. Whether the fault were in them, that they were such as are spoken of in Esa. 56.10. blinde watchmen, and dumb dogs that could not bark: or in her self, that could not by the doctrine of the Ministers, apprehend and apply Christ unto her conscience and comfort.

4 Verse 4. but a little or a very little: meaning either time, or distance of place. passed from them] so she stayed not with them because her beloved was not among them: but continued seeking elsewhere. For neither the society of brethren, or Church, or Ministers, can comfort the afflicted conscience, unless Christ himself be apprehended by faith. but I found or until I found: here, after much seeking, without fainting or discouragement, when meanes faile, she findeth Christ to the comfort of her conscience. Thus the promise is fulfilled, Seeke and ye shall finde, Mat. 7.7. not let him goe] or, not leave him; shewing herein *Jahob*s faith when he wrestled with the Angel, Gen. 32.26. I will not let thee goe, except thou bleesse me. This is done, when the doctrines & promises of the Gospel are by faith retained; as it is said, Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go, Pro. 4.13. my mothers buse] Hereby any chief City, Polity, or solemn place of assembly is signified, 2 Sam. 20.19. Esa. 50.1. Jer. 50.12. Ezek. 19.10. The mother is Jerusalem which is above, the mother of us all; which is figured by Sarah the Free-woman, & signifieth the new Testament or covenant of Grace, Gal. 4.24. 26. The house & chamber wherein she conceiveth us by the preaching of the Gospel, is outwardly the Church, 1 Tim. 3.5. inwardly, the heart and conscience where faith dwelleth, Rom. 10.10. Gal. 4.19. Thus by the Spirit, she getteth unto her self more constant assurance of her election and salvation by Christ, and by his presence through his Word and Ordinances, her state and Church Polity is set up and stablished. So after in Song 8.2.

5 Verse 5. I adjure you, &c.] She having obtained Christ againe, with constant purpose of heart to retaine him; reneweth her contemplation & charge of sanctification of life, such as becommeth the Gospel; and of patient suffering adversity for his name: that Christ be not provoked by sinne to leave his people. For, as Moses said unto Israel, If ye turne away from after him, he will yet againe leave them in the wilderness, and ye shall destroy all this people, Numbers 32.15. See the Annotations on Song 2.7. where this charge was first given, in these same words.

6 Verse 6. Who is this] this woman, speaking of the Church, by the example of Israel, who went up from the wilderness to Canaan the promised inheritance, Num. 10.33, &c. This seemeth to imply a new company or state of a Church rising up in the world: or it is the speech of strangers, admiring the glory of the Spouse of Christ: who was seene before of Christ by her faith, and is now beholden of others by her order, (the two things most respected in the Church of God, Colossians 2.5.) in which she marcheth through the wilderness of this world, towards her heavenly rest. So when Christ came riding into Jerusalem, all the City was moved, saying, Who is this? Mat. 21.10. cometh up] or ascendeth, as the going into Aegypt, is called a descending, or going downe, Genesis 42.2. and 46.3, 4. so the going out from thence, is called ascending, or going up, Exo. 13.18. and 33.3. Deut. 9.23. The way of life, is above to the wife, that he may depart from bell beneath, Pro. 15.24. from the wilderness] the wilderness of the land of Aegypt, was a figure of the world; as the Prophet teacheth us when he mentioneth the wilderness of peoples, Ezek. 20.35, 36. So Christians are not of the world, but he hath chosen them out of the world, Joh. 15.19. pillars of smoke] or, vapours of smoke, as the Holy Ghost translateth it in Greeke, Acts 2.19. from Joel 2.30. In Hebrew it hath the name of Palme trees, (such as the stature of the Church is likened unto, in Song 7.7.) which are upright & tall like pillars: and smoaky vapours mounting upright, are so called by similitude. The Spouse of Christ is here likened to pillars of smoke, because her journey tendeth right upward to heaven, moved by the fire of Gods spirit. And whereas in Joel 2.30. and Acts 2.19. blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke, are signes of Gods wrath against the contemners of his Word and Church, (and smoke in the Scriptures is usually a signe of anger) here also the like may be implied. Againe, as smoke is darke and hindereth from seeing, & the clondy pillar was dark to the Aegyptians, Ex. 14.20. so is the Church and glory thereof, obscure unto the world, by reason of her afflictions in this life, which were resembled unto Abraham by a smoking oven, Gen. 15.17. But chiefly this seemeth to denote the sanctification of the Church, who as a spirituall sacrifice, ascendeth up to God, on the Altar Christ, by the fire of the Spirit, resolving the earthly matter to ashes remaining beneath, and the other unto smoke mounting up unto God. perfumed] or becensed with Myrrh; the Church is perfumed and made of sweet odour by Christ

(the bagge of myrrh that lodgeth betwene her breasts, Song 1.13.) whose death was like myrrh, bitter in taste, but of sweet smell: with this she was perfumed by knowing him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death, Phil. 3.10. And with the odour of this incense she is comforted; according to the Proverbe, Ointment and perfume rejoyce the heart, Prov. 27.9. and frankincense] Myrrh was used in the holy anointing oile; and frankincense in the sweet perfume, Exo. 30. which perfume figured the mediation of Christ, the Angell which offereth much incense with the prayers of all Saints, Rev. 8.3. So through his death and intercession, the Church hath her sweet smell: & all her garments are Myrrh, Aloes and Cassia, Psal. 45. with all powder] or, above all powder (that is powders or spices) of the Merchant. That is, with all other graces that Christ hath bestowed upon her by the preaching of his Gospel. Or, those forenamed Myrrh and Frankincense which shee hath from Christ, are above all other graces and gifts which can be attained to in this world. of the merchant] or, of the spice merchant, as the word is englished in 1 Kings 10.15. But the Greeke interpreteth it Apothecarie, or Ointment-maker. Such were of the Priests under the Law, which made the ointment of the spices, 1 Chron. 9. 30. and such now, are the Ministers of the Gospel, uttering the word and graces of the Spirit.

7 Verse 7. Behold his bed, which is Solomons] an Hebrew manner of speech, explained thus in Greeke, Behold the bed of Solomon. Some understand here, his bed like that which was Solomons: others, above (or better than) that which was Solomons. The Spirit here calleth us to behold the guard which was about Solomons bed, for his safety and security from feare. Solomon in his name, Kingly office, wisdom and royalty was a figure of Christ, (who is greater than Solomon, Mat. 12.42.) and his bed is above Solomons. Christs bed here seemeth to meane the hearts of the Elect, (as in Song 1.13. the Spouse said, he should lodge betwixt her breasts) in whose hearts Christ dwelleth by faith, Ephes. 3.17. and there taketh his repose and rest. And this habitation or lodging, was figured by the Tabernacle and Temple of Solomon, 1 Cor. 6.19. Therefore the Chaldee Paraphrast (who saw not Christ but in shadows) apply this bed, to the Temple which Solomon built. sixty mighty ones] or sixty valiants, strong men. Solomons bed was guarded with sixty of the Valiants, or mighty men of Israel, that he might be safe from perill, figuring the safe guarding and keeping of the hearts and mindes of Gods Elect, both by their owne diligent watch over their hearts and waies; (as it is written, Above all observation keepe thy heart: for out of it are the issues of life, Prov. 4.23. wherein whiles they keepe sound wisdom and discretion, when they lye downe, they shall not be afraid; yea they lye downe, and their sleep is sweet, Prov. 3.21,24) as also by the safe keeping & protection of God, by whose power, the Saints are guarded (or kept) through faith unto salvation, 1 Pet. 1.5. so that they are not afraid for the terror of the night, or for the arrow that flyeth by day, Psal. 91.1,5. and the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, doth keep (or guard) their hearts and mindes through Christ Jesus, Phil. 4.7. And in speciall, this is done by the Ministers of Christ, that watch and wake for the soules of his people, Heb. 13.17. Act. 20.28,31. as his servants of old, did stand in the house of the Lord, in the nights, Psal. 134.1. mighty ones of Israel] what mighty valiants were in Israel, appeareth by Dauids worthies, which helped him in his wars: and are mentioned in 1 Chron. 11.10,47. and 12.1,38. They figured such strong men as have the word of God abiding in them, and doe overcome the wicked one, 1 John 2.14.

8 Ver. 8. hold the sword] or holden (apprehended) of the sword, that is, girded therewith. The word of God is the sword of the Spirit, Eph. 6.17. which men doe then hold, when they hold forth the word of life, Phil. 2.16. and therewith resist Satan and all enemies; and by faith doe overcome, 1 Joh. 2.14. and 5.4. experts] or learned, taught, (as the Greeke translateth it) being taught of God, who teacheth the hands of his people to war, 2 Sam. 22.35. so that they fight the good fight of faith, 1 Tim. 6.12 and by long custome are inured and skilful in the Lords battels, and have their senses exercised to discern good and evil, Heb. 5.14. Such in figure, were the sons of Reuben, Gad and Manasses, 1 Chron. 5.18. his sword on his thigh] by his side prepared, and ready to fight, as Exod. 32.27. So unto Christ it is said, Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one, Psal. 45.4. feare in the nights] or dread (terror) in the nights; the dreadfull evils that are secret and unseene, and every night do endanger. For thefts, murders, treasons and other mischiefs, are often done in the night; as experience and the Scriptures testifie, Job 24.14. Jer. 6.5. Neh. 6.10. Dan. 5.30. 1 Cor. 11.23. Mat. 13.25. Prov. 7.9,22. and then it is needfull to watch, and stand ready armed, Neh. 4.22. Mat. 24.43. and 26.31,41. So Christians which are to wrastle against manifold tentations, and against the rulers of the darknesse of this world, against spirituall wickednesses in high places; are willed to take unto them the whole armour of God: and to stand, having their loynes girded, &c. Ephes. 6.12,13,14.

9 V.9. a charret] The Hebrew Apirjon is not found but in this one place, translated in the Greeke Phoreion, which is a thing to cary upon, as a charret, lister or the like; but after the Hebrew it hath the name of fairnes or gloriousnesse, and of fruitfulness. Some take it to be a throne, some a palace, some a bed: Sol. Iarchi expounds it a secret chamber for honour, to wit; such as is made for the Bride & Bridegroom. The Chald. expoundeth this of the temple which Solomon made of the wood of Lebanon, but that temple was a figure of Christ and of his Church: to which we may better referre it. Of Christ, it may be meant, in respect of his humane nature, w<sup>ch</sup> was all glorious, without spot of sin; which humanity he made and assumed to himself with all the glorious graces of the spirit; for the salvation of his Elect, the daughters of Ierusalem.
Oi

Of the Ministers of Christ, or the Church (his myſticall body) it may (as I think) rather here be ſpoken; which by the preaching, profeſſion and practice of the Goſpel, carieth Chriſt as a charret, holding forth the word of truth, & of ſalvation, in the miſt whereof Chriſt ſitteth, teaching, governing and triumphing. So the former ſimilitude of the Bed, ſignifieth the more ſecret ſtate of the Church in times of danger: this of the charret be-tokeneth the more open glory of the ſame, by the publiſhing and practicing of the Goſpel. wood or, trees of Lebanon, that is, of Cedar wood that grew on Lebanon figuring the Saints likned to Cedars in Lebanon, Pl. 92. 12, 13. of which, as of the matter, Chriſt maketh his Church, Rom. 7. 1 Cor. 1. 2.

V. 10. the pillars This if it be referred to perſons, meaneth the Miniſters, who by the doctrine of the Goſpell ſuſtained the Church; as James, Cephas and Iohn ſeemed to be pillars, Gal. 2. 9. If unto other things, it may be underſtood of the words of God, (likened unto ſined ſilver in Pl. 12.) with whoſe oracles, as with pillars the charret of the Church is ſuſtained. So Prov. 9. Wiſedome builded her houſe, and hewed out her ſeven pillars. A pillar ſignifieth conſtancy and ſtability. Rev. 3. 12.

the bottom or, the ſeat on which Solomon ſitteth, reſteth or lyeth in his charret: ſo the Greek tranſlateth it Anacliſon, that which one ſitteth or lyeth downe upon. This bottom or ſeat of gold, ſeemeth to have reference to the golden Mercie-ſeat over the Arke in the Temple, on which God is ſaid to ſit, Pl. 80. 3. And it ſignifieth the covenant of grace, apprehended by faith: (which is much more precious then gold that periſheth, 1 Pet. 1. 7.) and the doctrines of the Law by faith, which are better then thouſands of gold and ſilver, Pl. 119. 72. the covering the top and hangings, which have the name here of riding, becauſe it ſeemed as it were to ride upon the charret: ſo the Greek calleth it Epibaſis, of aſcending. It ſeemeth to ſignifie the outward converſation & cloathing of the Church, which being purple, is not onely a Princely colour, denoting heavenly life, but hath ſpeciall reference to the blood & death of Chriſt, whereof the Church is made partaker, both for juſtification and ſanctification, Rev. 1. 5, 6. and 7. 14. Rom. 6. 3, 4. And to the hope of heavenly glory is here alſo applyed, and protection from Chriſt, till we come unto his glory.

the miſt or, the inmoſt thereof, being paved with love: or he made a pavement of love. This in reſpect of Chriſt, ſignifieth his inmoſt and fervent love towards us; even giving his life for us, and having us as it were written in his heart: in reſpect of his people it ſignifieth the ſenſe and feeling of Chriſts love towards them, as alſo their love unto Chriſt, and one to another. So the ſeat, the covering, and the pavement, are answerable to thoſe three graces, faith, hope and love, ſpoken of in 1 Cor. 13.

of the daughters of Jeruſalem theſe are the elect of God, the children of Jeruſalem (the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.) which being loved of Chriſt, are graven on the palmes on his hands, Eſay 49. 16. yea caried upon his heart, as the high Prielt bare the names of the children of Iſrael, in the breaſt plate of judgement, upon his heart, Exo. 28. 29. And ſo of his Miniſters, as it is ſaid, Ye are our Goſpells written in our hearts, 2 Cor. 3. 2. and you are in our hearts, as the love of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 7. 3. Such therefore, as the love of Chriſt, are the pavement of his Coach.

Ver. 11. daughters of Zion Zion was a mount in Ieruſalem, and as that was called the holy Chie, Eſay 52. 1. ſo Zion is called the Lords holy mountain, Joel 3. 17. becauſe of his Temple there. The daughters of Zion were the women dwelling therein, or belonging hereto, Eſay 3. 16, 17. and 4. 4. But under the name daughters, all the inhabitants, men and women, are comprehended; and all Townes and Cities of Iſrael which were daughters (in Scripture phraſe) to the mother Zion: & ſo the Chaldee here expoundeth it, Inhabitants of the Provinces of the land of Iſrael. This mount Sion figured the Chriſtian Church, Heb. 12. 22. the daughters figured Chriſtians; either perſons or Churches, Eſay 49. 14, 22. which are therefore ſaid to be Virgins, and to follow the Lamb Chriſt, who ſtandeth upon mount Sion, Rev. 14. 1, 4. Theſe are called forth by the preaching of the Goſpel, to behold Chriſt (the true Solomon) with his crowne. So in Pl. 149. 2. Let the ſons of Sion be glad in their King: and in Mat. 21. 5. Tell ye the daughter of Sion, behold thy King cometh, &c. ſee K. Solomon the faithfull are called out of their former ſtate, to a further degree of knowledge, 19 ſee Chriſt (whom Solomon figured in his kingdom) crowned with glory and honor in his Church. So unto Iohn it was ſaid Come and ſee, Rev. 6. 1, 3, 5, 7. his mother crowned him by the mother, ſeemeth to be meant the congregation of the faithfull, (as alſo the Chaldee here expoundeth it, the people of the houſe of Iſrael), called his mother, becauſe by the doctrine of faith, they ſpiritually doe conceive and bring forth Chriſt, Gal. 4. 19. and doing the will of his Father they are choſen and loved of him, as his ſiſter and mother, Mat. 11. 50. The crowne is a ſigne of Kingdom, Dominion and Victorie, Pl. 21. and Chriſt warring againſt his enemies, and overcoming, hath on his head many crowns (or diademes) Rev. 19. 11, 12. &c. and 6. 2. And the Kingdomes of this world, after the tyranny of Anti-chriſt, do become the Kingdomes of our Lord, and of his Chriſt, Rev. 11. 15. When Chriſt therefore ruleth in his Church by the ſcepter of his Word, and his people ſubmit unto his Law and Government, then ſet they the Crowne upon his head, acknowledging his ſoveraignty. the day of his ſpoſals when he was eſpouſed unto his Bride the Church, this is the day of the Covenant made betweene Chriſt and his people, Ezek. 16. 8. &c. as he ſaith to Ieruſalem, I remember thee, the kindneſſe of thy youth, the love of thine ſpoſals, when thou waſteſt after me in the wildeſſe, &c. Jer. 2. 2. For when a people are by the Goſpel won unto the faith, and ſetled in the order of Chriſt, they are eſpouſed unto him as to a husband, 2 Cor. 11. 2. And this is after called the day of the gladneſſe of his heart, becauſe as the Bridegroom rejoyceth over the Bride, ſo God rejoyceth over his people, Eſay 62. 5.

CHAPTER IV.

1 BEho'd, thou art faire, my love, behold thou art faire; thine eyes (are as) doves, within thy locks:
thy haire is as a flocke of goats; that 2 appeare, from mount Gilead. Thy teeth, are like a flocke (of sheepe) even (shorne) which come up from the washing: which all of them beare twins, and 3 none among them is bereaved of theyong. Thy lips, are like a threed of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy Temples are like a piece of a pomegra-4 nate, within thy locks. Thy necke, is like the tower of David, builded for an armory: a thousand Bucklers hang thereon; all, shields of mighty men.
5 Thy two breasts, are like two fawnes,
twins of the Roe; which feed among 6 the Lillies. Vntill the day dawne, and the shadowes flee-away; I will get me to the mountaine of myrrh, and to the 7 hill of Frankincense. Thou art all faire, my love; and there is no blemish in thee.
8 Come with mee from Lebanon, my Spouse, with me from Lebanon: looke from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir, and Hermon; from the 9 Dens of the Lions, from the moun-taines of the Leopards. Thou hast ravished-my-heart, my sister my Spouse:
thou hast ravished-my-heart, with one of thine eyes, with one chaine of thy 10 necke. How faire are thy loves, my sister, my spouse: how much better are thy loves than wine, and the savour of thine 11 ointments, than all spices. Thy lips, drop the hony-comb, O Spouse: honey and milke, are under thy tongue; and the savour of thy garments, is as the sa-12 vour of Lebanon. A garden locked, my sister, my Spouse: a spring locked, a 13 fountaine sealed. Thy plants are an ort-yard of Pomegranats; with fruit of precious things: Cypres, with Spikenard.
14 Spikenard, and Saffron, Calamus and Cinamon; with all trees of Frankincense: Myrrh and Aloes, with all the chiefe spices.
15 Fountaine of gardens, well of living waters: and streaming from Lebanon.
16 Stirre-up thou North-winde, and come thou South, blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow-out: let my beloved come into his garden, and eate
the fruit of his precious things.

CHAPTER IV.

1 LOve, thou art faire; O thou my dearest-Love,
Loe thou art faire; thine eyes are as the dove,
Within thy locks: as flock of goats thy haire;
That from the mount of Gilead doe appeare.
2 Thy teeth, are like a flocke of sheepe that are Even shorne, which from the washing up doe fare:
Which equall twins, doe bring-forth, every one,
And them among bereav'd of-yong is none.
3 Thy lips, are like unto a scarlet lace:
Also thy speech, it is with comely-grace:
The temples-of-thine-head, thy locks within
Like to a piece of pomegranate beene.
4 Thy necke, is like unto a touret-hye
Of David, builded for an armory:
A thousand Bucklers on it-hanged are;
All, shields of men that mighty-are-in-war.
5 Thy two breasts, are like unto two fawnes yong, Twins of the Roe: which lilies feed among.
6 Vntill day dawne, and shadowes doe flee-hence;
To mount of Myrrh, and hill of Frankincense
Get me will I. My love, thou art all faire;
And blemish none in thee. With me repaire
7 From Lebanon, from Lebanon with me
8 My Spouse: from top of mount-Amanah see,
From Shenir top, and Hermon; from the Dens
Of Lions, from the Leopards mountaines.
9 My sister Spouse, thou hast my heart away
Even ravished: thou hast my heart (say)
Even ravished with one of those thine eyes,
With one chaine that about thy necke implies.
10 How faire, my sister Spouse, are loves, of thine!
How are thy loves much better than is wine!
And of thine ointments th'odoriferous-smell,
(The odour of-) all spices doth excell.
11 Thy lips, O Spouse, doe drop the hony-comb:
Honey and milke, are underneath thy tongue;
And savour of the garments thee upon,
Is as the savour of (mount) Lebanon.
12 My sister Spouse, a garden close-locked.
A locked spring, a fountaine fast sealed.
13 Thy plants are of pomegranats an ortyard;
With fruit of precious things: Cypres with Nard.
14 Nard, Saffron, Calamus, and Cinamon, Trees of Frankincense every-one:
Myrrh Aloes, with all spices that surmount,
15 O thou that art the gardens welling-fount,
The well of waters that doe lively-spring:
And that from Lebanon the streames-doe-bring.
16 Stir-up thou North, and come thou South-wind Upon my garden, that her spice may flow: (blow
Into his garden my Belov'd repaire,
And eate his fruit of things that precious are.

Annotations.

Thou art faire] As the Church before set forth the glory of Christ, by the similitudes of the guard about Solomons bed, his Charret and his Crowne: so here Christ setteth forth the graces of his Church, not by her ornaments only (as before in chap. 1. 10.) but by the parts and features of her body. And first he commendeth in generall her spiritual beauty (which she had from him, Ezek. 10. 14.) through her perfect constitution, faith and holinesse; see the notes on Song 1. 15.

eyes] he mentioneth seven particulars, the eyes, haire, teeth, lips, temples, necke and breasts: that as seven is often the number of perfection, (Christ himselfe being likened to a Lambe with seven hornes, and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God, Rev. 5. 6.) so by these, the manifold graces bestowed on the Church, might be signified; that in every thing she is enriched by him, and cometh behinde in no gift: as 1 Cor. 1. 5, 7. as doves] the word as, is after supplied, in Song 5. 12. and it meaneth, as doves eyes, that is, faire, full, cleare, chaste; to see by faith, him who is invisible, Hebr. 11. 27. and having the eyes of her understanding inlightened, to know what is the hope of his calling, Eph. 1. 18. so that she listeth not up her eyes unto idols, Ezek. 18. 6. but to the Holy One of Israel, Esa. 17. 7. and her eyes observe his waies, Prov. 23. 26. See the notes on Song 1. 15. and 7. 4. where her eyes are like ponies.

within thy locks] or from within (or through) thy locks; which are named in the originall of binding or restraining; because a womans locks are modestly and seemly tied up and covered: so that it was a signe of sorrow, misery and captivity, to have such locks uncovered, Esa. 47. 2. But the Spouse of Christ freed by him from Sarrans bondage, is decently dressed and covered in signe of her subjection (as 1 Cor. 11.) and of her chaste affection to him. So after in v. 3. & Song 6. 7.

haire] this is the ornament and covering of the head, proceeding from moisture & strength of nature: likened here to the haire of a flocke of goats, fed in pasture, as on mount Gilead; whose haire is long, ranke and smooth: figuring the thoughts, purposes, devices, &c. which are ordered and composed aright, according unto God (as thoughts on the bed, and visions of the head are mentioned in Dan. 4. 5. & 7. 15. Job 4. 13.) or, if we apply this unto persons, by haire may be meant the multitude of beleivers, (as by the haire, the people of Israel was signified, Ezek. 5. 1, 2, 12.) and by the eyes, the Guides of the Church, as in Num. 10. 31. thou maist be to us in stead of eyes. And thus the Chaldee Paraphrast here, by the eyes, understandeth the Princes and Wise men of Israel; and by the haire, the other people of the land. Other Hebrews expound the eyes to meane the Prophets, called Seers, (1 Sam. 9. 9.) and the haire, the Nazarites, which were to let their haire grow, Num. 6. 5. what appeare] or that appeare smooth, that glisten; as the haire of fat cattell is smooth and shining. The Hebrew word Galash is not used but in this place, and a gaine (in like sense) in Song 6. 4. The Greeke here translateth it, are revealed (or appeare;) but there, do come up. Gilead] a mountaine which bare good pasture for cattell; as appeareth by Num. 32. 1. Jer. 22. 6. and 50. 19.

Verse 2 of (sheepe) even shorne] or (of sheepe) made even, or equall, of the same size. The word sheepe (or Ewe) is after expressed in Song 6. 6. and is to be understood here. This is the first praise of the teeth of the Church, that they are cut of equall height; not one longer than another, which would both be unseemly, and an hinderance to the well eating & chewing of her spirituall food.

from the washing] the second praise of her teeth, that they are white and cleane, as washed sheepe: which seemeth to respect (besides comelines) the purity of the spirituall meat wherewith she is fed; as it is a part of Indahs blessing, that his teeth should be white with milke, Gen. 49. 12. bare twins] as fruitfull Ewes bring forth twins of equall bignesse, so the teeth are set in double ranks, one answerable to another: which is the third property for which they are praised. bereaved of the yong] or, robbed of the yong, by miscarrying, or any other accident. Barren is that which beareth not, Esa. 54. 1. but the word here used, signifieth either miscarrying in the birth, or losse of that which is brought forth, by robbery, death, or the like: so this denoteth the stedfastnesse of every tooth in his place, after it is brought forth, against the inconveniences fore-mentioned. These teeth of the Church, which chiefly serve to eat with, may here meane her courage and strength against her enemies, as is prophesied of Israel, he shall eat up the Nations his enemies, Num. 24. 8. or rather, her judging, discerning, esteeming and applying of the word of God and seales of his Covenant, the comfort and nourishing of her soule; so chewing the cudde, and feeding by faith upon the promises of God; which are often made under the similitude of eating and drinking, as in Psal. 22. 26. Prov. 9. 5. Esa. 65. 13. Joh. 6. 41, 50, 51. Some referring this to persons, understand by the teeth the Ministers of the Word, that breake, and as it were, chew the bread of life unto and for the people. So the Chaldee expoundeth these teeth, to be the Priests and Levites, that did offer and eat the sacrifices in Israel.

Verse 3. a shreed] or, a lace, a line, (a ribband) of scarlet: that is, thin in substance, red of colour, as scarlet double-died: which two things are the grace of the lips. Here by the lips of the Church are commended, her doctrines, reproofs, prayers, praises, &c. For the lips are the instruments wherewith words are uttered, whether in prayer, as Zeph. 3. 9. Psal. 31. 2. or praise and thanks, as Psal. 66. 3. Heb. 13. 15. or vows, as Psal. 66. 13, 14. or doctrine, Mal. 2. 6, 7. Psal. 119. 13. or pleading, as Job 13. 6. or comfort, as Job 16. 5. or any other speech. All these she uttereth not with swelling words of vanity, or taught by humane wisdom, but by the Spirit of God, (who hath poured grace into her lips) and by faith in the blood of Christ, wherein her doctrines, prayers, comforts are are all dyed and coloured, 1 Cor. 2. 4. 12, 13. and 1. 17, 18. Or these things applied to persons, signifie the ministers of the word, and prayer: as the Chaldee paraphrast applyeth it to the high Priest in Israel, and his prayers for the reconciliation of the Church on Atonement day, Levit. 16. Other of the Iewes expound it of the fingers in Israel. comely] gracious, and to be desired: see the notes on Song. 1. 5. So our praises of God, are said to be pleasant, and comely; Psal. 147. 1. and we are commanded that our speech bee alway with grace, Colos. 4. 6. thy temples] Hebr. thy temple, that is, each of the temples of thine head: Here by the cheeks also may be meant (as the Greeke version here hath it) which are adjoynd to the temples, whose red colour (like a peece of Pomegranate when it is cut) are a part of the beauty of the face, and a signe of modesty & shamefastnesse. So here in the Church it betokeneth her reverend and modest countenance; as fearing and taking heed lest she should speake or do amisse; or blushing if she hath failed. Some do explain this to signifie the Governors of the Church, and the similitude of the pomegranate to denote the fruit and benefit that commeth by such. The Chaldee also expoundeth it of the King in Israel, & the locks (after mentioned) of the Governors under him.

4 Vers. 4. like the towre of David] whereof mention is made in Neh. 3. 19. 25 or the fort of Zion, which David tooke, and builded, 2 Sam. 5. 7. 9. Hereby is meant that her necke was upright, high and strong: for the necke is named in Hebrew Tsarvaar, of firmnesse and strength; a Tower (Migdal) is a building great and high, Esay 2. 15. This signifieth the magnanimity, and courage, the sure hope, the bold and comfortable carriage of the Church, whilst shee being by faith united unto Christ her head, doth no longer bow downe her neck to beare the yoke of her enemies, to serve Satan and sin any more, or to be a servant unto men, Rom. 6. 17. 18. 1 Cor. 7. 23. but by the weapons of her warfare, (which are not carnall but mighty for God, 2 Cor. 10. 4.) shee standeth, and withstandeth in the evill day, taking the shield of faith, the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, and other like armour, wherewith she defendeth her selfe, and discomfiteeth all her enemies, Ephes. 6. 11. 17. so that her neck is like the horses, clothed with thunder (and terrour) Iob 39. 19. The contrary state of the Church was figured by the captivity of Babylon, when her neck was under persecution, and her transgressions (as a yoke) were wreathed, and come-up upon her neck, Lam. 5. 5. & 1. 14. See after, in Song. 7. 4 The Hebrews in their Chaldee Paraphrase, expound this neck to meane the Chiefe of the Session (or great Council) in Israel. for an armorie] to hang (swords on, and other like weapons of war. The Hebrew word Talpijah (used only in this place) is by the Greeke left uninterpreted Thalpioth: and seemeth to be derived of Thalah to hang, and pjoth two-edged swords; meaning all instruments to offend or wound the enemy: as the bucklers and shields after mentioned, were to defend her selfe.

bucklers hang] or, are hanged: a buckler hath the name in the originall of protection or defence: the word following, shields (which seemeth to be borrowed from the Hebrew Shiltei) hath the signification of power or dominion, as being used of great and mighty men. Such bucklers and shields of David, were sometime kept in the house of God, 2 Chro. 23. 9. and as the taking away of shields from the enemy, was a signe of victory, 2 Sam. 8. 7 so the hanging of them up on wals, was a sign of glory, Ezek. 27. 11. of mighty men] This hath reference to Davids worthies or mighty men, who held strongly with him in his kingdome, and with all Israel, to make him King, whose names & heroicall deeds are recorded in 1 Chron. 11. 10. 47. Their shields hanged up in Davids tower for monuments are here taken for figures and examples of all the mighty men of God, which by the shield of faith (in God and Christ the shield of his people) have done many great and mighty works; as the Apostle bringeth a cloud of witnesses, in Hebr. 11. with all which the Spouse of Christ is adorned, whilst with courage and comfort she followeth the footsteps of their faith and workes; and abideth constant, sustained by the promises of God. 5

Ver. 5. Thy two breasts] These are both for ornament and for use, as experience in nature, and the scriptures shew: for God saith to his church, thou art come to excellent ornament; thy breasts are fashioned, &c. Ezek. 16. 7. and sheweth the use of them, that her children and lovers may sucke and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, &c. Esa. 66. 11. So here the breasts of Christs spouse, are likened to Ros for pleasantnesse, to Fannes, or yong Roes for smallnesse, to twins for equalizing, and to Roes feeding among Lilies, as in fat & sweet pasture. Hereby is signified how the Church is fruitful in good workes, and comfortable words, and communication of all Gods blessings: to that by her loving affection, wholesome doctrines, sweet consolations, & gracious beneficence; her children are delighted; and sucking the sincere milke of the word doe grow therby, Esa. 66. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 2. fed among the Lillies] in fat, sweet, and wholesome pasture. Hereby is signified, that the breasts of the Church, (that is, her doctrines, exhortations and consolations wherewith she nourisheth her children,) are fed and filled not with humane traditions, but with the doctrines of Christ; whose lippers are likened unto Lillies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh, Song 5. 13. So when the soule of the Priests, is satiate with fatnesse; the Lords people are satisfied with goodnesse; as he promised, Ier 31. 14. 6

Ver. 6. Untill the day darre] or blow: see before on chap. 2. 17. shadows] that is, darknesse; meaning ignorances, infirmities, troubles, miseries, &c. as ch. 2. 17. I will get me] or, I will goe for my selfe. It is not evident, whether these be the words of Christ, withdrawing himself for a time, or of his spouse, betaking her selfe to the mountaine. Comparing this place with the former, ch. 2. 17. I understand it of the latter: that as the Spouse there requested speedy helpe of Christ in the time of her sorrow; so here, in like temptation, shee thee fleeth for refuge to the mount of mirrh, and hill of frankincense, where she hopeth for comfort. The speech hath reference to mount Morijah, whereon the Temple was builded, 2 Chron. 3. 1. in which Temple was the holy anointing oile made of pure Myrrh and other chiefe spices; as also the incense made of pure frankincense and other sweet spices; which were to anoint and sanctifie the holy things and persons; and to burn upon the golden Altar daily; Exo. 30. 23, 34. 1 Chr. 9. 29, 30. On which mount, Abraham long before, did offer his son Isaac for a sacrifice; and upon experience of Gods grace and providence, this proverbe was used, In the mountaine of Iehovah, it shall be seene: Gen. 22. 2-14. To the kingdome of Christ, figured by this mountaine, peoples should flow; for Gods Law and word was to proceed from it, Mic. 4. 1, 2. The Church therefore in the darkenesse of her tentations, fleeth to the Lords mountain by faith in Christ, meditation in his promises, consolation by his graces, prayer, reading of the scriptures, and other like spirituall exercises, confirming by faith and hope, and waiting with patience, till the day should dawne, and the day starre arise in her heart, as the Apostle speaketh, 2 Pet. 1. 19. So Christ himself, in the daies of his flesh, used to go up into mountaines to pray, and spent the whole night in prayer to God, Luk. 6. 12. and 9. 28. and preached the Gospel in such places, Mat. 5. 1. 2. &c.

7 Ver. 7. all faire] The Spouse was called faire, before in verse 1. and chap. 1. 15. now Christ saith, she is all faire; whereby he comforteth her against her feares, and infirmities, that in him she hath perfect beauty; for he loved her, and gave himselfe for her, that he might sanctifie and cleanse her, with the washing of water by the word; that he might present her to himselfe glorious, a Church not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish; Eph. 5. 25, 26, 27.

no blemish] or no spot, no fault, no blame-worthy thing; called in Hebrew Mom, and thereof in Greeke, Momus, which meaneth first any blemish in the body, as blinde, lame, or deformed in any limme or part, Lev. 21. 18.-21. Deu. 15. 21. and 17. 1. so is applied to blemishes, in the soule, that is, to sins and vices, from which Christ purgeth his people, that being reconciled unto God, in the body of his flesh, through faith, he might present them holy, and without blemish, and unreprouable in his sight; Col. 1. 21, 22. Thus the 144 thousand that stand with the Lamb on mount Sion, &c. are said to be without blemish before the throne of God, Rev. 14. 1.-5.

8 Ver. 8. Come with me] or, Thou shalt come with me. Here Christ (having cleansed his Spouse by his death) calleth her to follow him, from the mountaines of wilde beasts, from the false Churches and societies of wicked people; that forsaking all corruption in her selfe and others, shee may walke with him in newnesse and holinesse of life, beholding and acknowledging Gods mercy in her deliverance; Rom. 6. 13. 22. 1 Pet. 2. 21.-24. and 4. 1, 2, 3. 2 Pet. 1. 3, 4. Lebanon] in Gr. Libanus, a mountaine in the north part of the land of Canaan, possessed of old by the Evites, Judg. 3.

3. afterward by the Israelites: on it grew many Cedar trees Song 3. 9. but in comparison with other places it was a forrest or wildernesse, Eccl. 2. 9. 17. and so the haunt of wilde beasts, 2 King. 14. 9. which is respected here, as the end of the verse manifesteth. Sometime in respect of the largnesse of the mount, and goodly trees thereon, it is used to signifie glorious things: as in Song 5. 15. and 3. 9. Deut. 3. 25.

my spouse] or, my bride; named in Hebrew Caṣab, (of the perfection of her attire, ornaments and beauty; Jer. 2. 32.) in Greeke Nymphae, which name the Holy Ghost giveth to the Church, calling her the Nymphae, (or Bride), the Lambes wife; who is prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband: Revel. 21. 9. 2. Christ before had called her his Love or Friend; now when she is all faire, and without blemish, he calleth her Spouse; and in verse 9. both Sister and Spouse. looke] or, thou shalt looke, shalt see, marke and observe.

top of Amanab] or, head of Amanab, which was a mountaine in Syria, the valley and river in it was also called Amanab, and Abanab, in 2 King. 5. 12. and so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, the heads that is, the Princes of the people that dwell by the river of Amanab, shall offer a gift unto thee. Humane writers testifie that Amanus was a mountaine forcibly possessed by many tyrants, &c. Strabo l. 14. So the Holy Ghost here calleth these places dennes of Lyons, and mountaines of Leopards. Sbenir and Hermon]

This Hermon was a goodly mountaine possessed of old by Ogh King of Basban, taken from him by the Israelites: and the Amorites called it Sbenir, the Sidonians Shirion, as Moses telleth in Deut. 3. 9.

dens of Lyons] This openeth the former, and sheweth the danger wherein Christs spouse was, dwelling as among Lions and Leopards, that is among salvage, beastly and idolatrous peoples, (as David complaineth, my soule is among Lions, Psal. 57. 4.) from which estate Christ calleth and delivereth his chosen; who being delivered doe see and observe the perils wherein they were, and safe estate whereinto the Lord had brought them: So the Apostle writing to the converted Gentiles saith; Such were some of you; but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God: 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10, 11.

Ver. 9. hast ravished mine heart] or hast taken away; or hast pierced (hast wounded) my heart: the originall is but one word, and used onely in this place twice; and meaneth the ravishing or drawing of the heart with love and delight. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I by love is fixed in the table of mine heart. Christ speaketh here to his spouse, as a man overcome with love: as it is said, With the joy of the Bridegroome over the Bride, thy God will rejoyce over thee: Esa. 62. 5. my sister] so he calleth her out of his love, in respect of her adoption and regeneration (being borne of God) and of her sanctifications; as it is written, Both he that sanctifieth, and they that are sanctified, are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren: Hebr. 2. 11.

And, whoever shall doe the will of my Father which is in heaven: the same is my brother and sister, and mother. Matth.

Mat. 12. 50. one of thine eyes] or, one look from thine eyes; which eyes were in v. 1. likened to doves, simple, chaste, pure: and meane here her faith, and the fruits thereof, as prayer, &c. wherewith Christ is greatly affected and delighted. chaine of thy necke] Hebr. of thy necks; that is, which hangeth on both sides of thy neck. The eye is a naturall part of the body; the chaine is an adjoynt and ornament of the body; figuring Gods Lawes and Ordinances, Prov. 10. 9. as also the graces of his spirit in his people. See the notes on chap. 1. 10.

10 Verse 10. How faire] or how beautifull; and consequently, how gracious, how lovely and delightfull are thy loves! By loves are meant not onely the affections, but the actions also and fruits of love, which the Church manifesteth towards Christ; by her worke of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope; and by keeping his commandments, 1 Thes. 1. 3. 1 Joh. 5. 3. and these are faire and goodly in the eyes of Christ, causing him to covet her beauty, Psal. 45. 11, 12. how much better] or, how good are thy loves, better than wine: the meaning of this speech is opened in Song 1. 2. there the Church preferreth Christs love above wine; here, he doth the like of her loves towards him: signifying how pleasant and acceptable the fruits of his owne graces are in his Church; so that the Lord her God delighteth in her, and rejoiceth over her, Esa. 62. 4, 5.

savour of thine ointments] that is, of the graces of the Spirit wherewith thou art anointed: see the Annotations on chap. 1. 3. where the Church extolleth the savour of Christs ointments, as here he doth hers. spices] sweet odours, or sweet smelling spices: for of such the holy anointing oile was made, Exod. 30. 23. and with such sometime women were purified, Esth. 2. 12. and the dead embalmed, 2 Chron. 16. 14. they were a present for a King, 2 Chron. 9. 1, 9.

11 Verse 11. drop the honey combe] that is, utter sweet words: hereby the doctrines and prayers of the Church are commended, as sweet and pleasant to the hearers, like honey to the taste. By this similitude the words of God are praised in Psal. 119. 10 and 119. 103. As grace is poured into the lips of Christ, Psal. 45. 2. 10 by communication of his grace, the speech of his people is with grace, Colos. 4. 6. honey and milke under thy tongue] honey and milke, both of them meane the sweet, ealie, comfortable and nourishing words of faith, love, holiness, &c. the sincere milke of the Word, whereby the babes in Christ may grow, 1 Pet. 2. 2. And plenty of grace is promised in Emmanuel's dayes, under the simily of abundance of milke, so that every one should eat butter and honey, Esa. 7. 22. By under the tongue, seemeth to be meant the secret and inward parts, as the heart and minde: (as David exalted God under his tongue, Psal. 66. 17.) to shew her sincerity and difference hereby from the lewd woman, whose lips also drop the honey combe, but her end is bitter as wormwood, Prover. 5. 3, 4. For some, by good words and faire speeches, deceive the hearts of the simple, Rom. 16. 18. the words of her mouth are smoother than Butter, but warre is in their heart, Psal. 55. 21. and Adders poison is under their lips, Psalme

140. 3. the savour] or the smell, (the odour) of thy garments: these are the beautifull garments of Simon, Esa. 52. 1. the fine linnen, cleane and bright, the righteousness of the Saints, Rev. 19. 8. who have put on the Lord Iesus Christ, Rom. 13. 14. Gal. 3. 27. and in their faith, doctrine, conversation and administration are holy, just and righteous, and cloathed with salvation, Psal. 132. 9, 16. so that the savour, the fame and good report hereof is sweet, like the smell of Lebanon, where pleasant and odoriferous trees, herbs and spices grew in abundance, God maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by them in every place; for they are unto God a sweet savour in Christ, 2 Cor. 2. 14, 15. Thus God promised unto Israel, that smell should be as Lebanon, through the dew of his grace, Hos. 14. 5, 6, 7. as when he first received the blessing, the smell of his garments was such, that his father compared the smell of his sonne, to the smell of a field, which the Lord had blessed, Gen. 27. 27.

12 Verse 12. A garden] understand from the verses before and after, Thou art a garden; which is (by signification) a place closed and fenced; and is sowne and planted with herbs and trees, for use and pleasure. So in Esa. 5. the Church of Israel is likened to a fenced Vineyard. locked] or barred: that is, close shut; as the Greeke translateth it shut: which is for safety and defence, that no evil should come thereon, no enemies should enter. For walls, doores, locks, bars, &c. are meanes to preserve, secure and safe: so in figure, when the walls of Ierusalem were repaired, they were fortified with doores, locks and bars, Nehem. 3. 3, 13. But when such fences are wanting, or broken downe, all things lye open to the spoile, Esa. 5. 5. Psal. 80. 12. Hereby is signified on Gods part, the protection of his Church, for he is unto Ierusalem a wall of fire round about, Zach. 2. 5. and strengtheneth the bars of her gates, Psal. 147. 13. he keepeth his Vineyard, and watereth it every moment, lest any hurt it, he keepeth it night and day, Esa. 27. 3. Againe, on the Churches part it signifieth her care to keep her selfe and all her plants and fruits holy, chaste and pure unto her beloved only; opening the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truths may enter in, Esa. 26. 2. but keeping watch lest the enemies should invade, lest the uncleane, or any thing that defileth should enter thereinto, 2 Chron. 23. 19. Revel. 21. 27. As on the contrary secure and careless people are said to dwell without walls, barres or gates, Ezek. 38. 11. Jer. 49. 31.

a spring] to weete, a water-spring, in Hebrew Gal, so named of the rolling and waving of the waters that flow therfrom. This is to signifie that the garden of Christs Church, is watered with his graces, and so made fruitfull and joyfull, Eze. 31. 4, 5. Job. 7. 38, 39. Esa. 44. 3, 4. as it is promised, the Lord will satisfie thy soule in droughts, and make fat thy bones, and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not, Esa. 58. 11. locked or barred, that is, kept close from enemies, that the waters of grace may be thine only. This signifieth (as before) Gods speciall favour & protection for his Church; and her care to keepe her her selfe and hers, pure to the Lord. Wherefore Solomon to teach spirituall chastitie, useth this parable; Drinke water out of thine owne cistene, and running waters out of thine owne well. Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets. Let them be onely thine owne, and not strangers with thee. Let thy fountaine be blessed, and rejoyce with the wife of thy youth, &c. Prov. 5. 15, 18. [sealed] Hereby is figured the confirmation of grace to Christs people, as sealing meaneth in Jer. 32. 20. Joh. 3. 33. 2 Cor. 1. 22. Ephes. 1. 13. and the reserving of this grace to them onely, as that which is sealed is not communicated with others, nor knowne unto them, Esa. 29. 11. Dan. 12. 4, 9. and so it is said, Binde up the testimonie, seale the Law, among my disciples, Esa. 8. 16.

13 Verse 13. Thy plants] or thy shoots: the Hebrew and Greek words have both of them the name of sending forth, that is of shooting or growing, and so of bringing forth leaves, flowers and fruits. Hereby the members of the Church are meant, planted and made fruitfull by Christ: and here the garden of the Church, is like the garden of Eden: out of which ground, the Lord God made to grow every thing pleasant to sight, and good for food, Gen. 2. 8, 9. And this is the second blessing of the Church, that it is replenished with wholesome, sweet and precious plants. [an orchard] or a paradise, so called of the Hebr. Pardes, and Greek Paradeisos: a place set with trees, as appeareth by Eccles. 2. 5. and is therefore sometime used for a Park, or Forrest, Neh. 2. 8. Pomegranates] or Pomegranat-trees, granate-apples, so named because they are full of granes or kernels: hereupon the Chaldee paraphraseth, The young men are filled with thy precepts, (or as Iarchi explaineth it, full of good works) like Pomegranates. [precious-things] or dainties, pleasant-things: with store of these, the land of Joseph was blessed, Deuter. 33. 13, 16. The Holy Ghost seemeth to have respect unto this name, in Revel. 18. 14. fruits (or apples, in Greeke, opora) that thy soule lusted after. Cypres] Cypres-clutters, (for the word is of the plurall number) or Campshire fruits: see the notes on Song 1. 14. Spike-nard] this is also in the forme plurall Spikguards, or Nards; which is framed of the Hebrew name Nerd, whence the Greeke Nardus, and Latine Nardus is also borrowed. And it is here used plurally (wheras in the next verse it is singular) either to imply all sorts of Nard, (for there be divers kinds) or, the eares and leaves of Nard, both which are in use for sweet smell. The herb which we call Lavender, is named Pseudo-nard, as being a base kind of Nard, but nothing so sweet or precious as the true: see the notes on Song 1. 12.

14 Verse 14. Saffron] in Hebrew Carcom: we call it Saffran, of the Arabik Tsaphran (or Zafran) so named of the yellow colour: it is not mentioned in Scripture, but in this one place. Calamus] or sweet Cane, or sweet Reed: this with the Cinnamon following, were used in the composition of the holy anointing oyle, Exod. 30. 23. see the Annotations there. Frankincense] this was used in the holy incense; as the Myrrh (following) was in the anointing oyle; see Exod. 30. 34, 23.

Aloes] or Lign-aloes: it was used also to perfume with, for the sweet smell thereof: see Num. 24. 6. Psal. 45. 9. Prov. 7. 17. [chiefe spices] or heads of spices: see Exod. 30. 23. By these fruits are signified the manifold graces in Christians, which are precious and sweet before God and all good people: such are the fruits of the Spirit, mentioned in Gal. 5. 22, 23. Contrary to these, are the roots of bitternesse, that beare gall and wormwood; which are diligently to be looked unto, lest they spring up, and so trouble and defile the garden of the Church; Heb. 12. 15. Deut. 29. 18.

Verse 15. Fountain of the gardens] This seemeth to be the speech of the Spouse unto Christ, O thou the Fountain, &c. whereby she acknowledgeth a third blessing to make her fruitfull, abundance of water, and that all the former graces which he so praised her for, doe proceed from him who is the fountain that watreth all the gardens (his Churches) as in Jer. 2. 13. God calleth himselfe the fountain of living waters. From the fountain, rivers do run, (as in Psal. 104. 10) which water the gardens and plants in them, so making them greene and fruitfull, as in Ezek. 31. 4, 5. The waters made him great; the deepe set him up on high, with her rivers running about his plants, &c. But when the desolation of the Church is threatned, it is likened to a garden that hath no water, Esa. 1. 30. Here Christ by his doctrine and spirituall graces, refresheth his Churches, and all their plants, satisfieth their soule in drought, and maketh fat their bones; that their soule is like a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow any more at all, Jer. 31. 12. Esa. 58. 11. living waters] that is, springing and running waters, which dry not up with heat, nor putrifie: but are alwaies wholsome, and give life. So Christ giveth living water, of which whosoever drinketh, it shall be in him a well of water, springing up into everlasting life, Joh. 4. 10, 14. and saith, He that beleeveth on me, &c. out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water, speaking of the Spirit, which they that beleve on him, should receive, Joh. 7. 38, 39. streaming [running, flowing]: or, streames from Lebanon. It hath reference to the streames of Jordan, which River began at the foot of mount Lebanon, and ran along through the holy land, watering the same. This similitude is amplified in Ezek. 47. 6, 10. where waters issuing out of the Sanctuary (which was built of the Cedars of Lebanon) ran along Galilee, and to the Plaine, and into the sea, &c. and every living thing that moveth whithersoever the Rivers come, shall live, &c. and every thing shall live, whithersoever the River cometh. So in Rev. 22. 1. out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe (Christ) a pure River of water of life proceedeth.

V. 16. Stir-up] or Raise up (thy selfe) thou North wind. A fourth blessing upon the garden of Christs Church, that it is blowne upon by the winds, to refresh it, to cleanse the aire of it, and to make it more fruitfull. And though the North and South winds be of contrary qualities, as cold and hot, moist and dry, yet are they both fitting for her estate, which sometime needeth sharpe reproofe, and

and sometime calme and gentle consolation. But he mentioneth not the East wind; because that is often used in signe of wrath, to blast, burne and destroy the fruits; as Ezek. 17. 10. & 19. 12. Hof. 13. 15. Gen. 41. 6. blow upon my garden] The garden being Christs (as the words following manifest) the Lord, who bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures; Ps. 135. 7. speaketh unto it to blow: signifying hereby the ministration of his word and spirit bestowed on his people for their further good, that they have not onely the waters of holy Scripture, but the lively graces also of Gods Spirit to quicken them. So in Ezek. 37. 9. the Prophet was willed to prophesie unto the wind, and say thereunto, Come from the foure winds, O wind, and blow upon these slaine, that they may live. And the efficacy of the Spirit of God is resembled by the wind, in Joh. 3. 8. and doctrines are winds, in Ephes. 4. 14. and the restraint of Gods graces by wholesome doctrine, is signified by foure Angels holding the foure winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree, Rev. 7. 1. spices thereof may flow] that is, the fruits may ripen, and be abundant: for by the gracious gifts of the Spirit, breathing upon the Church, corruption is purged away, the soules are refreshed, quickned, comforted, and all graces doe increase, 1 Cor. 2. come into his garden and eat] The faithfull acknowledging both themselves and theirs to be Christs, doe desire that he would come and accept the fruits and graces of his own Spirit; with which, and for which he is to be honoured. So the offerings unto God, are called his bread; Num. 28. 2. the good workes of Christians, are called fruits, Joh. 15. his acceptance of those fruits, and communication of further grace, is signified by mutual supping together, Rev. 3. 20. and thus the Lord rejoyceth in his works, Psal. 104. 31.

fruit of his precious things] that is, the fruit of his precious graces; or, his precious fruits: so that now the Church is not like Israel of old, an empty vine, which brought forth fruit unto himselfe, Hos. 10. 1. or bare wilde grapes, even grapes of gall, and bitter clusters, Esa. 5. 2. Deut. 32. 32. but is filled with the fruits of righteousness; Phil. 1. 11. and walketh worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good worke, Col. 1. 10. and hath her fruit unto holinesse, and the end, everlasting life, Rom. 6. 22. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth this to the service of God under the Law, saying; Let the beloved God come into the house of the Sanctuary, and accept with favour the oblations of his people.

CHAPTER V.

I Am come to my garden, my sifter my Spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice, I have eaten my honey-combe with my honey: I have drunke my wine, with my milke: eate O friends, drinke, and drink-abundantly, O beloved.

I sleepe, and my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh: Open to me my sifter, my love, my dove, my perfect-one: for my head is filled with dew; my lockes with the drops of the night.

I have put-off my coat, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

My beloved put in his hand by the hole (of the doore;) and my bowels made a troubled-noise for him. I rose-up, to open to my beloved: and my hands dropped myrrh, and my fingers passing myrrh, upon the handles of the locke.

I opened to my beloved, and my beloved had withdrawne himselfe, was passed away; my soule went-forth because of his speech, I sought him, and I found him not; I called him, and hee answered me not. The Watchmen that went about the Citie, found mee, they smote

CHAPTER V.

MY sifter O my Spouse, I am entred Into my garden: I have gathered My Myrrh together with my spices-sweet, My honey-combe did with my honey eat, I drunke my wine, with my milke: friends eat ye, Drinke, O beloved, and drinke-plenteously.

I am asleepe, and yet my heart waketh: The voice of my Beloved that knocketh! I doff't my coat, how shall it on againe? I washt my feet, how shall I them distaine?

Put in his hand by'th hole did my beloved: And for him were my bowels troublous-moved. To open to my Loved, I rose-up: And my hands myrrh, my fingers eke did drop Passing-sweet myrrh, the locke handles upon.

Open I did to my beloved-one, And my beloved had himselfe drawn-backe, Was past: my soule went-forth for that he spake: I did him seeke, and yet I found him not, I called him, yet I no answer-got. The Watchmen that did goe the city round, smote mee, they wounded mee: the watchmen of the walles tooke my veile from on me. I adjure you, O daughters of Ierusalem: if yee find my beloved, what shall ye tell him? that I am sick of love.

Did

9 What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? What is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so adjure us?

10 My beloved is white and ruddy; having the banner, above ten thousand.

11 His head, the fine-gold, the solid-gold: his lockes curled, blacke as a Raven.

12 His eyes as doves, by the streames of water: washing in milke, sitting in fullnesse.

13 His cheekes, as a bed of spice, flowers of sweet-odours: his lips Lilies; dropping passing myrrh.

14 His hands rings of gold, filled with the Chrysolite; his bowels, bright yvorie, overlaid with Saphires.

15 His legges pillars of marble, founded upon sockets of solid-gold: his countenance as Lebanon, choice as the Cedars.

16 His palate, sweetnesse; and he is altogether desires: This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Ierusalem.

Did find me; they did smite me, did me wound: The keepers that upon the wals did watch, They from on me my veile away did catch. O ye the daughters of Ierusalem, I you adjuring charge if ye find him That my Beloved is, what shall yee say To him? that I for love languish away.

What is thy Lief more then another Lief, O thou that hast 'mong women beauty chiefe? Thy Lief then other Liefs what is he more, That thou adjuring chargest us so sore?

My well-beloved white and red appears; Above ten thousand he the banner bears.

His head, is fine solid gold of Fess:

His lockes are curl'd, blacke as a Raven is.

His eyes, as doves, the streames of water by:

Washing in milke, sitting in plenty.

His cheekes, as bed of spice, flowers sweetly-smelling.

His lips, like Lilies, passing myrrh distilling.

His hands gold rings, fill'd with the Chrysolite:

His bowels yv'rie bright with Saphirs dight.

His legs like Marble pillars, that have hold,

Firmly on sockets of fine-solid gold,

His sight as Lebanon, choise as Cedars.

His palate, sweets; and he is all desires;

This is my welbeloved and this same

My friends, O daughters of Ierusalem.

Annotations.

I [Am come] or, I have come: but the time passed, is often used for the present. Here Christ answereth to the prayer of the Spouse, being ready to fulfill the desire of them that seare him, Ps. 145. 19. God is said to Come unto men, when he manifesteth his presence by his workes, either of mercy or judgment, Exod. 3. 7, 8. Gen. 11. 5, 7. Here he commeth to the garden of his Church with grace, acceptation, comfort and blessing, to keepe a spirituall banquet there: as he promised, In every place where I shall make the memoriall of my name, I will come unto thee, and I will blesse thee, Exod. 20. 24. My sister, spouse] see the notes, on chap. 1. 4. ver. 8, 9.

Myrrh with my spice] that is, with my other spices or aromaticall-fruits: for myrrh was one of the chiefe spices, used in composition of sweet ointments, Exo. 30. 23. with such ointments they anointed them and their friends at feasts, see the annotations on ch. 1. 3. I have eaten] or, I doe eat, for the words following shew this to be spoken as at a banquet. my honey-combe] as the word and doctrine of Christ is likened to honey and the honey combe, to wine and milke, Psalme 19. 11. and 119. 103. Esa 55. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 2. because it is sweet, comfortable and wholesome to nourish the soule, as these things doe the body: so here the manifold fruits and graces which that word, by the Spirit, bringeth forth in Christians, are likened also to such things: whereof Christ is said to eat, that is, graciously to accept, and delight in them. On the contrary, the evill fruits of sinners, are likened to grapes of gall, and their wine, to the possession of dragons, Deuteronomie 32. 32, 33. eat O friends,] or, O neighbours. Christ speaketh, as at a feast, chearing up his friends, as partakers with him of his graces, and comforts aforesaid. They that doe his commandments, are his friends, Joh. 15. 14. (as Abraham is called the friend of God, Eccl. 41. 8. Jam. 2. 23.) and these desire and delight to be partakers of the fruits of the saints, and rejoice in their obedience; Phil. 1. 9, 10, 11. and 41. 17, 18. 3 Joh. v. 4. 3 Joh. v. 3. 4. The Angels also are made joyfull, at the conversion, sanctitie and salvation of sinners by Christ, Luk. 15. 7, 10. and 2. 13, 14. The Chaldees expoundeth this of Gods acceptation of his Churches service under the Law, thus: The holy and blessed (God) said to his people the house of Israel: I am come to the house of my sanctuary, which thou buildest for me, my sister, O congregation of Israel, which art likened to an honest spouse, and have caused my divine presence to dwell in the midst of thee: I accept thy incense of spices, which thou madest for my name: (D)

I have sent fire from heaven, and it hath eaten the burnt-offerings, and sacrifice of Peace-offerings: accepted with favour before me, is the drinke-offering of red wine and of white wine which the Priests have poured out upon mine Altar. Now come ye Priests that love my precepts, eat that which is left of the oblations, and delight your selves in the good that is prepared for you.

drinke abundantly O beloved ] or, be drunken, (that is, be plenteously-filled) with loves. By Beloved, he meaneth his friends aforesaid: or, by loves (for so the word may be interpreted) hee meaneth the fruits of love, which his Spouse had brought forth unto him; which loves, he said, were much better then wine, chap. 4. 10. In Esay 25. 6. it is prophesied how the Lord of hosts would make (in the mountaine of his church) unto all people, a feast of fat things, a feast of wine on the Lees, &c.

2 Verf. 2. I sleepe ] or, I sleeping, and my heart waking. The Spouse of Christ here telleth of a new and greater trouble that befell her, through her owne negligence; and how she got out thereof. In chap 3. she had a much like temptation, but not so heaue as this: for there she slept not; but upon her bed, in the nights, sought her beloved; here she sleepeth, her beloved seeketh her, knocketh, provoketh, but shee maketh excuses for a while. There the watchmen though they tell her no tidings of her beloved, yet they doe her no farther harme: here, they smite, wound, and unveile her. There, she soone findeth him, after she was past the watchmen: here, she findeth him not so soone, but languisheth with love, and complaineth to her friends, who (upon report of his praises) doe helpe to seeke him with her. Sleepe is the rest or ceasing of the creature, from use of the outward senses, and from action: It is caused by vapour in the head, that arise from meat, drinke, &c. which stop the passages of the spirits, and bind the senses. This sleepe, as it is a refreshing, is sometime used in a good sense, for the repose & rest that the faithfull have in God; Psal. 3. 5. and 4. 8. Prov. 3. 24. But more often it signifieth the neglect of holy duties, and a sinfull kind of life, Esay 56. 10. Rom. 13. 11. 1 Thes. 5. 6, 7. and this sleepe is caused sometimes through sorrow, Luk. 22. 45. sometime through wearines, Esay. 5. 27. sometime through sloathfulness, and then it causeth spirituall beggery, Prov. 19. 15. and 20. 13. The Spouse here, having eaten and drunk largely of the blessings of Christ, beginneth to remit her zeale, and neglect the works of faith and love, wanting the presence of her beloved, and being pressed with the remnants of the flesh, so she gave place to carnall ease & security. Occasioned further hereunto by the time, the night; and by the weather which was rainy: that is, by ignorance and error prevailing; & by the opposition and persecution of enemies.

and my heart waketh ] or, but my heart waketh, or is, awake. The heart meaneth the inner man, the spirit, or man as he is regenerate, opposed to the flesh or outward man, Rom. 2. 28. 29. and the flesh & spirit (even in Gods children) doe lust one against another, that we cannot do the things that we would,

Gal. 5. 17. and while the spirit is willing (to watch, pray, &c.) the flesh is weak, Mat. 26. 41. Whereas therefore her heart waked while she slept, it signified that she gave not her self wholly to this negligence, but as the wise virgins had their lamps burning whiles all slumbered and slept, when the lamps of the foolish were gone out, Mat. 25. 4, 5, 8. so shee now had given her selfe to fleshly ease, but had her heart and spirit otherwise disposed. For when the whole man addicted it selfe to any thing, the heart also is adjoynded; as Solomon saith, I compassed about, I and my heart, to search and to seeke out wisdom, Ecclel. 7. 25. that knocketh ] or, that beateth, to wit, at the doore. Shee telleth the love and care of her beloved, who would not let her rest in the bed of worldly ease, but exciteth her to holy duties, by receiving him & the spirit of his grace. Christs voice is uttered by preaching of his Gospel, calling to repentance, faith and obedience, Heb. 3. 7, 8 15. and 4. 2. His knocking, signifieth a more earnest provocation and desire to be let in, Mat. 7. 7. Luk. 13. 25. and it may imply his chastisements also wherby he would call her to repentance; as he saith to the Church in Laodicea, (when it was fallen to be neither cold nor hot) As many as I love I reuke and chasten, be zealous therefore and repent. Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke, Revel. 3. 19, 20. open to me ] God openeth doores to us, when he bestoweth his blessings on us, Psal. 78. 23, 24. Esay. 45. 1, 2, 3. and spirituallly, when he giveth grace to utter his word, and to beleve the same, Col. 4. 3. Act. 14. 27. So we open the doore unto him, when we give him entrance into our hearts, he calling upon us by his word and workes; when we repent, beleve, and accept Christ with his graces, &c. Rev. 3. 20.

my sister, my love, &c. ] these titles given unto the Church, even in her infirmity, shew what affection he bare unto her, and how he esteemed of her notwithstanding her sinnes; which he imputeth not, but looketh upon her graces which hee had endued her with, as if she were perfect & undefiled. filled with dew ] or, full of dew. This head of Christ (which in v. 11. is likened to most fine gold) here filled with dew, seemeth to mean his manifold troubles which he suffered for her sake, not only in his owne person, while he was on earth, but in his Servants and Ministers, who are often troubled on every side, perplexed, persecuted, cast downe, alwayes bearing about in the body, the dying of the Lord Iesus, &c. 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9, 10. Thus Christ commeth in the darke night of affliction to awake her, & to communicate himselfe and his graces with her. For a man to be wet with the dew of heaven, is a signe of misery, Dan. 4. 25. so is raine where there is no covert, Esay. 4. 6. and drops (or droppings) likewise signifie troubles, Amos 6. 11. But dew & raine upon the land maketh it fruitfull: so is Christ by his doctrine to his Church, Psal. 72. 6. Hos. 14. 5. Dou. 32. 2. And in this sense some take it here, as if Christ came unto her full of the dew of blessings to enrich her. The Chaldee paraphrast applieth this verse to the Iewes captivity, & Gods calling them to repentance, thus: After all these words, the people of the house of Israel sinned; and he delivered them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, who led them into captivity: and in the captivity they were like to a man asleepe, that cannot wake out of his sleepe. And the voice of the Holy Ghost admonished them by the hand of the Prophets, and stirred them up from the sleepe of their heart. The Lord of all the world spake, and thus he said; Turne by repentance, open thy mouth, and make request, and laud me, my sister, my love, the congregation of Israel, which art like a dove in perfection of thy workes: for the haire of my head is filled with thy teares, as a man whose haire of his head is wet with the dew of heaven; and my hairy lockes are filled with the drops of thine eyes, as a man whose hairy lockes are full with the drops of raine that descend in the night.

3 Verſ. 3. how shall I put it on? that is, I cannot put it on, without trouble and reluctance of my flesh. The like phrase God used in Hof. 11. 8. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim, &c. how shall I make thee as Admah? &c. that is, I cannot utterly destroy thee, as I did those Cities, such is my compassion towards thee. The Spouse here telleth her answer to Christ, how she made excuses and delaies, and that she could not presently admit him: as the friend answereth (in Luke 11. 7.) Trouble mee not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with mee in bed: I cannot rise and give thee. The keeping on of clothes, is a signe of care and watchfulnesse, Neh. 4. 23. so shee now (in the absence of her Lord) should have had her lynes girded about, her lights burning, her selfe waiting for his returne; that when he came and knocked, shee might open to him immediately, Luke 12. 35-36. But she had not only ungirded, but put off her coat, and washed her feet, so composing her selfe to a settled rest in her bed; and in stead of watching, sleepeth; in stead opening the doore, driveth him away through her neglect and sloath. washed my feet] another signe that she had betaken her selfe to rest: for in those hot countries (where usually they went bare-footed) they washed their feet from soile and sweat after travell: which shee now having done, could not (as she pretended) without fouling them againe, open to her beloved. Such worthlesse excuses doth our flesh alleage; the time is unseasonable, the night is cold & dampe, the weather wet, wee cannot arise to entertaine Christ, without trouble and detriment. So the people that dwelt in their field houses, said, the time is not come that the Lords house should be built, Ag. 1. 4. 2. The sloathfull saith, A Lyon is in the way, a Lyon is in the streets, Prov. 26. 3. and The sluggard will not plow, by reason of the cold, Prov. 20. 4. The Chaldee here paraphraseth thus, The Congregation of Israel, answered before the Prophets; Loe now I have put off from me the yoke of his precepts, and have served the erroneous idols of the peoples: and how can I have the face to turne againe unto him? The Lord of the world answered them by the hand of the Prophets; And I also, Loe now I have taken away my divine-presence from mids of thee; and how shall I returne? And thou hast done evill workes, and I have sanctified my feet from thy uncleannesse; and how shall I defile them in the mids

of thee, by thy evill workes?

Verſ. 4. put in] Hebr. sent his hand, or, put it forth.

by the holes] or, from the bole, to wit, of the doore, where he knocked, which some understand to be a withdrawing of the hand as purposing to leave off his calling of her: but the Greeke translates by the hole; and the putting forth of the hand usually meaneth the enterprising of a worke, rather then the leaving of it off, as in Gen. 3. 22. & 22. 10. 13. & 48. 14. Exod. 3. 20. 1 Chro. 13. 9. and the effects following, that her bowels were moved, that she rose up, &c. seeme to confirme this. And an bole is a meane either to looke in, or to put in the hand, or to make a wider entrance, Ezek. 8 7. 8. 9. The Spouse of Christ here signifieth, that though the doore was shut against him, that her Beloved could not enter; and though his voice (by the outward Ministry of his word) could not cause her to arise, yet he put forth his hand (by the inward working of his Spirit) and wrought more effectually in her. For, as the finger of God (in Luk. 11. 20.) meaneth the Spirit of God, Mat. 12. 28. so doth his hand. Wherefore the disciples outwardly preaching the word; it is said, the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed, and turned to the Lord, Act 11. 19. 21.

my bowels made a troubled noise] or, my bowels sounded, rumbled. Hereby she signifieth her disquietnesse, hearty sorrow, and repentance, for her Beloved, who had suffered so many things for her sake, and whom shee had so neglected and put from her, when he desired to come in. So the Prophet (to shew his sorrow for Moabs calamity) saith, My bowels shall sound (or make a noise) like an harpe for Moab, Elay 16. 11. and for the Iewes another saith, My bowels, my bowels, I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh a noise (or a troubled sound) I cannot hold my peace, Ier. 4. 19. Yea God himselfe, in commiseration of Ephraims misery, saith, My bowels sound (or make a troubled noise) for him. I will surely have mercy on him, saith the Lord, Ier. 31. 20. So here the Spouse, by the sounding of her bowels, sheweth the griefe of her heart, which is one (and the chiefest) of the bowels, as is after noted on v. 14.

Verſ. 5. I rose up] or, I my selfe rose up. Vnto her inward griefe she addeth outward acts of amendment, (fruits meet for repentance) rising, opening, seeking, calling for her Beloved now departed from her doore, through her former negligence. I dropped myrrh] that is, oyle of myrrh. passing myrrh] that is, pure myrrh, which is of bitter taste, and sweet smelling savour: or currant myrrh, such as passeth from one to another, vendible to merchants, because it is good: as passing money is currant money with Merchants, Gen. 23. 16. Passing myrrh dropping from Christs lips, (Song. 5. 13.) signifieth the sweet odour of his doctrine; so the like here dropping from the hands and fingers of his Spouse, seemeth to denote the sweet odour of her workes; that her godly sorrow, with faith and love unfained, might be acceptable to her beloved, and of sweet smell in his nostrils. In those countries, women (before they were brought brought to Kings) were purified with oyle of myrrh, and sweet odours, Eccl. 2. 12. and the garments of Christs Spouse doe smell of Myrrh, &c. Psalme 45. 9. here her hands, that is, her actions are anointed with oyle of myrrh, that is, the grace of Gods Spirit, as the holy oyle in the Sanctuary (figuring grace) was made of pure myrrh, and other chiefe spices, Exod. 30. 23. &c. Otherwise we may understand it of the grace of Christ, which he left behind him as a sweet odour to allure her, when he put in his hand at the hole of the doore; which he perceived now when shee was risen from her bed of carnall security. handles of the locke] these handles (or bands) of the locke, were those that kept out Christ from entring; which now shee anointeth with oyle of myrrh, that her heart being ointed and suppled with grace, all bars and lets being removed, he might freely enter to reape the fruit of his owne grace in her.

6. Ver. 6. I opened] or, I my selfe opened: this noteth a further degree of grace in her, who after shee had risen, openeth the doore, (putting away all excuses, delays, hinderances, admitting the word and worke of Christ into her heart,) that the King of glory might come in. withdrawne himselfe] or, turned-away. was passed-away] This doubling of the complaint for his departure, sheweth her passion and grief, in that shee enjoyed not his presence & favour, as in time past.

But the narration telleth how even the righteous are (for their sins) recompensed in the earth, and scarcely saved; Prov. 11. 31. 1 Pet. 4. 18. if we refuse the grace of God profered, hee will hide his face from us, Mic. 3. 4. Hos. 5. 5. my soule went forth] or, was gone, departed; that is, failed, fainted. I was even a dead woman, through feare and griefe: for death is the departing of the soule from the body, Gen. 35. 18. and as the bears is said to goe forth when men are astonied with feare, or the like passions, Gen. 42. 28. so here the soule is said to goe forth for like cause. because of his speech] for his words, which he had used, when so lovingly he intreateth me, in ver. 2. The word spoken doth not alwayes presently take effect in the hearers, but after, when they fall into tentation, the Spirit of God often bringeth things to their remembrance, that they doe better understand and make use of that they heard, Ioh. 14. 26. Matth. 26. 75.

he answered me not] This is one of the greatest tentations, that God seemeth not to hear the prayers of his people, though they call day and night, Psalm. 22. 3. he shutteth out their prayer, Lam. 3. 8. But here the Spouse hath measure for measure; because he called and shee would not obey, she also calleth and hath no answer. Howbeit his care is not heare, that it cannot heare: but (as it is written) Your iniquities have separated between you and your God; and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not heare; Esay 59. 1, 2. The Hebrewes (in their Chald. paraphrase) apply the affliction here prophesied of, to the sins & captivity of Israel, mentioned in 1 Chro. 5. 25, 26. 2 King. 17. 6. at what time, though the Priests (as they say) offered oblations & burnt incense, yet were they not accepted.

Ver. 7. The watchmen] or, keepers, that keepe watch and ward in the City by night: meaning the officers of the Church; see before on cha. 3. 3.

found me] By this it appeareth, that shee went not only to the dore of her house to seek Christ, but did goe about the city, in the streets, &c. as before in chap. 2. 3. they smote me] smiting is not onely with the hand, or other like instrument, but with the tongue, as in Ier. 18. 18. Come and let us smite him with the tongue: and generally to smite, is to afflict by what meanes soever, Esay 53. 4. Psal. 69. 27. Here the Watchmen are more injurious then before in chap. 3. neither inquireth shee of these for her Beloved; but being by them found, out of the common course, is smitten & wounded as an evill doer, judged as a dishonest woman, whose feet would not abide in her house, no not by night, is rebuked, censured, &c. wounded me] drew blood of me, for it is a further degree of hurt then smiting, 1 King. 20. 37. Exod. 21. 25. So the husbandmen wounded the Lords servant, Luk. 20. 17. watchmen of the wals] watchmen in the citie are to look that order and peace be kept of those that are within, watchmen on the walles, are to looke to enemies without, that they breake not in, and to warne the citie if foes approach: so these were other then the former, from whom shee escaping with stripes and wounds, passeth from the streets to the walles to seek Christ, but is there as evill intreated. These are in name the Ministers of Christ, supplying the place of such as are mentioned in Esay. 62. 6. but of another kind, not making mention of the Lord, but persecuting those that seeke him. took my veile] or, my scarfe; it hath the name in the originall, of spreading, as being spread over her head to cover her: Such veiles were worne of women, partly for ornament, as appeared by Esay. 3. 23. partly for modesty, and in signe of subjection to men, especially their husbands, 1 Corinth. 11. 6, 7, 10. and an husband to the wife a covering of the eyes, Gen. 24. 16. The taking away therefore of her veile, seemeth to be a note of infamy; disloyalty or dishonesty imputed unto her: as of idolatry, heresie, schisme & the like; so shee was spoiled of her good name and reputation; and counted among the light & lewd women. For it appeareth by Ezek. 23. 25, 26. that they used to entreat dishonest women so, disfiguring their faces, stripping them out of their clothes, & taking away their faire jewels.

Ver. 8. I adjure you] I charge you by oath; Here the Spouse (having with much adoe escaped from the watchmen) meeteth with her friends the daughters of Ierusalem; of whom, see the notes on Song 2. 7. and 1. 5. where also shee adjured them, upon other weighty cause. what shall ye tell him?] this is an earnest and passionate kind of speech, shewing her great affection; and stirring up their care and diligence; that if they who had not for the present the knowledge of Christ by his graces clearly manifested unto them, (as appeareth by their answer in v. 9. & c. 6. v. 1.) should finde him by being made partakers of his mercy through the revelation of his Gospel, (as

(as in Rom. 10. 20.) then they should tell (or shew) unto him in their prayers, the state of this his afflicted Spouse. [sick of love] in Greek, wounded with love: languishing with desire of his mercie, of the forgiveness of my sins, of reconciliation, &c. See the notes on chap. 2. verse 5.

9 Verse 9. more than another belov'd] when God and Christ is preached, the wicked take occasion to mention and magnifie other false Gods; and erroneous services, Esa. 36. 18, 20. Act. 19. 26, 28: but they that belong to the heavenly Jerusalem, desire to be informed further in the truth, and to know the difference betweene true and false Christs, worships, ordinances, &c. as these here, and so in Act. 17. 18, 19, 34, &c. 28. 23, 29, 34. fairest among women] See chap. 1. 8. Here the Spouse of Christ, though in her sorrowes and miseries, though persecuted and abused by wicked watchmen, though in the darke night of tribulation, is notwithstanding discerned and professed to be fair and glorious; by such as belong unto Christ, Heb. 11. 24, 26. 1 Thes. 1. 5, 6.

10 Verse 10. White and ruddy] She describeth Christ unto them in his beauty, to stir up both her own and their affections, and to draw them after him. For as the outward shew of idolaters, allureth the unwise to affect and follow them, Ezek. 23. 5, 6, 12, 14, 15, 16. so the true knowledge of Christ with his graces, draweth the Elect to seeke and embrace him, Act. 2. 22, 37, 41. & 3. 12, 13, &c. & 4. 4. and 17. 11, 12. and by the Gospel preached, Christ with his sufferings is evidently set forth, Gal. 3. 1. Here as a goodly yong man, he is as in an image pourtrayed by his visible qualites, his colours, and by the parts of his body. White and red, as they shew the best temperature of man, so here they may signifie in Christ; First, his Godhead & Manhood: for God in vision hath appeared all white as snow, and as pure wooll, Dan. 7. 9. and Christ in his glory had his face shining as the Sun, and his raiment white as the light, Mat. 17. 2. and in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily, Col. 2. 9. Man had his name Adam, of Adamah, the red mould of the earth out of which he was taken, Gen. 2. 7. and Christ (who here is Adam red) is the last Adam, 1 Cor. 15. 45. and was partaker with his children of flesh and blood, Heb. 2. 14. Secondly, white denoteth his innocencie in himselfe, without spot of sin: red, his sinfull case by imputation, for God made him, who knew no sin, to be sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21. and so these two colours are used to signifie sinfulness and innocencie, Esa. 1. 18. And consequently red betokeneth his sufferings to the shedding of his blood, as white doth his victory, peace joy and comfort in God, Rev. 7. 9, 13, 17. Eccles. 9. 8. And in respect of his administration, white setteth forth his grace and mercie to repentant and beleeving sinners, whom he justifieth, sanctifieth, and will bring into glory; who therefore are said to be clothed in byss white and cleane, which is the righteousness of the Saints, Rev. 19. 8, 14. and red, his justice in punishing and doing vengeance on his enemies, in token whereof his garments are said to red, dyed and dipt in blood; Esa. 63. 1, 2, 3. Rev. 19. 13.

having the Banner, above ten thousand] or, having Banners, of ten thousand: Hebrew, bannered, above (or of, or with) ten thousand. Meaning either that he was the chiefest, valiantest and most excellent of all: or, that he had many Banners and companies of Warriors with him. In the first sense the Greeke interpreteth it, the chosen (or choicest) of ten thousands: in the latter, the Chaldee Paraphrast, and other Hebrew Expositors apply it to the ten thousands of Angels that minister before him, (as in Daniel 7. 10.) The Banner (or standard) is a warlike signe; and he that beareth it, is of the chiefest; and by it, other Warriors doe encampe, as appeareth in the armies of Israel, Numbers 2. And there Judab was chiefe Standard-bearer; and had under his Banner the greatest number of Warriors: so here Christ (the Lion of the tribe of Judab, Revelation 5. 5.) is chiefe among many, yea above all; for he standeth for an Ensigne of the people, Esay 11. 10. (that is, ruleth over the Gentiles, Romans 15. 12.) and unto him both the Angels doe minister, and worship him, Matthew 4. 11. Hebrews 1. 6. and many ten thousands of people doe beleeve in him, Act. 21. 20. Rev. 7. 9. and (in his wars against his enemies) as armies in heaven doe follow him, Revelation 19. 11, 14.

11 Verse 11. the fine gold, the solid gold] understand fine gold and solid gold, for this word and, is sometime not exprest in the Hebrew, though it be meant; as is noted on Exod. 22. 30. Deuter. 24. 17. Two names of the best gold are here joyned, Cetsem, and Paz (or Pbaz;) the first is fine, notable and shining; the latter, solid, strong, and fast gold, or Fesse gold: (according to the Hebrew name.) Fine-gold is in Arabik called Fes; and the land of Fesse seemeth to be so named of such gold there. Both these together, set forth the glory of Christs head here: which being taken either properly, or figuratively for the crown or ornament of the head; (as by the feet are implied the shoes on the feet, Deuter. 8. 4, 29, 5.) seemeth to denote his headship, dignity or regiments; that his Kingdom is most glorious (like fine splendent gold) because it is spirituall and heavenly; and most firme and durable (like pure solid gold) because it is eternal: Joh. 18. 36, 37. Luke 17. 30, 31. Dan. 7. 13, 14. For the Spouse calleth her Beloved King, in Song 1. 4. and David praising God, saith, I have fast set on his head, a crowne of fine gold, Ps. 21. 4. And as Christ is here described, so is hee in the administration and government of his Church: that when his Kingdom is powerfull and glorious, and of large extent, it is like a golden head, as in Dan. 2. 37, 38 and when it is administred according to his laws and judgements, (which are more to be desired than much fine solid gold, Psal. 19. 11.) then is the street of Jerusalem (the Law wherein men walke) pure gold, as in Revelation 21. 21. Hereby also his rich grace and bountifullnesse unto men, may be implied. his lockes] his hairy-lockes, of which before he complaineth in verse 2. that they were filled with drops of the night: curled] or heaps, that is, are like heaps, curled and bushy.

blacke] in Revel. 1. 14. Christ appeareth as an Ancient, with his hairs white as wool; here he is described as a goodly yong man, with curled locks, blacke as a Raven: that white colour shewed him to be the Ancient of daies, Dan. 7. 9. full of gravity, wisdom, justice, &c. but blacke and curled locks, as they are signes of heat and strength in nature, so here they seeme to denote strength and vigour spirituall, as also the hidden mystery of his counsels, thoughts and purposes unsearchable. According to the variety of times, causes and administrations, so things are spoken diversly of God and of Christ: as in 1 Tim. 6. 16. he dwelleth in the light which none can approach unto; in 2 Chro. 6. 1. he dwelleth in the thicke darknesse: his administration of mercy by the preaching of the Gospel is signified by a white horse, his judgement by a blacke horse, Rey. 6. 2, 5. And if we refer this here to Christs administration, it may denote both his counsels unsearchable of any, and in speciall his judgements decreed for his enemies.

12 Verse 12. as doves] in Revelation 1. 14. his eyes are as a flame of fire, and in Daniel 10. 6. as lamps of fire; to search and try all mens waies, and to set mens secret sinnes to the light of his countenance, Jeremy 16. 17. Psalme 90. 8. and 11. 4. here, he hath doves eyes, to shew that he is of purser eyes than to behold evil, and cannot looke on iniquity, Habak. 1. 13. that he graciously beholdeth his people with mercie, and commiseration of their misery, Deuteronomy 11. 12, Psalme 34. 16. and 33. 18, 19. and that he faithfully looketh to his covenant with his people; as the Spouse for her faith and loyalty is said also to have doves eyes, Song 1. 15. & 4. 1. by streams] or by currents (rivers) of water that run violently: such waters are pure and cleare, where doves delight to be. washing] to weet, themselves; which the Greeke translateth, washed in milke. As doves washing themselves in milk white water are cleansed from dust and soile: so the eyes of Christ are pure and cleane, beholding his people in grace. sitting in fulnesse] if the similitude of waters be continued; then it meaneth full channels of water, by which doves delight to sit: or, if of the doves, it may be understood of sitting in their lockers, and so applied to the eyes in the holes of the head with fit and due proportion, neither sunke in, nor starting out; but as the precious filling stones, Exo. 25. 7. were embossed and fitly set in the hollow places of the golden Ephod: so were these pure and gracious eyes, in the head of Christ.

13 Verse 13. bed of spice] meaning a garden-bed, wherein spice aromaticall is set; as after in Song 6. 2. flowers] or, growne plants, so named of being growne great: the word also may be translated towers, which have their names of greatnesse. The cheekes (which are both sides of the face) are likened here to a garden bed of sweet spice; not barren or faded, but sprouting and growne up to blade and flowre of sweet odours; whereby the beard also that groweth out of the cheeks or jaws, (Esa. 50. 6.) may be meant. These cheeks of Christ thus adorned, signifie his manlinesse and comeliness to all that by faith behold him, & the sweetnesse of the graces that flow from his heavenly countenance; whiles being as a man grown up to yeeres of discretion, he administred all things discreetly, justly and comfortably to his people. The Hebrews in the Chaldee paraphrase on this booke, understand by the head, the Law of God, which is to be desired more than gold: by the locks of haire, the interpretation of the words therein heaped together, we are blacke to those that keep them not: by the eyes, his providence to behold and blesse his people, by meanes of Counsellors, Teachers, Judges, &c. by the cheekes, the tables of stone, written with lines as with rewes of a garden of spices; & yeelding acute & sweet senses.

passing myrrh] that is, oyle of myrrh of sweet savour, which passeth currant & is vendible among Merchants (as before in ver. 5.) This signifieth that grace, (or words of grace, Luke 4. 22.) which was poured out in the lips of Christ, Pl. 45. 3. which set forth by similitude of the pleasant lily, & sweet myrrh-oile, doe note out the comfort and sweetnesse of the Gospel, in the hearts of them that beleve.

Verse 14. The Chrysolite] in Hebrew T barshib; it is a precious stone of a golden sea-green colour: see Exo. 28. 20. These hands of Christ, likened unto, or adorned with gold rings, whose hollow place or foyle is set and filled with the Chrysolite, signifie his precious, pure & religious works; acceptable and honorable before God and men.

his bowels] that is, his brest and belly, for in them the bowels are contained, as the heart, liver, &c. but he nameth bowels, to denote his inward affections outwardly manifested. So the heart is said to be among the bowels, in Psal. 22. 15. and the liver is joyned therewith in Lam. 2. 11. where also the bowels are in Greek translated the heart. See before on ver. 4. bright yvory] Hebr. brightnesse of yvory; meaning, most bright, polished, faire and glorious.

overlaid] or, which is covered, and so adorned with Saphirs: for in Gen. 38. 14. this word is used for covered, where the Greek and Chaldee expound it adorned. These bowels of Christ like burnisht yvory decked with Saphirs (which are precious stones of a sea blew, or heavenly colour) signifie his hearty & heavenly affections, love, mercie, commiseration, &c. towards God, his Law, & his people; as he saith (in Psal. 40. 9.) thy Law is within my bowels; and bowels are inward-affections, in 2 Cor. 7. 15. & joyned with mercies, in Phil. 2. 1. & used for tender-mercy, in Luke 1. 78. and Pauls great longing after the Saints, is said to be in the bowels of Iesus Christ, Phil. 1. 8. The Chald. Paraphrast applyeth these to the body of the Church of Israel, the twelve Tribes, who shined (as he saith) like lampes, were polished in their works like Elephants tooth (or yvory) and shone like Saphirs.

Verse 15. His legs pillars of marble] under the name legs, the thighes also are comprehended, and all downe to the feet: which are the instruments to beare, sustain and remove the body from place to place: so the legs of a man, and the strength of an horse are mentioned (in Psal. 147. 10.) to signifie mans mans might and swiftnesse. And as grin legs denoted a strong Kingdom, Daniel 2. 33, 40. so the strength of Christ in his wayes and government, is resembled by marble-pillars, and the uprightness and purity thereof, by the colour of white-marble, or Alabaster. founded or grounded, set fast as on a foundation. sockets of solid gold that is, Christs feet, on which his legs are set, (as pillars on their sockets to sustaine and stay them up) are of solid gold, firme and stable, pure and glorious: so that his way is perfect, his angles slip not, 2 Sam. 22. 33, 37. his foot standeth in righteousnesse, Psal. 26. 12. he walketh safely in his way, and his foot stumbleth not, Prov. 3. 23. with these feet in justice he treadeth downe his enemies, Psal. 110. 1. Esay 26. 6. 2 Sam. 22. 39, 43. but bringeth good tidings of peace to his people, Nah. 1. 15. that all they are blessed which trust in him, Psal. 2. 12. whereas confidence in an unfaithfull man in the day of trouble, is like a foot out of joint, Prov. 25. 19. his countenance or his sight, appearance, forme; that is, his personage: for this word meaneth not his face only, but his whole person: to see to he is like Lebanon, goodly, great, high, glorious. So in 2 Sam. 23. 21. a man of countenance, (that is a goodly personable man) is by another Prophet called a man of measure, (that is, of great and goodly stature) 1 Chro. 11. 23. Lebanon a goodly mountaine in the North part of the land of Canaan, see Song 4. 8. As Christs large, glorious, and everlasting Kingdom was signified by a stone, that became a great mountaine and filled the whole earth, Dan. 2. 35, 44. and other kingdoms also are figured by mountaines, Jer. 51. 25 so the largenesse, eminencie and glory of Christ in his kingdom, is here resembled by mount Lebanon. choice that is, goodly, excellent, for things that excell are chosen before other: and these words, choice and good (or goodly) are joynd together in the praise of men (as in 1 Sam. 9. 2.) or of trees, Ezek. 31. 16. and choice Cedars are mentioned in Jer. 22. 7. so here, Christ is choice as the Cedars, meaning, goodly, excellent, flourishing and continuing in vigour: the just man groweth as a Cedar in Lebanon, Psal. 92. 13.

Verse 16. his palate or, the roofe of his mouth: 16 which (as the tongue and lips) is the instrument of speaking; and so figuratively used for speech or words, Prov. 5. 3. sweetnesses or sweet, sweet things: which properly is meant of sweet meats and drinks, as in Neh. 8. 10. Prov. 24. 13. but applied to the words of God, which are sweet to the soule, as honey, or other sweets to the taste, Psalme 19. 10. and 119. 103. Here the palate (or mouth) of Christ being likened to sweet things, signified his words, doctrines, promises, comforts proceeding from his spirit, and being plainly and powerfully uttered, to be pleasant, wholesome, comfortable to the soules of such as do discern and beleve them; as the Spouse before said, his fruit was sweet unto her palate (or taste) Song 2. 3. So the Wisdome of God saith (in Pro. 8. 7. my palate (that is, my mouth) shall speak the truth. And the Chaldee here paraphraseth, The words of his palate are sweet as honey. he is altogether or, all (every whit) of him is desired; that is, much to be desired, he is wholly amiable: which the Chaldee expoundeth, all his commandments are to be desired. Thus Christ is both generally and in particulars commended and magnified, by the tongue of his Spouse, unto the daughters of Jerusalem (as by the tongue of Paul he was crucified among the Galathians, Gal. 3. 1. when his sufferings were declared.) But as he is the power of God, and the wisdom of God, unto them which are called, when to others he is a stumbling block, and foolishnesse, 1 Corinthians 1. 23, 24. so here he is to the Spouse and her friends glorious and beautifull; but to the world he is base and ignominious; a worme and not a man, the reproach of men, and contemned of the people, Psalme 22. 7. his visage marred more than any man, and his forme, more than the formes of men: growing up as a root out of a dry ground: having no forme nor comeliness; no beauty that we should desire him, Esay 52. 14. and 53. 2.

CHAPTER VI.

1 VWhither is thy Beloved gone,
O thou fairest among Women:
whither is thy Beloved turned-aside,
that wee may seeke him with thee.

2 My Beloved, is gone-downe to his garden
to the beds of spice: to feed in the gardens,
and to gather Lilies. 3 I am my Beloveds,
and my Beloved is mine: he feedeth among the Lilies.

4 Thou art faire, O my Love, as Tirzah, comely, as Jerusalem: terrible, 5 as armies with Banners.
Turne-about thine eyes, over-against me: for they,

CHAPTER VI.

1 OWhither is thy welbeloved gone,
Thou that of women art the fairest one:
O whither may thy Loved turned be
Aside, that we may seeke for him with thee.

2 My Welbeloved, be, descended Unto his garden, to the beds of spice:
Within the gardens that he food-may-get,
That also he may gather Lilies sweet.

3 I my Beloveds am, and my Loved
Is mine, he doth among the Lilies feed.

4 My Love, thou art as Tirzah beautifull,
Comely, as is Jerusalem: dreadfull

5 As are the warlike-bannered-armies.
Over against me, turne-about thine eyes:

For

- have lifted mee up: thy haire is as a 6 flocke of Goats, that appeare from Gilead. Thy teeth, are as a flocke of sheepe, which come-up from the washing: which all of them beare-twinns, 7 and none among them is bereaved-of-the-yong. As a piece of a Pomegranate, are thy temples, within thy locks.
 8 There are three-score Queenes, and foure-score Concubines: and Virgins, 9 without number. My Dove my perfect-one, she is one, she is the onely one of her mother; shee is the choice one of her that bare her: The daughters saw her, and they blessed her, the Queenes and the Concubines, and prai-10 sed her. Who is she that looketh-forth
 as the morning: faire as the Moone, cleare as the Sunne; terrible, as armies
 with banners.
 11 I went-downe to the nut-garden, to see the fruits of the valley: to see whether the vine flourished, whether the 12 Pome-granates blossomed. I knew not;
 my soule put me, the chariots of my willing people.
 13 Returne, returne, O Shulammitesse, returne, returne, that we may looke upon thee: what shall we see in the Shu-lammitesse? as the company of two armies.

For they have lift me up: so is thine haire,
 As flocke of goats, from Gilead that appeare.
 Thy teeth as flocke of sheepe are, which be gone
 6 Up from the washing: of which every one Doe bring-forth-equall-twins, and them among
 Is none that is bereaved-of-the-yong.
 7 The temples-of-thine-head, thy lockes within,
 Like to a piece of a pomegranate beene.
 8 Queenes threescore are, and Concubines four score:
 Of Virgins eke innumerable store.
 9 My Dove, my undefiled, she is one:
 She of her mother is the one-alone,
 Of her that bare her she the choice-one is:
 The daughters they her saw, and did her blisse,
 The Queenes and Concubines, and did her praise.
 10 Who is she that as morn her selfe displays?
 Faire as the Moone is, as the Sun so cleare,
 Dreadfull, as armies that doe Banners beare.
 11 To the Nutgarden I went-downe, to see
 The valley fruits: to see if the vine-tree
 Flourisht, if blossome did the Pomegranets.
 12 I knew not, my soule put me, the charrets
 Of my free people. Turne, O turne (I say) 13 Shulammitesse; turne, turne, we view thee may:
 What shall we see in the Shulammitesse?
 As company that of two armies is.

Annotations.

- I Turned aside] or, hath he turned his face, to wit,
 from thee to others; or, to another place.
that we may seeke] or, and we will seeke him. The daughters of Ierusalem (Gods elect) having heard from his Spouse, the praises of Christ; are moved earnestly to inquire after him, and promise (if they know where) to seeke him with her, that they might be made partakers of his grace and blessings. Such is the effect of the preaching of the Gospel, in the hearts of the chosen, Acts 2. 37.
 and 4. 4. and 11. 20, 21. But the watchmen fore-mentioned (Song 3. 3. and 5. 7.) had no such affection: that in them the saying was fulfilled;
The Pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the Lord; therefore they shall not prosper, Jer. 10. 21.
 2 Verse 2. is gone-downe to his garden] The garden of Christ is his Church, as in chap. 4. 16. and 5. 1.
 The spouse which before missed and sought him,
 hath now intelligence, and informeth others
 where he is: so that this respecteth another time and state, and the promise is fulfilled, Seeke, and ye shall find, Mat. 7. 7. If from thence thou shalt seeke the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him; if thou seeke him with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, Deut. 4. 29.

bed of spice] rankes, rewees, or beds wherein spices
 were sowne: which seemeth to meane companies of beleivers, in whose hearts (as in good earth)
 the sweet and precious word of the Gospel was sowne, Mat. 13. 8, 23. For these beds are by Aquila a Greeke Interpreter, translated Prasai, which word is used in Marke 6. 40. for rankes of people sitting downe to be fed of Christ.
to feed] to associate himselfe, and communicate with the graces of his people, eating his pleasant fruits
 as in Song 4. 16. as also to feed his friends & impart unto them the graces of his spirit, in the gardens (his particular Churches) as in Song 5. 1.
to gather Lilies] to accept the sweet-smelling fruits of his owne graces growing in his Churches: or to gather unto him his faithful people, which are as Lilies among thorns, Song 2. 2. The Hebrews in their Chaldee paraphrase, apply this to Gods returning of his people from the captivity of Babylon by Cyrus, Ezra, Nebemiah, Zerobabel, &c. and the restoring of his worship in the Temple, reedified, & accepting their service, and nourishing
 them with dainties; and as a man that gathereth lilies
 out of the vallies, so gathereth he them out of Babylon.

3) Verſ. 3. I am my Beloveds] The Spouſe here glorieth in the peace renewed betweene Chriſt and her, and their mutuall communion by his Spirit and her faith; notwithstanding her former infirmities and afflictions. The ſame word (but in other order) ſhe uſed before, in Song. 2. 16. ſee the annotations there.

4) V. 4. T thou art faire] The Spouſe having found, and being reconciled to Chriſt, is here commended by him for her manifold graces wherewith ſhee was beautified. Compare theſe her graces with the former, in Song. 4. 1. &c. as Tirzah] This was a citie in Canaan, not far from Samaria wherein one of the 31 Kings whom Joſua conquered did dwell, Joſ. 12. 24. Afterward the Kings of Iſrael kept their Courts in it, 1 King. 14. 17. and 15. 21. 33. & 16. 6. 8. 23. By interpretation Tirzah ſignifieth gratefull, well-pleaſing, or acceptable, and ſo the Gr. here tranſlateth it Good pleaſure, or favourable acceptation: which ſheweth it to be a goodly pleaſant place, ſuch as Kings delight to dwell in. A like beauty is here aſcribed to the Spouſe being made faire & acceptable by Chriſt her Beloved, as Ephes. 1. 6. and 5. 27. Ieruſalem] a citie renowned for glory, eſpecially becauſe God himſelfe choſe to dwell in it, having his Temple built there on mount Sion. It was ſayre in ſituation, the joy of all the earth, the City of the great King, Pſal. 48. 2, 3. &c. Hereupon the Church under the Goſpel, the Spouſe and Wife of the Lambe Chriſt, is called Ieruſalem, holy, and heavenly: whole glory from God, and excellent ornaments, are deſcribed at large, in Rev. 21. 2. 9, 10, 11. &c. Ieruſalem by interpretation is the Sight of peace. as armies with banners] or, as bannered hoſts; as armies ordered under their banners and enſignes, which are terrible to their enemies. So againe in ver. 10. This ſheweth the peace of the Spouſe to be in Chriſt, but from the world ſhe is to looke for affliction, & is to fight the good fight of faith, in the order appointed her of God. Thus when Iſrael abode in his tents, according to their tribes, encamping in the wildeſſe, his tents were goodly, his ſtrength was as an Unicornes, he couched as a couragious Lion, whom none durſt ſtir up, Num. 24. 2. 5. 8. 9.

5) Verſ. 5. Turne about thine eyes] This word is uſed ſometime for turning towards, as in 1 Chron. 12. 23. ſometime for turning away, as in Ezek. 7. 23. Here it ſeemeth to be meant in the firſt ſenſe that the eyes of the Spouſe (which were like doves, Song. 4. 1.) ſhould now in her Beloveds abſence, be turned to him, by faith; that he thereby might be encouraged & cheared in her love. over againſt me] towards me, though a far off: ſo the word is uſed ſundry times, as is noted on Num. 2. 2. It may alſo be Engliſhed from me, or, from before me. for they have liſted me up] or, that they may liſt me up, to wit, with courage, ſtrength, comfort, &c. as in Pſal. 138. 3. thou haſt incouraged, (or liſted-up, ſtrengthened) me. In this ſenſe the Greeke here tranſlateth figuratively, for they have liſted me up as wing, (or, have made me fly) that is, encouraged, cheared me. The Hebrewes alſo in their Chaldee paraphraſe apply this, to the reſtoring of the high Councell or Senate in Ieruſalem, after their returne from Babylon. thy haire] thy thoughts, counſels, purpoſes, &c. are orderly compoſed, like the haire of fat goats: ſee the notes on Song. 4. 1.

6) Verſ. 6. with] wherewith ſhee eateth the ſpirituell food of the Word, &c. or, devoureth her enemies. See Song. 4. 3. from the waſhing] and ſo are white and cleane.

Verſ. 7. temples] ſignifying her modeſty, ſhamefaſtneſſe, &c. See Song. 4. 3.

8) Verſ. 8. There are threeſcore Queenes] Hebrew Sixtie, they Queenes, and eighty Concubines: which may be underſtood either affirmatively, There are fixtie (as the Greeke alſo tranſlateth) or by ſuppoſition, Be there fixty Queenes; that is, though there were fixty, &c. yet one is my dove. And for the numbers threeſcore and fourſcore, it is uncertaine whether the alluſion bee to Solomons wives and concubines which hee tooke at firſt, before he increaſed them to ſeven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines, 1 King. 11. 3. (as before wee heard of threeſcore valiant men, about Solomons bed, Son. 3. 7.) or, as the Hebrewes conjecture, to the ſons of Noe, Abraham, Eſau, &c. or rather whether a certaine number be not put for an uncertaine; meaning many Queenes, moſt concubines, and innumerable damaſels: as ſeven ſhepherds and eight Princeſſes, in Mic. 5. 5. ſignifie many, and no definite number. So ſix troubles and ſeven, in Job 5. 19. and other the like. Concubines] theſe were ſecondary wives, taken for propagation of children, but they bare no rule in the family as wives, neither had their children ſuch right to inherit as had the others, but were ſent away with gifts, as Abrahams practice ſheweth, Gen. 25. 1. 5. 6. See the Annotations on Gen. 22. 24.

Virgins] or, maidens, damaſels; Such as are not married at all, but accompany and attend upon Queenes, and other great women, as in Pſal. 45. 15. Eccl. 2. 9.

9) V. 9. ſhe is one] or, There is (but) one my dove, &c. ſo this one onely, is oppoſed to the many Queenes, Concubines, &c. forementioned. Here the Spouſe of Chriſt which is but one, (as there is one body, and one Spirit, one Hope, one Lord, one Faith, &c. Eph. 4. 4. 5.) is preferred before the multitude of other, which in their owne & the worlds eſteem, are Queenes, Ladies, &c. Rev. 18. 7. Eccl. 47. 7. Thus was it ſaid of Iſrael, And who is like thy people, like Iſrael: one nation in the earth, whom God went to redeeme for a people to himſelfe, &c. 2 Sam. 7. 23. And when God entred into covenant with them, hee ſaid, If ye will obey my voice in deed, and keepe my covenant; then ye ſhall be a peculiar treaſure unto me above all peoples: for all the earth is mine, Exod. 19. 5.

the only one of her mother] or, one ſhe is to her mother, meaning by mother, Ieruſalem, which is above, which is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. which was prefigured by Sarah the free woman, the only wife of Abraham, of whom he had his only ſon Iſaac, the child of promiſe; though he had (by Agar and Keturah his Concubines) other children alſo, to whom he gave gifts, and ſent them away; but gave all that he had unto Iſaac, Gen. 25. 5. 6. And Sarah was a type of the New Teſtament, & Iſaac (in whom Abrahams Abrahams seed was called) of the children of promise, which by faith in Christ are made heires of salvation, Rom. 9. 7, 8, 9. Gal. 4. 22, 31. But here, the holy seed is likened to a daughter, espoused unto Christ, belonging to the heavenly Ierusalem the mother of the faithfull only. the choice one] or, the cleare (the pure) one, as after in v. 10. cleare as the Sun. The Hebrew barah signifieth pure and cleane from filthinesse, purged, polished, severed and selekt from others; and so the Greek here expoundeth it elect or chosen; and the word is used for choice, in 1 Chron. 7. 40. Neh. 5. 18. and other-where, as also for purged by trials and afflictions, Dan. 11. 35. & 12. 10. which signification hath use in this place.

the daughter] the virgins or damosels forementioned in v. 8. and such as were spoken of in Song. 2. 2. they blessed her] or, they called her blessed, they counted her happy, as in Iam. 5. 11. We count them happy which endure. praised her]

The Spouse here, as Israel of old, is praised and counted happy, for the great blessings of God upon her; whom he hath made high above all nations which he hath made, in praise and in name and in honour: Deut. 26. 19. So Moles said, This is your wisdom and your understanding, in the eyes of the peoples; which shall heare all these statutes and say, surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people, Deut. 4. 6. So the people magnified Christians, Act. 5. 13.

10 V. 10. Who is she] or, who is this; that is, what manner of one is this: as Tu, Who, in Mar. 4. 41. is Potapos, what manner of man, in Matt. 8. 27. So, whose son: that is, what manner of mans son is this youth? 1 Sam. 17. 55. Here the praises fore- spoken of, are set forth most gloriously: or a new state of the Church is described. as the morning] that is, lightsome, bright, chearfull; as the morning after the darke night, so the spouse after the darkenesse of affliction, error, ignorance, ariseth to her owne and others comfort. Thus it is said to the Church, Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee: and the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and Kings to the brightnesse of thy rising, Eley 60. 1. 3. And to such as amend their wayes, he promiseth, Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, &c. Eley 58. 8. faire as the Moone] which is called in Hebrew Lehanah of her whiteness and bright, shining. When glory and prosperity is promised, God saith, Thy Sun shall no more goe downe neither shall thy Moone withdraw in selfe, Eley 60. 20. The light of the Moone shall be as the light of the Sunne, and the light of the Sun shall be seven fold, Isa. 30. 26. but when affliction is threatned, he saith, The Sun and the Moone shall be darkened, &c. Joel. 3. 15. Ezek. 32. 7, 8. Here therefore the glorious state of the Spouse is signified, to the admiration of others; as it is said, Thy renowne went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God, Ezek. 16. 14. cleare as the Sun] or pure, (in Gr. choice as the Sun, as v. 9.) Christ himself is the Sun of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2. the Woman (his Spouse) is clothed with the Sun, Rev. 12. 1. because by faith she hath put on Christ, Gal. 3. 27. by whose righteousness imputed, she is purged from all sin, & so is made glorious. Here also we may observe in her the degrees of grace, her first light being like the morning or day dawning; her second beauty like the Moone; her third degree, like the Sun it selfe in brightnesse. And so it is said The path of the just is as the shining light; that shineth more and more, unto the perfect day, Pro. 4. 18. terrible] to the enemies, with whom shee is to fight under the banner of Christs Gospel & love, Song. 2. 4. having the weapons of her warfare, not carnall but mighty through God, to the pulling downe of strong holds, &c. 2 Cor. 10. 4. So Israel, was a people saved by the Lord the shield of their helpe, and who was the sword of their excellency, Deut. 33. 29. God did put the dread of them, and the feare of them upon the nations, under the whole heaven: who heard the report of them, & trembled, Deut. 2. 25. The peoples heard, and were afraid; sorrow tooke hold on the inhabitants of Palestina; the Dukes of Edom were amazed, the mighty men of Moab trembling took hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan melted away; feare & dread fell upon them, &c. Exod. 15. 14, 15, 10. Psal. 48. 5, 6. See before on v. 4.

V. 11. I went downe] The words of Christ, shewing how hee went to visit the garden of his Church.

Nut garden] The originall word Egoz is not found but in this one place: the Gr. translateth it the Nut, & most interpreters: the Arabike also agreeth, in which tongue Nuts are called Genz. It meaneth aromatical trees & fruits (such as Christs gardens are planted with, Son. 4. 12, 13, 14.) & so is to be understood of that fruit which wee call Nutmegs, & the like. The Chaldee paraphrast applieth this Nut garden to the second Temple, builded by Cyrus commandement, & the state of the Church then: but these Prophecies seem rather to meane the times under the Gospel, as before is shewed. the fruits of the valley] fruits here properly meane the new, green or first ripe fruits, such as are tidie and forward in the beginning of the year. So, after the winter of tribulation and wrath, commeth the chearfull Spring of grace in the garden of the Church, situate low and base as in a valley or bourne, where it is watered with Gods Word and Spirit, and made fruitfull. The Gr. translateth it, fruits of the bourne (or streame.) In hot Countries, gardens and orchards were wont to be planted neere bournes, streames & pools of water, to make them fruitfull, Eccl. 2. 6. Ezek. 3. 1. 4, 5, 7. the pomegranates] or, pomegranate trees: by these and the former vines, are meant the people called of God, and planted in the garden of his Church, which when they flourish in a good profession, doe after bring forth the fruits of good works, to the glory of Christ. The Chal. expoundeth these of the wise men of Israel, likened to a vine, & their plenty of good works, as the Pomegranate is full of juice & kernels. So in Son. 7. 12.

Vers. 12. I knew not] These words seeme to bee the continued speech of Christ, (though some thinke them spoken by his Spouse) and by saying I knew not, he meaneth experimentall knowledge or perceiving: for, things are spoken of God after the manner of men, as in Gen. 18. 21.

I will

I will goe downe now and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto mee: and if not, (that) I may know. See also Exod. 33. 5. Gen. 22. 12. Now that which Christ here knew not, may bee understood of the former things, that he perceived not the Vines to flourish, or the Pomegranate to blossome, and therefore calleth upon the Shulammitesse, (in vers. 13.) to Returne: or, that he knew not, neither was aware of the frowardnesse of his people (which was beyond mans expectation) and therefore hee furthered them as with Chariots, to helpe and hasten them forward: For, Whoever bath, to him shall be given: and he shall have more abundance, Matthew 13. 12.

my soule-put me] that is, I put my selfe; but the manner of speech noteth an earnest desire and hearty affection; as, my soule seeketh, Eccles. 7. 28. my soule loveth, Song. 1. 7. my soule is troubled, Psalme 6. 4. my soule hateth, Esay 1. 14. my soule is joyfull, Esay 61. 10. and many the like. the charrets of my willing people] or, of my princely (or noble) people; in Hebrew amminadib: that is, my voluntary, free, bounteous or noble people. The Greek putteth both words in one, make it a proper name, the charrets of Aminadab: it rather denoteth the people of Christ, which are voluntaries in the day of his power, Psalme 110. 3. sustained with a free (or princely spirit, Psalme 51. 14. and receiving the word with all readinesse (or willingnesse) of mind: as Acts 17. 11. and 2. 41. To such Christ is as Chariets, by the ministry of the Word, to helpe and hasten them forward in grace: and to defend them from their enemies. For Chariets were used in warres, Iosua 11. 4. 1 Sam. 13. 5. and when God threatneth vengeance unto the wicked, hee saith, he will come with his charrets like a whirlwinde, to render his anger, &c. Esay 66. 15. And as the Prophets of old, were the charrets and horsemen of Israel, 2 King. 2. 12. and 13. 14. and peoples conversion unto Christ, is called a bringing of them upon horses and in charrets, for an offering to the Lord, Esay 66. 20. so the Ministers of the new Testament, did so minister the Gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, Romanes 15. 16. in which sense Christ here, is by his servants, as charrets for his voluntary and free people to bee brought as an oblation to the Lord. The Chaldee paraphraseth on these words thus, I consulted with my soules to doe them good, and to put them high in the charrets of Kings, &c.

13 Vers. 13. O Shulammitesse] As Solomon (named in Hebrew Shelomub) had his name of peace, 1 Chron. 22. 9. and Ierusalem was also called Shalem (or Salem) Psalme 76. 3. which signifieth Peace, Hebrewes 7. 2. so here the Church or people called upon to returne, is named Shulammitesse,

(in Hebrew Shulamith) of her peace and perfection with God in Christ; and so in one Greeke version, it is interpreted Eirenevousa, as being at peace. It may also have reference to Ierusalem, as being a daughter to that mother of us all. And this name hath occasioned some probably to apply this unto the recalling of the Jewes, as was foretold, Rom. 11. 25. &c. which is yet to be fulfilled.

returne, returne] this doubling of the word and that twice, sheweth the earnest desire of her conversion, with the certainty thereof.

that we may looke upon thee] or, let us see (or view) thee, and properly it meaneth a looking upon with delight. This seemeth to be spoken by her friends, desirous to see the graces in this Shulammitesse returned. For even the Angels desire to looke into the things that are imparted to the Church by the Gospel, 1 Pet. 1. 12. & it was Davids one request, that he might view the pleasantnesse of the Lord, in his House or Temple, Psalme 17. 4. And the Prophet foretold how the watchmen should sing with a high voice, for that they should see eye to eye when the Lord returned Sion, Esay 52. 8. The Chaldee Paraphrast explaineth the words thus, Returne unto me O congregation of Israel; returne unto Ierusalem; returne unto the house of the doctrine of my law; returne to receive Prophecie, from my Prophets, which prophecie in the name of the Word of the Lord.

What shall ye see, in the Shulammitesse] or, Why looke ye (or would ye looke) upon the Shulammitesse? The question (which seemeth to be demanded by Christ) is to stir up attention and affection in the hearers.

as the company] or, as the dance; that is, a company of dancers, that rejoyce together, as they were wont after victories, Exod. 15. 20. And prophesying of the spirituall joy at the restoring of his people, God saith, O Virgin of Israel, &c. thou shalt goe forth in the dances of them that make merry: and, Then shall the Virgin rejoyce in the dance, Ier. 31. 4. 13. And at the returne of the prodigall son, there were musike and dances in his fathers house, Luk. 15. 25. This answer seemeth to be made by Christ himselfe that asked them: or it may be the question continued, thus: what looke ye upon the Shulammitesse; which is, like the company (or dance) of two armies? of two armies] or, of two camps (two hosts) in Hebrew Machanaïm: by which name the place was called, where an host (or troop) of Angels met Iakob with his troop, at his returne out of servitude, Gen. 32. 1. 2. Hereby is signified both the deliverance of the Shulammitesse out of her miseries, & the joy of men & Angels for her victory. For there is joy also in the presence of the angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth, Luk. 15. 10. & they pitch their camps about them that feare the Lord, for to deliver them, Pla. 34. 8.

CHAPTER VII.

HOW beautifull are thy feet with shoes, O bounteous-Princes daughter: the joynts of thy thighes, are like Jewels, the worke of the hands of an Artificer. Thy navell, is like a round goblet; let there not want mixture: thy belly, is like an heape of wheat; set-about with Lilies.
Thy two breasts, are like two fawnes, twinnes of the Roe. Thy necke, is like a tower of Ivory: thine eyes, like the pooles in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim; thy nose, is like the Towre of Lebanon, looking toward Damascus. Thine head upon thee, is like Carmel, and the haire of thine head, like purple: the King, is bound in the Galleries. How faire art thou,
and how pleasant art thou; O Love, for delights! This thy stature, is like to a palme-tree; and thy breasts, to clusters. I said, I will goe-up to the Palme-tree, I will take-hold, of the boughes thereof: and now let thy breasts be, as clusters of the vine: and the smell of thy nose, like apples. And thy palate, like the good wine, that goeth to my beloved, to righteousnesse;
causing-to-speake, the lips of those that are asleepe.

I am my beloveds; and his desire is towards me. Come my Beloved, let us goe-forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. Let us get-up early, to the vineyards; let us see whether the vine flourish, the tender-grape open it selfe, whether the Pomegranates blofsome: there will I give my loves to thee. The Mandrakes give a smell, and at our doores are all precious-things, new and old: O my Beloved, I have laid them up for thee.

CHAPTER VII.

THy feet with shoes, how are they beautifull,
O thou the daughter of Prince bountifull:
Joynts of thy thighes, like unto Jewels are,
Worke of thy hands of an artificer.
Thy navel, is like to a goblet round;
Of mixed colour let no want-be-found:
Thy belly is like to an heape of wheat;
That is with Lilies round-about-beset.
Thy two breasts, like two fawnes, twinnes of the Roe.
Thy necke, an yv'rie towre is like unto:
Thine eyes are like the pooles in Heshbon,
By gate that haunted is of many a one:
Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon,
That looketh to the face of Damascus.
Like unto Carmel is, thine head on thee;
The haire eke of thine head, like purple be:
The King, he bound is in the galleries.
How faire art thou, how pleasant art likewise
Thou O deare Love for all delightfulnesse!
Like to a palme-tree this thy stature is,
Like unto clusters are thy breasts also.
I said, I will up to the palme-tree goe;
Will of the boughes thereof fast-hold get me:
And now thy breasts like the Vine clusters be;
And of thy nose like apples be the smell.

Thy palate eke, like wine that doth excell,
That goes to my Belov'd, to righteousnesse:
Causing the sleepers lips speech-to-expresse.

I my Beloveds am, and his desire
Is towards me. Come let us forth retire Into the field O my Belov'd, and let Us in the villages a lodging-get.
Vnto the vineyards, let us rise-early;
Whether the vine doe flourish let us see,
The tender-grape if opening it appeare;
If the Pomegranate-trees doe blossomes beare:
There will I give my dearest-loves to thee.
The Mandrakes give a smell, at our doores be
All precious things eke, new and old which I
For thee, my Loved, laid-up-warily.

Annotations.

HOW beautifull are ] The Shulammitesse or Spouse of Christ, is here admired and praysed for her graces, wherewith God had furnished
her, and adorned her whole body: the particulars wherof are described in other order then before in Ch. 4. and 6. for here her feet are first mentioned, and then other parts upward, unto her head.
This description seemeth to bee made by her friends, that called upon her to returne, Song 6.13

For Solomon (or Christ) is spoken of as another, or third person, after in v. 5. and 9. feet with shoes
or, steps (goings) in shoes: hereby is meant her obedient walking in the faith and Gospell of Christ;
wherby she being freed from the misery and bondage of sin, made free by the truth (as Joh. 8.32.)
stood fast, and walked steadily in the liberty and grace

grace of Christ, Gal. 3. 1. not going barefooted, as was the manner of captives, and others, in miserie, Esa. 40. 4. 2 Sam. 15. 30. but as God rehearsing his blessings upon his Church, saith I shod thee with Tachass skins, Ezek. 16. 10. so here the feet of his Spouse are shod with the preparation (or stability) of the Gospel of Peace; Ephes. 6. 15. with the knowledge, profession and obedience whereof, shee being firmly settled and defended; her feet & steps were now beautifull, as the feet also of them that preach the Gospel of peace, are said to be beautifull: Rom. 10. 15.

beautifull princes daughter] Hebrews bath nadib, that is, daughter of the beautifull, (or of the Prince, the Noble) for Princes were filled with beautifull or benefactors, Luke 22. 25. as being free, liberall, and willing to doe good unto others: hereby is signified that shee was of noble race and ingenuous disposition, ready and willing to serve the Lord, and propagate the grace of his Gospell unto others; as before Christ calleth them his willing (or noble) people: Song. 6. 12. And as a sonne or daughter of Belial, meaneth one of wicked disposition, Deuteronomie 13. 13. 1 Samuel 1. 16. and for a King to be the sonne of Nobles, Eccles. 10. 17. is to be of an ingenuous and noble disposition; so to be a daughter of Nadib, is to bee nobly and bounteously affected. This title belongeth to such onely as beleve in Christ, which are borne not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God; Joh. 1. 13. Wherefore when Christ was promised to reigne in justice, it was said, that then Nadib (the foole, or vile person) should no more be called (Nadib) Liberall, Noble or Beautifull; Esay 32. 1. 5. joynts] The originall word, used onely in this place, hath the signification of turning or going about; and seemeth to meane the bones that turne and move in the hollow of the thighes: these are likened to jewels or ornaments; signifying the firme, upright, goodly and glorious stature, gesture, walking and conversation of this Princes daughter, well becoming the Gospell which she professeth: being in fit, orderly and due proportion, as the Greeke version also implyeth.

artificer] or skilfull craftsman, in Hebrew Aman, of fidelity and skilfulnesse in his workmanship: meaning here God or Christ, for hee is the Artificer in heavenly things, Hebrews 11. 10. and the Church with her gracious blessings is the worke of his hands, Esay 60. 21.

- 2 Verse 2. a round goblet] or, a goblet (or cup) of roundnesse. The Spouse being prayed before for her ready receiving of, and holy stedfast walking in the Gospell of Christ: is now further commended for her propagating the truth unto others: likened to a mother conceiving and nourishing her children. For Sion or Ierusalem (named here the Sulammitesse, Song. 6. 13.) likened to a woman with child, travelling, bringing forth children (or a man child) and after nourishing them with the breasts of her consolation, Esay 66. 7. — 11. So here first the navel (by which the child is nourished in the wombe) is commended for the forme, round as a goblet; and for the nourishment, which is as mixed liquor without scarcely, wherewith the goblet is full: and after her breasts (with which the child is nourished after it is brought forth) are praised in v. 3. Thus Paul preaching the Gospel to the Churches, is likened sometime to a father that begetteth, sometime to a mother travelling in child-birth; sometime to a nurse cherishing her children, 1 Corinth. 4. 15. Galatians 4. 19. 1 Thessalonians 2. 7.

let there be no want for, let there be no want, or let there be no want; but the former is more pathetical, as wishing a continuall supply of grace, for nourishment of the children of Christ: though a promise also is herewith implied.

mixture] that is, liquor mixed and tempered, and so made fit to refresh and nourish. For they used to temper and mixe their wine, either with water or milke, to allay the heat; or with spices to make it more comfortable. So the mixture of God is said to have mingled her wine, Proverbs 9. 2. Christ dranke his wine with his milke, Song 5. 1. and after here is mentioned spiced wine, Song 8. 2. and mixture (or mixed wine) was sought for of drunkards, Proverbs 23. 29, 30. Esay 5. 22. The navel therefore, not wanting mixture, signifieth the juyce of grace abundantly supplied of God, for the nourishing and cherishing of his yong children, in the body of his Church, so that both mother and infant are in health and good plight, not destitute of any good: even as to them that remember and keepe Gods Law, it is promised, that health shall be to their navel, and marrow (or moistening to their bones, Proverbs 4. 1, 8.

as beape of wheat] The supply and growth of grace is here further commended, by likening her belly to an heape of wheat; for in their harvest, they gathered their corne into floores, where it was stacked upon heapes, and after threshed, Ruth 3. 7. Haggai 2. 16. To such a stacke or beape, is her belly resembled: signifying that her spiritual harvest being come, shee was ready to bring forth store of good issue, as wheat, fit for the Lords Granary.

set about with Lilies] As the corne-floores in Israel, being in the open fields, were hedged about for safe defence: so the belly of Christs Spouse, bigge and ready to bring forth fruit unto him, is beset as with an hedge of Lilies, for her further comfort and glory. So that her way was not hedged up with thornes, as was the Harlots, Hosea 2. 5, 6. but set about with Lilies, denoting the graces wherewith the Spouse her selfe, and those about her are invironed. The Jewes applying these things to their Church estate, in their Chaldee paraphrase, understand by the Navel, the Chiefe of their Synedrion or high Councill, governing all, as the child is nourished by the navell in the mothers wombe: the round goblet, to signifie his cleare doctrine of the Law, as the round moone: so that the words of the Law are not wanting from his mouth, as the waters of the great River running out of Eden, doe not faile:

by the holy; they understand the 90, wisemen or Councellors that sate about him in a round floore, whose cellars are full of riches, sanctified things, &c. and by Lilies, the men of the great congregation, as Ezra, Zerobabel, Nehemia, Iosua and the like, who had their employment in the Law, day and night.

3 Vig. by a that minister sweet consolations to the children, sucking out of them the sincere milke of the Word, Esa. 66. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 2. See the notes on Song. 4. 5. where this resemblance was formerly used.

4 V. 4. tower of yvorie faire strong and upright. In Song. 4. 4. the neck of the Spouse was likened to the tower of David builded for an army; here it is likened to a tower of yvorie (or of Elephants tooth) which the Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth the yvorie towre that King Solomon made. But we reade of no such towre made by him, unlesse it be meant of that great throne of yvorie which hee made, 2 Chro. 9. 17. & that may well be called a towre; even as the pulpit which was made for Ezra and others to stand upon when they read & expounded the Law unto the people is called in Hebrew a tower, Neh. 8. 4. Thus the neck of the Shulamitisse likened to Solomons Ivery throne, denoteth the power and glory of the Church, in her clear doctrine and upright judgements, whereby her children are guided and governed peaceably; freed from the servitude of men, of sin, Satan & al enemies, 1 Cor. 7. 23. Rom. 6. 6. Heb. 2. 14. 15. so that now, Jerusalem is loosed from the bands of her necke, as was promised in Esa. 52. 2. and is made to inherit the throne of glory, 1 Sam. 2. 8. See the notes on Song. 4. 4. The Chaldee also by the neck here, understandeth the judge of Israel. the pooles in Heshbon] or, Cheshbon, in Gr. the lakes in Essebon. As before her eyes were like doves, Song. 4. 1. so here they are like water pooles, cleare to see the truth, and to look unto the waies & actions of her selfe and others. It also may intend her watry eyes, weeping for her former sins: as Jeremy lamenting the sins of his people, wishing that his eyes were a fountaine of teares, Ier. 9. 1. and prophesying their conversion, he saith they shall come with weeping, &c. Ier. 31. 9. Heshbon was a citie where King Sihon sometime dwelt, Num. 21. 26. it was situate in a goodly fertile Countrey, which the Reubenites possessed, Num. 32. 34. 37. so it seemeth to have in it faire & cleare pools or ponds of water, which beautified it, as eyes doe the body. The Hebrew expositors understand by these eyes the Propheets, or (as the Chaldee Paraphrast saith) Scribes. Heshbon by interpretation signifieth a Count, computation, or artificiall devise: and thus some expound it here, pooles artificially made: & pooles have their name of bsffing; either because they were esteemed great blessings in those hot & dry countries, Judg. 1. 15. or because they were filled with rain the blessing of God, Ezek. 34. 26. Bath rabbim] or (as the Gr. interpreteth it) daughter of many, so that it was a gate frequented of many, and it may be a gate where the Iudges sate; for publike judgements, & Assemblies were at the gates, Ruth. 4. 1. 2 Sam.

19. 8. Lam. 5. 14. wherefore if Heshbon be not the proper name of a City, these pooles may bee thought to be at some gate of Jerusalem, where many people assembled, as in Neh. 8. 3. The Chaldee applieth it to the Governors that sate in the gate of the house of the great Councill, thy nose] This is a principall ornament of the face; the instrument of smelling and of drawing breath; sometime it is used for the whole face, & oftentime for anger, which appeared by the face & breath. Here it seemeth to denote her spirituall courage and bold carriage against her enemies; because her nose is likened to the tower of Lebanon, which was high and lofty. For as in speech of the wicked, the loftinesse of his nose, (or countenance) in Psa. 10. 4. signifieth his lofty, stout & proud carriage: so here contrariwise it being spoken for praise in the godly, her nose like an high tower, noteth her courage and magnanimity for the truth, manifested in her countenance and behaviour, so that she discomfitteth all her enemies. On the contrary, when God threatneth the overthrow of Jerusalem for her adulteries, he saith that her lovers (turned to be her enemies) should take away her nose, and her eares, &c. Ezek. 23. 25. tower of Lebanon] or, of Libanus, which was a mountain in the north parts of the land. It may here be understood of the tower of the house, called the house of the forest of Lebanon, which Solomon built very itately, 1 King. 7. 2. in which he put 200. targets, & 300. shields made of beaten gold, 1 King. 10. 17. looking towards Damascus] or, spying, watching, beholding the face of Damascus; which was the chiefe Citie in Syria, Esa. 7. 8. called in Hebrew Dammesek, sometime Dammeseck, as in 1 Chron. 18. 5. & Dammeseck, as 2 King. 16. 10. in the Greeke and in the new Testament Damascus, Act. 9. 2. it lay northward from mount Lebanon aforelaid, was a goodly city of praise, and of joy, Ier. 49. 24. 25. The inhabitants were commonly enemies to Israel, and often wars were betweene Gods people and them, as the story of Scriptures sheweth, 1 Chron. 18. 5. 6. 1 King. 11. 24. 25. Esa. 7. 5. 8. Amos 1. 3. Wherefore the tower of Lebanon, looking (or spying, watching) towards Damascus, may intimate here, besides the courage, the care also of the Spouse, for the safeguard of her selfe & her children, against the enemy. For in times of danger, they set on towers & high places watchmen, or spies, to give warning of what they saw, Esa. 21. 6. 9. Ezek. 33. 2. 6. 2 Sam. 18. 24. 25.

V. 5. Thine head upon thee] This may be understood properly of her head it selfe, likened to mount Carmel: or, of the ornament upon her head. like Carmel] or, like crimson, but both the Gr. version and Chaldee paraphrase, expound it Carmel, the name of a mountaine where Elias killed the Baalists, & prayed for rain, 1 King. 18. 19. 20. 42. Carmel also was a place inhabited by Nabal, 1 Sam. 25. 2. 5. It seemeth to have beene very fertile; Nahum. 1. 4. for a fruitfull place is called Carmel, opposed to a barren wilderness, Esa. 32. 15. and 29. 17. and 33. 9. Ierem. 4. 26. Thus her head likened to Carmel, may signifie her mind filled with the knowledge of God, and fruitfull in in grace: so God promising the restoration of his Church, saith, Israel shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, &c. Ier. 50. 19. and foretelling the glory of Christs Kingdome, saith, the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, &c. Esay 35. 2. The Hebrew Carmil, is also used for crimson, or scarlet colour, 2 Chron. 3. 14. which may also be meant here, seeing after her haire is likened to purple: and these were colours worn of Princes and great personages, and so meet for this Princes daughter (ver. 1.) and for the attire of her head on which shee weareth the hope of salvation (through the blood of Christ, which these colours also prefigured) for an helmet, 1 The. 5. 8. haire] The originall word dalah is no wher used for haire but in this one place, as the Gr. also interpreteth it: properly it signifieth slender-nesse or minutenesse; and so meaneth small and slender hairs. Some take it for a small lace or head band, wherewith the attire of the head was tied. This her haire-like purple, denoteth her cogitations and purposes to be holy, heavenly, and as dyed in the blood of Christ. The Chaldee paraphrase applieth the head here spoken of to the King, the chiefe Governour in Israel; and the slender haire, to the poore of the people, which should be clad in purple, as was Daniel, Mordecai, &c. See the notes on Song. 4. 1. where the Spouses haire was likened to a flocke of goats: that description differing from this, seemeth to imply a variety of estate; for Gods people are not alwayes of like condition in this world, though ever glorious in his eyes.

the King is bound in the galleries] By the King, in this Song, is meant Solomon, that is, Christ. Rahabim which the Greeke here likewise translateth galleries, is in Genesis 30. 38. 41. and Exod. 2. 16. gutters wherein waters runne, for the flocke to drinke, unto which some thinke this place hath reference: but in Song. 1. 17. rahim are galleries that runne along the house sides; and so it seemeth to meane here. To be bound in the galleries, is to have a fixed habitation in the house of his Church, where the King is retained; and as it were tyed with the bands of love towards his Spouse so excellent in all her parts; that now is fulfilled that which is elsewhere said unto her, The King will cover thy beauty, Psalm 45. 12. and that which is spoken of the lewd woman, her hands are as bands, Eccles. 7. 26. may have use here of the chaste woman, that her graces are such as doe not only delight the King, but hold him fast bound unto her in the bands of spirituall wedlocke, no more to leave her, but to abide with her for ever. For so he hath promised, I will betroth thee unto me for ever, Hosai 2. 19. the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married; Esay 62. 4. my servant David shall be their Prince for ever; and I will set my Sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore: and the name of the City from that day shall bee The Lord is there; Ezek. 37. 25, 26. and 48. 35. The throne of God and of the Lambe, shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him: and they shall reigne for ever and ever, Revel. 22. 3. 5.

6. Verse 6. and how pleasant] This admiration of her beauty and pleasantnesse, in all her parts, carriage and administration, sheweth the reason of the former speech, why the King was bound in the galleries; for that he was delighted, and as it were ravished with her heavenly graces; as before in Song. 4. 9. 10. And as she admired Christ for his fairenesse and pleasantnesse; so now she is magnified for the like: see the notes on Song. 1. 15. 16. O love] that is, O thou that art dearly loved: thus they call her, to signifie Christs great affection towards her: for it is another and more forceable word then was used before in Song. 1. 9. 15. & 2. 2. and 4. 1. 7. and 5. 2. and 6. 4. that, betokening loving society and outward friendship; this, signifying inward charity and loving affection, which is strong and fervent, Song. 8. 6. 7. for delights] or delicacies, or, with pleasures; meaning full delight, all manner pleasure: so that all that love her may rejoyce with her, and delight themselves in the brightnesse of her glory, as Esay 66. 10, 11.

Verse 7. thy stature] or, thy height: in Greeke, thy greatnesse. a palme-tree] or, a date tree, called in Hebrew Thamar, in Greeke Phoenix; it is of tall and upright stature, alwayes green and flourishing, bearing pleasant fruit. Wherefore the just mans state is likened to this tree, Psalm 92. 13. and figures of Palme trees (signifying heavenly graces) were made in the Temple, 1 King. 6. 29. and 7. 36. and foretold to be also in the spirituall Temple under the Gospel, Ezek. 41. 18, 19. & palme-branches caried in the hand, or on the head, were signes of victorie: wherefore the Saints (that by faith overcome the world) appeared with palme-branches in their hands, Rev. 7. 9. And the palme-tree is said to be of such a nature, that it will not bow downe ward or grow crooked, though heave weights be laid upon it, but groweth still upright. So this stature of the Spouse likened to a palme-tree, sheweth her spirituall growth in the faith (notwithstanding all her tribulations) tending alwayes upward towards heaven, till she attaine unto the measure of the stature of the fullnesse of Christ, Eph. 4. 13. For God hath now broken the staves of her yoke, and made her goe upright; Levit. 26. 13. So the Kingdome of Israel (whiles it flourished) is likened to a tree, whose stature was exalted among the thick branches, &c. Ezek. 19. 11. clusters] to wit, of the Vine, as in v. 8. signifying hereby that her breasts were not only fashioned, as in Ezek. 16. 7. but full of milke to nourish her children, and of the wine of heavenly consolations, which they that love her may sucke and be satisfied, as Esay 66. 11. So that now the state of the Church is not as when complaint was made, there is no cluster to eat, Mic. 7. 1: but as when new wine was found in the cluster: and he said, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, Esay 65. 8.

Verse 8. I will goe up to] or, I will clime up as the palme-tree, meaning to gather the fruit thereof. This purpose and promise, if it be spoken in the person of Christ, implieth his acceptation of the fruits of the Spirit in his Spouse, as is noted on Son 5. 1. But it seemeth (by that which followeth)

eth) to be the speech of her friends aforesaid, speaking collectively as one person, to note their unity & joint consent to communicate with her graces, as in Isa. 66. 15. 11. For things of this sort, are spoken both of God, and of his people, Esay 62. 5. the boughes thereof ] or, the branches of it: the Hebrew Sansanim is no where used but in this place: the Greeke translateth it the heights thereof, meaning the branches which are on high, and which beare the fruit. For the Palme-tree though it be very tall, hath no boughes growing out by the sides of the body, as other trees, but on the very top, the leaves (which are long like swords) spread abroad pleasant to behold; and the fruit groweth not among the leaves, but on the top of the branches; as historians do record, Pliny, l. 13. c. 5. So Christ (if it be understood of him) going up & taking hold of the boughes, both signifieth it to be his owne possession, and sheweth his care and love to look unto it, and to purge the branches that they may beare more fruit, (as the Father doth the fruitfull branches of the Vine, Ioh. 15. 1. 2.) and likewise to injoy and accept of the gracious fruits of his Spouse, with whom he will now continue. Or, taking it (as before) for the speech of the faithful Company, it meaneth their purpose and indeavour to partake of the heavenly fruits which this Church bringeth forth.

be as clusters ] or, shall be as clusters; and thus it is an assurance or promise of blessing to her from the Lord, filling her with the juice of grace, that shee shall neither be barren nor unfruitfull in the knowledge of Christ, 2 Pet. 1. 8. but as is promised, He will cause them that come of Iacob, to take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Esay 27. 6. But it may be taken also as a wish, and let thy breasts I pray thee be as clusters of the Vine; that is, have not thou a miscarrying wombe, and dry breasts (as Hof. 9. 14.) but grow in grace and in knowledge; be not an empty vine, as Israel was of old, Hof. 10. 1. Leave not thy wine, which cheereeth God and man, Iudg. 13. but be filled with the Spirit; that we may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of thy consolations, Esay 66. 11.

the smell of thy nose, like apples ] her nose, commended for the forme, in vers. 4. denoted her good carriage, and courage for the truth. The smell odour, or scent thereof, meaneth the good report and fame thereof spread abroad: which is comfortable as a sweet odour. Or, by the smell of her nose, may be understood the breath coming out of her nostril, that it should be sweet. And so not only her outward behaviour should be commendable, but the hidden man of the heart, uncorrupted: that the breath or spirit proceeding from within, be pure; and God may manifest the smell (or savour) of his knowledge by her in every place, 2 Cor. 2. 14. as the savour of life, unto life; and like the savour of apples, which refresh those that languish and are sicke of the love of Christ; as Song. 2. 5.

9 Verse 9. thy palate ] or, the roofe of thy mouth: in Greeke, thy throat. The palate for ones owne use is to taste and discern, as in Iob 34. 3. the palate tasteth meat; but for others it is the instrument of speech, as in Prov. 8. 7. my palate shall speak truth. This later use seemeth here to be meant, that her palate, to wit; her speech and doctrine should be like good wine, to comfort and revive bitter and heavy hearts, Prov. 31. 6. the good wine ] that is, the best, most excellent, sweet and wholesome wine: as the good oyle, (Psalm. 133. 2.) is the best, sweetest, and most precious oyle. The comfortable doctrines of the Gospel, are likened to wine, Esay 55. 1. 2. 3. Prov. 9. 2. 5. See the notes on Song. 1. 2. that goeth to my beloved ] a commendation of the good wine, from the effects: that it is pleasing unto God, and profitable unto men. For by the Beloved, usually in this Song is meant Christ: by going to righteousnesse (or according to righteousnesse) that is, going aright, straightly or directly, is signified the nature of pure wine, manifesting the goodnesse by the moving and springing in the cup, whereby it is discerned to be the right and naturall wine, and is pleasing to them that drink it. The like phrase Solomon used in Prov. 23. 31. Look not at the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it goeth (or walketh, that is, moveth in selfe) in righteousnesse: as there, the nature of the most pure & generous wine is described, whereby men are allured to drinke thereof; so here the right wine, the pure and wholesome doctrine out of the mouth of the Spouse, is declared by the company of Beleevers, to be pleasing and right in the eyes of Christ their Beloved. It may also intimate, how the Spouse (filled with the Spirit, rather then with wine, Eph. 5. 18.) her speeches should tend to lead all unto Christ, and unto righteousnesse: that is, faith in him, and righteous works which he requireth us to walke in. causing to speake ] that maketh to speake, or giveth utterance, to the lips of those that are asleepe: or, speaking in the lips, &c. This is the other effect of the Spirit, that as wine maketh men talkative, Prov. 23. 29. so the Spirit maketh men to utter the mysteries of God: as the disciples (whē some thought they were full of new wine) prophesied and spake with other tongues, the great workes of God, as the Spirit gave them utterance, Acts 2. 4. 11. 13. &c. By sleepers here are meant sinners, awaked and quickned by the word preached, as it is said, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead; and Christ shall give thee light, Ephes. 5. 14. And so it was promised, Thy dead men shall live, my dead bodies shall arise: awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust, Esay 26. 19. And Ezekiel by prophesying, raised to life the dead bones of the house of Israel, Ezek. 37. which also the Chaldee paraphrast alleageth in opening this place. And not onely dead men, (which are said to be asleepe, Dan. 12. 2.) but others also that live; and through negligence or security fall asleepe (as the Spouse acknowledgeth of her selfe, in Song. 5. 2.) are enabled by this spirituall wine, to speake: for having drunk thereof, they forget their poverty, & remember their misery no more, as Prov. 31. 6. 7. So God promising to restore comforts unto Israel, and to his mannerers, saith that he createth the fruit of the lips, peace, &c. Esay 57. 18. 19.

10 Ver. 10. I am my Beloveds] Here the Spouse, as full of the wine of grace and consolation from the Lord, restlieth her assurance by faith, that she is Christs; and so an heire of salvation by promise; Gal. 3. 29. See before in Song. 2. 16. and 6. 3. his desire] his desirous affection, the Greeke interpreteth it, his conversion (or turning) is towards me. This manner of speech was used before, when God chastning the woman for her sin, said, thy desire shall be unto thy husband, Gen. 3. 16. but now this woman being renewed by grace, and espoused unto Christ, as to an husband, 2 Cor. 11. 2. rejoiceth that his desire is unto her. And this appeareth by the whole scope of this Song, and especially by those words, in Chap. 2. 14. and 4. 9. 10. and 7. 5. So contrary each to other are our naturall sinfull state, and our estate by grace in Christ.

11 Ver. 11. into the field] or, into the country, a place of corne, Vines, Fig-trees, Pomegranat-trees, &c. as Joel. 1. 12. in the villages] or, by the Cypresse trees; for the Hebrew Cepharim may signifie both: but the Greeke also interpreteth it villages, and such country villages, are distinguished from fenced cities, 1 Sam. 6. 18. 1 Chron. 27. 25. The Spouse here desireth of Christ, that they may goe together into the field and villages, to looke unto their husbandry, how it prospered, and whether the trees there planted did flourish and fructifie, as as the next words manifest. Hereby their desire and care is signified, for the increase and propagation of the Gospel abroad in the world, (for the field in the parable is the world, Matth. 13. 38.) And as Christ himselfe in the dayes of his flesh went about all the cities and villages, preaching the Gospel, Mat. 9. 35. Mark. 6. 6. and his disciples went abroad to teach all nations, Mat. 28. 19. so afterward both hee in spirit walked among the golden Candlesticks of his Churches, looking to their wayes, Revel. 2. & 3. and his Apostles went againe to visit their brethren in every Citie where they had preached the word of the Lord, and to see how they did, Act. 15. 36. Such a care is here intimated, that the Lords field might bee visited, where he had (like a wise husbandman) prepared and fitted his worke, Proverbs 24. 27.

12 Ver. 12. Let us get up early] or, Let us rise betimes in the morning; another act of diligence and care, Psal. 137. 2. such as God performed to Israel of old, when he rose up early and sent his Prophets unto them, because hee had compassion on them: and the Prophets rose early and spake unto them, 2 Chron. 36. 15. Ier. 25. 3, 4. to the vineyards] that is, the Churches, or places where the Gospel had bene planted: so the house of Israel, was the Lords Vineyard, Esay 5. 7. The Chaldee also expoundeth this of the house (or place) of assembly, for learning Gods Law. the tender grape] the first small-grape; of this see Song. 2. 13. 15. open it selfe] that is, appeare and so give a sweet smell; the Greeke interpreteth it, flourish: it meaneth the first appearance of fruit before the grapes be any thing neere ripe; a token that the Spring is come, & that Summer is nigh;

as 2 Son. 2. 12, 13. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth it to the time of Israels redemption. pomegranates] or, pomegranate-trees, such doe signifie the particular persons in the Churches, full of grace and good workes: see Song. 4. 13. there will I give my loves] The Spouse promisseth to give unto Christ, the fruition of her graces & fruits of her faith, confession, thanks, good workes, &c. there in the Vineyards of the Churches, in the society of the Saints: For the Lord keepeth his Vineyard and watereth it every moment; he causeth them that come of Iakob to take root, Israel shall blossome and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Esay 27. 3. 6. And I will bring forth (saith the Lord) a seed out of Iakob, and out of Iudah an inheritance of my mountaines; and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. There shall the house of Israel all of them in the land serve me; there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things; I will accept you with your sweet savour, &c. Esay 65. 9. Ezek. 10. 40, 41.

13 Verse 13. The Mandrakes] Dudaim (which the Greeke also called Mandragoras or Mandrakes) have allusion in name to Dadim, loves, frementioned: and Dod, that is, Beloved, as she after calleth Christ. Mandrakes grew in the field, and were found in the daies of wheat harvest, as the Historie sheweth in Gen. 30. 14. &c. It appeareth by Rabels desire there of them, and by the smell that here they are said to give, that they were very lovely and pleasant, (differing from the Mandrakes that grow in these parts.) The Chaldee Paraphrast calleth it Balsamon, Balsam. give a smell] or an odour, that is, are fragrant and yeeld a pleasant savour: so the Vines are said before to give a smell, Song 2. 13. and the Spikenard of the Spouse, Song 1. 12. at our doores] or by our doores: which seemeth to be opposed unto the fields where Mandrakes grew (as after new fruits are opposed unto the old;) signifying that both at home and abroad, neere and farre, the same and odour of graces in Gods people, spread it selfe. For a thing is said to be at the doores, when it is nigh at hand, Mat. 24. 33. precious things] or dainties, pleasant fruits, and delightfull graces, see the notes on Song 4. 13, 16. new and old] signifying hereby, variety and plenty, Lev. 26. 10. and old fruits are oft-times better than new, as Luke 5. 39. So now the state of the Church (instructed unto the kingdome of heaven) is like the householder which bringeth forth out of his treasure, things new and old, Matth. 13. 52. laid them up] or bidden, treasured, stored-up, to be reserved and safely kept. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus: Now rise (O King Christ) receive the Kingdome which I have laid up for thee. As the goodnesse of God is great, which he hath laid up for them that feare him, Psal. 31. 20. so all the goodnesse and fruits of grace that flow from his people, are unto his honour and praise, consecrated unto him. For of him, and through him, and for him are all things: to him be glory for ever, Amen, Rom. 11. 36.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 WHo will give thee, as a brother to me; sucking the breasts of my mother: I would find thee with out, I would kisse thee; also, they should 2 not despise mee. I would leade thee,
I would bring thee into my mothers house, thou shouldest instruct mee: I would cause thee to drinke, of spiced wine; of the juice, of my Pomegra-3 nate. His left hand, under mine head;
and his right hand, imbrace mee.

4 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem: why should yee stirre, and why should yee stirre-up the Love, untill it please?

5 Who is this, that commeth-up out of the wilderness; that leaneth, upon her Beloved? Vnder the apple-tree, I stirred up; there, thy mother painfully-brought thee forth, there, she painfully-6 brought forth that bare thee. Set mee, as a seale, upon thine heart; as a seale upon thine arme; for love, is strong as death; zeale, is hard as hell: the coales thereof are coales of fire, the flame of 7 Iah. Many waters, cannot quench love; neither can the floods drowne it: if a man would give all the substance of his house, for love; contemning they would contemne it.

8 We have a little sister, and she hath no
breasts: what shall we doe for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken of?

9 If she be a wall; we will build upon her,
a pallace of silver: and if she be a doore; we will inclose her, with boards 10 of Cedar. I am a wall, and my breasts as towers: then was I in his eyes, as one that findeth peace.

11 Solomon had a Vineyard, in Baalhamon; hee gave the Vineyard, to keepers every man shall bring for the fruit thereof, a thousand (shekels) of 12 silver. My Vineyard which is mine, is before me: the thousandsto thee, O Solomon; and two hundred, to those that keepe the fruits thereof.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens,
the companions attending to thy voice
cause thou me to heare.

14 Flee my beloved, and be thou like to a Roe, or to a Fawne of the Harts;
upon, the mountaines of spices.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 O Who will give thee, as to me a brother;
Even he that sucked the breasts of my mother:
I would find thee without, I would kisse thee;
And also, I should not despised be.

I would thee leade, I would thee bring into My mothers house, instruct me shouldest thou:
I would cause thee to drink, wine mixt with spice,
Of my Pomegranate the delightfull juyce.

His left hand, underneath mine head (have place)
His right hand also, me about imbrace.

O daughter of Iernsalem that be,
I doe adjuring charge you: why should ye
Awaking-stirre, and why should ye disease,
By stirring up the Love, untill it please?

Who's this, that comes up from the desert-wast
That to her Loved, leaning-cleaveth-fast?

I stirr'd thee up, under the Apple-tree:
Thy mother there with pain-did bring-forth thee;

There, she that bare thee did bring forth with-
O set me, as a seale upon thine heart; (smart.

Vpon thine arme (eke set me) as a seale;
For love is strong as death; and jealous-zeale,

Is hard as hell: the coales eke of the same
Are coales of fire, of Iahs consuming-flame.

The many waters, love they cannot quench;
Neither the floods, are able it to drench:

If man would all wealth of his house expend,
For love; it would be utterly contemn'd.

We have a sister small, no breasts hath she:

In day when she is spoke of, what shall we Doe for our sister? If she be a wall;

A silver Pallace, build on her we shall:

And if she be a doore; inclose will we
Her round about, with boards of Cedar tree.

I am a wall, my breasts as towres likewise:
Then was I as peace finding in her eyes.

In Baal-hamon, there a Vineyard was
Of Solomons; the Vineyard he did passe

In-hire to keepers: every man he brings
For fruit thereof, a thousand silverlings.

My Vineyard which is mine, fore me remains:

The thousand-to thee, Solomon pertaines;
Two hundred eke, be the fruit-keepers part.

O thou that dweller in the gardens art,

Vnto thy voice they that companions be,
Attending are, to heare it cause thou me.

Flee, my Belov'd, and have a Roes likenesse,
Or a yong Hart; on mountaines of spices.

Annotations.

V How will give thee ] that is, O if some would give thee; or, O that thou wert: a forme of wishing often used in the Scripture; see Deut. 5.29. Psal. 14.7. The faithful here desire the brotherhood, love, and communion of Christ, for their further comfort, and that they might manifest their love and obedience unto him. as a brother ] loving affected, conjoynd, familiar and converiant with me. Brotherhood, signifieth neere conjunction and consociation, whether by bond of nature, or otherwise by agreement and covenant, Zach. 11.14. Wherefore things without life, coupled together, are called man and his brother; or, Woman and her sister, Exod. 25.30. and 26.3. and they that are companions in like estate (though differing in nature) are brethren; as Job was a brother to dragons, and a companion to Owles, 30.29. and a man in quality, condition or action like another, is called his brother, Prov. 18.9. Gen. 49.5. and when Solomon perswadeth his son to affect, love, and associate himselfe unto Wisdome, hee biddeth him say unto her, Thou art my sister, Prov. 7.4. Although therefore Christ in his humanity was the brother of his people, taking part of the same flesh and blood with them, Heb. 2.14. yet is he chiefly called our brother, because we are all of one Father by the Spirit of sanctification, Heb. 2.11.12. Matt. 12.50. And this seemeth to be the desire of the godly here, that Christ would vouchsafe to enter into covenant with them, by his Word and Spirit, and to accompany them with his grace, for their mutuall comfort, and fruition each of others love: that he would shew himselfe as a brother, lovingly affectioned, mercifull and compassionate in their troubles & miseries; as a brother is borne for adversity, Prov. 17.13. sucking ] or, that sucked the breasts of my mother, that is, every way most neere conjoynd, as having both one father and one mother, for so the band or kindred is more neere, then if they had one father only, as Abraham said, shee is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, Gen. 20.12. Wherefore the child followed the mother; if she were a free or a bondwontan, the child was likewise, Exod. 21.4. Gal. 4.22.30. And between brethren of the same mother, the affections and love are most vehement; as Iosephs cariage towards Benjamin manifesteth, Gen. 43.29.30.34. The mother here is Ierusalem which is above, which is the mother of us all, and signifieth the new Testament or Covenant of grace and freedome, Gal. 4.26.24. To sucke the breasts of this mother, is to participate of her grace & consolations, Esa. 66.10.11. & 60.16. and Christ is then said to sucke these breasts, when the Covenant or Testament is by him confirmed and stablished to and with his people, openly professed, and the communion of graces mutuallly doth grow. Which communiō is figuratively signified by eating, drinking, sucking, supping together, and the like. Song. 5.1. Luke 22.15.16. Ioh. 6.51. Rev. 3.20. The Hebrewes in their Chaldee paraphrase give this exposition; in that time, the King Christ shall be revealed unto the Congregation of Israel; and the sons of Israel shall say unto him; Come, be thou with us for a brother, and let us goe up to Ierusalem, and wee will sucke with thee, the senses (or meanings) of the Law, as a sucking child sucketh the breasts of his mother. It may also be observed, that things are sometime said to be done unto Christ, which are done unto his people, Matt. 25.35.40. Act. 9.4.5. Colos. 1.24. As therefore Christians, when they are begotten or converted unto Christ by the Gospel, have Christ formed in them, Gal. 4.19. so when such are nourished with the finest milke of the word (as 1 Pet. 2.2.) it may bee said that Christ himselfe is nourished in them; for he and his people are one body, and mystically called Christ, 1 Cor. 12.12. Thus the things here spoken of, as to be done unto Christ, may be fulfilled by the begetting, nourishing and cherishing of the elect, when the Covenant of life & peace is made, continued and confirmed among them.

I would find thee without ] Her fervent love & desire of Christs communion and brotherly grace, is here accompanied with a promise of all carefull and loving duty, acceptation and obedience on her part. For to find him without (or in the street) where the wisdom of God crieth and teacheth, Pro. 1.20. Luk. 13.26. signifieth her ready mind to goe forth to meet him (as the virgins should to the Bridegroom, Mat. 25.6.) and both lovingly and boldly to entertain and welcome him, by receiving and obeying his Gospel, as the sequell sheweth. See also Song. 3.2.4. would kisse thee ] a signe of love, honour, and of obedience; as all are exhorted to kisse the son, Psal. 2.12. See Song. 1.2. they should not despise me ] that is, men should not, or, I should not be despised; for so this manner of speech often importeth, as is noted on Gen. 16.4. Persons are despised or contemned, when either they doe, or are thought to doe, that which is not honest or comely, Gen. 38.23. 2 Sam. 6.16. or, when they misse of their purpose, and are laughed to scorne with contempt, Esa. 37.22. Neither of these should befall her, doing but her duty in seemly & modest sort, & obtaining Christ whom her soule desired. What the state of a people is without Christ, & how subject they are to shame and reproach; the Lord himselfe sheweth in Isa. 54.1.4.6. But them that honour God, he will honour; and they that despise him, shall be lightly esteemed, 1 Sam. 2.30. and if any man serve Christ, him will the Father honour, Ioh. 12.26.

Verf. 2. I would lead thee ] to wit, with honour and solemnity, with joy and gladnesse: for Kings and great personages are said to be led & brought along, Isa. 60.11. Psal. 45.15.16. Here, that which the faithful desire & receive of God & of Christ, to be led & to be brought to his holy mountain, Psal. 43.3. they promise to do unto Christ: but the Lord doth it by the light of his Word & Spirit, Esa. 63.14. Psal. 143.10. they doe it unto him, by earnest earnest prayers stirring up themselves to take hold on him, Eay 64.1.7. my mothers house] the state of Ecclesiasticall policie, and publike assembly, figured by the house or Temple of God in Ierusalem of old, (unto which the Chaldee paraphrase here referreth it) but is fulfilled in Christian Churches, which are Gods house & temple now, Hebr. 3.6. 2 Cor. 6. 16. especially in that Ierusalem, which is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. See Song 3.4. thou should instruct me] or, shalt teach, shalt learn me, speaking to Christ, whose instruction she would gladly receive. Thus also the Gr. interpreteth it, thou shalt teach me; & the Chaldee, thou shalt teach me to feare before the Lord. It may also be referred to the mother aforesaid, she that instructeth her; but the former seemeth most agreeable, and sheweth both her desire, & the end of bringing Christ unto her home, that she might be further taught & builded up by the doctrine of his Gospel. And thus it is prophesied, how in the last daies, many people should say, Come and let us goe up to the house of the God of Iakob; and he will teach us of his wayes, and we will walke in his paths, &c. Isa. 2 2.3. Mich. 4.1.2. of spiced wine] wine sweetened with a mixture, or confectiō of spices, such (in the Law) were put into the holy incense, and oile, Exod. 30. 34, 35. 23. 25. such were also used at the buriall of the dead, 2 Chron. 16. 14. and for banquetting, as this place sheweth. the juice] or, the new-liquor, the sweet-wine, which hath the name of treading or pressing out of the pomegranats or grapes. Hereby she signifieth that the word should not be fruitlesse in her, but that shee would honour Christ with her graces, and render unto him such fruits of faith, as should be sweetned and spiced with his owne Spirit in her, and wrung out of her by the same, whiles shee hath fellowship in his afflictions. For when Christ administred the comforts of his Word and Spirit, hee giveth us wine to drinke, Prov. 9. 1. 5. Esa. 55. 1.3. and when we bring forth the fruits of his Spirit, and with them doe glorifie him, and edifie our brethren, hee counteth himselfe refreshed as with wine, and taketh pleasure in his people: see Song. 4. 10. and 5. 1. This juice and wine, spiced with the truth, faith, grace, and spirit of the Lord; is contrary to that cup in the womans hand full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication, the heresies, idolatries, and other fruits of the flesh, with which wine, the inhabitants of the earth were made drunke, Rev. 17. 2.4

3 Ver. 3. under mine head] understand it prayer-wise as before, let it be under: or, should be under my head: The Spouse privie to her owne infirmities, and desirous of strength and comfort from Christ, prayeth that she may be sustained by him, & find rest to her soule in the feeling of his love, whose grace is sufficient for her, whose strength is made perfect in weaknesse, 2 Cor. 12. 9. See before in Song. 2.6. where the like words are used.

4 Ver. 4. I adjure you] or, I charge you by an oath. The Spouse here injoying Christ, desireth the continuance of his grace, & chargeth her friends that they should by no meanes, disquiet, provoke or grieve him: as she had adjured them twise before, Song. 2. 7. and 3. 5. See the annotations there. why should yee stirre] that is, doe not stirre, for it will not be for your profit: before it was said, if yee stirre, in the like sense, & there in Song. 2.7. and 3. 5. the Roes, and Hinds of the field were mentioned, which are not here.

Ver. 5. Who is this] this woman. This either implieth the springing up of a new Church, conducted by Christ through the wilderness of this world: or, if it be understood of the former, it sheweth the admiration of the daughters of Ierusalem, at her increase, strong faith, patience, holy order, &c. whiles she followeth & relieth upon Christ. So before, in Song. 3.6. the wilderness] the peoples of this world, out of which the people of God are chosen, & called, Ezek. 20. 35. 10h. 15. 19. It signifieth also her former misery, under persecution, or under the bondage of sin and Satan, from which he escapeth by Christ; for the wilderness was a dry and thirly land, a land of drought, & of the shadow of death, Ezek. 19. 13. Jer. 2. 6. that leameth] or, leaning, cleaving to, adjoining, associating her selfe: It is a word, not elsewhere used in Scripture, and is borrowed from the Arabian language: the Gr. translateth it, confirming, or strengthening her selfe. It signifieth her weaknesse in her selfe, unable to sustaine her steps: but her strength in Christ her beloved, on whom she leaning by faith, is confirmed against all doubts, feares, dangers, difficulties, tentations, and by her union with him, is made partaker of al grace and comfort; for he that is joynted to the Lord, is one Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. and is by him made perfect, stablished, strengthened, settled, as 1 Pet. 5. 10. This grace is foretold by the Prophet, according to Gods first dealing with Israel, when he put his holy Spirit within his people, and led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness; they stumbled not. As a beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord quietly led him: so didst thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name: Esay 63. 11, 13, 14. I stirred thee up] or, I raised thee up. The by the words of the Spouse, speaking againe to her Beloved; whom she stirred or raised up as out of sleepe, by her earnest prayers, as in Psal. 44. 24. Stirre up, why sleepest thou Lord? And they that give themselves to prayer, are said also to stir up themselves, Esa 64. 7. This raising up, was under the Apple tree the tree of life and grace, whose shadow and fruit had bene delightfull & sweet unto her; and to which tree, Christ himselfe was likened, Song. 2. 3. So she by faith taking hold on the covenant of grace and promises of like in Christ, called on his name in her sorrowes, & stirred him up for her help and comfort. there] under the Apple tree, the faith and hope of salvation and life. thy mother] the faithfull company, or the primitive Church, who brought forth Christ into the world, by preaching, professing, practising and suffering for his Gospel. painefull brought thee forth] travelled of thee with sorow. The bringing forth of Christ into the world, by the preaching and witnessing of the Gospel, (that the child might be borne unto us. Ex. 17. 6. is set forth by the similitude of a woman in her painfull-travell, Rev. 12. 1, 2. Gal. 4. 19. For as child-birth is accompanied with many pangs and sorrowes, like bands that constrain forceably: so is the bringing forth of Christ into the hearts and minds of men, that they may beleve in him, performed with much labour, sorrow and difficulty; In much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in insinuations to and fro, in labours, in watchings, in fastings, &c. 2 Cor. 6. 4, 5. and 4. 8. 11. Wherefore the Church signifying her sorrowes, for the deliverance and salvation of her children, saith, Like as a woman with child, that draweth nigh the time of her delivery, is in paine, crieth out in her pangs; so have we bene in thy sight O Lord. We have bene with child, we have bene in paine, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, &c. Esa. 26. 17, 18.

6 Verse 6. Set me ] or, Put me as a scale upon thine heart. The Spouse desireth of Christ, assurance and confirmation of his love towards her; that she may be graven as the engraving of a scale or signet, upon his heart. This hath reference to the high Priest of old, who having the names of the twelve Tribes of Israel, graven upon twelve precious stones, like the engravings of a signet (or scale) is said to bear the names of the sunnes of Israel, in the Breast-plate of judgement upon his heart, for a memoriall before the Lord continually; Exod. 28. 21. 29. So shee desireth Christ to be her mercifull and faithfull high Priest, in things pertaining to God, Heb. 2. 17. that hee would have a continuall care of her salvation, mindfull of her himselfe, & making a memoriall of her before God his Father; and that this affection of love, might not vanish away, but be as a deepe impression in his heart for ever. For a scale is used for a ratifying and confirming that which is spoken, that it may not be disannulled, Neh. 9. 38. Rom. 4. 11. And this God signified to Zerubbabel saying, I will set thee as a scale; for I have chosen thee, Hag. 2. 23. and againe it is said, The foundation of God standeth sure, having this scale; the Lord knoweth them that are his; 2 Tim. 2. 19. a scale upon thine arme ] The high Priest bare the names of the Tribes, not onely upon his heart; but the same names he also bare (engraven like a scale) upon his shoulders before the Lord for a memoriall, Exod. 28. 11, 12. And the Lord promising the daughter of Sion, that he would not forget her to have compassion on her, saith: Behold I have graven thee upon the palmes of my hands; thy walls, are continually before me, Esa. 49. 15, 16. But as the heart signifieth inward love, so the arme of Christ signifieth his outward manifestation of love, by helping, bearing and supporting her in al her infirmities, through his power; wherefore it is said, I have redeemed thy people with the arme, Psal. 77. 16. and, thou hast scattered thine enemies, with the arme of thy strength, Psal. 89. 11. & unto Jerusalem he saith, Behold the Lord will come with strong (hand) and his arme shall rule for him: He will feed his flock like a shepherd, hee will gather the Lambs with his arme, and carry them in his bosome, Esa. 40. 10. 11. love is strong as death ] as death is strong, and overcometh the strongest man, Psal. 89. 48. so the love which I beare towards thee, desiring to be united unto thee, is a strong affection which cannot bee subdued in me by any trouble or tentation: zeale ] or, jealousie, zeale is love inflamed and fervent: and is used sometime in good part, as Ioh. 3. 17. sometime in the evill, called Winter zeale (or envying) Iani. 3. 14. so is jealousie, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Here it seemeth to be meant of godly zeale, or jealousie, wherewith her heart was also affected towards Christ. hard as bell ] cruel, fierce and inexorable, as is bell to itselfe, that is, the grave or state of death, wherof see the notes on Gen. 37. 35. that as death & the grave devourereth all, so love and jealous zeale consumeth and eateth up, not sparing: for the love of Christ constraineth, 2 Cor. 5. 14. and the zeale for his glory eateth up the godly, Psal. 69. 9. the coales ] the fiery coales, arrows, or fiery darts: properly the word signifieth that which lieth and burneth; and is applied sometimes to plagues & Judgements, Deut. 32. 24. sometimes to arrows, Psal. 78. 3. here, to burning coales or darts of love, that pierce and inflame the heart, & cannot be quenched. flame of Iah ] the consuming flame of God: Shilbeib-Iah, noteth a vehement or consuming flame of Iah (the Lord:) as the piercing and devouring lightning: but meaneth the fire of his Spirit, which is compared unto fire, Mat. 3. 11. for the power and efficacy thereof in the hearts of the children of God.

Ver. 7. many waters ] By waters and floods are often meant afflictions, troubles, warres, persecutions, tentations, wherewith the faith, love, patience of Christs people are exercised and tried, Psalme 69. 1. Esa. 8. 7. 8. & 59. 19. Dan. 9. 26. and 11. 12. So here is signified that the love of Christ wherewith the minds of his people are inflamed, is such as cannot be quenched with any calamities. And thus it is said, Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distresse, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword? (as it is written, for thy sake we are killed all the day long, we are accounted as sheepe of slaughter?) nay in all these things, we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Iesus our Lord, Rom. 8. 35. 39. all the substance ] or, all the riches, (meat) as silver, gold, &c. that is in his house. concerning they would consume it ] that is, it would utterly (or altogether) be consumed: or, be would wholly be consumed. As the love betweene Christ and his Church cannot be separated, being united by the Holy Ghost: so neither can love, nor other grace of God be bought for money, but is the free gift of God bestowed on whom he pleaseth, Act. 8. 18, 19, 20. Rom. 9. 11. 16. So wisdom cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof, &c. Ioh. 28. 15. 19. Prov. 8. 11. 19.

8 Verse 8. We have a little sister ] The godly here consult about a new Church arising, whom they call a sister, in respect of the unitie of faith; little (or

(or small) as being young, newly converted, and nothing populous; without breasts, as having yet no stablished ministerie, (for such is the state of the Churches in their beginning, as appeareth by Act. 14. 23. Tit. 1. 5.) so that her children could not suck out the sincere milke of the word, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation, 1 Pet. 2. 2. Eia. 66. 11. for she was not yet come to the estate of Israel whose breasts were fashioned, and the Lord entred into covenant with her, and she became his, Ezek. 16. 7. 8. when she shall be spoken of or, wherein speech shall be of her: when the time of her calling and conversion shall come abroad, what furtherance shall we yeeld to increase, settle, stablish her in the truth. This sheweth the duty of love from one Church to another, in communicating their graces each to other, and praying one for another. See an example in Act. 11. 19. 22. 23. This Hebrew phrase of speech to be had of her (or in her) may be understood two waies, for or against her: for her, when treatie shall be of her espousals unto Christ; thus David sent and spake of (or with) Abigail, to take her to him to wife, 1 Sam. 25. 39. against her, as the people spake against God, and against Moses, Num. 21. 5. and Princes spake against me, Psal. 119. 23. For no sooner doe a people turne to the Lord, but the wicked doe oppose in word and worke. And thus the Hebrewes in their Chaldee Paraphrase expound it here, What shall we doe for our sister, in the day when the nations shall speake to goe up against her, unto warre?

9 V. 9. If she be a wall] The answer to the thing proponed, made (as some thinke) by Christ, to which the Chaldee paraphrast agreeth, saying, Michael the Prince of Israel will say: or, by other her sister Churches, desirous to procure her good.

a wall] that is, strong and well grounded in the truth; and so become a citie, which is often described by wals, gates, bars, &c. 2 Chron. 8. 5. and 14. 7. Revel. 21. 12. Spiritually it meaneth her faith and hope of salvation in Christ, grounded on the doctrine of the twelve tribes of Israel, and twelve Apostles of Christ, Rev. 21. 14. 19. 25. Thou shalt call thy walles salvation, Eia. 66. 18. and, we have a strong citie, salvation will God appoint for wals and bulwarkes, Eia. 26. 1. Moreover, when God signified the strength and courage of his Prophet against their enemies, he saith, I will make thee unto this people, a fenced brazen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but shall not prevaile, Ier. 15. 20. we will build] Here by we, may be implied the Trinity in the Godhead, as Gen. 1. 26. Song. 1. 11. or, we may meane Christ inwardly and effectually by his grace, and his people (her sister) outwardly and ministerially by the word of the Gospell.

a pallas] or, a castle, a tower, a faire and orderly building; such as were wont oft-times to be set on strong wals of cities: and this being of silver, noteth the purity, excellencie and durableness of this pallas, adorned with the graces of Gods word and Spirit, that so she might be builded for an habitation of God through the Spirit, Eph. 2. 22. and be able to resist the forces of her enemies. and if she be a doore] if she goe forward in the faith and praisfe of the Gospel, that she be not only built up as a wall, but as a gate & doore, fully edified; as at the repairing of Ierusalem, when they sanctified the gates, and set up the doores of it, Nehem. 3. which gates, doores, barres, &c. were for the safeguard of the inhabitants, & shewed their care to resist and keepe out the enemies (as appeareth by the contrary, in Ier. 49. 31.) as also to open, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truths may enter in, Isa. 26. 2. Psal. 118. 20. Therefore Angels are at the gates of the heavenly City, to conduct Gods people into it, Rev. 21. 12. 27. & 22. 14. we will inclose her or, we will fence her about, with board of Cedar; which is faire, strong and durable, & of sweet savour: of such the Temple was builded; 1 King. 6. 15. 18.

V. 10. I am a wall or, I became a wall; that is, I grew up and waxed strong in the faith & love of Christ. The little sister sheweth her readinesse to receive and increase in the doctrine of the Gospel. my breasts are towers] my breasts are fashioned, Ezek. 16. 7. the ministry of the word established in me, to nourish up children unto Christ. The similitude of towers, noteth also the strength, power, & glory of the administration of the Gospel; & the open preaching of it out of pulpits or high places, that all may heare. For Migdal a tower, is used for a pulpit, in Neh. 8. 4. in his gird] in Christs fight. findeth peace] Wee all in our naturall corruption are enemies to God, Rom. 5. 10. but being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ, Rom. 5. 1. for the worke of righteousness is peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietnesse and assurance for ever, Eia. 32. 17. and this peace is enjoyed by the Holy Ghost, Rom. 8. 6. 9. and it is opposed to all the troubles, tentations, persecutions & afflictions in this life and world, Ioh. 16. 33. and is that which guardeth our hearts and minds, through Christ Iesus, Phil. 4. 7.

Verse 11. Solomon had a Vineyard, &c.] These words may be understood as spoken by Christ, or by his Spouse forementioned. If by Christ, then it is a comparison between Solomon with his vineyard, and Christ with his. That Solomon (as his father David, 1 Chro. 27. 27.) could not himselfe look to his Vineyards, but appointed officers to look unto them, who yeelded him a yeerly tribute, and had themselves a part of the profit for their labours: but Christ (who is alwayes with his Church, Matt. 28. 20. and walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks, Rev. 2. 1.) looketh to his Vineyard himselfe, that unto him, all the fruit and benefit thereof belongeth alone. If it be spoken by his Spouse (which I rather incline to) then it sheweth a greater care & diligence in her now then in former times, when she confessed, that she kept not the Vineyard which was hers; that is, which was committed to her custody, Son. 1. 6. So by Solomon, she meaneth Christ, by the Vineyard, his church in general; for the house of Israel was the Lords Vineyard, Eia. 5. 7. Baal hamon] that is by interpretation, the master (or owner) of a multitude; meaning hereby either the world, among the multitudes wherof Christ hath his Church; or in respect respect of the much fruit which it yeelded unto God, or should yeeld, being situate in a fertile place, which he had blessed with his grace; such as in Esay 5. 1. is called the borne of the fount of oile, that is, a very fruitfull hill. he gave the Vineyard that is, hee let it out, in farme, as it is said, There was a certaine bondholder, which planted a vineyard, &c. and let it out to husbandmen; and went into a farre country: Mat. 21. 33. Thus the Apostle saith to the Church of Corinth, We are labourers together with God, yee are Gods husbandry, 1 Cor. 3. 9.

a thousand shekels of silver or, a thousand silverlings, meaning silver shekels: signifying hereby the great fertility of this Vineyard, that afforded so much to the owner, besides the labourers reward. So in Esay 7. 23, threatening to make the most fruitfull place desolate, he saith, Where there were a thousand vines, as a thousand silverlings (or silver shekels) it shall be for briars and thornes.

12 V. 12. My vineyard which is mine that is, understanding it to be spoken by the Spouse, as in Song. 1. 6. which is committed to my care and keeping. is before me that is, I alwayes looke unto it, care for it, and am diligent to manure and dresse it. As, all his judgements were before me; and his statutes I departed not from them, 2 Sam. 22. 23.

to thee O Solomon that is, thou shalt have thy full due for the fruit of thy vineyard, which is a 1000. silverlings, vers. 11. See Mat. 21. 41.

200. to those that keepe the fruit that is, thy labourers shall receive also according to the agreement, every one for his workes: see Mat. 20. 1. 2. &c. So the Apostle saith, Every man shall receive his owne reward, according to his owne labour, 1 Cor. 3. 8.

13 Verse 13. Thou that dwellest or, O inhabitresse: Christ speaketh to his Spouse, dwelling in the gardens, that is, in the Churches; teaching her continuall duty, both to her neighbours, in constant witnessing of the truth; and to himselfe, in prayer and thanksgiving. the companions attending or, doe attend to thy voice. By companions, he seemeth to meane her fellow Christians, partakers of the same faith, and spirit and grace: 2 Pet. 1. 1. By voice hee understandeth the doctrine of the Church, whereunto all ought to attend. cause thou me to heare to wit, thy voice; as he expressed before, in Song. 2. 14. Let me heare thy voice; that is, thy prayers, praises, and thanksgivings: teaching her to call upon and to serve him continually. Or, cause to heare me, that is, preach me to thy companions that attend to thy voice; let thy doctrines be my Gospel, not mens traditions. These are the two maine and permanent duties of all Gods Churches; that their doctrine be the true and uncorrupt word of Christ; and their praises and service be directed to him alone, who is ready to heare & helpe in all time of need. To these two, prayer and the Ministry of the Word, the Apostles gave themselves continually, Act. 6. 4.

V. 14 Flee my Beloved The prayer of the Spouse unto Christ, desiring the end of his Kingdome in this world, where he with his people are persecuted and afflicted; and the translating thereof into the highest heavens. For Christ now reigneth in the mids of his enemies, Psal. 110. 2. and so must reigne, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet: and at the end he shall deliver up the kingdome to God, even the Father, 1 Cor. 15. 24, 25. Then the dead in Christ arising first, they also that live and remaine, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the ayre; & so shall we ever be with the Lord, 1 Thes. 4. 16, 17. This day shee desireth with speed: for though it be usually called the day of Christs comming (or appearing) yet because he shall not come here to remaine, but to carry his elect away out of this world, she useth the word Flee, or Depart away. The Hebrewes in their Chaldee Paraphrast, though they apply not this to the end of the world, yet so speake as beleeving that Christ should ascend into heaven, and from thence succour his Church on earth; saying, At what time shall the Elders of the Congregation of Israel say, Flee thou O my Beloved, the Lord of the world, from this unclean earth, and let thy Majesty dwell in the highest heavens: and in time of tribulation when we shall pray before thee, be like a Roe, &c. or like a Fawn of the Harts, which when it fleeth looketh behind it; so looke thou upon us, and have respect to our tribulation and our affliction from the highest heavens, untill the time that thou shalt take pleasure in us, and redeem us, and bring us unto the mountaine of Ierusalem; and there the Priests shall burne before thee, the incense of sweet spices. be thou like or, like (resemble) thy selfe to a Roe; that is, be swift and make haste to flee away: see the notes on Song. 2. 9. 17. fawn of the Harts that is, a young Hart.

on the mountaines of spices This referred to the Roe or Hart, sheweth that they used to flee for their succour to mountaines where spices grew; as in Song. 2. 17. she mentioned the mountaines of Berber. Or, referring it to Christ himselfe, it may meane the very heavens, called mountaines of spices, for the height and pleasures which are there at the right hand of God for ever. And it may be interpreted, O thou that art on the mountaines of spices, that is, in heaven; as, Hosanna in the highest, Matth. 21. 9. that is, thou which art in the highest heavens. Thus as this Song began with desire of Christs first comming to kisse her with the kisses of his mouth, by preaching his Gospel: so it endeth with desire of his second comming, to remove his Church out of all misery, into the place of endlesse and incomprehensible glory, And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and let him that heareth, say, Come: and Christ himselfe saith, Surely, I come quickly, Amen; Even so, Come Lord Iesus, Revel. 22. 17. 20.
